collection ▷ noun 1 the act of collecting. 2 an accumulated assortment of things of a particular type □ a stamp collection. 3 an amount of money collected. 4 the removal of mail from a postbox at scheduled times.

collective ▷ adj said of, belonging to or involving all the members of a group □ a collective effort. ▷ noun a an organized group or unit who run some kind of business, etc; b the individual members of such a group. • collectively adverb together; as a whole.

collective bargaining ▷ noun talks between a trade union and a company's management to settle questions of pay and to negotiate working conditions.

collective farm ▷ noun, agric especially in the former Soviet bloc: a large state-controlled farm run on co-operative principles and formed by the merging of several smaller farms, previously owned by individuals. Compare KOLKHOZ.

collective noun ▷ noun a singular noun which refers to a group of people, animals, things, etc, such as cast, flock, gang.

collective nouns

- Collective nouns, or group nouns, are nouns like committee, government, orchestra, and team, which are singular in form but denote a number or group of individuals.
- Because of the special meaning they have, they can be treated as either singular or plural, depending on whether the group is being thought of as a unit or as a number of individuals.
- There are further notes at the entries for some of these words. See also the notes at majority, none.

collective security ▷ noun, politics the maintenance of security and territorial integrity by the collective actions of nation states.

collective unconscious ▷ noun, psychoanal that part of the unconscious mind which represents the accumulated experiences common to all mankind.

collectivize or collectivise ▷ verb (collectivized, collectivizing) to group (farms, factories, etc) into larger units and bring them under state control and ownership. ● collectivism noun 1 the economic theory that industry should be carried on with a collective capital. 2 a system embodying this. ● collectivization noun.

collector ▷ noun, often in compounds, denoting someone who collects, as a job or hobby □ debt-collector □ stamp-collector.

collector's item and collector's piece ▷ noun an object of great interest or value, which would interest a collector.

colleen /ˈkɒliːn, kɒˈliːn/ ▷ noun, Irish a girl. ◷ 19c: from Irish Gaelic cailín girl.

college /ˈkɒlɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 an institution, either self-contained or part of a university, which provides higher education, further education or professional training. 2 one of a number of self-governing establishments that make up certain universities. 3 the staff and students of a college. 4 the buildings which make up a college. 5 (often College) a name used by some larger secondary schools. 6 a body of people with particular duties and rights. 7 an official body of members of a profession, concerned with maintaining standards, etc. ◷ 14c: from Latin collegium group of associates or fellowship.

College of Arms ▷ noun, Brit a collegiate institute incorporated in 1483 that deals with the granting and designing of arms, tracing genealogies, etc. See also LYON KING OF ARMS.

College of Cardinals ▷ noun, RC Church the whole body of cardinals who elect and subsequently advise the Pope.

college of education ▷ noun, Brit a college specializing in the initial and in-service training of teachers.

collegiate /kəˈliːdʒɪət/ ▷ adj 1 said of, relating to or belonging to a college. 2 having the form of a college. 3 said of a university: consisting of individual colleges. ◷ 16c: from Latin collegiatus, from collegium fellowship.

collegiate church ▷ noun 1 C of E, RC Church a church with a chapter of canons attached to it. 2 in Scotland: a church served by two or more clergymen of equal rank.

Colles' fracture /ˈkɒlɪs —/ ▷ noun a fracture of the radius near the wrist with backward displacement of the hand. ◷ 19c: named after Abraham Colles (1773–1843), Irish surgeon.

collide /kəˈlaɪd/ ▷ verb (collided, colliding) intr 1 to crash together or crash into someone or something. 2 said of people: to disagree or clash. ◷ 17c: Latin collidere, from com- with + laedere to strike.

collie /ˈkɒlɪ/ (collies) ▷ noun any of several medium-sized highly intelligent long-haired breeds of dog, usually black and white or brown and white, originally used for herding sheep. ◷ 17c: perhaps from Scots colle coal, the breed having once been black.

collier /ˈkɒlɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a coal-miner. 2 a a ship that transports coal; b a crew member of such a ship. ◷ 16c as colere: from Anglo-Saxon col coal.

colliery /ˈkɒljərɪ/ ▷ noun (collieries) a coalmine with its surrounding buildings.

collimate /ˈkɒlɪmeɪt/ ▷ verb (collimated, collimating) 1 to make parallel. 2 to adjust the line of sight of a telescope, etc. ● collimation noun. ◷ 17c: from Latin collimare, a mistaken reading of collineare to bring into a straight line.

collimator ▷ noun, physics 1 any device for obtaining a beam of parallel rays of light, used to test the focal length of lenses, etc. 2 any device, eg a diaphragm made of radiation-absorbing material, used to limit the size and angle of spread of a beam of radiation or radioactive particles. 3 a small fixed telescope that is attached to a larger optical instrument, eg an astronomical telescope, to assist in preliminary alignment, eg to fix the larger telescope's line of sight on a particular celestial body. ◷ 19c.

collinear /kɒˈlɪnɪə(r), koʊ-/ ▷ adj, math lying on the same straight line. ● collinearity noun.

collision /kəˈlɪʒən/ ▷ noun 1 a violent meeting of objects; a crash. 2 a disagreement or conflict. ◷ 15c: Latin, from collidere to strike together.

collision course ▷ noun a direction or course of action taken which, if followed, will result in collision with something or someone.

collocate /ˈkɒləkeɪt, ˈkɒloʊkeɪt/ ▷ verb (collocated, collocating) 1 to arrange or group together in some kind of order. 2 grammar said of a word: to occur frequently alongside another word, often as part of the construction that relates it to its context □ 'Different' collocates with 'from' and 'to', and sometimes with 'than'. ◷ 16c: from Latin collocare to place together.

collocation ▷ noun 1 grouping together in a certain order. 2 grammar the habitual co-occurrence of certain words; grammatical interdependence.

colloid /ˈkɒlɔɪd/ ▷ noun, chem an intermediate state between a SUSPENSION (sense 5) and a true SOLUTION (sense 3), in which fine particles of one substance are spread evenly throughout another. ● colloidal adj. ◷ 19c: from Greek kolla glue.

colloquial /kəˈloʊkwɪəl/ ▷ adj said of language or vocabulary: a informal; b used in familiar conversation rather than in formal speech or writing. ● colloquially adverb. ◷ 18c: from Latin colloquium conversation.

colloquialism ▷ noun a word or expression used in informal conversation.

colloquium /kəˈloʊkwɪəm/ ▷ noun (colloquia /-ə/ or colloquiums) an academic conference; a seminar. ◷ 19c: Latin, meaning 'conversation'.

colloquy /ˈkɒləkwɪ/ ▷ noun (colloquies) a conversation; talk. ◷ 16c: from Latin colloquium conversation, from com- with + loquium speaking.

collude /kəˈluːd, kəˈljuːd/ ▷ verb (colluded, colluding) intr to plot secretly with someone, especially with a view to committing fraud. ◷ 16c: from Latin colludere to play with, to act collusively.

collusion /kəˈluːʒən, -ˈljuːʒən/ ▷ noun secret and illegal co-operation for the purpose of fraud or other criminal activity, etc. ● collusive /kəˈluːsɪv, -ˈljuːsɪv/ adj. ● collusively adverb. ◷ 14c: French, from Latin colludere, collusum to play with, to act collusively.

collywobbles /ˈkɒlɪwɒbəlz/ ▷ plural noun (usually the collywobbles) colloq 1 pain or discomfort in the abdomen. 2 nervousness; apprehensiveness. ◷ 19c: probably from COLIC + WOBBLE.

Colo. ▷ abbreviation, US state Colorado.

cologne see EAU DE COLOGNE.

Colombian /kəˈlɒmbɪən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Colombia, a republic in the NW of S America, or its inhabitants. ▷ noun a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Colombia.

colon[1] /ˈkoʊlɒn, -ən/ ▷ noun a punctuation mark (:), properly used to introduce a list, an example or an explanation. ◷ 16c: Greek, meaning 'clause' or 'limb'.

colon

A colon

- introduces a part of a sentence that explains or expands on what comes before □ I have something to tell you: John is coming back tomorrow □ This is an excellent play: believable characters, gripping action and a totally unexpected ending. Alternative style: an introductory word such as 'namely', preceded by a comma □ There is one thing I would really like, namely a much larger house.
- It introduces a list (no dash is needed):
  ✓ To make the model, you will need the following things: a sheet of thin cardboard, string, glue, scissors.
- It introduces a contrast □ You may be sorry: I am delighted □ To err is human: to forgive, divine.
  ALTERNATIVE STYLES: a semicolon □ You may be sorry; I am delighted; a comma and a conjunction □ You may be sorry, but I am delighted.
- It introduces direct speech □ John suddenly shouted: 'Look out! He's coming back!'
  ALTERNATIVE STYLE (more common): a comma □ John suddenly shouted, 'Look out! He's coming back!'

colon² /ˈkoʊlɒn, -ən/ ▷ noun, anatomy in vertebrates: the large intestine lying between the CAECUM and RECTUM. ● colonic adj. ◎ 16c: Latin, from Greek kolon large intestine.

colonel /ˈkɜːnəl/ ▷ noun a senior army officer, in charge of a regiment. See table at RANK. ● colonelcy /ˈkɜːnəlsɪ/ noun (colonelcies) the rank or office of colonel. ◎ 16c: from Italian colonello leader of a regiment.

colonel-in-chief ▷ noun (colonels-in-chief) in the British Army: an honorary rank and title often held by a member of the Royal Family.

colonial /kəˈloʊnɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to, belonging to or living in a colony or colonies. 2 possessing colonies. ▷ noun an inhabitant of a colony. ● colonially adverb. ◎ 18c: see COLONY.

colonialism ▷ noun, often derog the policy of acquiring colonies, especially as a source of profit. Compare IMPERIALISM. ● colonialist noun, adj.

colonic see under COLON²

colonization or colonisation /kɒlənaɪˈzeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of colonizing or the process of being colonized. 2 setting up a colony or colonies.

colonize or colonise /ˈkɒlənaɪz/ ▷ verb (colonized, colonizing) 1 tr & intr to establish a colony in (an area or country). 2 to settle (people) in a colony. 3 said of plants and animals: to spread into (a new habitat). 4 US politics a to put (political supporters) in an area where their votes could decide a closely fought election; b to fill (an area) with these voters. ● colonist noun 1 someone who settles in a colony. 2 a voter put in a certain area for election purposes. ● colonizer noun.

colonnade /kɒləˈneɪd/ ▷ noun 1 archit a row of columns placed at regular intervals. 2 a similar row of trees. ● colonnaded noun. ◎ 18c: French, from Latin columna column.

colony /ˈkɒlənɪ/ ▷ noun (colonies) 1 a a settlement abroad established and controlled by the founding country; b the settlers living there; c the territory they occupy. 2 a group of the same nationality or occupation forming a distinctive community within a city, etc □ writers' colony. 3 zool a a group of animals or plants of the same species living together in close proximity, sometimes with physical connections between individual members, eg sponges, corals; b a large number of animals living together in a highly organized social group, eg bees, ants, termites. 4 bacteriol an isolated group of bacteria or fungi growing on a solid medium, usually from the same single cell. ◎ 16c: from Latin colonia, from colonus farmer or tiller, from colere to cultivate or inhabit.

colophon /ˈkɒləfɒn, -ən/ ▷ noun 1 an inscription at the end of a printed book or manuscript giving the name of the writer, printer, etc and place and date of production. 2 a publisher's ornamental mark or device. ◎ 17c: Latin, from Greek kolophon summit or finishing touch.

Colorado beetle /kɒləˈrɑːdoʊ —/ ▷ noun a small beetle that has a yellow back with black stripes on its wing cases, which is a serious pest of potato crops.

colorant or colourant /ˈkʌlərənt/ ▷ noun a substance used for colouring. ◎ 19c: French, from Latin colorare to colour.

coloration or colouration /kʌləˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun arrangement or combination of colours, especially in the markings of animals or plants. ◎ 17c: from Latin colorare to colour.

coloratura /kɒlərəˈtʊərə, -ˈtjʊərə/ ▷ noun, music 1 an elaborate and intricate passage or singing style. 2 (also coloratura soprano) a soprano specializing in such singing. ◎ 18c: Italian, meaning 'colouring'.

colorimeter /kʌləˈrɪmɪtə(r), kɒlə-/ ▷ noun, chem a device for measuring the colour intensity of a solution, by comparing it with those of standard solutions which contain known concentrations of the constituent. ● colorimetric adj. ● colorimetry noun.

colossal /kəˈlɒsəl/ ▷ adj 1 huge; vast. 2 colloq splendid; marvellous □ a colossal view. ● colossally adverb hugely. ◎ 18c: from COLOSSUS.

colosseum see COLISEUM

colossus /kəˈlɒsəs/ ▷ noun (colossi /-saɪ/ or colossuses) 1 a gigantic statue. 2 an overwhelmingly powerful person or organization. ◎ 14c: Latin, from Greek kolossos gigantic statue.

colostomy /kəˈlɒstəmɪ/ ▷ noun (colostomies) surgery an operation in which part of the colon is brought to the surface of the body through an incision in the abdomen, forming an artificial anus through which the colon can be emptied. ◎ 19c: from COLON² + -STOMY.

colostomy bag ▷ noun a device worn over the opening created by a colostomy, into which waste is passed.

colostrum /kəˈlɒstrəm/ ▷ noun, zool in mammals: the yellowish milky fluid secreted by the mammary glands immediately before and after giving birth, which is followed by the secretion of the true milk. ◎ 16c: Latin.

colour or (US) color /ˈkʌlə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a the visual sensation produced when light of different wavelengths is absorbed by the cones of the retina and relayed, in the form of nerve impulses, to the brain; b the particular visual sensation produced in this way, depending upon the wavelength. 2 any of these variations or colours, often with the addition of black and white. 3 photog, art the use of some or all colours, as distinct from black and white only □ in full colour. 4 a colouring substance, especially paint. 5 a the shade of a person's skin, as related to race; b the darker skin shades. 6 pinkness of the face or cheeks, usually indicating healthiness. 7 lively or convincing detail □ add local colour to the story. 8 richness of quality in music, or its mood and quality generally. See also COLOURS. ▷ verb (coloured, colouring) 1 a to put colour on to something; b to paint or dye. 2 (often colour something in) to fill in (an outlined area or a black and white picture) with colour. 3 to influence □ Personal feelings can colour one's judgement. 4 intr to blush. ● lend colour to something to give it credence; to make it more believable. ● nail one's colours to the mast see under COLOURS. ● off colour colloq unwell. ◎ 13c: French, from Latin color.

colour bar ▷ noun social discrimination against people of different races.

colour-blind ▷ adj being unable to distinguish between certain colours, most commonly red and green, due to a congenital defect in the cone cells of the retina. ● colour-blindness noun.

colour code ▷ noun the systematic use of colour as a means of identification or classification, as in electrical wiring. ▷ verb (colour-code) to mark something with different colours for identification. ● colour-coded adj.

coloured ▷ adj 1 also in compounds having colour, or a specified colour ▫ coloured paper. 2 a belonging to a dark-skinned race; b non-white. 3 (Coloured) S Afr being of mixed white and non-white descent. 4 distorted ▫ Her judgement was coloured because of past experiences. ▷ noun 1 someone of a dark-skinned race. 2 (Coloured) S Afr a person of mixed white and non-white descent.

colour-fast ▷ adj said of fabrics: dyed with colours that will not run or fade when washed.

colour filter ▷ noun, photog a transparent material which transmits light for only a selected portion of the visible SPECTRUM, partially or completely absorbing the remainder.

colourful ▷ adj 1 full of especially bright colour. 2 lively; vivid; full of interest or character. 3 said of a person's language: full of swear words. ● colourfully adverb.

colouring ▷ noun 1 a substance used to give colour, eg to food. 2 the applying of colour. 3 arrangement or combination of colour. 4 facial complexion, or this in combination with eye and hair colour.

colourist ▷ noun someone skilled in the use of colour, especially an artist.

colourize, colourise or (US) colorize ▷ verb (colourized, colourizing) cinema to add colour to (a film made in black and white), with the aid of a computer. ● colourization noun.

colourless ▷ adj 1 without or lacking colour. 2 uninteresting; dull; lifeless ▫ a colourless existence. 3 pale. ● colourlessly adverb.

colours ▷ plural noun 1 the flag of a nation, regiment or ship. 2 the coloured uniform or other distinguishing badge awarded to team-members in certain games. 3 a badge of ribbons in colours representing a particular party, etc, worn to show support for it. 4 the coloured dress of a jockey and horse, identifying the horse's owner. ● in one's true colours as one really is. ● nail one's colours to the mast to announce openly one's irrevocable support for something or someone. ● with flying colours with great success.

colour scheme ▷ noun a choice or combination of colours in house decoration, etc.

colour sergeant ▷ noun a sergeant who carries the company's colours.

colour supplement ▷ noun an illustrated magazine accompanying a newspaper.

colour television ▷ noun a TV system in which separate signals corresponding to the three primary colours of light (red, blue and green) are used to form a full-colour image on the screen of a specially designed television receiver.

colour therapy ▷ noun a form of therapy which involves the selection and use of appropriate colours that are said to promote healing and well-being.

colourway ▷ noun a combination of colours in patterned material, etc.

Colt /koʊlt/ ▷ noun, trademark a type of small pistol. ◷ 19c: named after its inventor Samuel Colt (1814–62).

colt /koʊlt/ ▷ noun 1 a male horse or pony less than four years old. 2 a thoroughbred horse or pony less than five years old. 3 sport an inexperienced young team-player or a member of a junior team. ◷ Anglo-Saxon, meaning 'young ass'.

coltish ▷ adj youthfully awkward in movement or behaviour. ● coltishly adverb.

coltsfoot ▷ noun (coltsfoot or coltsfoots) a perennial wild plant with bright yellow flowers and large soft heart-shaped leaves. ◷ 16c: so called because of the shape of its leaves.

colugo /kʊ'luːgoʊ/ ▷ noun (colugos) a nocturnal mammal, native to SE Asia, with a large membrane between its fore and hind limbs extending to the tail, which it uses to glide through the air. Also called flying lemur. ◷ 18c: probably from a Malaysian word.

Columba /kə'lʌmbə/ ▷ noun, astron a small constellation in the southern hemisphere, lying near Canis Major. Also called the Dove.

columbine /'kɒləmbaɪn/ ▷ noun a perennial wild flower related to the buttercup. ◷ 13c: from French colombine, from Latin columba dove or pigeon: so called because its petals look like a group of pigeons.

columbium /kə'lʌmbɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem former name for NIOBIUM.

column /'kɒləm/ ▷ noun 1 archit a vertical pillar, usually cylindrical, with a base and a CAPITAL². 2 something similarly shaped; a long and more or less cylindrical mass. 3 a vertical row of numbers. 4 a vertical strip of print on a newspaper page, etc. 5 a regular section in a newspaper concerned with a particular topic, or by a regular writer. 6 a troop of soldiers or vehicles standing or moving a few abreast. ● columnar adj. ● columned adj. ◷ 15c: from Latin columna pillar.

column inch ▷ noun the measure used in newspapers, etc, especially for advertisement spacing, being an area one column wide by one inch deep.

columnist /'kɒləmɪst, 'kɒləmnɪst/ ▷ noun someone who writes a regular section of a newspaper.

com- see CON-.

coma¹ /'koʊmə/ ▷ noun (comas) a prolonged state of deep unconsciousness from which a person cannot be awakened, caused by head injury, brain damage, stroke, etc. ◷ 17c: from Greek koma deep sleep.

coma² /'koʊmə/ ▷ noun (comae /-miː/) 1 bot a tuft of hairs attached to the TESTA of some seeds. 2 bot the arrangement of leaves at the top of a tree. 3 astron the envelope of gas and dust which forms around the NUCLEUS of a comet. 4 optics a defect in an optical system or the manifestation of it in which the image of a point appears as a blurred pear shape. ◷ 17c: Latin, from Greek kome hair of the head.

Coma Berenices /koʊmə berə'naɪsiːz/ ▷ noun, astron a small faint constellation of the northern hemisphere, noted for the large number of galaxies it contains.

comatose /'koʊmətoʊs, -toʊz/ ▷ adj 1 in a coma. 2 facetious a very drowsy; b asleep. ◷ 18c: from Greek koma deep sleep.

comb /koʊm/ ▷ noun 1 a a rigid toothed device for tidying and arranging the hair; b a similar device worn in the hair to keep it in place. 2 a toothed implement or part of a machine for disentangling, straightening and cleaning strands of wool or cotton. 3 an act of combing. 4 a honeycomb. 5 the fleshy serrated crest on the head of the male chicken or other cock bird. ▷ verb (combed, combing) 1 to arrange, smooth or clean something with a comb. 2 to search (a place) thoroughly. ◷ Anglo-Saxon camb, comb.

■ comb something out 1 to remove it from the hair by combing. 2 to search for and remove it.

combat /'kɒmbat, 'kʌm-/ ▷ noun fighting; a struggle or contest. ▷ verb (combated, combating) to fight against someone or something; to oppose something. ◷ 16c: French, from combattre to fight, from Latin com- with + battere to fight.

combatant /'kɒmbətənt, 'kʌm-/ ▷ adj involved in or ready for a fight. ▷ noun someone involved in or ready for a fight.

combat fatigue see BATTLE FATIGUE

combative ▷ adj inclined to fight or argue. • combativeness noun.

combination /kɒmbɪ'neɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of combining or the state of being combined. 2 a two or more things, people, etc combined; b the resulting mixture or union. 3 a sequence of numbers or letters for opening a combination lock. 4 Brit a motorcycle with sidecar. 5 math a SUBSET selected from a given set of numbers or objects, regardless of the order of selection. 6 chem a a union of chemical substances which forms a new compound; b the new compound formed. 7 (combinations) an old-fashioned one-piece undergarment combining long-sleeved vest and long underpants.

combination lock ▷ noun a lock which will only open when the numbered dial on it is turned to show a specific sequence of numbers.

combine /kəm'baɪn/ ▷ verb (combined, combining) tr & intr 1 to join together; to unite. 2 a to possess (two contrasting qualities, etc) at the same time; b to manage or achieve (two different things) at the same time. 3 chem to coalesce or make things coalesce so as to form a new compound. ▷ noun /'kɒmbaɪn/ 1 a group of people or businesses associated for a common purpose. 2 colloq a combine harvester. • combinative adj. • combinatory adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin combinare, from com- with + bini two together.

combine harvester ▷ noun, agric a machine used to harvest cereals and other arable crops, so called because it is equipped both to reap and thresh the crop.

combining form ▷ noun, grammar a word-forming element that occurs in combinations or compounds, eg -lysis in electrolysis.

combo /'kɒmbou/ ▷ noun (combos) colloq a a small jazz dance band; b facetious any band or group of musicians. ⓘ 20c: from COMBINATION.

combustible /kəm'bʌstɪbəl/ ▷ adj 1 a liable to catch fire and burn readily; b capable of being burnt as fuel. 2 easily angered; excitable. ▷ noun a combustible object or material. • combustibility or combustibleness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin combustibilis, from comburere, combustum to burn up.

combustion /kəm'bʌstʃən, kɒm-/ ▷ noun 1 the process of catching fire and burning. 2 chem a chemical reaction in which a gas, liquid or solid is rapidly OXIDIZED, producing heat and light. ⓘ 15c: French, from Latin comburere, combustum to burn up.

come /kʌm/ ▷ verb (past tense came, past participle come, present participle coming) intr in most senses 1 to move in the direction of speaker or hearer. 2 to reach a place; to arrive. 3 (usually come to or into something) to reach (a certain stage or state) □ come to power. 4 to travel or traverse (a distance, etc). 5 (often come to do or be something) to happen □ How did you come to hurt yourself? 6 to enter one's consciousness or perception □ come into view. 7 to occupy a specific place in order, etc □ In 'ceiling', 'e' comes before 'i'. 8 to be available; to exist or be found □ Those purple jeans come in several sizes. 9 to become □ come undone. 10 to descend or result from something □ This is what comes of being indulgent. 11 to act the part of (a specified character); to pretend to be something □ Don't come the innocent. 12 intr, colloq to have a sexual orgasm. 13 on the arrival of (a particular point in time) □ Come next Tuesday I'll be free. ▷ exclamation used to reassure or admonish □ Oh, come now, don't exaggerate. ▷ noun, slang (sometimes cum) ejaculated semen. • Come again? colloq Could you repeat that? • come and go to reappear from time to time. • come apart to fall to pieces. • come into one's own to have the opportunity to display one's talents. • come it slang to put on an act □ Don't come it over me. • Come off it! colloq stop talking nonsense! • Come on! 1 Hurry up! 2 Don't talk rubbish! □ The government is popular amongst the working class? Oh, come on! 3 Cheer up! □ Come on! Smile. 4 Don't exaggerate. • come one's way to become available. • come to grief to be unsuccessful; to fail. • come to harm to suffer or be hurt. • come to nothing to fail. • come to something to succeed. • come to (a decision, etc) to decide, usually after some consideration. • come to oneself 1 to regain consciousness. 2 to calm down; to regain one's self-control. • have it coming to one colloq to deserve whatever unpleasant fate befalls one. • not know whether one is coming or going to be in a dazed or bewildered state. • when it comes to ... when it is a question or case of ... □ When it comes to hard work, he's your man. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cuman.

■ come about 1 to happen. 2 naut to change direction.

■ come across 1 to make a certain impression □ Her speech came across well. 2 slang said of a woman: to show willingness to sexual advances.

■ come across something or someone to meet or discover them accidentally □ I came across my old toy soldier in the attic.

■ come across with something slang to provide what is required or anticipated □ He eventually came across with the money.

■ come along 1 to progress; to improve □ His recovery was coming along nicely. 2 to arrive. 3 often used as an exhortation to hurry up.

■ come at something or someone 1 to attack them. 2 to approach them.

■ come away to become detached □ The poster came away from the wall.

■ come back 1 to be recalled to mind □ It's all coming back to me now. 2 to become fashionable again □ After an absence of over a decade, flares really came back. 3 to return to something, usually after a period of time □ I would like to come back here someday. 4 said of a sportsperson: to return to competition after an enforced absence, eg an injury, etc.

■ come back at someone to answer them rudely.

■ come between someone or something and someone or something else to create a barrier or division between them.

■ come by to pass by or call in □ Come by around seven and I'll give you that CD.

■ come by something to obtain it, especially accidentally □ How did you come by that cut?

■ come down 1 to lose one's social position □ come down in the world. 2 said of an heirloom, etc: to be inherited. 3 to leave university. 4 to decide. 5 to emerge from the state induced by a hallucinogenic or addictive drug. 6 to descend.

■ come down on or upon someone or something to deal with them severely; to be very disapproving □ come down heavily on bullying.

■ come down to something to be equivalent to it, in simple terms □ It comes down to this: we stay or we leave.

■ come down with something to develop (an illness).

■ come for someone or something 1 to attack them. 2 to call to collect them or it □ I'll come for you at seven.

■ come forward to offer oneself □ Several witnesses came forward.

■ come from to be or have previously been a native or citizen of (a place) □ She comes from Stoke.

■ come in 1 to arrive; to be received. 2 to have a particular role, function or use □ This is where you come in □ would come in useful. 3 said of the tide: to rise. 4 to become fashionable.

■ come in for something to deserve or incur it □ came in for some criticism.

■ come into something to inherit (money, etc.)

■ come off 1 to become detached. 2 to succeed □ The robbery came off exactly as planned. 3 informal to take place □ The robbery came off at exactly midnight.

■ come on 1 to start. 2 to prosper or make progress □ She is coming on now that she has changed schools. 3 to appear or make an entrance on stage. 4 informal to begin □ He could feel the flu coming on.

■ come on to someone informal to flirt with them or make sexual advances towards them.

■ come out 1 said of the Sun or stars: to appear. 2 to become known; to become public □ It came out that the government were involved in another scandal. 3 to be removed □ The mark should come out when the shirt is washed. 4 to be released or made available □ Their new album comes out on Monday. 5 to go on strike □ come out in sympathy. 6 to declare one's opinion openly □ come out in favour of the plan. 7 to work out □ can't get the sum to come out. 8 to emerge in a specified position or state □ come out well from the affair. 9 said of a photograph: to be developed □ come out nice and clear. 10 colloq to declare openly that one is a homosexual. Compare OUT (verb 2). 11 old use said of a girl: to be launched in society.

■ come out in something to develop (a rash, etc) □ come out in spots.

■ come out with something to make (a remark, etc) □ What will she come out with next?

■ come over 1 to change one's opinion or side □ come over to our side. 2 to make a specified impression □ comes over well on television. 3 colloq to feel or become □ come over a bit faint.

■ come over someone to affect them □ What came over them?

■ come round 1 to regain consciousness. 2 to regain one's temper; to calm down. 3 to change one's opinion. 4 to recur in order or routine.

■ come through 1 to survive. 2 to emerge successfully.

■ come through for someone 1 to be there when they need you, especially in a time of crisis. 2 to complete what they have asked you do.

■ come through something 1 to survive it. 2 to emerge from it successfully.

■ come to to regain consciousness.

■ come to something to reach or total (a sum of money).

■ come under something or someone 1 to belong to (a category). 2 to be the responsibility of □ Swimming-pools come under the local authority.

■ come up 1 to occur; to happen □ I'll contact you if anything comes up. 2 to be considered or discussed □ The question didn't come up. 3 to rise socially □ come up in the world.

■ come up against someone or something to be faced with them as an opponent, challenge, etc.

■ come up to something to extend to or reach (a level, standard, etc).

■ come up to someone to approach them.

■ come up with something to offer it; to put it forward □ come up with an idea.

■ come upon something or someone to discover it or them by chance.

comeback ▷ noun 1 a return to former success, or to the stage, etc after a period of retirement or obscurity □ stage a comeback. 2 a retort □ Her comeback was biting. 3 an opportunity for redress or retaliation.

comedian /kəˈmiːdɪən/ and comedienne /kəmiːdɪˈɛn/ ▷ noun 1 a male or female entertainer who tells jokes, performs comic sketches, etc. 2 an actor in comedy. 3 facetious a funny person. ⓘ 17c: from COMEDY.

comedo /ˈkɒmɪdoʊ/ ▷ noun (comedones /kɒmɪˈdoʊniːz/ or comedos) technical a mass of fatty material forming a plug blocking one of the sebaceous ducts in the skin. Non-technical equivalent blackhead. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'glutton'.

comedown ▷ noun 1 a decline in social status. 2 an anticlimax.

comedy /ˈkɒmədɪ/ ▷ noun (comedies) 1 a light amusing play or film. 2 in earlier literature: a play with a fortunate outcome. 3 such plays as a group or genre. Compare TRAGEDY. 4 funny incidents or situations. ⓘ 14c: from Greek komoidia, from komos comic chorus + aoidos singer.

come-hither ▷ adj, colloq flirtatious; seductive □ a come-hither look.

comeliness ▷ noun a comely or attractive quality.

comely /ˈkʌmlɪ/ ▷ adj (comelier, comeliest) dated said of a person: attractive in a wholesome way. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cymlic beautiful.

come-on ▷ noun, colloq sexual encouragement □ give someone the come-on.

comer /ˈkʌmə(r)/ ▷ noun, in compounds, denoting someone who comes at the specified time □ latecomers □ a newcomer.

comestible /kəˈmɛstɪbəl/ ▷ noun (usually comestibles) affected something to eat. ⓘ 15c in this sense: French, from Latin comedere to eat up.

comet /ˈkɒmɪt/ ▷ noun, astron in the solar system: a small body consisting of a COMA (noun 4), a NUCLEUS and a TAIL, which is composed mainly of frozen gas, dust and rock and follows an elliptical orbit around the Sun. ⓘ 13c: from Greek kometes long-haired, from kome hair.

come-uppance ▷ noun, colloq justified punishment or retribution □ She got her come-uppance when no one voted for her.

comfit /ˈkʌmfɪt/ ▷ noun a type of sweet, containing a sugar-coated nut, liquorice, etc. ⓘ 15c: from French confit, from Latin conficere to prepare or make ready.

comfort /ˈkʌmfət/ ▷ noun 1 a state of contentedness or wellbeing. 2 relief from suffering, or consolation in grief. 3 a person or thing that provides such relief or consolation. 4 (usually comforts) something that makes for ease and physical wellbeing. ▷ verb (comforted, comforting) to relieve from suffering; to console or soothe. ⓘ 13c: from French conforter, from Latin confortare.

comfortable ▷ adj 1 in a state of wellbeing, especially physical. 2 at ease. 3 providing comfort. 4 colloq financially secure. 5 said of a hospital patient, etc: in a stable condition. 6 quite large □ win by a comfortable margin. ⓘ 18c: from French confortable, from conforter to comfort.

comfortably ▷ adverb 1 so as to be comfortable. 2 in a comfortable way. ● comfortably off colloq financially secure; able to live in comfort.

comforter ▷ noun 1 someone who comforts. 2 old use a warm scarf. 3 old use a baby's dummy. 4 N Amer, especially US a quilt.

comfrey /ˈkʌmfrɪ/ ▷ noun (comfreys) a bristly, robust, perennial plant belonging to the borage family, with tubular white, pink or purple flowers, traditionally used medicinally. ⓘ 13c: from Latin conferva healing water plant.

comfy /ˈkʌmfɪ/ ▷ adj (comfier, comfiest) colloq comfortable.

comic /ˈkɒmɪk/ ▷ adj 1 characterized by or relating to comedy; intended to amuse. 2 funny. ▷ noun 1 a comedian. 2 a paper or magazine, especially one aimed at children or teenagers, which includes strip cartoons, illustrated stories, etc. Also called comic book. ⓘ 16c: from Greek komikos, from komos comic chorus.

> comical, comic
>
> ● Both words have the meaning 'causing laughter', and they are largely interchangeable □ Her long body would have looked comical as she ran back and forth. Only comic still has a direct association with comedy □ He had a solo spot with a comic song.

comical ▷ adj funny; amusing; humorous; ludicrous. ● comicality noun. ● comically adverb.

comic opera ▷ noun lighthearted opera with spoken dialogue as well as singing.

comic strip ▷ noun in a newspaper, magazine, etc: a brief story or episode told through a short series of cartoon drawings.

coming ▷ noun an arrival or approach. ▷ adj 1 colloq likely to succeed □ the coming man. 2 approaching □ in the coming months. ▷ exclamation used as a promise of arrival □ Coming! I'll just put this away first. ● have it coming to one to deserve what is about to happen to one. ● up and coming 1 promising; progressing well. 2 approaching □ the up and coming share issue.

comings and goings ▷ plural noun, colloq bustle; activity; movement.

comity /ˈkɒmɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (comities) civility; politeness; courtesy. ⓘ 16c: from Latin comitas, from comis friendly.

comity of nations ▷ noun mutual respect and recognition between nations for one another's laws and customs.

comma /ˈkɒmə/ ▷ noun (commas) a punctuation mark (,) indicating a slight pause or break made for the sake of clarity, to separate items in a list, etc. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek komma short clause.

> comma
>
> A comma
>
> ● indicates a pause or slight break within a sentence □ I'd give anything not to go, but I'm afraid I must □ Whatever you have to say, make it brief □ He had grown to like his little room, which, like his jacket pockets, was filled with possessions he had gathered over the years.
>
> Many commas of this kind are nowadays optional:
>
> ✓ They're down at the pub, celebrating their win on the Lottery.
>
> ✓ They're down at the pub celebrating their win on the Lottery.
>
> However, always use a comma to separate the main clause from a dependent clause that comes before it □ When he arrived home, the children ran to meet him.
>
> ● It separates clauses between which there is a balance or contrast □ You may be sorry, but I am delighted.
>
> ALTERNATIVE STYLES: a semicolon and no conjunction □ You may be sorry; I am delighted; a colon and no conjunction □ You may be sorry: I am delighted.
>
> ● It clarifies the structure or meaning of a sentence □ She felt sick, and tired of looking at modern art □ For this week, only coats will be half-price.
>
> Note especially how the comma is used to distinguish between a 'defining relative clause' and a 'non-defining relative clause' □ The students, who attend classes every day, are making good progress (ie all the students) □ The students who attend classes every day are making good progress (ie only those who attend classes every day).
>
> ● It separates introductory words and inserted comments □ I don't much like the idea. However, you can go if you want to □ I put it to you, ladies and gentlemen, that the government has earned your support.
>
> ● It is used after 'yes' and 'no', and before 'please' □ Yes, you're quite right □ No, I don't agree at all □ Put the books down over there, please.
>
> ● It is used before the name of a person being spoken to, and before other forms of address □ Are you coming too, Jack? □ Will you answer the door, dear?
>
> ● It separates groups of adjectives, phrases, nouns and adverbs, with an optional comma before the 'and' or 'or' □ a cold, wet, windy day □ I came for a holiday, I liked what I saw, I stayed — it's as simple as that □ I like football, tennis(,) and golf We need to deal with this quickly, quietly(,) and effectively □ Which do you do best — sing, dance(,) or paint?
>
> ● It separates direct speech from the rest of the sentence □ 'I wouldn't stay now,' she said, 'even if you begged me' □ Peter at once said, 'I want to come too.'
>
> ALTERNATIVE STYLE: a colon, when the quoted speech comes last □ Peter at once said: 'I want to come too.'
>
> ● Although it is not incorrect, nowadays it is not usually used in letter-writing, either in the address or after 'Dear Sir' etc.
>
> ● It is used optionally in five-figure numbers and above, before every three figures counting from the left □ 35,000 □ 2,335,560.
>
> ALTERNATIVE STYLES: no comma and no space □ 35000; a thin space and no comma □ 35 000.

command /kəˈmɑːnd/ ▷ verb (commanded, commanding) 1 to order formally. 2 to have authority over or be in control of someone or something. 3 to have at one's disposal. 4 to deserve or be entitled to something. 5 to look down over something □ The window commands a view of the bay. ▷ noun 1 an order. 2 control; charge. 3 knowledge of and ability to use something □ a good command of the English language. 4 a military unit or a district under one's command. 5 military a specialized section of an army, air force, etc □ Bomber Command. 6 military a group of high-ranking army officers, etc □ the British High Command. 7 an instruction to a computer to initiate a specific operation. 8 Brit a royal invitation. ⓘ 13c: from French commander, from Latin com- intensive + mandare to give in charge.

commandant /ˈkɒməndant, kɒmənˈdɑːnt/ ▷ noun a commanding officer, especially of a prisoner-of-war camp or a military training establishment. ⓘ 17c: French, present participle of commander to command.

command economy ▷ noun a centrally controlled economy in which the state takes all economic decisions.

Also called planned economy. Compare MARKET ECONOMY, MIXED ECONOMY.

commandeer /kɒmən'dɪə(r)/ ⊳ verb (commandeered, commandeering) 1 to seize (property) for military use in wartime, official use in an emergency, etc. 2 to seize without justification. ◷ 19c: from Afrikaans kommandeer, from French commander to command.

commander ⊳ noun 1 someone who commands. 2 in the British navy: an officer just below captain in rank. See table at RANK. 3 a high-ranking police officer. 4 a senior member in some orders of knighthood. Also called knight commander.

commander in chief ⊳ noun (commanders in chief) the officer in supreme command of a nation's forces.

commanding ⊳ adj 1 powerful; leading; controlling. 2 in charge. 3 inspiring respect or awe. 4 favourable; giving good views all round ▫ a house with a commanding position.

commandment ⊳ noun 1 a a divine command; b (Commandment) Authorized Version one of the 10 rules given to Moses by God as the basis of a good life. 2 literary a command.

command module ⊳ noun, space flight the section of a spacecraft from which operations are directed, and which serves as living quarters for the crew.

commando ⊳ noun (commandos) 1 a unit of soldiers specially trained to carry out dangerous and difficult attacks or raids. 2 a member of such a unit. ◷ 18c: Portuguese, from commandar to command.

command paper ⊳ noun a government document, originally one presented to parliament by command of the monarch. Compare GREEN PAPER, WHITE PAPER.

command performance ⊳ noun a special performance of a play, etc at the request, and in the presence, of the monarch or head of state.

command post ⊳ noun a temporary military headquarters.

commedia dell'arte /kɒ'meɪdɪə del'ɑːteɪ/ ⊳ noun Italian Renaissance comedy with stock characters and plots which are full of intrigue. ◷ 16c: Italian, meaning 'comedy of the arts'.

commemorate /kə'meməreɪt/ ⊳ verb (commemorated, commemorating) 1 to honour the memory of (a person or event) with a ceremony, etc. 2 to be a memorial to someone or something. ● commemoration noun. ● commemorative adj. ◷ 16c: from Latin commemorare, commemoratum to keep in mind.

commence /kə'mens/ ⊳ verb (commenced, commencing) tr & intr to begin. ◷ 14c: from French commencier, from Latin com- intensive + initiare to begin.

commencement ⊳ noun 1 a beginning. 2 N Amer a a graduation ceremony for the conferment of degrees and diplomas; b the day on which this ceremony takes place.

commend /kə'mend/ ⊳ verb (commended, commending) to praise someone. ● commendable adj praiseworthy. ● commendably adverb. ● commendatory adj containing praise ▫ commendatory letter. ◷ 14c: from Latin commendare, from com- intensive + mandare to entrust.

■ commend someone or something to someone 1 to entrust it to them. 2 to recommend or make it acceptable to them ▫ if the idea commends itself to you.

commendation /kɒmən'deɪʃən/ ⊳ noun 1 praise; approval. 2 a public award or honour.

commensal /kə'mensəl/ biol ⊳ adj said of two organisms of different species: living in close association with each other, with one gaining from the relationship, while the other remains unaffected by it. ⊳ noun the organism in a commensal relationship which benefits from it. Compare HOST[1] (noun 5). ● commensalism such a partnership or association. Compare PARASITISM, SYMBIOSIS (sense 1). ◷ 19c in this sense: French, from Latin commensalis, from com- together + mensa table.

commensurable /kə'menʃərəbəl, kə'mensjʊrəbəl/ ⊳ adj 1 math having a common factor. 2 denoting quantities whose ratio is a RATIONAL NUMBER. 3 denoting two or more quantities that can be measured in the same units. ◷ 16c: from Latin commensurabilis, from com- with + mensurare to measure.

commensurate ⊳ adj 1 in equal proportion to something; appropriate to it. 2 equal in extent, quantity, etc to something. ● commensurately adverb. ◷ 17c: from Latin commensuratus.

comment /'kɒment/ ⊳ noun 1 a remark or observation, especially a critical one. 2 talk, discussion or gossip. 3 an explanatory or analytical note on a passage of text. ⊳ verb (commented, commenting) tr & intr (often comment on something) to make observations, remarks, etc. ● no comment usually said in response to a question from a journalist, etc: I have nothing to say. ◷ 15c: French.

commentary /'kɒməntərɪ/ ⊳ noun (commentaries) 1 an ongoing description of an event, eg a football match, as it happens, that is broadcast on TV or radio. 2 an explanation accompanying a film, etc. 3 a set of notes explaining or interpreting points in a text, etc. ◷ 16c: from Latin commentarium notebook.

commentate ⊳ verb (commentated, commentating) intr to give a RUNNING COMMENTARY. ◷ 20c: from COMMENTATOR.

commentator ⊳ noun 1 a broadcaster who gives a commentary on an event, etc. 2 the writer of a textual commentary. ◷ 17c: Latin, meaning 'inventor' or 'author'.

commerce /'kɒmɜːs/ ⊳ noun 1 a the buying and selling of commodities and services; b trade, including banking, insurance, etc. 2 old use social dealings or communication. ◷ 16c: French, from Latin commercium trade.

commercial /kə'mɜːʃəl/ ⊳ adj 1 relating to, engaged in or used for commerce. 2 profitable; having profit as the main goal. 3 paid for by advertising. ⊳ noun a radio or TV advertisement. ● commerciality noun. ● commercially adverb. ◷ 17c: from Latin commercium trade.

commercial break ⊳ noun on some TV and radio stations: a periodic interruption of programmes to allow the advertising of various products.

Commercial Court ⊳ noun in England and Wales: a court within the Queen's Bench Division which hears major commercial cases, usually in private.

commercialism ⊳ noun 1 commercial attitudes and aims. 2 undue emphasis on profit-making.

commercialize or commercialise ⊳ verb (commercialized, commercializing) 1 derisive to exploit for profit, especially by sacrificing quality. 2 to make commercial. ● commercialization noun.

commercial traveller ⊳ noun someone who travels around the country representing a company and selling their goods to other companies.

commercial vehicle ⊳ noun a vehicle which carries goods or fare-paying passengers.

commie ⊳ noun, adj, colloq derog short form of COMMUNIST.

comminute /'kɒmɪnjuːt/ ⊳ verb (comminuted, comminuting) technical 1 to crush (a solid) into tiny pieces. 2 to divide (eg property) into small portions. ● comminution noun. ◷ 17c: from Latin comminuere, comminutum to lessen.

commis /'kɒmɪ/ and commis chef ⊳ noun (plural commis /'kɒmiːz/ or commis chefs) an assistant or trainee waiter or chef. ◷ 20c: French, meaning 'deputy'.

commiserate /kə'mɪzəreɪt/ ⊳ verb (commiserated, commiserating) tr & intr (often commiserate with someone) to express one's sympathy for them. • commiseration noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin commiserari, commiseratus from com- with + miserari to lament.

commissar /kɒmɪˈsɑː(r)/ ▷ noun in the former Soviet Union: 1 the head of a government department. 2 a Communist Party official responsible for the political education of military units. ⓘ 20c: from Russian komissar, from Latin commissarius officer in charge.

commissarial /kɒmɪˈseərɪəl, -ˈsɑːrɪəl/ ▷ adj relating to or associated with a commissary. ⓘ 18c.

commissariat /kɒmɪˈseərɪət, -ˈsɑːrɪət/ ▷ noun 1 in the army: a department responsible for food supplies. 2 in the former Soviet Union: a government department. ⓘ 18c: from French (sense 1) and Russian (sense 2), from Latin commissarius officer in charge.

commissary /ˈkɒmɪsərɪ/ ▷ noun (commissaries) 1 in the army: an officer responsible for supplies and provisions. 2 US a store supplying provisions and equipment to a military force. 3 originally US a canteen serving a film studio, etc. 4 a deputy, especially one representing a bishop. ⓘ 14c: from Latin commissarius officer in charge.

commission /kəˈmɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a a formal or official request to someone to perform a task or duty; b the authority to perform such a task or duty; c the task or duty performed. 2 a a military rank above the level of officer; b the document conferring this rank. 3 an order for a piece of work, especially a work of art. 4 a board or committee entrusted with a particular task □ the equal rights commission. 5 a fee or percentage given to an agent for arranging a sale, etc. 6 the act of committing (eg a crime). ▷ verb (commissioned, commissioning) 1 to give a commission or authority to someone. 2 to grant a military rank above a certain level to someone. 3 to request someone to do something. 4 to place an order for something, eg a work of art, etc. 5 to prepare (a ship) for active service. • in or out of commission in or not in use or working condition. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin commissio, from committere to commit.

commissionaire /kəmɪʃəˈneə(r)/ ▷ noun, chiefly Brit a uniformed attendant at the door of a cinema, theatre, office or hotel. ⓘ 19c: French.

commissioned officer ▷ noun a military officer who holds a commission.

commissioner ▷ noun 1 a representative of the government in a district, department, etc. 2 a member of a commission. • commissionership noun.

commit /kəˈmɪt/ ▷ verb (committed, committing) 1 to carry out or perpetrate (a crime, offence, error, etc). 2 to have someone put in prison or a mental institution. 3 to promise or engage, especially oneself, for some undertaking, etc. 4 to dedicate oneself to a cause, etc from a sense of conviction □ She committed herself to Christ. 5 to entrust or give. 6 to send someone for trial in a higher court. • commit oneself to make a definite irrevocable decision. • commit something to memory to memorize it. ⓘ 14c: from Latin committere to put together or to join.

commitment ▷ noun 1 a the act of committing someone or oneself; b the state of being committed. 2 dedication or devotion; strong conviction. 3 a usually irrevocable undertaking or responsibility. 4 law an official order for the imprisonment of someone. Also called mittimus.

committal ▷ noun 1 the action of committing someone to a prison or mental institution. 2 at a burial: the act of putting the coffin into the grave.

committee /kəˈmɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (committees) 1 a group of people selected by and from a larger body, eg a club, to undertake certain duties on its behalf. 2 a body specially appointed to undertake an investigation, enquiry, etc. ⓘ 17c.

committee stage ▷ noun, politics the stage between the second and third readings of a parliamentary bill, when it is examined in detail by members sitting in committee.

commode /kəˈmoʊd/ ▷ noun 1 a chair with a hinged seat, designed to conceal a chamber pot. 2 an ornate chest of drawers. ⓘ 18c: French, from Latin commodus convenient.

commodious ▷ adj comfortably spacious. • commodiously adverb. • commodiousness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin commodus convenient.

commodity /kəˈmɒdɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (commodities) 1 something that is bought and sold, especially a manufactured product or raw material. 2 something, eg a quality, from the point of view of its value or importance in society □ Courtesy is a scarce commodity. ⓘ 15c: from French commodité, from Latin commoditas convenience.

commodity market and commodity exchange ▷ noun, econ a market where buyers and sellers of raw materials eg wool, sugar, coffee, wheat, metals, etc trade.

commodore /ˈkɒmədɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 in the navy: an officer just below a rear admiral in rank. See table at RANK. 2 the president of a yacht club. 3 the senior captain in charge of a fleet of merchant ships. ⓘ 17c: perhaps from Dutch, from French commandeur commander.

common /ˈkɒmən/ ▷ adj 1 often met with; frequent; familiar □ a common mistake. 2 shared by two or more people, things, etc □ characteristics common to both animals. 3 publicly owned. 4 said of a standard: one has a right to expect □ common decency. 5 widespread □ common knowledge. 6 derog lacking taste or refinement; vulgar. 7 a said of the ordinary type □ the common cold; b especially of plants and animals: general or ordinary □ common toad □ common bindweed. 8 not of high rank or class □ the common people. 9 math shared by two or more numbers □ highest common factor. ▷ noun 1 a piece of land that is publicly owned or available for public use. 2 law a right to something, or to do something, on someone else's land. 3 slang common sense. See also COMMONS. • commonly adverb. • commonness noun. • the common touch an ability, in someone distinguished by accomplishment or rank, to relate sociably to ordinary people. • in common 1 said of two people with regard to their interests, etc: shared. 2 in joint use or ownership □ a garden owned in common by the residents. • make common cause to co-operate to achieve a common aim. ⓘ 13c: as comun, from French comun, from Latin communis.

common denominator ▷ noun 1 math a whole number that is a multiple of each of the DENOMINATORs of two or more VULGAR FRACTIONs, eg 15 is a common denominator of ⅓ and ⅖. See also LOWEST COMMON DENOMINATOR. 2 something that enables comparison, agreement, etc between people or things.

commoner ▷ noun 1 someone who is not a member of the nobility. 2 at some English colleges: a student who is not on a scholarship.

Common Era ▷ noun (abbreviation CE) a culturally neutral term for the present era, reckoned since the birth of Christ, sometimes used instead of ANNO DOMINI. See also BCE.

common fraction see VULGAR FRACTION common gender ▷ noun, grammar the GENDER of such nouns as doctor, scientist, baby, which have only one form that can refer to either sex. See also NEUTER.

common ground ▷ noun an area of mutual agreement or shared interest, often used as a starting-point for discussion.

common law ▷ noun, law the body of law based on custom and decisions by judges, in contrast to STATUTE law.

common-law ▷ noun, as adj denoting the relationship of two people who have lived together as husband and wife for a certain number of years but who have not been through a civil or religious ceremony ◻ common-law marriage.

the Common Market see under EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY.

common noun ▷ noun, grammar a noun that is not a proper name and which can refer to any member of a class of things, eg car, table, girl as opposed to Paris, John. Compare PROPER NOUN.

common-or-garden ▷ adj ordinary; everyday.

commonplace ▷ adj 1 ordinary; everyday. 2 derog unoriginal; lacking individuality; trite. ▷ noun 1 derog a trite comment; a cliché. 2 an everyday occurrence. ⊙ 16c: a translation of the Latin phrase locus communis an argument widely used.

common-riding ▷ noun in the Scottish Borders: a ceremonial progress by riders on horseback around the boundaries of common land, traditionally intended to deter encroachment by neighbouring landowners and to guard against invasion by the English. See also BEAT THE BOUNDS at BEAT.

common room ▷ noun in a college, school, etc: a sitting-room for general use by students or one used by staff.

commons ▷ plural noun 1 historical (the commons) the ordinary people. 2 old use, facetious shared food rations. ▷ singular noun (the Commons) the House of Commons. ● on short commons having reduced rations.

common seal ▷ noun a true seal native to the N Pacific and N Atlantic oceans, usually grey with dark blotches.

common sense ▷ noun practical wisdom and understanding. ● common-sense and common-sensical ▷ adj having or noted for common sense.

common time ▷ noun, music a rhythm with four beats to the bar.

the Commonwealth ▷ noun (in full the Commonwealth of Nations) a voluntary association of countries or states which were all formerly ruled by Great Britain.

commonwealth ▷ noun 1 a country or state. 2 an association of states that have joined together for their common good. 3 a state in which the people hold power; a republic. 4 a title used by certain US states. ⊙ 16c.

Commonwealth Day ▷ noun a public holiday celebrated in many parts of the Commonwealth on the second Monday in March.

Commonwealth of Independent States see CIS.

commotion /kə'moʊʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a disturbance; an upheaval. 2 noisy confusion; uproar. ⊙ 15c: from Latin commovere to move.

communal /'kɒmjʊnəl, kə'mjuːnəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating or belonging to a community. 2 shared; owned in common. 3 relating to a commune or communes. ● communally adverb. ⊙ 19c: French, from Latin communalis, from communis common.

commune[1] /'kɒmjuːn/ ▷ noun 1 a number of unrelated families and individuals living together as a mutually supportive community, with shared accommodation, supplies, responsibilities, etc. 2 in some European countries: the smallest administrative unit locally governed. ⊙ 18c: French, from Latin communis common.

commune[2] /kə'mjuːn/ ▷ verb (communed, communing) intr 1 to communicate intimately or confidentially. 2 to get close to or relate spiritually to (eg nature). ⊙ 16c in this sense, from French communer to share, from comun common.

communicable /kə'mjuːnɪkəbəl/ ▷ adj capable of being communicated. ⊙ 16c: French, from Latin communicabilis, from communicare to share or impart.

communicable disease ▷ noun, pathol an infectious or contagious disease that can be transmitted from one organism to another by direct physical contact, infected airborne droplets, etc.

communicant /kə'mjuːnɪkənt/ ▷ noun 1 Christianity someone who receives communion. 2 someone who communicates or informs. ⊙ 16c: from Latin communicare to partake or impart.

communicate /kə'mjuːnɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (communicated, communicating) 1 ▷ tr & intr a to impart (information, ideas, etc); to make something known or understood; b to get in touch. 2 to pass on or transmit (a disease, feeling, etc). 3 intr to understand someone; to have a comfortable social relationship. 4 intr said of rooms, etc: to be connected ◻ a communicating door. 5 intr, Christianity to receive communion. ⊙ 16c: from Latin communicare, communicatum to share.

communication ▷ noun 1 a the process or act of communicating; b the exchanging or imparting of ideas and information, etc. 2 a piece of information, a letter or a message. 3 social contact. 4 (communications) the various electronic processes by which information is conveyed from one person or place to another, especially by means of wires, cables or radio waves. 5 (communications) means or routes used for moving troops or supplies. 6 (communications) the science and activity of transmitting information, etc.

communication cord ▷ noun, Brit in a railway carriage: a chain or cord which can be pulled in an emergency to stop the train.

communications satellite ▷ noun, astron an artificial satellite which orbits the Earth relaying radio, TV and telephone signals.

communication theory ▷ noun the application of information theory to human communication in general, where communication is seen as involving an information source which encodes a message to be transmitted through a channel to a receiver, where it is decoded and has an effect.

communicative /kə'mjuːnɪkətɪv/ ▷ adj 1 sociable; talkative. 2 relating to communication ◻ communicative skills. ● communicatively adverb.

communion /kə'mjuːnɪən/ ▷ noun 1 the sharing of thoughts, beliefs or feelings. 2 a group of people sharing the same religious beliefs. 3 (also Holy Communion) Christianity a a church service at which bread and wine are taken as symbols of Christ's body and blood; b the consecrated bread and wine. See also EUCHARIST. ⊙ 14c: from Latin communio mutual participation.

communiqué /kə'mjuːnɪkeɪ/ ▷ noun (communiqués) an official bulletin, communication or announcement. ⊙ 19c: French, meaning 'something communicated', from communiquer to communicate.

communism /'kɒmjʊnɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 a political ideology advocating a classless society, the abolition of private ownership and all sources of wealth and production being collectively owned and controlled by the people. 2 (Communism) a political movement founded on the principles of communism set out by Karl Marx. 3 the political and social system established on these principles in the former Soviet Union and other countries. ⊙ 19c: from French communisme, from commun common.

communist ▷ noun 1 a supporter of, or believer in communism. 2 (often Communist) a member of a communist party. Often shortened to commie. ▷ adj 1 relating to communism. 2 believing in or favouring communism. Often shortened to commie.

communistic adj 1 believing in or favouring communism. 2 involving or favouring communal living and ownership.

communitarian /kəmjuːnɪ'teərɪən/ ▷ noun 1 a member of a community. 2 an advocate of community life.

community /kə'mjuːnɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (communities) 1 a the group of people living in a particular place; b the place in which they live. 2 a group of people bonded together by a common religion, nationality or occupation ▫ the Asian community. 3 a religious or spiritual fellowship of people living together. 4 the quality or fact of being shared or common ▫ community of interests. 5 a group of states with common interests. 6 the public; society in general. 7 biol a naturally occurring group of different plant or animal species that occupy the same habitat and interact with each other. ⓘ 14c: from Latin communitas fellowship, from communis common.

community centre ▷ noun a place where members of a community may meet for social, sporting or educational activities.

community charge ▷ noun, formerly in Britain: a tax levied on individuals to pay for local services, known informally as the poll tax. See also RATES, COUNCIL TAX.

community council ▷ noun a group of lay people elected to look after local interests. ⓘ 20c.

community home ▷ noun in Britain: 1 an institution in which children are placed by local authorities when they are unable to live with their parents. 2 a similar institution for young offenders.

community policing ▷ noun a type of law enforcement whereby a police officer is assigned exclusively to a particular area in order to become familiar with it and with the residents.

community school and community college ▷ noun, originally US a school or college which is geared towards providing education for the whole community, irrespective of age.

community service ▷ noun unpaid work of benefit to the local community, sometimes prescribed for offenders as an alternative to a prison sentence.

community singing ▷ noun organized singing at a large gathering, with everyone taking part.

community work ▷ noun a form of social work that serves the needs of members of the local community.

commutate /'kɒmjʊteɪt/ ▷ verb (commutated, commutating) electronics to change an alternating current into a direct one and vice versa. ● commutator noun a device for changing electrical currents.

commutation ▷ noun 1 the act of being commuted or exchanged. 2 the act of changing an electrical current.

commutative /kə'mjuːtətɪv, 'kɒmjʊteɪtɪv/ ▷ adj, math said of an arithmetical process: performed on two quantities, the order of which does not affect the result, eg addition and multiplication, but not subtraction and division.

commute /kə'mjuːt/ ▷ verb (commuted, commuting) 1 intr to travel regularly between two places which are a significant distance apart, especially between home and work in a city, etc. 2 to alter (a criminal sentence) to one less severe. 3 to substitute; to convert. 4 to exchange (one type of payment) for another, eg a single payment for one made in instalments. ● commutable adj. ● commutation noun. ● commuter noun someone who regularly travels a significant distance between home and work. ⓘ 17c: from Latin commutare to alter or exchange.

compact[1] ▷ adj /'kɒmpakt/ 1 firm and dense in form or texture. 2 small, but with all essentials neatly contained. 3 neatly concise, packed tightly together. ▷ verb /kəm'pakt/ (compacted, compacting) to compress. ▷ noun /'kɒmpakt/ a small case for women's face powder, usually including a mirror. ● compaction noun. ● compactly adverb. ● compactness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin compactus, from compingere to put together closely.

compact[2] /'kɒmpakt/ ▷ noun a contract or agreement. ⓘ 16c: from Latin compactum, from compacisci to covenant together.

compact disc ▷ noun (abbreviation CD) a small aluminium disc used to record audio and/or visual information in the form of digital data, which can be played back on a specially designed machine. See also CD-ROM.

compact disc interactive see CD-I compact disc read-only memory see CD-ROM

companion[1] /kəm'panjən/ ▷ noun 1 a friend, comrade or frequent associate. 2 someone who accompanies someone on a journey. 3 historical a woman employed by another woman to live or travel with her and to keep her company. 4 especially as a title: a book of advice; a handbook or guide. 5 one of a pair of matching objects. 6 (Companion) an honourable title denoting a low-ranking member of any of various orders of knighthood. ● companionship noun. ⓘ 13c: from French compagnon, from Latin companio, literally 'food-sharer', from com- together + panis bread.

companion[2] /kəm'panjən/ ▷ noun, naut a hatch admitting light to a cabin or lower deck. ⓘ 18c: from Dutch kompanje quarterdeck, from Italian compagna storeroom for provisions.

companionable ▷ adj friendly; sociable; comfortable as a companion. ● companionably adverb.

companion set ▷ noun a set of tools, consisting of a brush, poker, shovel and tongs, which are kept on a stand by the fireplace and used to tend a coal fire.

companionway ▷ noun on a ship: a staircase from a deck to a cabin, or between decks.

company /'kʌmpənɪ/ ▷ noun (companies) 1 the presence of another person or other people; companionship. 2 the presence of guests or visitors, or the people involved ▫ expecting company. 3 one's friends, companions or associates ▫ get into bad company. 4 a business organization. 5 a troop of actors or entertainers. 6 a military unit of about 120 men. 7 a ship's crew. 8 a gathering of people, at a social function, etc. ● be good or bad company to be an entertaining, or dreary, companion. ● be in good company to be not the only one in the same situation ▫ You failed your exam? Well, you're in good company! ● in company with ... together with ...; along with ... ▫ in company with other reasons. ● keep someone company to act as their companion. ● part company with someone 1 to separate from them. 2 to disagree with them. ⓘ 13c: from French compaignie; see COMPANION.

company secretary ▷ noun a senior member of a business organization, concerned with financial and legal matters.

comparable /'kɒmpərəbəl, kəm'parəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 being of the same or equivalent kind. 2 able to be compared; similar enough to allow comparison. ● comparability noun. ● comparably adverb.

comparative /kəm'parətɪv/ ▷ adj 1 judged by comparison; as compared with others. 2 relating to, or using the method of, comparison. 3 as observed by comparing one another; relative ▫ their comparative strengths. 4 grammar said of adjectives and adverbs: in the form denoting a greater degree of the quality in question but not the greatest, formed either by using the suffix -er or the word more, eg larger or more usual. Compare POSITIVE, SUPERLATIVE. ▷ noun, grammar 1 a comparative adjective or adverb. 2 the comparative form of a word. ● comparatively adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin comparativus, from comparare to match.

comparative history ▷ noun a form of historical inquiry that studies the development of different societies within the same period of history, or similar phenomena across different periods, rather than concentrating on the development of one particular nation.

comparative linguistics ▷ noun 1 the study of the similarities and differences between languages and dialects. 2 the comparison of features found in their various forms in the historical development of a single language.

comparative literature ▷ noun the study of the literatures of different languages and nations and the relationships and similarities which may exist between them.

compare /kəm'peə(r)/ ▷ verb (compared, comparing) 1 to examine (items, etc) to see what differences or similarities they have. 2 intr (often compare with something or someone) to be comparable with it or them ▫ He can't compare with his predecessor in ability. 3 intr to relate (well, badly, etc) when examined ▫ The two books compare well. 4 grammar to state the positive, comparative and superlative forms often adjective or adverb. ● beyond or without compare formal without equal; incomparable. ● compare notes to exchange ideas and opinions. ⓘ 15c: from Latin comparare to match.

■ compare someone or something to someone or something else to liken them to each other ▫ compare her to an angel.

comparison /kəm'parɪsən, -zən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of, an act of or a reasonable basis for, comparing ▫ There can be no comparison between them. 2 grammar the POSITIVE (sense 14), COMPARATIVE (adj 4) and SUPERLATIVE (adj 1) forms of adjectives and adverbs. Also called degrees of comparison. ⓘ 14c: from French comparaison, from Latin comparare to match.

compartment /kəm'pɑːtmənt, kɒm-/ ▷ noun 1 a separated-off or enclosed section. 2 any of several enclosed sections into which some railway carriages are divided. ● compartmental /-'mentəl/ adj. ⓘ 16c: from French compartiment, from Latin compartiri to divide.

compartmentalize or compartmentalise /kɒmpɑːt'mentəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (compartmentalized, compartmentalizing) to divide, distribute or force into categories. ● compartmentalization noun.

compass /'kʌmpəs/ ▷ noun (compasses) 1 any device for finding direction, especially one consisting of a magnetized needle that swings freely on a pivot and points to magnetic north, from which true north can be calculated. See also GYROCOMPASS. 2 (usually compasses) a device consisting of two hinged legs, for drawing circles, measuring distances on maps, etc. Also called pair of compasses. 3 range or scope ▫ within the compass of philosophy. 4 music said of a voice or instrument: the range between the highest and lowest possible notes. ▷ verb (compasses, compassed, compassing) 1 to pass or go round. 2 to surround or enclose. 3 to accomplish or obtain. 4 to comprehend. ⓘ 13c: from French compas, from compasser to measure.

compassion /kəm'paʃən/ ▷ noun a feeling of sorrow and pity for someone in trouble. ● compassionate adj 1 inclined to pity or mercy. 2 merciful. ● compassionately adverb. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin compassio, from com- with + pati, passus to suffer.

compassionate leave ▷ noun special absence from work granted in cases of bereavement.

compassion fatigue ▷ noun progressive disinclination to show compassion because of continued or excessive exposure to deserving cases.

compatible /kəm'patɪbəl/ ▷ adj (often compatible with something or someone) 1 able to associate or coexist agreeably. 2 consistent or congruous ▫ His actions were not compatible with his beliefs. 3 computing said of a program or device: capable of being used with a particular computer system, especially one produced by another manufacturer. 4 engineering said of a device or piece of machinery: capable of being used in conjunction with another, especially a newer version, without the need for special modification. ● compatibility noun. ● compatibly adverb. ⓘ 16c: French, from Latin compatibilis, from compati to suffer with.

compatriot /kəm'peɪtrɪət, -'patrɪət/ ▷ noun someone from one's own country; a fellow-citizen. ⓘ 17c: from Latin compatriota, from com- with + patria one's country.

compeer /kɒm'pɪə(r)/ ▷ noun an equal; a companion or comrade. ⓘ 13c: from French comper, from Latin com- with + par equal or peer.

compel /kəm'pel/ ▷ verb (compelled, compelling) 1 to force; to drive. 2 to arouse; to elicit or evoke ▫ Their plight compels sympathy. ⓘ 14c: from Latin compellere, from com- together + pellere to force.

compelling ▷ adj 1 powerful; forcing one to agree, etc. 2 irresistibly fascinating. ● compellingly adverb.

compendious /kəm'pendɪəs/ ▷ adj concise but comprehensive. ● compendiously adverb. ● compendiousness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin compendiosus, from compendium summary.

compendium /kəm'pendɪəm/ ▷ noun (compendiums or compendia /-dɪə/) 1 a concise summary; an abridgement. 2 a collection of boardgames, puzzles, etc in a single container. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'that which is weighed together', from com- together + pendere to weigh.

compensate /'kɒmpənseɪt/ ▷ verb (compensated, compensating) 1 to make amends to someone for loss, injury or wrong, especially by a suitable payment. 2 intr (often compensate for something) to make up for (a disadvantage, loss, imbalance, etc). ● compensatory adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin compensare, compensatum to counterbalance.

compensation /kɒmpən'seɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of compensating. 2 something that compensates. 3 a sum of money awarded to make up for loss, injury, etc.

compere or compère /'kɒmpeə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who hosts a radio or television show, introduces performers, etc. ▷ verb (compered, compering) tr & intr to act as compere for (a show). ⓘ 1930s: French, meaning 'godfather'.

compete /kəm'piːt/ ▷ verb (competed, competing) intr 1 to take part in a contest. 2 to strive or struggle ▫ compete with other firms. 3 said of a product, firm, etc: to give good value, be reasonably cheap, etc when compared to market rivals. ⓘ 17c: from Latin competere to coincide, ask for or seek.

competence /'kɒmpətəns/ and competency ▷ noun 1 capability; efficiency. 2 legal authority or capability. 3 old use sufficient income to live comfortably.

competent ▷ adj 1 efficient. 2 having sufficient skill or training to do something. 3 legally capable. ● competently adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin competere to meet, be sufficient.

competition /kɒmpə'tɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an event in which people compete. 2 the process or fact of competing. 3 rivals, eg in business or their products. 4 biol in a community of plants or animals: the simultaneous demand for the same limited resource, eg light or water, by two or more organisms or species, which leads to a struggle for continued survival. ⓘ 16c: from Latin competitio meeting together.

competitive /kəm'petɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 involving rivalry. 2 characterized by competition; aggressive; ambitious. 3 said of a price or product: reasonably cheap; comparing well with those of market rivals. ● competitively adverb.

● competitiveness noun. ⊙ 19c: from Latin competere to meet together.

competitor /kəmˈpetɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a a person, team, firm or product that competes; b a rival. ⊙ 16c: Latin, from competere to meet together.

compilation /kɒmpɪˈleɪʃən, kɒmpaɪˈleɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of compiling. 2 a book, recording, etc that has been compiled.

compile /kəmˈpaɪl/ ▷ verb (compiled, compiling) 1 a to collect and organize (information, etc) from different sources; b to produce (a list, reference book, etc) from information collected. 2 computing to create (a set of instructions written in machine code) from a source program written in a high-level programming language, using a compiler. ⊙ 14c: from Latin compilare to plunder.

compiler ▷ noun 1 someone who compiles information, etc. 2 computing a program that converts a source program written in a high-level programming language into a set of instructions written in machine code that can be acted on by computer.

complacent /kəmˈpleɪsənt/ ▷ adj 1 self-satisfied; smug. 2 too easily satisfied; disinclined to worry. ● complacence or complacency noun. ● complacently adverb. ⊙ 15c as complacence, 18c as complacent: from Latin complacere to be pleasing.

complain /kəmˈpleɪn/ ▷ verb (complained, complaining) intr to express dissatisfaction or displeasure. ● complainer noun. ● complaining adj. ● complainingly adverb. ⊙ 14c: from French complaindre, from Latin complangere to bewail.

■ complain of something to say that one is suffering from (a pain, disease, etc).

complainant ▷ noun, law a plaintiff.

complaint ▷ noun 1 the act of complaining. 2 an expression of dissatisfaction. 3 a grievance. 4 a disorder, illness, etc.

complaisant /kəmˈpleɪzənt/ ▷ adj eager to please; obliging; amenable. ● complaisance noun. ● complaisantly adverb. ⊙ 17c: French, from Latin complacere to be very pleasing to.

complement ▷ noun /ˈkɒmplɪmənt/ 1 something that completes or perfects; something that provides a needed balance or contrast. 2 (often full complement) the number or quantity required to make something complete, eg the crew of a ship. 3 grammar a word or phrase added to a verb to complete the PREDICATE of a sentence, eg dark in it grew dark. 4 math in set theory: all the members of a universal set that do not belong to a specified set S. 5 geom the amount by which an angle or arc falls short of a right angle or QUADRANT 4. 6 biol in blood serum: a group of proteins that combine with antibodies and thereby enhance the destruction of foreign particles following an immune response. ▷ verb /ˈkɒmplɪment/ (complemented, complementing) to be a complement to something. ⊙ 14c: from Latin complementum, from complere to fill up.

complement, complementary

There is often a spelling confusion between complement and compliment and between complementary and complimentary.

complementary ▷ adj 1 serving as a complement to something. 2 said of two or more things: complementing each other. 3 physics denoting either of a pair of coloured lights that, when mixed together in the correct intensities, produce the sensation of white light. ● complementarily adverb.

complementary angle ▷ noun one of a pair of angles whose sum is 90 degrees. Compare CONJUGATE ANGLE, SUPPLEMENTARY ANGLE.

complementary medicine see ALTERNATIVE MEDICINE.

complete /kəmˈpliːt/ ▷ adj 1 whole; finished; with nothing missing. 2 thorough; utter; absolute; total □ a complete triumph. 3 perfect. ▷ verb (completed, completing) 1 a to finish; b to make complete or perfect. 2 to fill in (a form). ● completely adverb. ● completeness noun. ● completion noun. ● complete with … having the additional feature of … □ The car came complete with tinted windows. ⊙ 14c: from Latin complere, completum to fill up.

complex /ˈkɒmpleks/ ▷ adj 1 composed of many interrelated parts. 2 complicated; involved; tangled. ▷ noun (complexes) 1 something made of interrelating parts, eg a multi-purpose building □ a leisure complex. 2 psychoanal a set of repressed thoughts and emotions that strongly influence an individual's behaviour and attitudes. 3 colloq an obsession or phobia. ⊙ 17c: from Latin complexus, from complectere to encompass, to embrace.

complexion /kəmˈplekʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the colour or appearance of the skin, especially of the face. 2 character or appearance □ That puts a different complexion on the matter. ⊙ 16c: French, from Latin complexio combination.

complexity ▷ noun (complexities) 1 the quality of being complex. 2 a complication; an intricacy.

complex number ▷ noun, math the sum of a real and an imaginary number.

complex sentence ▷ noun, grammar a sentence which contains more than one clause.

compliance /kəmˈplaɪəns/ ▷ noun 1 yielding. 2 agreement; assent. 3 submission. ⊙ 17c: see COMPLY.

compliant /kəmˈplaɪənt/ ▷ adj inclined to comply with or yield to the wishes of others; obedient; submissive. ● compliantly adverb.

complicate /ˈkɒmplɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (complicated, complicating) to add difficulties or intricacies to something; to make complex or involved. ⊙ 17c: from Latin complicare, complicatum to fold together.

complicated ▷ adj 1 difficult to understand or deal with. 2 intricate; complex. 3 said of a fracture in a bone: accompanied by damage to surrounding tissue.

complication ▷ noun 1 the process of becoming complicated. 2 a circumstance that causes difficulties. 3 pathol a second and possibly worse disease or disorder that arises during the course of, and often as a result of, an existing one.

complicity /kəmˈplɪsətɪ/ ▷ noun the state of being an accomplice in a crime or wrongdoing. ⊙ 17c: from Latin complex closely connected.

compliment ▷ noun /ˈkɒmplɪmənt/ 1 an expression of praise, admiration or approval. 2 a gesture implying approval □ paid her the compliment of dancing with her. 3 (compliments) formal regards accompanying a gift, etc. ▷ verb /ˈkɒmplɪment/ (complimented, complimenting) (often compliment someone on something) 1 to congratulate them for it. 2 to praise them; to pay them a compliment. ● compliments of the season formal a greeting appropriate to a certain time of the year, especially Christmas.

compliment, complimentary

There is often a spelling confusion between compliment and complement and between complimentary and complementary.

complimentary ▷ adj 1 paying a compliment; admiring or approving. 2 given free.

compline or complin /ˈkɒmplɪn/ ▷ noun now especially RC Church the seventh of the CANONICAL HOURS, completing the set hours for prayer. ⓘ 13c: from French complie, from Latin completa hora complete hour.

comply /kəm'plaɪ/ ▷ verb (complies, complied, complying) intr (usually comply with something) to act in obedience to an order, command, request, etc; to agree. ⓘ 17c: from Italian compire, from Latin complere to fill up.

component /kəm'poʊnənt/ ▷ noun any of the parts or elements that make up a machine, engine, instrument, etc. ▷ adj functioning as one of the parts of something; constituent. ● componential /kɒmpoʊ'nenʃəl/ adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin componere to assemble into a whole.

componential analysis /kɒmpə'nenʃəl —/ ▷ noun, semantics the analysis of vocabulary into a series of basic identifying features or 'components' of meaning, eg woman could be analysed using the components 'female', 'adult' and 'human'.

comport /'kɒmpɔːt/ ▷ verb (comported, comporting) (always comport oneself) to behave in a specified way. ● comportment noun behaviour. ⓘ 16c: from Latin comportare to carry together.

■ comport with something to suit or be appropriate to it.

compose /kəm'poʊz/ ▷ verb (composed, composing) 1 tr & intr to create (music). 2 to write (a poem, letter, article, etc). 3 to make up or constitute something. 4 to arrange as a balanced, artistic whole. 5 to calm (oneself); to bring (thoughts, etc) under control. 6 to settle (differences between people in dispute). 7 printing to arrange (type) or set (a page, etc) in type ready for printing. ⓘ 16c: from French composer, from Latin componere to put together.

composed /-zdlɪ/ ▷ adj said of a person: calm; controlled. ● composedly /-zɪdlɪ/ adverb.

composer ▷ noun someone who composes, especially music.

composite /'kɒmpəzɪt, kəm'pɒzɪt/ ▷ adj 1 made up of different parts, materials or styles. 2 bot belonging or relating to the Compositae (see noun 1 below) family. ▷ noun 1 bot a member of the largest family of flowering plants Compositae with a flower head consisting of a crowd of tiny florets often surrounded by a circle of bracts, eg daisy. 2 chem a combination of two or more materials which has superior properties to any of its individual components. 3 archit (often Composite) the most decorative of the five main orders (see ORDER noun 19) of architecture. Compare CORINTHIAN 2, DORIC, IONIC, TUSCAN. ▷ verb (composited, compositing) to pool and combine proposals from local branches eg of a political party, etc, so as to produce a satisfactory list for discussion at a national level. ⓘ 16c: from Latin compositus, from componere to put together.

composite cinematography ▷ noun, cinema motion picture photography involving the combination and blending of images from two or more different sources, eg live actors and miniature or painted settings.

composition /kɒmpə'zɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 something composed, especially a musical or literary work. 2 the process of composing. 3 art arrangement, especially with regard to balance and visual effect ▫ photographic composition. 4 old use a school essay. 5 the constitution of something. 6 a synthetic material of any of various kinds. 7 printing the arrangement of pages of type ready for printing.

compositor /kəm'pɒzɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, printing someone who sets or arranges pages of type ready for printing.

compos mentis /'kɒmpɒs 'mentɪs/ ▷ adj, law sound in mind; perfectly rational. ⓘ 17c: Latin.

compost /'kɒmpɒst/ ▷ noun a mixture of decomposed organic substances such as rotting vegetable matter, etc, which is used to enrich soil and nourish plants. Also as adj ▫ compost heap. ▷ verb (composted, composting) 1 to treat with compost. 2 to convert (decaying organic matter) into compost. ⓘ 14c: from Latin composita, from componere to put together.

composure /kəm'poʊʒə(r)/ ▷ noun mental and emotional calmness; self-control. ⓘ 17c: from COMPOSE.

compound[1] /'kɒmpaʊnd/ ▷ noun 1 (in full chemical compound) chem a substance composed of two or more elements combined in fixed proportions and held together by chemical bonds. 2 something composed of two or more ingredients or parts. 3 a word made up of two or more words, eg tablecloth. Compare DERIVATIVE (noun 2). ▷ adj 1 composed of a number of parts or ingredients. 2 grammar said of a sentence: made up of two or more main clauses. ▷ verb /kəm'paʊnd/ (compounded, compounding) 1 a to make (especially something bad) much worse; b to complicate or add to (a difficulty, error, etc). 2 a to mix or combine (ingredients); b to make up (a mixture, etc) by doing this. 3 law to agree to overlook (an offence, etc) in return for payment. 4 tr & intr (often compound with someone) a to come to an agreement with them, especially a financial one; b to settle (a debt, etc) for less than the amount which is owed. ⓘ 14c: from French compondre, from Latin componere to put together.

compound[2] /'kɒmpaʊnd/ ▷ noun 1 in China, India, etc: an area enclosed by a wall or fence, containing a house or factory. 2 a an enclosed area in a prison, used for a particular purpose; b a similar area in a concentration camp, prisoner-of-war camp, etc. 3 in S Africa: accommodation in which Black labourers are housed. ⓘ 17c: probably from Malay kampong village.

compound eye ▷ noun in insects: an eye made up of many separate units.

compound fracture ▷ noun, medicine a type of bone fracture in which the overlying skin is pierced by the broken bone. Also called open fracture. Compare SIMPLE FRACTURE.

compound interest ▷ noun interest calculated on the original sum of money borrowed and on any interest already accumulated. Compare SIMPLE INTEREST.

compound time ▷ noun, music a TIME (noun 18) that has three, or a multiple of three, beats to a bar.

comprehend /kɒmprɪ'hend/ ▷ verb (comprehended, comprehending) 1 a to understand; to grasp with the mind; b to envisage. 2 to include. ⓘ 14c: from Latin comprehendere to grasp or seize.

comprehensible ▷ adj capable of being understood. ● comprehensibility noun. ● comprehensibly adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin comprehensibilis.

comprehension ▷ noun 1 a the process or power of understanding; b the scope or range of someone's knowledge or understanding. 2 a school exercise for testing students' understanding of a passage of text. ⓘ 16c: from Latin comprehensio.

comprehensive ▷ adj 1 covering or including a large area or scope. 2 said of a school or education: providing teaching for pupils of all abilities aged between 11 and 18. ▷ noun a comprehensive school. ● comprehensiveness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin comprehensivus.

comprehensive school noun a school for pupils of all abilities aged between 11 and 18.

compress ▷ verb /kəm'pres/ (compresses, compressed, compressing) 1 to press, squeeze or squash together. 2 to reduce in bulk; to condense. 3 computing to pack (data) into the minimum possible space in computer memory. ▷ noun /'kɒmpres/ (compresses) a cloth or pad soaked in water and pressed against a part of the body to reduce swelling, stop bleeding, etc. ● compressible /-'presɪbəl/ adj. ● compressibility noun. ● compressive adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin comprimere, compressum to squeeze together.

compressed air ▷ noun air at more than atmospheric pressure.

compression /kəm'prɛʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of compressing or the state of being compressed. 2 the reduction in the volume of a substance, especially a gas, as a result of an increase in pressure. 3 the stroke that compresses the gases in an internal-combustion engine.

compressor ▷ noun, engineering a device that compresses a gas, especially air, by raising its pressure and decreasing its volume.

comprise /kəm'praɪz/ ▷ verb (comprised, comprising) 1 to contain, include or consist of something specified. 2 to go together to make up something. ⓘ 18c: from French compris, from Latin comprehendere to comprehend.

> comprise
>
> ● When you say that A comprises Bs, you mean that Bs are the parts or elements of A.
>
> ✓ The village school comprises one old building dating back to 1868 and two modern buildings.
>
> ● Because it means the same as consist of, it is sometimes confused with this and followed by 'of', but this use is ungrammatical.
>
> ✗ The instructions comprised of two sheets of A5 paper.

compromise /'kɒmprəmaɪz/ ▷ noun 1 a settlement of differences agreed upon after concessions have been made on each side. 2 anything of an intermediate type which comes halfway between two opposing stages. ▷ verb (compromised, compromising) 1 intr to make concessions; to reach a compromise. 2 to endanger or expose to scandal, by acting indiscreetly. 3 a to settle (a dispute) by making concessions; b to relax (principles, etc). ⓘ 15c: from French compromis, from Latin compromittere to promise reciprocally.

comptroller see CONTROLLER compulsion /kəm'pʌlʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of compelling or condition of being compelled. 2 an irresistible urge to perform a certain action, especially an irrational one. 3 psychol an action or ritual that is repeated many times, usually against the will, and which usually represents a form of OBSESSION (sense 2). ⓘ 15c: French, from Latin compulsio, from compellere to compel.

compulsive ▷ adj 1 having the power to compel. 2 said of an action: resulting from a compulsion. 3 said of a person: acting on a compulsion. 4 said of a book, film, etc: holding the attention; fascinating. ● compulsively adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin compulsivus.

> compulsive, compulsory
>
> These words are sometimes confused with each other.

compulsory /kəm'pʌlsərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 required by the rules, law, etc; obligatory. 2 involving compulsion. ● compulsorily adverb. ● compulsoriness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin compulsorius.

compulsory purchase ▷ noun the purchase of property or land required for some public project, etc by a local authority, irrespective of the wishes of the owner.

compunction /kəm'pʌŋkʃən/ ▷ noun a feeling of guilt, remorse or regret. ● compunctious adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin compungere to prick sharply or sting.

computation /kɒmpjʊ'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process or act of calculating or computing. 2 a result calculated or computed.

computational ▷ adj 1 involving calculation or computing. 2 denoting an error caused by arithmetical rounding of figures.

computational linguistics ▷ noun the application of the techniques and concepts used in computer science to the analysis of language, with special reference to artificial intelligence and information retrieval.

compute /kəm'pjuːt/ ▷ verb (computed, computing) tr & intr 1 to calculate, estimate or reckon, especially with the aid of a computer. 2 to carry out (a computer operation). ● computable adj. ● computing see separate entry. ⓘ 17c: from Latin computare to reckon.

computer ▷ noun an electronic device which processes data at great speed according to a PROGRAM (see under PROGRAMME) stored within the device. See also ANALOGUE (adj), DIGITAL (sense 2).

computer-aided design ▷ noun (abbreviation CAD) the use of a computer system to create and edit design drawings, by employing many of the techniques of COMPUTER GRAPHICS.

computerate /kəm'pjuːtərət/ ▷ adj computer literate. ⓘ 1980s: modelled on literate.

computer crime ▷ noun crime such as embezzlement which is committed through the manipulation of company finances, etc using a computer.

computer dating ▷ noun the introduction of possible romantic partners by an agency, by entering data supplied by clients into a computer which then matches them up according to common interests, etc.

computer game ▷ noun, computing a game on cassette, cartridge, disk or CD which is played on a home computer, with the player manipulating moving images on the screen by pressing certain keys, or using a control pad or joystick.

computer-generated ▷ adj said of an image, etc: produced by using a computer program.

computer generation ▷ noun the production of images, etc using a computer program.

computer generations ▷ plural noun five broad groups used to denote the different eras of technological development of digital computers, from first-generation (1945–55) denoting the early type of calculating and computing machines using THERMIONIC VALVEs, to fifth-generation denoting the kind of computer expected to incorporate aspects of ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE, and which will probably be capable of PARALLEL PROCESSING.

computer graphics ▷ noun the use of computers to display and manipulate information in graphical or pictorial form, either on a visual-display unit (VDU) or via a printer or plotter.

computerize or computerise ▷ verb (computerized, computerizing) a to transfer (a procedure, operation, system, etc) to control by computer; b to organize (information, data, etc) by computer; c to install (computers) for this purpose. ● computerization noun.

computer language ▷ noun a defined set of numbers, symbols or words used to write a computer program. See HIGH-LEVEL LANGUAGE, LOW-LEVEL LANGUAGE.

computer-literate ▷ adj able to use computers, programs, etc.

computer literacy ▷ noun the ability to use computers. ● computer literate adj.

computer memory ▷ noun the part of a computer system that stores programs and data, either temporarily or permanently, and which is connected to the central processing unit of the computer. See RAM, ROM.

computer science ▷ noun the study of the design, development, operations and applications of computers. ● computer scientist noun.

computer virus see VIRUS 5

computing ▷ noun the act or process of using a computer.

comrade /'kɒmreɪd, -rad/ ▷ noun 1 a a friend or companion; b an associate, fellow worker, etc. 2 a fellow communist or socialist. ● comradely adj. ● comradeship noun. ⓘ 16c: from French camarade, from Spanish camarada the soldiers sharing a billet, from Latin camera room.

comrade-in-arms ▷ noun (comrades-in-arms) a fellow soldier or campaigner.

COMSAT or comsat /ˈkɒmsat/ ▷ abbreviation, US Communications Satellite.

con[1] colloq ▷ noun a CONFIDENCE TRICK. ▷ verb (conned, conning) to swindle or trick someone, especially after winning their trust.

con[2] ▷ verb (conned, conning) old use to read over and learn by heart. ⓘ 15c: from CAN[1] 2.

con[3] or (especially US) conn ▷ verb (conned, conning) naut to direct the steering of (a ship). ⓘ 17c: from earlier cond, from French conduire, from Latin conducere to conduct.

con[4] ▷ noun an argument against something. See also PROS AND CONS. ⓘ 16c: shortened from Latin contra against.

con[5] ▷ noun, prison slang a prisoner or inmate. ⓘ 19c: shortened from CONVICT.

con-, col-, com- or cor- ▷ prefix found usually in words derived from Latin: with or together, sometimes used with emphatic or intensifying effect. ⓘ From Latin com-, form of cum together with.

conc ▷ abbreviation 1 concentrated. 2 concentration.

concatenate /kɒŋˈkatəneɪt, kən-/ ▷ verb (concatenated, concatenating) to link up, especially into a connected series. ● concatenation noun a series of items linked together in a chain-like way. ⓘ 16c: from Latin concatenare, concatenatum, from con- together + catenare to chain.

concave /ˈkɒnkeɪv/ ▷ adj said of a surface or shape: inward-curving, like the inside of a bowl. Compare CONVEX. ▷ verb (concaved, concaving) to make or become convex. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin concavus vaulted, from cavus hollow.

concavity /kɒŋˈkavɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (concavities) 1 the quality of being concave. 2 a hollow.

conceal /kənˈsiːl/ ▷ verb (concealed, concealing) 1 to hide; to place out of sight. 2 to keep secret. ● concealer noun. ● concealment noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin concelare, from con- intensive + celare to hide.

concede /kənˈsiːd/ ▷ verb (conceded, conceding) 1 to admit to be true or correct. 2 to give or grant. 3 to yield or give up. 4 intr to admit defeat in (a contest, etc) before, or without continuing to, the end. ● conceder noun. ● concede defeat to admit to being beaten. ⓘ 17c: from Latin concedere to yield.

conceit /kənˈsiːt/ ▷ noun 1 a an inflated opinion of oneself; b vanity. 2 old use a witty, fanciful or ingenious thought or idea. ⓘ 16c: from CONCEIVE, by analogy with deceive, deceit.

conceited ▷ adj a having too good an opinion of oneself; b vain. ● conceitedly adverb. ● conceitedness noun.

conceivable ▷ adj imaginable; possible ▫ try every conceivable method. ● conceivability noun. ● conceivably adverb.

conceive /kənˈsiːv/ ▷ verb (conceived, conceiving) 1 tr & intr to become pregnant. 2 to form from the union of an ovum and a sperm. 3 tr & intr (often conceive of something) to think of or imagine (an idea, etc). ⓘ 13c: from French concevoir, from Latin concipere.

concentrate /ˈkɒnsəntreɪt/ ▷ verb (concentrated, concentrating) 1 intr (often concentrate on something or someone) to give full attention and energy to them or it. 2 to focus ▫ concentrate our efforts. 3 tr & intr to bring or come together in one place. 4 chem to increase the strength of (a dissolved substance in a solution), either by adding more of it or by evaporating the solvent in which it is dissolved. 5 chem to make (a chemical substance) denser or purer. ▷ noun a concentrated liquid or substance. ● concentrated adj 1 attentive; focused. 2 contracted. 3 condensed; compressed. ⓘ 17c: from Latin con- together + centrum centre.

concentration /kɒnsənˈtreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 intensive mental effort. 2 the act of concentrating or the state of being concentrated. 3 the number of molecules or ions of a substance present in unit volume or weight of a solution or mixture. 4 a concentrate.

concentration camp ▷ noun a prison camp used to detain civilians who are not tolerated by the authorities, especially in Nazi Germany.

concentre ▷ verb, tr & intr to meet or cause to meet in a common centre. ⓘ 17c: from French concentrer, from Latin concentrare, from centrum centre.

concentric ▷ adj, geom said of circles, spheres, etc: having a common centre. ● concentrically adverb. ● concentricity noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin concentricus.

concept /ˈkɒnsept/ ▷ noun a notion; an abstract or general idea. ⓘ 17c: from Latin conceptum, from concipere to conceive.

conception ▷ noun 1 an idea or notion. 2 the origin or start of something, especially something intricate. 3 the act or an instance of conceiving. 4 biol the fertilization of an ovum by a sperm, the start of pregnancy. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin conceptio, from concipere to conceive.

conceptual ▷ adj relating to or existing as concepts or conceptions. ● conceptually adverb.

conceptualism ▷ noun, philos any theory of universals, ie general terms and abstract objects, such as qualities, relations and numbers, that maintains that these are formed and constructed in the mind, and therefore exist only in the mind.

conceptualize or conceptualise ▷ verb (conceptualized, conceptualizing) to form a concept or idea of something. ● conceptualization noun.

concern /kənˈsɜːn/ ▷ verb (concerned, concerning) 1 to have to do with someone or something; to be about someone or something ▫ It concerns your son. 2 (often be concerned about something or someone) to worry, bother or interest. 3 to affect; to involve ▫ a perfectionist where food is concerned. ▷ noun 1 a worry or a cause of worry; b interest or a subject of interest. 2 someone's business or responsibility ▫ That's my concern. 3 an organization; a company or business. ● concernment noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin concernere to distinguish or relate to.

concerned ▷ adj worried. ● concernedly /-nɪdlɪ/ adverb. ● concernedness noun. ● concerned with something or someone having to do with it or them; involving it or them.

concerning ▷ prep regarding; relating to; about.

concert ▷ noun /ˈkɒnsət/ 1 a musical performance given before an audience by singers or players. 2 agreement; harmony. ▷ verb /kənˈsɜːt/ (concerted, concerting) to endeavour or plan by arrangement. ● in concert 1 jointly; in co-operation. 2 said of singers, musicians, etc: in a live performance. ⓘ 16c: French, from Italian concerto, from concertare to organize.

concerted /kənˈsɜːtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 planned and carried out jointly. 2 music arranged in parts.

concertina /kɒnsəˈtiːnə/ ▷ noun (concertinas) a musical instrument like a small accordion. ▷ verb (concertinaed, concertinaing) tr & intr to fold or collapse like a concertina. ⓘ 19c: from CONCERT + -ina.

concertino /kɒntʃəˈtiːnoʊ/ ▷ noun (concertinos) music 1 a short CONCERTO. 2 the group of solo musicians in a CONCERTO GROSSO. ⓘ 19c: Italian, meaning 'little concert'.

concert master ▷ noun, US a LEADER of an orchestra.

concerto /kənˈtʃɛətoʊ, kɒnˈtʃɜːtoʊ/ ▷ noun (concertos or concerti /-tiː/) music a composition for an orchestra and one or more solo performers. ⓘ 18c: Italian, meaning 'concert'.

concerto grosso ▷ noun (concerti grossi /-tiː -siː/) music 1 an orchestral work performed by solo musicians as well as the main body of the orchestra. 2 the main body of instruments in an orchestral work of this kind. See also RIPIENO. ⓘ 18c: Italian, meaning 'large concert'.

concert pitch ▷ noun, music the standard pitch to which instruments are tuned for concert performances.

concession /kənˈsɛʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of conceding. 2 something conceded or allowed. 3 the right, granted under government licence, to extract minerals, etc in an area. 4 the right to conduct a business from within a larger concern. 5 a reduction in ticket prices, fares, etc for categories such as students, the elderly, the unwaged, etc. ● concessionary adj involving or obtained by a concession, especially a reduction in price □ concessionary fares for students. ● concessive adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin concessio yielding, from concedere to concede.

concessionaire /kənsɛʃəˈnɛə(r)/ or (US) concessioner ▷ noun the holder of a mining or trading concession.

conch /kɒŋk, kɒntʃ/ ▷ noun (conchs /kɒŋks/ or conches /kɒntʃɪz/) 1 any of a family of large marine snails, native to warm shallow tropical waters, which have large colourful shells with a long narrow opening and an outer lip which is generally expanded to form a broad plate. 2 the large brightly coloured shell of this animal, used as a trumpet or valued as a collector's item. ⓘ 16c: from Latin concha, from Greek konche cockle or mussel.

conchology ▷ noun the study of the shells of molluscs. ● conchologist noun.

concierge /ˈkɒnsɪɛəʒ/ ▷ noun a warden or caretaker of a block of flats, especially one who lives on the premises.

conciliate /kənˈsɪlɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (conciliated, conciliating) 1 to win over someone; to overcome the hostility of someone. 2 to reconcile (people in dispute, etc). ● conciliation noun. ● conciliator noun. ● conciliatory adj intended to placate or win over someone. ● conciliatorily adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin conciliare, conciliatum to unite in friendship, from concilium council.

concise /kənˈsaɪs/ ▷ adj brief but comprehensive. ● concisely adverb. ● conciseness or concision noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin concisus cut short.

conclave /ˈkɒŋkleɪv, ˈkɒn-/ ▷ noun 1 a private or secret meeting. 2 RC Church a the body of cardinals gathered to elect a new pope; b their meeting-place. ⓘ 14c: Latin, meaning 'a room that can be locked', from con- together + clavis key.

conclude /kəŋˈkluːd, kən-/ ▷ verb (concluded, concluding) 1 tr & intr to come or bring to an end. 2 to reach an opinion based on reasoning. 3 to settle or arrange □ conclude a treaty with a neighbouring state. ⓘ 15c: from Latin concludere, from claudere to close.

conclusion /kəŋˈkluːʒən, kən-/ ▷ noun 1 an end. 2 a reasoned judgement; an opinion based on reasoning □ draw a conclusion. 3 logic a statement validly deduced from a previous PREMISE. 4 settling of terms, an agreement, etc. 5 a result or outcome (of a discussion, event, etc). ● in conclusion finally; lastly. ● jump to conclusions to presume something without adequate evidence. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin conclusio, from concludere to end.

conclusive /kəŋˈkluːsɪv, kən-/ ▷ adj said of evidence, proof, etc: decisive, convincing; leaving no room for doubt. ● conclusively adverb. ● conclusiveness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin conclusivus, from concludere to conclude.

concoct /kəŋˈkɒkt, kən-/ ▷ verb (concocted, concocting) 1 to make something, especially ingeniously from a variety of ingredients. 2 to invent (a story, excuse, etc). ● concocter or concoctor noun. ● concoction noun. ⓘ 17c in this sense: from Latin concoctus cooked together, from coquere to cook.

concomitant /kəŋˈkɒmɪtənt, kən-/ ▷ adj accompanying because of or as a result of something else. ▷ noun a concomitant thing, person, etc. ● concomitantly adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin concomitari to accompany.

concord /ˈkɒŋkɔːd, ˈkɒn-/ ▷ noun 1 agreement; peace or harmony. 2 grammar AGREEMENT (sense 4). 3 music a combination of sounds which are harmonious to the ear. Opposite of DISCORD. 4 a treaty; a pact. ● concordant adj. ⓘ 13c: from French concorde, from Latin concordia, from con with + cor heart.

concordance ▷ noun 1 a state of harmony. 2 a book containing an alphabetical index of principal words used in a major work, usually supplying citations and their meaning. ⓘ 14c: from Latin concordantia, from Latin concordare to agree.

concordat /kɒnˈkɔːdat/ ▷ noun an agreement between church and state, especially the Roman Catholic church and a secular government. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin concordare to agree.

concourse /ˈkɒŋkɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 in a railway station, airport, etc: a large open area where people can gather. 2 a throng; a gathering. ⓘ 14c: from French concours.

concrete /ˈkɒŋkriːt/ ▷ noun a building material consisting of a mixture of cement, sand, gravel and water, which forms a hard rock-like mass when dry. ▷ adj 1 relating to such a material. 2 relating to items which can be felt, touched, seen, etc □ concrete objects. Compare ABSTRACT adj 3. 3 definite or positive, as opposed to vague or general □ concrete evidence. 4 grammar said of a noun: denoting a physical thing, eg house, rather than a quality, condition or action. Compare ABSTRACT adj 4. ▷ verb (concreted, concreting) 1 to cover with or embed in concrete. 2 tr & intr to solidify. ● concretely adverb. ● concreteness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin concretus, from con- together + crescere to grow.

> concrete
>
> See Usage Note at cement.

concrete art ▷ noun a term applied to various styles of non-figurative art in which the picture is constructed from geometrical forms and simple planes. ⓘ 1930.

concrete music see MUSIQUE CONCRÈTE.

concrete poetry ▷ noun poetry which conveys meaning through the physical arrangement of the words on the page as well as through the words themselves.

concretion /kəŋˈkriːʃən, kən-/ ▷ noun 1 pathol a hard stony mass which forms in body tissues or natural cavities. See also CALCULUS 2. 2 geol a hard rounded nodule of mineral matter formed within the pores of a sedimentary or igneous rock as a result of precipitation of dissolved mineral salts. ⓘ 17c: from Latin concretio.

concubinage /kɒŋˈkjuːbɪnɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the state of a man and a woman living together but not married to each other. 2 the status of a concubine.

concubine /ˈkɒŋkjʊbaɪn, ˈkɒn-/ ▷ noun 1 historical a woman who lives with a man and has sexual intercourse with him, without being married to him. 2 in polygamous societies: a secondary wife. ⓘ 13c: from Latin concubina, from con- together + cubare to lie.

concupiscence /kəŋˈkjuːpɪsəns, kən-/ ▷ noun strong desire, especially sexual. ● concupiscent adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin concupiscere to long for.

concupiscent /kəŋˈkjuːpɪsənt, kən-/ ▷ adj lustful.

concur /kəŋˈkɜː(r), kən-/ ▷ verb (concurred, concurring) intr 1 to agree. 2 to happen at the same time; to coincide. ⓘ 16c: from Latin con- together + currere to run.

concurrence /kəŋˈkʌrəns, kən-/ ▷ noun 1 agreement; consent. 2 the coinciding of events, etc.

concurrent ▷ adj 1 happening or taking place simultaneously. 2 said of lines: meeting or intersecting; having a common point. 3 in agreement. ● concurrently adverb. ⓒ 15c.

concuss /kəŋˈkʌs, kən-/ ▷ verb (concusses, concussed, concussing) 1 to cause concussion in someone. 2 to shake severely. ⓒ 16c: from Latin concutere, concussum to shake together.

concussion ▷ noun 1 a violent shaking or jarring of the brain, caused by injury to the head eg as a result of a severe blow or fall, and usually resulting in temporary loss of consciousness. 2 a violent shock caused by the sudden contact of two bodies.

condemn /kənˈdem/ ▷ verb (condemned, condemning) 1 to declare something to be wrong or evil. 2 to pronounce someone guilty; to convict someone. 3 (usually condemn someone to something) a to sentence them to (a punishment, especially death); b to force into (a disagreeable fate). 4 to show the guilt of someone; to give away or betray someone □ His obvious nervousness condemned him. 5 to declare (a building) unfit to be used or lived in. ● condemnation noun. ● condemnatory adverb. ⓒ 13c: from French condemner, from Latin condemnare, from con- together + damnare to convict.

condensation /kɒndənˈseɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 chem the process whereby a gas or vapour turns into a liquid as a result of cooling. 2 meteorol the production of water droplets in the atmosphere. 3 optics the process of focusing a beam of light.

condensation reaction ▷ noun, chem a reaction in which two or more small molecules combine to form a larger one, with the elimination of a simpler byproduct, usually a molecule of water.

condense /kənˈdens/ ▷ verb (condensed, condensing) 1 to decrease the volume, size or density of (a substance). 2 said of a substance: to be reduced in volume, size or density. 3 to concentrate something. 4 tr & intr to undergo or cause to undergo condensation. 5 to express something more briefly; to summarize. ⓒ 15c: from Latin condensare to compress, from condensus very dense.

condensed milk ▷ noun milk that has been concentrated and thickened by evaporation and to which sugar has been added as a preservative.

condenser ▷ noun 1 elec a CAPACITOR. 2 chem an apparatus for changing a vapour into a liquid by cooling it and allowing it to condense. 3 optics in a microscope, film projector, etc: a lens or series of lenses that is used to concentrate a light source.

condescend /kɒndɪˈsend/ ▷ verb (condescended, condescending) intr 1 to act in a gracious manner towards those one regards as inferior. 2 to be gracious enough to do something, especially as though it were a favour. ● condescending adj 1 gracious. 2 offensively patronizing. ● condescendingly adverb. ● condescension noun. ⓒ 15c: from Latin condescendere, from descendere to descend.

condign /kənˈdaɪn/ ▷ adj usually said of punishment: well-deserved; fitting. ● condignly adverb. ⓒ 15c: from Latin condignus, from dignus worthy.

condiment /ˈkɒndɪmənt/ ▷ noun any seasoning or sauce, eg salt, pepper, mustard, etc, added to food at the table, to give extra flavour. ⓒ 15c: from Latin condimentum, from condire to pickle.

condition /kənˈdɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a particular state of existence. 2 a state of health, fitness or suitability for use □ out of condition. 3 an ailment or disorder □ a heart condition. 4 (conditions) circumstances □ poor working conditions. 5 a requirement or qualification. 6 a term of contract. 7 law in a legal document, eg will, contract, etc: a clause which requires something to happen before the document can be enacted. 8 math a statement which must be true for a further statement to be true. ▷ verb (conditioned, conditioning) 1 to accustom or train someone or something to behave or react in a particular way; to influence them or it. 2 to prepare or train (a person or animal) for a certain activity or for certain conditions of living. 3 to subject (a person or animal) to a particular stimulus in order to secure, by training, a certain behavioural response that was not initially associated with that stimulus. 4 to affect or control; to determine. 5 to improve (the physical state of hair, skin, fabrics, etc) by applying a particular substance. ● conditioner noun, often in compounds a substance or apparatus which improves the condition of something, especially hair □ hair conditioner □ fabric conditioner. ● on condition that ... only if ... □ I will go on condition that you come too. ● on no condition absolutely not. ⓒ 14c: from Latin conditio, from condicere to agree upon.

conditional ▷ adj 1 dependent on a particular condition, etc. 2 grammar expressing a condition on which something else is dependent, as in the first clause in 'If it rains, I'll stay at home'. Compare INDICATIVE, IMPERATIVE, SUBJUNCTIVE. ● conditionality noun. ● conditionally adverb.

conditioning ▷ noun 1 the process of making or becoming conditioned. 2 psychol a reflex response to a stimulus which depends upon the former experience of the individual, and can be modified, eg by rewarding or punishing a particular response so that it comes to occur more or less frequently.

condole /kənˈdoʊl/ ▷ verb (condoled, condoling) (always condole with someone) to express sympathy to them. ● condolence noun (usually condolences) an expression of sympathy □ offer my condolences. ⓒ 17c in this sense: from Latin con- with + dolere to grieve.

condom /ˈkɒndɒm, -dəm/ ▷ noun a thin rubber sheath worn on the penis during sexual intercourse, to prevent conception and the spread of sexually transmitted diseases. See also FEMALE CONDOM. ⓒ 18c.

condominium /kɒndəˈmɪnɪəm/ ▷ noun 1 N Amer a a building, eg office block, apartment block, etc in which each apartment is individually owned and any common areas, eg passageways, etc are commonly owned; b an individual apartment in such a block. Often shortened to condo (plural condos). 2 a country which is controlled by two or more other countries. 3 joint sovereignty. ⓒ 18c: from Latin con- with + dominium lordship.

condone /kənˈdoʊn/ ▷ verb (condoned, condoning) 1 to pardon or overlook (an offence or wrong). 2 loosely to tolerate. ● condonable adj. ⓒ 19c: from Latin condonare to present or overlook, from con- intensive + donare to give.

condor /ˈkɒndɔː(r)/ ▷ noun either of two species of large American vulture, with a wingspan of up to 3m. ⓒ 17c: Spanish, from Quechua kuntur.

conduce /kənˈdjuːs/ ▷ verb (conduced, conducing) intr (always conduce to something) to help or contribute (to a result, especially a desirable one). ⓒ 16c: from Latin conducere, from con- together + ducere to lead.

conducive ▷ adj (often conducive to something) likely to achieve a desirable result; encouraging □ Good working conditions are conducive to a happy workforce.

conduct ▷ verb /kənˈdʌkt/ (conducted, conducting) 1 to lead or guide. 2 to manage; to control □ conduct the firm's business. 3 tr & intr to direct the performance of an orchestra or choir by movements of the hands or by using a baton. 4 to transmit (heat or electricity) by CONDUCTION. 5 to direct, channel or convey □ Hot air is conducted through the pipes. 6 to behave (oneself) in a specified way □ One should always conduct oneself with dignity. ▷ noun /ˈkɒndʌkt/ 1 behaviour. 2 the managing or organizing of something. ⓒ 15c: from Latin conductus guide.

conductance ▷ noun a the ability of a material to conduct heat or electricity; b in a direct current circuit: the reciprocal of RESISTANCE. See also CONDUCTIVITY.

conduction ▷ noun 1 the transmission of heat through a material from a region of higher temperature to one of lower temperature, without any movement of the material itself. 2 the flow of electricity through a material under the influence of an electric field, without any movement of the material itself. 3 the passage of a nerve impulse along a nerve fibre.

conductive education ▷ noun a system of teaching children (and sometimes adults) suffering from motor disorders (eg cerebral palsy) to achieve their maximum potential. The aim is to guide them to attain specific goals in their own way by providing a concentrated course of exercise and intellectual stimulation.

conductivity ▷ noun 1 a a measure of the ability of a material to conduct electricity; b the reciprocal of RESISTIVITY. Also called electrical conductivity. 2 the ability of a material to conduct heat. Also called THERMAL CONDUCTIVITY.

conductor ▷ noun 1 the person who conducts a choir or orchestra. 2 (in full thermal conductor) a material that allows heat to flow through it by the process of conduction. 3 (in full electrical conductor) a material that allows electricity to flow through it by the process of conduction. 4 someone who collects fares from passengers on a bus, etc. 5 a leader or guide. 6 N Amer the official in charge of a train.

conductress ▷ noun a woman who collects fares from passengers on a bus, etc.

conduit /ˈkɒndjʊɪt, -dɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a channel, pipe, tube or duct through which a fluid, a liquid or a gas, may pass. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin conductus channel.

cone ▷ noun 1 geom a solid, three-dimensional figure with a flat base in the shape of a circle or ellipse, and a curved upper surface that tapers to a fixed point. 2 something similar to this in shape, eg a hollow pointed wafer for holding ice cream. 3 anatomy in the retina: a type of light-sensitive receptor cell specialized for the detection of colour, and which functions best in bright light. Compare ROD noun 6. 4 bot the reproductive structure of GYMNOSPERMS, consisting of a central axis bearing many overlapping SPOROPHYLLS. Technical equivalent strobilus. 5 a plastic cone-shaped bollard which is placed on the road temporarily, to divert traffic, cordon off an area, etc. Also called traffic cone. ▷ verb (coned, coning) to shape like a cone. ⓘ 16c: from Greek konos pine cone or geometrical cone.

■ cone something or somewhere off to close off (an area or part of a road) with a line of traffic cones.

confab colloq ▷ noun a conversation. ▷ verb (confabbed, confabbing) intr to chat. ⓘ 17c: from CONFABULATE.

confabulate /kənˈfabjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (confabulated, confabulating) intr, formal 1 to talk, discuss or confer. 2 psychiatry to imagine experiences, usually to compensate for loss of memory. ● confabulation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin confabulari, confabulatus to talk together.

confection ▷ noun 1 any sweet food, eg a cake, sweet, biscuit or pudding. 2 dated, facetious a fancy or elaborate garment. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin confectio preparation, from conficere to put together.

confectioner ▷ noun someone who makes or sells sweets or cakes.

confectioner's sugar ▷ noun, US ICING SUGAR.

confectionery ▷ noun (confectioneries) 1 sweets, biscuits and cakes. 2 the work or art of a confectioner.

confederacy ▷ noun (confederacies) 1 a league or alliance of states. 2 (the Confederacy) US historical the union of 11 southern states that seceded from the USA in 1860–1, so causing the American Civil War. 3 a conspiracy; an association formed for illegal purposes. ⓘ 14c: from Latin confoederatio league.

confederate ▷ noun /kənˈfɛdərət/ 1 a member of a confederacy. 2 a friend or an ally; an accomplice or a fellow conspirator. 3 (Confederate) US history a supporter of the Confederacy. ▷ adj /-rət/ 1 allied; united. 2 (Confederate) US history belonging to the Confederacy. ▷ verb /-reɪt/ (confederated, confederating) tr & intr to unite into or become part of a confederacy. ⓘ 14c: from Latin confoederatus, from confoederare to unite in a league.

confederation ▷ noun 1 the uniting of states into a league. 2 the league so formed.

confer /kənˈfɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (conferred, conferring) 1 intr to consult or discuss together. 2 (usually confer something on someone) to grant them (an honour or distinction). ● conferment noun the bestowal of an honour. ⓘ 16c: from Latin conferre to bring together.

conference /ˈkɒnfərəns/ ▷ noun 1 a formally organized gathering for the discussion of matters of common interest or concern. 2 consultation; the formal exchanging of views □ in conference with the Prime Minister. 3 an assembly of representatives of an association, church denomination, etc. 4 an act of conferring. ⓘ 16c: from Latin conferentia, from conferre to bring together.

conference call ▷ noun a telephone call or computer link-up in which it is possible for several people to participate simultaneously.

conferencing ▷ noun the practice of holding a business conference in which the participants are linked by telephone, video equipment and/or computer.

confess /kənˈfɛs/ ▷ verb (confesses, confessed, confessing) 1 tr & intr a to own up to (a fault, wrongdoing, etc); b to admit (a disagreeable fact, etc) reluctantly. 2 tr & intr, Christianity to declare (one's sins) to a priest or directly to God, in order to gain absolution. 3 said of a priest: to hear the confession of someone. ● confessed adj admitted. ● confessedly /-sɪdlɪ/ adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French confesser.

confession ▷ noun 1 the admission of a sin, fault, crime, distasteful or shocking fact, etc. 2 Christianity the formal act of confessing one's sins to a priest. 3 a declaration of one's religious faith or principles □ a confession of faith. 4 a religious body with its own creed or set of beliefs.

confessional ▷ noun in a church: the small enclosed stall in a church where a priest sits when hearing confessions. ▷ adj relating to a confession.

confessor ▷ noun 1 Christianity a priest who hears confessions and gives spiritual advice. 2 historical someone whose holy life serves as a demonstration of his or her religious faith, but who does not suffer martyrdom. 3 someone who makes a confession. ⓘ 13c: Latin, meaning 'martyr' or 'witness'.

confetti /kənˈfɛtɪ, kɒn-/ ▷ noun at a wedding: tiny pieces of coloured paper traditionally thrown over the bride and groom by the wedding guests. ⓘ 19c: Italian, plural of confetto sweetmeat.

confidant or confidante /kɒnfɪˈdant, ˈkɒnfɪdant/ ▷ noun a close friend (male or female, respectively) with whom one discusses personal matters, especially concerning love affairs. ⓘ 18c: an alternative of CONFIDENT, probably an attempt to render the pronunciation of the French confident(e), ultimately from Latin confidere to trust.

confide /kənˈfaɪd/ ▷ verb (confided, confiding) 1 to tell (a secret, etc) to someone. 2 to entrust someone (to someone's care). ⓘ 15c: from Latin confidere to trust.

■ confide in someone 1 to speak freely and confidentially with them about personal matters. 2 to trust them.

confidence /ˈkɒnfɪdəns/ ▷ noun 1 trust or belief in a person or thing. 2 faith in one's own ability; self-assurance. 3 a secret, etc confided to someone. 4 a relationship of mutual trust. ● in confidence in secret; confidentially. ⓘ 15c: from Latin confidentia.

confidence interval ▷ noun, math in statistical analyses: an interval that can with reasonable confidence (usually 95%) be expected to contain the true value of an unknown parameter.

confidence trick ▷ noun a form of swindle, usually involving money, in which the swindler first wins the trust of the victim. Often shortened to CON[1].

confident ▷ adj 1 (sometimes confident of something) certain; sure ▫ confident of success. 2 self-assured.

confidential /kɒnfɪˈdɛnʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 secret; not to be divulged. 2 trusted with private matters. 3 indicating privacy or secrecy ▫ a confidential whisper. ● confidentiality noun. ● confidentially adverb. ⓘ 18c: from Latin confidentia confidence.

confiding ▷ adj trusting; unsuspicious. ● confidingly adverb.

configuration /kənfɪɡjʊˈreɪʃən, kənfɪɡəˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the positioning or distribution of the parts of something, relative to each other. 2 an outline or external shape. 3 a chem the spatial arrangement of atoms in a molecule; b physics the arrangement of electrons in orbitals around the nucleus of an atom. ⓘ 17c: from Latin configuratio, from configurare to form or fashion.

confine /kənˈfaɪn/ ▷ verb (confined, confining) 1 to restrict or limit. 2 to prevent the spread of (eg a fire). 3 to keep prisoner. 4 said eg of ill health: to restrict someone's movement ▫ Flu confined Yvonne to her bed for the whole week. ● be confined said of a pregnant woman: to be about to give birth.

confined ▷ adj narrow; restricted.

confinement ▷ noun 1 the state of being shut up or kept in an enclosed space. 2 old use the period surrounding childbirth.

confirm /kənˈfɜːm/ ▷ verb (confirmed, confirming) 1 to provide support for the truth or validity of something ▫ refused to confirm or deny the rumour. 2 to finalize or make definite (a booking, arrangement etc). 3 said of an opinion, etc: to strengthen it or become more convinced in it. 4 to give formal approval to something; to establish officially ▫ His appointment was confirmed at the interview. 5 Christianity to accept someone formally into full membership of the Church. ● confirmative adj. ● confirmatory adj 1 giving additional strength to, eg an argument, etc. 2 confirming. ⓘ 13c: from Latin confirmare, from firmare to strengthen, from firmus firm.

confirmation ▷ noun 1 the act of confirming. 2 proof or support. 3 finalization. 4 Christianity the religious ceremony in which someone is admitted to full membership of the church.

confirmed ▷ adj so firmly settled into a state, habit, etc as to be unlikely to change ▫ confirmed bachelor.

confiscate /ˈkɒnfɪskeɪt/ ▷ verb (confiscated, confiscating) to take away something from someone, usually as a penalty. ▷ adj forfeited. ● confiscation noun. ● confiscator noun. ● confiscatory adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin confiscare to transfer to the state treasury, from fiscus treasury.

conflagration /kɒnfləˈɡreɪʃən/ ▷ noun a large destructive blaze. ⓘ 17c: from Latin conflagrare to burn up.

conflate /kənˈfleɪt/ ▷ verb (conflated, conflating) to blend or combine (two things, especially two different versions of a text, story, etc) into a single whole. ● conflation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin conflare to fuse, from con- together + flare to blow.

conflict ▷ noun /ˈkɒnflɪkt/ 1 disagreement; fierce argument; a quarrel. 2 a clash between different aims, interests, ideas, etc. 3 a struggle, fight or battle, usually on a lesser scale than a WAR. 4 psychol in an individual: a clash between two incompatible desires or needs, sometimes leading to emotional turmoil. ▷ verb /kənˈflɪkt/ (conflicted, conflicting) intr 1 to be incompatible or in opposition ▫ The demands of a career often conflict with those of family life. 2 to fight. ● conflicting adj. ● confliction noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin confligere, conflictum to dash together or clash.

conflict theory ▷ noun, social the theory that conflict and social division are inevitable in all social structures because the mechanisms by which society integrates and exercises control over its members are never wholly successful.

confluence /ˈkɒnflʊəns/ and conflux /ˈkɒnflʌks/ ▷ noun (confluxes) 1 a the meeting and flowing together of two or more rivers, streams, glaciers, etc. b the point where two rivers flow into one another. 2 a flowing together. 3 an act of meeting together. ● confluent adj 1 flowing together. 2 running into one. 3 uniting. ⓘ 15c: from Latin confluentia flowing together.

conform /kənˈfɔːm/ ▷ verb (conformed, conforming) intr (often conform to something) to behave, dress, etc in obedience to some standard considered normal by the majority. ● conformer or conformist noun. ● conformity noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin conformare to shape.

■ conform to something a to obey (rules, etc); b to meet or comply with (standards, etc).

■ conform to or with something to be in agreement with it; to match or correspond to it.

conformable ▷ adj 1 corresponding or matching. 2 compliant; agreeable. 3 geol said of rock strata: lying in a parallel sequence, without interruption, as originally laid down.

conformation /kɒnfɔːˈmeɪʃən/ ▷ noun a shape, structure or arrangement of something.

confound /kənˈfaʊnd/ ▷ verb (confounded, confounding) 1 to puzzle; to baffle. 2 to defeat or thwart (enemies or their schemes). 3 to mix up or confuse (one thing with another). ● Confound it! used as an exclamation of annoyance: Damn it! ⓘ 14c: from Latin confundere to pour together, throw into disorder or overthrow.

confounded ▷ adj 1 confused. 2 colloq used to indicate annoyance: damned ▫ That boy's a confounded nuisance! ● confoundedly adverb 1 colloq hatefully; shamefully. 2 cursedly.

confraternity ▷ noun a brotherhood, especially a religious or charitable one. ⓘ 15c: from Latin confraternitas, from confrater, from frater brother.

confrère /ˈkɔ̃frɛə(r)/ ▷ noun a fellow member of one's profession, etc; a colleague. ⓘ 18c in this sense; French, from Latin con- together with + frater brother.

confront /kənˈfrʌnt/ ▷ verb (confronted, confronting) 1 to face someone, especially defiantly or accusingly. 2 to prepare to deal firmly with something. 3 said of an unpleasant prospect: to present itself to someone. ● confrontation noun 1 an act of confronting. 2 a hostile meeting or exchange of words. ⓘ 16c: from Latin confrontari, from frons forehead or brow.

■ confront someone with something to bring them face to face with it, especially when it is damning or revealing ▫ decided to confront him with his error.

Confucianism /kənˈfjuːʃənɪzəm, kɒn-/ ▷ noun the oldest school of Chinese thought, with emphasis on morality, consideration for others, obedience and good education. ● Confucian adj, noun. ● Confucianist noun. ⓘ 19c: named after the Chinese philosopher Confucius (551–479BC), upon whose teaching the school of thought is based.

confuse /kənˈfjuːz/ ▷ verb (confused, confusing) 1 to put into a muddle or mess. 2 to mix up or fail to distinguish (things, ideas, people, etc) □ confuse 'ascetic' with 'aesthetic'. 3 to puzzle, bewilder or muddle. 4 to complicate. 5 to embarrass. ● confused adj. ● confusedly /-ɪdlɪ/ adverb. ● confusing adj. ● confusingly adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin confundere, confusum to mix.

confusion /kənˈfjuːʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of confusing or state of being confused. 2 disorder; muddle. 3 mental bewilderment. ⓘ 14c: from Latin confusio, from confundere to mix.

confutation /kɒnfjʊˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the action of confuting. 2 something that confutes a person, theory, etc.

confute /kənˈfjuːt/ ▷ verb (confuted, confuting) to prove (a person, theory, etc) wrong or false. ⓘ 16c: from Latin confutare to refute.

conga /ˈkɒŋgə/ ▷ noun (congas) 1 an originally Cuban dance of three steps followed by a kick, performed by people moving in single file. 2 a tall narrow drum beaten with the fingers. ▷ verb (congaed, congaing) intr to dance the conga. ⓘ 1930s: Spanish, the feminine of congo of the Congo river.

congé /ˈkɔ̃ʒeɪ, ˈkɒn-/ ▷ noun 1 permission to depart. 2 abrupt dismissal. ⓘ 16c: French.

congeal /kənˈdʒiːl/ ▷ verb (congealed, congealing) tr & intr said of a liquid, especially blood: to thicken, coagulate or solidify, especially through cooling. ● congealable adj. ● congealment or congelation noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin congelare to freeze completely.

congener /ˈkɒndʒɪːnə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a plant or animal of the same GENUS as another plant or animal. 2 in an alcoholic drink: a by-product which helps to determine its flavour, colour and strength. ⓘ 18c: Latin, from con- same + genus kind.

congenial /kənˈdʒiːnɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of people: compatible; having similar interests. 2 pleasant or agreeable. ● congeniality noun. ● congenially adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin con- same + genius spirit.

congenital /kənˈdʒenɪtəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of a disease, defect or deformity: present at or before birth, and either inherited, or caused by injury, infection or the presence of certain drugs or chemicals in the mother's body during pregnancy. 2 complete, as if from birth □ a congenital idiot. ● congenitally adverb. ⓘ 18c: from Latin congenitus from con- with + gignere to give birth to.

conger /ˈkɒŋgə(r)/ ▷ noun a large marine eel, which can grow to lengths of 2.75m. ⓘ 14c: from Latin conger.

congeries /kɒnˈdʒɪəriːz, kɒnˈdʒerɪiːz/ ▷ singular or plural noun a miscellaneous accumulation; a confused heap. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from congerere to heap up.

congest /kənˈdʒest/ ▷ verb (congested, congesting) tr & intr 1 to excessively crowd or become excessively crowded. 2 said of an organ: to accumulate or make something accumulate with blood, often causing inflammation. 3 said of the nose or other air passages: to block up with mucus. ● congested adj. ● congestion noun. ● congestive adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin congerere, congestum to heap up.

conglomerate /kənˈglɒmərət, kɒn-/ ▷ noun 1 a miscellaneous collection or mass. 2 geol a sedimentary rock consisting of small rounded pebbles embedded in a fine matrix of sand or silt. 3 a business group composed of a large number of firms with diverse and often unrelated interests. ▷ adj composed of miscellaneous things. ▷ verb /-reɪt/ (conglomerated, conglomerating) intr to accumulate into a mass. ● conglomeration noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin conglomerare, conglomeratum to roll together, from glomerare to form into a ball.

congrats ▷ plural noun, colloq often as an exclamation: a short form of CONGRATULATIONS.

congratulate /kənˈgratʃʊleɪt, kɒn-/ ▷ verb (congratulated, congratulating) (usually congratulate someone on something) 1 to express pleasure to someone at their success, good fortune, happiness, etc. 2 to consider (oneself) lucky or clever to have managed something □ congratulated herself on her narrow escape. ● congratulation noun 1 the action or an expression of congratulating. 2 (congratulations) often as an exclamation: an expression used to congratulate someone. ● congratulative or congratulatory adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin congratulari, congratulatus, from gratulari to express one's joy.

congregate /ˈkɒŋgrɪgeɪt/ ▷ verb (congregated, congregating) tr & intr to gather together into a crowd. ⓘ 15c: from Latin congregare, congregatum, from gregare to collect into a herd, from grex herd.

congregation ▷ noun 1 a gathering or assembly of people, especially for worship in church. 2 the people regularly attending a particular church. 3 an academic assembly. 4 RC Church an administrative board.

congregational ▷ adj 1 relating to or administered by a congregation or separate congregations. 2 (Congregational) pertaining to Congregationalism.

Congregationalism ▷ noun, Christianity a form of church government in which each individual congregation is responsible for the management of its own affairs. ● Congregationalist noun.

congress /ˈkɒŋgres/ ▷ noun (congresses) 1 a large, especially international, assembly of delegates, gathered for discussion. 2 in some countries: a name used for the law-making body. 3 (Congress) in the US: the federal legislature, consisting of two elected chambers called the Senate and the House of Representatives. ● congressional adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin congredi, congressus to go together.

congressman and congresswoman ▷ noun someone who is a member of a congress.

congruent /ˈkɒŋgrʊənt/ ▷ adj 1 geom said of two or more figures: identical in size and shape. 2 math belonging or relating to two integers that have the same remainder when divided by a third integer. 3 (often congruent with something) suitable or appropriate to it. ● congruence or congruency noun 1 suitability or appropriateness. 2 agreement. 3 math the quality or relationship of being congruent. ● congruently adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin congruere to meet together.

congruous /ˈkɒŋgrʊəs/ ▷ adj (often congruous with something) 1 corresponding. 2 fitting; suitable. ● congruity noun. ● congruously adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin congruus, from congruere to meet together.

conic /ˈkɒnɪk/ and conical ▷ adj, geom a relating to a cone; b resembling a cone. ▷ noun (conic) CONIC SECTION. ⓘ 17c: from Greek konikos, from konos cone.

conic section ▷ noun, geom the curved figure produced when a plane (see PLANE[1] noun 1) intersects a cone. Depending on the angle of the cut, it may be a CIRCLE, ELLIPSE, HYPERBOLA or PARABOLA.

conifer /ˈkɒnɪfə(r), ˈkoʊ-/ ▷ noun any of various, mostly evergreen, trees and shrubs with narrow needle-like leaves, which produce their pollen and seeds in cones, eg pine, spruce, cedar, yew, etc. ● coniferous /kəˈnɪfərəs/ adj being a conifer; cone-bearing. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from conus cone + ferre to carry.

conj. ▷ abbreviation, grammar conjunction.

conjecture /kənˈdʒektʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an opinion based on incomplete evidence. 2 the process of forming such an opinion. ▷ verb (conjectured, conjecturing) intr to make a conjecture. ● conjectural adj. ● conjecturally adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin conjectura conclusion, from conjicere to throw together.

conjoin /kənˈdʒɔɪn/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to join together, combine or unite. ● conjoined adj. ⓘ 14c: from French conjoindre.

conjoint ▷ adj joint; associated; united. ● conjointly adverb.

conjugal /ˈkɒndʒʊgəl/ ▷ adj relating to marriage, or to the relationship between husband and wife. ● conjugality noun. ● conjugally adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Latin conjugalis, from conjux spouse, from con- together + jugum yoke.

conjugal family ▷ noun the family of one's husband or wife.

conjugate ▷ verb /ˈkɒndʒʊgeɪt/ (conjugated, conjugating) 1 grammar a to give the inflected parts of (a verb), indicating number, person, tense, MOOD and VOICE; b intr said of a verb: to undergo inflection □ The verb 'to be' does not conjugate like more regular verbs in English. 2 intr, biol to reproduce by conjugation. ▷ adj /-gət/ 1 joined, connected or coupled. 2 chem said of an acid and base: related to each other in such a way that the acid is converted into the BASE¹ (noun 6) by losing a PROTON, and the base is converted into the acid by gaining a proton. 3 said of words: having a common origin. ▷ noun /-gət/ a conjugate word or thing. ⓒ 15c: from Latin conjugare, conjugatum to yoke together.

conjugate angle ▷ noun one of a pair of angles whose sum is 360 degrees. Compare COMPLEMENTARY ANGLE, SUPPLEMENTARY ANGLE.

conjugation /kɒndʒʊˈgeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 grammar a the inflection of a verb to indicate number, person, tense, VOICE and MOOD; b a particular class of verbs having the same set of inflections. See also DECLENSION. 2 a uniting, joining or fusing. 3 biol a method of sexual reproduction which involves the fusion of GAMETES.

conjunction /kənˈdʒʌŋkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 grammar a word used to link sentences, clauses or other words, eg and, but, if, or, because, etc. 2 a joining together; combination. 3 the coinciding of two or more events. 4 astron, astrol the alignment of two or more heavenly bodies, as seen from Earth. ● in conjunction with something together with it. ⓒ 14c: from Latin conjunctio, from conjungere to join with.

conjunctiva /kɒndʒʌŋkˈtaɪvə/ ▷ noun (conjunctivas or conjunctivae /-viː/) anatomy in the eye of vertebrates: the thin mucous membrane that lines the eyelids and covers the exposed surface of the cornea at the front of the eyeball. ● conjunctival adj. ⓒ 16c: from Latin membrana conjunctiva conjunctive membrane.

conjunctive ▷ adj 1 connecting; linking. 2 grammar relating to conjunctions. ▷ noun, grammar a word or phrase used as a conjunction. ● conjunctively adverb. ⓒ 15c: from Latin conjunctivus, from conjungere to join together.

conjunctivitis /kənˈdʒʌŋktɪvaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun inflammation of the conjunctiva. Also called pink eye.

conjuncture /kənˈdʒʌŋktʃə(r)/ ▷ noun a combination of circumstances, especially one leading to a crisis. ⓒ 17c: from Latin conjungere to join together.

conjure /ˈkʌndʒə(r)/ ▷ verb (conjured, conjuring) 1 intr to perform magic tricks, especially ones which deceive the eye or seem to defy nature. 2 to summon (a spirit, demon, etc) to appear. 3 /kənˈdʒʊə(r)/ old use to beg someone earnestly to do something. ● conjurer or conjuror noun someone who performs magic tricks, etc, especially for the entertainment of others. ● conjuring noun. ● a name to conjure with a name of great importance or significance. ⓒ 13c: from Latin conjurare to swear together.

■ conjure something up 1 to produce it as though from nothing. 2 to call up, evoke or stir (images, memories, etc).

conk¹ ▷ noun, slang 1 the nose. 2 the head. 3 a blow, especially on the head or nose. ▷ verb (conked, conking) to hit someone on the nose or head. ⓒ 19c: probably a variant of CONCH.

conk² ▷ verb, intr, slang (usually conk out) 1 said of a machine, etc: to break down. 2 said of a person: to collapse with fatigue, etc. ⓒ 20c.

conker ▷ noun, colloq the brown shiny seed of the HORSE CHESTNUT tree. ⓒ 19c: probably dialectal, meaning 'snail shell', from CONQUER.

conkers ▷ singular noun, Brit a children's game played with conkers threaded onto strings, the aim of which is to shatter one's opponent's conker by hitting it with one's own.

con man ▷ noun, colloq a swindler who uses a CONFIDENCE TRICK.

Conn. ▷ abbreviation, US state Connecticut.

connect /kəˈnɛkt/ ▷ verb (connected, connecting) (usually connect to or with someone or something) 1 tr & intr to join; to link. 2 to associate or involve □ is connected with advertising. 3 tr & intr to associate or relate mentally □ We connected immediately. 4 to join by telephone. 5 to relate by marriage or birth. 6 intr said of aeroplanes, trains, buses, etc: to be timed so as to allow transfer from one to another. 7 intr, humorous said of the fist, etc: to strike. 8 intr, colloq to make sense. 9 intr, US colloq to meet someone in order to get illegal drugs from them. ● connectable or connectible adj. ● connector or connecter noun. ● well connected with important or aristocratic relatives. ⓒ 17c: from Latin con- together + nectere to fasten.

■ connect up to set up a computer connection with the Internet, eg linking a home or office computer via a modem to a company offering Internet access.

■ connect something up to link it with something else.

connecting rod ▷ noun 1 a rod or bar attached to two parts of a machine, so that motion in one part causes motion in another. 2 in an internal-combustion engine: the metal rod connecting the piston to the crankshaft.

connection or connexion /kəˈnɛkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of connecting or state of being connected. 2 something that connects; a link. 3 a relationship through marriage or birth. 4 an especially influential person whom one meets through one's job, etc; a contact. 5 a a train, bus, etc timed so as to allow transfer to it from another passenger service; b the transfer from one vehicle to another. 6 US colloq a supplier of illegal drugs. ● in connection with something to do with it; concerning it. ● in this connection with reference to the matter being considered.

connective ▷ adj serving to connect. ▷ noun 1 something which connects. 2 grammar a word which links phrases, clauses, other words, etc. 3 zool a bundle of nerve fibres which unite two nerve centres.

connective tissue ▷ noun, anatomy any of several widely differing tissues, usually containing COLLAGEN, that provide the animal body and its internal organs with structural support, eg bone, cartilage, tendons, ligaments.

connector see under CONNECT conning tower ▷ noun 1 the raised part of a submarine containing the periscope, which is additionally used as an entrance or exit. 2 the armoured WHEELHOUSE of a warship. ⓒ 19c: from CON³.

connive /kəˈnaɪv/ ▷ verb (connived, conniving) intr (often connive with someone) to conspire or plot. ● connivance noun. ● conniver noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin connivere to blink or shut the eyes.

■ connive at something to pretend not to notice a wrongdoing.

connoisseur /kɒnəˈsɜː(r), ˈkɒnəsɜː(r)/ ▷ noun someone who is knowledgeable about and a good judge of a particular subject, eg the arts, wine, food, etc. ⓒ 18c: French, from Latin cognoscere to become thoroughly acquainted with.

connote /kə'noʊt/ ⊳ verb (connoted, connoting) formal 1 said of a word: to suggest, in addition to its literal meaning □ 'Portly' somehow connotes pomposity. 2 to include as a condition; to imply. Compare DENOTE. ● connotation /kɒnə'teɪʃən/ 1 the act of connoting. 2 an idea, association or implication additional to the main idea or object expressed. ● connotative /kɒnə'teɪtɪv/ adj. ◎ 17c: from Latin connotare to mark in addition.

connubial /kə'njuːbɪəl/ ⊳ adj pertaining to marriage or to relations between a husband and wife. ● connubially adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin connubialis, from connubium marriage.

conquer /'kɒŋkə(r)/ ⊳ verb (conquered, conquering) 1 to gain possession or dominion over (territory) by force. 2 to defeat or overcome. 3 to overcome or put an end to (a failing, difficulty, evil, etc) □ He eventually conquered his fear of flying. 4 to succeed in climbing, reaching, traversing, etc. 5 to become successful or a celebrity in something □ They were the latest British group to conquer America. 6 intr to win; to succeed. ● conquerable adj. ● conquering adj. ● conqueror noun. ◎ 13c: from French conquerre, from Latin conquirere to go in search of.

conquest /'kɒŋkwest/ ⊳ noun 1 the act of conquering. 2 a conquered territory. 3 something won by effort or force. 4 a someone whose affection or admiration has been won; b the winning of the admiration of such a person. ◎ 13c: from French conqueste, from Latin conquista, from conquirere to go in search of.

conquistador /kɒŋ'kwɪstədɔː(r), kɒŋ'kiːstədɔː(r), kɒn-/ ⊳ noun (conquistadores /-'dɔːreɪz/ or conquistadors) an adventurer or conqueror, especially one of the 16th-century Spanish conquerors of Peru and Mexico. ◎ 19c: Spanish, meaning 'conqueror', from conquistar to conquer.

consanguinity /kɒnsaŋ'gwɪnɪtɪ/ ⊳ noun 1 relationship by blood; descent from a common ancestor. 2 a close relationship or connection. ● consanguine /-gwɪn/ or consanguineous /-'gwɪnɪəs/ adj. ◎ 14c: from Latin consanguinitas blood relationship, from sanguis blood.

conscience /'kɒnʃəns/ ⊳ noun the moral sense of right and wrong that determines someone's thoughts and behaviour. ● in all conscience by any normal standard of fairness. ● on one's conscience making one feel guilty. ◎ 13c: French, from Latin conscientia knowledge within oneself, from con together + scire to know.

conscience money ⊳ noun money paid to make amends for some kind of wrongdoing, so that one feels less guilty.

conscience-stricken ⊳ adj feeling guilty over something one has done.

conscientious /kɒnʃɪ'enʃəs, kɒnsɪ'enʃəs/ ⊳ adj 1 careful; thorough; painstaking. 2 guided by conscience. ● conscientiously adverb. ● conscientiousness noun. ◎ 17c: from Latin conscientiosus.

conscientious objector ⊳ noun someone who refuses to serve in the armed forces on moral grounds.

conscious /'kɒnʃəs/ ⊳ adj 1 awake, alert and aware of one's thoughts and one's surroundings. 2 aware; knowing □ She was conscious that someone was watching her. 3 deliberate □ I made a conscious effort to be polite. 4 often in compounds concerned, especially too concerned, with □ image-conscious. ⊳ noun the part of the human mind which is responsible for such awareness, and is concerned with perceiving and reacting to external objects and events. ● consciously adverb. ● consciousness noun 1 the state of being conscious. 2 awareness. 3 psychol the physical and mental state of being awake and fully aware of one's environment, thoughts and feelings. ◎ 17c: from Latin conscius knowing something with others, from scire to know.

conscript ⊳ verb /kən'skrɪpt/ (conscripted, conscripting) to enlist for compulsory military service. ⊳ noun /'kɒnskrɪpt/ someone who has been conscripted. ● conscription noun. ◎ 18c: from Latin conscribere, conscriptum to enlist.

consecrate /'kɒnsɪkreɪt/ ⊳ verb (consecrated, consecrating) 1 to set something apart for a holy use; to make sacred; to dedicate something to God. 2 Christianity to sanctify (bread and wine) for the EUCHARIST. 3 to devote something to a special use. ● consecration noun. ◎ 15c: from Latin consecrare, consecratum to make sacred, from sacer sacred.

consecutive /kən'sekjʊtɪv, kɒn-/ ⊳ adj 1 following one after the other, in sequence. 2 grammar expressing result or consequence. ● consecution noun. ● consecutively adverb. ● consecutiveness noun. ◎ 17c: from French consécutif, from Latin consecutus, from consequi to follow.

consensus /kən'sensəs/ ⊳ noun (consensuses) general feeling or agreement; the majority view. ● consensual /-'sensjʊəl/ adj 1 law said of a contract, etc: based on consent. 2 physiol said of a part of the body: reacting to the stimulation of another part. ◎ 19c: Latin, meaning 'agreement', from consentire to agree.

consent /kən'sent/ ⊳ verb (consented, consenting) 1 intr (often consent to something) to give one's permission for it; to agree to it. 2 to agree to do something. ⊳ noun agreement; assent; permission □ give one's consent. ● age of consent see separate entry. ● by common consent as is generally agreed. ◎ 13c: from Latin consentire to agree.

consenting adult ⊳ noun someone over the age of 18 who consents to something, especially (Brit) a homosexual relationship.

consequence /'kɒnsɪkwəns/ ⊳ noun 1 something that follows from, or is caused by, an action or set of circumstances. 2 a conclusion reached from reasoning. 3 importance or significance □ of no consequence. ● in consequence (of) as a result (of). ● take the consequences to accept the (often unpleasant) results from one's decision or action. ◎ 14c: French, from Latin consequentia, from consequi to follow.

consequent /'kɒnsɪkwənt/ ⊳ adj 1 following as a result. 2 following as an inference. 3 said of a stream: flowing in the same direction as the slope on which it was originally formed. Compare OBSEQUENT, SUBSEQUENT.

consequential /kɒnsə'kwenʃəl/ ⊳ adj 1 significant or important. 2 said of a person: self-important; pompous. 3 following as a result. ● consequentiality noun. ● consequentially adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin consequentia, from consequi to follow.

consequentialism ⊳ noun, ethics a theory which states that the morality of an action is judged according to how good or bad its consequences are. ● consequentialist noun. ◎ 20c.

consequently ⊳ adverb as a result; therefore.

conservable see under CONSERVE conservancy /kən'sɜːvənsɪ/ ⊳ noun (conservancies) 1 in the UK: a court or commission having authority to preserve a port, river or area of countryside, etc. 2 an area under special environmental protection. 3 the act of CONSERVATION, especially the official care of a river, forest, etc. ◎ 18c: from Latin conservare to CONSERVE.

conservation /kɒnsə'veɪʃən/ ⊳ noun 1 the act of conserving; the state of being conserved. 2 the protection and preservation of the environment, its wildlife and its natural resources. 3 the preservation of historical artefacts, eg books, paintings, monuments, for future generations. ● conservational adj. ● conservationist noun 1 someone who is trained or qualified to manage the environment and natural resources. 2 someone who actively encourages or supports conservation, especially of the environment or natural resources. ◎ 14c: from Latin conservatio, from conservare to save.

conservation area ▷ noun an area, especially in a village, town or city, designated as being of special architectural or historic interest, and therefore protected from any alterations that may threaten its character.

conservation law ▷ noun, physics a law which states that in the interaction between particles, certain quantities, eg mass, energy, charge, etc, remain unchanged by the process.

conservation of energy ▷ noun, physics the law which states that the total energy of an isolated system remains constant, ie it can be converted into another form but it cannot be destroyed or created.

conservation of mass ▷ noun, physics the principle which states that the total mass of an isolated system remains constant, ie it cannot be destroyed or created.

conservatism ▷ noun 1 the inclination to preserve the existing state of affairs and to avoid especially sudden or radical change. 2 (Conservatism) the policies and principles of a Conservative Party.

conservative /kən'sɜːvətɪv/ ▷ adj 1 favouring that which is established or traditional, with an opposition to change. 2 said of an estimate or calculation: deliberately low, for the sake of caution. 3 said of tastes, clothing, etc: restrained or modest; not flamboyant. 4 (Conservative) relating to a Conservative Party. ▷ noun 1 a traditionalist. 2 (Conservative) a member or supporter of a Conservative Party. ● conservatively adverb. ◷ 14c: from Latin conservare, conservatum to preserve.

Conservative Party ▷ noun 1 in the UK: a political party on the right of the political spectrum, whose policies include support of established customs and institutions, opposition to socialism, a commitment to privatization, an emphasis on traditional family values and the advocation of free enterprise. Also called Conservative and Unionist Party. See also TORY. 2 in other countries: any of various right-leaning political parties.

conservatoire /kən'sɜːvətwɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a school specializing in the teaching of music. Also called conservatory. ◷ 18c: French, from Italian conservatorio originally meaning 'an orphanage'.

conservatory /kən'sɜːvətrɪ/ ▷ noun (conservatories) 1 a a greenhouse for plants; b a similar room used as a lounge, which is attached to and entered from, the house. 2 a conservatoire. ◷ 17c: from Latin conservare to conserve.

conserve ▷ verb /kən'sɜːv/ (conserved, conserving) to keep safe from damage, deterioration, loss or undesirable change. ▷ noun /'kɒnsɜːv/ a type of jam, especially one containing chunks of fresh fruit. ● conservable adj. ◷ 14c: from Latin conservare to save.

consider /kən'sɪdə(r)/ ▷ verb (considered, considering) 1 to go over something in one's mind. 2 to look at someone or something thoughtfully. 3 to call to mind for comparison, etc. 4 to assess with regard to employing, using, etc □ consider someone for a job. 5 to contemplate doing something. 6 to regard as something specified □ He considered Neil to be his best friend. 7 to think; to have as one's opinion. 8 to take into account; to make allowances for. 9 intr to think carefully. ● all things considered taking all the circumstances into account. ◷ 14c: from Latin considerare to examine.

considerable ▷ adj 1 large; great. 2 having many admirable qualities; worthy □ a considerable person. ● considerably adverb largely; greatly. ◷ 17c in this sense: from Latin considerabilis worthy to be considered.

considerate /kən'sɪdərət/ ▷ adj thoughtful regarding the feelings of others; kind. ● considerately adverb. ● considerateness noun. ◷ 17c in this sense: from Latin consideratus, from considerare to examine.

consideration ▷ noun 1 thoughtfulness on behalf of others. 2 careful thought. 3 a fact, circumstance, etc to be taken into account. 4 a payment, reward or recompense. ● in consideration of something a because of it; b as payment for it; in return for it. ● take something into consideration to allow for it; to bear it in mind. ● under consideration being considered. ◷ 14c: from Latin consideratio.

considered ▷ adj 1 carefully thought about □ my considered opinion. 2 with an adverb thought of or valued in a specified way □ highly considered.

considering ▷ prep in view of; when one considers. ▷ conj taking into account. ▷ adverb taking the circumstances into account □ Her results were pretty good, considering.

consign /kən'saɪn/ ▷ verb (consigned, consigning) 1 to hand over; to entrust. 2 to send, commit or deliver formally. 3 to send (goods). ● consignable adj. ● consignee noun someone to whom something is consigned. ● consigner or consignor noun someone who consigns. ◷ 16c in this sense: from Latin consignare to put one's seal to, from signum mark.

consignment ▷ noun 1 a load of goods, etc sent or delivered. 2 the act of consigning. ● on consignment said of retail goods: to be paid for when sold.

consist /kən'sɪst, kɒn-/ ▷ verb (consisted, consisting) intr 1 (always consist of something) to be composed or made up of several elements or ingredients. 2 (always consist in or of something) to have it as an essential feature; to be contained □ Her generosity consists in more than just her donations to charity. ◷ 16c: from Latin consistere to stand firm.

consist

See Usage Note at comprise.

consistency or consistence ▷ noun (consistencies) 1 the texture or composition of something, with regard to density, thickness, firmness, solidity, etc. 2 the quality of being consistent. 3 agreement; harmony. ◷ 16c: from Latin consistere to stand firm.

consistent ▷ adj 1 (usually consistent with something) in agreement with it; in keeping with it. 2 reliable; regular; steady. 3 said of people or their actions: adhering to the same set of principles; not contradictory. ● consistently adverb. ◷ 17c: from Latin consistere to stand firm.

consistory /kən'sɪstərɪ/ ▷ noun (consistories) Christianity an ecclesiastical council, especially one composed of the pope and cardinals, for conducting business. ◷ 14c: from Latin consistorium meeting-place.

consolation /kɒnsə'leɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a circumstance or person that brings one comfort. 2 the act of consoling.

consolation prize ▷ noun a prize given to someone who has otherwise failed to win anything.

console[1] /kən'soʊl/ ▷ verb (consoled, consoling) to comfort in distress, grief or disappointment. ● consolable adj. ● consolatory adj. ● consoler noun. ◷ 17c: from French consoler, from Latin consolari, from solari to soothe.

console[2] /'kɒnsoʊl/ ▷ noun 1 music the part of an organ with the keys, pedals and panels of stops. 2 a panel of dials, switches, etc for operating electronic equipment. 3 a freestanding cabinet for audio or video equipment. 4 an ornamental bracket for a shelf, etc. ◷ 18c: French, apparently shortened from consolateur comforter or supporter.

consolidate /kən'sɒlɪdeɪt/ ▷ verb (consolidated, consolidating) tr & intr 1 to make or become solid or strong. 2 said of businesses, etc: to combine or merge into one. 3 military to rearrange and strengthen (one's position, etc). ● consolidation noun. ● consolidator noun. ◷ 16c: from Latin consolidare to make firm, from solidus solid.

consols /ˈkɒnsɒlz, kənˈsɒlz/ ⊳ plural noun, Brit irredeemable government securities. ⓘ 18c: shortened from CONSOLIDATED ANNUITIES.

consommé /kɒnˈsɒmeɪ, kən-/ ⊳ noun (consommés) a type of thin clear soup made usually from meat stock. ⓘ 19c: French, from consommare to finish.

consonance /ˈkɒnsənəns/ ⊳ noun 1 the state of agreement. 2 music a pleasant-sounding combination of musical notes. 3 poetry the repetition of sounds occupying the same position in a sequence of words.

consonant /ˈkɒnsənənt/ ⊳ noun a any speech-sound produced by obstructing the passage of the breath in any of several ways; b a letter of the alphabet, used alone or in combination (as in ch, ll, st, etc), representing such a sound. Compare VOWEL. ⊳ adj (consonant with something) in harmony or suitable with it. • consonantal adj. • consonantly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin consonans (noun sense consonans litera letter having the same sound), from consonare to sound together.

consort¹ ⊳ noun /ˈkɒnsɔːt/ 1 a wife or husband, especially of a reigning sovereign. 2 naut an accompanying ship. ⊳ verb /kənˈsɔːt/ (consorted, consorting) intr to agree. ⓘ 15c: from Latin consors sharer, from con- together + sors lot.

■ consort with someone (usually with unfavourable implications) to associate or keep company with them.

consort² /ˈkɒnsɔːt/ ⊳ noun a group of singing or playing musicians, particularly specializing in early music. ⓘ 16c: erroneous variant of CONCERT.

consortium /kənˈsɔːtɪəm, -ˈsɔːʃəm/ ⊳ noun (consortia /-ə/ or consortiums) 1 an association or combination of several banks, businesses, etc, usually for a specific purpose. 2 law the association between a husband and a wife and the right of each to enjoy the company and affection of the other. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'partnership', from CONSORT¹.

conspectus /kənˈspɛktəs/ ⊳ noun (conspectuses) 1 a comprehensive survey or report. 2 a summary or synopsis. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'a view', from conspicere, conspectum to look at carefully.

conspicuous /kənˈspɪkjʊəs/ ⊳ adj 1 visibly noticeable or obvious. 2 notable; striking; glaring. • conspicuously adverb. • conspicuousness noun. • conspicuous by its absence noticeable by the fact that it is not there. ⓘ 16c: from Latin conspicuus visible.

conspicuous consumption ⊳ noun ostentatious spending on luxury goods in order to impress other people. ⓘ 20c.

conspiracy /kənˈspɪrəsɪ/ ⊳ noun (conspiracies) 1 the act of plotting in secret. 2 a plot. 3 a group of conspirators. ⓘ 14c: from Latin conspiratio plot.

conspiracy of silence ⊳ noun an agreement among a group of people to keep quiet about some state of affairs, usually because its disclosure could prove damaging, especially to them or their associates. ⓘ 19c.

conspirator /kənˈspɪrətə(r)/ ⊳ noun someone who plots or joins a conspiracy. • conspiratorial adj. • conspiratorially adverb. ⓘ 15c: Latin, from conspirare to plot.

conspire /kənˈspaɪə(r)/ ⊳ verb (conspired, conspiring) intr 1 to plot secretly together, especially for an unlawful purpose. 2 said of events: to seem to be working together to achieve a certain end □ Everything conspired to make me miss my train. ⓘ 13c: from Latin conspirare literally 'to breathe together'.

constable /ˈkʌnstəbəl, ˈkɒn-/ ⊳ noun 1 a police officer of the most junior rank. 2 historical the chief officer of a royal household. 3 the governor of a royal castle. See also SPECIAL CONSTABLE. ⓘ 13c: from French conestable, from Latin comes stabuli count of the stable.

constabulary /kənˈstabjʊlərɪ/ ⊳ noun (constabularies) the police force of a district or county. ⊳ adj relating to constables or the police. ⓘ 19c: from Latin constabularius, from constabulus constable.

constant /ˈkɒnstənt/ ⊳ adj 1 never stopping. 2 frequently recurring. 3 unchanging. 4 faithful; loyal. ⊳ noun, math a symbol representing an unspecified number, which remains unchanged, unlike a VARIABLE. • constancy noun. • constantly adverb. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin constans, from constare to stand together.

constellation /kɒnstəˈleɪʃən/ ⊳ noun 1 astron a any of 88 regions into which the sky is conceptually divided, with each region containing a group of stars; b non-technical a group of stars. 2 a group of associated people or things. ⓘ 14c: from Latin constellatio, from con- together + stella star.

consternate /ˈkɒnstəneɪt/ ⊳ verb (consternated, consternating) to fill with anxiety, dismay or confusion. • consternation noun dismay, alarm, anxiety or confusion. ⓘ 17c: from Latin consternare to dismay.

constipate /ˈkɒnstɪpeɪt/ ⊳ verb (constipated, constipating) to cause constipation in (a person, etc). • constipated adj suffering from constipation. ⓘ 16c: from Latin constipare, constipatum to press closely together.

constipation ⊳ noun a condition in which the faeces become hard, and bowel movements occur infrequently or with pain or difficulty.

constituency /kənˈstɪtjʊənsɪ/ ⊳ noun (constituencies) 1 the district represented by a member of parliament or other representative in a legislative body. 2 the voters in that district. ⓘ 19c: from CONSTITUENT.

constituent /kənˈstɪtjʊənt/ ⊳ adj 1 forming part of a whole. 2 having the power to create or alter a constitution □ a constituent assembly. 3 having the power to elect. ⊳ noun 1 a necessary part; a component. 2 a resident in a constituency. ⓘ 17c: from Latin constituens, from constituere to establish.

constituent analysis ⊳ noun, linguistics the process of analysing linguistic constructions by breaking them down into the components or constituents from which they are made, ultimately including the division of words into stems and affixes.

constitute /ˈkɒnstɪtjuːt/ ⊳ verb (constituted, constituting) 1 to be; to make up. 2 to establish formally. 3 to appoint □ The board of enquiry was recently constituted. ⓘ 15c: from Latin constituere to establish.

constitution /kɒnstɪˈtjuːʃən/ ⊳ noun 1 a set of rules governing an organization. 2 the supreme laws and rights upon which a country or state is founded, especially when it is seen as embodying the rights of its people. 3 (often Constitution) in the US, Australia, etc: the legislation which states such laws and rights. 4 a set of rules governing an organization. 5 the way in which something is formed or made up. 6 one's physical make-up, health, temperament, etc. 7 the act of forming or constituting. ⓘ 16c: from Latin constitutio arrangement or physical make-up, from constituere to establish.

constitutional ⊳ adj 1 legal according to a given constitution. 2 relating to, or controlled by, a constitution. 3 relating to one's physical make-up, health, etc. 4 inherent in the natural make-up or structure of a person or thing. ⊳ noun, dated a regular walk taken for the sake of one's health. • constitutionality noun. • constitutionally adverb.

constitutionalism ⊳ noun 1 a system of government based on a constitution. 2 adherence to the principles of the constitution.

constrain /kənˈstreɪn/ ⊳ verb (constrained, constraining) 1 to force; to compel. 2 to limit the freedom, scope or range of someone. ⓘ 14c: from French constraindre, from Latin constringere to tie tightly together.

constrain, restrain

There is often confusion between constrain and restrain: constrain means 'to force or compel' and is usually used in the passive □ You need not feel constrained to go; restrain means 'to control or hold back' □ He had to be restrained from hitting the man.

constrained ▷ adj awkward; embarrassed; forced.

constraint ▷ noun 1 a limit or restriction. 2 force; compulsion. 3 awkwardness, embarrassment or inhibition.

constrict /kən'strɪkt/ ▷ verb (constricted, constricting) 1 a to squeeze or compress; b to enclose tightly, especially too tightly; c to cause to tighten. 2 to inhibit. ● constriction noun 1 the process of constricting. 2 something that is constricted. 3 contraction; tightness. ● constrictive adj causing a constriction. ◷ 18c: from Latin constrictus, from constringere to tie together tightly.

constrictor ▷ noun 1 a snake that kills by coiling around its prey and squeezing it until it suffocates. See also BOA. 2 anatomy any muscle that compresses an organ or narrows an opening.

construct ▷ verb /kən'strʌkt/ (constructed, constructing) 1 to build. 2 to form, compose or put together. 3 geom to draw (a figure). ▷ noun /'kɒnstrʌkt/ 1 something constructed, especially in the mind. 2 psychol a complex idea or thought constructed from a number of simpler ideas or thoughts. ● constructor or constructer noun. ● constructable or constructible adj. ◷ 17c: from Latin construere, constructum to heap together.

construction ▷ noun 1 the process of building or constructing. 2 something built or constructed; a building. 3 grammar the arrangement of words in a particular grammatical relationship. 4 interpretation □ put a wrong construction on someone's words. 5 geom a figure drawn by following certain conditions, eg only using a ruler and compass. ● constructional adj. ● constructionally adverb.

constructive ▷ adj 1 helping towards progress or development; useful. 2 law said of facts: inferred rather than directly expressed. 3 relating to construction. ● constructively adverb. ● constructiveness noun.

constructive dismissal ▷ noun treatment of an employee by an employer, or an action, which leaves the employee with no alternative but to resign. ◷ 20c.

Constructivism ▷ noun a Russian art movement concerned with non-representational sculpture made out of wood, plastic, etc, often suspended from the ceiling.

constructor see under CONSTRUCT construe /kən'struː, 'kɒnstruː/ ▷ verb (construed, construing) 1 to interpret or explain. 2 grammar to analyse the grammatical structure of (a sentence, etc). 3 grammar (often construe with) to combine words grammatically. 4 grammar, dated to translate word for word. 5 to deduce; to infer. ◷ 14c: from Latin construere to heap together.

consubstantiation /kɒnsəbstansɪ'eɪʃən, kɒnsʌb-/ ▷ noun, Christianity a doctrine attributed to Luther, describing the presence of Christ in the EUCHARIST as 'under and with the elements of bread and wine'. Compare TRANSUBSTANTIATION. ◷ 16c: from Latin consubstantiare to identify in substance, from con together + substantia substance; modelled upon the earlier TRANSUBSTANTIATION.

consul /'kɒnsəl/ ▷ noun 1 an official representative of a state, stationed in a foreign country to look after its commercial interests there, the interests of its citizens living there, etc. 2 historical in ancient Rome: either of the two joint chief magistrates. ● consular /'kɒnsjʊlə(r)/ adj. ● consulship noun. ◷ 14c: Latin, probably related to consulere to take counsel.

consulate /'kɒnsjʊlət, 'kɒnsələt/ ▷ noun the post or official residence of a consul (see CONSUL 1).

consult /kən'sʌlt, 'kɒnsʌlt/ ▷ verb (consulted, consulting) 1 to ask the advice of □ consult a lawyer. 2 to refer to (a map, book, etc). 3 to consider (wishes, feelings, etc). 4 intr (often consult with someone) to have discussions with them. 5 intr to give advice as a consultant □ He consults on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. ◷ 16c: from Latin consultare, from consulere to take counsel.

consultant ▷ noun 1 someone who gives professional advice. 2 in a hospital or clinic: a doctor or surgeon holding the most senior post in a particular field of medicine, and accepting ultimate responsibility for the treatment and care of patients. 3 someone who seeks advice or information. ● consultancy noun (consultancies).

consultation /kɒnsəl'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of consulting. 2 a meeting for the obtaining of advice or for discussion. ● consultative /kən'sʌltətɪv/ adj available for consultation; advisory.

consulting ▷ adj acting as an adviser □ a consulting architect.

consulting room ▷ noun the room in which a doctor sees patients.

consume /kən'sjuːm, -'suːm/ ▷ verb (consumed, consuming) 1 to eat or drink. 2 to use up. 3 to destroy. 4 to devour or overcome completely □ He was consumed by jealousy. 5 to waste away. ● consumable adj. ● consuming adj overwhelming. ◷ 14c: from Latin consumere to take up completely.

consumer ▷ noun 1 someone who buys goods and services for personal use or need. 2 someone or something that consumes.

consumer durables ▷ plural noun goods that are designed to last for a relatively long time and do not need frequent replacement, eg furniture, television sets, etc.

consumer goods ▷ plural noun goods bought to satisfy personal needs, as distinct from those used in the production of other goods.

consumerism ▷ noun 1 the protection of the interests of consumers. 2 econ the theory that steady growth in the consumption of goods is necessary for a sound economy.

consumer protection ▷ noun activities devised to protect buyers of goods and services against inferior or dangerous products and misleading advertising.

consumer research ▷ noun the study of the needs and preferences of consumers.

consumer society ▷ noun the advanced stage of industrial society, in which there is a high availability and consumption of consumer goods and services. See also CONSUMER SOVEREIGNTY.

consumer sovereignty ▷ noun, econ the power of the consumer, as the purchaser of goods and services, to determine which goods are actually produced.

consumer terrorism ▷ noun the deliberate contamination of certain food products with harmful substances, usually in order to blackmail the producers or retailers of the products involved.

consummate ▷ verb /'kɒnsəmeɪt, 'kɒnsjʊmeɪt/ (consummated, consummating) 1 to finish, perfect or complete something. 2 to complete (a marriage) in its full legal sense through the act of sexual intercourse. ▷ adj /kən'sʌmət/ 1 supreme; very great; very skilled. 2 complete; utter □ a consummate idiot. ● consummately adverb perfectly; with great skill. ● consummation /kɒnsə'meɪʃən/ noun 1 the act of consummating. 2 perfection. ◷ 16c: from Latin consummare, consummatum to complete or perfect.

consumption /kən'sʌmpʃən, -'sʌmʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of consuming. 2 the amount consumed. 3 the buying and using of goods. 4 dated another name for consumptive /kən'sʌmptɪv, -sʌmtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 relating to consumption; wasteful or destructive. 2 suffering from TUBERCULOSIS of the lungs. ▷ noun someone suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs. ● consumptively adverb. ● consumptiveness or consumptivity /-'tɪvɪtɪ/ noun.

TUBERCULOSIS of the lungs. ⓘ 14c: from Latin consumptio, from consumere to consume.

cont. ▷ abbreviation 1 continued. 2 contents.

contact /'kɒntakt/ ▷ noun 1 the condition of touching physically. 2 communication or a means of communication. 3 an acquaintance whose influence or knowledge may prove useful, especially in business. 4 in an electrical device: a connection made of a conducting material that allows the passage of a current by forming a junction with another conducting part, eg a switch that can be used to make or break a circuit. Also called electric contact. 5 someone who has been exposed to an infectious disease and is therefore capable of transmitting it. 6 a contact lens. ▷ verb (contacted, contacting) to get in touch with someone; to communicate with someone. ● contactable adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin contactus, from contingere to touch each other.

contact lens ▷ noun a small lens, usually made from plastic, which is placed in direct contact with the eyeball to correct vision.

contact process ▷ noun, chem the process by which sulphuric acid is manufactured on an industrial scale by the oxidation of sulphur dioxide to sulphur trioxide in the presence of a catalyst.

contagion /kən'teɪdʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the transmission of a disease by direct physical contact with an infected person. 2 dated a disease that is transmitted in this way. 3 a harmful influence. 4 the transmission of an emotional state □ contagion of excitement. ⓘ 14c: from Latin contagio touching, contact, from con together + tangere to touch.

contagious /kən'teɪdʒəs/ ▷ adj 1 formerly used to denote a disease that can only be transmitted by direct contact. 2 denoting a disease that can be transmitted by direct contact with or close proximity to an infected individual, eg the common cold. Also called COMMUNICABLE. 3 denoting an organism that has been exposed to and is capable of transmitting such a disease. 4 said of a mood, laughter, etc: spreading easily from person to person; affecting everyone in the vicinity.

> contagious
>
> See Usage Note at infectious.

contain /kən'teɪn/ ▷ verb (contained, containing) 1 to hold or be able to hold. 2 to consist of something specified. 3 to control, limit, check or prevent the spread of something □ The prison staff were able to contain the riot without the help of the police. 4 to control (oneself or one's feelings). 5 to enclose or surround. 6 math to be divisible by (a number) without leaving a remainder. ● containable adj. ⓘ 13c: from Latin continere to hold together.

container ▷ noun 1 an object designed for holding or storing, such as a box, tin, carton, etc. 2 a huge sealed metal box of standard size and design for carrying goods by lorry or ship.

containerize or containerise ▷ verb (containerized, containerizing) 1 to put (cargo) into containers. 2 to convert so as to be able to handle containers. ● containerization or containerisation noun. ⓘ 20c.

container ship ▷ noun a cargo ship designed to carry 6m or 12m containers in pre-determined positions, largely dispensing with the loading and stowage problems associated with traditional cargo.

containment ▷ noun the action of preventing the expansion of a hostile power, etc.

containment building ▷ noun a steel or concrete structure enclosing a nuclear reactor, designed to withstand high pressure and high temperature and, in an emergency, to contain the escape of radiation.

contaminate /kən'tamɪneɪt, kɒn-/ ▷ verb (contaminated, contaminating) 1 to pollute or infect (a substance). 2 to make something radioactive by exposing it to radioactive material. ● contaminable adj. ● contaminant noun. ● contamination noun. ● contaminator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin contaminare, contaminatum to corrupt.

contd ▷ abbreviation continued.

contemn /kən'tem/ ▷ verb (contemned, contemning) literary to despise, disdain or scorn. ⓘ 15c: from Latin contemnere, from temnere to slight.

contemplate /'kɒntəmpleɪt/ ▷ verb (contemplated, contemplating) 1 tr & intr to think about; to go over something mentally; to meditate. 2 to look thoughtfully at something. 3 to consider something as a possibility. ● contemplation noun. ● contemplator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin contemplari to survey or look at carefully, from templum temple.

contemplative /kən'templətɪv, 'kɒntəmpleɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 thoughtful; meditative. 2 relating to religious contemplation. ▷ noun someone whose life is spent in religious contemplation. ● contemplatively adverb. ● contemplativeness noun.

contemporaneous /kəntɛmpə'reɪnɪəs/ ▷ adj (often contemporaneous with something) existing or happening at the same time or period. ● contemporaneity /kəntɛmpərə'niːɪtɪ, -'neɪɪtɪ/ noun. ● contemporaneously adverb. ● contemporaneousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin contemporaneus, from con- same + tempus time.

contemporary /kən'tɛmpərərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 (often contemporary with something) belonging to the same period or time as something. 2 (often contemporary with someone) around the same age as them. 3 modern. ▷ noun (contemporaries) 1 someone who lives or lived at the same time as another. 2 someone of about the same age as another. ● contemporarily adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin contemporarius, from con- same + tempus time.

contemporize or contemporise /kən'tɛmpəraɪz/ ▷ verb (contemporized, contemporizing) tr & intr to make contemporary.

contempt /kən'tɛmpt/ ▷ noun 1 scorn. 2 law disregard of or disobedience to the rules of a court of law. ● hold someone in contempt to despise them. ⓘ 14c: from Latin con- intensive + temnere, temptum to scorn.

contemptible ▷ adj 1 despicable; disgusting; vile. 2 worthless; paltry. ● contemptibility or contemptibleness noun. ● contemptibly adverb.

contemptuous /kən'tɛmptʃuəs/ ▷ adj (often contemptuous of someone or something) showing contempt or scorn. ● contemptuously adverb. ● contemptuousness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin con- intensive + temnere, temptum to scorn.

contend /kən'tɛnd/ ▷ verb (contended, contending) 1 intr (often contend with someone or something) to struggle, strive, fight or compete. 2 intr to argue earnestly. 3 to say, maintain or assert something. ● contender noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin con- with + tendere to strive.

content[1] /kən'tɛnt/ ▷ adj (often content with something) satisfied; happy; uncomplaining. ▷ verb (contented, contenting) to satisfy or make (oneself or another) satisfied. ▷ noun peaceful satisfaction; peace of mind. ● contentment noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin contentus contained, hence satisfied, from continere to hold together.

content[2] /'kɒntɛnt/ ▷ noun 1 the subject-matter of a book, speech, etc. 2 the proportion in which a particular ingredient is present in something □ a diet with a high starch content. 3 (contents) the items contained in something. 4 (contents) a the text of a book, divided into chapters; b a list of these chapters, given at the beginning of the book. ◎ 15c: from Latin contenta things contained, from continere to contain.

content analysis ▷ noun, linguistics the process of analysing linguistic constructions into units of independent meaning, as in the sentence Lions eat meat, where there are three clear units of meaning.

contented /kən'tɛntɪd/ ▷ adj peacefully happy or satisfied. ● contentedly adverb. ● contentedness noun.

contention /kən'tɛnʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a point that one asserts or maintains in an argument. 2 argument or debate. ● bone of contention see separate entry. ◎ 14c: from Latin contentio strife, controversy, from contendere to strive.

contentious /kən'tɛnʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 likely to cause argument or quarrelling. 2 quarrelsome or argumentative. ● contentiously adverb. ● contentiousness noun. ◎ 15c: from Latin contentiosus, from contendere to strive.

contentment see under CONTENT[1]

conterminous /kən'tɜːmɪnəs/ or coterminous /koʊ-/ ▷ adj having the same boundaries, duration or range. ◎ 17c: from CON- + Latin terminus boundary.

contest ▷ noun /'kɒntɛst/ 1 a competition. 2 a struggle. ▷ verb /kən'tɛst/ (contested, contesting) 1 to enter the competition or struggle for something. 2 tr & intr to dispute (a claim, a will, etc). ● contestable adj. ● contestation noun. ● contested adj. ● contester noun. ◎ 16c: from Latin contestari to call to witness.

contestant /kən'tɛstənt/ ▷ noun someone who takes part in a contest; a competitor.

context /'kɒntɛkst/ ▷ noun 1 the pieces of writing in a passage which surround a particular word, phrase, etc and which contribute to the full meaning of the word, phrase, etc in question. 2 circumstances, background or setting. ● contextual adj. ● out of context without regard or reference to context. ◎ 16c: from Latin contextus connection, from con- together + texere to weave.

contiguous /kən'tɪgjʊəs/ ▷ adj 1 (often contiguous with or to something) a touching; b neighbouring or adjacent. 2 near or next in order or time. ● contiguity /kɒntɪ'gjuːɪtɪ/ noun. ● contiguously adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin contiguus, from contingere to touch each other.

continence /'kɒntɪnəns/ ▷ noun 1 the ability to control one's bowels and bladder. 2 self-control; control over one's appetites and passions. ◎ 14c: from Latin continere to hold together.

continent[1] /'kɒntɪnənt/ ▷ noun 1 a any of the seven main land masses of the world, namely Europe, Asia, N America, S America, Africa, Australia and Antarctica; b the mainland portion of one of these land masses. 2 (the Continent) the mainland of Europe, as regarded from the British Isles. ◎ 16c: from Latin, representing the phrase terra continens continuous land.

continent[2] /'kɒntɪnənt/ ▷ adj 1 able to control one's bowels and bladder. 2 self-controlled, especially with regard to one's passions. ◎ 14c: see CONTINENCE.

continental /kɒntɪ'nɛntəl/ ▷ adj (sometimes Continental) 1 belonging or relating to the mainland of the continent of Europe. 2 relating to any of the continents of the world. ▷ noun, dated an inhabitant of the mainland of Europe.

continental breakfast ▷ noun a light breakfast of rolls and coffee.

continental climate ▷ noun the climate typical of the interior of a continent, having hot summers, cold winters and low rainfall.

continental drift ▷ noun, geol the theory that the continents were formed by the break-up of a single land mass, the constituent parts of which drifted apart horizontally across the Earth's surface. Sometimes shortened to drift.

continental quilt ▷ noun a DUVET.

continental shelf ▷ noun, geol the part of a continent that is submerged in an area of relatively shallow sea.

contingency /kən'tɪndʒənsɪ/ ▷ noun (contingencies) 1 something liable, but not certain, to occur; a chance happening. 2 something dependent on a chance future happening.

contingency plans ▷ noun plans made in case a certain situation should arise.

contingent /kən'tɪndʒənt/ ▷ noun 1 a body of troops. 2 any identifiable body of people ▫ There were boos from the Welsh contingent. ▷ adj 1 (usually contingent on or upon something) dependent on some uncertain circumstance. 2 liable but not certain to occur. 3 accidental. ◎ 14c: from Latin contingere to touch together.

continual /kən'tɪnjʊəl/ ▷ adj 1 constantly happening or done; frequent. 2 constant; never ceasing. ● continually adverb. ◎ 14c: from Latin continualis, from continuus uninterrupted.

> continual
>
> See Usage Note at continuous.

continuance /kən'tɪnjʊəns/ ▷ noun 1 the act or state of continuing. 2 duration. 3 US law an adjournment or postponement. ◎ 14c: from Latin continuare to make continuous.

continuation /kəntɪnjʊ'eɪʃən, kɒn-/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of continuing, often after a break or pause. 2 that which adds to something or carries it on, eg a further episode of or sequel to a story.

continue /kən'tɪnjuː, kɒn-/ ▷ verb (continued, continuing) 1 tr & intr to go on without stopping. 2 tr & intr to last or cause to last. 3 tr & intr to carry on or start again after a break. 4 intr to keep moving in the same direction. ◎ 14c: from Latin continuare to make continuous.

● continue with something to persist in it; to keep on with it.

continuity /kɒntɪ'njuːɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the state of being continuous, unbroken or consistent. 2 TV, cinema the arrangement of scenes so that one progresses smoothly from another, without any inconsistencies, eg in actors' clothing, etc. ◎ 16c: from Latin continuitas, from continuus uninterrupted.

continuity announcer ▷ noun, TV the person who speaks during the gaps between programmes, usually announcing the name of the programme which is to follow or giving information about future broadcasts.

continuity girl and continuity man ▷ noun, cinema the person responsible for ensuring the continuity of films.

continuo /kən'tɪnjʊoʊ/ ▷ noun (continuos) music a a bass part for a keyboard or stringed instrument; b the instrument or instruments playing this. Also called thorough bass. ◎ 18c: Italian, meaning 'continuous'.

continuous /kən'tɪnjʊəs/ ▷ adj 1 incessant. 2 unbroken; uninterrupted. 3 grammar said of a verbal aspect or tense: representing continuing action or a continuing state, in English formed with the auxiliary verb be and the present PARTICIPLE, as in I am waiting, They were dancing, You will be playing tomorrow. Also called PROGRESSIVE. ● continuously adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin continuus unbroken, from continere to hold together.

continuous assessment ▷ noun, education the judging of students' progress by means of frequent tests, essays, etc throughout the year, rather than by end-of-year examinations.

continuous, continual

Note that something that is continuous exists or happens for a period without a break, whereas something that is continual exists or happens repeatedly over a period, so that a continuous disturbance goes on for a time without a break, whereas continual disturbances are several occurrences with gaps between them.

continuous creation ▷ noun the theory that creation is an ongoing process rather than a single act.

continuous representation ▷ noun, art the depiction of several consecutive stages of a story in one picture, so that the same character may well appear more than once in the same picture.

continuous stationery ▷ noun stationery consisting of a long sheet of paper with regular perforations.

continuum /kən'tɪnjʊəm, kɒn-/ ▷ noun (continua /-njʊə/ or continuums) a continuous sequence; an unbroken progression. ◷ 17c: Latin, from continuus unbroken.

contort /kən'tɔːt/ ▷ verb (contorted, contorting) tr & intr to twist violently out of shape. ● contorted adj. ● contortion /kən'tɔːʃən/ noun 1 a violent twisting. 2 a deformed shape. ● contortive adj. ◷ 16c: from Latin contorquere, contortum to twist.

contortionist ▷ noun 1 an entertainer who is able to twist their body into spectacularly unnatural positions. 2 someone who twists the meanings of words and phrases.

contour /'kɒntʊə(r), -tɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 (often contours) the distinctive outline of something. 2 a line on a map joining points of the same height or depth. Also called contour line. ▷ verb (contoured, contouring) 1 to shape the contour of, or shape so as to fit a contour. 2 to mark the contour lines on (a map). ◷ 17c: French, from Italian contornare to draw in outline.

contra /'kɒntrə/ ▷ noun (often Contra) a member of a right-wing guerilla group in Central America, who attempted to overthrow the government in Nicaragua. ◷ 1980s: shortened from Spanish contrarrevolucionario counter-revolutionary.

contra- /'kɒntrə/ ▷ prefix 1 against ▫ contraception. 2 opposite ▫ contraflow. 3 contrasting ▫ contradistinction. 4 music lower in pitch ▫ contrabass. ◷ Latin.

contraband /'kɒntrəband/ ▷ noun 1 the smuggling of goods prohibited from being imported or exported. 2 smuggled goods. ▷ adj 1 prohibited from being imported or exported. 2 smuggled. ◷ 16c: from Spanish contrabanda, from Latin contra- against + bannum ban.

contrabass /'kɒntrəbeɪs/ ▷ noun the DOUBLE BASS.

contrabassoon ▷ noun, music a BASSOON which sounds an octave lower than the standard instrument. Also called double bassoon. ◷ 19c: from Latin contra- against + BASSOON.

contraception /kɒntrə'sepʃən/ ▷ noun the deliberate prevention of pregnancy by artificial or natural means. ◷ 19c: from CONTRA- + CONCEPTION.

contraceptive /kɒntrə'septɪv/ ▷ noun a drug or device that prevents pregnancy resulting from sexual intercourse. ▷ adj having the effect of preventing pregnancy.

contract ▷ noun /'kɒntrakt/ 1 an agreement, especially a legally binding one. 2 a document setting out the terms of such an agreement. 3 slang in criminal circles: an agreement to kill someone in return for a usually considerable sum of money. ▷ verb /kən'trakt/ (contracted, contracting) 1 tr & intr to make or become smaller. 2 tr & intr said of muscles: to make or become shorter, especially in order to bend a joint, etc. 3 tr & intr said of the brows: to draw together into a frown. 4 to catch (a disease). 5 to enter into (an alliance or marriage). 6 to incur or accumulate (a debt). 7 tr & intr said of a word, phrase, etc: to reduce to a short form ▫ 'Are not' is contracted to 'aren't'. 8 tr & intr (often contract with someone) to enter a legal contract concerning them. ● contractable adj said of a disease, habit, etc: likely to be contracted. ● contractible adj said of a muscle, word, etc: capable of being contracted. ● put a contract out on someone to arrange to have them killed by a third party, usually for a considerable sum of money. ◷ 14c: from Latin contractus agreement, from contrahere to draw together.

■ contract in or out to arrange to participate, or not to participate, eg in a pension scheme.

■ contract something out or put something out to contract said of a business company, etc: to arrange for part of a job to be done by another company.

contract bridge ▷ noun the usual form of the card game bridge, in which only tricks bid and won count in one's score. Compare AUCTION BRIDGE.

contraction /kən'trakʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of contracting or state of being contracted. 2 a decrease in length, size or volume. 3 a tightening of the muscles caused by a shortening in length of the muscle fibres. 4 (contractions) the regular painful spasms of the muscles of the uterus that occur during labour. 5 a shortened form of a word or phrase which includes at least the last letter of the word or phrase ▫ 'Aren't' is a contraction of 'are not'. ● contractive adj.

contractor /kən'traktə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or firm that undertakes work on contract, especially connected with building, installation of equipment or the transportation of goods. 2 something which contracts.

contractual /kən'traktʃʊəl/ ▷ adj relating to a contract or binding agreement. ● contractually adverb.

contradict /kɒntrə'dɪkt/ ▷ verb (contradicted, contradicting) 1 to assert the opposite of or deny (a statement, etc) made by (a person). 2 said of a statement, action, etc: to disagree or be inconsistent with another. ◷ 16c: from Latin contradicere, contradictum to speak against.

contradiction ▷ noun 1 the act of contradicting. 2 one statement contradicting another, etc. 3 denial. 4 inconsistency. ● contradiction in terms a statement which contains some kind of contradiction.

contradictory ▷ adj 1 inconsistent. 2 denying. 3 contrary. ● contradictorily adverb. ● contradictoriness noun.

contradistinction /kɒntrədɪ'stɪŋkʃən/ ▷ noun a distinction made in terms of a contrast between qualities, properties, etc. ● contradistinctive adj.

contraflow /'kɒntrəfloʊ/ ▷ noun a form of traffic diversion whereby traffic moving in opposite directions share the same carriageway of a motorway, dual carriageway, etc. ◷ 20c: from CONTRA- + FLOW.

contraindicate /kɒntrə'ɪndɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (contraindicated, contraindicating) medicine to point to (a treatment, operation, etc) as unsuitable. ● contraindicant noun. ● contraindication noun a factor or symptom which suggests that a patient should not receive or continue to receive a particular treatment. ● contraindicative adj. ◷ 17c: CONTRA- + INDICATE.

contralto /kən'traltoʊ, -'trɑːltoʊ/ ▷ noun (contraltos or contralti /-tiː/) a the female singing voice that is lowest in pitch; b a singer with this voice; c a part to be sung by this voice. ◷ 18c: Italian, meaning 'lower in pitch than alto'.

contraption /kən'trapʃən/ ▷ noun, humorous, colloq a machine or apparatus which is usually ingenious rather than effective. ◷ 19c.

contrapuntal /kɒntrəˈpʌntəl/ ▷ adj, music relating to or arranged as COUNTERPOINT. • contrapuntally adverb. • contrapuntist noun. ⓘ 19c: from Italian contrappunto counterpoint.

contrariwise /ˈkɒntrərɪwaɪz, kənˈtreərɪwaɪz/ ▷ adverb 1 on the other hand. 2 the opposite way round. 3 in the opposite direction.

contrary ▷ adj 1 /ˈkɒntrərɪ/ (often contrary to something) opposite; quite different; opposed. 2 /ˈkɒntrərɪ/ said of a wind: blowing against one; unfavourable. 3 /kənˈtreərɪ/ obstinate, perverse, self-willed or wayward. ▷ noun /ˈkɒntrərɪ/ (contraries) 1 an extreme opposite. 2 either of a pair of opposites. 3 logic either of two propositions that cannot both be true of the same thing, but they can both be false. • contrariety /kɒntrəˈraɪətɪ/ or contrariness noun 1 opposition. 2 inconsistency; discrepancy. • contrarily adverb. • on the contrary in opposition or contrast to what has just been said. • to the contrary to the opposite effect; giving the contrasting position. ⓘ 14c: from Latin contrarius, from contra opposite.

contrast ▷ noun /ˈkɒntrɑːst/ 1 difference or dissimilarity between things or people that are being compared. 2 a person or thing that is strikingly different from another. 3 the degree of difference in tone between the colours, or the light and dark parts, of a photograph or television picture. ▷ verb /kənˈtrɑːst/ (contrasted, contrasting) 1 to compare so as to reveal differences. 2 (often contrast with something) to show the difference. • contrastive adj. • in contrast to or with something or someone as an opposite to them or something distinct from them. ⓘ 17c: from Latin contra- against + stare to stand.

contravene /kɒntrəˈviːn/ ▷ verb (contravened, contravening) 1 to break or disobey (a law or rule, etc). 2 to dispute or challenge (a proposition, etc). • contravention noun (often in contravention of something) infringement of a law, etc. ⓘ 16c: from Latin contravenire to come against, oppose.

contretemps /ˈkɒntrətɑ̃/ ▷ noun (plural contretemps /-tɑ̃z/) 1 an awkward or embarrassing moment, situation, etc. 2 a slight disagreement. ⓘ 19c in this sense: French, meaning 'bad or false time'.

contribute /kənˈtrɪbjuːt, ˈkɒntrɪbjuːt/ ▷ verb (contributed, contributing) (usually contribute to something) 1 tr & intr to give (money, time, etc) for some joint purpose. 2 intr to be one of the causes of something. 3 to supply (an article, etc) for publication in a magazine, etc. • contributable adj. • contributive adj. • contributor, noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin contribuere, contributum to bring together.

contribution /kɒntrɪˈbjuːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of contributing. 2 something contributed, eg money, or an article for a magazine.

contributory /kənˈtrɪbjʊtərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 giving or given to a common purpose or fund. 2 having partial responsibility. 3 said of a pension scheme: involving contribution from the employee as well as the employer. ▷ noun (contributories) 1 a person or thing which makes a contribution. 2 law every person who is liable to contribute towards the assets of a company, in the event of the company being wound up, including past and present members.

con trick ▷ noun, colloq short for a CONFIDENCE TRICK.

contrite /ˈkɒntraɪt, kənˈtraɪt/ ▷ adj 1 sorry for something one has done. 2 resulting from a feeling of guilt ▫ a contrite apology. • contritely adverb. • contrition /-ˈtrɪʃən/ noun 1 remorse. 2 Christianity deep sorrow for past sin and resolve to avoid future sin. ⓘ 14c: from Latin contritus crushed.

contrivance ▷ noun 1 the act or power of contriving. 2 a device or apparatus, especially an ingenious one. 3 a scheme; a piece of cunning.

contrive /kənˈtraɪv/ ▷ verb (contrived, contriving) 1 to manage or succeed. 2 to bring about something ▫ contrive one's escape. 3 to make or construct something, especially with difficulty. ⓘ 14c: from French controver to find.

contrived ▷ adj forced or artificial ▫ a contrived ending to a play.

control /kənˈtroʊl, kɒn-/ ▷ noun 1 authority or charge; power to influence or guide ▫ take control. 2 a means of limitation. 3 (controls) a device for operating, regulating, or testing (a machine, system, etc). 4 the people in control of some operation ▫ mission control. 5 the place where something is checked ▫ go through passport control. 6 (in full control experiment) a scientific experiment in which the variable being tested in a second experiment is held at a constant value, in order to establish the validity of the results of the second experiment. 7 spiritualism a dead person guiding a medium. ▷ verb (controlled, controlling) 1 to have or exercise power over someone or something. 2 to regulate. 3 to limit. 4 to operate, regulate or test (a machine, system, etc). 5 to establish the validity of (the results of a scientific experiment) by performing another experiment in which the variable being tested is held at a constant value, in order to provide a standard of comparison. • controllability noun. • controllable adj. ⓘ 15c: from French contrerolle duplicate account or register.

control engineering ▷ noun the branch of engineering concerned with the control and adjustment of systems, which need not involve a human operator.

control group ▷ noun a group of people, etc providing a fixed standard of comparison against which experimental results can be evaluated.

controller ▷ noun 1 a person or thing that controls. 2 someone in charge of the finances of an enterprise, etc. Also called comptroller. 3 an official in charge of public finance.

controlling interest ▷ noun the number of shares required to ensure control over the running of a company.

control tower ▷ noun a tall building at an airport providing a good view of the airport and surrounding airspace, and from which take-off and landing instructions are given to aircraft pilots by air-traffic controllers.

controversy /ˈkɒntrəvɜːsɪ, kənˈtrɒvəsɪ/ ▷ noun (controversies) a usually long-standing dispute or argument, especially one where there is a strong difference of opinion. • controversial adj. • controversialist noun. • controversially adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin contra against + vertere to turn.

controvert /ˈkɒntrəvɜːt/ ▷ verb (controverted, controverting) 1 to oppose or contradict. 2 to argue against something. ⓘ 17c: from Latin controversus; see CONTROVERSY.

contumacy /ˈkɒntjʊməsɪ/ ▷ noun, formal obstinate refusal to obey; resistance to authority. • contumacious /-ˈmeɪʃəs/ adj. • contumaciously adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin contumacia stubbornness.

contumely /ˈkɒntjuːmlɪ, ˈkɒntjʊmɪlɪ/ ▷ noun (contumelies) formal 1 scornful or insulting treatment or words. 2 a contemptuous insult. • contumelious /-ˈmiːlɪəs/ noun. • contumeliously adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin contumelia outrage or insult.

contuse /kənˈtjuːz/ ▷ verb (contused, contusing) medicine 1 to bruise. 2 to crush. ⓘ 15c: from Latin contundere, contusum to beat or bruise.

contusion /kənˈtjuːʒən/ ▷ noun, technical 1 the act of bruising or the state of being bruised. 2 a bruise.

conundrum /kəˈnʌndrəm/ ▷ noun 1 a confusing problem. 2 a riddle, especially one involving a pun.

conurbation /kɒnɜːˈbeɪʃən, kɒnɜːˈbeɪʃən/ ▷ noun an extensive cluster of towns, the outskirts of which have merged resulting in the formation of one huge urban development. ⓘ 20c: from Latin con- together + urbs city.

convalesce /kɒnvəˈlɛs/ ▷ verb (convalesced, convalescing) intr to recover one's strength after an illness, operation or injury, especially by resting. ● convalescence noun 1 the gradual recovery of health and strength. 2 the period during which this takes place. ● convalescent noun, adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin convalescere to grow strong.

convection /kənˈvɛkʃən/ ▷ noun the process by which heat is transferred through a liquid or gas from a more dense region of lower temperature to a less dense region of higher temperature, as a result of movement of molecules of the fluid itself. ● convectional adj. ● convective adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin convectio, con- together + vehere, vectum to carry.

convector /kənˈvɛktə(r)/ ▷ noun an electrical device used to heat the surrounding air in rooms, etc, by convection. ⓘ 20c: from Latin con- together + vehere, vectum to carry.

convene /kənˈviːn/ ▷ verb (convened, convening) tr & intr to assemble or summon to assemble □ The court shall convene at three o'clock. ● convenable adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin convenire to come together.

convener or convenor /kənˈviːnə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who convenes or chairs a meeting.

convenience /kənˈviːnɪəns/ ▷ noun 1 the quality of being convenient. 2 something useful or advantageous. 3 Brit euphemistic a lavatory, especially a public one. ● at one's convenience when and where it suits one.

convenience food ▷ noun any food which has been partially or entirely prepared by the manufacturer, and requires only to be cooked, eg cook-chill meals, frozen, canned or dried foods, etc.

convenience store ▷ noun a small grocery shop that stays open after normal hours.

convenient /kənˈviːnɪənt/ ▷ adj 1 fitting in with one's plans, etc; not causing trouble or difficulty. 2 useful; handy; saving time and trouble. 3 available; at hand. ● conveniently adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin conveniens, from convenire to fit or be suitable.

convent /ˈkɒnvənt/ ▷ noun 1 a a community of nuns; b the building they occupy. 2 a school where the teaching is done by nuns. Also called convent school. ⓘ 13c: from Latin conventus assembly.

conventicle /kənˈvɛntɪkəl/ ▷ noun, historical a a secret, especially unlawful, religious meeting; b the building where such a meeting takes place. ⓘ 14c: from Latin conventiculum assembly.

convention /kənˈvɛnʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a large and formal conference or assembly. 2 a formal treaty or agreement. 3 a custom or generally accepted practice, especially in social behaviour. 4 US politics a meeting of delegates from one party to nominate a candidate for office. ⓘ 15c: from Latin conventio meeting or agreement.

conventional ▷ adj 1 traditional; normal; customary. 2 conservative or unoriginal. 3 said of weapons or warfare: non-nuclear. ● conventionalism noun. ● conventionally adj.

conventionality ▷ noun (conventionalities) 1 the state of being conventional. 2 something which is established by use or custom.

conventionalize or conventionalise ▷ verb (conventionalized, conventionalizing) to make conventional. ⓘ 19c.

Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species ▷ noun (abbreviation CITES) ecol an international convention founded in 1973 with the aim of controlling the trade in endangered plant and animal species.

converge /kənˈvɜːdʒ/ ▷ verb (converged, converging) intr 1 (often converge on or upon someone or something) to move towards or meet at one point. 2 said eg of opinions: to tend towards one another; to coincide. 3 said of plants and animals: to undergo CONVERGENT EVOLUTION. ● convergence noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin convergere to incline together.

convergent ▷ adj 1 converging; coming together. 2 agreeing. 3 math said of infinite sequences, series, etc: having a limit.

convergent evolution ▷ noun, biol the independent development of similarities in unrelated species of plants or animals which inhabit the same environment, eg the wings of birds and insects.

converging lens ▷ noun, physics a lens that causes light rays to converge to a focus, eg a convex lens.

conversant /kənˈvɜːsənt, ˈkɒnvəsənt/ ▷ adj (usually conversant with something) having a thorough knowledge of it. ⓘ 16c in this sense: from Latin conversari to associate with.

conversation /kɒnvəˈseɪʃən/ ▷ noun informal talk between people; communication. ⓘ 16c in this sense: from Latin conversatio, from conversari to associate with.

conversational ▷ adj 1 relating to conversation. 2 used in conversation rather than formal language. 3 communicative; talkative. ● conversationalist noun someone who is fond of or skilled in conversation. ● conversationally adverb.

conversation analysis ▷ noun, linguistics the analysis of real-life conversations and their sequential structure with the aim of understanding the strategies used to link different strands and themes, and the ways in which people interact. See also DISCOURSE ANALYSIS.

conversation piece ▷ noun 1 a striking object that stimulates conversation. 2 a group portrait, especially one showing members of a family engaged in characteristic activities in their usual setting.

conversation stopper ▷ noun, colloq a comment that kills a conversation because it is shocking, surprising, out of context, etc.

converse[1] /kənˈvɜːs/ ▷ verb (conversed, conversing) intr (often converse with someone) formal 1 to hold a conversation; to talk. 2 to commune spiritually. ⓘ 17c: from Latin conversari to associate with.

converse[2] /ˈkɒnvɜːs/ ▷ adj reverse; opposite. ▷ noun opposite. ● conversely adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin conversus turned about, from convertere to transform.

conversion /kənˈvɜːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of converting. 2 something converted to another use. 3 rugby union, rugby league, American football the scoring of two further points after a TRY or TOUCHDOWN by kicking the ball over the goal.

convert ▷ verb /kənˈvɜːt/ (converted, converting) 1 tr & intr to change the form or function of one thing into another. 2 tr & intr to win over, or be won over, to another religion, opinion, etc. 3 to change into another measuring system or currency. 4 rugby union, rugby league, American football to achieve a conversion after (a try or touchdown). 5 tr & intr to change from one state or condition into another □ He was given the job of converting the sugar into alcohol. ▷ noun /ˈkɒnvɜːt/ someone who has been converted to a new religion, practice, etc. ⓘ 13c: from Latin convertere to transform, from vertere to turn.

converter or convertor ▷ noun 1 a person or thing that converts. 2 an electrical device for converting alternating current into direct current, or more rarely, direct current into alternating current. 3 a device for converting a signal from one frequency to another. 4 computing a device that converts coded information from one form to another. 5 a vessel in which air or oxygen is blown into a molten metal in order to refine it by oxidizing impurities.

convertible ▷ adj 1 capable of being converted. 2 said of a currency: capable of being freely converted into other currencies. ▷ noun a car with a fold-down top. ● convertibility noun. ● convertibly adverb.

convex /ˈkɒnvɛks, kɒnˈvɛks/ ▷ adj said of a surface or shape: outward-curving, like the surface of the eye. Compare CONCAVE. ● convexity noun 1 roundness of form on the outside. 2 a round form or figure. ⓘ 16c: from Latin convexus arched.

convey /kənˈveɪ/ ▷ verb (conveyed, conveying) 1 to carry; to transport. 2 to communicate. 3 law to transfer the ownership of (property). 4 said of a channel, etc: to lead or transmit. ● conveyable adj. ● conveyer or conveyor noun. ⓘ 14c in this sense: from French conveier, from Latin via way.

conveyance /kənˈveɪəns/ ▷ noun 1 the process of conveying. 2 a vehicle of any kind. 3 law a the transfer of the ownership of property; b the document setting out such a transfer. ● conveyancer noun. ● conveyancing noun.

conveyor belt ▷ noun an endless moving rubber or metal belt for the continuous transporting of articles, eg in a factory.

convict ▷ verb /kənˈvɪkt/ (convicted, convicting) to prove or declare someone guilty (of a crime). ▷ noun /ˈkɒnvɪkt/ 1 someone serving a prison sentence. 2 someone found guilty of a crime. ⓘ 14c: from Latin convincere, convictum to conquer or overcome.

conviction /kənˈvɪkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of convicting; an instance of being convicted. 2 the state of being convinced; a strong belief. ● carry conviction to be convincing. ⓘ 15c: from CONVICT.

convince /kənˈvɪns/ ▷ verb (convinced, convincing) to persuade someone of something; to make or cause to make them believe it. ● convinced adj firm in one's belief. ● convincing adj 1 believable. 2 certain; positive. 3 said of a victory: achieved by a significant margin. ● convincingly adverb. ⓘ 17c in this sense: from Latin convincere to overcome wholly.

convivial /kənˈvɪvɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 lively, jovial, sociable and cheerful. 2 festive. ● conviviality noun. ● convivially adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin convivalis, from convivium feast.

convocation /kɒnvəˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of summoning together. 2 an assembly. 3 (Convocation) C of E a synod of either of the provinces of Canterbury or York. 4 a formal assembly of graduates of a college or university. ⓘ 14c: from Latin convocatio summoning together, from convocare to call together.

convoke /kənˈvoʊk/ ▷ verb (convoked, convoking) to call together; to assemble. ⓘ 16c: from Latin convocare to call together.

convoluted /ˈkɒnvəluːtɪd, -ljuːtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 coiled and twisted. 2 complicated; difficult to understand. ⓘ 19c: from Latin convolvere, convolutum to roll together.

convolution /kɒnvəˈluːʃən, -ˈljuːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a twist or coil. 2 anatomy any of the sinuous folds of the brain. 3 a complication.

convolvulus /kənˈvɒlvjʊləs/ ▷ noun (convolvuluses or convolvuli /-laɪ/) any of a large number of trailing or twining plants native to temperate regions, with funnel-shaped flowers, eg BINDWEED. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from convolvere to roll up.

convoy /ˈkɒnvɔɪ, kɒnˈvɔɪ/ ▷ noun (convoys) a group of vehicles or merchant ships travelling together, or under escort. ▷ verb (convoyed, convoying) to accompany for protection. ⓘ 14c: from French convoier, from Latin con- with + via way.

convulse /kənˈvʌls/ ▷ verb (convulsed, convulsing) tr & intr to jerk or distort violently by or as if by a powerful spasm. ● convulsive adj 1 causing or affected by convulsions. 2 spasmodic. ● convulsively adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin convellere, convulsum to pull violently.

convulsion /kənˈvʌlʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the state of being convulsed. 2 (often convulsions) a violent involuntary contraction of the muscles of the body, or a series of such contractions, resulting in contortion of the limbs and face and sometimes accompanied by loss of consciousness. 3 (convulsions) colloq spasms of uncontrollable laughter. ⓘ 17c: from Latin convulsio, from convellere to pull violently.

cony or coney /ˈkoʊnɪ/ ▷ noun (conies or coneys) 1 dialect a rabbit. 2 its fur used for clothing, etc. 3 in the Bible: a HYRAX. ⓘ 13c: from French conil, from Latin cuniculus rabbit.

coo[1] ▷ noun (coos) the soft murmuring call of a dove. ▷ verb (cooed, cooing) 1 intr to make this sound. 2 tr & intr to murmur affectionately. See also BILL AND COO at BILL[2]. ⓘ 17c: imitating the sound.

coo[2] ▷ exclamation, Brit colloq used to express amazement. ⓘ 20c.

cooee /ˈkuːiː/ ▷ exclamation a usually high-pitched call used to attract attention. ▷ verb (cooeed, cooeeing) intr to make this call. ● within a cooee of someone or something Austral, NZ to be within calling distance of them. ⓘ 19c: from a signal originally used by the Aborigines which was later adopted by the colonists.

cook ▷ verb (cooked, cooking) 1 tr & intr to prepare (food) or be prepared by heating. 2 colloq to alter (accounts, etc) dishonestly. ▷ noun someone who cooks or prepares food. ● cook the books to falsify accounts, records, etc. ● cook someone's goose see under GOOSE. ● cook with gas or electricity colloq to be successful. ● What's cooking? colloq What's happening?; What's the plan? ⓘ Anglo-Saxon coc, from Latin coquus.

■ cook something up 1 colloq to concoct or invent it. 2 drug-taking slang to prepare (a drug, especially heroin) for use, by heating.

cook-chill ▷ adj denoting foods, especially individual meals, that are cooked, rapidly chilled, then packaged and stored in a refrigerated state, requiring reheating before being served. ▷ noun the process of preparing food in this way.

cooker ▷ noun 1 an apparatus for cooking food; a stove. 2 Brit colloq a COOKING APPLE.

cookery ▷ noun (plural in sense 2 only cookeries) 1 the art or practice of cooking food. 2 US a place equipped for cooking.

cookery book and cookbook ▷ noun a book of recipes.

cookie /ˈkʊkɪ/ ▷ noun (cookies) 1 chiefly N Amer a biscuit. 2 Scottish a bun. 3 colloq a person □ a smart cookie. 4 computing information about a user that is held on the user's hard disk and is automatically sent to a BROWSER whenever a certain page is accessed on the Internet or some other network. ● That's the way the cookie crumbles N Amer colloq That's the way it goes; That's how things usually turn out. ⓘ 18c: from Dutch koekje, diminutive of koek cake.

cooking apple and cooker ▷ noun an apple sour in taste, which is used for cooking rather than eating raw. Compare EATING APPLE.

cool ▷ adj 1 between cold and warm; fairly cold. 2 pleasantly fresh; free of heat □ a cool breeze. 3 calm; laid-back □ He was very cool under pressure. 4 lacking enthusiasm; unfriendly □ a cool response. 5 impudent; audacious; brazen. 6 said of a large sum: exact; at least □ made a cool million. 7 colloq admirable; excellent. 8 said of colours: suggestive of coolness, typically pale and containing blue. 9 sophisticated. ▷ noun 1 a cool part or period; coolness □ the cool of the evening. 2 colloq self-control; composure □ keep your cool. ▷ verb (cooled, cooling) tr & intr (often cool down or off) 1 to become cool. 2 to become less interested or enthusiastic □ Martin had cooled towards Pat since her behaviour at the office party. ● coolly adverb in a cool manner. ● coolness noun. ● Cool it! colloq Calm down! ● cool one's heels to be kept waiting. ● play it cool to deal with a situation calmly but warily. ⓞ Anglo-Saxon col.

■ cool something down or off to make it cool.

coolant /'kuːlənt/ ▷ noun 1 a liquid or gas used as a cooling agent, especially to absorb and remove heat from its source in a system such as a car radiator, nuclear reactor, etc. 2 a liquid or gas that is used to cool the edge of a cutting tool during machining.

cool box and cool bag ▷ noun an insulated container, used to keep food cool.

cooler ▷ noun 1 a container or device for cooling things. 2 slang prison. 3 a drink made from wine and fruit juice.

coolie ▷ noun (coolies) offensive 1 an unskilled native labourer in Eastern countries. 2 S Afr an Indian. ⓞ 17c: probably from Tamil kuli hired person.

cooling-off period ▷ noun an interval for reflection and negotiation before taking action.

cooling tower ▷ noun a tall, hollow structure in which water heated during industrial processes is cooled for re-use.

coolly and coolness see under COOL coomb, coombe, comb or combe /kuːm/ ▷ noun 1 in S England: a short deep valley. 2 a deep hollow in a hillside. ⓞ Anglo-Saxon cumb valley.

coon ▷ noun 1 offensive slang a black person. 2 N Amer colloq a raccoon. ⓞ 18c: an abbreviation of RACCOON.

coop ▷ noun 1 a cage for hens. 2 a wicker basket. 3 any confined or restricted space. ▷ verb (cooped, cooping) (usually coop someone or something up) to confine in a small space. ⓞ 15c: probably related to Anglo-Saxon cypa basket.

co-op /'koʊɒp/ ▷ noun, colloq a co-operative society or a shop run by one.

cooper /'kuːpə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who makes or repairs barrels. ⓞ 14c: from Latin cuparius, from cupa cask.

co-operate ▷ verb, intr 1 (often co-operate with someone) to work together with them. 2 to be helpful, or willing to fit in with the plans of others. ● co-operation noun 1 the act of co-operating. 2 willingness to help. 3 assistance. ● co-operator noun. ⓞ 17c: from Latin cooperari to work together.

co-operative ▷ adj 1 relating to or giving co-operation. 2 helpful; willing to fit in with others' plans, etc. 3 said of a business or farm: jointly owned by workers, with profits shared equally. ▷ noun a co-operative business or farm. ● co-operatively adverb.

co-operative society ▷ noun a profit-sharing association for the cheaper purchase of goods.

co-opt /koʊ'ɒpt/ ▷ verb said of the members of a body, etc: to elect an additional member, by the votes of the existing ones. ● co-option or co-optation noun. ● co-optive or co-optative adj. ⓞ 17c: from Latin cooptare to choose together.

co-ordinate ▷ verb (co-ordinated, co-ordinating) 1 to integrate and adjust (a number of different parts or processes) so as to relate smoothly one to another. 2 to bring (one's limbs or bodily movements) into a smoothly functioning relationship. 3 tr & intr to combine harmoniously. 4 to place or classify in the same order or rank. ▷ adj 1 relating to or involving co-ordination or co-ordinates. 2 grammar said of clauses: equal in status, as when joined by and or but. ▷ noun 1 (usually coordinate) math, geog either of a pair of numbers taken from a vertical and horizontal axis which together establish the position of a fixed point on a map. 2 geom any of a set of numbers, especially either of a pair, that are used to define the position of a point, line or surface by reference to a system of axes that are usually drawn through a fixed point at right angles to each other. 3 chem denoting a type of covalent bond between two atoms in which both members of the shared pair of electrons are provided by one atom. 4 (co-ordinates) garments designed to be worn together. ● co-ordination noun 1 harmonious combination. 2 balanced or skilful movement. ● co-ordinative adj. ● co-ordinator noun.

coordinate geometry ▷ noun, math a system of geometry in which points, lines and surfaces are located in two-dimensional or three-dimensional space by means of coordinates. Also called analytical geometry.

co-ordinating conjunction noun, grammar a CONJUNCTION, such as and, or, but, nor, neither, that links clauses of equal status.

coot ▷ noun 1 any of 10 species of aquatic bird belonging to the rail family and closely related to the moorhen, native to Europe and Asia, with dark plumage, a characteristic white shield above the bill and large feet with lobed toes. 2 dated, colloq a fool. ⓞ 14c as cote.

cop[1] ▷ noun, slang 1 a policeman. 2 an arrest. ▷ verb (copped, copping) 1 to catch. 2 to grab; to seize. 3 to suffer (a punishment, etc). ● cop it slang to be punished. ● not much cop colloq having little use or interest. ⓞ 18c: from French caper to seize.

■ cop out colloq to avoid a responsibility; to escape.

cop[2] ▷ noun 1 a conical ball of thread on a spindle. 2 chiefly dialect the summit or top of something, especially a hill. ⓞ Anglo-Saxon.

cope[1] ▷ verb (coped, coping) intr to manage; to get by. ⓞ 14c: from French couper to hit.

■ cope with something to deal with (a difficulty or problem, etc) successfully.

cope[2] ▷ noun a long sleeveless cape worn by clergy on ceremonial occasions. ▷ verb (coped, coping) to dress in a cope. ⓞ 13c: from Latin capa.

cope[3] ▷ verb, building to cut (a piece of moulding) so that it fits over another piece. ⓞ 17c: from French couper to cut.

Copernican system /kə'pɜːnɪkən —/ ▷ noun, astron a model of the Solar System, proposed by Copernicus in 1543, in which the Sun is regarded as being at the centre, with the Earth and other planets moving around it, in perfectly circular orbits.

copier see under COPY

co-pilot ▷ noun the assistant pilot of an aircraft.

coping /'koʊpɪŋ/ ▷ noun a capping along the top row of stones in a wall, designed to protect it from the weather. ⓞ 17c: from COPE[3]. coping saw ▷ noun a small saw used for cutting curves in relatively thick wood or metal. Compare FRETSAW.

coping-stone ▷ noun one of the stones forming the top row in a wall, etc.

copious /'koʊpɪəs/ ▷ adj plentiful. ● copiously adverb. ● copiousness noun. ⓞ 14c: from Latin copiosus, from copia plenty.

cop-out ▷ noun, colloq an avoidance of a responsibility; an escape or withdrawal. See COP OUT at COP[1] verb.

copper[1] /'kɒpə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 chem (symbol Cu, atomic number 29) a soft reddish-brown metallic element that occurs both as the free metal and in various ores, especially CHALCOPYRITE, and which is an excellent conductor of heat and electricity. 2 (usually coppers) any coin of low value made of copper or bronze. 3 a large metal vessel for boiling water in. 4 a reddish-brown colour. ▷ adj 1 made from copper. 2 copper-coloured. ▷ verb (coppered, coppering) to cover with copper. ● coppery adj. ⓞ Anglo-Saxon coper, from Latin cuprum, from Cyprium aes metal of Cyprus.

copper[2] ▷ noun, slang, chiefly Brit a policeman. Often shortened to COP[1] noun. ⓒ 19c: from COP[2].

copper-bottomed ▷ adj 1 said eg of ships or pans: having the bottom protected by a layer of copper. 2 colloq reliable, especially financially. ⓒ 18c.

copperhead ▷ noun 1 a poisonous pit viper, native to the eastern USA, so called because the top of its head is reddish-brown. 2 a venomous snake, native to SE Australia, so called because there is a reddish-brown band at the back of its head.

copperplate ▷ noun 1 printing a a copper plate used for engraving or etching; b a print made from it. 2 fine regular handwriting of the style formerly taught in schools and used on copperplates.

copper pyrites /— paɪə'raɪtiːz/ ▷ singular noun, geol another name for CHALCOPYRITE.

copper sulphate ▷ noun, chem (formula $CuSO_4$) a white compound that tends to absorb moisture from the atmosphere, which is used in electroplating and as an antiseptic, pesticide and wood preservative.

coppery see under COPPER[1] coppice /'kɒpɪs/ ▷ noun, bot an area of woodland in which trees are regularly cut back to ground level to encourage the growth of side shoots, which are then periodically harvested for firewood, fencing, etc. ▷ verb (coppiced, coppicing) to manage woodland in this way. ⓒ 14c: from French copeiz.

copra /'kɒprə/ ▷ noun the dried kernel of the coconut, rich in coconut oil. ⓒ 16c: Portuguese, from Malayalam koppara coconut.

coprolalia /kɒprou'leɪlɪə/ ▷ noun, psychol the repetitive use of indecent language, which may be involuntary, eg as in TOURETTE'S SYNDROME. ⓒ 20c: from Greek kopros dung + -LALIA.

copse /'kɒps/ ▷ noun a COPPICE.

Copt /'kɒpt/ ▷ noun 1 a member of the Coptic Church. 2 an Egyptian descended from the ancient Egyptians.

Coptic /'kɒptɪk/ ▷ noun the language of the Copts, now used only in the Coptic Church. ▷ adj relating to the Copts or their language. ⓒ 17c: from Greek Aigyptios Egyptian.

copula /'kɒpjʊlə/ ▷ noun (copulas or copulae /-liː/) grammar a verb that links the subject and COMPLEMENT of a sentence, eg is in She is a doctor or grew in It grew dark. ⓒ 17c: Latin, meaning 'bond'.

copulate /'kɒpjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (copulated, copulating) intr to have sexual intercourse. ● copulation noun. ● copulatory adj. ⓒ 17c: from Latin copulare to bind or couple.

copulative ▷ adj 1 serving to connect or join. 2 grammar said of a verb: connecting the subject and COMPLEMENT of a sentence. 3 pertaining to copulation.

copy /'kɒpɪ/ ▷ noun (copies) 1 an imitation or reproduction. 2 one of the many specimens of a book or of a particular issue of a magazine, newspaper, etc. 3 written material for printing, especially as distinct from illustrations, etc. 4 the wording of an advertisement. 5 informal material suitable for a newspaper article. ▷ verb (copies, copied, copying) 1 to imitate. 2 to make a copy of something; to transcribe. 3 tr & intr to reproduce; to photocopy. 4 tr & intr to make a copy of another's work, pretending that it is one's own. 5 to give a copy to someone. ● copier noun a person or machine which makes copies. ⓒ 14c: from Latin copia abundance.

copybook ▷ noun a book of handwriting examples for copying. ▷ adj 1 derog unoriginal. 2 faultless; perfect. ● blot one's copybook to spoil one's good record by misbehaviour or error.

copycat ▷ noun, colloq derisive an imitator or person who copies the work of another.

copyist ▷ noun 1 someone who copies (documents, etc) in writing, especially as an occupation. 2 an imitator.

copyright ▷ noun the sole right, granted by law, to print, publish, translate, perform, film or record an original literary, dramatic, musical or artistic work for a certain number of years. ▷ adj protected by copyright. ▷ verb to secure the copyright of something. ● copyrightable adj. ⓒ 18c.

copywriter ▷ noun someone who writes advertising copy.

coq au vin /kɒk ou 'van/ ▷ noun a dish of chicken cooked in red wine with onions, herbs and garlic. ⓒ 1930s: French.

coquette /kou'ket, kɒ-/ ▷ noun a flirtatious woman. ▷ verb (coquetted, coquetting) intr 1 to flirt. 2 to dally. ● coquetry /'koukɪ-, 'kɒk-/ noun. ● coquettish adj. ● coquettishly adverb. ● coquettishness noun. ⓒ 17c: French, diminutive of coq cock.

Cor. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Corinthians. See table at BIBLE.

cor /kɔː(r)/ ▷ exclamation, colloq expressing surprise or pleasure. ● cor blimey a form of GORBLIMEY.

cor- see CON-.

coracle /'kɒrəkəl/ ▷ noun a small oval rowing-boat made of wickerwork covered with hides or other waterproof material. ⓒ 16c: from Welsh corwgl.

coral /'kɒrəl/ ▷ noun 1 a tiny invertebrate marine animal, consisting of a hollow tube with a mouth surrounded by tentacles at the top, which is found mainly in tropical seas. 2 a hard chalky substance of various colours, formed from the skeletons of this animal. 3 a pinkish-orange colour. ▷ adj pinkish-orange in colour. ⓒ 14c: from Latin corallum, from Greek korallion.

coralline /'kɒrəlaɪn/ ▷ adj consisting of, containing or like coral. ▷ noun a common seaweed of a delicate pinkish or purplish colour.

coral island and coral reef ▷ noun an area of coral containing a central lagoon that has become raised above sea level, and has then drained to form a hollow, eventually becoming colonized by plants, insects, birds, etc.

coral snake ▷ noun a venomous snake native to the New World and E Asia, usually with bold alternating bands of black, yellow and red.

cor anglais /kɔː 'rɒgleɪ, kɔː 'rɒŋgleɪ/ (cors anglais /kɔːz —/) ▷ noun, music a woodwind instrument similar to, but lower in pitch than, the oboe. ⓒ 19c: French, meaning 'English horn'.

corbel /'kɔːbəl/ ▷ noun, archit a projecting piece of stone or timber, coming out from a wall and taking the weight of (eg a parapet, arch or bracket). ▷ verb (corbelled, corbelling) (always corbel out or off) to project or cause to project on corbels. ● corbelled adj. ● corbelling noun. ⓒ 15c: French, from Latin corvellum, diminutive of corvus raven.

corbelling ▷ noun stone or brickwork made into corbels.

corbie /'kɔːbɪ/ ▷ noun (corbies) Scots a crow or raven. ⓒ 15c: from French corbin, from Latin corvus.

cord ▷ noun 1 a thin rope or string consisting of several separate strands twisted together. 2 anatomy any long flexible structure resembling this ▫ spinal cord ▫ umbilical cord. 3 N Amer the cable of an electrical appliance. 4 a ribbed fabric, especially corduroy. 5 (cords) corduroy trousers. 6 a unit for measuring the volume of cut wood, equal to 128 cubic ft ($3.63\ m^3$). ⓒ So called because it was originally determined by use of a cord or string. ▷ verb (corded, cording) to bind with a cord. ⓒ 13c: from Latin chorda, from Greek chorde string.

cordate /'kɔːdeɪt/ ▷ adj heart-shaped. ⓒ 17c: from Latin cordatus, from cor, cordis the heart.

corded ▷ adj 1 fastened with cords. 2 said of fabric: ribbed.

cordial /ˈkɔːdɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 warm and affectionate. 2 heartfelt; profound. ▷ noun a concentrated fruit-flavoured drink, which is usually diluted before being drunk. ■ cordiality noun. ■ cordially adverb. ◎ 14c: from Latin cordialis, from cor heart.

cordite /ˈkɔːdaɪt/ ▷ noun any of various smokeless explosive materials containing a mixture of cellulose nitrate and nitroglycerine, used as a propellant for guns, etc. ◎ 19c.

cordless ▷ adj said of an electrical appliance: operating without a flex connecting it to the mains, powered instead by an internal battery ▫ cordless phone.

cordon /ˈkɔːdən, -dɒn/ ▷ noun 1 a line of police or soldiers, or a system of road blocks, encircling an area so as to prevent or control passage into or out of it. 2 a ribbon bestowed as a mark of honour. 3 hortic a fruit tree trained to grow as a single stem. 4 a row of stones along the line of a rampart. ▷ verb (cordoned, cordoning) (often cordon something off) to close off (an area) with a cordon. ◎ 15c: from French cordon, diminutive of corde cord.

cordon bleu /ˈkɔːdɒ̃ blɜː/ ▷ adj said of a cook or cookery: being of the highest standard. ▷ noun (cordons bleus /ˈkɔːdɒ̃ blɜːz/) a cook of the highest standard. ◎ 18c: French, meaning 'blue ribbon'.

corduroy /ˈkɔːdərɔɪ, kɔːdəˈrɔɪ/ ▷ noun (corduroys) 1 a thick ribbed cotton fabric. 2 (corduroys) trousers made of corduroy. See also CORD 5. 3 N Amer a road made of logs lying side by side. Also called corduroy road. ▷ adj made from corduroy.

core ▷ noun 1 the fibrous case at the centre of some fruits, eg apples and pears, containing the seeds. 2 the innermost, central, essential or unchanging part. 3 the central region of a star or planet, especially the Earth. 4 archaeol the lump of stone left after flakes have been struck off it for shaping into tools. 5 the central part of a nuclear reactor, containing the fuel, where the nuclear reaction takes place. 6 elec a piece of magnetic material that, when placed in the centre of a wire coil through which an electric current is being passed, increases the intensity of the magnetic field and the inductance of the coil. 7 the main memory of a computer, where instructions and data are stored in such a way that they are available for immediate use. Also called core memory. 8 the inner part of an electric cable. 9 a cylindrical sample of rock, soil, etc, removed with a hollow tubular drill. ▷ verb (cored, coring) to remove the core of (an apple, etc). ■ cored adj 1 with the core removed. 2 containing a core. ◎ 14c.

core curriculum ▷ noun, education a basic central provision for all pupils, which usually includes mathematics, science and the student's native language.

corer /ˈkɔːrə(r)/ ▷ noun a knife with a hollow cylindrical blade for coring fruit.

co-respondent ▷ noun, law in divorce cases: someone alleged to have committed adultery with the RESPONDENT (noun 2).

corestone see TOR

core time ▷ noun in flexitime: that part of each day, usually neither early nor late, which employees must include in their working hours. ◎ 20c.

CORGI /ˈkɔːgɪ/ ▷ abbreviation in the UK: Confederation for Registration of Gas Installers (UK).

corgi /ˈkɔːgɪ/ ▷ noun (corgis) a sturdy short-legged breed of dog with a thick coat and fox-like head. ◎ 20c: from Welsh cor dwarf + ci dog.

coriander /kɒrɪˈandə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an annual plant, native to Europe and Asia, with narrowly lobed leaves, flat-topped clusters of small white, pink or lilac flowers, and globular aromatic fruits. 2 the dried ripe fruit of this plant, used as a spice in meat products, curry powder, confectionery, tobacco, gin and liqueurs, and widely used as a flavouring in cooking. ◎ 14c: from Latin coriandrum.

Corinthian /kəˈrɪnθɪən/ ▷ adj 1 relating to ancient Corinth in Greece. 2 archit denoting an ORDER (noun 19) of classical architecture characterized by a style of column with a fluted shaft and a heavily carved capital having a distinctive acanthus-leaf design. Compare COMPOSITE noun 3, DORIC, IONIC, TUSCAN.

Coriolis effect and Coriolis force /kɒrɪˈoʊlɪs —/ ▷ noun, physics a hypothetical force, resulting from the Earth's rotation, which appears to act on objects moving across the Earth's surface, deflecting their path to the right in the northern hemisphere and to the left in the southern hemisphere. ◎ 20c: named after the French physicist Gaspard Gustave de Coriolis (1792–1843).

corium see DERMIS

cork ▷ noun 1 bot a layer of tissue that forms below the epidermis in the stems and roots of woody plants, eg trees, which is often cultivated for commercial use. 2 a piece of this used as a stopper for a bottle, etc. ▷ verb (corked, corking) (often cork up or cork something up) 1 to stop up (a bottle, etc) with a cork. 2 to suppress (one's feelings, etc). ■ corkiness noun. ■ corky adj. ◎ 14c: from Arabic qurq, from Latin quercus oak.

■ cork up slang to be quiet.

corkage ▷ noun the fee charged by a restaurant for serving customers wine, etc that they have bought off the premises.

corked ▷ adj said of wine: spoiled as a result of having a faulty cork, which has affected the taste of the wine.

corker ▷ noun, dated slang someone or something marvellous.

cork oak ▷ noun an evergreen tree, native to the Mediterranean region, whose bark produces a thick cork layer which is cultivated as a commercial source of cork.

corkscrew ▷ noun a tool with a spiral spike for screwing into bottle corks to remove them. ▷ verb, tr & intr to move spirally. ◎ 18c.

corm ▷ noun, bot in certain plants, eg crocus: a swollen underground stem, which functions primarily as a food store between one growing season and the next, and is also involved in the production of new plants. ◎ 19c: from Greek kormos lopped tree trunk.

cormorant /ˈkɔːmərənt/ ▷ noun any of over 30 species of seabird with an upright stance, dark brown or black plumage, webbed feet, a long neck and a slender bill. ◎ 14c: from French, from Latin corvus marinus sea raven.

Corn. ▷ abbreviation, English county Cornwall.

corn[1] ▷ noun 1 in the UK: the most important cereal crop of a particular region, especially wheat in England, and oats in Scotland and Ireland. 2 in N America, Australia and New Zealand: MAIZE. 3 the harvested seed of cereal plants; grain. 4 slang something, eg a song, film, etc, trite and sentimental. ▷ verb (corned, corning) to preserve with salt or brine. ■ corned adj preserved in salt or brine. ◎ Anglo-Saxon.

corn[2] /kɔːn/ ▷ noun a small painful area of hard thickened skin, usually on or between the toes, which is caused by pressure or friction. ■ tread on someone's corns colloq to hurt their feelings. ◎ 15c: French, from Latin cornu horn.

corn circle see CROP CIRCLE corncob ▷ noun the woody core of an ear of maize, to which the rows of kernels are attached. See also CORN ON THE COB.

corncrake /ˈkɔːnkreɪk/ ▷ noun a bird belonging to the rail family, native to Europe and W Asia, which has light brown streaky plumage, chestnut wings and a barred tail. ◎ 15c: from CORN[1] + crake, from Norse kraka crow.

corn dolly ▷ noun a decorative plaited straw figure.

cornea /ˈkɔːnɪə/ ▷ noun (corneas or corneae /-iː/) in vertebrates: the convex transparent membrane that covers the front of the eyeball. ● corneal adj. ⓘ 14c: Latin, short for cornea tela horny tissue.

corned beef ▷ noun beef that has been cooked, salted and then canned.

cornelian /kɔːˈniːlɪən/ or carnelian /kɑː-/ ▷ noun, geol a red and white form of agate, used as a semi-precious stone and for making seals. ⓘ 15c: from French corneline.

corner /ˈkɔːnə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a a point or place where lines or surface-edges meet; b the inside or outside of the angle so formed. 2 an intersection between roads. 3 a quiet or remote place. 4 an awkward situation □ in a tight corner. 5 econ control of a particular market gained by buying up the total stocks of a commodity, to re-sell at one's own price. 6 boxing either of the angles of the ring used as a base between bouts by contestants. 7 in some sports, especially football: a free kick from a corner of the field. ▷ verb (cornered, cornering) 1 to force into a place or position from which escape is difficult. 2 to gain control of (a market) by obtaining a monopoly of a certain commodity or service. 3 intr said of a driver or vehicle: to turn a corner. ● cut corners to spend less money, effort, time, etc on something than one should, especially to save time. ● take a corner to negotiate a corner in a motor vehicle. ● turn the corner 1 to go round a corner. 2 to get past the most dangerous stage of, eg an illness. ⓘ 13c: from French, from Latin cornu horn.

cornerstone ▷ noun 1 a stone built into the corner of the foundation of a building. 2 a crucial or indispensable part; a basis.

cornet /ˈkɔːnɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a a brass musical instrument similar to the trumpet; b someone who plays this instrument. 2 an edible cone-shaped holder for ice cream. ● cornetist or cornettist noun someone who plays the cornet. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin cornu horn.

cornflakes ▷ plural noun toasted maize flakes, usually eaten as a breakfast cereal.

cornflour ▷ noun, cookery a finely ground flour, usually made from maize, which is used for thickening sauces, etc. N Amer equivalent cornstarch.

cornflower ▷ noun an annual plant native to SE Europe, which usually has narrow hairy leaves and deep blue flowers, but can also have purple, pink or white flowers. It was formerly common as a weed in cornfields.

cornice /ˈkɔːnɪs/ ▷ noun 1 a decorative border of moulded plaster round a ceiling. 2 archit the projecting section of an ENTABLATURE. 3 archit a projecting moulding at the top of an external wall. 4 art the projecting top part of a PEDESTAL. 5 mountaineering an overhang formed of snow or ice. ⓘ 16c: Italian, meaning 'crow'.

Cornish ▷ adj belonging to Cornwall, a county in SW England, its people or language. ▷ noun the Celtic language once spoken in Cornwall, related to Welsh.

Cornish pasty ▷ noun a semicircular folded pastry case containing various fillings, eg meat, vegetables, etc.

corn on the cob ▷ noun a CORNCOB cooked and served as a vegetable.

corn salad ▷ noun any of various plants, often found growing in cornfields, whose leaves can be used in salads. Also called LAMB'S LETTUCE.

cornstarch see under CORNFLOUR cornucopia /kɔːnjuˈkoʊpɪə/ ▷ noun (cornucopias) 1 art in painting, sculpture, etc: a horn full to overflowing with fruit and other produce, used as a symbol of abundance. Also called horn of plenty. 2 an abundant supply. 3 an ornamental vase in the shape of a horn. ● cornucopian adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin cornu horn + copiae abundance.

corny /ˈkɔːnɪ/ ▷ adj (cornier, corniest) colloq 1 said of a joke: old and stale. 2 embarrassingly old-fashioned or sentimental. 3 relating to or abounding in CORN[1]. 4 relating to CORN[2]. ● cornily adverb. ● corniness noun. ⓘ 20c in senses 1 and 2; 16c in sense 3, all from CORN[1]; 18c in sense 4, from CORN[2].

corolla /kəˈrɒlə, kəˈroʊlə/ ▷ noun (corollas) bot the collective name for the petals of a flower. ⓘ 18c: Latin, diminutive of corona garland or crown.

corollary /kəˈrɒlərɪ, ˈkɒrələrɪ/ ▷ noun (corollaries) 1 something that directly follows from another thing that has been proved. 2 a natural or obvious consequence. ⓘ 14c: from Latin corollarium gift of money, originally for a garland, from COROLLA.

coromandel screen /kɒrəˈmandəl —/ ▷ noun a screen made of wood, incised with designs filled with colour or with gold and lacquered. ⓘ 19c: from the name Coromandel Coast in SE India, where the screens were imported from.

corona /kəˈroʊnə/ ▷ noun (coronae /-iː/ or coronas) 1 astron the outer atmosphere of the Sun, consisting of a halo of hot luminous gases that boil from its surface, visible during a total solar eclipse. 2 astron a circle of light which appears around the Sun or the Moon. 3 bot in certain plants, eg the daffodil: a trumpet-like outgrowth from the petals. 4 physics the glowing region produced by IONIZATION of the air surrounding a high-voltage conductor. 5 a round pendant chandelier. 6 archit the large flat projection of a CORNICE. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'crown'.

coronagraph see CORONOGRAPH coronary /ˈkɒrənərɪ/ ▷ adj, physiol denoting vessels, nerves, etc which encircle a part or organ, especially the arteries which supply blood to the heart muscle. ▷ noun (coronaries) pathol a CORONARY THROMBOSIS. ⓘ 17c: from Latin coronarius pertaining to a crown, from CORONA.

coronary artery ▷ noun, medicine either of the two arteries which supply the muscle of the heart wall with blood.

coronary thrombosis ▷ noun, pathol the formation of a blood clot in one of the two coronary arteries, which blocks the flow of blood to the heart and usually gives rise to a heart attack.

coronation /kɒrəˈneɪʃən/ ▷ noun the ceremony of crowning a monarch or CONSORT[1] noun 1. ⓘ 14c: from French, from Latin coronatio, from coronare to crown.

coroner /ˈkɒrənə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a public official whose chief responsibility is the investigation of sudden, suspicious or accidental deaths. 2 the principal officer of one of the six ancient divisions of the Isle of Man. ⓘ 14c: from French corouner, from coroune crown.

coronet /ˈkɒrənɪt, ˈkɒrənet/ ▷ noun 1 a small crown. 2 a circlet of jewels for the head. 3 the lowest part of a PASTERN of a horse. 4 the ring of bone at the bottom of a deer's antler. ⓘ 15c: from Old French coronete, diminutive of corone crown.

coronograph or coronagraph /kəˈroʊnəgrɑːf/ ▷ noun, astron an optical instrument that is used to observe the Sun's CORONA 1. ⓘ 19c: from CORONA + -GRAPH1.

corp. or Corp. ▷ abbreviation 1 corporal. 2 corporation.

corporal[1] /ˈkɔːpərəl/ ▷ noun a non-commissioned officer in the army or air force. ⓘ 16c: French, from Italian caporale, probably associated with capo head.

corporal[2] /ˈkɔːpərəl/ ▷ adj relating or belonging to the body. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin corporalis, from corpus body.

corporal[3] /ˈkɔːpərəl/ ▷ noun, Christianity a white cloth, usually made from linen, on which the bread and wine of the EUCHARIST are laid out and with which the remains are covered. ⓘ 14c: from Latin corporale pallium, from corpus body (see also PALLIUM).

corporal punishment ▷ noun physical punishment such as beating or caning.

corporate /ˈkɔːpərət/ ▷ adj 1 shared by members of a group; joint ◻ corporate membership. 2 belonging or relating to a corporation ◻ corporate finance. 3 formed into a corporation ◻ a corporate body. ● corporately adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin corporare to form into one body.

corporate bond ▷ noun, finance a long-term fixed-interest bond offered by a corporation.

corporate raider ▷ noun, finance a company or individual that seeks to gain control of a business by acquiring a large proportion of its stock.

corporate state ▷ noun, politics a capitalist state which operates corporatism.

corporate strategy ▷ noun, finance the broad aims and strategies that a company wishes to follow over a period of time, especially five years.

corporation /kɔːpəˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a body of people acting jointly, eg for administration or business purposes and who are recognized by law as acting as an individual. 2 the council of a town or city. 3 informal, facetious a paunch. ⓘ 16c: from Latin corporatio, from corporare to embody.

corporation tax ▷ noun a tax paid by companies on the profits they make.

corporatism or corporativism ▷ noun, politics the control of a country's economy by groups of producers who have the authority to implement social and economic policies, while abiding by the principles laid down by the government.

corporeal /kɔːˈpɔːrɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to the body as distinct from the soul; physical. 2 relating to things of a material nature. ● corporeality or corporeity /-ˈriːɪtɪ/ noun. ● corporeally adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin corporeus, from corpus body.

corps /kɔː(r)/ ▷ noun (plural corps) 1 a military body or division forming a tactical unit ◻ the intelligence corps. 2 a body of people engaged in particular work ◻ the diplomatic corps. ⓘ 18c: French, from Latin corpus body.

corps de ballet / French kɔrdəbalɛ/ ▷ noun a company of ballet dancers, eg at a theatre. ⓘ 19c: French.

corpse /kɔːps/ ▷ noun the dead body of a human being. ▷ verb (corpsed, corpsing) tr & intr, theat slang said of an actor on stage: to laugh or cause to laugh or to forget one's lines. ⓘ 19c as verb; 14c as noun: from Latin corpus body.

corpulent /ˈkɔːpjʊlənt/ ▷ adj fat; fleshy; obese. ● corpulence or corpulency noun. ⓘ 15c: French, from Latin corpulentus, from corpus body.

corpus /ˈkɔːpəs/ ▷ noun (corpora /ˈkɔːpərə/) 1 a body of writings, eg by a particular author, on a particular topic, etc. 2 a body of written and/or spoken material for language research. 3 anatomy any distinct mass of body tissue that may be distinguished from its surroundings. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning 'body'.

corpus callosum /— kəˈləʊsəm/ ▷ noun (corpora callosa /ˈkɔːpərə kəˈləʊsə/) anatomy in the centre of the brain: a thick bundle of about 300m nerve fibres, that serves to connect the left and right cerebral hemispheres. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning 'callous body'.

Corpus Christi /ˈkɔːpʊs ˈkrɪstiː, — ˈkrɪstɪ/ ▷ noun, RC Church a festival in honour of the Blessed Sacrament, held on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday. ⓘ 14c: Latin, meaning 'the body of Christ'.

corpuscle /ˈkɔːpʌsəl, kɔːˈpʌsəl/ ▷ noun anatomy any small particle or cell within a tissue or organ, especially a red or white blood cell. ● corpuscular adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin corpusculum, diminutive of corpus body.

corpus luteum /ˈkɔːpəs ˈluːtɪəm/ ▷ noun (corpora lutea /ˈkɔːpərə ˈluːtɪə/) anatomy in the ovaries of mammals: the mass of yellowish tissue that develops from a ruptured Graafian follicle after ovulation, which secretes PROGESTERONE, thereby preparing the womb for possible implantation of a fertilized egg. ⓘ 20c: from Latin corpus body + luteus yellow.

corral /kəˈrɑːl, kɒ-/ chiefly N Amer ▷ noun 1 an enclosure for driving horses or cattle into. 2 a defensive ring of wagons. ▷ verb (corralled, corralling) to herd or pen into a corral. ⓘ 16c: Spanish, meaning 'courtyard'.

correct /kəˈrɛkt, kɒ-/ ▷ verb (corrected, correcting) 1 to set or put right; to remove errors from something. 2 to mark the errors in. 3 to adjust or make better. 4 old use to rebuke or punish. ▷ adj 1 free from error; accurate. 2 appropriate; conforming to accepted standards ◻ very correct in his behaviour. ● correctly adverb. ● correctness noun. ● corrector noun. ● stand corrected to acknowledge one's mistake. ⓘ 14c: from Latin corrigere to make straight.

correcting fluid ▷ noun a usually white liquid which is used to paint over errors in writing or typing, so that when it dries, the correct version can be typed or written on top. Also called liquid paper.

correction /kəˈrɛkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of correcting. 2 an alteration that improves something. 3 old use punishment. ● correctional adj.

correction paper ▷ noun a small piece of paper, coated with a chalky substance on one side, which is inserted over a mistake on a type-written page, so that when the error is restruck, it becomes covered, allowing the correction to be typed over it.

corrective /kəˈrɛktɪv/ ▷ adj having the effect of correcting or adjusting. ▷ noun something that has this effect.

correlate /ˈkɒrəleɪt/ ▷ verb (correlated, correlating) 1 tr & intr said of two or more things: to have a connection or correspondence; to relate one to another. 2 to combine, compare or show relationships between (information, reports, etc). ▷ noun either of two things which are related to each other. ⓘ 17c: from Latin cor- with + relatum referred.

correlation /kɒrəˈleɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a mutual relationship between two things. 2 an act of correlating. 3 statistics the strength of the relationship between two random variables. ⓘ 16c: from Latin correlatio, from cor- together + RELATION.

correlation coefficient ▷ noun, statistics a number calculated to represent the degree of correlation between two variables.

correlative /kəˈrɛlətɪv/ ▷ adj 1 mutually linked. 2 grammar said of words: used as an interrelated pair, although not necessarily together, eg like either and or. ▷ noun a correlative word or thing.

correspond /kɒrɪˈspɒnd/ ▷ verb (corresponded, corresponding) intr 1 (usually correspond to something) to be similar or equivalent. 2 (usually correspond with or to something or someone) to be compatible or in agreement; to match. 3 (usually correspond with someone) to communicate, especially by letter. ● corresponding adj. ● correspondingly adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin correspondere, from cor- with + respondere to answer.

correspondence ▷ noun 1 similarity; equivalence. 2 agreement. 3 a communication by letters; b the letters received or sent.

correspondence course ▷ noun a course of study conducted by post.

correspondent ▷ noun 1 someone with whom one exchanges letters. 2 someone employed by a newspaper, radio station, etc to send reports from a particular part of the world or on a particular topic ◻ political correspondent.

corridor /ˈkɒrɪdɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a passageway connecting parts of a building or off which rooms open. 2 on a train: a passageway giving access to the compartments.

3 a strip of land from a landlocked country through foreign territory, giving access eg to a port. 4 a restricted route through the air that air traffic must follow. ⓒ 17c: French, from Italian corridore place for running, from correre to run.

corridors of power ▷ plural noun the places where the people who make the important decisions are to be found.

corrie /'kɒrɪ/ ▷ noun (corries) in the Scottish Highlands: 1 a semicircular hollow on a hillside. 2 a CIRQUE. ⓒ 18c: from Gaelic coire cauldron.

corrigendum /kɒrɪ'dʒendəm, -'gendum/ ▷ noun (corrigenda /-ə/) 1 an error for correction, eg in a book. 2 (corrigenda) errata (see ERRATUM). ⓒ 19c: Latin, meaning 'that which is to be corrected'.

corroborate /kə'rɒbəreɪt/ ▷ verb (corroborated, corroborating) to confirm (eg someone's statement), especially by providing evidence. • corroboration noun. • corroborative adj. • corroborator noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin corroborare to strengthen.

corroboree /kə'rɒbəriː/ ▷ noun (corroborees) Austral 1 a ceremonial or warlike dance. 2 a noisy gathering. ▷ verb (corroboreed, corroboreeing) intr to hold a corroboree. ⓒ 19c: Aboriginal.

corrode /kə'roud/ ▷ verb (corroded, corroding) 1 tr & intr said of a material or object: to eat or be eaten away, especially by rust or chemicals. 2 to destroy gradually □ Mutual ill feeling corroded their relationship. ⓒ 14c: from Latin corrodere to gnaw away.

corrosion /kə'rouʒən/ ▷ noun 1 chem the gradual wearing away and eventual destruction of a metal or alloy as a result of its oxidation by air, water or chemicals, eg the rusting of iron. 2 geol the gradual wearing away and destruction of rock by water, etc. 3 a corroded part or patch. ⓒ 14c: French, from Latin corrodere to gnaw away.

corrosive /kə'rousɪv, -zɪv/ ▷ adj 1 capable of eating away. 2 said of a substance: tending to cause corrosion. 3 said of language: hurtful, sarcastic. ▷ noun a corrosive thing or substance. • corrosively adverb. • corrosiveness noun.

corrugate /'kɒrəgeɪt/ ▷ verb (corrugated, corrugating) to fold into parallel ridges, so as to make stronger. • corrugated adj. • corrugation noun 1 an act of wrinkling. 2 a wrinkle. ⓒ 17c: from Latin corrugare, corrugatum to wrinkle.

corrugated iron ▷ noun a sheet of iron which has been bent into a wavy shape in order to strengthen it.

corrupt /kə'rʌpt/ ▷ verb (corrupted, corrupting) 1 tr & intr to change for the worse, especially morally. 2 to spoil, deform or make impure. 3 to bribe. 4 intr to decay or deteriorate. 5 said of a text: to change it from the original, usually for the worse. 6 computing to introduce errors into (a program or data), either accidentally or deliberately, so that it is no longer reliable. ▷ adj 1 morally evil. 2 involving bribery. 3 dishonest. 4 said of a text: so full of errors and alterations as to be unreliable. 5 computing said of a program or data: containing errors and therefore no longer reliable, eg as a result of a fault in the hardware or software. • corrupter or corruptor noun. • corruptive adj. • corruptly adverb. • corruptness noun. ⓒ 13c: from Latin corrumpere, corruptum to spoil.

corruptible ▷ adj capable of being or liable to be corrupted. • corruptibility noun.

corruption /kə'rʌpʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of corrupting or condition of being corrupt. 2 a deformed or altered form of a word or phrase □ 'Santa Claus' is a corruption of 'Saint Nicholas'. 3 dishonesty. 4 impurity.

corsage /kɔː'sɑːʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a small spray of flowers for pinning to the bodice of a dress. 2 the bodice of a dress. ⓒ 19c in this sense: French, from cors body.

corsair /'kɔːsɛə(r)/ ▷ noun, old use 1 a pirate or pirate ship. 2 a privately owned warship. ⓒ 16c: from French corsaire, from Latin cursarius, from cursus a voyage.

corselet, corslet or corselette /'kɔːslɪt/ ▷ noun 1 historical a protective garment or piece of armour for the upper part of the body. 2 (usually corselette) a woman's undergarment combining girdle and bra. ⓒ 15c: French, diminutive of cors body or bodice.

corset /'kɔːsɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a a tightly fitting undergarment, usually worn by women, which has been stiffened by strips of bone or plastic, and is used for shaping or controlling the figure; b a similar garment worn to support an injured back; c a laced bodice worn on the outside by women and some men during the Middle Ages; d in some countries: a similar garment worn by women today. 2 commerce government restrictions on the lending power of banks. ▷ verb (corseted, corseting) 1 to put on a corset. 2 to restrict. • corsetier /kɔːsə'tjeɪ, kɔːsə'tɪə(r)/ or corsetiere /kɔːsə'tjɛə(r)/ noun. • corsetry noun. ⓒ 13c: French, diminutive of cors body or bodice.

cortège /kɔː'tɛʒ, 'kɔː-/ ▷ noun 1 a procession, especially at a funeral. 2 a train of attendants; entourage. ⓒ 17c: French, from Italian corteggio retinue.

cortex /'kɔːtɛks/ (cortices /'kɔːtɪsiːz/) ▷ noun, anatomy the outer layer of an organ or tissue, when this differs in structure or function from the inner region, eg the CEREBRAL CORTEX. • cortical adj. ⓒ 17c: Latin, meaning 'tree bark'.

corticosteroid /kɔːtɪkou'stɪərɔɪd/ or corticoid /'kɔːtɪkɔɪd/ ▷ noun, biochem any steroid hormone, eg cortisone, manufactured by the ADRENAL CORTEX. ⓒ 1940s: from cortico-, combining form of CORTEX + STEROID.

cortisone /'kɔːtɪzoun, -soun/ ▷ noun, biochem a naturally occurring steroid hormone which, in synthetic form, is used to treat rheumatoid arthritis, certain eye and skin disorders, etc. ⓒ 20c: from corticosteron a hormone.

corundum /kə'rʌndəm/ ▷ noun, geol a hard aluminium oxide mineral, used as an abrasive and as a constituent of emery, with its coloured crystalline forms including the gemstones ruby and sapphire. ⓒ 18c: from Tamil kuruntam.

coruscate /'kɒrəskeɪt/ ▷ verb (coruscated, coruscating) intr to sparkle; to give off flashes of light. • coruscant /kə'rʌskənt/ adj. • coruscating adj. • coruscation /kɒrə'skeɪʃən/ noun. ⓒ 18c: from Latin coruscare, coruscatum.

corvette /kɔː'vɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a small warship for escorting larger vessels. 2 historical a sailing warship with one tier of guns. ⓒ 17c: French, ultimately from Dutch korf a kind of ship.

corvine /'kɔːvaɪn/ ▷ adj pertaining to or resembling a crow. ⓒ 17c: from Latin corvinus, from corvus raven.

cos[1] /kɒs, kɒz/ and cos lettuce ▷ noun a type of lettuce with crisp slim leaves. ⓒ 17c: named after Cos, the Greek island where it originated.

cos[2] /kɒz/ ▷ abbreviation cosine.

'cos or 'coz /kɒz, kəz/ ▷ contraction, colloq because.

cosecant /kou'siːkənt/ ▷ noun, trig (abbreviation cosec) for a given angle in a right-angled triangle: a FUNCTION (noun 4) that is the ratio of the length of the HYPOTENUSE to the length of the side opposite the angle under consideration; the reciprocal of the sine of an angle. ⓒ 18c: from co-, short for COMPLEMENT 4 + SECANT.

cosh ▷ noun (coshes) a club, especially a rubber one filled with metal, used as a weapon. ▷ verb (coshes, coshed, coshing) colloq to hit with a cosh or something heavy. ⓒ 19c.

cosily and cosiness see under COSY cosine /ˈkousaın/ ▷ noun, trig (abbreviation cos) in a right-angled triangle: a FUNCTION (noun 4), that is the ratio of the length of the side adjacent to the angle to the length of the HYPOTENUSE. ⓒ 17c: from CO-, short for COMPLEMENT 4 + SINE.

COSLA /ˈkɒzlə/ ▷ abbreviation Convention of Scottish Local Authorities.

cosmetic /kɒzˈmɛtık/ ▷ adj 1 used to beautify the face, body or hair. 2 improving superficially, for the sake of appearance only. ▷ noun (often cosmetics) any application intended to improve the appearance of the body, especially the face. See also MAKE-UP. ● cosmetically adverb. ⓒ 17c: from Greek kosmetikos relating to adornment, from kosmeein to adorn or arrange.

cosmetic surgery ▷ noun surgery, eg a facelift, which is performed purely to improve the patient's appearance, rather than for any medical reason. Compare PLASTIC SURGERY.

cosmic /ˈkɒzmık/ ▷ adj 1 relating to the Universe; universal. 2 coming from outer space □ cosmic rays. 3 colloq large or significant. ● cosmically adverb 1 in a cosmic way. 2 said of a star rising: with the Sun. ⓒ 19c: from Greek kosmikos, from kosmos universe.

cosmic background radiation ▷ noun, astron short-wavelength electromagnetic radiation from outer space, consisting of heat remaining from the Big Bang.

cosmic rays and cosmic radiation ▷ noun, astron radiation which consists of streams of high-energy particles from outer space, travelling at about the speed of light, most of which are thought to originate from SUPERNOVAS.

cosmic string ▷ noun, astron any of the massive hypothetical filaments of matter, predicted to be an important component of the very early Universe, and which in the form of infinite lines or closed loops may have played an important role in the formation of galaxy clusters.

cosmo- /ˈkɒzmou/ ▷ combining form, indicating the Universe. ⓒ From Greek kosmos world.

cosmogony /kɒzˈmɒgənı/ ▷ noun (cosmogonies) the study of the origin and development of the Universe as a whole, or of specific celestial objects or systems, especially the Solar System. ⓒ 18c: from Greek kosmogonia, from kosmos world + gonos creation.

cosmological argument ▷ noun, theol an argument which attempts to prove that God exists by asserting that since the Universe exists and its existence cannot be explained by things in the Universe, it may therefore be supposed that there also exists a first cause, ie God.

cosmological principle ▷ noun, astron the principle that, at a given time, the Universe appears the same to observers in other galaxies as it does to us.

cosmology /kɒzˈmɒlədʒı/ ▷ noun (cosmologies) 1 the scientific study of the origin, nature, structure and evolution of the Universe. 2 a particular theory or model of the origin and structure of the Universe. ● cosmological /kɒzməˈlɒdʒıkəl/ adj, noun. ⓒ 17c: from COSMO- + -LOGY 1.

cosmologist ▷ noun a scientist who specializes in cosmology.

cosmonaut /ˈkɒzmənɔːt/ ▷ noun a formerly a Russian astronaut; b an astronaut from any of the countries of the former Soviet Union. ⓒ 20c: from COSMO- + Greek nautes sailor.

cosmopolitan /kɒzməˈpɒlıtən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging to or representative of all parts of the world. 2 free of national prejudices; international in experience and outlook. 3 sophisticated. 4 composed of people from all different parts of the world. ▷ noun someone of this type; a citizen of the world. ⓒ 17c: from COSMO- + Greek polites citizen.

cosmos /ˈkɒzmɒs/ ▷ noun the Universe seen as an ordered system. ⓒ 17c: from Greek kosmos world or order.

Cossack /ˈkɒsak/ ▷ noun, formerly any member of the semi-independent communities of fugitive peasants who inhabited the steppelands of S Russia and the Ukraine and who formed an elite group of cavalrymen. ▷ adj belonging or relating to this people. ⓒ 16c: ultimately from Turkic quzzaq adventurer or guerrilla.

cosset /ˈkɒsıt/ ▷ verb (cosseted, cosseting) to treat too kindly; to pamper. ▷ noun 1 a hand-reared animal, especially a lamb. 2 a spoiled child. ⓒ 16c.

cost ▷ verb (in senses 1, 2 and 4 past tense, past participle cost, in all senses present participle costing) 1 to be obtainable at a certain price. 2 tr & intr to involve the loss or sacrifice of someone or something. 3 (past tense, past participle costed) to estimate or decide the cost of something. 4 tr & intr, colloq to put someone to some expense □ He would send his daughter to university, whatever it cost him. ▷ noun 1 what something costs; the price paid or required to be paid. 2 loss or sacrifice □ The war was won but the cost of human life was great. 3 (costs) law the expenses of a case, generally paid by the unsuccessful party. ● at all costs no matter what the risk or effort may be. ● cost someone dear to prove costly to them. ● count the cost 1 to consider all the risks before taking action. 2 to realize the bad effects of something done. ● to one's cost with some loss or disadvantage. ⓒ 13c: from Latin constare to stand firm or cost.

costa /ˈkɒstə/ ▷ noun (costae /ˈkɒstaı/) 1 anatomy the technical name for the RIB¹ (noun 1). 2 any riblike structure or part. ● costal adj. ⓒ 19c: Latin.

cost-accountant ▷ noun, business an accountant who analyses the costs for a product or operation, often with the aim of establishing a current standard or norm against which actual cost may be compared. See also MANAGEMENT ACCOUNTANT. ● cost-accounting noun.

co-star /ˈkoustɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a fellow star in a film, play, etc. ▷ verb 1 intr said of an actor: to appear alongside another star. 2 said of a production: to feature as fellow stars □ The play co-starred Gielgud and Olivier. ⓒ 20c: CO- + STAR noun 6, verb 1.

Costa Rican /kɒstəˈriːkən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Costa Rica, a republic in Central America, or its inhabitants. ▷ noun a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Costa Rica.

cost-benefit analysis ▷ noun a type of analysis which compares the cost of a particular course of action, eg building a motorway, with the resulting benefits, taking into account the social costs and benefits as well as the strictly financial ones.

cost-effective ▷ adj giving acceptable financial return in relation to initial outlay.

costermonger /ˈkɒstəmʌŋgə(r)/ ▷ noun, Brit someone whose job is to sell fruit and vegetables from a barrow. Also called coster. ⓒ 16c: from costard a type of apple + -MONGER 1.

costive /ˈkɒstıv/ ▷ adj, old use 1 constipated. 2 mean; stingy. ⓒ 14c: from French costivé, from Latin constipatus constipated.

costly /ˈkɒstlı/ ▷ adj (costlier, costliest) 1 involving much cost; expensive. 2 lavish; sumptuous. 3 involving major losses or sacrifices. ● costliness noun.

cost of living ▷ noun the expense to the individual of the ordinary necessities such as food, clothing, fuel, etc, required to sustain a basic standard of existence.

cost price ▷ noun the price paid for something by the retailer, before resale to the public at a profit.

costume /ˈkɒstʃuːm/ ▷ noun 1 a set of clothing of a special kind, especially of a particular historical period or particular country. 2 a garment or outfit for a special activity □ a swimming-costume. 3 old use a woman's suit. ▷ verb (costumed, costuming) 1 to arrange or design the clothes for (a play, film, etc). 2 to dress in a costume. ⓘ 18c: Italian, meaning 'custom' or 'habit'.

costume jewellery ▷ noun inexpensive jewellery made from artificial materials.

costumier /kɒ'stʃuːmɪə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who makes or supplies costumes. ⓘ 19c: French.

cosy /'kouzɪ/ ▷ adj (cosier, cosiest) 1 warm and comfortable. 2 friendly, intimate and confidential □ a cosy chat. ▷ noun (cosies) a cover to keep something warm, especially a teapot or boiled egg. ▷ verb (cosies, cosied, cosying) to reassure or comfort, often with a hug. ● cosily adverb. ● cosiness noun. ⓘ 18c.

■ cosy up with or to someone to snuggle up to or with them.

cot[1] ▷ noun 1 a small bed with high, barred sides for a child. 2 a portable bed. 3 naut a bed like a hammock. 4 Anglo-Indian a light bedstead. ⓘ 17c: from Hindi khat bedstead.

cot[2] ▷ noun 1 poetic a cottage. 2 usually in compounds a shortened form of COTE □ dovecot. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

cot[3] ▷ abbreviation cotangent.

cotangent /kou'tandʒənt/ ▷ noun, trig (abbreviation cot) for a given angle in a right-angled triangle: a FUNCTION (noun 4) that is the ratio of the length of the side adjacent to the angle under consideration, to the length of the side opposite it; the reciprocal of the tangent of an angle. ⓘ 17c: from co- short for COMPLEMENT 4 + TANGENT.

cot death see SUDDEN INFANT DEATH SYNDROME.

cote /kout/ ▷ noun, usually in compounds a small shelter for birds or animals □ dovecote. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

coterie /'koutərɪ/ ▷ noun (coteries) a small exclusive group of people who have the same interests. ⓘ 18c: French.

coterminous see CONTERMINOUS.

cotinga /kou'tɪŋgə/ ▷ noun (cotingas) a bird, with a broad, hooked bill, native to the New World tropics. ⓘ 18c: French, from Tupi cutinga.

cotoneaster /kətouni'astə(r)/ ▷ noun a deciduous or evergreen shrub or small tree with clusters of white or pink flowers, followed by red or orange berries. ⓘ 18c: from Latin cotonea quince.

cottage /'kɒtɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a small house, especially an old stone one, in a village or the countryside. 2 slang a public lavatory used for anonymous sex between men. ⓘ 13c in sense 1; 20c in sense 2: from COT[2].

cottage cheese ▷ noun a type of soft white cheese made from the curds of skimmed milk.

cottage industry ▷ noun a craft industry such as knitting or weaving, employing workers in their own homes.

cottage loaf ▷ noun a loaf consisting of a round piece of dough with a smaller round piece on top of it.

cottager ▷ noun someone who lives in a cottage.

cottaging ▷ noun the practice of using a public lavatory for anonymous sex between men.

cottar or cotter /'kɒtə(r)/ ▷ noun, Scottish historical a farm labourer occupying a cottage rent-free, in return working on the farm. ⓘ 16c: from COT[2].

cotton /'kɒtən/ ▷ noun 1 a a shrubby plant with broad lobed leaves and egg-shaped seed pods, cultivated in tropical and subtropical regions for the creamy-white downy fibres which surround its seeds; b a number of these plants collectively. 2 the soft white fibre obtained from this plant, used in the production of textiles. 3 the cloth or yarn that is woven from fibres obtained from this plant. ▷ adj made from cotton. ▷ verb (cottoned, cottoning) (always cotton on to something) colloq to begin to understand it. ● cottony adj. ⓘ 14c: from French coton, from Arabic qutun.

cotton candy ▷ noun, US CANDY FLOSS.

cotton gin ▷ noun a machine for separating cotton fibres from the seeds they surround.

cottongrass ▷ noun a variety of sedge, with long silky or cotton-like hairs around the ripened ovary.

cotton-picking or cotton-pickin' ▷ adj, N Amer slang (used to indicate annoyance) damned □ I'll get my own back on that cotton-pickin' liar!

cotton wool ▷ noun soft fluffy wadding made from cotton fibre, which is used in the treatment of injuries, application of cosmetics, etc.

cottony see under COTTON.

cotyledon /kɒtɪ'liːdən/ ▷ noun, bot in flowering plants: one of the leaves produced by the embryo, providing the initial food source for the plant. ● cotyledonary adj. ● cotyledonous adj. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from Greek kotyledon, from kotyle cup.

couch[1] /kautʃ/ ▷ noun (couches) 1 a sofa or settee. 2 a bed-like seat with a headrest, eg for patients to lie on when being examined or treated by a doctor or psychiatrist. 3 poetic a bed. ▷ verb (couches, couched, couching) 1 tr & intr to lie down or cause to lie down. 2 to express in words of a certain kind. ⓘ 14c: from French coucher to lay down.

couch[2] /kautʃ, kuːtʃ/ and couch grass ▷ noun a perennial grass native to northern temperate regions, with rough dull green or bluish-green leaves, growing on roadsides and waste ground, and as a weed in cultivated ground. Also called quitch. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cwice.

couchette /kuː'ʃɛt/ ▷ noun a on a ship or train: a sleeping-berth, converted from ordinary seating; b a railway carriage with such berths. ⓘ 20c: French, diminutive of couche bed.

couching /'kautʃɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 surgery an operation to remove a cataract. 2 needlecraft embroidery in which the surface is covered with threads and these are secured by stitches forming a pattern.

couch potato ▷ noun, colloq someone who spends their leisure time watching television or videos.

cougar /'kuːgə(r)/ ▷ noun, N Amer a PUMA. ⓘ 18c: from French cougar, ultimately from Guarani cuguacuarana.

cough /kɒf/ ▷ verb (coughed, coughing) 1 intr to expel air, mucus, etc from the throat or lungs with a rough sharp noise. 2 intr said of an engine, etc: to make a similar noise. 3 to express with a cough. ▷ noun 1 an act or sound of coughing. 2 a condition of lungs or throat causing coughing.

■ cough something up to bring up mucus, phlegm, blood, etc by coughing.

■ cough up slang to provide (money, information, etc), especially reluctantly.

cough mixture ▷ noun a liquid medicine used to relieve coughing.

could /kud/ ▷ verb 1 past tense of CAN: □ I found I could lift it. 2 used to express a possibility □ He could be exactly what we are looking for! □ You could be right. 3 used to express a possible course of action □ You could try telephoning her. 4 used in making requests □ Could you help me? 5 to feel like doing something or able to do something □ I could have strangled him □ I could not allow that. ● could be colloq that may be the case □ You think Rick's the thief? Could be!

couldn't /'kudənt/ ▷ contraction could not.

coulis /'kuːliː/ ▷ noun (plural coulis /-liːz/) a purée of fruit, vegetables, etc often served as a sauce surrounding a meal.

coulomb /ˈkuːlɒm/ ▷ noun (symbol C) the SI unit of electric charge, equal to the amount of charge transported by a current of one ampere in one second.

council /ˈkaʊnsəl/ ▷ noun 1 a a body of people whose function is to advise, administer, organize, discuss or legislate; b the people making up such a body. 2 the elected body of people that directs the affairs of a town, borough, district, region, etc. ⊙ 12c: from French concile, from Latin concilium assembly.

council house ▷ noun a house built, owned and rented out by a local council.

councillor ▷ noun an elected member of a council, especially of a town, etc.

> councillor, counsellor
>
> These words are often confused with each other.

council tax ▷ noun in the UK: a local-government tax based on and banded according to property values, which was introduced in 1993 to replace the COMMUNITY CHARGE.

counsel /ˈkaʊnsəl/ ▷ noun 1 advice. 2 consultation, discussion or deliberation. 3 a lawyer or group of lawyers that gives legal advice and fights cases in court. ▷ verb (counselled, counselling) to advise. ● keep one's own counsel to keep one's opinions and intentions to oneself. ⊙ 13c: from French conseil, from Latin consilium advice.

counsellor or N Amer counselor ▷ noun 1 an adviser. 2 a lawyer.

count[1] ▷ verb (counted, counting) 1 intr to recite numbers in ascending order □ count to five. 2 to find the total amount of (items), by adding up item by item. 3 to include □ Did you remember to count Iain? 4 intr to be important; to matter; to have an effect or value □ Good contacts count in the music business. 5 to consider □ He counted himself lucky that he still had a job. ▷ noun 1 an act of counting. 2 the number counted. 3 a charge brought against an accused person □ He was found guilty on two counts of murder. 4 a single response registered by a device used to detect or measure ionizing radiation. 5 the total number of responses registered by such a device. ● countable adj 1 able to be counted. 2 grammar said of a noun: capable of being used with a or an, or in the plural. See also COUNT NOUN. ● count me in or out I am willing, or not willing, to be included. ● keep or lose count to keep, or fail to keep, a note of the running total. ● out for the count 1 boxing said of a floored boxer: unable to rise to his feet within a count of ten. 2 unconscious. 3 facetious fast asleep. ⊙ 14c: from French cunter, from Latin computare to calculate.

■ count against someone to be a disadvantage to them.

■ count down to count backwards from a certain number to zero, so as to indicate the time before a particular event, movement, happening, etc. See also COUNTDOWN.

■ count someone or something in to include them or it.

■ count on someone or something to rely on them or it.

■ count someone out 1 boxing to declare (a floored boxer) to have lost the match if they are unable to get up within a count of ten seconds. 2 to exclude them from consideration.

■ count something out to lay down or present items one at a time while counting □ counted out five pounds for each boy.

count[2] ▷ noun a European nobleman, equal in rank to a British earl. ⊙ 16c: from French conte, from Latin comes companion.

countdown ▷ noun a count backwards from a certain number, with zero as the moment for action, used eg in launching a rocket. See also COUNT DOWN at COUNT1.

countenance /ˈkaʊntənəns/ ▷ noun 1 face; expression or appearance. 2 support; patronage. ▷ verb (countenanced, countenancing) 1 to favour or support. 2 to allow; to tolerate. ● give countenance to something to support it, eg a proposal, etc. ● keep one's countenance to remain composed, manage not to laugh, etc. ⊙ 13c: from French contenance, from Latin continentia self-control.

counter[1] /ˈkaʊntə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a long flat-topped fitting in a shop, cafeteria, bank, etc over which goods are sold, food is served or business is transacted. 2 in various board games: a small flat disc used as a playing-piece, especially in board games. 3 a disc-shaped token used as a substitute coin. 4 a device for counting something □ Geiger counter. 5 someone who counts. ● over the counter by the normal method of sale in a shop, etc. ● under the counter by secret illegal sale, or by unlawful means. ⊙ 14c: from Latin computare to reckon.

counter[2] /ˈkaʊntə(r)/ ▷ verb (countered, countering) tr & intr to oppose, act against or hit back. ▷ adverb (often counter to something) in the opposite direction to it; in contradiction of it. ▷ adj contrary; opposing. ▷ noun 1 a return blow; an opposing move. 2 an opposite or contrary. 3 something that can be used to one's advantage in negotiating or bargaining. 4 naut the curved, overhanging part of a ship's stern. ● run counter to something to act in a way contrary to it □ The results ran counter to our expectations. ⊙ 14c: from French contre, from Latin contra- against.

counter- /ˈkaʊntə(r)/ ▷ prefix, denoting 1 opposite; against; in opposition to something □ counter-attack. 2 in competition or rivalry □ counter-attraction. 3 matching or corresponding □ counterpart. ⊙ From French contre, from Latin contra- against.

counteract /kaʊntəˈrakt/ ▷ verb to reduce or prevent the effect of something. ● counteraction noun. ● counteractive adj. ⊙ 17c.

counter-attack ▷ noun an attack in reply to an attack. ▷ verb, tr & intr to attack in return. ⊙ 20c.

counter-attraction ▷ noun a rival attraction. ● counter-attractive adj. ⊙ 18c.

counterbalance ▷ noun a weight, force or circumstance that balances another or cancels it out. ▷ verb to act as a counterbalance to; to neutralize or cancel out. ⊙ 17c.

counterblast ▷ noun a vigorous and indignant verbal or written response. ⊙ 16c.

counter-charge ▷ noun an accusation made in response to one made against oneself. ▷ verb to make an accusation against an accuser. ⊙ 17c.

counter-claim ▷ noun a claim or assertion made in opposition to one made by someone else. ▷ verb to make a counter-claim. ⊙ 18c.

counter-clockwise ▷ adj, adverb, especially N Amer anticlockwise.

counter-culture ▷ noun a culture or way of life that deliberately rejects the perceived social norm. ⊙ 20c.

counter-espionage ▷ noun activities undertaken to frustrate spying by an enemy or rival. Also called counter-intelligence.

counterfeit /ˈkaʊntəfɪt, -fiːt/ ▷ adj 1 made in imitation of a genuine article, especially with the purpose of deceiving; forged. 2 not genuine; insincere. ▷ noun an imitation, especially one designed to deceive; a forgery. ▷ verb (counterfeited, counterfeiting) 1 to copy for a dishonest purpose; to forge. 2 to pretend. ● counterfeiter noun. ⊙ 13c: from French contrefait, ultimately from Latin contra- against + facere to make.

counterfoil ▷ noun the section of a cheque, receipt, ticket, etc retained as a record by the person who issues it. ⓘ 18c: COUNTER- + FOIL[2].

counter-insurgency ▷ noun military action taken against insurgents or rebels.

counter-intelligence ▷ noun another name for COUNTER-ESPIONAGE. ⓘ 20c.

countermand /kaʊntə'mɑːnd, 'kaʊntəmɑːnd/ ▷ verb (countermanded, countermanding) 1 to cancel or revoke (an order or command). 2 to recall (a person, troops, etc). ▷ noun a command which cancels a previous one. ⓘ 15c: from French contremander, from Latin mandare to order.

countermarch ▷ verb, tr & intr to march or cause to march in the opposite direction from that previously taken. ▷ noun an instance of marching back in a different direction. ⓘ 16c.

counter-measure ▷ noun an action taken to counteract a threat, dangerous development or move. ⓘ 20c.

counter-offensive ▷ noun an aggressive move made in response to an initial attack. ⓘ 20c.

counterpane /'kaʊntəpeɪn/ ▷ noun, dated a bedspread. ⓘ 17c: from French contrepoint quilt, from Latin culcita puncta quilted mattress.

counterpart ▷ noun 1 one of two parts which form a corresponding pair. 2 a person or thing which is not exactly the same as another, but which is equivalent to it in a different place or context □ The Russian ambassador triumphed at the conference, but her counterpart at the UN was not quite so successful.

counterplot ▷ verb to plot against in order to frustrate another plot. ▷ noun a plot intended to frustrate another plot. ⓘ 16c.

counterpoint ▷ noun, music 1 the combining of two or more melodies sung or played simultaneously into a harmonious whole. 2 a part or melody combined with another. ▷ verb to set in contrast to. See also CONTRAPUNTAL. ⓘ 16c: from French contrepoint, from Latin contra- against + punctum musical note.

counterpoise ▷ noun 1 a weight which balances another weight. 2 something that counterbalances. 3 a state of equilibrium. ▷ verb 1 to balance with something of equal weight. 2 to bring to a state of equilibrium. ⓘ 14c: from French contrepois, from Latin contra- against + pensum weight.

counter-productive ▷ adj tending to undermine productiveness and efficiency; having the opposite effect to that intended.

counter-revolution ▷ noun a revolution to overthrow a system of government established by a previous revolution. ● counter-revolutionary adj, noun.

countersign ▷ verb to sign (a document, etc already signed by someone else) by way of confirmation. ▷ noun a password or signal used in response to a sentry's challenge; a sign or signal given in response to another sign or signal. ⓘ 16c: from French contresigne, from Italian contrasegno a counter-token.

counter-signature ▷ noun a name countersigned on a document.

countersink ▷ verb 1 to widen the upper part of (a screw hole) so that the top of the screw, when inserted, will be level with the surrounding surface. 2 to insert (a screw) into such a hole. ▷ noun 1 a tool for carrying this out. Also called countersink bit. 2 the enlargement made to the hole.

counter-tenor ▷ noun, music an adult male voice, higher than the TENOR.

countervail /kaʊntə'veɪl/ ▷ verb (countervailed, countervailing) 1 tr & intr (often countervail against something) to act against something with equal effect. 2 to compensate. ⓘ 14c: from French contrevaloir, from Latin contra- against + valere to be strong.

counterweight ▷ noun a counterbalancing weight.

countess /'kaʊntɪs/ ▷ noun 1 the wife or widow of an earl or count. 2 a woman with the rank of earl or count. ⓘ 12c: from French contesse, from Latin comitissa, feminine of comes companion.

counties plural of COUNTY countless /'kaʊntləs/ ▷ adj numerous; so many as to be impossible to count.

count noun ▷ noun, grammar a noun which can be qualified in the singular by the indefinite article and can also be used in the plural, eg car (as in a car or cars) but not furniture. Compare MASS NOUN.

countrified or countryfied /'kʌntrɪfaɪd/ ▷ adj rural; rustic in appearance or style.

country /'kʌntrɪ/ ▷ noun (countries) 1 an area of land distinguished from other areas by its culture, climate, inhabitants, political boundary, etc. 2 the population of such an area of land. 3 a nation or state. 4 one's native land. 5 (often the country) open land, away from the towns and cities, usually characterized by moors, woods, hills, fields, etc. 6 land having a certain character or connection □ Burns country. 7 an area of knowledge or experience □ back in the familiar country of simple arithmetic. ● across country not keeping to roads. ● go to the country Brit said of a government in power: to dissolve parliament and hold a general election. ⓘ 13c: from French cuntrée, from Latin contrata terra land lying in front of one.

country and western ▷ noun a style of popular music, based on the white folk music of the Southern USA, characterized by its use of instruments like banjos, fiddles and pedal steel guitar.

country bumpkin see BUMPKIN country club ▷ noun a club in a rural area with facilities for sport and recreation.

country cousin ▷ noun a relative from the country, unaccustomed to the customs or sights in a town and, as such, prone to embarrass their town relatives.

country dance ▷ noun any one of many traditional British dances in which partners face each other in parallel lines or sometimes form circles. ● country dancing noun.

countryfied see COUNTRIFIED country house and country seat ▷ noun a large house in the country, especially one belonging to a wealthy landowner.

countryman and countrywoman ▷ noun 1 someone who lives in a rural area. 2 someone belonging to a particular country, especially the same country as oneself.

country music ▷ noun a category of popular music, including COUNTRY AND WESTERN.

countryside ▷ noun rural land situated outside or away from towns.

countrywide ▷ adj all over the nation.

county /'kaʊntɪ/ ▷ noun (counties) 1 any of the geographical divisions within England, Wales and Ireland that form the larger units of local government. Compare REGION (sense 2). 2 in the USA: the main administrative subdivision within a state. ▷ adj, derog, informal upper class; pertaining to the landed gentry. ⓘ 15c: from French conté, from Latin comes count.

county court ▷ noun a local court where non-criminal cases are heard.

county town ▷ noun the chief town of a county, acting as its seat of administration.

coup /kuː/ ▷ noun 1 a successful move; a masterstroke. 2 a COUP D'ÉTAT. ⓘ 18c: French, from Latin colaphus blow with the fist.

coup de grâce /kuː də grɑːs/ ▷ noun (coups de grâce /kuː də grɑːs/) a final decisive blow, especially one which puts an end to suffering. ⓘ 17c: French, meaning 'blow of mercy'.

coup d'état /kuː deɪ'tɑː/ ▷ noun (coups d'état /kuː deɪ'tɑː/) the sudden, usually violent, overthrow of a government. Often shortened to COUP. ⓘ 17c: French, meaning 'stroke of the state'.

coupe /kuːp/ ▷ noun 1 a dessert made with fruit and ice cream. 2 a glass bowl, designed for serving this dessert. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'goblet'.

coupé /'kuːpeɪ/ ▷ noun (coupés) 1 a car with four seats, two doors and a sloping rear. 2 a four-wheeled carriage, with two seats inside for passengers, and a seat outside for the driver. ⓘ 19c: French, from carosse coupé cut carriage, from couper to cut.

couple /'kʌpəl/ ▷ noun 1 a pair of people attached in some way, often romantically, eg a wife and husband, a man and woman, two women or two men, etc. 2 a pair of partners, eg for dancing. 3 (usually a couple of) two, or a few □ I'll call you in a couple of weeks. 4 physics a pair of equal but opposite forces that are applied to different points on the same object, producing a turning effect. ▷ verb (coupled, coupling) 1 to associate; to link. 2 to connect (two things). 3 intr to have sexual intercourse. ⓘ 13c: from French cople, from Latin copula bond or connection.

couplet /'kʌplət/ ▷ noun a pair of consecutive lines of verse, especially ones which rhyme and have the same metre. ⓘ 16c: diminutive of COUPLE.

coupling /'kʌplɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a link for joining things together. 2 derog sexual intercourse.

coupon /'kuːpɒn/ ▷ noun 1 a slip of paper entitling one to something, eg a discount. 2 a detachable order form, competition entry form, etc printed on packaging, etc. 3 a printed betting form for football pools. ⓘ 19c: French, from earlier French colpon piece cut off.

courage /'kʌrɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 bravery. 2 cheerfulness or resolution in coping with setbacks. ● have the courage of one's convictions to be brave enough to act in accordance with one's beliefs, no matter what the outcome. ● pluck up courage or take one's courage in both hands to become resolved to meet a challenge. ● take courage to be resolute or cheerful in difficult circumstances. ⓘ 14c: from French corage, from Latin cor heart.

courageous /kə'reɪdʒəs/ ▷ adj having or showing courage. ● courageously adverb. ● courageousness noun.

courante /kʊ'rɑːnt/ ▷ noun 1 a lively dance in triple time. 2 a piece of music for it. ⓘ 16c: French, meaning 'running (dance)', from courir to run.

courgette /kʊə'ʒɛt, kɔː'ʒɛt/ ▷ noun a variety of small marrow. Also called ZUCCHINI. ⓘ 20c: French, diminutive of courge gourd.

courier /'kʊrɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a guide who travels with and looks after, parties of tourists. 2 a messenger. ⓘ 16c: French, from Latin currere to run.

course /kɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 the path in which anyone or anything moves. 2 a direction taken or planned □ go off course. 3 the channel of a river, etc. 4 the normal progress of something. 5 the passage of a period of time □ in the course of the next year. 6 a line of action □ Your best course is to wait. 7 a a series of lessons, etc; a curriculum; b the work covered in such a series. 8 a prescribed treatment, eg medicine to be taken, over a period. 9 any of the successive parts of a meal. 10 often in compounds the ground over which a game is played or a race run □ golf course □ obstacle course. 11 building a single row of bricks or stones in a wall, etc. ▷ verb (coursed, coursing) 1 intr to move or flow. 2 to hunt (hares, etc) using dogs. ● coursing noun the hunting of hares using dogs. ● in the course of something while doing it; during it. ● in the course of time eventually. ● in due course at the appropriate or expected time. ● a matter of course a natural or expected action or result. ● of course 1 as expected. 2 naturally; certainly; without doubt □ Am I coming to the cinema tonight? Of course! 3 admittedly □ I was annoyed that she hadn't finished the job although, of course, it was only her first day. ● stay the course to endure to the end. ⓘ 13c: from French cours, from Latin currere to run.

coursebook ▷ noun a book to accompany a course of instruction.

courser ▷ noun 1 a someone who courses hares, etc; b a hound used for this. 2 poetic a swift horse. 3 any of nine species of fast-running bird, native to Africa and S Asia, which have pale sandy plumage, a long curved bill, short strong wings, long legs and three forward-pointing toes on each foot.

court /kɔːt/ ▷ noun 1 the judge, law officials and members of the jury gathered to hear and decide on a legal case. 2 the room or building used for such a hearing. 3 an area marked out for a particular game or sport, or a division of this □ basketball court. 4 an open space or square surrounded by houses or by sections of a building. 5 (often Court) used in names: a a group of houses arranged around an open space; b a block of flats; c a country mansion. 6 the palace, household, attendants, and advisers of a sovereign. ▷ verb (courted, courting) 1 tr & intr, old use to try to win the love of someone. 2 to try to win the favour of someone. 3 to seek (popularity, etc). 4 to risk or invite □ court danger. ● the ball is in his or your, etc court he, you, etc must make the next move. ● go to court to take legal action. ● hold court to be surrounded by a circle of admirers. ● out of court without legal action being taken. ● pay court to someone to pay them flattering attention. ● put or rule something out of court to prevent it from being heard or considered. ● take someone to court to bring a legal case against them. ⓘ 12c: from French cort, from Latin cohors, shortened to cors yard or company of soldiers.

court bouillon /kɔːt 'buːjɒn/ ▷ noun a seasoned stock made with vegetables, wine or vinegar, etc in which fish is boiled. ⓘ 18c: French.

court card ▷ noun in a pack of playing cards: the king, queen or jack. Also called FACE CARD, PICTURE CARD.

courteous /'kɜːtɪəs, 'kɔːtɪəs/ ▷ adj polite; considerate; respectful. ● courteously adverb. ● courteousness noun. ⓘ 13c: from French corteis, from cort court.

courtesan /'kɔːtɪzan/ ▷ noun, historical a prostitute with wealthy or noble clients. ⓘ 16c: from French courtisane, from Italian cortigiana woman of the court.

courtesy /'kɜːtəsɪ, 'kɔːtəsɪ/ ▷ noun (courtesies) 1 courteous behaviour; politeness. 2 a courteous act. ● by courtesy of someone 1 with their permission. 2 colloq from them. ⓘ 13c: from French corteisie, from COURTEOUS.

courtesy light ▷ noun in a motor vehicle: a small light usually operated by the opening and closing of the doors.

courtesy title ▷ noun a frequently used but legally invalid title, such as those used by the younger sons of peers.

courthouse ▷ noun a building in which the lawcourts are held.

courtier /'kɔːtɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone in attendance at a royal court. 2 an elegant flatterer. ⓘ 13c: ultimately from French cortoyer to be at or frequent the court.

courtly ▷ adj 1 having fine manners. 2 flattering. ● courtliness noun.

courtly love ▷ noun in medieval literature: a conception and tradition of love in which a knight idealizes his lady and sublimates his love for her in submission, service and devotion.

court-martial ▷ noun (courts-martial or court-martials) a military court which tries members of the armed forces for breaches of military law. ▷ verb (court-martialled, court-martialling) to try by court-martial.

Court of Appeal ▷ noun in England and Wales: a court with civil and criminal divisions, which hears appeals from other courts. Compare COURT OF FIRST INSTANCE.

court of first instance ▷ noun, law the court in which a case is first heard and where the first decision on it is made, and from which it may be referred to a higher court. Compare COURT OF APPEAL.

Court of Justice of the European Communities ▷ noun the court of the European Union whose jurisdiction covers the hearing of disputes on issues of EC law. Formerly called European Court of Justice.

court of law see LAWCOURT

Court of Session ▷ noun in Scotland: a court which deals with civil matters and consists of an Outer House and a more senior Inner House, similar to the High Court and the Court of Appeal respectively.

court order ▷ noun a direction or command of a judiciary court which, if not complied with, may lead to criminal proceedings against the offender or offenders. See also MANDAMUS.

courtroom ▷ noun a room in which a lawcourt is held.

courtship ▷ noun, dated 1 the courting or wooing of an intended spouse. 2 the period for which this lasts.

court shoe ▷ noun a woman's shoe in a plain low-cut style.

courtyard ▷ noun an open space surrounded by buildings or walls.

couscous /'kuskus/ ▷ noun a N African dish of crushed semolina, which is steamed and served with eg vegetables, chicken, fish, etc. ◎ 17c: French, from Arabic kuskus, from kaskasa to pound until small.

cousin /'kʌzən/ ▷ noun 1 a son or daughter of one's uncle or aunt. Also called first cousin or cousin-german. Compare SECOND COUSIN. 2 something kindred, especially a race or nation ▫ We'd like to welcome our American cousins. 3 a form of address used by a sovereign when addressing another. ◎ 13c: from French cosin, from Latin consobrinus cousin on the mother's side.

cousin once removed ▷ noun someone one generation down from the specified cousin, ie either a son or daughter of the specified cousin (first cousin once removed), or the specified cousin of one's parent (second cousin once removed). See also REMOVED at REMOVE.

couture /ku'tʃuə(r), kuːr'tuə(r)/ ▷ noun the designing, making and selling of fashionable clothes. ◎ Early 20c: French, meaning 'sewing' or 'dressmaking'.

couturier /ku'tʃuərieɪ, kuː'tuərieɪ/ or couturière /-rɪɛə(r)/ ▷ noun a male, or female, fashion designer.

covalent bond /koʊ'veɪlənt —/ ▷ noun, chem a chemical bond in which two atoms are held together by sharing a pair of electrons between them.

covariance /koʊ'veərɪəns/ ▷ noun 1 the property of varying concomitantly. 2 math a statistic used to measure the agreement between two sets of random variables, which differs from CORRELATION in that it is dependent on the scale used to measure the variables.

cove[1] /koʊv/ ▷ noun 1 a small and usually sheltered bay or inlet on a rocky coast. 2 a small cave or cavern. ◎ Anglo-Saxon cofa room.

cove[2] /koʊv/ ▷ noun, Brit & Austral dated, colloq a fellow. ◎ 16c.

coven /'kʌvən/ ▷ noun 1 a gathering of witches. 2 a group of thirteen witches. ◎ 17c in this sense; 16c in obsolete sense 'a meeting': ultimately from Latin convenire to meet.

covenant /'kʌvənənt/ ▷ noun 1 law a formal sealed agreement to do something, eg pay a sum of money regularly to a charity. 2 a formal binding agreement. 3 Bible an agreement made between God and some person or people. ▷ verb (covenanted, covenanting) tr & intr to agree by covenant to do something. ◎ 13c: French, from convenir, from Latin convenire to agree.

covenanter ▷ noun 1 /'kʌvənəntə(r)/ a person who makes a covenant. 2 (Covenanter) /also kʌvə'nantə(r)/ Scottish historical an adherent of either of two 17c religious covenants defending Presbyterianism in Scotland. ◎ 17c: from French convenir to agree, from Latin convenire.

Coventry /'kɒvəntrɪ, 'kʌv-/ ▷ noun (always send someone to Coventry) to refuse to speak to them or associate with them, especially as a punishment or protest. ◎ 17c: perhaps from the imprisonment of Royalists in Coventry during the Civil War.

cover /'kʌvə(r)/ ▷ verb (covered, covering) 1 to form a layer over someone or something. 2 to protect or conceal someone or something by putting something over them or it. 3 to clothe. 4 to extend over something. 5 to strew, sprinkle, spatter, mark all over, etc. 6 (usually cover with something) to bring (a feeling, etc) upon oneself, often in an overwhelming way. 7 to deal with (a subject). 8 said of a reporter, etc: to investigate or report on (a story). 9 to have as one's area of responsibility. 10 to travel (a distance). 11 to be adequate to pay ▫ He had enough money to cover the meal. 12 to insure; to insure against something. 13 to threaten by aiming a gun at someone or something. 14 to keep (a building, its exits, etc) under armed watch. 15 to shield with a firearm at the ready or with actual fire. 16 sport to protect (a fellow team-member) or obstruct (an opponent). 17 said of a stallion, bull, etc: to mate with (a female). 18 said of a bird: to sit on (eggs). 19 to record a cover version of (a song, etc). 20 intr (usually cover for someone) to take over the duties of an absent colleague, etc. ▷ noun 1 something that covers. 2 a lid, top, protective casing, etc. 3 the covering of something. 4 (covers) the sheets and blankets on a bed. 5 the paper or board binding of a book, magazine, etc; one side of this. 6 an envelope ▫ a first-day cover. 7 shelter or protection. 8 insurance. 9 service ▫ emergency cover. 10 a pretence; a screen; a false identity ▫ His cover as a salesman was blown. 11 armed protection; protective fire. 12 cricket see COVER POINT. 13 in restaurants, etc: an individual place setting at table. 14 a COVER VERSION. ● under cover 1 in secret. 2 within shelter. ● under cover of something using it as a protection or pretense. ● under plain cover in a plain envelope without tradename, etc. ● under separate cover in a separate envelope or parcel. ◎ 13c: from French covrir, from Latin cooperire to cover completely.

■ cover something up 1 to cover it entirely. 2 to conceal (a dishonest act, a mistake, etc).

coverage /'kʌvərɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 an amount covered. 2 the extent to which a news item is reported in any of the media, etc. 3 the amount of protection given by an insurance company. ◎ 20c.

coverall /'kʌvərɔːl/ ▷ noun, chiefly US (usually coveralls) a one-piece protective garment worn over normal clothes. Compare OVERALLS. ▷ adj covering or including everything.

cover charge ▷ noun in a restaurant, café, etc: a service charge made per person.

cover girl ▷ noun a girl or woman whose photograph is shown on a magazine cover.

covering ▷ noun something that covers, eg a blanket, protective casing, etc.

covering letter ▷ noun a letter explaining the documents or goods it accompanies.

coverlet /ˈkʌvələt/ ▷ noun a thin top cover for a bed; a bedspread. ⓘ 13c: probably from French cuvre-lit, from covrir to cover + lit bed.

cover note ▷ noun a temporary certificate of insurance, giving cover until the issue of the actual policy.

cover point ▷ noun, cricket the fielding position forward and to the right of the batsman.

covert ▷ adj /ˈkʌvət, ˈkouvɜːt/ secret; concealed. ▷ noun /ˈkʌvət/ 1 a thicket or woodland providing cover for game. 2 a shelter for animals. 3 ornithol any of the small feathers that surround the bases of the large quill feathers of the wings and tails of a bird. ● covertly adverb. ⓘ 14c: French, from covrir to cover.

cover-up ▷ noun (cover-ups) an act of concealing or withholding information about something suspect or illicit. See COVER UP under COVER.

cover version ▷ noun a recording of a song, which has already been recorded by another artist.

covet /ˈkʌvɪt/ ▷ verb (coveted, coveting) to long to possess something (especially something belonging to someone else). ● covetable adj. ⓘ 13c: from French coveitier, from Latin cupiditas longing or greed.

covetous /ˈkʌvɪtəs/ ▷ adj envious; greedy. ● covetously adverb. ● covetousness noun.

covey /ˈkʌvɪ/ ▷ noun (coveys) 1 a small flock of game birds of one type, especially partridge or grouse. 2 a small group of people. ⓘ 15c: from Old French covée, from cover to hatch.

cow[1] ▷ noun 1 the mature female of any bovine animal, especially domesticated cattle. See also BULL[1] noun 1, CALF[1]. 2 the mature female of certain other mammals, eg the elephant, whale and seal. 3 loosely used to refer to any domestic breed of cattle. 4 derog slang a woman. 5 Austral & NZ slang a distasteful person or thing. ● till the cows come home colloq for an unforeseeably long time. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cu.

cow[2] ▷ verb (cowed, cowing) to frighten something into submission. ⓘ 17c: from Norse kuga to subdue.

coward /ˈkouəd/ ▷ noun 1 someone easily frightened, or lacking courage to face danger or difficulty. 2 someone who acts brutally towards the weak or undefended. ● cowardice /ˈkouədɪs/ noun. ● cowardly adverb. ● cowardliness noun. ⓘ 13c: from French cuard, from Latin cauda tail; thought, perhaps, to refer to a frightened animal with its tail between its legs.

cowbell ▷ noun 1 a bell hanging from a cow's neck, which sounds when the cow moves. 2 this kind of bell, with the clapper removed, used as a percussion instrument.

cowberry /ˈkoubərɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a small evergreen shrub, native to northern temperate regions, with drooping bell-shaped pinkish-white flowers and edible red berries. 2 the berries borne by this shrub.

cowboy ▷ noun 1 in the western USA: a man who tends cattle, usually on horseback. 2 this kind of man as a character in films of the Wild West, especially when involved in gunfights with Indians. 3 slang, derog someone who undertakes building or other work without proper training or qualifications; a dishonest businessman or entrepreneur.

cowcatcher ▷ noun, US a concave metal fender fixed onto the front of a railway engine for clearing cattle and other obstacles from the line.

cower /ˈkouə(r)/ ▷ verb (cowered, cowering) intr to shrink away in fear. ⓘ 13c.

cowhand and cowherd see COWMAN cowhide /ˈkouhaɪd/ ▷ noun the leather made from the hide of a cow.

cowl ▷ noun 1 a monk's large loose hood or hooded habit. 2 any large loose hood. 3 a revolving cover for a chimney-pot for improving ventilation. 4 a cowling. 5 the part of a motor vehicle to which the windscreen and bonnet are attached. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cugele hood.

cowlick ▷ noun a tuft of hair standing up stiffly from the forehead.

cowling ▷ noun the streamlined metal casing, usually having hinged or removable panels, that houses the engine of an aircraft or other vehicle. ⓘ Early 20c: from COWL.

cowman ▷ noun 1 Brit someone assisting with cattle or having charge of them. Also called cowhand or cowherd. 2 N Amer a man who owns a cattle ranch.

co-worker /kouˈwɜːkə(r), ˈkouwɜːkə(r)/ ▷ noun a fellow worker; a colleague.

cow parsley ▷ noun a biennial or perennial plant, native to Europe, Asia and N Africa, with small white flowers borne in UMBELS. Also called Queen Anne's lace.

cowpat ▷ noun a flat deposit of cow dung.

cowpea ▷ noun the BLACK-EYE BEAN.

cowpox ▷ noun, medicine a viral infection of the udders of cows that can be transmitted to humans by direct contact, causing mild symptoms similar to smallpox, against which it is used as a vaccine.

cowrie or cowry /ˈkaurɪ/ ▷ noun (cowries) 1 any of about 150 species of marine snail, found mainly in tropical waters. 2 the brightly coloured glossy egg-shaped shell of the animal which was formerly used in parts of Africa and S Asia as money and prized for magic qualities. ⓘ 17c: from Hindi kauri.

cowshed and cowhouse ▷ noun a building for housing cattle; a byre.

cowslip /ˈkouslɪp/ ▷ noun a perennial plant native to Europe and Asia with a cluster of yellow sweet-smelling flowers. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cuslyppe cow dung.

cox ▷ noun (coxes) short for COXSWAIN. ▷ verb (coxes, coxed, coxing) tr & intr to act as cox of (a boat). ● coxless adj.

coxcomb see COCKSCOMB

coxswain or cockswain /ˈkɒksən, ˈkɒksweɪn/ ▷ noun 1 someone who steers a small boat. Often shortened to cox. 2 a petty officer in a small ship. ⓘ 15c: from cock ship's boat + SWAIN.

coy ▷ adj 1 shy; modest; affectedly bashful. 2 irritatingly uncommunicative about something. ● coyly adverb. ● coyness noun. ⓘ 14c: from French coi calm, from Latin quietus quiet.

coyote /kɔɪˈoutiː, ˈkaɪout/ ▷ noun (coyotes or coyote) a small N American wolf with a pointed face, tawny fur and a black-tipped bushy tail, which was originally found mainly in deserts, prairies and open woodland, but is becoming increasingly known as an urban scavenger. Also called prairie wolf. ⓘ 1820s: Mexican Spanish, from Nahuatl coyotl.

coypu /ˈkɔɪpuː, -pjuː/ ▷ noun (coypus or coypu) 1 a large rat-like aquatic rodent, native to S America and introduced elsewhere as a result of escape from captivity, which has a broad blunt muzzle and webbed hind feet. 2 the soft fur of this animal. Also called NUTRIA. ⓘ 18c: from a native S American language.

CPAG ▷ abbreviation Child Poverty Action Group.

CPO ▷ abbreviation Chief Petty Officer.

CPR ▷ abbreviation 1 Canadian Pacific Railway. 2 cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

CPRE ▷ abbreviation Council for the Protection of Rural England.

CPSA ▷ abbreviation Civil and Public Services Association.

CPU ▷ abbreviation, computing central processing unit.

CR ▷ abbreviation, IVR Costa Rica.

Cr ▷ abbreviation Councillor.

Cr ▷ symbol, chem chromium.

crab[1] ▷ noun 1 any of a species of mostly marine crustaceans, with a hard flattened shell and five pairs of jointed legs, the front pair being developed into pincers. 2 a another name for the CRAB LOUSE; b (crabs) infestation by this. 3 (Crab) astron, astrol CANCER. ● catch a crab in rowing: to sink the oar too deeply or to miss the water completely, so that the rower falls backwards. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon crabba.

crab[2] ▷ noun 1 short for CRAB APPLE. 2 a grumpy or irritable person. ⓘ 15c.

crab apple ▷ noun 1 a large deciduous shrub or small tree, native to north temperate regions, with thorny branches, oval toothed leaves and mainly white flowers. 2 the small hard round sour fruit of this tree.

crabbed /ˈkrabɪd, krabd/ ▷ adj 1 bad-tempered; grouchy. 2 said of handwriting: cramped and hard to decipher. ● crabbedly adverb. ● crabbedness noun. ⓘ 13c: from CRAB[1]; the crooked gait of the crab is said to express the contradictory nature of the people this word is applied to.

crabby ▷ adj (crabbier, crabbiest) colloq bad-tempered.

crab louse ▷ noun a crab-shaped parasitic louse which infests the hair of the human pubic area. Often shortened to CRAB (see CRAB[1] noun 2).

Crab nebula ▷ noun, astron in the constellation of Taurus: an expanding cloud of gas, consisting of the remains of a star that exploded as a SUPERNOVA in AD 1054.

crabwise ▷ adj, adverb moving sideways.

crack ▷ verb (cracked, cracking) 1 tr & intr to fracture or cause to fracture partially without falling to pieces. 2 tr & intr to split or make something split. 3 tr & intr to make or cause to make a sudden sharp noise. 4 to strike sharply. 5 tr & intr to give way or make someone or something give way □ He finally cracked under the pressure. 6 to force open (a safe). 7 to solve (a code or problem). 8 to tell (a joke). 9 intr said of the voice: to change pitch or tone suddenly and unintentionally. 10 chem, tr & intr to break down long-chain hydrocarbons produced during petroleum refining into lighter more useful short-chain products. ▷ noun 1 a sudden sharp sound. 2 a partial fracture in a material produced by an external force or internal stress, often originating in a defective region of the material. 3 a narrow opening. 4 a resounding blow. 5 colloq a joke. 6 slang (in full crack cocaine) a highly addictive derivative of cocaine, consisting of hard crystalline lumps that are heated and smoked. ▷ adj, colloq expert □ a crack shot. ● at the crack of dawn colloq at daybreak; very early. ● a fair crack of the whip a fair opportunity. ● get cracking colloq to make a prompt start with a journey, undertaking, etc. ● have a crack at something colloq to attempt it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cracian to resound.

■ crack down on someone or something colloq to take firm action against them or it.

■ crack up colloq to suffer an emotional breakdown.

■ crack something up colloq to praise it extravagantly, giving the impression that it is better than it is □ This job is not all it's cracked up to be.

crackbrained ▷ adj, colloq mad; crazy.

crackdown ▷ noun a firm action taken against someone or something.

cracked ▷ adj 1 colloq crazy; mad. 2 said of a voice: harsh; uneven in tone. 3 damaged by splitting.

cracker ▷ noun 1 a thin crisp unsweetened biscuit. 2 a small, noisy firework. 3 a party toy in the form of a gaudy paper tube usually containing a paper hat, gift and motto, that pulls apart with an explosive bang. 4 colloq an exceptional person or thing.

crackers ▷ adj, colloq mad.

cracking colloq ▷ adj 1 very good □ a cracking story. 2 very fast □ a cracking pace. Also as adverb. ▷ noun, chem short for CATALYTIC CRACKING.

crackle /ˈkrakəl/ ▷ verb (crackled, crackling) intr to make a faint continuous cracking or popping sound. ▷ noun 1 this kind of sound. 2 a type of china, characterized by tiny cracks over its surface. ● crackly adj. ⓘ 16c: diminutive of CRACK.

crackling ▷ noun the crisp skin of roast pork.

cracknel /ˈkraknəl/ ▷ noun 1 a light brittle biscuit. 2 a hard nutty filling for chocolates. 3 (cracknels) N Amer crisply fried pieces of fat pork. ⓘ 15c.

crackpot colloq ▷ adj crazy. ▷ noun a crazy person.

-cracy /krəsɪ/ ▷ combining form, denoting rule, government or domination by a particular group, etc □ democracy □ autocracy □ bureaucracy. ⓘ From Greek kratos power.

cradle /ˈkreɪdəl/ ▷ noun 1 a cot for a small baby, especially one that can be rocked. 2 a place of origin; the home or source of something □ the cradle of civilization. 3 a suspended platform or cage for workmen engaged in the construction, repair or painting of a ship or building. 4 the support for the receiver on an old-style telephone. 5 a box in which sand, stones, etc are washed in order to separate them from any gold contained. ▷ verb (cradled, cradling) 1 to rock or hold gently. 2 to nurture. 3 to wash (stones, sand, etc containing gold) in a cradle. ● from the cradle to the grave throughout the whole of one's life. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon kradol.

cradle-snatcher ▷ noun, derog someone who chooses a much younger person as a lover or spouse.

craft ▷ noun 1 a a skill, trade or occupation, especially one requiring the use of the hands; b in compounds □ needlecraft. 2 the members of a trade, as a body. 3 skilled ability. 4 cunning. 5 often in compounds a boat or ship, or an air or space vehicle □ spacecraft □ aircraft. ▷ plural noun often in compounds boats, ships, air or space vehicles collectively. ▷ verb (crafted, crafting) to make something skilfully. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cræft strength.

craftsman and craftswoman ▷ noun someone skilled at a craft.

craftsmanship ▷ noun the skill of a craftsman or craftswoman.

crafty ▷ adj (craftier, craftiest) clever, shrewd, cunning or sly. ● craftily adverb. ● craftiness noun.

crag ▷ noun a rocky peak or jagged outcrop of rock. ⓘ 13c: Celtic.

craggy ▷ adj (craggier, craggiest) 1 full of crags. 2 rough. 3 rugged. ● cragginess noun.

cram ▷ verb (crammed, cramming) 1 to stuff full. 2 (sometimes cram something in or together) to push or pack it tightly □ He crammed the box full of books. 3 tr & intr to study intensively, or prepare someone rapidly, for an examination. ▷ noun a crush. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon crammian.

cram-full ▷ adj full to bursting.

crammer ▷ noun a person or school that prepares pupils for examinations by rapid study.

cramp[1] ▷ noun 1 a painful involuntary prolonged contraction of a muscle or group of muscles. 2 (cramps) severe abdominal pain. ▷ verb (cramped, cramping) to restrict with or as with a cramp. ● cramp someone's style to restrict or prevent them from acting freely or creatively. ⓘ 14c: from French crampe.

cramp² ▷ noun a piece of metal bent at both ends, used for holding stone or timbers together. Also called cramp-iron. ▷ verb (cramped, cramping) to fasten with a cramp. ⓒ 16c: from Dutch crampe hook.

cramped ▷ adj 1 overcrowded; closed in. 2 said of handwriting: small and closely written.

crampon /ˈkrampon/ ▷ noun 1 a spiked iron attachment for climbing boots, to improve grip on ice or rock. 2 an iron bar, bent into the shape of a hook, which is used to lift heavy objects. ⓒ 15c: French.

cranberry /ˈkranbəri/ ▷ noun 1 a dwarf evergreen shrub with oval pointed leaves, pink flowers and red berries. 2 the sour-tasting fruit of this plant. ⓒ 17c: from German dialect kraanbeere crane berry.

crane ▷ noun 1 a machine with a long pivoted arm from which lifting gear is suspended, allowing heavy weights to be moved both horizontally and vertically. 2 a large wading bird with a long neck and long legs, found in marshlands and swamps in N America and throughout most of Europe, Asia and Africa. ▷ verb 1 tr & intr to stretch (one's neck), or lean forward, in order to see better. 2 to move with a crane. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon cran.

cranefly ▷ noun a long-legged, two-winged insect. Also (colloq) called daddy-long-legs. See also LEATHER-JACKET.

cranesbill ▷ noun an annual or perennial plant native to temperate regions, with white, purple or blue flowers and slender beaked fruits.

cranial /ˈkreɪnɪəl/ ▷ adj relating to or in the region of the skull. ● cranially adverb.

cranial index ▷ noun 1 the CEPHALIC INDEX. 2 any of a number of other measurements of the skull, eg that measuring the height as a percentage of the breadth.

cranial nerve ▷ noun, anatomy in vertebrates: one of the ten to twelve pairs of nerves that arise directly from the brain.

craniosacral therapy /kreɪnɪoʊˈseɪkrəl —/ ▷ noun (abbreviation CST) alternative medicine a form of alternative therapy involving gentle manipulation in order to release tensions and imbalances which are said to arise in the bones and membranes of the skull, used to treat a wide range of physical and psychological symptoms. ⓒ 20c: from CRANIUM + SACRUM + THERAPY.

cranium /ˈkreɪnɪəm/ ▷ noun (crania /-ɪə/ or craniums) 1 the dome-shaped part of the skull, consisting of several fused bones, that encloses and protects the brain. 2 the skull. ⓒ 16c: Latin, from Greek kranion.

crank ▷ noun 1 a device consisting of an arm connected to and projecting at right angles from the shaft of an engine or motor, used to communicate motion to or from the shaft, or to convert reciprocating motion into rotary motion or vice versa. 2 a handle bent at right angles and incorporating such a device, used to start an engine or motor by hand. Also called crank handle, starting handle. 3 derog an eccentric person. 4 N Amer derog a bad-tempered person. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon cranc-stæf weaving implement.

■ crank something up 1 to rotate (a shaft) using a crank. 2 to start (an engine, a machine, etc) using a crank.

crankshaft ▷ noun the main shaft of an engine or other machine, bearing one or more cranks, used to transmit power from the cranks to the connecting rods to which they are attached.

cranky ▷ adj (crankier, crankiest) 1 colloq eccentric or faddy. 2 N Amer bad-tempered. ● crankily adverb. ● crankiness noun.

cranny /ˈkranɪ/ ▷ noun (crannies) 1 a narrow opening; a cleft or crevice. 2 an out-of-the-way corner. ● crannied adj. ⓒ 15c: related to French cran.

crap¹ coarse slang ▷ noun 1 faeces. 2 nonsense. 3 rubbish. ▷ verb (crapped, crapping) intr to defecate. ● crappy adj (crappier, crappiest) rubbish; inferior. ⓒ 15c: as crappe chaff, from Dutch krappe, probably from krappen to pluck off.

crap² ▷ noun 1 (usually craps) a gambling game on which the player rolls two dice. 2 a losing throw in this game. ● shoot craps to play craps. ⓒ 19c.

crape see CRÊPE noun 1

crapulent /ˈkrapjʊlənt/ or crapulous ▷ adj 1 suffering from sickness caused by overdrinking. 2 relating to or resulting from intemperance. ● crapulence noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin crapulentus, from crapula intoxication.

crash ▷ verb (crashes, crashed, crashing) 1 tr & intr to fall or strike with a banging or smashing noise. 2 tr & intr (often crash into something) said of a vehicle: to collide or cause it to collide with something. 3 intr to make a deafening noise. 4 intr to move noisily. 5 intr said of a business or stock exchange: to collapse. 6 intr said of a computer or program: to fail completely, because of a malfunction or fluctuation in the power supply, etc. 7 to cause a computer system or program to break down completely. 8 slang to gatecrash (a party, etc). 9 (often crash out) slang a to fall asleep; b to sleep at someone else's place. ▷ noun (crashes) 1 a violent impact or breakage, or the sound of it. 2 a deafening noise. 3 a traffic or aircraft accident; a collision. 4 the collapse of a business or the stock exchange. 5 the failure of a computer or program. 6 as adj concentrated or intensive, so as to produce results in minimum time □ a crash diet. ⓒ 14c: imitating the sound.

crash barrier ▷ noun a protective metal barrier along the edge of a road, carriageway, the front of a stage, etc.

crash dive ▷ noun 1 a rapid emergency dive by a submarine. 2 a sudden dive made by an aircraft, resulting in a crash. ▷ verb (crash-dive) intr 1 said of a submarine: to make a crash dive. 2 to descend quickly and suddenly before smashing into the ground.

crash helmet ▷ noun a protective helmet worn eg by motor-cyclists, motor-racing drivers, etc.

crashing ▷ adj, colloq utter; extreme □ a crashing bore.

crash-land ▷ verb tr & intr said of an aircraft: to land or cause to land in an emergency, usually without lowering the undercarriage and with the risk of crashing. ● crash-landing noun.

crass ▷ adj 1 gross; vulgar. 2 colossally stupid. 3 utterly tactless or insensitive. ● crassly adverb. ● crassness noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin crassus thick or solid.

-crat ▷ combining form, indicating a person who takes part in or supports government, rule or domination by a particular group □ democrat □ autocrat □ bureaucrat.

crate ▷ noun 1 a strong wooden, plastic or metal case with partitions, for storing or carrying breakable or perishable goods. 2 derog slang a decrepit vehicle or aircraft. ▷ verb (crated, crating) to pack in a crate. ⓒ 17c in this sense; 16c in obsolete sense 'a frame of parallel cross bars': from Latin cratis wickerwork barrier.

crater /ˈkreɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the bowl-shaped mouth of a volcano or geyser. 2 a hole left in the ground where a meteorite has landed, or a bomb or mine has exploded. 3 astron a circular, rimmed depression in the surface of the Moon. 4 (Crater) astron a small faint constellation occurring in the southern hemisphere. ▷ verb (cratered, cratering) tr & intr to form craters in (a road, a surface, etc). ● cratered adj. ● crater-like noun. ● craterous adj. ⓒ 17c: Latin, from Greek krater mixing-bowl.

-cratic /ˈkratɪk/ or -cratical ▷ combining form, indicating a person who takes part in or supports government, rule or domination by a particular group □ democratic □ autocratic □ bureaucratic.

craton /ˈkreɪtɒn/ ▷ noun, geol a relatively rigid and immobile part of the Earth's crust that has been stable for at least 1500m years. ⓒ 1940s: from Greek kratos strength.

cravat /krəˈvat/ ▷ noun a formal style of neckerchief worn chiefly by men instead of a tie. ⓘ 17c: from French cravate, an imitation of Serbo-Croatian Hrvat Croat; so called because they were worn by Croatian mercenaries in the French army during the Thirty Years War.

crave ▷ verb (craved, craving) 1 (often crave for or after something) to long for it; to desire it overwhelmingly. 2 old use, formal to ask for politely; to beg. ● craving noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon crafian.

craven /ˈkreɪvən/ ▷ adj cowardly; cringing. ▷ noun a coward. ● cravenly adj. ● cravenness noun. ⓘ 14c in this sense; 13c in obsolete sense 'vanquished'.

craw ▷ noun 1 the CROP (noun 6). 2 the stomach of a lower animal. ● stick in one's craw colloq to be difficult for one to swallow or accept. ⓘ 14c.

crawl ▷ verb (crawled, crawling) intr 1 said of insects, worms, etc: to move along the ground slowly. 2 said of a human: to move along on hands and knees, especially as a stage before learning to walk. 3 said eg of traffic: to progress very slowly. 4 to be, or feel as if, covered or overrun with something, especially insects ▫ After a drugs tip-off, the club was crawling with police. 5 (often crawl to someone) derog colloq to behave in a fawning way, often to someone in a senior position. ▷ noun 1 a crawling motion. 2 a very slow pace. 3 swimming a fast stroke with an alternate overarm action together with a kicking leg action. ● crawler noun 1 someone or something which crawls. 2 derog colloq someone who behaves in a fawning and ingratiating way, especially to those in senior positions. ⓘ 13c.

crawler lane ▷ noun an extra lane for slow-moving vehicles on an uphill stretch of road. ⓘ 20c.

crayfish /ˈkreɪfɪʃ/ and crawfish /ˈkrɔːfɪʃ/ ▷ noun an edible, freshwater crustacean, similar to a small lobster. ⓘ 14c: from French crevice, from German krebiz crab.

crayon /ˈkreɪɒn/ ▷ noun 1 a small pencil or stick made from coloured wax, chalk, charcoal or clay and used for drawing. 2 a drawing made using crayons. ▷ verb (crayoned, crayoning) tr & intr to draw or colour with a crayon. ⓘ 17c: French, from craie, from Latin creta chalk.

craze ▷ noun an intense but passing enthusiasm or fashion. ▷ verb (crazed, crazing) 1 to make crazy. 2 tr & intr said eg of a glazed or varnished surface: to develop or cause to develop a network of fine cracks. ⓘ 18c in verb sense 1; 14c in obsolete sense 'to break into pieces'.

crazy ▷ adj (crazier, craziest) 1 mad; insane. 2 foolish; absurd; foolhardy. ● crazily adverb. ● craziness noun. ● be crazy about someone or something to be madly enthusiastic about them or it. ● like crazy colloq keenly; fast and furious.

crazy paving ▷ noun a type of paving made up of irregularly shaped slabs of stone or concrete.

creak ▷ noun a shrill squeaking noise made typically by an unoiled hinge or loose floorboard. ▷ verb (creaked, creaking) intr to make or seem to make this noise. ● creakily adverb. ● creakiness noun. ● creaky adj (creakier, creakiest) 1 squeaky. 2 tending to creak. 3 badly made or performed. 4 stiff. ⓘ 16c in verb sense 1; 14c in obsolete sense, said of birds 'to utter a harsh cry'.

cream ▷ noun 1 the yellowish fatty substance that rises to the surface of milk, and yields butter when churned. 2 any food that resembles this substance in consistency or appearance. 3 any cosmetic substance that resembles cream in texture or consistency. 4 the best part of something; the pick. 5 a yellowish-white colour. ▷ verb (creamed, creaming) 1 to beat (eg butter and sugar) till creamy. 2 to remove the cream from (milk). 3 (often cream something off) to select or take away (the best part). 4 colloq to thrash or beat someone. 5 colloq to defeat heavily (in a sporting competition, etc). ⓘ 14c: from French cresme.

cream cheese ▷ noun a soft cheese made from soured milk or cream.

cream cracker ▷ noun a crisp savoury biscuit.

creamer ▷ noun 1 a powdered milk substitute, used in coffee. 2 N Amer, especially US a jug for serving cream. 3 a device for separating cream from milk.

creamery ▷ noun (creameries) a place where dairy products are made or sold.

cream of tartar ▷ noun a white crystalline soluble powder, used in baking powder, soft drinks, laxatives, etc. Also called potassium hydrogen tartrate.

cream soda and American cream soda ▷ noun a vanilla-flavoured fizzy soft drink.

creamware ▷ noun a hard durable type of earthenware, usually with a cream-coloured glaze, which was first produced in Staffordshire in the 18c.

creamy ▷ adj (creamier, creamiest) 1 full of cream. 2 like cream in appearance or consistency. ● creaminess noun.

crease ▷ noun 1 a line made by folding, pressing or crushing. 2 a wrinkle, especially on the face. 3 cricket a line marking the position of batsman or bowler. ▷ verb (creased, creasing) tr & intr 1 to make a crease or creases in (paper, fabric, etc); to develop creases. 2 to graze with a bullet. ● creaser noun. ● creasy adj. ⓘ 16c.

■ crease up or crease someone up colloq to be or make helpless or incapable with laughter, pain or exhaustion.

create /kriˈeɪt/ ▷ verb (created, creating) 1 to form or produce from nothing ▫ create the universe. 2 to bring into existence; to introduce ▫ create a system. 3 to cause. 4 to produce or contrive. 5 tr & intr said of an artist, etc: to use one's imagination to make something. 6 intr, Brit colloq to make a fuss. 7 said of an actor: to be the first to play (a certain role). 8 to raise to an honourable rank ▫ Sir Humphrey was created a peer. ⓘ 14c: from Latin creare.

creatine or creatin /ˈkriːətiːn, ˈkriːətɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem an organic compound, found in muscle, whose phosphate serves as an important source of energy for muscle contraction. ⓘ 19c: from Greek kreas, kreatos flesh.

creation /kriˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of creating. 2 something created, particularly something special or striking. 3 the universe. 4 (often the Creation) Christianity God's act of creating the universe.

creationism ▷ noun the theory or belief that everything that exists was created by God, as opposed to being formed by evolution. ⓘ 19c.

creative /kriˈeɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 having or showing the ability to create. 2 inventive or imaginative. 3 derog characterized by imaginative and usually dubious bending of the rules. ● creatively adverb. ● creativity /kriəˈtɪvɪtɪ, kreɪˈtɪvɪtɪ/ noun.

creative accountancy ▷ noun the imaginative reinterpretation or dubious manipulation of certain procedures for personal benefit or ease of operation.

creator ▷ noun 1 someone who creates. 2 (the Creator) Christianity God.

creature /ˈkriːtʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a bird, beast or fish. 2 something which has been created. 3 a person ▫ a wretched creature. 4 the slavish underling or puppet of someone. ⓘ 13c: from Latin creatura a thing created.

creature comforts ▷ noun material comforts or luxuries such as food, clothes, warmth, etc which add to one's physical comfort.

creature of habit ▷ noun 1 an animal with fixed, especially seasonal, behaviour patterns. 2 a person of unchanging routines.

crèche /kreʃ/ ▷ noun 1 a nursery where babies can be left and cared for while their parents are at work, shopping, exercising, etc. 2 a model representing the scene of Christ's nativity. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'manger'.

cred ▷ noun, slang credibility ▫ street cred.

credal see under CREED

credence /ˈkriːdəns/ ▷ noun 1 faith or belief placed in something ▫ give their claims no credence. 2 (also credence table or credenza /krɪˈdɛnzə/) Christianity a small side-table on which the bread and wine for the Eucharist are placed, before being consecrated. ◷ 14c: from Latin credentia, from credere to believe.

credentials /krəˈdɛnʃəlz/ ▷ plural noun 1 personal qualifications and achievements that can be quoted as evidence of one's trustworthiness, competence, etc. 2 documents or other evidence of these. ◷ 17c: from Latin credentia belief.

credibility gap ▷ noun the discrepancy between what is claimed and what is actually or likely to be the case.

credible /ˈkrɛdəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 capable of being believed. 2 reliable; trustworthy. ● credibility noun. ● credibly adverb. ◷ 14c: from Latin credibilis, from credere to believe.

> credible, credulous
>
> There is often confusion between credible and credulous: credible refers to things, such as statements and excuses, and means 'believable', whereas credulous refers to people, and means 'too ready to believe'.

credit /ˈkrɛdɪt/ ▷ noun 1 faith placed in something. 2 honour or a cause of honour ▫ To her credit, she didn't say anything. 3 acknowledgement, recognition or praise. 4 (credits) a list of acknowledgements to those who have helped in the preparation of a book or film. 5 trust given to someone promising to pay later for goods already supplied ▫ buy goods on credit. 6 one's financial reliability, especially as a basis for such trust. 7 the amount of money available to one at one's bank. 8 a an entry in a bank account acknowledging a payment; b the side of an account on which such entries are made. Compare DEBIT. 9 a a certificate of completion of a course of instruction; b a distinction awarded for performance on such a course. ▷ verb (credited, crediting) 1 to believe; to place faith in someone or something. 2 (often credit something to someone or someone with something) to enter a sum as a credit on someone's account, or allow someone a sum as credit. 3 (often credit someone with something) to attribute a quality or achievement to someone ▫ We credited you with more sense. ◷ 16c: from French crédit, from Latin creditum loan, from credere to believe.

creditable ▷ adj praiseworthy; laudable. ● creditably adverb.

credit account ▷ noun a financial arrangement with a shop that allows one to purchase goods on credit.

credit card ▷ noun a card issued by a bank, finance company, etc authorizing the holder to purchase goods or services on credit. Compare DEBIT CARD.

credit insurance ▷ noun insurance taken out when a business sells on credit terms, with the insurer providing a safeguard against the possibility of the customer not paying.

credit note ▷ noun a form issued by a company or shop, stating that a particular customer is entitled to a certain sum as credit, instead of a cash refund, replacement goods, etc.

creditor ▷ noun a person or company to whom one owes money. Compare DEBTOR.

credit rating ▷ noun an assessment of a person's or company's creditworthiness.

credit squeeze ▷ noun restrictions on borrowing imposed by the government.

credit transfer ▷ noun payment made directly from one bank account to another.

credit union ▷ noun a co-operative and non-profit-making savings association which makes loans to its members at a low rate of interest, often for the purchase of consumer items.

creditworthy ▷ adj judged as deserving financial credit on the basis of earning ability, previous promptness in repaying debts, etc. ● creditworthiness noun.

credo /ˈkriːdoʊ/ ▷ noun (credos) 1 a belief or set of beliefs. 2 (Credo) a the NICENE CREED or APOSTLES' CREED; b a musical setting of either. ◷ 13c: Latin, meaning 'I believe'.

credulity /krəˈdʒuːlɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (credulities) a tendency to believe something without proper proof.

credulous /ˈkrɛdʒʊləs/ ▷ adj apt to be too ready to believe something, without sufficient evidence. ● credulously adverb. ● credulousness noun. ◷ 16c: from Latin credulus, from credere to believe.

> credulous
>
> See Usage Note at credible.

creed /kriːd/ ▷ noun 1 (often Creed) a statement of the main points of Christian belief. 2 (the Creed) the APOSTLES' CREED. 3 any set of beliefs or principles, either personal or religious. ● credal /kriːdəl/ or creedal adj. ◷ Anglo-Saxon creda.

creek ▷ noun 1 a small narrow inlet or bay in the shore of a lake, river, or sea. 2 N Amer, Austral, NZ a small natural stream or tributary, larger than a brook and smaller than a river. ● up the creek colloq in desperate difficulties. ◷ 13c: from Norse kriki nook.

creel ▷ noun 1 a large wicker basket for carrying fish. 2 a wicker basket used to trap lobsters, etc. ◷ 15c.

creep ▷ verb (crept, creeping) intr 1 to move slowly, with stealth or caution. 2 to move with the body close to the ground; to crawl. 3 said of a plant: to grow along the ground, up a wall, etc. 4 to enter barely noticeably ▫ Anxiety crept into her voice. 5 to develop little by little ▫ Inflation was creeping slowly but surely upwards. 6 said especially of the flesh: to have a strong tingling sensation as a response to fear or disgust. 7 to act in a fawning way. ▷ noun 1 an act of creeping. 2 derog an unpleasant person. 3 the slow deformation with time of a solid material, especially a metal, under stress, usually occuring at high temperatures. 4 the slow movement of soil, broken rock or mining ground downward under the influence of gravity. ● creeping adj. ● give someone the creeps colloq to disgust or frighten them. ◷ Anglo-Saxon creopan.

creeper ▷ noun a creeping plant.

creepers ▷ plural noun shoes with thick quiet soles.

creepy ▷ adj (creepier, creepiest) colloq slightly scary; spooky; eerie. ● creepily adverb.

creepy-crawly ▷ noun (creepy-crawlies) colloq a small creeping insect. ▷ adj experiencing a feeling as of insects crawling over one's skin.

cremate /krəˈmeɪt, krɪˈmeɪt/ ▷ verb (cremated, cremating) to burn something, especially a corpse, to ashes. ● cremation noun the act or process of cremating a corpse, as an alternative to burial. ◷ 19c: from Latin cremare, crematum to burn.

crematorium /krɛməˈtɔːrɪəm/ ▷ noun (crematoria /-ə/ or crematoriums) a place where corpses are cremated.

crematory /ˈkrɛmətərɪ/ ▷ adj pertaining to cremation. ▷ noun (crematories) especially US a crematorium.

crème /krɛm/ ▷ noun 1 cream, or a creamy food. 2 a liqueur with a thick syrupy consistency. ◷ 19c: French, meaning 'cream'.

crème caramel /krɛm karə'mɛl/ ▷ noun (crèmes caramels) an egg custard coated with caramel.

crème de la crème /krɛm də la krɛm/ ▷ noun the very best; the elite. ⊙ 19c: French, literally meaning 'cream of the cream'.

crème de menthe /krɛm də 'mɒnθ/ ▷ noun (crèmes de menthes) a green peppermint-flavoured liqueur.

crème fraîche /krɛm frɛʃ/ ▷ noun cream thickened with a culture of bacteria, used in cooking. ⊙ 1980s: French, meaning 'fresh cream'.

crenel /'krɛnəl/ or crenelle /krɪ'nɛl/ ▷ noun, archit an indentation in a parapet. ⊙ 15c: French diminutive of cren notch.

crenellate /'krɛnəleɪt/ ▷ verb (crenellated, crenellating) archit to furnish with battlements. • crenellated adj. • crenellation noun.

creole /'kriːoʊl, kriː'oʊl/ ▷ noun 1 a PIDGIN language that has become the accepted language of a community or region. 2 (Creole) the French-based creole spoken in the US states of the Caribbean Gulf. 3 (Creole) a native-born West Indian or Latin American of mixed European and Negro blood. 4 (Creole) a French or Spanish native of the US Gulf states. ⊙ 17c: French, from Spanish criollo, from Portuguese crioulo slave born in one's household, from Latin creare to create.

creosote /'kriːəsoʊt/ ▷ noun 1 a thick dark oily liquid with a penetrating odour, obtained by distilling coal tar, used as a wood preservative. 2 a colourless or pale yellow oily liquid with a penetrating odour, obtained by distilling wood tar, used as an antiseptic. ▷ verb (creosoted, creosoting) to treat (wood) with creosote. ⊙ 19c: from Greek kreas flesh + soter saviour.

crêpe or crepe /kreɪp, krɛp/ ▷ noun 1 (also crape /kreɪp/) a a thin finely-wrinkled silk fabric, dyed black for mourning wear; b a mourning armband made of this. 2 rubber with a wrinkled surface, used for shoe soles. Also called crêpe rubber. 3 a thin pancake, often containing a filling. • crêpy or crêpey adj (crêpier, crêpiest) 1 like crêpe. 2 said especially of the skin: wrinkled. ⊙ 19c: French, from Latin crispus curled.

crêpe paper ▷ noun a type of thin paper with a wrinkled elastic texture, used for making decorations, etc.

crêpe suzette ▷ noun (crêpes suzette) a thin pancake in a hot orange- or lemon-flavoured sauce, usually flambéed (see FLAMBÉ).

crepitate /'krɛpɪteɪt/ ▷ verb (crepitated, crepitating) intr 1 to rattle; to crackle. 2 said of certain beetles: to discharge a pungent fluid. • crepitant adj. ⊙ 17c: from Latin crepitare, crepitatum to crackle.

crepitation ▷ noun 1 a rattling sound. 2 pathol in certain diseases, eg pneumonia: a rattling sound heard in the lungs, which is caused either by the opening of air passages and air sacs when a patient breathes in, or by air bubbling through fluid.

crepitus /'krɛpɪtəs/ ▷ noun, anatomy 1 a harsh grating noise produced when the ends of a fractured bone rub together or by bone rubbing on roughened cartilage, usually occurring in the movement of arthritic joints. 2 in the lungs: a similar sound heard with a stethoscope when a patient breathes in over an inflamed lung. ⊙ 19c: Latin.

crept past tense, past participle of CREEP crepuscular /krɪ'pʌskjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or like twilight; dim. 2 denoting animals that are active before sunrise or at dusk, eg bats, rabbits, deer. ⊙ 17c: from Latin crepusculum twilight.

crêpy see under CRÊPE

Cres. ▷ abbreviation Crescent.

crescendo /krɪ'ʃɛndoʊ/ ▷ noun (crescendos) 1 a gradual increase in loudness. 2 a musical passage of increasing loudness. 3 a high point or climax. Also as adj ▫ a crescendo piece. ▷ verb (crescendoed, crescendoing) intr to increase gradually in loudness. ▷ adverb, music played with increasing loudness. Compare DIMINUENDO. ⊙ 18c: Italian, meaning 'increasing', from Latin crescere to grow.

crescent /'krɛsənt, 'krɛz-/ ▷ noun 1 the curved shape of the Moon during its first or last quarter, when it appears less than half illuminated. 2 something similar in shape to this, eg a semicircular row of houses. 3 (often Crescent) chiefly Brit used in names: a street of houses arranged in a crescent shape. 4 (often the Crescent) a the emblem of Turkey or the Muslim faith; b the Turkish or Muslim power. ⊙ 14c: from Latin crescere to grow.

cress ▷ noun 1 any of various plants of the cabbage family, especially a species cultivated for its edible seed leaves which are eaten raw with mustard leaves in salads, sandwiches, etc. 2 a perennial aquatic plant, commonly known as watercress, which is cultivated for its pungent-tasting leaves which are used as a garnish, and in salads, soups, etc. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon cressa.

crest ▷ noun 1 a comb or a tuft of feathers or fur on top of the head of certain birds and mammals. 2 a ridge of skin along the top of the head of certain reptiles and amphibians. 3 a plume on a helmet. 4 heraldry the part of a coat of arms that appears above the shield. 5 the topmost ridge of a mountain. 6 the topmost part of something, especially a hill or mountain. 7 the foaming edge of a wave. ▷ verb (crested, cresting) 1 to reach the top of (a hill, mountain, etc). 2 to crown; to cap. 3 intr said of a wave: to rise or foam up into a crest. • crested adj. ⊙ 14c: from Latin crista plume.

crestfallen ▷ adj dejected as a result of a blow to one's pride or ambitions.

cretaceous /krɪ'teɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 (Cretaceous) geol relating to the last period of the Mesozoic era, during which the first flowering plants appeared, and dinosaurs and many other reptiles became extinct. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. 2 (Cretaceous) relating to rocks formed during this period. 3 composed of or resembling chalk. ▷ (usually the Cretaceous) the Cretaceous age or rock system. ⊙ 17c: from Latin creta chalk.

cretin /'krɛtɪn/ ▷ noun 1 someone suffering from cretinism. 2 loosely, offensive an idiot. • cretinism noun a chronic condition caused by a congenital deficiency of thyroid hormone resulting in dwarfism and mental retardation. • cretinous adj. ⊙ 18c: from Swiss dialect crestin, from Latin christianus Christian, human creature, emphasizing their humanity in spite of their physical and mental deformity.

cretonne /krɛ'tɒn, 'krɛtɒn/ ▷ noun a strong cotton material, usually with a printed design, used for curtains, chair-covers, etc. ⊙ 19c: French, named after the village of Creton in Normandy, where the fabric probably originated.

Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease /krɔɪtsfɛlt 'jakɒb —/ ▷ noun, pathol a rare and usually fatal disease caused by viral infection and characterized by dementia, sometimes accompanied by wasting of muscle tissue and various neurological abnormalities. ⊙ 1960s: named after the German physicians H G Creutzfeldt (1885–1964) and A Jakob (1884–1931).

crevasse /krə'vas, krɪ'vas/ ▷ noun, geol 1 a deep vertical crack in a glacier, formed by stresses that build up as different parts of the glacier move at different rates. 2 US a breach in the bank of the river. ▷ verb (crevassed, crevassing) to make a fissure in (a wall, a dyke, etc). ⊙ 19c: from French crevace crevice.

> crevasse, crevice
>
> These words are sometimes confused with each other.

crevice /ˈkrevɪs/ ▷ noun 1 a narrow crack or fissure, especially in a rock. 2 a narrow opening. ⓘ 14c: from French crevace, from Latin crepare to crack.

crew¹ ▷ noun 1 the team of people manning a ship, aircraft, train, bus, etc. 2 a ship's company excluding the officers. 3 a team engaged in some operation □ camera crew. 4 colloq, usually derog a bunch of people □ a strange crew. ▷ verb (crewed, crewing) intr to serve as a crew member on a yacht, etc. ⓘ 16c in sense 4; 15c in obsolete sense 'reinforcement of a military force': from French creue increase, from Latin crescere to increase or grow.

crew² past tense of CROW

crewcut ▷ noun a closely cropped hairstyle, originally worn by men. ⓘ 1930s: apparently first adopted by the boat crews at the universities of Harvard and Yale.

crewel /ˈkruːəl/ ▷ noun thin loosely twisted yarn for tapestry or embroidery. ● crewelwork noun. ⓘ 15c.

crew neck ▷ noun a firm round neckline on a sweater. ▷ adj (crew-neck) referring or relating to such a neck.

crib ▷ noun 1 a baby's cot or cradle. 2 a manger. 3 a model of the nativity, with the infant Christ in a manger. 4 a literal translation of a text, used as an aid by students. 5 something copied or plagiarized from another's work. 6 cards the discarded cards in cribbage, used by the dealer in scoring. 7 a timber framework for a dam. 8 a timber framework used to line a mine shaft. 9 short for CRIBBAGE. ▷ verb (cribbed, cribbing) 1 tr & intr to copy or plagiarize. 2 to put in or as if in a crib. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cribb stall or manger.

cribbage /ˈkrɪbɪdʒ/ ▷ noun a card game for two to four players, who each try to be first to score a certain number of points. Sometimes shortened to crib. ⓘ 17c.

crick colloq ▷ noun a painful spasm or stiffness of the muscles, especially in the neck. ▷ verb (cricked, cricking) to wrench (eg one's neck or back). ⓘ 15c: probably imitating the sound.

cricket¹ /ˈkrɪkɪt/ ▷ noun an outdoor game played using a ball, bats and wickets, between two sides of eleven players, the object of which is for one team to score more runs (see RUN noun 21) than the other by the end of play. ● cricketer noun. ● not cricket colloq unfair; unsporting. ⓘ 16c.

cricket² /ˈkrɪkɪt/ ▷ noun a species of mainly nocturnal insect related to the grasshopper, which has long slender antennae and whose males can produce a distinctive chirping sound by rubbing their forewings together. ⓘ 14c: imitating the sound.

cricoid /ˈkraɪkɔɪd/ anatomy 1 adj ring-shaped or resembling a ring. 2 denoting the ring-shaped cartilage in the larynx. ⓘ 18c: from Latin cricoides, from Greek krikoeides ring-shaped.

cri de coeur /kriː də ˈkɜː(r)/ ▷ noun (cris de coeur /kriː də ˈkɜː(r)/) a heartfelt or passionate appeal. ⓘ 20c: French cri du coeur literally meaning 'cry of the heart'.

cried and cries see under CRY crier /ˈkraɪə(r)/ ▷ noun, historical an official who announces news by shouting it out in public.

crikey /ˈkraɪkɪ/ ▷ exclamation, dated slang an expression of astonishment. ⓘ 19c: perhaps altered from CHRIST to avoid blasphemy.

crime ▷ noun 1 an illegal act; an act punishable by law. 2 such acts collectively. 3 an act which is gravely wrong in a moral sense. 4 colloq a deplorable act; a shame. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin crimen judgement or accusation.

criminal /ˈkrɪmɪnəl/ ▷ noun someone guilty of a crime or crimes. ▷ adj 1 against the law. 2 relating to crime or criminals, or their punishment. 3 colloq very wrong; wicked. ● criminality noun. ● criminally adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin criminalis, from crimen crime.

criminalize or criminalise ▷ verb (criminalized, criminalizing) to make (an action, a practice, etc) illegal. ● criminalization or criminalisation noun. Compare DECRIMINALIZE. ⓘ 1960s.

criminal law ▷ noun the branch of law dealing with unlawful acts which are offences against the public and society generally.

criminology ▷ noun the scientific study of crime and criminals. ● criminologist noun. ⓘ 19c: from Latin crimen crime + -LOGY 1.

crimp ▷ verb (crimped, crimping) 1 to press into small regular ridges; to corrugate. 2 to wave or curl (hair) with crimping-irons. 3 to roll the edge of (sheet metal). 4 to seal by pinching together. 5 US to thwart or hinder. ▷ noun a curl or wave in the hair. ● crimped adj. ● crimper noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon crympan to curl.

crimping irons and crimpers ▷ plural noun a tong-like device with two metal plates with waves cut into them, which can be heated; hair can then be placed between the plates so as to give it a crimped appearance.

Crimplene /ˈkrɪmpliːn/ ▷ noun, trademark 1 a thick polyester yarn. 2 a crease-resistant clothing fabric made from this.

crimson /ˈkrɪmzən/ ▷ noun a deep purplish red colour. ▷ verb (crimsoned, crimsoning) 1 to dye crimson. 2 intr to become crimson; to blush. ⓘ 15c: from Spanish cremesin, from Arabic qirmizi a dye made from a Mediterranean insect.

cringe /krɪndʒ/ ▷ verb (cringed, cringing) intr 1 to cower away in fear. 2 derog to behave in a submissive, over-humble way. 3 loosely to wince in embarrassment, etc. ▷ noun an act of cringing. ● cringer noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cringan to fall in battle.

crinkle /ˈkrɪŋkəl/ ▷ verb (crinkled, crinkling) tr & intr to wrinkle or crease. ▷ noun a wrinkle or crease; a wave. ⓘ related to Anglo-Saxon crincan to yield.

crinkly ▷ adj (crinklier, crinkliest) wrinkly. ▷ noun (crinklies) colloq an elderly person.

crinoid /ˈkrɪnɔɪd/ ▷ noun a primitive ECHINODERM with a cup-shaped body and branching arms. Also as adj. ● crinoidal adj. Also called feather star.

crinoline /ˈkrɪnəlɪn, -liːn/ ▷ noun, historical 1 a stiff fabric made from horsehair and cotton. 2 a hooped petticoat stiffened with this fabric for making skirts stand out. 3 a hooped petticoat made from whalebone, steel wire, etc for the same purpose. ⓘ 19c: French, from Latin crinis hair + linum thread.

cripple /ˈkrɪpəl/ ▷ verb (crippled, crippling) 1 to make lame; to disable. 2 to damage, weaken or undermine □ The government introduced policies which crippled the economy. ▷ noun 1 someone who is lame or badly disabled. 2 someone damaged psychologically □ an emotional cripple. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon crypel.

crisis /ˈkraɪsɪs/ ▷ noun (crises /-siːz/) 1 a crucial or decisive moment. 2 a turning-point, eg in a disease. 3 a time of difficulty or distress. 4 an emergency. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek krisis decision or judgement.

crisis management ▷ noun the practice of dealing with crises as they arise and not by any long-term strategic planning. ⓘ 1960s: the term was first used after the Cuban Missile Crisis of 1962 and implies that because the actions of others cannot always be predicted or planned for, crises have to be dealt with when they happen.

crisis theology ▷ noun a type of Protestant theology emphasizing the judgement of God upon all merely human, social and religious endeavours.

crisp ▷ adj 1 dry and brittle. 2 said of vegetables or fruit: firm and fresh. 3 said of weather: fresh; bracing. 4 said of a person's manner or speech: firm; decisive; brisk. 5 said of fabric, etc: clean; starched. 6 said of hair: springy. 7 sharp; clear. ▷ noun, Brit (usually crisps) thin deep-fried slices of potato, usually flavoured and sold in packets as a snack. Also called potato crisps. ▷ verb (crisped, crisping) tr & intr to make or become crisp. ● crisply adverb. ● crispness noun. ● to a crisp facetious burnt till black and brittle. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon, from Latin crispus curled.

crispbread ▷ noun a brittle unsweetened biscuit made from wheat or rye.

crispy ▷ adj (crispier, crispiest) 1 crisp. 2 curling; wavy. ● crispiness noun.

criss-cross /ˈkrɪskrɒs/ ▷ adj 1 said of lines: crossing one another in different directions. 2 said of a pattern, etc: consisting of criss-cross lines. ▷ adverb in a criss-cross way or pattern. ▷ noun a pattern of criss-cross lines. ▷ verb, tr & intr to form, mark with or move in a criss-cross pattern. ⓒ 19c: from Christ-Cross a decorative cross introducing the alphabet in old learning-books.

criterion /kraɪˈtɪərɪən/ ▷ noun (criteria /-rɪə/) a standard or principle on which to base a judgement. ⓒ 17c: from Greek kriterion, from krites judge.

criterion

Note that criteria is plural. 'A criteria' is often heard, but is not correct.

critic /ˈkrɪtɪk/ ▷ noun 1 a professional reviewer of literature, art, drama, music, etc. 2 someone who finds fault with or disapproves of something. ⓒ 16c: from Latin criticus, from Greek kritikos discerning, from krites judge.

critical /ˈkrɪtɪkəl/ ▷ adj 1 fault-finding; disapproving. 2 relating to a critic or criticism. 3 involving analysis and assessment. 4 relating to a crisis; decisive; crucial. 5 urgent; vital. 6 said of a patient: so ill or seriously injured as to be at risk of dying. 7 physics denoting a state, level or value at which there is a significant change in the properties of a system □ critical mass □ critical temperature. 8 nuclear physics said of a fissionable material, a nuclear reactor, etc: having reached the point at which a nuclear chain reaction is self-sustaining. ● critically adverb. ● criticality noun. ● criticalness noun.

critical mass ▷ noun, physics the smallest amount of a given fissile material, ie one that is able to undergo nuclear fission, formed into a given shape, that is needed to sustain a nuclear chain reaction, eg for a sphere of uranium-235, the critical mass is 52kg.

critical path analysis ▷ noun a procedure used to manage and produce a detailed schedule for a complex project so that it can be completed in the minimum time possible, often involving the use of a specially written computer package.

critical temperature ▷ noun 1 physics the temperature above which a gas cannot be liquefied by pressure alone. 2 the temperature above which a magnetic material loses its magnetic properties.

criticaster /ˈkrɪtɪkastə(r)/ ▷ noun, contemptuous a petty critic. ⓒ 17c.

criticism /ˈkrɪtɪsɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 fault-finding. 2 reasoned analysis and assessment, especially of art, literature, music, drama, etc. 3 the art of such assessment. 4 a critical comment or piece of writing.

criticize or criticise /ˈkrɪtɪsaɪz/ ▷ verb (criticized, criticizing) tr & intr 1 to find fault; to express disapproval of someone or something. 2 to analyse and assess.

critique /krɪˈtiːk/ ▷ noun 1 a critical analysis. 2 the art of criticism. ⓒ 17c: French, from Greek kritike, from krinein to discern.

croak /kroʊk/ ▷ noun the harsh throaty noise typically made by a frog or crow. ▷ verb (croaked, croaking) 1 intr to make this sound. 2 to utter with a croak. 3 intr to grumble or moan. 4 intr, slang to die. 5 slang to kill. ⓒ 15c: probably imitating the sound.

Croatian /kroʊˈeɪʃən/ and Croat /ˈkroʊat/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Croatia, a republic in SE Europe, its inhabitants, or their language. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Croatia. 2 the official language of Croatia.

crochet /ˈkroʊʃeɪ/ ▷ noun decorative work consisting of intertwined loops, made with wool or thread and a hooked needle. ▷ verb (crocheted, crocheting) tr & intr to make this kind of work. ⓒ 19c: French, diminutive of croche hook.

crock[1] ▷ noun, colloq an old, decrepit person, vehicle, etc. ⓒ 19c in this sense; 16c meaning 'a ewe that has stopped bearing'.

crock[2] ▷ noun an earthenware pot. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon crocc pot.

crockery /ˈkrɒkərɪ/ ▷ noun earthenware or china dishes collectively, especially domestic pottery, ie plates, cups, etc.

crocket /ˈkrɒkɪt/ ▷ noun in Gothic architecture: a carved decoration in the shape of a stylized leaf or flower, often used as an ornamental capital on columns, and on the sloping sides of pinnacles, spires and canopies. ⓒ 17c: French, diminutive of croc hook.

crocodile /ˈkrɒkədaɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a large aquatic reptile found in tropical regions of Africa, Asia, Australia and S and N America, with a bulky body, short legs, powerful jaws that narrow to form a long snout and a thick scaly skin. 2 leather made from its skin. 3 colloq a line of schoolchildren walking in twos. ⓒ 13c: from Latin crocodilus, from Greek krokodeilos.

crocodile tears ▷ noun a show of pretended grief. ⓒ 16c: from the belief that crocodiles wept either to allure potential victims or while eating them.

crocus /ˈkroʊkəs/ ▷ noun (crocuses) a small perennial plant belonging to the iris family, with yellow, purple or white flowers and an underground CORM. ⓒ 17c: Latin, from Greek krokos saffron.

croft ▷ noun especially in the Scottish Highlands: a small piece of enclosed farmland attached to a house. ● crofter noun. ● crofting noun the practice of farming such a small-holding. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon.

croissant /ˈkwasɑ̃, ˈkrwasɑ̃/ ▷ noun a flaky crescent-shaped bread roll, made from puff pastry or leavened dough. ⓒ 19c: French, meaning 'crescent'.

Cro-Magnon /kroʊˈmagnən -ˈmanjɔ̃/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to an early race of human, who lived in the late PALAEOLITHIC times and had a long skull but short face and a tall stature. ⓒ 19c: named after the place in Dordogne, France where the first skulls of this type were found.

cromlech /ˈkrɒmlex, ˈkrɒmlek/ ▷ noun, archaeol 1 a prehistoric stone circle. 2 loosely a DOLMEN. ⓒ 17c: Welsh, from crwm curved + llech stone.

crone ▷ noun, derog an old woman. ⓒ 14c: from French carogne.

crony /ˈkroʊnɪ/ ▷ noun (cronies) a close friend. ⓒ 17c: originally university slang, from Greek khronios long-lasting.

crook ▷ noun 1 a bend or curve. 2 a shepherd's or bishop's hooked staff. 3 any of various hooked fittings, eg on woodwind instruments. 4 colloq a thief or swindler; a professional criminal. ▷ adj, Austral & NZ colloq 1 ill. 2 not working properly. 3 nasty; unpleasant. ▷ verb (crooked, crooking) to bend or curve. ⓒ 13c in sense 1; 12c in obsolete sense 'trickery': from Norse krokr hook.

crooked /ˈkrʊkɪd/ ▷ adj 1 bent, curved, angled or twisted. 2 not straight; tipped at an angle. 3 colloq dishonest. ● crookedly adverb. ● crookedness noun.

croon ▷ verb (crooned, crooning) tr & intr to sing in a subdued tone and reflective or sentimental style. ▷ noun this style of singing. ● crooner noun. ⓒ 15c: probably from Dutch cronen to lament.

crop ▷ noun 1 agric a plant that is cultivated to produce food for man, fodder for animals or raw materials, eg cereals, clover, barley, etc. 2 agric the total yield produced by or harvested from such a plant, or from a certain area of cultivated land, such as a field. 3 a batch; a bunch □ this year's crop of graduates. 4 a very short style of haircut. 5 a a whip handle; b a horserider's short whip. 6 zool in the gullet of birds: the thin-walled pouch where food is stored before it is digested. Also called CRAW. ▷ verb (cropped, cropping) 1 to trim; to cut short. 2 said of animals: to feed on grass, etc. 3 to reap or harvest a cultivated crop. 4 intr said of land: to produce a crop. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cropp.

■ crop up colloq to occur or appear unexpectedly.

crop circle ▷ noun a flattened circle, of uncertain origin, in a field of arable crop. Also called corn circle. ⓘ 20c.

cropper ▷ noun a person or thing which crops. ● come a cropper colloq 1 to fall heavily. 2 to fail disastrously.

crop rotation ▷ noun, agric a system of farming in which different crops are grown on the same piece of land in an ordered sequence over a number of years, thereby varying the nutrients which are removed from the soil and thus maintaining the fertility of the soil.

croquet /ˈkroukeɪ/ ▷ noun a game played on a lawn, in which the players use mallets to drive wooden balls through a sequence of hoops in a particular order, to try to be first to reach and hit a central peg. ▷ verb (croqueted, croqueting) to drive away a ball by placing it in contact with one's own and striking both with the mallet. ⓘ 19c: apparently French, diminutive of croc hook.

croquette /kroʊˈkɛt/ ▷ noun a ball or round cake made from eg minced meat, fish, potato, etc which is coated in breadcrumbs and fried. ⓘ 18c: French, from croquer to crunch.

crosier or crozier /ˈkrouzɪə(r)/ ▷ noun a bishop's hooked staff, carried as a symbol of office. ⓘ 15c in this sense; 14c in obsolete sense 'a cross-bearer': from French crossier one who bears a cross.

cross ▷ noun (crosses) 1 a a mark, structure or symbol composed of two lines, one crossing the other in the form + or ×; b the mark × indicating a mistake or cancellation. Compare TICK[1] noun 3; c the mark × used instead of a signature by an illiterate person; d the mark × used to symbolize a kiss in a letter, etc. 2 a vertical post with a shorter horizontal bar fixed to it, on which criminals were crucified in antiquity. 3 (the Cross) Christianity a the cross on which Christ was crucified, or a representation of it; b this as a symbol of Christianity. 4 a variation of this symbol, eg the ST ANDREW'S CROSS. 5 a burden or affliction □ have one's own cross to bear. 6 a a monument, not necessarily in the form of a cross; b as a place name: the site of such a monument. 7 a medal in the form of a cross. 8 a plant or animal produced by crossing two different strains, breeds or varieties of a species in order to produce an improved hybrid offspring. 9 a mixture or compromise □ a cross between a bedroom and a living room. 10 sport, especially football a pass of (a ball, etc) from the wing to the centre. ▷ verb (crosses, crossed, crossing) 1 tr & intr (often cross over) to move, pass or get across (a road, a path, etc). 2 to place one across the other □ cross one's legs. 3 intr to meet; to intersect. 4 intr said of letters between two correspondents: to be in transit simultaneously. 5 to make the sign of the Cross upon someone or on oneself, usually as a blessing □ He crossed himself before entering the church. 6 to draw a line across □ cross one's t's. 7 to make (a cheque) payable only through a bank by drawing two parallel lines across it. 8 (usually cross out, off or through) to delete or cancel something by drawing a line through it. 9 to cross-breed (two different strains, breeds or varieties of a species of animal or plant) □ cross a sheep with a goat. 10 to frustrate or thwart. 11 to cause unwanted connections between (telephone lines). 12 sport, especially football to pass (the ball, etc) from the wing to the centre. ▷ adj 1 angry; in a bad temper. 2 in compounds a across □ cross-Channel □ cross-country; b intersecting or at right angles □ crossbar; c contrary □ cross purposes; d intermingling □ cross-breeding. ● be at cross purposes said of two or more people: to misunderstand or clash with one another. ● cross one's fingers or keep one's fingers crossed to hope for good fortune by crossing one's middle finger over one's index finger. ● cross one's heart to make a crossing gesture over one's heart as an indication of good faith. ● cross one's legs to bend one leg at the knee and rest it above the knee of the other, while sitting on a chair, etc. Compare CROSS-LEGGED. ● cross someone's mind to occur to them. ● cross someone's palm to put a coin in their hand. ● cross someone's path to encounter them. ● cross swords with someone to have a disagreement or argument with them. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cros, from Latin crux.

crossbar ▷ noun 1 a horizontal bar, especially between two upright posts. 2 the horizontal bar on a man's bicycle.

crossbeam ▷ noun a beam which stretches across from one support to another.

cross bench ▷ noun a seat in the House of Commons for members not belonging to the government or opposition. ● cross bencher noun. Compare BACK BENCH, FRONT BENCH.

crossbill ▷ noun any of various types of finch with a beak in which the points cross instead of meeting.

crossbones ▷ plural noun a pair of crossed femurs appearing beneath the skull in the SKULL AND CROSSBONES.

cross-border ▷ adj referring to international contacts and links, particularly between countries of the EU □ cross-border business.

crossbow /ˈkrɒsbou/ ▷ noun a bow placed crosswise on a STOCK (noun 5), with a crank to pull back the bow and a trigger to release arrows.

cross-bred ▷ adj said of animals or plants: bred from parents belonging to different species or varieties. ▷ noun a cross-bred animal or plant.

cross-breed biol ▷ verb to mate (two animals or plants of different pure breeds) in order to produce offspring in which the best characteristics of both parents are combined. ▷ noun an animal or plant that has been bred from two different pure breeds.

cross-buttock ▷ noun, wrestling a particular kind of throw over the hip.

crosscheck ▷ verb to verify (information) from an independent source. ▷ noun a check of this kind.

cross-claim ▷ noun a claim made by the defendant against the plaintiff. ▷ verb, tr & intr to make a cross-claim.

cross-country ▷ adj, adverb across fields, etc rather than on roads.

cross-cultural ▷ adj relating to the differences that exist between cultures.

cross-current ▷ noun in a river, sea, ocean, etc: a current which flows across the main current.

cross cut ▷ noun a transverse or diagonal cut. ▷ adj cut transversely. ▷ verb (cross-cut) to cut across.

cross-cut saw ▷ noun a large saw worked by two people, one standing at each end, which is used to cut wood across the grain.

cross-cutting ▷ noun, film-making the technique of cutting between two or more different film sequences so that in the finished product, the action moves between scenes, often creating dramatic tension.

cross-dress ▷ verb, intr said especially of men: to dress in the clothes of the opposite sex. ● cross-dressing noun. Compare TRANSVESTITE.

crosse /krɒs/ ▷ noun a long stick with a netted pocket at one end, used in playing lacrosse. ⓘ 19c: French.

cross-examine ▷ verb 1 law to question (especially a witness for the opposing side in a law case) so as to develop or throw doubt on his or her statement. 2 to examine very closely. ● cross-examination noun. ● cross-examiner noun.

cross-eye ▷ noun a turning inward of one or both eyes, towards the nose; a squint. ● cross-eyed adj 1 squinting. 2 having an abnormal condition in which one or both eyes turn inwards towards the nose.

cross-fertilization or cross-fertilisation ▷ noun 1 in animals: the fusion of male and female GAMETES from different individuals to produce an offspring. 2 in plants: another name for CROSS-POLLINATION. 3 the fruitful interaction of ideas from different cultures, etc. ● cross-fertilize verb.

crossfire ▷ noun 1 gunfire coming from different directions. 2 a bitter or excited exchange of opinions, arguments, etc.

cross-grained ▷ adj 1 said of timber: having the grain or fibres crossing or intertwined. 2 said of a person: perverse; awkward to deal with.

crosshatch ▷ verb, tr & intr, art to shade with intersecting sets of parallel lines.

crossing ▷ noun 1 the place where two or more things cross each other. 2 a place for crossing a river, road, etc. 3 a journey across something, especially the sea □ a rough crossing. 4 an act of cross-breeding.

crossing over ▷ noun, genetics in MEIOSIS: the exchange of genetic material that occurs as a result of the exchange of segments of homologous chromosomes, giving rise to genetic variation in the offspring.

cross-legged ▷ adj, adverb sitting, usually on the floor, with the ankles crossed and knees wide apart. See also CROSS ONE'S LEGS at CROSS.

cross-over ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to something moving from one side to another. 2 referring or relating to something which spans two different genres (see GENRE sense 1).

crosspatch ▷ noun, colloq a grumpy or bad-tempered person.

cross-ply ▷ adj said of a tyre: having fabric cords in the outer casing that run diagonally to stiffen and strengthen the side walls. See also RADIAL-PLY TYRE.

cross-pollination ▷ noun, bot the transfer of pollen from the ANTHER of one flower to the STIGMA of another flower of the same species, by wind dispersal, formation of pollen tubes, etc.

cross-purposes ▷ plural noun confusion in a conversation or action by misunderstanding.

cross-question ▷ verb to cross-examine. ▷ noun a question asked during a cross-examination.

cross-refer ▷ verb, tr & intr to direct (the reader) from one part of something, especially a text, to another.

cross-reference ▷ noun a reference from one part of a text to another. ▷ verb to supply with cross-references.

crossroads ▷ singular noun 1 the point where two or more roads cross or meet. 2 a point at which an important choice has to be made.

cross section ▷ noun 1 a the surface revealed when a solid object is sliced through, especially at right angles to its length; b a diagram representing this. 2 a representative sample. ● cross-sectional adj.

cross-stitch needlecraft ▷ noun an embroidery stitch made by two stitches crossing each other. ▷ verb to embroider with this stitch.

crosstalk ▷ noun 1 unwanted interference between communication channels. 2 fast and clever conversation; repartee.

cross-training ▷ noun a method of exercise alternating the use of gymnasium equipment with aerobic floor exercises in the same session.

crosswind ▷ noun a wind blowing across the path of a vehicle or aircraft.

crosswise and crossways ▷ adj, adverb 1 lying or moving across, or so as to cross. 2 in the shape of a cross.

crossword and crossword puzzle ▷ noun a puzzle in which numbered clues are solved and their answers in words inserted into their correct places in a grid of squares that cross vertically and horizontally.

crotch ▷ noun (crotches) 1 (also crutch) a the place where the body or a pair of trousers forks into the two legs; b the human genital area. 2 the fork of a tree. ⓒ 16c: variant of CRUTCH.

crotchet /ˈkrɒtʃɪt/ ▷ noun 1 music a note equal to two QUAVERS or half a MINIM 1 in length. 2 a perverse fancy. ⓒ 15c in sense 1; 14c meaning a CROCKET: French, meaning 'hooked staff'.

crotchety ▷ adj 1 colloq irritable; peevish. 2 full of crotchets. ● crotchetiness noun.

crouch /kraʊtʃ/ ▷ verb (crouches, crouched, crouching) intr (sometimes crouch down) 1 to bend low or squat with one's knees and thighs against one's chest and often also with one's hands on the ground. 2 said of animals: to lie close to the ground ready to spring up. ▷ noun (crouches) a crouching position or action. ⓒ 14c.

croup[1] /kruːp/ ▷ noun a condition characterized by inflammation and consequent narrowing of the larynx, occurring especially in young children, the main symptoms of which are a hoarse cough, difficulty in breathing and fever. ● croupy adj. ⓒ 16c: imitating the sound.

croup[2] /kruːp/ ▷ noun 1 the rump or hindquarters of a horse. 2 the place behind the saddle. ⓒ 13c: from French croupe.

croupier /ˈkruːpɪə(r), ˈkruːpɪeɪ/ ▷ noun in a casino: someone who presides over a gaming-table, collecting the stakes, dealing the cards, paying the winners, etc. ⓒ 18c: French, literally meaning 'one who rides pillion on a horse'.

croûton /ˈkruːtɒn/ ▷ noun a small cube of fried or toasted bread, served in soup, etc. ⓒ 19c: French, diminutive of croûte crust.

crow /kroʊ/ ▷ noun 1 any of about 100 species of large black bird, including the carrion crow, rook, raven, etc, usually with a powerful black beak and shiny feathers. 2 the shrill drawn-out cry of a cock. ▷ verb (past tense crowed or crew /kruː/, past participle crowed, present participle crowing) intr 1 said of a cock: to cry shrilly. 2 said of a baby: to make happy inarticulate sounds. 3 (usually crow over someone or something) to triumph gleefully over them; to gloat. ● as the crow flies in a straight line. ● stone the crows! dated, slang an expression of amazement, horror, etc. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon crawe.

crowbar ▷ noun a heavy iron bar with a bent flattened end, used as a lever.

crowd ▷ noun 1 a large number of people gathered together. 2 the spectators or audience at an event. 3 (usually crowds) colloq a large number of people. 4 a set or group of people. 5 (the crowd) the general mass of people. ▷ verb (crowded, crowding) 1 intr to gather or move in a large, usually tightly-packed, group. 2 to fill. 3 to pack; to cram. 4 to press round, or supervise someone too closely. ● crowded adj full of people. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon crudan to press.

■ crowd someone or something out to overwhelm and force them out.

■ crowd something out to fill it completely.

crowd

● There is often uncertainty as to whether collective nouns like crowd should be followed by a singular or plural verb. Both are correct, and choice depends on whether the group is being thought of as a unit or as a number of individuals.

crowd pleaser ▷ noun something that has popular appeal, especially a product available in shops □ The fresh nectarines proved to be a great crowd pleaser.

crown ▷ noun 1 the circular, usually jewelled, gold headdress of a sovereign. 2 (the Crown) a the sovereign as head of state; b the authority or jurisdiction of a sovereign or of the government representing a sovereign. 3 a wreath for the head or other honour, awarded for victory or success. 4 a highest point of achievement; a summit or climax □ the crown of one's career. 5 the top, especially of something rounded. 6 a the part of a tooth projecting from the gum; b an artificial replacement for this. 7 a representation of a royal crown used as an emblem, symbol, etc. 8 an old British coin worth 25 pence (formerly 5 shillings). 9 the junction of the root and stem of a plant. 10 a UK paper size, 385 × 505 mm. ▷ verb (crowned, crowning) 1 to place a crown ceremonially on the head of someone, thus making them a monarch. 2 to be on or round the top of someone or something. 3 to reward; to make complete or perfect □ efforts crowned with success. 4 to put an artificial crown on (a tooth). 5 colloq to hit on the head. 6 draughts to give (a piece) the status of king, by placing another piece on top of it. ● to crown it all colloq as the finishing touch to a series of especially unfortunate events. ⓘ 11c: from French coroune, from Latin corona wreath or crown.

crown colony ▷ noun a colony under the direct control of the British government.

crowning ▷ adj highest; greatest. ▷ noun, obstetrics the stage of labour when the top part of the baby's head is just passing through the vaginal opening.

crown jewels ▷ plural noun 1 the crown, sceptre and other ceremonial regalia of a sovereign. 2 euphemistic the male genitalia.

crown prince ▷ noun the male heir to a throne.

crown princess ▷ noun 1 the wife of a crown prince. 2 the female heir to a throne.

crow's feet ▷ plural noun the wrinkles at the outer corner of the eye.

crow's nest ▷ noun at the top of a ship's mast: a lookout platform.

crozier see CROSIER.

CRT ▷ abbreviation cathode ray tube.

cruces see CRUX.

crucial /ˈkruːʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 decisive; critical. 2 very important; essential. 3 slang very good; great. ● crucially adverb. ⓘ 18c meaning 'in the form of a cross' (now rare); 19c in sense 2; 20c in sense 3: French, from Latin crux cross.

crucible /ˈkruːsɪbəl/ ▷ noun 1 an earthenware pot in which to heat metals or other substances. 2 a severe test or trial. ⓘ 15c: from Latin crucibulum a night lamp.

crucifix /ˈkruːsɪfɪks/ ▷ noun a representation, especially a model, of Christ on the cross. ⓘ 13c: from Latin crucifixus one fixed to a cross.

crucifixion /kruːsɪˈfɪkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 execution by crucifying. 2 (Crucifixion) Christianity the crucifying of Christ, or a representation of this. ⓘ 17c: from Latin crucifixio, from crucifigere to crucify.

cruciform /ˈkruːsɪfɔːm/ ▷ adj cross-shaped. ⓘ 17c: from Latin crux cross + -FORM.

crucify /ˈkruːsɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (crucifies, crucified, crucifying) 1 to put to death by fastening or nailing to a cross by the hands and feet. 2 to torment, torture or persecute someone. 3 slang to defeat or humiliate someone utterly. ⓘ 13c: from French crucifier, from Latin crucifigere to crucify, from crux cross + figere fix.

crud ▷ noun 1 slang dirt or filth, especially if sticky. 2 a contemptible or worthless person. 3 a disagreeable residue, especially radioactive waste. ● cruddy adj. ⓘ 20c: variant of the earlier CURD.

crude /kruːd/ ▷ adj 1 in its natural unrefined state. 2 rough or undeveloped □ a crude sketch. 3 vulgar; tasteless. ▷ noun short for CRUDE OIL. ● crudely adverb. ● crudity or crudeness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin crudus raw.

crude oil ▷ noun petroleum in its unrefined state. Often shortened to crude.

cruel /kruːəl/ ▷ adj (crueller, cruellest) 1 deliberately and pitilessly causing pain or suffering. 2 painful; distressing □ a cruel blow. ● cruelly adverb. ● cruelty noun. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin crudelis, from crudus raw.

cruelty-free ▷ adj said of cosmetics, household products, etc: developed and produced without being tested on animals.

cruet /ˈkruːɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a small container which holds salt, pepper, mustard, vinegar, etc, for use at table. 2 a stand for a set of such jars. ⓘ 14c in sense 1; 13c in sense 'a vessel for holy water or wine': French, diminutive of crue jar.

cruise /kruːz/ ▷ verb (cruised, cruising) 1 tr & intr to sail about for pleasure, calling at a succession of places. 2 intr said eg of a vehicle or aircraft: to go at a steady comfortable speed. 3 tr & intr said of a warship, etc: to patrol a body of water. 4 slang to go around public places looking for a sexual partner. ▷ noun an instance of cruising, especially an ocean voyage undertaken for pleasure. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch kruisen to cross.

cruise control ▷ noun an electronic device in cars, etc that controls their cruising speed on motorways. ⓘ 20c.

cruise missile ▷ noun a low-flying, long-distance, computer-controlled winged missile.

cruiser ▷ noun 1 a large fast warship. 2 (also cabin-cruiser) a large, especially luxurious motor boat with living quarters. 3 a person or thing that cruises, especially a person in search of a sexual partner.

crumb /krʌm/ ▷ noun 1 a particle of dry food, especially bread. 2 a small amount □ a crumb of comfort. 3 the soft interior of a loaf of bread. 4 slang an obnoxious person. ▷ verb (crumbed, crumbing) to coat in breadcrumbs. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cruma.

crumble /ˈkrʌmbəl/ ▷ verb (crumbled, crumbling) 1 tr & intr to break into crumbs or powdery fragments. 2 intr to collapse, decay or disintegrate. ▷ noun a baked dessert of stewed fruit covered with a crumbled mixture of sugar, butter and flour. ● crumbly adj. ⓘ 16c as kremelen, from Anglo-Saxon gecrymian.

crumbs /krʌmz/ ▷ exclamation, colloq an expression of mild surprise, dismay, etc. ⓘ 19c: altered form of CHRIST.

crumby /ˈkrʌmɪ/ ▷ adj (crumbier, crumbiest) 1 full of or in crumbs. 2 soft like the inside of a loaf. 3 see CRUMMY. ⓘ 18c: from CRUMB.

crummy ▷ adj (crummier, crummiest) colloq, derog shoddy, dingy, dirty or generally inferior. ● crumminess noun. ⓘ 19c: variant of CRUMBY.

crumpet /ˈkrʌmpɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a thick round cake made of soft light dough, eaten toasted and buttered. 2 Scottish a type of large thin pancake. 3 offensive slang a a girl; b female company generally.

crumple /ˈkrʌmpəl/ ▷ verb (crumpled, crumpling) 1 tr & intr to make or become creased or crushed. 2 intr said of a face or features: to pucker in distress. 3 intr to collapse; to give away. ⓘ From Anglo-Saxon crump crooked.

crumple zone ▷ noun part of a car, usually at the front or rear, designed to absorb the impact in a collision. ⓘ 20c.

crunch ▷ verb (crunches, crunched, crunching) 1 tr & intr to crush or grind noisily between the teeth or under the foot. 2 intr to produce a crunching sound. 3 tr & intr, computing, colloq to process (large quantities of data, numbers, etc) at speed. ▷ noun (crunches) 1 a crunching action or sound. 2 (the crunch) colloq the moment of decision or crisis. ▷ adj crucial or decisive □ crunch talks. ⓘ 19c: imitating the sound, changed from the earlier craunch probably through the influence of MUNCH.

crunchy ▷ adj (crunchier, crunchiest) able to be crunched; crisp. ● crunchily adverb. ● crunchiness noun.

crusade /kruːˈseɪd/ ▷ noun 1 a strenuous campaign in aid of a cause. 2 (Crusades) historical any of the eight Holy Wars from 1096 onwards, which were fought to recover the Holy Land from the Muslims. ▷ verb (crusaded, crusading) intr to engage in a crusade; to campaign. ● crusader noun. ⓘ 16c: from French croisade, ultimately from Latin crux cross.

crush ▷ verb (crushes, crushed, crushing) 1 to break, damage, bruise, injure or distort by compressing violently. 2 to grind or pound into powder, crumbs, etc. 3 tr & intr to crumple or crease. 4 to defeat, subdue or humiliate. ▷ noun (crushes) 1 violent compression. 2 a dense crowd. 3 a drink made from the juice of crushed fruit □ orange crush. 4 colloq a an amorous passion, usually an unsuitable one; an infatuation; b the object of such an infatuation. ● crushable adj. ● crushed adj. ● crusher noun. ● crushing adj. ● crushingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French croissir, from Latin cruscire to crackle.

crush barrier ▷ noun a barrier for separating a crowd, eg of spectators, into sections.

crust ▷ noun 1 a the hard-baked outer surface of a loaf of bread; b a piece of this; c a dried-up piece of bread. 2 the pastry covering a pie, etc. 3 a crisp or brittle covering. 4 the dry brittle covering which forms over a skin lesion. 5 the solid outermost layer of the Earth, consisting mainly of sedimentary rocks overlying ancient igneous rocks. 6 slang a living or livelihood. ▷ verb (crusted, crusting) tr & intr to cover with or form a crust.

crustacean /krʌˈsteɪʃən/ ▷ noun, zool in the animal kingdom: any invertebrate animal belonging to the large class Crustacea consisting of mainly aquatic ARTHROPODS, including crabs, lobsters, shrimps, barnacles, woodlice, etc, which typically possess two pairs of antennae and a segmented body covered by a chalky CARAPACE. ▷ adj relating to these creatures. ⓘ 19c: from Latin crusta shell.

crustie or crusty ▷ noun (crusties) Brit slang a New-Age traveller or someone with a similar outlook on life. ⓘ 1990s: from CRUST.

crusty ▷ adj (crustier, crustiest) 1 having a crisp crust. 2 irritable, snappy or cantankerous. ● crustily adverb ● crustiness noun.

crutch ▷ noun (crutches) 1 a stick, usually one of a pair, used as a support by a lame person, with a bar fitting under the armpit or a grip for the elbow. 2 a support, help or aid. 3 Brit another word for CROTCH 1. ▷ verb (crutches, crutched, crutching) 1 to support with a crutch or crutches. 2 Austral, NZ to cut off wool from the hindquarters of a sheep. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cryce.

crux /krʌks/ ▷ noun (cruces /ˈkruːsiːz/ or cruxes) 1 a decisive, essential or crucial point. 2 a problem or difficulty. 3 (Crux) astron, formal the SOUTHERN CROSS. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning 'cross'.

cry ▷ verb (cries, cried, crying) 1 intr to shed tears; to weep. 2 intr (often cry out) to shout or shriek, eg in pain or fear, or to get attention or help. 3 (often cry out) to exclaim (words, news, etc). 4 intr said of an animal or bird: to utter its characteristic noise. 5 old use said of a street trader: to proclaim (one's wares). ▷ noun (cries) 1 a shout or shriek. 2 an excited utterance or exclamation. 3 an appeal or demand. 4 a rallying call or slogan. 5 a bout of weeping. 6 the characteristic utterance of an animal or bird. 7 a street trader's call □ street cries. ● cry blue murder see BLUE MURDER. ● cry for the moon to want or desire something which is impossible to get. ● cry one's eyes or heart out to weep long and bitterly. ● cry over spilt milk to cry over something which has already happened and cannot be changed. ● cry stinking fish to belittle one's own goods. ● a crying shame a great shame. ● a far cry 1 a great distance. 2 very different. ● For crying out loud! colloq an expression of impatience or annoyance. ● in full cry in keen pursuit of something. ⓘ 13c: from French crier, from Latin quiritare to wail.

● cry something down to be critical of it; to scorn it.
● cry off colloq to cancel an engagement or agreement.
● cry out for something to be in obvious need of it.
● cry someone or something up to praise them or it.

crybaby ▷ noun, derog, colloq a person, especially a child, who weeps at the slightest upset.

crying ▷ adj demanding urgent attention □ a crying need.

cryo- /kraɪoʊ, kraɪˈɒ/ ▷ combining form, denoting frost or ice. ⓘ From Greek kryos frost.

cryobiology /kraɪoʊbaɪˈɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the branch of biology dealing with the effects of low temperatures on organisms. ● cryobiologist noun. ⓘ 1960s.

cryogenics /kraɪoʊˈdʒenɪks/ ▷ singular noun the branch of physics concerned with the study of techniques for the production of very low temperatures, and of the phenomena that occur at such temperatures, eg superconductivity. ⓘ 1950s.

cryolite /ˈkraɪəlaɪt/ ▷ noun, geol a pale grey mineral, composed of sodium, aluminium and fluorine, used in the smelting of aluminium ores. ⓘ 19c: from CRYO- + Greek lithos stone.

cryoprecipitate ▷ noun a PRECIPITATE (noun 1) which is produced by the controlled freezing and thawing of a substance.

cryopreservation and cryonics /kraɪˈɒnɪks/ ▷ noun, biol the preservation by freezing of living cells eg blood, human eggs, sperm, etc, especially the practice of freezing human corpses, with the idea that advances in science will enable them to be revived at a later date.

cryosurgery ▷ noun, medicine a type of surgery which uses instruments that produce intense cold in localized parts of the body, so as to freeze and destroy unwanted tissue.

crypt /krɪpt/ ▷ noun an underground chamber or vault, especially one beneath a church, often used for burials. ⓘ 18c in this sense; 15c in obsolete sense 'grotto': from Latin crypta, ultimately from Greek kryptein to hide.

cryptanalysis /krɪptəˈnalәsɪs/ ▷ noun the deciphering of coded information or messages.

cryptic /ˈkrɪptɪk/ ▷ adj 1 puzzling, mysterious, obscure or enigmatic. 2 secret or hidden. 3 said of a crossword puzzle: with clues in the form of riddles, puns, anagrams, etc, rather than synonyms. ● cryptically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Greek kryptikos, from kryptein to hide.

crypto- /krɪptoʊ/ or (before a vowel) crypt- /krɪpt/ ▷ combining form, denoting 1 hidden or obscure □ cryptogram. 2 secret or undeclared □ crypto-fascist. ⓘ From Greek kryptos, from kryptein to hide.

cryptocrystalline ▷ adj, geol said of rocks: composed of crystals which can only be seen under a microscope.

cryptogam /ˈkrɪptoʊgam/ ▷ noun 1 bot a general term for a plant that reproduces by means of spores, such as a seaweed, moss or fern. 2 bot, loosely a term often used to refer to a plant that lacks flowers. ⓒ 19c: from CRYPTO- + Greek gamos marriage.

cryptogram /ˈkrɪptəgram/ ▷ noun something written in a code or cipher.

cryptography /krɪpˈtɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun the study of writing in and deciphering codes. ● cryptographer noun. ● cryptographic adj.

crystal /ˈkrɪstəl/ ▷ noun 1 (also rock crystal) colourless transparent quartz. 2 a CRYSTAL BALL. 3 a a brilliant, highly transparent glass used for cut glass; b cut-glass articles. 4 a small piece of a solid that has a regular three-dimensional shape, and whose plane faces are arranged in a regular order and meet each other at specific angles. 5 chem any solid substance consisting of a regularly repeating arrangement of atoms, ions or molecules. 6 elec a crystalline element, made of piezoelectric or semiconductor material, that functions as a transducer, oscillator, etc in an electronic device. ▷ adj belonging or relating to, or made of, crystal. ● crystal clear as clear or obvious as can be. ⓒ 11c: from Latin crystallum, from Greek krystallos ice.

crystal ball ▷ noun a globe of rock crystal or glass into which a fortune-teller or clairvoyant gazes, apparently seeing visions of the future.

crystal-gazing ▷ noun 1 a fortune-teller's practice of gazing into a crystal ball long and hard enough to apparently conjure up a vision of the future. 2 derog guesswork about the future. ● crystal-gazer noun a fortune-teller.

crystal healing ▷ noun the selection and use of crystals that are said to promote healing and well-being in humans.

crystal lattice ▷ noun, physics the orderly arrangement of points around which atoms or ions in a crystal are centred.

crystalline /ˈkrɪstəlaɪn, ˈkrɪstəlɪn/ ▷ adj 1 composed of or having the clarity and transparency of crystal. 2 chem displaying the properties or structure of crystals, eg with regard to the regular internal arrangement of atoms, ions, or molecules. 3 said of rocks, minerals, etc: consisting of or containing crystals.

crystalline lens see LENS (sense 2) crystallization or crystallisation ▷ noun, chem the process whereby crystals are formed by cooling a molten mass, by allowing a solution of a crystalline solid to evaporate slowly, or by adding more of a crystalline solid to an already saturated solution.

crystallize or crystallise /ˈkrɪstəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (crystallized, crystallizing) 1 tr & intr to form crystals by the process of crystallization. 2 to coat or preserve (fruit) in sugar. 3 tr & intr said of plans, ideas, etc: to make or become clear and definite.

crystallography /krɪstəˈlɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun the scientific study of the structure, forms and properties of crystals. ● crystallographer noun. ● crystallographic adj.

crystalloid /ˈkrɪstəlɔɪd/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or resembling a substance that dissolves to form a true solution which can pass through a semi-permeable membrane. 2 resembling a crystal. ▷ noun a substance that dissolves to form a true solution which can pass through a semi-permeable membrane.

CS ▷ abbreviation 1 chartered surveyor. 2 Christian Science. 3 Civil Service. 4 Court of Session.

Cs ▷ symbol, chem caesium.

c/s ▷ abbreviation cycles per second.

CSA ▷ abbreviation Child Support Agency.

CSE ▷ abbreviation, Brit Certificate of Secondary Education, replaced in 1988 by GCSE.

CSEU ▷ abbreviation Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions.

CS gas ▷ noun an irritant vapour which causes a burning sensation in the eyes, choking, nausea and vomiting, used as an incapacitating agent for riot control. ⓒ 1928: named from the initials of its US inventors, B Carson & R Staughton.

CSP ▷ abbreviation Council for Scientific Policy.

CST ▷ abbreviation 1 N Amer Central Standard Time. 2 craniosacral therapy.

CSU ▷ abbreviation Civil Service Union.

CSV ▷ abbreviation community service volunteer.

CSYS ▷ abbreviation Certificate of Sixth Year Studies.

CT or Ct ▷ abbreviation, US state Connecticut.

Ct ▷ abbreviation in addresses, etc: Court.

ct ▷ abbreviation 1 carat. 2 cent. 3 court.

ctenophore /ˈtiːnəfɔː(r), ˈtɛ-/ ▷ noun any member of a class of marine organisms which move by means of rows of comblike plates. ⓒ 19c: Greek kteis, ktenos comb + -phoros bearing.

CTOL ▷ abbreviation conventional take-off and landing.

CT scanner ▷ noun a CAT SCANNER.

Cu ▷ symbol, chem copper.

cu ▷ abbreviation cubic.

cub ▷ noun 1 the young of certain carnivorous mammals, such as the fox, wolf, lion and bear. 2 (Cub) a member of the junior branch of the Scout Association. Also called Cub Scout. See also BEAVER at BEAVER[1]. 3 old use, derog an impudent young man. 4 colloq a beginner; a novice □ a cub reporter. ▷ verb (cubbed, cubbing) tr & intr to give birth to cubs. ⓒ 16c.

Cuban /ˈkjuːbən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Cuba, an island republic in the Caribbean Sea, or its inhabitants. ▷ noun a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Cuba.

cubbyhole /ˈkʌbɪhoʊl/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 a tiny room. 2 a cupboard, nook or recess in which to accumulate miscellaneous objects. ⓒ 19c: from dialect cub stall or pen.

cube /kjuːb/ ▷ noun 1 math a solid figure having six square faces of equal area, in which the angle between any two adjacent sides is a right angle. 2 a block of this shape. 3 math the product of any number or quantity multiplied by its square, ie the third power of a number or quantity. ▷ verb (cubed, cubing) 1 to raise (a number or quantity) to the third power. 2 to form or cut into cubes. ⓒ 16c: French, from Greek kybos a die.

cube root ▷ noun, math the number or quantity of which a given number or quantity is the cube, eg 3 is the cube root of 27 since 3 × 3 × 3 = 27.

cubic /ˈkjuːbɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or resembling a cube. 2 having three dimensions. 3 math of or involving a number or quantity that is raised to the third power, eg a cubic equation (in which the highest power of the unknown variable is three). 4 math said of a unit of volume: equal to that contained in a cube of specified dimensions □ a cubic metre. ● cubical adj.

cubicle /ˈkjuːbɪkəl/ ▷ noun a small compartment for sleeping or undressing in, screened for privacy. ⓒ 15c: from Latin cubiculum bedchamber, from cubare to lie down.

Cubism /ˈkjuːbɪzəm/ ▷ noun, art an early-20c movement in painting, initiated by Pablo Picasso and Georges Braque, which represented natural objects as geometrical shapes. ● Cubist noun an artist who works in the Cubist style. Also as adj.

cubit /ˈkjuːbɪt/ ▷ noun an old unit of measurement equal to the length of the forearm from the elbow to the tip of the middle finger. ⓒ 14c: from Latin cubitum elbow, from cubare to lie down.

cuboid /ˈkjuːbɔɪd/ ▷ adj (also cuboidal) 1 resembling a cube in shape. 2 relating to the cuboid bone. ▷ noun 1 a cube-shaped bone in the foot. 2 math a solid body having six rectangular faces, the opposite faces of which are equal.

Cub Scout see CUB noun 2

cuckold /ˈkʌkəld, ˈkʌkould/ old use, derisive ▷ noun a man whose wife is unfaithful. ▷ verb (cuckolded, cuckolding) to make a cuckold of (a man). • cuckoldry noun 1 the state of being a cuckold. 2 the act of making (a man) a cuckold. ⓘ 13c: from French cocu cuckoo, from the cuckoo's habit of laying her eggs in another bird's nest.

cuckoo /ˈkukuː/ ▷ noun (cuckoos) any of about 130 species of insectivorous birds, the common variety of which is found in Europe, Asia and America, and lays its eggs in the nests of other birds. ▷ adj, colloq insane; crazy. ⓘ 13c: from French cucu, imitating the sound of the bird's two-tone call.

cuckoo clock ▷ noun a clock from which a model cuckoo springs on the hour, uttering the appropriate number of cries.

cuckoo-pint see LORDS-AND-LADIES cuckoo spit ▷ noun a small white frothy mass found on the leaves and stems of many plants, surrounding and secreted by the larvae of the FROG-HOPPER. Also called frog-spit.

cucumber /ˈkjuːkʌmbə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a creeping plant cultivated for its edible fruit. 2 a long green fruit of this plant, containing juicy white flesh, which is often used raw in salads, etc. • cool as a cucumber colloq calm and composed; unflappable. ⓘ 14c: from Latin cucumis.

cud ▷ noun in ruminant animals, eg cattle: the partially digested food that is regurgitated from the first stomach into the mouth to be chewed again. • chew the cud colloq to meditate, ponder or reflect. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cwidu.

cuddle /ˈkʌdəl/ ▷ verb (cuddled, cuddling) 1 tr & intr to hug or embrace affectionately. 2 (usually cuddle in or up) to lie close and snug; to nestle. ▷ noun an affectionate hug. • cuddlesome adj pleasant to cuddle. • cuddly adj (cuddlier, cuddliest) pleasant to cuddle; attractively soft and plump.

cudgel /ˈkʌdʒəl/ ▷ noun a heavy stick or club used as a weapon. ▷ verb (cudgelled, cudgelling) to beat with a cudgel. • cudgel one's brains to struggle to remember or solve something. • take up the cudgels for someone to fight for or defend them vigorously. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cycgel.

cue[1] /kjuː/ ▷ noun (cues) 1 the end of an actor's speech, or something else said or done by a performer, that serves as a prompt for another to say or do something. 2 anything that serves as a signal or hint to do something. ▷ verb (cued, cueing) to give a cue to someone. • on cue at precisely the right moment. • take one's cue from someone to follow their lead as regards behaviour, etc. ⓘ 16c: thought to be from 'q', a contraction of Latin quando meaning 'when' which was formerly written in actors' scripts to show them when to begin.

cue[2] /kjuː/ ▷ noun 1 in billiards, snooker and pool: a stick tapering almost to a point, used to strike the ball. 2 old use a tail of hair or plait at the back of the head. ▷ verb (cued, cueing) tr & intr to strike (a ball) with the cue. ⓘ 18c: variant of QUEUE.

cue ball ▷ noun in billiards, snooker and pool: the ball which is struck by the cue that in turn strikes an OBJECT BALL.

cuff[1] ▷ noun 1 a band or folded-back part at the lower end of a sleeve, usually at the wrist. 2 N Amer the turned-up part of a trouser leg. 3 (cuffs) slang handcuffs. • off the cuff colloq without preparation or previous thought. ⓘ 16c in sense 1; 14c meaning 'mitten', now obsolete except in Canadian dialect.

cuff[2] ▷ noun a blow with the open hand. ▷ verb (cuffed, cuffing) to hit with an open hand. ⓘ 16c.

cufflink ▷ noun one of a pair of decorative fasteners for shirt cuffs in place of buttons.

cuirass /kwɪˈras, ˈkjuəras/ ▷ noun, historical a piece of armour consisting of a breastplate with a back plate attached to it. ⓘ 15c: from French cuirasse, from Latin coriacea, from corium leather.

cuisine /kwɪˈziːn/ ▷ noun 1 a style of cooking. 2 the range of food prepared and served at a restaurant, etc. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'kitchen'.

cul-de-sac /ˈkʌldəsak, ˈkul-/ ▷ noun (culs-de-sac /ˈkʌldəsak, ˈkul-/ or cul-de-sacs) a street closed at one end; a blind alley. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'sack-bottom'.

culinary /ˈkʌlɪnərɪ, ˈkjuː-/ ▷ adj relating to cookery or the kitchen. ⓘ 17c: from Latin culinarius, from culina kitchen.

cull /kʌl/ ▷ verb (culled, culling) 1 to gather or pick up (information or ideas). 2 to select and kill (weak or surplus animals) from a group, eg seals or deer, in order to keep the population under control. 3 to gather (the best parts) from something. ▷ noun 1 an act of culling. 2 an inferior animal eliminated from the herd, flock, etc. ⓘ 14c: from French cuillir to gather.

culm[1] /kʌlm/ bot ▷ noun 1 the jointed hollow stem of a grass. 2 the solid stem of a sedge. ▷ verb (culmed, culming) to form a culm. ⓘ 17c: from Latin culmus stalk.

culm[2] ▷ noun, mining 1 coal dust. 2 anthracite slack. ⓘ 14c.

culminate /ˈkʌlmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (culminated, culminating) 1 tr & intr (often culminate in or with something) to reach the highest point or climax. 2 intr, astron said of a heavenly body: to cross the meridian. 3 to bring something to its highest point. ⓘ 17c: from Latin culminare, from culmen top or summit.

culmination /kʌlmɪˈneɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the top or highest point; the climax. 2 the act or point of culminating. 3 astron the highest altitude attained by a heavenly body.

culottes /kjuˈlɒts, kuˈlɒts/ ▷ plural noun flared trousers for women, intended to look like a skirt. ⓘ 20c: French, meaning 'knee-breeches'.

culpable /ˈkʌlpəbəl/ ▷ adj deserving blame. • culpability noun. • culpably adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin culpare to blame.

culpable homicide ▷ noun, Scots law unlawful killing which lacks the evil intention which would class it as murder. Compare MANSLAUGHTER.

culprit /ˈkʌlprɪt/ ▷ noun 1 someone guilty of a misdeed or offence. 2 law someone accused of a crime. ⓘ 17c: from the fusion of French culpable guilty + prest ready, as used in culpable: prest d'averrer notre bille, meaning 'guilty: ready to prove our charge': the reply of the clerk of the court to a prisoner's plea of not guilty, which at a later time, after the disuse of law French, was wrongly attributed to the prisoner.

cult /kʌlt/ ▷ noun 1 a a system of religious belief; b the sect of people following such a system. 2 a an unorthodox or false religion; b the people adhering to such a system. 3 an especially extravagant admiration for a person, idea, etc. 4 something which is popular and regarded as particularly significant by a certain group of people; a fashion, craze or fad. • cultic or cultish adj. • cultism noun. • cultist noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin cultus worship, from colere to cultivate.

cultivar /ˈkʌltɪvɑː(r)/ ▷ noun, hortic (abbreviation cv) a variety of a plant that does not occur naturally in the wild, but has been developed and maintained by cultivation using horticultural or agricultural techniques. ⓘ 20c: a shortening of cultivated variety.

cultivate /ˈkʌltɪveɪt/ ▷ verb (cultivated, cultivating) 1 to prepare and use (land or soil) for growing crops. 2 to grow (a crop, plant, etc). 3 to develop or improve ▫ cultivate a taste for literature. 4 to try to develop a friendship, a relationship, etc with (someone), especially for personal advantage. ⓘ 17c: from Latin cultivare, cultivatum, ultimately from colere to till or take care of.

cultivated ▷ adj 1 well bred and knowledgeable. 2 said of plants: not wild; grown and cared for in a garden, etc. 3 said of soil or land: prepared for growing crops.

cultivation /kʌltɪˈveɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of cultivating. 2 education, breeding and culture. 3 the preparation of soil or land for growing crops.

cultivator /ˈkʌltɪveɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a tool for breaking up the surface of the ground. 2 someone or something which cultivates.

cultural ▷ adj 1 relating to a culture. 2 relating to the arts. • culturally adverb.

cultural lag or culture lag ▷ noun a slower rate of cultural change found either in one part of a society compared with the whole or majority, or in a particular society compared to the world at large.

culture /ˈkʌltʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the customs, ideas, values, etc of a particular civilization, society or social group, especially at a particular time. 2 appreciation of art, music, literature, etc. 3 improvement and development through care and training □ beauty culture. 4 also in compounds the cultivation of eg plants, trees, animals, etc, especially for commercial purposes □ horticulture. 5 biol a population of micro-organisms (especially bacteria), cells or tissues grown in a CULTURE MEDIUM usually for scientific study or medical diagnosis. ▷ verb (cultured, culturing) to grow (micro-organisms, cells, tissues, etc) in a CULTURE MEDIUM for study. ⓘ 15c: from Latin cultura, from colere to cherish or practise.

cultured ▷ adj 1 well-educated; having refined tastes and manners. 2 said of micro-organisms, cells or tissues: grown in a CULTURE MEDIUM. 3 said of a pearl: formed by an oyster round a foreign body deliberately inserted into its shell.

culture medium ▷ noun, biol a solid or liquid nutrient medium in which micro-organisms, cells or tissues can be grown under controlled conditions in a laboratory. Sometimes shortened to medium.

culture shock ▷ noun, social disorientation caused by a change from a familiar environment, culture, ideology, etc, to another that is radically different or alien.

culture vulture ▷ noun, colloq someone who is extravagantly and, by implication, pretentiously interested in the arts.

culvert /ˈkʌlvət/ ▷ noun a covered drain or channel carrying water or electric cables underground, eg under a road or railway.

-cum- /kʌm/ ▷ combining form combined with; also used as □ kitchen-cum-dining-room. ⓘ Latin cum with.

cumbersome ▷ adj awkward, unwieldy or unmanageable. ⓘ 16c in this sense; 14c in obsolete sense 'obstructing motion': from cumber, short for ENCUMBER + -SOME.

cumin or cummin /ˈkʌmɪn/ ▷ noun 1 an umbelliferous plant of the Mediterranean region. 2 the seeds of this plant used as an aromatic herb or flavouring. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cymen.

cummerbund /ˈkʌməbʌnd/ ▷ noun a wide sash worn around the waist, especially one worn with a dinner jacket. ⓘ 17c: from Hindi kamarband loin band.

cumulate ▷ verb /ˈkjuːmjʊleɪt/ (cumulated, cumulating) 1 tr & intr to heap together; to accumulate. 2 to combine (two or more things). ▷ adj /ˈkjuːmjʊlət/ heaped together. ⓘ 16c: from Latin cumulare, cumulatum, from cumulus a heap.

cumulative /ˈkjuːmjʊlətɪv/ ▷ adj increasing in amount, effect or strength with each successive addition. • cumulatively adverb. • cumulativeness noun.

cumulonimbus /kjuːmjʊloʊˈnɪmbəs/ ▷ noun, meteorol a type of cumulus cloud, with a dark and threatening appearance, which can rise to heights of up to 10km, and which is associated with thunderstorms and the arrival of a cold front during the passage of a depression. ⓘ 19c: from CUMULUS + NIMBUS.

cumulus /ˈkjuːmjʊləs/ ▷ noun (cumuli /-laɪ/) meteorol a fluffy heaped cloud with a rounded white upper surface and a flat horizontal base, which is composed of water droplets and usually develops over a heat source, eg a volcano or hot land surface. ⓘ 19c in this sense; 17c in sense 'a heap': Latin, meaning 'heap' or 'mass'.

cuneiform /ˈkjuːnɪfɔːm, kjuˈniːɪfɔːm/ ▷ adj 1 relating to any of several ancient Middle-Eastern scripts with impressed wedge-shaped characters. 2 wedge-shaped. ▷ noun cuneiform writing. ⓘ 17c: from Latin cuneus wedge + -FORM.

cunnilingus /kʌnɪˈlɪŋgəs/ or cunnilinctus /-ˈlɪŋktəs/ ▷ noun oral stimulation of a woman's genitals. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from cunnus vulva + lingere to lick.

cunning /ˈkʌnɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 clever, sly or crafty. 2 ingenious, skilful or subtle. ▷ noun 1 slyness; craftiness. 2 skill; expertise. • cunningly adverb. • cunningness noun. ⓘ From Anglo-Saxon cunnan to know.

cunt ▷ noun 1 taboo the female genitals. 2 offensive slang a woman regarded as a sexual object. 3 offensive slang an abusive term for an unpleasant person. 4 slang a person in general. ⓘ 13c.

cup ▷ noun 1 a small, round, open container, usually with a handle, used to drink from. 2 the amount a cup will hold, used as a measure in cookery. 3 a container or something else shaped like a cup □ egg cup. 4 an ornamental trophy awarded as a prize in sports competitions, etc. 5 a competition in which the prize is a cup. 6 a wine-based drink, with added fruit juice, etc □ claret cup. 7 literary something that one undergoes or experiences □ one's own cup of woe. ▷ verb (cupped, cupping) 1 to form (one's hands) into a cup shape. 2 to hold something in one's cupped hands. • in one's cups dated drunk; under the influence of alcohol. • one's cup of tea colloq one's personal preference. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cuppe, from Latin cupa cask.

cupboard /ˈkʌbəd/ ▷ noun a piece of furniture or a recess, fitted with doors, shelves, etc, for storing provisions or personal effects. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cuppebord table for crockery.

cupboard love ▷ noun an insincere show of affection towards someone or something in return for some kind of material gain.

cup final ▷ noun (often the Cup Final) the final match in a football contest or any other cup competition.

cupful ▷ noun (cupfuls) the amount a cup will hold.

> cupful
>
> • The plural is cupfuls. Note that this denotes an amount, whereas cups full (as in several cups full of water) refers to the cups themselves as being full.

cupid /ˈkjuːpɪd/ ▷ noun a figure of Cupid, the Roman god of love, represented in art or sculpture. ⓘ 14c: from Latin cupido desire or love.

cupidity /kjuˈpɪdɪtɪ/ ▷ noun greed for wealth and possessions. ⓘ 15c: from Latin cupiditas, from cupidus eagerly desirous.

cup match ▷ noun a game which is not resticted to people, teams or clubs from the same league, and usually forms part of a knockout competition. Compare LEAGUE MATCH.

cupola /ˈkjuːpələ/ ▷ noun (cupolas) 1 a small dome or turret on a roof. 2 a domed roof or ceiling. 3 an armoured revolving gun turret. 4 a furnace used in iron foundries. ⓘ 16c: Italian, from Latin cupula, diminutive of cupa cask.

cuppa /ˈkʌpə/ ▷ noun (cuppas) Brit colloq a cup of tea. ⓘ 20c: altered form of cup of.

cupping ▷ noun, medicine the former practice of applying heated cups to the skin, which was thought to promote healing by drawing 'harmful' blood away from diseased organs to the surface of the skin.

cupric /ˈkjuːprɪk/ ▷ adj, chem denoting any compound of copper in which the element has a VALENCY of two, eg cupric chloride. Compare CUPROUS. ⓘ 18c: from Latin cuprum copper.

cuprite /ˈkjuːpraɪt/ ▷ noun, geol a red oxide mineral that is an important source of copper. ⓘ 19c: from Latin cuprum copper.

cupro-nickel /kjuːproʊˈnɪkəl/ ▷ noun an alloy of copper and nickel that is resistant to corrosion, used to make silver-coloured coins in the UK.

cuprous /ˈkjuːprəs/ ▷ adj, chem denoting any compound of copper in which the element has a VALENCY of one, eg cuprous chloride. Compare CUPRIC. ⓘ 17c: from Latin cuprum copper.

cup tie ▷ noun a knockout match in a round of a competition for a cup.

cup-tied ▷ adj, sport, especially football said of a player who is ineligible to play in a cup competition having already represented another team at some previous stage in the competition.

cur ▷ noun, derog, old use 1 a surly mongrel dog. 2 a surly person; a scoundrel. ⓘ 13c as curdogge.

curable /ˈkjʊərəbəl/ ▷ adj capable of being cured. ● curability noun. ● curableness noun. curacy /ˈkjʊərəsɪ/ ▷ noun (curacies) the office or benefice of a curate.

curare /kjʊˈrɑːrɪ/ ▷ noun (curares) 1 a black resin obtained from certain tropical plants in South America, which is used as a paralysing poison smeared on arrow-tips by S American Indian hunters, and which also has medicinal uses as a muscle relaxant. 2 any of the plants from which this resin is obtained. ⓘ 18c: Portuguese and Spanish, from Carib kurari.

curate /ˈkjʊərət/ ▷ noun 1 C of E a clergyman who acts as assistant to a vicar or rector. 2 in Ireland: an assistant barman. ⓘ 14c: from Latin curatus, from cura care.

curate's egg ▷ noun anything of which some parts are excellent and some parts are bad. ⓘ 1895: named after a cartoon in the magazine Punch depicting a modest curate who is served a bad egg, and states that 'parts of it are excellent'.

curative /ˈkjʊərətɪv/ ▷ adj able or tending to cure. ▷ noun a substance that cures. ⓘ 16c: from Latin curativus, from curare to CURE.

curator /kjʊˈreɪtə(r), ˈkjʊərətə(r)/ ▷ noun the custodian of a museum or other collection. ⓘ 17c in this sense; 14c in obsolete sense 'curate': from Latin curator overseer, from curare to CURE.

curb ▷ noun 1 something that restrains or controls. 2 a a chain or strap passing under a horse's jaw, attached at the sides to the bit; b a bit with such a fitting. 3 a raised edge or border. 4 N Amer a kerb. ▷ verb (curbed, curbing) 1 to restrain or control. 2 to put a curb on (a horse). ⓘ 15c: from French courb, from Latin curvus curved.

curd ▷ noun 1 (often curds) the clotted protein substance, as opposed to the liquid component, formed when fresh milk is curdled, and used to make cheese, etc. Compare WHEY. 2 any of several substances of similar consistency. 3 the edible flowering head of cauliflower, broccoli, etc. ▷ verb (curded, curding) tr & intr to make or turn into curd. ⓘ 14c as crud.

curdle /ˈkɜːdəl/ ▷ verb (curdled, curdling) tr & intr to turn into curd; to coagulate. ● curdle someone's blood to horrify or petrify them. ⓘ 16c.

cure /kjʊə(r)/ ▷ verb (cured, curing) 1 to restore someone to health or normality; to heal them. 2 to get rid of (an illness, harmful habit, or other evil). 3 to preserve (food, eg meat, fish, etc) by salting, smoking, etc. 4 to preserve (leather, tobacco, etc) by drying. 5 to vulcanize (rubber). ▷ noun 1 something that cures or remedies. 2 restoration to health. 3 a course of healing or remedial treatment. 4 relig the responsibility of a minister for the souls of the parishioners. ⓘ 14c: from French curer, from Latin curare to care for or heal, from cura care.

cure-all ▷ noun a universal remedy.

curettage /kjʊˈretɪdʒ, kjʊərəˈtɑːʒ/ ▷ noun the process of using a curette. See also DILATATION AND CURETTAGE.

curette or curet /kjʊəˈret/ ▷ noun (curettes or curets) surgery a spoon-shaped device used to scrape tissue from the inner surface of an organ or body cavity for diagnostic purposes, or to remove diseased tissue from such a cavity. ▷ verb (curetted, curetting) to scrape with a curette. ⓘ 18c: French, from curer to clean or clear.

curfew /ˈkɜːfjuː/ ▷ noun 1 a an official order restricting people's movements, especially after a certain hour at night; b the time at which such an order applies. 2 historical a the ringing of a bell as a signal to put out fires and lights; b the time at which such a ringing took place; c the bell rung. ⓘ 13c: from French cuevrefeu, literally 'cover the fire'.

curie /ˈkjʊərɪ/ ▷ noun, physics (abbreviation Ci) the former unit of radioactivity, equivalent to 3.7×10^{10} disintegrations of a radioactive source per second, which has now been replaced by the BECQUEREL in SI units. ⓘ 20c: named after the French physicists Marie (1867–1934) and Pierre (1859–1906) Curie.

curio /ˈkjʊərɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (curios) an article valued for its rarity or unusualness. ⓘ 19c: shortened from CURIOSITY.

curiosity /kjʊərɪˈɒsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (curiosities) 1 eagerness to know; inquisitiveness. 2 something strange, odd, rare, exotic or unusual. ⓘ 14c: from Latin curiositas; see CURIOUS.

curious /ˈkjʊərɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 strange; odd. 2 eager or interested. 3 inquisitive (often in an uncomplimentary sense). ● curiously adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin curiosus full of care.

curium /ˈkjʊərɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (abbreviation Cm, atomic number 96) a radioactive element formed by bombarding plutonium-239 with alpha particles. ⓘ 20c: named after Marie and Pierre Curie; see CURIE.

curl ▷ verb (curled, curling) 1 to twist, roll or wind (hair) into coils or ringlets. 2 intr to grow in coils or ringlets. 3 tr & intr to move in or form into a spiral, coil or curve. 4 intr to take part in the game of curling. ▷ noun 1 a small coil or ringlet of hair. 2 the tendency of hair to curl. 3 a twist, spiral, coil or curve. ● curl one's lip to sneer. ⓘ 14c.

■ curl up 1 to sit or lie with the legs tucked up. 2 colloq to writhe in embarrassment, etc.

curler ▷ noun 1 a type of roller for curling the hair. 2 someone who takes part in the sport of curling. 3 someone or something that curls.

curlew /ˈkɜːljuː, ˈkɜːluː/ ▷ noun a large wading bird, with a slender down-curved bill, long legs and a two-syllable fluting call, found on open plains, moors and marshes across Europe and Asia. ⓘ 14c: from French corlieu, perhaps imitating the bird's call.

curlicue /ˈkɜːlɪkjuː/ ▷ noun a a fancy twist or curl; b a flourish made with a pen. ⓘ 19c: from CURLY + CUE².

curling ▷ noun a team game played on ice with smooth heavy stones with handles, that are slid towards a circular target marked on the ice.

curling tongs ▷ plural noun a device made from metal which is heated up before a lock of hair is twisted around it for a short time to make a curl.

curly ▷ adj (curlier, curliest) 1 having curls; full of curls. 2 tending to curl. ● curliness noun.

curmudgeon /kə'mʌdʒən, kɜː-/ ▷ noun a bad-tempered or mean person. ● curmudgeonly adj. ⓘ 16c.

currant /'kʌrənt/ ▷ noun 1 a small dried seedless grape. 2 any of various deciduous shrubs found in N Europe which produce a certain kind of fruit eg blackcurrant, redcurrant, etc. 3 also in compounds any of the small soft edible berries produced by certain of these shrubs. ⓘ 16c: shortened from French raisins de Corinthe grapes of Corinth, the original place of export of currants (noun 1).

currawong /'kʌrəwɒŋ/ ▷ noun any of several Australian songbirds, with black, grey and white feathers. ⓘ 20c: Aboriginal.

currency /'kʌrənsɪ/ ▷ noun (currencies) 1 the system of money, or the coins and notes, in use in a country. 2 general acceptance or popularity, especially of an idea, theory, etc. 3 the period of time during which something is current. 4 modernity. ⓘ 17c: from Latin currere to run.

current /'kʌrənt/ ▷ adj 1 generally accepted. 2 belonging to the present □ current affairs. 3 in circulation; valid. ▷ noun 1 the continuous steady flow of a body of water, air, heat, etc, in a particular direction. 2 the rate of flow of electric charge through a conductor per unit time. 3 an ELECTRIC CURRENT. 4 a popular trend or tendency. ● currently adverb at the present time. ⓘ 16c in adj sense 3; 13c in archaic sense 'flowing': from French corant, from Latin currere to run.

current account ▷ noun a bank account from which money or cheques can be drawn without notice, and on which little or no interest is paid.

curriculum /kə'rɪkjələm/ ▷ noun (curricula /-ə/ or curriculums) 1 a course of study, especially at school or university. 2 a list of all the courses available at a school, university, etc. ● curricular adj. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from currere to run.

curriculum vitae /kə'rɪkjələm 'viːtaɪ, — 'vaɪtiː/ ▷ noun (curricula vitae /-ə —/) (abbreviation CV) a written summary of one's personal details and the main events of one's education and career, produced to accompany job applications, etc. ⓘ 20c: from CURRICULUM + Latin vita life.

curry[1] /'kʌrɪ/ ▷ noun (curries) a dish, originally Indian, of meat, fish, or vegetables usually cooked with hot spices. ▷ verb (curries, curried, currying) tr to prepare (food) using curry powder or a curry sauce. ⓘ 16c: from Tamil kari sauce.

curry[2] /'kʌrɪ/ ▷ verb 1 to groom (a horse). 2 to treat (tanned leather) so as to improve its flexibility, strength and waterproof quality. 3 to beat vigorously, so as to clean. ● curry favour with someone to use flattery to gain their approval; to ingratiate oneself with them. ⓘ 13c: from French correier to make ready.

curry powder ▷ noun a preparation of turmeric and ground spices used to give curry its hot flavour.

curse ▷ noun 1 a blasphemous or obscene expression, usually of anger; an oath. 2 an appeal to God or some other divine power to harm someone. 3 the resulting harm suffered by someone □ under a curse. 4 an evil; a cause of harm or trouble □ Pollution is a curse of modern life. 5 colloq (the curse) menstruation; a woman's menstrual period. ▷ verb (cursed, cursing) 1 to utter a curse against; to revile with curses. 2 intr to use violent language; to SWEAR. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon curs.

■ be cursed with something to be burdened or afflicted with it.

cursed /'kɜːsɪd, kɜːst/ ▷ adj 1 under a curse. 2 old use damnable; hateful.

cursive /'kɜːsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 said of handwriting: flowing; having letters which are joined up rather than printed separately. 2 printing said of a typeface: designed so as to imitate handwriting. ▷ noun cursive writing. ● cursively adverb. ⓘ 18c: from Latin cursivus, from currere to run.

cursor /'kɜːsə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 on the screen of a visual display unit: any of various types of special symbol or character, usually an underline character or a rectangular box, that flashes on and off and serves to indicate where the next character to be entered on the keyboard will appear. 2 the transparent movable part of a measuring device, especially a slide rule, which can be set at any point along the graduated scale. ⓘ 16c in sense 2; 13c in obsolete sense 'runner': from Latin cursor runner, from currere to run.

cursory /'kɜːsərɪ/ ▷ adj hasty; superficial; not thorough. ● cursorily /'kɜːsərəlɪ/ adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin cursorius pertaining to a runner, from currere to run.

cursus honorum /'kɜːsəs ɒn'ɔːrəm/ ▷ noun, historical in ancient Rome: the ordered career structure which was normal for anyone who aspired to high public office.

curt ▷ adj 1 rudely brief; dismissive; abrupt. 2 concise. ● curtly adverb. ● curtness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin curtus cut or broken.

curtail /kɜː'teɪl, kə-/ ▷ verb (curtailed, curtailing) to reduce; to cut short. ● curtailer noun. ● curtailment noun. ⓘ 16c: as curtal something docked or shortened, from Latin curtus short; changed due to association with TAIL and perhaps later with French tailler to cut.

curtain /'kɜːtən/ ▷ noun 1 a hanging cloth over a window, round a bed, etc for privacy or to exclude light. 2 theat a hanging cloth in front of the stage to screen it from the auditorium. 3 theat (often the curtain) the rise of the curtain at the beginning, or fall of the curtain at the end, of a stage performance, act, scene, etc. 4 something resembling a curtain □ a curtain of thick dark hair. 5 (curtains) colloq the end; death. ▷ verb (curtained, curtaining) 1 (often curtain something off) to surround or enclose it with a curtain. 2 to supply (windows, etc) with curtains. ● curtain up the beginning of a theatre performance. ⓘ 13c: from French courtine, from Latin cortina.

curtain call ▷ noun an audience's demand for performers to appear in front of the curtain after it has fallen, to receive further applause.

curtain-raiser ▷ noun 1 theat a short play, etc before the main performance. 2 any introductory event.

curtain wall ▷ noun 1 archit an external wall that is not load-bearing. 2 fortification in medieval architecture: a wall between two towers or bastions.

curtsy or curtsey /'kɜːtsɪ/ ▷ noun (curtsies or curtseys) a slight bend of the knees with one leg behind the other, performed as a formal gesture of respect by women. ▷ verb (curtsies, curtsied, curtsying) intr to perform a curtsy. ⓘ 16c: variant of COURTESY.

curvaceous /kɜː'veɪʃəs/ ▷ adj, colloq said of a woman: having a shapely figure.

curvature /'kɜːvətʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an act of curving or bending. 2 a the condition of being curved; b the degree of curvedness. ⓘ 17c: from Latin curvatura, from curvare to bend.

curve /kɜːv/ ▷ noun 1 a line no part of which is straight, or a surface no part of which is flat, eg part of a circle or sphere. 2 any smoothly arched line or shape, like part of a circle or sphere. 3 (curves) colloq the rounded contours and shapes of a woman's body. 4 any line representing measurable data, eg birth-rate on a graph. 5 math any line (including a straight line) representing a series of points whose co-ordinates satisfy a particular equation. ▷ verb (curved, curving) tr & intr to form or form into a curve; to move in a curve. ⓘ 16c: from Latin curvare, from curvus crooked.

curvy ▷ adj (curvier, curviest) 1 having many curves, or curved in shape. 2 said of a woman: having a shapely figure.

curvilinear /kɜːvɪˈlɪnɪə(r)/ ▷ adj consisting of or bounded by a curved line. ⊙ 18c: from CURVE + Latin linea line.

Cushing's syndrome /ˈkʊʃɪŋz —/ ▷ noun, pathol a condition characterized by obesity, raised blood pressure, acne, OSTEOPOROSIS and weakness, caused by the presence of excess amounts of CORTICOSTEROID hormones in the body. ⊙ 1932: named after the US surgeon Harvey Cushing (1869–1939) who first described it.

cushion /ˈkʊʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a fabric case stuffed with soft material, used for making a seat comfortable, for kneeling on, etc. 2 a thick pad or something having a similar function. 3 something that gives protection from shock, reduces unpleasant effects, etc. 4 the resilient inner rim of a billiard table. ▷ verb (cushioned, cushioning) 1 to reduce the unpleasant or violent effect of something. 2 to protect from shock, injury or the extremes of distress. 3 to provide or furnish with cushions. ⊙ 14c: from French cussin, ultimately from Latin coxa hip.

Cushitic languages /kʊˈʃɪtɪk —/ ▷ noun a group of about 30 Afro-Asiatic languages, spoken by c.13m people in Somalia, Kenya, Sudan and Ethiopia, the most widely spoken being Oromo (or Galla) and Somali.

cushy /ˈkʊʃɪ/ ▷ adj (cushier, cushiest) colloq comfortable; easy; undemanding. • cushiness noun. ⊙ 20c: from Hindi khush pleasant.

cusp ▷ noun 1 geom a point formed by the meeting of two curves, corresponding to the point where the two tangents coincide. 2 astron either point of a crescent Moon. 3 anatomy a sharp raised point on the grinding surface of a molar tooth. 4 astrol the point of transition between one sign of the zodiac and the next. 5 archit a projecting point found between arcs in Gothic TRACERY. • cuspate adj. ⊙ 16c: from Latin cuspis point.

cuss old use, colloq ▷ noun 1 a curse. 2 a person or animal, especially if stubborn. ▷ verb (cusses, cussed, cussing) tr & intr to curse or swear. ⊙ 19c: originally a vulgar pronunciation of CURSE.

cussed /ˈkʌsɪd/ ▷ adj 1 obstinate, stubborn, awkward or perverse. 2 cursed. • cussedly adverb. • cussedness noun.

custard /ˈkʌstəd/ ▷ noun 1 a sauce made with sugar, milk and cornflour. 2 (also egg custard) a baked dish or sauce of eggs and sweetened milk. ⊙ 15c: as custade, altered from crustade pie with a crust.

custard apple see PAPAW.

custodial /kʌˈstoʊdɪəl/ ▷ adj relating to custody; involving custody.

custodian /kʌˈstoʊdɪən/ ▷ noun someone who has care of something, eg a public building or ancient monument; a guardian or curator. • custodianship noun. ⊙ 18c: from Latin custodia watch or watchman.

custody /ˈkʌstədɪ/ ▷ noun (custodies) 1 protective care, especially the guardianship of a child, awarded to someone by a court of law. 2 the condition of being held by the police; arrest or imprisonment. • take someone into custody to arrest them. ⊙ 15c: from Latin custodia watch, from custos guardian.

custom /ˈkʌstəm/ ▷ noun 1 a traditional activity or practice. 2 a personal habit. 3 the body of established practices of a community; convention. 4 an established practice having the force of a law. 5 the trade or business that one gives to a shop, etc by regular purchases. ▷ adj made to order. ⊙ 12c: from French costume, from Latin consuetudo, from consuescere to grow accustomed to.

customary /ˈkʌstəmərɪ/ ▷ adj usual; traditional; according to custom. • customarily adverb.

custom-built and custom-made ▷ adj built or made to an individual customer's requirements □ custom-built car.

customer /ˈkʌstəmə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who purchases goods from a shop, uses the services of a business, etc. 2 colloq someone with whom one has to deal, usually with unfavourable implications □ an awkward customer.

custom house ▷ noun the office at a port, etc where customs duties are paid or collected.

customs ▷ plural noun taxes or duties paid on imports. ▷ singular noun 1 the government department that collects these taxes. 2 the place at a port, airport, frontier, etc where baggage is inspected for goods on which duty must be paid and illegal goods.

customs union ▷ noun an economic agreement by which nations adopt common excise duties, so eliminating the need for customs checks along their common frontiers and creating a free trade area.

cut ▷ verb (cut, cutting) 1 tr & intr (also cut something off or out) to slit, pierce, slice or sever (a person or thing) using a sharp instrument. 2 (often cut something up) to divide something by cutting. 3 to trim (hair, nails, etc). 4 to reap or mow (corn, grass, etc). 5 to prune (flowers or plants). 6 (sometimes cut something out) to make or form it by cutting. 7 to shape the surface of (a gem) into facets, or decorate (glass) by cutting. 8 to shape the pieces of (a garment) □ He cuts clothes so that they hang perfectly. 9 to make (a sound recording). 10 to injure or wound with a sharp edge or instrument. 11 to hurt □ cut someone to the heart. 12 to reduce (eg prices, wages, interest rates, working hours, etc). 13 to shorten or abridge (eg a book or play). 14 to delete or omit. 15 to edit (a film). 16 intr to stop filming. 17 intr, cinema said of a film or camera: to change directly to another shot, etc. 18 math to cross or intersect. 19 to reject or renounce □ cut one's links with one's family. 20 informal to ignore or pretend not to recognize someone. 21 to stop □ The alcoholic was told to cut his drinking or risk serious liver damage. 22 informal to absent oneself from something □ cut classes. 23 to switch off (an engine, etc). 24 cricket to hit (a ball) with a slicing action, causing it to spin or swerve. 25 said of a baby: to grow (teeth). 26 intr (usually cut across or through) to go off in a certain direction; to take a short route. 27 to dilute (eg an alcoholic drink) or adulterate (a drug) □ John cuts his whisky with ginger ale. 28 to divide; to partition □ a room cut in half by a bookcase. ▷ noun 1 an act of cutting; a cutting movement or stroke. 2 a slit, incision or injury made by cutting. 3 a reduction. 4 a deleted passage in a play, etc. 5 the stoppage of an electricity supply, etc. 6 slang one's share of the profits. 7 a piece of meat cut from an animal. 8 the style in which clothes or hair are cut. 9 a sarcastic remark. 10 a refusal to recognize someone; a snub. 11 a short cut. 12 a channel, passage or canal. • a cut above something colloq superior to it. • cut and dried decided; definite; settled beforehand. • cut and run colloq to escape smartly. • cut and thrust aggressive competition; quick verbal exchange or repartee. • cut both ways to have advantages and disadvantages; to bear out both sides of an argument. • cut someone dead to ignore them completely. • cut it fine colloq to have or leave barely enough time, space, etc for something. • cut it out slang to stop doing something bad or undesirable. • cut out for or to be something having the qualities needed for it. • cut something short to reduce or shorten it. • cut someone short to silence them by interrupting. • cut up colloq distressed; upset. • cut up rough colloq to get angry and violent. • cut a long story short to come straight to the point. • half cut Brit slang drunk. ⊙ 13c as cutten.

■ cut across something 1 to go against (normal procedure, etc). 2 said of an issue, etc: to be more important than, or transcend (the barriers or divisions between parties, etc). 3 to take a short cut through it, eg a field, etc.

■ cut back on something to reduce spending, etc. See also CUTBACK.

■ cut something down to fell a tree, etc.

■ cut down on something to reduce one's use of it; to do less of it.

■ cut in 1 to interrupt. 2 said of a vehicle: to overtake and squeeze in front of another vehicle.

■ cut something off 1 to separate or isolate it. 2 to stop (the supply of gas, electricity, etc). 3 to stop it or cut it short. See also CUT-OFF.

■ cut someone off to disconnect them during a telephone call.

■ cut out 1 said of an engine, etc: to stop working. 2 said of an electrical device: to switch off or stop automatically, usually as a safety precaution. See also CUT-OUT.

■ cut something out 1 to remove or delete it. 2 to clip pictures, etc out of a magazine, etc. 3 colloq to stop doing it. 4 to exclude it from consideration. 5 to block out the light or view. See also CUT-OUT.

■ cut someone up said of the driver of a vehicle: to drive in front of (another vehicle) in a dangerous manner.

cutaway ▷ adj 1 said of a diagram, etc: having outer parts omitted so as to show the interior. 2 said of a coat: with the front part cut away from below the waist. ▷ noun, film-making a move away from the main action of the scene.

cutback ▷ noun a reduction in spending, use of resources, etc. See also CUT BACK at CUT.

cute ▷ adj, colloq 1 attractive; pretty. 2 clever; cunning; shrewd. ● cutely adverb. ● cuteness noun. ⓘ 18c: shortened from ACUTE.

cut glass ▷ noun glassware decorated with patterns cut into its surface.

cuticle /ˈkjuːtɪkəl/ ▷ noun 1 anatomy the EPIDERMIS, especially the outer layer of cells in hair, and the dead hardened skin at the base of fingernails and toenails. 2 bot the waxy, waterproof, protective layer that covers all the parts of a plant exposed to the air, except for the STOMATA. 3 zool the protective layer of horny non-cellular material that covers the EPIDERMIS of many invertebrates, and forms the EXOSKELETONs of ARTHROPODs. ● cuticular /kjuːˈtɪkjʊlə(r)/ adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin cuticula, diminutive of cutis skin.

cutis /ˈkjuːtɪs/ ▷ noun the anatomical name for the skin. ⓘ 17c: Latin.

cutlass /ˈkʌtləs/ ▷ noun (cutlasses) historical a short, broad, slightly curved sword with one cutting edge. ⓘ 16c: from French coutelas, from Latin cultellus, diminutive of culter knife.

cutler /ˈkʌtlə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who manufactures and sells cutlery. ⓘ 14c: from French coutelier, ultimately from Latin culter knife.

cutlery /ˈkʌtlərɪ/ ▷ noun 1 knives, forks and spoons used to eat food. 2 implements for cutting in general. 3 the business of a cutler.

cutlet /ˈkʌtlət/ ▷ noun 1 a a small piece of meat with a bone attached, usually cut from a rib or the neck; b a piece of food in this shape, not necessarily containing meat □ nut cutlet. 2 a slice of veal. 3 a rissole of minced meat or flaked fish. ⓘ 18c: from French costelette, diminutive of coste rib.

cut-off ▷ noun 1 the point at which something is cut off or separated. 2 a stopping of a flow or supply. 3 (cutoffs) colloq shorts which have been made by cutting jeans to above the knee, usually leaving the edges frayed. See also CUT OFF at CUT.

cut-out ▷ noun 1 something which has been cut out of something else, eg a newspaper clipping. 2 a safety device for breaking an electrical circuit. See also CUT OUT at CUT.

cutter[1] ▷ noun a person or thing that cuts.

cutter[2] ▷ noun 1 a small single-masted sailing ship. 2 a ship's boat, usually powered by sail or oars. 3 a motor launch, sometimes armed. ⓘ 18c.

cut-throat ▷ adj 1 said of competition, etc: very keen and aggressive. 2 murderous. 3 said of a card game: played by three people. ▷ noun 1 a murderer. 2 (also cut-throat razor) a long-bladed razor that folds into its handle.

cutting ▷ noun 1 an extract, article or picture cut from a newspaper, etc. 2 hortic a piece cut from a plant for rooting or grafting. 3 a narrow excavation made through high ground for a road or railway. ▷ adj 1 hurtful; sarcastic □ a cutting comment. 2 said of wind: penetrating.

cutting edge ▷ noun a part or area (of an organization, branch of study, etc) that breaks new ground, effects change and development, etc □ That magazine is always on the cutting edge.

cuttlebone ▷ noun the internal shell of the cuttlefish, often used to supplement the diet of cagebirds, or as a polishing material, etc.

cuttlefish ▷ noun any of numerous species of mollusc related to the squid and octopus, which have a shield-shaped body containing an inner chalky plate, and a small head bearing eight arms and two long tentacles. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cudele + FISH.

cutwater ▷ noun 1 the sharp vertical front edge of a ship's prow. 2 a pointed projection at the base of a bridge support.

CV or cv ▷ abbreviation (CVs) curriculum vitae.

cv ▷ abbreviation cultivar.

CVA ▷ abbreviation cerebrovascular accident, such as a brain haemorrhage.

CVO ▷ abbreviation Commander of the (Royal) Victorian Order.

CVS ▷ abbreviation chorionic villus sampling.

cwm /kuːm/ ▷ noun 1 in Wales: a valley. 2 geol a CIRQUE. ⓘ 19c: Welsh.

CWS ▷ abbreviation Co-operative Wholesale Society.

cwt ▷ abbreviation hundredweight.

CY ▷ abbreviation, IVR Cyprus.

cyan /ˈsaɪən, ˈsaɪan/ ▷ noun 1 a greenish blue colour. 2 printing a blue ink used as a primary colour. ▷ adj cyan-coloured. ⓘ 19c: from Greek kyanos blue.

cyanide /ˈsaɪənaɪd/ ▷ noun 1 any of the poisonous salts of hydrocyanic acid, which contain the CN⁻ ion and smell of bitter almonds, especially potassium cyanide and sodium cyanide, which are extremely toxic and rapidly cause death. 2 the negatively charged CN⁻ ion, which is highly poisonous because of its ability to prevent uptake of oxygen by the respiratory pigment haemoglobin in the blood. ⓘ 19c: CYAN + -IDE.

cyanite see KYANITE.

cyano- /ˈsaɪənoʊ, saɪˈanoʊ/ or (before a vowel) cyan- /saɪˈan/ ▷ combining form, denoting 1 blue or dark blue. 2 cyanide. 3 cyanogen. ⓘ From Greek kyanos blue.

cyanobacteria ▷ plural noun blue-green algae. ⓘ 1970s: CYANO- 1 + BACTERIA.

cyanocobalamin /saɪənoʊkoʊˈbaləmɪn/ ▷ noun VITAMIN B_{12}. ⓘ 20c: from CYANIDE + COBALT + VITAMIN.

cyanogen /saɪˈanədʒən/ ▷ noun, chem (formula NCCN) a compound of carbon and nitrogen, consisting of a colourless inflammable poisonous gas with a smell of bitter almonds. ⓘ 19c: from French cyanogène.

cyanosis /saɪəˈnoʊsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol a bluish discoloration of the skin usually caused by lack of oxygen in the blood. ● cyanosed adj said of the skin: showing symptoms typical of cyanosis. ● cyanotic /-ˈnɒtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c.

cyber- ▷ combining form denoting computers or computer networks, especially the INTERNET □ cyberspace □ cybercafé □ cyberbabble. ⓘ From cybernetic.

cybercafé ▷ noun a café equipped with Internet terminals. ⓘ 1990s.

cybernetics /saɪbəˈnɛtɪks/ ▷ singular noun the comparative study of communication and automatic control processes in mechanical or electronic systems, eg machines or computers, and biological systems, eg the nervous system of animals, especially humans. ● cybernetic adj. ⓘ 1940s: from Greek kybernetes steersman.

cyberpet ▷ noun an electronic device that simulates the behaviour and requirements of a pet. Also called virtual pet. ⓘ 1990s.

cyberpunk ▷ noun a genre of science fiction depicting a society rigidly controlled by computer networks and the actions of hackers who rebel against it. ⓘ 20c: from CYBER- + PUNK 1.

cybersex ▷ noun sexual activity or information available through computer networks. ⓘ 1990s.

cyberspace ▷ noun 1 the three-dimensional artificial environment of virtual reality, generated by computer, that gives the user the impression of actually being within the environment and physically interacting with it. See also VIRTUAL REALITY. 2 the space in which electronic communication takes place over computer networks. ⓘ 20c: from CYBER- + SPACE.

cycad /ˈsaɪkad/ ▷ noun a tropical or subtropical GYMNOSPERM, more closely resembling a palm than a conifer, with an unbranched trunk covered with the remains of old leaf bases and a crown of tough leathery leaves. ⓘ 19c: from Latin cycas from Greek kykas a scribal error for koikas, from koix Egyptian doum-palm.

cyclamate /ˈsɪkləmeɪt, ˈsaɪ-/ ▷ noun (cyclamates) any of a number of sweet chemical compounds formerly used as sweetening agents. ⓘ 20c: from cyclohexylsulphamate, an invented chemical name.

cyclamen /ˈsɪkləmən/ ▷ noun 1 a perennial plant with heart-shaped leaves growing from a corm, and white, pink or red flowers with turned-back petals. 2 a dark reddish-purple colour, characteristic of the pink or red cyclamen. ▷ adj cyclamen-coloured. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek kyklaminos probably from kyklos circle, in reference to the bulbous roots.

cycle /ˈsaɪkəl/ ▷ noun 1 a constantly repeating series of events or processes. 2 a recurring period of years; an age. 3 physics one of a regularly repeated set of similar changes, eg in the movement of a wave, with the duration of one cycle being equal to the PERIOD (noun 10) of the motion, and the rate at which a cycle is repeated per unit time being equal to its FREQUENCY (noun 3). 4 a series of poems, songs, plays, etc centred on a particular person or happening. 5 short for a BICYCLE; b MOTORCYCLE; c TRICYCLE. ▷ verb (cycled, cycling) 1 tr & intr to ride a bicycle. 2 intr to happen in cycles. ⓘ 14c: from Greek kyklos circle.

cycle path and cycleway ▷ noun, chiefly Brit a BIKEWAY.

cyclic /ˈsaɪklɪk, ˈsɪklɪk/ and cyclical ▷ adj 1 relating to, containing, or moving in a cycle. 2 recurring in cycles. 3 arranged in a ring or rings. 4 chem an organic chemical compound whose molecules contain one or more closed rings of atoms, eg benzene. ● cyclically adverb.

cyclist /ˈsaɪklɪst/ ▷ noun the rider of a bicycle, motorcycle, etc.

cyclo- /saɪkloʊ/ or (before a vowel) cycl- ▷ combining form, denoting 1 circle; ring; cycle □ cyclometer. 2 chem cyclic compound □ cyclopropane. 3 bicycle. ⓘ From Greek kyklos circle.

cyclo-cross ▷ noun a cross-country bicycle race, during which the bicycles have to be carried over natural obstacles. ⓘ 20c.

cycloid /ˈsaɪklɔɪd/ ▷ noun, geom the curve traced by a point on the circumference of a circle as the circle rolls along a straight line. ▷ adj resembling a circle. ● cycloidal adj.

cyclometer /saɪˈklɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a device for recording the revolutions of a wheel, used on a bicycle to measure the distance travelled. ⓘ 19c.

cyclone /ˈsaɪkloʊn/ ▷ noun 1 meteorol (also depression or low) an area of low atmospheric pressure, often associated with stormy weather, in which winds spiral inward towards a central low, blowing in an anticlockwise direction in the northern hemisphere and a clockwise direction in the southern hemisphere. Compare ANTICYCLONE. 2 a violent tropical storm accompanied by torrential rain and extremely strong winds, often causing widespread destruction. ● cyclonic /saɪˈklɒnɪk/ adj. ● cyclonically adverb. ⓘ 19c: from Greek kyklon a whirling round.

cyclopedia or cyclopaedia /saɪkloʊˈpiːdɪə/ ▷ noun (cyclopedias) an ENCYCLOPEDIA.

cyclopropane ▷ noun a colourless hydrocarbon, often used as an anaesthetic. ⓘ 19c.

cyclorama /saɪkləˈrɑːmə/ ▷ noun (cycloramas) 1 a large picture painted on to a cylindrical wall which is designed so that people viewing it from the middle of the room see it in its natural perspective. 2 in theatre scenery: a curved background stretching along the back of the stage which is painted so as to represent the sky, thus giving the impression of distance. ⓘ 19c: from CYCLO- 1 + Greek horama view.

cyclostyle /ˈsaɪkloʊstaɪl/ ▷ noun (cyclostyles) 1 a pen with a small toothed wheel attached to it, which cuts holes into a specially prepared stencil. 2 a duplicating machine that reproduces copies from such a stencil. ▷ verb (cyclostyled, cyclostyling) to reproduce by means of a such a stencil. ⓘ 19c: from CYCLO-1 + Latin stylus writing tool.

cyclotron /ˈsaɪkloʊtrɒn/ ▷ noun, physics a circular type of PARTICLE ACCELERATOR. ⓘ 20c.

cyder see CIDER.

cygnet /ˈsɪɡnət/ ▷ noun a young swan. See also COB[1] (sense 2), PEN[4]. ⓘ 15c: from Latin cygnus swan.

Cygnus /ˈsɪɡnəs/ ▷ noun, astron a large northern constellation that contains Cygnus A, a double galaxy that is one of the strongest radio sources in the sky, and Cygnus X-1, an intense X-ray source. Also called the Swan.

cylinder /ˈsɪlɪndə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 geom a solid figure of uniform circular cross-section, in which the curved surface is at right angles to the base. 2 a container, machine part or other object of this shape, eg a storage container for compressed gas. 3 engineering in an internal combustion engine: the tubular cylinder within which the chemical energy of the burning fuel is converted to the mechanical energy of a moving piston. ⓘ 16c: from Latin cylindrus from Greek kylindros roller, from kylindein to roll.

cylindrical /sɪˈlɪndrɪkəl/ or cylindric ▷ adj shaped like a cylinder. ● cylindrically adverb.

cyma /ˈsaɪmə/ and cymatium /saɪˈmeɪʃɪəm/ ▷ noun (cymas, cymae /-miː/ or cymatiums) in classical orders of architecture: an OGEE moulding of the cornice. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek kyma a billow.

cymatics /saɪˈmatɪks/ ▷ singular noun, alternative medicine the therapeutic use of high-frequency sound waves.

cymbal /ˈsɪmbəl/ ▷ noun a thin plate-like brass percussion instrument, either beaten with a drumstick, or used as one of a pair that are struck together to produce a ringing clash. ● cymbalist noun. ⓘ 9c: from Latin cymbalum, from Greek kymbalon, from kymbe something hollow.

cymbidium /sɪmˈbɪdɪəm/ ▷ noun (cybidiums) bot an orchid native to tropical forests which is widely cultivated for its large showy flowers. ⓘ 19c: from Latin cymba boat.

cyme /saɪm/ ▷ noun, bot an INFLORESCENCE in which the main stem and each of its branches ends in a flower, and all subsequent flowers develop from lateral buds arising below the apical flowers. • cymose adj. ⓘ 18c: from Latin cyma, from Greek kyma wave.

Cymric /ˈkʌmrɪk, ˈkɪmrɪk/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Wales, its inhabitants or their language. ⓘ 19c: from Welsh Cymru Wales.

cynic /ˈsɪnɪk/ ▷ noun 1 someone who takes a pessimistic view of human goodness or sincerity. 2 (Cynic) philos a member of a sect of ancient Greek philosophers who scorned wealth and enjoyment of life. ▷ adj another word for CYNICAL. ⓘ 16c: from Latin cynicus, from Greek kynikos dog-like, from kyon, kynos dog.

cynical /ˈsɪnɪkəl/ ▷ adj disinclined to believe in the goodness or sincerity of others. • cynically adverb.

cynical, sceptical

Note that a cynical person is suspicious of apparently good things and people, whereas a person who is sceptical about something is cautious about believing or accepting it.

cynicism /ˈsɪnɪsɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 the attitude, beliefs or behaviour of a cynic. 2 a cynical act, remark, etc.

cynosure /ˈsaɪnəʃuə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the focus of attention; the centre of attraction. 2 something which acts as a guide. ⓘ 16c: from Greek Kynosoura dog's tail, ie the Ursa Minor constellation, used as a guide by sailors.

cypher see CIPHER

cypress /ˈsaɪprəs/ ▷ noun 1 a a slim, dark-green coniferous tree, sometimes associated with death and mourning; b the wood of this tree. 2 a branch or sprig of cypress carried as a symbol of mourning at a funeral. 3 any similar kind of tree. ⓘ 13c: from French cypres, from Latin cypressus, from Greek kyparissos.

Cypriot /ˈsɪprɪət/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Cyprus, an island republic in the NE Mediterranean, its inhabitants, or their dialect. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Cyprus. 2 the dialect of Greek spoken in Cyprus.

Cyrillic /səˈrɪlɪk, sɪ-/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to the alphabet used for Russian, Bulgarian and other Slavonic languages. ⓘ 19c: named after St Cyril who was said to have devised it.

cyst /sɪst/ ▷ noun 1 pathol an abnormal sac that contains fluid, semi-solid material or gas. 2 anatomy any normal sac or closed cavity. 3 biol a tough outer membrane which surrounds certain organisms, eg bacteria, protozoa, etc, during the resting stage in their life cycle, thus protecting them from unfavourable environmental conditions. ⓘ 18c: from Greek kystis bladder or pouch.

cysteine /ˈsɪstiːn, -tɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem an amino acid found in many proteins.

cystic ▷ adj 1 relating to or like a cyst. 2 being enclosed within or having a cyst. 3 belonging or relating to the gall bladder or urinary bladder.

cystic fibrosis ▷ noun, pathol a hereditary disease in which the exocrine glands (see EXOCRINE adj 2) produce abnormally thick mucus that blocks the bronchi, pancreas and intestinal glands, causing recurring bronchitis and other respiratory problems.

cystine /ˈsɪstiːn/ ▷ noun, biochem an amino acid that is found in proteins, especially KERATIN.

cystitis /sɪˈstaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol inflammation of the urinary bladder which is usually caused by bacterial infection and is characterized by a desire to pass urine frequently, and pain or a burning sensation when passing urine.

-cyte /saɪt/ ▷ combining form, denoting a cell ▫ erythrocyte ▫ lymphocyte. ⓘ From Greek kytos vessel.

cyto- /ˈsaɪtoʊ/ ▷ combining form, denoting a cell ▫ cytoplasm. ⓘ From Greek kytos vessel.

cytochrome ▷ noun, biochem in the cells of living organisms: any of a group of substances that play an important role in the breakdown of carbohydrates to release energy. ⓘ 20c.

cytogenetics ▷ singular noun, genetics the scientific study of the relationship between inheritance and cell structure, especially the origin, structure and function of CHROMOSOMES, and their effects on inheritance in populations. ⓘ 20c.

cytokinesis ▷ noun, genetics during the last stages of MITOSIS: the division of the CYTOPLASM of the cell into two parts, resulting in the formation of two daughter cells.

cytokinin /saɪtoʊˈkaɪnɪn/ ▷ noun, bot KININ. ⓘ 20c.

cytology /saɪˈtɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the scientific study of the structure and function of individual cells, especially as revealed by examination with a microscope. 2 the detailed structure of a particular plant or animal tissue as revealed by examination with a microscope. • cytological adj. • cytologist noun. ⓘ 19c.

cytoplasm /ˈsaɪtoʊplazəm/ ▷ noun, biol the part of a living cell, excluding the NUCLEUS (sense 2), that is enclosed by the cell membrane and which contains a range of ORGANELLES. • cytoplasmic /-ˈplazmɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: from CYTO- + Greek plasma body.

cytosine /ˈsaɪtoʊsiːn/ ▷ noun, biochem a base, derived from PYRIMIDINE, which is one of the four bases found in NUCLEIC ACID. See also ADENINE, GUANINE, THYMINE. ⓘ 19c.

cytoskeleton ▷ noun, biol in the cytoplasm of a living cell: a network of protein filaments that forms the structural framework of the cell, and is also responsible for the movement of cytoplasm from one part of the cell to another.

cytosol /ˈsaɪtoʊsɒl/ ▷ noun, biol the soluble component of the cytoplasm.

cytotoxic ▷ adj, biol describing any agent, especially a drug, that destroys or prevents the division of cells, and is used in chemotherapy to treat various forms of cancer. ⓘ 20c.

cytotoxin ▷ noun any substance that has a destructive effect on living cells. ⓘ 20c.

czar, etc see TSAR, etc

Czech /tʃɛk/ ▷ adj a belonging or relating to the Czech Republic, a landlocked republic in E Europe, or to its inhabitants or their language; b formerly, from 1918 to 1993 belonging or relating to Czechoslovakia, its inhabitants, or their language; c historical belonging or relating to Bohemia or Moravia, their inhabitants, or their language. ▷ noun 1 a a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, the Czech Republic; b formerly a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Czechoslovakia; c an inhabitant of, or person born in, Bohemia or Moravia. 2 the official language of the Czech Republic. ⓘ 19c: Polish.

D

D[1] or d /diː/ ▷ noun (Ds, D's or d's) 1 the fourth letter of the English alphabet. 2 (D) music a the second note on the scale of C major; b the musical key which has this note as its base. 3 (usually D) the fourth highest grade or quality, or the mark indicating this. 4 (D) the D-shaped mark on a billiards table.

D[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 especially US Democrat. 2 IVR: Deutschland (German), Germany. 3 cards diamonds. 4 physics electric displacement. See also 3-D (at THREE).

D[3] ▷ symbol 1 the Roman numeral for 500. 2 chem deuterium.

d ▷ abbreviation 1 daughter. 2 day. 3 dead. 4 deci-. 5 degree. 6 delete. 7 denarius (Latin); (in the UK before 1971) a penny, or pence. Compare S. 8 depth. 9 diameter. 10 died.

'd ▷ contraction 1 would □ I'd go tomorrow. 2 had □ He'd gone yesterday. 3 colloq did □ Where'd they go?

DA[1] ▷ noun (DAs or DA's) especially US District Attorney.

DA[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 Diploma in Anaesthetics. 2 Diploma of Art.

da ▷ abbreviation deca-.

dab[1] ▷ verb (dabbed, dabbing) tr & intr (often dab at something) to touch something lightly and usually repeatedly with a cloth, etc. ▷ noun 1 a small amount of something creamy or liquid. 2 a light gentle touch. 3 a gentle blow. 4 (dabs) slang fingerprints. ◷ 14c as verb dabben; probably imitating the sound.

■ dab something on or off to spread it on or to remove it with light touches of a cloth, etc.

dab[2] ▷ noun a small brown European flatfish with rough scales. ◷ 15c: from French dabbe.

dab[3] ▷ noun (usually a dab hand at or with something) an expert. ◷ 17c as dab; 19c as dab hand.

dabble /ˈdabəl/ ▷ verb (dabbled, dabbling) 1 tr & intr to move or shake (one's hand, foot, etc) about in water, especially playfully. 2 intr (often dabble at, in or with something) to do something or study something without serious effort. ▷ noun an act of dabbling. ● dabbler noun someone who dabbles in some activity. ● dabbling adj, noun. ● dabblingly adverb. ◷ 16c: from DAB[1] or Dutch dabbelen.

dabchick ▷ noun the LITTLE GREBE.

da capo /dɑː ˈkɑːpou/ music ▷ adverb (abbreviation DC) an indication to the performer to go back to the beginning of the piece. Also as adj □ the da capo sign. ▷ noun (da capos or da capi /-piː/) a da capo sign, instruction or section. ◷ 18c: Italian, meaning 'from the beginning'.

dace ▷ noun (dace or daces) a small European river fish. ◷ 15c: from French dars dart.

dacha /ˈdatʃə/ ▷ noun (dachas) a country house or cottage in various parts of the former Soviet Union, especially but not exclusively one provided for the use of a person of importance. ◷ 19c: Russian, from dach, originally meaning 'gift', especially one from a ruler.

dachshund /ˈdaksənd, ˈdakshont, ˈdaʃhund/ ▷ noun (dachshunds) a small breed of dog with a long body and very short legs. ◷ 19c: German, from Dachs badger + Hund dog.

dacoit or dakoit /dəˈkɔɪt/ ▷ noun a member of a gang of armed robbers or bandits in India or Burma, especially in the 18c and 19c. ● dacoity noun violent robbery by dacoits. ◷ 18c: from Hindi dakait robber.

Dacron /ˈdakron, ˈdeɪ-/ ▷ noun, US trademark TERYLENE. ◷ 1950s.

dactyl /ˈdaktɪl/ ▷ noun, poetry a metrical foot consisting of one long or stressed syllable followed by two short or unstressed ones. ● dactylic /dakˈtɪlɪk/ adj. ● dactylically adverb. ◷ 14c: from Greek daktylos finger, from the similarity between the lengths of the syllables in a dactyl and the lengths of the bones in a finger (one long and two short).

dad ▷ noun, colloq father. ◷ 16c: from the sound da da made by a baby.

Dada /ˈdɑːdɑː/ and Dadaism /ˈdɑːdɑːɪzəm/ art & literature ▷ noun a short-lived movement, from 1916 to c.1920, which aimed to abandon all form and throw off all tradition. ● Dadaist /ˈdɑːdɑːɪst/ noun. ● Dadaistic adj. ◷ 20c: from French dada hobby-horse.

daddy /ˈdadɪ/ ▷ noun (daddies) colloq 1 father. 2 the oldest, biggest, best, worst, etc, example of something □ a real daddy of a thunderstorm. ◷ 16c: from DAD.

daddy-long-legs ▷ noun (plural daddy-long-legs) 1 Brit, Austral, NZ colloq a CRANEFLY. 2 N Amer a HARVESTMAN.

dado /ˈdeɪdou/ ▷ noun (dadoes or dados) 1 the lower part of the wall of a room when decorated differently from the upper part, often consisting of panelling. 2 archit the plain square part of the base of a column or pedestal. ◷ 17c: Italian, meaning 'dice'.

daemon /ˈdiːmən, ˈdeɪ-/ or daimon /ˈdeɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 a spirit regarded as halfway between gods and men. 2 a spirit which guards a place or takes care of or helps a person. Also occasionally called DEMON. ● daemonic /diːˈmonɪk, dɪ-/ or daimonic /-deɪˈmonɪk/ adj. ◷ 16c: from Greek daimon.

daff ▷ noun, colloq a DAFFODIL (senses 1, 2). ◷ Early 20c.

daffodil /ˈdafədɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a yellow narcissus, occurring naturally in many parts of Europe, now much cultivated in many varieties varying widely in colour and shape. 2 the flower of this plant. 3 a yellow colour. ▷ adj yellow. ◷ 16c: from 15c affodille; the initial d is unexplained.

daffy[1] ▷ noun (daffies) colloq a DAFFODIL (senses 1, 2). ◷ 18c.

daffy[2] ▷ adj (daffier, daffiest) daft; crazy. ◷ 19c: from obsolete English daff to play the fool.

DAFS ▷ abbreviation Department of Agriculture and Fisheries for Scotland.

daft /dɑːft/ ▷ adj, colloq 1 silly or foolish. 2 insane or mad. ● daftie noun (dafties) a daft person; an imbecile. ● daftly adverb. ● daftness noun. ● daft about or on something enthusiastic about it or keen on it. ◷ Anglo-Saxon gedæfte meek or mild.

dag[1] /dag/ ▷ noun 1 a dirt- or dung-clotted tuft of wool on a sheep. Also called daglock. 2 Austral colloq a scruffy, untidy, slovenly person. 3 Austral colloq someone, especially an adolescent, who is or feels socially awkward or graceless. ▷ verb (dagged, dagging) to cut away the dags from (a sheep). ◷ 17c.

dag[2] /dag/ ▷ noun, Austral & NZ colloq someone who is rather eccentric or comically entertaining. See also DAG[1]. ◷ Early 20c: from British dialect dag a dare.

dagga /ˈdagə/ ▷ noun Indian hemp (also called true dagga), or other forms of hemp, smoked as a narcotic. ⓘ 17c: Afrikaans, from Hottentot dagab.

dagger ▷ noun 1 a knife or short sword with a pointed end, used for stabbing. 2 printing the symbol †, used as a reference mark. ● at daggers drawn openly showing anger or dislike and on the point of fighting. ● look daggers at someone to give them a fierce or angry look. ⓘ 14c: possibly from obsolete dag to pierce or stab; compare French dague, literally 'long dagger'.

daggerboard ▷ noun, naut a light, narrow, completely removable CENTREBOARD.

dagging present participle of DAG[1] daggy /ˈdagɪ/ ▷ adj (daggier, daggiest) Austral & NZ colloq scruffy; dishevelled. ⓘ 1920s: from DAG[2].

daglock see under DAG[2]

dago /ˈdeɪgoʊ/ ▷ noun (dagoes) offensive someone, usually a man, of Spanish, Portuguese, Italian or S American origin. ⓘ 19c: probably from Spanish Diego James.

daguerreotype /dəˈgɛroʊtaɪp/ ▷ noun 1 an early type of photography invented by Louis Daguerre (1789–1851), which used mercury vapour to develop an exposure of silver iodide on a copper plate. 2 a photograph made by this method. ⓘ 19c.

dahl see DAL

dahlia /ˈdeɪlɪə/ ▷ noun (dahlias) bot a garden plant with large brightly coloured flowers, some varieties having ball-like heads with many petals. ⓘ 19c: named after the 18c Swedish botanist Anders Dahl.

Dáil /dɔɪl/ and Dáil Éireann / — ˈɛərən/ ▷ noun the lower house of the parliament of the Republic of Ireland. ⓘ Early 20c: Irish, from Dáil assembly + Éireann of Ireland.

daily ▷ adj 1 happening, appearing, etc every day, or every day except Sunday, or now often every day except Saturday and Sunday. 2 relating to a single day. ▷ adverb every day; every weekday. ▷ noun (dailies) 1 a newspaper published every day except Sunday. 2 colloq a person, usually a woman, who is paid to come in and clean and tidy a house regularly, but not necessarily every day. 3 (dailies) cinemato the RUSHES. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dæglic.

daily bread ▷ noun the money, food, etc one needs to live; one's living.

daily double ▷ noun, horse-racing, betting a single bet on the winners of two races on the same day.

daily dozen ▷ noun, old colloq physical exercises performed every day for the sake of one's health. ⓘ Early 20c.

daimon and daimonic see under DAEMON dainty /ˈdeɪntɪ/ ▷ adj (daintier, daintiest) 1 small and pretty, and, usually, delicate. 2 small and neat. 3 said of food: particularly nice to eat. 4 often derog very, or excessively, careful and sensitive about what one does or says. ▷ noun (dainties) something small and nice to eat, especially a small cake or sweet. ● daintily adverb. ● daintiness noun. 13c as deintie: from French daintie worthiness.

daiquiri /ˈdaɪkɪrɪ, ˈda-/ ▷ noun (daiquiris) a drink made with rum, lime juice and sugar. ⓘ 20c: named after Daiquiri in Cuba.

dairy /ˈdɛərɪ/ ▷ noun (dairies) 1 a the building on a farm where milk is cooled and temporarily stored; b now rather rare the building on a farm where butter and cheese are made. 2 a commercial processing plant or factory that processes, bottles and distributes milk, and manufactures other dairy products. 3 a company that runs such an enterprise. 4 a shop which sells milk and other dairy produce. ⓘ 13c as deierie, from Anglo-Saxon dæge dairymaid.

dairy cattle ▷ noun, agric cows that are kept to produce milk, and to rear calves in order to maintain a dairy herd. Compare BEEF CATTLE.

dairy farm ▷ noun a farm which specializes in producing milk. ⓘ 19c.

dairy farmer ▷ noun a farmer keeping or working a dairy farm.

dairying ▷ noun 1 keeping a dairy farm. 2 producing and processing dairy products. ⓘ 17c.

dairymaid ▷ noun, historical a MILKMAID. ⓘ 16c.

dairyman and dairywoman ▷ noun 1 someone who looks after the dairy cows on a farm. 2 someone who works in a dairy or deals in dairy products. ⓘ 18c as -man; 17c as -woman.

dairy products ▷ plural noun milk and its derivatives, eg butter, cheese, yoghurt.

dais /deɪs, ˈdeɪɪs/ ▷ noun (daisies) a raised platform in a hall, eg for speakers at a meeting. ⓘ 13c: from French deis, from Latin discus a table.

daisy /ˈdeɪzɪ/ ▷ noun (daisies) 1 any of various common wild and cultivated flowering plants belonging to the sunflower family. 2 the common daisy, which has a flowerhead with a yellow centre consisting of many tiny flowers, surrounded by white BRACTS; a common lawn weed in Europe. ● fresh as a daisy bright, vigorous and enthusiastic. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dæges eage day's eye.

daisy-chain ▷ noun a string of daisies each threaded through the stem of the next. ⓘ 19c.

daisy-cutter ▷ noun 1 a horse that does not lift its feet high. 2 cricket a bowled ball that skims along the ground. ⓘ 18c in sense 1; 19c in sense 2.

daisy-wheel ▷ noun in a typewriter, etc a metal disc divided into separate spokes, each with a letter of the alphabet at the end, the disc rotating so that the letter printed corresponds to the letter struck on the keyboard. ⓘ 1970s.

dal, dahl or dhal /dɑːl/ ▷ noun 1 any of various edible dried split pea-like seeds. 2 a cooked dish made of any of these seeds. ⓘ 17c: from Hindi dal to split.

dalai lama /ˈdalaɪ —/ ▷ noun the head of the Tibetan Buddhist hierarchy. ⓘ 17c: Mongolian dalai ocean + LAMA.

dale /deɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a valley, especially one in the North of England. 2 (the Dales) the Yorkshire Dales or other dales of the north of England. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dæl.

Dalek /ˈdɑːlɛk/ ▷ noun a mobile mechanical creature with a harsh staccato voice. ⓘ 1960s: created for the BBC television series Dr Who.

dalesman /ˈdeɪlzmən/ ▷ noun a man belonging to the dales of the north of England, especially Yorkshire. ⓘ 18c.

Dalit /ˈdɑːlɪt/ ▷ noun a member of the former UNTOUCHABLE class in India. ⓘ Hindi.

dalliance /ˈdalɪəns/ ▷ noun idle wasting of time. ⓘ 16c in this sense; 14c as dalyaunce with obsolete meaning 'chat' or 'conversation'.

dally /ˈdalɪ/ ▷ verb (dallies, dallied, dallying) intr 1 to waste time idly or frivolously. 2 (often dally with someone) old use to flirt with them. ⓘ 14c, originally meaning 'to chat, to amuse oneself with someone or something': from French dalier to chat.

Dalmatian /dalˈmeɪʃən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Dalmatia in Croatia, or its inhabitants. ▷ noun 1 an inhabitant of, or person born in, Dalmatia. 2 a large short-haired breed of dog, white with dark spots. ⓘ 17c as adj; 16c as noun 1; 19c as noun 2.

dalmatic /dalˈmatɪk/ ▷ noun a loose-fitting, wide-sleeved, ecclesiastical vestment, worn especially by deacons of the RC church, also sometimes by bishops. ⓘ 15c: from Latin dalmatica vestis a robe made of Dalmatian wool.

dal segno /dal 'senjou/ ▷ adverb, music (abbreviation DS) an indication that the performer must go back to the sign 𝄋. ⓘ 19c: Italian, meaning 'from the sign'.

dalton /'dɔːltən, 'dɒl-/ ▷ noun, chem ATOMIC MASS UNIT. ⓘ 1930s: named after the UK chemist John Dalton (1766–1844).

Daltonism¹ or daltonism /'dɔːltənɪzəm, 'dɒl-/ ▷ noun colour-blindness, especially confusion between red and green. ⓘ 19c: from French daltonisme, named after UK scientist John Dalton (1766–1844), who described his own symptoms.

Daltonism² /'dɔːltənɪzəm, 'dɒl-/ ▷ noun, education a school method by which each pupil pursues separately in their own way a course divided into monthly instalments, designed to suit each individual. Also called the Dalton plan. ⓘ 20c: first tried in 1920 at Dalton, Massachusetts.

Dalton's law of partial pressures ▷ noun, chem a law which states that, in a mixture of gases, the pressure exerted by each gas is the same as that which it would exert if it were the only gas present.

DALY ▷ abbreviation disability adjusted life year, a statistical measure used to calculate the number of healthy years lost in an average life-span through premature death or disability.

dam¹ ▷ noun 1 a barrier built to contain water and prevent flooding. 2 the water confined behind such a structure, often forming a lake or reservoir, used for irrigation, as a source of drinking water and for provision of hydroelectric power. ▷ verb (dammed, damming) to hold back (water, etc) with a dam. ⓘ 14c: probably Dutch.

dam² ▷ noun said of horses, cattle and sheep: a female parent. ⓘ 14c in this sense; 13c, meaning 'DAME'.

damage /'damɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 harm or injury, or loss caused by injury. 2 (damages) law payment due for loss or injury caused by another person, organization, etc. ▷ verb (damaged, damaging) to cause harm, injury or loss to someone or something. ● damageability noun. ● damageable adj. ● damaged adj harmed; injured; broken. ● damaging adj having a bad effect on a person's reputation. ● damagingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin damnum loss.

damascene /'daməsiːn, -'siːn/ ▷ noun 1 (Damascene) a citizen or inhabitant of, or a person born in, Damascus in Syria. 2 a inlay of metal, especially gold, or of other materials, on steel, etc; b an article of such work. 3 the structure or surface appearance of DAMASCUS STEEL. ▷ verb (damascened, damascening) 1 to decorate (especially steel) by inlaying or encrusting. 2 to ornament something with the watered or wavy appearance of DAMASCUS STEEL, or in imitation of it. ⓘ 14c: from Latin Damascenus Damascus, famous for its steel and silk work.

Damascus steel /də'maskəs —/ ▷ noun a hard steel, repeatedly folded and hammered giving a wavy surface pattern.

damask /'daməsk/ ▷ noun 1 a type of cloth, originally silk, now usually linen, with a pattern woven into it, often used for tablecloths, curtains, etc. 2 table linen of this fabric. 3 DAMASCUS STEEL or its surface appearance. 4 the colour of a DAMASK ROSE. ▷ adj greyish-pink or greyish-red. ⓘ 14c: named after Damascus in Syria, where such cloth was made.

damask plum ▷ noun the DAMSON. ⓘ 17c.

damask rose ▷ noun a sweet-smelling pink or red variety of rose. ⓘ 16c.

dame ▷ noun 1 a woman who has been awarded the highest or second-highest class of distinction in any of four British orders of chivalry, or honours for service or merit awarded by the Queen or the Government. See also KNIGHT. 2 N Amer slang a woman. 3 a comic female character in a pantomime, usually played by a man. ⓘ 13c, originally meaning 'a female ruler' or 'woman of importance': French, from Latin domina lady.

damfool /'damfuːl/ ▷ adj stupid; ridiculous. ⓘ 19c: from DAMN + FOOL.

dammed and damming see under DAM¹ dammit /'damɪt/ ▷ exclamation damn it! ● as near as dammit see under NEAR. ⓘ 19c.

damn /dam/ ▷ verb (damned /damd/, damning /'damɪŋ/) 1 relig to sentence someone to never-ending punishment in hell. 2 to declare someone or something to be useless or worthless. 3 to suggest or prove the guiltiness of someone. ▷ exclamation (often damn it) expressing annoyance or disappointment. ▷ adj, colloq used for emphasis: annoying; hateful □ the damn cold. ▷ adverb, colloq used for emphasis □ It's damn cold. ● damning adj 1 very critical. 2 proving or suggesting guilt. ● as near as damn it see under NEAR. ● be damned if one will do something colloq to refuse to do it. ● damn all colloq nothing at all. ● damn someone or something with faint praise to praise them or it so unenthusiastically as to seem disapproving. ● not give a damn colloq not to care at all. ⓘ 13c: from Latin damnare to condemn.

damnable /'damnəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 hateful; awful; deserving to be condemned. 2 annoying. ● damnability or damnableness noun. ● damnably adverb annoyingly; very. ⓘ 14c.

damnation /dam'neɪʃən/ ▷ noun, relig 1 never-ending punishment in hell. 2 the act of condemning or the state of being condemned to such punishment. ▷ exclamation expressing annoyance or disappointment. ⓘ 14c.

damnatory /'damnətərɪ/ ▷ adj bringing or incurring damnation. ⓘ 17c.

damned /damd, poetry 'damnɪd/ ▷ adj (superlative damnedest /'damdəst/) 1 relig sentenced to damnation. 2 colloq annoying, hateful, etc. 3 (the damned) those sentenced to everlasting punishment (see THE 4b). See also DAMN. ▷ adverb, colloq extremely; very □ damned cold. ● do one's damnedest colloq to do one's utmost; to try as hard as possible.

damnify /'damnɪfaɪ/ law ▷ verb (damnifies, damnified, damnifying) to cause loss or damage to someone. ● damnification /damnɪfɪ'keɪʃən/ noun infliction of injury or loss. ⓘ 16c: from Latin damnificare to injure or condemn.

damp ▷ adj (damper, dampest) slightly wet. ▷ noun 1 slight wetness, eg in walls or the air, especially if cold and unpleasant. 2 mining any gas other than air. See also FIREDAMP. ▷ verb (damped, damping) 1 to make something slightly wet. 2 music to press (the strings, or a string, of an instrument) to stop or lessen vibration. ● dampish adj. ● dampishness noun. ● damply adverb. ● dampness noun. ⓘ 16c in modern senses; 15c, meaning 'harmful vapour': from German Dampf steam.

■ damp something down 1 to make (emotions, interest, etc) less strong. 2 to make (a fire) burn more slowly.

damp-course and damp-proof course ▷ noun a horizontal layer of material in a wall of a building, usually near the ground, which stops damp rising up through the wall. ⓘ 19c.

dampen ▷ verb (dampened, dampening) 1 to make something slightly wet. 2 tr & intr (usually dampen down) said of emotions, interest, etc: to make or become less strong. ● dampener noun. ⓘ 16c.

■ dampen something down 1 to make (emotions, interest, etc) less strong. 2 to make (a fire) burn more slowly.

damper ▷ noun 1 something which lessens enthusiasm, interest, etc. 2 a movable plate which allows the flow of air to a fire etc, to be controlled so that the amount of heat may be altered. 3 physics a device for diminishing the amplitude of vibrations or oscillations. 4 music a MUTE (noun 5) on a piano. 5 music in a piano, harpsichord, etc: a pad which silences a note after it has been played. ● put a damper on something to lessen enthusiasm for it or interest in it. ⓘ 18c.

damp-proof ▷ adj said of a material, substance, structure: not allowing wetness to get through. ▷ verb, building to make something damp-proof.

damp squib ▷ noun a disappointingly uninteresting or unsuccessful event.

damsel /ˈdamzəl/ ▷ noun, old use or literary a girl or young woman. ⓘ 16c in this form; 13c as damaysele: from French dameisele.

damselfish ▷ noun one of various small brightly coloured tropical fish.

damselfly ▷ noun a large predatory insect with a long body and two pairs of slender wings which are typically held together over the abdomen when at rest. ⓘ 19c.

damson /ˈdamzən/ ▷ noun 1 a small purple plum. 2 the tree it grows on. ⓘ 16c: from Latin Damascenum of Damascus in Syria.

damson cheese ▷ noun a solid preserve produced from damsons and sugar.

Dan. ▷ abbreviation 1 Book of the Bible: Daniel. See table at BIBLE. 2 Danish.

dan¹ ▷ noun 1 any of the ten grades of BLACK BELT awarded for particular levels of skill in judo, karate, etc. 2 someone who has achieved such a grade. ⓘ 20c: Japanese.

dan² and dan buoy ▷ noun a small sea marker-buoy. ⓘ 17c.

dance /dɑːns/ ▷ verb (danced, dancing) 1 intr to make a usually repeated series of rhythmic steps or movements (usually in time to music). 2 to perform (a particular series of such steps or movements) ◻ dance a waltz. 3 intr (usually dance about or around) to move or jump quickly up and down or from side to side. 4 to bounce (a baby), usually on one's knee. ▷ noun 1 a series of fixed steps, usually made in time to music. 2 a social gathering at which people dance. 3 a piece of music played for dancing. 4 as adj ◻ dance-band ◻ dance music. ● danceable adj. ● dancer noun someone who dances, especially professionally. ● dancing noun. ● dance attendance on someone derog to follow them closely and do whatever they want. ● dance to someone's tune to do exactly what they want or expect. ● lead someone a merry dance to involve them in unnecessary difficulties and exertions. ⓘ 13c: from French danser to dance.

dance music ▷ noun 1 any music that can be danced to. 2 music, such as ACID HOUSE, HIP-HOP, TECHNO, etc, created and recorded for dancing to in clubs.

D and C ▷ abbreviation, medicine DILATATION AND CURETTAGE.

dandelion /ˈdandɪlaɪən/ ▷ noun a perennial plant, widespread in most temperate regions, producing single yellow flowerheads on hollow stems containing white latex sap and having a rosette of deeply notched leaves. ⓘ 15c: from French dent de lion lion's tooth, referring to the leaves.

dandelion clock ▷ noun the round white fluffy seedhead of the dandelion.

dander /ˈdandə(r)/ ▷ noun (only get one's or someone's dander up) colloq to become angry, or make someone angry. ⓘ 19c.

Dandie Dinmont /ˈdandɪ ˈdɪnmɒnt/ ▷ noun a short-legged rough-coated terrier of Scottish Border origin. ⓘ 19c: from the name of the character in Sir Walter Scott's 'Guy Mannering', whose dogs are represented as the origin of the breed.

dandify /ˈdandɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (dandifies, dandified, dandifying) to dress someone up like a dandy. ⓘ 19c: from DANDY.

dandle /ˈdandəl/ ▷ verb (dandled, dandling) to bounce or dance (usually a small child) on one's knee.

dandruff /ˈdandrʌf/ ▷ noun thin whitish flakes of dead skin shed from the scalp. ⓘ 16c.

dandy /ˈdandɪ/ ▷ noun (dandies) 1 a man who pays a lot of attention to his appearance, dressing very fashionably or elegantly. 2 a DANDY-ROLL. ▷ adj, colloq (dandier, dandiest) good, fine. ● dandily adverb. ● dandyish adj. ● dandyism noun.

dandy-brush ▷ noun a stiff-bristled brush for grooming a horse. ⓘ 19c.

dandy-roll ▷ noun a wire gauze cylinder that impresses the ribs and watermarks on paper. ⓘ 19c.

Dane ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Denmark. 2 historical any of the Vikings from Scandinavia who invaded Britain during the period 9c–11c. See also DANISH, GREAT DANE. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon Dene; later forms influenced by Norse Danir, Danish Daner Danes.

Danelaw /ˈdeɪnlɔː/ ▷ noun the part of England occupied by the Danes during the 9c–11c. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon Dena lagu Danes' law.

danger /ˈdeɪndʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a situation or state in which someone or something may suffer harm, an injury or a loss ◻ in danger of falling. 2 something that may cause harm, injury or loss. 3 a possibility of something unpleasant happening. ● on the danger list medicine so ill or seriously injured that there is a high risk of death. ⓘ 14c in this form; 13c as daunger: from French dangier power, therefore 'power to harm'.

danger money ▷ noun extra money paid to a person for doing a dangerous job.

dangerous ▷ adj likely or able to cause harm or injury. ● dangerously adverb. ● dangerousness noun. ⓘ 13c.

dangle /ˈdaŋgəl/ ▷ verb (dangled, dangling) 1 tr & intr to hang loosely, sometimes swinging or swaying. 2 to offer or present (an idea, a possible reward, etc) to someone. ⓘ 16c: probably originally imitative.

Danish /ˈdeɪnɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to a kingdom of N Europe, Denmark, its inhabitants or their language. 2 belonging or relating to the language spoken in Denmark. 3 (the Danish) the people of Denmark (see THE 4b). ▷ noun 1 the official language of Denmark. 2 colloq a DANISH PASTRY. See also DANE. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon denisc; later modified by French daneis.

Danish blue and Danish blue cheese ▷ noun a type of strong-tasting cheese, white with streaks of bluish mould through it.

Danish pastry ▷ noun a flat cake of rich light pastry, with any of various types of sweet fillings and toppings. Also (colloq) called DANISH. ⓘ 1920s.

dank ▷ adj usually said of a place: unpleasantly wet and cold. ● dankish adj. ● dankness noun. ⓘ 15c as danke: of uncertain origin, but compare Swedish dank a marshy spot.

danseur /dɑ̃ˈsɜː(r)/ ▷ noun, ballet a male dancer. ⓘ 19c: French, from danser to dance.

danseuse /dɑ̃ˈsɜːz/ ▷ noun, ballet a female dancer; a ballerina. ⓘ 19c: French, from danser to dance.

Dantean /ˈdantɪən/ and Dantesque /danˈtesk/ ▷ adj 1 like or in the style of the Italian poet Dante Alighieri (1265–1321). 2 sublime; austere. ⓘ 18c.

dap ▷ verb (dapped, dapping) intr 1 angling to fish with a fly bounced gently on the surface of the water. 2 to dip gently into water. 3 to bounce. ▷ noun 1 a bounce. 2 angling a bait made to bounce gently on the surface. ⓘ 17c in sense 1: compare DAB.

daphne /ˈdafnɪ/ ▷ noun any of various evergreen shrubs that bear clusters of small flowers, eg SPURGE LAUREL. ⓘ 16c: from Greek daphne laurel or bay tree; according to myth, the name of a nymph who was changed into a laurel tree to escape Apollo.

daphnia /ˈdafnɪə/ ▷ noun a common type of water flea found in fresh water. ⓘ 19c: from Greek daphne; compare DAPHNE.

dapper /ˈdapə(r)/ ▷ adj usually said of men: neat and smart in appearance and lively in movement. ● dapperly adverb. ● dapperness noun. ⓘ 15c: Dutch, meaning 'brave'.

dappled /ˈdapəld/ ▷ adj marked with spots or rounded patches of a different, usually darker, colour. ⓘ 15c.

dapple-grey /ˈdapəl —/ ▷ adj said of a horse: pale-grey with darker spots. ▷ noun a dapple-grey horse. ⓘ 14c.

Darby and Joan /ˈdɑːbɪ ən ˈdʒoʊn/ ▷ plural noun an old man and old woman who have been happily married for many years. ⓘ 18c: from characters in an 18c song.

Darby and Joan club ▷ noun a social club for elderly men and women.

dare /dɛə(r)/ ▷ verb (dared, daring) 1 intr (also as auxiliary verb — see note below) to be brave enough to do something frightening, difficult or dangerous □ He wouldn't dare to leave □ Dare I tell him? 2 to challenge someone to do something frightening, difficult, dangerous, etc. 3 to be brave enough to risk facing someone or something □ dare his father's anger. ▷ noun a challenge to do something dangerous, etc. ● How dare you! an expression of anger or indignation at something someone has said or done. ● I dare say or daresay probably; I suppose □ I dare say you're right. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon durran.

> dare
>
> ● When dare means 'to be brave enough to do something', it may be used either as an ordinary intransitive verb or as an auxiliary verb.
>
> ● When dare is used as an intransitive verb, the form of the verb accompanying 'he/she/it' ends in '-s', and questions and negative statements are formed with the auxiliary verb 'do' □ If he dares to do that, I'll just walk out □ I did not dare to look at him □ Didn't you dare to tell him? □ Few would have dared to predict the outcome.
>
> As an intransitive verb, dare may be followed by 'to', as in the examples above, or, equally correctly, by a verb without 'to' □ I did not dare make a noise □ Don't you dare say a word! □ Who dares contradict him?
>
> ● When dare is used as an auxiliary verb, the verb accompanying 'he/she/it' has no '-s' ending, questions and negative statements are formed without 'do', and there is no 'to' before the following verb □ Dare she push her bike through the gate? □ I dared not look at him □ Daren't he tell her?

dare-devil ▷ noun a person who does dangerous or adventurous things without worrying about the risks involved. ▷ adj said of actions, etc: daring and dangerous; reckless. ⓘ 18c.

daring /ˈdɛərɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 bold, courageous or adventurous. 2 designed or intended to shock or surprise. ▷ noun boldness, courage. ● daringly adverb.

dariole /ˈdarɪoʊl/ ▷ noun 1 a shell of pastry, etc, or a small round mould. 2 a dish comprising such a shell and its filling. 3 a dish prepared in such a mould. ⓘ 15c: French.

dark /dɑːk/ ▷ adj 1 without light. 2 said of a colour: not light or pale; closer to black than white. 3 said of a person or the colour of their skin or hair: not light or fair. 4 sad or gloomy. 5 evil or sinister □ dark powers. 6 mysterious and unknown □ a dark secret. 7 said of a theatre: closed. ▷ noun 1 (usually the dark) the absence of light. 2 the time of day when night begins and there is no more light □ after dark. 3 a dark colour. ● darkish adj. ● darkness noun. ● in the dark not knowing or not aware of something. ● keep it dark to keep something secret. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon deorc.

the Dark Ages ▷ noun the period of European history from about the 5c to the 11c, traditionally regarded as historically obscure and formerly regarded as culturally uneventful.

darken ▷ verb (darkened, darkening) tr & intr to make or become dark or darker. ● darkened adj. ● darken someone's door (often with negative, and implying that such an arrival would be unwelcome) to appear as a visitor.

dark horse ▷ noun 1 horse-racing a horse whose capabilities are not known. 2 someone, especially a candidate or competitor, about whom little is known, or who chooses not to reveal much about their own abilities, talents, etc.

darkie see DARKY

dark lantern ▷ noun a lantern with the means to dim or hide the light. ⓘ 17c.

darkly ▷ adverb in a mysterious, gloomy, sinister or threatening way or tone of voice. ⓘ 14c as derkelich.

dark matter ▷ noun, astron matter not visible but making up a large proportion of the mass of the universe, and sufficient to change its expansion into contraction.

dark meat ▷ noun said especially of poultry: the meat from the legs, etc. Compare WHITE MEAT.

darkroom ▷ noun a room into which no ordinary light is allowed, used for developing photographs. ⓘ 19c.

darky or darkie ▷ noun (darkies), offensive a person with black or brown skin, especially a Black. ⓘ 18c.

darling ▷ noun 1 often used as a term of affection: a dearly loved person. 2 a lovable person or thing. ▷ adj 1 well loved. 2 colloq delightful. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon deorling; see DEAR.

darn[1] ▷ verb (darned, darning) to mend (a hole, a garment, etc) by sewing with rows of stitches which cross each other. ▷ noun a darned place. ● darner noun 1 someone who darns. 2 a darning-needle. ● darning noun 1 the work of darning clothes, etc. 2 clothes, etc which need to be darned or which have been darned. ⓘ 17c.

darn[2] ▷ exclamation a less offensive or emphatic substitute for DAMN.

darned ▷ adj irritating; disliked. ⓘ 19c: from DAMNED; compare DARN[2].

darnel /ˈdɑːnəl/ ▷ noun a species of rye grass which grows as a weed in cornfields of Asia and Europe. ⓘ 14c.

darning egg and darning mushroom ▷ noun a smooth egg-shaped or mushroom-shaped object, usually wooden, for supporting material being darned.

darning-needle ▷ noun a long, somewhat thick needle with a large eye, suitable for darning with. ⓘ 19c.

darshan /ˈdɑːʃən/ ▷ noun, Hinduism a blessing conferred by seeing or touching a great or holy person. ⓘ 1920s: from Hindi darsana sight.

dart ▷ noun 1 a narrow pointed weapon that can be thrown or fired. 2 a small sharp-pointed missile used in the game of DARTS. 3 a sudden quick movement. 4 a fold sewn into a piece of clothing to make it fit more neatly. ▷ verb (darted, darting) 1 intr to move suddenly and quickly. 2 to send or give (a look or glance) quickly. ⓘ 14c: French.

darter /ˈdɑːtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or thing which darts. 2 a slender freshwater diving bird native to warm regions worldwide. 3 any of various small American fishes of the perch family. ⓘ 19c in sense 1; 18c in sense 2; originally 16c meaning 'a person who throws darts'.

darts ▷ singular noun a game in which darts (see DART noun 2) are thrown at a dartboard, a circular target divided into numbered sections, with points being scored according to the section each dart hits.

Darwinian /dɑːˈwɪnɪən/ ▷ adj, noun a DARWINIST.

Darwinism /ˈdɑːwɪnɪzəm/ ▷ noun, biol the theory of evolution by NATURAL SELECTION, proposed jointly by Charles Darwin (1809–82) and Alfred Russel Wallace (1823–1913).

Darwinist ▷ adj belonging or relating to Charles Darwin, or to the theory of Darwinism. ▷ noun someone who believes in, uses or promotes the theory of Darwinism.

dash[1] ▷ verb (dashes, dashed, dashing) 1 intr to run quickly; to rush. 2 intr to crash or smash. 3 (often dash against something) to hit or smash it violently. 4 to destroy or put an end to (hopes, etc). ▷ noun (dashes) 1 a quick run or sudden rush. 2 a small amount of something added, especially a liquid. 3 a patch of colour. 4 a short line (-) used in writing to show a break in a sentence, etc. 5 in MORSE code: the longer of the two lengths of signal element, written as a short line. Compare DOT. 6 confidence, enthusiasm and stylishness. 7 N Amer sport a short race for fast runners. 8 a DASHBOARD. ⓘ 14c as dasch, from earlier daschen or dassen to rush or strike violently.

■ dash off to leave abruptly.

■ dash off something or dash something off to produce or write it hastily.

dash

1. long dash —

● introduces an explanation or expansion ▫ The film is excellent — it has slick photography, a pacy plot and lavish costumes.

ALTERNATIVE STYLE (more formal): a colon.

● It introduces an emphatic comment ▫ He can do it — and he will!

● In pairs, it encloses an emphatic comment ▫ There is nothing — absolutely nothing — half so much worth doing as simply messing about in boats.

● In pairs, it encloses an inserted comment or aside ▫ I'm told his car — some fancy foreign job, I believe — cost over £18,000.

ALTERNATIVE STYLES (less informal): a pair of commas; (less informal still) a pair of round brackets.

2. short dash –

● links the limits of a range ▫ the 1914–18 War ▫ pages 467–481 ▫ volumes I–IV ▫ an A–Z guide to the birds of Britain.

Don't use a dash to link items in a phrase beginning with 'between' or 'from':

✗ between 1987–95;

✗ from 1918–1939; ✓ between 1987 and 1995;

✓ from 1918 to 1939.

● It links two or more words that together modify a following word ▫ a 3–0 win for Arsenal ▫ the Paris–Lyon autoroute ▫ the space–time continuum.

dash[2] ▷ exclamation a milder and less offensive substitute for DAMN.

dashboard ▷ noun a panel with dials, switches and instruments, etc in front of the driver's seat in a motor vehicle, boat, etc. ⓘ 19c: DASH[1] + BOARD; originally a board protecting the driver of a horse-drawn coach from splashes of mud.

dasheen /daˈʃiːn/ ▷ noun the taro plant. ⓘ 19c: possibly from French de Chine from China.

dashiki or dasheki /daˈʃiːkɪ/ ▷ noun (dashikis or dashekis) a type of long, loose, brightly coloured shirt worn chiefly by Blacks in Africa, the Caribbean and the US. ⓘ 20c: probably from a W African language.

dashing ▷ adj 1 smart; stylish. 2 lively and enthusiastic. 3 rushing. • dashingly adverb. ⓘ 18c in senses 1 and 2; 14c in sense 3: from DASH[1].

dassie /ˈdasɪ/ ▷ noun (dassies) S Afr the HYRAX. ⓘ 18c: Afrikaans, from Dutch dasje, diminutive of das badger.

dastardly /ˈdastədlɪ/ ▷ adj, old use cowardly, mean and cruel. ⓘ 16c: probably connected with DAZED.

DAT ▷ abbreviation digital audio tape.

dat. ▷ abbreviation dative.

data /ˈdeɪtə, ˈdɑːtə/ ▷ noun (originally plural but now generally treated as singular) 1 one or more pieces of information or facts, especially those obtained by scientific observation or experiment. 2 a collection of information in the form of numbers, characters, electrical signals, etc that can be supplied to, stored in or processed by a computer. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'things given'; see also DATUM.

data

When referring to collected information, especially in electronic form, data is increasingly treated as a singular noun, since a unified concept is often intended ▫ The data is entered from the forms by a keyboarder.

● When the composite nature of the information is important, the plural is often used ▫ As more data accumulate, it may turn out that there are differences ▫ The data were easily converted into numerical form. However, in these examples the singular is also possible ▫ As more data accumulates ... ▫ The data was easily converted ...

databank ▷ noun, computing a collection of databases, whereby integrity of DATA, organized by a database-management system (DBMS) program, is maintained by controlling access to the application programs by the users.

database ▷ noun (databases) computing a collection of computer DATA.

datable see under DATE[1]

data capture ▷ noun, computing any process of changing information from its original form into a form which can be fed into a computer.

data communications ▷ plural noun the sending and receiving of computer-encoded data by means of telecommunications.

dataglove ▷ noun an electronically wired glove which transmits the wearer's movements to a VIRTUAL-REALITY monitor.

data processing ▷ noun, computing the performance of operations on data by a computer system, especially the arrangement of large amounts of data into a more useful form according to specified rules and procedures.

data protection ▷ noun, computing safeguards to protect the integrity, privacy and security of data.

date[1] /deɪt/ ▷ noun 1 the day of the month and/or the year, recorded by a number or series of numbers. 2 a statement on a letter, document, etc giving usually the day, the month and the year when it was written, sent, etc. 3 a particular period of time in history ▫ costumes of an earlier date. 4 colloq a planned meeting or social outing, usually with a person one is attached to. 5 especially N Amer, colloq a person whom one is meeting or going out with and who one usually finds attractive. 6 colloq an agreed time and place of performance. ▷ verb (dated, dating) 1 to put a date on something. 2 to find, decide on or guess the date of something. 3 to show the age of someone or something; to make (especially a person) seem old. 4 intr to become old-fashioned. 5 tr & intr, colloq to go out with someone, especially to do so regularly. • datable or dateable adj. • dated adj old-fashioned. • out of date see under OUT. • to date up to the present time. • up to date see under UP. ◷ 15c: French, from Latin datum given.

■ date back to or from (a specified time) to have begun or originated then.

date² /deɪt/ ▷ noun the fruit of the DATE PALM, brown, sticky and sweet-tasting when dried. ◷ 13c: from French date, from Greek daktylos finger or date.

date coding ▷ noun marking in code on a container a date after which the contents should not be used.

dateless ▷ adj 1 without a date or fixed limits. 2 not likely to become dated. 3 free from engagements.

dateline ▷ noun a line, usually at the top of a newspaper article, which gives the date and place of writing. ◷ Late 19c.

date line see INTERNATIONAL DATE LINE date palm ▷ noun a tall tree with a crown of long spreading leaves, cultivated in N Africa and the Middle East for its yellowish to reddish-brown edible fruits, which are borne in heavy clusters and have a very high sugar content.

date rape ▷ noun rape committed by someone known to the victim while both are on a date together.

date-stamp ▷ noun 1 a device, usually a rubber stamp, for printing the date on something. 2 the date printed by this. ▷ verb to mark something with a date-stamp.

dating agency ▷ noun an agency that aims to introduce people seeking personal relationships to others with similar tastes and interests. See also COMPUTER DATING.

dative /ˈdeɪtɪv/ grammar ▷ noun 1 in certain languages, eg Latin, Greek and German: the form or CASE² (noun 7) of a noun, pronoun or adjective which is used chiefly to show that the word is the indirect object of a verb. 2 a noun, etc in this case. ▷ adj belonging to or in this case. ◷ 15c as datif: from Latin dativus, from dare to give.

datum /ˈdeɪtəm, ˈdɑː-/ ▷ noun (data) a piece of information. See also DATA. ◷ 18c: Latin, meaning 'something given'.

datura /dəˈtjʊərə/ ▷ noun (daturas) 1 any plant of a group of plants including the THORN APPLE, which have strong narcotic or toxic properties. 2 the poison derived from these plants. ◷ 16c: from Hindi dhatura.

dau. ▷ abbreviation daughter.

daub /dɔːb/ ▷ verb (daubed, daubing) 1 to spread something roughly or unevenly onto or over a surface ▫ daubing paint on the walls. 2 to cover (a surface) with a soft sticky substance or liquid. 3 tr & intr, derog to paint carelessly or without skill. ▷ noun 1 soft, sticky material such as clay, often used as a covering for walls (see also WATTLE AND DAUB). 2 derog, colloq an unskilful or carelessly done painting. • dauber noun. ◷ 14c: from French dauber, from Latin dealbare to whitewash.

daube /doʊb/ ▷ noun a meat stew. ◷ 18c: French.

daughter /ˈdɔːtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a female child considered in relation to her parents. 2 a woman closely associated with, involved with or influenced by a person, thing or place ▫ a faithful daughter of the Church. ▷ adj 1 derived by some process from, and thought of as being like a daughter of, something ▫ French is a daughter language of Latin. 2 biol said of a cell: formed by division. ◷ Anglo-Saxon dohtor.

daughterboard ▷ noun, computing a printed-circuit board, or anything similar, which plugs into a MOTHERBOARD.

daughter cell ▷ noun, biol either of two new cells formed as a result of cell division. ◷ Late 19c.

daughter element ▷ noun, physics any of the elements produced as a result of the splitting of an atom by nuclear fission. ◷ 1920s.

daughter-in-law ▷ noun (daughters-in-law) the wife of one's son. ◷ 14c.

daughterly ▷ adj like a daughter; befitting a daughter ▫ daughterly devotion. • daughterliness noun. ◷ 16c.

daughter nucleus ▷ noun, biol either of the two nuclei that are produced when the nucleus of a living cell splits into two parts during MITOSIS.

daunt /dɔːnt/ ▷ verb (daunted, daunting) to frighten, worry or discourage someone. • daunting adj intimidating; discouraging. • dauntingly adverb. • dauntless adj fearless; not easily discouraged. • dauntlessly adverb. • dauntlessness noun. • nothing daunted not at all discouraged or less enthusiastic. ◷ 14c: from French danter.

davenport /ˈdavənpɔːt/ ▷ noun 1 Brit a type of desk. 2 N Amer a large sofa. ◷ 19c in sense 1; 20c in sense 2: possibly named after a certain Captain Davenport for whom early examples of such desks were made in the 18c.

davit /ˈdavɪt, ˈdeɪvɪt/ ▷ noun a curved device used as a crane on a ship, especially either one of a pair of such devices from which a lifeboat is hung and by means of which it can be lowered over the side of the ship. ◷ 15c: from a form of the name David.

Davy /ˈdeɪvɪ/ (Davies) and Davy lamp ▷ noun a miner's safety-lamp. ◷ 19c: named after the inventor Sir Humphry Davy (1778–1829).

Davy Jones's locker ▷ noun the bottom of the sea, especially as the place where the bodies of drowned sailors lie. ◷ 19c: named after Davy Jones, first recorded in 18c as a sailors' name for the evil spirit of the sea.

dawdle /ˈdɔːdəl/ ▷ verb (dawdled, dawdling) intr 1 to walk more slowly than necessary or desirable. 2 to waste time, especially by taking longer than necessary to do something. • dawdler noun.

dawn /dɔːn/ ▷ noun 1 the time of day when light first appears as the sun rises. 2 the beginning of (a new period of time, etc). ▷ verb (dawned, dawning) said of the day: to begin; to become light. • at the break of dawn at the first light of day when the sun rises. ◷ 13c first recorded as noun dawning; the verb first recorded 15c and the noun 16c: originally probably from Norse; related to DAY.

■ dawn on someone to begin to be realized by them.

dawn chorus ▷ noun the singing of birds at dawn. ◷ 1920s.

dawn raid ▷ noun 1 a surprise attack at dawn. 2 stock exchange an operation in which a large proportion of a company's shares are suddenly bought at a price much higher than their prevailing market rate.

day /deɪ/ ▷ noun (days) 1 a the period of 24 hours called the solar day during which the Earth rotates once on its axis with respect to the Sun; b astron a SIDEREAL DAY; c any period of 24 hours, especially from midnight to midnight. 2 the period of time from sunrise to sunset. 3 the period of time in any 24 hours normally spent doing something, especially working. Compare WORKING DAY. 4 (day or days) a particular period of time, usually in the past ▫ one's childhood days ▫ It never happened in their day. 5 time of recognition, success, influence, power, etc ▫ Their day will come ▫ In his day he reigned supreme. • all in a or the day's work a normal or acceptable part of one's work or routine. • at the end of the day when all in said and done. ● call it a day to leave off doing something; to announce a decision to do so. ● day about on alternate days. ● day by day as each day passes. ● day in, day out continuously and tediously without change. ● days of yore see YORE. ● from day to day concerned only with the present and not with any long-term plans. ● have had one's day to have passed the time of one's greatest success, influence, popularity, etc. ● in this day and age nowadays; in modern times. ● make someone's day to satisfy or delight them. ● one day or one of these days or one of these fine days at some time in the future. ● one of those days a day of difficulties or misfortunes. ● that will be the day colloq that is unlikely to happen. ● those were the days that was a good or happy time. ● win or carry the day to win a victory. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dæg.

day bed ▷ noun 1 a kind of couch or sofa. 2 a hospital bed for a DAY PATIENT. ⓘ 16c in sense 1.

day book ▷ noun, bookkeeping a book for entering the transactions of each day as they are made. ⓘ 16c.

day-boy, day-girl and day-scholar ▷ noun a pupil who attends a boarding school during school hours, but lives at home.

daybreak ▷ noun the time in the morning when light first appears in the sky; dawn.

day care ▷ noun supervision and care given by trained nurses or other staff to young children or elderly or handicapped people during the day. ⓘ 1960s.

day centre and day care centre ▷ noun a place which provides supervision and care, and/or social activities, during the day for the elderly, the handicapped, people who have just left prison, etc. ⓘ 1960s.

daydream ▷ noun pleasant thoughts which take one's attention away from what one is, or should be, doing. ▷ verb, intr to be engrossed in daydreams. ● daydreamer noun. ⓘ 19c as verb; 17c as noun.

day-girl see DAY-BOY.

dayglo /ˈdeɪgloʊ/ ▷ adj coloured luminously brilliant green, yellow, pink or orange. ⓘ 1980s: from Day-glo, the trademark name of a brand of paint.

day-labour ▷ noun labour paid by the day. ● day-labourer noun.

daylight ▷ noun 1 the light given by the Sun; natural light as opposed to electric light, etc. 2 the time in the morning when light first appears in the sky; dawn. ● beat or knock the living daylights out of someone colloq to beat them severely. ● in broad daylight said of a shocking or criminal act: 1 during the day. 2 openly, with no attempt to hide one's actions. ● scare or frighten the living daylights out of someone colloq to frighten them greatly. ● see daylight 1 to begin to understand. 2 to realize that one has nearly completed a difficult or long task. ⓘ 13c.

daylight robbery ▷ noun, colloq greatly overcharging for something.

daylight-saving time ▷ noun the time adopted, usually in summertime, usually one hour ahead of the local standard time, in order to increase the hours of daylight available at the end of the day.

day lily ▷ noun any of certain liliaceous plants whose flowers last for only one day. ⓘ 16c.

daylong ▷ adj during the whole day. ⓘ 19c.

day nursery ▷ noun a place where young children are looked after during the day, eg while their parents are at work.

day of action ▷ noun a day designated by an organization for industrial action, demonstrations, a strike, etc, in support of a cause.

day off ▷ noun a day away from school, work, etc.

Day of Atonement see YOM KIPPUR.

Day of Judgement and Last Judgement ▷ noun according to some beliefs: the time when the world will end, and God will judge all humankind.

day of reckoning ▷ noun a time when mistakes, failures, bad deeds, etc are punished.

day-old ▷ adj one day old.

day out ▷ noun a day spent away from home for pleasure.

day patient ▷ noun a hospital patient who attends for treatment, eg minor surgery, and goes home on the same day.

day release ▷ noun a system by which employees are given time off work (usually one day a week) to study at college, etc. ⓘ 1940s.

day return ▷ noun 1 a reduced bus or train fare for a journey to somewhere and back again on the same day. 2 a ticket for this type of journey.

day room ▷ noun a room used as a communal living room in a school, hospital, hostel, etc.

day-scholar see DAY-BOY.

day school ▷ noun a school held during the day, as opposed to both a BOARDING SCHOOL and a NIGHT SCHOOL.

day shift ▷ noun 1 a period of working during the day. 2 the people who work during this period. See also BACK SHIFT, NIGHT SHIFT.

days of grace ▷ plural noun days allowed for payment of bills, etc, beyond the day named.

daytime ▷ noun the time when there is normally daylight, between sunrise and sunset. ⓘ 16c.

day-to-day ▷ adj daily; routine.

day trip ▷ noun a trip made to somewhere and back within one day. ● day-tripper noun. ⓘ Early 19c.

daze /deɪz/ ▷ verb (dazed, dazing) to make someone feel confused or unable to think clearly (eg by a blow or shock). ▷ noun a confused, forgetful or inattentive state of mind. ● dazed adj affected by a blow or shock; mentally confused. ● dazedly /ˈdeɪzɪdlɪ/ adverb. ● in a daze stunned. ⓘ 14c as dase: from Norse dasask to be weary.

dazzle /ˈdazəl/ ▷ verb (dazzled, dazzling) 1 to make someone unable to see properly, with or because of a strong light. 2 to impress someone greatly by one's beauty, charm, skill, etc. ● dazzler noun. ⓘ 15c: from DAZE.

dazzling ▷ adj 1 temporarily blinding. 2 highly impressive; brilliant □ a dazzling display. ● dazzlingly adverb.

Db ▷ symbol, chem dubnium.

dB ▷ abbreviation decibel, or decibels.

DBE ▷ abbreviation Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire.

dbl. ▷ abbreviation double.

DBMS see under DATABANK.

DBS ▷ abbreviation direct broadcast by satellite.

DC¹ ▷ noun (DCs or DC's) District Commissioner.

DC² ▷ abbreviation 1 music DA CAPO. 2 DIRECT CURRENT. Compare AC. 3 District of Columbia. 4 Doctor of Chiropractic.

DCC ▷ abbreviation digital compact cassette.

DCL ▷ abbreviation Doctor of Civil Law.

DCM ▷ abbreviation Distinguished Conduct Medal.

DCMG ▷ abbreviation Dame Commander of the Order of St Michael and St George.

DCVO ▷ abbreviation Dame Commander of the Royal Victorian Order.

DD ▷ abbreviation: Divinitatis Doctor (Latin), Doctor of Divinity.

dd ▷ abbreviation direct debit.

D-Day ▷ noun 1 the date of the opening day of the Allied invasion of Europe in World War II, 6 June 1944. 2 any critical day of action. ◎ 'D' for 'unnamed day'.

DDR ▷ abbreviation: Deutsche Demokratische Republik (German), the former German Democratic Republic or East Germany.

DDS ▷ abbreviation 1 digital data storage. 2 Doctor of Dental Surgery.

DDT ▷ abbreviation dichlorodiphenyltrichloroethane /daɪˈklɔːroʊdaɪfiːnaɪltraɪklɔːroʊˈiːθeɪn/, a highly toxic chemical compound formerly widely used as an insecticide, but use of which is now restricted or banned in most countries due to extensive pollution of the environment resulting from its use.

de- ▷ prefix, signifying 1 down or away ▫ debase. 2 reversal or removal ▫ decriminalize. 3 completely ▫ decrepitate. ◎ Senses 1 and 3 from Latin de off, from; sense 2 from French des-, from Latin dis- (see DIS-).

deacon /ˈdiːkən/ ▷ noun 1 a member of the lowest rank of clergy in the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches. 2 in some other churches: a member of the church with certain duties such as looking after the church's financial affairs. See also DIACONATE. ◎ Anglo-Saxon diacon from Greek diakonos servant.

deaconess /diːkəˈnes, ˈdiːkənes/ ▷ noun 1 in some churches: a woman who has similar duties to those of a deacon. 2 in some churches: a woman whose duties are similar to those of a minister and who acts as an assistant to the minister. ◎ 16c.

deactivate /diˈaktɪveɪt/ ▷ verb to remove or lessen the capacity of (something such as a bomb) to function or work. • deactivation noun. ◎ Early 20c.

dead /ded/ ▷ adj 1 no longer living. 2 not alive. 3 no longer in existence; extinct. 4 with nothing living or growing in or on it. 5 not, or no longer, functioning; not connected to a source of power. 6 no longer burning. 7 no longer in use for everyday communication ▫ a dead language. 8 no longer of interest or importance ▫ a dead issue. 9 having little or no excitement or activity; boring. 10 without feeling; numb. 11 complete; absolute. 12 said of a sound: dull. 13 sport said of a ball: in a position where it cannot be played until brought back into the game. 14 (the dead) dead people (see THE 4b). ▷ adverb, slang absolutely; quite; exactly; very ▫ dead drunk ▫ dead right. • deadness noun. • dead against something completely opposed to it. • dead as a dodo or a doornail or a herring or mutton absolutely dead. • dead from the neck up derog colloq very stupid or of little intelligence. • dead on exact; exactly ▫ dead on time. See also DEAD-ON. • dead to something incapable of understanding it; not affected by it. • dead to the world colloq fast asleep. • I, etc wouldn't be seen dead doing something, colloq I, etc would never do it. • over my dead body never. • the dead of night the middle of the night, when it is most intensely dark and still. • the dead of winter the middle of winter, when it is most intensely cold. ◎ Anglo-Saxon.

dead-and-alive ▷ adj said of a person or place, etc: dull; uninteresting.

dead-ball line ▷ noun, rugby a line worked out behind the goal line at each end of the pitch, beyond which the ball is out of play.

deadbeat ▷ noun, colloq a useless person; a down-and-out. ◎ 19c.

dead beat ▷ adj, colloq exhausted.

dead bolt ▷ noun a lock which is moved by turning the key or knob without the intervention of a spring. Also called deadlock.

dead-cat bounce ▷ noun, stock exchange a temporary recovery of share prices following a sharp fall, not indicative of a true upturn but merely caused by some reinvestment by speculators who had already sold shares.

dead centre ▷ noun 1 engineering in a reciprocating engine or pump: either of the positions at the top and bottom of a piston stroke, at which the CRANK and CONNECTING-ROD are in line and there is no actual turning effect. Also called dead point. 2 (usually top or bottom dead centre) the non-rotating centre in the TAILSTOCK of a lathe.

dead colour ▷ noun, art in painting, the first layer of paint thinly applied to the surface of a canvas or panel.

dead duck ▷ noun, colloq someone or something with no chance of success or survival. ◎ 19c.

deaden /ˈdedən/ ▷ verb (deadened, deadening) 1 to lessen, weaken or make less sharp, strong, etc. 2 to make something soundproof. • deadener noun. • deadening noun, adj. ◎ 17c.

dead end ▷ noun 1 a passage, road, etc, closed off at one end. 2 a situation or activity with no possibility of further progress or movement. ▷ adj (dead-end) allowing no progress or improvement ▫ dead-end job.

dead-eye ▷ noun, naut 1 a round flattish wooden block with a rope or iron band passing around it, and pierced with three holes for a LANYARD. 2 chiefly US a skilled marksman.

deadfall ▷ noun a trap with a weight that falls on the prey when its support is removed.

deadhead ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer 1 someone who enjoys privileges without paying, such as free theatre tickets. 2 an ineffective unproductive person. 3 a train, etc, travelling empty. 4 a sunken or semi-submerged log in a waterway. ▷ verb to remove withered or dead flowers from (plants).

dead heat ▷ noun in a race, competition, etc: the result when two or more competitors produce equally good performances, or finish (a race) with exactly the same time. ◎ 19c.

dead letter ▷ noun 1 a rule or law no longer obeyed or not in force. 2 a letter that cannot be delivered nor returned to the sender because it lacks the necessary details of direction.

dead-letter box ▷ noun a place where secret messages, etc, may be left for later collection.

dead light ▷ noun, naut a storm shutter for a porthole, etc.

deadline ▷ noun a time by which something must be done. ◎ 1920s in this sense; 19c originally meaning 'a line that does not move' and US 'a line around a military prison beyond which an escaping prisoner could be shot'.

deadlock ▷ noun 1 a situation in which no further progress towards an agreement is possible. 2 a DEAD BOLT. ▷ verb, tr & intr to make or come to a situation of deadlock. ◎ 18c.

dead loss ▷ noun, colloq someone or something that is totally useless.

deadly ▷ adj (deadlier, deadliest) 1 causing or likely to cause death. 2 colloq very dull or uninteresting. 3 very great ▫ in deadly earnest. ▷ adverb very; absolutely. • deadliness noun.

deadly nightshade ▷ noun a plant with bell-shaped purple flowers and poisonous black berries from which the drug BELLADONNA is obtained. ◎ 16c.

deadly sin see THE SEVEN DEADLY SINS dead man's handle and dead man's pedal ▷ noun a device on a machine, eg a railway engine, which must be kept pressed down for the machine to operate and which stops the machine if the pressure is released. ⓘ Early 20c.

dead march ▷ noun, music a piece of solemn music played at funeral processions, especially those of soldiers.

dead men and (Austral & NZ) dead marines ▷ plural noun, colloq empty bottles left after a drinking session or a party.

dead-nettle ▷ noun any of various plants superficially like a nettle but without a sting. ⓘ 14c.

dead-on ▷ adj, colloq accurate; spot-on.

deadpan ▷ adj said of someone's expression, etc: showing no emotion or feeling, especially when joking but pretending to be serious. ⓘ 1920s.

dead point see DEAD CENTRE.

dead reckoning ▷ noun the estimating of the position of a ship, aircraft, etc from the distance and direction travelled, without looking at the position of the stars, Sun or Moon. ⓘ 17c.

dead ringer ▷ noun, slang a person who, or thing which, looks exactly like someone or something else.

dead set ▷ noun a complete standstill, eg the position of a gundog pointing at game. See also POINT (verb 4). ▷ adj 1 absolutely determined. 2 said of a hunting dog: pointing at game. ▷ adverb absolutely determined. • dead set against something completely opposed to it. • dead set on something determined or keen to do or acquire it.

dead weight ▷ noun 1 a heavy load. 2 technical (also deadweight) the difference in the displacement of a ship when unloaded and loaded. ⓘ 17c.

dead wood ▷ noun 1 dead trees; dead branches, etc. 2 colloq someone or something that is no longer useful or needed. ⓘ 18c.

deaf /dɛf/ ▷ adj 1 unable to hear at all or unable to hear well. 2 (usually deaf to something) not willing to listen to (advice, appeals, criticism, etc). 3 (the deaf) deaf people in general (see THE 4b). • deafly adverb. • deafness noun partial or total loss of hearing in one or both ears. • turn a deaf ear to someone or something to ignore or refuse to pay any attention to them. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

deaf aid ▷ noun a HEARING AID.

deaf alphabet and (now often considered offensive) deaf-and-dumb alphabet ▷ noun a system of representing the letters of the alphabet by signs made with the hands.

deafen /ˈdɛfən/ ▷ verb (deafened, deafening) to make someone deaf or temporarily unable to hear. • deafening adj 1 extremely loud. 2 causing deafness. • deafeningly adverb. ⓘ 16c.

deaf language and (now often considered offensive) deaf-and-dumb language ▷ noun sign language used by the deaf.

deaf-mute ▷ noun, often considered offensive someone who is both deaf and unable to speak. ▷ adj unable to hear or speak. ⓘ 19c: DEAF + MUTE, after French sourd-muet.

deal¹ /diːl/ ▷ noun 1 a bargain, agreement or arrangement, especially in business or politics. 2 a particular form of treatment or behaviour towards someone □ a rough deal. 3 the act or way of, or a player's turn of, sharing out cards among the players in a card game. ▷ verb (dealt /dɛlt/, dealing) tr & intr 1 (also deal out) to divide the cards among the players in a card game. 2 (also deal out) to give something out to a number of people, etc. • a good or great deal 1 a large quantity. 2 very much or often □ She sees them a great deal. • deal someone a blow to hit, strike or distress them. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dæl a part.

• deal in something to buy and sell it.

• deal with something or someone 1 to take action regarding them. 2 to be concerned with them.

deal² /diːl/ ▷ noun a plank or planks of soft wood, now always fir or pine wood, used for making furniture, etc. ⓘ 15c as dele: from German dialect.

de-alcoholize or de-alcoholise /diːˈalkəhɒlaɪz/ ▷ verb (de-alcoholized, de-alcoholizing) to reduce the amount of alcohol in wine, beer, etc. ⓘ 19c.

dealer ▷ noun 1 a person or firm dealing in retail goods; a trader. 2 the player who deals in a card game. • dealership noun 1 a business which buys and sells things. 2 a business licensed to sell a particular product by its manufacturer.

dealings ▷ plural noun 1 one's manner of acting towards others. 2 business, etc, contacts and transactions.

dealt past tense, past participle of DEAL¹ dean /diːn/ ▷ noun 1 a senior clergyman in an Anglican cathedral. 2 RC Church the chief cardinal bishop of the College of Cardinals. 3 a senior official in a university or college, sometimes with responsibility for student discipline. 4 the head of a university or college faculty. See also RURAL DEAN. ⓘ 14c: from French deien.

deanery ▷ noun (deaneries) 1 the position or office of a dean. 2 the house of a dean. 3 a group of parishes for which a rural dean has responsibility. ⓘ 15c.

dear /dɪə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 high in price; charging high prices. 2 lovable; attractive. 3 used in addressing someone at the start of a letter. 4 (usually dear to someone) greatly loved by, or very important or precious to, them. ▷ noun (also deary, dearie) (dearies) 1 a charming or lovable person. 2 used especially as a form of address: a person one loves or likes. ▷ exclamation (also deary, dearie) used as an expression of dismay, etc □ Dear, dear! □ Dear me! • dearly adverb 1 very much. 2 at a high price or cost. • dearness noun. • cost someone dear to cause or result in a lot of trouble or suffering. • dear knows colloq no one knows. • pay dearly to be made to suffer. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon deore.

dearth /dɜːθ/ ▷ noun a scarceness or lack of something. ⓘ 13c as derthe: from DEAR + -TH².

deasil /ˈdɛʃəl, ˈdiːzəl/ ▷ adverb, Scot in the direction of the sun. Opposite of WITHERSHINS. ⓘ 18c: from Gaelic deiseil.

death /dɛθ/ ▷ noun 1 the time, act or manner of dying, or the state of being dead. 2 biol the cessation of all the vital functions that are required to keep an organism alive. 3 medicine the cessation of the heartbeat when this is accompanied by BRAIN DEATH. 4 often humorous something which causes a person to die □ His antics will be the death of me. 5 the end or destruction of something. 6 (Death) the figure of a skeleton, as a symbol of death. • deathless adj, often ironic immortal; unforgettable □ deathless prose. • deathlessness noun. • deathlike adj. • deathliness noun. • deathly adj. • at death's door near death; gravely ill. • catch one's death or catch one's death of cold colloq to catch a very bad cold. • do someone to death old use to kill them. • do something to death to overuse it. • in at the death 1 present when a hunted animal, eg a fox, is killed. 2 present at the climax, end, destruction, etc of an enterprise, undertaking, etc. • like death warmed up or over colloq said of someone's appearance: unhealthy; very unwell. • like grim death very hard or tightly. • put someone to death to kill them or have them killed; to execute them. • to death very much; to an extreme or excess □ bored to death. • to the death until dead or until one's opponent is dead; to the very end. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

death adder ▷ noun a poisonous Australian snake.

deathbed ▷ noun the bed in which a person dies or is about to die.

deathblow ▷ noun 1 a blow which causes death. 2 an action, decision, etc which puts an end to or destroys (hopes, plans, etc). ⓘ 18c.

death cap ▷ noun an extremely poisonous toadstool. Also called death cup or death angel.

death cell ▷ noun a prison cell in which a prisoner who is condemned to death is kept before the sentence is carried out.

death certificate ▷ noun a certificate, signed by a doctor, stating the time and cause of someone's death.

death duty ▷ noun (often death duties) Brit formerly, a tax paid on the value of property left by a person after he or she has died, replaced in 1975 by CAPITAL TRANSFER TAX.

death knell ▷ noun 1 the ringing of a bell when someone has died. 2 an action, announcement, etc that heralds the end or destruction of (hopes, plans, etc).

death mask ▷ noun a mask made from the cast of a person's face after they have died. ⓘ 19c.

death penalty ▷ noun punishment of a crime by death. ⓘ 19c.

death rate ▷ noun the number of deaths as a proportion of the total population, usually calculated as a percentage or rate per thousand.

death rattle ▷ noun a particular noise made in the throat which sometimes precedes death.

death row ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US the part of a prison where people who have been sentenced to death are kept.

death's-head ▷ noun a human skull, or a picture, mask, etc representing one.

death's-head moth ▷ noun a hawk-moth with pale markings on the back of the thorax somewhat like a skull.

death squad ▷ noun an unofficial terrorist group who murder those whose views or activities they disapprove of, often operating with the tacit or covert support of the government of the day. ⓘ 1960s.

death star ▷ noun a small, thin, star-shaped metal plate with sharpened points, used as a missile. ⓘ 1980s.

death throe ▷ noun (also death throes) the final struggle before death.

deathtrap ▷ noun a building, vehicle, place, etc which is unsafe and likely to cause serious or fatal accidents.

death warrant ▷ noun an official order that a death sentence is to be carried out. ■ sign one's own death warrant to do something that makes one's downfall inevitable.

deathwatch beetle ▷ noun a type of beetle whose wood-boring larvae can cause serious structural damage, and which makes a ticking or tapping sound that was formerly believed to be a sign that someone in the building where it was heard was going to die.

death wish ▷ noun a desire to die, or that someone else should die.

deb ▷ noun, colloq a DEBUTANTE.

debacle or débâcle /dɪˈbɑːkəl, deɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 total disorder, defeat, collapse of organization, etc. 2 a breaking up of ice on a river, sometimes resulting in flooding. 3 a sudden flood of water leaving its path strewn with debris. ⓘ 19c: French.

debag /diːˈbag/ ▷ verb, colloq to remove the trousers from someone as a prank or punishment. ⓘ Early 20c.

debar /dɪˈbɑː(r)/ ▷ verb to stop someone from joining, taking part in, doing, etc something. ■ debarment noun. ⓘ 15c: from French débarrer.

debark /dɪˈbɑːk/ ▷ verb (debarked, debarking) tr & intr to DISEMBARK. ⓘ 17c: from French débarquer.

debase /dɪˈbeɪs/ ▷ verb 1 to lower the value, quality, or status of something. 2 to lower the value of (a coin) by adding metal of a lower value. ■ debased adj lowered in value or status; spoiled. ■ debasement noun. ■ debaser noun. ■ debasing adj. ■ debasingly adverb. ⓘ 16c: DE- 1 + ABASE.

debate /dɪˈbeɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a formal discussion, often in front of an audience, in which two or more people put forward opposing views on a particular subject. 2 any general discussion on a subject, not necessarily in one place or at one time. ▷ verb (debated, debating) tr & intr 1 to hold or take part in a formal discussion on a particular topic, often in front of an audience. 2 to consider the arguments for or against something. ■ debatable or debateable adj doubtful; able to be argued about; uncertain. ■ debater noun someone who takes part in a debate. ■ debating noun formal discussion of a question. ■ open to debate not certain or agreed; in doubt. ⓘ 13c: from French debatre to discuss.

debauch /dɪˈbɔːtʃ/ ▷ verb (debauches, debauched, debauching) to corrupt someone; to cause or persuade someone to take part in immoral, especially sexual, activities or excessive drinking. ▷ noun a period of debauched behaviour. ■ debauched adj corrupted; immoral. ■ debauchedly /-ɪdlɪ/ adverb. ■ debauchedness /-ɪdnəs/ noun. ■ debauchee /debɔːˈtʃiː, -ˈʃiː/ noun (debauchees) someone who likes sensual indulgence. ■ debauchery noun excessive sensual indulgence. ⓘ 16c: from French desbaucher to corrupt.

debby ▷ adj, colloq belonging to, suitable for or like a DEBUTANTE or debutantes. ⓘ 20c.

debenture /dɪˈbentʃə(r)/ ▷ noun, finance 1 a type of loan to a company or government agency which is usually made for a set period of time and carries a fixed rate of interest. 2 the document or bond acknowledging this loan. ⓘ 15c: from Latin debentur there are due or owed.

debilitate /dɪˈbɪlɪteɪt/ ▷ verb (debilitated, debilitating) to make someone weak or weaker. ■ debilitating adj weakening; enervating. ■ debilitation noun. ■ debility noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin debilis weak.

debit /ˈdebɪt/ ▷ noun 1 an entry in an account recording what is owed or has been spent. 2 a sum taken from a bank, etc account. 3 a deduction made from a bill or account. Compare CREDIT. ▷ verb (debited, debiting) 1 to take from (an account, etc). 2 to record in a debit entry. ⓘ 15c: from Latin debitum what is due.

debit card ▷ noun a card used by a purchaser by means of which money is directly transferred from his or her account to the retailer's. Compare CREDIT CARD. ⓘ 1970s.

debonair /debəˈneə(r)/ ▷ adj said especially of a man: cheerful, charming and of elegant appearance and good manners. ■ debonairly adverb. ⓘ 18c in this sense; 13c as deboneire meaning 'mild, kindly, courteous': from French de bon aire of good manners.

debouch /dɪˈbaʊtʃ, dɪˈbuːʃ/ ▷ verb (debouches, debouched, debouching) technical, intr said of troops or a river, etc: to come out of a narrow place or opening into a wider or more open place. ⓘ 18c: from French déboucher, from de from + bouche mouth.

debouchment /dɪˈbaʊtʃmənt, dɪˈbuːʃ-/ ▷ noun 1 coming out into an open place. 2 the outlet of a river, etc. ⓘ 19c.

debrief /diːˈbriːf/ ▷ verb to gather information from (a diplomat, astronaut, soldier, etc) after a battle, event, mission, etc. ■ debriefing noun interrogation after a completed mission, etc. ⓘ 1940s.

debris or débris /ˈdebriː, dəˈbriː/ ▷ noun 1 what remains of something crushed, smashed, destroyed, etc. 2 rubbish. 3 small pieces of rock. ⓘ 18c: French.

debt /det/ ▷ noun 1 something which is owed. See also BAD DEBT. 2 the state of owing something. ■ in someone's debt under an obligation, not necessarily financial, to them. ⓘ 13c as dette; from 15c forms with -b-: from French dette, from Latin debitum what is owed.

debt of honour ▷ noun a debt one is morally but not legally obliged to pay.

debtor /ˈdetə(r)/ ▷ noun someone owing money. Compare CREDITOR. ⊙ 13c as dettur: see DEBT.

debug /diːˈbʌg/ ▷ verb 1 to remove secret microphones from (a room, etc). 2 to look for and remove faults in (a computer program). 3 to remove insects from someone or something. ⊙ 20c.

debunk /diːˈbʌŋk/ ▷ verb to show (a person's claims, good reputation, etc) to be false or unjustified. ⊙ 1920s.

debus /diːˈbʌs/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to unload from, or get out of, a bus or other vehicle. ⊙ Early 20c.

debut or début /ˈdeɪbjuː, ˈdɛbjuː/ ▷ noun 1 the first public appearance of a performer. 2 the formal presentation of a debutante. ⊙ 18c: French début.

debutante or débutante /ˈdɛbjutɑːnt, ˈdeɪbjutɑːnt/ ▷ noun a young woman making her first formal appearance as an adult in upper-class society, usually at a ball. ⊙ 19c: French débutante, from débuter to start off.

Dec. ▷ abbreviation December.

dec. ▷ abbreviation deceased.

deca- and (before a vowel) dec- ▷ combining form, signifying ten ▫ decagon. ⊙ From Greek deka ten.

decade /ˈdɛkeɪd, dɪˈkeɪd/ ▷ noun 1 a period of 10 years. 2 a group or series of 10 things, etc. ⊙ 17c in sense 1; 15c in sense 2: from Greek deka ten.

decadence /ˈdɛkədəns/ ▷ noun 1 a falling from high to low standards in morals, art, etc. 2 the state of having low or immoral standards of behaviour, etc. ⊙ 16c: from French décadence, from Latin de from + cadere to fall.

decadent /ˈdɛkədənt/ ▷ adj having low moral standards. • decadently adverb.

decaff or decaf /ˈdiːkaf/ colloq ▷ adj decaffeinated. ▷ noun decaffeinated coffee.

decaffeinate /diːˈkafɪneɪt, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (decaffeinated, decaffeinating) to remove all or part of the caffeine from something. • decaffeinated adj said of coffee, etc: having all or part of the caffeine removed. ⊙ 1920s as decaffeinated: from DE- (sense 2) + CAFFEINE + -ATE[1].

decagon /ˈdɛkəgən, -gɒn/ ▷ noun, geom a polygon with 10 sides and 10 angles. • decagonal /dɪˈkagənəl/ adj having 10 sides and 10 angles. ⊙ 17c: from DECA- + Greek gonia angle.

decahedron /dɛkəˈhiːdrən/ ▷ noun a solid figure with ten faces. • decahedral adj said of a solid figure: having 10 faces. ⊙ 19c: from DECA- + Greek hedra seat.

decal /ˈdiːkal, dɪˈkal/ ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer a picture or design prepared for permanent transfer to glass, china, plastic, etc. ⊙ 1930s: abbreviation of DECALCOMANIA.

decalcify /diːˈkalsɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb to remove calcium from (bones), or deprive (bones) of calcium. • decalcification /-fɪˈkeɪʃən/ noun. • decalcifier noun. ⊙ 19c.

decalcomania /dɪkalkəˈmeɪnɪə/ ▷ noun the process of transferring images from specially prepared paper onto surfaces of china, glass, plastic, etc. ⊙ 19c: from French décalcomanie, from décalquer to trace or copy.

decalitre or (N Amer) decaliter /ˈdɛkəliːtə(r)/ noun a measure of volume equal to 10 litres.

the Decalogue /ˈdɛkəlɒg/ ▷ noun, Bible the Ten Commandments given by God to Moses. ⊙ 14c: from DECA- + Greek logos word.

decametre or (N Amer) decameter /ˈdɛkəmiːtə(r)/ ▷ noun a measure of length equal to 10 metres.

decamp ▷ verb, intr 1 to go away suddenly, especially secretly. 2 to break camp. ⊙ 18c in sense 1; 17c in sense 2: from French décamper.

decanal /dɪˈkeɪnəl/ ▷ adj, relig 1 belonging or relating to a DEAN or DEANERY. 2 said of part of a choir: positioned on the same side of the cathedral as the dean, ie the south side. ⊙ 18c: from Latin decanus dean.

decant /dɪˈkant/ ▷ verb (decanted, decanting) 1 to pour (wine, etc) from one bottle or container to another, leaving any sediment behind. 2 to remove (people) from where they usually live to some other place. ⊙ 17c: from French décanter, from Latin de from + canthus spout.

decanter /dɪˈkantə(r)/ ▷ noun an ornamental bottle with a stopper, used for decanted wine, sherry, whisky, etc. ⊙ 18c: from DECANT.

decapitate /dɪˈkapɪteɪt/ ▷ verb (decapitated, decapitating) to cut off the head of someone. • decapitation noun. ⊙ 17c: from DE- 1 + Latin caput head.

decapod /ˈdɛkapɒd/ ▷ noun, zool 1 any of various crustaceans which have 10 limbs, including pincers, eg crabs, lobsters, prawns. 2 any of various cephalopods with ten arms, eg squid, cuttlefish. ⊙ 19c: from Greek pous, podos foot.

decarbonize or decarbonise /diːˈkɑːbənaɪz/ (decarbonized, decarbonizing) and decarburize or decarburise /diːˈkɑːbjʊraɪz/ (decarburized, decarburizing) ▷ verb to remove carbon from (an internal-combustion engine). Also colloq decoke (decoked, decoking). • decarbonization or decarburization noun.

decathlete /dɪˈkaθliːt/ ▷ noun a contestant in a DECATHLON.

decathlon /dɪˈkaθlɒn/ ▷ noun an athletic competition (usually for men) in which competitors take part in the following 10 events over two days: 100m, long jump, shot put, high jump, 400m, 110m hurdles, discus, pole vault, javelin and 1500m. Compare HEPTATHLON, PENTATHLON. ⊙ 1912: from DECA- + Greek athlon contest.

decay /dɪˈkeɪ/ ▷ verb (decayed, decaying) 1 tr & intr to make or become rotten, ruined, weaker in health or power, etc. 2 intr, physics said of a radioactive substance: to break down spontaneously into one or more ISOTOPES which may or may not be radioactive. ▷ noun (decays) 1 the natural breakdown of dead organic matter. 2 physics the spontaneous breakdown of an unstable nucleus of a radioactive substance into one or more ISOTOPES which may or may not be radioactive, with the emission of ALPHA PARTICLES or BETA PARTICLES, or GAMMA RAYS. 3 a gradual decrease in health, power, quality, etc. 4 rotten matter in a tooth, etc. • decayed adj 1 rotten. 2 impoverished. ⊙ 15c: from French decair.

decease /dɪˈsiːs/ ▷ noun, formal, law death. ⊙ 14c: from Latin decessus departure or death.

deceased /dɪˈsiːst/ ▷ adj, formal, law 1 dead, especially recently dead. 2 (the deceased) the dead person or dead people in question (see THE 4b). ⊙ 15c as adj; 17c as noun.

decedent /dɪˈsiːdənt/ ▷ noun, now chiefly US law a deceased person. ⊙ 16c: from Latin decedere to die.

deceit /dɪˈsiːt/ ▷ noun 1 an act of deceiving or misleading. 2 dishonesty; deceitfulness; willingness to deceive. • deceitful adj. • deceitfully adverb. ⊙ 14c: French deceite.

deceive /dɪˈsiːv/ ▷ verb (deceived, deceiving) 1 to mislead or lie to someone. 2 to convince (oneself) that something is true when it is not. See also DECEPTION. • deceiver noun. ⊙ 13c: from Latin decipere to deceive.

decelerate /diːˈsɛləreɪt/ ▷ verb (decelerated, decelerating) tr & intr to slow down, or make something (especially a vehicle, machine, etc) slow down. • deceleration /diːsɛləˈreɪʃən/ noun. • decelerator noun. ⊙ 19c: from DE- 1 + ACCELERATE.

December /dɪˈsɛmbə(r)/ ▷ noun the twelfth and last month of the year, which has 31 days. ⊙ 13c: from Latin decem ten, because it was at one time the tenth month of the Roman year.

decency /ˈdiːsənsɪ/ ▷ noun (decencies) 1 decent behaviour or character. 2 (decencies) the generally accepted rules of respectable or moral behaviour. ⓘ 16c: from DECENT.

decennial /dɪˈsenɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 happening every 10 years. 2 consisting of 10 years. ⓘ 17c: from Latin decem ten + annus year.

decent /ˈdiːsənt/ ▷ adj 1 respectable; suitable; modest, not vulgar or immoral. 2 kind, tolerant or likeable. 3 fairly good; adequate □ a decent performance. ■ decently adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin decere to be fitting.

decentralize or decentralise /diːˈsentrəlaɪz/ ▷ verb, tr & intr said especially of a part of government, industry, etc: to alter or be altered by the transfer of organization, etc from one main central place to several smaller less central positions. ■ decentralist or decentralizer noun. ■ decentralization noun. ⓘ 19c.

deception /dɪˈsepʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an act of deceiving or the state of being deceived. 2 something which deceives or misleads. ⓘ 15c: from Latin decipere, deceptum to deceive.

deceptive /dɪˈseptɪv/ ▷ adj deceiving; misleading. ■ deceptively adverb. ■ deceptiveness noun. ⓘ 17c.

deci- /ˈdesɪ/ ▷ combining form (abbreviation d) signifying one-tenth □ decilitre. ⓘ From Latin decimus tenth.

decibel /ˈdesɪbel, -bəl/ ▷ noun (symbol dB) a unit equal to $^1/_{10}$ of a BEL, used for comparing levels of power, especially sound, on a logarithmic scale.

decide /dɪˈsaɪd/ ▷ verb (decided, deciding) 1 to settle something; to make the final result of something certain. 2 to make someone decide in a certain way. 3 to make a formal judgement about something. ■ decide to do something to establish an intention of doing it. ⓘ 14c: from Latin decidere to cut down, settle.

■ decide against something to reject it as an intention or course of action.

■ decide on or about something to establish an intention or course of action regarding it.

decided ▷ adj 1 clear and definite; unmistakeable. 2 determined; showing no doubt. ■ decidedly adverb undoubtedly; definitely □ decidedly ugly.

decider ▷ noun 1 someone or something that decides. 2 something that decides the result of something, eg the winning goal in a match.

deciduous /dɪˈsɪdjʊəs/ ▷ adj 1 bot denoting plants which shed all their leaves at a certain time of year, usually the autumn in temperate regions. Compare EVERGREEN. 2 biol denoting structures which are shed at maturity or after a period of growth, eg milk teeth. ■ deciduousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin decidere to fall down.

decigram or decigramme /ˈdesɪgram/ ▷ noun one tenth of a gram. ⓘ 19c.

decilitre /ˈdesɪliːtə(r)/ ▷ noun one tenth of a litre. ⓘ 19c.

decillion /dɪˈsɪlɪən/ ▷ noun 1 Brit, France, Germany (symbol 10^{60}) a million raised to the tenth power. 2 chiefly N Amer (symbol 10^{33}) a thousand raised to the eleventh power. ■ decillionth adj, noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin decem ten + MILLION.

decimal /ˈdesɪməl/ ▷ adj 1 based on the number 10; relating to powers of 10 or the base 10. 2 denoting a system of measurement, etc, with units that are related to each other by multiples of 10. ▷ noun a decimal fraction. ⓘ 17c: from Latin decimalis, from decem ten.

decimal classification see DEWEY DECIMAL SYSTEM.

decimal currency ▷ noun a system of money in which each coin or note is either a tenth of or 10 times another in value.

decimal fraction ▷ noun a fraction in which tenths, hundredths, thousandths, etc are written in figures after a decimal point which follows the figure or figures expressing whole numbers, eg 0.5 = $^5/_{10}$ or $^1/_2$. Compare VULGAR FRACTION.

decimalize or decimalise /ˈdesɪməlaɪz/ ▷ verb (decimalized, decimalizing) to convert (numbers, a currency, etc) from a non-decimal to a decimal form. ■ decimalization noun. ⓘ 19c.

decimal place ▷ noun the position of a digit to the right of the DECIMAL POINT.

decimal point ▷ noun the point (.) which separates the UNIT and the DECIMAL FRACTION.

decimal system ▷ noun 1 a system of measurement with units that are related to each other by multiples of 10. 2 the number system in common use, in which the place values of the digits in a number correspond to multiples of powers of 10. 3 see DEWEY DECIMAL SYSTEM. ⓘ 17c: from Latin decem ten.

decimate /ˈdesɪmeɪt/ ▷ verb (decimated, decimating) to reduce greatly in number; to destroy a large part or number of something. ■ decimation noun. ■ decimator noun. ⓘ 17c in this sense; 16c in historical sense 'to select by lot and execute one in every ten': from Latin decimare to take a tenth person or thing, from decem ten.

decimetre /ˈdesɪmiːtə(r)/ ▷ noun one tenth of a metre.

decipher /dɪˈsaɪfə(r)/ ▷ verb (deciphered, deciphering) 1 to translate (a message or text in code or in an unfamiliar or strange form of writing) into ordinary understandable language. 2 to work out the meaning of something obscure or difficult to read. ■ decipherability noun. ■ decipherable adj. ■ decipherer noun. ■ decipherment noun. ⓘ 16c.

decision /dɪˈsɪʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of deciding. 2 something decided. 3 the ability to make decisions and act on them firmly □ able to act with decision in a crisis. ⓘ 15c: from Latin decisio cutting off.

decision table ▷ noun, computing, logic a table comprising four sections showing a number of conditions and actions to be taken if these are not met, indicating the action to be taken under any condition or set of conditions.

decisive /dɪˈsaɪsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 putting an end to doubt or dispute. 2 willing and able to make decisions quickly and with firmness. ■ decisively adverb. ■ decisiveness noun.

deck[1] ▷ noun 1 a platform extending from one side of a ship to the other, and forming a floor or covering. 2 a floor or platform in a bus, bridge, etc. 3 N Amer, especially US a pack of playing-cards. 4 the part of a tape recorder or computer which contains the mechanism for operation. 5 the unit that contains the turntable and pick-up of a record player. ■ clear the decks to clear away obstacles or deal with preliminary jobs in preparation for further activity. ■ hit the deck colloq 1 to lie or fall down suddenly and quickly on the ground or floor. 2 to get out of bed. 3 to go into action. ⓘ 15c: from Dutch dec roof or covering.

deck[2] ▷ verb (decked, decking) 1 (usually deck something out) to decorate or embellish it. 2 to provide or fit (eg a boat) with a deck. ■ decked adj. ⓘ 15c: from Dutch dekken to cover.

deck chair ▷ noun a light folding chair made of wood and a length of canvas or other heavy fabric, usually used for sitting outside in fine weather. ⓘ 19c.

-decker ▷ adj, in compounds, signifying having a specified number of decks or layers □ a double-decker bus. Also as noun □ a double-decker.

deck hand ▷ noun someone who does general work on the deck of a ship; an ordinary sailor.

deck house ▷ noun a room, house, etc erected on the deck of a ship.

decking ▷ noun 1 the act of adorning; adornment. 2 a platform; the materials used to build a deck. ⓘ 16c: DECK[1,2].

deckle /ˈdɛkəl/ ▷ noun in paper-making: 1 a device for fixing the width of a sheet. 2 a DECKLE EDGE. ⓘ 18c: from German Deckel a lid.

deckle edge ▷ noun the rough edge of handmade paper, or an imitation of this.

decko see DEKKO

deck quoits ▷ noun the game of QUOITS as played on the deck of a ship with rope rings. ⓘ Early 20c.

deck tennis ▷ noun a modified version of TENNIS (sense 1), suitable for playing on board ship. ⓘ Early 20c.

declaim /dɪˈkleɪm/ ▷ verb (declaimed, declaiming) 1 tr & intr to make (a speech) in an impressive and dramatic manner. 2 intr (usually declaim against something) to protest about it loudly and passionately. ● declaimer noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin declamare.

declamation /dɛkləˈmeɪʃən/ ▷ noun an impressive or emotional speech, usually made in protest or condemnation. ⓘ 16c: from Latin declamare, declamatum to declaim.

declamatory /dɪˈklamətərɪ/ ▷ adj said of speech: impassioned; rhetorical. ● declamatorily adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin declamare, declamatum to declaim.

declarative /dɪˈklarətɪv/ ▷ adj, grammar making a statement. ● declaratively adverb. ⓘ 17c.

declare /dɪˈklɛə(r)/ ▷ verb (declared, declaring) 1 to announce something publicly or formally ▫ declare war. 2 to say something firmly or emphatically. 3 to make known (goods on which duty must be paid, income on which tax should be paid, etc). 4 intr, cricket to end an innings voluntarily before 10 wickets have fallen. 5 tr & intr, cards to state or show that one is holding (certain cards). ● declarable adj. ● declaration noun declaring; a formal statement or announcement. ● declaratorily adverb. ● declaratory /dɪˈklarətərɪ/ adj making a statement or declaration. ● declarer noun. ● ⓘ 14c: from Latin declarare, from clarus clear.

■ declare for or against something to state one's support or opposition regarding it.

declassify /diːˈklasɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb to take (an official document, etc) off a list of secret information and allow public access to it. ● declassification noun. ⓘ 19c.

declension /dɪˈklɛnʃən/ ▷ noun, grammar 1 in certain languages, eg Latin: any of various sets of different forms taken by nouns, adjectives or pronouns to indicate case, number and gender. 2 the act of stating these forms. See also CONJUGATION, DECLINE 4. 3 any group of nouns or adjectives showing the same pattern of forms. ⓘ 16c: from French, from Latin declinatio bending aside.

declination /dɛklɪˈneɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 technical the angle between TRUE NORTH and MAGNETIC NORTH, which varies according to time and geographical location. 2 astron the angular distance of a star or planet north or south of the celestial equator. 3 now US declining; a polite refusal. ⓘ 16c: from Latin declinatio bending aside.

decline /dɪˈklaɪn/ ▷ verb (declined, declining) 1 to refuse (an invitation, etc), especially politely. 2 intr to become less strong or less healthy. 3 intr to become less in quality or quantity. 4 grammar to state the pattern of forms representing the various cases of (a noun, adjective or pronoun). See also CONJUGATE, DECLENSION. ▷ noun a lessening of strength, health, quality, quantity, etc. ● declinable adj, grammar having declensions; able to be declined. ● on the decline becoming less; deteriorating. ⓘ 14c: from Latin declinare to bend aside.

declivity /dɪˈklɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (declivities) formal a downward slope. Compare ACCLIVITY. ● declivitous adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin declivitas, from clivus sloping.

declutch /diːˈklʌtʃ/ ▷ verb, intr to release the clutch of (a motor vehicle). ⓘ Early 20c.

decoct /dɪˈkɒkt/ ▷ verb (decocted, decocting) to extract the essence, etc of (a substance) by boiling. ⓘ 15c: see DECOCTION.

decoction /dɪˈkɒkʃən/ ▷ noun a liquid obtained by boiling something in water, eg to extract its flavour. ⓘ 14c: from Latin decoctio, from coquere to cook or boil.

decode /diːˈkoʊd/ ▷ verb to translate (a coded message) into ordinary language. ● decoder noun a person or device that decodes. ⓘ 19c.

decoke see DECARBONIZE

decollate /diːkɒˈleɪt, ˈdɛkəleɪt/ ▷ verb to separate (continuous stationery) into separate sheets or forms. ⓘ 20c.

décolletage /deɪkɒlˈtɑːʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a low-cut neckline on a woman's dress, etc. 2 the exposure of the neck and shoulders in such a dress. ⓘ 19c: French.

décolleté or décolletée /deɪˈkɒlteɪ/ ▷ adj 1 said of a woman's dress, etc: having the neckline cut low at the front. 2 said of a woman: wearing such a dress, etc. ⓘ 19c: from French décolleter to bare the neck and shoulders.

decolonize or decolonise /diːˈkɒlənaɪz/ ▷ verb to release (a state) from being a colony; to grant independence to (a colony). ● decolonization noun. ⓘ 1930s; first as DECOLONIZATION.

decolour or decolor /diːˈkʌlə(r)/ ▷ verb to deprive something of colour. ⓘ 19c.

decolourize or decolourise /diːˈkʌləraɪz/ ▷ verb to DECOLOUR. Also (US) decolorize or decolorise.

decommission /diːkəˈmɪʃən/ ▷ verb to take (eg a warship or atomic reactor) out of use or operation. ● decommissioner noun. ● decommissioning noun. ⓘ 1920s.

decompose /diːkəmˈpoʊz/ ▷ verb 1 intr said of a dead organism: to rot, usually as a result of the activity of fungi and bacteria. 2 tr & intr said of a chemical compound: to break down into simpler compounds or its constituent elements, eg as a result of heating, exposure to light or electrolysis. 3 tr & intr, technical to separate into smaller or simpler parts or elements. ● decomposable adj. ● decomposer noun. ⓘ 18c: from French décomposer.

decomposition ▷ noun decaying; rotting; disintegration; decay.

decompress /diːkəmˈprɛs/ technical ▷ verb 1 to decrease the pressure on something. 2 to release something from pressure. ● decompressive adj. ● decompressor noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

decompression ▷ noun reduction of air pressure. ⓘ Early 20c.

decompression chamber ▷ noun a sealed room in which the air pressure can be varied.

decompression sickness ▷ noun a painful and sometimes fatal disorder that occurs when a person who has been breathing air under high pressure returns too suddenly to normal atmospheric pressure, causing nitrogen dissolved in the bloodstream to come out of solution and form bubbles that hinder or even block the circulation. Also called the bends, caisson disease.

decongestant /diːkənˈdʒɛstənt/ medicine ▷ noun a drug which reduces nasal mucous-membrane swelling and suppresses mucus production, thereby clearing blocked passages and sinuses. ▷ adj relieving congestion. ⓘ 1950s.

decongestive /diːkənˈdʒɛstɪv/ ▷ adj reducing or relieving congestion. ⓘ Early 20c.

deconsecrate /diːˈkɒnsəkreɪt/ ▷ verb to secularize; to transfer (a church) to secular use. ● deconsecration noun. ⓘ 19c.

deconstruction /diːkənˈstrʌkʃən/ and deconstructive criticism /diːkənˈstrʌktɪv —/ ▷ noun an approach to critical analysis applied especially to literary texts which asserts that it is impossible for any text to communicate a fixed and stable meaning, and that readers should leave behind all philosophical and other concepts when approaching a text. ● deconstructionist noun, adj. ⓘ 1970s.

decontaminate /diːkən'tamɪneɪt/ ▷ verb to make something safe by removing poisons, radioactivity, etc from it. ● decontaminant noun. ● decontamination noun. ● decontaminative adj. ● decontaminator noun. ⓘ 1930s.

decontrol /diːkən'troʊl/ ▷ verb to remove control, especially official controls or restrictions, from something. ▷ noun removal of control. ⓘ Early 20c.

décor /'deɪkɔː(r), 'dek-/ ▷ noun 1 scenery, etc; a theatre set. 2 the style of decoration, furnishings, etc in a room or house. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'decoration'.

decorate /'dekəreɪt/ ▷ verb (decorated, decorating) 1 to beautify something with ornaments, etc. 2 to put paint or wallpaper on (a wall, etc). 3 to give a medal or badge to someone as a mark of honour. ● decorator noun someone who decorates buildings professionally. ⓘ 16c: from Latin decorare, decoratum to beautify.

Decorated style ▷ noun, archit a style of GOTHIC architecture, elaborate and richly decorated, which prevailed until nearly the end of the 14c.

decoration /dekə'reɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 something used to decorate. 2 the act of decorating. 3 the state of being decorated. 4 a medal or badge given as a mark of honour. ⓘ 16c.

decorative /'dekərətɪv/ ▷ adj ornamental or beautiful (especially if not useful). ● decoratively adverb. ● decorativeness noun. ⓘ 18c.

decorative arts ▷ plural noun the applied arts (such as ceramics, metalwork, textiles, furniture-making and calligraphy) as distinct from the FINE ARTS. In general, objects produced in the decorative arts are functional as well as ornamental. Compare FINE ART.

decorator see under DECORATE decorous /'dekərəs/ ▷ adj said of behaviour or appearance: correct or socially acceptable; showing proper respect. ● decorously adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin decorus becoming or fitting.

decorum /dɪ'kɔːrəm/ ▷ noun correct or socially acceptable behaviour. ⓘ 16c: from Latin decorus becoming or fitting.

decoupage or découpage /deɪkuː'pɑːʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the craft of applying decorative paper cut-outs to eg wood surfaces, practised since the 18c. 2 a picture produced in this way. ⓘ 20c: French, from découper to cut out.

decoy ▷ verb /dɪ'kɔɪ, 'diːkɔɪ/ (decoyed, decoying) to lead or lure into a trap. ▷ noun /'diːkɔɪ, dɪ'kɔɪ/ (decoys) someone or something used to lead or lure (a person or animal) into a trap. ⓘ 17c as noun; 16c as verb in Scots: probably from Dutch de kooi the cage.

decrease ▷ verb /dɪ'kriːs/ (decreased, decreasing) tr & intr to make or become less. ▷ noun /'diːkriːs/ (decreases) a lessening or loss. Opposite of INCREASE. ● decreasingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin decrescere.

decree /dɪ'kriː/ ▷ noun (decrees) 1 a formal order or ruling made by someone in high authority (eg a monarch) and which becomes law. 2 law a ruling made in a law court. ▷ verb (decreed, decreeing) to order or decide something formally or officially. ⓘ 14c: from Latin decretum.

decree absolute ▷ noun, law a decree issued by a court in divorce proceedings which officially ends a marriage.

decree nisi /— 'naɪsaɪ/ ▷ noun, law a decree issued by a court in divorce proceedings which will become a DECREE ABSOLUTE after a period of time unless some reason is shown why it should not.

decrement /'dekrəmənt/ ▷ noun 1 decreasing; decrease. 2 math the decrease in value of a variable. 3 physics the ratio of each amplitude to the previous one in an oscillator. ⓘ 17c: from Latin decrementum.

decrepit /dɪ'krepɪt/ ▷ adj 1 weak or worn out because of old age. 2 in a very poor state because of age or long use. ● decrepitude /dɪ'krepɪtʃuːd/ noun a decrepit or worn-out state. ⓘ 15c: from Latin decrepitus very old.

decrepitate /dɪ'krepɪteɪt/ physics ▷ verb (decrepitated, decrepitating) 1 intr to crackle, as salts do when heated. 2 to roast something so as to cause a continual crackling; to calcine. ● decrepitation noun. ⓘ 17c: from DE- 3 + Latin crepitare to rattle.

decrescendo /diːkrə'ʃendoʊ, deɪ-/ music ▷ adj, adverb becoming quieter. ▷ noun an instance when a piece of music becomes quieter. ⓘ 19c: Italian, from decrescere to decrease.

decretal /dɪ'kriːtəl, 'dekrɪtəl/ ▷ noun a papal decree. ▷ adj belonging or relating to a decree. ⓘ 15c: from Latin decretalis of a decree.

decriminalize or decriminalise /diː'krɪmɪnəlaɪz/ ▷ verb, law to make (a practice, etc) no longer a criminal offence; to legalize something. ● decriminalization noun. Compare CRIMINALIZE. ⓘ 1970s as verb; 1940s as noun.

decry /dɪ'kraɪ/ ▷ verb to express disapproval of someone or something; to criticize someone or something as worthless or unsuitable. ● decrial /dɪ'kraɪəl/ noun. ● decrier noun. ⓘ 17c: from French décrier.

decrypt /diː'krɪpt/ ▷ verb (decrypted, decrypting) to decode something. ● decryption /diː'krɪpʃən/ noun. ⓘ 20c: from DE- 2 + Greek kryptos hidden.

decumbent /dɪ'kʌmbənt/ ▷ adj 1 lying down. 2 bot, zool, anatomy lying flat on the ground or a surface. ● decumbence or decumbency noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin decumbere to lie down.

DEd ▷ abbreviation Doctor of Education.

dedicate /'dedɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (dedicated, dedicating) (usually dedicate oneself or something to someone or something) 1 to give or devote (oneself or one's time, money, etc) wholly or chiefly to some purpose, cause, etc. 2 to devote or address (a book, piece of music, etc) to someone as a token of affection or respect. 3 to set something apart for some sacred purpose. ● dedicatee /dedɪkeɪ'tiː/ noun (dedicatees) a person to whom something is dedicated. ⓘ 15c: from Latin dedicare, dedicatum to declare or dedicate.

dedicated ▷ adj 1 working very hard at or spending a great deal of one's time and energy on something. 2 committed or devoted to a particular cause, etc. 3 assigned or set aside for a particular purpose ▫ a dedicated phone line. 4 technical said of a computer: designed to carry out one particular function.

dedication ▷ noun 1 the quality of being dedicated. 2 the act of dedicating. 3 the words dedicating a book, etc to someone. ● dedicational adj.

dedicator ▷ noun someone who makes a DEDICATION. ⓘ 17c.

dedicatory /'dedɪkeɪtərɪ/ ▷ adj serving as a DEDICATION in a book, etc ▫ dedicatory remarks. ⓘ 16c.

dedifferentiation /diːdɪfərenʃɪ'eɪʃən/ ▷ noun, biol, medicine a change by which specialized or heterogeneous tissue reverts to a generalized or homogeneous form. ⓘ Early 20c.

dedramatize or dedramatise /diː'dramətaɪz/ ▷ verb to play down the importance of something; to lessen or keep low the tension or friction caused by something.

deduce /dɪˈdʒuːs/ ▷ verb (deduced, deducing) to think out or judge on the basis of what one knows or assumes to be fact. ⓘ 15c: from DE- 1 + Latin ducere to lead.

deducible /dɪˈdʒuːsɪbəl/ ▷ adj capable of being deduced. • deducibility or deducibleness noun. ⓘ 17c.

deduct /dɪˈdʌkt/ ▷ verb (deducted, deducting) to take away (a number, amount, etc). • deductible adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin deducere, deductum.

deduction /dɪˈdʌkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of deducting. 2 something, especially money, which has been or will be deducted. 3 the act or process of deducing, especially of deducing a particular fact from what one knows or thinks to be generally true. 4 something that has been deduced. Compare INDUCTION. ⓘ 15c: as deduction.

deductive /dɪˈdʌktɪv/ ▷ adj said of a logical process of thought: deducing or involving deduction of particular facts from general truths. Compare INDUCTIVE. • deductively adverb. ⓘ 17c.

deed ▷ noun 1 something someone has done. 2 a brave action or notable achievement. 3 law a signed statement which records the terms of an agreement, especially about a change in ownership of a house or other property. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dæd or ded.

deed of covenant ▷ noun a legal agreement in which someone promises to pay a fixed sum (to a recognized charitable organization) for an agreed time, enabling the recipient to recover the tax paid on the total payment by the person making the covenant.

deed poll ▷ noun, law a deed made and signed by one person only, especially when changing their name. ⓘ 16c.

deejay /ˈdiːdʒeɪ, diːˈdʒeɪ/ ▷ noun (deejays) colloq a DISC JOCKEY. ⓘ 1950s: from the initials DJ.

deem ▷ verb (deemed, deeming) formal, old use to judge, think or consider. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon deman to form a judgement.

de-emphasize or de-emphasise /diːˈɛmfəsaɪz/ ▷ verb to take the emphasis away from something; to treat or consider as of little or less importance. ⓘ 20c.

deep ▷ adj 1 far down from the top or surface; with a relatively great distance from the top or surface to the bottom. 2 going or being far in from the outside surface or edge. 3 usually in compounds going or being far down by a specified amount □ knee-deep in mud. 4 in a specified number of rows or layers □ lined up four deep. 5 coming from or going far down; long and full □ a deep sigh □ a deep breath. 6 very great; serious □ deep trouble. 7 said of a colour: strong and relatively dark; not light or pale. 8 low in pitch □ deep-toned. 9 said of emotions, etc: strongly felt. 10 obscure; hard to understand □ deep thoughts. 11 said of a person: mysterious; keeping secret thoughts. 12 cricket not close to the wickets. 13 football well behind one's team's front line of players. ▷ adverb 1 deeply. 2 far down or into. 3 late on in or well into (a period of time). ▷ noun 1 (the deep) the ocean. 2 (also deeps) old use a place far below the surface of the ground or the sea. See also DEPTH. • deeply adverb very greatly. • deepness noun. • deep down in reality, although not in appearance. • deep in something fully occupied or involved with it □ deep in thought. • go in or jump in or dive in or be thrown in at the deep end colloq to begin or be given a difficult undertaking with little or no experience or preparation. • go off at or go off the deep end colloq to lose one's temper suddenly and violently. • in deep water colloq in trouble or difficulties. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon deop.

deep-dyed ▷ adj thoroughgoing; extreme (in a bad sense).

deepen /ˈdiːpən/ ▷ verb (deepened, deepening) tr & intr to make or become deeper, greater, more intense, etc. ⓘ 16c.

deep-freeze ▷ noun a specialized refrigeration unit, or a compartment in a refrigerator, that is designed for storage of perishable material, especially food, in a frozen state at a temperature below –18°C (0°F). ▷ verb to preserve perishable material, especially food, by storing it in a frozen state, so as to prevent the growth and reproduction of bacteria and other micro-organisms. ⓘ 1940s.

deep-fry ▷ verb to fry something by completely submerging it in hot fat or oil.

deep kiss ▷ noun a kiss using the tongue. • deep kissing noun.

deep-laid ▷ adj secretly plotted or devised. ⓘ 18c.

deep litter ▷ noun a method of keeping hens in a henhouse with a deep layer of peat material on the floor.

deep-rooted and deep-seated ▷ adj said of ideas, habits, etc: deeply and firmly established in a person or group of people and not easily removed or changed. ⓘ 17c as -rooted; 18c as -seated.

deep-sea ▷ adj belonging to, for, etc, or working, etc, in the deeper parts of the sea.

deep-set ▷ adj said especially of the eyes: in relatively deep sockets; set deeply into the face. ⓘ 19c.

the Deep South ▷ noun the SE part of the USA, roughly the states of S Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

deep space ▷ noun outer space, understood by some people as the area of space well outside the Earth's atmosphere or beyond the Moon's orbit, by others as the area outside the solar system.

deep structure ▷ noun, grammar in Chomskyan terms: the underlying grammatical or semantic concepts and relationships of words or concepts in a sentence from which its SURFACE STRUCTURE derives. ⓘ 1960s.

deep throat ▷ noun, colloq a highly confidential informant. ⓘ 1970s.

deer ▷ noun (plural deer) any of numerous RUMINANT mammals, found throughout Europe, Asia and N and S America, and distinguished by the presence of antlers, usually branched, in the male. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon deor animal or deer.

deer fence ▷ noun a very high fence that deer should not be able to jump over. ⓘ Late 19c.

deer forest ▷ noun a wild tract of land, not necessarily all wooded, reserved for deer. ⓘ 19c.

deer horn ▷ noun a deer's antler or the material that forms it.

deerhound ▷ noun a large dog, developed in Scotland from Mediterranean ancestors, that has a tall slim body, shaggy grey coat, long legs and tail, and a small head with short soft ears. ⓘ Early 19c.

deer lick ▷ noun a patch of salty ground where deer come to lick the salt. ⓘ 18c.

deerskin ▷ noun the skin of deer or leather made from it. ⓘ 14c.

deerstalker ▷ noun 1 a kind of hat with peaks at the front and back and flaps at the side that can cover the ears. 2 a person who stalks deer. ⓘ 19c.

def. ▷ abbreviation 1 defendant. 2 definition.

deface /dɪˈfeɪs/ ▷ verb to deliberately spoil the appearance of something (eg by marking or cutting). • defacement noun. • defacer noun. • defacingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French desfacier.

de facto /diː ˈfaktoʊ, deɪ -/ ▷ adj, adverb actual or actually, though not necessarily legally so. Compare DE JURE. ▷ noun (de factos) Austral a de facto husband or wife. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'in fact'.

defalcate /ˈdiːfalkeɪt, ˈdiːfɔːl-/ law ▷ verb (defalcated, defalcating) intr to embezzle or misuse money held in trust. ■ defalcation noun. ■ defalcator noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin defalcare, defalcatum, from de away + falcare to cut.

defame /dɪ'feɪm/ ▷ verb (defamed, defaming) to attack the good reputation of someone by saying something unfavourable about them. ■ defamation /dɛfə'meɪʃən/ noun. ■ defamatorily adverb. ■ defamatory /dɪ'famətərɪ/ adj. ⓒ 14c: from Latin diffamare to spread bad reports about.

defat /diː'fat/ ▷ verb (defatted, defatting) to remove fat or fats from something. ⓒ 1920s.

default /dɪ'fɔːlt, dɪ'fɒlt/ ▷ verb, intr 1 (usually default on something) to fail to do what one should do, especially to fail to pay what is due. 2 law to fail to appear in court when called upon. ▷ noun 1 a failure to do or pay what one should. 2 computing a preset option which will always be followed unless the operator enters a command to the contrary. ■ defaulter noun a person who defaults, especially in paying a debt. ■ by default because of someone's failure to do something which would have prevented or altered the situation. ■ in default of something in the absence of it ; for lack of it. ⓒ 16c in this form; 13c as defaut: from French defaillir to fail.

defeat /dɪ'fiːt/ ▷ verb (defeated, defeating) 1 to beat or win a victory over someone, eg in a war, competition, game or argument. 2 to make (plans, etc) fail. ▷ noun the act of defeating or state of being defeated. ⓒ 16c: from French desfait from desfaire to ruin or undo.

defeatism ▷ noun a state of mind in which one too readily expects or accepts defeat or failure. ■ defeatist adj, noun. ⓒ Early 20c.

defecate /'dɛfəkeɪt, 'diː-/ ▷ verb (defecated, defecating) formal, technical to empty the bowels of waste matter. See also FAECES. ■ defecation noun. ⓒ 19c in this sense; 15c, meaning 'to purify or clarify': from Latin defaecare, defaecatum to cleanse.

defect ▷ noun /'diːfɛkt/ a flaw, fault or imperfection. ▷ verb /dɪ'fɛkt/ (defected, defecting) intr to leave one's country, political party or group, especially to support or join an opposing one. ■ defection noun. ■ defector noun. ⓒ 15c as noun; 16c as verb: from Latin deficere, defectum to fail.

defective ▷ adj imperfect; having a defect or defects. ■ defectively adverb. ■ defectiveness noun. ⓒ 15c.

> defective
>
> A word often confused with this one is deficient.

defence /dɪ'fɛns/ or (US) defense /'diːfɛns/ noun 1 the act of defending against attack. 2 the method, means or equipment used to guard or protect against attack or when attacked. 3 the armed forces of a country. 4 (defences) fortifications. 5 a person's answer to an accusation, justifying or denying what they have been accused of. 6 (the defence) law in a court: the person or people on trial and the lawyer or lawyers acting for them. 7 (the defence) sport the players in a team whose main task is to prevent their opponents from scoring. ■ defenceless adj. ■ defencelessly adverb. ■ defencelessness noun. ⓒ 13c: from Latin defendere, defensum to defend.

defenceman or defenseman noun, ice-hockey, lacrosse a player other than the goalkeeper who defends the goal.

defence mechanism ▷ noun 1 psychol a process, usually subconscious, of blocking out of one's mind a feeling or memory one finds painful. 2 a response by an organism in reaction to harmful organisms, predators, etc.

defend /dɪ'fɛnd/ ▷ verb (defended, defending) 1 to guard or protect someone or something against attack or when attacked. 2 to explain, justify or argue in support of the actions of someone accused of doing wrong. 3 to be the lawyer acting on behalf of (the accused) in a trial. 4 sport to try to prevent one's opponents from scoring. 5 sport to take part in a contest against a challenger for (a title, medal, etc one holds). ■ defendable adj. ■ defender noun someone who defends against attack, especially in military and sporting contexts. ⓒ 13c: from Latin defendere.

defendant ▷ noun someone against whom a charge is brought in a law-court. See also PLAINTIFF. ⓒ 16c.

Defender of the Faith ▷ noun a title borne by the sovereign of England since 1521 when it was conferred by the Pope on Henry VIII in recognition of his book against Martin Luther.

defense see DEFENCE

defenseman see DEFENCEMAN

defensible /dɪ'fɛnsɪbəl/ ▷ adj able to be defended or justified. ■ defensibility noun. ■ defensibly adverb. ⓒ 14c: from Latin defensibilis, from defendere to defend.

defensive /dɪ'fɛnsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 defending or ready to defend. 2 attempting to justify one's actions when criticized or when expecting criticism. ■ defensively adverb. ■ defensiveness noun. ■ on the defensive defending oneself or prepared to defend oneself against attack or criticism. ⓒ 15c: from Latin defensivus.

defer[1] /dɪ'fɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (deferred, deferring) to put off something or leave it until a later time. ■ deferment noun. ■ deferrable or deferable adj. ■ deferral noun. ■ deferrer noun. ⓒ 14c: from Latin differre to delay or postpone.

defer[2] /dɪ'fɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (deferred, deferring) intr (usually defer to someone, etc) to yield to their wishes, opinions or orders. ⓒ 15c Scots, meaning 'to submit oneself to someone': from Latin deferre to carry away.

deference /'dɛfərəns/ ▷ noun 1 willingness to consider or respect the wishes, etc of others. 2 the act of deferring. ■ in deference to someone or something deferring to them; showing recognition of or respect for them. ⓒ 17c.

deferential /dɛfə'rɛnʃəl/ ▷ adj showing deference or respect. ■ deferentially adverb. ⓒ 19c.

deferred payment ▷ noun payment for goods one has received by small sums of money over a period of time.

deferred sentence ▷ noun, law a sentence which is delayed until after the criminal's conduct can be examined.

deferrer see under DEFER[1]

deferring present participle of DEFER[1,2]

defiance /dɪ'faɪəns/ ▷ noun an act of defying or of open disobedience; challenging or opposition, especially in a way that shows lack of respect. ⓒ 18c in this sense; 14c, meaning 'renunciation of allegiance or friendship': from DEFY.

defiant /dɪ'faɪənt/ ▷ adj openly disobedient or challenging. ■ defiantly adverb. ⓒ 16c.

defibrillation /diːfɪbrɪ'leɪʃən/ ▷ noun, medicine the application of an electric current to the heart to restore normal rhythm after FIBRILLATION has occurred. ⓒ 1930s.

defibrillator /diː'fɪbrɪleɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, medicine a machine which applies electric current to the heart or chest during DEFIBRILLATION.

deficiency /dɪ'fɪʃənsɪ/ ▷ noun (deficiencies) 1 a shortage or lack in quality or amount. 2 the thing or amount lacking. ⓒ 17c: from DEFICIENT.

deficiency disease ▷ noun, medicine any disease caused by lack of one or more specific nutrients, especially vitamins, in the diet, eg RICKETS, SCURVY, BERIBERI.

deficient /dɪ'fɪʃənt/ ▷ adj not good enough; not having all that is needed. ■ deficiently adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Latin deficere to fail or be lacking.

deficient

A word often confused with this one is defective.

deficit /ˈdefɪsɪt/ ▷ noun the amount by which some quantity, especially a sum of money, is less than what is required, eg the amount by which expenditure is greater than income. ⓘ 18c: from Latin deficere to fail or be lacking.

deficit financing ▷ noun, econ a government policy of stimulating the economy by deliberately planning a budget deficit, where expenditure will exceed the revenue from taxes, with money being pumped into the economy to stimulate (or maintain) demand and excess spending being financed by borrowing.

defied, defier and defies see under DEFY defile¹ /dɪˈfaɪl/ ▷ verb (defiled, defiling) 1 to make something dirty or polluted. 2 to take away or spoil the goodness, purity, holiness, etc of something. • defiler noun. • defilement noun. ⓘ 14c: from French defouler to trample or violate; altered under the influence of the old word befile, from Anglo-Saxon befylan to make foul.

defile² ▷ noun /ˈdiːfaɪl/ a narrow valley or passage between mountains. ▷ verb /diːˈfaɪl/ (defiled, defiling) intr to march in file. ⓘ 17c: from French défilé, from défiler to march in file.

definable /dɪˈfaɪnəbəl/ ▷ adj capable of being defined or described precisely. • definability noun. • definably adverb. ⓘ 17c.

define /dɪˈfaɪn/ ▷ verb (defined, defining) 1 to fix or state the exact meaning of (a word, etc). 2 to fix, describe or explain (opinions, duties, the qualities or limits of something, etc). 3 to make clear the outline or shape of something. See also DEFINITION. • definer noun. ⓘ 16c in this form; 14c as diffyne: from Latin definire to set boundaries to.

definite /ˈdefɪnət/ ▷ adj 1 fixed or firm; not liable to change. 2 sure; certain. 3 clear and precise. 4 having clear outlines. • definitely adverb 1 as a definite fact; certainly. 2 in a definite way. • definiteness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin definire to set boundaries to.

definite article ▷ noun, grammar a word, in English THE, used before a noun, or before an adjective used without a noun, to denote a specific or known example, or a defined class, as in the dog by the door, the government, the uninitiated. Compare INDEFINITE ARTICLE.

definition /defɪˈnɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a statement of the meaning of a word or phrase. 2 the act of defining a word or phrase. 3 the quality of having clear precise limits or form. 4 the degree of clearness and preciseness of limits or form. • by definition because of what something or someone essentially is or does ◻ A carpenter is by definition a craftsman. ⓘ 16c in this form; 14c as diffinicioun: from Latin definitio.

definitive /dɪˈfɪnɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 settling a matter once and for all. 2 most complete or authoritative. ▷ noun, grammar an adjective used to limit the extent of meaning of a noun, eg THIS, THAT. • definitively adverb. • definitiveness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin definitivus definite.

deflagrate /ˈdefləgreɪt/ physics, chem ▷ verb (deflagrated, deflagrating) tr & intr to burn suddenly, generally with flame and crackling noise. • deflagration noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin deflagrare, deflagratum to burn up.

deflate /dɪˈfleɪt, diː-/ ▷ verb (deflated, deflating) 1 tr & intr to collapse or grow smaller by letting out gas. 2 to reduce or take away the hopes, excitement, feelings of importance or self-confidence, etc of someone. 3 tr & intr, econ to undergo or make something undergo DEFLATION. Compare INFLATE, REFLATE. • deflater or deflator noun. ⓘ 19c: from DE- 2 + -flate, from INFLATE.

deflated ▷ adj 1 having the air or gas removed. 2 said of a person: deprived of confidence.

deflation /dɪˈfleɪʃən, diː-/ ▷ noun 1 the act of deflating or the process of being deflated. 2 the state of being or feeling deflated. 3 econ a reduction in the amount of money available in a country, resulting in lower levels of economic activity, industrial output and employment, and a lower rate of increase in wages and prices. See also INFLATION, REFLATION, STAGFLATION. • deflationary adj. • deflationist noun, adj. ⓘ 19c.

deflect /dɪˈflekt, diː-/ ▷ verb (deflected, deflecting) tr & intr to turn aside from the correct or intended course or direction. • deflection noun. • deflective adj. • deflector noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin deflectere to bend aside.

deflower /dɪˈflaʊə(r), diː-/ literary ▷ verb (deflowered, deflowering) to deprive someone (especially a woman) of their virginity. • deflowerer noun. ⓘ 14c as deflour: from Latin deflorare.

defoliant /dɪˈfoʊlɪənt, diː-/ ▷ noun, technical a type of herbicide that causes the leaves to fall off plants. ⓘ 1940s.

defoliate /dɪˈfoʊlɪeɪt, diː-/ technical ▷ verb (defoliated, defoliating) to make leaves fall off (trees, etc). • defoliation noun. • defoliator noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin defoliare, defoliatum, from de off + folium leaf.

deforest /diːˈfɒrɪst/ agric ▷ verb (deforested, deforesting) to cut down forest trees for commercial use, or to clear land for agriculture, without replacing them, or without allowing the natural forest to regenerate. • deforestation noun. ⓘ 16c: compare DISAFFOREST, DISFOREST.

deform /dɪˈfɔːm/ ▷ verb (deformed, deforming) to change the shape of something without breaking it, so that it looks ugly, unpleasant, unnatural or spoiled. • deformed adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin deformis ugly.

deformity /dɪˈfɔːmɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (deformities) 1 being deformed or misshapen. 2 ugliness; disfigurement; an ugly feature. ⓘ 15c.

defraud /dɪˈfrɔːd/ ▷ verb (defrauded, defrauding) (usually defraud someone of something) to dishonestly prevent someone getting or keeping something which belongs to them or to which they have a right. • defrauder noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin defraudare.

defray /dɪˈfreɪ/ ▷ verb (defrayed, defraying) formal to provide the money to pay (someone's costs or expenses). • defrayable adj. • defrayal or defrayment noun. • defrayer noun. ⓘ 16c: from French defroier to pay costs.

defreeze /diːˈfriːz/ ▷ verb to thaw something out; to defrost (especially frozen food). ⓘ 20c.

defrock /diːˈfrɒk/ ▷ verb (defrocked, defrocking) to remove (a priest) from office, usually because of unacceptable conduct or beliefs. ⓘ 17c: from French défroquer.

defrost /diːˈfrɒst/ ▷ verb, tr & intr 1 to remove ice from something or have the ice removed from something; to unfreeze. 2 said of frozen food, etc: to make or become no longer frozen. • defroster noun a device for defrosting (especially a windscreen). ⓘ 19c.

deft ▷ adj skilful, quick and neat. • deftly adverb. • deftness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon gedæfte meek.

defunct /dɪˈfʌŋkt/ ▷ adj, now facetious or formal no longer living, existing, active, usable or in use. ⓘ 16c: from Latin defungi, defunctus to finish.

defuse /dɪˈfjuːz, -diː-/ ▷ verb (defused, defusing) 1 to remove the fuse from (a bomb, etc). 2 to make (a situation, etc) harmless or less dangerous. ⓘ 1940s.

defy /dɪˈfaɪ/ ▷ verb (defies, defied, defying) 1 to resist or disobey someone boldly and openly. 2 to dare or challenge someone. 3 formal to make something impossible or unsuccessful ◻ defying explanation. See also DEFIANCE. • defier noun. ⓘ 14c: from French defier, from Latin diffidare to renounce one's faith.

deg. ▷ abbreviation degree, or degrees.

degas /diːˈgas/ ▷ verb 1 to remove gas from something. 2 to eject or emit in the form of a gas. ⓒ Early 20c.

degaussing /diːˈgaʊsɪŋ/ ▷ noun, physics the process by which an object's magnetic field is neutralized by encircling it with an electric field. ⓒ 1940s: from DE- 2 + GAUSS.

degeneracy /dɪˈdʒenərəsɪ/ ▷ noun a degenerate or degraded state. ⓒ 17c.

degenerate ▷ adj /dɪˈdʒenərət/ 1 physically, morally or intellectually worse than before. 2 biol having lost former structure, or having changed from a complex to a simpler form. ▷ noun /dɪˈdʒenərət/ a degenerate person or animal. ▷ verb /dɪˈdʒenəreɪt/ (degenerated, degenerating) intr 1 to go from a better, more moral, etc state to a worse one. 2 biol to lose former structure, or change from a complex to a simpler form. ● degenerately adverb. ● degenerateness noun. ⓒ 15c: from Latin degenerare, degeneratum to become unlike one's kind.

degeneration /dɪdʒenəˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process or act of degenerating. 2 biol the breakdown, death or decay of cells, nerve fibres, etc. 3 biol an evolutionary change from a complex structural form to an apparently simpler form, as in the wings of flightless birds such as the emu. ⓒ 15c: from DEGENERATE.

degenerative ▷ adj said of a condition or disease: steadily destroying or damaging a part of the body. ⓒ 19c.

degradable /dɪˈgreɪdəbəl/ ▷ adj, technical capable of being broken down or destroyed chemically or biologically. See also BIODEGRADABLE, PHOTODEGRADABLE. ⓒ 19c.

degradation /degrəˈdeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 moral deterioration. 2 chem reduction of a substance to a simpler structure. 3 being degraded; disgrace. 4 erosion. ⓒ 16c.

degrade /dɪˈgreɪd/ ▷ verb 1 to disgrace or humiliate someone. 2 to reduce someone or something in rank, status, etc. 3 tr & intr, chem to change or be converted into a substance with a simpler structure. ● degrading adj humiliating; debasing. ⓒ 14c: from French degrader.

degrease /diːˈgriːs/ ▷ verb to strip or cleanse something of grease. ● degreasant noun a substance which removes grease. ⓒ 19c.

degree /dɪˈgriː/ ▷ noun (degrees) 1 an amount or extent. 2 physics (symbol °) a unit of temperature used in the CELSIUS, FAHRENHEIT and KELVIN scales. 3 geom (symbol °) a unit by which angles are measured and direction is described, equal to the angle of one SECTOR of a circle that has been divided into 360 equal parts. 4 an award or title given by a university or college, either earned by examination or research, or given as a mark of honour. 5 a comparative amount of severity or seriousness (see FIRST-DEGREE, SECOND-DEGREE, THIRD-DEGREE). ● by degrees gradually. ● to a degree 1 to a certain extent. 2 to a great extent, to extremes. ⓒ 13c as degre: French, from Latin de down + gradus step.

degree of freedom ▷ noun, physics 1 any one of the independent variables defining the state of a system, eg temperature, pressure, concentration. 2 a capability of variation.

degrees of comparison see COMPARISON dehiscent /dɪˈhɪsənt/ ▷ adj, bot denoting a fruit, or the anther of a stamen, that bursts open spontaneously at maturity to release the seeds or pollen. Compare INDEHISCENT. ● dehiscence noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin dehiscere to gape or split open.

dehorn /diːˈhɔːn/ ▷ verb 1 to remove the horns from (an animal, etc). 2 to prune (a tree, etc). ● dehorner noun. ⓒ 19c.

dehumanize or dehumanise /diːˈhjuːmənaɪz/ ▷ verb to remove the human qualities from someone. ⓒ 19c.

dehumidify /diːhjʊˈmɪdɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb to remove moisture from (the air, etc). ● dehumidification /-fɪˈkeɪʃən/ noun. ● dehumidifier noun. ⓒ 20c.

dehydrate /diːˈhaɪdreɪt, diːhaɪˈdreɪt/ ▷ verb 1 to remove water from (a substance or organism). 2 tr & intr to lose or make someone or something lose too much water from the body. ● dehydrated adj. ● dehydrator or dehydrater noun. ⓒ 19c: DE- 2 + Greek hydor water.

dehydration /diːhaɪˈdreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the removal of water from a substance. 2 a method of preserving food by greatly reducing its moisture content. 3 medicine a condition in which there is insufficient water in the body, eg as a result of diarrhoea or excessive sweating. ⓒ 19c.

de-ice ▷ verb 1 to remove ice from (a surface). 2 to make or keep something free of ice; to prevent the formation of ice on something. ● de-icer noun 1 a mechanical device for preventing the formation of ice, eg on an aircraft wing. 2 a chemical used to remove ice, eg from a car windscreen. ⓒ 1930s.

deific /deɪˈɪfɪk, diː-/ and deifical /-ˈɪfɪkəl/ ▷ adj making something or someone godlike or divine, or treating it or them as if they were godlike or divine. ● deification noun /deɪfɪˈkeɪʃən, diː-/. ⓒ 16c.

deify /ˈdeɪɪfaɪ, ˈdiː-/ ▷ verb (deifies, deified, deifying) to regard or worship someone or something as a god. ⓒ 14c: from French deifier, from Latin deus god + facere to make.

deign /deɪn/ ▷ verb (deigned, deigning) intr to do something reluctantly and in a way that shows that one considers the matter hardly important or beneath one's dignity ▫ didn't even deign to reply. ⓒ 16c in this form; 13c as deyn: from French daigner, from Latin dignari to consider worthy.

deindustrialize or deindustrialise /diːɪnˈdʌstrɪəlaɪz/ ▷ verb to disperse or reduce the industrial organization and potential of a nation, area, etc. ● deindustrialization noun. ⓒ 19c.

deionization /diːaɪənaɪˈzeɪʃən/ ▷ noun, chem an ION-EXCHANGE process that is used to purify or change the composition of a solution, especially to purify water obtained from the mains water supply.

deism /ˈdeɪɪzəm, ˈdiː-/ ▷ noun belief in the existence of God without acceptance of any religion or message revealed by God to man. Compare ATHEISM, THEISM, AGNOSTICISM. ● deist noun. ● deistic or deistical adj. ⓒ 17c: from Latin deus god + -ISM 1.

deity /ˈdeɪɪtɪ, ˈdiː-/ ▷ noun (deities) formal 1 a god or goddess. 2 the state of being divine. 3 (the Deity) God. ⓒ 14c: from Latin deitas, from deus god.

déjà vu /deɪʒɑː ˈvuː/ ▷ noun the feeling or illusion that one has experienced something before although one is actually experiencing it for the first time. ⓒ Early 20c: French, meaning 'already seen'.

dejected /dɪˈdʒektɪd/ ▷ adj sad; miserable. ● dejectedly adverb. ● dejectedness noun. ⓒ 16c from earlier verb deject originally meaning 'cast down': from Latin dejicere to throw down or disappoint.

dejection /dɪˈdʒekʃən/ ▷ noun being dejected or sad.

de jure /diː ˈdʒʊərɪ, deɪ ˈjʊəreɪ/ ▷ adverb, adj, law according to law; by right. Compare DE FACTO. ⓒ 16c: Latin, meaning 'by law'.

dekko or decko /ˈdekoʊ/ ▷ noun (dekkos or deckos) (usually have or take a dekko) slang a look. ⓒ 19c: from Hindi dekhna to see.

Del. ▷ abbreviation US state Delaware.

del see under NABLA

del ▷ abbreviation 1 delegate. 2 (sometimes added to the signature of the artist on a drawing) delineavit (Latin), he or she drew this.

delay /dɪ'leɪ/ ▷ verb (delayed, delaying) 1 to slow someone or something down or make them late. 2 to put off to a later time. 3 intr to be slow in doing something; to linger. ▷ noun (delays) 1 the act of delaying or state of being delayed. 2 the amount of time by which someone or something is delayed. • delayer noun. ⓒ 13c: from French delaier.

delayed action ▷ noun the operation of a switch, eg the shutter release on a camera or the detonator on a bomb, some time after the setting of the operating mechanism.

dele /'diːliː/ ▷ noun (deles) a direction, usually found in the margin of a manuscript or other text, to remove a letter or word, indicated by δ. ▷ verb (deled, deleing) to mark (a text, etc) with this kind of mark. Compare SIC, STET. ⓒ 18c: Latin imperative of delere to delete.

delectable /dɪ'lɛktəbəl/ ▷ adj said especially of food: delightful or enjoyable; delicious. • delectably adverb. • delectableness or delectability noun. ⓒ 14c: from Latin delectabilis, from delectare to delight.

delectation /diːlɛk'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun, formal delight, enjoyment or amusement. ⓒ 14c: from Latin delectare, delectatum to delight.

delegacy /'dɛlɪgəsɪ/ ▷ noun (delegacies) 1 a system or the process of delegating. 2 a delegate's appointment or authority. 3 a body of delegates. ⓒ 16c.

delegate ▷ verb /'dɛlɪgeɪt/ (delegated, delegating) 1 to give (part of one's work, power, etc) to someone else. 2 to send or name someone as a representative, as the one to do a job, etc. ▷ noun /'dɛlɪgət/ someone chosen to be the representative for another person or group of people eg at a conference or meeting. • delegable /'dɛlɪgəbəl/ adj. ⓒ 14c: from Latin delegare, delegatum, from de away + legare to send as ambassador.

delegation /dɛlɪ'geɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a group of delegates. 2 the act of delegating or the state of being delegated. ⓒ 17c.

delete /dɪ'liːt/ ▷ verb (deleted, deleting) to rub out, score out or remove something, especially from something written or printed. • deletion /dɪ'liːʃən/ noun 1 a rubbing out. 2 something rubbed out or removed. ⓒ 16c in this sense; 15c, meaning 'to destroy': from Latin delere to blot out.

deleterious /dɛlɪ'tɪərɪəs/ ▷ adj, formal harmful or destructive. • deleteriously adverb. ⓒ 17c: from Greek deleterios.

delf or delph /dɛlf/, delft /dɛlft/ and Delftware ▷ noun a type of earthenware originally made at Delft in the Netherlands, typically with a blue design on a white background. ⓒ 17c.

deli /'dɛlɪ/ ▷ noun (delis) a DELICATESSEN.

deliberate ▷ adj /dɪ'lɪbərət/ 1 done on purpose; not accidental. 2 slow and careful. ▷ verb /dɪ'lɪbəreɪt/ (deliberated, deliberating) tr & intr to think about something carefully. • deliberately adverb. • deliberateness noun. • deliberator noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin deliberare, deliberatum to consider carefully.

deliberation /dɪlɪbə'reɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 careful thought. 2 (deliberations) formal and thorough thought and discussion. 3 slowness and carefulness.

delicacy /'dɛlɪkəsɪ/ ▷ noun (delicacies) 1 the state or quality of being delicate. 2 something considered particularly delicious to eat.

delicate /'dɛlɪkət/ ▷ adj 1 easily damaged or broken. 2 not strong or healthy. 3 having fine texture or workmanship. 4 dainty; small and attractive. 5 small, neat and careful □ delicate movements. 6 requiring tact and careful handling □ a delicate situation. 7 careful about what one says or does, so as not to offend others. 8 said of colours, flavours, etc: light; not strong. • delicately adverb. • delicateness noun. ⓒ 14c: from Latin delicatus.

delicatessen /dɛlɪkə'tɛsən/ ▷ noun 1 a shop, or part of one, selling foods prepared ready for the table, especially cheeses, cooked meats and unusual or imported foods. 2 singular or plural noun such foods. Often shortened to deli. ⓒ 19c, originally in US: German, from French délicatesse delicacy.

delicious /dɪ'lɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 with a very pleasing taste or smell. 2 giving great pleasure. • deliciously adverb. ⓒ 14c: from French delicious, from Latin deliciae delight.

delight /dɪ'laɪt/ ▷ verb (delighted, delighting) 1 to please greatly. 2 intr (delight in something) to take great pleasure from it. ▷ noun 1 great pleasure. 2 something or someone that gives great pleasure. • delighted adj highly pleased; thrilled. • delightedly adverb. • delightedness noun. ⓒ 13c as delit: from French deliter, from Latin delectare; modern spelling was influenced by LIGHT in 16c.

delightful /dɪ'laɪtfʊl/ ▷ adj giving great pleasure. • delightfully adverb. • delightfulness noun.

Delilah /dɪ'laɪlə/ ▷ noun a temptress; a seductive treacherous woman. ⓒ 16c: named after the Philistine woman who tricked Samson (Judges 16).

delimit /diː'lɪmɪt, dɪ-/ ▷ verb to mark or fix the limits or boundaries of (powers, etc). • delimitation noun. • delimitative /-teɪtɪv, -tətɪv/ adj. ⓒ 19c: from Latin delimitare.

delineate /dɪ'lɪnɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (delineated, delineating) to show something by drawing or by describing in words. • delineable /dɪ'lɪnɪəbəl/ adj. • delineation noun. • delineative /-ətɪv/ adj. • delineator noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin delineare, delineatum to sketch out.

delinquent /dɪ'lɪŋkwənt/ ▷ noun someone, especially a young person, guilty of a minor criminal offence. ▷ adj guilty of a minor crime or misdeed. • delinquency noun (delinquencies) 1 minor crime, especially committed by young people. 2 delinquent nature or behaviour. • delinquently adverb. ⓒ 15c: from Latin delinquere to fail in one's duty.

deliquesce /dɛlɪ'kwɛs/ ▷ verb (deliquesced, deliquescing) intr, chem said especially of salts: to dissolve slowly in water absorbed from the air. • deliquescence noun. • deliquescent adj. ⓒ 18c: from Latin deliquescere to dissolve.

delirious /dɪ'lɪrɪəs, dɪ'lɪərɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 affected by DELIRIUM, usually as a result of fever or other illness. 2 very excited or happy. • deliriously adverb. • deliriousness noun. ⓒ 16c in sense 1; 18c in sense 2: from Latin delirus, from delirare to rave, originally meaning 'to go off a straight furrow', from de from + lira furrow.

delirium /dɪ'lɪrɪəm, dɪ'lɪərɪəm/ ▷ noun 1 a state of madness or mental confusion and excitement, often caused by fever or other illness, drugs, etc. 2 extreme excitement or joy. ⓒ 16c: from Latin delirare; see DELIRIOUS.

delirium tremens /— 'trɛmɛnz/ ▷ noun (abbreviation DTs) delirium caused by habitual and persistent drinking of too much alcohol, inducing hallucinations, anxiety, confusion and trembling.

deliver /dɪ'lɪvə(r)/ ▷ verb (delivered, delivering) 1 to carry (goods, letters, etc) to a person or place. 2 to give or make (a speech, etc). 3 to help (a woman) at the birth of (a child). 4 tr & intr, colloq to keep or fulfil (a promise or undertaking). 5 formal to aim or direct (a blow, criticism, etc) towards someone or something. • deliverable adj. • deliverer noun. • deliver the goods colloq to fulfil a promise or undertaking. ⓒ 13c: from French delivrer.

▪ deliver someone from something formal or old use to set them free or rescue them.

▪ deliver someone or something up formal to hand them or it over.

deliverance ▷ noun, formal, old use the act of rescuing, freeing or saving from danger or harm, or the state of being rescued, freed or saved. ⓒ 13c.

delivery /dɪˈlɪvərɪ/ ▷ noun (deliveries) 1 the carrying of (goods, letters, etc) to a person or place. 2 the thing or things being delivered. 3 the process or manner of giving birth to a child. 4 the act of making, or the manner of making, a speech, etc. 5 the act or manner of throwing a ball, especially in some sports. ⓒ 15c.

dell ▷ noun a small valley or hollow, usually wooded. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon.

delouse /diːˈlaʊs/ ▷ verb (deloused, delousing) to free someone or something of lice. ⓒ Early 20c.

delph see under DELF

delphinium /delˈfɪnɪəm/ ▷ noun (delphiniums or delphinia /-ˈfɪnɪə/) a garden plant with tall spikes of usually blue flowers. ⓒ 17c: from Greek delphinion larkspur, from delphis dolphin (from the shape of the flowers).

Delphinus /delˈfaɪnəs/ ▷ noun, astron the Dolphin, a small faint constellation lying just north of the celestial equator. ⓒ 17c: Latin.

delta /ˈdeltə/ ▷ noun (deltas) 1 the fourth letter of the Greek alphabet. See table at GREEK ALPHABET. 2 at the mouth of some rivers: an area of silt, sand, gravel or clay, often roughly triangular, formed from sediment deposited by the river as it slows down on entering the relatively still waters of a sea or lake. 3 in classification systems: fourth; one of the fourth grade, the grade below GAMMA. 4 (Delta) communications in the NATO alphabet: the word used to denote the letter 'D' (see table at NATO ALPHABET). ● deltaic /delˈteɪɪk/ adj. ⓒ 16c in sense 1; 18c in sense 2: Greek, from Hebrew daleth a tent door.

delta rhythm and delta wave ▷ noun, physiol a wave representing the low-frequency activity of the brain when a person is asleep. Compare ALPHA RHYTHM, BETA RHYTHM. See also REM SLEEP.

Delta rocket ▷ noun, astron any of a series of increasingly powerful versions of a US rocket which was used to launch scientific and communications satellites from 1960 onward.

delta wing aerodynamics ▷ noun 1 a swept-back triangular wing. 2 a jet aeroplane with such wings. ▷ adj having such wings.

deltiology /deltɪˈɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the study and collection of picture postcards. ● deltiologist noun. ⓒ 1940s: from Greek deltion a small writing tablet.

deltoid /ˈdeltɔɪd/ ▷ adj triangular; having the shape of the Greek capital letter delta. ▷ noun a DELTOID MUSCLE. ⓒ 18c: from DELTA.

deltoid muscle ▷ noun, anatomy the large triangular muscle of the shoulder. ⓒ 18c.

delude /dɪˈluːd, -ˈljuːd/ ▷ verb (deluded, deluding) to deceive or mislead. See also DELUSION. ● deludable adj. ● deluder noun. ⓒ 15c: from Latin deludere to cheat.

deluge /ˈdeljuːdʒ, -juːʒ/ ▷ noun (deluges) 1 a flood. 2 a downpour of rain. 3 a great quantity of anything coming or pouring in. ▷ verb (deluged, deluging) formal to flood; to cover in water. ● be deluged with something to be overwhelmed by it. ⓒ 16c as verb; 14c as noun: from French deluge, from Latin diluvium flood.

delusion /dɪˈluːʒən, -ˈljuːʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of deluding or the state of being deluded. 2 psychol a false or mistaken belief, especially because of mental illness. Compare ILLUSION, HALLUCINATION. ⓒ 15c: from Latin delusio.

delusions of grandeur ▷ plural noun a false belief in one's own importance.

delusive /dɪˈluːsɪv, -ˈljuːsɪv/ and delusory /-sərɪ/ ▷ adj deluding or likely to delude; deceptive. ● delusively adverb. ● delusiveness noun. ⓒ 17c.

de luxe or deluxe /də lʌks, dɪ lʊks/ ▷ adj 1 very luxurious or elegant. 2 with special features or qualities. ⓒ 19c: French, literally 'of luxury'.

delve /delv/ ▷ verb (delved, delving) intr 1 (usually delve into something) to search it for information. 2 (usually delve through something) to search through it. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon delfan to dig.

dem. ▷ abbreviation democratic.

demagnetize or demagnetise /diːˈmagnətaɪz/ ▷ verb to take away the magnetic properties of something. ● demagnetization noun. ● demagnetizer noun. ⓒ 19c.

demagogue /ˈdeməgɒg/ ▷ noun 1 derog someone who tries to win political power or support by appealing to people's emotions and prejudices. 2 in ancient Greece, etc: a leader of the common people. ● demagogic /deməˈgɒdʒɪk, -ˈgɒgɪk/ adj. ● demagoguery /ˈdeməgɒgərɪ/ or demagogy /ˈdeməgɒgɪ, -dʒɪ/ noun. ⓒ 17c: from Greek demos people + agogos leading.

demand /dɪˈmɑːnd/ ▷ verb (demanded, demanding) 1 to ask or ask for firmly, forcefully or urgently. 2 to require or need something. 3 to claim something as a right. ▷ noun 1 a forceful request or order. 2 an urgent claim for action or attention □ makes great demands on one's time. 3 people's desire or ability to buy or obtain (goods, etc). 4 econ the amount of any article, commodity, etc, which consumers will buy. Compare SUPPLY noun 6. ● demandable adj. ● demander noun. ● in demand very popular, frequently asked for. ● on demand when asked for. ⓒ 15c: from French demander to ask.

demand feeding ▷ noun the practice of feeding a baby when it wants food, rather than at set times.

demanding ▷ adj 1 requiring a lot of effort, ability, etc □ a demanding job. 2 needing or expecting a lot of attention □ a demanding child. ⓒ 19c.

demanning /diːˈmanɪŋ/ ▷ noun the deliberate reduction of the number of employees in a particular industry, etc.

demarcate /ˈdiːmɑːkeɪt/ ▷ verb (demarcated, demarcating) to mark out the limits or boundaries of something. ⓒ 19c: from DEMARCATION.

demarcation /diːmɑːˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the marking out of limits or boundaries. 2 a the strict separation of the areas or types of work to be done by the members of the various trade unions in a factory, etc; b as adj □ a demarcation dispute. ⓒ 18c: from Spanish demarcar to mark the boundaries of.

démarche /ˈdeɪmɑːʃ/ ▷ noun a step, measure or initiative, especially in diplomatic affairs. ⓒ 17c: French, from démarcher to walk.

dematerialize or dematerialise /diːməˈtɪərɪəlaɪz/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to become or make someone or something become invisible; to vanish; to cease to exist. ● dematerialization noun. ⓒ 19c.

deme /diːm/ ▷ noun, biol a group of plants or animals that are closely related and live in a single distinct locality. ⓒ 1950s: Greek demos a district.

demean /dɪˈmiːn/ ▷ verb (demeaned, demeaning) to lower the dignity of or lessen respect for someone, especially oneself. ● demeaning adj. ⓒ 17c.

demeanour or (US) demeanor /dɪˈmiːnə(r)/ noun manner of behaving; behaviour towards others. ⓒ 15c: from French demener to treat.

demented /dɪˈmentɪd/ ▷ adj mad; out of one's mind. ● dementedly adverb. ● dementedness noun. ⓒ 17c: from earlier verb dement to drive someone mad: from Latin de from + mens, mentis mind.

dementia /dɪˈmenʃə/ ▷ noun (dementias) psychol a loss or severe lessening of normal mental ability and functioning, occurring especially in the elderly. See also SENILE DEMENTIA. ⓒ 18c: from Latin de from + mens mind.

demerara /dɛmə'rɛərə, -'rɑːrə/ and demerara sugar ▷ noun a form of crystallized brown sugar. ⓘ 19c: named after Demerara in Guyana, S America, where it originally came from.

demerge /diː'mɜːdʒ/ ▷ verb, intr said of companies, etc: to undergo a reversal of a merger; to become separate again. ▪ demerger noun. ⓘ 1980s.

demerit /diː'merɪt/ ▷ noun 1 formal a fault or failing. 2 N Amer a mark given for a fault or offence, especially in schools or the army, etc. ⓘ 16c in sense 1; 14c, meaning 'a quality deserving reward': from Latin demereri, demeritus to deserve.

demersal /diː'mɜːsəl/ ▷ adj living underwater; found on or near the bottom of the sea, a lake etc. ⓘ 19c: from DE- 1 + Latin mergere, mersum to plunge.

demi- /'dɛmɪ-/ ▷ combining form, signifying half or partly □ demigod. Compare SEMI-. ⓘ From French demi half.

demigod and demigoddess ▷ noun 1 mythol someone who is part human and part god, especially someone believed to be the offspring of a human and a god. 2 a lesser god. 3 a person idolized like a god. ⓘ 16c.

demijohn /'dɛmɪdʒɒn/ ▷ noun a large bottle with a short narrow neck and one or two small handles, used for storing eg wine. ⓘ 18c: from French dame-jeanne Dame Jane, influenced by DEMI- and the name John.

demilitarize or demilitarise /diː'mɪlɪtəraɪz/ ▷ verb to remove armed forces from (an area) and/or not allow any military activity in it. ▪ demilitarization noun. ⓘ 19c.

demi-monde /'dɛmɪmɒnd/ ▷ noun 1 a class of women considered to be in an unrespectable social position, eg in the 19c, the kept mistresses of society men. 2 any group or section of a group considered to be less than completely respectable. ▪ demi-mondaine /dɛmɪmɒn'deɪn/ noun a woman member of a demi-monde. Also as adj. ⓘ 19c: French.

demineralize or demineralise ▷ verb (demineralized, demineralizing) to remove salts from (water, the body, etc). ▪ demineralization noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

demi-pension /dəmipɑ̃sjɒ̃/ ▷ noun HALF BOARD. ⓘ 1960s: French demi half + pension boarding house.

demise /dɪ'maɪz/ ▷ noun 1 formal or euphemistic death. 2 a failure or end. ⓘ 16c: from French demise, from desmettre to lay down.

demisemiquaver ▷ noun, music a note equal in time to half a SEMIQUAVER.

demist /diː'mɪst/ ▷ verb (demisted, demisting) to free (a vehicle's windscreen, etc) from condensation by blowing warm air over it. ▪ demister noun. ⓘ 1930s.

demitasse /'dɛmɪtas/ ▷ noun 1 a small cup of coffee, especially black coffee. 2 a the quantity contained by such a cup; b the cup itself. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'half-cup'.

demo /'dɛmoʊ/ ▷ noun (demos) colloq 1 a DEMONSTRATION, especially as in sense 2. 2 (also demo tape) a recording made as a demonstration, especially one made by as yet unsigned musicians to demonstrate their skills and style to record companies. ⓘ 1930s.

demob /diː'mɒb/ Brit colloq ▷ verb (demobbed, demobbing) to DEMOBILIZE. ▷ noun DEMOBILIZATION. ⓘ 1920s.

demobilize or demobilise /dɪ'moʊbɪlaɪz/ ▷ verb to release someone from service in the armed forces, eg after a war. ▪ demobilization noun release from service in the armed forces. Often (colloq) shortened to demob. ⓘ 19c.

democracy /dɪ'mɒkrəsɪ/ ▷ noun (democracies) 1 a form of government in which the people govern themselves or elect representatives to govern them. 2 a country, state or other body with such a form of government. ⓘ 16c: from French démocratie, from Greek demos people + kratos strength.

democrat /'dɛməkrat/ ▷ noun 1 someone who believes in DEMOCRACY as a principle. 2 (Democrat) a member or supporter of the Democratic Party in the USA, or of any political party with Democratic in its title in any country. Compare REPUBLICAN.

democratic /dɛmə'kratɪk/ ▷ adj 1 concerned with or following the principles of democracy. 2 believing in or providing equal rights and privileges for all. 3 (Democratic) belonging or relating to the Democratic Party, one of the two chief political parties of the US. Compare REPUBLICAN. ▪ democratically adverb. ⓘ 17c.

democratize or democratise /dɪ'mɒkrətaɪz/ ▷ verb (democratized, democratizing) to make (a state, etc) democratic. ▪ democratization noun. ⓘ 18c.

démodé /deɪ'moʊdeɪ/ ▷ adj out of fashion. ⓘ 19c: French.

demoded /diː'moʊdɪd/ ▷ adj, disparaging no longer in fashion. ⓘ 19c: from DÉMODÉ.

demodulate /diː'mɒdjʊleɪt/ radio ▷ verb to perform DEMODULATION on the CARRIER WAVE of a radio broadcast. ▪ demodulator noun a device that extracts information from the modulated carrier wave of a radio broadcast.

demodulation /diːmɒdjʊ'leɪʃən/ ▷ noun, electronics the inverse of MODULATION, a process by which an output wave is obtained that has the characteristics of the original modulating wave. ⓘ 1920s.

demography /dɪ'mɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun, technical the scientific study of population statistics, including births, deaths, etc. ▪ demographer noun someone who studies demography or the statistics of populations. ▪ demographic /dɛmə'grafɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek demos people + -GRAPHY.

demolish /dɪ'mɒlɪʃ/ ▷ verb (demolishes, demolished, demolishing) 1 to pull or tear down (a building, etc). 2 to destroy (an argument, etc). 3 facetious to eat up. ⓘ 16c: from Latin demoliri to throw down.

demolition /dɛmə'lɪʃən/ ▷ noun the act of demolishing. ⓘ 16c.

demon /'diːmən/ ▷ noun 1 an evil spirit. 2 a cruel or evil person. 3 someone who has great energy, enthusiasm or skill □ a demon at football. 4 a good or friendly spirit; a DAIMON (sense 2). ⓘ 15c: from Greek daimon spirit; in later Greek, eg the New Testament, 'a devil'.

demonetize or demonetise /diː'mʌnɪtaɪz, diː'mɒn-/ ▷ verb (demonetized, demonetizing) 1 to withdraw (a metal) from use as a monetary standard. 2 to withdraw something from use as currency. ⓘ 19c.

demoniac /dɪ'moʊnɪak/ and demoniacal /diːmə'naɪəkəl/ ▷ adj 1 characteristic of, belonging to or like a demon or demons. 2 influenced, or as if influenced, by demons; frenzied or very energetic. ⓘ 14c.

demonic /dɪ'mɒnɪk/ ▷ adj 1 characteristic of, belonging to or like a demon or demons. 2 possessed, or as if possessed, by a demon or demons; evil. ▪ demonically adverb. ⓘ 17c.

demonism /'diːmənɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 a belief in or worship of demons. 2 the study of demons and belief in demons. Also called demonology.

demonstrable /dɪ'mɒnstrəbəl, 'dɛmən-/ ▷ adj capable of being demonstrated. ▪ demonstrably adverb. ▪ demonstrability or demonstrableness noun. ⓘ 15c.

demonstrate /'dɛmənstreɪt/ ▷ verb (demonstrated, demonstrating) 1 to show or prove something by reasoning or providing evidence. 2 tr & intr to show how something is done, operates, etc. 3 tr & intr to show (support, opposition, etc) by protesting, marching, etc in public. ⓘ 16c: from Latin demonstrare, demonstratum to show or indicate.

demonstration /dɛmən'streɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 showing or demonstrating, especially a practical lesson, explanation or exhibition. 2 a public display of opinion on a political or moral issue. 3 math, philos establishing as true or evident by argument or proof. See also DEMO. ⓘ 14c.

demonstrative /dɪˈmɒnstrətɪv/ ▷ adj 1 showing one's feelings openly. 2 (usually demonstrative of something) showing it or proving it to be so □ words demonstrative of anger. • demonstratively adverb in a demonstrative or openly expressive way. • demonstrativeness noun. ⓘ 16c.

demonstrative pronoun and demonstrative adjective ▷ noun, grammar a word indicating which person or thing is referred to, ie THIS, THAT, THESE, THOSE.

demonstrator ▷ noun 1 someone who demonstrates equipment, etc, especially a teaching or marketing assistant. 2 someone who takes part in a public demonstration. 3 an example of a product or piece of merchandise, especially a vehicle, used for demonstration to customers. ⓘ 17c.

demoralize or demoralise /dɪˈmɒrəlaɪz/ ▷ verb to take away the confidence, courage or enthusiasm of someone; to dishearten them. See also MORALE. • demoralization noun. • demoralizer noun. ⓘ 19c in this sense; 18c, meaning 'to corrupt morally': from French démoraliser.

demo tape see under DEMO

demote /diːˈmoʊt, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (demoted, demoting) to reduce someone to a lower rank or grade. • demotion /-ˈmoʊʃən/ noun. ⓘ 19c: from DE- 2 + promote.

demotic /dɪˈmɒtɪk/ ▷ adj said especially of a language: used in everyday affairs; popular. ▷ noun 1 colloquial language. 2 (often Demotic) a form of modern Greek based on popular usage, as distinct from the formal or literary language. 3 a simplified form of ancient Egyptian writing. ⓘ 19c: from Greek demotikos, from demos people.

demulcent /dɪˈmʌlsənt/ ▷ adj soothing. ▷ noun, medicine a drug, etc, that soothes irritation. ⓘ 18c: from Latin demulcere to stroke caressingly.

demur /dɪˈmɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (demurred, demurring) intr 1 to object. 2 to show reluctance. • demurral noun. • without demur without objecting. ⓘ 17c in these senses; 13c, meaning 'to delay': from French demorer to wait.

▪ demur at something to object mildly to it or be reluctant to do it.

demure /dɪˈmjʊə(r)/ ▷ adj said of a person: quiet, modest and well-behaved. • demurely adverb. • demureness noun. ⓘ 17c in this sense; 15c, meaning 'grave' or 'reserved': from French demorer to wait, influenced by meur ripe.

demutualize or demutualise /diːˈmjuːtʃʊəlaɪz/ ▷ verb, finance said of a mutual institution such as a building society: to become a public company. • demutualization noun.

demystify /diːˈmɪstɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb to remove the mystery from something. • demystification noun clarification; explanation; simplifying. ⓘ 1960s.

demythologize or demythologise /diːmɪˈθɒlədʒaɪz/ ▷ verb to remove mythology from (especially the Bible or a religious statement) in order to reach or present the basic meaning. ⓘ 1950s.

den ▷ noun 1 a wild animal's home. 2 a centre (often secret) of illegal or immoral activity. 3 colloq a room in a house or a hut outside it, used as a place to work or play. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon denn cave or lair.

denar see DINAR.

denarius /dɪˈnɛərɪəs/ ▷ noun (denarii /-rɪaɪ, -rɪiː/) an ancient Roman silver coin. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'containing 10', because the coin was originally equal to 10 coins called asses.

denary /ˈdiːnərɪ/ ▷ adj containing or having the number 10 as a basis. ⓘ 19c: from Latin denarius containing ten.

denationalize or denationalise /diːˈnaʃənəlaɪz/ ▷ verb 1 to return or transfer (an industry) to private ownership from state ownership. 2 to deprive (a person, state, etc) of national rights or character. • denationalization noun. ⓘ 19c.

denaturalize or denaturalise /diːˈnatʃərəlaɪz/ ▷ verb 1 to make something unnatural. 2 to deprive (a citizen) of naturalization. • denaturalization noun. ⓘ 19c.

denature /diːˈneɪtʃə(r)/ and denaturize or denaturise ▷ verb (denatured, denaturing; denaturized, denaturizing) 1 biol to change the structure of (a PROTEIN, eg an ENZYME) by exposing it to high temperatures, certain chemicals or extremes of acidity and alkalinity, usually resulting in a decrease in its solubility and the loss of its biological effects. 2 physics to add another ISOTOPE to (a material capable of NUCLEAR FISSION), so that it is no longer suitable for use in a nuclear weapon. 3 to add a poisonous or unpalatable substance to (alcohol), so that it is unfit for human consumption. • denaturant /diːˈneɪtʃərənt/ noun a substance used to denature another. ⓘ 17c, originally meaning 'to make something unnatural'.

denazify /diːˈnɑːtsɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (denazifies, denazified, denazifying) to free someone or something from Nazi ideology and influence. • denazification noun. ⓘ 1940s.

dendrite /ˈdɛndraɪt/ ▷ noun 1 zool any of a number of cytoplasmic projections that radiate outwards from the star-shaped cell body of a NEURONE. 2 chem a crystal which exhibits branched growth. • dendritic /dɛnˈdrɪtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c in these senses; 18c, meaning 'a stone, etc with a natural tree-like marking': from Greek dendrites of a tree.

dendro- /dɛndroʊ, dɛnˈdrɒ/, dendri- and (before a vowel) dendr- ▷ combining form, signifying tree. ⓘ 18c: from Greek dendron tree.

dendrochronology ▷ noun, archaeol the analysis of the patterns of annual growth-rings found in trees and the fixing of dates by comparative study of timber from different periods. • dendrochronological adj. • dendrochronologist noun. ⓘ 1920s.

dendroclimatology ▷ noun the study of growth rings in trees as evidence of climatic change. • dendroclimatologist noun. ⓘ 1990s.

dendroid /ˈdɛndrɔɪd/ ▷ adj tree-like; having branches. ⓘ 18c.

dendrology /dɛnˈdrɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the scientific study of trees. • dendrological /-əˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. • dendrologist noun a scientist who specializes in dendrology. ⓘ 18c.

dendron /ˈdɛndrɒn/ ▷ noun, physiol a DENDRITE. ⓘ 19c: Greek, meaning 'tree'.

DEng. ▷ abbreviation Doctor of Engineering.

dengue /ˈdɛŋgeɪ/ ▷ noun an acute tropical viral fever, seldom fatal, transmitted by mosquitos. ⓘ 19c: probably originally from Swahili dinga.

deniable /dɪˈnaɪəbəl/ ▷ adj able to be denied. • deniability noun. • deniably adverb. ⓘ 16c: from DENY.

denial /dɪˈnaɪəl/ ▷ noun 1 an act of denying or declaring something not to be true. 2 an act of refusing something to someone. 3 an act of refusing to acknowledge connections with somebody or something. • in denial psychol suffering from a condition which involves the suppression, usually at a subconscious level, of an emotion, truth, etc that is particularly painful or difficult to come to terms with □ After the death of his mother, he was in denial for months. ⓘ 16c: from DENY.

denied past tense, past participle of DENY denier /ˈdɛnɪə(r), ˈdɛnɪeɪ/ ▷ noun the unit of weight of silk, rayon or nylon thread, usually used as a measure of the fineness of stockings or tights. ◎ 19c: first recorded in the 15c as the name of a small French coin: French, from Latin denarius DENARIUS.

denigrate /ˈdenɪgreɪt/ ▷ verb (denigrated, denigrating) to scorn or criticize someone; to attack or belittle the reputation, character or worth of someone. • denigration noun. • denigrator noun. ◎ 16c: from Latin denigrare, denigratum to blacken.

denim /ˈdenɪm/ ▷ noun 1 a kind of hard-wearing, usually blue, twilled cotton cloth used for making jeans, overalls, etc. 2 (denims) clothing, especially jeans, made of denim. ▷ adj made of denim. ◎ 17c: from French de of + Nîmes, a town in southern France.

denizen /ˈdenɪzən/ ▷ noun 1 formal an inhabitant, either human or animal. 2 biol a species of animal or plant which has become well established in a place to which it is not native and into which it has been introduced. 3 a naturalized foreign word or expression. 4 Brit someone who permanently lives in a country that is not their native country and who is accorded some rights of their adopted country. ◎ 15c: from French deinzein, from deins within.

den mother ▷ noun, US 1 an adult female leader of a Cub Scout group. 2 any adult female protective figure.

denominate /dɪˈnɒmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb, formal to give a specific name or title to something. ◎ 16c: from Latin denominare, denominatum to name.

denomination ▷ noun 1 a religious group with its own particular beliefs, organization and practices. 2 a particular unit of value of a postage stamp, coin or banknote, etc. • denominational adj. ◎ 15c.

denominator /dɪˈnɒmɪneɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, math in a VULGAR FRACTION, the number shown below the line, indicating the units into which the fraction is dividing the whole, eg '5' in the fraction ²/₅. Compare NUMERATOR, COMMON DENOMINATOR. ◎ 16c.

denote /dɪˈnoʊt/ ▷ verb 1 to mean; to be the name of or sign for something. 2 to be a sign, mark or indication of something. Compare CONNOTE. • denotation noun denoting; marking by signs or symbols. • denotative /dɪˈnoʊtətɪv, ˈdiːnoʊteɪtɪv/ adj. ◎ 16c: from Latin denotare to mark out.

denouement or dénouement /deɪˈnuːmɒ̃/ ▷ noun 1 the final part of a story or plot, in which uncertainties are explained and previously unresolved problems and mysteries are resolved. 2 loosely any resolution. ◎ 18c: French dénouement, from dénouer to untie a knot.

denounce /dɪˈnaʊns/ ▷ verb (denounced, denouncing) 1 to inform against or accuse someone publicly ▫ denounced them as traitors. 2 to condemn (an action, proposal, idea, etc) strongly and openly. See also DENUNCIATION. ◎ 13c: from French dénoncier, from Latin denuntiare to announce.

de novo /diː ˈnoʊvoʊ, deɪ —/ ▷ adverb again; again from the beginning. ◎ 17c: Latin.

dense ▷ adj 1 closely packed or crowded together. 2 thick ▫ dense fog. 3 colloq stupid; slow to understand. • densely adverb. • denseness noun. ◎ 15c: from Latin densus thick or dense.

densimeter /denˈsɪmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun an instrument for measuring the relative density or the closeness of the grain of a substance. ◎ 19c.

density /ˈdensɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (densities) 1 the state of being dense or the degree of denseness. 2 the ratio of the mass of a substance to its volume (the SI units of density measurement being kg m⁻³). 3 the number of items within a specific area or volume ▫ population density. 4 computing the number of bits (see BIT³) that can be stored on one track of a disk or within a specific area of magnetic tape, etc. ◎ 17c: from Latin densus thick.

dent ▷ noun 1 a hollow in the surface of something, especially something hard, made by pressure or a blow. 2 a noticeable, usually bad, effect, especially a lessening (eg of resources, money, etc). ▷ verb (dented, denting) 1 to make a dent in something. 2 intr to become dented. 3 to injure (someone's pride, etc). ◎ Anglo-Saxon dynt blow.

dental ▷ adj 1 concerned with or for the teeth or dentistry. 2 phonetics said of a speech sound: produced by putting the tongue to the teeth. ▷ noun, phonetics a dental sound eg 'th' in the word the. ◎ 16c: from Latin dentalis, from dens tooth.

dental alveolus see ALVEOLUS.

dental caries ▷ noun, medicine the decay of a tooth, resulting from erosion of the enamel by acid, and the commonest cause of toothache.

dental floss ▷ noun a soft thread used for cleaning between the teeth.

dental formula ▷ noun, zool a formula that shows the number of different types of tooth present in the upper and lower jaw of a mammal.

dental surgeon ▷ noun a dentist.

dentate /ˈdenteɪt/ ▷ adj, technical with a tooth-like notched pattern round the edge. ◎ 19c: from Latin dentatus.

dente see AL DENTE.

dentifrice /ˈdentɪfrɪs/ ▷ noun paste or powder for cleaning the teeth. ◎ 16c: French, from Latin dens, dentis tooth + fricare to rub.

dentil /ˈdentɪl/ ▷ noun, archit each of a series of small square or rectangular blocks or projections, especially those set beneath the cornice in classical orders. ◎ 16c: from French dentille, from dent tooth, from their resemblance to a row of teeth.

dentine /ˈdentiːn/ or dentin /-tɪn/ ▷ noun, anatomy in vertebrates: a hard yellowish-white material, similar to bone but perforated with canals for nerve fibres and blood vessels, that forms the bulk of a tooth. ◎ 19c: from Latin dens tooth.

dentist /ˈdentɪst/ ▷ noun someone who is professionally trained and qualified to practise DENTISTRY. ◎ 18c: from French dentiste, from dent tooth.

dentistry /ˈdentɪstrɪ/ ▷ noun the branch of medicine concerned with the diagnosis, treatment and prevention of diseases of the oral cavity and teeth. ◎ 19c.

dentition /denˈtɪʃən/ ▷ noun, technical the number, arrangement and type of teeth in a human or animal. ◎ 16c: from Latin dentitio teething.

denture /ˈdentʃə(r)/ ▷ noun a false tooth or (usually dentures) set of false teeth. ◎ 19c: French, from dent tooth.

denuclearize or denuclearise /diːˈnjuːklɪəraɪz/ ▷ verb to remove nuclear weapons from (a country or state, etc). • denuclearization noun. ◎ 1950s.

denudation /denjuˈdeɪʃən, diː-/ ▷ noun 1 denuding; making bare. 2 geol the process by which the surface of the land is progressively lowered as a result of weathering and erosion, so that the underlying rocks are laid bare.

denude /dɪˈnjuːd/ ▷ verb (denuded, denuding) 1 to make someone or something completely bare. 2 to strip (land). ◎ 15c: from Latin denudare to lay bare or uncover.

denunciation /dɪnʌnsɪˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun a public condemnation or accusation. See also DENOUNCE. ◎ 16c: from Latin denuntiare, denuntiatum to announce.

Denver boot ▷ noun, colloq a wheel clamp. ◎ 20c: named after Denver, US, where the device was first used.

deny /dɪˈnaɪ/ ▷ verb (denies, denied, denying) 1 to declare something not to be true. 2 to refuse to give or allow to someone. 3 to refuse to acknowledge a connection with someone or something. • deny oneself something to do without (things that one desires or needs). See also DENIAL. ◎ 14c: from French denier.

deodar /ˈdiːoʊdɑː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a cedar tree belonging to the Himalayas. 2 the hard, sweet-scented, much valued wood of this tree. ⓘ 19c: Sanskrit deva-daru divine tree.

deodorant /diˈoʊdərənt/ ▷ noun a substance that prevents or conceals unpleasant smells, especially the smell of stale sweat on the human body. ⓘ 19c.

deodorize or deodorise /diˈoʊdəraɪz/ ▷ verb (deodorized, deodorizing) to remove, conceal or absorb the unpleasant smell of something. • deodorization noun. • deodorizer noun. ⓘ 19c.

deontic /diːˈɒntɪk/ ▷ noun (usually deontics) philos the study of duty and obligations. ▷ adj concerning duty and obligation. ⓘ 19c: from Greek deein to be necessary.

deontology /diːɒnˈtɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the study of duty; ethics. • deontological adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek deein to be necessary.

deoxidate /diːˈɒksɪdeɪt/ and deoxidize or deoxidise /diːˈɒksɪdaɪz/ ▷ verb, chem (deoxidated, deoxidating) to remove oxygen from something or to chemically reduce it. • deoxidation or deoxidization noun. • deoxidizer noun.

deoxy- /diːˈɒksɪ/ ▷ combining form, chem, signifying less oxygen.

deoxygenate /diːˈɒksɪdʒəneɪt/ ▷ verb, chem to remove oxygen, especially free oxygen, from something.

deoxyribonucleic acid /diːˈɒksɪraɪboʊnjuːˈkleɪɪk —/ ▷ noun, biochem (abbreviation DNA) the nucleic acid that forms the material of which the chromosomes and genes of almost all living organisms are composed, containing coded instructions for the transmission of genetic information from one generation to the next and for the manufacture of all the proteins that are required for the growth and development of a whole new organism. ⓘ 1930s.

dep. ▷ abbreviation 1 depart. 2 department. 3 departure. 4 deposed. 5 deposit. 6 deputy.

depart /dɪˈpɑːt/ ▷ verb (departed, departing) intr 1 rather formal to leave. 2 (usually depart from something) to stop following or decline to follow a planned or usual course of action. • departed adj, formal 1 dead. 2 (the departed) a person or people recently dead (see THE 4). ⓘ 13c: from French departir.

département /French departəmɑ̃/ ▷ noun (départements /French -mɑ̃/) an administrative division of France. ⓘ 18c: French.

department /dɪˈpɑːtmənt/ ▷ noun 1 a section of an organization (eg a government or other administration, a university, an office or a shop), with responsibility for one particular aspect or part of the organization's work. 2 a subject or activity which is someone's special skill or particular responsibility. ⓘ 18c: from French département.

departmental /diːpɑːtˈmentəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to, or concerning a department or departments. 2 divided into departments. • departmentally adverb. ⓘ 18c.

departmentalism ▷ noun excessively strict division of work among departments with too little intercommunication.

departmentalize or departmentalise ▷ verb (departmentalized, departmentalizing) 1 to form (an organization, etc) into separate departments. 2 to deal with (a large amount of work, etc) by allotting a specific share to different departments. • departmentalization noun.

department store ▷ noun a large shop with many different departments selling a wide variety of goods.

departure /dɪˈpɑːtʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an act of going away or leaving. 2 (often departure from something) a change from a planned or usual course of action. 3 (often new departure) a new activity, different from what one has been doing or normally does. 4 naut the distance in nautical miles travelled by a ship due East or West. ⓘ 16c.

departure lounge see under LOUNGE depend /dɪˈpend/ ▷ verb (depended, depending) intr (usually depend on or upon someone or something) 1 to rely on them or it; to be able to trust them or it. 2 to rely on financial or other support from someone. 3 to be decided by or vary according to something else. ⓘ 15c: from Latin dependere to hang down.

dependable ▷ adj trustworthy or reliable. • dependability noun. • dependably adverb. ⓘ 18c.

dependant ▷ noun a person who is kept or supported financially by another. ⓘ 16c.

dependence ▷ noun (usually dependence on or upon something or someone) 1 the state of being dependent on them. 2 trust and reliance. ⓘ 17c.

dependency ▷ noun (dependencies) 1 a country governed or controlled by another. 2 excessive dependence on someone or something, eg addiction to a drug. ⓘ 16c.

dependency culture ▷ noun (often derog) a type of society which relies upon, and often expects, state benefits and other support to maintain it.

dependent ▷ adj. (often dependent on or upon something or someone) 1 relying on it or them for financial or other support. 2 said of an issue or outcome: to be decided or influenced by them □ Success is dependent on all our efforts.

dependent clause ▷ noun, grammar see SUBORDINATE CLAUSE.

depersonalize or depersonalise /diːˈpɜːsənəlaɪz/ psychol ▷ verb to take away the characteristics or personality of someone; to make them impersonal. • depersonalization noun a condition in which a person feels unreal, or feels that the mind and body are becoming separated, which is a common symptom of severe stress, and of EPILEPSY, DEPRESSION and SCHIZOPHRENIA. ⓘ 19c.

depict /dɪˈpɪkt/ ▷ verb (depicted, depicting) 1 to paint or draw something. 2 to describe something, especially in detail. • depicter or depictor noun. • depiction noun. • depictive adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin depingere to paint.

depilate /ˈdepɪleɪt/ ▷ verb (depilated, depilating) to remove hair from (a part of the body). • depilation noun. See also EPILATE. ⓘ 16c: from Latin depilatus, from DE- + pilare, from pilus hair.

depilatory /dɪˈpɪlətərɪ/ ▷ noun (depilatories) a chemical substance used to remove unwanted hair from the body. ▷ adj able to remove hair. ⓘ 17c: from Latin depilare to remove hair.

deplane /diːˈpleɪn/ ▷ verb (deplaned, deplaning) intr, especially N Amer to disembark from an aeroplane.

deplete /dɪˈpliːt/ ▷ verb (depleted, depleting) to reduce greatly in number, quantity, etc; to use up (supplies, money, energy, resources, etc). • depletion noun. ⓘ 19c: from Latin deplere, depletum to empty.

deplorable /dɪˈplɔːrəbəl/ ▷ adj very bad, shocking or regrettable. • deplorableness or deplorability noun. • deplorably adverb. ⓘ 17c.

deplore /dɪˈplɔː(r)/ ▷ verb (deplored, deploring) to feel or express great disapproval of or regret for something. ⓘ 16c, originally meaning 'to lament': from French déplorer, from Latin deplorare to weep for.

deploy /dɪˈplɔɪ/ ▷ verb (deployed, deploying) 1 tr & intr to spread out and position (troops) ready for battle. 2 to organize and bring (resources, arguments, etc) into use. • deployment noun. ⓘ 18c in sense 1; 15c, meaning 'to unfold or display': from French déployer, from Latin displicare to unfold.

depolarize or depolarise /diːˈpoʊləraɪz/ ▷ verb 1 physics to reduce or remove the POLARITY of something. 2 physiol to reduce the electrical potential difference across a cell membrane, especially a nerve-cell membrane. • depolarization noun.

depoliticize or depoliticise /diːpəˈlɪtɪsaɪz/ ▷ verb to remove the political nature of something or political awareness from someone or something. ⓘ 1920s.

deponent /dɪˈpoʊnənt/ ▷ noun, law someone who makes a deposition (see DEPOSITION 3), especially under oath, or whose written testimony is used as evidence in a court. ⓘ 16c: from Latin deponere to lay aside or put down.

depopulate /diːˈpɒpjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb to greatly reduce the number of people living in (an area, country, etc). • depopulated adj. • depopulation noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin depopulari, depopulatus to lay waste, later understood as meaning 'to deprive of people'.

deport[1] /dɪˈpɔːt/ ▷ verb (deported, deporting) to legally remove or expel (a person) from a country. • deportation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin deportare to carry away.

deport[2] /dɪˈpɔːt/ ▷ verb (deported, deporting) formal to behave oneself (in a particular way). • deportment noun 1 the way one holds or carries oneself; one's bearing. 2 behaviour. ⓘ 16c: from Latin deportare to carry away.

deportee /diːpɔːˈtiː/ ▷ noun (deportees) someone who has been or is about to be expelled from a country. ⓘ 19c.

depose /dɪˈpoʊz/ ▷ verb (deposed, deposing) to remove someone from a high office or powerful position. • deposable adj. • deposer noun. ⓘ 13c: from French deposer to put down or away.

deposit /dɪˈpɒzɪt/ ▷ verb (deposited, depositing) 1 to put down or leave something. 2 to put (money, etc) in a bank, etc, for safekeeping or to earn interest. 3 to give (a sum of money) as the first part of the payment for something, so guaranteeing that one can complete the purchase later. 4 to pay (a sum of money) as a guarantee against loss or damage. ▷ noun 1 a sum of money, etc, deposited in a bank, etc. 2 a sum of money given as part payment for something or paid as a guarantee against loss or damage. 3 solid matter that has settled at the bottom of a liquid, or is left behind by a liquid. 4 geol a layer (of coal, oil, minerals, etc) occurring naturally in rock. ⓘ 16c: from Latin depositum, from deponere to put down.

deposit account ▷ noun a bank account in which money is lodged to gain interest but which cannot be used for the transfer of money to other people by eg cheque or standing order. ⓘ 19c.

depositary /dɪˈpɒzɪtərɪ/ ▷ noun (depositaries) 1 formal a person, etc to whom something is given for safekeeping. 2 a DEPOSITORY (sense 1). ⓘ 17c in sense 1; 18c in sense 2: from Latin depositarius.

deposition /diːpəˈzɪʃən, de-/ ▷ noun 1 the act of deposing or process of being deposed. 2 the act of depositing or process of being deposited. 3 law a written statement made under oath and used as evidence in a court of law when the witness cannot be present. 4 geol the laying down on the Earth's surface of eroded material that has been transported by wind, rivers, glaciers, avalanches, etc. • depositional adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin depositio putting down.

depositor /dɪˈpɒzɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who deposits money in a bank or building society, especially in a DEPOSIT ACCOUNT.

depository /dɪˈpɒzɪtərɪ/ ▷ noun (depositories) 1 a place where anything may be left for safe-keeping, eg a furniture store. 2 a DEPOSITARY (sense 1). ⓘ 18c in sense 1; 17c in sense 2: from Latin depositorium.

depot /ˈdepoʊ; N Amer ˈdiːpoʊ/ ▷ noun (depots) 1 a storehouse or warehouse. 2 a place where buses, trains and certain types of vehicles are kept and repaired. 3 N Amer a bus or railway station. 4 a military headquarters, or a military post where stores are kept and recruits trained. ⓘ 18c: from French dépôt.

deprave /dɪˈpreɪv/ ▷ verb (depraved, depraving) to make someone evil or morally corrupt. • depraved adj morally corrupted. • depravity /dɪˈprævɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 15c, originally meaning 'to disparage; to speak ill of': from Latin depravare to pervert or distort.

deprecate /ˈdeprəkeɪt/ ▷ verb (deprecated, deprecating) to express disapproval of something; to deplore something. • deprecating adj. • deprecatingly adverb. • deprecation noun the expression of disapproval. • deprecative or deprecatory adj 1 showing or expressing disapproval. 2 apologetic; trying to avoid disapproval. • deprecator noun. • deprecatorily adverb. ⓘ 17c, originally meaning 'to pray against evil': from Latin deprecari, deprecatus to try to avert.

> deprecate, depreciate
>
> • As with many confusable words, the meanings of these two overlap somewhat. Essentially, deprecate implies outright deploring or disapproval, whereas depreciate implies a more considered belittling or undervaluing □ George made a deprecating sound, but she held up her hand to silence him □ He gave a tiny, self-depreciating laugh on the last word, acknowledging his inadequacy.

depreciate /dɪˈpriːʃɪeɪt, -sɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (depreciated, depreciating) 1 tr & intr to fall, or make something fall, in value. 2 to be contemptuous of the worth of something; to belittle someone or something. • depreciatingly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin depretiare, depretiatum to lower the price of.

depreciation ▷ noun 1 econ a fall in value of a currency against the value of other currencies. 2 the reduction in the value of fixed assets such as buildings and equipment through use or age. 3 the process of depreciating. ⓘ 18c.

depreciatory ▷ adj belittling; contemptuous. ⓘ 19c.

depredation /deprəˈdeɪʃən/ ▷ noun (often depredations) damage, destruction or violent robbery. ⓘ 15c: from Latin depraedatio, from praedari to plunder.

depress /dɪˈpres/ ▷ verb (depressed, depressing) 1 to make someone sad and gloomy. 2 formal to make (prices, etc) lower. 3 formal to press down. 4 to reduce the energy or power of something; to weaken something. ⓘ 16c; 14c, meaning 'to overcome, to vanquish': from French depresser.

depressant /dɪˈpresənt/ ▷ adj, medicine said of a drug: able to reduce mental or physical activity. ▷ noun a depressant drug. See also ANTIDEPRESSANT. ⓘ 19c.

depressed ▷ adj 1 sad and gloomy. 2 psychol suffering from depression. 3 said of a region, town, etc: suffering from high unemployment and low standards of living. 4 said of trade, a market, etc: not flourishing. 5 lowered; pressed down, flattened.

depressing ▷ adj causing low spirits. • depressingly adverb.

depression /dɪˈpreʃən/ ▷ noun 1 psychol a mental state, either organic or circumstantial, characterized by prolonged and disproportionate feelings of sadness, pessimism, helplessness, apathy, low self-esteem and despair. 2 a period of low business and industrial activity accompanied by a rise in unemployment. 3 (the Depression) the period of worldwide economic depression from 1929 to 1934. 4 meteorol a CYCLONE. 5 a hollow, especially in the ground.

depression of freezing point ▷ noun, chem the lowering of the freezing point of a liquid, achieved by dissolving a solid in it.

depressive /dɪˈpresɪv/ ▷ adj 1 depressing. 2 said of a person: suffering from frequent bouts of depression.

▷ noun someone who suffers frequently from depression.

depressor /dɪˈpresə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 something or someone that depresses. 2 anatomy a muscle that draws down the part it is connected to. 3 a surgical instrument for pressing something down.

depressurize or depressurise /diːˈpreʃəraɪz/ ▷ verb to reduce the air pressure in (eg an aircraft) especially if done suddenly. • depressurization noun. ⓒ 1940s.

deprive /dɪˈpraɪv/ ▷ verb (deprived, depriving) (usually deprive someone of something) to take or keep it from them; to prevent them from using or enjoying it. • deprivation /deprɪˈveɪʃən/ noun 1 hardship, etc, caused by being deprived of necessities, rights, etc. 2 the act of depriving or state of being deprived. ⓒ 14c: from Latin deprivare to degrade.

deprived ▷ adj 1 said of a person: suffering from hardship through lack of money, reasonable living conditions, etc. 2 said of a district, etc: lacking good housing, schools, medical facilities, etc. 3 (deprived of something) having had it kept or taken away.

dept ▷ abbreviation department.

depth ▷ noun 1 deepness; the distance from the top downwards, from the front to the back or from the surface inwards. 2 said of feelings or colours: intensity or strength. 3 extensiveness □ the depth of one's knowledge. 4 (usually the depths) somewhere far from the surface or edge of somewhere □ the depths of the ocean □ the depths of the country. 5 (usually the depths) an extreme feeling (of despair, sadness, etc) or great degree (of deprivation, etc). 6 (often the depths) the middle and severest or most intense part (of winter, etc). 7 (depths) serious aspects of a person's character that are not immediately obvious. 8 said of sound: lowness of pitch. • in depth deeply and thoroughly. • out of one's depth 1 in water so deep that one would be below the surface even when standing up. 2 not able to understand information or an explanation, or in a situation which is too difficult for one to deal with. ⓒ 14c: from Anglo-Saxon deop DEEP.

depth charge and depth bomb ▷ noun a type of bomb, usually dropped from a ship, which explodes underwater and is used to attack submarines. ⓒ Early 20c.

depth of field ▷ noun the distance between the nearer and further planes in an area photographed, seen through a microscope, etc, over which the image is in reasonably sharp focus.

depth of focus ▷ noun, photog the distance between a camera lens and the film at which the image will be clear.

depth psychology ▷ noun, psychol the psychology of the unconscious mind.

deputation /depjʊˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun a group of people appointed to represent and speak on behalf of others. ⓒ 16c in this sense; 14c, meaning 'appointment': from Latin deputare, deputatum to select.

depute ▷ verb /dɪˈpjuːt/ (deputed, deputing) formal 1 to formally appoint someone to do something. 2 (usually depute something to someone) to give (one's work, etc, or part of it) to someone else to do. ▷ adj /ˈdepjuːt/ in Scotland: often following its noun appointed deputy □ depute headteacher □ sheriff-depute. ▷ noun /ˈdepjuːt/ in Scotland: a deputy. ⓒ 15c: from French deputer, from Latin deputare to select.

deputize or deputise /ˈdepjʊtaɪz/ ▷ verb (deputized, deputizing) 1 intr (often deputize for someone) to act as their deputy. 2 to appoint someone as a deputy. ⓒ 18c.

deputy /ˈdepjʊtɪ/ ▷ noun (deputies) 1 a person appointed to act on behalf of, or as an assistant to, someone else. 2 in certain countries: a person elected to the lower house of parliament. ▷ adj in some organizations: next in rank to the head and having the authority to act on their behalf. ⓒ 16c: from French deputer to appoint, from Latin deputare to select.

der. ▷ abbreviation 1 derivation. 2 derivative. 3 derived.

deracialize or deracialise /diːˈreɪʃəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (deracialized, deracializing) to remove racial characteristics from something. ⓒ 19c.

deracinate /dɪˈrasɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (deracinated, deracinating) formal to root up something; to eradicate it. • deracination noun. ⓒ 16c: from French déraciner, from Latin radix root.

derail /diːˈreɪl/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to leave or make (a train, etc) leave the rails. • derailment noun. ⓒ 19c: from French dérailler.

derange /dɪˈreɪndʒ/ ▷ verb (deranged, deranging) 1 to make someone insane. 2 to disrupt or throw into disorder or confusion. • deranged adj. • derangement noun. ⓒ 18c: from French déranger to disturb.

derby[1] /ˈdɑːbɪ/ ▷ noun (derbies) 1 (the Derby) a horse race held annually at Epsom Downs, England. See also THE CLASSICS. 2 a race or a sports event or contest, especially a contest between teams from the same area. Also called local derby. ⓒ 19c: sense 1 named after the Earl of Derby, one of the founders of the race in 1780.

derby[2] /ˈdɑːbɪ/ ▷ noun (derbies) N Amer a bowler hat. ⓒ 19c: from DERBY[1].

Derby. ▷ abbreviation Derbyshire.

derecognize or derecognise ▷ verb to withdraw official recognition from (especially a country or trade union). • derecognition noun. ⓒ 1980s, first as the noun.

deregister ▷ verb to remove (a name, etc) from a register. • deregistration noun. ⓒ 1920s.

deregulate ▷ verb to remove controls and regulations from (a business or business activity). • deregulation noun.

derelict /ˈderəlɪkt/ ▷ adj 1 abandoned. 2 said of a building: falling in ruins. ▷ noun 1 a tramp; someone with no home or money. 2 anything, especially a ship, forsaken or abandoned. ⓒ 18c as noun 1; 17c as adj and noun 2: from Latin derelinquere, derelictum to abandon.

dereliction /derəˈlɪkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 (usually dereliction of duty) neglect or failure. 2 the state of being abandoned.

derestrict ▷ verb to remove a restriction from something, especially a speed limit from (a road). • derestriction noun. ⓒ 20c.

deride /dɪˈraɪd/ ▷ verb (derided, deriding) to laugh at or make fun of someone. • derider noun. See also DERISION. ⓒ 16c: from Latin deridere.

de rigueur /də rɪˈɡɜː(r)/ ▷ adj required by fashion, custom or the rules of politeness. ⓒ 19c: French, meaning 'of strictness'.

derision /dɪˈrɪʒən/ ▷ noun the act of deriding; scornful laughter. ⓒ 15c: from Latin derisio.

derisive /dɪˈraɪsɪv, -ˈraɪzɪv/ ▷ adj scornful; mocking. • derisively adverb. • derisiveness noun. ⓒ 17c: from DERISION.

> derisive, derisory
>
> • Derisive means 'showing derision', derisory means 'deserving derision' □ A derisive note was back in Luke's voice. □ This show in fact attracted a derisory 9000 or so paying visitors.

derisory /dɪˈraɪsərɪ/ ▷ adj ridiculous and insulting, especially ridiculously small. ⓒ 20c in this sense; 17c, meaning 'scornful' or 'mocking': from Latin derisorius DERISIVE.

deriv. ▷ abbreviation 1 derivation. 2 derivative. 3 derived.

derivation /dɛrɪˈveɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of deriving or the state or process of being derived. 2 the source or origin (especially of a word). 3 grammar a the process of forming a word by adding one or more AFFIXes to another word; b a word formed in this way. • derivational adj.

derivative /dɪˈrɪvətɪv/ ▷ adj not original; derived from or copying something else (especially someone else's work). ▷ noun 1 something which is derived from something else. 2 grammar a word formed by adding one or more AFFIXes to another word, such as happily from happy, decarbonize from carbon. Compare COMPOUND[1] (noun 3). 3 chem a compound, usually organic, that is made from another compound. 4 math the result of differentiation in order to calculate the changes in one variable produced by changes in another variable. 5 stock exchange (derivatives) futures (see FUTURE noun 5) and options (see OPTION noun 4). • derivatively adverb.

derive /dɪˈraɪv/ ▷ verb (derived, deriving) now only in phrases below. • derivable adj. ⓘ 14c: from French dériver, from Latin derivare to lead or draw off water.

■ derive from something 1 to come or arise from it; to have it as a source. 2 to trace something back to (a source or origin).

■ derive something from something else to obtain or produce one thing from another.

-derm /dɜːm/ ▷ combining form belonging to, concerning or affecting the skin □ ectoderm. ⓘ from Greek derma skin.

dermal /ˈdɜːməl/ and dermic /ˈdɜːmɪk/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to skin, especially the DERMIS. 2 consisting of skin. ⓘ 19c: from Greek derma skin.

dermatitis /dɜːməˈtaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun, medicine inflammation of the skin in the absence of infection, including allergy, eczema and psoriasis, but not acne. ⓘ 19c.

dermato- /dɜːmətoʊ, dɜːməˈtɒ/ or (before a vowel) dermat- combining form, denoting the skin □ dermatitis. ⓘ From Greek derma skin.

dermatology ▷ noun the branch of medical science concerned with the study of the skin and treatment of its diseases. • dermatological adj. • dermatologist noun. ⓘ 19c.

dermis /ˈdɜːmɪs/ ▷ noun, anatomy the thick lower layer of the skin that lies beneath the EPIDERMIS, containing blood capillaries, nerve endings, hair follicles, sweat glands, lymph vessels and some muscle fibres. Also called corium. ⓘ 19c: from Greek derma skin.

derogate /ˈdɛrəgeɪt/ ▷ verb (intr derogated, derogating) now only in phrase below. • derogation /dɛrəˈgeɪʃən/ noun 1 reduction in power or authority. 2 deterioration. ⓘ 15c: from Latin derogare, derogatum to detract from.

■ derogate from something formal to make it appear inferior; to show one's low opinion of it.

derogative /dɪˈrɒgətɪv/ ▷ adj derogatory. • derogatively adverb. ⓘ 15c.

derogatory /dɪˈrɒgətərɪ/ ▷ adj showing, or intended to show, disapproval, dislike, scorn or lack of respect. • derogatorily adverb. • derogatoriness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin derogatorius.

derrick /ˈdɛrɪk/ ▷ noun 1 a type of crane with a movable arm. 2 a framework built over an oil-well, used for raising and lowering the drill. ⓘ 18c, originally meaning 'a gallows': named after Derrick, a 17c hangman.

derrière /dɛrɪˈɛə(r)/ ▷ noun the behind; the buttocks. ⓘ 18c: French.

derring-do /dɛrɪŋˈduː/ ▷ noun, old use, literary daring deeds. ⓘ 16c: from a wrong understanding by Spenser, the 16c poet, of the phrase derrynge do, meaning 'daring to do', in the work of an earlier poet.

derringer /ˈdɛrɪndʒə(r)/ ▷ noun a short American pistol. ⓘ 19c: named after its inventor, Henry Deringer (1786–1868), gunsmith.

derris /ˈdɛrɪs/ ▷ noun 1 a tropical climbing plant related to peas and beans. 2 an insecticide made from the roots of this plant. ⓘ 19c: from Greek derris leather jacket, referring to the pods of the plant.

derv /dɜːv/ ▷ noun, Brit diesel oil used as a fuel for road vehicles. ⓘ 1940s: from diesel-engine road vehicle.

dervish /ˈdɜːvɪʃ/ ▷ noun (dervishes) a member of any of various Muslim religious groups who have taken vows of poverty, some of whom perform spinning dances as part of their religious ritual. ⓘ 16c: from Turkish derviş, from Persian darvish poor man or dervish.

DES ▷ abbreviation Department of Education and Science, replaced in 1992 by DFE.

desalinate /diːˈsalɪneɪt/ ▷ verb, technical to remove salt from (especially seawater). ⓘ 1940s.

desalination and desalinization or desalinisation ▷ noun the removal, by distillation or reverse osmosis, of salts, mainly sodium chloride, from seawater in order to produce fresh water for drinking, irrigation, etc.

descale /diːˈskeɪl/ ▷ verb 1 to remove scales from (especially fish). 2 to remove encrusted deposits from (a pipe, kettle, etc). ⓘ 1950s.

descant /ˈdɛskant/ music ▷ noun a melody played or harmony sung above the main tune. ▷ adj said of a musical instrument: having a higher pitch and register than others of the same type □ descant recorder. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin dis- apart + cantus song.

descend /dɪˈsɛnd/ ▷ verb (descended, descending) 1 tr & intr to go or move down from a higher to a lower place or position. 2 intr to lead or slope downwards. 3 intr (often descend on or upon someone or something) to invade or attack them or it. 4 intr said of titles, property, etc: to pass by inheritance from one generation to another. • be descended from someone to have them as an ancestor. • would not descend to something or to doing something would not demean oneself by resorting to (unworthy or immoral behaviour). ⓘ 13c: from French descendre.

descendant /dɪˈsɛndənt/ ▷ adj (also descendent) descending. ▷ noun a person or animal, etc that is the child, grandchild, great-grandchild, etc of another; offspring.

descender ▷ noun 1 someone or something that descends. 2 printing, etc the part of a letter such as j or p that comes below the line on which eg x sits.

descending ▷ adj 1 moving or coming down or downwards. 2 from the highest to the lowest, the greatest to the least, or the best to the worst □ In descending order.

descent /dɪˈsɛnt/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of coming or going down. 2 a slope downwards. 3 family origins or ancestry; the fact of being descended from someone. 4 a sudden invasion or attack. ⓘ 14c: from French descente.

deschool ▷ verb, tr & intr to free (children) from the restrictions of traditional classroom learning and a set curriculum, and educate them in a less formal way, especially at home. • deschooler noun. • deschooling noun. ⓘ 1970s: originally as deschooling.

descramble ▷ verb 1 to convert or restore (a signal) to an understandable form. 2 to counteract the effects of, or recover, a signal deliberately transmitted in an unintelligible form.

describe /dɪˈskraɪb/ ▷ verb (described, describing) 1 to say what someone or something is like. 2 technical, geom to draw or form something. 3 formal to move in the shape or pattern of something □ skaters describing circles on the ice. • describable adj. • describer noun. • describe oneself as something to call oneself, or claim to be, it. ⓘ 16c: from Latin describere.

descried, descries see under DESCRY description /dɪ'skrɪpʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of describing. 2 a statement of what someone or something is like. 3 colloq a sort, type or kind ▫ toys of every description. ⓘ 15c: from Latin descriptio.

descriptive /dɪ'skrɪptɪv/ ▷ adj describing, especially describing well or vividly. • descriptively adverb. • descriptiveness noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin descriptivus.

descriptive geometry ▷ noun the study of three-dimensional figures when projected onto a two-dimensional surface.

descriptive linguistics ▷ noun the branch of linguistics that deals with the description of the structure of a language at any particular time, ie with no reference to its history, other languages, etc.

descriptivism ▷ noun 1 grammar an approach to language which aims to describe it in terms of the way it is actually used, without any judgements on whether or not it is correct. 2 philos the theory that moral statements are determined by their truth value. Compare PRESCRIPTIVISM.

descriptor /dɪ'skrɪptə(r)/ ▷ noun, computing 1 a symbol or form of words that identifies a particular subject in a storage system, or gives information on how particular material is stored. 2 a keyword or a heading.

descry /dɪ'skraɪ/ ▷ verb (descries, descried, descrying) formal 1 to see or catch sight of something. 2 to see or discover by looking carefully. ⓘ 14c: from French descrier to announce and descrire to describe.

desecrate /'desəkreɪt/ ▷ verb (desecrated, desecrating) to treat or use (a sacred object) or behave in (a holy place) in a way that shows a lack of respect or causes damage. • desecrater or desecrator noun. • desecration noun. ⓘ 17c: from DE- 2 + CONSECRATE.

desegregate /diː'segrəgeɪt/ ▷ verb to end segregation, especially racial segregation in (public places, schools, transport systems, etc). • desegregation noun. • desegregationist noun, adj. ⓘ 1950s.

deselect /diːsə'lekt/ ▷ verb 1 said of a branch of a political party: to reject (the existing Member of Parliament or local councillor) as a candidate for the next election. 2 said of a selection committee, etc: not to reselect (eg an athlete) for a place on a team, etc. • deselection noun.

desensitize or desensitise ▷ verb to make someone or something less sensitive to light, pain, suffering, etc. • desensitization noun. • desensitizer noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

desert[1] /dɪ'zɜːt/ ▷ verb (deserted, deserting) 1 to leave or abandon (a place or person), intending not to return. 2 intr to leave (especially a branch of the armed forces) without permission. 3 to take away support from (a person, cause, etc). • deserted adj said of a building, etc: empty or abandoned. • deserter noun someone who deserts from military service. • desertion noun. ⓘ 15c: from French déserter.

> desert
>
> There is often a spelling confusion between desert and dessert.

desert[2] /'dezət/ ▷ noun an arid area of land where rainfall is less than potential evaporation, vegetation is scarce or non-existent, and which is characterized by extremely high or low temperatures. Also as adj. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin deserere to abandon.

desert boot ▷ noun a lacing suede ankle boot with a rubber sole.

desertification /dezɜːtɪfɪ'keɪʃən/ ▷ noun the process by which a new desert is formed, or an existing desert spreads across an area that was formerly moist and fertile, due to climatic changes, poor farming practices, etc. ⓘ 1970s.

desert rat ▷ noun 1 a JERBOA. 2 a soldier of the British 7th Armoured Division who served in N Africa during 1941–42, the divisional sign being a jerboa.

deserts /dɪ'zɜːts/ ▷ plural noun (usually just deserts) what one deserves, usually something unfavourable ▫ He'll get his just deserts. ⓘ 13c: from French deservir to deserve.

deserve /dɪ'zɜːv/ ▷ verb (deserved, deserving) to have earned, be entitled to or be worthy of (a reward or punishment, etc). ▷ deservedly /-vɪdlɪ/ adverb. ⓘ 13c: from French deservir.

deserving ▷ adj 1 worthy of being given support, a reward, etc. 2 formal (usually deserving of something) worthy of it. • deservingly adverb.

desex /diː'seks/ ▷ verb to deprive someone or something of sexual character or quality. ⓘ Early 20c.

déshabillé /deɪza'biːeɪ/ or dishabille /dɪsə'biːl/ ▷ noun the state of being only partly dressed. ⓘ 17c: French, meaning 'undress'.

desiccant /'desɪkənt/ ▷ noun, chem a substance that absorbs water and so can be used as a drying agent to remove water from, or prevent absorption of water by, other substances. ▷ adj drying; having the power of drying. ⓘ 17c.

desiccate /'desɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (desiccated, desiccating) 1 to dry or remove the moisture from something, especially from food in order to preserve it. 2 intr to dry up. • desiccated adj. • desiccation noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin desiccare, desiccatum to dry up.

desiccator ▷ noun, chem a device, usually a closed glass vessel containing a DESICCANT, that is used to remove water from, or prevent the absorption of water by, other substances.

desideratum /dɪzɪdə'rɑːtəm/ ▷ noun (desiderata /-tə/) formal something much wanted or required. ⓘ 17c: from Latin desiderare, desideratum to long for.

design /dɪ'zaɪn/ ▷ verb (designed, designing) 1 to develop or prepare a plan, drawing or model of something before it is built or made. 2 formal to plan, intend or develop something for a particular purpose. ▷ noun 1 a plan, drawing or model showing how something is to be made. 2 the art or job of making such drawings, plans, etc. 3 the way in which something has been made. 4 a picture, pattern, arrangement of shapes, etc used eg as decoration. 5 a plan, purpose or intention. • designable adj. • designedly /-nɪdlɪ/ adverb intentionally; on purpose. • designing adj, derog using cunning and deceit to achieve a purpose. • designingly adverb. • by design intentionally. • have designs on someone or something to have plans to appropriate them or it. ⓘ 16c: from French désigner.

designate ▷ verb /'dezɪgneɪt/ (designated, designating) 1 to name, choose or specify someone or something for a particular purpose or duty. 2 to mark or indicate something. 3 to be a name or label for someone or something. ▷ adj /-nət/ having been appointed to some official position but not yet holding it ▫ editor designate. ▷ designation noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin designare, designatum to plan or mark out.

design engineer ▷ noun a designer in engineering.

designer ▷ noun someone who makes designs, plans, patterns, drawings, etc, especially as a profession. ▷ adj 1 designed by and bearing the name of a famous fashion designer ▫ designer dresses. 2 especially made for a particular purpose or effect ▫ designer drugs. 3 colloq, sometimes derog following current fashion.

designer drug ▷ noun, medicine 1 a drug created to destroy a particular bacterium, etc. 2 any of various synthetic drugs, often narcotics, which are not controlled by law in the USA, so called because they are specifically designed by chemists to be slightly different structurally from drugs that are controlled by law (ie illegal drugs), yet chemically so similar to them that they have similar biological effects and so can be sold on the streets to drug users.

desirable ▷ adj 1 pleasing; worth having. 2 sexually attractive. • desirability noun. • desirably adverb.

desire /dɪˈzaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a longing or wish. 2 strong sexual interest and attraction. ▷ verb (desired, desiring) 1 formal to want. 2 to long for or feel sexual desire for someone. 3 old use, formal to ask or command. ⓘ 13c: from French desirer.

desirous /dɪˈzaɪərəs/ ▷ adj, formal (usually desirous of something) wanting it keenly.

> desirous of
>
> ☆ PLAIN ENGLISH alternatives are wanting, wishing for, longing for

desist /dɪˈzɪst, -ˈsɪst/ ▷ verb (desisted, desisting) intr, formal (often desist from something) to stop. ⓘ 15c: from French desister.

desk ▷ noun 1 a sloping or flat table, often with drawers, for sitting at while writing, reading, etc. 2 a place or counter in a public building where a service is provided. 3 a section of a newspaper, etc office with responsibility for a particular subject □ news desk. 4 music a a music stand; b in an orchestra, especially in the string section: a seating position determined by rank. ⓘ 14c: from Latin discus disc or table.

desk-bound ▷ adj confined to a desk, doing paperwork and administration rather than active or practical work.

deskilling /diːˈskɪlɪŋ/ ▷ noun the process of removing the element of human skill from a job, operation, process, etc, through automation, computerization, etc.

desktop ▷ adj small enough to fit on the top of a desk. ▷ noun a computer small enough to use at a desk.

desktop publishing ▷ noun (abbreviation DTP) the process of preparing and producing typeset output as a basis for published text, using a microcomputer with specialist software and high-resolution printers.

desolate ▷ adj /ˈdɛsələt/ 1 said of a place: deserted, barren and lonely. 2 said of a person: very sad; in despair. 3 lacking pleasure or comfort □ a desolate life. 4 lonely; alone. ▷ verb /-leɪt/ (desolated, desolating) 1 to overwhelm someone with sadness or grief. 2 to make somewhere deserted or barren; to lay waste (an area). • desolated adj. • desolately adverb. • desolation noun. • desolateness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin desolare, desolatum to forsake.

desorption /dɪˈsɔːpʃən, dɪˈzɔːp-/ ▷ noun, chem release from an adsorbed (see ADSORB) state. ⓘ Early 20c.

despair /dɪˈspɛə(r)/ ▷ verb (despaired, despairing) intr (often despair of something or despair of doing something) to lose or lack hope. ▷ noun 1 the state of having lost hope. 2 (the despair) someone or something that causes worry and despair □ He's the despair of his parents. • despairing adj giving up hope; involving or indicating a loss of hope □ a despairing glance. • despairingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French desperer.

despatch see DISPATCH

desperado /dɛspəˈrɑːdoʊ/ ▷ noun (desperados or desperadoes) especially in 19c western USA: a bandit or outlaw. ⓘ 17c: probably a mock-Spanish word formed from DESPERATE.

desperate /ˈdɛspərət/ ▷ adj 1 extremely anxious, fearful or despairing. 2 willing to take risks fearlessly because of hopelessness and despair. 3 very serious, difficult, dangerous and almost hopeless □ a desperate situation. 4 dangerous and likely to be violent □ a desperate criminal. 5 extreme and carried out as a last resort because of the seriousness or hopelessness of the situation □ desperate measures. 6 very great □ desperate need. 7 extremely anxious or eager □ desperate to go to the concert. • desperately adverb. • desperateness noun. • desperation noun. • desperate for something in great or urgent need of it □ desperate for supplies. ⓘ 15c: from Latin desperare, desperatum to despair.

despicable /dɪˈspɪkəbəl/ ▷ adj deserving contempt; mean. • despicably adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin despicabilis.

despise /dɪˈspaɪz/ ▷ verb (despised, despising) to look down on someone or something with scorn and contempt. ⓘ 13c: from Latin despicere.

despite /dɪˈspaɪt/ ▷ prep in spite of. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin despicere to despise.

despoil ▷ verb (despoiled, despoiling) formal, literary to rob or steal everything valuable from (a place). • despoiler noun. ⓘ 13c: from French despoiller, from Latin spolium plunder.

despoliation /dɪspoʊlɪˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun plundering; robbing. ⓘ 16c.

despondency /dɪˈspɒndənsɪ/ ▷ noun low spirits; dejection.

despondent /dɪˈspɒndənt/ ▷ adj sad; dejected; in low spirits. • despondently adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin despondere to lose heart.

despot /ˈdɛspɒt/ ▷ noun someone who has very great or total power, especially if they use such power in a cruel or oppressive way. • despotic adj. • despotically adverb. ⓘ 18c; 16c, meaning 'a ruler dependent on the Turks': from Greek despotes master.

despotism ▷ noun 1 complete or absolute power. 2 a state governed by a despot. See also ABSOLUTISM, AUTOCRACY.

des res /dɛz rɛz/ ▷ noun, colloq, facetious or property market jargon a desirable residence. ⓘ 1980s: from desirable residence, originally the abbreviation used in advertisements.

dessert /dɪˈzɜːt/ ▷ noun 1 a sweet food served after the main course of a meal. 2 the course at or near the end of a meal, when such food is served. ⓘ 16c: French, from desservir to clear the table.

> dessert
>
> There is often a spelling confusion between dessert and desert.

dessertspoon ▷ noun (abbreviation dsp) 1 a medium-sized spoon, about half the size of a TABLESPOON and twice the size of a TEASPOON. 2 the amount a dessertspoon will hold. Also called dessertspoonful.

destabilize or destabilise ▷ verb to make (a country, an economy, etc) less stable. • destabilization noun. ⓘ 1920s.

destination /dɛstɪˈneɪʃən/ ▷ noun the place to which someone or something is going or being sent. ⓘ 16c, originally meaning 'appointing or intending someone or something for a particular role or purpose': from Latin destinatio purpose.

destine /ˈdɛstɪn/ ▷ verb (destined, destining) formal (usually be destined for something or to do something) to have it as one's fate. ⓘ 14c: from French destiner.

destiny /ˈdɛstɪnɪ/ ▷ noun (destinies) 1 the purpose or future as arranged by fate or God. 2 (also Destiny) fate; the power which appears, or is believed, to control events. ⓘ 14c: from French destinee, from Latin destinare to appoint.

destitute /ˈdestɪtjuːt/ ▷ adj 1 lacking money, food, shelter, etc; extremely poor. 2 formal (destitute of something) completely lacking in something necessary or desirable. • destitution noun 1 poverty. 2 lack of money and food. ◷ 16c in sense 1; 15c in sense 2; 14c, meaning 'deserted': from Latin destitutus.

destroy /dɪˈstrɔɪ/ ▷ verb (destroyed, destroying) 1 to knock down, break into pieces, completely ruin, etc. 2 to put an end to something. 3 to defeat someone totally. 4 to ruin or seriously damage the reputation, health, financial position, etc of someone. 5 to kill (a dangerous, injured or unwanted animal). ◷ 13c: from French destruire, from Latin de down + struere to build.

destroyer ▷ noun 1 someone or something that destroys or causes destruction. 2 a type of small fast warship.

destruct /dɪˈstrʌkt/ ▷ verb (destructed, destructing) tr & intr, chiefly N Amer said of equipment, especially a missile in flight: to destroy or be destroyed, especially for safety reasons. ◷ 1940s in this sense; originally 17c meaning 'to destroy': from Latin destruere, destructum.

destructible ▷ adj able to be destroyed. • destructibility noun. ◷ 18c.

destruction ▷ noun 1 the act or process of destroying or being destroyed. 2 something that destroys. ◷ 14c: from Latin destruere, destructum to destroy, from de down + struere to build.

destructive ▷ adj 1 causing destruction or serious damage. 2 said of criticism, etc: pointing out faults, etc without suggesting improvements. • destructively adverb. • destructiveness noun. ◷ 15c.

destructive distillation ▷ noun the decomposition of solid substances by heating, and the subsequent collection of the volatile substances produced.

desuetude /dɪˈsjuːɪtjuːd, ˈdeswɪtʃuːd/ ▷ noun disuse; discontinuance. ◷ 17c: from Latin desuescere, desuetum to become unaccustomed.

desultory /ˈdesəltərɪ, ˈdezəltərɪ/ ▷ adj jumping from one thing to another with no plan, purpose or logical connection. • desultorily adverb. • desultoriness noun. ◷ 16c: from Latin desultorius, from desultor a circus performer who jumps from horse to horse.

Det. ▷ abbreviation Detective.

detach /dɪˈtatʃ/ ▷ verb (detaches, detached, detaching) 1 tr & intr to unfasten or separate. 2 military to select and separate (a group of soldiers, etc) from a larger group, especially to carry out a special task. • detachable adj. ◷ 17c in these senses; 16c, meaning 'to discharge (a weapon)': from French destacher, from des- DIS- + atachier to attach.

detached ▷ adj 1 said of a building: not joined to another on either side. Compare SEMI-DETACHED. 2 said of a person: feeling no personal or emotional involvement; showing no prejudice or bias. • detachedly adverb.

detachment ▷ noun 1 the state of being emotionally detached or free from prejudice. 2 a group (eg of soldiers) detached from a larger group for a special purpose. 3 the act of detaching or the state or process of being detached. ◷ 17c.

detail /ˈdiːteɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a small feature, fact or item. 2 something considered unimportant. 3 all the small features and parts of something considered as a whole ◻ an artist's eye for detail. 4 a part of a painting, map, photograph, etc considered separately, often enlarged to show small features. 5 military a group of eg soldiers given a special task or duty. ▷ verb (detailed, detailing) 1 to describe or list fully. 2 to appoint someone to do a particular task. • detailed adj 1 said of a list, etc: itemized. 2 said of a story, picture, etc: intricate. • in detail giving or looking at all the details. • go into detail to study, discuss, etc, a matter deeply, considering the particulars. ◷ 17c: from French detailler to cut up.

detain /dɪˈteɪn/ ▷ verb (detained, detaining) 1 to stop, hold back, keep waiting or delay someone or something. 2 said of the police, etc: to keep someone in a cell, prison or elsewhere, especially before trial. See also DETENTION. • detainable adj. • detainment noun. ◷ 15c in sense 2; 16c in sense 1; from French detenir to hold.

detainee /diːteɪˈniː/ ▷ noun (detainees) a person held under guard eg by the police, especially for political reasons. ◷ 1920s.

detect /dɪˈtekt/ ▷ verb (detected, detecting) 1 to see or notice. 2 to discover, and usually indicate, the presence or existence of (something which should not be there or whose presence is not obvious). • detectable or detectible adj. ◷ 16c; 15c, meaning 'to expose or uncover': from Latin detegere, detectum to uncover.

detection /dɪˈtekʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of detecting or state of being detected. 2 the work of a detective, investigating and solving crime.

detective ▷ noun a police officer whose job is to solve crime by observation and gathering evidence. See also PRIVATE DETECTIVE.

detective story ▷ noun a story whose main theme is the solving of a crime.

detector /dɪˈtektə(r)/ ▷ noun an instrument or device used for detecting the presence of something.

détente /deɪˈtɑ̃t/ ▷ noun (detentes) a lessening of tension, especially in the relationships between countries. ◷ Early 20c: French.

detention /dɪˈtenʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of detaining or the state of being detained, especially in prison or police custody. 2 a punishment in which a pupil is kept in school to work after the other pupils have gone home. ◷ 15c in sense 1; 19c in sense 2: from Latin detinere, detentum to detain.

detention centre ▷ noun a place where young criminals are kept for a short time by order of a court.

deter /dɪˈtɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (deterred, deterring) to discourage or prevent someone or something from doing something because of fear of unpleasant consequences. • determent noun. See also DETERRENT. ◷ 16c: from Latin deterrere to frighten off.

deterge /dɪˈtɜːdʒ/ ▷ verb (deterged, deterging) to cleanse (a wound, etc). ◷ 17c: from Latin detergere, from de off + tergere to wipe.

detergent /dɪˈtɜːdʒənt/ ▷ noun a SURFACE-ACTIVE cleansing agent which, unlike soaps, does not produce a scum in hard water. ▷ adj having the power to clean.

deteriorate /dɪˈtɪərɪəreɪt/ ▷ verb (deteriorated, deteriorating) intr to grow worse. • deterioration noun. ◷ 17c; 16c, meaning 'to make worse': from Latin deterior worse.

determinable /dɪˈtɜːmɪnəbəl/ ▷ adj able to be determined. • determinably adverb.

determinant /dɪˈtɜːmɪnənt/ ▷ noun 1 a determining factor or circumstance. 2 math an arrangement of elements presented as a square matrix, the determinant being the difference between the multiplied diagonal terms. 3 biol in an antigen molecule: a region or regions that enable it to be recognized and bound by an antibody. ▷ adj determining.

determinate /dɪˈtɜːmɪnət/ ▷ adj 1 having definite fixed limits, etc. 2 bot said of a plant: having the main stem and branches ending in flowers.

determination ▷ noun 1 firmness or strength of will, purpose or character. 2 the act of determining or process of being determined.

determinative /dɪˈtɜːmɪnətɪv/ ▷ adj having the power to limit or determine.

determine /dɪˈtɜːmɪn/ ▷ verb (determined, determining) 1 to fix or settle the exact limits or nature of something. 2 to find out or reach a conclusion about something by gathering facts, making measurements, etc. 3 tr & intr to decide or make someone decide. 4 to be the main influence on someone or something; to control someone or something. ⓒ 14c: from French determiner, from Latin determinare to fix the limits of.

determined ▷ adj 1 (always determined to do something) firmly intending to do it. 2 having or showing a strong will. ● determinedly /-mɪndlɪ/ adverb.

determiner ▷ noun, grammar a word that comes before a noun or before any adjectives preceding a noun, and limits the meaning of the noun in some way, eg A[1], THE, THIS, EVERY, SOME.

determinism ▷ noun, philos the theory that every event has a cause, and that whatever happens has to happen and could not be otherwise. ● determinist noun. ● deterministic adj.

deterred past tense, past participle of DETER.

deterrent /dɪ'terənt/ ▷ noun something which deters, especially a weapon intended to deter attack. ▷ adj capable of deterring. ● deterrence noun. ⓒ 19c.

deterring present participle of DETER.

detest /dɪ'test/ ▷ verb (detested, detesting) to dislike something intensely; to hate. ● detestation /diːtes'teɪʃən/ noun. ⓒ 15c: from French detester.

detestable /dɪ'testəbəl/ ▷ adj hateful. ● detestability or detestableness noun. ● detestably adverb.

dethrone /diː'θroʊn, dɪ'-/ ▷ verb (dethroned, dethroning) 1 to remove (a monarch) from the throne. 2 to remove someone from a position of power, influence or authority. ● dethronement noun. ⓒ 17c.

detonate /'detəneɪt/ ▷ verb (detonated, detonating) tr & intr to explode or make something explode. ⓒ 18c: from Latin detonare to thunder down.

detonation ▷ noun 1 detonating; explosion. 2 in an internal-combustion engine: premature combustion of part of the mixture, causing a KNOCK (noun 5).

detonator ▷ noun an explosive substance or a device used to make a bomb, etc explode.

detour /'diːtʊə(r)/ ▷ noun a route away from and longer than a planned or more direct route. ▷ verb (detoured, detouring) intr to make a detour. ⓒ 18c: from French détour.

detoxification centre ▷ noun a centre specializing in the treatment of drug addiction and alcoholism. Often shortened to detox.

detoxify /diː'tɒksɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (detoxifies, detoxified, detoxifying) 1 to make (a toxic substance) harmless. 2 to remove poison, drugs or harmful substances from (a person, etc); to treat (a patient) for alcoholism or drug addiction. ● detoxification /diːtɒksɪfɪ'keɪʃən/ noun. Often shortened to detox. ⓒ 1940s: from Latin toxicum poison.

detract /dɪ'trakt/ ▷ verb (detracted, detracting) intr (chiefly detract from something) to take away from it or lessen it. ● detraction noun. ● detractor noun. ⓒ 15c: from Latin detrahere, detractum to pull away.

detrain ▷ verb, tr & intr to set down or get down out of a railway train. ● detrainment noun. ⓒ 19c.

detribalize or detribalise /diː'traɪbəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (detribalized, detribalizing) to cause (a group) to lose tribal characteristics, customs, etc, usually in favour of an urban way of life. ● detribalization noun. ⓒ 1920s.

detriment /'detrɪmənt/ ▷ noun harm or loss □ to the detriment of her health. ● detrimental adj harmful; damaging. ● detrimentally adverb. ⓒ 15c: from Latin detrimentum.

detritus /dɪ'traɪtəs/ ▷ noun 1 geol the product of detrition /-trɪʃən/, the natural process of rubbing or wearing down strata by wind, water or glaciers. 2 biol dead plants or animals, or any debris of living organisms, eg parts that have been shed. 3 bits and pieces of rubbish left over from something. ● detrital /dɪ'traɪtəl/ adj. ⓒ 19c in these senses; 18c, meaning 'disintegration': from Latin deterere, detritum to rub away.

de trop /də troʊ/ ▷ adj not wanted; in the way. ⓒ 18c: French, meaning 'too much'.

detumescence /diːtjʊ'mesəns/ ▷ noun subsidence of swelling. ⓒ 17c: from Latin detumescere to subside from swelling.

deuce[1] /dʒuːs/ ▷ noun 1 tennis a score of forty points each in a game or five games each in a match. 2 a card, dice throw, etc, of the value two. ⓒ 15c in sense 2: from French deux two.

deuce[2] /dʒuːs/ ▷ noun, old use (the deuce) said in exclamations: the devil □ What the deuce is he doing? ⓒ 17c: perhaps from DEUCE[1], two being an unlucky throw in dice.

deus ex machina /'diːəs ɛks mə'ʃiːnə, 'deɪʊs — 'makɪnə/ ▷ noun 1 in classical drama: a god lowered on to the stage by a mechanical device to resolve problems which have arisen in the course of the play or to decide the final outcome. 2 in any literary genre: someone or something introduced suddenly or unexpectedly to provide a contrived solution to a difficulty. ⓒ 17c: Latin, meaning 'god out of a machine'.

Deut. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Deuteronomy. See table at BIBLE.

deuterium /dʒuː'tɪərɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol D) one of the three isotopes of hydrogen, being almost identical to the commonest isotope in its chemical properties, but with slightly different physical properties, eg boiling point. Also called heavy hydrogen. See also TRITIUM. ⓒ 1930s: from Greek deuteros second.

deuterium oxide ▷ noun, chem (formula D_2O) a compound analogous to water, consisting of DEUTERIUM and oxygen, used as a moderator to slow down neutrons in nuclear reactors. Also called heavy water.

deutero- /dʒuːtəroʊ/, deuto- or (before a vowel) deuter- or deut- ▷ combining form, signifying 1 second or secondary. 2 chem that one or more hydrogens in a compound is the DEUTERIUM isotope. ⓒ 17c: Greek, from deuteros second.

deuteron /'dʒuːtərɒn/ ▷ noun, physics the nucleus of an atom of DEUTERIUM, composed of a proton and a neutron.

Deutschmark /'dɔɪtʃmaːk/ and Deutsche Mark /'dɔɪtʃə-/ noun (abbreviation DM or D-mark /'diːmaːk, 'deɪmaːk/) the standard unit of currency in Germany. See also PFENNIG. ⓒ 1948: German, meaning 'German mark'.

deutzia /'dʒuːtsɪə, 'dɔɪtsɪə/ ▷ noun (deutzias) any of various shrubs originally introduced from China and Japan, which flower in early summer. ⓒ 19c: named after Jan van der Deutz, 18c Dutch patron of botany.

devalue and devaluate ▷ verb 1 tr & intr to reduce the value of (a currency) in relation to the values of other currencies. 2 to make (a person, action, etc) seem less valuable or important. ● devaluation noun. ⓒ 20c.

devanagari or Devanagari /deɪvə'naːgərɪ/ ▷ noun the script in which SANSKRIT and HINDI are usually written and printed, also used for other Indian languages. See also NAGARI. ⓒ 18c: Sanskrit, meaning 'town-script of the gods', from deva god + nagari an earlier name for the script.

devastate /'devəsteɪt/ ▷ verb (devastated, devastating) 1 to cause great destruction in or to something. 2 to overwhelm someone with grief; to shock someone greatly. ● devastator noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin devastare, devastatum to lay waste.

devastated ▷ adj 1 said of a person: overwhelmed with shock or grief. 2 said of an area or country: extensively harmed or damaged.

devastating ▷ adj 1 completely destructive. 2 shocking; overwhelming. 3 colloq very good or impressive; extremely attractive. • devastatingly adverb.

devastation ▷ noun 1 the act of devastating. 2 the state of being devastated.

develop /dɪˈvɛləp/ ▷ verb (developed, developing) 1 tr & intr to make or become more mature, more advanced, more complete, more organized, more detailed, etc. 2 said of a living organism, organ, tissue or cell: to become transformed from a simple structure to a much more complex one, usually by passing through a number of stages. 3 to begin to have something; to have an increasing amount of it ▫ develop an interest in politics. 4 tr & intr to appear and grow; or to have or suffer from something which has appeared and grown ▫ developing a cold. 5 to use chemical agents to convert an invisible image on (exposed photographic film or paper) into a visible image. 6 to bring into fuller use (the natural resources, etc of a country or region). 7 to build on (land) or prepare (land) for being built on. 8 chess to bring (a piece) into a position useful in attack. 9 math to express (an expression or function) in expanded form. 10 geom to unroll into a plane surface. • developable adj. ⓘ 17c: originally meaning 'to unroll or unfurl', from French développer.

developer ▷ noun 1 a chemical used to develop photographic film. 2 someone who builds on land or improves and increases the value of buildings.

developing country ▷ noun, econ a country with a low income per capita of population, which is trying to improve its position through industrialization.

development ▷ noun 1 the act of developing or the process of being developed. 2 a new stage, event or situation. 3 a result or consequence. 4 land which has been or is being developed, or the buildings built or being built on it. 5 math the expression of a FUNCTION (noun 4) in the form of a series. 6 music elaboration of a theme, or that part of a MOVEMENT in which this occurs. • developmental /-ˈmɛntəl/ adj. • developmentally adverb.

development aid ▷ noun, politics financial and economic assistance given by rich industrial nations to developing countries.

developmental psychology ▷ noun, psychol the branch of psychology concerned with the scientific study of human mental development and behaviour from birth to maturity.

development area ▷ noun, Brit an area of high unemployment into which the government encourages businesses and industry to move eg by offering grants.

Devi /ˈdeɪviː/ ▷ noun in India: used, following her name, as a title for a married woman. ⓘ Sanskrit, meaning 'goddess'.

deviance /ˈdiːvɪəns/ and deviancy ▷ noun (deviances; deviancies) departure from normal standards or methods. ⓘ 1940s.

deviant /ˈdiːvɪənt/ ▷ adj not following the normal patterns, accepted standards, etc. ▷ noun someone who does not behave in what is considered to be a normal or acceptable fashion, especially sexually. ⓘ 15c, but rare before 20c.

deviate ▷ verb /ˈdiːvɪeɪt/ (deviated, deviating) intr to turn aside or move away from what is considered a correct or normal course, standard of behaviour, way of thinking, etc. ▷ noun /ˈdiːvɪət/ psychol a DEVIANT. ⓘ 17c: from Latin deviare to turn from the road, from de from + via road.

deviation /diːvɪˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of deviating. 2 geog the existence of or the amount of a difference between north as shown on a compass and true north, caused by the magnetism of objects near the compass, etc.

deviationism ▷ noun a tendency to dissent from some aspects of a (usually political) belief or ideology. • deviationist noun. ⓘ 20c.

device /dɪˈvaɪs/ ▷ noun 1 something made for a special purpose, eg a tool or instrument. 2 a plan or scheme for doing something, sometimes involving trickery or deceit. 3 heraldry a sign, pattern or symbol used eg on a crest or shield. • be left to one's own devices to be left alone and without supervision or help. ⓘ 13c: from French devis and devise, from Latin divisa mark or device.

devil /ˈdɛvəl/ ▷ noun 1 (the Devil) relig the most powerful evil spirit; Satan. 2 any evil or wicked spirit. 3 colloq a mischievous or bad person. 4 colloq a person of a stated type ▫ lucky devil. 5 someone or something difficult to deal with. 6 someone who excels at something. 7 (the devil) used for emphasis in mild oaths and exclamations ▫ What the devil is he doing? 8 in various occupations and professions: an apprentice or junior employee expected to work on behalf of his superiors for little financial reward ▫ printer's devil. 9 meteorol a dust storm. 10 any of various machines used especially for tearing. ▷ verb (devilled, devilling; US deviled, deviling) 1 to prepare or cook (meat, etc) with a spicy seasoning. 2 to do very menial work; to act as a drudge to someone. • Be a devil! colloq said to encourage someone to do something they are hesitating to do. • between the devil and the deep blue sea in a situation where the alternatives are equally undesirable. • devil take the hindmost said to encourage one to take care of one's own success, safety, etc with no thought for others. • give the devil his due to admit the good points of a person one dislikes. • go to the devil 1 to be ruined. 2 usually said as a command, in anger: go away. • like the devil colloq very hard. • speak or talk of the devil said on the arrival of someone one has just been talking about. • the devil to pay serious trouble as a consequence of an action, etc. ⓘ 16c in this form; Anglo-Saxon deofol, from Greek diabolos slanderer.

devilfish ▷ noun 1 the giant ray of the US. 2 the octopus.

devilish ▷ adj 1 characteristic of or like a devil; as if from, produced by, etc a devil. 2 very wicked. 3 colloq very great or very difficult. ▷ adverb, old use very. • devilishly adverb, old use very; terribly. ⓘ 15c.

devil-may-care ▷ adj cheerfully heedless of danger, consequences, etc. devilment /ˈdɛvəlmənt/ ▷ noun mischievous fun. ⓘ 18c.

devilry /ˈdɛvəlrɪ/ ▷ noun (devilries) 1 mischievous fun. 2 wickedness or cruelty. 3 witchcraft; black magic. ⓘ 14c.

devil's advocate ▷ noun 1 someone who argues for or against something simply to encourage discussion or argument. 2 RC Church an advocate at the papal court whose duty is to propose objections against a canonization.

devil's coach-horse ▷ noun a large dark-coloured beetle.

devil's darning-needle ▷ noun, colloq a dragonfly or damselfly.

devil's food cake ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer a very rich kind of chocolate cake.

devils on horseback ▷ plural noun prunes wrapped in slices of bacon, grilled until crisp and served on toast.

devious /ˈdiːvɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 not totally open or honest; deceitful. 2 cunning; able to think up clever and usually deceitful ways of achieving things, etc. 3 not direct ▫ came by a devious route. • deviously adverb • deviousness noun. ⓘ 17c; 16c, meaning 'remote or out of the way': from Latin devius, from de from + via road.

devise /dɪˈvaɪz/ ▷ verb (devised, devising) 1 to invent, make up or put together (a plan, etc) in one's mind. 2 law to leave (property such as land or buildings) to someone in a will. See also BEQUEATH. • deviser noun someone who devises plans, etc. ● devisor noun, law someone who bequeaths property by will. ⓘ 14c: from French deviser, from Latin divisa division of goods.

devitalize or devitalise ▷ verb (devitalized, devitalizing) to deprive someone or something of vitality or life-giving properties. ● devitalization noun. ⓘ 19c.

devoid /dɪ'vɔɪd/ ▷ adj (always devoid of something) free from it, lacking it or empty of it. ⓘ 15c: from French devoidier to take away.

devolution /diːvə'luːʃən, -'ljuːʃən, de-/ ▷ noun the act of devolving, especially the giving of certain powers to a regional government by a central government. ● devolutionary adj. ● devolutionist noun, adj. ⓘ 18c in modern sense; 16c, meaning 'a transfer of a right': from Latin devolutio, from devolvere to roll down.

devolve /dɪ'vɒlv/ ▷ verb (devolved, devolving) (usually devolve to or on or upon someone) 1 tr & intr said of duties, power, etc: to be transferred or transfer them to someone else. 2 intr, law to pass by succession □ On his death, the title will devolve on his nephew. ⓘ 15c originally meaning 'to roll down' or 'unfurl': from Latin devolvere, devolutum to roll down.

Devonian /dɪ'voʊnɪən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to the English county of Devon. 2 geol a relating to the fourth period of the PALAEOZOIC era; b relating to the rocks formed during this period. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. ▷ noun 1 a person who was born in or who lives in Devon. 2 the Devonian rock system. ⓘ 17c: from Devon in SW England.

Devon minnow ▷ noun, angling a lure that imitates a swimming minnow.

Devonshire cream ▷ noun CLOTTED CREAM.

devote /dɪ'voʊt/ ▷ verb (devoted, devoting) to use or give up (a resource such as time or money) wholly to some purpose □ devoted their time to writing letters. ⓘ 17c in this sense; originally 16c, meaning 'to formally dedicate': from Latin devovere, devotum to consecrate.

devoted ▷ adj 1 (usually devoted to someone) loving and loyal to them. 2 (usually devoted to something) given up to it; totally occupied by it. ● devotedly adverb. ● devotedness noun.

devotee /devoʊ'tiː, 'de-/ ▷ noun (devotees) 1 a keen follower or enthusiastic supporter. 2 a keen believer in a religion or follower of a god. ⓘ 17c.

devotion /dɪ'voʊʃən/ ▷ noun 1 great love or loyalty; enthusiasm for or willingness to do what is required by someone. 2 devoting or being devoted. 3 religious enthusiasm and piety. 4 (devotions) relig worship and prayers. ● devotional adj.

devour /dɪ'vaʊə(r)/ ▷ verb (devoured, devouring) 1 to eat up something greedily. 2 to completely destroy something. 3 to read (a book, etc) eagerly. 4 to look at something with obvious pleasure. 5 (usually be devoured) to be taken over totally □ He was devoured by guilt. ● devourer noun. ⓘ 14c: from French devorer, from Latin devorare to gulp down.

devout /dɪ'vaʊt/ ▷ adj 1 sincerely religious in thought and behaviour. 2 deeply felt; earnest. ● devoutly adverb. ● devoutness noun. ⓘ 13c: from Latin devovere, devotum to consecrate.

dew /djuː, dʒuː/ ▷ noun 1 a form of PRECIPITATION consisting of tiny droplets of water that are deposited on objects close to the ground, eg leaves, on cool clear nights when air in contact with the ground becomes saturated. 2 anything similar, especially moisture associated with freshness. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon deaw.

Dewar flask or dewar flask and dewar /'djuːə(r), 'dʒ-/ ▷ noun, physics an insulated vessel with double walls, the inner space surrounded by a vacuum and silvered so that heat losses by convection and radiation are reduced to a minimum. ⓘ 19c: named after Sir James Dewar (1842–1923), its inventor.

dewberry ▷ noun 1 a trailing type of BRAMBLE, that produces fruit with a bluish dew-like bloom on the fruit. 2 the fruit of this plant.

dewclaw ▷ noun a small functionless toe or claw on the legs of some dogs and other animals. ⓘ 16c.

dewdrop ▷ noun a drop of dew.

Dewey decimal system and classification /'djuːɪ —/ ▷ noun an international library classification system, in which books are assigned to numbered classes, with further subdivision of classes shown by numbers following a decimal point. Also called decimal classification. ⓘ 19c: devised in 1873, by Melvil Dewey (1851–1931), US librarian.

dewfall ▷ noun the deposition of dew or the time that this happens.

dewier, dewiest, dewily, dewiness see DEWY dewlap ▷ noun a flap of loose skin hanging down from the throat of certain cattle, dogs and other animals. ⓘ 14c: probably from DEW + Anglo-Saxon læppa loose hanging piece.

dew point ▷ noun, meteorol the temperature at which dew forms.

dew-pond ▷ noun a shallow pond, sometimes artificial, supplied with water by dew and mist.

dewy ▷ adj (dewier, dewiest) covered in dew. ● dewily adverb. ● dewiness noun.

dewy-eyed ▷ adj, often ironic naive and too trusting.

dexter /'dɛkstə(r)/ ▷ adj, heraldry 1 on the right-hand side. 2 on or belonging to that side of the shield on the right-hand side of the bearer, ie the spectator's left. Compare SINISTER. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'right'.

dexterity /dɛk'stɛrɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 skill in using one's hands. 2 quickness of mind. ⓘ 16c: from French dextérité, from Latin dexter right or skilful.

dexterous or dextrous /'dɛkstrəs, 'dɛkstərəs/ ▷ adj having, showing or done with dexterity; skilful. ● dexterously or dextrously adverb. ● dexterousness or dextrousness noun.

dextral /'dɛkstrəl/ ▷ adj 1 associated with, or located on, the right side, especially the right side of the body. 2 right-handed, or favouring the right-hand side. 3 said of flatfish: lying right side up. 4 said of the shells of some gastropod molluscs: turning in the normal manner, ie clockwise from the top. Compare SINISTRAL. ● dextrality noun. ● dextrally adverb. ⓘ 17c: from medieval Latin dextralis, from dextra right hand.

dextran /'dɛkstran/ ▷ noun a carbohydrate formed in sugar solutions, used as a substitute for blood plasma in transfusions. ⓘ 19c.

dextrin or dextrine /'dɛkstrɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem any of a group of short-chain POLYSACCHARIDES produced during the breakdown of starch or glycogen by enzymes, used as a thickener in foods and adhesives. ⓘ 19c: from French dextrine.

dextro- /dɛkstroʊ/ or (before a vowel) dextr- combining form, signifying to or towards the right.

dextrorotatory ▷ adj rotating to the right; clockwise. ⓘ 19c.

dextrorse /dɛk'strɔːs, 'dɛk-/ ▷ adj, bot rising spirally and turning anticlockwise. ⓘ 19c: from Latin dextrorsus towards the right.

dextrose /'dɛkstroʊs, -stroʊz/ ▷ noun a type of GLUCOSE. ⓘ 19c.

dextrous see DEXTEROUS

DF ▷ abbreviation Defender of the Faith.

DFC ▷ abbreviation Distinguished Flying Cross.

DFE ▷ abbreviation Department for Education, which replaced the DES in 1992.

DFM ▷ abbreviation Distinguished Flying Medal.

DG ▷ abbreviation 1 Dei gratia (Latin), by the grace of God. 2 Director General.

dg ▷ abbreviation decigram, or decigrams.

dhal see DAL.

dharma /ˈdɑːmə, ˈdɜːmə/ ▷ noun 1 Buddhism truth. 2 Hinduism the universal laws, especially the moral laws to be followed by each individual. ⓘ 18c: Sanskrit, meaning 'decree' or 'custom'.

dhobi /ˈdoʊbi/ ▷ noun (dhobis) historical in India, Malaya, etc: a man who does washing. ⓘ 19c: Hindi, from dhob washing.

dhobi itch ▷ noun a tropical allergic dermatitis.

dhoti /ˈdoʊtɪ/ or dhooti /ˈduːtɪ/ ▷ noun (dhotis or dhootis) a garment worn by some Hindu men, consisting of a long strip of cloth wrapped around the waist and between the legs. ⓘ 17c: Hindi.

dhow /daʊ/ ▷ noun a type of LATEEN ship with one or more sails, used in countries around the Indian Ocean. ⓘ 18c: from Arabian dawa.

DHSS ▷ abbreviation, Brit Department of Health and Social Security, in 1989 split into the Department of Social Services (DSS) and Department of Health.

DI ▷ abbreviation 1 Defence Intelligence. 2 Detective Inspector. 3 medicine donor insemination.

di- /daɪ, dɪ/ ▷ prefix 1 two or double □ dicotyledon. 2 chem containing two atoms of the same type □ dioxide. ⓘ From Greek dis twice.

dia. ▷ abbreviation diameter.

dia- ▷ prefix, denoting 1 through. 2 across. 3 during. 4 composed of. ⓘ Greek.

diabetes /daɪəˈbiːtiːz/ ▷ noun any of various disorders, especially DIABETES MELLITUS, that are characterized by thirst and excessive production of urine. ⓘ 16c: Greek, meaning 'siphon'.

diabetes insipidus /— ɪnˈsɪpɪdəs/ ▷ noun, medicine a rare disorder characterized by the excretion of large amounts of dilute urine, and constant thirst, which is caused by a deficiency of antidiuretic hormone, the hormone that controls reabsorption of water by the kidneys.

diabetes mellitus /— meˈlaɪtəs/ ▷ noun, medicine a common metabolic disorder in which the pancreatic hormone insulin is no longer produced in sufficient quantity or activity to control sugar metabolism.

diabetic /daɪəˈbetɪk/ ▷ noun someone suffering from diabetes. ▷ adj 1 relating to or suffering from diabetes. 2 especially for people who have diabetes □ diabetic jam. ⓘ 19c as noun; 18c as adj.

diablerie /dɪˈɑːbləri/ ▷ noun 1 magic, especially black magic or witchcraft. 2 knowledge of devils. 3 mischief. ⓘ 18c: from French diable devil.

diabolic /daɪəˈbɒlɪk/ ▷ adj 1 characteristic of, like or belonging to a devil; devilish. 2 very wicked or cruel. ⓘ 14c: from Greek diabolos slanderer or devil.

diabolical /daɪəˈbɒlɪkəl/ ▷ adj, Brit colloq very shocking, annoying, bad, difficult, etc. ● diabolically adverb 1 in a diabolical way; wickedly. 2 colloq exceedingly; very □ diabolically funny. ⓘ 16c.

diabolism /daɪˈabəlɪzəm/ ▷ noun the worship of the Devil or devils; witchcraft; black magic. ● diabolist noun. ⓘ 17c: from Greek diabolos devil + -ISM.

diabolo /dɪˈabəloʊ, daɪ-/ ▷ noun (diabolos) 1 a game in which a two-headed top is spun, tossed and caught on a string attached to two sticks held one in each hand. 2 the top used in this game. ⓘ 19c: Italian.

diachronic /daɪəˈkrɒnɪk/ and diachronical /-kəl/ ▷ adj, linguistics concerned with the study of a language in terms of its origins and historical development. Opposite of SYNCHRONIC. ⓘ 20c in this sense; 19c meaning 'lasting through time': DIA-1 + Greek chronos time +.

diacid /daɪˈasɪd/ ▷ adj, chem 1 having two replaceable hydrogen atoms. 2 capable of replacing two hydrogen atoms of an acid. ⓘ 19c.

diaconal /daɪˈakənəl/ ▷ adj belonging to or relating to a DEACON. ⓘ 17c.

diaconate /daɪˈakəneɪt, dɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 the position of DEACON. 2 one's period of time as a deacon. 3 deacons as a group. ⓘ 18c: from Latin diaconus deacon.

diacritic /daɪəˈkrɪtɪk/ ▷ noun a mark written or printed over, under or through a letter to show that that letter has a particular sound, as in é, è, ç, ñ. Compare ACCENT (noun 3). ▷ adj (also diacritical) functioning as a diacritic; distinguishing. ⓘ 17c: from Greek diakritikos able to distinguish.

diadem /ˈdaɪədem/ ▷ noun 1 a crown or jewelled headband, worn by a royal person. 2 royal power or authority. ⓘ 13c: from French diademe.

diaeresis or (N Amer) dieresis /daɪˈɛrəsɪs/ ▷ noun (diaereses /-siːz/) a mark (¨) placed over a vowel to show that it is to be pronounced separately from the vowel before it, as in naïve. ⓘ 17c in this sense: from Greek diairesis separation.

diagenesis /daɪəˈdʒenəsɪs/ ▷ noun, geol the physical and chemical changes in a sedimentary rock after its deposition, excluding weathering and metamorphism. ⓘ 19c.

diagnose /daɪəgˈnoʊz, ˈdaɪ-/ ▷ verb (diagnosed, diagnosing) 1 to identify (an illness) from a consideration of its symptoms. 2 to identify (a fault). ● diagnosable adj. ⓘ 19c: from DIAGNOSIS.

diagnosis /daɪəgˈnoʊsɪs/ ▷ noun (diagnoses /-siːz/) 1 medicine the process whereby a disease or disorder is provisionally identified on the basis of its symptoms and the patient's medical history. 2 biol in taxonomy: a formal description, eg of a plant, made on the basis of its distinguishing characteristics. 3 identification of problems in other areas, eg in mechanics and computing. ⓘ 17c: Greek, from diagignoskein to distinguish.

diagnostic /daɪəgˈnɒstɪk/ ▷ adj relating to or useful in diagnosis. ● diagnostician /-ˈstɪʃən/ noun.

diagonal /daɪˈagənəl/ ▷ adj 1 math said of a straight line: joining any two non-adjacent corners of a POLYGON or any two vertices not on the same face in a POLYHEDRON. 2 sloping or slanting. ▷ noun a diagonal line. ● diagonally adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Greek dia through + gonia angle.

diagram /ˈdaɪəgram/ ▷ noun a line drawing, often labelled with text, that does not show all the visible details of an object or process, but only the most important features of its structure or the manner in which it functions. ● diagrammatic /daɪəgrəˈmatɪk/ adj. ● diagrammatically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Greek diagramma, from dia round + graphein to write.

diakinesis /daɪəkaɪˈniːsɪs/ ▷ noun, biol during MEIOSIS: the final stage of PROPHASE, when the pairs of homologous chromosomes are almost completely separated from one another. ⓘ Early 20c: from Greek kinesis motion.

dial /daɪl, ˈdaɪəl/ ▷ noun 1 a disc or plate on a clock, radio, meter, etc with numbers or other scales or measurements marked on it and a movable pointer or indicator, used to indicate eg measurements of speed, time, etc or selected settings of time, temperature, radio frequency, etc. 2 the round numbered plate on some telephones and the movable disc fitted over it. ▷ verb (dialled, dialling; US dialed, dialing) tr & intr to use a telephone dial or keypad to call (a number). ● dialler or (US) dialer noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin dialis daily, from the fact that a sundial shows the time of day from the shadow cast on it, or from its being the name for a wheel in the clockwork of medieval clocks which turned once per day.

dialect /ˈdaɪəlɛkt/ ▷ noun 1 a form of a language spoken in a particular region or by a certain social group, differing from other forms in grammar, vocabulary, and in some cases pronunciation. 2 computing a variant form of a computer language. ● dialectal adj. ● dialectally adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Greek dialektos manner of speech.

dialectic /daɪəˈlɛktɪk/ ▷ noun, philos 1 (also dialectics) the art or practice of establishing truth by discussion. 2 (also dialectics) a debate which aims to resolve the conflict between two opposing theories rather than to disprove either of them. 3 the art of reasoning and arguing logically. ● dialectical adj. ⓒ 17c: from Greek dialektike (techne) (the art) of debating.

dialectology /daɪəlɛkˈtɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the study of dialect. ● dialectologist noun. ⓒ 19c.

dialling code ▷ noun the part of a telephone number that represents a town or area.

dialling tone and (N Amer) dial tone ▷ noun the continuous sound heard on picking up a telephone receiver which indicates that the equipment is functioning and ready to accept an input telephone number.

dialogue or sometimes (US) dialog /ˈdaɪəlɒg/ noun 1 a conversation, especially a formal one. 2 the words spoken by the characters in a play, book, etc. 3 a discussion or exchange of ideas and opinions, especially between two groups, with a view to resolving conflict or achieving agreement. ⓒ 13c as dialoge: French, originally from Greek dialogos conversation.

dialogue box ▷ noun, computing a small on-screen box that prompts the user to make queries, give information or enter an option.

dialyse or (chiefly N Amer) dialyze /ˈdaɪəlaɪz/ verb (dialysed, dialysing) 1 to separate something by dialysis. 2 intr to use a kidney machine. ● dialysable adj. ● dialyser noun.

dialysis /daɪˈalɪsɪs/ ▷ noun (dialyses /-siːz/) 1 chem the separation of particles of different sizes in a solution, based on the different rates at which the various substances diffuse through a semi-permeable membrane, mainly used to separate large particles such as proteins from soluble substances such as salts. 2 medicine the removal of toxic substances from the blood by diffusion through a semi-permeable membrane in an artificial kidney machine, used in cases of kidney failure when a transplant is not available. Also called haemodialysis. ⓒ 16c: Greek, meaning 'separation'.

diam. ▷ abbreviation diameter.

diamagnetic /daɪəmagˈnɛtɪk/ ▷ adj applied to any substance a rod of which, when suspended between the poles of a magnet, arranges itself across the lines of force. ● diamagnet noun. ● diamagnetism noun. ⓒ 19c.

diamanté /dɪəˈmɒnteɪ, -ˈmantɪ/ ▷ adj said of a fabric: decorated with small sparkling ornaments. ▷ noun (diamantés) a diamanté fabric. ⓒ Early 20c: French, meaning 'decorated with diamonds'.

diameter /daɪˈamɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 geom the length of a straight line drawn from one side of a circle to the other, and passing through its centre, equal to twice the radius of the circle. 2 the length of this line. ⓒ 14c: from Greek dia across + metron measure.

diametric /daɪəˈmɛtrɪk/ and diametrical ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to a diameter. 2 along a diameter. 3 said of opinions, etc: directly opposed; very far apart. ● diametrically adverb said in relation to opposition: completely, utterly □ diametrically opposite opinions.

diamond /ˈdaɪəmənd/ ▷ noun 1 a crystalline ALLOTROPE of carbon, colourless when pure and the hardest known mineral, highly prized as a gemstone. 2 a piece of this substance or a synthetic form of it, used in cutting tools, etc. 3 a RHOMBUS. 4 cards a (diamonds) one of the four suits of playing-cards, with red rhombus-shaped symbols ♦; b one of the playing-cards of this suit. 5 a baseball pitch, or the part of it between the bases. ▷ adj 1 resembling, made of or marked with diamonds. 2 rhombus-shaped. ⓒ 14c as diamaunde: from French diamant, from Latin and Greek adamas steel or diamond.

diamond anniversary ▷ noun a sixtieth, or occasionally a seventy-fifth, anniversary.

diamond-back ▷ noun 1 (also diamondback terrapin or diamondback turtle) any N American terrapin with diamond-shaped markings on its shell. 2 a N American rattlesnake with diamond-shaped markings.

diamond bird ▷ noun any of several small insectivorous Australian songbirds.

diamond dove ▷ noun a small Australian dove with white markings on the wings, often kept in a cage or aviary.

diamonded ▷ adj covered with, decorated with or wearing diamonds.

diamond jubilee ▷ noun a sixtieth anniversary, eg of accession, foundation, etc.

diamond snake ▷ noun a python with diamond-shaped markings.

diamond wedding ▷ noun the DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY of a marriage.

diamorphine /daɪəˈmɔːfiːn/ ▷ noun, technical HEROIN. ⓒ Early 20c: abbreviation of technical name diacetylmorphine.

dianthus /daɪˈanθəs/ ▷ noun (dianthuses) any plant of the herbaceous family of flowers to which carnations and pinks belong. ⓒ 18c: Latin, probably from Greek Dios anthos Zeus's flower.

diapason /daɪəˈpeɪzən, -sən/ ▷ noun, music 1 the whole range or compass of tones. 2 a standard of pitch. 3 a full volume of various sounds in concord. 4 a foundation-stop of an organ extending through its whole compass. ⓒ 16c: Latin, from Greek dia pason chordon symphonia concord through all the notes.

diapause /ˈdaɪəpɔːz/ ▷ noun, zool in the life cycle of an insect: a period during which growth and development are arrested, often until environmental conditions become more favourable. ⓒ 19c: from Greek diapausis pause.

diaper /ˈdaɪəpə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a type of linen or cotton cloth with a pattern of small diamond or square shapes. 2 N Amer a baby's nappy. ⓒ 15c: from French diaspre, from Latin dia through + aspros white.

diaphanous /daɪˈafənəs/ ▷ adj said of cloth: light and fine, and almost transparent. ● diaphanously adverb. ● diaphanousness noun. ⓒ 17c: from Greek dia through + phainein to show.

diaphoresis /daɪəfəˈriːsɪs/ medicine ▷ noun perspiration. ⓒ 17c: Greek.

diaphoretic /daɪəfəˈrɛtɪk/ ▷ adj promoting sweating. ▷ noun a diaphoretic substance.

diaphragm /ˈdaɪəfram/ ▷ noun 1 anatomy in mammals: the sheet of muscle that separates the THORAX from the ABDOMEN. 2 optics an opaque disc, with a central aperture of adjustable diameter, that is used to control the amount of light entering an optical instrument such as a camera or microscope. 3 a thin vibrating disc or cone that converts sound waves to electrical signals in a microphone, or electrical signals to sound waves in a loudspeaker. 4 a CAP (noun 10). ● diaphragmatic /-fragˈmatɪk/ adj. ⓒ 14c as diafragma: from Greek diaphragma partition.

diapositive /daɪəˈpɒzɪtɪv/ ▷ noun a transparent photographic positive; a slide. ⓒ 19c.

diarchy ⊳ noun (diarchies) 1 a form of government in which two people, states or bodies are jointly vested with supreme power. 2 a government of this type. ⓘ 19c: from DI-, modelled on monarchy.

diarist /ˈdaɪərɪst/ ⊳ noun a person who writes a diary, especially one which is published.

diarrhoea or (N Amer) diarrhea /daɪəˈrɪə/ noun 1 medicine a condition in which the bowels are emptied more frequently and urgently than usual and the faeces are very soft or liquid. 2 an excessive flow of anything ▫ verbal diarrhoea. • diarrhoeal adj. • diarrhoeic adj. ⓘ 16c: from Greek dia through + rhoia flow.

diary /ˈdaɪərɪ/ ⊳ noun (diaries) 1 a a written record of daily events in a person's life; b a book containing this. 2 Brit a book with separate spaces or pages for each day of the year in which appointments, daily notes and reminders may be written. ⓘ 16c: from Latin diarium, from dies day.

the Diaspora /daɪˈaspərə/ ⊳ noun 1 the scattering of the Jewish people to various countries following their exile in Babylon in the 6c BC. 2 the new communities of Jews which arose in various countries as a result. 3 the Jews who do not live in the modern state of Israel. 4 (also diaspora) a dispersion or spreading of people originally belonging to the same nation or having the same culture. ⓘ 19c: from Greek dia through + speirein to scatter.

diastase /ˈdaɪəsteɪz/ ⊳ noun the component of malt containing ß-amylase, an enzyme that converts starch into sugar, produced in germinating seeds and in pancreatic juice and used in the brewing industry. • diastasic /-ˈsteɪzɪk/ or diastatic /-ˈstatɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek diastasis division.

diastole /daɪˈastəlɪ/ medicine ⊳ noun the rhythmic expansion of the chambers of the heart during which they fill with blood. See also SYSTOLE. • diastolic /daɪəˈstɒlɪk/ adj. ⓘ 16c: from Greek dia apart + stellein to place.

diathermy /ˈdaɪəθɜːmɪ/ ⊳ noun, medicine the treating of internal organs with heat by passing electric currents through them. ⓘ Early 20c: from DIA- + Greek therme heat.

diathesis /daɪˈaθɪsɪs/ medicine ⊳ noun a particular condition or habit of body, especially one predisposing someone to certain diseases. • diathetic /daɪəˈθetɪk/ adj. ⓘ 17c: Greek, meaning 'disposition'.

diatom /ˈdaɪətɒm/ ⊳ noun the common name for a member of a group of microscopic one-celled algae with the cell wall composed of two overlapping valves, containing silica, that fit together like the two halves of a box. • diatomaceous /daɪətəˈmeɪʃəs/ adj 1 belonging to or relating to diatoms. 2 containing or consisting of diatoms or their remains. ⓘ 19c: from Greek diatomos cut through.

diatomic /daɪəˈtɒmɪk/ ⊳ adj, chem denoting a molecule that consists of two identical atoms, eg O_2, H_2. ⓘ 19c.

diatomite /daɪˈatəmaɪt, ˈdaɪə-/ geol KIESELGUHR.

diatonic /daɪəˈtɒnɪk/ music ⊳ adj relating to, or using notes from, the DIATONIC SCALE. See also CHROMATIC. • diatonically adverb. • diatonicism noun. ⓘ 17c: from DIA- + Greek tonos tone.

diatonic scale ⊳ noun, music a scale which consists of or involves only the basic notes proper to a particular major or minor key, with no additional sharps, flats or naturals.

diatribe /ˈdaɪətraɪb/ ⊳ noun a bitter or abusive critical attack in speech or writing. ⓘ 19c in this sense; 16c, meaning 'a discourse': Greek, meaning 'a discourse'.

diazepam /daɪˈazəpam, daɪˈeɪ-/ ⊳ noun, medicine a tranquillizing drug which relieves anxiety and acts as a muscle relaxant, but whose long-term use causes addiction. ⓘ 1960s: from benzo*diazepine*.

diazo compound /daɪˈazoʊ —, daɪˈeɪzoʊ —/ ⊳ noun, chem any of various organic compounds containing two adjacent nitrogen atoms, only one of which is attached to a carbon atom, these being used in the manufacture of many dyes and drugs. ⓘ 20c: DI- + AZO-.

dibasic /daɪˈbeɪsɪk/ ⊳ adj, chem denoting an acid that contains two replaceable hydrogen atoms, eg sulphuric acid (H_2SO_4), allowing formation of two series of salts, the normal and acid salt. ⓘ 19c.

dibble /ˈdɪbəl/ ⊳ noun a short pointed hand-tool used for making holes in the ground, etc for seeds, young plants, etc. Also called dibber /ˈdɪbə(r)/. ⊳ verb (dibbled, dibbling) 1 to plant (seeds, etc) with a dibble. 2 to make holes in (the ground, etc) with a dibble.

dibs /dɪbz/ ⊳ plural noun 1 JACKS. 2 slang money. ⓘ 18c in sense 1, from 17c dibstones.

dice /daɪs/ ⊳ noun (plural dice) 1 a small cube with a different number of spots, from 1 to 6, on each of its sides or faces, used in certain games of chance. 2 a game of chance played with one or more dice. See also DIE². ⊳ verb (diced, dicing) 1 to cut (vegetables, etc) into small cubes. 2 intr to play or gamble with dice. • dice with death to take a great risk. • no dice colloq used to indicate a negative answer or unsuccessful outcome. ⓘ 14c: originally the plural of DIE².

dicey /ˈdaɪsɪ/ ⊳ adj (dicier, diciest) colloq risky.

dichlorodiphenyltrichloroethane see DDT dichotomy /daɪˈkɒtəmɪ, dɪ-/ ⊳ noun (dichotomies) a division or separation into two groups or parts, especially when these are sharply opposed or contrasted. • dichotomous adj. • dichotomously adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Greek dicha in two + tome cut.

dichroism /ˈdaɪkroʊɪzəm/ physics ⊳ noun a property of some crystals, that reflect certain colours when viewed from one angle, and different colours when viewed from another angle. • dichroic /-ˈkroʊɪk/ or dichroitic /-ˈɪtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek dichroos two-coloured.

dichromatic /daɪkroʊˈmatɪk/ ⊳ adj 1 said of eg animals: having two colours or colourings. 2 able to see only two colours and combinations of these, as in red-green colour blindness when the person sees only blue and yellow. • dichromatism /-ˈkroʊmətɪzəm/ noun. ⓘ 19c.

dicier and diciest see under DICEY.

dick ⊳ noun 1 coarse slang the penis. 2 slang a detective. ⓘ 18c in sense 1 from the name Dick.

dickens /ˈdɪkɪnz/ ⊳ noun, colloq (usually the dickens) the devil, used especially for emphasis ▫ What the dickens are you doing? ⓘ 16c: from the name Dickon or Dicken, from Richard.

Dickensian /dɪˈkenzɪən/ ⊳ adj 1 resembling the 19c English social life depicted in the novels of Charles Dickens (1812–70), especially the poor living and working conditions or the odd and often grotesque characters described. 2 characteristic of or relating to the novelist Charles Dickens or to his writings.

dicker /ˈdɪkə(r)/ ⊳ verb (dickered, dickering) intr to argue about the price or cost of something. ⊳ noun 1 haggling or bargaining; barter. 2 a bargain; a deal. ⓘ 19c: originally US.

dickhead /ˈdɪkhed, dɪked/ ⊳ noun, coarse slang a stupid person; an idiot.

dicky¹ or dickey or dickie /ˈdɪkɪ/ ⊳ noun (dickies or dickeys) 1 a false shirt front, especially when worn with evening dress. 2 a bow tie. Also called dicky bow. 3 a RUMBLE.

dicky² /ˈdɪkɪ/ ⊳ adj (dickier, dickiest) colloq 1 shaky; unsteady. 2 not in good condition. ⓘ 19c: possibly from Tom and Dick, Cockney rhyming slang for sick.

dicky-bird ▷ noun a child's word for a small bird. ● not a dicky bird rhyming slang not a word. ◎ 18c: from the name Dicky, for Richard.

dicotyledon /daɪkɒtɪ'liːdən/ ▷ noun, bot a flowering plant with an embryo that has two COTYLEDONS, and flower parts arranged in multiples of two or five, eg potato, rose, and the hardwood trees oak and beech. Compare MONOCOTYLEDON. ◎ 18c.

dict. ▷ abbreviation 1 dictation. 2 dictator. 3 dictionary.

dicta see DICTUM.

Dictaphone /'dɪktəfoʊn/ ▷ noun, trademark a small tape-recorder for use especially when dictating letters.

dictate ▷ verb /dɪk'teɪt/ (dictated, dictating) 1 to say or read out something for someone else to write down. 2 to state or lay down (rules, terms, etc) forcefully or with authority. 3 tr & intr, derog to give orders to or try to impose one's wishes on someone. ▷ noun /'dɪkteɪt/ (usually dictates) 1 an order or instruction. 2 a guiding principle. ● dictatory /'dɪktətərɪ/ adj. ◎ 16c: from Latin dictare.

dictation ▷ noun 1 something read or spoken for another person to write down. 2 the act of dictating. 3 the words dictated.

dictator ▷ noun 1 a ruler with complete and unrestricted power. 2 someone who behaves in a dictatorial manner. 3 in ancient Rome: a person given complete authority in the state for a period of six months at a time of crisis. ● dictatorial /dɪktə'tɔːrɪəl/ adj characteristic of, like or suggesting a dictator; fond of using one's power and authority and imposing one's wishes on or giving orders to other people. ● dictatorially adverb. ● dictatorship noun 1 the position of dictator. 2 a state ruled by a dictator.

diction /'dɪkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the way in which one speaks. 2 one's choice or use of words to express meaning. ◎ 17c in this sense; 16c, meaning 'a word': from Latin dicere to say.

dictionary ▷ noun (dictionaries) 1 a book containing the words of a language arranged alphabetically with their meanings, and sometimes also their pronunciation, grammatical labels, inflections, etymologies, etc. 2 such a book giving the meanings of the words in one or more different languages. 3 computing a program available in some word-processing packages which will check text for spelling errors against a dictionary held on disk. 4 an alphabetically arranged book of information. ◎ 16c: from Latin dictionarium.

dictum /'dɪktəm/ ▷ noun (dictums or dicta /-tə/) 1 a formal or authoritative statement of opinion. 2 a popular saying or maxim. ◎ 16c: Latin.

did past tense of DO[1] didactic /daɪ'daktɪk, dɪ-/ ▷ adj 1 intended to teach or instruct. 2 derog too eager or too obviously intended to instruct, in a way resented by the reader, listener, etc. ● didactically adverb. ● didacticism /daɪ'daktɪsɪzəm, dɪ-/ noun. ● didactics singular noun the art or science of teaching. ◎ 17c: from Greek didaskein to teach.

diddle /'dɪdəl/ ▷ verb (diddled, diddling) colloq 1 to cheat or swindle. 2 (usually diddle about or around) to waste time. ● diddler noun, colloq a cheat or swindler. ◎ 19c: probably from Jeremy Diddler, a character in a 19c play.

diddy /'dɪdɪ/ ▷ adj, colloq (diddier, diddiest) small; tiny.

didgeridoo /dɪdʒərɪ'duː/ ▷ noun (didgeridoos) music a native Australian wind instrument, consisting of a long wooden or bamboo tube which, when blown into, produces a low droning sound. ◎ Early 20c: from an Australian Aboriginal language, the name imitating the sound made.

didicoy or diddicoy or didicoi /'dɪdɪkɔɪ/ ▷ noun (didicoys, diddicoys or didicois) an itinerant tinker or scrap dealer, not a true gypsy. ◎ 19c: Romany.

didn't /'dɪdənt/ ▷ contraction of did not.

dido /'daɪdoʊ/ ▷ noun (didoes or didos) colloq, especially US an antic or caper; an act of mischief. ◎ 19c.

didst /dɪdst/ archaic 2nd person singular past tense of DO[1] didymous /'dɪdɪməs/ ▷ adj, biol 1 twin; twinned; growing in pairs. 2 composed of two parts slightly connected. ◎ 18c: from Greek didymos twin.

die[1] /daɪ/ ▷ verb (dies, died, dying) intr 1 to stop living; to cease to be alive. 2 to cease to exist; to come to an end or fade away. 3 said of an engine, etc: to stop working suddenly and unexpectedly. 4 (usually die of something) to suffer or be overcome by the effects of it □ die of laughter. ● be dying for something or to do something colloq to have a strong desire or need for it or to do it. ● to die for colloq highly desirable to the speaker's social group but perceived as being almost unobtainable □ That new shop sells fashion accessories to die for □ He has a body to die for. ● die game to keep up one's spirit to the last. ● die hard to be difficult to change or remove. See also DIEHARD. ● die in harness to die while still working. ● die the death theat slang to fail to get a response from an audience. ● never say die never give up or give in. ◎ 14c as dien: from Norse deyja.

■ die away 1 to fade away from sight or hearing until gone. 2 to become steadily weaker and finally stop. See also DIE-AWAY.

■ die back bot said of a plant's soft shoots: to die or wither from the tip back to the hard wood. See also DIEBACK.

■ die down 1 to lose strength or force. 2 said of a plant or its soft shoots: to wither back to the root without completely dying.

■ die off to die one after another; to die in large numbers.

■ die out to cease to exist anywhere; to become extinct.

die[2] /daɪ/ ▷ noun 1 (plural dies) a a metal tool or stamp for cutting or shaping metal or making designs on coins, etc. b a metal device for shaping or moulding a semisoft solid material. 2 (plural dice) a DICE. ● straight as a die 1 completely straight. 2 completely honest. ● the die is cast a decision has been made or an action taken which cannot be changed or gone back on. ◎ 14c as dee: from French de, from Latin datum something given.

die-away ▷ adj languishing. See also DIE AWAY at DIE[1].

dieback ▷ noun, bot the death of young shoots of trees and shrubs, often followed by the death of larger branches and stems, due to damage, disease, or lack of water, minerals, light, etc. See also DIE BACK at DIE[1].

die casting ▷ noun 1 engineering a form of casting in which molten metal or plastic is forced under pressure into cooled dies (see DIE[2] noun 1) usually in order to produce large numbers of small items of a particular shape. 2 an object made in this way.

died past tense, past participle of DIE[1] diehard ▷ noun a person who stubbornly refuses to accept new ideas or changes. Also as adj.

dieldrin /'diːldrɪn/ ▷ noun a crystalline compound, a chlorinated derivative of NAPHTHALENE, used as a contact insecticide. ◎ 1949: from the name of the German chemist O Diels (1876–1954) + ALDRIN.

dielectric /daɪɪ'lɛktrɪk/ physics ▷ noun a non-conducting material whose molecules align or polarize under the influence of applied electric fields, used as an essential component of capacitors. ▷ adj denoting such a material. ◎ 19c.

diene /'daɪiːn/ ▷ noun, chem an ALKENE containing two double bonds between carbon atoms. ◎ 1917.

dieresis an alternative N Amer, especially US spelling of DIAERESIS.

diesel /ˈdiːzəl/ ▷ noun 1 DIESEL FUEL. 2 a DIESEL ENGINE. 3 a train, etc driven by a diesel engine. ◷ 19c: named after the German engineer Rudolf Diesel (1858–1913).

diesel engine ▷ noun a type of internal-combustion engine in which air in the cylinder is compressed until it reaches a sufficiently high temperature to ignite the fuel.

diesel fuel and diesel oil ▷ noun, engineering a type of liquid fuel, composed mainly of hydrocarbons derived from petroleum, that is designed for use in a diesel engine.

die-sinking ▷ noun the engraving of dies (see DIE[2] noun 1) for embossing, etc.

diesis /ˈdaɪəsɪs/ ▷ noun (dieses /-siːz/) 1 printing DOUBLE DAGGER. 2 music the difference between a major and a minor semitone. ◷ 16c in sense 2: Greek, meaning 'a quarter tone'.

diet[1] /daɪət/ ▷ noun 1 the food and drink habitually consumed by a person or animal. 2 a planned or prescribed selection of food and drink, especially one designed for weight loss, maintenance of good health or the control of a medical disorder. 3 as adj denoting a food or drink, often with a brand name, that contains less sugar than the standard version ▫ diet lemonade. Compare LOW-CAL. ▷ verb (dieted, dieting) intr to restrict the quantity or type of food that one eats, especially in order to lose weight. ● dieter noun. ◷ 13c: from French diete, from Greek diaita way of life.

diet[2] /daɪət/ ▷ noun 1 the legislative assembly of certain countries, eg Japan. 2 historical a conference held to discuss political or church affairs. ◷ 14c, originally meaning 'a day's journey': from Latin dieta public assembly, from Greek diaita way of life.

dietary /ˈdaɪətərɪ/ ▷ adj belonging to or concerning a DIET[1]. ◷ 17c.

dietary fibre ▷ noun indigestible plant material, found in unrefined carbohydrate foods such as wholemeal bread and cereals, and in fruit and vegetables. Also called roughage.

dietetic /daɪəˈtɛtɪk/ ▷ adj 1 concerning or belonging to DIET[1]. 2 for use in a special medical diet. ● dietetically adverb. ◷ 16c.

dietetics /daɪəˈtɛtɪks/ ▷ singular noun the scientific study of DIET[1] and its relation to health.

diethyl /daɪˈɛθɪl/ ▷ adj, chem having two ethyl groups. ◷ 19c.

diethyl ether see ETHER 2

dietician or dietitian /daɪəˈtɪʃən/ ▷ noun someone who is trained in dietetics.

diet sheet ▷ noun a list of permitted foods, recommended amounts, etc, for a person on a diet.

diff. ▷ abbreviation 1 difference. 2 different.

differ /ˈdɪfə(r)/ ▷ verb (differed, differing) intr 1 said of two or more people or things: to be different or unlike each other in some way. 2 (often differ with someone) to disagree. ● agree to differ see under AGREE. ◷ 14c: from French differer.

■ differ from something to be different from it or unlike it.

difference /ˈdɪfərəns/ ▷ noun 1 something that makes one thing or person unlike another. 2 the state of being unlike. 3 a change from an earlier state, etc. 4 the amount by which one quantity or number is greater or less than another. 5 a quarrel or disagreement. ● make a or no, etc difference to have some or no, etc effect on a situation. ● with a difference with something special; in a special way. ◷ 14c: from Latin differentia.

difference of opinion ▷ noun a disagreement.

different /ˈdɪfərənt/ ▷ adj 1 (usually different from or to something or someone) not the same; unlike. 2 separate; distinct; various. 3 colloq unusual. ● differently adverb. ◷ 15c.

> different from, to, or than
>
> ● In current British English, different is followed more or less equally by 'from' or 'to' ▫ He was, in fact, totally different from Keith ▫ James looked very different from the last time she had seen him ▫ This is very different to the ideal situation ▫ The next day was Christmas Eve, but it was no different to any other day except that the shop was very, very busy.
>
> ● Note that the verb differ is never followed by 'to'.
>
> ● In American English, but much less in British English, different is commonly followed by 'than', especially when a clause follows ▫ AmE It was all very different than they had imagined ▫ BrE It was all very different from / to what they had imagined.
> ☆ RECOMMENDATION: use different from or different to; avoid different than, which is common in American English.

differentia /dɪfəˈrɛnʃɪə/ ▷ noun (differentiae /-ʃɪiː/) logic 1 that property which distinguishes one SPECIES from others. 2 a distinguishing feature. ◷ 19c.

differential /dɪfəˈrɛnʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 constituting, showing, relating to or based on a difference. 2 math an infinitesimal change in the value of one or more variables as a result of a similarly small change in another variable or variables. ▷ noun 1 a difference in the rate of pay between one category of worker and another in the same industry or company. Also called wage differential. 2 a DIFFERENTIAL GEAR. ● differentially adverb. ◷ 17c: from Latin differentialis.

differential calculus ▷ noun, math a procedure for calculating the rate of change of one variable quantity produced by changes in another variable, employing DIFFERENTIATION to determine rates of change, gradients of curves, maximum and minimum values, etc.

differential coefficient ▷ noun, math the ratio of the rate of change of a function to that of its independent variable.

differential equation ▷ noun, math an equation involving total or partial differential coefficients.

differential gear ▷ noun an arrangement of gears that allows the wheels on either side of a vehicle to rotate at different speeds, eg the outer wheels rotating more rapidly when the vehicle is being driven round a corner.

differential motion ▷ noun a mechanical movement in which the velocity of a driven part is equal to the difference of the velocities of two parts connected to it.

differentiate /dɪfəˈrɛnʃɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (differentiated, differentiating) 1 tr & intr (usually differentiate between things, or one thing from another) to establish a difference between them; to be able to distinguish one from another. 2 to constitute a difference between things, or a difference in (one thing as against another) ▫ The shape of its mouth differentiates a crocodile from an alligator. 3 to become different. 4 math to use the process of differentiation to calculate the changes in one variable quantity produced by changes in a related variable, ie to find the DERIVATIVE of a FUNCTION (noun 4). 5 biol said of an unspecialized cell or tissue: to become increasingly specialized in structure and function, eg during the development of a muscle fibre or a red blood cell. ◷ 19c: from Latin differentiare.

■ differentiate between people to treat one person, etc differently from another.

differentiation ▷ noun 1 the process of differentiating. 2 math a method used in CALCULUS to calculate the rate of change of one variable quantity produced by changes in a related variable, by finding the DERIVATIVE of a FUNCTION (noun 4). Compare INTEGRATION. 3 biol the process whereby unspecialized precursor cells or tissues develop into cells or tissues that have a highly specialized structure and function, eg the development of embryonic tissue into muscle cells, neurones, etc. 4 a change by which what is generalized or homogeneous becomes specialized or heterogeneous.

differentiator ▷ noun a person or thing that differentiates.

differently abled ▷ adj, euphemistic disabled; handicapped.

difficult /ˈdɪfɪkəlt/ ▷ adj 1 requiring great skill, intelligence or effort. 2 said of a person: not easy to please; awkward; unco-operative. 3 said of a problem, situation, etc: potentially embarrassing; hard to resolve or get out of. ⓘ 14c: from Latin difficultas difficulty.

difficulty /ˈdɪfɪkəltɪ/ ▷ noun (difficulties) 1 the state or quality of being difficult. 2 a difficult thing to do or understand. 3 a problem, obstacle or objection. 4 (usually difficulties) trouble or embarrassment, especially financial trouble.

diffident /ˈdɪfɪdənt/ ▷ adj lacking in confidence; too modest or shy. • diffidence noun. • diffidently adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin diffidere to distrust.

diffract /dɪˈfrakt/ ▷ verb (diffracted, diffracting) physics to cause DIFFRACTION in (light, etc). ⓘ 19c: from Latin diffringere, diffractum to shatter.

diffraction /dɪˈfrakʃən/ ▷ noun, physics the spreading out of waves (eg light or sound waves) as they emerge from a small opening or slit. ⓘ 19c.

diffraction grating ▷ noun, physics a device that contains many hundreds of slits per centimetre, used to divide a light beam into its component colours, the pattern produced being known as a SPECTRUM.

diffractive /dɪˈfraktɪv/ ▷ adj causing diffraction.

diffuse ▷ verb /dɪˈfjuːz/ (diffused, diffusing) tr & intr to spread or send out in all directions. ▷ adj /dɪˈfjuːs/ 1 widely spread; not concentrated. 2 said of a style of writing or speaking: using too many words; not concise. • diffused adj widely spread; dispersed. • diffusely adverb. • diffuseness noun. • diffusibility noun. • diffusible adj. • diffusive adj characterized by diffusion. • diffusively adverb. • diffusiveness or diffusivity noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin diffundere, diffusum to pour in various directions.

diffused lighting ▷ noun lighting that is evenly distributed and so produces no glare.

diffuser /dɪˈfjuːzə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that diffuses. 2 an attachment for a light fitting that prevents glare. 3 a duct that as it widens out reduces the speed of an airflow or fluid. 4 an attachment for a hairdrier, which spreads the heat more evenly over the hair, giving it extra body.

diffusion /dɪˈfjuːʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of diffusing or state of being diffused. 2 physics the process whereby a fluid, either a liquid or gas, gradually and spontaneously disperses from a region of high concentration to one of low concentration, as a result of the random movements of its constituent atoms, molecules or ions. 3 anthropol the spread of cultural elements from one community, region, etc, to another.

dig ▷ verb (dug, digging) 1 tr & intr to turn up or move (earth, etc) especially with a spade. 2 to make (a hole, etc) by digging. 3 tr & intr to poke. 4 old slang to appreciate. 5 tr & intr, old slang to understand. ▷ noun 1 a remark intended to irritate, criticize or make fun of someone. 2 a place where archaeologists are digging, eg to uncover ancient ruins. 3 a poke. 4 an act of digging. • dig a pit for someone to lay a trap for them. • dig in one's heels or dig one's heels in to refuse to change one's mind. • dig one's own grave to be the cause of one's own failure or downfall. ⓘ 13c.

■ dig in 1 colloq to start to eat. 2 to work hard.

■ dig oneself in to make a protected place for oneself; to establish oneself.

■ dig something in to mix it into the soil, etc by digging.

■ dig into something 1 colloq to start eating (a meal, etc). 2 to examine or search through it for information.

■ dig something or someone out 1 to get them out by digging. 2 colloq to find them by extensive searching.

■ dig something up 1 to remove it from the ground by digging. 2 to find or reveal something buried or hidden by digging. 3 colloq to search for and find (information, etc).

digest[1] /dɪˈdʒest, daɪ-/ ▷ verb (digested, digesting) 1 to break down (food) in the stomach, intestine, etc into a form which the body can use. 2 said of food: to be broken down in this way. Compare INGEST. 3 to hear and consider the meaning and implications of (information). 4 tr & intr, chem to soften or disintegrate in heat and moisture. ⓘ 14c: from Latin digerere, digestum to dissolve.

digest[2] /ˈdaɪdʒest/ ▷ noun 1 a collection of summaries or shortened versions of news stories or current literature, etc, usually regularly published. 2 a summary or shortened version. 3 a systematically arranged collection of laws. ⓘ 14c: name given to a collection of Roman Laws: from Latin digerere, digestum to arrange.

digester /dɪˈdʒestə(r), daɪ-/ ▷ noun a closed vessel in which strong extracts are produced from animal and vegetable substances by means of heat and pressure. ⓘ 15c.

digestible /dɪˈdʒestɪbəl, daɪ-/ ▷ adj able to be digested. • digestibility noun.

digestion /dɪˈdʒestʃən, daɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 the process whereby complex substances in food are broken down into simpler soluble compounds by enzymes, usually in the ALIMENTARY CANAL. 2 the process of absorbing information, etc. 3 chem exposing to slow heat, etc. ⓘ 14c.

digestive /dɪˈdʒestɪv, daɪ-/ ▷ adj concerned with or for digestion. ▷ noun a type of plain slightly sweetened biscuit made from wholemeal flour. Also (Brit) called digestive biscuit.

digestive tract ▷ noun the ALIMENTARY CANAL.

diggable /ˈdɪgəbəl/ ▷ adj able to be dug.

digger /ˈdɪgə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a machine used for digging and excavating. 2 someone who digs, especially a gold-miner. 3 a colloq an Australian or New Zealander, especially a soldier; b Austral & NZ colloq used as a form of address.

digger-wasp ▷ noun a name given to various kinds of burrowing wasp.

digging present participle of DIG diggings /ˈdɪgɪŋz/ ▷ plural noun 1 a place where people dig, especially for gold or precious stones. 2 Brit old colloq lodgings. See also DIGS.

digging stick ▷ noun a primitive tool for digging.

digit /ˈdɪdʒɪt/ ▷ noun 1 any of the ten figures 0 to 9. 2 technical a finger or toe. ⓘ 15c: from Latin digitus finger or toe.

digital /ˈdɪdʒɪtəl/ ▷ adj 1 showing numerical information in the form of a set of DIGITs, rather than by means of a pointer on a dial, eg as on a digital watch. 2 denoting a process or a device that operates by processing information that is supplied and stored in the form of a series of binary digits □ digital recording □ digital computer. 3 electronics denoting an electronic circuit that responds to and produces signals which at any given time are in one of two possible states. 4 belonging to or involving digits in any way. Compare ANALOGUE. ⓘ 15c in sense 4, but rare before 20c.

digital/analog converter ▷ noun, computing a device that converts digital signals into ANALOGUE signals for use by an analogue computer.

digital audio tape ▷ noun, electronics (abbreviation DAT, Dat or dat) 1 a magnetic audio tape on which sound has been recorded after it has been converted into a binary code. 2 this form of recorded sound, affording reproduction that is so like the original that the human ear cannot distinguish the difference.

digital compact cassette ▷ noun (abbreviation DCC) a DIGITAL AUDIO TAPE in standard cassette format, played via a fixed-head tape recorder.

digital compact disc ▷ noun a COMPACT DISC.

digitalin /dɪdʒɪ'teɪlɪn/ ▷ noun a GLUCOSIDE or mixture of glucosides obtained from DIGITALIS leaves, used as a heart stimulant. ⓘ 19c.

digitalis /dɪdʒɪ'teɪlɪs/ ▷ noun 1 bot any plant of the genus that includes the foxglove. 2 medicine a collective term for drugs acting on the heart, originally obtained from the dried leaves of the foxglove, that stimulate the heart muscle by increasing contractions. They are used to treat heart failure and other cardiac disorders. ⓘ 17c: originally as the Latin genus name of the foxglove.

digitate /'dɪdʒɪteɪt/ and digitated /-teɪtɪd/ ▷ adj, bot said of leaves: consisting of several finger-like sections.

digitigrade /'dɪdʒɪtɪgreɪd/ zool ▷ adj walking on the toes. ▷ noun a digitigrade animal, eg a cat, a horse. Compare PLANTIGRADE. ⓘ 19c: from Latin digitus DIGIT + gradus walking.

digitize or digitise /'dɪdʒɪtaɪz/ ▷ verb (digitized, digitizing) to convert (data) into BINARY form. ● digitization noun. ● digitizer noun. ⓘ 1950s in modern sense; originally 18c meaning 'to finger' or 'to do with the fingers'.

digitizing board ▷ noun a device consisting of a flat surface on which diagrams, etc may be drawn with a special stylus, the co-ordinates of the position of the stylus at any given point on the diagram being digitized for storage, etc.

dignify /'dɪgnɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (dignifies, dignified, dignifying) 1 to make something impressive or dignified. 2 to make something seem more important or impressive than it is. ● dignified adj 1 showing or consistent with dignity. 2 stately; noble; serious. ⓘ 15c: from Latin dignus worthy + facere to make.

dignitary /'dɪgnɪtərɪ/ ▷ noun (dignitaries) someone of high rank or position, especially in public life or the Church. ⓘ 17c.

dignity /'dɪgnɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 stateliness, seriousness and formality of manner and appearance. 2 goodness and nobility of character. 3 calmness and self-control. 4 high rank or position. ● beneath one's dignity 1 not worthy of one's attention or time, etc. 2 degrading. ● stand on one's dignity to demand to be treated with proper respect. ⓘ 13c: from Latin dignitas, from dignus worthy.

digraph /'daɪgrɑːf/ ▷ noun a pair of letters that represent a single sound, eg the ph of digraph. ⓘ 18c: from Greek di- twice + graphe mark or character.

digress /daɪ'gres/ ▷ verb (digressed, digressing) intr to wander from the point, or from the main subject in speaking or writing. ● digression noun. ● digressional or digressive adj. ● digressively adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin digredi, digressus to move away.

digs /dɪgz/ ▷ plural noun, Brit colloq lodgings. See also DIGGINGS.

dihedral /daɪ'hiːdrəl/ geom ▷ adj formed or bounded by two planes. ▷ noun 1 the figure made by two intersecting planes. 2 the angle made by the wing of an aeroplane with the horizontal axis. Also called dihedral angle or dihedron. ⓘ 18c: from Greek di- twice + hedra seat.

dik-dik /'dɪkdɪk/ ▷ noun a name for several very small E African antelopes. ⓘ 19c: apparently the Ethiopian name.

dike see DYKE[1], DYKE[2]

diktat /'dɪktat/ ▷ noun 1 a forceful, sometimes unreasonable, order which must be obeyed. 2 a harsh settlement forced on the defeated or powerless. ⓘ 1930s: German, meaning 'something dictated'.

dilapidated /dɪ'lapɪdeɪtɪd/ ▷ adj said of furniture, buildings, etc: falling to pieces because of neglect or age; in great need of repair. ⓘ 16c: from Latin dilapidare, dilapidatum to demolish.

dilapidation /dɪlapɪ'deɪʃən/ ▷ noun a state or the process of disrepair or ruin.

dilatation /daɪlə'teɪʃən, dɪ-/ or dilation /daɪ'leɪʃən/ ▷ noun dilating; becoming or making larger.

dilatation and curettage ▷ noun (abbreviation D and C) medicine a minor gynaecological operation, usually performed to remove small tumours or to obtain specimens of tissue in order to diagnose various disorders, when the CERVIX (sense 1) is dilated and a CURETTE is passed through the dilated cervix into the uterus, the lining of which is gently scraped.

dilate /daɪ'leɪt, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (dilated, dilating) 1 tr & intr said especially of an opening in the body, the pupil of the eye, etc: to make or become larger, wider or further open. 2 intr (chiefly dilate on something) formal to speak or write at great length about it. ⓘ 14c: from Latin dilatare, dilatatum to spread out.

dilatory /'dɪlətərɪ/ ▷ adj slow in doing things; inclined to or causing delay. ● dilatorily adverb. ● dilatoriness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin dilatorius.

dildo or dildoe /'dɪldoʊ/ ▷ noun (dildos or dildoes) an object shaped like an erect penis, used for sexual pleasure. ⓘ 17c.

dilemma /dɪ'lemə, daɪ-/ ▷ noun (dilemmas) 1 a situation in which one must choose between two or more courses of action, both (or all) equally undesirable. 2 colloq a problem or difficult situation. ⓘ 16c: originally the name given to a particular type of argument: from Greek di- twice + lemma assumption.

dilettante /dɪlə'tantɪ/ ▷ noun (dilettantes or dilettanti /-tiː/) often derog someone who has an interest in a subject, especially art, literature or science, but does not study it very seriously or in depth. ● dilettantish adj. ● dilettantism noun. ⓘ 18c: Italian, from dilettare to delight.

diligence /'dɪlɪdʒəns/ ▷ noun careful and hard-working effort.

diligent /'dɪlɪdʒənt/ ▷ adj 1 hard-working and careful. 2 showing or done with care and serious effort. ● diligently adverb. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin diligens careful.

dill[1] ▷ noun a European herb, the fruit of which is used in flavouring, especially pickles, and to relieve wind. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dile.

dill[2] ▷ noun, Austral & NZ colloq a fool. ⓘ 20c: possibly from DILLY[2].

dilly[1] ▷ noun (dillies) colloq, especially N Amer an excellent or very pleasing person or thing. ⓘ 20c.

dilly[2] ▷ adj foolish; silly. ⓘ 19c: probably from daft + silly.

dilly-dally /dɪlɪ'dalɪ, 'dɪlɪdalɪ/ ▷ verb (dilly-dallies, dilly-dallied, dilly-dallying) intr, colloq 1 to be slow or waste time. 2 to be unable to make up one's mind. ⓘ 18c: from DALLY.

diluent /'dɪljuənt/ ▷ noun, chem any solvent that is used to dilute a solution. ⓘ 18c.

dilute /daɪ'luːt, -'ljuːt, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (diluted, diluting) 1 to decrease the concentration of a SOLUTE in a solution by adding more SOLVENT, especially water. 2 to reduce the strength, influence or effect of something. ▷ adj, chem said of a solution: containing a relatively small amount of dilution ▷ noun the process of making a liquid thinner or weaker.

SOLUTE compared to the amount of SOLVENT present. ● dilutable adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin diluere, dilutum to wash away.

diluvial /daɪ'ljuːvɪəl, -'luːvɪəl, dɪ-/ and diluvian /-vɪən/ ▷ adj 1 concerning or pertaining to a flood, especially the Flood mentioned in the Book of Genesis in the Bible. 2 caused by a flood. ⓘ 17c: from Latin diluvium flood.

dim ▷ adj 1 not bright or distinct. 2 lacking enough light to see clearly. 3 faint; not clearly remembered □ a dim memory. 4 colloq not very intelligent. 5 said of eyes: not able to see well. 6 colloq not good; not hopeful □ dim prospects. ▷ verb (dimmed, dimming) tr & intr to make or become dim. ● dimly adverb. ● take a dim view of something colloq to disapprove of it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dimm.

■ dim something out to reduce the lighting of something gradually.

dime /daɪm/ ▷ noun a coin of the US and Canada worth ten cents or one tenth of a dollar. ⓘ 18c in this sense; 14c in obsolete or historical sense 'a tenth part' or 'tithe': from Latin decima tenth.

dime novel ▷ noun, N Amer a cheap popular novel.

dimension /daɪ'menʃən, dɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 a measurement of length, width or height. 2 any directly measurable physical quantity, eg mass, length, time, charge. 3 geom the number of parameters that are needed to specify the size of a geometrical figure, and the location of particular points on it, eg a triangle has two dimensions, whereas a pyramid has three dimensions. 4 (often dimensions) size or extent. 5 a particular aspect of a problem, situation, etc □ the religious dimension of the problem. ● dimensional adj 1 concerning dimension. 2 in compounds having a certain number of dimensions □ two-dimensional. ⓘ 14c: from Latin dimensio measuring.

dimer /'daɪmə(r)/ ▷ noun, chem a chemical compound composed of two MONOMERS, which may combine during either an ADDITION REACTION or a CONDENSATION REACTION. ● dimeric /daɪ'merɪk/ adj. ⓘ 20c.

dime store ▷ noun, N Amer a shop selling cheap goods, originally for not more than a dime.

dimin. ▷ abbreviation diminutive.

diminish /dɪ'mɪnɪʃ/ ▷ verb (diminishes, diminished, diminishing) 1 tr & intr to become or make something less or smaller. 2 to make someone or something seem less important, valuable or satisfactory. ● diminishable adj. ● diminished adj 1 having become less, smaller, less important, etc. 2 music reduced by a semitone. ⓘ 15c: ultimately from Latin diminuere to make less.

diminished responsibility ▷ noun, law limitation in law of criminal responsibility on the grounds of mental weakness or abnormality, not merely of actual insanity.

diminishing returns and law of diminishing returns ▷ noun, econ a law or prediction that there is a point beyond which any additional input in the form of capital and labour, or additional taxation, results in progressively smaller output per unit of capital or labour, or smaller tax yields.

diminuendo /dɪmɪnju'endoʊ/ music ▷ adj, adverb with gradually lessening sound. ▷ noun (diminuendos) 1 a gradual lessening of sound. 2 a musical passage with gradually lessening sound. ▷ verb (diminuendoed, diminuendoing) intr to lessen gradually in loudness. Compare CRESCENDO. ⓘ 18c: Italian, from Latin diminuere to make less.

diminution /dɪmɪ'njuːʃən/ ▷ noun a lessening or decrease. ⓘ 14c: from Latin diminutio.

diminutive /dɪm'ɪnjʊtɪv/ ▷ adj very small. ▷ noun, grammar 1 an ending added to a word to indicate smallness, eg -let in booklet. Also called diminutive suffix. 2 a word formed in this way. ● diminutively adverb. ● diminutiveness noun. ⓘ 16c as adj, 14c as noun: from Latin deminuere to make less.

dimity /'dɪmɪtɪ/ ▷ noun a stout cotton fabric, woven with raised stripes or other pattern. ⓘ 15c: from Greek dimitos, from di- twice + mitos a thread.

dimmed past tense, past participle of DIM dimmer and dimmer switch ▷ noun a control used to modify the brightness of a light.

dimming present participle of DIM dimmish ▷ adj somewhat dim.

dimness ▷ noun 1 being dim or faint. 2 lack of light or brightness.

dimorphism /daɪ'mɔːfɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 biol the occurrence of two distinct forms within a species of living organism, eg the male and female in many animals. 2 chem the crystallization of a chemical element or compound into two different crystalline forms that have the same chemical composition. ● dimorphic or dimorphous adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek di- twice + morphe form.

dim-out ▷ noun a gradual reduction in the brightness of or use of lights, especially the gradual reduction of light in the auditorium of a theatre, etc.

dimple /'dɪmpəl/ ▷ noun a small hollow, especially in the skin of the cheeks, chin or, especially in babies, at the knees and elbows. ▷ verb (dimpled, dimpling) to show or form into dimples. ● dimpled adj having dimples or slight hollows on the surface. ⓘ 15c.

dim sum /dɪm 'sʌm/ ▷ noun a selection of Chinese foods, usually including steamed dumplings with various fillings, often served as an appetizer. ⓘ 20c: Chinese.

dimwit ▷ noun, colloq a stupid person. ● dim-witted adj stupid. ⓘ 1920s.

DIN /dɪn/ ▷ abbreviation: Deutsche Industrie-Norm (German), German Industry Standard, a set of standards for electrical connections, paper sizes, film speed etc. ⓘ 20c.

din ▷ noun a loud, continuous and unpleasant noise. ▷ verb (dinned, dinning) (usually din something into someone) to repeat something forcefully to someone over and over again so that it will be remembered. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dyne.

dinar /'diːnɑː(r)/ ▷ noun the standard unit of currency in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Macedonia (usually in the form denar), Yugoslavia and several Arab countries. ⓘ 19c; originally 17c, meaning any of various gold coins from the East: Arabic and Persian.

dine /daɪn/ ▷ verb (dined, dining) formal 1 intr to eat dinner. 2 to give dinner to someone □ wining and dining his girlfriend. ⓘ 13c: from French disner, from Latin dis- DIS- + jejunare to fast.

■ dine off, on or upon something to eat it for one's dinner.

■ dine out to have dinner somewhere other than one's own house, eg in a restaurant.

■ dine out on something to repeatedly tell a funny story or relate a humorous incident, in order to be amusing.

diner ▷ noun 1 someone who dines. 2 a restaurant car on a train. 3 N Amer a small cheap restaurant. ⓘ 19c.

diner-out ▷ noun someone who is often invited and accepts invitations to dinner parties.

dinette /daɪ'net/ ▷ noun an alcove or other small area of a room, etc, set apart for meals. ⓘ 1930s.

Ding ▷ abbreviation: Doctor Ingeniariae (Latin), Doctor of Engineering.

ding ▷ noun a ringing sound. ▷ verb (dinged, dinging) to make a ding. ◷ 13c: originally meaning 'to knock or strike': imitating the sound.

dingbat /ˈdɪŋbat/ ▷ noun, N Amer slang except sense 5 1 something whose name one has forgotten or wishes to avoid using; a thingummy. 2 a foolish or eccentric person. 3 a tramp. 4 money. 5 Austral & NZ colloq (the dingbats) DELIRIUM TREMENS. ● dingbats adj, Austral & NZ colloq daft; crazy. ◷ 19c.

ding-dong ▷ noun 1 the sound of bells ringing. 2 colloq a heated argument or fight. ▷ adj, colloq said of a fight, argument, etc: fierce or heated. ◷ 16c.

dinges /ˈdɪŋəs/ ▷ noun, S Afr colloq someone or something whose name one has forgotten or wishes to avoid using; thingummy. ◷ 19c: from Dutch ding thing.

dinghy /ˈdɪŋgɪ, ˈdɪŋɪ/ ▷ noun (dinghies) 1 a small open boat propelled by oars, sails or an outboard motor. 2 a small collapsible rubber boat, especially one kept for use in emergencies. ◷ 19c: from Hindi dingi small boat.

dingle /ˈdɪŋgəl/ ▷ noun a deep wooded hollow; a dell. ◷ 17c in this sense; 13c, meaning 'abyss'.

dingo /ˈdɪŋgoʊ/ ▷ noun (dingoes) 1 a species of wild dog found in Australia. 2 Austral slang a cheat or coward. ◷ 18c: from Dharuk (Australian Aboriginal language) dinggu.

dingy /ˈdɪndʒɪ/ ▷ adj (dingier, dingiest) 1 faded and dirty-looking ▫ dingy clothes. 2 dark and rather dirty ▫ a dingy room. ● dinginess noun. ◷ 18c.

dining present participle of DINE dining-car see RESTAURANT CAR dining-room ▷ noun a room in a house, hotel, etc, used for eating in, especially for formal meals.

dinitrogen oxide /daɪˈnaɪtroʊdʒən —/ ▷ noun, chem NITROUS OXIDE.

dinitrogen tetroxide /daɪˈnaɪtroʊdʒən teˈtrɒksaɪd/ ▷ noun, chem (formula $\mathbf{N_2O_4}$) a colourless or pale-yellow liquid that is used as an oxidant in rocket fuel.

dinkum /ˈdɪŋkəm/ Austral & NZ colloq ▷ adj real; genuine; honest. Also as adverb. ◷ 19c: from English dialect dinkum fair share of work.

Dinky /ˈdɪŋkɪ/ ▷ noun (Dinkies) trademark a proprietary name for a range of small toy model vehicles etc, especially cars. Also as adj ▫ Dinky toys. ◷ 1960.

dinky /ˈdɪŋkɪ/ ▷ adj (dinkier, dinkiest) 1 colloq neat; dainty. 2 N Amer colloq trivial; insignificant. ◷ 18c as dinkie; from Scots dink neat.

dinned past tense, past participle of DIN dinner /ˈdɪnə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the main meal of the day, eaten in the middle of the day or in the evening. 2 a formal meal, especially held in the evening, often arranged to honour a person or in celebration of an event. ◷ 13c: see DINE.

dinner-dance ▷ noun a social occasion consisting of a formal dinner followed by dancing. ◷ Early 20c.

dinner-jacket ▷ noun a jacket, usually black, worn by men at formal social gatherings, especially in the evening. Compare TUXEDO. ◷ Late 19c.

dinner lady ▷ noun a woman who cooks and/or serves meals in a school canteen. ◷ 1960s.

dinner party ▷ noun an evening party at which dinner is served. ◷ 19c.

dinner service and dinner set ▷ noun a complete set of plates and dishes for serving dinner to several people. ◷ 19c.

dinning present participle of DIN dinosaur /ˈdaɪnəsɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any member of a large group of prehistoric reptiles that dominated life on land during the Mesozoic era, becoming extinct at the end of the Cretaceous period. 2 often jocular a chance survivor of a type characteristic of past times. ● dinosaurian or dinosauric adj. ◷ 19c: from Greek deinos terrible + sauros lizard.

dint ▷ noun a hollow made by a blow; a dent. ● by dint of something by means of it. ◷ Anglo-Saxon dynt blow.

diocese /ˈdaɪəsɪs, -siːs/ ▷ noun the district over which a bishop has authority. ● diocesan /daɪˈɒsɪzən, -sən/ adj. ◷ 14c: from Greek dioikesis housekeeping.

diode /ˈdaɪoʊd/ ▷ noun, electronics an electronic device containing two ELECTRODES, an ANODE and a CATHODE, that allows current to flow in one direction only. ◷ 19c: from Greek di- twice + hodos way.

dioecious /daɪˈiːʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 bot said of a plant: having male and female flowers on different plants. 2 biol with the male and female sexual organs in separate individuals or creatures. Compare MONOECIOUS. ◷ 19c: from Greek di- twice + oikos house.

dioptre or (especially N Amer) diopter /daɪˈɒptə(r)/ noun, optics (abbreviation dpt) a unit that is used to express the power of a lens, defined as one divided by the focal length of the lens, when the focal length is measured in metres, having a positive value for a CONVERGING LENS and a negative value for a DIVERGING LENS. ◷ 19c in this sense; 16c as the name of an optical instrument: from Greek dioptron spyglass.

dioptrics /daɪˈɒptrɪks/ ▷ singular noun the branch of OPTICS that deals with refraction. ◷ 20c.

dioxide /daɪˈɒksaɪd/ ▷ noun, chem a compound formed by combining two atoms of oxygen with one atom of another element. ◷ 19c: from Greek di- twice + OXIDE.

dioxin /daɪˈɒksɪn/ ▷ noun an AROMATIC (adj 2), halogenated (see HALOGENATE) hydrocarbon that is highly toxic and produced as a by-product in the manufacture of the herbicide 2,4,5-T, a tox DEFOLIANT (Agent Orange), and which has been associated with allergic skin reactions, cancer, birth defects and miscarriages. ◷ 1919.

dip ▷ verb (dipped, dipping) 1 to put something into a liquid for a short time. 2 intr to go briefly under the surface of a liquid. 3 intr to drop below a surface or level. 4 tr & intr to go, or push something, down briefly and then up again. 5 intr to slope downwards. 6 tr & intr to put (one's hand, etc) into a dish, container, etc and take out some of the contents. 7 to immerse (an animal) in a bath of disinfectant chemical that kills parasitic insects. 8 Brit to lower the beam of (a vehicle's headlights). ▷ noun 1 an act of dipping. 2 a downward slope or hollow (especially in a road). 3 a short swim or bathe. 4 a chemical liquid for dipping animals. 5 a type of thick sauce into which biscuits, raw vegetables, etc are dipped. ◷ Anglo-Saxon dyppan.

■ dip in something to take a share.

■ dip into something 1 to take or use part of it. 2 to look briefly at a book or study a subject in a casual manner.

Dip. ▷ abbreviation Diploma.

Dip Ed ▷ abbreviation Diploma in Education.

dipeptide /daɪˈpeptaɪd/ ▷ noun, chem a peptide formed by the combination of two AMINO ACIDS. ◷ 20c.

diphenyl /daɪˈfiːnɪl/ ▷ noun, chem a hydrocarbon (formula $\mathbf{C_{12}H_{10}}$) consisting of two PHENYL groups, used eg in dye manufacture and as a fungicide. ◷ 19c.

diphtheria /dɪpˈθɪərɪə, dɪf-/ ▷ noun, medicine a highly contagious bacterial infection which affects the throat, causing difficulty in breathing and swallowing, and which can lead to heart failure. ◷ 19c: from French diphthérie, from Greek diphthera leather (from the leathery grey covering formed in the throat).

diphthong /ˈdɪpθɒŋ, ˈdɪf-/ ▷ noun 1 two vowel sounds pronounced as one syllable, such as the sound represented by the ou in sounds. 2 a DIGRAPH. ● diphthongal adj. ● diphthongally adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Greek di- twice + phthongos sound.

diplodocus /dɪˈplɒdəkəs/ ▷ noun (diplodocuses) a gigantic herbivorous dinosaur that had a particularly long neck and tail. ⓘ 19c: from Greek diplo- twice + dokos bar or beam.

diploid /ˈdɪplɔɪd/ ▷ adj, genetics describing an organism, cell or nucleus in which there are two sets of chromosomes, one set being derived from each of the parents. ⓘ 19c: from Greek diploos double + eidos form.

diploma /dɪˈploʊmə/ ▷ noun (diplomas) a document certifying that one has passed a certain examination or completed a course of study. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from Greek, meaning 'letter folded over'.

diplomacy /dɪˈploʊməsɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the art or profession of making agreements, treaties, etc between countries, or of representing and looking after the affairs and interests of one's own country in a foreign country. 2 skill and tact in dealing with people. ⓘ 18c: from French diplomatie.

diplomat /ˈdɪpləmat/ ▷ noun 1 a government official or representative engaged in diplomacy. 2 a very tactful person. ⓘ 19c: from French diplomate, from Latin diploma official document.

diplomate /ˈdɪpləmeɪt/ ▷ noun someone who holds a DIPLOMA.

diplomatic /dɪpləˈmatɪk/ ▷ adj 1 concerning or involved in diplomacy. 2 tactful. ● diplomatically adverb. ⓘ 18c.

diplomatic bag and (US) diplomatic pouch ▷ noun a bag or other container for official letters, packages, etc sent to and from an embassy, not subject to customs inspection. ⓘ 1950s.

diplomatic corps ▷ noun all the diplomats and embassy staff of all the embassies in the capital of a country. ⓘ 19c.

diplomatic immunity ▷ noun the privilege granted to members of the diplomatic corps by which they may not be taxed, arrested, etc by the country in which they are working. ⓘ Early 20c.

diplomatic relations ▷ plural noun formal relations between states marked by the presence of diplomats in each other's country.

diplomatize or diplomatise /dɪˈploʊmətaɪz/ ▷ verb (diplomatized, diplomatizing) intr to practise diplomacy. ● diplomatist noun a DIPLOMAT. ⓘ 19c: from DIPLOMAT.

dipole /ˈdaɪpoʊl/ physics ▷ noun a separation of electric charge, in which two equal and opposite charges are separated from each other by a small distance. ● dipolar adj. ⓘ Early 20c.

dipped past tense, past participle of DIP dipper /ˈdɪpə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 something that dips, especially a type of ladle. 2 a small songbird which can swim under water and feeds on river-beds.

dipping present participle of DIP dippy /ˈdɪpɪ/ ▷ adj (dippier, dippiest) colloq crazy; mad ▫ dippy about dogs. ⓘ 20c.

dipsomania /dɪpsoʊˈmeɪnɪə/ ▷ noun, medicine an extreme form of alcoholism, in which there is an insatiable craving for alcoholic drink. ● dipsomaniac noun. Also called colloq dipso (dipsos). ⓘ 19c: from Greek dipsa thirst + mania madness.

dipstick ▷ noun 1 a stick used to measure the level of a liquid in a container, especially the oil in a car engine. 2 slang a term of abuse for a stupid person.

DipSW ▷ abbreviation Diploma in Social Work.

dipswitch ▷ noun a switch used to dip the headlights of a motor vehicle.

diptera /ˈdɪptərə/ ▷ noun any one of many two-winged insects or flies. ● dipteral or dipterous adj two-winged. ⓘ 18c: from Greek dipteros two-winged.

diptych /ˈdɪptɪk/ ▷ noun a work of art, especially on a church altar, consisting of a pair of pictures painted on hinged wooden panels which can be folded together like a book. See also TRIPTYCH. ⓘ 19c: originally 17c, meaning 'something folded': from Greek diptychos folded together.

dir. ▷ abbreviation Director.

dire ▷ adj 1 dreadful; terrible. 2 extreme; very serious; very difficult. ● direful adj. ● direfully adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin dirus.

direct /dɪˈrɛkt, daɪəˈrɛkt/ ▷ adj 1 straight; following the quickest and shortest path from beginning to end or to a destination. 2 said of a person's manner, etc: open, straightforward and honest; going straight to the point. 3 with no other factors involved ▫ the direct cause of the accident. 4 not working or communicating through other people, organizations, etc ▫ a direct link with the chairman. 5 exact; complete ▫ a direct opposite. 6 forming or being part of an unbroken line of descent from parent to child to grandchild, etc ▫ a direct descendant of Sir Walter Raleigh. ▷ verb (directed, directing) 1 to point, aim or turn something in a particular direction. 2 to show the way to someone. 3 tr & intr (usually direct someone to do something or something to be done or that something be done) to give orders or instructions. 4 to control or manage something; to be in charge of something. 5 tr & intr to plan and supervise the production of (a play or film). 6 formal to put a name and address on (a letter, etc). ▷ adverb directly; by the quickest or shortest path. ⓘ 14c; originally meaning 'to send a letter to someone': from Latin directus, from dirigere to direct or guide.

direct access ▷ noun, computing the ability to access data directly without having to scan any part of the storage file first.

direct action ▷ noun action taken in order to obtain some demand or concession from government, an employer, etc, eg strikes and civil disobedience, and the activities of terrorist organizations and other extremists.

direct current ▷ noun (abbreviation DC) electric current which flows in one direction. Compare ALTERNATING CURRENT.

direct debit ▷ noun, finance an order to one's bank which allows someone else to withdraw sums of money from one's account, especially in payment of bills. Compare STANDING ORDER.

direct drilling ▷ noun, agric the ploughing and sowing of a field in one operation.

directed energy weapon ▷ noun, military a weapon using advanced laser beam, particle beams, plasma beams or microwave beams, all of which travel at the speed of light and are theoretically capable of shooting down missiles in space.

direction /dɪˈrɛkʃən, daɪə-/ ▷ noun 1 the place or point towards which one is moving or facing. 2 the way in which someone or something is developing. 3 (usually directions) information, instructions or advice, eg on how to construct or operate a piece of equipment. 4 (directions) instructions about the way to go to reach a place. 5 management or supervision. 6 the act, style, etc of directing a play or film. ⓘ 16c in current senses; 15c in obsolete sense 'arrangement': from Latin directio.

directional ▷ adj relating to direction in space.

directional aerial ▷ noun an aerial that can receive or transmit radio waves in one direction only.

directional drilling ▷ noun, oil industry a method of drilling where the well is not drilled vertically, used especially in offshore sites where a number of wells may be drilled from a single platform.

direction finder ▷ noun, engineering a radio receiver that is used in navigation to determine the direction from which an incoming radio signal is coming, and thus to establish the location of its source.

directionless ▷ adj 1 not looking, moving, etc in any particular direction. 2 aimless.

directive /dɪ'rɛktɪv, daɪə-/ ▷ noun an official instruction issued by a higher authority, eg by the EC to the governments of member states. ▷ adj having the power or tendency to direct. ⓘ 17c as noun; 16c as adj: from Latin directivus.

directivity ▷ noun the property of being DIRECTIONAL.

direct labour ▷ noun labour employed directly, not through a contractor.

directly ▷ adverb 1 in a direct manner. 2 by a direct path. 3 at once; immediately. 4 very soon. 5 exactly □ directly opposite. ⓘ 16c.

direct marketing and direct selling ▷ noun, commerce selling of products or services directly to the consumer without using a retail outlet.

directness ▷ noun a direct or straightforward manner, especially of speech or thought.

direct object ▷ noun, grammar the noun, phrase or pronoun which is directly affected by the action of a TRANSITIVE verb, as the dog in the boy kicked the dog. Compare INDIRECT OBJECT.

director /dɪ'rɛktə(r), daɪə-/ ▷ noun 1 any of the most senior managers of a business firm. 2 the person in charge of a college, organization, institution or special activity. 3 the person directing a play, film, etc. 4 music, especially N Amer a CONDUCTOR (sense 1). 5 part of a machine or instrument which guides the motion. ● directorial /dɪrɛk'tɔːrɪəl, 'daɪə-/ adj. ● directorship noun.

directorate ▷ noun 1 the directors of a business firm. 2 the position or office of director. ⓘ 19c.

director-general ▷ noun (directors-general or director-generals) the chief administrator of an organization, usually a non-commercial one.

director's chair ▷ noun a light folding chair with armrests, the seat and back made of canvas or similar material.

directory /dɪ'rɛktərɪ, daɪə-/ ▷ noun (directories) 1 a book with a (usually alphabetical) list of names and addresses of people or organizations. 2 computing a named grouping of files on a disk, usually with a common element, allowing a command to be applied to, or bypass, all the files it contains, etc. 3 a collection of rules or directions; a guide. ⓘ 15c: from Latin directorium.

directory enquiries ▷ noun a telephone service which supplies a customer with the relevant telephone number from the directory for any name and address specified to the operator.

directrix /dɪ'rɛktrɪks, daɪə-/ ▷ noun (directrices /-trɪsiːz/) geom a straight line from which the distance to any point on a conic section is in a constant ratio to the distance between that point and a fixed point.

direct selling see DIRECT MARKETING direct speech ▷ noun, grammar speech reported in the actual words of the speaker, eg 'Hello' in the sentence 'Hello', said Henry. Compare INDIRECT SPEECH. ⓘ 18c.

direct tax ▷ noun a tax paid directly to the government by a person or organization, eg INCOME TAX. Compare INDIRECT TAX.

direful and direfully see under DIRE dirge /dɜːdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a funeral song or hymn. 2 sometimes derog a slow sad song or piece of music. ⓘ 16c in sense 1: from an earlier use as the name for the OFFICE of the Dead, from Latin dirige, meaning 'lead', the first word sung in the Office.

dirham /'dɪəram, də'ram/ ▷ noun a unit of currency in various N African and Middle Eastern countries, with varying value, eg the standard unit in Morocco and the United Arab Emirates. ⓘ 18c: Arabic, from Greek drachme.

dirigible /'dɪrɪdʒɪbəl, dɪ'rɪdʒ-/ ▷ noun, technical an airship. ⓘ 19c; 16c as adj meaning 'able to be directed': from Latin dirigere to direct.

dirigisme /dɪrɪ'ʒiːzmə/ ▷ noun control by the State in economic and social spheres. ● dirigiste /dɪrɪ'ʒiːst/ adj. ⓘ 1960s: French.

dirk /dɜːk/ ▷ noun a small knife or dagger. ⓘ 16c: Scots, originally as durk.

dirndl /'dɜːndəl/ ▷ noun 1 a traditional alpine peasant-woman's dress, with a tight-fitting bodice and a very full skirt. 2 a skirt that is tight at the waist and wide at the lower edge. Also called dirndl skirt. ⓘ 20c: German dialect, from dirne girl.

dirt /dɜːt/ noun 1 any unclean substance, eg mud or dust. 2 soil; earth. 3 a mixture of earth and cinders used to make road surfaces. 4 euphemistic excrement □ dog dirt. 5 colloq obscene speech or writing. 6 colloq spiteful gossip; scandal □ journalists desperate to get some dirt on him. ● eat dirt to submit to humiliation. ● throw dirt to harm someone's reputation. ● treat someone like dirt to treat them with no consideration or respect. ⓘ 13c as drit: from Norse drit excrement.

dirt-cheap ▷ adj ▷ adverb, colloq very cheap. ⓘ Early 19c.

dirt farmer ▷ noun, US someone who farms their own land, especially without hired labour. ⓘ 1920s.

dirt road ▷ noun, Austral, NZ & US an unmade road.

dirt track ▷ noun 1 a rough unsurfaced track. 2 a motorcycle racing course made of cinders, etc.

dirty /'dɜːtɪ/ ▷ adj (dirtier, dirtiest) 1 marked with dirt; soiled. 2 making one become soiled with dirt □ a dirty job. 3 unfair; dishonest □ dirty tricks. 4 obscene, lewd or pornographic □ dirty films. 5 said of weather: rainy or stormy. 6 said of a colour: dull. 7 showing dislike or disapproval □ a dirty look. 8 unsportingly rough or violent □ a dirty tackle. ▷ verb (dirties, dirtied, dirtying) to make dirty. ▷ adverb 1 dirtily □ fight dirty. 2 very □ dirty great stain. ● dirtily adverb. ● dirtiness noun. ● do the dirty on someone colloq to cheat or trick them.

dirty bomb ▷ noun a nuclear bomb that produces a large amount of radioactive contamination.

dirty dog ▷ noun, colloq a dishonest or contemptible person.

dirty linen ▷ noun, colloq personal problems or grievances. ● wash one's dirty linen in public to make no secret of one's personal difficulties however embarrassing.

dirty money ▷ noun 1 money earned by immoral, corrupt or illegal means. 2 extra pay for handling dirty materials or working in dirty conditions.

dirty old man ▷ noun, colloq a man whose actions are considered lewd, with the implication that he is old enough to know better.

dirty trick ▷ noun a dishonest or despicable act.

dirty tricks campaign and dirty tricks operation ▷ noun a usually political intrigue intended to discredit someone, especially an opponent.

dirty word ▷ noun 1 an indecent or vulgar word. 2 colloq an unpopular concept or point of view □ Ambition is a dirty word.

dirty work ▷ noun 1 work that makes a person or their clothing dirty. 2 colloq unpleasant or dishonourable duties or practices.

dis- ▷ prefix, forming words denoting 1 the opposite of the base word □ disagree □ dislike. 2 reversal of the action of the base word □ disassemble. 3 removal or undoing □ dismember □ disrobe. 4 intensifying the base word □ disgruntled. ⓘ Latin.

disability ▷ noun (disabilities) 1 the state of being disabled. 2 a condition, such as a physical or mental handicap, that results in partial or complete loss of a person's ability to perform social, occupational or other everyday activities. 3 law lack of legal power; disqualification. ⓘ 16c.

disable ▷ verb 1 to deprive someone of a physical or mental ability. 2 to make (eg a machine) unable to work; to make something useless. ■ disablement noun 1 disabling of a person or machine. 2 the fact or state of being disabled. ⓘ 15c.

disabled ▷ adj 1 said of a person: having a physical or mental handicap. 2 said of a machine, etc: made unable to work. 3 said of a device, facility, etc: designed or intended for people with physical disabilities.

disabuse /dɪsə'bjuːz/ ▷ verb (always disabuse someone of something) to rid them of a mistaken idea or impression. ⓘ 17c.

disaccharide /daɪ'sakəraɪd/ ▷ noun, biochem a carbohydrate that consists of two MONOSACCHARIDEs joined together, with the elimination of a molecule of water, eg SUCROSE, LACTOSE. ⓘ 19c.

disadvantage ▷ noun 1 a difficulty, drawback or weakness. 2 an unfavourable situation. ▷ verb to put someone at a disadvantage. ■ disadvantaged adj in an unfavourable position, especially deprived of normal social or economic benefits. ⓘ 14c as noun, 18c as verb.

disadvantageous ▷ adj having disadvantages or weaknesses. ■ disadvantageously adverb. ■ disadvantageousness noun.

disaffected ▷ adj dissatisfied and no longer loyal or committed. ■ disaffectedly adverb. ■ disaffectedness noun. ⓘ 17c.

disaffection ▷ noun disloyalty; discontent. ⓘ 17c.

disaffiliate ▷ verb, tr & intr (often disaffiliate to or from someone or something) to end an affiliation with them or it. ■ disaffiliation noun. ⓘ 19c.

disafforest /dɪsə'fɒrəst/ and disforest ▷ verb 1 to clear (land) of forest. 2 a to bring (land) out of the operation of forest laws; b law to take away the legal status of forest from (land). ■ disafforestation or disafforestment noun. ⓘ 16c.

disagree ▷ verb, intr 1 said of two or more people: to have conflicting opinions. 2 to conflict with each other □ The two theories disagree. 3 euphemistic to quarrel. ⓘ 15c: from French desagreer.

■ disagree with someone 1 to have a different opinion from them. 2 said of food: to give them digestive problems.

■ disagree with something to be opposed to it.

disagreeable ▷ adj 1 unpleasant. 2 bad-tempered; unfriendly. ■ disagreeability or disagreeableness noun. ■ disagreeably adverb. ⓘ 15c.

disagreement ▷ noun 1 the state of disagreeing. 2 euphemistic a quarrel. ⓘ 16c.

disallow ▷ verb 1 to formally refuse to allow or accept something. 2 to judge something to be invalid. ■ disallowance noun. ⓘ 14c: from French desalouer.

disambiguate /dɪsam'bɪgjueɪt/ ▷ verb (disambiguated, disambiguating) to make something unambiguous; to remove ambiguity from it. ■ disambiguation noun. ⓘ 20c.

disappear ▷ verb 1 intr to go out of sight; to vanish. 2 intr to cease to exist. 3 intr to go missing. 4 to make someone vanish, especially by imprisoning them or killing them secretly, usually for political reasons. ■ disappearance noun. ⓘ 16c.

disappoint /dɪsə'pɔɪnt/ ▷ verb (disappointed, disappointing) 1 to fail to fulfil the hopes or expectations of someone. 2 formal to prevent (eg a plan) from being carried out. ■ disappointed adj having one's hopes or expectations frustrated. ■ disappointing adj causing disappointment; frustrating one's hopes or expectations. ■ disappointment noun 1 the state of being disappointed. 2 something that disappoints. ⓘ 15c, originally meaning 'to remove someone from office': from French desapointer.

disapprobation /dɪsaproʊ'beɪʃən/ ▷ noun, formal disapproval, especially on moral grounds. ⓘ 17c.

disapprove ▷ verb, intr (usually disapprove of something or someone) to have a low opinion of it or them; to think it or them bad or wrong. ■ disapproval noun. ■ disapproving adj. ■ disapprovingly adverb. ⓘ 17c in this sense; 15c, meaning 'to disprove'.

disarm ▷ verb 1 to take weapons away from someone. 2 intr to reduce or destroy one's own military capability. 3 to take the fuse out of (a bomb). 4 to take away the anger or suspicions of someone. ⓘ 15c: from French desarmer.

disarmament ▷ noun the reduction or destruction by a nation of its own military forces. ⓘ 18c.

disarming ▷ adj taking away anger or suspicion; quickly winning confidence or affection. ■ disarmingly adverb.

disarrange ▷ verb to make something untidy or disordered. ■ disarrangement noun. ⓘ 18c.

disarray ▷ noun a state of disorder or confusion. ▷ verb to throw something into disorder. ⓘ 15c.

disassemble ▷ verb to take (a machine, etc) apart. ■ disassembly noun. ⓘ 20c in this sense; 17c, meaning 'to separate' or 'to scatter'.

disassociate ▷ verb, tr & intr to DISSOCIATE. ■ disassociation noun. ⓘ 17c.

disaster /dɪ'zɑːstə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an event causing great damage, injury or loss of life. 2 a total failure. 3 extremely bad luck □ Disaster struck. ■ disastrous adj. ■ disastrously adverb. ⓘ 16c: originally meaning 'bad influence of the stars', from French desastre, from astre star.

disaster area ▷ noun 1 an area where there has been a disaster such as a flood, explosion, etc requiring special official aid. 2 colloq any place where a misfortune has happened. 3 colloq any place, thing, etc which is untidy, ugly, disadvantageous, etc.

disattribution ▷ noun a the act of deciding that a work of art, etc, should no longer be considered as the product of a particular artist; b an instance of this.

disavow ▷ verb, formal to deny knowledge of, a connection with, or responsibility for something or someone. ■ disavowal noun. ⓘ 14c: from French desavouer.

disband ▷ verb (disbanded, disbanding) tr & intr to stop operating as a group; to break up. ■ disbandment noun. ⓘ 16c: from French desbander to unbind.

disbar law ▷ verb to expel someone from THE BAR (see BAR[1] noun 10). ■ disbarment noun. ⓘ 17c.

disbelief ▷ noun inability or refusal to believe something □ They looked at us in disbelief. ⓘ 17c.

disbelieve ▷ verb 1 to believe something to be false or someone to be lying. 2 intr to have no religious faith. ■ disbeliever noun. ⓘ 17c.

disbenefit ▷ noun 1 a drawback, disadvantage, loss, inconvenience, etc. 2 absence or loss of benefit. ⓘ 1960s.

disbud ▷ verb to remove buds from (a plant, etc). ⓘ 18c.

disburse /dɪs'bɜːs/ ▷ verb (disbursed, disbursing) to pay out (a sum of money), especially from a fund. ■ disbursement noun. ⓘ 16c: from French desbourser.

disc ▷ noun 1 a flat thin circular object. 2 any disc-shaped recording medium, such as a RECORD (noun 4), COMPACT DISC or VIDEO DISC. 3 anatomy in the spine of vertebrates: a plate of fibrous tissue between two adjacent vertebrae. See also SLIPPED DISC. 4 computing see DISK. ● discoid or discoidal adj disc-shaped. ◷ 17c: from Greek diskos.

disc. ▷ abbreviation 1 discount. 2 discover.

discard ▷ verb /dɪs'kɑːd/ (discarded, discarding) 1 to get rid of something as useless or unwanted. 2 cards to put down (a card of little value) especially when unable to follow suit. ▷ noun /'dɪskɑːd/ 1 something or someone that has been discarded. 2 the act of discarding. ◷ 16c as verb; 18c as noun.

disc brake ▷ noun a brake in which pads are pressed against a metal disc attached to the vehicle's wheel.

disc camera ▷ noun, photog a type of small camera which uses film in disc form rather than as a roll on a spool.

discern /dɪ'sɜːn/ ▷ verb (discerned, discerning) to perceive, notice or make out something; to judge. ● discerning adj having or showing good judgement. ● discernment noun good judgement. ◷ 14c: from Latin discernere.

discernible /dɪ'sɜːnɪbəl/ ▷ adj capable of being seen or perceived □ no discernible difference. ● discernibly adverb. ◷ 16c.

discharge ▷ verb /dɪs'tʃɑːdʒ/ 1 to allow someone to leave; to dismiss or send away (a person), especially from employment. 2 to perform or carry out (eg duties). 3 tr & intr to flow out or make something flow out or be released. 4 law to release someone from custody. 5 tr & intr to fire (a gun). 6 law to pay off (a debt). 7 tr & intr to unload (a cargo). 8 tr & intr, technical to lose, or make (a device) lose, some or all electrical charge. ▷ noun /'dɪstʃɑːdʒ, dɪs'tʃɑːdʒ/ 1 the act of discharging. 2 something discharged. 3 formal, law release or dismissal. 4 physics the flow of electric current through a gas in a discharge tube, often resulting in luminescence of the gas. 5 elec the release of stored electric charge from a capacitor, battery or accumulator. 6 elec a high-voltage spark of electricity produced when there is a large difference in electrical potential between two points, eg lightning. 7 a an emission of a substance, liquid, etc; b the substance, etc emitted. ● discharger noun. ◷ 14c: from French descharger.

discharge tube ▷ noun, electronics a tube in which a gas conducting an electric current emits light.

disc harrow ▷ noun, agric a harrow which cuts the soil by means of inclined discs.

dischuffed /dɪs'tʃʌft/ ▷ adj, colloq displeased or disappointed. ◷ 20c.

disciple /dɪ'saɪpəl/ ▷ noun 1 someone who believes in, and follows, the teachings of another. 2 one of the twelve close followers of Christ. ● discipleship noun. ◷ Anglo-Saxon discipul: from Latin discipulus, from discere to learn.

discipline /'dɪsɪplɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a strict training, or the enforcing of rules, intended to produce ordered and controlled behaviour in oneself or others; b the ordered behaviour resulting from this. 2 punishment designed to create obedience. 3 an area of learning, especially a subject of academic study. 4 a branch of sport. ▷ verb (disciplined, disciplining) 1 to train or force (oneself or others) to behave in an ordered and controlled way. 2 to punish someone. ● disciplinable adj. ● disciplinarian /dɪsɪplɪ'neərɪən/ noun someone who enforces strict discipline on others. ● disciplinary /'dɪsɪplɪnərɪ, dɪsɪ'plɪn-/ adj characteristic of, relating to or enforcing discipline; intended as punishment. ◷ 13c: from Latin disciplina.

disc jockey ▷ noun someone who presents a programme of recorded popular music on the radio, at a disco, in a club, etc. Also called DJ. ◷ 1940s.

disclaim ▷ verb 1 to deny (eg involvement with or knowledge of something). 2 to give up a legal claim to something. ● disclaimer noun 1 a written statement denying legal responsibility. 2 a denial. ◷ 14c: from French desclaimer.

disclose /dɪs'kloʊz/ ▷ verb to make something known; to show something or make it visible. ◷ 14c: from French desclore.

disclosing tablet ▷ noun a tablet which when chewed reveals by means of coloured dye areas of plaque to be removed from the teeth.

disclosure ▷ noun 1 the act of disclosing or making something known. 2 the matter that is disclosed. ◷ 16c.

disco /'dɪskoʊ/ ▷ noun (discos) 1 a DISCOTHEQUE. 2 a party with dancing to recorded music. 3 the mobile hi-fi and lighting equipment used for such a party. ▷ adj suitable for, or designed for, discotheques. ◷ 1960s.

discography /dɪs'kɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun (discographies) a catalogue of sound recordings, especially those of one composer or performer. ● discographer noun. ◷ 1930s.

discoid and discoidal see under DISC discolour or (US) discolor /dɪs'kʌlə(r)/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to stain or dirty something; to change in colour. ● discoloration or discolouration noun. ◷ 14c: from French descolorer.

discombobulate /dɪskəm'bɒbjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (discombobulated, discombobulating) N Amer slang to disconcert someone or to upset them. ◷ 19c.

discomfit /dɪs'kʌmfɪt/ ▷ verb (discomfited, discomfiting) 1 to make someone feel embarrassed or uneasy; to perplex them. 2 to frustrate the plans of someone. ● discomfiture noun frustration; humiliating disappointment. ◷ 13c: from French desconfire.

discomfort ▷ noun a slight physical pain or mental uneasiness. ▷ verb to make someone physically uncomfortable or mentally uneasy. ◷ 19c in these senses; 14c in obsolete senses concerned with loss of courage: from French desconfort.

discompose ▷ verb to upset, worry or agitate someone. ● discomposure noun a state of upset or agitation. ◷ 15c.

disconcert /dɪskən'sɜːt/ ▷ verb (disconcerted, disconcerting) to make someone feel anxious or uneasy; to fluster them. ● disconcerting adj causing anxiety or unease. ◷ 17c: from obsolete French disconcerter.

disconnect ▷ verb 1 to break the connection between (especially an electrical device and a power supply). 2 to stop the supply of (eg a public service such as the gas supply or the telephone) to (a building, etc). ◷ 18c.

disconnected ▷ adj 1 no longer connected. 2 said especially of speech: not correctly constructed, and often not making sense. ● disconnectedly adverb.

disconnection ▷ noun 1 a break in a connection or link. 2 the act of disconnecting or the state of being disconnected.

disconsolate /dɪs'kɒnsələt/ ▷ adj deeply sad or disappointed; not able to be consoled. ● disconsolately adverb. ● disconsolateness noun. ◷ 14c: from Latin disconsolatus.

discontent ▷ noun dissatisfaction; lack of contentment. ◷ 16c.

discontented ▷ adj dissatisfied; unhappy. ● discontentedly adverb. ● discontentedness noun. ◷ 16c.

discontinue ▷ verb 1 tr & intr to stop or cease. 2 to stop producing something □ This model has been discontinued. ● discontinuance or discontinuation noun. ◷ 15c: from French discontinuer.

discontinuous ▷ adj having breaks or interruptions. • discontinuity noun (discontinuities). • discontinuously adverb.

discophile /ˈdɪskoʊfaɪl/ ▷ noun someone who collects and studies records (see RECORD noun 4) or compact discs. 🕒 1940s.

discord /ˈdɪskɔːd/ ▷ noun 1 disagreement; conflict; failure to get on. 2 music an unpleasant-sounding combination of notes; lack of harmony. Opposite of CONCORD. 3 uproarious noise. 🕒 13c: from Latin discordia.

discordant /dɪsˈkɔːdənt/ ▷ adj lacking harmony; disagreeing. • discordantly adverb.

discotheque /ˈdɪskətɛk/ ▷ noun a night-club where people dance to recorded pop music. See also DISCO. 🕒 1950s: French discothèque, originally meaning 'a record library'.

discount ▷ noun /ˈdɪskaʊnt/ 1 an amount deducted from the normal price, eg for prompt payment. 2 the rate or percentage of the deduction granted. 3 the amount by which the price of a share or stock unit is below the par value. ▷ verb /dɪsˈkaʊnt/ 1 to disregard as unlikely, untrue or irrelevant. 2 to make a deduction from (a price). • discountable adj. • discounter noun. • at a discount 1 for less than the usual price. 2 said of shares: below par. 🕒 17c: from French descompter.

discountenance ▷ verb 1 to refuse support to someone or something. 2 to discourage or show disapproval of someone or something. 3 to embarrass someone. 🕒 16c.

discount house ▷ noun 1 a UK financial institution which buys SHORT-DATED government stocks called Treasury Bills with money borrowed from commercial banks for very short periods, the resulting profits being produced by the difference between the borrowing rate and the lending rate. 2 (also discount store) a shop where goods are sold at less than the usual retail price.

discount rate ▷ noun 1 the rate at which a discount is granted. 2 the rate at which banks can borrow funds using bills as security.

discourage /dɪsˈkʌrɪdʒ/ ▷ verb (discouraged, discouraging) 1 to deprive someone of confidence, hope or the will to continue. 2 to seek to prevent (a person or an action) with advice or persuasion. • discouragement noun. • discouraging adj. • discouragingly adverb. 🕒 15c: from French descourager.

discourse ▷ noun /ˈdɪskɔːs/ 1 a formal speech or essay on a particular subject. 2 serious conversation. ▷ verb /dɪsˈkɔːs/ (discoursed, discoursing) intr to speak or write at length, formally or with authority. 🕒 16c as noun in modern sense; 14c, meaning 'understanding'; 16c as verb: from Latin discursus.

discourse analysis ▷ noun, linguistics the study of continuous stretches of language to discover their structure and the features which bind sentences in a sequence. See also CONVERSATION ANALYSIS.

discourteous ▷ adj showing a lack of courtesy; impolite. • discourteously adverb. • discourtesy noun (discourtesies). 🕒 16c.

discover /dɪsˈkʌvə(r)/ ▷ verb 1 to be the first person to find something or someone. 2 to find by chance, especially for the first time. 3 to learn of or become aware of for the first time. • discoverable adj. • discoverer noun someone who makes a discovery, especially of something not known before. 🕒 16c in modern sense; 13c, meaning 'to reveal': from French descouvrir.

discovery ▷ noun (discoveries) 1 the act of discovering. 2 a person or thing discovered. 🕒 16c.

discovery well ▷ noun, oil industry an exploratory well which proves to yield a commercially viable amount of oil.

disc parking ▷ noun a parking system which relies on the motorist affixing a special disc or discs to their car showing their time of arrival and the time when permitted parking ends.

disc plough ▷ noun, agric a plough which cuts the soil by means of inclined discs.

discredit /dɪsˈkrɛdɪt/ ▷ noun loss of good reputation, or the cause of it. ▷ verb 1 to make someone or something be disbelieved or regarded with doubt or suspicion. 2 to damage the reputation of someone. • discreditable adj. • discreditably adverb. 🕒 16c.

discreet /dɪsˈkriːt/ ▷ adj 1 careful to prevent suspicion or embarrassment, especially by keeping a secret. 2 avoiding notice; inconspicuous. • discreetly adverb. • discreetness noun. See also DISCRETION. 🕒 14c: from Latin discretus.

> discreet, discrete
>
> These words are sometimes confused with each other.

discrepancy /dɪsˈkrɛpənsɪ/ ▷ noun (discrepancies) a failure (eg of sets of information) to correspond or be the same. • discrepant adj showing a discrepancy or failure to correspond. 🕒 17c: from Latin discrepare to differ in sound.

discrete /dɪsˈkriːt/ ▷ adj separate; distinct. • discretely adverb. • discreteness noun. 🕒 14c: from Latin discretus.

discretion /dɪsˈkrɛʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the quality of behaving in a discreet way. 2 the ability to make wise judgements. 3 the freedom or right to make decisions and do as one thinks best. • discretional or discretionary adj made, done, given, etc according to the wishes of a particular person or group; not compulsory or automatic. • discretionally or discretionarily adverb. • age or years of discretion the age at which one's judgement becomes mature. 🕒 14c: from Latin discretio.

discriminate /dɪsˈkrɪmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (discriminated, discriminating) intr 1 to recognize a difference between two people or things. 2 (usually discriminate in favour of or against someone) to give different treatment to different people or groups in identical circumstances, especially without justification and on political or religious grounds. • discriminating adj showing good judgement; able to recognize even slight differences. • discriminatingly adverb. • discriminator noun. • discriminatory adj displaying or representing unfairly different treatment. 🕒 17c: from Latin discriminare, discriminatum to separate.

discrimination ▷ noun 1 unjustifiably different treatment given to different people or groups. See also POSITIVE DISCRIMINATION. 2 the ability to draw fine distinctions; good judgement, especially in matters of taste.

discursive /dɪsˈkɜːsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 said of spoken or written style: wandering from the main point. 2 philos based on argument or reason, rather than on intuition. • discursively adverb. • discursiveness noun. 🕒 17c: from Latin discursus conversation.

discus /ˈdɪskəs/ ▷ noun (discuses /ˈdɪskəsɪz/ or disci /ˈdɪskaɪ/) 1 a heavy disc, thicker at the centre than the edge, thrown in athletic competitions. 2 (also discus throw) the competition itself. 🕒 17c: from Greek diskos.

discuss /dɪsˈkʌs/ ▷ verb (discussed, discussing) 1 to examine or consider something in speech or writing. 2 to talk or argue about something in conversation. • discussable or discussible adj. 🕒 14c: from Latin discutere, discussum to shake to pieces.

discussion /dɪsˈkʌʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a conversation, debate or argument. 2 a detailed treatment in speech or writing.

disc wheel ▷ noun a wheel on a motor vehicle, etc in which the hub and rim are connected by a solid piece of metal rather than by spokes.

disdain /dɪsˈdeɪn, dɪz-/ ▷ noun dislike due to a feeling that something is not worthy of attention; contempt; scorn. ▷ verb (disdained, disdaining) 1 to refuse or reject someone or something out of disdain. 2 to regard someone or something with disdain. ⓒ 16c in modern form; 13c as dedeyne from French desdaigner, from Latin dignus worthy.

disdainful ▷ adj showing disdain; contemptuous. • disdainfully adverb. • disdainfulness noun.

disease /dɪˈziːz/ ▷ noun 1 a lack of health, a disorder or illness caused by infection rather than by an accident. 2 any one such illness with characteristic symptoms □ immunization against diseases such as measles. 3 any undesirable phenomenon □ the social disease of drug addiction. ⓒ 14c: from French desaise unease.

diseased ▷ adj affected by or suffering from disease. ⓒ 15c.

diseconomy /dɪsɪˈkɒnəmɪ/ ▷ noun (diseconomies) an economic disadvantage, such as lower efficiency or higher costs. ⓒ 1930s.

disembark ▷ verb, tr & intr to take or go from a ship on to land. • disembarkation noun. ⓒ 16c: from French desembarquer.

disembarrass ▷ verb (usually disembarrass someone from or oneself of something) to free oneself or someone else from an embarrassment, burden or complication. • disembarrassment noun. ⓒ 18c.

disembodied ▷ adj 1 said eg of a spirit or soul: separated from the body; having no physical existence. 2 seeming not to come from, or be connected to, a body □ a disembodied voice. ⓒ 18c.

disembowel /dɪsɪmˈbaʊəl/ ▷ verb (disembowelled, disembowelling) to remove the internal organs of someone or something as a punishment, torture, etc. • disembowelment noun. ⓒ 17c.

disenchant ▷ verb 1 to free someone from illusion. 2 to make someone dissatisfied or discontented. • disenchanted adj. • disenchantment noun. ⓒ 16c: from French desenchanter.

disencumber ▷ verb to free someone from or of an encumbrance. ⓒ 16c.

disenfranchise see DISFRANCHISE.

disengage ▷ verb 1 to release or detach someone or something from a connection. 2 tr & intr to withdraw (troops) from combat. ⓒ 17c: from French desengager.

disengaged ▷ adj 1 free from engagement; at leisure. 2 detached; released.

disengagement ▷ noun release from a connection or commitment.

disentangle ▷ verb 1 to free something from complication, difficulty or confusion. 2 to take the knots or tangles out of (eg hair). • disentanglement noun. ⓒ 16c.

disestablish ▷ verb to take away the official status or authority of (an organization, etc), especially to take away the national status of a church. • disestablishment noun. ⓒ 16c.

disesteem ▷ verb to disapprove of or dislike someone or something. ▷ noun lack of esteem; disregard. ⓒ 16c.

disfavour or (N Amer) disfavor noun 1 a state of being disliked, unpopular or disapproved of. 2 dislike or disapproval. ⓒ 16c.

disfigure ▷ verb to spoil the beauty or general appearance of something. • disfigurement noun. ⓒ 14c: from French desfigurer.

disforest see DISAFFOREST.

disfranchise and disenfranchise ▷ verb to deprive someone of the right to vote or other rights and privileges of a citizen. • disfranchisement noun. ⓒ 15c as disfranchise, 17c as disenfranchise.

disgorge /dɪsˈɡɔːdʒ/ ▷ verb 1 tr & intr to vomit. 2 to discharge or pour out something. 3 to give up or relinquish something, especially under pressure. ⓒ 15c: from French desgorger, from gorge throat.

disgrace ▷ noun a shame or loss of favour or respect; b the cause of it; c an example of it. ▷ verb (disgraced, disgracing) to bring shame upon someone. • in disgrace out of favour. ⓒ 16c: from French disgrâce.

disgraceful ▷ adj bringing shame; degrading. • disgracefully adverb.

disgruntled /dɪsˈɡrʌntəld/ ▷ adj annoyed and dissatisfied; in a bad mood. ⓒ 17c: from DIS- 4 + obsolete gruntle to complain.

disguise /dɪsˈɡaɪz/ ▷ verb (disguised, disguising) 1 to hide the identity of someone or something by a change of appearance. 2 to conceal the true nature of (eg intentions). ▷ noun 1 a disguised state. 2 something, especially a combination of clothes and make-up, intended to disguise. ⓒ 14c: from French desguiser.

disgust /dɪsˈɡʌst/ ▷ verb (disgusted, disgusting) to sicken; to provoke intense dislike or disapproval in someone. ▷ noun intense dislike; loathing. • disgusted adj. • disgusting adj. • in disgust with or because of a feeling of disgust. ⓒ 16c as noun; 17c as verb: from French desgouster.

dish ▷ noun (dishes) 1 a shallow container in which food is served or cooked. 2 its contents, or the amount it can hold. 3 anything shaped like this. 4 a particular kind of food, especially food prepared for eating. 5 (dishes) the used plates and other utensils after the end of a meal □ do the dishes. 6 a DISH AERIAL. 7 colloq a physically attractive person. ▷ verb (dishes, dished, dishing) 1 to put (food) into a dish for serving at table. 2 colloq to ruin (especially chances or hopes). ⓒ Anglo-Saxon disc plate, bowl, table.

■ dish something out colloq 1 to distribute it. 2 to give it out. 3 (especially dish it out) to give out punishment.

■ dish something up colloq 1 to serve (food). 2 to offer or present (eg information), especially if not for the first time.

dishabille see DESHABILLE.

dish aerial ▷ noun a large dish-shaped aerial used to receive signals in radar, radio-telescopes and satellite broadcasting. Also called dish, dish antenna, satellite dish.

disharmony ▷ noun disagreement; lack of harmony. • disharmonious adj lacking harmony; disagreeing. ⓒ 17c.

dishcloth ▷ noun a cloth for washing, wiping or drying dishes.

dishearten ▷ verb to dampen the courage, hope or confidence of someone. • disheartening adj. • disheartenment noun. ⓒ 16c.

dished ▷ adj 1 shaped like a dish; concave. 2 said of a pair of wheels on a car, etc: sloping in towards each other at the top. 3 colloq completely frustrated or defeated.

dishevelled /dɪˈʃevəld/ ▷ adj said of clothes or hair: untidy; in a mess. ⓒ 15c: from French descheveler.

dishevelment /dɪˈʃevəlmənt/ ▷ noun a state of personal untidiness. ⓒ 19c.

dishier and dishiest see under DISHY.

dishonest ▷ adj not honest; likely to deceive or cheat; insincere. • dishonestly adverb. ⓒ 14c: from French deshoneste.

dishonesty ▷ noun 1 lack of honesty. 2 a dishonest act. ⓘ 16c in these senses; 14c, meaning 'dishonour' or 'sexual misconduct'.

dishonorable discharge ▷ noun, US dismissal from the US armed forces for serious misconduct such as desertion or theft.

dishonour or (US) dishonor /dɪsˈɒnə(r)/ ▷ noun a shame or loss of honour; b the cause of it. ▷ verb 1 to bring dishonour on someone or something. 2 to treat someone or something with no respect. 3 commerce to refuse to honour (a cheque). • dishonourable adj. ⓘ 14c: from French deshonneur.

dishtowel ▷ noun a cloth for drying dishes. Also called TEA TOWEL.

dishwasher ▷ noun 1 a machine that washes and dries dishes. 2 someone employed to wash dishes, eg in a restaurant.

dishwater ▷ noun 1 water in which dirty dishes have been washed. 2 any liquid like it.

dishy /ˈdɪʃɪ/ ▷ adj (dishier, dishiest) colloq sexually attractive. ⓘ 1960s.

disillusion ▷ verb (disillusioned, disillusioning) to correct the mistaken beliefs or illusions of someone. ▷ noun (also disillusionment) a state of being disillusioned. ▷ disillusioned adj. ⓘ 19c as verb and as noun in this sense; 16c as noun meaning 'delusion'.

disincentive ▷ noun something that discourages or deters someone or something. ⓘ 1940s.

disinclination ▷ noun the state of or a feeling of being reluctant or unwilling. ⓘ 17c.

disinclined ▷ adj unwilling. ⓘ 17c.

disinfect ▷ verb to clean with a substance that kills germs. ⓘ 17c in this sense; 16c, meaning 'to rid someone or somewhere of infection'.

disinfectant ▷ noun a germ-killing substance. Also as adj. ⓘ 19c.

disinformation ▷ noun a false information intended to deceive or mislead; b the act of supplying it. ⓘ 1960s.

disingenuous ▷ adj not entirely sincere or open; creating a false impression of frankness. • disingenuously adverb. • disingenuousness noun. ⓘ 17c.

disinherit ▷ verb to legally deprive someone of an inheritance; to remove as one's heir. • disinheritance noun rejection of an heir; removal from inheritance. ⓘ 15c.

disintegrate /dɪsˈɪntɪɡreɪt/ ▷ verb, tr & intr 1 to break into tiny pieces; to shatter or crumble. 2 to break up. 3 to undergo or make a substance undergo nuclear fission. ⓘ 18c.

disintegration ▷ noun 1 the act or state of disintegrating. 2 physics the breakdown of an atomic nucleus, either spontaneously by radioactive decay or as a result of bombardment with high-energy particles.

disinter ▷ verb 1 to dig up (especially a body from a grave). 2 to discover and make known (a fact, etc). • disinterment noun removal of a body from a grave. ⓘ 17c: from French désenterrer.

disinterest and disinterestedness ▷ noun 1 impartiality; objectivity. 2 lack of interest; unconcern. ⓘ 17c.

disinterested ▷ adj 1 not having an interest in a particular matter; impartial, objective. 2 colloq showing no interest; UNINTERESTED. ⓘ 17c.

disinvest ▷ verb, intr to remove financial investment. ⓘ 1960s.

disjointed /dɪsˈdʒɔɪntɪd/ ▷ adj said especially of speech: not properly connected; incoherent. ⓘ 16c: from French desjoindre.

disjunctive /dɪsˈdʒʌŋktɪv/ ▷ adj marked by breaks; discontinuous. ⓘ 16c: from Latin disjunctivus.

disk ▷ noun 1 computing a MAGNETIC DISK. See also FLOPPY DISK, HARD DISK. 2 especially US a DISC. ⓘ 18c: variant of DISC.

disk drive ▷ noun, computing a device containing the mechanisms for rotating a magnetic disk at high speed, and which also controls the movement of a read-write head which passes over the surfaces of the disk in order to read or write magnetic signals that represent the stored data.

diskette /dɪˈsket/ ▷ noun, computing 1 a FLOPPY DISK. 2 formerly used to refer to a 5.25in floppy disk.

disk operating system ▷ noun (abbreviation DOS) computing software that manages the storage and retrieval of information on disk on personal computers.

dislike ▷ verb to consider someone or something unpleasant or unlikeable. ▷ noun 1 mild hostility; aversion. 2 something disliked. • dislikable or dislikeable adj. ⓘ 16c.

dislocate /ˈdɪsləkeɪt, -loʊkeɪt/ ▷ verb 1 to dislodge (a bone) from its normal position in a joint. 2 to disturb the order of something; to disrupt it. ⓘ 16c: from Latin dislocare, dislocatum.

dislocation /dɪsloˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun the act of dislocating, especially of a bone in the body. ⓘ 15c.

dislodge ▷ verb 1 to force something out of a fixed or established position. 2 to drive (an enemy, etc) from a place of rest, hiding or defence. • dislodgement or dislodgment noun. ⓘ 15c: from French desloger.

disloyal ▷ adj not loyal or faithful. • disloyally adverb. • disloyalty noun. ⓘ 15c: from French desloyal.

dismal /ˈdɪzməl/ ▷ adj 1 not cheerful; causing or suggesting sadness. 2 colloq third-rate; of poor quality. • dismally adverb. ⓘ 16c in sense 1; originally 13c meaning 'unlucky': French, from Latin dies mali evil or unlucky days.

dismantle /dɪsˈmantəl/ ▷ verb (dismantled, dismantling) 1 to take something to pieces; to demolish it. 2 to abolish or close down something, especially bit by bit. ⓘ 16c: from French desmanteller.

dismast ▷ verb (dismasted, dismasting) to topple or remove the mast or masts of (a sailing vessel). ⓘ 18c.

dismay /dɪsˈmeɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a feeling of sadness arising from deep disappointment or discouragement. 2 alarm; consternation. ▷ verb (dismayed, dismaying) to make someone discouraged, sad or alarmed. ⓘ 13c: from French desmaiier.

dismember /dɪsˈmembə(r)/ ▷ verb (dismembered, dismembering) 1 to tear or cut the limbs from (the body) ▫ dismembering the rabbit. 2 to divide up (especially land). • dismemberment noun. ⓘ 13c: from French desmembrer.

dismiss /dɪsˈmɪs/ ▷ verb (dismissed, dismissing) 1 to refuse to consider or accept (an idea, claim, etc). 2 to put someone out of one's employment. 3 to send someone > disinterested, uninterested

>
> • Disinterested used to mean the same as uninterested, but has developed the separate meaning given as sense 1, 'impartial'. The two words therefore relate to different senses of interest. The difference can be seen in the following examples ▫ He claimed that he had been a disinterested spectator in the affair (= not personally involved in it) ▫ He left most of his meal, and seemed uninterested in any of the conversation she attempted (= not interested in it or concerned about it).
>
> • Disinterested is not usually followed by in, although uninterested often is.

away; to allow them to leave. 4 to close (a court case). 5 cricket to bowl (a batsman) out. ⊙ 15c: from DIS- 3 + Latin mittere, missum to send.

dismissal ▷ noun 1 an act of dismissing, especially of a person from employment. 2 the state of being dismissed. ⊙ 19c.

dismissive /dɪs'mɪsɪv/ ▷ adj (often dismissive of something or someone) 1 giving no consideration or respect to someone or something. 2 showing no willingness to believe something. ⊙ 17c.

dismount ▷ verb 1 intr to get off a horse, bicycle, etc. 2 to force someone off a horse, bicycle, etc. 3 to remove something from a stand or frame. ⊙ 16c in sense 3: from French desmonter.

Disneyesque /dɪznɪ'ɛsk/ ▷ adj in the style of the characters, etc, appearing in the cartoon films of Walt Disney (1901–66), American cartoonist and film producer, ie fantastical, whimsical, unreal. ⊙ 1930s.

Disneyfy /'dɪznɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (Disneyfies, Disneyfied, Disneyfying) often disparaging to present (a site, etc) or process the history of, or facts concerning (a site, etc) in a way that may encourage tourism, but that does not encourage exposure to, and may trivialize, the actual history or real environment. • Disneyfication noun. ⊙ 20c: see DISNEYESQUE.

disobedient ▷ adj refusing or failing to obey. • disobedience noun. • disobediently adverb. ⊙ 16c: French.

disobey ▷ verb to act contrary to the orders of someone; to refuse to obey (a person, a law, etc). ⊙ 14c: from French desobeir.

disobliging ▷ adj unwilling to help; disregarding, or tending to disregard, wishes or requests. ⊙ 17c.

disorder ▷ noun 1 lack of order; confusion or disturbance. 2 unruly or riotous behaviour. 3 a disease or illness. • disordered adj. ⊙ 16c: from French desordre.

disorderly ▷ adj 1 not neatly arranged; disorganized. 2 causing trouble in public.

disorderly conduct ▷ noun, law any of several minor infringements of the law likely to cause a BREACH OF THE PEACE.

disorganize or disorganise ▷ verb to disturb the order or arrangement of something; to throw it into confusion. • disorganization noun. ⊙ 18c.

disorganized or disorganised ▷ adj 1 disordered. 2 unsystematic; inefficient. 3 muddled.

disorientate and disorient ▷ verb (disorientated, disorientating; disoriented, disorienting) to make someone lose all sense of position, direction or time. • disorientation noun. ⊙ 18c as disorientate; 17c as disorient.

disown /dɪs'oʊn/ ▷ verb 1 to deny having any relationship to, or connection with, someone or something. 2 to refuse to recognize or acknowledge someone or something. • disownment noun. ⊙ 17c.

disparage /dɪs'parɪdʒ/ ▷ verb (disparaged, disparaging) to speak of someone or something with contempt. • disparagement noun. ⊙ 14c in this sense, originally 13c, meaning 'to marry below one's class': from French desparager.

disparaging ▷ adj contemptuous; showing disapproval. • disparagingly adverb.

disparate /'dɪspərət/ ▷ adj completely different; too different to be compared. ⊙ 17c: from Latin disparare, disparatum to separate.

disparity /dɪs'parɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (disparities) great or fundamental difference; inequality. ⊙ 16c: from French disparité.

dispassionate ▷ adj 1 calm; unemotional. 2 not influenced by personal feelings; impartial. • dispassionately adverb. ⊙ 16c.

dispatch or despatch /dɪs'patʃ/ ▷ verb (dispatched, dispatching; despatched, despatching) 1 to send (mail, a person, etc) to a place for a particular reason. 2 to finish off or deal with something quickly ▫ dispatch a meal. 3 euphemistic to kill. ▷ noun 1 (often dispatches) an official (especially military or diplomatic) report. 2 a journalist's report sent to a newspaper. 3 the act of dispatching; the fact of being dispatched. 4 old use speed or haste. ■ mentioned in despatches as a distinction: commended in official military dispatches for bravery, etc. ⊙ 16c: from French despeechier to set free.

dispatch box and dispatch case ▷ noun a box or case designed to carry dispatches or other valuable papers.

dispatch rider ▷ noun someone employed to deliver messages by motorcycle or, formerly, on horseback.

dispel /dɪ'spɛl/ ▷ verb (dispelled, dispelling) to drive away or banish (thoughts or feelings). ⊙ 17c: from Latin dispellere.

dispensable /dɪs'pɛnsəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 able to be done without; expendable. 2 able to be dispensed. ⊙ 16c.

dispensary /dɪs'pɛnsərɪ/ ▷ noun (dispensaries) a place where medicines are given out or dispensed, and sometimes where medical advice may be given. ⊙ 17c.

dispensation /dɪspən'seɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 special exemption from a rule, obligation or law (especially a religious law). 2 the act of dispensing. 3 a religious or political system regarded as the chief governing force in a nation or during a particular time. 4 relig God's management of human affairs. ⊙ 14c.

dispense /dɪs'pɛns/ ▷ verb (dispensed, dispensing) 1 to give out (eg advice). 2 to prepare and distribute (medicine). 3 to administer (eg the law). ⊙ 14c: from Latin dispendere, dispensum to weigh out.

■ dispense with something to do without it.

dispenser ▷ noun 1 someone who dispenses, eg a pharmacist who makes up and gives out medicines. 2 a container or machine that gives out a commodity in pre-set quantities ▫ soap dispenser. ⊙ 16c.

dispensing optician see OPTICIAN 1 dispersal prison ▷ noun a prison designed to accommodate a certain number of particularly dangerous or high-risk prisoners in addition to other categories of detainees.

disperse /dɪs'pɜːs/ ▷ verb (dispersed, dispersing) tr & intr 1 to spread out over a wide area. 2 to break up, or make (a crowd) break up, and leave. 3 to vanish or make something vanish. 4 physics said of white light: to break up into the colours of the spectrum. 5 physics said of particles: to become evenly distributed thoughout a liquid or gas. • dispersal noun. • dispersion noun. ⊙ 15c: from Latin dispergere, dispersum to scatter widely.

dispirit /dɪ'spɪrɪt/ ▷ verb to dishearten or discourage someone. • dispirited adj (dispirited, dispiriting). ⊙ 17c: DIS- 2 + SPIRIT.

displace ▷ verb 1 to put or take something or someone out of the usual place. 2 to take the place of someone or something. 3 to remove someone from a post. ⊙ 16c in senses 1 and 2; 16c in sense 3.

displaced person ▷ noun someone forced to leave their own country through war or persecution.

displacement ▷ noun 1 the act of displacing. 2 technical the quantity of liquid, gas, etc displaced by an immersed object, especially of water by a floating ship. ⊙ 17c.

displacement activity ▷ noun, psychol a relatively harmless activity that is substituted for a more destructive type of behaviour, eg the release of aggression during strenuous physical exercise rather than directing it at other people.

display /dɪ'spleɪ/ ▷ verb (displays, displayed, displaying) 1 to put someone or something on view. 2 to show or betray (eg feelings). 3 printing to present (advertising copy) in an eye-catching way. ▷ noun (displays) 1 the act of displaying. 2 an exhibition; a show of talent; an arrangement of objects on view. 3 the visual display unit linked to a computer, or the digital characters of a liquid-crystal display unit used in watches, calculators, etc. 4 a pattern of animal behaviour most frequently associated with courtship or the defence of territory, usually involving stereotyped sounds, movements, colour patterns, etc, that produces a specific response in another individual, especially of the same species. 5 printing presentation of advertising copy, etc, in an eye-catching way, through appropriate use of typefaces, space, etc. ⊙ 14c: from French despleier.

displease ▷ verb to annoy or offend someone. ● displeasure noun. ⊙ 14c: from French desplaisir.

disport /dɪ'spɔːt/ ▷ verb (disported, disporting) tr & intr, literary to indulge (oneself) in lively amusement □ children disporting themselves on the beach. ⊙ 14c: from French se desporter to carry oneself away.

disposable ▷ adj 1 intended to be thrown away or destroyed after one use. 2 said of income or assets: remaining after tax and other commitments are paid; available for use when needed. ▷ noun a product intended for disposal after one use. ⊙ 17c as adj; 1960s as noun.

disposal ▷ noun getting rid of something. ● at the disposal of someone available for use by them. ⊙ 17c.

dispose /dɪs'poʊz/ ▷ verb (disposed, disposing) to place something in an arrangement or order. ● be disposed to do something to be inclined to follow that course of action □ am not disposed to try. ● be disposed to or towards someone or something to have specified feelings about or towards them or it □ ill-disposed towards us. ⊙ 14c: from French disposer to decide.

■ dispose of something 1 to get rid of it. 2 to deal with or settle it.

disposition /dɪspə'zɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 temperament; personality; a tendency. 2 arrangement; position; distribution. 3 law the act of giving over (eg property). ⊙ 14c.

dispossess ▷ verb (always dispossess someone of something) to take (especially property) away from them. ● dispossession noun. ⊙ 15c: from French despossesser.

dispossessed ▷ adj deprived of possessions, property, etc, especially one's home, country or rights.

disproof ▷ noun 1 the act of disproving. 2 something that disproves. ⊙ 16c.

disproportion ▷ noun lack of balance or equality; failure to be in proportion. ⊙ 16c.

disproportionate /dɪsprə'pɔːʃənət/ ▷ adj unreasonably large or small in comparison with something else. ● disproportionately adverb. ⊙ 16c.

disprove ▷ verb to prove something to be false or wrong. ⊙ 14c: from French desprover.

disputable /dɪs'pjuːtəbəl/ ▷ adj liable to be disputed or argued about; not certain. ● disputably adverb. ⊙ 15c.

disputation /dɪspjʊ'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun argument; debate; discussion. ⊙ 16c.

disputatious /dɪspjʊ'teɪʃəs/ ▷ adj said of a person: inclined to dispute or argue; contentious. ⊙ 17c.

dispute ▷ verb /dɪs'pjuːt/ (disputed, disputing) 1 to question or deny the accuracy or validity of (a statement, etc). 2 to quarrel over rights to or possession of something □ disputed territory. 3 tr & intr to argue about something. ▷ noun /dɪs'pjuːt, 'dɪspjuːt/ an argument. ● in dispute being debated or contested. ⊙ 13c: from Latin disputare to discuss.

disqualify ▷ verb 1 to remove someone from a competition, especially for breaking rules. 2 to make someone or something unsuitable or ineligible. ● disqualification noun. ⊙ 18c.

disquiet ▷ noun a feeling of anxiety or uneasiness. ▷ verb to make someone feel anxious, uneasy, etc. ● disquieting adj. ● disquietude noun. ⊙ 16c.

disquisition /dɪskwɪ'zɪʃən/ ▷ noun, formal a long and detailed discussion of a subject in speech or writing. ● disquisitional adj. ⊙ 15c: from Latin disquisitio.

disregard ▷ verb 1 to pay no attention to someone or something. 2 to dismiss something as unworthy of consideration. ▷ noun dismissive lack of attention or concern. ⊙ 17c.

disremember ▷ verb, Brit dialect or US colloq to fail to remember something; to forget it. ⊙ 17c.

disrepair ▷ noun bad condition or working order owing to a need for repair and maintenance. ⊙ 18c.

disreputable ▷ adj suffering from, or leading to, a bad reputation; not respectable. ● disreputably adverb. ⊙ 18c.

disrepute ▷ noun the state of having a bad reputation □ bring football into disrepute. ⊙ 17c.

disrespect ▷ noun lack of respect; impoliteness; rudeness. ● disrespectful adj. ● disrespectfully adverb. ⊙ 17c.

disrobe ▷ verb, tr & intr 1 especially literary to undress. 2 to take ceremonial robes off. ⊙ 16c.

disrupt /dɪs'rʌpt/ ▷ verb (disrupted, disrupting) to disturb the order or peaceful progress of (an activity, process, etc). ⊙ 17c, but rare till 19c: from Latin disrumpere, disruptum to break into pieces.

disruption /dɪs'rʌpʃən/ ▷ noun disturbance to peace or order. ⊙ 17c.

disruptive /dɪs'rʌptɪv/ ▷ adj 1 causing disturbance to peace or order. 2 unruly. ● disruptively adverb. ⊙ 19c.

diss ▷ verb (dissed, dissing) slang, especially US to reject or dismiss someone with contempt; to bad mouth them. ⊙ 20c rapper slang; probably from DISRESPECT.

dissatisfaction ▷ noun being dissatisfied; a feeling of discontent. ⊙ 17c.

dissatisfy /dɪs'satɪsfaɪ/ ▷ verb 1 to fail to satisfy someone. 2 to make someone discontented. ● dissatisfaction noun. ● dissatisfied adj. ⊙ 17c.

dissect /dɪ'sɛkt, daɪ-/ ▷ verb (dissected, dissecting) 1 to cut open (a plant or dead body) for scientific or medical examination. 2 to examine something in minute detail, especially critically. ● dissection noun. ⊙ 16c: from Latin dissecare, dissectum to cut into pieces.

dissected ▷ adj 1 bot deeply cut into narrow segments. 2 geol cut up by valleys.

dissecting microscope ▷ noun a form of microscope that allows dissection of the object under examination.

dissemble /dɪ'sɛmbəl/ ▷ verb (dissembled, dissembling) tr & intr 1 to conceal or disguise (true feelings or motives). 2 to assume a false appearance of something. ● dissemblance noun. ⊙ 16c: from Latin dissimulare.

disseminate /dɪ'sɛmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (disseminated, disseminating) to make (eg news or theories) be widely circulated or diffused. ● dissemination noun. ⊙ 17c: from Latin disseminare to sow widely.

disseminated sclerosis see MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS dissension /dɪˈsɛnʃən/ ⊳ noun disagreement, especially if leading to strife or violence. ⊙ 13c: French, from Latin dissentire to disagree.

dissent /dɪˈsɛnt/ ⊳ noun 1 disagreement, especially open or hostile. 2 voluntary separation, especially from an established church. ⊳ verb (dissented, dissenting) intr (often dissent from someone or something) 1 to differ in opinion from or to disagree with them. 2 to break away, especially from an established church. • dissenter noun. • dissenting adj. ⊙ 16c: from Latin dissentire to disagree.

dissentient /dɪˈsɛnʃənt/ formal ⊳ adj disagreeing with a majority or established view. ⊳ noun a dissentient person. ⊙ 17c: from DISSENT.

dissertation /dɪsəˈteɪʃən/ ⊳ noun 1 a long essay, especially forming part of a higher education degree course. 2 a formal lecture on a particular subject. ⊙ 17c: from Latin dissertare to discuss.

disservice ⊳ noun a wrong; a bad turn. ⊙ 16c: from French desservir.

dissidence /ˈdɪsɪdəns/ ⊳ noun open or public disagreement. ⊙ 17c: see DISSIDENT.

dissident /ˈdɪsɪdənt/ ⊳ noun someone who disagrees publicly, especially with a government. ⊳ adj disagreeing; dissenting. ⊙ 16c: from Latin dissidere to sit apart.

dissimilar ⊳ adj (often dissimilar to something) unlike; different. • dissimilarity noun. ⊙ 16c.

dissimulate ⊳ verb, tr & intr to hide or disguise (especially feelings). • dissimulation noun. ⊙ 17c in this sense; 16c in obsolete sense 'to pass over or ignore': from Latin dissimulare, dissimulatum.

dissipate /ˈdɪsɪpeɪt/ ⊳ verb (dissipated, dissipating) 1 tr & intr to separate and scatter. 2 to use up something carelessly; to squander it. • dissipated adj over-indulging in pleasure and enjoyment; debauched. • dissipation noun. ⊙ 16c: from Latin dissipare, dissipatum.

dissociate /dɪˈsoʊʃɪeɪt, -sɪeɪt/ ⊳ verb (dissociated, dissociating) 1 to regard something or someone as separate. 2 to declare someone or oneself to be unconnected with someone or something else. 3 chem said of a chemical substance: to break down into its constituent molecules, atoms or ions, eg when dissolved in water or exposed to electromagnetic radiation. • dissociation noun. ⊙ 16c: from Latin dissociare, dissociatum.

dissoluble /dɪˈsɒljʊbəl/ ⊳ adj 1 able to be disconnected. 2 soluble. ⊙ 16c originally meaning 'able to be broken down': from Latin dissolubilis.

dissolute /ˈdɪsəluːt, -ljuːt/ ⊳ adj indulging in pleasures considered immoral; debauched. • dissoluteness noun. ⊙ 16c in this sense; 14c meaning 'relaxed, careless': from Latin dissolutus lax or loose.

dissolution /dɪsəˈluːʃən, -ˈljuːʃən/ ⊳ noun 1 the breaking up of a meeting or assembly, eg Parliament. 2 the ending of a formal or legal partnership, eg a marriage or business. 3 abolition, eg of the monarchy. 4 the process of breaking up into parts. ⊙ 14c: from Latin dissolvere.

dissolve /dɪˈzɒlv/ ⊳ verb (dissolved, dissolving) 1 tr & intr to break up and merge with a liquid. 2 to bring (an assembly, eg Parliament) to a close. 3 to end (a legal partnership, eg a business). 4 tr & intr to disappear or make something disappear. 5 intr (often dissolve into laughter, tears, etc) to be overcome emotionally. 6 intr, technical said of a film or television image: to fade out as a second image fades in. ⊳ noun, technical a fading out of one film or television image as a second is simultaneously faded in. ⊙ 14c: from Latin dissolvere to loosen.

dissonance /ˈdɪsənəns/ ⊳ noun 1 music an unpleasant combination of sounds or notes; lack of harmony. 2 disagreement; incompatibility. ⊙ 16c: from Latin dissonare to be discordant.

dissonant /ˈdɪsənənt/ ⊳ adj lacking in harmony; harsh-sounding. ⊙ 15c.

dissuade /dɪˈsweɪd/ ⊳ verb (dissuaded, dissuading) (usually dissuade someone from doing something) to deter them with advice or persuasion. • dissuasion noun. • dissuasive adj. • dissuasively adverb. ⊙ 15c, originally meaning 'to advise someone against something': from Latin dissuadere.

dissyllable and dissyllabic see DISYLLABLE dissymmetry /dɪsˈsɪmətrɪ/ ⊳ noun 1 lack of symmetry. 2 the symmetry of an object and its mirror-image, or of the right and left hands, etc. • dissymmetric or dissymmetrical adj. ⊙ 19c.

distaff /ˈdɪstɑːf/ ⊳ noun 1 the rod on which a bunch of wool, flax, etc is held ready for spinning by hand. 2 literary used to represent women or women's work. • the distaff side old use the wife's or mother's side of the family. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon distæf.

distal /ˈdɪstəl/ ⊳ adj 1 anatomy farthest from the point of attachment. Compare PROXIMAL. 2 dentistry farthest from the centre. ⊙ 19c: formed from DISTANCE on the analogy of central.

Distalgesic /dɪstəlˈdʒiːzɪk/ ⊳ noun, trademark a painkiller in tablet form, containing PARACETAMOL. ⊙ 1960s: from Distillers' Co Ltd + analgesic.

distance /ˈdɪstəns/ ⊳ noun 1 the measured length between two points in space. 2 the fact of being apart. 3 any faraway point or place; the furthest visible area. 4 coldness of manner. 5 horse-racing, Brit, a point 240 yards back from the winning post. 6 horse-racing, US a final stretch of the course which a horse must reach during the heats before the winner reaches the finish, in order to qualify for the final heat. ⊳ adj, athletics 1 said of races: over a long distance. 2 said of athletes: competing in longer races. ⊳ verb (distanced, distancing) 1 to put someone or something at a distance. 2 (usually distance oneself from someone or something) to declare oneself to be unconnected or unsympathetic to something □ distanced themselves from government policy. • go the distance colloq said especially of someone involved in a sporting contest, especially in boxing: to last out until the end. • keep one's distance to stay safely away, especially refusing involvement; to avoid friendship or familiarity. ⊙ 13c: from Latin distantia.

distance education and distance teaching ⊳ noun the provision of educational courses using means such as correspondence courses, television, etc, for students unable to attend the educational establishment concerned in person.

distance learning ⊳ noun following courses provided in DISTANCE EDUCATION.

distant /ˈdɪstənt/ ⊳ adj 1 far away or far apart in space or time. 2 not closely related. 3 cold and unfriendly. 4 appearing to be lost in thought. • distantly adverb. ⊙ 14c.

distaste /dɪsˈteɪst/ ⊳ noun dislike; aversion. • distasteful adj. ⊙ 16c.

distemper[1] /dɪˈstɛmpə(r)/ ⊳ noun any of several infectious disease of animals, especially a viral infection canine distemper, often fatal to dogs. ⊙ 16c, meaning a mental or physical ailment: from French destemprer to derange.

distemper[2] /dɪˈstɛmpə(r)/ ⊳ noun any water-based paint, especially when mixed with glue or SIZE[2] and used eg for poster-painting or murals. ⊳ verb (distempered, distempering) to paint with distemper. ⊙ 19c as verb; 17c as noun: originally from Latin distemperare to soak.

distend /dɪˈstɛnd/ ⊳ verb (distended, distending) tr & intr to make or become swollen, inflated or stretched. • distensible adj. • distension noun. ⊙ 14c: from Latin distendere.

distil or (N Amer) distill /dɪ'stɪl/ ▷ verb (distilled, distilling) 1 to purify a liquid by the process of distillation. 2 to produce alcoholic spirits in this way. 3 to create a shortened or condensed version of something. ⓘ 14c: from Latin destillare to drip down.

distillate /'dɪstɪleɪt/ ▷ noun a concentrated extract, the product of distilling. ⓘ 19c.

distillation /dɪstɪ'leɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 chem a method of purifying a liquid by heating it to boiling point and condensing the vapour formed to a liquid called the DISTILLATE, which is then collected. 2 the DISTILLATE.

distilled water ▷ noun, chem water that has been purified by distillation.

distiller ▷ noun a person or company that makes alcoholic spirits. ⓘ 16c.

distillery ▷ noun (distilleries) a place where alcoholic spirits are distilled.

distinct /dɪ'stɪŋkt/ ▷ adj 1 easily seen, heard or recognized; clear or obvious. 2 noticeably different or separate. ● distinctly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin distinctus, from distinguere to distinguish.

distinction /dɪ'stɪŋkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 exceptional ability or achievement, or an honour awarded in recognition of it. 2 the act of differentiating. 3 the state of being noticeably different. 4 a distinguishing feature. ⓘ 14c: from Latin distinctio.

distinctive /dɪ'stɪŋktɪv/ ▷ adj easily recognized because very individual. ● distinctiveness noun.

distinguish /dɪ'stɪŋgwɪʃ/ ▷ verb (distinguishes, distinguished, distinguishing) 1 (often distinguish one thing from another) to mark or recognize them as different. 2 intr (often distinguish between things or people) to see the difference between them. 3 to make out or identify something. 4 (always distinguish oneself) often ironic to be considered outstanding because of some achievement. ● distinguishable adj. ● distinguishing adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin distinguere.

distinguished ▷ adj 1 famous (and usually well respected). 2 with a noble or dignified appearance.

distort /dɪ'stɔːt/ ▷ verb (distorted, distorting) 1 to twist something out of shape. 2 to change the meaning or tone of (a statement, etc) by inaccurate retelling. 3 radio, telecomm to alter the quality of (a signal), eg making sound less clear. ● distortion noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin distorquere, distortum.

distract /dɪ'strakt/ ▷ verb (distracted, distracting) 1 (usually distract someone or someone's attention from something) to divert their attention from it. 2 to entertain or amuse someone. 3 to confuse, worry or anger someone. ● distracted adj. ● distracting adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin distrahere to draw apart.

distraction ▷ noun 1 something that diverts the attention. 2 an amusement; recreation. 3 anxiety; anger. 4 madness. ⓘ 15c.

distrain /dɪ'streɪn/ ▷ verb, law to seize (eg property) as, or in order to force, payment of a debt. ⓘ 13c as destreyn: from French destraindre.

distraint /dɪ'streɪnt/ ▷ noun, law seizure of property or goods in order to meet a debt or obligation. ⓘ 18c: from DISTRAIN.

distrait /dɪ'streɪ/ ▷ adj, literary thinking of other things. ⓘ 18c: French.

distraught /dɪ'strɔːt/ ▷ adj in an extremely troubled state of mind. ⓘ 14c: a form of DISTRACT.

distress /dɪ'stres/ ▷ noun 1 mental or emotional pain. 2 financial difficulty; hardship. 3 great danger; peril □ a ship in distress. ▷ verb (distresses, distressed, distressing) 1 to cause distress to someone; to upset someone. 2 to give (fabric, furniture, etc) the appearance of being older than it is. ● distressed adj. ● distressing adj. ⓘ 13c as destresse: from French destresse.

distress signal ▷ noun a radio signal, flare, etc put out by a ship, etc, in danger.

distribute /dɪ'strɪbjuːt, 'dɪstrɪbjuːt/ ▷ verb (distributed, distributing) 1 to give out something. 2 to supply or deliver (goods). 3 to spread out widely; to disperse. ⓘ 15c: from Latin distribuere, distributum.

distribution /dɪstrɪ'bjuːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of distributing or being distributed. 2 the location or pattern of things spread out. 3 statistics a set of measurements or values, together with the observed or predicted frequencies with which they occur. ⓘ 14c.

distributive ▷ adj 1 relating to distribution. 2 grammar said of a word: referring individually to all members of a group, as do the words each, every.

distributor ▷ noun 1 a person or company that distributes goods, especially someone dealing between manufacturer and retailer. 2 a device in the ignition system of a car or other motor vehicle that directs pulses of high-voltage electricity from the induction coil to the spark plugs in the cylinders of the engine.

district /'dɪstrɪkt/ ▷ noun an area or region, especially one forming an administrative or geographical unit. ⓘ 17c: from Latin districtus jurisdiction.

district attorney ▷ noun, especially US a lawyer employed by a district to conduct prosecutions. Often shortened to DA.

district court ▷ noun, especially US the federal court for a district.

district nurse ▷ noun a nurse who visits patients in their homes to give them treatment.

distrust ▷ verb to have no trust in someone or something; to doubt them or it. ▷ noun suspicion; lack of trust. See also MISTRUST. ● distrustful adj. ● distrustfully adverb. ⓘ 15c.

distrustful ▷ adj having no trust in someone or something; suspicious. ⓘ 18c.

disturb /dɪ'stɜːb/ ▷ verb (disturbed, disturbing) 1 to interrupt someone. 2 to inconvenience someone. 3 to upset the arrangement or order of something. 4 to upset the peace of mind of someone. ● disturbed adj, psychol emotionally upset or confused; maladjusted. ● disturbing adj. ⓘ 13c: from Latin disturbare.

disturbance /dɪ'stɜːbəns/ ▷ noun 1 an outburst of noisy or violent behaviour. 2 an interruption. 3 an act of disturbing or the process of being disturbed. ⓘ 13c.

disunite ▷ verb to drive (people, etc) apart; to cause disagreement or conflict between (people) or within (a group). ● disunity noun. ⓘ 16c.

disuse /dɪs'juːs/ ▷ noun the state of no longer being used, practised or observed; neglect. ● disused /-'juːzd/ adj. ⓘ 16c.

disyllable or dissyllable /'daɪsɪləbəl/ ▷ noun a word of two syllables. ● disyllabic or dissyllabic /daɪsɪ'labɪk, dɪ-/ adj. ⓘ 16c: from Greek di- twice + SYLLABLE.

ditch ▷ noun (ditches) a narrow channel dug in the ground for drainage or irrigation or as a boundary. ▷ verb (ditches, ditched, ditching) 1 slang to get rid of someone or something; to abandon them. 2 tr & intr, colloq said of an aircraft or a pilot: to bring or come down in the sea. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dic.

dither /'dɪðə(r)/ ▷ verb (dithered, dithering) intr to act in a nervously uncertain manner; to waver. ▷ noun a state of nervous indecision. ● ditherer noun. ● dithery adj. ⓘ 20c in this sense, originally 14c didderen to tremble or shake.

ditsy or ditzy /'dɪtsɪ/ ▷ adj (ditsier, ditsiest) N Amer colloq scatterbrained; flighty. ⓘ 20c: perhaps a mixture of DOTTY + DIZZY.

ditto ▷ noun (dittos) ▷ noun the same thing; the above; that which has just been said. ▷ adverb (abbreviation do) likewise; the same. ◎ 17c: Italian, meaning 'aforesaid', from Latin dictum said.

ditto marks ▷ noun a symbol (") written immediately below a word, etc in a list to mean 'same as above'.

ditty ▷ noun (ditties) a short simple song or poem. ◎ 14c as ditee: from French ditie, from Latin dictatum something dictated or composed.

diuretic /daɪjʊˈretɪk/ medicine ▷ noun a drug or other substance that increases the volume of urine produced and excreted. ▷ adj said of a substance: increasing the production and excretion of urine. ◎ 14c: from Greek dia through + ouron urine.

diurnal /daɪˈɜːnəl/ formal, technical ▷ adj 1 daily. 2 during the day. 3 said of animals: active during the day. 4 said of flowers: open during the day. ■ diurnally adverb. ◎ 15c: from Latin diurnus.

div see DIVVY.

div. ▷ abbreviation 1 divide. 2 division. 3 divorce or divorced.

diva /ˈdiːvə/ ▷ noun (divas or dive /ˈdiːveɪ/) a great female singer, especially in opera. ◎ 19c: Latin, meaning 'goddess'.

divalent /daɪˈveɪlənt/ ▷ adj, chem said of an atom: able to combine with two atoms of hydrogen or the equivalent. ◎ 19c: DI- + -VALENT.

Divali see DIWALI.

divan /dɪˈvan/ ▷ noun 1 a sofa with no back or sides. 2 a bed without a headboard or footboard. ◎ 18c in these senses; 16c in historical sense meaning 'an oriental council': from Persian diwan long seat.

dive[1] /daɪv/ ▷ verb (dived or (N Amer) dove /doʊv/, diving) intr 1 to throw oneself into water, usually headfirst, or plunge down through water. 2 said of a submarine, etc: to become submerged. 3 to descend or fall steeply through the air. 4 to throw oneself to the side or to the ground □ The keeper had to dive to catch the ball. 5 to move quickly and suddenly out of sight □ diving behind a tree. ▷ noun 1 an act of diving. 2 slang any dirty or disreputable place, especially a bar or club. 3 boxing slang a faked knockout □ take a dive. ■ diving noun the activity or sport of plunging into water. ◎ Anglo-Saxon dyfan.

> ■ dive in to help oneself to (food).
>
> ■ dive into something 1 to plunge one's hands (eg into a bag). 2 to involve oneself enthusiastically in an undertaking.

dive[2] see DIVA.

dive-bomb ▷ verb to bomb while diving in an aircraft. ■ dive-bombing noun.

dive-bomber ▷ noun an aeroplane that releases a bomb while diving.

diver /ˈdaɪvə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who dives. 2 someone who swims or works underwater. 3 any one of various diving birds, especially one of a type of large bird, native to northern waters of the N hemisphere. ◎ 16c.

diverge /daɪˈvɜːdʒ, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (diverged, diverging) intr 1 to separate and go in different directions. 2 to differ. ■ divergence noun. ■ divergent adj. ◎ 17c: from Latin divergere, from vergere to turn.

> ■ diverge from something to depart or deviate (eg from a usual course).

diverging lens ▷ noun, physics a lens that causes light rays to spread out, eg a concave lens.

divers /ˈdaɪvəz/ ▷ adj, archaic, literary various; many different. ◎ 13c: from Latin diversus; see etymology of DIVERSE.

> diverse, divers
>
> These words are sometimes confused with each other.

diverse /daɪˈvɜːs, dɪ-/ ▷ adj 1 various; assorted. 2 different; dissimilar. ■ diversely adverb. ◎ 13c: from Latin diversus turned different ways.

diversify /daɪˈvɜːsɪfaɪ, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (diversifies, diversified, diversifying) 1 tr & intr to become or make something diverse. 2 intr to engage in new and different activities; to branch out. ■ diversification noun. ◎ 15c.

diversion /daɪˈvɜːʃən, dɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 the act of diverting; the state of being diverted. 2 a detour from a usual route. 3 something intended to draw attention away. 4 amusement. ■ diversionary adj. ◎ 17c: from Latin diversio.

diversity ▷ noun (diversities) variety in kind; being varied or different. ◎ 14c: from French diversité.

divert /daɪˈvɜːt, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (diverted, diverting) 1 to make someone or something change direction. 2 to draw away (especially attention). 3 to amuse someone. ■ diverting adj. ■ divertingly adverb. ◎ 15c: from Latin divertere to turn aside.

diverticular /daɪvəˈtɪkjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj relating to or affecting diverticula. ◎ 19c.

diverticulitis /daɪvətɪkjʊˈlaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun inflammation of one or more diverticula. ◎ Early 20c.

diverticulum /daɪvəˈtɪkjʊləm/ ▷ noun (diverticula /-lə/) a pouch formed at a weak point in the muscular wall of the alimentary canal, especially the colon. ◎ 17c: Latin, originally meaning 'a byway' or 'retreat'.

divertimento /dɪvɜːtɪˈmentoʊ/ ▷ noun (divertimenti /-tiː/ or divertimentos) a light musical composition usually written for an orchestra or chamber ensemble and intended primarily for entertainment. ◎ 19c: Italian, originally meaning 'entertainment' or 'amusement'.

divest /daɪˈvest, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (divested, divesting) (usually divest someone of something) 1 to take away or get rid of it □ divested himself of his peerage. 2 rather formal to undress □ divested herself of her jacket and scarf. ■ divestment noun. ◎ 16c as devest: from Latin de- away from + vestire to clothe.

divi see DIVVY.

divide /dɪˈvaɪd/ ▷ verb (divided, dividing) 1 tr & intr to split up or separate into parts. 2 (also divide something up) to share. 3 math a to determine how many times one number is contained in (another); b intr said of a number: to be a number of times greater or smaller than another □ 3 divides into 9. 4 to bring about a disagreement among (people); to set (people) at odds. 5 to serve as a boundary between something. 6 intr said of an assembly, Parliament, etc: to form into groups voting for and against a motion. ▷ noun 1 a disagreement; a gap or split. 2 especially US a ridge of high land between two rivers. ◎ 14c: from Latin dividere to force apart.

divided highway ▷ noun, N Amer a dual carriageway.

dividend /ˈdɪvɪdend/ ▷ noun 1 a portion of a company's profits paid to a shareholder. 2 a benefit □ Meeting her would pay dividends. 3 math a number divided by another number. ■ declare a dividend to announce the sum per cent a trading concern is prepared to pay its shareholders. ◎ 15c: from Latin dividendum what is to be divided.

dividers /dɪˈvaɪdəz/ ▷ plural noun a V-shaped device with movable arms ending in points, used in geometry, etc for measuring.

divination /dɪvɪˈneɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the practice of foretelling the future by, or as if by, supernatural means. 2 insight. 3 a guess. ◎ 14c: from DIVINE.

divine /dɪ'vaɪn/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to, or coming from God or a god. 2 colloq extremely pleasant or beautiful; excellent. ▷ verb (divined, divining) 1 to foretell something. 2 to learn of something by intuition; to guess it. 3 tr & intr to search for (underground water) with a divining-rod. ▷ noun a member of the clergy who is expert in theology. • divinely adverb. • diviner noun. ⓔ 14c: from Latin divinus, from divus a god.

divine office ▷ noun, Christianity the prayers recited daily by priests, devotees, monks, etc, which in the RC Church are those of the BREVIARY.

divine right ▷ noun 1 colloq any authority supposed to be unquestionable. 2 the concept that monarchs rule by the authority of God rather than by the consent of the people. Also called the divine right of kings.

diving present participle of DIVE[1] divingbell ▷ noun a large hollow bottomless underwater container which traps air, and to which a diver without breathing apparatus returns to breathe in oxygen.

divingboard ▷ noun a narrow platform from which swimmers can dive into a pool, etc.

divingsuit ▷ noun a diver's waterproof suit, especially one with a helmet and heavy boots for walking on the sea-bottom, etc.

divining present participle of DIVINE divining rod and dowsing rod ▷ noun a stick, especially of hazel, held near the ground when divining for water, which allegedly twitches when a discovery is made.

divinity /dɪ'vɪnɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (divinities) 1 theology. 2 a god. 3 the state of being God or a god. ⓔ 14c: from Latin divinitas, from divinus DIVINE.

divisible /dɪ'vɪzɪbəl/ ▷ adj able to be divided. ⓔ 16c: from Latin divisibilis.

division /dɪ'vɪʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of dividing; the state of being divided. 2 something that divides or separates; a gap or barrier. 3 one of the parts into which something is divided. 4 a major unit of an organization such as an army or police force. 5 math the process of determining how many times one number, the DIVISOR, is contained in another, the DIVIDEND. 6 a formal vote in Parliament. 7 bot in taxonomy: any of the major groups, eg Bryophyta (the mosses and liverworts), into which the plant kingdom (sense 2) is divided and which in turn is subdivided into one or more CLASSes (sense 9). It corresponds to the PHYLUM in the animal kingdom. ⓔ 14c.

divisional /dɪ'vɪʒənəl/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to a division or section, especially of a business or organization □ divisional headquarters.

Divisional Court ▷ noun, law in England and Wales: a court attached to each of the three divisions of the HIGH COURT, presided over by three judges and hearing appeals from the relevant division.

Divisionism see POINTILLISM division lobby see LOBBY division sign ▷ noun the symbol ÷, representing division in calculations.

divisive /dɪ'vaɪsɪv, -zɪv/ ▷ adj tending to cause disagreement or conflict. • divisively adverb. • divisiveness noun. ⓔ 16c: from late Latin divisivus.

divisor /dɪ'vaɪzə(r)/ ▷ noun, math a number by which another number, the DIVIDEND, is divided. ⓔ 15c: Latin, divisor divider.

divorce /dɪ'vɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 the legal ending of a marriage. 2 a complete separation. ▷ verb (divorced, divorcing) 1 tr & intr to legally end marriage to someone. 2 to separate. • divorced adj. ⓔ 14c: from Latin divortere to leave one's husband.

divorcee /dɪvɔː'siː, -'vɔːsiː/ ▷ noun (divorcees) someone who has been divorced.

divot /'dɪvət/ ▷ noun a clump of grass and earth removed, especially by the blade of a golf club. ⓔ 19c in this sense; 16c Scots and N English, meaning 'a sod', especially one cut for roofing.

divulge /daɪ'vʌldʒ, dɪ-/ ▷ verb (divulged, divulging) to make something known; to reveal (a secret, etc). • divulgence noun. ⓔ 15c: from Latin divulgare to publish widely.

divvy[1] /'dɪvɪ/ slang, noun (divvies) a dividend or share. Also called div or divi. ▷ verb (divvies, divvied, divvying) (also divvy up something) to divide or share it. ⓔ 19c.

divvy[2] /'dɪvɪ/ colloq noun (divvies) a stupid person; a fool. ▷ adj stupid; silly. ⓔ 20c.

Diwali /dɪ'wɑːliː/ or Divali /-'vɑːliː/ ▷ noun the Hindu festival of lights, held in October or November in honour of Lakshmi, goddess of wealth and good fortune. ⓔ 17c: Hindi.

dixie /'dɪksɪ/ ▷ noun (dixies) a metal cooking-pot or kettle. ⓔ 19c: perhaps from Hindi degci a cooking-pot.

Dixieland ▷ noun, music an early style of jazz in New Orleans, played by small combinations of instruments. ⓔ Early 20c: from the name given to the southern states of the US.

DIY ▷ abbreviation do-it-yourself.

dizygotic /daɪzaɪ'gɒtɪk/ ▷ adj, biol developed from two ZYGOTEs or fertilized eggs. Also called fraternal.

dizzy /'dɪzɪ/ ▷ adj (dizzier, dizziest) 1 experiencing or causing a spinning sensation resulting in loss of balance □ feel dizzy □ dizzy heights. 2 colloq silly; not reliable or responsible □ We need a trained nanny, not a dizzy teenager. 3 colloq bewildered. ▷ verb (dizzies, dizzied, dizzying) 1 to make someone dizzy. 2 to bewilder someone. • dizzily adverb. • dizziness noun. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon dysig foolish.

DJ ▷ abbreviation 1 slang dinner jacket. 2 disc jockey.

djinn and djinni see JINNI

DK ▷ abbreviation, IVR Denmark.

dl ▷ abbreviation decilitre or decilitres.

DLitt ▷ abbreviation: Doctor Litterarum (Latin), Doctor of Letters.

DM and D-mark /'deɪ—/ ▷ abbreviation Deutschmark.

DMs ▷ abbreviation, colloq Doc Martens.

DMus ▷ abbreviation Doctor of Music.

DMZ ▷ abbreviation demilitarized zone.

DNA /diːen'eɪ/ ▷ abbreviation deoxyribonucleic acid.

DNA fingerprinting ▷ noun GENETIC FINGERPRINTING.

DNB ▷ abbreviation Dictionary of National Biography.

D-notice ▷ noun a notice sent by the government to newspapers asking them not to publish certain information for reasons of security. ⓔ 1940s: from defence notice.

do[1] /duː/ ▷ verb (does /dʌz/, past tense did, past participle done /dʌn/, present participle doing /'duːɪŋ/.) 1 to carry out, perform or commit something. 2 to finish or complete something. 3 tr & intr to be enough or suitable □ That will do for me □ That will do me. 4 to work at or study □ Are you doing maths? 5 intr to be in a particular state □ Business is doing well. 6 to put in order or arrange. 7 intr to act or behave. 8 to provide something as a service □ do lunches. 9 to bestow (honour, etc). 10 to cause or produce. 11 to travel (a distance). 12 to travel at (a speed). 13 colloq to be an improvement or enhancement to something or someone □ This dress doesn't do much for my figure. 14 colloq to cheat someone. 15 colloq to copy the behaviour of someone; to mimic them. 16 to visit (a place, etc) as a tourist. 17 colloq to ruin something □ Now he's done it! 18 colloq to assault or injure someone □ Tell me, or I'll do you. 19 colloq to spend (time) in prison. 20 colloq to convict someone. 21 intr, colloq to happen □ There was nothing doing. 22 slang to take (drugs). ▷ auxiliary verb 1 used in questions and negative statements or commands, as in Do you smoke?, I don't like wine and Don't do that! 2 used to avoid repetition of a verb, as in She eats as much as I do and She comes here every day, does she? 3 used for emphasis, as in She does know you've arrived. ▷ noun (dos or do's /duːz/) colloq 1 a party or other gathering. 2 something done as a rule or custom □ dos and don'ts. 3 a violent scene; a fracas. ● could do with something or someone would benefit from having them □ We could do with Meg in our team. ● have or be to do with someone or something 1 said of a thing, event, etc: to be related to or connected with something else □ What has that to do with your question? □ It has nothing to do with me. 2 said of a person: to be partly or wholly responsible for something □ I had nothing to do with the arrangement. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon don.

■ do away with someone or something 1 to murder them. 2 to abolish (an institution, etc).

■ do someone or something down to speak of them or it as if unimportant or not very good.

■ do for someone colloq to do household cleaning for them on a regular basis.

■ do someone in colloq 1 to kill them. 2 to exhaust them.

■ do something out to clear out (a room, etc); to decorate it.

■ do someone out of something to deprive them of it, especially by trickery.

■ do someone over slang 1 to rob them. 2 to attack or injure them.

■ do oneself up to dress up.

■ do something up colloq 1 to repair, clean or improve the decoration of a building, etc. 2 to fasten it; to tie or wrap it up.

■ do without something to manage without it.

do

The use of do as a substitute for have in sentences such as I have a more demanding job than you do is sometimes regarded as poor style, and is best avoided in formal contexts.

do² see DOH

do. ▷ abbreviation ditto.

DOA ▷ abbreviation, medicine said especially referring to arrival at hospital: dead on arrival.

doable /ˈduːəbəl/ ▷ adj able to be done. ⓘ 15c.

dob Austral, NZ ▷ verb (dobbed, dobbing) (often dob someone in) to inform on or betray them. ● dobber or dobber-in noun. ⓘ 20c: from 19c English dialect meaning 'to put down'.

dob ▷ abbreviation date of birth.

Dobermann pinscher /ˈdoʊbəmən ˈpɪnʃə(r)/ or Dobermann ▷ noun a large breed of dog with a smooth black-and-tan coat. ⓘ 20c: from Ludwig Dobermann, 19c German breeder's name + German Pinscher terrier.

DOC ▷ abbreviation 1 said of wine: Denominazione di Origine Controllata (Italian), the Italian equivalent of APPELLATION CONTRÔLÉE. Compare DOCG. 2 District Officer Commanding.

doc ▷ noun, colloq a doctor.

DOCG ▷ abbreviation: Denominazione di Origine Controllata e Garantita (Italian), a designation of wines, guaranteeing quality, strength, etc. Compare DOC.

docile /ˈdoʊsaɪl or N Amer ˈdɒsaɪl/ ▷ adj easy to manage or control; submissive. ● docilely adverb in a docile or willing manner. ● docility /doʊˈsɪlɪtɪ/ noun a docile manner. ⓘ 15c: from Latin docilis easily taught.

dock¹ ▷ noun 1 a harbour where ships are loaded, unloaded, and repaired. 2 (docks) the area surrounding this. ▷ verb (docked, docking) tr & intr 1 to bring or come into a dock. 2 said of space vehicles: to link up in space. ● in dock 1 being repaired. 2 colloq said of a person: in hospital. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch docke.

dock² ▷ verb (docked, docking) 1 to cut off all or part of (an animal's tail). 2 to make deductions from (especially someone's pay). 3 to deduct (an amount). ⓘ 14c as dok.

dock³ ▷ noun a weed with large broad leaves and a deep root. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon docce.

dock⁴ noun the enclosure in a court of law where the accused sits or stands. ● in the dock 1 on trial in court. 2 facing criticism. ⓘ 16c: from Flemish dok cage or sty.

docker ▷ noun a labourer who loads and unloads ships. ⓘ 19c.

docket /ˈdɒkɪt/ ▷ noun any label or note accompanying a parcel or package, eg detailing contents or recording receipt. ▷ verb (docketed, docketing) to fix a label to something; to record the contents or delivery of something. ⓘ 15c: possibly from DOCK².

dockland ▷ noun the district round about the docks.

dockyard ▷ noun a shipyard, especially a naval one.

Doc Martens /dɒk ˈmɑːtɪnz/ ▷ noun, trademark (abbreviation DMs) a make of lace-up leather boots and shoes with light thick resilient soles. ⓘ 1960s: named after the inventor of the sole, Klaus Maertens.

doctor /ˈdɒktə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone trained and qualified to practise medicine. 2 N Amer a a dentist; b a veterinary surgeon. 3 someone holding a DOCTORATE. 4 angling a type of fly. ▷ verb (doctored, doctoring) 1 to falsify (eg information). 2 to tamper with something; to drug (food or drink). 3 colloq to sterilize or castrate (an animal). 4 often facetious to give medical treatment to someone. ● what the doctor ordered colloq the very thing that is needed. ⓘ 14c, originally meaning 'a very learned person': Latin, meaning 'teacher'.

doctoral /ˈdɒktərəl/ ▷ adj relating to a DOCTORATE □ a doctoral thesis.

doctorate /ˈdɒktərɪt/ ▷ noun a high academic degree, awarded especially for research. ⓘ 17c.

doctoring ▷ noun practising as a doctor.

doctrinaire /dɒktrɪˈnɛə(r)/ ▷ adj, derog adhering rigidly to theories or principles, often regardless of practicalities or appropriateness. ⓘ 19c: French.

doctrine /ˈdɒktrɪn/ ▷ noun a thing or things taught, especially any one of a set of religious or political beliefs, or such a set of beliefs. ● doctrinal /dɒkˈtraɪnəl/ adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin doctrina teaching.

docudrama /ˈdɒkjʊdrɑːmə/ ▷ noun (docudramas) a play or film based on real events and characters. ⓘ 1960s: a contraction of documentary drama.

document /ˈdɒkjʊmənt/ ▷ noun 1 any piece of writing of an official nature, eg a certificate. 2 computing a file of text produced and read by a computer, especially a word processor. ▷ verb (documented, documenting) 1 to record something, especially in written form. 2 to provide written evidence to support or prove something. ⓘ 15c: from Latin documentum lesson or proof.

documentary /dɒkjʊˈmɛntərɪ/ ▷ noun (documentaries) a film or television or radio programme presenting real people in real situations. ▷ adj 1 connected with, or consisting of, documents □ documentary evidence. 2 of the nature of a documentary; undramatized. ● documentarily adverb. ⓘ 19c as adj (sense 1).

documentation /dɒkjʊmən'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 documents or documentary evidence. 2 the provision or collection of these. ⓘ 18c.

document reader ▷ noun, computing a form of optical character-reader which converts the characters into code and feeds them automatically into the computer.

dodder /'dɒdə(r)/ ▷ verb (doddered, doddering) intr to move in an unsteady trembling fashion, usually as a result of old age. • dodderer noun. • doddering adj. derog failing in body and mind; senile. • doddery adj. ⓘ 19c: possibly a variant of an older word dadder.

doddle /'dɒdəl/ ▷ noun, colloq something easily done or achieved. ⓘ 20c.

dodeca- ▷ combining form, signifying twelve. ⓘ Greek dodeka twelve.

dodecagon /doʊ'dɛkəgɒn/ ▷ noun a flat geometric figure with 12 sides and angles. ⓘ 17c: from Greek dodekagonon, from dodeka twelve + gonia angle.

dodecahedron /doʊdɛkə'hiːdrən/ ▷ noun a solid geometric figure with twelve faces. ⓘ 16c: from Greek dodekaedron, from dodeka twelve + hedra seat.

dodge /dɒdʒ/ ▷ verb (dodged, dodging) 1 to avoid (a blow, a person, etc) by moving quickly away, especially sideways. 2 to escape or avoid by cleverness or deceit. ▷ noun 1 a sudden movement aside. 2 a trick to escape or avoid something. ⓘ 16c.

Dodgems /'dɒdʒəmz/ ▷ plural noun, trademark a fairground amusement consisting of a rink in which drivers of small electric cars try to bump each other. ⓘ 1920s.

dodger /'dɒdʒə(r)/ ▷ noun a shirker; a trickster.

dodgy ▷ adj (dodgier, dodgiest) colloq 1 difficult or risky. 2 untrustworthy; dishonest, or dishonestly obtained. 3 unstable; slightly broken. ⓘ 19c.

dodo /'doʊdoʊ/ ▷ noun (dodos or dodoes) 1 a large flightless bird of the pigeon family, about the size of a turkey, that once lived on the island of Mauritius, and became extinct around the middle of the 17c. 2 colloq any old-fashioned person or thing. 3 colloq a stupid person. • as dead as a dodo colloq 1 extinct. 2 out-of-date; obsolete. ⓘ 17c: from Portuguese doudo silly.

DoE ▷ abbreviation Department of the Environment.

doe /doʊ/ ▷ noun (does /doʊz/ or doe) an adult female rabbit, hare or small deer, eg the fallow deer. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon da.

doer /'duːə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person who does something. 2 a busy active person. 3 said especially of a horse: a healthy animal. ⓘ 14c.

does[1] see under DO[1]

does[2] see under DOE

doesn't /'dʌzənt/ ▷ contraction of does not.

doff ▷ verb (doffed, doffing) old use, literary 1 to lift (one's hat) in greeting. 2 to take off (a piece of clothing). ⓘ 14c: from DO[1] + OFF.

dog ▷ noun 1 any carnivorous mammal belonging to the family which includes the wolves, jackals and foxes. 2 any of many different breeds of a domestic species of this family. 3 the male of any such animal. 4 any of various mammals of other families, eg prairie dog. 5 a mechanical gripping device. 6 offensive slang an unattractive woman. 7 colloq a fellow or rogue. ▷ verb (dogged /dɒgd/, dogging) 1 to follow very closely; to track someone. 2 to trouble or plague someone. • a dog's life a life of misery. • like a dog's dinner colloq, often disparaging dressed smartly or showily. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon docga.

dog biscuit ▷ noun a hard kind of biscuit for dogs. ⓘ 19c.

dogcart ▷ noun a two-wheeled horse-drawn passenger carriage with seats back-to-back. ⓘ 19c in this sense; 17c meaning 'a cart pulled by dogs'.

dog collar ▷ noun 1 a collar for a dog. 2 colloq a CLERICAL COLLAR. ⓘ 19c in sense 2, 16c in sense 1.

dog days ▷ plural noun the hottest period of the year, when the DOG STAR rises and sets with the sun. ⓘ 16c.

doge /doʊdʒ/ ▷ noun the chief magistrate in the former republics of Venice and Genoa. ⓘ 16c: Italian, meaning 'duke'.

dog-eared ▷ adj said of a book: with its pages turned down at the corners; shabby; scruffy. ⓘ 19c; 18c as dog's eared.

dog eat dog ▷ noun ruthless pursuit of one's own interests. Also as adj (dog-eat-dog).

dog-end ▷ noun, slang a cigarette end. ⓘ 1930s.

dogfight ▷ noun 1 a battle at close quarters between two fighter aircraft. 2 a fight between dogs. 3 any violent fight. ⓘ 17c.

dogfish ▷ noun any of various kinds of small shark. ⓘ 15c as doke-fyche.

dogged[1] /'dɒgɪd/ adj determined; resolute. • doggedly adverb. • doggedness noun. ⓘ 16c.

dogged[2] past tense, past participle of DOG doggerel /'dɒgərəl/ ▷ noun 1 badly written poetry. 2 poetry with an irregular rhyming pattern for comic effect. ▷ adj of poor quality. ⓘ 14c, meaning 'worthless'.

doggier, doggies and doggiest see under DOGGY dogging present participle of DOG doggish /'dɒgɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 like or characteristic of a dog. 2 churlish. ⓘ 15c.

doggo /'dɒgoʊ/ ▷ adverb. • lie doggo rather old colloq use to hide; to lie low. ⓘ 19c: probably from DOG.

doggone /'dɒgɒn, 'dɒggɒn/ N Amer ▷ exclamation, indicating annoyance. ▷ adj, adverb damned. Also dog-goned. ⓘ 19c: euphemisms dog on, dog on it for God damn, God damn it.

doggy /'dɒgɪ/ ▷ adj (doggier, doggiest) colloq 1 belonging to, like or relating to dogs. 2 fond of dogs. ▷ noun (doggies) a child's word for a dog. Also doggie (doggies) ⓘ 17c.

doggy-bag ▷ noun a bag in which a customer at a restaurant can take home uneaten food. ⓘ 1960s.

doggy-paddle or doggie-paddle and dog-paddle ▷ noun a basic swimming stroke with short paddling movements like a dog's. ▷ verb, intr to swim using this stroke. ⓘ 20c.

dog-handler ▷ noun a person, especially a police officer, in charge of one or more specially trained dogs. ⓘ 1960s.

doghouse ▷ noun, now chiefly N Amer a KENNEL. • in the doghouse colloq out of favour. ⓘ 17c.

dog in the manger ▷ noun someone who has no need of something but refuses to let others use it. ▷ adj (usually dog-in-the-manger) characteristic of a dog in the manger; possessively selfish.

dogleg ▷ noun a sharp bend, especially on a golf course. ⓘ 19c.

dogma /'dɒgmə/ ▷ noun (dogmas or dogmata /'dɒgmətə/) 1 a a belief or principle laid down by an authority as unquestionably true; b such beliefs or principles in general. 2 colloq an opinion arrogantly stated. ⓘ 16c: Greek, meaning 'opinion'.

dogmatic /dɒg'matɪk/ ▷ adj 1 said of an opinion: forcefully and arrogantly stated as if unquestionable. 2 said of a person: tending to make such statements of opinion. • dogmatically adverb. ⓘ 17c.

dogmatism /'dɒgmətɪzəm/ ▷ noun the quality of being, or the tendency to be, dogmatic. • dogmatist noun.

dogmatize or dogmatise /ˈdɒgmətaɪz/ ▷ verb (dogmatized, dogmatizing) intr to state one's opinions dogmatically. ◎ 17c: from Greek dogmatizein to set out one's opinion.

do-gooder ▷ noun, colloq an enthusiastically helpful person, especially one whose help is unrealistic, impractical and not appreciated.

dog-paddle see under DOGGY-PADDLE dog rose ▷ noun a European wild rose with pink or white flowers.

dogs ▷ plural noun (always the dogs) colloq greyhound racing. ● go to the dogs colloq to deteriorate greatly. ◎ 20c: DOG.

dogsbody ▷ noun, colloq someone who does menial tasks for someone else. Also called hack. ◎ 20c: naval slang meaning 'a junior officer'.

dog's breakfast or dinner ▷ noun anything very messy or untidy.

Dog Star see SIRIUS

dog's-tongue see HOUND'S-TONGUE dog's-tooth see HOUND'S TOOTH dog tag ▷ noun a metal identity disc, etc, for a dog or colloq for a soldier. ◎ 20c.

dog-tired ▷ adj, colloq extremely tired. ◎ 19c.

dogtrot ▷ noun a gentle trotting pace.

dogwood ▷ noun a European shrub with small white flowers and purple berries.

doh or do /doʊ/ ▷ noun, music in sol-fa notation: the first note of the major scale. ◎ 18c: see SOL-FA.

DoI ▷ abbreviation Department of Industry.

doily or doyley /ˈdɔɪlɪ/ ▷ noun (doilies or doyleys) a small decorative napkin of lace or lace-like paper laid on plates under sandwiches, cakes, etc. ◎ 17c: named after Doily, a London draper.

do-in /doʊˈɪn/ ▷ noun, alternative medicine a form of self-applied ACUPRESSURE massage that originated in China and Japan. ◎ 1960s: Japanese, meaning 'the way of energy'.

doings /ˈduːɪŋz/ 1 plural noun activities; behaviour. 2 plural noun, colloq working parts; pieces of equipment. 3 singular noun, colloq something whose name cannot be remembered or is left unsaid.

do-it-yourself (abbreviation DIY) noun the practice of doing one's own household repairs, etc without professional help. ▷ adj designed to be built, constructed, etc by an amateur rather than a fully trained professional. ◎ 1950s.

Dolby /ˈdɒlbɪ/ or Dolby system ▷ noun a system of noise reduction in magnetic audio tape-recording, used to reduce the background hissing sound heard during replay, and to improve the quality of stereophonic sound in cinemas. ◎ 1960s: named after the US engineer Raymond Dolby (born 1933).

dolce /ˈdɒltʃɪ/ ▷ adj, adverb, music to be sung or played gently or sweetly. ◎ 19c: Italian, meaning 'sweet'.

dolce vita /ˈdɒltʃɪ viːtə/ ▷ noun (often la dolce vita) a life of wealth, pleasure and self-indulgence. ◎ 1960s: Italian.

the doldrums /ˈdɒldrəmz/ ▷ plural noun 1 a depressed mood; low spirits. 2 a state of inactivity. 3 (also the Doldrums) meteorol a hot humid region on either side of the Equator where there is generally little or no wind. ◎ 19c: from obsolete dold stupid.

dole /doʊl/ ▷ noun, colloq (the dole) unemployment benefit. ▷ verb (doled, doling) intr (always dole something out) to hand it out or give it out. ● on the dole colloq unemployed; receiving a Job Seekers Allowance (formerly Unemployment Benefit), or another Social Security benefit. ◎ Anglo-Saxon dal share.

dole-bludger ▷ noun, Austral & NZ slang someone who prefers living off state benefits to working.

doleful /ˈdoʊlfʊl/ ▷ adj sad; expressing or suggesting sadness; mournful. ■ dolefully adverb. ■ dolefulness noun. ◎ 13c as doleful: from French doel grief + -FUL.

dolichocephalic see CEPHALIC INDEX doll ▷ noun 1 a toy in the form of a model of a human being, especially a baby. 2 derog, colloq a showy overdressed woman. 3 slang, often offensive any girl or woman, especially when considered pretty. 4 colloq a term of endearment, especially for a girl. ▷ verb (dolled, dolling) (always doll oneself up) to dress smartly or showily. ◎ 17c as noun 1; 16c meaning a female favourite: from the name Dolly, a short form of Dorothy.

dollar /ˈdɒlə(r)/ ▷ noun (symbol $) the standard unit of currency in the US, Canada, Australia and numerous other countries, divided into 100 CENTS. ◎ 18c: originally 16c name for a German Thaler, short for Joachimsthaler, the name of silver coins from Joachimsthal in Bohemia.

dollar diplomacy ▷ noun, chiefly US 1 diplomacy dictated by financial interests. 2 diplomacy that uses financial power to increase political power. ◎ Early 20c.

dollarization ▷ noun /dɒləraɪˈzeɪʃən/ the basing of the value of a country's currency on that of the US dollar. ◎ 20c.

dollop /ˈdɒləp/ ▷ noun, colloq a small shapeless mass of any semi-solid substance, especially food. ◎ 19c; originally 16c, meaning 'a clump (of grass, etc)'.

dolly /ˈdɒlɪ/ ▷ noun (dollies) 1 colloq a child's name for a doll. 2 cinema, TV a frame with wheels on which a film or television camera is mounted for moving shots, permitting forward and sideways movement of the point of view during the action of the scene.

dolly shot ▷ noun, cinema, TV a scene planned to make use of a camera on a DOLLY.

dolma /ˈdɒlmə/ ▷ noun (dolmas or dolmades /-ˈmɑːðiːz/) a vine or cabbage leaf with a savoury stuffing. ◎ 19c: Turkish.

dolman sleeve /ˈdɒlmən —/ ▷ noun a kind of sleeve that tapers from a very wide armhole to a tight wrist. ◎ 20c: from Turkish dolaman a robe with tight sleeves.

dolmen /ˈdɒlmən/ ▷ noun a simple prehistoric monument consisting of a large flat stone supported by several vertical stones. ◎ 19c: perhaps from Breton dol table + men stone.

dolomite /ˈdɒləmaɪt/ ▷ noun 1 geol a mineral composed of calcium magnesium carbonate. 2 a sedimentary carbonate rock (dolostone) containing more than 50 per cent dolomite. ◎ 18c: named after the Dolomites, the mountain range in which it is found.

doloroso /dɒləˈroʊsoʊ/ ▷ adj, adverb, music sorrowful or sorrowfully. ◎ 19c: Italian.

dolorous /ˈdɒlərəs/ ▷ adj, literary causing, involving, or suggesting sorrow or grief. ◎ 14c: from DOLOUR.

dolour or (N Amer) dolor /ˈdɒlə(r)/ noun, poetic sorrow or grief. ◎ 14c: from Latin dolor pain.

dolphin /ˈdɒlfɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a small toothed whale found in seas almost worldwide, both in deep water and near to coasts, one species of which is the smallest marine animal. 2 a RIVER DOLPHIN. ◎ 16c in this form; 14c as delfyn: from Greek delphinos.

dolphinarium /dɒlfɪˈnɛərɪəm/ ▷ noun (dolphinaria or dolphinariums) a large open-air aquarium in which dolphins are kept, both for study and to display to the public. ◎ 20c: from DOLPHIN + aquarium.

dolt /doʊlt/ derog ▷ noun a stupid person. ■ doltish adj. ◎ Anglo-Saxon dol stupid.

DOM ▷ abbreviation, IVR Dominican Republic.

dom. ▷ abbreviation domestic.

-dom ▷ suffix, forming nouns, denoting 1 a state or rank □ serfdom □ dukedom. 2 an area ruled or governed □ kingdom. 3 a group of people with a specified characteristic □ officialdom. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dom judgement.

domain /dəˈmeɪn, dou-/ ▷ noun 1 the scope of any subject or area of interest. 2 a territory owned or ruled by one person or government. 3 math the set of values specified for a given mathematical function. 4 physics in a ferromagnetic substance, eg iron or nickel: a small region within which individual magnetic moments (see MOMENT sense 5) can be aligned, giving that substance permanent magnetic properties. 5 Austral, NZ a public park or recreation area. ⓘ 17c: from French domaine.

dome ▷ noun 1 a roof in the shape of a hemisphere. 2 anything of similar shape. 3 colloq a head. ⓘ 17c; originally 16c meaning 'a house' or 'stately building, etc': from Latin domus house.

domed ▷ adj 1 said of a building, etc: having a dome or domes. 2 dome-shaped. ⓘ 18c.

Domesday Book or Doomsday Book /ˈduːmzdeɪ —/ ▷ noun a survey of all lands in England, ordered by William the Conqueror in 1086, detailing their value, ownership, etc, so called because it was considered to be as authoritative as the Last Judgement or DOOMSDAY. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dom judgement.

domestic /dəˈmestɪk/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to the home, the family or private life. 2 said of animals: not wild; kept as a pet or farm animal. 3 within or relating to one's country; not foreign □ domestic sales and export sales. 4 enjoying home life. ▷ noun 1 colloq a row, usually in the home, between members of a household unit. 2 a household servant. • domestically adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin domesticus, from domus house.

domesticate /dəˈmestɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (domesticated, domesticating) 1 to train (an animal) for life in the company of people. 2 often facetious to make someone used to home life, especially to train someone in cooking, housework, etc. • domestication noun. ⓘ 17c.

domesticity ▷ noun home life, or a liking for it. ⓘ 18c.

domestic science ▷ noun training in household skills, especially cooking; home economics.

domicile /ˈdɒmɪsaɪl/ ▷ noun 1 formal a house. 2 a legally recognized place of permanent residence. ▷ verb (domiciled, domiciling) law to establish or be settled in a fixed residence. ⓘ 19c: from Latin domicilium dwelling.

domiciliary /dɒmɪˈsɪlɪərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 relating to people and their homes. 2 dealing with or available to people in their own homes. ⓘ 19c: from DOMICILE.

dominance /ˈdɒmɪnəns/ ▷ noun 1 command or influence over others. 2 being dominant. ⓘ 19c.

dominant /ˈdɒmɪnənt/ ▷ adj 1 most important, evident or active; foremost. 2 tending or seeking to command or influence others. 3 said of a building, etc: overlooking others from an elevated position. 4 biol denoting a gene, or the characteristics determined by it, whose PHENOTYPE is fully expressed in an individual whether there are two dominant ALLELES, or one dominant and one recessive ALLELE. 5 denoting a characteristic determined by such a gene. 6 biol denoting the most prevalent plant or animal species in a particular community or during a particular period, or describing an animal that occupies a superior position within a group of its own kind. ▷ noun 1 music the fifth note on a musical scale. 2 biol a dominant gene. 3 biol a dominant animal or plant. ⓘ 16c: from DOMINATE.

dominate /ˈdɒmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (dominated, dominating) tr & intr 1 to have command or influence over someone. 2 to be the most important, evident or active of (a group). 3 to enjoy an elevated position over (a place). • dominating adj. • domination noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin dominari, dominatus to be master.

domineer /dɒmɪˈnɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (domineered, domineering) intr to behave in an arrogantly dominant way. • domineering adj overbearing; behaving arrogantly towards others. ⓘ 16c: from Latin dominari to be master.

Dominican /dəˈmɪnɪkən/ ▷ noun a member of a Christian order of friars and nuns originally founded by St Dominic in 1215. ▷ adj belonging or relating to this order.

dominion /dəˈmɪnjən/ ▷ noun 1 rule; power; influence. 2 a territory or country governed by a single ruler or government. 3 formerly a self-governing colony within the British Empire. 4 in the traditional medieval hierarchy of nine ranks of angels: an angel of the fourth-highest rank. Compare SERAPH, CHERUB, THRONE, VIRTUE, POWER, PRINCIPALITY, ARCHANGEL, ANGEL. ⓘ 15c: from Latin dominium ownership.

domino /ˈdɒmɪnoʊ/ ▷ noun (dominoes) 1 any of a set of small rectangular tiles marked, in two halves, with varying numbers of spots, used in the game of dominoes. 2 (dominoes) a game in which these tiles are laid down, with matching halves end to end. 3 a black cloak with a hood and mask attached, worn at masked balls. ⓘ 17c: perhaps from Italian domino! master!, the winner's cry in the game of dominoes.

domino effect ▷ noun the relation of political cause and effect implied by the DOMINO THEORY.

domino scheme ▷ noun a method of antenatal and postnatal care, together with hospital delivery, supervised by the mother's own midwife.

domino theory ▷ noun the theory that a political event can cause a series of similar events in neighbouring areas, like a falling domino causing the others in a row to fall in turn.

Don ▷ noun a Spanish form of address similar to Mr, which is used to indicate respect. See also DOÑA. ⓘ 16c: Spanish, from Latin dominus lord.

don[1] ▷ noun 1 a university lecturer, especially at Oxford or Cambridge. 2 Austral & NZ colloq an expert. • donnish adj. ⓘ 17c: etymology as for DON.

don[2] ▷ verb (donned, donning) to put on (clothing). ⓘ 17c: DO 1 + ON.

Doña /ˈdɒnjə/ ▷ noun a Spanish form of address, similar to Madam, which is used to indicate respect. See also DON. ⓘ 17c.

donate /doʊˈneɪt/ ▷ verb (donated, donating) to give, especially to charity. ⓘ 18c: from Latin donare to give.

donation /doʊˈneɪʃən/ ▷ noun a formal gift, usually of money; an amount given as a gift. ⓘ 15c: from Latin donare, donatum to give.

donder /ˈdɒnə(r)/ S Afr slang ▷ verb (dondered, dondering) to beat up or thrash someone. ▷ noun a scoundrel; a rogue. ⓘ Afrikaans, from Dutch donderen to swear or bully.

done[1] /dʌn/ ▷ adj 1 finished; completed. 2 said of food: fully cooked. 3 socially acceptable. 4 used up. 5 colloq exhausted. ▷ exclamation expressing agreement or completion of a deal. • done for colloq facing ruin or death. • done with something or someone colloq finished with it or them; having dealt with it or them. ⓘ 14c.

done[2] past participle of DO[1] doner kebab /ˈdɒnə(r), ˈdoʊnə(r) —/ ▷ noun thin slices cut from a block of minced and seasoned lamb grilled on a spit and eaten on unleavened bread. ⓘ 1980s: from Turkish döner rotating + KEBAB.

dong[1] ▷ noun 1 a deep ringing sound. 2 Austral, NZ a heavy punch; a thump. ▷ verb (donged, donging) 1 to make this sound. 2 Austral, NZ to punch or thump someone. ⓘ 19c: imitating the sound.

dong[2] ⊳ noun, coarse slang a penis.

donga /ˈdɒŋgə/ ⊳ noun (dongas) originally S Afr a gully made by soil erosion. ⓘ 19c: Zulu, meaning 'bank, side of a gully'.

doning /ˈdoʊnɪŋ/ ⊳ noun, colloq the act of donating (especially blood).

donjon /ˈdʌndʒən, ˈdɒn-/ ⊳ noun a heavily fortified central tower in a medieval castle. ⓘ 14c: a variant of DUNGEON.

Don Juan /dɒn ˈdʒuːən, — ˈhwɑːn/ ⊳ noun a man who is, or claims to be, a regular seducer of women. ⓘ 19c: the name of a legendary Spanish hero.

donkey /ˈdɒŋkɪ/ ⊳ noun (donkeys) 1 the domestic ass, a hoofed herbivorous mammal with a large head and long ears, related to but smaller than the horse. 2 colloq a stupid person. ⓘ 18c.

donkey jacket ⊳ noun a heavy jacket made of a thick woollen fabric, usually black or dark blue, and with reinforced shoulders.

donkey's years ⊳ plural noun, colloq a very long time; ages.

donkey vote ⊳ noun, Austral 1 in a preferential system of voting: a vote accepting the order of candidates on the ballot paper. 2 such votes collectively.

donkey-work ⊳ noun 1 heavy manual work. 2 preparation; groundwork.

Donna /ˈdɒnə/ ⊳ noun an Italian form of address similar to Madam, which is used to indicate respect. ⓘ 17c.

donned past tense, past participle of DON[2] donning present participle of DON[2]

donnish see under DON[1]

donor /ˈdoʊnə(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 someone who donates something, especially money. 2 a person or animal that provides blood, semen, living tissue or organs for medical use. 3 electronics an impurity in the form of a chemical element, such as antimony, that is deliberately added to a pure SEMICONDUCTOR material, such as silicon, donates electrons to the semiconductor, and so increases its conductivity. 4 chem an atom that donates a pair of electrons to an ACCEPTOR, resulting in the formation of a coordinate bond (see COORDINATE noun 3). ⓘ 15c.

donor card ⊳ noun a card indicating that its carrier is willing, in the event of sudden death, to have their healthy organs removed for transplant to others.

donor insemination ⊳ noun (abbreviation DI) artificial insemination using semen from a donor.

don't /doʊnt/ ⊳ contraction of do not. ⊳ noun, colloq something that must not be done □ dos and don'ts.

don't know ⊳ noun 1 someone undecided, especially as to whom to vote for, or who has no definite answer to give to a question. 2 the answer given by such a person.

donut /ˈdoʊnʌt/ see DOUGHNUT doodah /ˈduːdɑː/ and (N Amer) doodad /ˈduːdad/ ⊳ noun, colloq a thing whose name one does not know or cannot remember. ⓘ 20c.

doodle /ˈduːdəl/ ⊳ verb (doodled, doodling) intr to scrawl or scribble aimlessly and meaninglessly. ⊳ noun a meaningless scribble. ▪ doodler noun. ⓘ 20c in these senses: 17c, meaning 'a foolish person'.

doodlebug ⊳ noun 1 US the larva of an ant-lion or other insect. 2 any device, scientific or otherwise, used by prospectors to indicate the presence of minerals. 3 war slang a flying bomb. ⓘ 19c.

doofer /ˈduːfə(r)/ ⊳ noun, slang a thing whose name one does not know or cannot remember. ⓘ 20c: perhaps from (it will) do for (now).

doolally /duːˈlalɪ/ ⊳ adj, slang mentally unbalanced; crazy. ⓘ 20c: from Deolali, a town in Bombay where there was a sanitarium.

doom ⊳ noun inescapable death, ruin or other unpleasant fate. ⊳ verb (doomed, dooming) to condemn someone to death or some other dire fate. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dom judgement.

doomsday ⊳ noun the last day of the world which in Christianity, is the day on which God will judge the human race. ▪ till doomsday colloq for ever. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon domes dæg.

doomwatch ⊳ noun 1 pessimism about the contemporary situation and the future, especially of the environment. 2 observation of the environment to prevent its pollution, etc. ▪ doomwatcher noun.

doona /ˈduːnə/ ⊳ noun (doonas) Austral a DUVET. ⓘ 20c: from a trademark.

door /dɔː(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 a movable barrier opening and closing an entrance, eg to a room, cupboard or vehicle. 2 an entrance. 3 a house considered in relation to others □ three doors away. 4 a means of entry; an opportunity to gain access □ opened the door to stardom. See also WICKET DOOR at WICKET. ▪ close the door to something to make it impossible. ▪ lay something at someone's door to blame them for it. ▪ open the door to something to make something possible. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon duru.

doorbell ⊳ noun a bell on or at a door, rung by visitors at the door as a sign of arrival. ⓘ 19c.

door furniture ⊳ noun handles, locks and other fittings that may be used on doors.

doorjamb /-dʒam/ and doorpost ⊳ noun one of the two vertical side pieces of a door frame.

doorknocker see KNOCKER

doorman ⊳ noun a man, usually wearing uniform, employed to guard the entrance to a hotel, restaurant, theatre, etc and give assistance to guests or customers. ⓘ 19c.

doormat ⊳ noun 1 a mat for wiping shoes on before entering. 2 colloq a person easily submitting to unfair treatment by others. ⓘ 17c.

doorstep ⊳ noun 1 a step positioned immediately in front of a door. 2 slang a thick sandwich or slice of bread. ⊳ verb 1 said especially of politicians, their agents, etc: to go from door to door canvassing (people or an area). 2 said of journalists, etc: to pester someone by waiting at their door. ▪ doorstepper noun. ▪ on one's doorstep close to one's home, etc. ⓘ 19c.

doorstop ⊳ noun 1 a device, especially a wedge, for holding a door open. 2 a device, eg a fixed knob, for preventing a door opening too far. ⓘ 19c.

door-to-door ⊳ adj, adverb 1 going from house to house. 2 said eg of a journey time: between precise points of departure and arrival.

doorway ⊳ noun 1 an entrance to a building or room. 2 the space where there is or might be a door.

dopa /ˈdoʊpə/ ⊳ noun, biochem an AMINO ACID derivative that plays an important role in the production of ADRENALIN and NORADRENALIN, and of the neurotransmitter DOPAMINE, especially L-dopa which is used in the treatment of PARKINSON'S DISEASE. ⓘ Early 20c: from dihydroxyphenylalanine the chemical name for the compound.

dopamine /ˈdoʊpəmiːn/ ⊳ noun, biochem an important chemical compound that functions as a NEUROTRANSMITTER and is also an intermediate in the manufacture of ADRENALIN and NORADRENALIN. ⓘ 1960.

dope ⊳ noun 1 colloq a drug taken for pleasure, especially cannabis. 2 colloq a drug of any kind, especially one given to athletes, dogs or horses to affect performance. 3 colloq a stupid person. 4 (the dope) slang information, especially when confidential. ⊳ verb (doped, doping) 1 to give or apply drugs to (a person or animal), especially dishonestly or furtively. 2 physics to modify (a semiconductor) by DOPING. ⓘ 19c, originally meaning 'a thick liquid': from Dutch doop sauce.

dopey or dopy /ˈdoʊpɪ/ colloq ▷ adj (dopier, dopiest) 1 sleepy or inactive, as if drugged. 2 stupid. ■ dopily adverb. ■ dopiness noun. ⓘ 19c.

doping /ˈdoʊpɪŋ/ ▷ noun, physics the addition of very small amounts of impurities (eg antimony, arsenic) to a crystal of silicon, germanium, etc, in order to convert it into a SEMICONDUCTOR.

doppelgänger /ˈdɒpəlgɛŋə(r)/ ▷ noun an apparition or double of a person. ⓘ 19c: German, meaning 'double-goer'.

Doppler effect and Doppler shift /ˈdɒplə(r) —/ ▷ noun, physics the change in wavelength observed when the distance between a source of waves and the observer is changing, eg the sound change perceived as an aircraft passes by. ⓘ 19c: named after the Austrian physicist Christian Doppler (1803–53).

Doric /ˈdɒrɪk/ ▷ adj, archit denoting an order of classical architecture, characterized by thick fluted columns. Compare COMPOSITE, CORINTHIAN, IONIC, TUSCAN. ⓘ 16c: from Greek Dorikos from Doris in ancient Greece.

dorm ▷ noun, colloq a DORMITORY.

dormant /ˈdɔːmənt/ ▷ adj 1 temporarily quiet, inactive or out of use. 2 biol denoting a living organism or a reproductive body such as a seed, spore or cyst that is in a resting state, especially in order to survive a period of unfavourable environmental conditions. ■ dormancy noun (dormancies). ⓘ 16c, originally referring to heraldic images of sleeping animals : from Latin dormire to sleep.

dormer /ˈdɔːmə(r)/ and dormer window ▷ noun a window fitted vertically into an extension built out from a sloping roof. ⓘ 16c: from DORMITORY (sense 1), in which they were originally fitted.

dormie or dormy /ˈdɔːmɪ/ ▷ adj, golf as many holes up or ahead of one's opponent as there are yet to play □ She's dormie four. ⓘ 19c.

dormitory /ˈdɔːmɪtərɪ/ ▷ noun (dormitories) 1 a large bedroom for several people, nowadays especially in a school. 2 especially US a hall of residence in a college or university. Often shortened to dorm. ⓘ 15c: from Latin dormitorium, from dormire to sleep.

dormitory town and dormitory suburb ▷ noun a town or suburb from which most residents travel to work elsewhere.

Dormobile /ˈdɔːmoʊbiːl/ ▷ noun, trademark a van equipped for living and sleeping in as well as travelling. ⓘ 1950s: from DORMITORY + AUTOMOBILE.

dormouse /ˈdɔːmaʊs/ ▷ noun a small nocturnal rodent with rounded ears, large eyes, velvety fur, and a bushy tail. ⓘ 15c: associated with, but not necessarily derived from, Latin dormire to sleep, from its hibernating habits.

dorp /dɔːp/ ▷ noun, now S Afr a small town or village. ⓘ 16c: Dutch.

Dors. ▷ abbreviation Dorset.

dorsal /ˈdɔːsəl/ ▷ adj, biol, physiol belonging or relating to the back □ dorsal fin. Compare VENTRAL. ⓘ 15c: from Latin dorsum back.

dory[1] /ˈdɔːrɪ/ ▷ noun (dories) a golden-yellow fish of the mackerel family. Also called John Dory. ⓘ 15c as dorre: from French dorée golden.

dory[2] /ˈdɔːrɪ/ ▷ noun (dories) N Amer a small flat-bottomed boat with a sharp prow and stern. ⓘ 18c.

DOS /dɒs/ ▷ abbreviation, computing disk-operating system, a program for handling information on a disk.

dos and do's see under DO[1] dosage /ˈdoʊsɪdʒ/ ▷ noun the prescribed amount of a DOSE of a medicine or drug. ⓘ 19c.

dose /doʊs/ ▷ noun 1 medicine the measured quantity of medicine, ionizing radiation such as X-rays, or some other therapeutic agent that is recommended or prescribed by a doctor to be administered to a patient at any one time, or at regular intervals over a period of time. 2 the amount of ionizing radiation to which a person is exposed over a specified period of time. 3 colloq a bout, especially of an illness or something unpleasant □ a dose of the flu. 4 slang any sexually transmitted disease, especially gonorrhoea. ▷ verb (dosed, dosing) (also dose someone up with something) to give them medicine, especially in large quantities. ■ like a dose of salts colloq extremely quickly and effectively. ⓘ 17c: from Greek dosis giving.

dosh ▷ noun, slang money. ⓘ 20c.

dosimeter /doʊˈsɪmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, physics an instrument for measuring the absorbed dose of radiation.

doss ▷ verb (dossed, dossing) intr, slang (often doss down) to settle down to sleep, especially on an improvised bed. ⓘ 18c: perhaps dialect for HASSOCK.

dosser /ˈdɒsə(r)/ ▷ noun, slang 1 a homeless person sleeping on the street or in a DOSS-HOUSE. 2 a lazy person. ⓘ 19c.

doss-house ▷ noun, slang a very cheap lodging-house for homeless people.

dossier /ˈdɒsɪeɪ, ˈdɒsɪə(r)/ ▷ noun a file of papers containing information on a person or subject. ⓘ 19c: French.

dost /dʌst/ ▷ verb, old use the form of DO used with THOU[1].

dot ▷ noun 1 a small round mark; a spot; a point. 2 in Morse code: the shorter of the two lengths of signal element, written as a point. Compare DASH. ▷ verb (dotted, dotting) 1 to put a dot on something. 2 to scatter; to cover with a scattering □ dotted with daisies. ■ dot the i's and cross the t's 1 to pay close attention to detail. 2 to finish the last few details of something. ■ on the dot exactly on time. ■ on the dot of (a time specified) at exactly that time. ■ the year dot colloq a very long time ago. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dott head of a boil.

dotage /ˈdoʊtɪdʒ/ ▷ noun a state of feeble-mindedness owing to old age; senility. ⓘ 14c: see DOTE.

dotard /ˈdoʊtəd/ ▷ noun someone in their dotage. ⓘ 14c: from DOTE.

dote /doʊt/ ▷ verb (doted, doting) intr to be foolish or weak-minded especially because of old age. ■ doting /ˈdoʊtɪŋ/ adj foolishly or excessively fond of someone. ⓘ 15c in this sense; 13c meaning 'to act or talk foolishly': from Dutch doten to be silly.

■ dote on or upon someone or something to show a foolishly excessive fondness for them.

doth /dʌθ/ ▷ verb DOES (see under DO) old use.

dot matrix printer ▷ noun, computing a computer printer using arrangements of pins from a matrix or set to form the printed characters. Compare INKJET PRINTER, LASER PRINTER.

dotted past tense, past participle of DOT dotted line ▷ noun a line composed of dots or dashes on eg a printed form, that one is instructed to sign on, tear along, etc.

dotted note and dotted rest ▷ noun, music one whose length is increased by one half by a dot placed after it.

dotting present participle of DOT dotty ▷ adj (dottier, dottiest) colloq silly; crazy. ■ dottily adverb. ■ dottiness noun. ■ dotty about someone or something infatuated with them or it.

double /ˈdʌbəl/ ▷ adj 1 made up of two similar parts; paired; in pairs. 2 twice the weight, size, etc, or twice the usual weight, size, etc. 3 for two people □ a double bed. 4 ambiguous □ double meaning. 5 said of a musical instrument: sounding an octave lower □ double bass. ▷ adverb 1 twice. 2 with one half over the other □ folded double. ▷ noun 1 a double quantity. 2 a duplicate or lookalike. 3 an actor's stand-in, used especially in dangerous scenes. 4 a double measure of alcoholic spirit. 5 a racing bet in which any winnings from the first stake become a stake in a subsequent race. 6 a win in two events on the same racing programme. See separate entry DOUBLES. ▷ verb (doubled, doubling) 1 tr & intr to make or become twice as large in size, number, etc. 2 intr to have a second use or function □ The spare bed doubles as a couch. 3 intr to turn round sharply. ● at or on the double very quickly. ● double or quits in gambling: the alternative, left to chance, of doubling or cancelling payment. ⓘ 13c: from French doble, from Latin duplus.

■ double back to turn and go back, often by a different route.

■ double for someone to act as their substitute.

■ double something over to fold one half of it over the other.

■ double up 1 to bend sharply at the waist, especially through pain. 2 (also double up with someone) to share a bedroom with another person.

double act ▷ noun, theat two entertainers working together. ⓘ 20c.

double agent ▷ noun a spy working for two governments with conflicting interests. ⓘ 1930s.

double axel see under AXEL.

double-barrelled or (N Amer) double-barreled ▷ adj 1 said of a gun: having two barrels. 2 said of a surname: made up of two names □ Lloyd-Jones. 3 said eg of a compliment: ambiguous. ⓘ 18c.

double bass ▷ noun the largest and lowest in pitch of the orchestral stringed instruments. Also called string bass. ⓘ 18c.

double bassoon see CONTRABASSOON.

double bill ▷ noun two films, plays, bands, etc presented as a single entertainment, one after the other.

double bind ▷ noun a situation in which conflicting cues are given so that any choice of behaviour will be considered wrong; a dilemma.

double-blind ▷ adj denoting a comparative experiment, trial, etc in which the identity of the CONTROL GROUP is unknown both to the experimenters and the subjects until completion of the experiment. ⓘ 1930s.

double bluff ▷ noun an action or statement which is meant to be seen as a bluff, but which is in fact genuine.

double boiler ▷ noun, N Amer a DOUBLE SAUCEPAN. ⓘ 19c.

double bond ▷ noun, chem a COVALENT BOND formed by the sharing of two pairs of electrons between two atoms.

double-breasted ▷ adj said of a coat or jacket: having overlapping front flaps. ⓘ 18c.

double-check ▷ verb to check twice or again. ▷ noun (double check) a second look, examination, etc. ⓘ 1950s.

double chin ▷ noun a chin with an area of loose flesh underneath. ⓘ 19c.

double concerto ▷ noun, music a concerto written for two solo instruments with orchestra.

double cream ▷ noun thick cream with a high fat content.

double-cross ▷ verb to cheat or deceive (especially a colleague or ally, or someone one is supposed to be helping). ▷ noun such a deceit. ● double-crosser noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

double dagger ▷ noun, printing the symbol ‡. Also called diesis. ⓘ 18c.

double-dealing ▷ noun cheating; treachery. ● double-dealer noun. ⓘ 16c.

double-decker ▷ noun 1 a bus with two decks. 2 colloq anything with two levels or layers. ⓘ 19c.

double door ▷ singular noun and double doors ▷ plural noun a door consisting of two parts hung on opposite posts.

double Dutch ▷ noun, colloq nonsense; incomprehensible jargon. ⓘ 19c.

double-edged ▷ adj 1 having two cutting edges. 2 having two possible meanings or purposes. ⓘ 16c.

double entendre /ˈduːbəl ɑ̃ˈtɑ̃drə/ ▷ noun 1 a remark having two possible meanings, one of them usually sexually suggestive. 2 the use of such remarks. ⓘ 17c: French, meaning 'double meaning'.

double-entry ▷ noun, bookkeeping a method by which two entries are made of each transaction. ⓘ 18c.

double exposure ▷ noun, photog the accidental or deliberate combination of two or more images separately exposed on a single photographic record. ⓘ Late 19c.

double fault ▷ noun, tennis, etc two faults (see FAULT noun 6) served in succession, resulting in loss of a point for the server.

double figures ▷ plural noun the numbers between 10 and 99 inclusive, especially the lower ones. ⓘ 19c: originally applied to cricket scores.

double first ▷ noun 1 a university degree with first-class honours in two different subjects. 2 someone who has gained such a degree. ⓘ 19c.

double-glazing ▷ noun windows constructed with two panes separated by a vacuum, providing added heat insulation. ● double-glazed adj.

double helix ▷ noun the form of the DNA molecule, consisting of two spirals coiled around an axis. ⓘ 1950s.

double-jointed ▷ adj having extraordinarily flexible body joints. ⓘ 19c.

double knitting ▷ noun, knitting a popular weight of yarn, especially for handknitting. ⓘ 19c.

double negative ▷ noun an expression containing two negative words, especially where only one is logically needed □ He hasn't never asked me.

double-park ▷ verb to park at the side of another vehicle parked alongside the kerb.

double pneumonia ▷ noun, medicine the popular name for PNEUMONIA affecting both lungs. ⓘ 19c.

double-quick ▷ adj, adverb very quick or quickly. ⓘ 19c.

doubles ▷ singular noun a competition in tennis, etc between two teams of two players each.

double saucepan ▷ noun a pair of saucepans, the top one fitting tightly into the lower one, and heated by boiling water in the lower one. ⓘ 20c.

double spacing ▷ noun typing with an empty line between each line of type.

double standard ▷ noun (often double standards) a principle or rule applied firmly to one person or group and loosely or not at all to another, especially oneself. ⓘ 1950s.

double star ▷ noun, astron 1 a BINARY STAR. 2 a pair of stars that appear close together when viewed through a telescope, but are in fact at very different distances from Earth, lying in very nearly the same direction from Earth. ⓘ 18c.

doublet /ˈdʌblɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a close-fitting man's jacket, with or without sleeves, popular from the 14c to the 17c. 2 a pair of objects of any kind, or each of these. ⓒ 14c: French.

double take ▷ noun an initial inattentive reaction followed swiftly by a sudden full realization, especially used as a comic device. ⓒ 1930s.

double-talk ▷ noun ambiguous talk, or talk that seems relevant but is really meaningless, especially as offered up by politicians. ⓒ 1930s.

doublethink ▷ noun simultaneous belief in, or acceptance of, two opposing ideas or principles. ⓒ 20c: originally coined by George Orwell in his novel Nineteen Eighty-Four (1949).

double time ▷ noun 1 a rate of pay equal to double the basic rate. 2 music a time twice as fast as that of the previous time. 3 music DUPLE TIME. 4 US a fast marching pace. ⓒ 19c.

double vision ▷ noun seeing two images of the one object, because of lack of co-ordination between the two eyes. ⓒ 19c.

double wedding ▷ noun a wedding involving two couples. ⓒ 18c.

double whammy see under WHAMMY doubloon /dʌˈbluːn/ ▷ noun 1 a gold coin formerly used in Spain and S America. 2 (doubloons) slang money. ⓒ 17c in sense 1; 20c in sense 2: from Spanish doblón.

doubly ▷ adverb 1 to twice the extent; very much more. 2 in two ways. ⓒ 14c.

doubt /daʊt/ ▷ verb (doubted, doubting) 1 to feel uncertain about something; to be suspicious or show mistrust of it. 2 to be inclined to disbelieve something. ▷ noun 1 a feeling of uncertainty, suspicion or mistrust. 2 an inclination to disbelieve; a reservation. • doubter noun. • beyond doubt or beyond a shadow of a doubt certain; certainly. • in doubt not certain. • no doubt surely; probably. • without a doubt or without doubt certainly. ⓒ 15c in modern form; 13c as dute: from Latin dubitare.

doubtful ▷ adj 1 feeling doubt. 2 uncertain; able to be doubted. 3 likely not to be the case. • doubtfully adverb. ⓒ 14c as dutefül.

> doubtful, dubious
>
> • Doubtful means that doubt exists in someone's mind; dubious means that doubt is likely or justified by a situation or circumstance □ She fixed a doubtful gaze on the whiskery young protester □ It was doubtful if Miss Angus liked anyone very much □ The story sounds dubious □ Everyone's position was dubious in some respect.

doubtless ▷ adverb probably; certainly. • doubtlessly adverb.

douche /duːʃ/ ▷ noun 1 a powerful jet of water that is used to clean a body orifice, especially the vagina. 2 an apparatus for producing such a jet. ▷ verb (douched, douching) tr & intr to apply or make use of a douche. ⓒ 18c: French.

dough /doʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a mixture of flour, liquid (water or milk) and yeast, used in the preparation of bread, pastry, etc, usually referring to such a mixture that has been kneaded but not baked. 2 slang money. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dah.

doughier, doughiest and doughiness see under DOUGHY doughnut or (especially US) donut /ˈdoʊnʌt/ ▷ noun 1 a portion of sweetened dough fried in deep fat, sometimes made with a hole in the middle, often filled eg with cream or jam, and sometimes iced. 2 anything shaped like a doughnut. ⓒ 19c.

doughnutting ▷ noun the surrounding of a speaker in parliament by members of the same party, to give the impression on television of a packed House.

doughty /ˈdaʊtɪ/ literary ▷ adj (doughtier, doughtiest) brave; stout-hearted. • doughtily adverb. • doughtiness noun bravery. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dyhtig.

doughy /ˈdoʊɪ/ ▷ adj (doughier, doughiest) like dough, or having the consistency of dough. • doughiness noun.

dour /dʊə(r), daʊə(r)/ ▷ adj stern; sullen. • dourly adverb. • dourness noun. ⓒ 14c: originally Scots: from Latin durus hard.

douse or dowse /daʊs/ ▷ verb (doused, dousing) 1 to throw water over something; to plunge something into water. 2 to extinguish (a light or fire). ⓒ 17c.

the Dove see COLUMBA dove[1] N Amer past tense of DIVE[1] dove[2] /dʌv/ noun 1 any of several members of the pigeon family, especially the smaller species. 2 politics a person favouring peace rather than hostility. Compare HAWK[1] (sense 3). 4 drug-taking slang a tablet of ECSTASY (often with a dove stamped on it). ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dufe.

dovecote or dovecot /ˈdʌvkoʊt, -kɒt/ ▷ noun a building or shed in which domestic pigeons are kept. ⓒ 15c.

Dover sole ▷ noun a FLATFISH, popular as a food fish, found from the Mediterranean to Norway. It has both eyes on the right side of the body, a twisted mouth with teeth on the underside only, and dorsal and anal fins that extend to the tail. Also called European sole.

dovetail ▷ noun a corner joint, especially in wood, made by fitting v-shaped pegs into corresponding slots. Also called dovetail joint. ▷ verb (dovetailed, dovetailing) tr & intr 1 to fit using one or more dovetails. 2 to fit or combine neatly. ⓒ 16c as noun; 17c as verb.

dowager /ˈdaʊədʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a title given to a nobleman's widow, to distinguish her from the wife of her husband's heir. 2 colloq a grand-looking old lady. ⓒ 16c: from French douagiere, from Latin dotare to endow.

dowdy /ˈdaʊdɪ/ ▷ adj (dowdier, dowdiest) said especially of a woman or her clothing: dull, plain and unfashionable. • dowdily adverb. • dowdiness noun. ⓒ 16c: from earlier dowd a slut.

dowel /ˈdaʊəl/ ▷ noun a thin cylindrical (especially wooden) peg, especially used to join two pieces by fitting into corresponding holes in each. ⓒ 14c: from German dovel.

dower /ˈdaʊə(r)/ ▷ noun a widow's share, for life, in her deceased husband's property. ⓒ 15c: from French douaire, from Latin dotare to endow.

dower house ▷ noun a house smaller than, and within the grounds of, a large country house, originally one forming part of a DOWER.

Dow-Jones average and Dow-Jones index /ˈdaʊdʒoʊnz —/ ▷ noun, finance an indicator of the relative prices of stocks and shares on the New York stock exchange. ⓒ Early 20c: named after Charles H Dow (1851–1902) and Edward D Jones (1856–1920), American economists.

down[1] ▷ adverb 1 towards or in a low or lower position, level or state; on or to the ground. 2 from a greater to a lesser size, amount or level □ scaled down □ calm down. 3 towards or in a more southerly place. 4 in writing; on paper □ take down notes. 5 as a deposit □ put down five pounds. 6 to an end stage or finished state □ hunt someone down □ grind down. 7 from earlier to later times □ handed down through generations. 8 to a state of exhaustion, defeat, etc □ worn down by illness. 9 not vomited up □ keep food down. 10 in a crossword: in the vertical direction □ 5 down. Compare ACROSS (adverb 10). ▷ prep 1 in a lower position on something. 2 along; at a further position on, by or through □ down the road. 3 along in the direction of the current of a river. 4 from the top to or towards the bottom. 5 dialect to or in (a particular place) □ going down the town. ▷ adj 1 sad; in low spirits. 2 going towards or reaching a lower position □ a down pipe. 3 made as a deposit □ a down payment. 4 reduced in price. 5 said of a computer, etc: out of action, especially temporarily. ▷ verb (downed, downing) 1 to drink something quickly, especially in one gulp. 2 to force someone to the ground. ▷ exclamation used as a command to animals, especially dogs: get or stay down. ▷ noun 1 an unsuccessful or otherwise unpleasant period □ Life has its ups and downs. 2 (downs) an area of rolling (especially treeless) hills, especially the Downs in southern England. • down by with a deficit (of something specified) □ down by three goals. • down for noted; entered in a list, etc □ Your name is down for the hurdles. • down in the mouth depressed. • down on one's luck in unfortunate circumstances; in a bad way. • down to the ground colloq completely; perfectly. • down tools colloq to stop working, as a protest. • down under colloq in or to Australia and/or New Zealand. • down with ...! let us get rid of ...! • have a down on someone colloq to be ill-disposed towards them. • up and down 1 to and fro. 2 alternately well and ill. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon of dune from the hill.

down² ▷ noun soft fine feathers or hair. ⊙ 14c: from Norse dunn.

down-and-out ▷ adj homeless and penniless, with no hope of earning a living. ▷ noun a down-and-out person. ⊙ 19c.

down-at-heel ▷ adj shabby. ⊙ 19c.

downbeat ▷ adj 1 pessimistic; cheerless. 2 calm; relaxed. ▷ noun, music the first beat of a bar or the movement of the conductor's baton indicating this. ⊙ 19c.

downcast ▷ adj 1 glum; dispirited. 2 said of eyes: looking downwards. ⊙ 13c.

downer ▷ noun 1 colloq a state of depression □ He's been on a downer since his divorce. 2 slang a tranquillizing or depressant drug. ⊙ 1970s in sense 1; 1960s in sense 2.

downfall ▷ noun 1 failure or ruin, or its cause. 2 a heavy fall of rain or snow, especially a sudden one. ⊙ 16c.

downgrade ▷ verb 1 to reduce to a lower grade. 2 to speak of someone disparagingly. ⊙ 1930s.

downhearted ▷ adj dispirited; discouraged; dismayed. ⊙ 18c.

downhill ▷ adverb 1 downwards. 2 to or towards a worse condition. ▷ adj 1 downwardly sloping. 2 becoming increasingly easier. 3 deteriorating. ▷ noun a ski race down a hillside. • go downhill to deteriorate (in health, morality or prosperity). ⊙ 17c as adverb; 1960s as noun.

Downie /ˈdauni/ ▷ noun (Downies) trademark a make of DUVET.

Downing Street ▷ noun, colloq the British Government. ⊙ 18c: named after Downing Street in London, containing the official residences of the Prime Minister and the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

down-in-the-mouth ▷ adj unhappy; depressed.

download ▷ verb, computing to transfer (data) from one computer to another. ⊙ 1970s.

down-market ▷ adj cheap, of poor quality or lacking prestige. ⊙ 1970s.

down payment ▷ noun a deposit.

downpour ▷ noun a very heavy fall of rain. ⊙ 19c.

downright ▷ adj 1 utter □ downright idiocy. 2 plainspoken; blunt. ▷ adverb utterly. ⊙ 13c.

downs and the Downs see under DOWN¹ downside ▷ noun 1 the lower or under side. 2 colloq a negative aspect; a disadvantage.

downsizing ▷ noun the practice of reducing the size of a workforce, especially by redundancies. ⊙ 1970s: originally US referring to reducing the size of cars.

Down's syndrome /dauns—/ ▷ noun, pathol a congenital disorder caused by an abnormality in chromosomes, which results in mental retardation, slow physical development, flattened facial features, and slight slanting of the eyes, which gave rise to the former name for the condition, mongolism. ⊙ 19c: named after the UK physician John L H Down (1828–96).

downstage ▷ adj, adverb, theat at or towards the front of a theatre stage. ⊙ 19c.

downstairs ▷ adverb to or towards a lower floor; down the stairs. ▷ adj on a lower or ground floor. ▷ noun a lower or ground floor. ⊙ 16c.

downstream ▷ adj, adverb further along a river towards the sea; with the current. ⊙ 18c.

downswing ▷ noun 1 a decline in economic activity, etc. 2 golf the part of the golfer's swing where the club is moving towards the ball. ⊙ 19c.

downtime ▷ noun time during which work ceases because a machine, especially a computer, is not working. ⊙ 1950s.

down-to-earth ▷ adj 1 sensible and practical. 2 not at all pretentious. 3 plain-speaking.

downtown ▷ adj, adverb in or towards either the lower part of the city or the city centre. ▷ noun this area of a city. ⊙ 19c.

downtrodden ▷ adj oppressed; ruled or controlled tyrannically. ⊙ 16c.

downturn ▷ noun a decline in economic activity. ⊙ 1920s.

downward /ˈdaunwəd/ ▷ adj leading or moving down; descending; declining. ▷ adverb DOWNWARDS. • downwardly adverb. ⊙ 13c.

downwards ▷ adverb to or towards a lower position or level. ⊙ 15c.

downwind ▷ adverb 1 in or towards the direction in which the wind is blowing; with the wind blowing from behind. 2 behind in terms of wind direction; with the wind carrying one's scent away from (eg an animal one is stalking). ▷ adj moving with, or sheltered from, the wind. ⊙ 17c.

downy ▷ adj (downier, downiest) covered with or made of down; soft like down. ⊙ 16c: from DOWN².

dowry /ˈdauri/ ▷ noun (dowries) an amount of wealth handed over by a woman's family to her husband on marriage. ⊙ 15c in this sense; 14c meaning DOWER.

dowse¹ /dauz/ ▷ verb (dowsed, dowsing) intr to search for underground water with a DIVINING-ROD. • dowser noun. ⊙ 17c.

dowse² see DOUSE

dowsing-rod see DIVINING-ROD doxology /dɒkˈsɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun (doxologies) a Christian hymn, verse or fixed expression praising God. ⊙ 17c: from Greek doxa glory + logos discourse.

doyen /ˈdɔɪən/ ▷ noun, literary the most senior and most respected member of a group or profession. ⊙ 17c: French.

doyenne /dɔɪˈɛn/ ▷ noun a female DOYEN. ⊙ 19c.

doyley see DOILY

doz. ▷ abbreviation dozen.

doze /douz/ ▷ verb (dozed, dozing) intr to sleep lightly. ▷ noun a brief period of light sleep. ⊙ 17c: from Norse dus lull.

▪ doze off to fall into a light sleep.

dozen /ˈdʌzən/ ▷ noun (dozens or, following a number, dozen) 1 a set of twelve. 2 (often dozens) colloq very many ▫ saw dozens of them. ⊙ 13c as dozein: from French douzaine.

dozen, half a dozen

• Although dozen is singular, it is often followed by a plural verb, and general plurality rather than exactness of number is usually implied ▫ There were a dozen or more people in the room.

• The same applies to half a dozen, which is similarly inexact in reference ▫ Lying on the beds were half a dozen prisoners.

dozenth ▷ adj 1 twelfth. 2 denoting an indeterminately high place in a sequence ▫ for the dozenth time.

dozy /ˈdoʊzɪ/ ▷ adj (dozier, doziest) 1 sleepy. 2 colloq stupid; slow to understand; not alert. • dozily adverb. • doziness noun. ⊙ 17c.

DP ▷ abbreviation 1 data processing. 2 displaced person.

DPA ▷ abbreviation Data Protection Authority.

DPh and DPhil ▷ abbreviation Doctor of Philosophy. See also PHD.

DPP ▷ abbreviation Director of Public Prosecutions.

dpt ▷ abbreviation 1 department. 2 optics dioptre.

DR ▷ abbreviation dry riser.

Dr ▷ abbreviation Doctor.

Dr. ▷ abbreviation in addresses: Drive.

dr. ▷ abbreviation drachma.

drab ▷ adj (drabber, drabbest) 1 dull; dreary. 2 of a dull greenish-brown colour. • drably adverb. • drabness noun. ⊙ 16c: perhaps from French drap cloth.

drachm /dram/ ▷ noun a measure equal to ⅛ of an ounce or fluid ounce, formerly used by pharmacists. ⊙ 14c: see DRACHMA.

drachma /ˈdrakmə/ ▷ noun (drachmas or drachmae /-miː/) (abbreviation dr.) the standard unit of currency in Greece. ⊙ 19c in this sense; 16c name for a silver coin of ancient Greece: from Greek drakhme handful.

draconian /drəˈkoʊnɪən, dreɪ-/ and draconic /drəˈkɒnɪk, dreɪ-/ ▷ adj said of a law, etc: harsh; severe. ⊙ 19c: named after Draco, 7c Athenian lawgiver.

draft /drɑːft/ ▷ noun 1 a written plan; a preliminary sketch. 2 a written order requesting a bank to pay out money, especially to another bank. 3 a group of people drafted. 4 especially US conscription. ▷ verb (drafted, drafting) 1 to set something out in preliminary sketchy form. 2 to select and send off (personnel) to perform a specific task. 3 especially US to conscript. ⊙ 17c: a form of DRAUGHT.

draft

A word often confused with this one is draught.

draft-dodger ▷ noun, colloq especially US someone who avoids conscription.

drafty, draftier and draftiest alternative N Amer spellings of DRAUGHTY, DRAUGHTIER and DRAUGHTIEST.

drag ▷ verb (dragged, dragging) 1 to pull someone or something roughly or violently; to pull them or it along slowly and with force. 2 tr & intr to move or make something move along scraping the ground. 3 colloq (usually drag someone away) to force or persuade them to come away. 4 to search (eg a lake) with a hook or dragnet. ▷ noun 1 an act of dragging; a dragging effect. 2 a person or thing that makes progress slow. 3 colloq a draw on a cigarette. 4 colloq a dull or tedious person or thing. 5 colloq women's clothes worn by a man. 6 the resistance to motion that is encountered by an object travelling through a fluid, either in the form of a liquid or gas. • drag one's feet or heels colloq to delay; to be deliberately slow to take action. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon dragan.

▪ drag by said especially of time: to pass slowly.

▪ drag on colloq to proceed or continue slowly and tediously.

▪ drag something out colloq to make it last as long as possible.

▪ drag something up colloq to mention an unpleasant subject long forgotten or not usually introduced.

dragée /ˈdrɑːʒeɪ/ ▷ noun (dragées /ˈdrɑːʒeɪz/) 1 a sweet enclosing a nut or fruit. 2 a medicated sweet. 3 a chocolate drop. 4 a small silvered ball used as a cake decoration, etc. ⊙ 17c: French.

draggle /ˈdragəl/ ▷ verb (draggled, draggling) tr & intr to make or become wet and dirty through trailing along the ground or as if doing so. ⊙ 16c: from DRAG.

dragnet ▷ noun 1 a heavy net pulled along the bottom of a river, lake, etc in a search for something. 2 a systematic police search for a wanted person. ⊙ 16c.

dragon /ˈdragən/ ▷ noun 1 a large, mythical, fire-breathing, reptile-like creature with wings and a long tail. 2 colloq a frighteningly domineering woman. • chase the dragon see under CHASE. ⊙ 13c: from Greek drakon serpent.

dragonfly ▷ noun an insect with a fairly long slender brightly coloured body often metallic in appearance, gauzy translucent wings that cannot be closed, and large eyes covering most of the head, commonly found near still or slow-moving water, and feeding on small insects caught in mid-air. ⊙ 17c.

dragoon /drəˈguːn/ ▷ noun, historical still used in titles of certain British regiments: a heavily armed mounted soldier. ▷ verb (dragooned, dragooning) to force or bully someone into doing something. ⊙ 17c: from French dragon.

drag queen ▷ noun a man who prefers to wear women's clothes, especially a performance artist impersonating a woman.

drag race ▷ noun a contest in acceleration between specially designed cars or motorcycles over a short distance. See DRAGSTER.

drag-racing ▷ noun the activity or sport of competing in a DRAG RACE.

dragster ▷ noun a car designed or adapted to be used in a DRAG RACE. ⊙ 1960s.

drain ▷ verb (drained, draining) 1 to empty (a container) by causing or allowing liquid to escape. 2 (drain something of liquid) to remove liquid from it. 3 to drink the total contents of (a glass, etc). 4 to use up the strength, emotion or resources of (someone). 5 said of a river: to carry away surface water from (land). ▷ noun a device, especially a pipe, for carrying away liquid. • drainer noun a device on which articles can be left to drain, or a draining board. • a drain on something anything that exhausts or seriously depletes a supply. • down the drain colloq wasted; lost. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon dreahnian.

▪ drain away or drain something away to disappear or make it disappear ▫ Our support drained away after relegation.

▪ drain from or off said of liquid, etc: to escape; to flow away.

▪ drain off or away to cause or allow (a liquid) to escape.

drainage ▷ noun the process or a method or system of draining. ⊙ 17c.

drainage basin see CATCHMENT AREA.

draining board ▷ noun a sloping, and often channelled, surface at the side of a sink allowing water from washed dishes, etc to drain away.

drainpipe ▷ noun 1 a pipe carrying waste water or rainwater, especially water from a roof into a drain below ground. 2 (drainpipes) colloq very narrow tight-fitting trousers, especially those of a style popular in the 1950s. ◷ Late 18c.

drake ▷ noun a male duck. ◷ 13c.

Dralon /ˈdreɪlɒn/ ▷ noun, trademark a type of acrylic fibre popular for upholstery fabrics. ◷ 1980s.

dram ▷ noun 1 colloq a small amount of alcoholic spirit, especially whisky. 2 a measure of weight equal to $^1/_{16}$ of an ounce. ◷ 18c in sense 1; 15c in sense 2: see DRACHM.

drama /ˈdrɑːmə/ ▷ noun (dramas) 1 a play; any work performed by actors. 2 plays in general, as an art form. 3 the art of producing, directing and acting in plays. 4 excitement and emotion; an exciting situation. ◷ 16c as drame: from Greek drama.

drama documentary see FACTION².

dramatherapy ▷ noun, psychol a form of therapy in which drama is used as a means of acting out different responses to real-life situations, in order to aid personal development and gain insight into psychological problems and difficulties in personal relationships.

dramatic /drəˈmatɪk/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to plays, the theatre or acting in general. 2 exciting. 3 sudden and striking; drastic. 4 said of a person or behaviour: flamboyantly emotional. ● dramatically adverb. ◷ 16c.

dramatic irony see IRONY¹.

dramatics 1 singular noun or plural noun activities associated with the staging and performing of plays. 2 plural noun exaggeratedly emotional behaviour.

dramatis personae /ˈdramətɪs pɜːˈsoʊnaɪ, ˈdrɑː-, -niː/ ▷ plural noun (often functioning as ▷ singular noun) a) a list of the characters in a play; b) these characters. ◷ 18c: Latin, meaning 'persons of the drama'.

dramatist ▷ noun a writer of plays. ◷ 17c.

dramatize or dramatise ▷ verb (dramatized, dramatizing) 1 to make something into a work for public performance. 2 to treat something as, or make it seem, more exciting or important. ● dramatization noun. ◷ 18c.

dramaturge /ˈdramətɜːdʒ/ and dramaturgist ▷ noun a playwright, especially a literary adviser to a theatre company. ◷ 19c.

dramaturgy /ˈdramətɜːdʒɪ/ ▷ noun the principles of dramatic composition; theatrical art and techniques. ● dramaturgic or dramaturgical adj. ◷ 19c: from DRAMA + Greek ergon work.

Drambuie /dramˈbjuːɪ/ ▷ noun, trademark a Scotch whisky liqueur, flavoured with honey and herbs. ◷ 19c: from DRAM + Scottish Gaelic buidhe 'golden' or 'pleasant'.

drank past tense of DRINK.

drape ▷ verb (draped, draping) 1 to hang cloth loosely over something. 2 to arrange or lay (cloth, etc) loosely. ▷ noun, theat or (especially drapes) N Amer, especially US a curtain or hanging. ◷ 19c in these senses; 15c, meaning 'to weave or make cloth': from French draper.

draper /ˈdreɪpə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who sells fabric, and often HABERDASHERY. ◷ 14c: originally meaning 'a maker of cloth'.

drapery /ˈdreɪpərɪ/ ▷ noun (draperies) 1 fabric; textiles. 2 curtains and other hanging fabrics. 3 art the representation of cloth and clothing. 4 a draper's business or shop. ◷ 13c as draperie.

drastic /ˈdrastɪk/ ▷ adj extreme; severe. ● drastically adverb. ◷ 17c: from Greek drastikos, from draein to act.

drat colloq ▷ exclamation expressing anger or annoyance. ● dratted adj □ The dratted handle's come off. ◷ 19c: probably an alteration of God rot.

draught /drɑːft/ ▷ noun 1 a current of air, especially indoors. 2 a quantity of liquid swallowed in one go. 3 the amount of water required to float a ship. 4 any of the discs used in the game of DRAUGHTS. Also called draughtsman. 5 colloq draught beer. 6 the act of pulling or drawing. 7 a dose of liquid medicine. ▷ adj 1 said of beer: pumped direct from the cask to the glass. 2 said of an animal: especially in compounds used for pulling loads. ● on draught said of beer: stored in casks from which it is served direct. ◷ Anglo-Saxon draht, from dragan to draw.

> draught
>
> A word often confused with this one is draft.

draughtboard ▷ noun a square board marked out in two contrasting colours used for playing draughts and chess. ◷ 18c as draftboard.

draughts /drɑːfts/ ▷ singular noun a game for two people played with 24 discs on a chequered board. ◷ 14c: plural of DRAUGHT, in earlier sense 'a move in chess'.

draughtsman ▷ noun 1 someone skilled in drawing. 2 someone employed to produce accurate and detailed technical drawings. 3 see DRAUGHT noun 4. ◷ 18c.

draughtsmanship ▷ noun skill in drawing, especially in technical drawing.

draughty /ˈdrɑːftɪ/ ▷ adj (draughtier, draughtiest) prone to or suffering draughts of air. ◷ 19c.

Dravidian /drəˈvɪdɪən/ ▷ adj 1 denoting a dark-skinned race of S India. 2 denoting a family of over 20 languages used mainly in India, SE Asia, Africa and the Pacific, including Telugu, Tamil, Kannada and Malayalam. ▷ noun the languages forming this family. ◷ 19c: from Dravida, the old Sanskrit name for one province in S India.

draw /drɔː/ ▷ verb (past tense drew /druː/, past participle drawn, present participle drawing) 1 tr & intr to make a picture of something or someone, especially with a pencil. 2 to pull out, take out or extract something □ draw water from a well □ with swords drawn. 3 intr to move or proceed steadily in a specified direction □ draw nearer. 4 to pull someone along or into a particular position □ drawing her closer to him. 5 to open or close (curtains). 6 to attract (eg attention or criticism). 7 tr & intr (also draw with someone) to end a game with neither side winning; to finish on equal terms with an opponent. 8 to choose or be given as the result of random selection. 9 to arrive at or infer (a conclusion). 10 a) intr (also draw on (a cigarette)) to suck air (through a cigarette); b said of a chimney: to make air flow through a fire, allowing burning. 11 technical said of a ship: to require (a certain depth of water) to float. 12 intr said of tea: to brew or infuse. 13 to disembowel □ hanged, drawn and quartered. 14 to write (a cheque). 15 golf to hit (the ball) too much to the left if right-handed, or too much to the right if left-handed. 16 bowls a to deliver (a bowl) so that it moves in a curve to the point aimed for; b intr to move in a curve to the point aimed for. 17 bridge to force one's opponents to play (all their cards of a suit, especially trumps) by continually leading cards of that suit. 18 billiards, etc to hit (the cue ball) so that it recoils after striking another ball. ▷ noun 1 a result in which neither side is the winner; a tie. 2 a the making of a random selection, eg of the winners of a competition; b a competition with winners chosen at random. 3 the potential to attract many people, or a person or thing having this. 4 the act of drawing a gun. ● be drawn on something to be persuaded to talk or give information □ He refused to be drawn on his plans. ● draw a blank to get no result. ● draw the line to fix a limit, eg on one's actions or tolerance. ◷ Anglo-Saxon dragan.

■ draw back to retreat; to recoil.

■ draw back from something to refuse to become involved in it; to avoid commitment.

■ draw in said of nights: to start earlier, making days shorter.

■ draw on something to make use of assets from a fund or source □ draw on reserves of energy.

■ draw someone out to encourage them to be less shy or reserved.

■ draw something out to make it last a long time or longer than necessary.

■ draw up to come to a halt.

■ draw oneself up to lift oneself into an upright position; to straighten up.

■ draw something up to plan and write (a contract or other document).

drawback ▷ noun a disadvantage. ⓘ 17c.

drawbridge ▷ noun a bridge that can be lifted to prevent access across or allow passage beneath. ⓘ 14c as drawbrugge.

drawer ▷ noun 1 /drɔː(r)/ a sliding lidless storage box fitted as part of a desk or other piece of furniture. 2 /ˈdrɔːə(r)/ someone who draws. 3 (drawers /drɔːz/) old use knickers, especially when large and roomy. ● out of the top drawer colloq of the very best quality or the highest standard. ⓘ 16c in senses 1 and 3; 14c in sense 2: from DRAW.

draw hoe ▷ noun a hoe designed for pulling soil towards one, having a flat blade at about right angles to the handle. Compare DUTCH HOE.

drawing ▷ noun 1 any picture made up of lines, especially one drawn in pencil. 2 the act or art of drawing.

drawing-board ▷ noun a board to which paper is fixed for drawing on. ● go back to the drawing-board to return to the planning stage in order to find a more successful approach. ⓘ 18c.

drawing-pin ▷ noun a pin with a broad flat head, used especially for fastening paper to a board or wall. ⓘ 19c.

drawing-room ▷ noun a sitting-room or living-room. ⓘ 17c: originally 16c as withdrawing room.

drawl ▷ verb (drawled, drawling) tr & intr to speak or say in a slow lazy manner, especially with prolonged vowel sounds. ⓘ 16c: possibly connected with DRAW.

drawn[1] ▷ adj showing signs of mental strain or tiredness. ⓘ 19c.

drawn[2] ▷ past participle of DRAW drawn[3] ▷ adj, in compounds pulled by □ horse-drawn.

drawn-out ▷ adj tedious; prolonged.

drawn-thread work and drawn work ▷ noun, needlecraft ornamental work done by pulling out some of the threads of fabric.

draw-sheet ▷ noun in nursing: a sheet that can be removed from under a patient.

drawstring ▷ noun a cord sewn inside a hem eg on a bag or piece of clothing, closing up the hem when pulled. ⓘ 19c.

dray[1] ▷ noun a low horse-drawn cart used for heavy loads. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dræge, from dragan to draw.

dray[2] see DREY

dread /drɛd/ ▷ noun great fear or apprehension. ▷ verb (dreaded, dreading) to look ahead to something with dread. ▷ adj, literary inspiring awe or great fear. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ondrædan.

dreaded ▷ adj 1 greatly feared. 2 loosely much disliked.

dreadful ▷ adj 1 inspiring great fear; terrible. 2 loosely very bad, unpleasant or extreme. ● dreadfully adverb 1 terribly. 2 colloq extremely; very □ It's dreadfully late. ⓘ 13c.

dreadlocks ▷ plural noun thin braids of hair tied tightly all over the head, especially worn by a RASTAFARIAN. Often shortened to dreads. ⓘ 1960s.

dreadnought ▷ noun 1 a heavily armed battleship, originally built 1905–6. 2 a fearless person.

dream /driːm/ ▷ noun 1 a series of unconscious thoughts and mental images that are experienced during sleep. 2 a state of complete engrossment in one's own thoughts. 3 a distant ambition, especially an unattainable one. 4 colloq an extremely pleasing person or thing □ He's a dream to work with. 5 colloq, as adj luxurious, ideal. ▷ verb (dreamed /driːmd, drɛmt/ or dreamt /drɛmt/, dreaming) 1 tr & intr to have thoughts and visions during sleep. 2 (usually dream of something) a to have a distant ambition or hope; b to imagine or conceive of something. 3 intr to have extravagant and unrealistic thoughts or plans. 4 intr to be lost in thought. ● dreamer noun. ● dreamless adj. ● like a dream colloq extremely well, easily or successfully. ⓘ 13c as dreme.

■ dream something up to devise or invent something unusual or absurd.

dreamboat ▷ noun, slang an ideal romantic partner. ⓘ 1940s.

dreamier, dreamiest, dreamily and dreaminess see under DREAMY dream ticket ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer an ideal or optimum list, or especially pair, of electoral candidates. ⓘ 1980s.

dream time ▷ noun in Aboriginal folklore: the time when the earth and patterns of life on earth took shape. Also called alcheringa. ⓘ 1940s.

dreamy ▷ adj (dreamier, dreamiest) 1 unreal, as if in a dream. 2 having or showing a wandering mind. 3 colloq lovely. ● dreamily adverb. ● dreaminess noun. ⓘ 16c.

dreary /ˈdrɪərɪ/ ▷ adj (drearier, dreariest) 1 dull and depressing. 2 uninteresting. ● drearily adverb. ● dreariness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dreorig bloody or mournful.

dredge[1] /drɛdʒ/ ▷ verb (dredged, dredging) tr & intr to clear the bottom of or deepen (the sea or a river) by bringing up mud and waste. ▷ noun a machine for dredging, with a scooping or sucking action. ⓘ 15c.

■ dredge something up colloq to mention or bring up something long forgotten.

dredge[2] /drɛdʒ/ ▷ verb (dredged, dredging) to sprinkle (food), eg with sugar or flour. ⓘ 16c: from French dragie sugar-plum.

dredger[1] ▷ noun a barge or ship fitted with a dredge.

dredger[2] ▷ noun a container with a perforated lid for dredging (eg flour).

dregs ▷ plural noun 1 solid particles in a liquid that settle at the bottom. 2 worthless or contemptible elements. ⓘ 14c: from Norse dregg.

drench ▷ verb (drenches, drenched, drenching) 1 to make something or someone soaking wet. 2 to administer liquid medicine to (an animal). ▷ noun a dose of liquid medicine for an animal. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon drencan to cause to drink.

Dresden china, Dresden porcelain and Dresden ware ▷ noun a fine decorated china made in Saxony since 1710.

dress ▷ verb (dresses, dressed, dressing) 1 tr & intr to put clothes on; to wear, or make someone wear, clothes (of a certain kind). 2 to treat and bandage (wounds). 3 to prepare, or add seasoning or a sauce to (food). 4 to arrange a display in (a shop window). 5 to shape and smooth (especially stone). 6 intr to put on or have on formal evening wear. ▷ noun 1 a woman's garment with top and skirt in one piece. 2 clothing; wear ▫ in evening dress. ▷ adj formal; for wear in the evenings ▫ dress jacket. ⓘ 14c: from French dresser to prepare.

■ dress someone down to scold them.

■ dress up 1 to put on fancy dress. 2 to dress in very smart or formal clothes.

■ dress something up to make it appear more pleasant or acceptable by making additions or alterations.

dressage /ˈdresɑːʒ/ ▷ noun the training of a horse in, or performance of, set manoeuvres signalled by the rider. ⓘ 1930s: from French.

dress circle ▷ noun, theat a balcony in a theatre, especially the first above the ground floor. ⓘ 19c.

dressed past tense, past participle of DRESS. ● get dressed to dress.

dresser ▷ noun 1 a free-standing kitchen cupboard with shelves above, for storing and displaying dishes, etc. 2 US a chest of drawers or dressing-table. 3 a theatre assistant employed to help stage actors with their costumes. 4 a person who dresses in a particular way. 5 a tool used for dressing stone, etc. 6 a WINDOW-DRESSER.

dressier, dressiest and dressily see under DRESSY dressing ▷ noun 1 cookery any sauce added to food, especially salad. 2 N Amer cookery STUFFING. 3 a covering for a wound. 4 agric a an application of fertilizer to the soil surface; b chemical treatment of seeds, especially those of cereal crops, before sowing in order to control fungal diseases.

dressingdown ▷ noun a reprimand. ⓘ 19c.

dressinggown ▷ noun a loose robe worn informally indoors, especially over nightclothes. ⓘ 18c.

dressingroom ▷ noun 1 theat a room backstage where a performer can change clothing, apply makeup, etc. 2 any room used when changing clothing. ⓘ 17c.

dressing station ▷ noun a first-aid post where the wounded are collected and given emergency treatment. ⓘ 19c.

dressingtable ▷ noun a piece of bedroom furniture typically with drawers and a large mirror. ⓘ 17c.

dressmaking ▷ noun the craft or business of making especially women's clothes. ● dressmaker noun. ⓘ 19c.

dress rehearsal ▷ noun 1 theat the last rehearsal of a performance, with full costumes, lighting and other effects. 2 a practice under real conditions, or an event considered as such in relation to another more important. ⓘ 19c.

dress sense ▷ noun sense of style in dress; skill in choosing clothing that suits a person best.

dress shield ▷ noun a pad of material that protects the armpit of a dress, etc from sweat. ⓘ 19c.

dress shirt noun a man's formal shirt worn with a dinner-jacket.

dressy ▷ adj (dressier, dressiest) 1 dressed or dressing stylishly. 2 said of clothes: for formal wear; elegant. 3 colloq fancy; over-decorated. ● dressily adverb. ⓘ 18c.

drew past tense of DRAW drey and dray /dreɪ/ ▷ noun (dreys; drays) a squirrel's nest. ⓘ 17c.

dribble /ˈdrɪbəl/ ▷ verb (dribbled, dribbling) 1 intr to fall or flow in drops. 2 intr to allow saliva to run slowly down from the mouth. 3 tr & intr, football, hockey, etc to move along keeping (a ball) in close control with frequent short strokes. 4 tr & intr, basketball to run while continuously bouncing the ball using only one hand. ▷ noun (dribbles) 1 a small quantity of liquid, especially saliva. 2 football, hockey, etc an act of dribbling a ball. ⓘ 16c: from obsolete drib to fall or let fall in drops.

driblet ▷ noun a very small amount, especially of liquid. ⓘ 16c, originally meaning 'a small amount of money': see DRIBBLE.

dribs and drabs ▷ plural noun very small quantities at a time. ⓘ 18c.

dried past tense, past participle of DRY drier[1] or dryer /ˈdraɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a device or substance that dries clothing, hair, paint, etc. 2 a person or thing that dries. ⓘ 16c in sense 2.

drier[2], dries and driest see under DRY drift ▷ noun 1 geol superficial deposits of rock material that have been carried from their place of origin by glaciers. 2 geol CONTINENTAL DRIFT. 3 a general movement or tendency to move. 4 the movement of a stretch of sea in the direction of a prevailing wind. 5 degree of movement off course caused by wind or a current. 6 the general or essential meaning of something. ▷ verb (drifted, drifting) intr 1 to float or be blown along or into heaps. 2 to move aimlessly or passively from one place or occupation to another. 3 to move off course. ⓘ 13c: Norse, meaning 'snowdrift'.

drifter ▷ noun 1 a fishing-boat that uses a DRIFT NET. 2 someone who moves from place to place, settling in none. ⓘ 19c.

drift net ▷ noun a large fishing net allowed to drift with the tide. ⓘ 19c.

driftwood ▷ noun wood floating near, or washed up on, a shore. ⓘ 17c.

drill[1] ▷ noun 1 a tool for boring holes. 2 a training exercise, or a session of it. 3 colloq correct procedure; routine. ▷ verb (drilled, drilling) 1 to make (a hole) with a drill; to make a hole in something with a drill. 2 to exercise or teach through repeated practice. ⓘ 17c: probably from Dutch drillen to bore.

drill[2] ▷ noun thick strong cotton cloth. ⓘ 18c: from German Drillich ticking.

drill[3] ▷ noun 1 a shallow furrow in which seeds are sown. 2 the seeds sown or plants growing in such a row. 3 a machine for sowing seeds in rows. ▷ verb (drilled, drilling) to sow (seeds) in rows. ⓘ 18c: possibly from DRILL[1].

drill[4] ▷ noun a W African baboon related to, but smaller than, the MANDRILL. ⓘ 17c: from a W African language.

drill bit ▷ noun a removable cutting and boring head in a drill.

drilling platform ▷ noun a floating or fixed offshore structure supporting a DRILLING RIG.

drilling rig and drill rig ▷ noun the complete apparatus and structure required for drilling an oil well. ⓘ Early 20c.

drily see under DRY drink ▷ verb (drank, drunk, drinking) 1 tr & intr to swallow (a liquid); to consume (a liquid) by swallowing. 2 intr to drink alcohol; to drink alcohol to excess. 3 to get oneself into a certain state by drinking alcohol ▫ drank himself into a stupor. ▷ noun 1 an act of drinking. 2 liquid suitable for or intended for drinking. 3 alcohol of any kind or the habit of drinking alcohol to excess. 4 a glass or amount of drink. 5 (the drink) colloq the sea. ● drinkable adj fit to be drunk. ● drinker noun someone who drinks, especially alcohol, and especially too much. ● drink someone under the table to continue drinking and remain sober (or comparatively so) after one's companion has completely collapsed. ● drink the health of someone or drink to the health of someone to drink a toast to them. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon drincan.

■ drink something in 1 to listen to it eagerly. 2 to absorb it.

■ drink to someone or something to drink a toast to them.

■ drink up 1 to finish (a drink) by drinking. 2 to finish drinking.

drink-driving ▷ noun the act or practice of driving while under the influence of alcohol. ● drink-driver noun. ⓘ 1960s.

drinking ▷ noun the act or habit of drinking. ▷ adj fit for or intended for drinking □ drinking water. ⓘ 13c.

drinking fountain ▷ noun a device which produces a flow or jet of drinking water, especially in public places. ⓘ 19c.

drinking-up time ▷ noun in a public house: the few minutes allowed after official closing time for customers to finish their last drinks before leaving. ⓘ 1960s.

drip ▷ verb (dripped, dripping) 1 tr & intr to release or fall in drops. 2 intr to release a liquid in drops □ Don't leave the tap dripping. 3 tr & intr, colloq to bear or contain an impressive or excessive amount of something □ a film dripping with sentimentality. ▷ noun 1 the action or noise of dripping. 2 a a device for passing a liquid solution slowly and continuously into a vein; b the act or process of introducing a liquid in this way; c the solution introduced in this way. Also called drip-feed. 3 derog, colloq someone who lacks spirit or character. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dryppan.

drip-dry ▷ adj said of a garment or fabric: requiring little or no ironing if hung up to dry by dripping. ▷ verb, tr & intr to dry in this way. ⓘ 1950s.

drip-feed ▷ noun a DRIP (noun 2). ▷ verb to feed something or someone with a liquid using a drip.

dripping¹ ▷ noun fat from roasted meat, especially when solidified.

dripping² present participle of DRIP drive ▷ verb (past tense drove, past participle driven /ˈdrɪvən/ , driving) 1 a to control the movement of (a vehicle); b to be legally qualified to do so. 2 intr to travel in a vehicle. 3 to take or transport someone or something in a vehicle. 4 to urge or force someone or something to move □ drive cattle □ boats driven on to the beach by the storm. 5 to make someone or something get into a particular state or condition □ Her chatter drives me to distraction □ It drove me crazy. 6 to force by striking □ drove the nail into the wood. 7 to produce motion in something; to make it operate □ machinery driven by steam. 8 sport a in golf: to hit (a ball), especially from the tee and using a DRIVER; b in cricket: to hit (a ball) forward with an upright bat; c to hit or kick (a ball, etc) with great force. 9 to conduct or dictate □ drive a hard bargain. ▷ noun 1 a trip in a vehicle; travel by road. 2 a path for vehicles, leading from a private residence to the road outside. Also called driveway. 3 (Drive) a street title in an address. 4 energy and enthusiasm. 5 an organized campaign; a group effort □ an economy drive. 6 operating power, or a device supplying this. 7 a forceful strike of a ball in various sports. 8 a united movement forward, especially by a military force. 9 a meeting to play a game, especially cards. ● drivability or driveability noun. ● drivable or driveable adj. ● be driven by something to be motivated by it □ They were driven to steal by sheer hunger. ● be driving at something to intend or imply it as a meaning or conclusion □ What is he driving at? ● drive something home 1 to make it clearly understood. 2 to force (a bolt, nail, etc) completely in. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon drifan.

drive-in ▷ adj said of a cinema, restaurant, etc: providing a service or facility for customers remaining seated in vehicles. Also as noun. ⓘ 1930s.

drivel /ˈdrɪvəl/ ▷ noun nonsense. ▷ verb (drivelled, drivelling) intr 1 to talk nonsense. 2 to dribble or slaver. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dreflian to dribble.

driver ▷ noun 1 someone who drives a vehicle. 2 a large-headed golf club for hitting the ball from the tee. 3 any device, etc that drives something. ● in the driver's seat colloq in a controlling or commanding position.

drive-through ▷ noun especially N Amer a shop, restaurant, etc from a window of which drivers can be served without leaving their cars.

driveway see under DRIVE driving /ˈdraɪvɪŋ/ ▷ noun the act, practice or way of driving vehicles. ▷ adj 1 producing or transmitting operating power □ driving wheel. 2 heavy and windblown □ driving rain. 3 providing the motive for determined hard work □ her driving ambition.

driving licence ▷ noun an official licence to drive a motor vehicle.

driving seat ▷ noun the seat in a vehicle in which the driver sits. ● in the driving seat colloq in a controlling or commanding position.

driving test ▷ noun a test of ability to drive safely, especially an official or obligatory test.

drizzle /ˈdrɪzəl/ ▷ noun fine light rain. ▷ verb (drizzled, drizzling) intr to rain lightly. ● drizzly adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dreosan to fall.

drogue /droʊg/ ▷ noun 1 a conical canvas sleeve open at both ends, used as one form of sea-anchor, to check the way of an aircraft, etc. 2 a WINDSOCK.

droll /droʊl/ ▷ adj oddly amusing or comical. ● drollery noun. ● drolly /ˈdroʊllɪ/ adverb. ⓘ 17c: from French drôle.

dromedary /ˈdrɒmədərɪ, ˈdrʌ-/ ▷ noun (dromedaries) a breed of single-humped camel, capable of moving at speed across the desert, and much used as a means of transport in N Africa, the Middle East and India. Compare BACTRIAN CAMEL. ⓘ 14c: from Greek dromados running.

drone ▷ verb (droned, droning) intr to make a low humming noise. ▷ noun 1 a deep humming sound. 2 a male honeybee that does not contribute to the maintenance of the colony, and whose sole function is to mate with the queen. Compare QUEEN 3, WORKER. 3 a lazy person, especially one living off others. 4 a the bass-pipe of a set of bagpipes; b the low sustained note it produces. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon dran drone (bee).

■ drone on to talk at length in a tedious monotonous voice.

drongo /ˈdrɒŋgoʊ/ ▷ noun (drongoes or drongos) 1 Austral slang an idiot; a no-hoper. 2 any member of a family of glossy-black, fork-tailed, insectivorous birds found in tropical regions of Africa, Asia and Australia. ⓘ 19c: from the Malagasay name for the bird.

drool ▷ verb (drooled, drooling) intr to dribble or slaver. ⓘ 19c: alteration of DRIVEL.

■ drool over something to show uncontrolled admiration for it or pleasure at the sight of it.

droop ▷ verb (drooped, drooping) intr 1 to hang loosely; to sag. 2 to be or grow weak with tiredness. ▷ noun a drooping state. ⓘ 14c: from Norse drupa.

droopy ▷ adj (droopier, droopiest) hanging loosely; drooping. ● droopily adverb. ● droopiness noun. ⓘ 13c.

drop ▷ verb (dropped, dropping) 1 tr & intr to fall or allow to fall. 2 tr & intr to decline or make something decline; to lower or weaken. 3 to give up or abandon (eg a friend or a habit); to stop doing something. 4 to stop discussing (a topic). 5 (also drop someone or something off) to set them down from a vehicle; to deliver or hand them in. 6 to leave or take out someone or something □ They've dropped me from the team. 7 to mention something casually □ drop a hint. 8 to fail to pronounce (especially a consonant) □ drop one's h's. 9 colloq to write informally □ Drop me a line. 10 rugby to score (a goal) by a DROP KICK. 11 coarse slang except when said of an animal to give birth to (a baby). 12 slang to beat to the ground. ▷ noun 1 a small round or pear-shaped mass of liquid, especially when falling; a small amount (of liquid). 2 a descent; a fall. 3 a vertical distance. 4 a decline or decrease. 5 any small round or pear-shaped object, eg an earring or boiled sweet. 6 (drops) liquid medication administered in small amounts □ eye drops. 7 a delivery. 8 in compounds (usually drop-) used of something that drops, or that is used in or for dropping. ● at the drop of a hat colloq promptly; for the slightest reason. ● let something drop to make it known inadvertently or as if inadvertently. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon droppian.

■ drop back or behind to get left behind others in a group.

■ drop in or by to pay a brief unexpected visit.

■ drop into something to pass idly or passively into (a habit, etc).

■ drop off 1 colloq to fall asleep. 2 to become less; to diminish; to disappear.

■ drop out 1 to withdraw from an activity. 2 colloq to adopt an alternative lifestyle as a reaction against traditional social values. See also DROPOUT.

■ drop out of something to withdraw eg from a pre-arranged activity.

drop-dead ▷ adj, slang stunning or breathtaking, particularly in a sexual way □ His new boyfriend is drop-dead gorgeous.

drop forging ▷ noun the process of shaping metal parts by forging between two dies, one fixed to the hammer and the other to the anvil of a steam or mechanical hammer. ⓒ 19c.

drop goal ▷ noun, rugby a goal secured by a DROP KICK.

drop-in ▷ adj said of a café, day centre, clinic, etc, especially one managed by a charity or the social services: where clients are free to attend informally and casually. ⓒ 20c.

drop kick rugby ▷ noun a kick in which the ball is released from the hands and struck as it hits the ground. ▷ verb (drop-kick) to kick (a ball) in this way. ⓒ 19c.

drop-leaf ▷ adj said of a desk or table: with a hinged leaf or leaves which can be put into horizontal position when required, but which can be stored in a vertical position. ⓒ 19c.

droplet ▷ noun a tiny drop. ⓒ 17c.

dropout ▷ noun 1 a student who quits before completing a course of study. 2 a person whose alternative lifestyle is a reaction against traditional social values; any unconventional person. See also DROP OUT at DROP. ⓒ 20c.

drop-out ▷ noun 1 telecomm a brief loss of signal, especially in magnetic recording. 2 computing a patch which fails to record data on a magnetic tape.

dropper ▷ noun 1 a short narrow glass tube with a rubber bulb on one end, for applying liquid in drops. 2 a person or thing that drops.

droppings ▷ plural noun animal or bird faeces.

drop-scone ▷ noun a small thick pancake.

drop-shot ▷ noun in tennis, badminton, etc: a shot hit so that it drops low and close to the net, immediately after clearing it.

dropsy /ˈdrɒpsɪ/ ▷ noun the former name for OEDEMA (sense 1). ● dropsical adj. ⓒ 13c: from Greek hydrops, from hydor water.

drosophila /drɒˈsɒfɪlə/ ▷ noun (drosophilas or drosophilae /-fɪliː/) any of various small yellow fruit flies widely used in genetic experiments. ⓒ 19c: from Greek drosos dew or moisture + phileein to love.

dross ▷ noun 1 waste coal. 2 scum that forms on molten metal. 3 derog colloq rubbish; any worthless substance. ● drossy adj. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dros.

drought /draʊt/ ▷ noun a prolonged lack of rainfall. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon drugath dryness.

drove[1] past tense of DRIVE drove[2] ▷ noun 1 a moving herd of animals, especially cattle. 2 a large moving crowd. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon draf herd.

drover ▷ noun, historical someone employed to drive farm animals to and from market.

drown ▷ verb (drowned, drowning) 1 intr to die by suffocation as a result of inhaling liquid, especially water, into the lungs. 2 to kill by suffocation in this way. 3 to apply an excessive amount of liquid to something; to soak or flood it. ● drown one's sorrows colloq to become drunk in order to forget one's troubles. ⓒ Middle English drounen.

■ drown something out to suppress the effect of one sound with a louder one.

drowse /draʊz/ ▷ verb (drowsed, drowsing) intr to sleep lightly for a short while; to be in a pleasantly sleepy state. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon drusian to be sluggish.

drowsy ▷ adj (drowsier, drowsiest) 1 sleepy; causing sleepiness. 2 lethargic. 3 quiet and peaceful. ● drowsily adverb. ● drowsiness noun.

drub ▷ verb (drubbed, drubbing) 1 to defeat severely. 2 to beat; to thump. ● drubbing noun. ⓒ 17c: from Arabic daraba to beat.

drudge ▷ verb (drudged, drudging) intr to do hard, tedious or menial work. ▷ noun a servant; a labourer. ● drudgery noun. ⓒ 16c.

drug ▷ noun 1 any chemical substance which, when taken into the body or applied externally, has a specific effect on its functioning. 2 any such substance, especially one which is abused, habitual or addictive, and possession of which is illegal. 3 anything craved for. ▷ verb (drugged, drugging) 1 to administer a drug to (a person or animal). 2 to poison or stupefy with drugs. 3 to mix or season (food) with drugs. ● a drug on the market a commodity in plentiful supply but not in demand. ⓒ 14c: from French drogue.

drug addict ▷ noun someone who has become dependent on drugs. ⓒ Early 20c.

drug addiction ▷ noun the physical and psychological state of dependence that results from taking certain drugs habitually.

drugget /ˈdrʌgɪt/ ▷ noun 1 thick coarse woollen fabric. 2 a protective cover for a floor or carpet made from this. ⓒ 16c: from French droguet waste fabric.

druggie or druggy /ˈdrʌgɪ/ ▷ noun (druggies) colloq a drug addict. Also as adj. ⓒ 1960s.

druggist ▷ noun, now N Amer, especially US a pharmacist. ⓒ 17c.

drugstore ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US a chemist's shop, especially one also selling refreshments.

druid or Druid /ˈdruːɪd/ ▷ noun 1 a member of a Celtic order of priests in N Europe in pre-Christian times. 2 an eisteddfod official. ● druidic or druidical adj. ● druidism noun. ⓒ 16c: from Gaulish druides.

drum ▷ noun 1 a percussion instrument consisting of a hollow frame with a skin or other membrane stretched tightly across its opening, sounding when struck. 2 any object resembling this in shape, especially a cylindrical container. 3 an eardrum. ▷ verb (drummed, drumming) 1 intr to beat a drum. 2 tr & intr to make or cause to make continuous tapping or thumping sounds. ● beat or bang the drum for something to try to interest people in it; to publicize it. ⓒ 16c: related to German Trommel, imitating the sound made.

■ drum something in or into someone to force it into their mind through constant repetition.

■ drum someone out to expel them.

■ drum something up colloq to achieve or attract it by energetic persuasion □ managed to drum up more support.

drum and bass or drum'n' bass ▷ noun fast rhythmic music influenced by HARDCORE, TECHNO, REGGAE and HIP-HOP, characterized by very low bass lines and complex percussion breaks (see BREAK noun 12). Also (popularly) called JUNGLE. ◉ 1990s: originating in the UK.

drumbeat ▷ noun the sound made when a drum is hit.

drumhead ▷ noun the part of a drum that is struck; the skin. ◉ 17c.

drumlin ▷ noun, geol a small elongated oval hill produced by the pressure of ice moving over glacial deposits, often found in groups. ◉ 19c: from Scottish and Irish Gaelic druim back.

drum machine ▷ noun a SYNTHESIZER for simulating the sound of drums and other percussion instruments. ◉ 1970s.

drum major ▷ noun the leader of a marching (especially military) band.

drum majorette see MAJORETTE drummer ▷ noun someone who plays drums.

drum roll see ROLL noun 12 drumstick ▷ noun 1 a stick used for beating a drum. 2 the lower leg of a cooked fowl, especially a chicken. ◉ 16c.

drunk ▷ verb, past participle of DRINK. ▷ adj lacking control in movement, speech, etc through having consumed an excess of alcohol. ▷ noun a drunk person, especially one regularly so. ● drunk with something intoxicated or overwhelmed with it □ drunk with love.

drunkard ▷ noun someone who is often drunk. ◉ 16c.

drunken ▷ adj 1 drunk. 2 relating to, or brought on by, alcoholic intoxication. ● drunkenly adverb. ● drunkenness noun.

drupe /druːp/ ▷ noun, bot a fleshy fruit containing one or more seeds that are surrounded by the ENDOCARP, eg plum, cherry, peach, holly. ● drupaceous /-'peɪʃəs/ adj. ◉ 18c: from Greek dryppa olive.

Druze or Druz or Druse /druːz/ relig ▷ singular noun or plural noun a people, or a member of a people, inhabiting chiefly a mountainous district in the south of Syria, whose religion is an offshoot of Islam but contains doctrines drawn from other sources, including a belief in the TRANSMIGRATION of souls. ▷ adj belonging or relating to this people or their religion. ◉ 18c: perhaps from Darazi, an early exponent of the religion.

dry ▷ adj (drier, driest) 1 free from or lacking moisture or wetness. 2 with little or no rainfall. 3 from which all the water has evaporated or been taken □ a dry well. 4 thirsty. 5 said of an animal: no longer producing milk. 6 said of wine, etc: not sweet. 7 not buttered □ dry toast. 8 said of humour: expressed in a quietly sarcastic or matter-of-fact way. 9 forbidding the sale and consumption of alcohol. 10 said of eyes: without tears. 11 dull; uninteresting. 12 lacking warmth of character. 13 said of a cough: not producing catarrh. ▷ verb (dries, dried, drying) 1 tr & intr to make or become dry. 2 tr to preserve (food) by removing all moisture. ▷ noun (dries or drys) colloq a staunch right-wing British Conservative politician. Compare WET. ● drily or dryly adverb. ● dryness noun. ● cut and dried see under CUT. ● high and dry see under HIGH. ◉ Anglo-Saxon dryge.

■ dry off to become completely dry.

■ dry something off to dry it completely.

■ dry out 1 to become completely dry. 2 colloq to receive treatment to cure addiction to alcohol; to have one's addiction cured.

■ dry something out to dry it completely.

■ dry up 1 to dry thoroughly or completely. 2 to cease to produce or be produced. 3 colloq said of a speaker or actor: to run out of words; to forget lines while on stage. 4 slang to shut up or be quiet.

■ dry something up to dry (dishes) after washing them.

dryad /'draɪad/ ▷ noun, Greek mythol a woodland nymph or fairy, often with demigod status. ◉ 18c: from Greek dryados.

dry battery ▷ noun a battery consisting of DRY CELLS.

dry cell ▷ noun, chem an ELECTROLYTIC CELL in which current is passed through an electrolyte that consists of a moist paste, eg ammonium chloride, instead of a liquid, and which is used as portable energy sources in batteries for torches, radios, calculators, etc.

dry-clean ▷ verb to clean (especially clothes) with liquid chemicals, not with water. ● dry-cleaner noun. ● dry-cleaning noun.

dry dock ▷ noun a dock from which the water can be pumped out to allow work on a ship's lower parts.

dryer see DRIER

dry-fly ▷ adj, angling said of fishing, etc: without sinking the fly in the water.

dry hole ▷ noun, oil industry 1 a well which does not yield commercially viable quantities of oil or gas. 2 any unsuccessful project.

dry ice ▷ noun solid carbon dioxide used as a refrigerating agent and also (theat) for creating special effects.

dry land ▷ noun land as opposed to sea or other water.

dry measure ▷ noun a system of measurement by bulk used for grain, etc.

dry monsoon see under MONSOON dry point ▷ noun a technique of engraving in INTAGLIO print-making in which the design is incised by direct pressure into the copper plate, using a strong steel or diamond-pointed tool, commonly used in combination with other engraving methods, to add tonal depth and accented line.

dry riser ▷ noun (abbreviation DR) a vertical pipe with an outside access through which water can be pumped to the individual floors of a building in the event of fire.

dry rot ▷ noun 1 bot a serious type of timber decay caused by a fungus common in damp, poorly ventilated buildings, which ultimately reduces the wood to a dry brittle mass. Compare WET ROT. 2 bot any of several fungal diseases of plants, eg stored potatoes, fruit.

dry run ▷ noun 1 a rehearsal, practice or test. 2 military a practice exercise.

dry-stone ▷ adj said of a wall: made of stones wedged together without mortar. ◉ 18c.

DS ▷ abbreviation, music dal segno.

DSC ▷ abbreviation Distinguished Service Cross.

DSc ▷ abbreviation Doctor of Science.

DSM ▷ abbreviation Distinguished Service Medal.

DSO ▷ abbreviation Distinguished Service Order.

DSS ▷ abbreviation Department of Social Security.

DST ▷ abbreviation daylight saving time.

DT and DTs ▷ abbreviation delirium tremens.

DTh and DTheol ▷ abbreviation Doctor of Theology.

DTI ▷ abbreviation Department of Trade and Industry.

DTP ▷ abbreviation desktop publishing.

Du. ▷ abbreviation Dutch.

dual /ˈdʒuəl/ ▷ adj 1 consisting of or representing two separate parts. 2 double; twofold. See also NUMBER (noun 12). ▷ verb (dualled, dualling) to upgrade (a road) by making it into a dual carriageway. ⊙ 17c: from Latin duo two.

dual carriageway ▷ noun a road on which traffic moving in opposite directions is separated by a central barrier or strip of land, usually with at least two lanes in each direction. ⊙ 1930s.

dualism ▷ noun, philos the belief that reality is made up of two separate parts, one spiritual and one physical, or influenced by two separate forces, one good and one bad. Compare MONISM. ● dualistic adj. ⊙ 18c.

duality /dʒuˈalɪtɪ/ ▷ noun the state of being double. ⊙ 15c.

dual-purpose ▷ adj serving or intended to serve two purposes. ⊙ Early 20c.

dub[1] ▷ verb (dubbed, dubbing) 1 to give a name, especially a nickname, to someone. 2 to confer the title of knight on someone by touching each shoulder with a sword. 3 to smear (leather) with grease. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon dubbian in sense 2.

dub[2] ▷ verb (dubbed, dubbing) 1 to add a new soundtrack to (eg a film), especially one in a different language. 2 to add sound effects or music to (eg a film). ▷ noun a type of REGGAE music in which bass, drums and the artistic arrangement are given prominence over voice and other instruments. ⊙ 20c: contraction of DOUBLE.

dubbin /ˈdʌbɪn/ ▷ noun a wax-like mixture of oil and tallow for softening and waterproofing leather. ⊙ 19c: from DUB[1].

dubiety /dʒuˈbaɪtɪ/ ▷ noun, formal dubiousness; doubt. ⊙ 18c: from Latin dubietas.

dubious /ˈdʒuːbɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 feeling doubt; unsure; uncertain. 2 arousing suspicion; potentially dishonest or dishonestly obtained. ● dubiously adverb. ● dubiousness noun. ⊙ 16c in sense 2: from Latin dubium doubt.

> dubious
>
> See Usage Note at doubtful.

dubnium /ˈdʌbnɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Db, atomic number 104) a name proposed for the radioactive element UNNILQUADIUM.

Dubonnet /duːˈbɒneɪ/ ▷ noun, trademark a type of sweet aperitif, flavoured with quinine.

ducal /ˈdʒuːkəl/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to a duke. ⊙ 15c: from Latin ducalis.

ducat /ˈdʌkət/ ▷ noun a former European gold or silver coin of varying value. ⊙ 13c: from Latin ducatus duchy.

Duchenne muscular dystrophy, Duchenne dystrophy and Duchenne /duˈʃɛn —/ ▷ noun, medicine a common and severe form of MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY which affects children under 10 years old, usually boys. ⊙ 19c: named after Guillaume Duchenne (1806–75), French physician.

duchess /ˈdʌtʃɛs, ˈdʌtʃəs/ ▷ noun 1 the wife or widow of a duke. 2 a woman of the same rank as a duke in her own right. ⊙ 14c: from French duchesse.

duchy /ˈdʌtʃɪ/ ▷ noun (duchies) the territory owned or ruled by a duke or duchess. ⊙ 14c: from French duché.

duck[1] ▷ noun 1 any wild or domesticated water bird related to the swans and geese, with short legs, webbed feet, and a large flattened beak, the females generally having a dull plumage, but the males often brightly coloured. 2 the flesh of this bird used as food. 3 the female of such a bird, as opposed to the male DRAKE. 4 colloq a a likeable person; b a term of endearment or (loosely) of address (also ducks). 5 cricket a batsman's score of zero. ● break one's duck 1 colloq to enjoy one's first success after several failures. 2 cricket to make one's first run. ● like water off a duck's back colloq having no effect at all. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon duce.

duck[2] ▷ verb (ducked, ducking) 1 intr to lower the head or body suddenly, especially to avoid notice or a blow. 2 to push someone or something briefly under water. ⊙ 13c.

> ■ duck out of something colloq to avoid something unpleasant or unwelcome.

duck[3] ▷ noun hard-wearing cotton fabric, used for tents, sails, etc. ⊙ 17c: from Dutch doek linen cloth.

duck-billed platypus see PLATYPUS duckboard ▷ noun a narrow board, slatted or with slats nailed onto it, laid across eg muddy ground or a fragile surface to form a path. ⊙ Early 19c.

duckier, duckies and duckiest see under DUCKY ducking ▷ noun immersion of a person or animal in water.

ducking-stool ▷ noun, historical a chair on a long wooden pole, used for ducking offenders into water as punishment. ⊙ 16c.

duckling ▷ noun a young duck. ⊙ 15c.

ducks and drakes ▷ singular noun the game of skimming stones across the surface of water. ● play ducks and drakes with something colloq to squander or waste it. ⊙ 17c.

duck soup ▷ noun, US slang something very easy. ⊙ Early 20c.

duckweed ▷ noun any of a family of plants whose broad flat leaves grow on the surface of water.

ducky /ˈdʌkɪ/ colloq ▷ noun (duckies) a term of endearment. ▷ adj (duckier, duckiest) excellent; attractive or pleasing. ⊙ 19c: from DUCK[1].

duct ▷ noun 1 anatomy any tube in the body, especially one for carrying glandular secretions away from a gland □ tear duct. 2 in a building: a casing or shaft that accommodates pipes or electrical cables, or a tube used for ventilation and air-conditioning. ⊙ 17c: from Latin ducere, ductum to lead.

ductile /ˈdʌktaɪl/ ▷ adj 1 chem denoting certain metals, eg copper, that can be drawn out into a thin wire or thread without breaking. 2 easily influenced by others. ● ductility /-ˈtɪlɪtɪ/ noun (ductilities) the capacity of metal to be stretched or pressed into shape. ⊙ 17c in sense 1; originally 14c meaning 'flexible': from Latin ductilis, from ducere, ductum to lead.

dud colloq ▷ noun 1 a counterfeit article. 2 a bomb, firework, etc that fails to go off. 3 any useless or ineffectual person or thing. 4 (duds) clothes. ▷ adj 1 useless. 2 counterfeit. ⊙ 16c in sense 4.

dude /duːd, djuːd/ ▷ noun colloq N Amer, especially US, originally slang 1 a man; a guy. 2 a city man, especially an Easterner holidaying in the West. 3 a man preoccupied with dressing smartly. ⊙ 19c.

dudgeon /ˈdʌdʒən/ ▷ noun (usually in high dudgeon) the condition of being very angry, resentful or indignant. ⊙ 16c.

due /dʒuː/ ▷ adj 1 owed; payable. 2 expected according to timetable or pre-arrangement. 3 proper. ▷ noun 1 what is owed; that which can be rightfully claimed or expected. 2 (dues) subscription fees. ▷ adverb directly □ due north. ● due to something or someone 1 caused by it or them. 2 because of it or them. ● give someone their due to acknowledge their qualities or achievements, especially when disapproving in other ways. ● in due course in the ordinary way when the time comes. 14c: from French deü, from devoir to owe.

> due to
>
> • It is sometimes argued that, because due is an adjective, due to should have a noun or pronoun that it refers back to (an antecedent), as in □ Absence from work due to sickness has certainly not been falling (where 'absence' is the antecedent). This argument would disallow sentences like:
>
> ? A special train service was cancelled due to operating difficulties (where due to is effectively a preposition).
>
> • This point of view is based on the word's behaviour in its other meanings; in this meaning it has taken on a new grammatical role that is now well established. Due to often refers back to a whole clause even when there is a notional antecedent, as with 'starvation' in the sentence □ Out in the countryside, two million people are at risk of starvation, due to the failure of the harvest.
>
> ☆ RECOMMENDATION: it is correct to use due to in both the ways shown.

duel /ˈdʒuəl/ ▷ noun 1 a pre-arranged fight between two people to settle a matter of honour. 2 any serious conflict between two people or groups. ▷ verb (duelled, duelling) intr to fight a duel. • duellist or dueller noun. Ⓒ 16c: from Latin duellum, variant of bellum war.

duenna /djuˈɛnə/ ▷ noun (duennas) an older woman acting as a chaperone to a girl or young woman, especially formerly in Spanish and Portuguese society. Ⓒ 17c: from Spanish dueña.

due process ▷ noun, law a principle, deriving from a clause of the Magna Carta (1215), now also embodied in the 5th and 14th amendments of the US Constitution, which provides that no person shall be arrested, imprisoned, banished, or in any way deprived of their rights, except by the lawful judgement of equals and according to the law of the land.

duet /djuˈɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a piece of music for two singers or players. 2 a pair of musical performers. • duettist noun. Ⓒ 18c: from Italian duetto from Latin duo two.

duff[1] ▷ noun a heavy boiled or steamed pudding, especially one containing fruit. Ⓒ 19c: northern form of DOUGH.

duff[2] ▷ adj, colloq useless; broken. Ⓒ 19c: perhaps from DUFFER.

duff[3] ▷ verb (duffed, duffing) colloq 1 to bungle something. 2 especially golf to misplay or mishit (a shot). ▷ adj bungled. Ⓒ 19c: from DUFFER.

■ duff someone up slang to treat them violently; to beat them up.

duffel or duffle /ˈdʌfəl/ ▷ noun a thick coarse woollen fabric. Ⓒ 17c: Dutch, named after Duffel, a Belgian town.

duffel bag ▷ noun a cylindrical canvas shoulder bag with a drawstring fastening. Ⓒ Early 20c.

duffel coat ▷ noun a heavy, especially hooded, coat made of DUFFEL, typically with toggle fastenings. Ⓒ 17c.

duffer /ˈdʌfə(r)/ ▷ noun, colloq a clumsy or incompetent person. Ⓒ 18c.

dug[1] past tense, past participle of DIG dug[2] ▷ noun 1 an animal's udder or nipple. 2 coarse slang a woman's breast. Ⓒ 16c.

dugong /ˈduːgɒŋ/ ▷ noun a seal-like plant-eating tropical sea mammal. Ⓒ 19c: from Malay duyong.

dugout ▷ noun 1 a canoe made from a hollowed-out log. 2 a soldier's rough shelter dug into a slope or bank or in a trench. 3 a covered shelter at the side of a sports field, for the trainer, substitutes, etc. Ⓒ 19c.

duke /djuːk/ ▷ noun (dukes) 1 a nobleman of the highest rank outside the royal family. 2 the ruler of a small state or principality. 3 old slang use (often dukes) a fist. See also DUCAL, DUCHESS. • dukedom noun the title or property of a duke. Ⓒ 12c: French, from Latin dux leader.

dulcet /ˈdʌlsɪt/ ▷ adj, literary said of sounds: sweet and pleasing to the ear. Ⓒ 15c as doucet: from Latin dulcis sweet.

dulcimer /ˈdʌlsɪmə(r)/ ▷ noun, music a percussion instrument consisting of a flattish box with tuned strings stretched across, struck with small hammers. Ⓒ 15c: from Latin dulce melos sweet song.

dull ▷ adj 1 said of colour or light: lacking brightness or clearness. 2 said of sounds: deep and low; muffled. 3 said of weather: cloudy; overcast. 4 said of pain: not sharp. 5 said of a person: slow to learn or understand. 6 uninteresting; lacking liveliness. 7 said of a blade: blunt. ▷ verb (dulled, dulling) tr & intr to make or become dull. • dullness noun a dull or uninteresting state. • dully /ˈdʌlɪ/ adverb. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dol stupid.

dulse /dʌls/ ▷ noun an edible red seaweed. Ⓒ 17c: from Irish Gaelic duileasg.

duly ▷ adverb 1 in the proper way. 2 at the proper time. Ⓒ 14c as duelich: from DUE.

dumb /dʌm/ ▷ adj 1 not having the power of speech. 2 said of animals: not having human speech. 3 temporarily deprived of the power of speech, eg by shock. 4 silent; not expressed in words. 5 colloq, especially US foolish; unintelligent. 6 performed without words □ dumb show. • dumbly adverb. • dumbness noun. • struck dumb silenced with astonishment. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon.

dumbbell /ˈdʌmbel/ ▷ noun 1 a weight usually used in pairs in muscle-developing exercises, consisting of a short metal bar with a heavy ball or disc on each end. 2 anything of that shape. 3 colloq, chiefly N Amer a stupid person. Ⓒ 18c.

dumbfound or dumfound /dʌmˈfaʊnd/ ▷ verb to astonish or confound, originally so as to leave speechless. Ⓒ 17c: DUMB + found from CONFOUND.

dumbo /ˈdʌmboʊ/ ▷ noun (dumbos) colloq a stupid person. Ⓒ 1960s: from DUMB.

dumb piano ▷ noun, music a soundless keyboard for practice.

dumb show ▷ noun gesture without words. Ⓒ 16c: originally part of a play.

dumbstruck ▷ adj silent with astonishment or shock. Ⓒ 19c.

dumb waiter ▷ noun 1 a small lift for transporting laundry, dirty dishes, etc between floors in a restaurant or hotel. 2 a movable shelved stand for food, placed near a table. 3 a revolving food tray set in the middle of a table. Ⓒ 18c.

dumdum /ˈdʌmdʌm/ ▷ noun a bullet that expands on impact, causing severe injury. Ⓒ 19c: named after Dum-Dum, an arsenal near Calcutta, India.

dumfound see DUMBFOUND

dummy /ˈdʌmɪ/ ▷ noun (dummies) 1 a life-size model of the human body, eg used for displaying clothes. 2 a realistic copy, especially one misleadingly substituted for the genuine article. 3 a rubber teat sucked by a baby for comfort. Also called PACIFIER. 4 colloq, chiefly N Amer a stupid person. 5 sport an act of dummying with the ball. 6 a person or company acting seemingly independently, but really the agent of another. 7 bridge an exposed hand of cards. ▷ adj false; sham; counterfeit. ▷ verb (dummies, dummied, dummying) tr & intr, sport a to make as if to move one way before sharply moving the other, in order to deceive (an opponent); b to do so with (a ball). Ⓒ 16c, originally meaning 'a person who cannot speak': from DUMB.

dummy run ▷ noun a practice; a try-out. Ⓒ Early 20c.

dump ▷ verb (dumped, dumping) 1 to put something down heavily or carelessly. 2 tr & intr to dispose of (rubbish), especially in an unauthorized place. 3 slang to break off a romantic relationship with someone. 4 econ to sell (goods not selling well on the domestic market) abroad at a much reduced price, either to keep the domestic price high or to eliminate competition or break into a new market. 5 computing to transfer (computer data) from one program to another using a dump, or to transfer a (computer program or data) onto disk or tape. ▷ noun 1 a place where rubbish may be dumped. 2 a military store, eg of weapons or food. 3 computing a printed copy of the contents of a computer's memory, used to transfer data from one program to another or to find the cause of an error in a program. 4 colloq a dirty or dilapidated place. • dumping noun. ⓘ 14c: possibly from Norse.

dumpbin ▷ noun in a shop etc: a display stand or a container for especially bargain items.

dumper ▷ noun 1 something or someone that dumps. 2 a DUMPER TRUCK. 3 surfing a wave that crashes down suddenly with great force, causing surfers to fall. ⓘ 19c.

dumper truck and dumptruck ▷ noun a lorry which can be emptied by raising one end of the carrier to allow the contents to slide out.

dumpling /ˈdʌmplɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a baked or boiled ball of dough served with meat. 2 a rich fruit pudding. 3 colloq a plump person. ⓘ 17c: from obsolete dump lump.

dumps ▷ plural noun • down in the dumps colloq in low spirits; depressed. ⓘ 16c: perhaps from German dumpf gloomy.

dumpy /ˈdʌmpɪ/ ▷ adj (dumpier, dumpiest) short and plump. ⓘ 18c: perhaps from DUMPLING.

dun[1] ▷ adj (dunner, dunnest) having a greyish-brown dusky colour. ▷ noun 1 a dun colour. 2 a horse of this colour. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

dun[2] ▷ verb (dunned, dunning) to press someone persistently for payment. ▷ noun a demand for payment. ⓘ 17c.

dunce /dʌns/ ▷ noun (dunces) a stupid person; a slow learner. ⓘ 16c: from the Dunses, followers of the 13c philosopher and theologian John Duns Scotus, who in the 16c were opposed to the new classical studies.

dunderhead /ˈdʌndəhed/ ▷ noun a stupid person. • dunderheaded adj stupid. ⓘ 17c.

dune /dʒuːn/ ▷ noun a ridge or hill formed by the accumulation of windblown sand, usually on a seashore or in a hot desert. ⓘ 18c: from Dutch duna.

dung ▷ noun animal excrement. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

dungarees /ˌdʌŋgəˈriːz, ˈdʌŋ-/ ▷ plural noun loose trousers with a bib and shoulder straps attached, worn as casual wear or overalls. ⓘ Late 19c: from Hindi dungri a coarse calico fabric.

dung-beetle ▷ noun a shiny dark-coloured beetle whose larvae feed on the dung of herbivorous animals, eg cattle. ⓘ 17c.

dungeon /ˈdʌndʒən/ ▷ noun a prison cell, especially underground. ⓘ 14c: from French donjon.

dungheap and dunghill ▷ noun 1 a pile of dung. 2 any squalid situation or place. ⓘ 14c.

dunk ▷ verb (dunked, dunking) 1 to dip (eg a biscuit) into tea or a similar beverage. 2 to submerge or be submerged. 3 basketball to jump up and push (the ball) down through the basket. ⓘ Early 20c: originally US, from German dialect tunke.

dunlin /ˈdʌnlɪn/ ▷ noun a small wading bird, having mottled brown plumage with pale underparts and a slender probing bill, native to the N hemisphere and found in flocks on the shoreline or open areas near water. ⓘ 16c: a diminutive of DUN[1].

dunned past tense, past participle of DUN[2] dunner and dunnest see under DUN[1] dunning present participle of DUN[2] dunno /dəˈnoʊ, dʌˈnoʊ/ colloq ▷ contraction of I do not know.

dunnock /ˈdʌnək/ ▷ noun the hedge sparrow. ⓘ 17c: from DUN[1].

duo /ˈdʒuːoʊ/ ▷ noun (duos) 1 a pair of musicians or other performers. 2 any two people considered a pair. 3 music a duet. ⓘ 16c in sense 3; 19c in senses 1 and 2: Latin, meaning 'two'.

duodecimal ▷ adj 1 relating to or based on the number twelve, or multiples of it. 2 twelfth. ⓘ 17c: from Latin duodecim twelve.

duodenal /dʒuːoʊˈdiːnəl/ ▷ adj relating to or affecting the DUODENUM. ⓘ 19c.

duodenal ulcer ▷ noun, medicine an ulcer of the DUODENUM, usually accompanied by inflammation, caused by the effect of increased levels of acid secretions from the stomach on the duodenum wall.

duodenum /dʒuːoʊˈdiːnəm/ ▷ noun (duodena /-ˈdiːnə/ or duodenums) anatomy the first part of the small intestine, into which food passes after leaving the stomach, where BILE from the GALL BLADDER and pancreatic juice from the PANCREAS neutralize the stomach acid and continue the digestive process. ⓘ 14c: from Latin, from duodecim twelve: the portion being twelve fingers' breadth in length.

duologue or (sometimes US) duolog /ˈdʒuːoʊlɒg/ ▷ noun 1 a dialogue between two actors. 2 a play for two actors. ⓘ 18c: from Latin duo two + Greek logos discourse.

duopoly /djʊˈɒpəlɪ/ ▷ noun (duopolies) a situation in which two companies, etc monopolize trading in a particular commodity. • duopolistic /-ɒpəˈlɪstɪk/ adj. ⓘ 1920s: from Latin duo two + -poly from MONOPOLY.

DUP ▷ abbreviation Democratic Unionist Party, a Protestant loyalist party in Northern Ireland.

dup. ▷ abbreviation duplicate.

dupe /dʒuːp/ ▷ verb (duped, duping) to trick or deceive. ▷ noun a person who is deceived. • dupability noun. • dupable adj. ⓘ 17c: French.

duple /ˈdʒuːpəl/ ▷ adj 1 double; twofold. 2 music having two beats in the bar. ⓘ 16c: from Latin duplus double.

duple time ▷ noun, music musical time with two main beats to the bar.

duplex /ˈdʒuːpleks/ ▷ noun (duplexes) N Amer 1 (also duplex apartment) a flat on two floors. 2 (also duplex house) a semi-detached house. ▷ adj 1 double; twofold. 2 said of a computer circuit: allowing transmission of signals in both directions simultaneously. ⓘ 1920s as noun; 19c as adj: Latin, meaning 'double'.

duplicate ▷ adj /ˈdʒuːplɪkət/ identical to another. ▷ noun /ˈdʒuːplɪkət/ 1 said especially of documents: an exact copy. 2 another of the same kind; a subsidiary or spare. ▷ verb /ˈdʒuːplɪkeɪt/ (duplicated, duplicating) 1 to make or be an exact copy or copies of something. 2 to repeat something. • duplication noun. • in duplicate in the form of two exact copies. ⓘ 15c: from Latin duplicare, duplicatum to fold in two.

duplicator ▷ noun a machine for copying documents, etc. ⓘ Late 19c.

duplicity /dʒʊˈplɪsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (duplicities) formal deception; trickery; double-dealing. • duplicitous adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin duplicis double.

Dur. ▷ abbreviation Durham.

durable /ˈdʒʊərəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 lasting a long time without breaking; sturdy. 2 long-lasting; enduring. ▷ noun a durable item, especially one not frequently replaced. • durability noun (durabilities). • durably adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin durare to last.

dura mater /ˈdʒuərə ˈmeɪtə(r); Latin ˈduːrə ˈmaːter/ ▷ noun, anatomy the outermost and thickest of the three membranes that surround the brain and spinal cord. ◷ 16c: Latin dura hard + mater mother, a literal translation of the original Arabic name.

duration /dʒuəˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun the length of time that something lasts or continues. ■ for the duration for as long as the current situation lasts. ◷ 14c: from Latin durare, duratum to last.

duress /dʒuəˈrɛs/ ▷ noun the influence of force or threats; coercion. ◷ 15c in modern sense; 14c, meaning 'harsh treatment': from French duresse, from Latin duritia hardness.

during /ˈdʒuərɪŋ/ ▷ prep 1 throughout the time of something. 2 in the course of something. ◷ 14c: from obsolete dure to last, from Latin durare.

durum /ˈdʒuərəm/ and durum wheat ▷ noun a kind of spring wheat whose flour is popular for making pasta. ◷ Early 20c: from Latin durum hard.

dusk ▷ noun twilight; the period of semi-darkness before night. ◷ Anglo-Saxon dox dark.

dusky ▷ adj (duskier, duskiest) 1 dark; shadowy. 2 dark-coloured; dark-skinned. ■ duskily adverb. ■ duskiness noun. ◷ 16c: see DUSK.

dust ▷ noun 1 earth, sand or household dirt in the form of a fine powder. 2 a cloud of this. 3 any substance in powder form. 4 colloq an angry complaint; a commotion □ kick up a dust. 5 poetic human remains; a dead body. ▷ verb (dusted, dusting) 1 to remove dust from (furniture, etc). 2 to sprinkle something with a substance in powder form. ■ bite the dust see under BITE. ■ let the dust settle colloq to wait until calm is restored before acting. ■ not see someone for dust not to see them again because they have gone away rapidly and suddenly. ■ throw dust in someone's eyes colloq to deceive them. ◷ Anglo-Saxon.

dustbin ▷ noun a large, usually cylindrical, lidded container for household rubbish, especially one kept outside. ◷ 19c.

dust bowl ▷ noun an area of land that has been farmed without protection against the effects of soil erosion, and from which the topsoil has been removed as a result of strong winds and drought. ◷ 1930s.

dustcart ▷ noun a vehicle in which household rubbish is collected. ◷ 18c.

dust cover ▷ noun 1 a DUST JACKET. 2 a DUST SHEET. 3 any cover that protects something from dust.

duster ▷ noun 1 a cloth for removing household dust. 2 a machine for spraying crops with fertilizer or other preparations. ◷ 16c.

dustier and dustiest see under DUSTY dustily ▷ adverb 1 in a dusty state. 2 curtly; rudely □ replied dustily that he didn't know. ◷ 16c in sense 1: from DUST.

dustiness see under DUSTY dusting powder ▷ noun fine powder, especially TALCUM POWDER. ◷ 1920s.

dust jacket and dust cover ▷ noun a loose protective paper cover on a book, carrying the title and other information. ◷ 1920s.

dustman ▷ noun someone employed to collect household rubbish. ◷ 18c.

dustpan ▷ noun a handled container into which dust is swept, like a flattish open-ended box with a shovel edge. ◷ 18c.

dust sheet and dust cover ▷ noun a cloth or plastic sheet used to protect unused furniture from dust or to protect furniture, carpets, etc from dust or paint when a room is being decorated. ◷ 19c.

dust storm ▷ noun a whirling mass of dust blown up by severe winds. ◷ 19c.

dust-up ▷ noun, colloq an argument or fight. ◷ 19c.

dusty ▷ adj (dustier, dustiest) 1 covered with or containing dust. 2 said of a colour: dull. 3 old-fashioned; dated. 4 lacking liveliness; flat. 5 often said of an answer: impolitely blunt; bad-tempered. 6 said of an answer: unhelpful. ■ dustiness noun.

Dutch ▷ adj belonging or referring to the Netherlands, a maritime kingdom in NW Europe, its inhabitants or their language. ▷ noun 1 the official language of the Netherlands. See also AFRIKAANS, FLEMISH. 2 (the Dutch) the people of the Netherlands (see THE 4). ■ go Dutch colloq each person to pay their own share of a meal, etc. ◷ 16c in modern senses; 15c, meaning 'German': from Dutch dutsch.

Dutch auction ▷ noun an auction at which the price is gradually lowered until someone agrees to buy. ◷ 19c.

Dutch barn ▷ noun an open-sided barn with a curved roof. ◷ 18c.

Dutch cap see CAP (noun 10)

Dutch courage ▷ noun artificial courage gained by drinking alcohol.

Dutch elm disease ▷ noun, bot a serious disease of elm trees, caused by a fungus, and spread by a bark beetle, resulting in wilting, yellowing of leaves and death of individual branches or whole trees.

Dutch hoe ▷ noun a hoe with a blade attached as in a spade. Compare DRAW HOE.

Dutchman and Dutchwoman ▷ noun a native or citizen of, or a person born in, the Netherlands.

Dutch oven ▷ noun 1 an open-fronted metal box for cooking food in front of a fire. 2 a lidded earthenware or iron stewpot or casserole.

Dutch treat ▷ noun said of dining out, attending a performance, etc: a situation in which each person pays for themselves.

Dutch uncle ▷ noun someone who openly criticizes or reprimands where appropriate, without sparing anyone's feelings.

duteous /ˈdʒuːtɪəs/ ▷ adj, literary dutiful. ■ duteously adverb. ◷ 16c: from DUTY + -OUS.

dutiable /ˈdʒuːtɪəbəl/ ▷ adj said of goods: on which duty is payable.

duty /ˈdʒuːtɪ/ ▷ noun (duties) 1 something one is or feels obliged to do; a moral or legal responsibility, or the awareness of it. 2 a task to be performed, especially in connection with a job. 3 tax on goods, especially imports. 4 respect for elders, seniors or superiors. ■ dutiful adj. ■ dutifully adverb. ■ do duty for something to serve in its place; to act as a substitute for it. ■ on duty working; liable to be called upon to go into action. ■ off duty not on duty. ◷ 13c: from French dueté.

duty-bound ▷ adj obliged by one's sense of duty. ◷ Early 20c.

duty-free ▷ adj said of goods, especially imports: non-taxable. ▷ noun (plural in sense 1 only duty-frees) colloq 1 a duty-free shop. 2 an article or goods for sale at such a shop. ◷ 17c as adj.

duty-free shop ▷ noun a shop, especially at an airport or on a ship, where duty-free goods are sold.

duty officer ▷ noun the officer on duty at a particular time.

duvet /ˈduːveɪ, ˈdjuː-/ ▷ noun a thick quilt filled with feathers or man-made fibres, for use on a bed instead of a sheet and blankets. Also called continental quilt, DOWNIE. ◷ 18c: French.

dux /dʌks/ ▷ noun, especially Scot the top academic prize-winner in a school or class. ◷ 18c: Latin, meaning 'leader'.

DV ▷ abbreviation: Deo volente (Latin), God willing.

DVLA ▷ abbreviation Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency (formerly known as the Driver and Vehicle Licensing Centre).

dwarf /dwɔːf/ ▷ noun (dwarfs or less often dwarves /dwɔːvz/) 1 an abnormally small person, either with very short limbs and a head and body of normal size, usually due to a genetic disorder, or with fairly normal bodyshape but small proportions, usually due to a deficiency of growth hormone. Compare MIDGET. 2 a an animal or plant that is much smaller or shorter than others of its species, usually as a result of selective breeding; b as adj ◻ Dwarf rabbits. 3 a mythical man-like creature with magic powers. 4 a DWARF STAR (sometimes further designated by a colour) ◻ a red dwarf. ▷ verb (dwarfed, dwarfing) 1 to make something seem small or unimportant ◻ a church steeple dwarfed by surrounding skyscrapers. 2 to stunt the growth of someone or something. • dwarfish adj. • dwarfism noun. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dweorg.

dwarf fennel see under FINOCCHIO dwarf star ▷ noun, astron a relatively small star of high density and low luminosity, eg the Sun.

dweeb ▷ noun, especially US, derog slang an idiot; a nerd.

dwell ▷ verb (dwelt or dwelled, dwelling) intr, formal, literary to reside. • dweller noun, often in compounds someone who lives in a particular place or area ◻ a city-dweller. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dwellan to delay or tarry.

■ dwell on or upon something to rest attention on it; to think or speak about it obsessively.

dwelling ▷ noun, formal, literary a place of residence; a house. Ⓒ 14c.

dwindle /ˈdwɪndəl/ ▷ verb (dwindled, dwindling) intr to shrink in size, number or intensity. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dwinan to fade.

DY ▷ abbreviation, IVR Benin.

Dy ▷ symbol, chem dysprosium.

dybbuk /ˈdɪbʊk/ ▷ noun (dybbuks or dybbukim) Jewish folklore an evil spirit or the soul of a dead person, which enters the body of a living person and controls their behaviour until exorcized by a religious rite. Ⓒ 20c: from Hebrew dibbuq.

dye /daɪ/ ▷ verb (dyed, dyeing) tr & intr to colour or stain something, or undergo colouring or staining often permanently. ▷ noun 1 a coloured substance, either natural or synthetic, that is used in solution to impart colour to another material, eg paper, textiles, leather, hair. Compare PIGMENT. 2 the solution used for dyeing. 3 the colour produced by dyeing. • dyable or dyeable adj. • dyer noun someone who dyes cloth, etc, especially as a business. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon deagian.

dyed-in-the-wool ▷ adj of firmly fixed opinions; out-and-out.

dyestuff ▷ noun a substance which can be used as a dye or from which a dye can be produced. Ⓒ 19c.

dying /ˈdaɪɪŋ/ ▷ verb, present participle of DIE¹. ▷ adj 1 expressed or occurring immediately before death ◻ her dying breath. 2 final ◻ the dying seconds of the match.

dyke¹ or dike /daɪk/ ▷ noun 1 a wall or embankment built to prevent flooding. 2 geol a vertical or semi-vertical sheet of igneous rock that cuts across the layering or bedding planes in the surrounding rock. 3 especially Scots a wall, eg surrounding a field. 4 Austral & NZ slang a lavatory. ▷ verb (dyked, dyking) 1 to protect or drain with a dyke. 2 intr to make or build a dyke. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon dic ditch.

dyke² or dike /daɪk/ offensive slang ▷ noun a LESBIAN. • dykey adj. Ⓒ 20c: now probably used positively by gay women to describe themselves.

dyn. ▷ abbreviation 1 dynamo. 2 dynamometer. 3 dyne.

dynamic /daɪˈnamɪk, dɪ-/ ▷ adj 1 full of energy, enthusiasm and new ideas. 2 relating to DYNAMICS. • dynamically adverb. Ⓒ 19c: from Greek dynamis power.

dynamics 1 singular noun the branch of mechanics that deals with the motion of objects and the forces that act to produce such motion. 2 plural noun a movement or change in any sphere; b the forces causing this ◻ political dynamics. 3 plural noun, music the signs indicating varying levels of loudness. Ⓒ 18c: from Greek dynamis power.

dynamism ▷ noun limitless energy and enthusiasm. Ⓒ 19c.

dynamite /ˈdaɪnəmaɪt/ ▷ noun 1 any of a group of powerful blasting explosives, formerly consisting of nitroglycerine absorbed into a porous material, but now usually containing ammonium nitrate or sodium nitrate. 2 colloq a thrilling or dangerous person or thing. ▷ verb (dynamited, dynamiting) to explode something with dynamite. Ⓒ 19c: from Greek dynamis power.

dynamo /ˈdaɪnəmoʊ/ ▷ noun (dynamos) 1 elec an electric generator that converts mechanical energy into electrical energy, usually in the form of direct current. 2 colloq a tirelessly active person. Ⓒ 19c: from Greek dynamis power.

dynamometer /daɪnəˈmɒmətə(r)/ ▷ noun, engineering an instrument that is used to measure mechanical force, especially in order to determine the output power of a motor or engine. Ⓒ 19c.

dynastic /dɪˈnastɪk, daɪ-/ ▷ adj relating to or associated with a DYNASTY ◻ a dynastic marriage.

dynasty /ˈdɪnəstɪ or (US) ˈdaɪnəstɪ/ ▷ noun (dynasties) 1 a succession of rulers from the same family. 2 their period of rule. 3 a succession of members of a powerful family or other connected group. Ⓒ 15c: from Greek dynasteia power or dominion.

dyne /daɪn/ ▷ noun (dynes) a unit of force, producing an acceleration of one centimetre per second every second on a mass of one gram. Ⓒ 19c: from Greek dynamis force.

dys- /dɪs/ ▷ combining form, signifying ill, bad or abnormal. Ⓒ Greek.

dysarthria /dɪsˈɑːθrɪə/ ▷ noun, medicine an impaired ability to enunciate speech clearly, caused by a disease or by a disorder of the tongue or other muscles associated with speech. Ⓒ 19c: from Greek arthron joint.

dysentery /ˈdɪsəntrɪ, -tərɪ/ ▷ noun, medicine severe infection and inflammation of the intestines caused by BACTERIA, PROTOZOA or PARASITIC worms. Ⓒ 14c: from Greek dysenteria bad bowels.

dysfunction /dɪsˈfʌŋkʃən/ ▷ noun impairment or abnormality of the functioning of an organ. • dysfunctional adj. Ⓒ Early 20c.

dysgraphia /dɪsˈgrafɪə/ ▷ noun, psychol, medicine inability to write, caused by disease of or damage to the brain. Ⓒ 1930s: from Greek graphein to write.

dyslexia /dɪsˈlɛksɪə/ ▷ noun, psychol, medicine 1 a disorder characterized by difficulty in reading and writing, and in spelling correctly, although individual letters can be recognized, and other intellectual abilities are unimpaired. 2 popularly a term used for difficulties in reading and writing. Ⓒ 19c: from DYS- + Greek lexis word.

dyslexic ▷ adj affected by dyslexia. ▷ noun someone affected by dyslexia.

dysmenorrhoea or dysmenorrhea /dɪsmɛnəˈrɪə/ ▷ noun, medicine pain in the lower abdomen, associated with menstruation. Ⓒ 19c: from DYS- + Greek men month + rhoia flow.

dyspepsia /dɪsˈpɛpsɪə/ ▷ noun, pathol indigestion. Ⓒ 18c: Greek, meaning 'difficult to digest', from dys- amiss + pepsis digestion.

dyspeptic /dɪsˈpɛptɪk/ ▷ adj 1 suffering from DYSPEPSIA. 2 colloq bad-tempered; liverish. Ⓒ 19c in these senses; originally 17c, meaning 'indigestible': see DYSPEPSIA.

dysphasia /dɪs'feɪzɪə/ psychol, medicine ▷ noun difficulty in expressing or understanding thought in spoken or written words, caused by brain damage. • dysphasic adj, noun. ⓘ 19c: from Greek phasis speech.

dysplasia /dɪs'pleɪzɪə/ ▷ noun, pathol 1 abnormal development of tissue, eg skin or bone, sometimes associated with cancer. 2 an abnormal change in the size or shape of a mature cell. ⓘ 1930s: from Greek plasis moulding.

dyspnoea or dyspnea /dɪsp'nɪə/ ▷ noun, medicine difficulty in breathing, often associated with serious disease of the heart or lungs, characterized by an awareness of the effort of inappropriate breathing. ⓘ 17c: from Greek dyspnoia, from dys- amiss + pnoe breathing.

dysprosium /dɪs'proʊzɪəm/ ▷ noun (symbol Dy, atomic number 66) a soft, silvery-white metallic element that is one of the most magnetic substances known, and a strong absorber of neutrons. ⓘ 19c: from Greek dysprositos difficult to reach.

dystrophy /'dɪstrəfɪ/ ▷ noun (dystrophies) medicine any of various unrelated disorders of organs or tissues, especially muscle, arising from an inadequate supply of nutrients. See also MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY. ⓘ 19c: from DYS- + Greek trophe nourishment.

DZ ▷ abbreviation, IVR Algeria.

dz. ▷ abbreviation dozen.

E

E[1] or e /iː/ ▷ noun (Es, E's or e's) 1 the fifth letter and second vowel of the English alphabet. 2 music (E) a the third note in the scale of C major; b the musical key which has this note as its base. 4 in advertising and marketing use: a person who has no regular income, or who is dependent on state benefit due to disability, long-term illness, unemployment or old age.

E[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 Earl. 2 earth. 3 East. 4 Ecstasy. 5 physics electromotive force. 6 (also e) electronic □ E-mail. 7 physics (also E) energy. 8 English. 9 IVR: España (Spanish), Spain. 10 European. Also in compounds □ E-number. 11 math exa-.

e[1] ▷ abbreviation 1 electron. 2 electronic. 3 engineer. 4 engineering.

e[2] ▷ symbol 1 in compounds (with numbers) denoting any of a series of standard sizes of pack as set out in EC law. 2 math the base of the natural system of logarithms. See LOGARITHM.

ea. ▷ abbreviation each.

each /iːtʃ/ ▷ adj applied to every one of two or more people or items considered separately. ▷ pronoun every single one of two or more people, animals or things. ▷ adverb to, for or from each one □ Give them one each. ● each other used as the object of a verb or preposition when an action takes place between two (or more than two) people, etc □ They were talking to each other. See also ONE ANOTHER at ONE. ● each way said of a bet: winning, if the horse, dog, etc on which the bet is placed finishes first, second or third in a race. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ælc, from a ever + gelic alike.

> each other, one another
>
> ● There is no difference between these two expressions in current usage, regardless of the number of people or things referred to □ Jo and I see each other every day from Monday to Thursday □ Everybody was arguing with each other and we had a fight □ Catfish tend to nip one another as they swim round the tank.

eager /ˈiːgə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 (often eager for something or to do something) feeling or showing great desire or enthusiasm; keen to do or get something. 2 excited by desire or expectancy □ an eager glance. ● eagerly adverb. ● eagerness noun. ⓘ 13c: from French aigre.

eager beaver ▷ noun, colloq someone who is exceptionally enthusiastic or willing.

eagle /ˈiːgəl/ ▷ noun 1 any of various kinds of large birds of prey. 2 a figure of an eagle, used as a national emblem by various countries. 3 golf a score of two under par. ⓘ 14c: from French aigle, from Latin aquila.

eagle eye ▷ noun 1 exceptionally good eyesight. 2 careful supervision, with an ability to notice small details. ● eagle-eyed adj.

eagle owl ▷ noun any one of a number of varieties of large owls with tufts of feathers on its head like horns.

eaglet /ˈiːglət/ ▷ noun a young eagle.

eagre /ˈeɪgə, ˈiːgə/ ▷ noun a sudden tidal flood in a river. ⓘ 17c.

EAK ▷ abbreviation, IVR East Africa Kenya, ie Kenya.

-ean see -AN

eaon ▷ abbreviation except as otherwise noted.

ear[1] /ɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the sense organ, usually one of a pair situated on each side of the head, that is concerned with hearing and the maintenance of balance in vertebrates. 2 the external part of the ear. 3 the sense or power of hearing. 4 the ability to hear and appreciate the difference between sounds □ an ear for music. 5 anything like an ear in shape or position. 6 formal or literary attention; the act of listening □ give ear to me. ● eared adj, usually in compounds. ● earless adj. ● be all ears colloq to listen attentively or with great interest. ● fall on deaf ears said of a remark, etc: to be ignored. ● give someone a thick ear to slap them on their ear, especially as a punishment. ● have or keep one's ear to the ground to keep oneself well informed about what is happening around one. ● have someone's ear to have them willing to listen or pay attention. ● in one ear and out the other or in at one ear and out at the other colloq listened to but immediately disregarded. ● lend an ear to someone or something to listen. ● make someone's ears burn to talk, especially unpleasantly, about them in their absence. ● out on one's ear colloq dismissed swiftly and without politeness. ● pin back one's ears colloq to listen attentively. ● play by ear or play something by ear to play (music) without the help of printed music. ● play it by ear colloq to act without a fixed plan, according to the situation that arises. ● turn a deaf ear to someone or something to refuse to listen. ● up to one's ears in something colloq deeply involved in it or occupied with it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon eare.

ear[2] /ɪə(r)/ ▷ noun the part of a cereal plant, such as wheat, that contains the seeds. ● eared adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

earache ▷ noun pain or an ache in the inner part of the ear.

earbash ▷ verb, tr & intr, slang to pester someone with non-stop talking.

earcon /ˈɪəkɒn/ ▷ noun, computing an audio signal given by a computer, as opposed to an ICON. ⓘ 1980s: from EAR + ICON.

eardrops ▷ plural noun 1 medicinal drops for the ear. 2 pendant earrings.

eardrum ▷ noun the small thin membrane inside the ear, which transmits vibrations made by sound waves to the inner ear. Technical equivalent tympanic membrane.

eared see under EAR[1], EAR[2] earflap ▷ noun one of two coverings for the ears, attached to a cap, to protect them from cold or injury.

earful ▷ noun (earfuls) colloq 1 a long complaint or telling-off; a tough scolding. 2 something heard. 3 as much talk or gossip as one can stand. ⓘ Early 20c.

ear-hole ▷ noun the aperture of the ear.

earl /ɜːl/ ▷ noun a male member of the British nobility ranking below a marquess and above a viscount. See also COUNTESS. ● earldom noun the status or position of an earl. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon eorl a warrior or hero.

Earl Grey ▷ noun a blend of various fragrant Oriental teas flavoured and scented with oil of bergamot.

earlobe ▷ noun the soft, loosely hanging piece of flesh which forms the lower part of the ear.

early /ˈɜːlɪ/ ▷ adverb, adj (earlier, earliest) 1 characteristic of or near the beginning of (a period of time, period of development, etc). 2 sooner than others, sooner than usual, or sooner than expected or intended. 3 in the near future. 4 in the distant past. • earliness noun. • at the earliest not before, and probably later than (a specified time). • earlier on previously. • early and late at all times. • early on at or near the beginning of a period of time, etc. • have an early night colloq to go to bed earlier than usual. • in the early days during the first years of (an enterprise, marriage, reign, etc). • it's early days colloq it is too soon to be able to judge the outcome or expect a result. • keep early hours to go to bed and to get up early regularly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon aerlice.

early bird ▷ noun, colloq 1 a person who gets out of bed early. 2 a person who arrives early.

early closing ▷ noun 1 the shutting of local shops in a town for one afternoon each week. 2 the day on which this happens.

early day motion ▷ noun in Parliament: a motion for consideration on a day when business finishes early. As such days are rare, it is usually merely a means to draw attention to a matter.

Early English ▷ adj, archit referring or relating to the form of Gothic architecture used in England during the 12c and 13c, in which the pointed arch was first used.

early music ▷ noun, music music of the medieval and Renaissance periods, and sometimes including that of the baroque and early classical periods. Also (early-music) as adj.

early warning ▷ noun advance warning of something about to happen. ▷ adj (early-warning) belonging to or part of an EARLY WARNING SYSTEM.

early warning system ▷ noun a radar system designed to give the earliest possible warning of attack from enemy aircraft or missiles.

earmark ▷ verb 1 to set aside or intend something or someone for a particular purpose. 2 to make an identification mark on the ear of (an animal). ▷ noun 1 an owner's mark on an animal's ear. 2 a distinctive mark. ⓘ 16c as noun 1.

earmuffs ▷ plural noun coverings worn over the ears to protect them from cold or noise.

earn /ɜːn/ ▷ verb (earned, earning) 1 tr & intr to gain (money, wages, one's living, etc) by working. 2 to gain. 3 to deserve. See also WELL EARNED. • earner noun 1 a person who earns. 2 slang an easy and sometimes dishonest way of making money. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon earnian.

■ earn out to make enough money from sales to recover costs or make a profit.

earned income ▷ noun income from paid employment.

earnest[1] /ˈɜːnɪst/ ▷ adj 1 serious or over-serious. 2 showing determination, sincerity or strong feeling. • earnestly adverb. • earnestness noun. • in earnest 1 serious or seriously. 2 sincere. 3 not as a joke; in reality. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon eornust seriousness.

earnest[2] /ˈɜːnɪst/ ▷ noun, literary or old use 1 a part payment made in advance, especially (law) one made to confirm an agreement. 2 a sign or foretaste of what is to come. ⓘ 13c as ernes: from French erres pledges.

earnings ▷ plural noun 1 money earned. 2 profits. 3 investment income.

earphones ▷ plural noun see HEADPHONES.

earpiece ▷ noun the part of a telephone or hearing-aid which is placed at or in the ear.

ear-piercing ▷ adj said of a noise: loud and sharp; shrill.

ear piercing ▷ noun the piercing of the earlobe in order to insert an earring.

earplug ▷ noun a piece of wax or rubber, etc placed in the ear as a protection against noise, cold or water.

earring ▷ noun a piece of jewellery worn attached to the ear, especially to the earlobe.

earshot ▷ noun the distance at which sound can be heard □ out of earshot.

ear-splitting ▷ adj said of a noise: extremely loud.

earth /ɜːθ/ ▷ noun 1 (often the Earth) the planet on which we live, the third planet in order of distance from the Sun. 2 the world, as opposed to heaven or hell. 3 the land and sea, as opposed to the sky. 4 dry land; the land surface; the ground. 5 soil. 6 a hole in which an animal lives, especially a badger or fox. 7 a an electrical connection with the ground; b a wire that provides this. 8 the inhabitants of the planet Earth □ the whole Earth celebrated the news. ▷ verb (earthed, earthing) electronics to connect to the ground. • come back or down to earth to become aware of the realities of life again or for the first time. • cost the earth colloq to be extremely expensive. • go to earth said of an animal: to go into its hole or hiding-place. • on earth used for emphasis □ What on earth is that? • run something to earth 1 to chase or hunt (an animal) to its hole or hiding-place. 2 to find it after a long search. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon eorthe.

■ earth something up to heap soil around the lower part of (a plant), eg as a protection against frost.

earthbound ▷ adj 1 attached or restricted to the earth. 2 said of a spacecraft, etc: moving towards the Earth. 3 sometimes derog unable to think beyond what is known or familiar; lacking imagination.

earth closet ▷ noun a lavatory in which earth is used to cover the excreta.

earthen /ˈɜːθən/ ▷ adj 1 said of a floor, etc: made of earth. 2 said of a pot, etc: made of baked clay.

earthenware ▷ noun pottery made of a kind of baked clay which is rather coarse to the touch.

earthier, earthiest, earthily and earthiness see under EARTHY.

earthling /ˈɜːθlɪŋ/ ▷ noun in science fiction: a native of the Earth.

earthly /ˈɜːθlɪ/ ▷ adj (earthlier, earthliest) 1 literary referring, relating or belonging to this world; not spiritual. 2 colloq, with negatives used for emphasis □ have no earthly chance. • earthliness noun. • not have an earthly colloq 1 not to have the slightest chance of success. 2 not to have the least idea. See also UNEARTHLY.

Earthman and Earthwoman ▷ noun especially in science fiction: a male or female native of the Earth.

earth mother ▷ noun 1 the Earth personified as a goddess. 2 sometimes derog or facetious a woman whose body shape and apparent fertility seem to symbolize motherhood. • earth-motherly adj.

earth-movement ▷ noun, geol elevation, subsidence or folding of the Earth's crust.

earthmover ▷ noun a bulldozer or other piece of mobile equipment designed to shift large quantities of soil, etc.

earthnut ▷ noun 1 a variety of perennial umbelliferous woodland plant. 2 the edible dark brown tubers of this plant. 3 any one of various plants that have an edible root, tuber or underground pod, eg the peanut.

earthquake ▷ noun a succession of vibrations that shake the Earth's surface, caused by shifting movements in the Earth's crust, volcanic activity, etc.

earth science ▷ noun any of the sciences broadly concerned with the Earth, eg geology and meteorology.

earth-shaking and earth-shattering ▷ adj, colloq being of great importance. • earth-shakingly or earth-shatteringly adverb in a crucially important way; remarkably.

earth sign ▷ noun, astrol a name given to each of three signs of the zodiac, ie TAURUS, VIRGO and CAPRICORN.

earth tremor ▷ noun a slight earthquake.

earthward ▷ adverb (also earthwards) towards Earth. ▷ adj moving toward Earth; Earth-directed.

Earthwoman see EARTHMAN earthwork ▷ noun 1 (often earthworks) technical excavation and embanking, eg as one process in road-building. 2 a fortification built of earth.

earthworm ▷ noun any of several types of worm which live in and burrow through the soil.

earthy /ˈɜːθɪ/ ▷ adj (earthier, earthiest) 1 consisting of, relating to, or like earth or soil. 2 coarse or crude; lacking politeness. • earthily adverb. • earthiness noun.

ear trumpet ▷ noun an old-fashioned HEARING AID consisting of a small trumpet held up to the ear.

earwax ▷ noun a waxy substance secreted by the glands of the ear. Also called cerumen.

earwig ▷ noun an insect with pincers at the end of its body. • earwigging noun, colloq a scolding. ◎ Anglo-Saxon eare ear + wicga insect: this insect was formerly thought to crawl into a person's head through the ear.

EASDAQ /ˈiːzdak/ ▷ abbreviation, finance European Association of Securities Dealers Quotation, a quotation system for European shares. Compare NASDAQ.

ease /iːz/ ▷ noun 1 freedom from pain or anxiety. 2 absence of difficulty. 3 freedom from embarrassment. 4 absence of restriction. 5 rest from work; leisure; relaxation. 6 wealth; freedom from the constraints of poverty. ▷ verb (eased, easing) 1 to free someone from pain, trouble or anxiety. 2 to make someone comfortable. 3 to relieve or calm something. 4 to loosen something □ ease the waistband. 5 to make something less difficult; to assist □ ease his progress. 6 intr (often ease off or up) to become less intense. 7 intr to move gently or very gradually. • easeful adj relaxing; quiet; restful. • at ease 1 relaxed; free from anxiety or embarrassment. 2 military standing with legs apart and hands clasped behind the back. • take one's ease formal to relax; to make oneself comfortable. ◎ 13c: from French aise.

■ ease something in or out to move (something heavy or awkward) gently or gradually in or out of position.

easel /ˈiːzəl/ ▷ noun a stand for supporting a blackboard or an artist's canvas, etc. ◎ 17c: from Dutch ezel ass.

easement ▷ noun, law the right to use something, especially land, that is not one's own, or to prevent its owner making an inconvenient use of it.

easier, easiest, easily and easiness see under EASY east /iːst/ ▷ noun (abbreviation E) 1 the direction from which the Sun rises at the equinox. 2 one of the four CARDINAL POINTS of the compass. 3 (also the east or the East) any part of the Earth, a country or a town, etc lying in that direction. 4 cards the position at the table, or the player occupying the place, corresponding to east on a compass. 5 (the East) a the countries of Asia, east of Europe. See also THE FAR EAST, MIDDLE EAST, NEAR EAST; b politics the former communist countries of eastern Europe. 6 (the East) the eastern part of the US. ▷ adj 1 situated in the east; on the side which is on or nearest the east. 2 facing or toward the east. 3 said especially of wind: coming from the east. ▷ adverb in, to or towards the east. ◎ Anglo-Saxon.

eastbound ▷ adj going or leading towards the east.

east-by-north and east-by-south ▷ noun, adj, adverb 11 $^{1}/_{4}$ degrees north, or south, of due east.

East End ▷ noun in the UK: the eastern part of a town or city, especially in London, where it is traditionally associated with industry and the docks, and crowded living conditions. • Eastender noun.

Easter /ˈiːstə(r)/ ▷ noun, Christianity 1 a religious festival celebrating the resurrection of Christ, held on the Sunday after the first full moon in spring, called Easter Day or Easter Sunday. 2 the period during which the festival takes place, thought of as running from GOOD FRIDAY to the following Monday, called Easter Monday. ◎ Anglo-Saxon eastre, perhaps from Eostre, the name of a goddess associated with spring.

Easter egg ▷ noun an egg or artificial egg given as a present at Easter, traditionally a painted or dyed hard-boiled egg, but now more commonly a chocolate egg.

easterly /ˈiːstəlɪ/ ▷ adj 1 said of a wind, etc: coming from the east. 2 looking or lying, etc towards the east; situated in the east. ▷ adverb to or towards the east. ▷ noun (easterlies) an easterly wind.

eastern or Eastern /ˈiːstən/ ▷ adj situated in, directed towards or belonging to the east or the East. • easterner or Easterner noun a person who lives in or comes from the east, especially the eastern US.

eastern hemisphere ▷ noun 1 the half of the Earth containing Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia. 2 the lands within this sector, especially Asia.

easternmost ▷ adj situated furthest east.

Eastern Orthodox Church and Eastern Church see ORTHODOX CHURCH

Eastern Time and Eastern Standard Time ▷ noun (abbreviation ET or EST) the time used on the east coast of N America, which is five hours behind GMT.

Easter Sunday see under EASTER

Eastertide ▷ noun, Christianity 1 the days around Easter. 2 church the fifty days from Easter to WHITSUN.

East Germanic see GERMANIC easting /ˈiːstɪŋ/ ▷ noun, nautical the total distance travelled towards the east by a ship, etc.

east-north-east and east-south-east ▷ noun, adj, adverb 22 $^{1}/_{2}$ degrees north, or south, of due east.

eastward /ˈiːstwəd/ ▷ adverb (also eastwards) towards the east. ▷ adj toward the east.

easy /ˈiːzɪ/ ▷ adj (easier, easiest) 1 not difficult. 2 free from pain, trouble, anxiety, etc. 3 not strict; lenient. 4 not stiff or formal; friendly. 5 tolerant. 6 not tense or strained; leisurely. 7 colloq having no strong preference; ready to accept suggestions offered by others. 8 said of financial circumstances: comfortable; not straitened. 9 in plentiful supply. 10 said of clothing, etc: loose; not restricting. 11 said of exercise or speed, etc: moderate; not extreme or severe. 12 slang ready and willing for sexual experiences. ▷ adverb, colloq in a slow, calm or relaxed way □ take it easy. • easily adverb 1 without difficulty. 2 clearly; beyond doubt; by far. 3 very probably. • easiness noun. • easy does it! 1 be careful! 2 in the performing of a physical task: don't strain yourself! • easy on the eye or ear pleasant to look at or listen to. • go easy on or with someone to deal with them gently or calmly. • go easy on or with something to use, take, etc not too much of it □ Go easy on the wine. • stand easy military to stand less stiffly than standing at ease. ◎ 12c: from French aisie, from aisier to ease.

easy-care ▷ adj said chiefly of fabric or clothing, etc: easy to maintain, clean or launder, etc.

easy chair ▷ noun a soft comfortable chair, usually one with arms.

easy game and easy meat ▷ noun someone or something that is easy to beat, fool, persuade, hit or destroy, etc.

easy-going ▷ adj not strict; relaxed, tolerant or placid.

easy listening ▷ noun, music a category of modern popular music comprising pleasant but undemanding songs and tunes. Also (easy-listening) as adj.

easy money ▷ noun 1 money gained without much exertion or difficulty. 2 finance money that can be borrowed at a low rate of interest.

easy over ▷ adj, colloq, especially US said of an egg: fried on both sides.

easy street or Easy Street ▷ noun, colloq a situation of comfort and financial well-being.

easy terms ▷ plural noun payment in instalments rather than all at once.

EAT ▷ abbreviation, IVR East Africa Tanganyika, ie Tanzania.

eat /iːt/ ▷ verb (ate /ɛt, eɪt/, eaten, eating) 1 to bite, chew and swallow (food). 2 intr to take in food; to take a meal. 3 to take something in as food. 4 to tolerate something as food. 5 to eat into something. 6 colloq to trouble or worry someone □ What's eating you? • be eaten up by or with something to be greatly affected by it (usually a bad feeling) □ be eaten up with jealousy • eat humble pie to lower oneself or lose dignity, eg by admitting a mistake. • eat one's heart out to suffer, especially in silence, from some longing or anxiety, or from envy. • eat one's words to admit that one was wrong. • eat out of someone's hand colloq to be very willing to follow, obey or agree with them. • eat up the miles said of a vehicle: to cover a distance at speed. • What's eating you, him, etc? What's wrong with you, him, etc? ⓘ Anglo-Saxon etan.

▪ eat something away or eat away at something 1 to gnaw it. 2 to eat into it (sense 3).

▪ eat in to eat at home rather than in a restaurant, cafe, etc.

▪ eat into or through something 1 to use it up gradually. 2 to waste it. 3 to destroy its material, substance or form, etc, especially by chemical action; to corrode it.

▪ eat out to eat at a restaurant, cafe, etc rather than at home.

▪ eat up to finish one's food.

▪ eat something up 1 to finish (one's food). 2 to destroy it. 3 to absorb; to listen with real interest.

▪ be eaten up with something to be consumed by (jealousy, etc).

eatable ▷ adj fit to be eaten. ▷ noun (usually eatables) an item of food. Compare EDIBLE.

eater ▷ noun 1 in compounds a person who eats in a specified way □ a noisy eater. 2 an eating apple, or any other fruit meant to be eaten raw.

eatery /ˈiːtərɪ/ ▷ noun (eateries) colloq a small restaurant.

eating apple ▷ noun an apple for eating raw. Compare COOKING APPLE.

eating house ▷ noun a restaurant.

eats ▷ plural noun, colloq food.

EAU ▷ abbreviation, IVR East Africa Uganda, ie Uganda.

eau de Cologne /oʊ də kəˈloʊn/ and cologne ▷ noun a mild type of perfume, originally made in Cologne in Germany in 1709. ⓘ Early 18c: French, literally 'water of Cologne'.

eau de nil /oʊ də niːl/ ▷ noun a pale green colour. Also called NILE GREEN. ⓘ French, literally 'water of the Nile'.

eau de toilette /oʊ də twɑːˈlɛt/ ▷ noun TOILET WATER.

eau de vie /oʊ də viː/ ▷ noun brandy, or sometimes other spirits. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'water of life'.

eaves /iːvz/ ▷ plural noun the part of a roof that sticks out beyond the wall, or the underside of it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon efes the clipped edge of thatch.

eavesdrop ▷ verb (eavesdropped, eavesdropping) (also eavesdrop on someone) intr to listen secretly to a private conversation. • eavesdropper noun. • eavesdropping noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon yfesdrypa a person who stands under the eaves to listen to conversations.

EAZ ▷ abbreviation, IVR East Africa Zanzibar, ie Tanzania.

ebb ▷ verb (ebbed, ebbing) intr 1 said of the tide: to move back from the land. 2 (also ebb away) to grow smaller or weaker. ▷ noun 1 the movement of the tide away from the land. 2 a decline. • at a low ebb in a poor or weak state, mentally or physically. • on the ebb in decline; failing. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ebba.

ebbtide ▷ noun the ebbing tide. Opposite of FLOODTIDE.

EBCDIC /ˈɛbsɪdɪk/ ▷ abbreviation, computing extended binary-coded decimal-interchange code, a computer code for representing alphanumeric characters, the main code used in addition to ASCII.

ebony /ˈɛbənɪ/ ▷ noun (ebonies) 1 a type of extremely hard, heavy and almost black wood. 2 any of various tropical trees from which it is obtained. ▷ adj 1 made from this wood. 2 black □ ebony skin. • ebonize or ebonise verb (ebonized, ebonizing) to make or become like ebony. ⓘ 14c as hebeny: from Latin hebenus.

ebonite ▷ noun VULCANITE.

EBU ▷ abbreviation European Broadcasting Union.

ebullient /ɪˈbʌlɪənt, -bʊ-/ ▷ adj 1 ▷ very high-spirited; full of cheerfulness or enthusiasm. 2 boiling. • ebullience or ebulliency noun. • ebulliently adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin ebullire to boil out.

eburnean /ɪˈbɜːnɪən/ ▷ adj made of or like ivory. ⓘ 17c: from Latin eburneus, from ebur ivory.

EC ▷ abbreviation 1 East Caribbean. 2 East Central. 3 IVR Ecuador. 4 European Commission. 5 European Community.

ecad /ˈiːkad/ ▷ noun, bot, ecol a plant form which is assumed to have adapted to its environment. ⓘ Early 20c: from ECOLOGY.

écarté /eɪˈkɑːteɪ/ ▷ noun, ballet a position in which the arm and leg are extended to the side. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'spread' or 'separated'.

eccentric /ɪkˈsɛntrɪk/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person or behaviour, etc: odd; unusual or unconventional. 2 technical said of a wheel, etc: not having the axis at the centre. 3 geom said of circles: not having a common centre; not concentric. 4 said of an orbit: not circular. ▷ noun 1 an eccentric person. 2 technical a device for converting rotating motion into motion backwards and forwards. • eccentrically adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin eccentricus, from Greek ek out of + kentron centre.

eccentricity /ɛksənˈtrɪsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (eccentricities) 1 peculiarity of behaviour; oddness. 2 being eccentric. 3 deviation from a circular orbit, etc. 4 geom (symbol e) the constant ratio of the distance of a point on the curve from the focus to its distance from the DIRECTRIX. 5 the degree of displacement of the geometric centre of a part from the true centre, eg of the axis of rotation of a wheel.

Eccl. and Eccles. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Ecclesiastes. See table at BIBLE.

eccl. and eccles. ▷ abbreviation ecclesiastic or ecclesiastical.

Eccles cake /ˈɛkəlz —/ ▷ noun a small round cake of sweet pastry filled with raisins and currants, etc. ⓘ 19c: named after Eccles in Lancashire, England.

ecclesiastic /ɪkliːzɪˈastɪk/ ▷ noun, formal a clergyman or a member of a holy order. ▷ adj (also ecclesiastical) relating to the church or the clergy. • ecclesiastically adverb. • ecclesiasticism /-sɪzəm/ noun excessive regard for the rules and observances of the church. ⓘ 15c: from 15c Greek ekklesiastikos, meaning 'relating to the ekklesia' ie an assembly or gathering, and also the name given to the early church.

ecclesiology /ɪkliːzɪ'ɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the study of church forms and traditions. 2 the study of church architecture and decoration. 3 the study or knowledge of the church. • ecclesiological /-ə'lɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. • ecclesiologist noun. ⓘ 19c.

eccrine /'ɛkrɪn/ physiol ▷ adj said of a gland, especially a sweat gland: secreting externally. • eccrinology /-'nɒlədʒɪ/ noun the study of the secretions of the eccrine glands. ⓘ 1930s: from Greek ek out of + krinein to separate or secrete.

ecdysiast /ɛk'dɪzɪast/ ▷ noun, facetious a striptease performer. ⓘ 1940s: coined by H L Mencken (1880–1956), US satirist, and based on ecdysis.

ecdysis /'ɛkdɪsɪs/ ▷ noun (ecdyses /'ɛkdɪsiːz/) zool in animals with a rigid EXOSKELETON, such as insects and crustaceans: the act of shedding the exoskeleton so that growth can occur. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from Greek ekdysein to take off.

ECE ▷ abbreviation Economic Commission for Europe.

ECG ▷ abbreviation 1 electrocardiogram. 2 electrocardiograph.

échappé /eɪʃa'peɪ/ ▷ noun (échappés) ballet a double leap from two feet, starting in fifth position, landing in second or fourth, and finishing in fifth.

echelon /'ɛʃəlɒn/ ▷ noun 1 formal a a level or rank in an organization, etc; b the people at that level. 2 technical a roughly V-shaped formation, used by ships, planes, birds in flight, etc in which each member is in a position slightly to the outside of the one in front. ⓘ 19c: French from échelle ladder.

echidna /ɪ'kɪdnə/ ▷ noun (echidnas) zool the spiny anteater, an egg-laying mammal of Australia and New Guinea, with a long snout and long claws. ⓘ 19c: Greek, meaning 'viper'.

echinoderm /ɪ'kaɪnoʊdɜːm/ ▷ noun any sea animal of the family Echinodermata (/-mətə/) to which starfish and sea urchins belong, noted for having tube feet (see tube foot) and the body wall strengthened by calcareous plates. • echinodermal or echinodermatous adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek echinos hedgehog or sea urchin + derma skin.

echinoid /ɪ'kaɪnɔɪd/ zool ▷ adj like a sea urchin. ▷ noun a sea urchin. ⓘ 19c.

echinus /ɪ'kaɪnəs/ ▷ noun (echini /-naɪ/) 1 zool a type of sea urchin, eg the edible sea urchin from the Mediterranean. 2 archit the moulding that supports the ABACUS of a DORIC column. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from Greek echinos hedgehog.

echo /'ɛkoʊ/ ▷ noun (echoes) 1 the repeating of a sound caused by the sound waves striking a surface and coming back. 2 a sound repeated in this way. 3 often facetious a person who imitates or repeats what others say or think. 4 an imitation or repetition, sometimes an accidental one. 5 (often echoes) a trace; something which brings to mind memories or thoughts of something else. 6 a reflected radio or radar beam, or the visual signal it produces on a screen. 7 (Echo) communications in the NATO alphabet: the word used to denote the letter 'E' (see table at NATO ALPHABET). ▷ verb (echoes, echoed, echoing) 1 to send back an echo of something. 2 to repeat (a sound or a statement). 3 to imitate or in some way be similar to something. 4 intr to resound; to reverberate. • echoic /ɛ'koʊɪk/ adj 1 formal said of a sound: referring to or like an echo. 2 said of a word: imitating the sound it represents; onomatopoeic, eg bump. • echoless adj. ⓘ 14c: Greek, meaning 'sound'.

■ echo with or to something to make (a sound) loudly, with an echo.

echocardiogram ▷ noun, medicine the record produced by echocardiography, the examination of the heart and its function by means of ultrasound. ⓘ 1970s.

echo chamber ▷ noun a room where the walls reflect sound, used when making acoustic measurements or as a recording studio when an echo effect is required. ⓘ 1930s.

echolalia /ɛkoʊ'leɪlɪə/ ▷ noun, psychiatry senseless or compulsive repetition of words heard. ⓘ 19c: from ECHO + Greek lalia talk.

echolocation ▷ noun the determining of the position of objects by measuring the time taken for an echo to return from them, and the direction of the echo. ⓘ 1940s.

echo-sounding ▷ noun a method used at sea, etc for determining the depth of water, locating shoals of fish, etc, by measuring the time taken for a signal sent out from the ship, etc to return as an echo.

echo-sounder ▷ noun the apparatus used in echo-sounding. See also FATHOMETER 1.

echo virus or ECHO virus ▷ noun, pathol any of a group of viruses which can cause respiratory and intestinal diseases, and meningitis. ⓘ 1950s: from enteric cytopathogenic human orphan virus; 'orphan' because it was originally believed not to be related to any other disease.

echt /ɛxt/ ▷ adj genuine; authentic. ⓘ Early 20c: German.

éclair /ɪ'klɛə(r)/ ▷ noun a long cake of choux pastry with a cream filling and chocolate or coffee icing. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'flash of lightning', perhaps because it is quickly eaten.

eclampsia /ɪ'klampsɪə/ ▷ noun, pathol a toxic condition which may develop during the last three months of pregnancy. See also PRE-ECLAMPSIA. ⓘ 19c: from Greek eklampein to shine out.

éclat /eɪ'klɑː/ ▷ noun, literary 1 striking effect; showy splendour. 2 splendid success; distinction. 3 applause, praise. ⓘ 17c: French, from esclater to break or shine.

eclectic /ɪ'klɛktɪk/ ▷ adj said of a style of writing or art, or a set of beliefs: selecting material or ideas from a wide range of sources or authorities. ▷ noun a person who adopts eclectic methods. • eclectically adverb. • eclecticism /-sɪzəm/ noun. ⓘ 17c: from Greek eklektikos, from ek from + legein to choose.

eclipse /ɪ'klɪps/ ▷ noun 1 the total or partial obscuring of one planet or heavenly body by another, eg of the Sun when the Moon comes between it and the Earth (called a solar eclipse) or of the Moon when the Earth's shadow falls across it (called a lunar eclipse). 2 a loss of fame or importance. ▷ verb (eclipsed, eclipsing) 1 to cause an eclipse of (a heavenly body). 2 to surpass or outshine. 3 to obscure. ⓘ 14c: French, from Greek ekleipsis failure to appear.

ecliptic /ɪ'klɪptɪk/ ▷ noun (the ecliptic) the course which the Sun seems to follow in relation to the stars. ▷ adj characteristic of, belonging to or relating to an eclipse or to the ecliptic.

eclogue /'ɛklɒg/ ▷ noun a pastoral poem, often in the form of a dialogue. ⓘ 15c: from Latin ecloga a short poem.

eclosion /ɪ'kloʊʒən/ ▷ noun emergence, especially that of an insect larva from its egg, or an adult insect from its pupal case. ⓘ 19c: French éclosion, from Latin excludere, exclusum to shut out.

eco- /iːkoʊ, ɛkoʊ, ɪ'kɒ/ ▷ combining form, denoting living things in relation to their environment. ⓘ From ECOLOGY.

ecocide /'iːkoʊsaɪd/ ▷ noun destruction of the aspects of the environment which enable it to support life. ⓘ 1970s.

eco-friendly ▷ adj ecologically acceptable; not harmful to or threatening the environment.

ecol. ▷ abbreviation 1 ecological. 2 ecology.

eco-label ▷ noun 1 a label used by manufacturers of products claiming to be environmentally acceptable, specifying to the consumer the exact nature of their ecological soundness, eg 'contains no animal products'. 2 a label certifying that certain standards of ecological soundness have been reached, eg 'Dolphin friendly' (a label on certain brands of canned tuna). • eco-labelling noun. ⓒ 1980s.

E. coli ▷ abbreviation Escherichia coli.

ecology /ɪ'kɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the relationship between living things and their surroundings. 2 the study of plants, animals, peoples and institutions, in relation to environment. • ecologic /-'lɒdʒɪk/ or ecological adj 1 relating to, or concerned with, ecology. 2 said of policies, methods, practices or products: beneficial to the natural environment. • ecologically adverb. • ecologist noun. ⓒ 19c.

econ. ▷ abbreviation 1 economic. 2 economical. 3 economics. 4 economy.

econometrics /ɪkɒnə'metrɪks/ ▷ singular noun statistical analysis of economic data and their interrelations. • econometric or econometrical adj. • econometrician /-mə'trɪʃən/ noun. ⓒ 1930s.

economic /iːkə'nɒmɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or concerned with economy or economics. 2 relating to industry or business. 3 said of a business practice or industry, etc: operated at, or likely to bring, a profit. 4 economical. 5 colloq cheap; not expensive.

> economic, economical
>
> • Although there is some overlap in meaning, economic is more closely associated with economics, and economical has a less specific sense related to the general sense of economy. ◻ Consultation will focus on the economic and diplomatic issues. ◻ It may be economical to use a cheaper form of fuel.

economical /iːkə'nɒmɪkəl/ ▷ adj 1 not wasting money or resources. 2 thrifty; frugal or careful. 3 economic. • economical with the truth deceiving someone by not telling them some essential fact and therefore implying that something is the case when it is not; a euphemism for lying. • economically adverb.

economic refugee ▷ noun someone who seeks refuge in another country because of poverty, rather than for religious or political reasons.

economics /iːkə'nɒmɪks/ ▷ singular noun 1 the study of the production, distribution and consumption of money, goods and services. 2 the financial aspects of something. See also HOME ECONOMICS. • economist /ɪ'kɒnəmɪst/ noun an expert in economics.

economize or economise /ɪ'kɒnəmaɪz/ ▷ verb (economized, economizing) intr to cut down on spending or waste. • economization noun. • economizer noun. ⓒ 17c.

economy /ɪ'kɒnəmɪ/ ▷ noun (economies) 1 the organization of money and resources within a nation or community, etc, especially in terms of the production, distribution and consumption of goods and services. 2 a system in which these are organized in a specified way ◻ a socialist economy. 3 careful management of money or other resources, avoiding waste and cutting down on spending. 4 (usually economies) an instance of economizing; a saving. 5 efficient or sparing use of something ◻ economy of movement. 6 as adj a said of a class of travel, especially air travel: of the cheapest kind; b (also economy-size or economy-sized) said of a packet of food, etc: larger than the standard or basic size, and proportionally cheaper. ⓒ 16c: from Greek oikos house + nemein to control.

ecosphere ▷ noun, technical 1 the parts of the universe, especially of the Earth, in which living things can exist. 2 the BIOSPHERE. ⓒ 1950s.

écossaise /eɪkɒ'seɪz/ ▷ noun a lively country dance or music for it in 2/4 time. ⓒ 19c: originally the name of a dance of Scottish origin or the tune for it: feminine form of French écossais Scottish.

ecosystem ▷ noun a community of living things and their relationships to their surroundings. ⓒ 1930s.

ecotourism ▷ noun the careful development and management of tourism in areas of unspoiled natural beauty, so that the environment is preserved and the income from tourists contributes to its conservation.

ecotoxic ▷ adj poisonous to plants or animals; deleterious to the environment.

ecotoxicology ▷ noun the study of the destructive effect of waste materials, etc on the environment. • ecotoxicologist noun.

ecotype ▷ noun a group of organisms which have adapted to a particular environment and so have become different from other groups within the species.

ecru /'eɪkruː/ ▷ noun an off-white or greyish-yellow colour; fawn. ▷ adj of this colour. ⓒ 19c: French écru the colour of unbleached linen.

ECSC ▷ abbreviation European Coal and Steel Community, established in 1951, a predecessor of the EEC.

Ecstasy /'ɛkstəsɪ/ ▷ noun, slang (abbreviation E) a powerful hallucinatory drug, methylene-dioxymethamphetamine.

ecstasy /'ɛkstəsɪ/ ▷ noun (ecstasies) 1 a feeling of immense joy; rapture. 2 psychol a trance-like state or any similar state. • ecstatic adj 1 relating to, showing or causing ecstasy. 2 colloq very happy or pleased. • ecstatically adverb. ⓒ 14c: from French extase, from Greek ekstasis standing outside oneself.

ECT ▷ abbreviation electroconvulsive therapy.

ecto- /ɛktoʊ, ɛk'tɒ/ ▷ combining form, signifying outside. See also ENDO-, INTO-, EXO-. ⓒ From Greek ektos outside.

ectoblast ▷ noun the EPIBLAST. • ectoblastic adj. ⓒ 19c.

ectoderm and exoderm ▷ noun, zool in a multicellular animal that has two or more layers of body tissue: a the external germinal layer of EPIBLAST of the embryo; b the tissues directly derived from this layer. • ectodermal or ectodermic adj. Compare ENDODERM, MESODERM. ⓒ 19c.

ectomorph ▷ noun a person of thin light body build. Compare ENDOMORPH, MESOMORPH. • ectomorphic adj. • ectomorphy noun. ⓒ 1940s: this body type has a prevalence of structures formed from ectoderm.

-ectomy /ɛktəmɪ/ ▷ combining form (-ectomies) medicine, signifying removal by surgery ◻ hysterectomy. ⓒ From Greek ektome, from ektemnein to cut out.

ectopic /ɛk'tɒpɪk/ ▷ adj, pathol in an abnormal position. ⓒ 19c: from Greek ek out of + topos place.

ectopic pregnancy ▷ noun, pathol the development of a fetus outside the uterus, especially in a Fallopian tube.

ectoplasm /'ɛktoʊplazəm/ ▷ noun 1 biol the outer layer of a cell's protoplasm, the material which makes up the living part. 2 the substance thought by some people to be given off by the body of a spiritualistic medium during a trance. • ectoplasmic adj. ⓒ 19c.

ecu or Ecu /'eɪkjuː/ ▷ noun the European currency unit, a trading currency whose value is based on the combined values of several European currencies.

ecumenical or oecumenical /iːkjʊ'mɛnɪkəl, ɛk-/ and ecumenic or oecumenic ▷ adj 1 bringing together different branches of the Christian church. 2 working towards the unity of the Christian church. 3 referring to or consisting of the whole Christian church □ an ecumenical council. ● ecumenicalism or ecumenicism /-'mɛnɪsɪzəm/ or ecumenism /ɪ'kjuːmənɪzəm/ noun the principles or practice of Christian unity. ● ecumenically adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Greek oikoumenikos relating to the inhabited world.

ecumenical movement ▷ noun a movement within the Christian church towards unity on all fundamental issues of belief and worship, etc.

ecumenics singular noun the study of ecumenical awareness and the ecumenical movement in the Christian church.

eczema /'ɛksɪmə, ɪg'ziːmə/ ▷ noun, pathol a skin disorder in which red blisters form on the skin, usually causing an itching or burning sensation. ● eczematous /ɛk'sɛmətəs, ɪg'ziː-/ adj. ⓘ 18c: from Greek ekzema, from ek out of + zeein to boil.

ed. ▷ abbreviation 1 edited. 2 (plural eds) edition. 3 (also Ed.) (plural eds or Eds) editor. 4 educated. 5 education.

-ed /ɪd, d, t/ ▷ suffix 1 used to form past tenses and past participles □ walked. 2 used to form adjectives from nouns □ bearded □ bald-headed.

Edam /'iːdam/ ▷ noun a type of mild yellow cheese, usually shaped into balls and covered with red wax. ⓘ 19c: from Edam, near Amsterdam, where it was originally made.

edaphic /ɪ'dafɪk/ ▷ adj, bot, ecol belonging or relating to the soil. ● edaphology /ɛdə'fɒlədʒɪ/ noun. ⓘ 19c: from Greek edaphos ground.

edaphic factor ▷ noun any physical or chemical property of the soil that influences plants growing in it.

EDC ▷ abbreviation 1 ethylene dichloride. 2 European Defence Community.

eddy /'ɛdɪ/ ▷ noun (eddies) 1 a current of water running back against the main stream or current, forming a small whirlpool. 2 a movement of air, smoke or fog, etc similar to this. ▷ verb (eddies, eddied, eddying) tr & intr to move or make something move in this way. ⓘ 15c.

eddy current ▷ noun an electric current caused by varying electromotive forces which are due to varying magnetic fields, and causing heating in motors, transformers, etc. Also called Foucault current.

edema see OEDEMA

edelweiss /'eɪdəlvaɪs/ ▷ noun (plural edelweiss) a small European mountain plant of the same family as the daisy and the dandelion, with white woolly leaves around the flower heads. ⓘ 19c: German, from edel noble + weiss white.

Eden /'iːdən/ ▷ noun 1 (also Garden of Eden) the garden where, according to the Bible, the first man and woman lived after being created. 2 a beautiful region; a place of delight. ● Edenic /iː'dɛnɪk/ adj. ⓘ 14c: from Hebrew eden delight or pleasure.

edentate /iː'dɛnteɪt/ biol ▷ adj having few or no teeth. ▷ noun an animal belonging to a group of mammals which have few or no teeth, but well-developed claws for digging and gripping, such as the anteater, armadillo and sloth. ⓘ 19c: from Latin edentatus toothless.

EDF ▷ abbreviation European Development Fund.

edge /ɛdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the part farthest from the middle of something; a border or boundary; the rim. 2 the area beside a cliff or steep drop. 3 the cutting side of something sharp such as a knife. 4 geom the meeting point of two surfaces. 5 sharpness or severity □ bread to take the edge off his hunger. 6 bitterness □ There was an edge to his criticism. ▷ verb (edged, edging) 1 to form or make a border to something, edged with flowers. 2 to shape the edge or border of something. 3 (usually edge forward, in or out, etc) tr & intr to move gradually and carefully, especially sideways. 4 to sharpen (a knife, etc). 5 cricket to strike with the edge of the bat. ● edged adj, in compounds 1 having an edge of a specified kind □ sharp-edged. 2 having a specified number of edges □ double-edged. ● edger noun 1 a garden tool for trimming the edge of a lawn. 2 someone or something that edges. ● edging noun 1 a border around something or to be applied to something, especially a decorative one. 2 the act of making an edge. 3 as adj used for making an edge. ● have the edge on or over someone or something 1 to have an advantage over them. 2 to be better than them. ● on edge uneasy; nervous and irritable. ● set someone's teeth on edge see under TOOTH. ● take the edge off something 1 to make it less unpleasant or less difficult. 2 to weaken or diminish it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ecg.

■ edge out something or someone 1 to remove or get rid of it or them gradually. 2 to defeat them by a small margin.

edge tool and edged tool ▷ noun a tool with a sharp edge.

edgeways and edgewise ▷ adverb 1 sideways. 2 with the edge uppermost or forwards. 3 in the direction of the edge. ● not get a word in edgeways to be unable to contribute to a conversation because the others are talking continuously.

edgy /'ɛdʒɪ/ ▷ adj (edgier, edgiest) colloq easily annoyed; anxious, nervous or tense. ● edgily adverb. ● edginess noun.

edible /'ɛdɪbəl/ ▷ adj fit to be eaten; suitable to eat. ▷ plural noun (edibles) food; things that are fit to be eaten. Compare EATABLE. ● edibility noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin edibilis.

edict /'iːdɪkt/ ▷ noun 1 an order issued by a monarch or government. 2 an order issued by any authority. ● edictal adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin edictum, from edicere to proclaim.

edifice /'ɛdɪfɪs/ ▷ noun, formal 1 a building, especially a large impressive one. 2 a large and complex organization. ⓘ 14c: French édifice, from Latin aedificare to build.

edify /'ɛdɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (edifies, edified, edifying) formal to improve the mind or morals of someone. ● edification noun. ● edifying adj intellectually or morally stimulating. ● edifyingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French édifier, from Latin aedificare to build.

edit[1] /'ɛdɪt/ ▷ verb (edited, editing) 1 to prepare (a book, newspaper, programme, film, etc) for publication or broadcasting, especially by making corrections or alterations. 2 to be in overall charge of the process of producing (a newspaper, etc). 3 to compile (a reference work). 4 (usually edit out something) to remove (parts of a work) before printing or broadcasting, etc. 5 to prepare (a cinema film, or a TV or radio programme) by putting together material previously photographed or recorded. 6 to prepare (data) for processing by a computer. ▷ noun a period or instance of editing. ● edited adj. ⓘ 18c: from EDITOR.

edit.[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 edited. 2 edition.

edition /ɪ'dɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the total number of copies of a book, etc printed at one time, or at different times without alteration. 2 one of a series of printings of a book or periodical, etc, produced with alterations and corrections made by the author or an editor. 3 the form in which a book, etc is published □ paperback edition. 4 the form given to a work by its editor or publisher □ the Cambridge edition. ⓘ 16c.

editor /'ɛdɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person who edits books, etc. 2 a person who is in charge of a newspaper or magazine, etc, or one section of it □ letters to the editor □ the Arts editor. 3 a person who is in charge of a radio or TV programme which is made up of different items, eg a news programme. 4 a person who puts together the various sections of a cinema film, etc. ● editorship noun. ⓘ 17c.

editorial /ɛdɪˈtɔːrɪəl/ ▷ adj referring or relating to editors or editing. ▷ noun an article written by or on behalf of the editor of a newspaper or magazine, usually one offering an opinion on a current topic. • editorially adverb.

editorialize or editorialise /ɛdɪˈtɔːrɪəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (editorialized, editorializing) intr 1 to write an editorial. 2 derog in journalism: to introduce personal opinion into something meant to be factual reporting. • editorialization noun.

EDP ▷ abbreviation electronic data processing.

eds see ED

EDT ▷ abbreviation, N Amer Eastern Daylight Time.

educable /ˈɛdjʊkəbəl/ ▷ adj capable of being educated. • educability noun.

educate /ˈɛdjʊkeɪt/ ▷ verb (educated, educating) 1 to train and teach. 2 to provide school instruction for someone. 3 to train and improve (one's taste, etc). • educatability noun. • educatable adj. • educative /ˈɛdjʊkətɪv/ adj 1 educating. 2 characteristic of or relating to education. • educator noun 1 a person who educates. 2 an educating experience or circumstance. • educatory adj. ⓒ 15c: from Latin educare, educatum to bring up.

educated adj 1 having received an education, especially to a level higher than average. 2 produced by or suggesting an education, usually a good one. 3 based on experience or knowledge □ an educated guess.

education /ɛdjʊˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of teaching. 2 the instruction received. 3 the process of training and improving (one's taste, etc). • educationist noun an expert in methods of education.

educational ▷ adj 1 relating to education. 2 having the function of educating □ educational TV. • educationalist noun. • educationally adverb as regards education or educating.

educe /ɪˈdjuːs/ ▷ verb (educed, educing) formal to bring out or develop. • educible adj. • eduction /ɪˈdʌkʃən/ noun. ⓒ 15c: from Latin e out + ducere to lead.

edutainment ▷ noun the presentation of educational material as entertainment. ⓒ 1990s: from education + entertainment.

Edwardian /ɛdˈwɔːdɪən/ ▷ adj belonging to or characteristic of Britain in the years 1901–10, the reign of King Edward VII.

-ee /iː/ ▷ suffix, forming nouns, signifying 1 a person who is the object of an action of a specified verb □ payee □ employee. 2 a person in a specified condition □ absentee □ escapee. 3 a person with a specified association or connection □ bargee. ⓒ From French -é or -ée.

EEC ▷ abbreviation European Economic Community.

EEG ▷ abbreviation 1 electroencephalogram. 2 electroencephalograph.

eek ▷ exclamation used in children's comics, etc representing a scream, etc.

eel ▷ noun 1 any of several kinds of fish with a long smooth snake-like body and very small fins. 2 any one of similar-looking animals, such as the SAND EEL or ELECTRIC EEL. 3 a devious or evasive person; a slippery character. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon æl.

eelgrass and eelwrack /ˈiːlrak/ ▷ noun a grasslike flowering plant of the pondweed family, which grows in seawater.

eelpout /ˈiːlpaʊt/ ▷ noun 1 the BURBOT, a freshwater edible fish. 2 the BLENNY.

eelworm ▷ noun any of various nematode worms.

e'en /iːn/ old use or poetic ▷ adverb even. ▷ noun evening.

EEPROM /ˈiːprɒm/ ▷ abbreviation, computing electrically erasable programmable read-only memory. Compare EPROM.

e'er /ɛə(r)/ ▷ adverb, old use or poetic ever.

-eer /ɪə(r)/ ▷ suffix 1 forming nouns, denoting a person concerned with or engaged in a specified thing or activity □ auctioneer □ mountaineer. 2 forming verbs, denoting actions or behaviour associated with a specified thing or activity □ electioneer. ⓒ From French -ier.

eerie /ˈɪərɪ/ ▷ adj (eerier, eeriest) strange and disturbing or frightening. • eerily adverb. • eeriness noun. ⓒ 13c: from Northern English eri.

EET ▷ abbreviation Eastern European Time.

eff taboo, swear-word ▷ verb (effed, effing) to fuck. • effing adj bloody; fucking. 1940s: euphemism for fuck.

■ eff off (only as command) go away!

efface /ɪˈfeɪs/ ▷ verb (effaced, effacing) 1 to rub or wipe out something. 2 to block out (a memory, etc). 3 to avoid drawing attention to (oneself). See also SELF-EFFACING. 4 to surpass or outshine something. • effaceable adj. • effacement noun. • effacer noun. ⓒ 15c: from French effacer, from Latin ex out + facies face.

effect /ɪˈfɛkt/ ▷ noun 1 a result. 2 an impression given or produced. 3 operation; a working state □ The ban comes into effect today. 4 (usually effects) formal property. 5 (usually effects) devices, especially lighting and sound, used to create a particular impression in a film or on a stage, etc □ special effects. ▷ verb (effected, effecting) formal to do something; to make something happen, or to bring it about. • for effect in order to make an impression on others. • give effect to something formal to do it or bring it into operation. • in effect in reality; practically speaking. • take effect to begin to work; to come into force. • to the effect that formal with the meaning of result that. • to good or some, etc effect with much or some, etc success. • to no effect with no success. • to that effect formal with that meaning or intended result. • with effect from formal coming into operation or becoming valid at (a specified time). • with immediate effect formal as from now. ⓒ 14c as noun: French, from Latin effectus.

> effect
>
> A word often confused with this one is affect.

effective /ɪˈfɛktɪv/ ▷ adj 1 having the power to produce, or producing, a desired result. 2 producing a pleasing effect. 3 impressive; striking. 4 in, or coming into, operation; working or active. 5 actual, rather than theoretical. 6 said of troops: equipped and prepared for action. ▷ noun a serviceman or body of servicemen equipped and prepared for action. • effectively adverb 1 in an effective way. 2 in reality; for all practical purposes. • effectiveness noun. ⓒ 14c.

effector /ɪˈfɛktə(r)/ biol ▷ adj causing a response to stimulus. ▷ noun an organ or substance which has this property. ⓒ Early 20c.

effectual /ɪˈfɛktjʊəl/ ▷ adj 1 producing the intended result. 2 said of a document, etc: valid. • effectually adverb with the intended result. ⓒ 14c: from Latin effectualis.

effectuate /ɪˈfɛktjʊeɪt/ ▷ verb (effectuated, effectuating) formal to do; to carry out something with success. • effectuation noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin effectuare.

effeminate /ɪˈfɛmɪnət/ ▷ adj, sometimes derog said of a man: having features of behaviour or appearance more typical of a woman; not manly. • effeminacy /-nəsɪ/ or effeminateness noun. • effeminately adverb. ⓒ 15c: from Latin effeminare to make in the form of a woman.

effendi /ɛˈfɛndɪ/ ▷ noun (effendis) 1 in Turkey: a the oral form of address equivalent to Mr; b before 1934 a formal title for a civil official. 2 historical in the eastern Mediterranean: a title of respect for educated or high-ranking men. ⓒ 17c in sense 2: from Turkish efendi master, from Greek authentes an absolute master.

efferent /ˈɛfərənt/ ▷ adj, physiol said of a nerve: carrying impulses out from the brain. Compare AFFERENT. ⓘ 19c: from Latin efferre to carry out, from ferre to carry.

effervesce /ɛfəˈvɛs/ ▷ verb (effervesced, effervescing) intr 1 said of a liquid: to give off bubbles of gas. 2 said of a gas: to emerge as bubbles in a liquid. 3 to behave in a lively or energetic way. • effervescence noun. • effervescent adj. ⓘ 18c: from Latin effervescere to boil up, from fervere to boil.

effete /ɪˈfiːt/ ▷ adj, derog 1 said of an institution or organization, etc: lacking its original power or authority. 2 said of a person: a lacking strength or energy; b decadent; c made weak by too much protection or refinement. 3 said of plants and animals: no longer able to reproduce. • effetely adverb. • effeteness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin effetus weakened by having given birth.

efficacious /ɛfɪˈkeɪʃəs/ formal ▷ adj producing, or certain to produce, the intended result. • efficaciously adverb with the intended result; successfully. • efficaciousness, efficacity /ɛfɪˈkasɪtɪ/ or efficacy /ˈɛfɪkəsɪ/ noun the power of producing an effect; effectiveness. ⓘ 16c: from Latin efficax, efficacis powerful.

efficient /ɪˈfɪʃənt/ ▷ adj 1 producing satisfactory results with an economy of effort and a minimum of waste. 2 said of a person: capable of competent work within a relatively short time. 3 in compounds economical in the use or consumption of a specified resource ▫ energy-efficient. • efficiency noun (efficiencies) 1 being efficient. 2 the ratio of a machine's output of energy to its input. • efficiently adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin efficiens, efficientis, from efficere to accomplish.

effigy /ˈɛfɪdʒɪ/ ▷ noun (effigies) 1 a crude doll or model representing a person, on which hatred of, or contempt for, the person can be expressed, eg by burning it. 2 formal a portrait or sculpture of a person used as an architectural ornament. • burn or hang someone in effigy to burn or hang a figure of them to express disapproval, etc of them. ⓘ 16c: from Latin effigies, from fingere to form.

effing and blinding ▷ noun cursing and swearing. 1950s; see EFF.

effleurage /ɛflɜːˈrɑːʒ/ ▷ noun in massage: a stroking movement. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'glancing' or 'grazing'.

effloresce /ɛfləˈrɛs/ ▷ verb (effloresced, efflorescing) intr 1 bot said of a plant: to produce flowers. 2 chem said of a chemical compound: to form an EFFLORESCENCE 2. ⓘ 18c.

efflorescence ▷ noun 1 the act of efflorescing. 2 chem a powdery substance formed as a result of crystallization or loss of water to the atmosphere. 3 bot the period during which a plant is producing flowers. • efflorescent adj efflorescing; producing flowers. ⓘ 17c: from Latin efflorescere to blossom.

effluent /ˈɛfluənt/ ▷ noun 1 liquid industrial waste or sewage released into a river or the sea, etc. 2 geog, etc a stream or river flowing from a larger body of water. ▷ adj, formal or technical flowing out. • effluence noun 1 the act or process of flowing out. 2 something that flows out. ⓘ 18c: from Latin effluere to flow out.

effluvium /ɪˈfluːvɪəm/ ▷ noun (effluvia /-vɪə/) formal an unpleasant smell or vapour given off by something, eg decaying matter. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'a flowing out'.

efflux ▷ noun (effluxes) 1 the act or process of flowing out. 2 something that flows out. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from effluere, effluxum to flow out.

effort /ˈɛfət/ ▷ noun 1 hard mental or physical work, or something that requires it. 2 an act of trying hard. 3 the result of an attempt; an achievement. • effortless adj done without effort or apparent effort. • effortlessly adverb. • effortlessness noun. ⓘ 15c: from French esfort, from Latin fortis strong.

effrontery /ɪˈfrʌntərɪ/ ▷ noun (effronteries) shameless rudeness; impudence. ⓘ 18c: from Latin effrons, effrontis shameless.

effulgent /ɪˈfʌldʒənt/ ▷ adj, literary shining brightly; brilliant. • effulgence noun. • effulgently adverb. ⓘ 18c: from Latin effulgere to shine out.

effuse /ɪˈfjuːz/ ▷ verb (effused, effusing) 1 to pour out. 2 to spread out. ▷ adj /ɪˈfjuːs/ 1 bot loosely spreading. 2 said of shells: with the lips separated by a groove. ⓘ 16c as verb: from Latin effundere, effusum to pour out.

effusion /ɪˈfjuːʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of pouring or flowing out. 2 something that is poured out. 3 derog an uncontrolled flow of speech or writing. 4 a pathol an abnormal escape of blood or other fluid into tissue or a body cavity; b such fluid.

effusive /ɪˈfjuːsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 derog expressing feelings, especially happiness or enthusiasm, in an excessive or very showy way. 2 geol said of rock: volcanic. • effusively adverb. • effusiveness noun. ⓘ 17c.

E-fit ▷ noun, trademark a form of IDENTIKIT, the image being composed on screen and adjustable by fine degrees.

EFL ▷ abbreviation English as a Foreign Language.

EFTA or Efta /ˈɛftə/ ▷ abbreviation European Free Trade Association, an association with the purpose of maintaining free trade relations between its member states and members of the EC. It also has trade agreements with a number of E European states.

EFTPOS /ˈɛftpɒs/ ▷ abbreviation electronic funds transfer at point of sale.

EFTS ▷ abbreviation electronic funds transfer system.

eg ▷ abbreviation, exempli gratia (Latin), for example.

egalitarian /ɪgalɪˈtɛərɪən/ ▷ adj relating to, promoting or believing in the principle that all human beings are equal and should enjoy the same rights. ▷ noun a person who upholds this principle. • egalitarianism noun egalitarian principles or beliefs. ⓘ 19c: from French égalitaire, from égal equal.

egg[1] and egg cell ▷ noun 1 the reproductive cell produced by a female animal, bird, etc, from which the young one develops. Also called OVUM. 2 a reproductive cell or developing embryo produced and deposited in a hard shell by female birds, reptiles, and certain animals. 3 the hard shell of an egg. 4 a hen's egg, used as food. 5 anything with the shape of a hen's egg. • have or put all one's eggs in or into one basket to depend entirely on one plan, etc. • have or get egg on one's face colloq to be made to look foolish. ⓘ 14c: Norse.

egg[2] ▷ verb (egged, egging) (usually egg someone on) colloq to urge or encourage them. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon eggian.

egg-and-spoon race ▷ noun a race in which each competitor carries an egg in a spoon.

eggar see EGGER.

eggbeater ▷ noun 1 (also eggwhisk) a utensil for beating raw eggs. 2 colloq, especially N Amer a helicopter.

eggbox ▷ noun a protective partitioned container for holding eggs, usually in multiples of six.

egg-cosy ▷ noun (egg-cosies) a cover for keeping a boiled egg hot.

eggcup ▷ noun a small cup-shaped container for holding a boiled egg in its shell while it is being eaten.

egg custard see CUSTARD.

egger or eggar /ˈɛgə(r)/ ▷ noun any of various large brown European moths, which develop out of egg-shaped cocoons.

egghead ▷ noun, colloq, sometimes derog a very clever person; an intellectual. ⓘ 1980s.

eggier and eggiest see under EGGY.

eggnog and egg-flip ▷ noun a drink made from raw eggs, milk, sugar and an alcoholic spirit, especially rum or brandy.

eggplant ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US an AUBERGINE.

eggs-and-bacon see BIRDSFOOT TREFOIL eggs Benedict ▷ singular noun, cookery a dish consisting of a slice of ham and a poached egg placed on a slice of toast and covered with hollandaise sauce. ⓘ 1920s.

eggshell ▷ noun the hard thin porous CALCAREOUS covering of an egg. ▷ adj 1 said of paint or varnish: having a slightly glossy finish. 2 said of articles of china: very thin and fragile.

egg-slice ▷ noun a utensil for lifting fried eggs out of a pan.

egg-spoon ▷ noun a small spoon used for eating boiled eggs out of the shell.

egg-timer ▷ noun a device consisting of a sealed glass tube narrowed in the middle, containing sand or salt which, by trickling slowly from the top to the bottom of the tube through the narrow part, indicates the approximate time required to boil an egg.

egg tooth ▷ noun a temporary tooth in embryo reptiles, or a hard point on the beak of an unhatched bird, which allow them to break out of their shell.

eggwash ▷ noun a thin mixture of egg and milk or egg and water, used for glazing pastry.

eggwhisk see under EGGBEATER eggy ▷ adj (eggier, eggiest) 1 tasting and/or smelling of EGG[1] (sense 4). 2 marked with or covered in egg.

eglantine /ˈɛɡləntaɪn/ ▷ noun a fragrant species of wild rose, the sweet-brier. ⓘ 16c: French.

ego /ˈiːɡoʊ, ˈɛɡoʊ/ ▷ noun (egos) 1 personal pride. 2 psychoanal in Freudian theory: the part of a person that is conscious and thinks. Compare ID, SUPEREGO. 3 one's image of oneself. 4 egotism. ■ massage someone's ego facetious to flatter them. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'I'. egocentric ▷ adj, derog interested in oneself only. ■ egocentrically adverb. ■ egocentricity noun. ⓘ Late 19c: EGO + -CENTRIC.

ego ideal ▷ noun, psychol 1 one's personal standards, ideals and ambitions, etc, acquired as one recognizes parental and other social standards. 2 one's idealized picture of oneself.

egoism /ˈiːɡoʊɪzəm, ˈɛɡoʊ-/ ▷ noun 1 philos the principle that self-interest is the basis of morality. 2 selfishness. 3 egotism.

egoist /ˈiːɡoʊɪst, ˈɛɡoʊ-/ ▷ noun a person who believes in self-interest as a moral principle. ■ egoistic or egoistical adj. ■ egoistically adverb.

egomania ▷ noun, psychol extreme self-interest which prevents one from allowing other people to come between oneself and the achievement of one's desires. ■ egomaniac noun a person who is governed by extreme self-interest. ■ egomaniacal adj. ⓘ 19c: EGO + -MANIA.

egos plural of EGO

egotism /ˈiːɡoʊtɪzəm, ˈɛɡoʊ-/ ▷ noun, derog 1 the habit of speaking too much about oneself. 2 the fact of having a very high opinion of oneself. ■ egotist noun a self-centred person. ■ egotistic or egotistical adj. ■ egotistically adverb. ⓘ 18c.

ego trip ▷ noun, colloq an action or actions carried out mainly to increase one's high opinion of oneself, or because one has a high opinion of oneself. ■ ego tripper noun. ⓘ 1960s.

egregious /ɪˈɡriːdʒəs/ formal ▷ adj outrageous; shockingly bad. ■ egregiously adverb. ■ egregiousness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin egregius standing out from the herd, from e out of + grex, gregis herd.

egress /ˈiːɡrɛs/ ▷ noun (egresses) formal or law 1 the act of leaving a building or other enclosed place. 2 an exit. 3 the power or right to depart. Opposite of INGRESS. ■ egression noun the act of going out; departure. ⓘ 16c: from Latin egredi, egressus to go out.

egret /ˈiːɡrət/ ▷ noun any of various white long-legged wading birds similar to herons. ⓘ 15c: from French aigrette.

Egyptian /ɪˈdʒɪpʃən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Egypt, a country in NE Africa, its inhabitants, or their language. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Egypt. 2 the official language of Egypt. ⓘ 14c.

Egyptology /iːdʒɪpˈtɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the study of the language, culture and history of ancient Egypt. ■ Egyptologist noun an expert in or student of Egyptology. ⓘ 19c.

eh /eɪ/ ▷ exclamation 1 used to request that a question or remark, etc be repeated. 2 added to a question, often with the implication that agreement is expected. 3 used to express surprise.

EHO ▷ abbreviation environmental health officer.

EIA ▷ abbreviation environmental impact assessment.

eider /ˈaɪdə(r)/ and eider duck ▷ noun a large sea duck from northern countries. ⓘ 18c: from Icelandic æthr.

eiderdown ▷ noun 1 the down or soft feathers of the eider. 2 a quilt filled with this or some similar material.

eidetic /aɪˈdɛtɪk/ psychol ▷ adj 1 said of a mental image: extraordinarily clear and vivid, as though actually visible. 2 said of a person or memory: reproducing or able to reproduce a vividly clear visual image of what has been previously seen. ▷ noun a person with this ability. ■ eidetically adverb. ⓘ 1920s: from Greek eidetikos belonging to an image.

eigen- /aɪɡən/ ▷ combining form, signifying proper; own. ⓘ German.

eigen-frequency ▷ noun, physics one of the frequencies with which a particular system may vibrate.

eigentone ▷ noun, physics a tone characteristic of a particular vibrating system.

eigenvalue ▷ noun, math, physics any of the possible values for a parameter of an equation for which the solutions will be compatible with the boundary conditions.

eight /eɪt/ ▷ noun 1a the cardinal number 8; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than seven. 2 any symbol for this, eg 8, VIII. 3 the age of eight. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 8. 5 the eighth hour after midnight or midday. □ Come at eight □ 8 o'clock □ 8pm. 6 a set or group of eight people or things. 7 rowing (symbol 8+) a racing-boat manned by eight oarsmen or oarswomen; the crew of such a boat. 8 a playing-card with eight pips. □ He played his eight. 9 a score of eight points. ▷ adj 1 totalling eight. 2 aged eight. ■ be or have had one over the eight colloq to be slightly drunk. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ehta.

eighteen ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 18; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than seventeen, or the sum of ten and eight. 2 any symbol for this, eg 18, XVIII. 3 the age of eighteen. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 18. 5 a set or group of eighteen people or things. 6 (written 18) a film classified as suitable for people aged 18 and over. 7 a score of eighteen points. ▷ adj 1 totalling eighteen. 2 aged eighteen. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ehtatene.

eighteenth (often written 18th) adj 1 in counting: a next after seventeenth; b last of 18. 2 in eighteenth position. 3 (the eighteenth) a the eighteenth day of the month; b golf the eighteenth hole. ▷ noun 1 one of eighteen equal parts. Also as adj □ an eighteenth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by eighteen (usually written $^1/_{18}$). 3 a person coming eighteenth, eg in a race or an exam. ▷ adverb eighteenthly. ● eighteenthly adverb used to introduce the eighteenth point in a list. ◎ Anglo-Saxon; see EIGHTEEN + -TH[1]. ▷

eightfold ▷ adj 1 equal to eight times as much. 2 divided into or consisting of eight parts. ▷ adverb by eight times as much. ◎ Anglo-Saxon; see EIGHT + -FOLD.

eighth /eɪtθ/ (often written 8th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after seventh; b last of eight. 2 in eighth position. 3 (the eighth) a the eighth day of the month; b golf the eighth hole. ▷ noun 1 one of eight equal parts. Also as adj □ an eighth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by eight (usually written ⅛). 3 a person coming eighth, eg in a race or an exam. 4 music a an interval of an octave; b a note at that interval from another. ▷ adverb eighthly. ● eighthly adverb used to introduce the eighth point in a list. ◎ Anglo-Saxon; see EIGHT + -TH[1].

eighth note ▷ noun, N Amer, music a quaver.

eighties /ˈeɪtɪz/ (often written 80s or 80's) ▷ plural noun 1 (one's eighties) the period of time between one's eightieth and ninetieth birthdays. 2 (the eighties) a the range of temperatures between eighty and ninety degrees □ It must be in the eighties today; b the period of time between the eightieth and ninetieth years of a century. Also as adj □ an eighties hairstyle.

eightieth (often written 80th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after seventy-ninth; b last of eighty. 2 in eightieth position. ▷ noun 1 one of eighty equal parts. Also as adj □ an eightieth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by eighty (usually written ¹/₈₀). 3 a person coming eightieth, eg in a race or an exam. ◎ Anglo-Saxon; see EIGHTY + -TH[1].

eightsome ▷ noun (eightsomes) 1 a set or group of eight people. 2 a game between four pairs of players. 3 an eightsome reel.

eightsome reel ▷ noun 1 a lively Scottish dance for eight people. 2 the music for this dance.

eighty /ˈeɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (eighties) 1 a the cardinal number 80; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than seventy-nine, or the product of ten and eight. 2 any symbol for this, eg 80, LXXX. Also in compounds, forming adjectives and nouns, with cardinal numbers between one and nine □ eighty-two. 3 the age of 80. 4 a set or group of 80 people or things □ a score of eighty points. ▷ adj 1 totalling eighty. Also in compounds, forming adjectives, with ordinal numbers between first and ninth □ eighty-second. 2 aged 80. See also EIGHTIES, EIGHTIETH. ◎ Anglo-Saxon; see EIGHTY + -TY[2].

Einsteinian /aɪnˈstaɪnɪən/ ▷ adj referring or relating to Albert Einstein, or to his theories, especially that of RELATIVITY 2. ◎ 1920s: named after Albert Einstein (1879–1955), the German-born physicist and mathematician.

einsteinium /aɪnˈstaɪnɪəm/ ▷ noun (symbol Es, atomic number 99) an element produced artificially from plutonium. ◎ 1950s: named after Albert Einstein.

EIS ▷ abbreviation Educational Institute of Scotland, one of the trade unions of teachers.

eisteddfod /aɪˈstɛdfəd, -ˈsteðvɒd/ ▷ noun (eisteddfods or eisteddfodau /aɪˈsteðvɒdaɪ/) originally a competitive congress of Welsh BARDs and musicians, now any of several gatherings in Wales during which competitions are held to find the best Welsh poetry, drama, songs, etc, especially the Royal National Eisteddfod. ● eisteddfodic adj. ◎ 19c: Welsh, literally 'a session'.

either /ˈaɪðə(r), ˈiːðə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 any one of two. 2 each of two □ a garden with a fence on either side. ▷ pronoun any one of two things or people, etc. ▷ adverb, with negatives 1 also; as well □ I thought him rather unpleasant, and I didn't like his wife either. 2 what is more; besides □ He plays golf, and he's not bad, either. ● either ... or ... introducing two choices or possibilities □ I need either a pen or a pencil. ● either way or in either case in both of two cases. ◎ Anglo-Saxon ægther.

ejaculate /ɪˈdʒakjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (ejaculated, ejaculating) 1 tr & intr said of a man or male animal: to discharge (semen). 2 to exclaim. ▷ noun /-lət/ semen. ● ejaculation noun 1 a sudden exclamation or cry. 2 discharge of semen. ● ejaculative or ejaculatory adj relating to ejaculation or discharge of fluid. ◎ 16c: from Latin ejaculari, ejaculatus to throw out.

eject /ɪˈdʒɛkt/ ▷ verb (ejected, ejecting) 1 to throw out someone or something with force. 2 to force someone to leave. 3 intr to leave a moving aircraft using an ejector seat. ● ejection noun. ● ejective adj. ● ejector noun a person or device that ejects something or someone. ◎ 16c: from Latin ejicere, ejectum to throw out.

ejector seat and (US) ejection seat ▷ noun a type of seat fitted in an aircraft, etc, designed to propel the occupant out of the aircraft at speed in case of emergency.

eke /iːk/ ▷ verb (eked, eking) (always eke something out) 1 to make (a supply) last longer, eg by adding something else to it or by careful use. 2 to manage with difficulty to make (a living, etc). ◎ Anglo-Saxon eacan to increase.

el see ELEVATED RAILROAD elaborate ▷ adj /ɪˈlabərət/ 1 complicated in design; complex. 2 carefully planned or worked out. ▷ verb /-reɪt/ (elaborated, elaborating) 1 intr (usually elaborate on or upon something) to add detail to it. 2 to work out something in great detail. 3 to make something more ornate. 4 physiol to convert (eg food) into complex substances. ● elaborately adverb. ● elaborateness noun. ● elaboration noun. ● elaborative adj. ● elaborator noun. ◎ 16c as adj: from Latin elaborare, elaboratum.

élan /eɪˈlan; French elɑ̃/ ▷ noun, literary impressive and energetic style. ◎ 19c: French.

eland /ˈiːlənd/ ▷ noun (elands or eland) a large African antelope with spiral horns. ◎ 18c: Afrikaans, from Dutch, meaning 'elk'.

elapse /ɪˈlaps/ ▷ verb (elapsed, elapsing) intr, formal said of time: to pass. ◎ 17c: from Latin elabi, elapsus to slide away.

elasmobranch /ɪˈlazmoʊbraŋk/ ▷ noun (elasmobranchs) any member of a class of fishes that includes sharks and skates, which have a cartilaginous skeleton and plate-like gills. ◎ 19c: from Greek elasmos a beaten-metal plate + branchia gills.

elastase /ɪˈlasteɪz/ ▷ noun, physiol an enzyme found in the pancreatic juice that decomposes ELASTIN. ◎ 1940s.

elastic /ɪˈlastɪk/ ▷ adj 1 said of a material or substance: able to return to its original shape or size after being pulled or pressed out of shape. 2 said of a force: caused by, or causing, such an ability. 3 able to be changed; flexible. 4 made of elastic. 5 said of a person or feelings: able to recover quickly from a shock or upset. ▷ noun stretchable cord or fabric woven with strips of rubber. ● elastically adverb flexibly; so as to stretch easily. ◎ 17c as adj: from Greek elastikos, from elaunein to propel.

elasticate ▷ verb (elasticated, elasticating) to make something elastic. ● elasticated adj said of a fabric: having been made elastic by being interwoven with rubber.

elastic band ▷ noun a thin loop of rubber for keeping papers, etc together. Also called rubber band.

elasticity /ɪlaˈstɪsɪtɪ, ela-/ ▷ noun (elasticities) 1 the power of returning to original form or size after stretching, compression or deformation. 2 springiness; flexibility or stretchiness; resilience. 3 power to recover from shock, depression, etc.

elasticize or elasticise /ɪˈlastɪsaɪz/ ▷ verb (elasticized, elasticizing) to make something elastic.

elastic tissue ▷ noun, physiol tissue which has fibres with elastic quality, occurring especially in ligaments and tendons.

elastin /ɪˈlastɪn/ ▷ noun a protein which is the chief constituent of ELASTIC TISSUE. ⓒ 19c.

elastomer /ɪˈlastoʊmə(r)/ ▷ noun any rubberlike substance. • elastomeric /-ˈmerɪk/ adj. ⓒ 1930s.

Elastoplast /ɪˈlastoʊplaːst/ ▷ noun, trademark a dressing for a wound, consisting of gauze on a backing of adhesive tape. ⓒ 1928.

elate /ɪˈleɪt/ ▷ verb (elated, elating) 1 to make someone intensely happy. 2 to fill someone with optimism. • elated adj. • elatedly adverb. ⓒ 17c: from Latin elatus elevated or exalted.

elation /ɪˈleɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an elated state; euphoria. 2 pride resulting from success.

E-layer and E-region ▷ noun, physics in the Earth's atmosphere: a layer of the ionosphere that reflects medium-frequency radio waves, and is most effective during the daylight hours. Also (dated) called Kennelly-Heaviside layer, Heaviside layer.

elbow /ˈelboʊ/ ▷ noun 1 the joint where the human arm bends. 2 the part of a coat or jacket, etc which covers this joint. 3 the corresponding joint in animals. 4 a sharp turn or bend, eg in a road or pipe. ▷ verb (elbowed, elbowing) 1 to push or strike something with the elbow. 2 to make (one's way through) by pushing with the elbows. • at one's elbow close to one. • bend or lift the elbow facetious to drink alcohol, especially to excess. • give or get the elbow slang to dismiss or be dismissed. • out at the elbow or elbows 1 said of a garment: no longer smart; worn out. 2 said of a person: wearing worn-out clothes. • up to the elbows completely engrossed or involved. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon elnboga.

elbow-grease ▷ noun, colloq hard work, especially hard polishing. ⓒ 17c.

elbow-room ▷ noun 1 enough space for moving or doing something. 2 freedom; lack of constraint. ⓒ 16c.

elder[1] /ˈeldə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 older. 2 (the elder) used before or after a person's name to distinguish them from a younger person of the same name. ▷ noun 1 a person who is older. 2 (often elders) an older person, especially someone regarded as having authority. 3 in some tribal societies: a senior member of a tribe, who is invested with authority. 4 in some Protestant Churches: a lay person who has some responsibility for pastoral care and decision-making. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon eldra, comparative of ald old.

> elder, older
>
> Older is the more general adjective. Elder is restricted in use to people, and is generally only used as an adjective in the context of family relationships, as in an elder brother/sister. It is always used before a noun or pronoun, or in the elder. Elder is not used in comparisons with than: She is older (not elder) than me.

elder[2] /ˈeldə(r)/ ▷ noun a kind of bush or small tree belonging to the same family as honeysuckle, with white flowers and purple-black or red berries. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon ellaern.

elderberry ▷ noun the fruit of the ELDER[2].

elder hand and eldest hand ▷ noun, cards the player on the dealer's left, who leads in card-playing.

elderly /ˈeldəlɪ/ ▷ adj 1 rather old. 2 bordering on old age. 3 (the elderly) old people as a group (see THE 4b). • elderliness noun. ⓒ 17c.

elder statesman ▷ noun an old and very experienced member of a group, especially a politician, whose opinions are respected.

eldest /ˈeldɪst/ ▷ adj oldest. ▷ noun someone who is the oldest of three or more.

El Dorado /eldəˈraːdoʊ/ ▷ noun (plural in sense 2 eldorados) 1 the golden land or city, imagined by the Spanish explorers of America. 2 (also eldorado) any place where wealth is easy to accumulate. ⓒ 16c: Spanish, literally 'the gilded place'.

eldritch /ˈeldrɪtʃ/ ▷ adj, originally Scots weird; uncanny.

elec. and elect. ▷ abbreviation 1 electric. 2 electricity.

elect /ɪˈlekt/ ▷ verb (elected, electing) 1 to choose someone to be an official or representative by voting. 2 to choose something by vote, in preference to other options. ▷ adj 1 following its noun elected to a position, but not yet formally occupying it ▫ president elect. 2 specially chosen. 3 relig chosen by God for salvation. 4 (the elect) people chosen, for salvation or otherwise (see THE 4b). • electability noun. • electable adj capable of being elected, especially to political office. • elected adj. • elect to do something to do it by choice. ⓒ 15c: from Latin eligere, electum to choose.

election /ɪˈlekʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process or act of choosing people for office, especially political office, by taking a vote. See also GENERAL ELECTION. 2 the act of electing or choosing. 3 theol the exercise of God's will in the predetermination of certain people to salvation.

electioneer /ɪlekʃəˈnɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (electioneered, electioneering) intr to work for the election of a candidate, especially in a political campaign. • electioneering noun, adj. ⓒ 18c.

elective /ɪˈlektɪv/ ▷ adj 1 said of a position or office, etc: to which someone is appointed by election. 2 having the power to elect. 3 optional. ▷ noun, medicine an optional placement or course of study chosen by a student. • electively adverb by means of an election. • electivity noun.

elector /ɪˈlektə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who has the right to vote at an election. 2 US a member of the ELECTORAL COLLEGE. 3 (Elector) historical a German prince or archbishop in the HOLY ROMAN EMPIRE who had the right to elect the emperor. • electoral adj 1 concerning or relating to elections or electors. 2 made up of electors. • electorally adverb.

electoral college ▷ noun in the US: the body of people who elect the President and Vice-President, having themselves been elected by popular vote.

electoral roll and electoral register ▷ noun the list of people in a particular area who are allowed to vote in local and general elections.

electorate /ɪˈlektərət/ ▷ noun all the electors of a city or country, etc.

Electra complex /ɪˈlektrə —/ ▷ noun, psychol the attachment of a daughter to her father, with hostility to her mother. ⓒ Early 20c: from the Greek myth concerning Electra who helped to avenge the murder of her father by her mother.

electret /ɪˈlektrət/ ▷ noun, elec a permanently polarized dielectric material, or a piece of this. ⓒ Late 19c: electricity + magnet.

electric /ɪˈlektrɪk/ ▷ adj 1 (also electrical) relating to, produced by, worked by or generating electricity. 2 said of a musical instrument: amplified electronically. 3 having or causing great excitement, tension or expectation. ▷ plural noun (electrics) 1 electrical appliances. 2 colloq wiring. • electrically adverb. ⓒ 17c: from Greek elektron amber, which produces electricity when rubbed.

electrical charge see CHARGE (noun 7) electrical conductivity see CONDUCTIVITY 1b electrical conductor see CONDUCTOR 3 electrical engineering ▷ noun the branch of engineering concerned with the practical applications of electricity and magnetism. • electrical engineer noun.

electric arc ▷ noun a luminous space between electrodes when a current passes across.

electric battery ▷ noun a group of cells connected in series or in parallel for generating an electric current by chemical action.

electric blanket ▷ noun a blanket incorporating an electric element, used for warming a bed.

electric blue ▷ noun a vivid bright-blue colour.

electric chair ▷ noun, US 1 a chair used for executing criminals by sending a powerful electric current through them. 2 (usually the electric chair) execution by this means. ⓒ Late 19c.

electric charge ▷ noun a quantity of electricity that is either positive or negative, so that two like charges repel each other, whereas a positive charge and a negative charge attract each other.

electric contact see CONTACT 4.

electric current ▷ noun the flow of electric charge, in the form of ELECTRONS, in the same direction through a conductor.

electric displacement ▷ noun, physics (abbreviation D) the charge per unit area that would be displaced across a layer of conductor placed across an ELECTRIC FIELD. It is measured in COULOMBS per square metre. Also called ELECTRIC FLUX DENSITY.

electric eel ▷ noun an eel-like fish, which is able to deliver electric shocks by means of an organ in its tail.

electric eye ▷ noun, colloq a PHOTOELECTRIC CELL, a light-sensitive device which, when the beam of light completing its circuit is broken, produces an electric current, eg in order to bring an alarm system into operation.

electric fence ▷ noun a wire fence with an electric current passing through it.

electric field ▷ noun a region surrounding an electrically charged particle, within which any other particles present will experience a force on them.

electric flux density see ELECTRIC DISPLACEMENT.

electric guitar ▷ noun a guitar designed to be played through an electrical amplifier.

electrician /ɛlək'trɪʃən/ ▷ noun a person whose job is to install, maintain and repair electrical equipment.

electricity /ɛlək'trɪsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the energy which exists in a negative form in electrons and in a positive form in protons, and also as a flowing current usually of electrons. 2 an electric charge or current. 3 a supply of this energy to a household, etc, eg for heating and lighting. 4 the science or study of this energy. 5 excitement, tension or expectation. ⓒ 17c.

electric motor ▷ noun any device which converts electrical energy into mechanical energy.

electric organ ▷ noun 1 music an organ in which the sound is produced by electrical devices instead of wind. 2 zool in certain fishes: a structure that generates, stores and discharges electricity.

electric ray ▷ noun the TORPEDO fish.

electric shock see under SHOCK.

electric shock therapy see under ELECTROCONVULSIVE THERAPY.

electric storm ▷ noun a violent disturbance in the electric condition of the atmosphere.

electrification /ɪlɛktrɪfɪ'keɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of electrifying something. 2 installation of electricity.

electrify /ɪ'lɛktrɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (electrifies, electrified, electrifying) 1 to give an electric charge to something. 2 to equip (eg a railway system) for the use of electricity as a power supply. 3 to cause great excitement in (eg a crowd). • electrifying adj extremely exciting. • electrifyingly adverb. ⓒ 18c.

electro /ɪ'lɛktroʊ/ ▷ noun (electros) colloq 1 an ELECTROPLATE. 2 ELECTROTYPE.

electro- /ɪlɛktroʊ, ɛlək'troʊ/ ▷ combining form, denoting 1 electricity. 2 ELECTROLYTIC. ⓒ From Greek elektron amber, which produces electricity when rubbed.

electroacoustics ▷ plural noun the technology of converting sound into electrical energy, and electrical energy into sound. • electroacoustic adj said of music: using both acoustic and computer-generated sound. ⓒ 1920s.

electrobiology ▷ noun the science of the electrical phenomena in living organisms. • electrobiologist noun. ⓒ 19c.

electrocardiogram ▷ noun, medicine (abbreviation ECG) the diagram or tracing produced by an electrocardiograph. ⓒ Early 20c.

electrocardiograph ▷ noun, medicine (abbreviation ECG) an apparatus which registers the electrical variations of the beating heart, as a diagram or tracing. • electrocardiography noun. ⓒ Early 20c.

electrochemistry ▷ noun the study of the relation between electricity and chemical change. • electrochemical adj. • electrochemist noun. ⓒ 19c.

electroconvulsive therapy ▷ noun, medicine (abbreviation ECT) the treatment of mental illness by passing small electric currents through the brain. Also called electric shock therapy or shock therapy or shock treatment. ⓒ 1940s.

electrocute /ɪ'lɛktrəkjuːt/ ▷ verb (electrocuted, electrocuting) 1 to kill someone or something by electric shock. 2 to carry out a death sentence on someone by means of electricity. • electrocution noun. ⓒ 19c: from ELECTRO-, modelled on EXECUTE.

electrode /ɪ'lɛktroʊd/ ▷ noun, technical either of the two conducting points by which electric current enters or leaves a battery or other electrical apparatus. ⓒ 19c.

electrodeposition ▷ noun deposition of a layer of metal by ELECTROLYSIS.

electrodynamics ▷ singular noun the study of electricity in motion, or of the interaction of currents and currents, or currents and magnets.

electrodynamometer ▷ noun an instrument for measuring currents by the attraction or repulsion between current-bearing coils.

electroencephalogram ▷ noun, medicine (abbreviation EEG) a diagram or tracing produced by an electroencephalograph. ⓒ 1930s.

electroencephalograph ▷ noun, medicine (abbreviation EEG) an apparatus which registers the electrical activity of the brain, as a diagram or tracing. • electroencephalography noun. ⓒ 1930s.

electrolyse and (US) electrolyze /ɪ'lɛktrəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (electrolysed, electrolysing) 1 to subject something to ELECTROLYSIS. 2 to break something up by electric means.

electrolysis /ɛlək'trɒlɪsɪs/ ▷ noun 1 chem the decomposition of a chemical in the form of a liquid or solution by passing an electric current through it. 2 the removal of tumours or hair roots by means of an electric current. ⓒ 19c.

electrolyte /ɪ'lɛktroʊlaɪt/ ▷ noun, chem a solution of chemical salts which can conduct electricity, eg in a battery. ⓒ 19c: from ELECTRO- + Greek lytos released.

electrolytic /ɪlɛktroʊ'lɪtɪk/ ▷ adj relating to or involving ELECTROLYSIS. • electrolytically adverb.

electrolytic cell ▷ noun, chem a cell in which an externally applied voltage causes a non-spontaneous change to occur, such as the breakdown of water into hydrogen and oxygen.

electromagnet physics ▷ noun a piece of soft metal, usually iron, made magnetic by the passage of an electric current through a coil of wire wrapped around the metal. • electromagnetic adj having electrical and magnetic properties. • electromagnetism noun 1 magnetic forces produced by electricity. 2 the relations between and the properties of magnetism and electric currents. 3 the science dealing with this subject. ◷ 19c.

electromagnetic theory ▷ noun, physics the theory explaining light in terms of electromagnetic waves.

electromagnetic unit ▷ noun, physics any unit, such as the abampere or abvolt, in a cgs system of units based on the magnetic forces exerted by electric currents.

electromagnetic wave ▷ noun, physics a travelling disturbance in space produced by the acceleration of an electric charge.

electrometer /ɪlɛk'trɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun an instrument for measuring difference of electric potential. • electrometric or electrometrical adj. • electrometry noun the science of electrical measurements. ◷ 18c.

electromotive ▷ adj, physics producing or tending to produce an electric current.

electromotive force ▷ noun, physics the energy which forces a current to flow in an electrical circuit. Also called electromotance.

electron /ɪ'lɛktrɒn/ ▷ noun, physics a particle, present in all atoms, which has a negative electric charge and is responsible for carrying electricity in solids. ◷ 19c.

electronegative ▷ adj carrying a negative charge, tending to form negative ions. • electronegativity noun 1 an electronegative state. 2 the power of an atom to attract electrons. ◷ Early 19c.

electron gun ▷ noun the assembly of electrodes in a cathode ray tube which produces the electron beam. ◷ 1930s.

electronic /ɪlɛk'trɒnɪk/ ▷ adj 1 operated by means of electrical circuits, usually several very small ones, which handle very low levels of electric current. 2 produced or operated, etc, using electronic apparatus. 3 concerned with electronics. • electronically adverb. ◷ Early 20c.

electronic flash ▷ noun 1 an extremely intense and brief flash for high-speed photography, produced by passing an electric charge through a gas-filled tube. 2 the apparatus for producing this.

electronic funds transfer at point of sale ▷ noun (abbreviation EFTPOS) a retail payment system which allows the direct transfer of money from the customer's bank account to that of the retailer without the use of cash or cheques.

electronic mail see under E-MAIL.

electronic mailbox ▷ noun a section of a central computer's memory reserved for a particular individual, into which messages can be directed.

electronic music ▷ noun music made by arranging sounds previously generated in the laboratory and recorded on tape.

electronic news gathering see ENG.

electronic point of sale ▷ noun (abbreviation EPOS) commerce a computerized till system at retail checkouts which links tills that have bar-code readers to a stock control system.

electronic publishing ▷ noun the publishing of computer-readable texts on disk, CD-ROM, CD-I, etc. ◷ 1970s.

electronics ▷ singular noun the science that deals with the study of the behaviour of electronic circuits and their applications in machines, etc. ▷ plural noun the electronic parts of a machine or system. ◷ Early 20c.

electronic tagging ▷ noun the use of electronic tags (see TAG[1] 2).

electron microscope ▷ noun a microscope which operates using a beam of electrons rather than a beam of light, and is capable of very high magnification.

electron probe ▷ noun an X-ray device that bombards the specimen under examination with a very narrow beam of electrons, allowing non-destructive analysis.

electron tube ▷ noun an electronic device in which the electron conduction is in a vacuum or gas inside a gas-tight enclosure, eg a THERMIONIC VALVE.

electronvolt ▷ noun, nuclear physics a unit of energy equal to that acquired by an electron when accelerated by a potential of one volt.

electro-optics ▷ singular noun the study of the effects that an electric field has on light crossing it. • electro-optic or electro-optical adj.

electro-osmosis ▷ noun movement of liquid, under an applied electric field, through a fine tube or membrane.

electrophile ▷ noun an electrophilic substance. • electrophilic adj having or involving an affinity for electrons, ie negative charge, electron-seeking.

electrophoresis chem ▷ noun migration of suspended particles, such as protein macromolecules, under the influence of an electric field. • electrophoretic adj. ◷ Early 20c.

electrophorus /ɪlɛk'trɒfərəs/ ▷ noun an instrument for obtaining static electricity by means of induction. ◷ 18c.

electroplate ▷ verb to coat (an object) with metal, especially silver, by electrolysis. ▷ noun articles coated in this way. • electroplated adj. • electroplating noun. ◷ 19c.

electroscope ▷ noun an instrument for detecting the presence of electricity in a body, and the nature of it. • electroscopic adj. ◷ Early 19c.

electroshock ▷ noun an electric shock.

electrostatic ▷ adj concerning or relating to electricity at rest.

electrostatics ▷ singular noun the branch of science concerned with electricity at rest.

electrostatic unit ▷ noun any unit, such as the statvolt, in a cgs system of units based on the forces of repulsion existing between static electric charges.

electrotechnics and electrotechnology ▷ singular noun the technology of electricity.

electrotherapeutics and electrotherapy ▷ noun treatment of disease by electricity.

electrotype ▷ noun 1 a printing plate made by electrolytically coating a mould with copper. 2 a facsimile of a coin made by this process. ◷ 19c.

electrovalency ▷ noun union within a chemical compound achieved by transfer of electrons, the resulting ions being held together by electrostatic attraction. • electrovalent adj. ◷ 1920s.

electuary /ɪ'lɛktjʊərɪ/ ▷ noun (electuaries) a medicine mixed with honey or syrup. See also LINCTUS. ◷ 14c: from Latin electuarium.

elegant /'ɛlɪgənt/ ▷ adj 1 having or showing good taste in dress or style, combined with dignity and gracefulness. 2 said of a movement: graceful. 3 said of apparatus, work in science, a plan, etc: simple and ingenious. • elegance noun. • elegancy noun. • elegantly adverb. ◷ 16c: from Latin elegans, elegantis.

elegiac /ɛlɪ'dʒaɪək/ ▷ adj, formal, literary 1 mournful or thoughtful. 2 like an elegy. 3 used in elegies, especially applied to classical verse in couplets of hexameter and pentameter lines (called elegiac couplets) or to English verse in stanzas of four iambic pentameters rhyming alternately (called elegiac stanzas). ▷ plural noun (elegiacs) elegiac verse. ■ elegiacal adj. ■ elegiacally adverb.

elegize or elegise /ˈɛlədʒaɪz/ ▷ verb (elegized, elegizing) formal or literary 1 tr & intr to write an elegy about someone or something. 2 intr to produce mournful or thoughtful writings or songs. © 18c.

elegy /ˈɛlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun (elegies) 1 a mournful or thoughtful song or poem, especially one whose subject is death or loss. 2 a poem written in elegiac metre. ■ elegist noun a person who writes elegies. © 16c: from Latin elegia, from Greek elegos a lament.

element /ˈɛləmənt/ ▷ noun 1 a part of anything; a component or feature. 2 chem, physics any one of 105 known substances that cannot be split by chemical means into simpler substances. 3 sometimes derog a person or small group within a larger group. 4 a slight amount. 5 the wire coil through which an electric current is passed to produce heat in various electrical appliances. 6 any one of the four basic substances (earth, air, fire and water) from which, according to ancient philosophy, everything is formed. 7 (the elements) weather conditions, especially when severe. 8 (the elements) basic facts or skills. 9 (the elements) Christianity bread and wine as the representation of the body and blood of Christ in the Eucharist. ■ elemental /ɛləˈmɛntəl/ adj 1 basic or primitive. 2 referring or relating to the forces of nature, especially the four elements (earth, air, fire and water). 3 immense; referring to the power of a force of nature. ■ in one's element in the surroundings that one finds most natural and enjoyable. © 13c: from Latin elementum.

elementary /ɛləˈmɛntərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 dealing with simple or basic facts; rudimentary. 2 belonging or relating to the elements or an element.

elementary particle ▷ noun, chem, physics any of the twenty or more particles (eg ELECTRONS, PROTONS and NEUTRONS) which make up an atom.

elementary school ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US primary school.

elemi /ˈɛlɪmɪ/ ▷ noun a fragrant resinous substance obtained from various tropical trees, used especially in varnishes and inks. © 16c.

elephant /ˈɛləfənt/ ▷ noun (elephants or elephant) the largest living land animal, with thick greyish skin, a nose in the form of a long hanging trunk, and two curved tusks, surviving in two species, the African elephant having larger ears and a flatter head than the Asian elephant which is usually called the Indian elephant. See also PINK ELEPHANT, WHITE ELEPHANT. ■ elephantoid /ɛləˈfantɔɪd/ adj elephant-like. © 14c as olifaunt: from Latin elephantus, from Greek elephas.

elephant cord ▷ noun thick wide-ribbed corduroy.

elephantiasis /ɛləfənˈtaɪəsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol a disease, occurring mainly in the tropics, which is a complication of FILARIASIS, in which the skin becomes thicker and the limbs become greatly enlarged. © 16c.

elephantine /ɛləˈfantaɪn/ ▷ adj 1 belonging to, or like, an elephant. 2 huge. 3 said of memory: reliable and extensive. 4 derog large and awkward; not graceful. © 17c.

elephant seal ▷ noun either of the two largest species of seals, the males of which have large snouts.

elephant's ears or elephant's ear ▷ noun, bot any of various BEGONIAS or varieties of ornamental ARUM with heart-shaped leaves.

elevate /ˈɛləveɪt/ ▷ verb (elevated, elevating) 1 to raise or lift. 2 to give a higher rank or status to someone or something. 3 to improve (a person's mind, etc) morally or intellectually. 4 to make someone more cheerful. ■ elevating adj improving the mind; morally uplifting. ■ elevatory adj. © 15c: from Latin elevare.

elevated ▷ adj 1 said of a rank or position, etc: very high; important. 2 said of thoughts or ideas, etc: intellectually advanced or very moral. 3 said of land or buildings: raised above the level of their surroundings. 4 cheerful; elated. 5 colloq slightly drunk. ▷ noun, US an ELEVATED RAILROAD.

elevated railroad ▷ noun, US a raised railway over a roadway. Also called el, L.

elevation ▷ noun 1 the act of elevating or state of being elevated. 2 technical height, eg of a place above sea-level. 3 technical a drawing or diagram of one side of a building, machine, etc. 4 formal a high place. 5 ballet a leap with apparent suspension in the air.

elevator ▷ noun 1 N Amer, especially US a LIFT (noun 4). 2 a person or thing that ELEVATES. 3 chiefly N Amer, especially US a tall building in which grain is stored. 4 a lift or machine for transporting goods to a higher level, eg bales up into a barn or corn up into a store, etc. 5 aeronautics a movable control surface or surfaces at the tail of an aeroplane, by which it is made to climb and dive. 6 anatomy a muscle which lifts part of the body.

elevatory see under ELEVATE eleven /ɪˈlɛvən/ ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 11; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than ten. 2 any symbol for this, eg 11, XI. 3 the age of eleven. 4 something, eg a garment or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 11. 5 the eleventh hour after midnight or midday □ Come at eleven □ 11 o'clock □ 11pm. 6 a) a set or group of eleven people or things; b football, cricket, hockey, etc a team of players. 7 a score of eleven points. ▷ adj 1 totalling eleven. 2 aged eleven. ■ at the eleventh hour at the last possible moment; only just in time. © Anglo-Saxon endleofan.

eleven-plus ▷ noun, education in the UK: an examination formerly taken at the age of 11 or 12 to determine which sort of secondary school a pupil will attend. © 1930s.

elevenses /ɪˈlɛvənzɪz/ ▷ plural noun (often used with singular verb) colloq a snack, usually consisting of coffee, tea, biscuits, etc, taken at about eleven o'clock in the morning. © 19c.

eleventh (often written 11th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after tenth; b last of eleven. 2 in eleventh position. 3 (the eleventh) a the eleventh day of the month; b golf the eleventh hole. ▷ noun 1 one of eleven equal parts. Also as adj □ an eleventh share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by eleven (usually written $^1/_{11}$). 3 a person coming eleventh, eg in a race or an exam □ He finished a bedraggled eleventh. © Anglo-Saxon; see ELEVEN + -TH[1].

elf ▷ noun (elves /ɛlvz/) 1 folklore a tiny supernatural being with a human form, with a tendency to play tricks. 2 a mischievous child. ■ elfish or elvish adj. © Anglo-Saxon ælf.

elf-child ▷ noun a child supposed to have been left by elves in place of one stolen by them.

elfin /ˈɛlfɪn/ adj 1 said of physical features, etc: small and delicate. 2 like an elf; small and mischievous, but charming.

elicit /ɪˈlɪsɪt/ ▷ verb (elicited, eliciting) to cause something to happen; to bring something out into the open. ■ elicitation noun. © 17c: from Latin elicere, elicitum.

■ elicit something from someone to succeed in getting information from them, usually with some effort or difficulty.

elide /ɪˈlaɪd/ ▷ verb (elided, eliding) 1 grammar to omit (a vowel or syllable) at the beginning or end of a word. 2 to omit (a part of anything). See also ELISION. © 16c: from Latin elidere to strike out.

eligible /ˈɛlɪdʒəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 suitable, or deserving to be chosen (for a job, as a husband, etc). 2 having a right to something □ eligible for compensation. • eligibility noun the status of being eligible or suitable. • eligibly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin eligere to select.

eliminate /ɪˈlɪmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (eliminated, eliminating) 1 to get rid of or exclude. 2 to expel (waste matter) from the body. 3 to exclude someone or something from a later part of a competition by defeat in an earlier part. 4 slang to kill or murder someone. • eliminable adj. • elimination noun. • eliminator noun someone or something that eliminates, eg the first round of a competition. ⓘ 16c: from Latin eliminare to put out of the house, from e from + limen a threshold.

elision /ɪˈlɪʒən/ ▷ noun, grammar the omission of a vowel or syllable, as in I'm and we're. See also ELIDE. ⓘ 16c: from Latin elidere, elisum to strike out.

elite or élite /eɪˈliːt/ ▷ noun 1 the best, most important or most powerful people within society. 2 the best of a group or profession. 3 in typewriting: a size of type, twelve characters per inch. ▷ adj best, most important or most powerful. ⓘ 18c: French, from Latin eligere to choose.

elitism ▷ noun 1 the belief in the need for a powerful social elite. 2 the belief in the natural social superiority of some people. 3 often derog awareness of, or pride in, belonging to an elite group in society. ⓘ 1940s.

elitist or élitist /eˈliːtɪst/ ▷ noun a supporter of elitism. ▷ adj favouring or creating an elite.

elixir /ɪˈlɪksə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 in medieval times: a liquid chemical preparation believed to have the power to give people everlasting life or to turn base metals into gold. 2 any medical preparation which is claimed to cure all illnesses; a panacea. 3 pharmacol a liquid solution containing medicine and something, especially honey or alcohol, to hide the unpleasant taste. ⓘ 14c: from Arabic al-iksir the philosopher's stone.

Elizabethan /ɪlɪzəˈbiːθən/ ▷ adj relating to or typical of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, especially Queen Elizabeth I of England (1558–1603). ▷ noun a person living during this time.

elk ▷ noun (elks or elk) 1 in Europe and Asia: the MOOSE. 2 N Amer the WAPITI. ⓘ Probably Anglo-Saxon elh.

ellipse /ɪˈlɪps/ ▷ noun, geom a regular oval, as formed by a diagonal cut through a cone above the base. ⓘ 18c: from Latin ellipsis, from Greek elleipsis omission.

ellipsis /ɪˈlɪpsɪs/ ▷ noun (ellipses /-siːz/) 1 grammar a figure of speech in which a word or words needed for the sense or grammar are omitted but understood. 2 in text: a set of three dots (…) that indicate the omission of a word or words, eg in a lengthy quotation. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek elleipein to fall short.

ellipsoid /ɪˈlɪpsɔɪd/ ▷ noun, geom a surface or solid object of which every plane section is an ellipse or a circle. • ellipsoidal adj.

elliptical /ɪˈlɪptɪkəl/ or elliptic ▷ adj 1 math relating to, or having the shape of, an ELLIPSE. 2 said of speech or writing: a containing an ELLIPSIS; b so concise as to be unclear or ambiguous. • elliptically adverb. ⓘ 17c.

elm ▷ noun 1 (also elm tree) any of various tall deciduous trees with broad serrated leaves and clusters of small flowers which develop into winged fruits. 2 (also elmwood) the hard heavy wood of these trees. ▷ adj made of elm. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

elocution /ɛləˈkjuːʃən/ ▷ noun the art of speaking clearly and effectively. • elocutionary adj. • elocutionist noun a teacher of, or an expert in, elocution. ⓘ 15c: from Latin eloqui, elocutus to speak out.

elongate /ˈiːlɒŋgeɪt/ ▷ verb (elongated, elongating) to lengthen or stretch something out. • elongated adj long and narrow. • elongation noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin elongare.

elope /ɪˈloʊp/ ▷ verb (eloped, eloping) intr to run away secretly, especially with a lover in order to get married. • elopement noun. • eloper noun. ⓘ 16c, probably as aloper: from French aloper.

eloquence /ˈɛləkwəns/ ▷ noun 1 the art or power of using speech to impress, move or persuade. 2 persuasive, fine and effectual language. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin eloqui to speak out.

eloquent /ˈɛləkwənt/ ▷ adj having or showing eloquence. • eloquently adverb.

Elsan /ˈɛlsan/ ▷ noun, trademark a type of portable chemical lavatory. ⓘ 1924: from E L Jackson, the manufacturer + *san*itation.

else /ɛls/ ▷ adverb, adj different from or in addition to something or someone known or already mentioned □ I'd like something else □ Where else can you buy it? • or else 1 or if not … ; otherwise … □ Hurry up, or else we'll be late. 2 colloq or I will punish or harm you; or there will be trouble □ Give me the money, or else! ⓘ Anglo-Saxon elles.

elsewhere ▷ adverb somewhere else.

ELT ▷ abbreviation English Language Teaching.

eluate see under ELUTE

elucidate /ɪˈluːsɪdeɪt/ ▷ verb (elucidated, elucidating) to make clear or explain; to shed light on something. • elucidation noun. • elucidative or elucidatory adj. • elucidator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin elucidare, from lucidus clear.

elude /ɪˈluːd/ ▷ verb (eluded, eluding) 1 to escape or avoid something by quickness or cleverness. 2 to fail to be understood, discovered or remembered by someone. ⓘ 16c: from Latin eludere.

elusive /ɪˈluːsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 difficult to find or catch. 2 difficult to understand or remember. 3 avoiding the issue or the question. • elusively adverb. • elusiveness noun. ⓘ 18c: from ELUDE.

elute /ɪˈluːt/ ▷ verb (eluted, eluting) technical to wash out (a substance) by using a solvent. • eluant or eluent /ˈɛljuənt/ noun a liquid used for elution. • eluate /ˈɛljueɪt/ noun a liquid obtained by eluting. ⓘ 18c: from Latin eluere, elutum, from luere to wash.

elutriate /ɪˈluːtrɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (elutriated, elutriating) chem engineering to separate something by washing it into coarser and finer portions. • elutriation noun. • elutriator noun an apparatus for elutriating. ⓘ 18c: from Latin elutriare to wash out.

elver /ˈɛlvə(r)/ ▷ noun a young eel. ⓘ 17c: a variant of obsolete eelfare, literally 'eel journey', a reference to the migration of young eels upstream.

elves plural of ELF

elvish see under ELF

Elysium /ɪˈlɪzɪəm/ ▷ noun 1 Greek mythol the place where the blessed were supposed to rest after death. 2 poetic a state or place of perfect happiness. • Elysian adj characteristic of the happiness associated with Elysium. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek elysion.

elytron /ˈɛlɪtrɒn/ and elytrum /-trəm/ ▷ noun (plural elytra) zool a beetle's forewing modified to form a case for the hindwing. ⓘ 18c: Greek, meaning 'a sheath'.

em /ɛm/ ▷ noun, printing the unit of measurement, based on the 12-point lower-case 'm', used in spacing material, and in estimating dimensions of pages. ⓘ Early 19c.

em- /ɛm, ɪm/ ▷ prefix a form of EN- used before b, m and p.

'em /əm/ ▷ pronoun, colloq them. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon heom them.

emaciate /ɪˈmeɪsɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (emaciated, emaciating) to make (a person or animal) extremely thin, especially through illness or starvation, etc. • emaciated adj. • emaciation noun extreme leanness or wasting of the body caused by malnutrition, parasitic infestation or disease. ◎ 17c: from Latin emaciare, from maciare to make lean.

e-mail, email or E-mail /'iː—/ ▷ noun (in full electronic mail) 1 a system for transmitting messages and computer files electronically from one computer to another, eg within an office computer network, over THE INTERNET, etc. 2 correspondence sent in this way. ▷ verb (e-mailed, e-mailing) to send someone an electronic message.

emanate /'ɛməneɪt/ ▷ verb (emanated, emanating) intr 1 said of an idea, etc: to emerge or originate. 2 said of light or gas, etc: to flow; to issue. ◎ 18c: from Latin emanare, emanatum to flow out.

emanation ▷ noun 1 the process of emanating or originating from something else. 2 something that issues or proceeds from something else. 3 radon.

emancipate /ɪ'mansɪpeɪt/ ▷ verb (emancipated, emancipating) to set someone free from slavery, or from some other social or political restraint. ■ emancipated adj. ■ emancipation noun. ■ emancipator noun. ◎ 17c: from Latin emancipare, emancipatum to give independence to (one's child or wife), from mancipare to transfer property.

emasculate /ɪ'maskjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (emasculated, emasculating) 1 to reduce the force, strength or effectiveness of someone or something. 2 to castrate (a man or male animal). ■ emasculated adj. ■ emasculation noun. ◎ 17c: from Latin e- away + masculus, diminutive of mas male.

embalm /ɛm'bɑːm/ ▷ verb (embalmed, embalming) 1 to preserve (a dead body) from decay, originally with oils and spices, but now by treatment with chemicals or drugs. 2 to preserve something unchanged; to keep (eg a memory) from obscurity. 3 to impregnate with balm; to perfume. ■ embalmer noun. ■ embalmment noun. ◎ 14c as enbaume: from French embaumer, from basme balm.

embankment /ɪm'baŋkmənt/ ▷ noun 1 a bank or wall of earth made to enclose a waterway. 2 a mound built to carry a road or railway over a low-lying place. 3 a slope of grass, earth, etc on either side of a road or railway.

embargo /ɛm'bɑːgoʊ/ ▷ noun (embargoes) 1 an official order forbidding something, especially trade with another country. 2 the resulting stoppage, especially of trade. 3 any restriction or prohibition. ▷ verb (embargoes, embargoed, embargoing) 1 to place something under an embargo. 2 to take something for use by the state. ◎ 16c: from Spanish embargar to impede or restrain.

embark /ɛm'bɑːk/ ▷ verb (embarked, embarking) tr & intr to go or put on board ship or an aircraft □ embark for America. ■ embarkation noun. ◎ 16c as embarque: from French embarquer.

■ embark on or upon something to begin (a task, especially a lengthy one).

embarrass /ɪm'barəs/ ▷ verb (embarrasses, embarrassed, embarrassing) 1 tr & intr to make someone feel, or become anxious, self-conscious or ashamed. 2 to confuse or perplex. ■ embarrassed adj. ■ be embarrassed to be in financial difficulties. ◎ 17c, meaning 'to impede': from French embarrasser.

embarrassing ▷ adj said of an incident or remark, etc: causing awkwardness or self-consciousness. ■ embarrassingly adverb.

embarrassment ▷ noun 1 self-conscious awkwardness. 2 something which causes embarrassment □ He's an embarrassment to all of us. 3 difficulties in money matters. 4 a confusing amount □ an embarrassment of riches to choose from.

embassy /'ɛmbəsɪ/ ▷ noun (embassies) 1 the official residence of an ambassador. 2 an ambassador and their staff. 3 a diplomatic mission to a foreign country. ◎ 16c: from French ambassee.

embattled /ɪm'batəld/ ▷ adj 1 troubled by problems or difficulties; engaged in a struggle. 2 prepared for battle. ◎ 15c in sense 2: from French embataillier to prepare or arm for battle.

embed or imbed /ɪm'bɛd/ ▷ verb (embedded, embedding; imbedded, imbedding) to set or fix something firmly and deeply. ◎ 18c.

embellish /ɪm'bɛlɪʃ/ ▷ verb (embellishes, embellished, embellishing) 1 to make (a story, etc) more interesting by adding details which may not be true. 2 to beautify something with decoration. ■ embellished adj. ■ embellishment noun. ◎ 14c: from French embelir to make beautiful.

ember /'ɛmbə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a piece of glowing or smouldering coal or wood. 2 (embers) red-hot ash; the smouldering remains of a fire. 3 (embers) literary what remains of a once-strong feeling. ◎ Anglo-Saxon æmerge.

embezzle /ɪm'bɛzəl/ ▷ verb (embezzled, embezzling) to take or use dishonestly (money or property with which one has been entrusted). ■ embezzlement noun. ■ embezzler noun. ◎ 15c: from French enbesillier to make away with.

embitter /ɪm'bɪtə(r)/ ▷ verb (embittered, embittering) 1 to make someone feel bitter. 2 to make someone more bitter or a difficult situation worse. ■ embittered adj. ■ embitterment noun. ◎ 17c.

emblazon /ɪm'bleɪzən/ ▷ verb (emblazoned, emblazoning) 1 to decorate with a coat of arms or some other bright design. 2 to display in a very obvious or striking way. ■ emblazonment noun decoration or display, especially heraldic. ◎ 16c: from French blason shield.

emblem /'ɛmbləm/ ▷ noun an object chosen to represent an idea, a quality, a country, etc. ■ emblematic adj 1 in the nature of an emblem. 2 serving as an emblem. ■ emblematically adverb. ◎ 16c: from Greek emblema something inserted.

embodiment /ɪm'bɒdɪmənt/ ▷ noun 1 a typical example or representative of something □ the embodiment of evil. 2 something in which something else is embodied. 3 the act of embodying.

embody ▷ verb (embodies, embodied, embodying) 1 to be an expression or a representation of something in words, actions or form; to typify or personify. 2 to include or incorporate. ◎ 16c, meaning 'to put into a body'.

embolden /ɪm'boʊldən/ ▷ verb (emboldened, emboldening) 1 to make someone bold; to encourage. 2 printing to set in bold type. ◎ 15c.

embolism /'ɛmbəlɪzəm/ ▷ noun, pathol the blocking of a blood vessel by an air bubble, a blood clot or a fragment of tissue, etc. ◎ 14c: from Greek embolismos, from emballein to insert.

embolus /'ɛmbələs/ ▷ noun (plural emboli /-laɪ/) pathol any obstruction in a blood vessel, especially a blood clot. ◎ 19c: from Greek embolos a stopper.

emboss /ɪm'bɒs/ ▷ verb (embosses, embossed, embossing) to carve or mould a raised design on (a surface). ◎ 14c: from French embocer, from boce a boss[2].

embossed ▷ adj 1 carved or moulded with a raised design. 2 bot having a protuberance in the centre.

embouchure /ɒmbuː'ʃʊə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the mouth of a river. 2 music a the positioning of the lips and tongue when playing a wind instrument; b the mouthpiece of a wind instrument. ◎ 18c: French, from bouche mouth.

embrace /ɪm'breɪs/ ▷ verb (embraced, embracing) 1 to hold someone closely in the arms, affectionately or as a greeting. 2 intr said of two people: to hold each other closely in the arms, affectionately or as a greeting. 3 to take (eg an opportunity) eagerly, or accept (eg a religion) wholeheartedly. 4 to include. ▷ noun 1 an act of embracing. 2 a loving hug. ⓘ 14c: from French embracer, from Latin bracchium arm.

embrasure /ɪm'breɪʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an opening in the wall of a castle, etc for shooting through. 2 an opening in a thick wall for a door or window, with angled sides which make it narrower on the outside. 3 the sloping of these sides. ⓘ 18c: from French embraser to splay.

embrocation /ɛmbroʊ'keɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a lotion for rubbing into the skin, eg as a treatment for sore or pulled muscles. 2 the act of rubbing in such lotion. ⓘ 16c in sense 2: from Greek embroche lotion.

embroider /ɪm'brɔɪdə(r)/ ▷ verb (embroidered, embroidering) 1 to decorate (cloth) with sewn designs. 2 to make (a story, etc) more interesting by adding details, usually untrue ones. ▪ embroiderer noun. ⓘ 15c: from French embroder.

embroidery ▷ noun (embroideries) 1 the art or practice of sewing designs on to cloth. 2 decorative needlework. 3 articles decorated with this work. 4 derog gaudy decoration. 5 the addition of details, usually false ones, to a story, etc.

embroil /ɪm'brɔɪl/ ▷ verb (embroiled, embroiling) 1 to involve in a dispute or argument. 2 to throw into a state of confusion. ▪ embroilment noun embroiling; uproar; commotion. ⓘ 17c: from French embrouiller to throw into confusion.

▪ embroil someone in something to involve them in (a quarrel or a difficult situation).

embryo /'ɛmbrɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (embryos) biol 1 in animals: the developing young organism until hatching or birth. 2 in humans: the developing young organism during the first seven weeks after conception (compare FETUS). 3 a plant in its earliest stages of development between fertilization and germination. 4 anything in its earliest stages. ⓘ 16c: from Greek embryon, from bryein to swell.

embryology ▷ noun the science which studies the formation and development of embryos. ▪ embryological adj. ▪ embryologist noun. ⓘ 19c.

embryonic /ɛmbrɪ'ɒnɪk/ ▷ adj in an early stage of development; rudimentary.

embryo transfer ▷ noun (abbreviation ET) surgical transfer of the young embryo into the uterus, a technique used in the treatment of infertility.

embus /ɪm'bʌs/ ▷ verb (embusses, embussed, embussing) 1 to put (troops) onto a bus. 2 intr to board a bus. ⓘ Early 20c.

emcee /ɛm'siː/ ▷ noun (emcees) a master of ceremonies. ▷ verb (emceed, emceeing) tr & intr (also emcee for or at something) to act as master of ceremonies at (an event). ⓘ 1930s: phonetic representation of MC.

emend /ɪ'mɛnd/ ▷ verb (emended, emending) to edit (a text), removing errors and making improvements. Compare AMEND. ▪ emendation noun 1 a change or correction, especially to a text. 2 making a correction or changes to a text. ⓘ 18c; 15c in obsolete sense 'to free a person from faults': from Latin emendare, from e out + mendum a fault.

emend

See Usage Note at amend.

emerald /'ɛmərəld/ ▷ noun 1 a deep green variety of BERYL, highly valued as a gemstone. 2 (also emerald green) its colour. ⓘ 13c as emeraude: from French esmeralde, from Greek smaragdos.

emerge /ɪ'mɜːdʒ/ ▷ verb (emerged, emerging) intr 1 to come out from hiding or into view. 2 to become known or apparent. 3 to survive a difficult or dangerous situation. ▪ emergence noun emerging; first appearance. ▪ emergent adj emerging; developing. ⓘ 17c: from Latin emergere to rise up from, from e out of + mergere to plunge.

emergency /ɪ'mɜːdʒənsɪ/ ▷ noun (emergencies) 1 an unexpected and serious happening which calls for immediate and determined action. 2 a a serious injury needing immediate medical treatment; b a patient suffering such an injury. See also STATE OF EMERGENCY.

emergency exit ▷ noun an exit to be used in an emergency, eg in case of fire.

emerging market ▷ noun, finance a developing country that recognizes and is acquiring the benefits of outside funding and investment.

emeritus /ɪ'mɛrɪtəs/ ▷ adj, often following its noun retired or honourably discharged from office, but retaining a former title as an honour ◻ emeritus professor ◻ professor emeritus. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'having served one's term', from Latin mereri to deserve.

emersion /ɪ'mɜːʃən/ ▷ noun, astron the reappearance of a celestial body after an ECLIPSE or OCCULTATION. ⓘ 17c: from Latin emergere, emersum to rise up from.

emery /'ɛmərɪ/ ▷ noun (emeries) a very hard mineral, a variety of CORUNDUM, usually used in powder form, for polishing or abrading. ⓘ 15c: from French esmeril, from Greek smyris polishing powder.

emery board ▷ noun a small flat strip of wood or card coated with emery powder or some other abrasive, used for filing one's nails.

emery paper and emery cloth ▷ noun paper or cloth coated with emery, used for cleaning or polishing metal.

emetic /ɪ'mɛtɪk/ ▷ adj, medicine making one vomit. ▷ noun an emetic medicine. ⓘ 17c: from Greek emeein to vomit.

EMF ▷ abbreviation 1 (also emf) electromotive force. 2 European Monetary Fund.

emigrant /'ɛmɪgrənt/ ▷ noun someone who emigrates or who has emigrated. ▷ adj a belonging or relating to emigrants; b emigrating or having recently emigrated. Compare IMMIGRANT.

emigrate /'ɛmɪgreɪt/ ▷ verb (emigrated, emigrating) intr to leave one's native country and settle in another. Compare IMMIGRATE. ▪ emigration noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin emigrare, emigratum to move from a place.

emigrate

A related word often confused with this one is immigrate.

émigré /'ɛmɪgreɪ/ ▷ noun (émigrés /-greɪz/) a person who has emigrated, usually for political reasons. ⓘ 18c: French.

eminence /'ɛmɪnəns/ ▷ noun 1 honour, distinction or prestige. 2 an area of high ground. ▪ Your or His Eminence (Your or Their Eminences) or Your or His Eminency (Your or Their Eminencies) a title of honour used in speaking to or about a cardinal. ⓘ 17c: from Latin eminere to stand out.

éminence grise /French eminɑ̃s griz/ ▷ noun (éminences grises /eminɑ̃s griz/) a person who has great influence over a ruler or government, etc, without occupying an official position of power. ⓘ 17c: French, literally 'grey eminence', first applied to Père Joseph, private secretary to Cardinal Richelieu (1585–1642).

eminent /'ɛmɪnənt/ ▷ adj 1 famous and admired. 2 distinguished; outstanding. ▪ eminently adverb 1 very. 2 obviously. ⓘ 15c: from Latin eminere to stand out.

eminent domain ▷ noun, law the right by which the state may appropriate an individual's property for public use.

emir /ɛ'mɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a title given to various Muslim rulers, especially in the Middle East or W Africa. 2 a title given to the supposed descendants of Muhammad through his daughter Fatima. Also written amir. ● emirate noun the position or authority of, or the territory ruled by, an emir. ◉ 17c: French, from Arabic amir ruler.

emissary /ˈɛmɪsərɪ/ ▷ noun (emissaries) 1 a person sent on a mission, especially on behalf of a government. 2 a person sent with a message. ◉ 17c: from Latin emissarius.

emission /ɪˈmɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of emitting. 2 something emitted, especially heat, light or gas. 3 the discharge of semen or other fluid from the body. 4 physics the release of electrons from parent atoms on absorption of energy which exceeds the average. ● emissive adj. ◉ 17c: from Latin emissio a sending out.

emit /ɪˈmɪt/ ▷ verb (emitted, emitting) to give out (light, heat, a sound or smell, etc). ◉ 17c: from Latin emittere to send out.

Emmental or Emmenthal /ˈɛməntɑːl/ ▷ noun a mild hard Swiss cheese with holes in it. ◉ Early 20c: from Emmenthal, a valley in Switzerland.

Emmy /ˈɛmɪ/ ▷ noun (Emmies or Emmys) one of a set of trophies awarded annually by the American Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. Compare OSCAR. ◉ 1940s.

emollient /ɪˈmɒlɪənt/ ▷ adj 1 medicine softening or soothing the skin. 2 formal advocating a calmer, more peaceful attitude. ▷ noun, medicine a substance which softens or soothes the skin. ◉ 17c: from Latin emolliens, from emollire to soften.

emolument /ɪˈmɒljʊmənt/ ▷ noun, formal (often emoluments) any money earned or otherwise gained through a job or position, eg salary or fees. ● emolumentary adj. ◉ 15c: from Latin emolumentum a corn-grinder's fee, from molere to grind.

emote /ɪˈmoʊt/ ▷ verb (emoted, emoting) intr, derog colloq to display exaggerated or insincere emotion. ◉ Early 20c: back-formation from EMOTION.

emotion /ɪˈmoʊʃən/ ▷ noun a strong feeling. ● emotionless adj. ● emotionlessly adverb. ◉ 16c: from Latin emovere, emotum to stir up or disturb.

emotional ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to the emotions. 2 causing or expressing emotion. 3 said of a person: tending to express emotions easily or excessively. 4 often derog based on emotions, rather than rational thought ▫ an emotional response. ● emotionally adverb.

emotionalism ▷ noun, often derog the tendency to be too easily affected or excited by the emotions. ● emotionalist noun. ● emotionalistic adj.

emotive /ɪˈmoʊtɪv/ ▷ adj tending or designed to excite emotion. ● emotively adverb so as to excite emotion ▫ talks emotively about her childhood. ◉ 19c; 18c in obsolete sense 'causing movement'.

empanel /ɪmˈpanəl/ ▷ verb (empanelled, empanelling; US empaneled, empaneling) 1 to enter (the names of prospective jurors) on a list. 2 to select (a jury) from such a list. ● empanelment noun. ◉ 15c.

empathize or empathise /ˈɛmpəθaɪz/ ▷ verb (empathized, empathizing) intr (usually empathize with someone) to share their feelings; to feel empathy. ◉ 1920s.

empathy /ˈɛmpəθɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the ability to share, understand and feel another person's feelings. 2 the power of entering into the feeling or spirit of something, especially a work of art, and so appreciating it fully. ● empathetic /ɛmpəˈθɛtɪk/ or empathic /ɛmˈpaθɪk/ adj able to share others' feelings. ◉ Early 20c: from Greek empatheia passion or affection.

empennage /ɛmˈpɛnɪdʒ/ ▷ noun, aeronautics an aeroplane's tail unit, including elevator, rudder and fin. ◉ Early 20c: French, meaning 'feathering of an arrow', from Latin penna feather or wing.

emperor /ˈɛmpərə(r)/ ▷ noun the male ruler of an empire or of a country which was once the centre of an empire. See also EMPRESS. ◉ 13c: from French emperere, from Latin imperator commander.

emperor moth ▷ noun, zool a large broad-winged moth found in Europe, N America and Asia.

emperor penguin ▷ noun the largest species of penguin, found in the Antarctic.

emphasis /ˈɛmfəsɪs/ ▷ noun (emphases /-siːz/) 1 (usually emphasis on something) special importance or attention given to it. 2 greater force or loudness on certain words or parts of words to show that they are important or have a special meaning. 3 force or firmness of expression. ◉ 16c: Greek, meaning 'outward appearance' or 'implied meaning'.

emphasize or emphasise /ˈɛmfəsaɪz/ ▷ verb (emphasized, emphasizing) to put emphasis on something. ◉ 19c.

emphatic /ɪmˈfatɪk/ ▷ adj 1 expressed with or expressing emphasis. 2 said of a person: speaking firmly and forcefully. ● emphatically adverb. ◉ 18c: from Greek emphatikos.

emphysema /ɛmfɪˈsiːmə/ ▷ noun, pathol the presence of air in the body tissues. See also PULMONARY EMPHYSEMA. ● emphysemic noun a sufferer from emphysema. ◉ 17c: Latin, from Greek emphysaein to swell.

empire /ˈɛmpaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a group of nations or states under the control of a single ruler or ruling power, especially an emperor or empress. 2 the period of time during which such control is exercised. 3 a large commercial or industrial organization which controls many separate firms, especially one headed by one person. 4 often facetious that part of an organization or company, etc under the management of a particular person. 5 formal or literary supreme control or power. See also EMPEROR, EMPRESS. ▷ adj (usually Empire) referring especially to dress or furniture: relating to, or in the style of, the first French Empire (1804–14). ◉ 13c: French, from Latin imperium command or power.

empire-builder ▷ noun, colloq, often derog someone who seeks to acquire extra personal authority or responsibility, etc, within an organization, usually by expanding personnel and resources. ● empire-building noun.

empirical /ɪmˈpɪrɪkəl/ and empiric ▷ adj 1 based on experiment, observation or experience, rather than on theory. 2 regarding experiment and observation as more important than scientific law. ● empirically adverb by means of experiment rather than theory. ◉ 16c: from Latin empiricus, from Greek empeiria experience.

empirical formula ▷ noun, chem a chemical formula which shows the simplest possible ratio of atoms in a molecule.

empiricism /ɪmˈpɪrɪsɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 philos the theory or philosophy stating that knowledge can only be gained through experiment and observation. 2 the application of empirical methods, eg to science. ● empiricist noun someone who believes in experiment as a basis of knowledge. ◉ 17c.

emplace ▷ verb (emplaced, emplacing) to put something in place. ◉ 19c: back-formation from EMPLACEMENT.

emplacement /ɪmˈpleɪsmənt/ ▷ noun 1 military a strongly defended position from which a field gun may be fired. 2 formal the act of putting, or the state of having been put, into place. ◉ 19c: French.

employ /ɪmˈplɔɪ/ ▷ verb (employed, employing) 1 to give work, usually paid work, to someone. 2 to use. ● employable adj said of a person: suitable or able to be employed. ● employed adj having a job; working. ● employer noun a person or company that employs workers. ● be employed in something to have one's time and attention devoted to it. ● be in someone's employ formal to be employed by them. ⓘ 16c: from French employer, from Latin implicare to enfold.

employee /ɪm'plɔɪiː, -'iː/ ▷ noun (employees) a person who works for another in return for payment.

employment ▷ noun 1 the act of employing or the state of being employed. 2 an occupation, especially regular paid work. Compare UNEMPLOYMENT.

employment agency ▷ noun an organization which finds jobs for people, and workers for companies seeking them.

employment exchange ▷ noun the former name for a JOB CENTRE.

employment office ▷ noun, formal a JOB CENTRE.

emporium /ɛm'pɔːrɪəm/ ▷ noun (emporiums or emporia) formal a shop, especially a large one that sells a wide variety of goods. ⓘ 16c: from Greek emporion trading station.

empower /ɪm'paʊə(r)/ ▷ verb (usually empower someone to do something) to give them authority or official permission to do it. ● empowerment noun. ⓘ 17c.

empress /'ɛmprəs/ ▷ noun (empresses) 1 the female ruler of an empire or of a country which was once the centre of an empire. 2 the wife or widow of an emperor. ⓘ 12c as emperice: from French emperesse.

empty /'ɛmptɪ/ ▷ adj (emptier, emptiest) 1 having nothing inside. 2 not occupied, inhabited or furnished. 3 not likely to be satisfied or carried out □ empty promises. 4 (usually empty of something) completely without it □ a life empty of meaning. ▷ verb (empties, emptied, emptying) tr & intr 1 to make or become empty. 2 to tip, pour or fall out of a container. ▷ noun (empties) colloq an empty container, especially a bottle. ● emptily adverb. ● emptiness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon æmetig unoccupied.

empty-handed ▷ adj 1 carrying nothing. 2 having gained or achieved nothing.

empty-headed ▷ adj foolish or frivolous; having no capacity for serious thought.

empty-nester ▷ noun a parent whose children have grown up and left the family home. ⓘ 1970s.

empyema /ɛmpaɪ'iːmə/ ▷ noun (empyemata /-'iːmətə/ or empyemas) pathol a collection of pus in any cavity, especially the PLEURA. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from Greek pyon pus.

empyrean /ɛmpɪ'riːən/ poetic ▷ noun (usually the empyrean) the heavens; the sky. Also as adj. ● empyreal adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin empyreus, from Greek empyros fiery.

EMS ▷ abbreviation European Monetary System.

EMU ▷ abbreviation 1 Economic and Monetary Union (between EU countries). 2 (also emu) electromagnetic unit.

emu /'iːmjuː/ ▷ noun (emus) a large flightless but swift-running bird, almost 2m (6ft 6in) tall with coarse brown plumage, found in deserts, plains and forests in Australia. ⓘ 17c: from Portuguese ema ostrich.

emulate /'ɛmjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (emulated, emulating) 1 to try hard to equal or be better than someone or something. 2 to imitate. 3 tr & intr said of a computer or a program: to behave or make a computer or program behave as if it were (a different computer or program). ● emulation noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin aemulari to rival.

emulous /'ɛmjʊləs/ ▷ adj (often emulous of someone) keen to achieve the same success or excellence as them. ● emulously adverb. ● emulousness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin aemulus competing with.

emulsifier and emulsifying agent ▷ noun a chemical substance that coats the surface of droplets of one liquid so that they can remain dispersed throughout a second liquid (eg margarine or ice cream) forming a stable emulsion.

emulsify /ɪ'mʌlsɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (emulsifies, emulsified, emulsifying) tr & intr to make or become an emulsion. ● emulsification noun. ⓘ 19c.

emulsion /ɪ'mʌlʃən/ ▷ noun 1 chem a COLLOID consisting of a stable mixture of two IMMISCIBLE liquids (such as oil and water), in which small droplets of one liquid are dispersed uniformly throughout the other, eg salad cream and low-fat spreads. 2 photog the light-sensitive material that is used to coat photographic film and paper, etc. 3 emulsion paint. 4 a liquid mixture containing globules of fat, such as milk, or of resinous or bituminous material. ▷ verb (emulsioned, emulsioning) colloq to apply emulsion paint to something. ⓘ 17c: from Latin emulgere, emulsum, from mulgere to milk.

emulsion paint ▷ noun water-based paint.

EN ▷ abbreviation Enrolled Nurse.

en ▷ noun, printing half of an EM. ⓘ 18c.

en- /ɪn, ɛn/ ▷ prefix, forming verbs, signifying 1 to put into, on or onto a specified thing □ entrust □ enthrone. 2 to cause someone or something to be a specified thing □ enrich □ enfeeble. 3 intensifying the meaning of the base verb □ entangle □ enliven. See also EM-.

-en /n, ən/ ▷ suffix 1 forming verbs, signifying a to make or become a specified thing, or make or become more so □ deepen □ sadden; b to give or endow with a specified thing □ strengthen. 2 forming adjectives, signifying made or consisting of a specified thing □ wooden. Compare -ENT.

enable /ɪn'eɪbəl/ ▷ verb (enabled, enabling) 1 to make someone able; to give them the necessary means, power or authority (to do something). 2 to make something possible. ● enabler noun. ⓘ 15c.

enabling act, enabling bill and enabling resolution ▷ noun an act, bill or resolution giving or proposing to give someone power to act.

enact /ɪn'akt/ ▷ verb (enacted, enacting) 1 to act or perform something on stage or in real life. 2 to establish by law. ⓘ 15c.

enactment ▷ noun, formal 1 the act of passing, or the passing of, a parliamentary bill into law. 2 that which is enacted; a law.

enamel /ɪ'naməl/ ▷ noun 1 a hardened coloured glass-like substance applied as a decorative or protective covering to metal or glass. 2 any paint or varnish which gives a finish similar to this. 3 the hard white covering of the teeth. ▷ verb (enamelled, enamelling; US enameled, enameling) to cover or decorate something with enamel. ⓘ 15c: from French enamaler, from esmail enamel.

enamoured or (US) enamored /ɪ'naməd/ ▷ adj 1 (usually enamoured with someone) formal or literary in love with them. 2 (usually enamoured of something) very fond of it, pleased with it, or enthusiastic about it. ⓘ 14c as verb enamour: from French amour love.

en bloc / French ɑ̃blɔk/ ▷ adverb all together; as one unit. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'in a block'.

enc. ▷ abbreviation 1 enclosed. 2 enclosure.

encamp /ɪŋ'kamp/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to settle in a camp. ● encampment noun. ⓘ 16c.

encapsulate or encapsulate /ɪŋ'kapsjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (encapsulated, encapsulating; incapsulated, incapsulating) 1 to express concisely the main points or ideas of something, or capture the essence of it. 2 to enclose something in, or as if in, a capsule. ● encapsulation noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

encase /ɪŋ'keɪs/ ▷ verb 1 to enclose something in, or as if in, a case. 2 to surround or cover. ● encasement noun. ⓘ 17c.

encash /ɪŋ'kaʃ/ ▷ verb (encashes, encashed, encashing) to convert something into cash; to cash. ● encashment noun. ⓘ 19c.

encaustic /ɪŋ'kɒstɪk/ ▷ adj said of ceramics: decorated by any process that burns in colours, especially using pigments melted in wax and burnt into the clay. ▷ noun 1 the technique which uses pigments in this way. 2 a piece of pottery or any other article decorated using this technique. ● encaustically adverb. ⓒ 17c: from Greek enkaustikos, from enkaiein to burn in.

-ence /əns/ ▷ suffix, forming nouns corresponding to adjectives in -ENT, signifying 1 a state or quality, or an action, etc which shows a state or quality □ confidence □ diligence. 2 an action □ reference. ⓒ French, from Latin -entia.

encephalic /ɛnsə'falɪk, ɛŋkə-/ ▷ adj concerning or relating to the brain. ⓒ 19c.

encephalitis /ɛnsɛfə'laɪtɪs, ɛŋkɛ-/ ▷ noun, pathol inflammation of the brain. ⓒ 19c.

encephalitis lethargica /— lə'θɑːdʒɪkə/ ▷ noun, technical SLEEPING SICKNESS.

encephalo- /ɛnsɛfəlou, ɛnsɛfə'lɒ, ɛŋkɛ-/ or (before a vowel) encephal- combining form, anatomy signifying relating to the brain. ⓒ From Greek enkephalos brain, from en in + kephale head.

encephalogram see ELECTROENCEPHALOGRAM.

encephalograph see ELECTROENCEPHALOGRAPH.

encephalon /ɛŋ'kɛfəlɒn/ ▷ noun (encephala /-lə/) anatomy the brain. ⓒ 18c: Latin, from Greek enkephalos.

enchain /ɪn'tʃeɪn/ ▷ verb, literary 1 to put in chains. 2 to hold or fix (attention, etc). ● enchainment noun. ⓒ 15c: from French enchaîner.

enchant /ɪn'tʃɑːnt/ ▷ verb (enchanted, enchanting) 1 to charm or delight. 2 to put a magic spell on someone or something. ● enchanted adj. ● enchanter noun. ⓒ 14c: from French enchanter, from Latin incantare to sing a magic spell over.

enchanting ▷ adj charming; delightful. ● enchantingly adverb.

enchantment ▷ noun 1 the act of enchanting or the state of being enchanted. 2 a magic spell. 3 charm; attraction.

enchantress ▷ noun (enchantresses) 1 a female ENCHANTER. 2 a charming woman or girl, especially one who sets out to be so. ⓒ 16c: from French enchâsser to enshrine, from châsse case.

enchase ▷ verb 1 to set (gold, silver, etc) with jewels. 2 to engrave. 3 to adorn with raised or embossed work.

enchilada /ɛntʃɪ'lɑːdə/ ▷ noun (enchiladas) cookery a Mexican dish consisting of a flour tortilla with a meat filling, served with a chilli-flavoured sauce. ⓒ 19c: from Spanish enchilar to season with chilli.

encipher /ɪn'saɪfə(r)/ ▷ verb (enciphered, enciphering) to put something into cipher or code. ⓒ 16c.

encircle /ɪn'sɜːkəl/ ▷ verb to surround or form a circle round, something. ● encirclement noun encircling, especially of territory. ⓒ 16c.

encl. ▷ abbreviation 1 enclosed. 2 enclosure.

enclave /'ɛŋkleɪv, 'ɒŋ-/ ▷ noun 1 a small country or state entirely surrounded by foreign territory. 2 a distinct racial or cultural group isolated within a country. ⓒ 19c: French, from Latin inclavare to lock up.

enclitic /ɪŋ'klɪtɪk/ ▷ adj, grammar said of a word or especially a particle: without stress; treated as if part of the previous word. ▷ noun a word or particle which always follows another word, and is enclitic to it. ⓒ 17c: from Greek enklitikos, from en in + klinein to lean.

enclose or inclose /ɪŋ'klouz/ ▷ verb 1 to put something inside a letter or in its envelope. 2 to shut in or surround. ● enclosed adj 1 placed inside something, especially an envelope. 2 (the enclosed) something enclosed within a letter. ⓒ 14c as verb 2.

enclosed order ▷ noun a Christian religious order that leads a contemplative life, not going out into the world to work.

enclosure or inclosure /ɪŋ'klouʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the process of enclosing or being enclosed, especially with reference to common land. 2 land surrounded by a fence or wall. 3 an enclosed space at a sporting event. 4 an additional paper or other item included with a letter. ⓒ 16c.

encode /ɪŋ'koud/ ▷ verb to express something in, or convert it into, code. ● encoder noun. ⓒ Early 20c.

encomium /ɪŋ'koumɪəm/ ▷ noun (encomiums or encomia /ɪŋ'koumɪə/) formal a formal speech or piece of writing praising someone. ● encomiastic adj. ● encomiastically adverb. ⓒ 16c: Latin, from Greek enkomion song of praise.

encompass /ɪŋ'kʌmpəs/ ▷ verb (encompasses, encompassed, encompassing) 1 to include or contain something, especially to contain a wide range or coverage of something. 2 to surround something. 3 to cause something or bring it about. ● encompassment noun. ⓒ 16c.

encore /'ɒŋkɔː(r), ɒŋ'kɔː(r)/ ▷ noun a repetition of a performance, or an additional performed item, after the end of a concert, etc. ▷ exclamation an enthusiastic call from the audience for such a performance. ▷ verb (encored, encoring) to call for an extra performance of something or from someone. ⓒ 18c: French, meaning 'again'.

encounter /ɪŋ'kaʊntə(r)/ ▷ verb (encountered, encountering) 1 to meet someone or something, especially unexpectedly. 2 to meet with (difficulties, etc). 3 to meet someone in battle or conflict. ▷ noun 1 a chance meeting. 2 a fight or battle. ⓒ 13c: from French encontrer, from Latin contra against.

encounter group ▷ noun, psychol a group of people formed to discuss personal problems and feelings openly, in order to arrive at a better understanding of themselves and others.

encourage /ɪŋ'kʌrɪdʒ/ ▷ verb (encouraged, encouraging) 1 to give support, confidence or hope to someone. 2 to urge someone to do something. 3 to promote or recommend something or someone. ● encouragement noun support; a source of increased confidence. ● encouraging adj. ● encouragingly adverb. ⓒ 15c: from French encourager, from corage courage.

encroach /ɪŋ'kroutʃ/ ▷ verb (encroaches, encroached, encroaching) intr (usually encroach on someone or something) 1 to intrude or extend gradually or stealthily (on someone else's land, etc). 2 to go beyond the fair limits of a right, etc. 3 to overstep proper or agreed limits. ● encroacher noun. ● encroachment noun. ⓒ 14c: from French encrochier to seize, from croc a hook.

encrust or incrust /ɪŋ'krʌst/ ▷ verb to cover something with a thick hard coating, eg of jewels or ice. ● encrustation noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin incrustare, from crusta crust.

encrypt /ɪŋ'krɪpt/ ▷ verb (encrypted, encrypting) to put information (eg computer data or TV signals) into a coded form. ⓒ 1940s.

encumber /ɪŋ'kʌmbə(r)/ ▷ verb (encumbered, encumbering) 1 to prevent the free and easy movement of someone or something; to hamper or impede. 2 to burden someone or something with a load or debt. ⓒ 14c: from French encombrer to block.

encumbrance or incumbrance ▷ noun an impediment, hindrance or burden.

ency., encyc. and encycl. ▷ abbreviation 1 encyclopedia. 2 encyclopedic.

-ency /ənsɪ/ ▷ suffix, forming nouns, indicating a state or quality, or something which shows a state or quality □ efficiency □ inconsistency. ⓒ From Latin -entia.

encyclical /en'sɪklɪkəl/ ▷ noun, RC Church a letter sent by the Pope to all Roman Catholic bishops. ▷ adj (also encyclic) formal said of a letter: for general or wide circulation. ⓘ 17c: from Greek enkyklios, from en in + kyklos circle.

encyclopedia or encyclopaedia /ɪnsaɪklə'piːdɪə/ ▷ noun (encyclopedias) a reference work containing information on every branch of knowledge, or on one particular branch, usually arranged in alphabetical order. • encyclopedic adj 1 said of knowledge: full and detailed. 2 relating to, belonging to, or like an encyclopedia. • encyclopedist noun a compiler of encyclopedias. ⓘ 16c: from Greek enkyklios paideia general education.

encyst /ɪn'sɪst/ ▷ verb (encysted, encysting) tr & intr, biol to enclose or become enclosed in a CYST or VESICLE. • encysted adj. ⓘ 19c.

end ▷ noun 1 the point or part farthest from the beginning, or either of the points or parts farthest from the middle, where something stops. 2 a finish or conclusion. 3 (the end) colloq the last straw; the limit. 4 a piece left over □ a cigarette end. 5 death or destruction □ meet one's end. 6 an object or purpose □ The end justifies the means. 7 sport one of the two halves of a pitch or court defended by a team or player, etc. 8 the part of a project, etc for which one is responsible □ had a few problems at their end. ▷ verb (ended, ending) tr & intr 1 to finish or cause something to finish. 2 intr to reach a conclusion or cease to exist. • ended adj 1 brought to an end. 2 in compounds having ends of a specified kind. • at a loose end with nothing to do. • at an end terminated, discontinued or exhausted. • at the end of one's tether exasperated; at the limit of one's endurance. • at the end of the day colloq when everything has been taken into account. • be the end of someone colloq to bring about their death. • end it all colloq to kill oneself. • end of story colloq that's that. • end on 1 (also end to end) with ends touching. 2 with the end pointing towards one. • get hold of the wrong end of the stick to misunderstand. • get or have one's end away slang to have sexual intercourse. • in the end finally; after much discussion or work, etc. • keep or hold one's end up colloq to fulfil one's promises or obligations in spite of difficulties. • make ends meet to live within one's income and avoid debts. • no end colloq very much □ His visit pleased her no end. • no end of people or things very many; a lot. • on end 1 vertical; standing straight up. 2 continuously, without a pause. • put an end to something to make it stop, usually completely and permanently. • the end of the road the point beyond which one cannot continue or survive. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ende.

▪ end up colloq 1 to arrive or find oneself eventually or finally □ We ended up in Manchester. 2 to finish.

▪ end up as something to become (a specified thing) finally.

end- see under ENDO-

endanger ▷ verb (endangered, endangering) to put someone or something in danger; to expose them to possible loss or injury. ⓘ 16c.

endangered species ▷ noun any plant or animal species that is in danger of extinction in the near future, either because its populations have fallen to very low levels, or because it only occurs naturally in a few restricted areas.

endear /ɪn'dɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (endeared, endearing) (usually endear someone to someone else) to make them beloved or liked. ⓘ 16c in obsolete sense 'to make more valuable'.

endearing ▷ adj arousing feelings of affection. • endearingly adverb with an endearing or affectionate manner.

endearment ▷ noun 1 a word or phrase expressing affection. 2 a caress.

endeavour or (US) endeavor /ɪn'devə(r)/ ▷ verb (endeavoured, endeavouring) (usually endeavour to do something) to try to do it, especially seriously and with effort. ▷ noun a determined attempt or effort. ⓘ 14c as endeveren to exert oneself: from French devoir duty.

> endeavour
>
> ★ PLAIN ENGLISH alternatives are try, attempt, strive. Note that endeavour and strive have connotations of personal commitment that are lacking in the more neutral words try and attempt.

ended and ending see under END endemic /en'demɪk/ ▷ adj 1 said of a disease, etc: regularly occurring in a particular area or among a particular group of people. 2 biol said of a plant or animal: native to, or restricted to, a particular area. • endemically adverb. ⓘ 18c: from Greek endemios native.

endermic /en'dɜːmɪk/ ▷ adj said of a medicine, etc: that acts through, or is applied directly to, the skin. ⓘ 19c: from Greek en in + derma skin.

endgame ▷ noun 1 the final stage in a game of chess, or certain other games. 2 the way in which one plays the endgame. ⓘ Late 19c.

ending ▷ noun 1 the end, especially of a story or poem, etc. 2 grammar the end part of a word, especially an INFLECTION.

endive /'endɪv/ ▷ noun 1 a plant, related to chicory, whose crisp curly or broad leaves are used in salads. 2 loosely, especially US chicory. ⓘ 15c: French.

endless ▷ adj having no end, or seeming to have no end. • endlessly adverb. • endlessness noun.

endmost ▷ adj farthest; nearest the end.

endo- /endoʊ, en'dɒ/ or (before a vowel) end- combining form, signifying internal; inside. See also ECTO-, ENTO-, EXO-. ⓘ From Greek endon within.

endocarditis ▷ noun, pathol inflammation of the endocardium, the delicate membrane that lines the heart and the valves of the heart. ⓘ 19c.

endocarp ▷ noun, bot the inner layer of the PERICARP of a fruit, usually hard, eg a plum stone. ⓘ 19c.

endocrine /'endoʊkraɪn, -krɪn/ ▷ adj 1 physiol relating to internal secretions, or to a pathway or structure that secretes internally. 2 said of a gland: ductless, and producing and secreting one or more hormones directly into the bloodstream. See also EXOCRINE. ▷ noun an endocrine gland. • endocrinal /-'kraɪnəl/ or endocrinic /-'krɪnɪk/ adj. ⓘ Early 20c: from Greek krinein to separate.

endocrinology /endoʊkrɪ'nɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, physiol the scientific study of the ENDOCRINE glands, that produce and secrete hormones, and of the hormones themselves. ⓘ Early 20c.

endoderm ▷ noun, zool in a multicellular animal that has two or more layers of body tissue: a the innermost layer of cells of the embryo, which develops into the digestive system of the adult, also forming the yolk sac and ALLANTOIS in birds and mammals; b the tissues directly derived from this layer. Compare ECTODERM, MESODERM. ⓘ 19c. endodontics ▷ noun, medicine the branch of dentistry concerned with the diagnosis, treatment and prevention of disorders of the tooth pulp, including root canal treatment. ⓘ 1940s.

endogamy /en'dɒgəmɪ/ ▷ noun, anthropol the practice or rule of marrying only within one's own group. ⓘ 19c.

endogenous /en'dɒdʒənəs/ ▷ adj said of depression: with no external cause. ⓘ 19c.

endometriosis /endoʊmiːtrɪ'oʊsɪs/ ▷ noun, anatomy the presence of tissue similar to the ENDOMETRIUM at other sites in the pelvic cavity. ⓘ 1920s.

endometritis /ɛndoʊmə'traɪtɪs/ ⊳ noun, pathol inflammation of the ENDOMETRIUM. ◷ 19c.

endometrium /ɛndoʊ'miːtrɪəm/ ⊳ noun, anatomy the mucous membrane which lines the UTERUS. ◷ 19c: from Greek metra womb.

endomorph ⊳ noun 1 a person of rounded or plump build, sometimes said to be associated with a calm easy-going personality. Compare ECTOMORPH, MESOMORPH. 2 a mineral that occurs enclosed within another. ● endomorphic adj. ◷ 1940s; 19c in sense 2.

endophyte /'ɛndoʊfaɪt/ ⊳ noun, bot a plant living within another, whether parasitically or not. ● endophytic /-'fɪtɪk/ adj. ◷ 19c.

endoplasm ⊳ noun, biol the central portion of the CYTOPLASM of a cell. ◷ 19c.

end organ ⊳ noun, anatomy a specialized sensory or motor structure at a nerve-end.

endorphin /ɛn'dɔːfɪn/ ⊳ noun, biochem any of a group of chemical compounds that occur naturally in the brain and have similar pain-relieving properties to morphine, thought to be involved in the control of emotional responses. ◷ 1970s: from endo- + morphine.

endorse or indorse /ɪn'dɔːs/ ⊳ verb (endorsed, endorsing) 1 to write one's signature on the back of (a document), especially on the back of (a cheque) to specify oneself or another person as payee. 2 to make a note of an offence on (a driving licence). 3 to state one's approval of or support for something. ● endorser or endorsor noun. ● endorsee noun (endorsees). ◷ 15c: from Latin in on + dorsum back.

endorsement ⊳ noun 1 an act of endorsing or confirming. 2 a signature or other mark endorsing a document. 3 a record of a conviction entered on a driving licence.

endoscope ⊳ noun, medicine a long thin flexible instrument containing bundles of optical fibres and having a light at one end, used for viewing internal body cavities and organs. Compare FIBRESCOPE. ● endoscopic adj. ● endoscopy /ɛn'dɒskəpɪ/ noun examination of the internal organs by means of an endoscope. ◷ 19c.

endoskeleton ⊳ noun, zool in vertebrates: an internal skeleton made of bone or cartilage. ● endoskeletal adj. ◷ 19c.

endosperm ⊳ noun, biol nutritive tissue within the seed of some plants. ● endospermic adj. ◷ 19c.

endothelium /ɛndoʊ'θiːlɪəm/ ⊳ noun (endothelia /-θiːlɪə/) zool a single layer of cells that lines the internal surfaces of the heart, blood vessels, and lymph vessels. ◷ 19c: Latin, from ENDO- + Greek thele nipple + -IUM.

endothermic reaction ⊳ noun, chem any process, especially a chemical reaction, that involves the absorption of heat. ◷ 19c.

endow /ɪn'daʊ/ ⊳ verb (endowed, endowing) 1 to provide a source of income for (a hospital or place of learning, etc), often by a bequest. 2 (often be endowed with something) to have a quality or ability, etc □ endowed with common sense. ◷ 14c: from French endouer, from Latin dos dowry.

endowment ⊳ noun 1 the act of endowing. 2 a sum endowed. 3 a quality or skill, etc with which a person is endowed.

endowment assurance or endowment insurance ⊳ noun a form of insurance in which a set sum is paid at a certain date, or earlier in the event of death.

endpaper ⊳ noun, publishing, etc one of the two leaves at the front or back of a hardback book, fixed with paste to the inside of the cover, to give strength to the binding.

end product ⊳ noun the final product of a series of operations, especially industrial processes. Compare BY-PRODUCT.

end result ⊳ noun the final result or outcome.

endue or indue /ɪn'djuː/ ⊳ verb (endued, enduing) (usually endue someone with something) to provide them with (a specified quality). ◷ 15c: from French enduire, from Latin inducere to lead in.

endurable ⊳ adj capable of being endured. ● endurably adverb.

endurance ⊳ noun 1 the capacity for, or the state of, patient toleration. 2 the ability to withstand physical hardship or strain.

endure /ɪn'djʊə(r)/ ⊳ verb (endured, enduring) 1 to bear something patiently; to put up with it. 2 intr, formal to continue to exist; to last. ● enduring adj. ● enduringly adverb. ◷ 14c: from French endurer, from Latin indurare to harden.

end user ⊳ noun a person, company or nation, etc that will buy and use a product that is being sold.

endways and (especially N Amer) endwise ⊳ adverb 1 with the end forward or upward. 2 end to end.

end zone ⊳ noun, Amer football the area in front of the goal posts to which the ball must be brought, or in which it must be caught, for a TOUCHDOWN to be awarded.

ENE ⊳ abbreviation east-north-east.

-ene /iːn/ ⊳ combining form, chem, signifying an unsaturated hydrocarbon containing a double bond □ benzene □ acetylene.

enema /'ɛnəmə/ ⊳ noun (enemas or enemata /ɛ'nɛmətə/) medicine 1 the injection of a liquid into the rectum, eg to clean it out or to introduce medication. 2 the liquid injected. ◷ 15c: Latin, from Greek enienai to send in.

enemy /'ɛnəmɪ/ ⊳ noun (enemies) 1 a person who is actively opposed to someone else. 2 a hostile nation or force, or a member of it. 3 an opponent or adversary. 4 a person or thing that opposes or acts against someone or something □ Cleanliness is the enemy of disease. ⊳ adj hostile; belonging to a hostile nation or force. ◷ 13c: from French enemi, from Latin inimicus, from in- not + amicus a friend.

energetic /ɛnə'dʒɛtɪk/ ⊳ adj having or displaying energy; forceful or vigorous. ● energetically adverb. ◷ 18c: from Greek energetikos.

energize or energise /'ɛnədʒaɪz/ ⊳ verb (energized, energizing) 1 to stimulate, invigorate or enliven. 2 to provide energy for the operation of (a machine, etc). ● energizer noun. ◷ 18c.

energy /'ɛnədʒɪ/ ⊳ noun (energies) 1 the capacity for vigorous activity; liveliness or vitality. 2 force or forcefulness. 3 physics the capacity to do work. ◷ 16c: from Greek energeia, from en in + ergon work.

energy conservation ⊳ noun, ecol the reduction or avoidance of energy loss or wastage by various means.

energy gap ⊳ noun the amount by which energy requirements exceed the energy supply.

energy level ⊳ noun, physics one of the fixed amounts of energy that an electron in an atom can possess at any given time.

enervate /'ɛnəveɪt/ ⊳ verb (enervated, enervating) 1 to take energy or strength from something. 2 to deprive someone of moral or mental vigour. ● enervating adj. ● enervation noun. ◷ 17c: from Latin enervare, enervatum to weaken, from e out of + nervus a nerve.

en famille /French ɑ̃famij/ ⊳ adverb 1 amongst the family; as if at a family gathering. 2 informally. ◷ 18c: French.

enfant terrible /French ɑ̃fɑ̃tɛʁibl/ ⊳ noun (enfants terribles / French ɑ̃fɑ̃tɛʁibl/) a person with a reputation for rude or embarrassing behaviour in public. ◷ 19c: French, meaning 'dreadful child'.

enfeeble /ɪn'fiːbl/ ⊳ verb (enfeebled, enfeebling) formal to make someone weak. ● enfeebled adj. ● enfeeblement noun. ◷ 14c.

en fête /French ɑ̃fɛt/ ⊳ adverb 1 in festive mood; celebrating. 2 dressed up for a celebration or holiday, etc. ◷ 19c: French.

enfilade /ɛnfɪ'leɪd/ military ⊳ noun a continuous burst of gunfire sweeping from end to end across a line of enemy soldiers. ⊳ verb (enfiladed, enfilading) to direct an enfilade at someone or something. ⓘ 18c: French, from enfiler to thread on a string.

enfold or infold /ɪnˈfoʊld/ ⊳ verb 1 to wrap up or enclose. 2 to embrace. ⓘ 16c.

enforce /ɪnˈfɔːs/ ⊳ verb 1 to cause (a law or decision) to be carried out. 2 to press (an argument). 3 to persist in (a demand). • enforceable adj. • enforced adj not voluntary or optional. • enforcedly /ɪnfɔːsɪdlɪ/ adverb. • enforcement noun. ⓘ 16c in sense 1; 14c in obsolete senses: from French enforcer.

■ enforce something on someone to impose (one's will, etc) on them.

enfranchise /ɪnˈfrantʃaɪz/ ⊳ verb (enfranchised, enfranchising) formal 1 to give someone the right to vote in elections. 2 to set someone free, especially from slavery. 3 to give (a town) the right to be represented in parliament. • enfranchisement /-tʃɪzmənt/ noun the conferring of rights, especially to vote in elections. ⓘ 16c: from French enfranchir to set free, from franc free.

ENG ⊳ abbreviation electronic news gathering, TV news reports put together on location, using the most up-to-date video equipment.

Eng. ⊳ abbreviation 1 England. 2 English.

eng. ⊳ abbreviation 1 engineer. 2 engineering. 3 engraver. 4 engraving.

engage /ɪŋˈɡeɪdʒ/ ⊳ verb (engaged, engaging) 1 to take someone on as a worker. 2 to book or reserve (eg a table or room). 3 tr & intr, military to come or bring something into battle □ engage with the enemy. 4 tr & intr to cause part of a machine (eg the gears) to fit into and lock with another part. ⓘ 15c: from French engager, from en gage in pledge.

■ engage someone in something to involve or occupy them in it □ She engaged me in small talk.

engagé /French ɑ̃ɡaʒe/ ⊳ adj having or showing a political or moral commitment. ⓘ 1940s: French, literally 'engaged'.

engaged ⊳ adj 1 (usually engaged to someone) bound by a promise to marry them. 2 said of a room or a telephone line, etc: not free or vacant; occupied; in use. 3 geared together; interlocked. • engaged in something busy or occupied with it.

engagement ⊳ noun 1 the act of engaging or state of being engaged. 2 a firm agreement between two people to marry. 3 an arrangement made in advance; an appointment. 4 military a battle.

engaging ⊳ adj charming; attractive. • engagingly adverb.

en garde /French ɑ̃ɡaʀd/ ⊳ exclamation, fencing a warning to one's opponent to take up a defensive position.

engender /ɪnˈdʒɛndə(r)/ ⊳ verb (engendered, engendering) to produce or cause (especially feelings or emotions). ⓘ 14c: from French engendrer, from Latin generare to generate.

engine /ˈɛndʒɪn/ ⊳ noun 1 a machine that is used to convert some form of energy into mechanical energy that can be used to perform useful work. 2 a railway locomotive. 3 formal a device or instrument □ an engine of destruction. ⓘ 13c: from French engin, from Latin ingenium device.

engine-driver ⊳ noun a person who drives a railway locomotive.

engineer /ɛndʒɪˈnɪə(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 someone who designs, makes, or works with machinery, including electrical equipment. 2 (also civil engineer) someone who designs or constructs roads, railways, bridges, etc. 3 an officer in charge of a ship's engines. 4 N Amer the driver of a locomotive. 5 someone who contrives to bring something about □ the engineer of the scheme. 6 a person, especially a member of the armed forces, who designs and builds military apparatus and is trained in construction work. ⊳ verb (engineered, engineering) 1 often derog to arrange or bring something about by skill or deviousness. 2 to design or construct something as an engineer. ⓘ 14c as engyneour: from French engigneor to contrive, from Latin ingeniare.

engineering ⊳ noun the application of scientific knowledge, especially that concerned with matter and energy, to the practical problems of design, construction, operation and maintenance of devices encountered in everyday life. See also CHEMICAL ENGINEERING, CIVIL ENGINEERING, ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING, ELECTRONIC ENGINEERING, MECHANICAL ENGINEERING.

engine room ⊳ noun 1 the room in an industrial plant or a ship, etc that houses the engines. 2 the source of strength and power.

English /ˈɪŋɡlɪʃ/ ⊳ adj 1 belonging or relating to England or its inhabitants. 2 relating to English (noun 2), the language. ⊳ noun 1 (the English) the citizens or inhabitants of, or people born in, England, considered as a group. See also BRITON. 2 the native language of Britain, N America, much of the British Commonwealth and some other countries. • in plain English in clear simple language. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon Englisc, from Engle the Angles.

English horn ⊳ noun a COR ANGLAIS.

Englishman and Englishwoman ⊳ noun a male or female citizen, or person born in, England.

engorged /ɪŋˈɡɔːdʒd/ ⊳ adj 1 crammed full. 2 pathol congested with blood. • engorgement noun. ⓘ 16c: from 15c engorge to gorge.

engraft or ingraft /ɪŋˈɡrɑːft/ ⊳ verb (engrafted, engrafting) 1 to graft (a shoot, etc) on to a stock. 2 to insert; to fix deeply. • engraftation or engraftment noun. ⓘ 16c.

engrain see INGRAIN

engrained see INGRAINED

engrave /ɪŋˈɡreɪv/ ⊳ verb (engraved, engraving) 1 to carve (letters or designs) on stone, wood or metal, etc. 2 to decorate (stone, etc) in this way. 3 to fix or impress something deeply on the mind, etc. • engraver noun a person who engraves letters or designs, especially as their profession. ⓘ 16c, from obsolete grave to carve.

engraving ⊳ noun 1 the art or process of carving or incising designs on wood or metal, etc, especially for the purpose of printing impressions from them. In metal the lines to be printed are sunk or incised, in wood they appear in relief, the wood between them being cut away. 2 a print taken from an engraved metal plate, etc. 3 a piece of stone, etc decorated with carving.

engross /ɪŋˈɡroʊs/ ⊳ verb (engrosses, engrossed, engrossing) to take up someone's attention and interest completely. • engrossed adj. • engrossing adj engaging one's full attention; highly interesting. ⓘ 17c: from French engrosser, from en gros completely.

engulf /ɪŋˈɡʌlf/ ⊳ verb (engulfed, engulfing) 1 to swallow something up completely. 2 to overwhelm. • engulfment noun. ⓘ 16c.

enhance /ɪnˈhɑːns/ ⊳ verb (enhanced, enhancing) to improve or increase the value, quality or intensity of something (especially something already good). • enhancement noun. ⓘ 14c: from French enhauncer, from Latin in in + altus high.

enhanced radiation weapon ⊳ noun (abbreviation ERW) a more precise term for a NEUTRON BOMB.

enharmonic /ɛnhɑːˈmɒnɪk/ ⊳ adj, music 1 referring to music constructed on a scale containing intervals less than a semitone. 2 having a minute pitch difference, eg between F♯ and G♭, not identifiable in a scale of EQUAL TEMPERAMENT. • enharmonically adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Greek en in + harmonia harmony.

enigma /ɪˈnɪɡmə/ ⊳ noun (enigmas) 1 a puzzle or riddle. 2 a mysterious person, thing or situation. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek ainigma, from ainos a fable.

enigmatic /ɛnɪɡˈmatɪk/ ⊳ adj obscure, ambiguous or puzzling. • enigmatically adverb.

Differences between British and American English

There are many differences of meaning, pronunciation, spelling and syntax between British and American English. Some of the commoner differences in meaning in typical usage are listed below. The increasing influence of American usage on British English is having the effect of blurring distinctions. It should also be remembered that practice differs widely within the USA; and it is becoming increasingly difficult to establish linguistic boundaries between the language used in the USA and the language used in Canada.

There are also a number of general spelling differences between British and American English. Others are less distinct, because both varieties permit variants of form and inflections (for example, the forms acknowledgement and acknowledgment are found in both American and British English).

British		American
-ae-	as in anaesthetic	-e-	as in anesthetic
-oe-	as in oestrogen	-e-	as in estrogen
-ence	as in defence, licence (noun)	-ense	as in defense, license (noun)
-re	as in centre	-er	as in center
-our	as in flavour	-or	s in flavor
-ogue	as in catalogue	-og	as in catalog
-ou-	as in mould	-o-	as in mold
-l-	as in instil, instalment, skilful	-ll-	as in instill, installment, skillful
-ll-	as in traveller	-l-	as in traveler

British	American	British	American aeroplane	airplane	lorry	truck aluminium	aluminum	loud-hailer	bull-horn anticlockwise	counterclockwise	main road	highway aubergine	eggplant	murder	homicide autumn	fall	motorway	expressway back garden	yard	number plate	license plate banknote	bill	(of a vehicle)	(of a vehicle) bath	tub	nappy	diaper
biscuit (savoury)	cracker	pavement	sidewalk biscuit (sweet)	cookie	pedestrian crossing	crosswalk bonnet (of a car)	hood (of a car)	petrol	gasoline (gas) braces	suspenders	pig	hog brooch	pin	plot (of ground)	lot camp-bed	cot	pram	baby carriage caretaker	janitor	queue	line chemist's shop	drugstore	railway	railroad cheque	check	return ticket	round-trip ticket chips	french fries	reverse charge	collect call cinema (building)	movie theater	(telephone) call city centre	downtown	rise (in salary)	raise coffin	casket	roundabout (traffic)	rotary cornflour	cornstarch	rowing-boat	rowboat cotton reel	spool	rubber	eraser courgette	zucchini	rubbish	trash crisps	potato chips	scone	biscuit cupboard	closet	season ticket	commutation ticket current account (bank)	checking account	shoelace	shoestring curriculum vitae	résumé	shop assistant	clerk curtains	drapes	silencer (car)	muffler (car) draughts (game)	checkers	spring onions	green onions drawing pin	thumb tack	sweets	candy driving licence	driver's license	tap	faucet dual carriageway	divided highway	tart	pie dustbin	garbage can	terraced house	row house engine driver	engineer	tights	pantihose estate agent	realtor	timber	lumber first floor	second floor	traffic jam	gridlock flag day	tag day	tram	streetcar flat	apartment	trolley	cart frying pan	skillet	(at supermarket, etc.)
grill	broil	trousers	pants ground floor	first floor	turn-up (trousers)	cuff (pants) handbag	purse, pocketbook	tyre	tire hoarding	billboard	underground	subway icing	frosting	undertaker	mortician insect	bug	verandah	porch ironmonger	hardware store	vest	undershirt kerb	curb	waistcoat	vest knickers	underpants	wallet	billfold lavatory	washroom	windscreen	windshield lawyer	attorney	wing (of a car)	fender (of a car) lift	elevator	zip	zipper enjambment /ɪn'dʒæmmənt; French ɑ̃ʒɑ̃bmɑ̃/ ▷ noun in verse: the continuation of the sense without a pause beyond the end of the line. ⓘ Early 19c: from French enjambement, from enjamber to stride or encroach.

enjoin ▷ verb (enjoined, enjoining) formal to order or command someone to do something. ⓘ 17c: from French enjoindre, from Latin jungere to join.

■ enjoin someone from something law to forbid them to do it, by means of an injunction.

■ enjoin something on someone to demand behaviour of a certain kind from them □ enjoin politeness on one's children.

enjoy /ɪn'dʒɔɪ/ ▷ verb (enjoyed, enjoying) 1 to find pleasure in something. 2 to have, experience or have the benefit of something good □ The room enjoys sunlight all day. ● enjoy oneself to experience pleasure or happiness. ⓘ 14c: from French enjoir, see JOY.

enjoyable ▷ adj capable of being enjoyed; offering pleasure. ● enjoyably adverb.

enjoyment ▷ noun 1 enjoying; deriving pleasure. 2 the possession of something that gives pleasure. 3 happiness.

enkephalin /ɛŋ'kɛfəlɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem either of two chemical compounds that occur naturally in the brain and spinal cord, but which can be produced synthetically. They have pain-relieving properties similar to those of morphine and other opiates. ⓘ 1970s: from Greek enkephalos brain + -IN.

enlace ▷ verb 1 to encircle something with, or as if with, laces; to bind. 2 to entwine. ⓘ 14c.

enlarge ▷ verb (enlarged, enlarging) 1 tr & intr to make or become larger. 2 to reproduce (a photograph, etc) in a larger form. ⓘ 14c.

■ enlarge on or upon something to speak or write about it at greater length or in greater detail.

enlargement ▷ noun 1 something enlarged, especially a photographic print larger than the standard or original print. 2 the act of enlarging or the state of being enlarged. 3 the process of admitting new member countries to the European Union.

enlarger ▷ noun, photog an apparatus with a lens, used for enlarging photographs.

enlighten ▷ verb (enlightened, enlightening) 1 to give more information to someone. 2 to free someone from ignorance or superstition. 3 to make someone aware or uplift them by knowledge or religion. ● enlightened adj. ● enlightening adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon inlihtan, from lihtan to light.

enlightenment ▷ noun 1 the act of enlightening or the state of being enlightened. 2 freedom from ignorance or superstition. 3 (the Enlightenment) the philosophical movement originating in 18c France, with a belief in reason and human progress, and a questioning of tradition and authority.

enlist ▷ verb 1 intr to join one of the armed forces. 2 to obtain the support and help of someone; to obtain (support and help). ● enlistment noun. ⓘ 16c.

enlisted man and enlisted woman ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US a member of the armed forces below the rank of officer.

enliven /ɪn'laɪvən/ ▷ verb (enlivened, enlivening) to make active or more active, lively or cheerful. ● enlivener noun. ● enlivenment noun. ⓘ 17c.

en masse / French ɑ̃mas/ ▷ adverb all together; as a mass or group. ⓘ 18c: French, literally 'in a body'.

enmesh /ɪn'mɛʃ/ ▷ verb (enmeshes, enmeshed, enmeshing) to catch or trap something in a net, or as if in a net; to entangle. ⓘ 17c.

enmity /'ɛnmɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (enmities) 1 the state or quality of being an enemy. 2 ill-will; hostility. ⓘ 13c: from French enemistie, from Latin inimicus enemy.

ennoble /ɪ'noʊbəl/ ▷ verb (ennobled, ennobling) 1 to make something noble or dignified. 2 to make someone a member of the nobility. ● ennoblement noun. ⓘ 15c.

ennui /ɒ'nwiː; French ɑ̃nɥi/ ▷ noun, literary boredom or discontent caused by a lack of activity or excitement. ⓘ 18c: French.

ENO ▷ abbreviation English National Opera.

eno- see OENO-enormity /ɪ'nɔːmɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (enormities) 1 outrageousness or wickedness. 2 an outrageous or wicked act. 3 immenseness or vastness. ⓘ 15c: from Latin enormitas.

enormity, enormousness

● Strictly, enormity should not be used in a neutral sense (see sense 3) to mean 'very great size or scale':

✗ He was clearly exhausted by the enormity of the task he had set himself.

● You will come across this usage quite often, because the alternative enormousness is awkward.

★ RECOMMENDATION: if the meaning is neutral, use another word or expression such as hugeness, great size/scale, greatness, immensity, vastness.

enormous /ɪ'nɔːməs/ ▷ adj extremely large; huge. ● enormously adverb to a large extent; hugely □ enormously helpful. ● enormousness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin enormis unusual.

enough /ɪ'nʌf/ ▷ adj in the number or quantity needed; sufficient □ enough food to eat. ▷ adverb 1 to the necessary degree or extent. 2 fairly □ She's pretty enough, I suppose. 3 quite □ Oddly enough, I can't remember. ▷ pronoun the amount needed. ● have had enough of something to be able to tolerate no more of it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon genoh.

en papillotte /French ɑ̃papijɔt/ ▷ adverb said of cooking and serving food: in an envelope of oiled paper or foil. ⓘ French, literally 'in a curlpaper'.

en passant / French ɑ̃pasɑ̃/ ▷ adverb 1 in passing; by the way. 2 chess applied to the taking of a pawn that has just moved two squares as if it had moved only one. ⓘ 17c: French, literally 'in passing'.

en pension / French ɑ̃pɑ̃sjɔ̃/ ▷ adverb at a fixed rate for board and lodging. ⓘ French.

en primeur / French ɑ̃primœr/ ▷ adverb said of tasting, buying or investing in wine: when the wine is new. ⓘ French, literally 'in newness'.

enprint /'ɛnprɪnt/ ▷ noun, photog a standard size of photographic print produced from a negative, usually approximately 12.7cm x 9cm. ⓘ 20c: both 'envelope-sized print' and 'enlarged print' have been suggested as the origin.

enquire see INQUIRE

enquiring see INQUIRING

enquiry see INQUIRY

enrage /ɪn'reɪdʒ/ ▷ verb to make someone extremely angry. ● enraged adj. ⓘ 16c: from French enrager to become enraged; see RAGE.

en rapport /French ɑ̃rapɔr/ ▷ adverb in close touch or harmony. ⓘ 19c: French.

enrapture /ɪn'raptʃə(r)/ ▷ verb (enraptured, enrapturing) to give intense pleasure or joy to someone.

• enraptured or enrapt adj intensely pleased or delighted. ⓘ 18c.

enrich ▷ verb (enriches, enriched, enriching) 1 to make something rich or richer, especially better or stronger in quality, value or flavour, etc. 2 to make wealthy or wealthier. 3 to fertilize (soil, etc). 4 physics to increase the proportion of one or more particular isotopes in a mixture of the isotopes of an element. • enriched adj. • enrichment noun. ⓘ 14c.

enrol or (US) enroll /ɪn'roʊl/ ▷ verb (enrolled, enrolling) 1 to add the name of (a person) to a list or roll, eg of members or pupils. 2 to secure the membership or participation of someone. 3 intr to add one's own name to such a list; to become a member. • enrolment noun. ⓘ 14c: from French enroller, from rolle a roll or register.

en route /ɒn 'ruːt/ ▷ adverb on the way □ stop en route for a meal □ en route for Leeds. ⓘ 18c: French.

ENSA /'ɛnsə/ ▷ abbreviation, historical Entertainments National Service Association.

ensconce /ɪn'skɒns/ ▷ verb (ensconced, ensconcing) literary or humorous (often be ensconced) 1 to settle comfortably or safely. 2 to hide safely. ⓘ 16c: from sconce a small fort.

ensemble /ɒn'sɒmbəl; French ɑ̃sɑ̃bl/ ▷ noun 1 a small group of (usually classical) musicians who regularly perform together. 2 a passage in opera or ballet, etc performed by all the singers, musicians or dancers together. 3 a set of items of clothing worn together; an outfit. 4 all the parts of a thing considered as a whole. ⓘ 18c: French, literally 'together'.

enshrine ▷ verb (enshrined, enshrining) 1 to enter and protect (a right or idea, etc) in the laws or constitution of a state, constitution of an organization, etc. 2 to place something in a shrine. ⓘ 16c in sense 2.

enshroud ▷ verb 1 to cover something completely; to hide something by covering it up. 2 to cover something or someone in a shroud. ⓘ 16c.

ensign /'ɛnsaɪn, (in senses 1 and 2 also 'ɛnsən/) ▷ noun 1 the flag of a nation or regiment. 2 a coloured flag with a smaller union flag in one corner, especially the White Ensign, the flag of the Royal Navy and the Royal Yacht Squadron, the Red Ensign, the flag of the Merchant Navy, or the Blue Ensign, now the flag of naval auxiliary vessels. 3 historical the lowest rank of officer in the infantry, or an officer of this rank. 4 N Amer, especially US a the lowest rank in the navy; b an officer of this rank. ⓘ 14c: from Latin insignia, from signum sign.

ensilage /'ɛnsɪlɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the process of making SILAGE. 2 silage. ⓘ 19c: French, from Spanish ensilar to make silage.

ensile /ɛn'saɪl, 'ɛnsaɪl/ ▷ verb (ensiled, ensiling) 1 to turn (fodder) into silage. 2 to store (fodder) as silage. ⓘ 19c: French.

enslave ▷ verb (enslaved, enslaving) 1 to make someone into a slave. 2 to subject to a dominating influence. • enslavement noun. ⓘ 17c.

ensnare ▷ verb (ensnared, ensnaring) to catch something or someone in, or as if in, a trap; to trick or lead them dishonestly (into doing something). ⓘ 16c.

ensue /ɪn'sjuː/ ▷ verb (ensued, ensuing) (usually ensue from something) intr 1 to follow it; to happen after it. 2 to result from it. • ensuing adj. ⓘ 14c: from French ensuer, from Latin sequi to follow.

en suite /ɑ̃ swiːt/ ▷ adverb ▷ adj forming, or attached as part of, a single unit or set. ▷ noun, colloq an en suite bathroom. ⓘ 1960s as adj; 19c as adverb: French, literally 'in sequence'.

ensure /ɪn'ʃʊə(r), ɪn'ʃɔː(r)/ verb (ensured, ensuring) 1 to make something certain; to assure or guarantee it. 2 to make (a thing or person) safe and secure. See also INSURE. ⓘ 14c: from French enseurer, from Latin securus safe.

ENT ▷ abbreviation, medicine ear, nose and throat.

ent., entom. and entomol. ▷ abbreviation entomology.

ent- see ENTO-

-ent /ənt/ ▷ suffix 1 forming adjectives corresponding to nouns in -ENCE, signifying acting, causing an action, or existing in a certain state □ resident □ different. 2 forming nouns, signifying an agent. Compare -ENT. ⓘ From Latin -ens, -entis, present participle inflection of 2nd (and 3rd, as -ient) conjugation verbs; compare -ANT.

entablature /ɛn'tablətʃə(r)/ ▷ noun, archit in classical architecture: the part of a building directly supported by the columns, usually with a frieze and a CORNICE. ⓘ 17c: French, from Italian in on + tavola a board.

entail /ɛn'teɪl/ ▷ verb (entailed, entailing) 1 to have something as a necessary result or requirement. 2 (usually entail something on someone) law to bequeath (property) to one's descendants, not allowing them the option to sell it. ▷ noun, law 1 the practice of entailing (property). 2 property which has been entailed. 3 the successive heirs to property. • entailment noun. ⓘ 14c: from TAIL².

entangle ▷ verb 1 to cause something to get caught in some obstacle, eg a net. 2 to involve someone or something in difficulties. 3 to make something complicated or confused. • entanglement noun. ⓘ 17c.

entasis /'ɛntəsɪs/ ▷ noun (entases /-siːz/) archit the slightly bulging outline of a column or similar structure, intended to counteract the illusion of concavity that an absolutely straight column would create. ⓘ 18c: Greek, from en in + tasis a stretch.

entente /ɑ̃'tɑ̃t/ ▷ noun 1 an ENTENTE CORDIALE. 2 those who are collectively party to an ENTENTE CORDIALE. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'intent' or 'understanding'.

entente cordiale /ɑ̃'tɑ̃t kɔːdɪ'ɑːl/ ▷ noun (ententes cordiales) a friendly agreement or relationship between nations or states. ⓘ 19c: French.

enter /'ɛntə(r)/ ▷ verb (entered, entering) 1 tr & intr to go or come in or into (eg a room). 2 tr & intr to register (another person, oneself, one's work, etc) in a competition. 3 to record something in a book, diary, etc. 4 to join (a profession or society, etc). 5 to submit or present something □ enter a complaint. 6 intr, theat to come on to the stage. • enterable adj. • enterer noun. ⓘ 13c: from French entrer, from Latin intrare, from intra within.

■ enter into something 1 to begin to take part in it. 2 to become involved in it; to participate actively or enthusiastically in it. 3 to agree to be associated in or bound by (eg an agreement).

■ enter on or upon something to begin (an undertaking, especially a lengthy one) □ enter upon a new stage of life.

enter- see under ENTERO-enterectomy /ɛntə'rɛktəmɪ/ ▷ noun (enterectomies) surgery the removal of part of the bowel. ⓘ 19c.

enteric /ɛn'tɛrɪk/ ▷ adj, anatomy intestinal. ▷ noun (also enteric fever) TYPHOID FEVER. ⓘ 19c: from Greek enteron intestine.

enteric-coated ▷ adj, pharmacol (abbreviation ec) said of a capsule or tablet: coated in a substance that prevents the release of the contents until after passing through the stomach into the intestine.

enteritis /ɛntə'raɪtɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol inflammation of the intestines, especially the small intestine. ⓘ Early 19c.

entero- /ɛntəroʊ, ɛntə'rɒ/ or (before a vowel) enter- combining form, signifying intestine. ⓘ From Greek enteron intestine.

enterovirus ▷ noun, pathol any of several VIRUSES occurring in and infecting the intestine. ⓘ 1950s.

enterprise /ˈɛntəpraɪz/ ▷ noun 1 a project or undertaking. 2 a project that requires boldness and initiative. 3 boldness and initiative. 4 a business firm. ◎ 15c: from French entreprise, from entreprendre to undertake.

enterprise culture ▷ noun, econ a culture based on an economic policy that encourages commercial initiative and audacious imaginative planning.

enterprise zone ▷ noun in the UK: an area of the country, eg an inner city district, or an area where the traditional industries have gone, which is designated by government as a site where industrial and commercial renewal is to be encouraged by financial and other incentives.

enterprising ▷ adj showing boldness and initiative; adventurous; imaginative. ● enterprisingly adverb.

entertain /ɛntəˈteɪn/ ▷ verb (entertained, entertaining) 1 to provide amusement or recreation for someone. 2 tr & intr to give hospitality to (a guest), especially in the form of a meal. 3 to consider or be willing to adopt (an idea or suggestion, etc). ● entertainer noun a person who provides amusement, especially one who does so as their profession. ◎ 15c: from French entretenir to maintain or hold together.

entertaining ▷ adj interesting and amusing; giving entertainment. ▷ noun provision of entertainment. ● entertainingly adverb.

entertainment ▷ noun 1 something that entertains, eg a theatrical show. 2 the act of ENTERTAINing. 3 amusement or recreation.

enthalpy /ɛnˈθalpɪ, ˈɛnθəlpɪ/ ▷ noun, chem the amount of heat energy possessed by a substance, expressed per unit mass. ◎ 1920s: from Greek enthalpein to warm.

enthral or (especially US) enthrall /ɪnˈθrɔːl/ ▷ verb (enthralled, enthralling) to fascinate; to hold the attention or grip the imagination of someone. ● enthralled adj. ● enthralling adj. ● enthralment noun. ◎ 16c.

enthrone ▷ verb (enthroned, enthroning) to place someone on a throne. ● enthronement noun enthroning, especially as the ceremony of installing a monarch on the throne. ◎ 17c.

enthuse /ɪnˈθjuːz, -θuːz/ ▷ verb (enthused, enthusing) tr & intr to be enthusiastic, or make someone enthusiastic. ◎ 19c.

enthusiasm /ɪnˈθjuːzɪazəm, -ˈθuː-/ ▷ noun lively or passionate interest or eagerness. ◎ 17c: from Greek enthousiasmos zeal inspired by a god, from en in + theos god.

enthusiast ▷ noun someone filled with enthusiasm, especially for a particular subject; a fan or devotee.

enthusiastic /-ˈastɪk/ ▷ adj showing lively interest; extremely keen. ● enthusiastically adverb.

entice /ɪnˈtaɪs/ ▷ verb (enticed, enticing) to tempt or persuade, by arousing hopes or desires or by promising a reward. ● enticeable adj. ● enticement noun. ● enticer noun. ◎ 13c: from French enticier to provoke.

enticing ▷ adj alluring; fascinating. ● enticingly adverb.

entire /ɪnˈtaɪə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 whole or complete. 2 absolute or total. 3 bot said of leaves and petals: with an untoothed and unlobed margin. 4 said especially of a horse: not castrated. ▷ noun 1 a stallion. 2 philately a used or unused stamped envelope. ● entirely adverb 1 fully or absolutely. 2 solely. ◎ 14c: from French entier, from Latin integer whole.

entirety /ɪnˈtaɪərətɪ/ ▷ noun (entireties) completeness; wholeness; the whole. ● in its entirety totally; taken as a whole. ◎ 16c.

entitle ▷ verb (entitled, entitling) to give a title or name to (a book, etc). ● entitlement noun having a right to something. ◎ 14c.

■ entitle someone to something to give them a right to have or to do it.

entity /ˈɛntɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (entities) 1 something that has a physical existence, as opposed to a quality or mood. 2 the essential nature of something. 3 philos the fact or quality of existing. ◎ 16c: from Latin entitas, from ens thing that exists.

ento- /ɛntoʊ, ɛnˈtɒ/ or (before a vowel) ent- combining form, signifying inside. See also ECTO-, ENDO-, EXO-. ◎ From Greek entos within.

entom. see ENT.

entomb ▷ verb (entombed, entombing) 1 to put (a body) in a tomb. 2 to cover, bury or hide someone or something as if in a tomb. ● entombment noun. ◎ 16c.

entomo- /ˈɛntəmoʊ/ ▷ combining form, signifying insect, or insects. ◎ From Greek entomon insect.

entomol. see ENT.

entomology /ɛntəˈmɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the scientific study of insects. ● entomological /-məˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. ● entomologically adverb. ● entomologist noun. ◎ 18c: from Greek entomon insect, from entomos cut into sections.

entourage /ˈɒntʊərɑːʒ ˈɑ̃-/ ▷ noun a group of followers or assistants, especially one accompanying a famous or important person. ◎ 19c: French, from entourer to surround.

entr'acte /ˈɒntrakt, ˈɑ̃-/ ▷ noun (entr'actes) 1 an interval between the acts of a play. 2 entertainment formerly provided during this interval. ◎ 19c: French, from entre between + acte act.

entrails /ˈɛntreɪlz/ ▷ plural noun 1 the internal organs of a person or animal. 2 literary the inner parts of anything. ◎ 13c: from French entrailles, from Latin intralia, from inter within.

entrain ▷ verb (entrained, entraining) tr & intr to board or put someone on board a train. ◎ 19c.

entrance[1] /ˈɛntrəns/ ▷ noun 1 a way in, eg a door. 2 formal the act of entering. 3 the right to enter. ◎ 16c: French, from entrer to enter.

entrance[2] /ɪnˈtrɑːns/ ▷ verb (entranced, entrancing) 1 to grip or captivate someone's attention and imagination. 2 to put someone into a trance. ● entrancement noun. ● entrancing adj gripping the imagination; fascinating; delightful. ◎ 16c.

entrance fee ▷ noun the money paid on entering a club, society or show, etc.

entrant /ˈɛntrənt/ ▷ noun someone who enters something, especially an examination, a competition or a profession. ◎ 17c.

entrap ▷ verb 1 to catch something in a trap. 2 to trick someone into doing something. ● entrapper noun. ◎ 16c.

entrapment ▷ noun 1 the act of entrapping or process of being entrapped. 2 law the act or process of deliberately inducing someone to commit a crime in order to provide a reason for arresting and prosecuting them.

entreat ▷ verb, tr & intr to ask passionately or desperately; to beg. ◎ 15c: from French entraiter.

entreaty /ɪnˈtriːtɪ/ ▷ noun (entreaties) a passionate or desperate request.

entrechat /ˈɑ̃trəʃɑː/ ▷ noun (entrechats) ballet a leap in which the dancer crosses their feet and beats their heels together. ◎ 18c: from French, originally from Italian capriola intrecciata complicated caper.

entrecôte /ˈɒntrəkoʊt/ ▷ noun, cookery a boneless steak cut from between two ribs. ⊙ 19c: French, from entre between + côte rib.

entrée /ˈɒntreɪ/ ▷ noun (entrées) 1 a small dish served after the fish course and before the main course at a formal dinner. 2 chiefly US a main course. 3 formal the right of admission or entry □ entrée into polite society. ⊙ 18c: French, literally 'entrance'.

entrench or intrench ▷ verb 1 to fix or establish something firmly, often too firmly □ deeply entrenched ideas. 2 to fortify something with trenches dug around. ● entrenchment noun. ⊙ 16c.

entrepot or entrepôt /ˈɒntrəpoʊ/ ▷ noun a port through which goods are imported and exported, especially one from which goods are re-exported without duty being paid on them. ⊙ 18c: French, meaning 'warehouse'.

entrepreneur /ɒntrəprəˈnɜː(r)/ ▷ noun someone who engages in business enterprises, often with some personal financial risk. ● entrepreneurial adj acting as an entrepreneur; undertaking business enterprises. ● entrepreneurship noun. ⊙ 19c: French, literally 'someone who undertakes'.

entrepreneuse /ɒntrəprəˈnɜːz/ ▷ noun a female ENTREPRENEUR.

entropy /ˈentrəpɪ/ ▷ noun (entropies) physics a measure of the amount of disorder in a system, or of the unavailability of energy for doing work. ● entropic /ɪnˈtrɒpɪk/ adj. ⊙ 19c: from German Entropie, from Greek en in + tropos turn or change.

entrust or intrust ▷ verb (usually entrust something to someone, or someone with something) to give it to them to take care of or deal with. ⊙ 17c.

entry /ˈentrɪ/ ▷ noun (entries) 1 the act of coming or going in. 2 the right to enter. 3 a place of entering such as a door or doorway. 4 a person, or the total number of people, entered for a competition, etc. 5 an item written on a list or in a book, etc, or the act of recording an item or items in this way. ⊙ 14c as entre: from French entrée, from entrer, from Latin intrare to go into.

entryism ▷ noun, derog the practice of joining a political party in large enough numbers to gain power and change the party's policies. ● entryist noun, derog someone who engages in political entryism. ⊙ 1960s as entrism.

Entryphone ▷ noun, trademark an intercom system fitted at the entrance to a building, especially a block of flats, by which visitors can identify themselves to specific occupants before being admitted to the building. ⊙ 1960s.

entwine ▷ verb 1 to wind or twist (two or more things) together. 2 to make something by winding or twisting materials together. ⊙ 16c.

E-number ▷ noun any of various identification codes, consisting of the letter E (for European) followed by a number, that are used to denote all food additives, except flavourings, that have been approved by the European Union. ⊙ 1970s.

enumerate /ɪˈnjuːməreɪt/ ▷ verb (enumerated, enumerating) 1 to list one by one. 2 to count. ● enumeration noun. ⊙ 17c: from Latin enumerare to count up.

enumerator ▷ noun 1 someone who, or something which, enumerates. 2 someone who issues and then collects census forms. ⊙ 19c.

enunciate /ɪˈnʌnsɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (enunciated, enunciating) 1 tr & intr to pronounce words clearly. 2 to state something formally. ● enunciable adj. ● enunciator noun. ● enunciation noun clear pronunciation of words. ⊙ 17c: from Latin enuntiare to announce.

enure see INURE.

enuresis /enjʊəˈriːsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol involuntary urination, especially during sleep. ● enuretic /enjʊəˈretɪk/ adj. ⊙ 19c: from Greek en in + ouresis urination.

envelop /ɪnˈveləp/ ▷ verb (enveloped, enveloping) 1 to cover or wrap something or someone completely. 2 to obscure or conceal □ an event enveloped in mystery. ● envelopment noun. ⊙ 14c: from French enveloper, from voloper to wrap.

envelope /ˈenvəloʊp, ˈɒn-/ ▷ noun 1 a thin flat sealable paper packet or cover, especially for a letter. 2 a cover or wrapper of any kind. 3 biol a plant or animal structure that contains or encloses something, eg the nuclear envelope, consisting of a double membrane that surrounds the nucleus of a cell. 4 technical the glass casing that surrounds an incandescent lamp. ⊙ 16c: from French enveloppe; related to ENVELOP.

enviable /ˈenvɪəbəl/ ▷ adj likely to cause envy; highly desirable. ● enviably adverb. ⊙ 17c.

envious /ˈenvɪəs/ ▷ adj feeling or showing envy □ am so envious of your house. Compare JEALOUS. ● enviously adverb. ● enviousness noun. ⊙ 14c.

environ /ɪnˈvaɪərən/ ▷ verb (environed, environing) to surround or encircle. ⊙ 14c: from French environner, from virer to turn around.

environment /ɪnˈvaɪərənmənt/ ▷ noun 1 the surroundings or conditions within which something or someone exists. 2 (usually the environment) the combination of external conditions that surround and influence a living organism. 3 computing a program, set of programs or an operating system that allows a particular application to be employed. ● environmental /-ˈmentəl/ adj □ environmental issues. ● environmentally adverb. ⊙ 17c: from French environnement, from environner to surround.

environmental health officer ▷ noun (abbreviation EHO) a person whose job is to enforce regulations regarding eg hygiene in food-handling shops, maintenance of clean water supplies and waste disposal. See also SANITARY INSPECTORS.

environmentalism ▷ noun concern about the natural environment and its protection from pollution and other harmful effects of human activity.

environmentalist ▷ noun someone who is concerned about the harmful effects of human activity on the environment. ▷ adj used to describe a group or organization whose aims are to protect the environment and to increase public awareness of environmental issues. ⊙ Early 20c.

environmentally friendly ▷ adj said eg of a detergent or non-aerosol spray: not harmful to the environment, eg referring to certain detergents and non-aerosol sprays.

environmental studies ▷ noun the science which studies the interaction between man and the environment, emphasizing the links between different subjects related to this issue, including ECOLOGY, ECONOMICS, GEOGRAPHY, GEOLOGY, METEOROLOGY, POLITICS and SOCIOLOGY.

environs /ɪnˈvaɪərənz/ ▷ plural noun surrounding areas, especially the outskirts of a town or city. ⊙ 17c: from French environ around.

envisage /ɪnˈvɪzɪdʒ/ ▷ verb (envisaged, envisaging) 1 to picture something in the mind. 2 to consider as likely in the future □ We envisage a pay rise in the autumn. ⊙ 19c: from French envisager, from visage face.

envoy[1] /ˈenvɔɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a diplomat ranking next below an ambassador. 2 a messenger or agent, especially on a diplomatic mission. ⊙ 17c: from French envoyer to send.

envoy[2] or envoi /ˈenvɔɪ/ ▷ noun the concluding part of a poem or book, eg the short concluding verse at the end of a ballad. ⊙ 14c: from French envoye.

envy /'ɛnvɪ/ ▷ noun (envies) 1 a feeling of resentment or regretful desire for another person's qualities, better fortune or success. 2 anything that arouses envy □ She is the envy of his friends. ▷ verb (envies, envied, envying) 1 feel envy towards someone. 2 to covet; to wish to have something. 3 (envy someone something) to feel envy towards them on account of (their fortune or success, etc) □ envied him his good luck. ⓘ 14c: from French envie.

Enzed /ɛn'zɛd/ ▷ noun, Austral, NZ 1 New Zealand. 2 (also Enzedder) a New Zealander. ⓘ Early 20c: reproducing pronunciation of NZ.

enzootic /ɛnzoʊ'ɒtɪk/ ▷ adj said of a disease: prevalent in a particular district or at a particular season. ▷ noun a disease of this type. ⓘ 19c: from Greek zoion animal.

enzyme /'ɛnzaɪm/ ▷ noun, biochem a specialized protein molecule that acts as a catalyst for the biochemical reactions that occur in living cells. • enzymatic or enzymic /-'zaɪmɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek zyme leaven.

enzymology ▷ noun the scientific study of ENZYMES. • enzymologist noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

EOC ▷ abbreviation Equal Opportunities Commission.

Eocene /'iːoʊsiːn/ ▷ noun, geol the second epoch of the TERTIARY period, lasting from about 54 million to 38 million years ago. ▷ adj 1 relating to this epoch. 2 relating to rocks formed during this epoch. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. ⓘ 19c: from Greek eos dawn + kainos new.

EOKA /eɪ'oʊkə/ ▷ abbreviation, Ethnike Organosis Kypriakou Agonos (Greek), National Organization for the Cypriot Struggle.

eolian harp see as AEOLIAN HARP eolithic or Eolithic /iːoʊ'lɪθɪk/ ▷ adj, archaeol belonging to the early part of the Stone Age, when crude stone implements were first used by man. ⓘ 19c: from Greek eos dawn + lithos stone.

eon or aeon /'iːɒn/ ▷ noun 1 a long period of time; an endless or immeasurable period of time. 2 (usually eon) geol the largest unit of geological time, consisting of a number of ERAS. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. 3 astron a period of a thousand million years. ⓘ 17c: from Greek aion.

eonism /'iːənɪzəm/ ▷ noun, psychiatry the practice of TRANSVESTISM. ⓘ 1920s: from the name of Chevalier d'Eon (died 1810), the French diplomat who chose female dress as a disguise.

eosin /'iːoʊsɪn/ ▷ noun, biol a red acidic dye. ⓘ 19c: from Greek eos dawn, referring to the rosy colour of the sky.

-eous /ɪəs/ ▷ suffix, forming adjectives, signifying relating to, or of the nature of a specified thing. ⓘ From Latin -eus.

EP[1] ▷ noun an extended-play RECORD (noun 4).

EP[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 electroplated. 2 European Parliament. 3 said of gramophone records: extended-play.

ep- see EPI-

EPA ▷ abbreviation, US Environmental Protection Agency.

epact /'iːpakt/ ▷ noun 1 the Moon's age at the beginning of the calendar year. 2 the excess of the calendar month or solar year over the lunar. ⓘ 16c: from Greek epaktos brought on.

eparch /'ɛpɑːk/ ▷ noun 1 Greek church a bishop or METROPOLITAN in the ORTHODOX CHURCH. 2 the governor of a modern Greek province. ⓘ 17c: from Greek eparchos, from epi upon + arche dominion.

epaulette or (chiefly US) epaulet /ɛpə'lɛt/ ▷ noun a decoration on the shoulder of a coat or jacket, especially of a military uniform. ⓘ 18c: from French épaulette, from épaule shoulder.

épée /'ɛpeɪ/ ▷ noun (épées) a sword with a narrow flexible blade, formerly used in duelling, now, with a blunted end, used in fencing. ⓘ 19c: French.

epeirogenesis /ɛpaɪəroʊ'dʒɛnəsɪs/ and epeirogeny /-'rɒdʒənɪ/ geol ▷ noun the building of continents by movement of the Earth's crust. • epeirogenic or epeirogenetic adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek epeiros mainland.

Eph ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Ephesians. See table at BIBLE.

ephedrine /'ɛfədrɪn/ ▷ noun, pharmacol an alkaloid drug, with similar effects to adrenaline, now mainly used as a nasal decongestant. ⓘ 19c: from Greek ephedra horsetail (the plant).

ephemera[1] /ɪ'fɛmərə, ɪ'fiː-/ ▷ noun (ephemeras or ephemerae /-riː/) 1 a mayfly. 2 something that lasts or is useful for only a short time; an EPHEMERON (sense 1). ⓘ 17c: from Latin ephemerus lasting only a day, from Greek ephemeros.

ephemera[2] plural of EPHEMERON ephemeral ▷ adj 1 lasting a short time. 2 biol denoting a plant or animal that completes its life cycle within weeks, days or even hours, eg the mayfly and many desert plants. ▷ noun, biol such a plant or animal. • ephemerality noun (ephemeralities). ⓘ 16c.

ephemeris /ɪ'fɛmərɪs/ ▷ noun (ephemerides /ɛfɪ'mɛrɪdiːz/) astron 1 a table that shows the predicted future positions of celestial bodies such as the Sun, Moon, planets, certain stars and comets. 2 a book, usually published annually, containing a collection of such tables, together with other relevant information about predictable astronomical phenomena such as eclipses. ⓘ 16c: from Greek ephemeris diary or calendar.

ephemeron /ɪ'fɛmərɒn/ ▷ noun (ephemera /-mərə/) 1 (ephemera) things that are valid or useful only for a short time, especially printed items such as tickets and posters. 2 an insect which lives for one day only. ⓘ 16c: from Greek ephemeros living for a day.

epi- /ɛpɪ, ɪ'pɪ/ or (before a vowel) ep- or (combined with h) eph- /ɛf/ combining form, signifying 1 above, over or upon □ epicentre □ epidural. 2 in addition □ epiphenomenon. 3 after □ epilogue. 4 close to; near □ epicalyx. ⓘ From Greek epi on or over.

epiblast /'ɛpɪblɑːst/ ▷ noun, zool the ECTODERM. Also called ectoblast. • epiblastic adj. ⓘ 19c.

epic /'ɛpɪk/ ▷ noun 1 a long narrative poem telling of heroic acts, the birth and death of nations, etc. 2 a long adventure story or film, etc. ▷ adj referring to or like an epic, especially in being large-scale and imposing. ⓘ 16c: from Greek epikos, from epos word or song.

epicalyx ▷ noun, bot an apparent accessory calyx outside the true calyx, composed of bracts or of fused stipules of sepals. ⓘ 19c.

epicanthus /ɛpɪ'kanθəs/ ▷ noun, anatomy a fold of skin that covers the inner angle of the eye, characteristic of the MONGOLIAN race. • epicanthic adj. ⓘ 19c.

epicarp ▷ noun, bot the outermost layer of the PERICARP of fruit; the skin. ⓘ 19c.

epicene /'ɛpɪsiːn/ ▷ adj 1 having characteristics of both sexes, or of neither sex. 2 relating to, or for use by, both sexes. 3 effeminate. 4 grammar said of a noun: referring to people or animals of either sex (eg driver, as opposed to waiter and waitress). ⓘ 15c: from Latin epicoenus of both genders, from Greek epikoinos common to many.

epicentre or (US) epicenter /'ɛpɪsɛntə(r)/ ▷ noun the point on the Earth's surface which is directly above the FOCUS (sense 4) of an earthquake, or directly above or below a nuclear explosion. • epicentral adj. ⓘ 19c.

epicure /'ɛpɪkjʊə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who has refined taste, especially one who enjoys good food and drink. • epicurism noun 1 the pursuit of pleasure, especially as found in good food and drink. 2 the tendency to be critical and hard to please in matters of luxury. ⓘ 16c: from Epicurus (341–270 BC), the ancient Greek philosopher who believed that the greatest good is pleasure.

epicurean /ɛpɪkjʊəˈriːən/ 1 noun someone who likes pleasure and good living; an epicure. 2 (Epicurean) a follower of Epicurus or his philosophy. ▷ adj 1 given to luxury or to the tastes of an epicure. 2 (Epicurean) referring or relating to Epicurus or his philosophy. ● Epicureanism noun the philosophical system of Epicurus.

epicycle ▷ noun, math a circle whose centre rolls around the circumference of another fixed circle. ● epicyclic adj. ⓘ 14c.

epideictic /ɛpɪˈdaɪktɪk/ and epideictical ▷ adj done for show or display. ⓘ 18c: from Greek deiknynai to show.

epidemic /ɛpɪˈdɛmɪk/ ▷ noun 1 a sudden outbreak of infectious disease which spreads rapidly and affects a large number of people, animals or plants in a particular area for a limited period of time. 2 a sudden and extensive spread of anything undesirable. ▷ adj referring to or like an epidemic, sometimes also used to describe a non-infectious condition such as malnutrition. See also ENDEMIC. ● epidemically adverb. ⓘ 17c: ultimately from Greek epi among + demos the people.

epidemiology /ɛpɪdiːmɪˈɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, med the study of the distribution, effects and causes of diseases in populations, and the means by which they may be treated or prevented, not only including infectious diseases, but also conditions such as heart disease and cancer. ● epidemiological /-əˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. ● epidemiologist noun. ⓘ 19c.

epidermis /ɛpɪˈdɜːmɪs/ ▷ noun, biol the outermost layer of a plant or animal, which serves to protect the underlying tissues from infection, injury and water loss. ● epidermal adj. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from Greek derma the skin.

epididymis /ɛpɪˈdɪdɪmɪs/ ▷ noun (epididymides /-dɪˈdɪmɪdiːz/) anatomy, zool a long narrow highly coiled tube in the testis of mammals, birds and reptiles, that stores and conveys sperm to the VAS DEFERENS. ⓘ 17c: Greek, from didymos a twin or testicle.

epidural /ɛpɪˈdjʊərəl/ medicine ▷ adj situated on, or administered into, the DURA MATER. ▷ noun (in full epidural anaesthetic) the epidural injection of an anaesthetic to remove all sensation below the waist, used especially during childbirth. ⓘ 19c as adj.

epigene /ˈɛpɪdʒiːn/ ▷ adj, geol acting, formed or taking place at the Earth's surface. Compare HYPOGENE. ⓘ 19c: EPI- + -GENE.

epiglottis /ɛpɪˈglɒtɪs/ ▷ noun (epiglottises or epiglottides /-ɪdiːz/) anatomy in mammals: a movable flap of cartilage hanging at the back of the tongue, which closes the opening of the larynx when food or drink is being swallowed. ● epiglottal adj. ⓘ 17c: Greek; see GLOTTIS.

epigram /ˈɛpɪgram/ ▷ noun 1 a witty or sarcastic saying. 2 a short poem with such an ending. ● epigrammatic /-grəˈmatɪk/ adj. ⓘ 18c; 16c in sense 2: from Greek epigramma, from gramma writing.

epigraph /ˈɛpɪgrɑːf/ ▷ noun 1 a quotation or motto at the beginning of a book or chapter. 2 an inscription on a building. ⓘ 16c: from Greek epigraphe, from graphein to write.

epigraphic /ɛpɪˈgrafɪk/ adj. ● epigraphy /ɪˈpɪgrəfɪ/ noun 1 the study of inscriptions, especially those left by earlier civilizations. 2 epigrams. ⓘ 19c.

epilate /ˈɛpɪleɪt/ ▷ verb (epilated, epilating) to remove (hair) by any method. ● epilation noun. ● epilator noun. ⓘ 19c: from French épiler, modelled on DEPILATE.

epilepsy /ˈɛpɪlɛpsɪ/ ▷ noun, pathol any of a group of disorders of the nervous system characterized by recurring attacks that involve impairment, or sudden loss, of consciousness. See also GRAND MAL, PETIT MAL. ⓘ 16c: from Greek epilepsia, from epilambanein to seize.

epileptic /ɛpɪˈlɛptɪk/ adj 1 referring or relating to, or like epilepsy. 2 suffering from epilepsy. ▷ noun someone who suffers from epilepsy.

epilogue or (US) epilog /ˈɛpɪlɒg/ ▷ noun 1 the closing section of a book or programme, etc. 2 a a speech addressed to the audience at the end of a play; b the actor making this speech. 3 the concluding, and often religious, item of a day's radio or TV programmes. ⓘ 15c: from Greek epilogos, from logos speech.

epinasty /ˈɛpɪnastɪ/ ▷ noun, bot an active growth on the upper side of an organ of a plant, causing a downward bend. Compare HYPONASTY.

epinephrine or epinephrin /ɛpɪˈnɛfrɪn, -friːn/ ▷ noun, especially US ADRENALINE. ⓘ 19c: from Greek nephros kidney.

epiphany /ɪˈpɪfənɪ/ ▷ noun (epiphanies) 1 (usually Epiphany) Christianity a festival on 6 January which, in the western churches, commemorates the showing of Christ to the three wise men, and, in the Orthodox and other eastern Churches, the baptism of Christ. 2 the sudden appearance of a god. 3 literary a sudden revelation or insight. ⓘ 14c: from Greek epiphaneia manifestation, from phainein to show.

epiphenomenon ▷ noun (plural epiphenomena) 1 an accompanying phenomenon; a fortuitous, less important or irrelevant by-product. 2 pathol a secondary symptom of a disease. ⓘ 17c.

epiphysis /ɪˈpɪfɪsɪs/ ▷ noun (epiphyses /-siːz/) anatomy 1 the growing end of a long bone. 2 the PINEAL GLAND. ● epiphyseal /ɛpɪˈfɪzɪəl/ adj. ⓘ 17c: Greek, meaning 'excrescence', from phyesthai to grow.

epiphyte /ˈɛpɪfaɪt/ ▷ noun, bot a plant that grows on another plant for support, but which is not a parasite. ⓘ 19c.

Epis. ▷ abbreviation 1 (also Episc.) Episcopal. 2 (also Ep.) Bible Epistle.

episcopacy /ɪˈpɪskəpəsɪ/ ▷ noun (episcopacies) 1 the government of the church by bishops. 2 bishops as a group. 3 the position or period of office of a bishop. ⓘ 17c: from Greek episkopos overseer.

episcopal /ɪˈpɪskəpəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to bishops. 2 said of a church: governed by bishops.

episcopalian /ɪpɪskəˈpeɪlɪən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to an episcopal church. 2 advocating church government by bishops. ▷ noun a member of an episcopal church, especially the Anglican Church. ● episcopalianism noun.

episcopate /ɪˈpɪskəpət/ ▷ noun 1 the position or period of office of a bishop. 2 bishops as a group. 3 an area under the care of a bishop; a diocese or bishopric.

episiotomy /ɪpiːzɪˈɒtəmɪ/ ▷ noun (episiotomies) medicine a surgical cut made at the opening of the vagina during childbirth, to assist the delivery of the baby. ⓘ 19c: from Greek epision pubic area + -TOMY.

episode /ˈɛpɪsoʊd/ ▷ noun 1 one of several events or distinct periods making up a longer sequence. 2 one of the separate parts in which a radio or TV serial is broadcast, or a serialized novel, etc is published. 3 any scene or incident forming part of a novel or narrative poem, often one providing a digression from the main story. ● episodic /-ˈsɒdɪk/ adj 1 consisting of several distinct periods. 2 occurring at intervals; sporadic. ● episodically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Greek epeisodion, from eisodos a coming in.

epistemics /ɛpɪˈstiːmɪks/ ▷ singular noun the scientific study of knowledge, its acquisition and its communication. ⓘ 1960s: from Greek episteme knowledge.

epistemology /ɪpɪstəˈmɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the philosophical theory of knowledge. • epistemological /-məˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. • epistemologist noun. ⓘ 19c: from Greek episteme knowledge.

epistle /ɪˈpɪsəl/ ▷ noun 1 literary a letter, especially a long one, dealing with important matters. 2 a novel or poem written in the form of letters. 3 (usually Epistle) Christianity a each of the letters written by Christ's Apostles, which form part of the New Testament; b a reading from one of the Epistles as part of a religious service. • epistolary /ɪˈpɪstələrɪ/ adj, formal relating to or consisting of letters. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon epistol.

epistolary novel ▷ noun a type of novel in which the story is told entirely through an exchange of letters between the characters.

epistyle /ˈepɪstaɪl/ ▷ noun, archit an ARCHITRAVE. ⓘ 19c: from Greek stylos a pillar.

epitaph /ˈepɪtɑːf/ ▷ noun 1 an inscription on a gravestone. 2 a short commemorative speech or piece of writing in a similar style. ⓘ 14c: from Greek epitaphion, from taphos tomb.

epitaxy /ˈepɪtaksɪ/ ▷ noun, crystallog the growth of a thin layer of crystals on another crystal, so that they have the same structure. • epitaxial /-ˈtaksɪəl/ adj. ⓘ 1930s.

epithelium /epɪˈθiːlɪəm/ ▷ noun (plural epithelia) anatomy the layer of tissue that covers all external surfaces of a multicellular animal, and lines all hollow structures except for blood vessels and lymph vessels. • epithelial adj. ⓘ 18c: from Greek thele nipple.

epithet /ˈepɪθet/ ▷ noun an adjective or short descriptive phrase which captures the particular quality of the person or thing it describes. • epithetic adj. ⓘ 16c: from Greek epitheton, from tithenai to place.

epitome /ɪˈpɪtəmɪ/ ▷ noun (epitomes) 1 a miniature representation of a larger or wider idea, issue, etc. 2 a person or thing that is the embodiment or a perfect example (of a quality, etc). 3 a summary of a written work. ⓘ 16c: from Greek tome a cut.

epitomize or epitomise /ɪˈpɪtəmaɪz/ ▷ verb (epitomized, epitomizing) 1 to typify or personify. 2 to make an epitome of something; to shorten. • epitomizer or epitomist noun someone who abridges something. ⓘ 16c.

epizoon /epɪˈzoʊɒn/ ▷ noun (plural epizoa) zool an animal that lives on the surface of another animal, either parasitically or commensally. • epizoan adj, noun. • epizoic adj 1 living on an animal. 2 having seeds dispersed by animals. ⓘ 19c: from Greek zoion animal.

epizootic /epɪzoʊˈɒtɪk/ adj 1 belonging or referring to epizoa. 2 affecting animals as an epidemic affects humans. ▷ noun an epizootic disease.

epizootics ▷ singular noun the study of epidemic animal diseases.

EPNS ▷ abbreviation electroplated nickel silver.

EPO ▷ abbreviation European Patent Office.

epoch /ˈiːpɒk/ ▷ noun 1 a major division or period of history, or of a person's life, etc, usually marked by some important event. 2 geol an interval of geological time representing a subdivision of a period, and during which a particular series of rocks was formed. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. • epochal /ˈepɒkəl, ˈiː-/ adj relating to, or lasting for, an epoch. ⓘ 17c: from Greek epoche fixed point.

epoch-making ▷ adj highly significant or decisive.

eponym /ˈepənɪm/ ▷ noun 1 the name of a person after whom something is named, especially the main character in a play or novel, etc whose name provides its title. 2 a name derived from a person's name, eg Hamlet, Gettysburg. • eponymous /ɪˈpɒnɪməs/ adj said of a character in a story, etc: having the name which is used as the title. ⓘ 19c: from Greek onyma a name.

EPOS /ˈiːpɒs/ ▷ abbreviation electronic point of sale.

epoxy /ɪˈpɒksɪ/ chem ▷ adj consisting of an oxygen atom bonded to two carbon atoms. ▷ noun (epoxies) (also epoxy resin) any of a group of synthetic thermosetting resins, that are tough, resistant to abrasion and chemical attack, and form strong adhesive bonds. ⓘ Early 20c: from EPI- 1 + OXYGEN.

EPP ▷ abbreviation European People's Party.

EPROM /ˈiːprɒm/ ▷ abbreviation, computing erasable programmable read-only memory, a read-only memory in which stored data can be erased by ultraviolet light, etc and reprogrammed.

EPS or eps ▷ abbreviation, stock exchange earnings per share.

epsilon /epˈsaɪlən, ˈepsɪlɒn/ ▷ noun the fifth letter of the Greek alphabet. See table at GREEK ALPHABET. ⓘ 14c: Greek e psilon bare, or mere, e.

Epsom salts /ˈepsəm —/ ▷ singular or plural noun a bitter white powder, a preparation of magnesium sulphate, used as a medicine, eg for clearing the bowels. ⓘ 18c: from Epsom in Surrey, where it occurs naturally in spring water.

EPSRC ▷ abbreviation Engineering and Physical Sciences Research Council.

Epstein-Barr virus /epstaɪnˈbɑː(r) —/ ▷ noun a virus which causes GLANDULAR FEVER and is associated with various human cancers, eg Burkitt's lymphoma. ⓘ 1960s: from M A Epstein and Y M Barr, British virologists, who first isolated the virus in 1964.

equable /ˈekwəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of a climate: never showing very great variations or extremes. 2 said of a person: even-tempered. • equability noun. • equably adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin aequabilis, from aequus equal.

equal /ˈiːkwəl/ ▷ adj 1 the same in size, amount or value, etc. 2 evenly balanced; displaying no advantage or bias. 3 having the same status; having or entitled to the same rights. ▷ noun a person or thing of the same age, rank, ability or worth, etc. ▷ verb (equalled, equalling) 1 to be the same in amount, value or size, etc as someone or something. 2 to be as good as someone or something; to match. 3 to achieve something which matches (a previous achievement or achiever). • equality /ɪˈkwɒlɪtɪ/ noun (equalities). • equally adverb. • equal to something having the necessary ability for it. • equal to the occasion fit or able to cope with an emergency or an unexpected situation, etc. ⓘ 14c: from Latin aequalis, from aequus level or equal.

equalize or equalise /ˈiːkwəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (equalized, equalizing) 1 tr & intr to make or become equal. 2 intr to reach the same score as an opponent, after being behind. • equalization noun. • equalizer noun a person or thing that equalizes, especially a goal or point scored which makes one equal to one's opponent. See also GRAPHIC EQUALIZER. ⓘ 17c.

equal opportunities ▷ plural noun the principle of equal treatment of all employees or candidates for employment, irrespective of race, religion or sex, etc.

equal sign or equals sign ▷ noun, math the symbol written =, which indicates that two numerical values are equal.

equanimity /ekwəˈnɪmɪtɪ/ ▷ noun calmness of temper; composure. ⓘ 17c: from Latin aequanimitas, from aequus equal + animus mind.

equate /ɪˈkweɪt/ ▷ verb (equated, equating) (usually equate with something) to be equivalent to it. ⓘ 19c; 15c in obsolete sense 'to make something equal': from Latin aequare.

■ equate one thing to or with another to consider them as equivalent.

equation /ɪˈkweɪʒən/ ▷ noun 1 math a mathematical statement of the equality between two expressions involving constants and/or variables. 2 chem a CHEMICAL EQUATION. 3 the act of equating. 4 the state of being equal or balanced equally.

equator /ɪˈkweɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 (often the Equator) geog the imaginary great circle that passes around the Earth at latitude 0 at an equal distance from the North and South Poles, and divides the Earth's surface into the northern and southern hemispheres. 2 astron the CELESTIAL EQUATOR. 3 a circle dividing a spherical body into two equal parts. ⓘ 14c: from Latin aequator equalizer (of day and night).

equatorial /ɛkwəˈtɔːrɪəl/ adj 1 belonging to, or near, the equator. 2 said of a telescope: mounted on an axis capable of moving parallel to the equator. ▷ noun an equatorial telescope. ● equatorially adverb so as to have motion or direction parallel to the equator.

equerry /ˈɛkwərɪ, ɪˈkwɛrɪ/ ▷ noun (equerries) an official who serves as a personal attendant to a member of a royal family. ⓘ 16c as esquiry: from French esquierie company of squires, from esquier squire.

equestrian /ɪˈkwɛstrɪən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to horse-riding or horses. 2 on horseback. ▷ noun a rider or performer on horseback. ● equestrianism noun horsemanship. ⓘ 17c: from Latin equestris relating to horsemen.

equestrienne /ɪkwɛstrɪˈɛn/ ▷ noun a female EQUESTRIAN. ⓘ 19c: modelled on feminine nouns ending -enne.

equi- /ɛkwɪ, iːkwɪ, ɪˈkwɪ/ ▷ combining form, signifying equal or equally □ equidistant. ⓘ From Latin aequus equal.

equiangular ▷ adj having equal angles. ● equiangularity noun. ⓘ 17c.

equidistant ▷ adj equally distant. ● equidistance noun. ● equidistantly adverb. ⓘ 16c.

equilateral ▷ adj having all sides of equal length. ⓘ 16c: from Latin latus side.

equilibrium /ɛkwɪˈlɪbrɪəm/ ▷ noun (equilibria or equilibriums) 1 physics a state in which the various forces acting on an object or objects in a system balance each other, so that there is no tendency for any part of the system to move. 2 chem a reversible chemical reaction in which the rate of forward and backward reactions is the same, so that the concentrations of reactants and products remain unchanged. 3 a calm and composed state of mind. 4 a state of balance. ⓘ 17c: from Latin aequilibrium, from aequus equal + libra balance.

equilibrate /ɪˈkwɪlɪbreɪt, iːkwɪˈlaɪbreɪt/ verb (equilibrated, equilibrating) to balance. ● equilibrator noun a balancing or stabilizing device, especially an aeroplane fin. ⓘ 17c.

equilibrist /ɪˈkwɪlɪbrɪst/ ▷ noun someone who does balancing tricks.

equine /ˈɛkwaɪn/ ▷ adj, formal belonging or relating to, or like, a horse or horses. ⓘ 18c: from Latin equinus, from equus horse.

equinoctial /ɛkwɪˈnɒkʃəl/ adj happening on or near an equinox. ▷ noun 1 a storm or gale occurring about the time of an equinox. 2 (also equinoctial line) astron the CELESTIAL EQUATOR. ● equinoctially adverb in the direction of the equinox.

equinoctial point ▷ noun, astron either of the two points in the heavens where the EQUINOCTIAL LINE cuts the ECLIPTIC.

equinoctial year see SOLAR YEAR.

equinox /ˈɛkwɪnɒks, ˈiːk-/ ▷ noun (equinoxes) either of the two occasions on which the Sun crosses the equator, making night and day equal in length, the spring equinox occurring about 21 March and the autumnal equinox occurring about 23 September. ⓘ 14c: from Latin aequinoctium, from aequus equal + nox night.

equip /ɪˈkwɪp/ ▷ verb (equipped, equipping) to fit out or provide someone or something with the necessary tools, supplies, abilities, etc. ● equipment noun 1 the clothes, machines, tools or instruments, etc necessary for a particular kind of work or activity. 2 formal the act of equipping. ⓘ 16c: from French équiper, from earlier French eschiper to fit out a ship.

equipage /ˈɛkwɪpɪdʒ/ noun 1 a horse-drawn carriage with its footmen. 2 formerly the equipment carried by a military unit. ⓘ 16c.

équipe / French ekip/ ▷ noun, sport a team, especially a motor-racing team. ⓘ 1930s: French.

equipoise /ˈɛkwɪpɔɪz/ ▷ noun, formal 1 a state of balance. 2 a counterbalancing weight. ▷ verb (equipoised, equipoising) to balance; to counterpoise. ⓘ 17c.

equitable /ˈɛkwɪtəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 fair and just. 2 law relating to, or valid according to, the concept of natural justice, or equity, as opposed to common law or statute law. ● equitableness noun. ● equitably adverb. ⓘ 16c: from French équitable.

equitation /ɛkwɪˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun, formal the art of riding a horse. ⓘ 16c: from Latin equitare, equitatum to ride.

equity /ˈɛkwɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (equities) 1 fair or just conditions or treatment. 2 law the concept of natural justice, as opposed to common law or statute law, often invoked to support an interpretation, or the complete waiving, of a law. 3 the excess in value of a property over the mortgage and other charges held on it. Compare NEGATIVE EQUITY. 4 (usually equities) an ordinary share in a company. 5 (Equity) the trade union for actors. ⓘ 14c: from Latin aequitas equality.

equivalent /ɪˈkwɪvələnt/ ▷ adj equal in value, power or meaning, etc. ▷ noun an equivalent thing or amount, etc. ● equivalence noun. ● equivalently adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin aequus equal + valere to be worth.

equivalent weight ▷ noun, chem the quantity of one which reacts chemically with a given amount of a standard.

equivocal /ɪˈkwɪvəkəl/ ▷ adj 1 ambiguous; of doubtful meaning. 2 of an uncertain nature. 3 questionable, suspicious or mysterious. ● equivocally adverb. ● equivocate verb (equivocated, equivocating) intr to use ambiguous words in order to deceive or to avoid answering a question. ● equivocation noun evasive ambiguity. ⓘ 16c: from Latin aequus equal + vox, vocis voice or word.

ER ▷ abbreviation 1 Elizabeth Regina (Latin), Queen Elizabeth. 2 Edwardus Rex (Latin), King Edward.

Er ▷ symbol, chem erbium.

er /ɜː/ used to represent a sound made while hesitating in speech.

-er[1] /ə(r)/ ▷ suffix used to form the comparative of adjectives and adverbs □ happier □ sooner. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon -ra for adjectives and -or for adverbs.

-er[2] /ə(r)/ ▷ suffix, forming nouns, signifying 1 the person or thing performing the action of the verb □ driver □ heater. 2 a person from a specified town or city □ Londoner □ New Yorker. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon -ere.

ERA ▷ abbreviation Equal Rights Amendment.

era /ˈɪərə/ ▷ noun (eras) 1 a distinct period in history marked by or beginning at an important event. 2 geol the second largest unit of geological time, representing a subdivision of an EON. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. ⓘ 17c: from Latin aera number.

eradicate /ɪˈradɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (eradicated, eradicating) to get rid of something completely. ● eradicable /-kəbəl/

adj. • eradication noun. • eradicative /-kətɪv/ adj. • eradicator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin eradicare, eradicatum to root out.

erase /ɪ'reɪz/ ▷ verb (erased, erasing) 1 to rub out (pencil marks, etc). 2 to remove all trace of something. 3 to destroy (a recording) on audio or video tape. • erasable adj. • eraser noun something that erases, especially a rubber for removing pencil or ink marks. • erasure noun 1 the act of rubbing out. 2 a place where something written has been erased. ⓘ 17c: from Latin eradere, erasum to scratch out.

erbium /'ɜːbɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Er, atomic number 68) a soft silvery metallic element, that absorbs neutrons and has a high electrical resistivity. ⓘ 19c: from the name Ytterby in Sweden, where it was first discovered.

ere /ɛə(r)/ ▷ prep, conj, now only poetic before. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ær.

erect /ɪ'rɛkt/ ▷ adj 1 upright; not bent or leaning. 2 physiol said of the penis, clitoris or nipples: enlarged and rigid through being filled with blood, usually as a result of sexual excitement. ▷ verb (erected, erecting) 1 to put up or to build something. 2 to set or put (a pole or flag, etc) in a vertical position. 3 to set up or establish something. • erecter or erector noun. • erectly adverb. • erectness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin erigere, erectum to set upright.

erectile /ɪ'rɛktaɪl/ adj, physiol 1 said of an organ, etc: capable of becoming erect. 2 capable of being erected. ⓘ 19c.

erection /ɪ'rɛkʃən/ noun 1 the act of erecting or the state of being erected. 2 sometimes derog a building or structure. 3 said of a sexual organ, especially the penis: the process of becoming erect or the state of being erect. 4 an erect sexual organ, especially an erect penis. ⓘ 16c.

E-region see E-LAYER.

erepsin /ɪ'rɛpsɪn/ ▷ noun an enzyme in the small intestine. ⓘ Early 20c: from Latin eripere, ereptum to snatch.

erf /ɜːf/ ▷ noun (plural erven /'ɜːvən/) chiefly S Afr a garden plot or small piece of ground. ⓘ 17c: Dutch.

erg[1] /ɜːg/ ▷ noun, physics in the cgs system: a unit of work or energy defined as the amount of work done when a force of one DYNE moves through a distance of one centimetre. ⓘ 19c: from Greek ergon work.

erg[2] /ɜːg/ ▷ noun (areg /'arɛg/ or ergs) an area of shifting sand dunes, especially in the Sahara Desert. ⓘ 19c: French, from Arabic 'irj.

ergo /'ɜːgoʊ/ ▷ adverb, formal or logic therefore. ⓘ 14c: Latin.

ergonomics /ɜːgə'nɒmɪks/ ▷ singular noun the study of the relationship between people and their working environment, including machinery, computer sytems, etc. • ergonomic adj. • ergonomically adverb in relation to people and their work environment. • ergonomist /ɜː'gɒnəmɪst/ noun. ⓘ 1940s: from Greek ergon work, modelled on ECONOMICS.

ergot /'ɜːgɒt/ ▷ noun 1 a disease of rye and other cereals caused by a fungus. 2 (ergots) the hard purple structures characteristic of this disease. 3 the fungus that produces this disease, now an important source of alkaloid drugs. ⓘ 17c: French, from earlier French argot cock's spur, because of its appearance.

ergotism /'ɜːgətɪzəm/ noun, pathol poisoning caused by the consumption of bread made from rye infected with ergot.

erica /'ɛrɪkə/ ▷ noun (ericas) any plant of the heath genus. • ericaceous /ɛrɪ'keɪʃəs/ adj belonging or relating to the family of plants which includes azalea, rhododendron and heather. ⓘ 17c: from Greek ereike heath.

Erinys /ɛ'rɪnɪs/ ▷ noun (Erinyes /ɛ'rɪnɪiːz/) Greek mythol any of THE FURIES.

ERM ▷ abbreviation Exchange Rate Mechanism.

ermine /'ɜːmɪn/ ▷ noun (ermine or ermines) 1 the stoat* in its winter phase, when its fur has turned white except for the tip of the tail, which remains dark. 2 the fur of this animal, highly prized by the fur trade, and formerly reserved for royalty. ⓘ 12c: from French hermine, from Latin Armenius mus Armenian mouse.

Ernie /'ɜːnɪ/ ▷ noun, Brit the computer which applies the laws of chance to pick the prize-winning numbers of PREMIUM BONDS. ⓘ 1950s: electronic random number indicator equipment.

erode /ɪ'roʊd/ ▷ verb (eroded, eroding) tr & intr to wear away, destroy or be destroyed gradually. • erodible adj. ⓘ 17c: see EROSION.

erogenous /ɪ'rɒdʒənəs/ and erogenic /ɛroʊ'dʒɛnɪk/ ▷ adj said of areas of the body, usually called erogenous zones: sensitive to sexual stimulation. ⓘ Late 19c: from Greek eros love.

-erooney see -AROONEY.

erosion /ɪ'roʊʒən/ noun the loosening, fragmentation and transport from one place to another of rock material by water, wind, ice, gravity, or living organisms, including human activity. • erosive adj causing erosion. ⓘ 16c: from Latin erodere, erosum to gnaw away.

erotic /ɪ'rɒtɪk/ ▷ adj arousing, referring or relating to sexual desire, or giving sexual pleasure. • erotically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Greek erotikos, from eros love.

erotica /ɪ'rɒtɪkə/ ▷ plural noun erotic literature or pictures, etc. ⓘ 19c.

eroticism /ɪ'rɒtɪsɪzəm/ noun 1 the erotic quality of a piece of writing or a picture, etc. 2 interest in, or pursuit of, sexual sensations. 3 the use of erotic images and symbols in art and literature, etc.

err /ɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (erred, erring /'ɜːrɪŋ, 'ɛərɪŋ/) intr 1 to make a mistake, be wrong, or do wrong. 2 to sin. • err on the side of something to run the risk of (a particular fault) in order to avoid an opposite and greater fault ▫ Err on the side of caution. ⓘ 14c: from Latin errare to stray.

errand /'ɛrənd/ ▷ noun 1 a short journey made in order to get or do something, especially for someone else. 2 the purpose of such a journey. • run an errand or run errands to perform small pieces of business, deliver messages, etc. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ærende verbal message.

errant /'ɛrənt/ ▷ adj, literary 1 doing wrong; erring. 2 wandering in search of adventure ▫ a knight errant. • errantry /'ɛrəntrɪ/ noun. ⓘ 14c: from French errer, in sense 1 from Latin errare to stray, and in sense 2 from Latin iterare to make a journey.

erratic /ɪ'ratɪk/ ▷ adj 1 irregular; having no fixed pattern or course. 2 unpredictable in behaviour. ▷ noun, geol a mass of rock transported by ice and deposited at a distance. Also called erratic block or boulder. • erratically adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin errare to stray.

erratum /ɛ'rɑːtəm/ ▷ noun (errata) formal an error in writing or printing. ⓘ 16c: past participle of Latin errare to stray.

erred and erring see under ERR.

erroneous /ɪ'roʊnɪəs/ ▷ adj wrong or mistaken. • erroneously adverb in error; by mistake. • erroneousness noun. ⓘ 14c, meaning 'straying from what is right': from Latin erroneus straying.

error /'ɛrə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a mistake, inaccuracy or misapprehension. 2 the state of being mistaken. 3 the possible discrepancy between an estimate and an actual value or amount ▫ a margin of error. ⓘ 14c: Latin, also meaning 'a wandering or straying'.

error message ▷ noun, computing a message to help a user correct an error, eg an incorrect filename.

ersatz /ˈɜːzats, ˈɛə-/ derog ▷ adj substitute; imitation. ▷ noun (ersatzes) a cheaper substitute, often used because the genuine article is unavailable. ⓘ Late 19c: German.

Erse /ɜːs, ɛəs/ ▷ noun the name formerly used by lowland Scots for Scottish GAELIC; now also applied to Irish Gaelic. ▷ adj relating to, or spoken or written in, these languages. ⓘ 18c: Lowland Scots Erisch Irish.

erstwhile /ˈɜːstwaɪl/ ▷ adj, formal or archaic former; previous. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ærest earliest, from ær before.

eructation /iːrʌkˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun, formal a belch or the act of belching. ⓘ 16c: from Latin eructare, eructatum to belch out.

erudite /ˈɛrudaɪt, ˈɛrju-/ ▷ adj showing or having a great deal of knowledge; learned. • eruditely adverb in an erudite or learned manner. • erudition /-ˈdɪʃən/ noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin erudire, eruditum to instruct.

erupt /ɪˈrʌpt/ ▷ verb (erupted, erupting) intr 1 said of a volcano: to throw out lava, ash and gases. 2 to break out suddenly and violently. 3 said of a skin blemish or rash: to appear suddenly and in a severe form. 4 said of a tooth: to emerge through the gum. • eruption noun 1 the process of erupting, especially by a volcano. 2 a sudden or violent breaking out. • eruptive adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin erumpere, eruptum to break out.

erven plural of ERF

ERW ▷ abbreviation enhanced radiation weapon.

-ery /ərɪ/ or -ry ▷ suffix, forming nouns, indicating 1 a place where work or an activity of the specified kind is carried out □ brewery. 2 a class, group or type of the specified kind □ greenery □ weaponry. 3 an art, skill or practice of the specified kind □ dentistry. 4 behaviour of the specified kind □ bravery. 5 anything connected with the specified person or thing □ popery. ⓘ From French -erie, from Latin -arius.

erysipelas /ɛrɪˈsɪpɪləs/ ▷ noun, pathol an infectious disease of the skin, especially of the face, which produces deep red sore patches, accompanied by fever. ⓘ 16c: Latin, perhaps from Greek erythros red + pella skin.

erythema /ɛrɪˈθiːmə/ ▷ noun, pathol redness of the skin, caused by dilation of the blood capillaries. ⓘ 18c: Latin, from Greek, from erythros red.

erythro- /ɛrɪθroʊ/ or (before a vowel) erythr- combining form, denoting red. ⓘ From Greek erythros.

erythrocyte ▷ noun a red blood corpuscle. ⓘ Late 19c.

erythromycin ▷ noun, medicine an antibiotic used to treat a wide range of bacterial infections, especially in patients who are allergic to penicillin. ⓘ 1950s.

ES ▷ abbreviation, IVR El Salvador.

Es ▷ symbol, chem einsteinium.

-es see -S¹, -S³

ESA ▷ abbreviation 1 Environmentally Sensitive Area. 2 European Space Agency.

Esc. ▷ abbreviation escudo, or escudos, the Portuguese currency unit.

escalate /ˈɛskəleɪt/ ▷ verb (escalated, escalating) tr & intr to increase or be increased rapidly in scale or degree, etc. • escalation noun. • escalatory adj. ⓘ 1940s: from ESCALATOR.

escalator /ˈɛskəleɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a type of conveyor belt which forms a continuous moving staircase. ⓘ 1900: originally a trademark, modelled on ELEVATOR, probably from Spanish escalada, from Latin scala ladder.

escalator clause and escalation clause ▷ noun a clause in an agreement allowing for adjustment up or down according to changes in circumstances, eg changes in costs of materials.

escallonia /ɛskəˈloʊnɪə/ ▷ noun (escallonias) any plant belonging to an American branch of the saxifrage family. ⓘ 19c: from Escallon, the 18c Spanish traveller who discovered the plants.

escallop see SCALLOP

> escallop, escalope
>
> These words are sometimes confused with each other.

escalope /ˈɛskəlɒp/ ▷ noun, cookery a thin slice of boneless meat, especially veal. ⓘ 19c: French, originally meaning 'shell'.

escapade /ɛskəˈpeɪd, ˈɛskəpeɪd/ ▷ noun a daring, adventurous or unlawful act. ⓘ 17c, meaning 'escape': French.

escape /ɪˈskeɪp/ ▷ verb (escaped, escaping) 1 intr to gain freedom. 2 to manage to avoid (punishment or disease, etc). 3 not to be noticed or remembered by someone □ Nothing escapes his notice. 4 intr said of a gas or liquid, etc: to leak out or get out. 5 said of words, etc: to be uttered unintentionally by someone. ▷ noun 1 an act of escaping. 2 a means of escape. 3 the avoidance of danger or harm □ a narrow escape. 4 a leak or release. 5 something providing a break or distraction. 6 something which has escaped, especially a plant originally cultivated as a garden plant but now growing in the wild. • escapable adj. • escaper noun. ⓘ 14c: from French escaper, probably from Latin excappare to remove one's cape.

escape clause ▷ noun a clause in a contract stating the conditions under which the contract may be broken.

escapee noun (escapees) someone who has escaped, especially from prison. ⓘ 19c.

escape key ▷ noun, computing a key that usually cancels a previous action.

escapement ▷ noun 1 the mechanism in a clock or watch which connects the moving parts to the balance. 2 the mechanism in a piano which allows the hammers to move away after striking the strings while the keys are held down. ⓘ 18c: from French échappement.

escape road ▷ noun a short track leading off a road on a steep hill or sharp bend, etc, which allows the driver to stop if the vehicle malfunctions or goes out of control, etc.

escape velocity ▷ noun, physics the minimum velocity required for an object to escape from the pull of the gravitational field of the Earth, or of another planet or celestial body.

escapism noun the means of escaping, or the tendency to escape, from unpleasant reality into day-dreams or fantasy. • escapist adj characterized by escapism. ▷ noun someone who indulges in escapism. ⓘ 1930s.

escapologist /ɛskəˈpɒlədʒɪst/ noun someone who practises escapology, especially as their profession. • escapology noun the art or practice of freeing oneself from chains and other constraints, especially as theatrical entertainment. ⓘ 1920s.

escargot /ɪˈskɑːgoʊ; French ɛskaʀgo/ ▷ noun an edible snail. ⓘ 19c: French.

escarpment /ɪˈskɑːpmənt/ ▷ noun, geol a more or less continuous line of very steep slopes, formed by faulting or erosion, especially around the margins of a plateau. ⓘ 19c: from French escarper to cut steeply.

eschatology /ɛskəˈtɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the branch of theology dealing with final things, eg death, divine judgement and life after death. • eschatological /-ˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. • eschatologist noun. ⓘ 19c: from Greek eschatos last.

escheat /ɪsˈtʃiːt/ law ▷ noun 1 formerly the handing over of property to the state or a feudal lord in the absence of a legal heir. 2 property handed over in this way. ▷ verb (escheated, escheating) 1 intr said of property: to be handed over in this way. 2 to confiscate (property). ⓘ 14c: from French eschete, from escheoir to fall to someone.

Escherichia coli /ɛʃə'rɪkɪə 'koulaɪ/ ▷ noun, biol (abbreviation E. coli) a species of bacterium that occurs naturally in the intestines of vertebrates including humans, and which sometimes causes disease. ⓘ 19c: named after the German physician T Escherich (died 1911).

eschew /ɪs'tʃuː/ ▷ verb (eschewed, eschewing) formal to avoid, keep away from, or abstain from something. ● eschewal noun. ⓘ 14c: from French eschever.

eschscholtzia or eschscholzia /ɛ'ʃoltsɪə/ ▷ noun (eschscholtzias) any plant of the poppy family, especially the Californian poppy, a showy garden annual. ⓘ 19c: from J F von Eschscholtz (1793–1831), a member of the expedition which discovered the poppy in 1821.

escort ▷ noun /'ɛskɔːt/ 1 one or more people or vehicles, etc accompanying another or others for protection, guidance, or as a mark of honour. 2 someone of the opposite sex asked or hired to accompany another at a social event. ▷ verb /ɪ'skɔːt/ (escorted, escorting) to accompany someone or something as an escort. ⓘ 16c: from French escorte.

escritoire /ɛskrɪ'twɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a writing-desk, usually ornamented and with drawers and compartments, etc. ⓘ 16c: French, from Latin scriptorium writing-room.

escudo /ɛ'skuːdou/ ▷ noun (escudos) (abbreviation Esc.) the standard unit of currency of Portugal. ⓘ 19c: Portuguese and Spanish, from Latin scutum shield.

esculent /'ɛskjulənt/ formal ▷ adj edible. ▷ noun any edible substance. ⓘ 17c: from Latin esculentus eatable, from esca food.

escutcheon /ɪ'skʌtʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a shield decorated with a coat of arms. 2 a small metal plate around a keyhole or doorknob. ● a blot on the escutcheon facetious a stain on one's good reputation. ⓘ 15c: from French escuchon, from Latin scutum shield.

Esd. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Esdras (in the Apocrypha). See table at BIBLE.

ESE ▷ abbreviation east-south-east.

-ese /iːz/ ▷ suffix, forming nouns and adjectives 1 relating to a specified country or place □ Japanese □ Vietnamese. 2 indicating the people or language of a specified country □ Chinese. 3 often derog the typical style or language of a particular group or profession □ journalese. ⓘ From French -eis (modern French equivalents -ois, -ais), from Latin -ensis.

esker /'ɛskə(r)/ ▷ noun, geol a long narrow hill of gravel and sand which may wind for long distances along a valley floor, and is thought to be formed by water flowing in tunnels underneath glaciers. ⓘ 19c: from Irish eiscir ridge.

Eskimo /'ɛskɪmou/ now often offensive ▷ noun (Eskimos or Eskimo) INUIT. ▷ adj INUIT. ⓘ 16c: from French Esquimaux, from Native N American esquimantsic eaters of raw flesh.

> Eskimo, Inuit
>
> Although Eskimo is the established English name for this people, the people themselves prefer the name Inuit.

Eskimo dog ▷ noun a powerful breed of dog used by the INUIT to pull sledges.

ESL ▷ abbreviation English as a second language.

ESN ▷ abbreviation educationally subnormal.

esophagus the N Amer spelling of OESOPHAGUS.

esoteric /ɛsou'tɛrɪk, iːsou-/ ▷ adj understood only by those few people who have the necessary special knowledge; secret or mysterious. ● esoterically adverb. ● esotericism /-'tɛrɪsɪzəm/ noun. ⓘ 17c: from Greek esoterikos from eso within.

ESP ▷ abbreviation 1 English for special purposes. 2 extrasensory perception.

esp. or espec. ▷ abbreviation especially.

espadrille /ɛspə'drɪl/ ▷ noun a light canvas shoe with a sole made of rope or other plaited fibre. ⓘ 19c: French, from Provençal espardillo, from espart esparto grass.

espalier /ɪ'spalɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a trellis or arrangement of wires against which a shrub or fruit tree is trained to grow flat, eg against a wall. 2 such a shrub or tree. ⓘ 17c: French.

esparto /ɛ'spɑːtou/ and esparto grass ▷ noun (espartos or esparto grasses) a tough coarse grass native to Spain and N Africa, used to make rope, etc. ⓘ 19c: Spanish, from Greek sparton kind of rope.

especial /ɪ'spɛʃəl/ ▷ adj special. ● especially adverb principally; more than in other cases. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin specialis individual.

> especially
>
> See Usage Note at specially.

Esperanto /ɛspə'rantou/ ▷ noun a language invented for international use, based on European languages, and published in 1887. Also as adj. ● Esperantist noun. ⓘ 19c: originally the pseudonym of its inventor, Dr Zamenhof, meaning 'the one who hopes'.

espied past tense, past participle of ESPY espionage /'ɛspɪənɑːʒ/ ▷ noun the activity of spying, or the use of spies to gather information. ⓘ 18c: from French espionnage, from espion spy.

esplanade /ɛsplə'neɪd/ ▷ noun 1 a long wide pavement next to a beach. 2 a level open area between a fortified place and the nearest houses. ⓘ 17c: French, from Spanish esplanar make level.

espouse /ɪ'spouz/ ▷ verb (espoused, espousing) 1 formal to adopt or give one's support to (a cause, etc). 2 old use to marry, or to give (eg a daughter) in marriage. ● espousal noun 1 formal the act of espousing (a cause, etc). 2 old use a marriage or engagement. ⓘ 15c: from French espouser to marry.

espresso /ɛ'sprɛsou/ or expresso /ɛk-/ ▷ noun (espressos or expressos) 1 coffee made by forcing steam or boiling water through ground coffee beans. 2 the machine for making this. ⓘ 1940s: Italian, literally 'pressed out'.

esprit / French ɛspri/ ▷ noun, formal or literary liveliness or wit. ⓘ 16c: French, literally 'spirit'.

esprit de corps /ɛs'priː də kɔː(r)/ ▷ noun loyalty to, or concern for the honour of, a group or body to which one belongs. ⓘ 18c: French, literally 'spirit of the group'.

espy /ɪ'spaɪ/ ▷ verb, literary to catch sight of someone or something; to observe. ⓘ 14c: from French espier to spy.

Esq. or esq. ▷ abbreviation esquire.

-esque /ɛsk/ ▷ suffix, signifying 1 in the style or fashion of the specified person or thing □ Byronesque. 2 like or similar to the specified thing □ picturesque. ⓘ French, from Italian -esco.

esquire /ɪ'skwaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun (plural in sense 2 only esquires) 1 (abbreviation Esq. or esq.) a title used after a man's name when no other form of address is used, especially when addressing letters. 2 now chiefly historical a squire. ⓘ 15c in sense 2: from French esquier squire.

ESRC ▷ abbreviation Economic and Social Research Council.

-ess /ɛs, ɪs, əs/ ▷ suffix, forming nouns, signifying a female of the specified type or class □ lioness □ duchess. ⓘ From French -esse, from Latin -issa.

essay /ˈeseɪ/ ▷ noun (essays) 1 a short formal piece of writing, usually one dealing with a single subject. 2 formal an attempt. ▷ verb /eˈseɪ/ (essayed, essaying) formal to attempt. ● essayist /ˈeseɪɪst/ noun a writer of literary essays. ⓘ 15c: from French essayer to try.

essence /ˈesəns/ ▷ noun 1 the basic distinctive part or quality of something, which determines its nature or character. 2 a liquid obtained from a plant or drug, etc, which has its properties in concentrated form. ● in essence basically or fundamentally. ● of the essence absolutely necessary or extremely important. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin essentia, from esse to be.

essential /ɪˈsenʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 absolutely necessary. 2 relating to the basic or inner nature of something or its essence. ▷ noun 1 something necessary. 2 (often the essentials) a basic or fundamental element, principle or piece of information. ● essentially adverb. ⓘ 14c.

essential oil ▷ noun, bot a mixture of volatile oils which have distinctive and characteristic odours, obtained from certain aromatic plants. ⓘ 17c.

Esso /ˈesoʊ/ ▷ abbreviation Standard Oil (the initials represented phonetically).

EST ▷ abbreviation 1 N Amer Eastern Standard Time. 2 electric shock treatment.

est. ▷ abbreviation 1 established. 2 estimated.

-est /əst, ɪst/ ▷ suffix forming the superlative of adjectives and some adverbs □ quickest □ soonest. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon -est and -ost.

establish /ɪˈstablɪʃ/ ▷ verb (establishes, established, establishing) 1 to settle someone firmly in a position, place or job, etc. 2 to set up (eg a university or a business). 3 to find, show or prove something. 4 to cause people to accept (eg a custom or a claim). ● established adj 1 settled or accepted. 2 said of a church: recognized as the official church of a country. ● establishment noun 1 the act of establishing. 2 a business, its premises or its staff. 3 a public or government institution □ a research establishment. 4 (the Establishment) the group of people in a country, society or community who hold power and exercise authority, and are regarded as being opposed to change. ⓘ 14c: from French establir.

estate /ɪˈsteɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a large piece of land owned by a person or group of people. 2 an area of land on which development of a particular kind has taken place, eg houses on a HOUSING ESTATE or factories on an INDUSTRIAL ESTATE. 3 law a person's total possessions (property or money, etc), especially at death. 4 an ESTATE CAR. 5 historical any of various groups or classes within the social structure of society, eg the first estate or Lords Spiritual (ie bishops and archbishops), the second estate or Lords Temporal (ie the nobility) and the third estate (the common people). 6 formal or old use a condition or state □ the holy estate of matrimony. 7 a plantation. ⓘ 13c: from French estat.

estate agent ▷ noun 1 a person whose job is the buying, selling, leasing and valuation of houses and other property. 2 the manager of a private estate.

estate car ▷ noun a car with a large area behind the rear seats for luggage, etc, and a rear door. Often shortened to estate.

estate duty ▷ noun DEATH DUTY.

esteem /ɪˈstiːm/ ▷ verb (esteemed, esteeming) 1 to value, respect or think highly of someone or something. 2 formal to consider someone to be a specified thing. ▷ noun high regard or respect. ● esteemed adj 1 respected. 2 especially formerly in commercial correspondence: a colourless complimentary word. ⓘ 15c: from French estimer, from Latin aestimare to estimate the value of something.

ester /ˈestə(r)/ ▷ noun, chem an organic chemical compound formed by the reaction of an alcohol with an organic acid, with the loss of a water molecule. ⓘ 19c: probably a contraction of German Essigäther acetic ether.

esterify /ɪˈsterɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (esterifies, esterified, esterifying) to make something into an ester. ● esterification noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

Esth. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Esther. See table at BIBLE.

esthete the US spelling of AESTHETE.

esthetic the US spelling of AESTHETIC.

Esthonian see ESTONIAN.

estimable /ˈestɪməbəl/ ▷ adj highly respected; worthy of respect. ● estimably adverb.

estimate ▷ verb /ˈestɪmeɪt/ (estimated, estimating) 1 to judge or calculate (size, amount or value, etc) roughly or without measuring. 2 to have or form an opinion (that ...); to think. 3 to submit to a possible client a statement of (the likely cost) of carrying out a job. ▷ noun /ˈestɪmət/ 1 a rough assessment (of size, etc). 2 a calculation of the probable cost of a job. 3 (the estimates) accounts laid before parliament, etc showing the probable expenditure for the year. ● estimation noun 1 judgement; opinion. 2 the act of estimating. ● estimator noun. ● hold someone or something in estimation to esteem them or it highly. ⓘ 16c: from Latin aestimare, aestimatum to estimate the value of something.

estival the US spelling of AESTIVAL.

estivate the US spelling of AESTIVATE.

estivation the US spelling of AESTIVATION.

Estonian or Esthonian /eˈstoʊnɪən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Estonia, a republic in E Europe, its inhabitants, or their language. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Estonia. 2 the official language of the Estonia. ⓘ 18c.

estrange /ɪˈstreɪndʒ/ ▷ verb (estranged, estranging) to cause someone to break away from a previously friendly state or relationship. ● estranged adj no longer friendly or supportive; alienated □ his estranged wife. ● estrangement noun. ⓘ 15c: from French estranger, from Latin extraneare to treat as a stranger.

estradiol the N Amer spelling of OESTRADIOL.

estrogen the N Amer spelling of OESTROGEN.

estrus the N Amer spelling of OESTRUS.

estuary /ˈestjʊərɪ/ ▷ noun (estuaries) the broad mouth of a river that flows into the sea, where fresh water mixes with tidal sea water. ● estuarial /estjʊˈeərɪəl/ adj. ● estuarine /ˈestjʊəraɪn/ adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin aestus commotion or tide.

ESU ▷ abbreviation English-Speaking Union.

ET ▷ abbreviation 1 IVR Egypt. 2 EXTRATERRESTRIAL.

ETA ▷ abbreviation 1 estimated time of arrival. 2 /ˈetə/ Euskadi ta Askatasuna, a militant Basque separatist organization.

eta /ˈiːtə/ ▷ noun the seventh letter of the Greek alphabet. See table at GREEK ALPHABET.

et al. /et al/ ▷ abbreviation 1 et alia (Latin), and other things. 2 et alii (Latin), and other people. 3 et alibi (Latin), and in other places.

etalon /ˈetəlɒn/ ▷ noun, physics an INTERFEROMETER used to measure wavelengths. ⓘ Early 20c: French étalon, from earlier estalon standard of weights and measures.

et cetera or etcetera /et ˈsetərə/ ▷ adverb (abbreviation etc. or &c) 1 and the rest; and so on. 2 and/or something similar. ⓘ 15c: Latin.

etceteras /etˈsetərəz/ ▷ plural noun additional things or people; extras.

etch /etʃ/ ▷ verb (etches, etched, etching) 1 tr & intr to make designs on (metal or glass, etc) using an acid to eat out the lines. 2 to make a deep or irremovable impression. ■ etcher noun a person who etches, especially as their profession. ■ etching noun 1 the act or art of making etched designs. 2 a print made from an etched plate. ⓘ 17c: from German ätzen to etch or eat away with acid.

ETD ▷ abbreviation estimated time of departure.

eternal /ɪˈtɜːnəl/ ▷ adj 1 without beginning or end; everlasting. 2 unchanging; valid for all time. 3 colloq frequent or endless. 4 (the Eternal) a name for God. ■ eternally adverb for ever; without end or constantly. ⓘ 14c: from French éternel, from Latin aeternalis.

eternalize or eternalise /ɪˈtɜːnəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (eternalized, eternalizing) 1 to make someone or something eternal. 2 to make someone or something eternally famous. ■ eternalization noun.

eternal triangle ▷ noun a relationship involving love and jealousy between two men and a woman, or two women and a man.

eternity /ɪˈtɜːnɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (eternities) 1 time regarded as having no end. 2 the state of being eternal. 3 relig a timeless existence after death. 4 colloq an extremely long time. ⓘ 14c: from French éternité, from Latin aeternitas.

eternity ring ▷ noun a ring given as a symbol of lasting love, especially one set with stones all round the band.

etesian /ɪˈtiːʒɪən/ ▷ adj said especially of NW winds in the E Mediterranean in the summer: recurring annually. ⓘ 17c: from Greek etesios annual.

ETH ▷ abbreviation, IVR Ethiopia.

ethane /ˈiːθeɪn, ˈeθeɪn/ ▷ noun, chem (formula C_2H_6) a colourless odourless flammable gas belonging to the alkane series of hydrocarbons, and found in natural gas. ⓘ 19c: from ETHER + -ANE.

ethanediol /ˈiːθeɪndaɪɒl/ ▷ noun ethylene glycol.

ethanedioic acid /iːθeɪndaɪˈoʊɪk —/ ▷ noun OXALIC ACID.

ethanoate see ACETATE sense 1.

ethanoic acid see ACETIC ACID.

ethanol /ˈeθənɒl/ ▷ noun, chem (formula C_2H_5OH) a colourless volatile flammable alcohol that is produced by fermentation of the sugar in fruit or cereals, and is used as an intoxicant in alcoholic beverages, and as a fuel. Also called ethyl alcohol.

ethene /ˈeθiːn/ ▷ noun, chem ETHYLENE.

ether /ˈiːθə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any of a group of organic chemical compounds formed by the dehydration of alcohols, that are volatile and highly flammable, and contain two hydrocarbon groups linked by an oxygen atom. 2 (also diethyl ether) (formula $C_2H_5OHC_2H_5$) the commonest ether, widely used as a solvent, and formerly employed as an anaesthetic. 3 (also aether) physics a hypothetical medium formerly believed to be necessary for the transmission of electromagnetic radiation, a concept abandoned when the theory of relativity was accepted. 4 (also aether) poetic the clear upper air or a clear sky. ⓘ 17c: from Greek aither the heavens.

ethereal /ɪˈθɪərɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 having an unreal lightness or delicateness; fairy-like. 2 heavenly or spiritual. ■ ethereally adverb. ⓘ 16c: from ETHER.

Ethernet /ˈiːθənet/ ▷ noun, trademark, computing a type of LOCAL AREA NETWORK. ⓘ 20c: ETHER 3 + network.

ethic /ˈeθɪk/ ▷ noun the moral system or set of principles particular to a certain person, community or group, etc. ■ ethical adj 1 relating to or concerning morals, justice or duty. 2 morally right. 3 said of a medicine or drug: not advertised to the general public, and available only on prescription. ■ ethicality noun. ■ ethically adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Greek ethikos moral, from ethos custom or character.

ethics /ˈeθɪks/ ▷ singular noun the study or the science of morals. ▷ plural noun rules or principles of behaviour □ medical ethics.

Ethiopian /iːθɪˈoʊpɪən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Ethiopia, a country in NE Africa, its inhabitants, or their group of Semitic languages which includes Amharic. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Ethiopia. 2 archaic a black person. ⓘ 16c: ultimately from Greek Aithiops, literally 'burnt-face', from aithein to burn + ops face.

Ethiopic /iːθɪˈɒpɪk/ ▷ adj belonging to Ethiopia, to the Ethiopian Church or to the group of Semitic languages including Amharic. ▷ noun the ancient Semitic language of Ethiopia.

ethnic /ˈeθnɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or having a common race or cultural tradition □ an ethnic group. 2 associated with or resembling an exotic, especially non-European, racial or tribal group □ ethnic clothes. 3 seen from the point of view of race, rather than nationality □ ethnic Asians. 4 between or involving different racial groups □ ethnic violence. ▷ noun, especially US a member of a particular racial group or cult, especially a minority one. ■ ethnically adverb. ■ ethnicity /eθˈnɪsɪtɪ/ noun (ethnicities) racial status or distinctiveness. ⓘ 14c as noun and 15c as adj meaning 'heathen': from Greek ethnos nation.

ethnic cleansing ▷ noun GENOCIDE or forced removal inflicted by one ethnic group on all others in a particular area.

ethno- /eθnoʊ, eθˈnɒ/ ▷ combining form, signifying race; people or culture. ⓘ From Greek ethnos race.

ethnocentric ▷ adj relating to or holding the belief that one's own cultural tradition or racial group is superior to all others. ■ ethnocentricity /-senˈtrɪsɪtɪ/ or ethnocentrism noun (ethnocentricities) the policy or practice of being ethnocentric. ⓘ 20c.

ethnography /eθˈnɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun (ethnographies) a detailed description of the culture of a particular society based on fieldwork and participation in the life of the society. ■ ethnographer noun. ■ ethnographic /-ˈgrafɪk/ or ethnographical adj. ⓘ 19c.

ethnolinguistics ▷ singular noun the study of the relationship between language and cultural behaviour. ■ ethnolinguist noun. ■ ethnolinguistic adj. ⓘ 1940s.

ethnology /eθˈnɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the scientific study of different races and cultural traditions, and their relations with each other. ■ ethnological adj. ■ ethnologically adverb. ■ ethnologist noun a person who studies ethnology or race. ⓘ 19c.

ethnomusicology ▷ noun the study of music in its racial, cultural and social contexts. ■ ethnomusicologist noun. ⓘ 1950s.

ethnoscience ▷ noun 1 a branch of social and cultural anthropology which investigates folk beliefs or ideologies that correspond to such fields of Western science as medicine, astronomy and zoology. 2 ethnography. ⓘ 1960s.

ethology /ɪˈθɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, zool the study of animal behaviour, especially by direct observation and monitoring of animals in their natural habitats. ⓘ 19c; 17c in obsolete sense 'to portray character by mimicry'.

ethos /ˈiːθɒs/ ▷ noun (ethoses) the typical spirit, character or attitudes (of a group or community, etc). ⓘ 19c: Greek, meaning 'custom' or 'culture'.

ethyl /ˈiːθaɪl, ˈeθɪl/ ▷ noun, chem in organic chemical compounds: the (C_2H_5-) group, as for example in ethylamine ($C_2H_5NH_2$). ⓘ 19c.

ethyl alcohol see under ETHANOL.

ethylene /ˈeθɪliːn/ ▷ noun, chem (formula C_2H_4) a colourless flammable gas with a sweet smell, belonging to the ALKENE series of hydrocarbons. ⓘ 19c.

ethylene glycol ▷ noun, chem a thick liquid alcohol used as an antifreeze. Also called ETHANEDIOL.

ethyne /ˈiːθaɪn, ˈɛθaɪn/ ▷ noun, chem ACETYLENE.

etiolated /ˈiːtɪoʊleɪtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 bot said of a plant: having foliage that has become yellow through lack of sunlight. 2 formal or literary said of a person: pale and weak in appearance. ⓘ 18c: from French étioler to become pale.

etiolation ▷ noun, bot the abnormal appearance of plants grown in darkness or severely reduced light, where the leaves appear yellow due to lack of chlorophyll and the stems are long and spindly.

etiology the US spelling of AETIOLOGY.

etiquette /ˈɛtɪkɛt/ ▷ noun 1 conventions of correct or polite social behaviour. 2 rules, usually unwritten ones, regarding the behaviour of members of a particular profession, etc towards each other. ⓘ 18c: from French étiquette a label.

Eton crop /ˈiːtən —/ ▷ noun a short sleek haircut fashionable among women in the 1920s.

Etonian /iˈtoʊnɪən/ ▷ noun a person educated at Eton College, an English public school. Also as adj.

-ette /ɛt/ ▷ suffix, forming nouns, indicating 1 a female of the specified type □ usherette. 2 a small thing of the specified type □ cigarette □ kitchenette. 3 an imitation of something specified □ leatherette. ⓘ French.

étude /eɪˈtjuːd/ ▷ noun, music a short piece written for a single instrument, intended as an exercise or a means of showing talent. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'study'.

ety. or etym. ▷ abbreviation etymology.

etymology /ɛtɪˈmɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun (etymologies) 1 the study of the origin and development of words and their meanings. 2 an explanation of the history of a particular word. • etymological /-məˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. • etymologically adverb. • etymologist noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin etymologia, from Greek etymon the literal sense of a word, from etymos true.

etymon /ˈɛtɪmɒn/ ▷ noun (plural etyma) the earliest recorded form, or reconstructed earliest form, of a word. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek etymos true.

EU ▷ abbreviation European Union.

Eu ▷ symbol, chem europium.

eu- /juː/ ▷ combining form, signifying 1 good; well. 2 medicine normal. ⓘ From Greek eu well.

eucalyptus /juːkəˈlɪptəs/ ▷ noun (eucalyptuses or eucalypti /-taɪ/) 1 any of various trees belonging to the myrtle family, native to Australia, planted for timber, their oil or their ornamental appearance. 2 the hard durable wood of this tree. 3 eucalyptus oil. ⓘ 19c: from Greek eu well + kalyptos covered.

Eucharist /ˈjuːkərɪst/ ▷ noun, Christianity 1 the sacrament of THE LAST SUPPER. 2 THE LORD'S SUPPER. 3 the elements of the sacrament, the bread and wine. • Eucharistic adj. ⓘ 14c: from Greek eucharistia giving of thanks.

euchre /ˈjuːkə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a N American card-game for two, three or four players, played with 32 cards. 2 an instance of euchring or being euchred. ▷ verb (euchred, euchring) 1 to prevent (a player) from winning three tricks. 2 (usually euchre someone out of something) N Amer, Austral, NZ to cheat or outwit them. ⓘ 19c.

Euclidean or Euclidian /juːˈklɪdɪən/ ▷ adj referring or relating to or based on the geometrical system devised by Euclid, a Greek mathematician who lived in *c.*300 BC.

eudiometer /juːdɪˈɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, chem an apparatus for analysing gas. ⓘ 18c: from Greek eudios clear or fine (as of weather).

eugenics /juːˈdʒɛnɪks/ ▷ singular noun 1 the science concerned with the detection and elimination of human hereditary diseases and disorders by genetic counselling of parents who may be carriers of such conditions. 2 the principle or practice, now largely discredited, of improving the human race by selective breeding from individuals who are regarded as strong, healthy, intelligent, etc. • eugenic adj. • eugenically adverb. ⓘ 19c: from Greek eugenes well-born or of good stock.

euglena /juːˈgliːnə/ ▷ noun (euglenas) a single-celled organism found in fresh water, with a long FLAGELLUM at its front end which is used to propel it through the water. ⓘ 19c: from Greek glene eyeball.

eukaryote or eucaryote /juːˈkarɪoʊt/ ▷ noun, biol an organism in which the cells have a distinct nucleus containing the genetic material and separated from the cytoplasm by a nuclear membrane. • eukaryotic adj. ⓘ 1940s: from Greek karyon kernel; see also PROKARYOTE.

eulogize or eulogise /ˈjuːlədʒaɪz/ ▷ verb (eulogized, eulogizing) to praise highly. • eulogistic adj. • eulogistically adverb. ⓘ 19c.

eulogy /ˈjuːlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun (eulogies) 1 a speech or piece of writing in praise of someone or something. 2 high praise. ⓘ 16c: from Latin eulogium, from Greek eu well + logos discourse.

eunuch /ˈjuːnək/ ▷ noun 1 a a man who has been castrated; b especially formerly such a man employed as a guard of a harem. 2 derog a person who lacks power or effectiveness in some respect. ⓘ 15c: from Greek eunouchos, from eune bed + echein to have charge of.

eupepsy /juːˈpɛpsɪ/ and eupepsia /-sɪə/ ▷ noun good digestion. • eupeptic adj. ⓘ 18c: Greek eupepsia, from pepsis digestion.

euphemism /ˈjuːfəmɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 a mild or inoffensive term used in place of one considered offensive or unpleasantly direct. 2 the use of such terms. • euphemistic adj. • euphemistically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Greek euphemismos, from phanai to speak.

euphenics /juːˈfɛnɪks/ ▷ singular noun the science concerned with the physical improvement of human beings by modifying their development after birth. Compare EUGENICS. ⓘ 1960s: from PHENOTYPE, modelled on EUGENICS.

euphonium /juːˈfoʊnɪəm/ ▷ noun a four-valved brass instrument of the tuba family usually found in brass and military bands. ⓘ 19c: from Greek euphonos sweet-sounding, modelled on HARMONIUM.

euphony /ˈjuːfənɪ/ ▷ noun (euphonies) 1 a pleasing sound, especially in speech. 2 pleasantness of sound, especially of pronunciation. • euphonious /-ˈfoʊnɪəs/ or euphonic /-ˈfɒnɪk/ adj pleasing to the ear. • euphoniously adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Greek euphonia, from phone sound.

euphoria /juːˈfɔːrɪə/ ▷ noun (euphorias) a feeling of wild happiness and well-being. • euphoric /-ˈfɒrɪk/ adj. • euphorically adverb. ⓘ 19c: Greek, meaning 'ability to endure well'.

euphrasy /ˈjuːfrəsɪ/ ▷ noun (euphrasies) bot any plant of the figwort family, especially EYEBRIGHT. ⓘ 16c: from Greek euphrasia delight.

euphuism /ˈjuːfjuːɪzəm/ ▷ noun a pompous and affected style of writing. • euphuistic /-ˈɪstɪk/ adj. • euphuistically adverb. ⓘ 16c: from the style of John Lyly's romance Euphues (1578–80); from Greek euphyes graceful.

Eur. ▷ abbreviation Europe.

Eur- see EURO-.

Eurasian /jʊəˈreɪʒən/ ▷ adj 1 of mixed European and Asian descent. 2 belonging, referring or relating to Europe and Asia. ▷ noun a person of mixed European and Asian descent. ⓘ 19c.

Euratom /ˈjʊəratɒm/ ▷ abbreviation European Atomic Energy Community.

eureka /jʊəˈriːkə/ ▷ exclamation expressing triumph at finding something or solving a problem, etc. ⓘ 17c: from Greek heureka I have found it, traditionally believed to have been said by Archimedes when he realized he could work out the proportion of base metal in a golden crown by means of what is now known as specific gravity.

eurhythmic ▷ adj 1 archit in harmonious proportion. 2 relating to eurhythmics. ⓘ 19c.

eurhythmics ▷ singular noun the art or a system of rhythmic movement, specifically the system of musical training devised by the Swiss composer and teacher Émile Jaques-Dalcroze (1865–1950). ● eurhythmist noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

eurhythmy or eurythmy /jʊəˈrɪðmɪ/ ▷ noun 1 harmony of proportion. 2 (usually Eurhythmy) an artistic, therapeutic and educational system based on rhythmic body movement correlated to music or poetry, etc, created by Rudolph Steiner (1861–1925).

Euro /ˈjʊərou/ ▷ noun (Euros) a EUROPEAN (noun senses 1 and 2). ⓘ 1960s.

euro /ˈjʊərou/ ▷ noun (euros) finance 1 a proposed common system of currency for countries in the European Union. 2 the basic monetary unit in this system. ⓘ 1990s: from Europe.

Euro- /jʊərou, jʊəˈrɒ/ or (before a vowel) Eur- combining form, denoting Europe; European; relating to the EC or EU □ Europhile □ Euromyth.

Eurobond ▷ noun a bond issued in Eurocurrency. ⓘ 1960s.

Eurocentric ▷ adj centred, or concentrating, on Europe. ⓘ 1960s.

Eurocheque ▷ noun a cheque which may be drawn on the user's own account and exchanged for cash, goods or services in a number of European as well as non-European countries. ⓘ 1960s.

Eurocrat /ˈjʊəroukrat/ ▷ noun, sometimes derog an official involved in the administration of any organization in the EC or EU. ⓘ 1960s.

Eurocurrency and Euromoney ▷ noun convertible currencies, including pounds sterling, French and Swiss francs, Deutschmarks and US dollars, held in banks in W Europe outside the country of origin, which can be borrowed by commercial undertakings for trade. ⓘ 1960s.

Eurodollars ▷ plural noun US currency held in European banks to assist trade. ⓘ 1960s.

Euro-MP ▷ noun a member of the European Parliament.

European /jʊərəˈpiːən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to Europe. 2 showing or favouring a spirit of co-operation between the countries of Europe, especially those of the EU. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of Europe. 2 a person who favours close political and economic contact between the countries of Europe, especially those of the EU. ⓘ 17c.

European Commission ▷ noun an executive body composed of members of the European Union countries (or formerly the EEC or EC countries), which is responsible for the formulation of community policy, and initiates and drafts most community legislation.

European Community ▷ noun (abbreviation EC) an economic and political association of W European states formed by the merging of the EEC, ECSC and EURATOM (known officially as the European Communities). It consists of the 12 member states of the EEC in 1995 extended to include Austria, Finland and Sweden. It was renamed European Union (abbreviation EU) by the coming into force of the Maastricht Treaty in 1993, which extended its remit to include areas of foreign and security policy and justice and home affairs. Technically EC is used to refer to legislation of the EU but it can also be used to refer to the Union itself.

European currency unit see ECU

European Economic Community ▷ noun (abbreviation EEC) the economic association formed (by the Treaty of Rome in 1957) by France, W Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. In 1973 it extended to include the United Kingdom, Denmark and the Republic of Ireland, in 1981 Greece, and in 1986 Spain and Portugal. Also (informal) called the Common Market. Now officially renamed European Community.

European Free Trade Association see EFTA

Europeanize or Europeanise /jʊərəˈpiːənaɪz/ ▷ verb (Europeanized, Europeanizing) 1 to assimilate or convert to European character or ways. 2 to integrate into the European Union. ● Europeanism noun. ● Europeanist noun a person who favours the European Union and seeks to uphold or develop it. ● Europeanization noun. ⓘ 19c.

European Parliament ▷ noun the legislative assembly of the European Union.

European plan ▷ noun, US in hotels: the system of charging for lodgings and service without including meals. Compare AMERICAN PLAN.

European sole see DOVER SOLE

European Union see under EUROPEAN COMMUNITY

europium /jʊəˈroupɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Eu, atomic number 63) a soft silvery metallic element belonging to the LANTHANIDE series. ⓘ 19c: Latin, named after Europe.

Euro-rebel ▷ noun, politics someone who does not have the same belief in the benefit of the EU as their political party professes.

Eurosceptic ▷ noun someone, particularly a politician, who is not in favour of the UK's continuing political and economic integration with other states of the EU. ● Euroscepticism noun.

Eurotunnel ▷ noun the CHANNEL TUNNEL.

eurythmics an alternative (especially N Amer) spelling of EURHYTHMICS.

eurythmy see EURHYTHMY

Eustachian tube /juːˈsteɪʃən —/ ▷ noun, anatomy either of the two tubes which connect the MIDDLE EAR to the PHARYNX, serving to equalize the pressure on the two sides of the eardrum. ⓘ 18c: named after the Italian anatomist B Eustachio (died 1574).

eustasy /ˈjuːstəsɪ/ ▷ noun, geol worldwide change in sea-level caused by advancing or receding polar ice caps. ● eustatic /juːˈstatɪk/ adj. ● eustatically adverb. ⓘ 1940s; adj early 20c: from EU- + Greek stasis standing.

euthanasia /juːθəˈneɪzɪə/ ▷ noun the act or practice of ending the life of a person who is suffering from an incurable and often painful or distressing illness. ⓘ 19c; 17c meaning 'a gentle and easy death': Greek, from eu- good + thanatos death.

eutrophic /juːˈtrɒfɪk/ ▷ adj, ecol said of a body of water: suffering from eutrophication.

eutrophication ▷ noun the process whereby a body of water becomes over-enriched with nutrients, from sewage disposal and run-off of agricultural fertilizers, etc, which results in overgrowth of algae and depleted oxygen levels in the water, leading to the death of aquatic animals. ⓘ 1940s: from Greek eutrophia.

evacuate /ɪˈvakjueɪt/ ▷ verb (evacuated, evacuating) 1 to leave (a place), especially because of danger. 2 to make (people) evacuate a place. 3 technical to empty (the bowels). 4 physics to create a vacuum in (a vessel). ● evacuee /ɪvakjuˈiː/ noun (evacuees) an evacuated person. ● evacuation noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin evacuare, evacuatum to empty out.

evade /ɪ'veɪd/ ▷ verb (evaded, evading) 1 to escape or avoid something or someone by trickery or skill. 2 to avoid answering (a question). See also EVASION. ⓒ 16c: from Latin evadere to go out.

> evade
>
> See Usage Note at avoid.

evaginate /ɪ'vadʒɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (evaginated, evaginating) medicine to turn an organ inside out. ● evagination noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin evaginare to unsheath.

evaluate /ɪ'valjueɪt/ ▷ verb (evaluated, evaluating) 1 to form an idea or judgement about the worth of something. 2 math to calculate the value of something. ● evaluation noun. ● evaluative /ɪ'valjuətɪv/ adj. ⓒ 19c; 18c as evaluation.

evanesce /ɛvə'nɛs/ ▷ verb (evanesced, evanescing) intr, literary said of smoke or mist, etc: to disappear gradually; to fade from sight. ● evanescence /ɛvə'nɛsəns/ noun. ● evanescent adj 1 quickly fading. 2 short-lived; transitory. ⓒ 19c: from Latin evanescere to vanish.

evangelical /iːvan'dʒɛlɪkəl/ ▷ adj 1 based on the Gospels. 2 referring or relating to, or denoting any of various groups within the Protestant church stressing the authority of the Bible and claiming that personal acceptance of Christ as saviour is the only way to salvation. 3 enthusiastically advocating a particular cause, etc. ▷ noun a member of an evangelical movement, or a supporter of evangelical beliefs. ● evangelicalism noun. ● evangelically adverb. ⓒ 16c.

evangelism /ɪ'vandʒəlɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 the act or practice of evangelizing. 2 evangelicalism. ⓒ 17c in sense 1.

evangelist /ɪ'vandʒəlɪst/ ▷ noun 1 a person who preaches Christianity, especially at large public meetings. 2 (usually Evangelist) any of the writers of the four Biblical Gospels: Matthew, Mark, Luke or John. ● evangelistic adj. ⓒ 14c; 12c in sense 2: from Greek euangelistes, from eu well + angellein to bring news.

evangelize or evangelise /ɪ'vandʒəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (evangelized, evangelizing) 1 tr & intr to attempt to persuade someone to adopt Christianity. 2 intr to preach Christianity, especially travelling from place to place to do so. 3 tr & intr, often facetious to attempt to persuade someone to adopt a particular principle or cause. ● evangelization noun. ⓒ 14c.

evaporate /ɪ'vapəreɪt/ ▷ verb (evaporated, evaporating) tr & intr 1 to change or cause something to change from a liquid into a vapour at a temperature below the boiling point of the liquid. 2 to disappear or make disappear. ● evaporable adj. ● evaporation noun the process of evaporating; disappearance. ● evaporative /-ətɪv/ adj. ● evaporator noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin evaporare, evaporatum, from e from + vapor steam or vapour.

evaporated milk ▷ noun unsweetened milk that has been concentrated by evaporation.

evaporite /ɪ'vapəraɪt/ noun, geol a mineral deposit formed as a result of the evaporation of all or most of the water from a saline solution such as sea water.

evapotranspiration /ɪvapoʊtranspɪ'reɪʃən/ ▷ noun, ecol the loss of water from the Earth's surface as a result of both evaporation from the surface of soil, rocks and bodies of water, and TRANSPIRATION from plants. ⓒ 1930s.

evasion /ɪ'veɪʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of evading, especially evading a commitment or responsibility. 2 a trick or excuse used to evade (a question, etc). ⓒ 15c in sense 2: from Latin evasio, from evadere, evasum to go out.

evasive /ɪ'veɪsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 intending or intended to evade something, especially trouble or danger. 2 not honest or open □ an evasive answer. ● evasively adverb. ● evasiveness noun. ● take evasive action to move or act in such a way as to avoid an object or consequence.

eve /iːv/ ▷ noun 1 especially in compounds the evening or day before some notable event □ New Year's Eve. 2 the period immediately before □ the eve of war. ⓒ 13c: from EVEN².

even¹ /'iːvən/ ▷ adj 1 smooth and flat. 2 constant or regular □ travelling at an even 50mph. 3 said of a number: divisible by 2, with nothing left over. 4 designated or marked by an even number □ the even houses in the street. 5 (usually even with something) level, on the same plane or at the same height as it. 6 (often even with someone) having no advantage over or owing no debt to them. 7 said of temper or character, etc: calm. 8 equal □ an even chance. ▷ adverb 1 used with a comparative to emphasize a comparison with something else □ He's good, but she's even better. 2 used with an expression stronger than a previous one □ He looked sad, even depressed. 3 used to introduce a surprising piece of information □ Even John was there! 4 used to indicate a lower extreme in an implied comparison □ Even a child would have known that! ▷ verb (evened, evening) (often even something up) to make it equal. ▷ noun 1 (usually evens) an even number, or something designated by one. 2 (evens) same as EVEN MONEY. ● evenly adverb 1 in an even way; uniformly. 2 in equal parts or shares □ evenly divided. ● evenness noun. ● even as at that, or this, very moment when something specified happened or happens □ Even as we speak the result is announced. ● even if, even so or even though used to emphasize that whether or not something is or might be true, the following or preceding statement is or would remain true □ He'd be unhappy even if he did get the job □ He got the job but, even so, he's still unhappy. ● even now still; after all that has happened. ● even then after all that had happened, will have happened, or would have happened. ● get even with someone to be revenged on them. ● on an even keel 1 balanced; not tilting to either side. 2 said eg of business affairs: well organized; running smoothly. 3 said of a person: not in an unstable state of mind. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon efen.

> ■ even out to become level or regular.
>
> ■ even something out or up to make it smooth or level.

even² /'iːvən/ ▷ noun, old use or poetic evening. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon æfen.

even-handed ▷ adj fair; impartial. ● even-handedly adverb. ● even-handedness noun. ⓒ 17c.

evening /'iːvnɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the last part of the day, usually from late afternoon until bedtime. 2 often in compounds a party or other social gathering held at this time □ a poetry evening. 3 poetic the latter part of something □ the evening of her life. ▷ adj referring to or during the evening. ● evenings adverb, especially N Amer in the evening; in the evening on a number of occasions. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon æfnung.

evening class ▷ noun a class held in the evening, often for people who are at work during the day.

evening dress ▷ noun clothes worn on formal occasions in the evening.

evening primrose ▷ noun, bot any of about 200 species of a biennial plant with large scented yellow flowers that open at dusk.

evening primrose oil ▷ noun oil produced from the seeds of the evening primrose, much used in alternative medicine.

evening star ▷ noun a planet, especially Venus, clearly visible in the west just after sunset. See also MORNING STAR.

Evenki /ɪwɛŋkɪː, -vɛŋkɪ/ noun (Evenki or Evenkis) TUNGUS. ⓒ Russian, from the Evenki name for themselves.

evenly see under EVEN[1] even money ▷ noun gambling odds with the potential to win the same as the amount gambled.

evenness see under EVEN[1] evensong ▷ noun, C of E the service of evening prayer. Compare MATINS. ☉ Anglo-Saxon æfensang evening song.

event /ɪ'vent/ ▷ noun 1 something that occurs or happens; an incident, especially a significant one. 2 an item in a programme of sports, etc. ■ at all events or in any event in any case; whatever happens. ■ in either event no matter which (of two things or possibilities, etc) happens. ■ in the event in the end; as it happened, happens or may happen. ■ in the event of or that something if it occurs □ in the event of a power cut □ in the event that power fails. ■ in that event if that occurs. ☉ 16c: from Latin eventus result or event.

even-tempered ▷ adj placid; calm.

eventer ▷ noun a person or horse that takes part in EVENTING.

eventful /ɪ'ventfʊl/ adj full of important or characterized by important or significant events. ■ eventfully adverb.

event horizon ▷ noun, astron the boundary of a black hole.

eventide /'iːvəntaɪd/ ▷ noun, poetic or old use evening. ☉ Anglo-Saxon æfentid.

eventide home ▷ noun, euphemistic a home for old people.

eventing noun the practice of taking part in horse-riding events, especially the THREE-DAY EVENT.

eventual /ɪ'ventʃʊəl/ ▷ adj happening after or at the end of a period of time or a process, etc. ■ eventuality noun (eventualities) a possible happening or result □ plan for every eventuality. ■ eventually adverb after an indefinite period of time; in the end. ☉ 17c: from French éventuel, from Latin eventus result or event.

eventuate /ɪ'ventʃʊeɪt/ ▷ verb (eventuated, eventuating) intr, formal to result; to turn out. ☉ 18c.

ever /'evə(r)/ ▷ adverb 1 at any time. 2 a formal always; continually; b in compounds □ ever-hopeful. 3 colloq used for emphasis □ She's ever so beautiful! ■ ever such a ... colloq a very ... □ ever such a good boy. ■ for ever 1 always. 2 colloq for a long time. ☉ Anglo-Saxon æfre.

everglade /'evəgleɪd/ ▷ noun 1 a large shallow lake or marsh. 2 (the Everglades) a large expanse of these in S Florida in the USA. ☉ 19c.

evergreen ▷ adj 1 bot denoting plants that bear leaves all the year round, eg pines or firs. 2 always popular. 3 always fresh, vigorous or interesting, etc. ▷ noun an evergreen tree or shrub. Compare DECIDUOUS. ☉ 17c.

everlasting ▷ adj 1 without end; continual. 2 lasting a long time, especially so long as to become tiresome. ▷ noun 1 any of several kinds of flower that keep their shape and colour when dried. 2 eternity. ■ everlastingly adverb. ☉ 13c.

evermore ▷ adverb (often for evermore) for all time to come; eternally. ☉ 13c.

evert /ɪ'vɜːt/ ▷ verb (everted, everting) physiol to turn (an eyelid or other organ) outwards or inside out. ■ eversible adj. ■ eversion noun. ☉ 16c: from Latin evertere to overthrow, from vertere to turn.

every /'evrɪ/ ▷ adj 1 each one or single of a number or collection; omitting none. 2 the greatest or best possible □ making every effort. ▷ adverb at, in, or at the end of, each stated period of time or distance, etc □ every fourth week □ every six inches ■ every bit or whit the whole; all of it; quite or entirely. ■ every last (used for emphasis) every. ■ every man Jack or every mother's son everyone without exception. ■ every now and then or every now and again or every so often occasionally; from time to time. ■ every other ... or every second ... one out of every two (things) repeatedly (the first, third, fifth, etc or second, fourth, sixth, etc) □ comes every other day. ■ every which way US 1 in every direction. 2 by method. 3 in disorder. ■ have everything colloq to be well endowed with possessions, good looks, etc. ☉ Anglo-Saxon æfre ælc ever each.

everybody ▷ pronoun every person.

everyday ▷ adj 1 happening, done or used, etc daily, or on ordinary days, rather than on special occasions. 2 common or usual □ an everyday occurrence. ☉ 17c.

Everyman ▷ noun (also everyman) the ordinary or common person; anybody; mankind. ☉ Early 20c: from the name of the hero of a medieval morality play.

everyone ▷ pronoun every person.

every-place ▷ adverb, US everywhere.

everything ▷ pronoun 1 all things; all. 2 the most important thing □ Fitness is everything in sport.

everywhere ▷ adverb in or to every place.

evict /ɪ'vɪkt/ ▷ verb (evicted, evicting) to put someone out of a house, etc or off land by force of law. ■ eviction /ɪ'vɪkʃən/ noun the process of evicting people, especially from a building. ☉ 15c: from Latin evincere, evictum to overcome.

eviction order ▷ noun a court order by which a person may be evicted.

evidence /'evɪdəns/ ▷ noun 1 information, etc that gives grounds for belief; that which points to, reveals or suggests something. 2 written or spoken testimony used in a court of law. ▷ verb (evidenced, evidencing) formal to be evidence of something; to prove. ■ in evidence easily seen; clearly displayed. ■ turn Queen's or King's evidence or (US) turn state's evidence to give evidence for the prosecution against an accomplice in a crime. ☉ 14c: from Latin evidentia clearness of speech.

evident /'evɪdənt/ ▷ adj clear to see or understand; obvious or apparent. ■ evidently adverb 1 obviously; apparently □ He is evidently drunk. 2 as it appears; so it seems □ Evidently they don't believe us.

evidential /evɪ'denʃəl/ adj, formal relating to, based on or providing evidence. ■ evidentially adverb in terms of evidence; as based on evidence.

evil /'iːvɪl/ ▷ adj 1 morally bad or offensive. 2 harmful. 3 colloq very unpleasant □ an evil stench. ▷ noun 1 wickedness or moral offensiveness, or the source of it. 2 harm, or a cause of harm; a harmful influence. 3 anything bad or unpleasant, eg crime or disease. ■ evilly adverb. ■ evilness noun. ■ speak evil of someone to slander them. ☉ Anglo-Saxon yfel.

evildoer ▷ noun a person who does evil things.

the evil eye ▷ noun 1 the supposed power of causing harm by a look. 2 a glare, superstitiously thought to cause harm.

evil-minded ▷ adj 1 inclined to evil. 2 malicious; wicked.

evil-tempered ▷ adj bad-tempered; unpleasant or spiteful.

evince /ɪ'vɪns/ ▷ verb (evinced, evincing) formal to show or display something (usually a personal quality) clearly. ■ evincible adj. ☉ 17c: from Latin evincere to overcome.

eviscerate /ɪ'vɪsəreɪt/ ▷ verb (eviscerated, eviscerating) formal 1 to tear out the bowels of someone or something; to gut. 2 to take away the essential quality or meaning of something. ■ evisceration noun, formal disembowelling. ☉ 17c: from Latin eviscerare to disembowel, from e out + viscera the bowels.

evoke /ɪ'voʊk/ ▷ verb (evoked, evoking) 1 to cause or produce (a response or reaction, etc). 2 to bring (a memory or emotion, etc) into the mind. ● evocation /ɛvə'keɪʃən/ noun. ● evocative /ɪ'vɒkətɪv/ adj bringing a feeling vividly to mind. ◎ 17c: from Latin evocare to call out.

evolute /'iːvəluːt, -ljuːt/ ▷ noun, geom the original curve from which the INVOLUTE is described. ◎ 18c: from Latin evolutus, from evolvere to EVOLVE.

evolution /iːvə'luːʃən, -'ljuː-/ ▷ noun 1 the process of evolving. 2 a gradual development. 3 biol the cumulative changes in the characteristics of living organisms or populations of organisms from generation to generation, resulting in the development of new types of organism over long periods of time. 4 chem the giving off of a gas. ● evolutionary adj relating to, or as a part of, evolution. ● evolutionism noun, anthropol, biol the theory of evolution. ● evolutionist noun a person who believes in the theory of evolution. ◎ 17c: from Latin evolutio unrolling.

evolve /ɪ'vɒlv/ ▷ verb (evolved, evolving) 1 tr & intr to develop or produce gradually. 2 intr to develop from a primitive into a more complex or advanced form. 3 chem to give off (heat, etc). ◎ 17c: from Latin evolvere to roll out or unroll.

ewe /juː/ ▷ noun a female sheep. ◎ Anglo-Saxon eowu.

> ewe
>
> There is sometimes a spelling confusion between ewe and yew.

ewer /'juːə(r)/ ▷ noun a large water-jug with a wide mouth. ◎ 14c: from French eviere, from Latin aquarius of water.

Ex. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Exodus. See table at BIBLE.

ex[1] ▷ noun (ex's or exes) colloq a person who is no longer what he or she was, especially a former husband, wife or lover. ◎ 19c: from words formed with EX-[1].

ex[2] ▷ prep, commerce 1 direct from somewhere □ ex warehouse. 2 excluding something □ ex VAT. ◎ 19c: Latin, meaning 'out of'.

ex-[1] ▷ prefix, signifying 1 former □ ex-wife □ ex-president. 2 outside □ ex-directory. ◎ From Latin ex meaning 'out of'.

ex-[2] see under EXOexa- /ɛksə/ ▷ prefix, math (symbol E) signifying 10^{18}.

exacerbate /ɪg'zasəbeɪt/ ▷ verb (exacerbated, exacerbating) to make (a bad situation, anger or pain, etc) worse or more severe. ● exacerbation noun. ◎ 17c: from Latin exacerbare, exacerbatum to irritate, from acerbus bitter.

exact /ɪg'zakt/ ▷ adj 1 absolutely accurate or correct. 2 insisting on accuracy or precision in even the smallest details. 3 dealing with measurable quantities or values □ Psychology is not an exact science. ▷ verb (exacted, exacting) 1 (usually exact something from or of someone) to demand (payment, etc) from them. 2 to insist on (a right, etc). ● exacting adj making difficult or excessive demands. ● exactingly adverb. ● exaction noun, formal 1 the act of demanding payment, or the payment demanded. 2 illegal demands for money; extortion. ● exactitude noun, formal accuracy or correctness. ● exactness noun. ◎ 15c: from Latin exigere, exactum to demand.

exactly adverb 1 just; quite, precisely or absolutely. 2 with accuracy; with attention to detail. 3 said in reply: you are quite right. ● not exactly 1 not altogether. 2 colloq, ironic not at all.

exaggerate /ɪg'zadʒəreɪt/ ▷ verb (exaggerated, exaggerating) 1 tr & intr to regard or describe something as being greater or better than it really is. 2 to emphasize something or make it more noticeable. 3 to do something in an excessive or affected way. ● exaggeration noun. ● exaggerator noun. ◎ 16c: from Latin exaggerare, exaggeratum to heap up, from agger a heap.

exalt /ɪg'zɔːlt/ ▷ verb (exalted, exalting) 1 to praise (eg God) highly. 2 to fill someone with great joy. 3 to give a higher rank or position to someone or something. ● exaltation /ɛgzɔːl'teɪʃən/ noun 1 the act of exalting or state of being exalted. 2 a strong feeling of happiness. ● exalted adj 1 noble; very moral. 2 exaggerated; too high. ● exaltedly adverb. ◎ 15c: from Latin exaltare to raise.

exam /ɪg'zam/ ▷ noun, colloq an EXAMINATION (sense 1).

examination /ɪgzamɪ'neɪʃən/ noun 1 a set of tasks, especially in written form, designed to test knowledge or ability. 2 an inspection of a person's state of health, carried out by a doctor. 3 the act of examining, or process of being examined. 4 law formal questioning in a court of law.

examination-in-chief ▷ noun, law questioning of one's own witness.

examine /ɪg'zamɪn/ ▷ verb (examined, examining) 1 to inspect, consider or look into something closely. 2 to check the health of someone. 3 to test the knowledge or ability of (a person), especially in a formal examination. 4 law to question formally in a court of law. ● examinability noun. ● examinable adj. ● examinee noun (examinees) a candidate in an examination. ● examiner noun someone who sets an examination. ● need one's head examined colloq to be crazy or stupid, etc. ◎ 14c: from French examiner, from Latin examinare to weigh or test, from examen the pointer on a set of scales.

example /ɪg'zɑːmpəl/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that is a typical specimen. 2 something that illustrates a fact or rule. 3 a person or pattern of behaviour, etc as a model to be, or not to be, copied □ set a good example. 4 a punishment given, or the person punished, as a warning to others □ make an example of someone. ● for example as an example or illustration. ◎ 14c: French, from Latin exemplum.

exanthema /ɛksan'θiːmə/ ▷ noun (exanthemata /-mətə/ or exanthemas) pathol 1 a rash or other skin eruption, symptomatic of a febrile disease. 2 a disease characterized by such a symptom. ◎ 17c: Greek, from exanthein to burst out, from anthein to blossom.

exasperate /ɪg'zɑːspəreɪt/ ▷ verb (exasperated, exasperating) to make someone annoyed and frustrated; to anger them. ● exasperating adj. ● exasperatingly adverb. ● exasperation noun a feeling of angry frustration. ◎ 16c: from Latin exasperare, exasperatum to make rough.

Exc. ▷ abbreviation Excellency.

ex cathedra /ɛks kə'θiːdrə, —'kaθɛdrɑː/ ▷ adverb with authority, especially the full authority of the Pope. ▷ adj (usually ex-cathedra) 1 said of a papal pronouncement: stating an infallible doctrine. 2 made with, or as if with, authority. ◎ 17c: Latin, literally 'from the chair'.

excavate /'ɛkskəveɪt/ ▷ verb (excavated, excavating) 1 to dig up or uncover something (especially historical remains). 2 to dig up (a piece of ground, etc); to make (a hole) by doing this. ● excavation noun 1 especially archaeol the process of excavating or digging up ground. 2 an excavated area or site. ● excavator noun 1 someone who excavates or digs up ground. 2 a machine for digging. ◎ 16c: from Latin excavare, excavatum to make hollow.

exceed /ɪk'siːd/ ▷ verb (exceeded, exceeding) 1 to be greater than someone or something. 2 to go beyond; to do more than is required by something. ● exceedingly adverb very; extremely. ◎ 14c: from French exceder.

excel /ɪk'sɛl/ ▷ verb (excelled, excelling) 1 (usually excel in or at something) intr to be exceptionally good at it. 2 to be better than someone or something. ● excel oneself often ironic to do better than usual or previously. ◎ 15c: from Latin excellere to rise up.

excellence /ˈɛksələns/ ▷ noun great worth; very high or exceptional quality. • excellent adj of very high quality; extremely good. • excellently adverb. ⓒ 14c: French, from Latin excellentia.

Excellency /ˈɛksələnsɪ/ ▷ noun (Excellencies) (usually His, Her or Your Excellency or Your or Their Excellencies) a title of honour given to certain people of high rank, eg ambassadors. ⓒ 15c.

excentric see ECCENTRIC (senses 2 to 4) except /ɪkˈsɛpt/ ▷ prep leaving out; not including. ▷ verb (excepted, excepting) to leave out or exclude □ present company excepted. • excepting prep leaving out; not including or counting. • except for something apart from it; not including or counting. ⓒ 14c: from Latin excipere, exceptum to take out.

exception /ɪkˈsɛpʃən/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something not included. 2 someone or something that does not, or is allowed not to, follow a general rule □ make an exception. 3 an act of excluding. • exceptionable adj 1 likely to cause disapproval, offence or dislike. 2 open to objection. • exceptionably adverb. • take exception to something to object to it; to be offended by it. • the exception proves the rule the existence of an exception to a supposed rule proves the general truth of the rule (often used in argument when no such conclusion is justified). ⓒ 14c.

exceptional ▷ adj 1 remarkable or outstanding. 2 being or making an exception. • exceptionally adverb in an exceptional way; to an exceptional or unusual degree.

excerpt ▷ noun /ˈɛksɜːpt/ a short passage or part taken from a book, film or musical work, etc. ▷ verb /ɪkˈsɜːpt/ (excerpted, excerpting) to select extracts from (a book, etc). • excerption noun. • excerptor noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin excerptum, from excerpere to pick out.

excess /ɪkˈsɛs/ ▷ noun (excesses) 1 the act of going, or the state of being, beyond normal or suitable limits. 2 an amount or extent greater than is usual, necessary or wise. 3 the amount by which one quantity, etc exceeds another; an amount left over. 4 (usually excesses) an outrageous or offensive act. ▷ adj /ˈɛksɛs/ 1 greater than is usual, necessary or permitted. 2 additional; required to make up for an amount lacking □ excess postage □ excess fare. • excessive /ɪkˈsɛsɪv/ adj too great; beyond what is usual, right or appropriate. • excessively adverb to an excessive degree. • in excess of something going beyond (a specified amount); more than it □ in excess of 5 million. ⓒ 14c: from French excès, from Latin excessus departure or going beyond.

> excess
>
> A word often confused with this one is access.

excess baggage and excess luggage ▷ noun luggage which exceeds the limits on weight, size or number of items that will be carried free by an airline, etc.

excess profits tax ▷ noun a tax levied on a company's profits above a specified level.

exch. ▷ abbreviation 1 exchange. 2 exchequer.

exchange /ɪksˈtʃeɪndʒ/ ▷ verb (exchanged, exchanging) 1 (usually exchange one thing for another) to give, or give up, something, in return for something else. 2 to give and receive in return □ The two leaders exchanged gifts. ▷ noun 1 the giving and taking of one thing for another. 2 a thing exchanged. 3 a giving and receiving in return. 4 a conversation or argument, especially a brief one. 5 the act of exchanging the currency of one country for that of another. 6 a place where shares are traded, or international financial deals carried out. 7 (also telephone exchange) a central telephone system where lines are connected, or the building housing this. • exchangeability noun. • exchangeable adj. • exchanger noun a person who exchanges money or goods, etc, especially as a profession. • exchange blows or words to quarrel verbally or physically. • in exchange for something in return for it. ⓒ 14c: from French eschangier, from Latin ex from + cambiare to barter.

exchange control ▷ noun the official control of the level of a country's foreign exchange transactions so as to regulate its holding of foreign currency.

exchange rate and rate of exchange ▷ noun the value of the currency of one country in relation to that of another country or countries.

Exchange Rate Mechanism ▷ noun (abbreviation ERM) an arrangement set up to regulate exchange rate fluctuations between participating currencies in the European Monetary System, by fixing their rates, and limiting fluctuation against the ECU.

exchange student and exchange teacher ▷ noun a student or teacher spending some time at a school, etc in a foreign country, while one from that country attends their own school in their place.

exchequer /ɪksˈtʃɛkə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 (often Exchequer) the government department in charge of the financial affairs of a nation. 2 informal one's personal finances or funds. ⓒ 14c as escheker: from French eschequier, from Latin scaccarium chessboard, from the practice of keeping accounts on a chequered cloth.

excise¹ ▷ noun /ˈɛksaɪz/ the tax or duty payable on goods, etc produced and sold within a country, and on certain trading licences □ excise duty. ▷ verb /ɪkˈsaɪz/ (excised, excising) 1 to charge excise on (goods, etc). 2 to force someone to pay excise. • excisable adj liable to excise duty. ⓒ 15c as excys: from Dutch excijs, from French acceis tax.

excise² /ɪkˈsaɪz/ ▷ verb (excised, excising) 1 to remove (eg a passage from a text). 2 to cut out something, or cut off something by surgery. • excision /ɪkˈsɪʒən/ noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin excidere, excisum to cut out.

exciseman /ɪkˈsaɪzmən/ ▷ noun, formerly an officer whose job was to collect excise duty and prevent smuggling. ⓒ 17c.

excitable /ɪkˈsaɪtəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 easily made excited, flustered, frantic, etc. 2 said of a nerve, etc: responsive to a stimulus. • excitability noun. • excitableness noun. • excitably adverb.

excitant /ˈɛksɪtənt, ɪkˈsaɪtənt/ ▷ noun 1 medicine something which stimulates the vital activity of the body; a stimulant. 2 physics the electrolyte in an electric cell. ▷ adj exciting or stimulating. • excitancy /ˈɛksɪtənsɪ/ noun. ⓒ 17c.

excite /ɪkˈsaɪt/ ▷ verb (excited, exciting) 1 to make someone feel lively expectation or a pleasant tension and thrill. 2 to arouse (feelings, emotions or sensations, etc). 3 to provoke (eg action). 4 to arouse someone sexually. 5 physics to raise (a nucleus, atom or molecule) from the GROUND state to a higher level. 6 physics to produce electric or magnetic activity in something. • excitation /ɛksɪˈteɪʃən/ noun. • excitative /ɪkˈsaɪtətɪv/ or excitatory /-tərɪ/ adj tending to excite. ⓒ 14c: from French exciter.

excited ▷ adj 1 emotionally or sexually aroused; thrilled. 2 in a state of great activity. 3 physics having energy higher than that of the GROUND state. • excitedly adverb.

excitement ▷ noun 1 the state of being excited. 2 objects and events that produce such a state, or the quality they have which produces it. 3 behaviour or a happening, etc which displays excitement.

exciter ▷ noun 1 a person or thing that excites. 2 an auxiliary machine that supplies current for another machine. 3 a sparking apparatus for producing electric waves.

exciting ▷ adj arousing a lively expectation or a pleasant tension and thrill. • excitingly adverb.

exciton /ɪk'saɪtɒn, 'ɛksɪtɒn/ ▷ noun, physics a bound pair comprising an electron and a hole. ⓘ 1930s.

excitor /ɪk'saɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an EXCITER 1. 2 anatomy a nerve that brings impulses to the brain which stimulate a part of the body.

exclaim /ɪks'kleɪm/ ▷ verb (exclaimed, exclaiming) tr & intr to call or cry out suddenly and loudly, eg in surprise or anger. ⓘ 16c: from Latin exclamare.

exclamation /ɛksklə'meɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a word or expression uttered suddenly and loudly. 2 the act of exclaiming. ⓘ 14c: from Latin exclamatio.

exclamation mark and (US) exclamation point ▷ noun the punctuation mark (!), used to indicate an exclamation.

> exclamation mark
>
> An exclamation mark
>
> • is used, in place of a full stop, to indicate emphasis or strong emotion □ Good heavens! What are you doing here? □ What a lovely garden! □ Don't you dare say that to me again! □ Help!
> Sentences that are questions in form but exclamations in meaning can take an exclamation mark □ Wasn't that a marvellous film! □ Isn't she a despicable person!
> Commands don't always take an exclamation mark, only when they are said with particularly strong emphasis □ 'Sit down, all of you.' □ 'Sit down when I tell you!', he shouted.
>
> • It indicates that what has been said should not be taken seriously □ At this rate, we'll be seeing little green men next!
>
> • It draws attention to something the writer finds surprising □ Although he said he enjoyed (!) being ill, he was clearly depressed that morning.

exclamatory /ɛks'klamətərɪ/ ▷ adj containing or expressing exclamation. ⓘ 16c.

exclave /'ɛkskleɪv/ ▷ noun a part of a country or province etc, separated from the main part and enclosed in foreign territory. ⓘ 19c: from ex-, modelled on ENCLAVE.

exclude /ɪks'kluːd/ ▷ verb (excluded, excluding) 1 to prevent someone from sharing or taking part. 2 to shut someone or something out, or to keep them out. 3 to omit someone or something or leave them out of consideration. 4 to make something impossible. Opposite of INCLUDE. • excludable or excludible adj. • excluding prep not counting; without including. ⓘ 14c: from Latin excludere to shut out.

exclusion /ɪks'kluːʒən/ ▷ noun the act of excluding, or the state of being excluded. • exclusionary adj. • to the exclusion of someone or something so as to leave out or make no time or room for them or it. ⓘ 17c: from Latin exclusio.

exclusion order law ▷ noun 1 an order prohibiting the presence in, or entry into, the UK, of any person known to be concerned in acts of terrorism. 2 an order prohibiting a man guilty of battering his wife from returning to their home.

exclusion zone ▷ noun a zone into which entry is forbidden, eg an area of territorial waters where foreign exploitation is banned.

exclusive /ɪks'kluːsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 involving the rejection or denial of something else or everything else. 2 (exclusive to someone or something) limited to, given to, found in, etc only that place, group or person. 3 (exclusive of someone or something) not including a specified thing. 4 not readily accepting others into the group, especially because of a feeling of superiority □ an exclusive club. 5 fashionable and expensive □ an exclusive restaurant. ▷ noun a report or story published in only one newspaper or magazine. • exclusively adverb. • exclusiveness or exclusivity /ɛksklu:'sɪvɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin exclusivus.

exclusive reckoning ▷ noun the usual modern method of counting, in which either the first or the last term is counted, but not both. Compare INCLUSIVE RECKONING.

excommunicate /ɛkskə'mjuːnɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb, Christianity to exclude someone from membership of a church. • excommunication noun. • excommunicator noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin excommunicare to exclude from the community, from communis common.

excoriate /ɛks'kɔːrɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (excoriated, excoriating) 1 technical to strip the skin from (a person or animal). 2 to criticize someone severely. • excoriation noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin excoriare, from corium skin.

excrement /'ɛkskrəmənt/ ▷ noun waste matter passed out of the body, especially faeces. • excremental adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin excrementum, from ex- out + cernere to sift.

excrescence /ɪks'krɛsəns/ ▷ noun 1 an abnormal, especially an ugly, growth on a part of the body or a plant. 2 an unsightly addition. • excrescent 1 growing abnormally; forming an excrescence; superfluous. 2 said of a sound or letter in a word: added to the word without etymological justification. ⓘ 16c: from Latin excrescere to grow up.

excreta /ɪks'kriːtə/ plural noun, formal excreted matter; faeces or urine.

excrete /ɪks'kriːt/ ▷ verb (excreted, excreting) said of a plant or animal: to eliminate (waste products). • excretion noun, biol in plants and animals: the removal of excess waste, or harmful material produced by the organism. • excretive or excretory adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin excernere to sift out.

excruciating /ɪks'kruːʃɪeɪtɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 causing great physical or mental pain. 2 colloq extremely bad or irritating. • excruciatingly adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin excruciare to torture, from cruciare, cruciatum to crucify.

exculpate /'ɛkskʌlpeɪt, ɪks'kʌlpeɪt/ ▷ verb (exculpated, exculpating) formal to free someone from guilt or blame; to absolve or vindicate. Compare INCULPATE. • exculpation noun. • exculpatory adj freeing from the charge of a fault or crime. ⓘ 17c: from Latin ex from + culpa fault or blame.

excursion /ɪks'kɜːʃən, -ʒən/ ▷ noun 1 a short trip, usually one made for pleasure. 2 a brief change from the usual course or pattern. ⓘ 17c: from Latin excursio, excursum to run out.

excursive ▷ adj, formal tending to wander from the main point. • excursively adverb. • excursiveness noun. ⓘ 17c.

excuse ▷ verb /ɪk'skjuːz/ (excused, excusing) 1 to pardon or forgive someone. 2 to offer justification for (a wrongdoing). 3 to free someone from (an obligation or duty, etc). 4 to allow someone to leave a room, etc, eg in order to go to the lavatory. ▷ noun /ɪk'skjuːs/ 1 an explanation for a wrongdoing, offered as an apology or justification. 2 derog a very poor example □ You'll never sell this excuse for a painting! • excusable adj. • excusably adverb. • excuse me an expression of apology, or one used to attract attention. • excuse oneself to leave after apologizing or asking permission. • make one's excuses to apologize for leaving or for not attending. ⓘ 14c: from Latin excusare, from ex from + causa cause or accusation.

excuse-me ▷ noun (excuse-mes) a dance during which one may exchange partners.

ex-directory ▷ adj 1 said of a telephone number: not included in the directory at the request of the subscriber. 2 said of a telephone subscriber: having such a number.

ex dividend ▷ adverb (abbreviation ex div.) referring to shares: without the next dividend.

exeat /ˈɛksɪat/ ▷ noun 1 formal leave of absence from a college or boarding school, etc eg for a weekend. 2 a permission granted by a bishop to a priest to move on to another diocese. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning 'let him go out'.

exec /ɪɡˈzɛk/ ▷ noun (execs) colloq short form of EXECUTIVE.

exec. ▷ abbreviation 1 executive. 2 executor.

execrable /ˈɛksəkrəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 detestable. 2 dreadful; of very poor quality. ● execrably adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin execrabilis detestable.

execrate /ˈɛksəkreɪt/ ▷ verb (execrated, execrating) formal 1 to feel or express hatred or loathing of something. 2 to curse. ● execration noun an expression of loathing; cursing. ● execrative or execratory adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin exsecrari, exsecratus to curse.

executant /ɪɡˈzɛkjʊtənt/ ▷ noun someone who carries out or performs something, especially a technically accomplished musician. ⓘ 19c.

execute /ˈɛksəkjuːt/ ▷ verb (executed, executing) 1 to put someone to death by order of the law. 2 to perform or carry out something. 3 to produce something, especially according to a design. 4 law to make something valid by signing. 5 law to carry out instructions contained in (a will or contract). ● executable adj. ● executer noun someone who carries out (a plan, etc) or puts (a law, etc) into effect. Compare EXECUTOR. ⓘ 14c: from Latin exsequi, executus to follow up or carry out.

execution ▷ noun 1 the act, or an instance, of putting someone to death by law. 2 the act or skill of carrying something out; an instance or the process of carrying something out. ● executioner noun a person who carries out a sentence of death. ⓘ 14c.

executive /ɪɡˈzɛkjʊtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 in a business organization, etc: concerned with management or administration. 2 for the use of managers and senior staff. 3 colloq expensive and sophisticated ▫ executive cars. 4 law, politics relating to the carrying out of laws ▫ executive powers. ▷ noun 1 someone in an organization, etc who has power to direct or manage. 2 (the executive) law, politics the branch of government that puts laws into effect. ● executively adverb. ⓘ 17c.

Executive Council ▷ noun, Austral, NZ a ministerial council headed by the Governor or Governor-General.

executive program ▷ noun, computing a program which controls the use of a computer and of other programs.

executive session ▷ noun, US 1 a meeting of the Senate for executive business, usually held in private. 2 any meeting held in private.

executive toy ▷ noun a gadget or object with little practical use, intended primarily as a diversion for executives.

executor /ɪɡˈzɛkjʊtə(r)/ ▷ noun, law a male or female person appointed to carry out instructions stated in a will. ● executorial adj. ● executorship noun. ⓘ 13c.

executory /ɪɡˈzɛkjʊtərɪ/ adj 1 relating to the carrying out of laws or orders. 2 designed to be carried into effect.

executrix /ɪɡˈzɛkjʊtrɪks/ ▷ noun (executrices /-trɪsiːz/ or executrixes) law a female EXECUTOR. ⓘ 15c.

exegesis /ɛksəˈdʒiːsɪs/ ▷ noun (exegeses /-siːz/) a critical explanation of a text, especially of the Bible. ● exegetic /-ˈdʒɛtɪk/ or exegetical adj critically explaining a text. ● exegetically adverb. ⓘ 17c: Greek, meaning 'explanation'.

exemplar /ɪɡˈzɛmplɑː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or thing worth copying; a model. 2 a typical example. ⓘ 14c: from Latin exemplum example.

exemplary /ɪɡˈzɛmplərɪ/ adj 1 worth following as an example. 2 serving as an illustration or warning. ● exemplarily adverb. ● exemplariness noun. ⓘ 16c.

exemplary damages ▷ plural noun, law damages in excess of the value needed to compensate the plaintiff, awarded as a punishment to the offender.

exemplify /ɪɡˈzɛmplɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (exemplifies, exemplified, exemplifying) 1 to be an example of something. 2 to show an example of something, or show it by means of an example. ● exemplifiable adj. ● exemplification noun. ⓘ 15c.

exempt /ɪɡˈzɛmt/ ▷ verb (exempted, exempting) to free someone from a duty or obligation that applies to others. ▷ adj free from some obligation; not liable. ● exemption noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin eximere, exemptum to take out.

exequies /ˈɛksəkwɪz/ ▷ plural noun, formal funeral rites. ● exequial /ɛkˈsiːkwɪəl/ adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin exequiae, from exequi to follow to the end.

exercise /ˈɛksəsaɪz/ ▷ noun 1 physical training or exertion for health or pleasure. 2 an activity intended to develop a skill. 3 a task designed to test ability. 4 a piece of written work intended as practice for learners. 5 formal the act of putting something into practice or carrying it out ▫ the exercise of one's duty. 6 (usually exercises) military training and practice for soldiers. ▷ verb (exercised, exercising) 1 tr & intr to give exercise to (oneself, or someone or something else). 2 to use something or bring it into use ▫ exercised his right to appeal. 3 to trouble, concern, or occupy someone's thoughts. ● exercisable adj. ● exerciser noun. ● the object of the exercise the purpose of a particular operation or activity. ⓘ 14c: from French exercice, from Latin exercere to keep busy.

exercise bike, exercise bicycle or exercise cycle ▷ noun a stationary machine which is pedalled like a bicycle against adjustable resistance.

exercise book ▷ noun 1 a notebook for writing exercises in. 2 a book containing exercises to practise.

exert /ɪɡˈzɜːt/ ▷ verb (exerted, exerting) 1 to bring something into use or action forcefully ▫ exert one's authority. 2 (exert oneself) to force oneself to make a strenuous, especially physical, effort. ● exertion noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin exserere, exsertum to thrust out.

exes[1] /ˈɛksɪz/ ▷ plural noun, colloq expenses. ⓘ 19c.

exes[2] see under EX[1] exeunt /ˈɛksɪʌnt, -ənt/ ▷ verb, theat as a stage direction: leave the stage; they leave the stage. ● exeunt omnes all leave the stage. See also EXIT. ⓘ 15c: Latin, meaning 'they go out', from exire to go out + omnis all or every.

exfoliate /ɛksˈfoʊlɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (exfoliated, exfoliating) tr & intr said of bark, rocks or skin, etc: to shed or peel off in flakes or layers. ● exfoliation noun. ● exfoliative /-ətɪv/ adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin exfoliare, exfoliatum to strip of leaves.

ex gratia /ɛks ˈɡreɪʃɪə/ ▷ adverb, adj given as a favour, not in recognition of any obligation, especially a legal one. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning 'as a favour'.

exhale /ɛksˈheɪl/ ▷ verb (exhaled, exhaling) tr & intr 1 to breathe out. 2 to give off or be given off. Compare INHALE. ● exhalation /ɛkshəˈleɪʃən/ noun. ⓘ 14c: from French exhaler, from Latin ex out + halare to breathe.

exhaust /ɪɡˈzɔːst/ ▷ verb (exhausted, exhausting) 1 to make (a person or animal) very tired. 2 to use something up completely. 3 to say all that can be said about (a subject, etc). 4 engineering to empty (a container) or draw off (gas). ▷ noun 1 the escape of waste gases from an engine, etc. 2 the gases themselves. 3 the part or parts of an engine, etc through which the waste gases escape. ● exhausted adj. ● exhaustible adj. ● exhausting adj. ● exhaustion noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin exhaurire, exhaustum to draw off or drain away.

exhaustive /ɪɡˈzɔːstɪv/ adj complete; comprehensive or very thorough. • exhaustively adverb. ◎ 18c.

exhibit /ɪɡˈzɪbɪt/ ▷ verb (exhibited, exhibiting) 1 to present or display something for public appreciation. 2 to show or manifest (a quality, etc). ▷ noun 1 an object displayed publicly, eg in a museum. 2 law an object or article produced in court as part of the evidence. • exhibitor noun a person who provides an exhibit for a public display. ◎ 15c: from Latin exhibere, exhibitum to produce or show.

exhibition /ɛksɪˈbɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a display, eg of works of art, to the public. 2 the act or an instance of showing something, eg a quality. 3 a scholarship awarded by a college or university. • exhibitioner noun a student receiving an educational exhibition. • make an exhibition of oneself to behave foolishly in public. ◎ 15c.

exhibitionism ▷ noun 1 derog the tendency to behave so as to attract attention to oneself. 2 psychol the compulsive desire to expose one's sexual organs publicly. • exhibitionist noun. • exhibitionistic adj.

exhilarate /ɪɡˈzɪləreɪt/ ▷ verb (exhilarated, exhilarating) to fill someone with a lively cheerfulness. • exhilarating adj. • exhilaratingly adverb. • exhilaration noun a feeling of extreme cheerfulness. • exhilarative /-rətɪv/ adj. ◎ 16c: from Latin exhilarare, exhilaratum, from hilaris cheerful.

exhort /ɪɡˈzɔːt/ ▷ verb (exhorted, exhorting) to urge or advise someone strongly and sincerely. • exhortation noun a strong appeal or urging. • exhortative /-tətɪv/ or exhortatory /-tətərɪ/ adj. ◎ 14c: from Latin exhortari to encourage, from hortari to urge.

exhume /ɪɡˈzjuːm/ ▷ verb (exhumed, exhuming) formal 1 to dig up (a body) from a grave. 2 to reveal; to bring something up or mention it again. • exhumation /ɛkshjuˈmeɪʃən/ noun the digging up of a body from a grave. ◎ 18c: from Latin ex out of + humus the ground.

exigency /ˈɛksɪdʒənsɪ, ɪɡˈzɪdʒənsɪ/ ▷ noun (exigencies) formal 1 (usually exigencies) urgent need. 2 an emergency. ◎ 16c: from Latin exigere to drive out.

exigent /ˈɛksɪdʒənt/ ▷ adj, formal 1 pressing; urgent. 2 demanding. ◎ 15c: from Latin exigens, exigentis.

exiguous /ɪɡˈzɪɡjuəs/ formal ▷ adj scarce or meagre; insufficient. • exiguousness or exiguity /ɛksɪˈɡjuːɪtɪ/ noun. • exiguously adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin exiguus small or meagre.

exile /ˈɛksaɪl, ˈɛɡzaɪl/ ▷ noun 1 enforced or regretted absence from one's country or town, especially for a long time and often as a punishment. 2 someone who suffers such absence. ▷ verb (exiled, exiling) to send someone into exile. ◎ 13c: from Latin exsilium banishment, from ex out of + salire to leap.

ex int. ▷ abbreviation, finance without interest.

exist /ɪɡˈzɪst/ ▷ verb (existed, existing) intr 1 to be, especially to be present in the real world or universe rather than in story or imagination. 2 to occur or be found. 3 to manage to stay alive; to live with only the most basic necessities of life. ◎ 17c: from Latin exsistere to stand out.

existence ▷ noun 1 the state of existing. 2 a life, or a way of living. 3 everything that exists. • existent adj having an actual being; existing. ◎ 14c meaning 'actuality' 'reality'.

existential /ɛɡzɪˈstɛnʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to human existence. 2 philos relating to existentialism. ◎ 17c.

existentialism ▷ noun a philosophy that emphasizes freedom of choice and personal responsibility for one's own actions, which create one's own moral values and determine one's future. • existentialist adj, noun. ◎ 1940s: from German Existentialismus.

exit /ˈɛksɪt, ˈɛɡzɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a way out of a building, etc. 2 going out or departing. 3 an actor's departure from the stage. 4 a place where vehicles can leave a motorway or main road. 5 computing the last instruction of a subroutine. ▷ verb (exited, exiting) intr 1 formal to go out, leave or depart. 2 theat a to leave the stage; b as a stage direction: (exit) he or she leaves the stage. See also EXEUNT. 3 computing to leave (a program or system, etc). ◎ 16c: from Latin exire, exitum to go out.

exit poll ▷ noun a poll of a sample of voters in an election, taken as they leave a polling-station, and used to give an early indication of voting trends in a particular election.

exo- /ɛksou, ɛkˈsɒ/ or (before a vowel) ex- ▷ combining form out or outside. See also ECTO-, ENDO-, ENTO-. ◎ From Greek exo outside.

exobiology ▷ noun, astron the study of living organisms that may exist elsewhere in the universe, methods of detecting them, and the possible effects of extraterrestrial conditions on terrestrial life forms. • exobiological adj. • exobiologist noun. ◎ 1960s.

exocarp ▷ noun, bot the outer layer of the EPICARP. ◎ 19c.

Exocet /ˈɛksouset/ ▷ noun, trademark a subsonic tactical missile, launched from a ship, aircraft or submarine and travelling at low altitude. ◎ 1970: French, from Latin Exocoetus volitans the flying fish.

exocrine /ˈɛksoukraɪn, -krɪn/ physiol ▷ adj 1 relating to external secretions, or to a pathway or structure that secretes externally. 2 said of a gland, such as the sweat gland or salivary gland: discharging its secretions through a duct which opens onto an epithelial surface. See also ENDOCRINE. ▷ noun an exocrine gland. ◎ Early 20c: from EXO- + Greek krinein to separate.

Exod or Exod. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Exodus. See table at BIBLE.

exoderm see ECTODERM.

exodus /ˈɛksədəs/ ▷ noun (exoduses) 1 a mass departure of people. 2 (Exodus) the departure of the Israelites from Egypt, probably in the 13c BC. ◎ 17c; Anglo-Saxon in sense 2: Latin, from Greek exodos, from ex out + hodos way.

ex officio /ɛks əˈfɪʃɪou/ ▷ adverb, adj by virtue of one's official position. ◎ 16c: Latin.

exogamy /ɛkˈsɒɡəmɪ/ ▷ noun 1 anthropol the practice of marrying only outside of one's own group. 2 biol the union of GAMETES from unrelated individuals. • exogamic or exogamous adj. ◎ 19c.

exogenous /ɛkˈsɒdʒənəs/ ▷ adj, biol 1 originating outside a cell, organ or organism. 2 growing from near the surface of a living organism. ◎ 19c.

exon /ˈɛksɒn/ ▷ noun, genetics any segment of DNA in a gene that is transcribed into MESSENGER RNA and then into protein. See also INTRON. ◎ 1970s.

exonerate /ɪɡˈzɒnəreɪt/ ▷ verb (exonerated, exonerating) to free someone from blame, or acquit them of a criminal charge. • exoneration noun. • exonerative /-rətɪv/ adj. ◎ 16c: from Latin exonerare, exoneratum, from ex from + onus burden.

exophthalmia /ɛksɒfˈθalmɪə/, exophthalmos and exophthalmus /-ˈθalməs/ ▷ noun, pathol protrusion of the eyeballs. • exophthalmic adj. ◎ Late 19c: from Greek ex out + opthalmos eye.

exophthalmic goitre ▷ noun, pathol a form of hyperthyroidism marked by exophthalmia and swelling of the thyroid gland.

exor ▷ abbreviation, law executor.

exorbitant /ɪɡˈzɔːbɪtənt/ ▷ adj said of prices or demands: very high, excessive or unfair. • exorbitance noun. • exorbitantly adverb. ◎ 15c: from Latin exorbitare to go out of the track, from ex out of + orbita track.

exorcize or exorcise /ˈɛksɔːsaɪz/ ▷ verb (exorcized, exorcizing) in some beliefs: 1 to drive away (an evil spirit or influence) with prayer or holy words. 2 to free (a person or place) from the influence of an evil spirit in this way. • exorcism /-sɪzəm/ noun. • exorcist noun. ⓘ 17c; 16c in sense 2: from Greek exorkizein, from ex- out + horkos an oath.

exoskeleton ▷ noun, zool in some invertebrates: an external skeleton forming a rigid covering that is external to the body. • exoskeletal adj. ⓘ 19c.

exosphere ▷ noun, astron the outermost layer of the Earth's atmosphere, which starts at an altitude of about 500km. • exospheric /-ˈsferɪk/ or exospherical adj. ⓘ 1940s: from EXO-, modelled on ATMOSPHERE.

exothermic reaction ▷ noun, chem any process, especially a chemical reaction, that involves the release of heat. ⓘ 19c.

exotic /ɪgˈzɒtɪk/ ▷ adj 1 introduced from a foreign country, especially a distant and tropical country ▫ exotic plants. 2 interestingly different or strange, especially colourful and rich, and suggestive of a distant land. ▷ noun an exotic person or thing. • exotically adverb. • exoticism noun. ⓘ 16c: from Greek exotikos, from exo outside.

exotica /ɪgˈzɒtɪkə/ ▷ plural noun strange or rare objects. ⓘ 19c: Latin, neuter plural of exoticus EXOTIC.

exotic dancer ▷ noun a striptease dancer or belly-dancer.

expand /ɪkˈspand/ ▷ verb (expanded, expanding) 1 tr & intr to make or become greater in size, extent or importance. 2 intr, formal to become more at ease or more open and talkative. 3 tr & intr, formal to fold out flat or spread out. 4 to write something out in full. 5 math to multiply out (terms in brackets). • expandable adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin expandere, expansum to spread out.

▪ expand on or upon something to give additional information; to enlarge on (a description, etc).

expanded adj said of plastic: combined with a gas during manufacture to produce a lightweight insulating or packaging material ▫ expanded polystyrene.

expanded metal ▷ noun steel, etc stretched to form a mesh, used for reinforcing concrete, etc.

expander noun 1 a device used for exercising and developing muscles. 2 electronics a device which increases the range of amplitude variations in a transmission system.

expanding universe theory ▷ noun, astron the theory that the whole universe is constantly expanding and the galaxies are moving away from each other.

expanse /ɪkˈspans/ ▷ noun a wide area or space. ⓘ 17c: from Latin expansum.

expansible ▷ adj able to expand or be expanded. • expansibility noun. • expansible adverb. ⓘ 17c.

expansion ▷ noun 1 the act or state of expanding. 2 the amount by which something expands. 3 math the result of expanding terms in brackets. • expansionary adj. ⓘ 15c.

expansion board and expansion card ▷ noun, computing a printed circuit board which can be inserted into an expansion slot, a connector in a computer which allows extra facilities to be added either temporarily or permanently.

expansion bolt ▷ noun a bolt that expands within a hole or crack, etc to provide a firm support.

expansionism noun the act or practice of increasing territory or political influence or authority, usually at the expense of other nations or bodies. • expansionist noun, adj.

expansion joint ▷ noun, engineering a gap left at a joint, eg between lengths of rail or sections of concrete, to allow for heat expansion.

expansive /ɪkˈspansɪv/ ▷ adj 1 ready or eager to talk; open or effusive. 2 wide-ranging. 3 able or tending to expand. • expansively adverb. • expansiveness noun.

expat /ɛksˈpat/ ▷ noun, colloq an EXPATRIATE. ⓘ 1960s.

expatiate /ɪkˈspeɪʃɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (expatiated, expatiating) intr, formal to talk or write at length or in detail. • expatiation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin exspatiari to digress, from ex out of + spatium course.

expatriate ▷ adj /ɪkˈspatrɪət, -ˈpeɪt-/ 1 living abroad, especially for a long but limited period. 2 exiled. ▷ noun a person living or working abroad. ▷ verb /-eɪt/ 1 to banish or exile. 2 to deprive someone of citizenship. • expatriation noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin ex out of + patria native land.

expect /ɪkˈspɛkt/ ▷ verb (expected, expecting) 1 to think of something as likely to happen or come. 2 colloq to suppose ▫ I expect you're tired. • expectable adj. • expectably adverb. • be expecting colloq to be pregnant. ⓘ 16c: from Latin exspectare to look out for.

▪ expect something from or of someone to require it of them; to regard it as normal or reasonable.

expectancy noun (expectancies) 1 the act or state of expecting. 2 a future chance or probability. Also in compounds ▫ life expectancy.

expectant adj 1 eagerly waiting; hopeful. 2 not yet, but expecting to be something (especially a mother or father). • expectantly adverb.

expectation noun 1 the state, or an attitude, of expecting. 2 (often expectations) something expected, whether good or bad. 3 (usually expectations) money or property, etc that one expects to gain, especially by inheritance.

expectation of life see LIFE EXPECTANCY.

expectorant medicine, adj causing the coughing up of phlegm. ▷ noun an expectorant medicine.

expectorate /ɪkˈspɛktəreɪt/ ▷ verb (expectorated, expectorating) tr & intr, medicine to cough up and spit out (phlegm). ⓘ 17c: from Latin expectorare, from ex from + pectus the chest.

expectoration noun 1 the act of expectorating. 2 the matter coughed up, spittle or phlegm.

expedient /ɪkˈspiːdɪənt/ ▷ adj 1 suitable or appropriate. 2 practical or advantageous, rather than morally correct. ▷ noun a suitable method or solution, especially one quickly thought of to meet an urgent need. • expediency or expedience noun (expediencies or expediences) 1 suitability or convenience. 2 practical advantage or self-interest, especially as opposed to moral correctness. • expediently adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin expediens setting free.

expedite /ˈɛkspədaɪt/ ▷ verb (expedited, expediting) 1 to speed up, or assist the progress of something. 2 to carry something out quickly. ⓘ 15c in sense 2: from Latin expedire set free, literally 'free the feet'.

expedition /ɛkspəˈdɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an organized journey with a specific purpose. 2 a group making such a journey. 3 formal speed or promptness. • expeditionary adj relating to, forming, or for use on, an expedition. ⓘ 15c: from Latin expeditio.

expeditious /ɛkspəˈdɪʃəs/ ▷ adj, formal carried out with speed and efficiency. • expeditiously adverb. ⓘ 15c.

expel /ɪkˈspɛl/ ▷ verb (expelled, expelling) 1 to dismiss from or deprive someone of membership of (a club or school, etc), usually permanently as punishment for misconduct. 2 to get rid of something; to force it out. • expellable adj. • expellee noun (expellees) a person who is expelled. ⓘ 14c: from Latin expellere to drive out.

expend /ɪkˈspɛnd/ ▷ verb (expended, expending) to use or spend (time, supplies or effort, etc). ⓘ 15c: from Latin expendere to weigh out.

expendable adj 1 that may be given up or sacrificed for some purpose or cause. 2 not valuable enough to be worth preserving. ● expendability noun.

expendable launch vehicle ▷ noun, space flight a launch vehicle made up of throwaway stages with no recoverable parts.

expenditure noun 1 the act of expending. 2 an amount expended, especially of money.

expense /ɪk'spens/ ▷ noun 1 the act of spending money, or the amount of money spent. 2 something on which money is spent. 3 (expenses) a sum of one's own money spent doing one's job, or this sum of money or an allowance paid by one's employer to make up for this. ● at the expense of something or someone 1 with the loss or sacrifice of them. 2 causing damage to their pride or reputation □ a joke at my expense. 3 with the cost paid by them. ⓘ 14c: from Latin expensa, from expendere to weigh out.

expense account ▷ noun 1 an arrangement by which expenses incurred during the performance of an employee's duties are reimbursed by the employer. 2 a statement of such incurred expenses.

expensive ▷ adj involving much expense; costing a great deal. ● expensively adverb. ● expensiveness noun. ⓘ 17c.

experience /ɪk'spɪərɪəns/ ▷ noun 1 practice in an activity. 2 knowledge or skill gained through practice. 3 wisdom gained through long and varied observation of life. 4 an event which affects or involves one. ▷ verb (experienced, experiencing) 1 to have practical acquaintance with someone or something. 2 to feel or undergo. ● experienced adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin experientia, from experiri to try.

experiential /ɪkspɪərɪ'enʃəl/ philos ▷ adj said of knowledge or learning: based on direct experience, as distinct from theoretical knowledge. ● experientialism noun the doctrine that all knowledge comes from experience. ● experientialist noun. ● experientially adverb in terms of direct experience. ⓘ 19c.

experiment /ɪk'sperɪmənt/ ▷ noun 1 a trial carried out in order to test a theory, a machine's performance, etc or to discover something unknown. 2 the carrying out of such trials. 3 an attempt at something original. ▷ verb (experimented, experimenting) intr (usually experiment on or with something) to carry out an experiment. ● experimentation noun the process of experimenting; experimental procedure. ● experimenter noun. ⓘ 14c.

experimental /ɪksperɪ'mentəl/ ▷ adj 1 consisting of or like an experiment. 2 relating to, or used in, experiments. 3 trying out new styles and techniques. ● experimentally adverb. ● experimentalism noun use of, or reliance on, experiment. ● experimentalist noun. ● experimentally adverb. ⓘ 16c.

expert /'ɛkspɜːt/ ▷ noun someone with great skill in, or extensive knowledge of, a particular subject. ▷ adj 1 highly skilled or extremely knowledgeable. 2 relating to or done by an expert or experts. ● expertly adverb. ⓘ 14c as adj; 19c as noun: from Latin expertus, from experiri to try.

expertise /ɛkspɜː'tiːz/ noun special skill or knowledge. ⓘ 19c.

expert system ▷ noun, computing a program that is designed to solve problems by utilizing both knowledge and reasoning derived from human expertise in a particular field. ⓘ 1980s.

expiate /'ɛkspɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (expiated, expiating) to make amends for (a wrong). ● expiable adj capable of being atoned for or done away with. ● expiation noun. ● expiator noun. ● expiatory adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin expiare, expiatum to atone for.

expire /ɪk'spaɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (expired, expiring) intr 1 to come to an end or cease to be valid. 2 to breathe out. 3 to die. ● expiration /ɛkspɪ'reɪʃən/ noun, formal 1 expiry. 2 the act or process of breathing out. ⓘ 15c: from Latin exspirare to breathe out.

expiry /ɪk'spaɪərɪ/ noun (expiries) the ending of the duration or validity of something. ⓘ 18c.

explain /ɪk'spleɪn/ ▷ verb (explained, explaining) tr & intr 1 to make something clear or easy to understand. 2 to give, or be, a reason for or account for. 3 (explain oneself) a to justify (oneself or one's actions); b to clarify one's meaning or intention. ● explainable adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin explanare to make flat.

■ explain something away to dismiss it or lessen its importance by explanation.

explanation /ɛksplə'neɪʃən/ noun 1 the act or process of explaining. 2 a statement or fact that explains.

explanatory /ɪk'splanətərɪ/ adj serving to explain.

explantation /ɛksplɑːn'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun, biol the process of culturing a part or organ removed from a living individual in an artificial medium. ⓘ Early 20c: from Latin explantare, from ex out + plantare to plant.

expletive /ɪk'spliːtɪv/ ▷ noun 1 a swear-word or curse. 2 a word added to fill a gap, eg in poetry. 3 a meaningless exclamation. ▷ adj (also expletory /-tərɪ/) being, or like, such a word or exclamation. ⓘ 17c: from Latin explere, expletum to fill up.

explicable /ɪk'splɪkəbəl, 'ɛks-/ ▷ adj able to be explained. ⓘ 16c.

explicate /'ɛksplɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (explicated, explicating) 1 to explain (especially a literary work) in depth, with close analysis of particular points. 2 to unfold or develop (an idea or theory, etc). ● explication noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin explicare, explicatum to fold out.

explicit /ɪk'splɪsɪt/ ▷ adj 1 stated or shown fully and clearly. 2 speaking plainly and openly. ● explicitly adverb. ● explicitness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin explicitus straightforward.

explode /ɪk'sploʊd/ ▷ verb (exploded, exploding) 1 intr said of a substance: to undergo an explosion. 2 to cause something to undergo an explosion. 3 intr to undergo a violent explosion as a result of a chemical or nuclear reaction. 4 intr to suddenly show a strong or violent emotion, especially anger. 5 to disprove (a theory, etc) with vigour. 6 intr said especially of population: to increase rapidly. ⓘ 17c; 16c in obsolete sense 'to reject scornfully': from Latin explodere to force off stage by clapping, from plaudere to clap the hands.

exploded ▷ adj 1 blown up. 2 said of a theory, etc: no longer accepted; proved false. 3 said of a diagram: showing the different parts of something relative to, but slightly separated from, each other.

exploding star ▷ noun, astron a star that flares up, such as a NOVA or SUPERNOVA.

exploit ▷ noun /'ɛksplɔɪt/ (usually exploits) an act or feat, especially a bold or daring one. ▷ verb /ɪk'splɔɪt/ (exploited, exploiting) 1 to take unfair advantage of something or someone so as to achieve one's own aims. 2 to make good use of something. ● exploitable adj. ● exploitation /ɛksplɔɪ'teɪʃən/ noun. ● exploitative /ɪk'splɔɪtətɪv/ or exploitive adj. ● exploiter noun. ⓘ 14c noun, meaning 'progress' or 'success': from Latin explicitum unfolded.

exploratory /ɪk'splɒrətərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 said of talks, etc: serving to establish procedures or ground rules. 2 said of surgery: aiming to establish the nature of a complaint rather than treat it.

explore /ɪk'splɔː(r)/ ▷ verb (explored, exploring) 1 to search or travel through (a place) for the purpose of discovery. 2 to examine something carefully □ explore every possibility. ● exploration /ɛksplə'reɪʃən/ noun. ● explorative /ɪk'splɒrətɪv/ adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin explorare to search out.

explorer noun a person who explores unfamiliar territory, especially as a profession or habitually.

Explorer spacecraft ▷ noun, astron a series of US satellites.

explosion /ɪk'sploʊʒən/ ▷ noun 1 chem a sudden and violent increase in pressure, which generates large amounts of heat and destructive shock waves that travel outward from the point of explosion and are heard as a loud bang. 2 the sudden loud noise that accompanies such a reaction. 3 a sudden display of strong feelings, etc. 4 a sudden great increase. ⓘ 17c: from Latin explodere, explosum.

explosion welding ▷ noun the welding of metals with very different melting points by means of pressure produced by an explosion.

explosive /ɪk'sploʊsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 likely, tending or able to explode. 2 likely to become marked by physical violence or emotional outbursts. 3 likely to result in violence or an outburst of feeling □ an explosive situation. ▷ noun any substance that is capable of producing an explosion, especially one created to do so. ● explosively adverb. ● explosiveness noun.

expo /'ɛkspoʊ/ ▷ noun (expos) colloq a large public exhibition. ⓘ Early 20c: from EXPOSITION.

exponent /ɪks'poʊnənt/ ▷ noun 1 someone able to perform some art or activity, especially skilfully. 2 someone who explains and promotes (a theory or belief, etc). 3 math a number that indicates how many times a given quantity, called the base, is to be multiplied by itself, usually denoted by a superscript number or symbol immediately after the quantity concerned, eg $6^4 = 6 \times 6 \times 6 \times 6$. Also called power, index. ⓘ 16c: from Latin exponere to set out.

exponential /ɛkspə'nɛnʃəl/ math, adj 1 denoting a function that varies according to the power of another quantity, ie a function in which the variable quantity is an EXPONENT, eg if $y = a^x$, then y varies exponentially with x. 2 denoting a logarithmic increase or decrease in numbers of a population, eg exponential growth of bacteria or an exponential decay of radioactive isotopes. ▷ noun (also exponential function) the function e^x, where e is a constant with a value of approximately 2.718. ● exponentially adverb on an exponential basis; very rapidly. ⓘ 18c.

exponential curve ▷ noun, math a curve expressed by an exponential equation in which the variable occurs in the EXPONENT of one or more terms.

export ▷ verb /ɪk'spɔːt/ (exported, exporting) to send or take (goods, etc) to another country, especially for sale. ▷ noun /'ɛkspɔːt/ 1 the act or business of exporting. 2 something exported. ● exportable adj. ● exportability noun. ● exportation noun the exporting of goods. ● exporter noun a person or business that exports goods commercially. ⓘ 17c;15c meaning 'to take away': from Latin exportare to carry away.

export reject ▷ noun a manufactured article that is flawed in some way and so not passed for export, often sold at a reduced price on the home market.

expose /ɪk'spoʊz/ ▷ verb (exposed, exposing) 1 to remove cover, protection or shelter from something, or to allow this to be the case □ exposed to the wind □ exposed to criticism. 2 to discover something (eg a criminal or crime) or make it known. 3 to allow light to fall on (a photographic film or paper) when taking or printing a photograph. ● exposal noun 1 exposure. 2 exposition. ● expose oneself to display one's sexual organs in public. ⓘ 15c: from French exposer to set out.

■ expose someone to something to cause or allow them to have experience of it.

exposé /ɛk'spoʊzeɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a formal statement of facts, especially one that introduces an argument. 2 an article or programme which exposes a public scandal or crime, etc. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'set out' or 'exposed'.

exposition /ɛkspə'zɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an in-depth explanation or account (of a subject). 2 the act of presenting such an explanation, or a viewpoint. 3 a large public exhibition. 4 music the part of a sonata, fugue, etc, in which themes are presented. ● expositional adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin expositio a setting out.

expository /ɪk'spɒzɪtərɪ/ adj explanatory; serving as, or like, an explanation.

ex post facto /ɛks poʊst 'faktoʊ/ ▷ adj retrospective. ▷ adverb retrospectively. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'from what is done or enacted after'.

expostulate /ɪks'pɒstjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (expostulated, expostulating) intr (usually expostulate with someone about something) to argue or reason with them, especially in protest or so as to dissuade them. ● expostulation noun. ● expostulative /-lətɪv/ or expostulatory /-lətərɪ/ adj. ● expostulator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin expostulare to demand.

exposure /ɪk'spoʊʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the act of exposing or the state of being exposed. 2 the harmful effects on the body of extreme cold. 3 the number or regularity of someone's appearances in public, eg on TV. 4 the act of exposing photographic film or paper to light. 5 the amount of light to which a film or paper is exposed, or the length of time for which it is exposed. 6 the amount of film exposed or to be exposed in order to produce one photograph.

exposure meter ▷ noun, photog a device, now often incorporated in the camera, for measuring the light falling on, or reflected by, a photographic subject.

expound /ɪk'spaʊnd/ ▷ verb (expounded, expounding) 1 to explain something in depth. 2 (often expound on something) intr to talk at length about it. ● expounder noun. ⓘ 14c as expoun: from Latin exponere to set out.

express /ɪk'sprɛs/ ▷ verb (expresses, expressed, expressing) 1 to put something into words. 2 to indicate or represent something with looks, actions, symbols, etc. 3 to show or reveal. 4 to press or squeeze out something. 5 to send something by fast delivery service. ▷ adj 1 said of a train, etc: travelling especially fast, with few stops. 2 belonging or referring to, or sent by, a fast delivery service. 3 clearly stated □ his express wish. 4 particular; clear □ with the express purpose of insulting him. ▷ noun (expresses) 1 an express train. 2 an express delivery service. ▷ adverb by express delivery service. ● expressible adj. ● expressly adverb 1 clearly and definitely. 2 particularly or specifically. ● express oneself to put one's thoughts into words. ⓘ 14c: from Latin exprimere, expressum to press out.

express delivery ▷ noun 1 immediate delivery by special messenger. 2 delivery by an agency offering this service.

expression /ɪk'sprɛʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of expressing. 2 a look on the face that displays feelings. 3 a word or phrase. 4 the indication of feeling, eg in a manner of speaking or a way of playing music. 5 math a symbol or combination of symbols. ● expressionless adj said of a face or voice: showing no feeling. ⓘ 15c.

Expressionism or expressionism ▷ noun a movement in art, architecture and literature which aims to communicate the internal emotional realities of a situation, rather than its external 'realistic' aspect. ● Expressionist noun a person, especially a painter, who practises Expressionism. Also as adj. ● expressionistic adj. ⓘ Early 20c.

expression mark ▷ noun a direction marked on a piece of music, usually in Italian.

expressive /ɪk'sprɛsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 showing meaning or feeling in a clear or lively way. 2 (always expressive of something) expressing a feeling or emotion □ words expressive of anger. ■ expressively adverb. ■ expressiveness noun.

expressly see under EXPRESS expresso see ESPRESSO

express train ▷ noun a railway train which travels at high speed, making few or no scheduled stops before its final destination.

expressway ▷ noun, N Amer a motorway.

expropriate /ɪks'proʊprɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (expropriated, expropriating) formal or law said especially of the state: to take (property, etc) from its owner for some special use. ■ expropriation noun. ■ expropriator noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin expropriare, from proprium property.

expulsion /ɪk'spʌlʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of expelling from school or a club, etc. 2 the act of forcing or driving out. ⓘ 14c: from Latin expulsio a forcing out.

expulsive /ɪk'spʌlsɪv/ adj having the power to expel or drive out.

expunge /ɪk'spʌndʒ/ ▷ verb (expunged, expunging) 1 to cross out or delete something (eg a passage from a book). 2 to cancel out or destroy something. ■ expunction /ɪk'spʌŋkʃən/ noun. ■ expunger noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin expungere to mark for deletion by a row of dots, from pungere to prick.

expurgate /'ɛkspəgeɪt/ ▷ verb (expurgated, expurgating) 1 to revise (a book) by removing objectionable or offensive words or passages. 2 to remove (such words or passages). ■ expurgation noun. ■ expurgator noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin expurgare to purify.

exquisite /ɪk'skwɪzɪt, 'ɛkskwɪzɪt/ ▷ adj 1 extremely beautiful or skilfully produced. 2 able to exercise sensitive judgement; discriminating ▫ exquisite taste. 3 said of pain or pleasure, etc: extreme. ■ exquisitely adverb. ■ exquisiteness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin exquisitus, from exquirere to search out.

ex's see under EX[1]

ex-serviceman and ex-servicewoman ▷ noun a former male or female member of the armed forces.

ext. ▷ abbreviation 1 extension. 2 exterior. 3 external or externally.

extant /'ɛkstənt/ ▷ adj still existing; surviving. ⓘ 16c: from Latin extans, extantis, from exstare to stand out.

extempore /ɪk'stɛmpərɪ/ ▷ adverb, adj without planning or preparation; off the cuff. ■ extemporaneous /-'reɪnɪəs/ or extemporary adj 1 spoken or done, etc without preparation; impromptu. 2 makeshift or improvised. ■ extemporaneously or extemporarily adverb. ■ extemporaneousness or extemporariness noun. ⓘ 16c: Latin ex tempore on the spur of the moment.

extemporize or extemporise /ɪk'stɛmpəraɪz/ ▷ verb (extemporized, extemporizing) tr & intr to speak or perform without preparation. ■ extemporization noun. ⓘ 17c.

extend /ɪk'stɛnd/ ▷ verb (extended, extending) 1 to make something longer or larger. 2 tr & intr to reach or stretch in space or time. 3 to hold out or stretch out (a hand, etc). 4 to offer (kindness or greetings, etc) to someone. 5 to increase something in scope. 6 (always extend to something) intr to include or go as far as it ▫ Their kindness did not extend to lending money. 7 to exert someone to their physical or mental limit ▫ extend oneself. ■ extendability, extendibility or extensibility noun. ■ extendable, extendible, extensible or extensile adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin extendere, extensum to stretch out.

extended family ▷ noun the family as a unit including all relatives. Compare NUCLEAR FAMILY.

extended-play ▷ adj (abbreviation EP) said of a gramophone RECORD (noun 4): with each side playing for about twice the length of a single. ⓘ 1950s.

extensification ▷ noun, agric a policy within the European Community by which land is farmed less intensively, with savings in expenditure balancing the loss of income from lower production. Compare EXTENSIVE FARMING, INTENSIVE FARMING, FACTORY FARMING at FACTORY FARM.

extension /ɪk'stɛnʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of extending something, or the state of being extended. 2 an added part, that makes the original larger or longer. 3 a subsidiary or extra telephone, connected to the main line. 4 an extra period beyond an original time limit. 5 a scheme by which services, eg those of a university or library, are made available to non-members ▫ an extension course. 6 range or extent. 7 logic the extent of the application of a term or the number of objects included under it. Opposite of INTENSION. ⓘ 14c.

extensive /ɪk'stɛnsɪv/ ▷ adj large in area, amount, range or effect. ■ extensively adverb to an extensive degree; widely. ■ extensiveness noun. ⓘ 17c.

extensive farming ▷ noun, agric farming in which a relatively small crop is produced in return for a relatively low level of expenditure. Compare EXTENSIFICATION, INTENSIVE FARMING, FACTORY FARMING at FACTORY FARM.

extensor /ɪk'stɛnsə(r)/ ▷ noun, physiol any of various muscles that straighten out parts of the body. Compare FLEXOR. ⓘ 18c: from Latin extendere, extensum to stretch out.

extent /ɪk'stɛnt/ ▷ noun 1 the area over which something extends. 2 amount, scope or degree. ⓘ 15c.

extenuate /ɪk'stɛnjʊeɪt/ ▷ verb (extenuated, extenuating) to reduce the seriousness of (an offence) by giving an explanation that partly excuses it. ■ extenuating adj said especially of a circumstance: reducing the seriousness of an offence by partially excusing it. ■ extenuatingly adverb. ■ extenuation noun. ⓘ 16c; 15c in obsolete sense 'to emaciate': from Latin extenuare to make thin or to lessen.

exterior /ɪk'stɪərɪə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 on, from, or for use on the outside. 2 foreign, or dealing with foreign nations. 3 cinema outdoor. ▷ noun 1 an outside part or surface. 2 an outward appearance, especially when intended to conceal or deceive. 3 an outdoor scene in a film, etc. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from exterus on the outside.

exterior angle ▷ noun, math the angle between any extended side and the adjacent side of a polygon.

exteriorize or exteriorise /ɪk'stɪərɪəraɪz/ ▷ verb (exteriorized, exteriorizing) 1 to externalize. 2 surgery to bring an internal organ or part of one outside the body temporarily. ■ exteriorization noun. ⓘ 19c.

exterminate /ɪk'stɜːmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (exterminated, exterminating) to get rid of or completely destroy (something living). ■ extermination noun the total destruction of something living. ■ exterminator noun a person or thing that destroys something living. ⓘ 16c meaning 'to banish': from Latin exterminare to drive away, from ex out + terminus boundary.

external /ɪk'stɜːnəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging to, for, from or on the outside. 2 being of the world, as opposed to the mind ▫ external realities. 3 foreign; involving foreign nations ▫ external affairs. 4 said of a medicine: to be applied on the outside of the body, not swallowed, etc. 5 taking place, or coming from, outside one's school or university, etc ▫ an external examination. ▷ noun 1 (often externals) an outward appearance or feature, especially when superficial or insignificant. 2 colloq an external examination or examiner. ■ externally adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin externus, from exterus on the outside.

externalize or externalise ▷ verb (externalized, externalising) 1 to express (thoughts, feelings or ideas, etc) in words. 2 psychol to assign (one's feelings) to things outside oneself. 3 to ascribe something to causes outside oneself. ■ externalization noun. ⓘ 19c.

exteroceptor /ˈɛkstərouseptə(r)/ ▷ noun, zool a sensory organ, eg the eye, receiving stimuli from outside the body. ⓘ Early 20c: modelled on RECEPTOR, with exter from EXTERIOR or EXTERNAL.

extinct /ɪkˈstɪŋkt/ ▷ adj 1 said of a species of animal, etc: no longer in existence. 2 said of a volcano: no longer active. 3 formal said of an emotion, etc: no longer felt; dead. • extinction noun 1 the process of making or becoming extinct; elimination or disappearance. 2 biol the total elimination or dying out of any plant or animal species, or a whole group of species, worldwide. ⓘ 15c: from Latin exstinguere, exstinctum to EXTINGUISH.

extinguish /ɪkˈstɪŋgwɪʃ/ ▷ verb (extinguishes, extinguished, extinguishing) 1 to put out (a fire, etc). 2 formal to kill off or destroy (eg passion). 3 law to pay off (a debt). • extinguishable adj. • extinguisher noun 1 a person or thing that extinguishes. 2 a FIRE EXTINGUISHER. ⓘ 16c: from Latin exstinguere.

extirpate /ˈɛkstəpeɪt/ ▷ verb (extirpated, extirpating) 1 formal to destroy completely. 2 formal to uproot. 3 surgery to remove completely. • extirpation noun. • extirpator noun. • extirpatory adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin exstirpare to tear up by the roots, from stirps root or stock.

extol /ɪkˈstoʊl/ ▷ verb (extolled, extolling) rather formal to praise enthusiastically. • extoller noun. • extolment noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin extollere to lift or raise up.

extort /ɪkˈstɔːt/ ▷ verb (extorted, extorting) to obtain (money or information, etc) by threats or violence. • extortion noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin extorquere, extortum to twist or wrench out.

extortionate /ɪkˈstɔːʃənət/ adj 1 said of a price or demand, etc: unreasonably high or great. 2 using extortion. • extortionately adverb.

extra /ˈɛkstrə/ ▷ adj 1 additional; more than is usual, necessary or expected. 2 for which an additional charge is made. ▷ noun (extras) 1 an additional or unexpected thing. 2 a an extra charge; b an item for which this is made. 3 an actor employed temporarily in a small, usually non-speaking, part in a film. 4 a special edition of a newspaper containing later news. 5 cricket a run scored other than by hitting the ball with the bat. ▷ adverb unusually or exceptionally. ⓘ 17c: probably a shortening of EXTRAORDINARY.

extra- /ɛkstrə/ ▷ prefix, signifying outside or beyond □ extra-curricular. ⓘ From Latin extra outside.

extracellular ▷ adj, biol located or taking place outside a cell. ⓘ 19c.

extracorporeal ▷ adj outside the body. ⓘ 19c.

extra cover ▷ noun, cricket 1 a fielding position between COVER and MID-OFF (see under MID-ON). 2 the person in this position.

extract ▷ verb /ɪkˈstrakt/ (extracted, extracting) 1 to pull or draw something out, especially by force or with effort. 2 to separate (a substance) from a liquid or solid mixture. 3 to derive (pleasure, etc). 4 to obtain (money, etc) by threats or violence. 5 to select (passages from a book, etc). ▷ noun /ˈɛkstrakt/ 1 a passage selected from a book, etc. 2 chem a substance that is separated from a liquid or solid mixture by using heat, solvents or distillation, etc. • extractable adj. • extractability noun. • extractor noun 1 a person or thing that extracts. 2 an extractor fan. ⓘ 15c: from Latin extrahere, extractum to draw out.

extraction ▷ noun 1 the act of extracting. 2 the process whereby a metal is obtained from its ore. 3 the removal of a tooth from its socket. 4 the use of a solvent to separate a substance from a liquid or solid mixture. 5 family origin; descent □ of Dutch extraction.

extractor fan and extraction fan ▷ noun an electric device for ventilating a room or building, etc.

extra-curricular ▷ adj 1 not belonging to, or offered in addition to, the subjects studied in the main teaching curriculum of a school or college, etc. 2 additional to ordinary responsibilities or routine, etc.

extradite /ˈɛkstrədaɪt/ ▷ verb (extradited, extraditing) to return (a person accused of a crime) for trial in the country where the crime was committed. • extraditable adj said of a crime: rendering the perpetrator liable to be extradited. ⓘ 19c: from EXTRADITION.

extradition /ɛkstrəˈdɪʃən/ ▷ noun the procedure of returning a person accused of a crime to the country where it was committed. ⓘ 19c: from Latin ex from + traditio, traditionis a handing over.

extrados /ɛkˈstreɪdɒs/ ▷ noun (extrados /-doʊz/ or extradoses) archit the outer or upper curve of an arch. ⓘ 18c: French, from Latin extra outside + French dos back.

extragalactic ▷ adj outside the GALAXY. ⓘ 19c.

extramarital ▷ adj said especially of sexual relations: taking place outside marriage. ⓘ 1920s.

extramural /ɛkstrəˈmjʊərəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of courses, etc: for people who are not full-time students at a college, etc. 2 outside the scope of normal studies. ⓘ 19c: from Latin murus wall.

extraneous /ɪkˈstreɪnɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 not belonging; not relevant or related. 2 coming from outside. • extraneously adverb. • extraneousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin extraneus external.

extraordinary /ɪkˈstrɔːdɪnərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 unusual; surprising or remarkable. 2 additional; not part of the regular pattern or routine □ extraordinary meeting. 3 (often following its noun) formal employed to do additional work, or for a particular occasion □ ambassador extraordinary. • extraordinarily adverb. • extraordinariness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin extra ordinem outside the usual order.

extrapolate /ɪkˈstrapəleɪt/ ▷ verb (extrapolated, extrapolating) tr & intr 1 math to estimate (a value that lies outside a known range of values), on the basis of those values and usually by means of a graph. 2 to make (estimates) or draw (conclusions) from known facts. • extrapolation noun. • extrapolative or extrapolatory adj. • extrapolator noun. ⓘ 19c: from EXTRA-, modelled on INTERPOLATE.

extrasensory ▷ adj achieved using means other than the ordinary senses of sight, hearing, touch, taste and smell □ extrasensory perception. ⓘ 1930s.

extraterrestrial ▷ adj (abbreviation ET) said of a being or creature, etc: coming from outside the Earth or its atmosphere. ▷ noun an extraterrestrial being. ⓘ 19c.

extra time ▷ noun, football, etc additional time allowed at the end of a match because of time lost through injury, or in order to achieve a decisive result.

extravagant /ɪkˈstravəgənt/ ▷ adj 1 using, spending or costing too much. 2 unreasonably or unbelievably great □ extravagant praise. • extravagance noun. • extravagantly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin vagari to wander.

extravaganza /ɪkstravəˈganzə/ ▷ noun (extravaganzas) a spectacular display, performance or production. ⓘ 18c, originally meaning 'extravagant language or behaviour': from Italian estravaganza extravagance.

extravasate /ɪkˈstravəseɪt/ ▷ verb (extravasated, extravasating) 1 pathol to let or force (blood or other fluid) out of the vessel that should contain it. 2 to pour out (lava). • extravasation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin vas a vessel.

extravehicular ▷ adj, space flight situated, used or happening outside a spacecraft. ⓘ 1960s.

extraversion see EXTROVERSION

extravert see EXTROVERT

extra virgin ▷ adj said of olive oil: of the best quality; extracted by pressing not by chemical processes.

extreme /ɪk'striːm/ ▷ adj (extremer, extremest) 1 very high, or highest, in degree or intensity. 2 very far, or furthest, in any direction, especially out from the centre. 3 very violent or strong. 4 not moderate; severe □ extreme measures. ▷ noun 1 either of two people or things as far, or as different, as possible from each other. 2 the highest limit; the greatest degree of any state or condition. ● extremely adverb to an extreme degree. ● go to extremes to take action beyond what is thought to be reasonable. ● in the extreme to the highest degree. ⓒ 15c: from Latin extremus, from exterus on the outside.

extreme unction ▷ noun, RC Church former name for SACRAMENT OF THE SICK.

extremist noun someone who has extreme opinions, especially in politics. ▷ adj relating to, or favouring, extreme measures. ● extremism noun. ⓒ 19c.

extremity /ɪk'stremɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (extremities) 1 the furthest point. 2 an extreme degree; the quality of being extreme. 3 a situation of great danger. 4 (extremities) the hands and feet. ⓒ 14c: from Latin extremitas end or furthest point.

extricable /'ɛkstrɪkəbəl, ɪk'strɪk-/ ▷ adj capable of being extricated or disentangled. ⓒ 17c.

extricate /'ɛkstrɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (extricated, extricating) to free someone or something from difficulties; to disentangle. ● extrication noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin extricare, from ex from + tricae hindrances.

extrinsic /ɛks'trɪnsɪk/ ▷ adj 1 external. 2 operating from outside. ● extrinsically adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Latin extrinsecus outwardly.

extroversion or extraversion /ɛkstrə'vɜːʃən/ ▷ noun, psychol a personality trait characterized by a tendency to be more concerned with the outside world and social relationships than with one's inner thoughts and feelings. Compare INTROVERSION.

extrovert or extravert /'ɛkstrəvɜːt/ ▷ noun 1 psychol someone who is more concerned with the outside world and social relationships than with their inner thoughts and feelings. 2 someone who is sociable, outgoing and talkative. ▷ adj having the temperament of an extrovert; sociable or outgoing. Compare INTROVERT. ● extroverted adj. ⓒ Early 20c: from extro-, a variant of EXTRA- + Latin vertere to turn.

extrude /ɪk'struːd/ ▷ verb (extruded, extruding) 1 to squeeze something or force it out. 2 to force or press (a semisoft solid material) through a DIE² (sense 1b) in order to mould it into a continuous length of product. ● extruder noun. ● extrusion noun 1 engineering the act or process of extruding. 2 geol an EXTRUSIVE ROCK. ⓒ 16c: from Latin extrudere to push out.

extrusive rock ▷ noun, geol igneous rock formed from molten rock material, such as magma or volcanic lava, that has poured out on to the Earth's surface and then solidified, eg basalt.

exuberant /ɪg'zuːbərənt/ ▷ adj 1 in very high spirits. 2 enthusiastic and energetic. 3 said of health, etc: excellent. 4 said of plants, etc: growing abundantly. ● exuberance noun high spirits; enthusiasm. ● exuberantly adverb. ⓒ 15c: from Latin exuberans, from uber rich.

exudate /'ɛksjʊdeɪt/ ▷ noun 1 biol any substance released from an organ or cell of a plant or animal to the exterior through a gland, pore, or membrane, eg resin and sweat. 2 pathol the fluid containing proteins and white blood cells that is discharged through small pores in membranes, usually as a result of inflammation. ⓒ 19c: see EXUDE.

exude /ɪg'zjuːd/ ▷ verb (exuded, exuding) 1 to give off or give out (an odour or sweat). 2 to show or convey (a quality or characteristic, etc) by one's behaviour. 3 intr to ooze out. ● exudation noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin exsudare, exsudatum to sweat out.

exult /ɪg'zʌlt/ ▷ verb (exulted, exulting) intr 1 (often exult in or at something) to be intensely joyful about it. 2 (often exult over something) to show or enjoy a feeling of triumph. ● exultant adj joyfully or triumphantly elated. ● exultantly adverb. ● exultation noun a feeling or state of joyful elation. ⓒ 16c: from Latin exsultare to jump up and down, from saltare to leap.

exurb /'ɛksɜːb/ ▷ noun, originally US a prosperous residential area outside the suburbs of a town. ● exurban adj. ● exurbanite adj, noun. ● exurbia noun exurbs collectively. ⓒ 1950s: from EX-, modelled on SUBURB.

exuviae /ɪg'zjuːvɪiː/ ▷ plural noun 1 cast-off skins, shells, or other coverings of animals. 2 geol fossil remains of animals. ● exuvial adj. ⓒ 17c: Latin, meaning 'skins of animals' or 'clothing stripped off', from exuere to strip off.

ex works ▷ adverb, adj excluding any costs, eg delivery charges, retailer's profit, incurred after an item leaves the factory.

-ey see -Y²

eye /aɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the organ of vision, usually one of a pair. 2 the area of the face around the eye. 3 (often eyes) sight; vision □ Surgeons need good eyes. 4 attention, gaze or observation □ catch someone's eye □ in the public eye. 5 the ability to appreciate and judge □ an eye for beauty. 6 a look or expression □ a hostile eye. 7 bot the bud of a tuber such as a potato. 8 an area of calm and low pressure at the centre of a tornado, etc. 9 any rounded thing, especially when hollow, eg the hole in a needle or the small wire loop that a hook fits into. ▷ verb (eyed, eyeing or eying) to look at something carefully. ● eyed adj, especially in compounds 1 having eyes of the specified kind. 2 spotted. ● eyeless adj. ● an eye for an eye retaliation; justice enacted in the same way or to the same degree as the crime. ● be all eyes colloq to be vigilant. ● cast or run an eye over something to examine it cursorily. ● clap, lay or set eyes on someone or something colloq, usually with negatives to see them or it □ I never want to set eyes on you again. ● close or shut one's eyes to something to ignore or disregard it. ● eyes down the command at the start of a game of bingo or other non-physical contest. ● get or keep one's eye in to become or remain familiar with the way in which a game or sport is played. ● give an eye to something colloq to attend to it. ● give someone the eye or the glad eye colloq to look at them in a sexually inviting way. ● have an eye to something to have it as a purpose or intention. ● have eyes for someone to be interested in them. ● have one's eye on something to be eager to acquire it. ● in one's mind's eye in one's imagination. ● in the eyes of someone in their estimation or opinion. ● in the wind's eye against the wind. ● keep an eye on someone or something colloq to keep them or it under observation. ● keep one's eyes skinned or peeled colloq to watch or look out. ● make eyes at someone colloq to look at them with sexual interest or admiration, or in a sexually inviting way. ● more than meets the eye more complicated or difficult, etc than appearances suggest. ● my eye! colloq nonsense! ● one in the eye for someone colloq a harsh disappointment or rebuff for them. ● see eye to eye with someone to be in agreement with them; to think alike. ● under the eye of someone under their observation. ● be up to the or one's eyes in something to be busy or deeply involved in (work, a commitment, etc). ● with an eye to something having it as a purpose or intention. ● with one's eyes open with full awareness of what one is doing. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon eage.

■ eye someone or something up colloq to assess their worth or attractiveness.

eyeball ▷ noun the nearly spherical body of the eye. ▷ verb, colloq 1 to face someone; to confront them. 2 to examine something closely. 3 to glance over (a page, etc). ● eyeball to eyeball colloq 1 said of people: face to face and close together in a threatening confrontation. 2 said of discussion or diplomacy, etc: dealing with matters very frankly and firmly.

eyebath and (especially US) eye-cup ▷ noun a small vessel for holding and applying medication or cleansing solution, etc to the eye.

eye-black ▷ noun mascara.

eyebolt ▷ noun a bolt with an EYE (noun 9) instead of the normal head, used for lifting or fastening. ⓘ 18c.

eyebright ▷ noun a small annual plant with white flowers marked with purple, used in herbal medicine to treat sore eyes. ⓘ 16c.

eyebrow /'aɪbraʊ/ ▷ noun the arch of hair on the bony ridge above each eye. • raise an eyebrow or one's eyebrows to show surprise, interest or disbelief. ⓘ 15c.

eyecatching ▷ adj drawing attention, especially by being strikingly attractive. ▫ eye-catcher noun a strikingly attractive person or thing.

eye contact ▷ noun a direct look between two people.

eye-cup see EYEBATH eye-drops ▷ plural noun medicine administered to the eye in drops.

eyeful ▷ noun, colloq 1 an interesting or beautiful sight. 2 slang an attractive woman. 3 a look or view. ⓘ 19c.

eyeglass ▷ noun 1 a single lens in a frame, to assist weak sight. 2 (eyeglasses) chiefly US spectacles. ⓘ 17c.

eyehole ▷ noun 1 an eyelet. 2 an eye socket. 3 a peep-hole. ⓘ 17c.

eyelash ▷ noun any of the short protective hairs that grow from the edge of the upper and lower eyelids. Often shortened to lash. ⓘ 18c.

eye-legible ▷ adj said of headings on microfilm, etc: able to be read by the naked eye, without any aid.

eyelet /'aɪlət/ ▷ noun 1 a small hole in fabric, etc through which a lace, etc is passed. 2 the metal, etc ring reinforcing such a hole. 3 needlecraft a small hole bound with stitching. 4 a small or narrow opening to peep through. ⓘ 14c: from French oillet, diminutive of oil eye.

eye-level ▷ adj at the same height above ground as a person's, or the average person's, eyes. ▷ noun (eye level) the height of the eyes.

eyelid ▷ noun in many animals, including humans: a protective fold of skin and muscle, lined with a membrane, that can be moved to cover or uncover the front of the eyeball. ⓘ 13c.

eyeliner ▷ noun a cosmetic used to outline the eye. See also KOHL.

eye-opener ▷ noun 1 colloq a surprising or revealing sight or experience, etc. 2 N Amer a drink of alcohol taken early in the morning.

eyepiece ▷ noun, optics the lens or group of lenses in an optical instrument that is nearest to the eye of the observer.

eye-rhyme ▷ noun a similarity of spelling but not pronunciation between words, as with come and home.

eyeshade ▷ noun a VISOR.

eyeshadow ▷ noun a coloured cosmetic for the eyelids.

eyeshot ▷ noun the reach or range of sight of the eye. ⓘ 16c.

eyesight ▷ noun the ability to see; power of vision.

eye socket ▷ noun either of the two recesses in the skull in which the eyeballs are situated.

eyesore ▷ noun, derog an ugly thing, especially a building. ⓘ 16c.

eyestrain ▷ noun tiredness or irritation of the eyes.

Eyetie or Eyeti or Eytie /'aɪtaɪ/ ▷ noun (Eyeties or Eyties) offensive slang an Italian. ⓘ 1920s.

eye tooth ▷ noun a CANINE TOOTH. • give one's eye teeth for something to go to any lengths to obtain it.

eyewash ▷ noun 1 liquid for soothing sore eyes. 2 colloq, derog nonsense; insincere or deceptive talk.

eyewitness ▷ noun someone who sees something happen, especially a crime.

eyrie or aerie /'ɪərɪ, 'aɪərɪ/ ▷ noun (eyries) 1 the nest of an eagle or other bird of prey, built in a high inaccessible place. 2 any house or fortified place, etc perched high up. ⓘ 15c: from French aire, from Latin area open ground.

Ez. and Ezr. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Ezra. See table at BIBLE.

Ezek. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Ezekiel. See table at BIBLE.

EZT ▷ abbreviation, finance Enterprise Zone Trust, a high-risk tax-avoidance scheme with potentially high rewards.

F

F[1] or f /ɛf/ ▷ noun (Fs, F's or f's) 1 the sixth letter of the English alphabet. 2 (F) music a the fourth note in the scale of C major; b the musical key which has this note as its base.

F[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 Fahrenheit. 2 farad. 3 Fellow (of a society, etc). 4 said of pencil leads: fine. 5 physics force. 6 franc. 7 IVR France.

F[3] ▷ symbol 1 chem fluorine. 2 genetics filial generation, where F_1 is the first filial generation, etc.

F ▷ abbreviation faraday.

f ▷ abbreviation 1 fathom. 2 female. 3 feminine. 4 focal length. 5 (plural ff.) folio. 6 (plural ff.) following (page). 7 music forte. 8 frequency.

FA ▷ abbreviation 1 Football Association. 2 Faculty of Actuaries. 3 FANNY ADAMS.

Fa ▷ abbreviation, US state Florida.

fa see FAH

fab /fab/ ▷ adj, colloq short for FABULOUS. ◷ 1960s.

Fabian /ˈfeɪbɪən/ ▷ adj 1 cautious; inclined to use delaying tactics. 2 relating to the Fabian Society, a body founded in 1884 for the gradual establishment of socialism. ▷ noun a member of this society. • Fabianism noun. • Fabianist noun. ◷ 18c: named after Q Fabius Maximus, the Roman general who wore down Hannibal by a cautious strategy of avoiding a pitched battle.

fable /ˈfeɪbəl/ ▷ noun 1 a story with a moral, usually with animals as characters. 2 a lie; a false story. 3 a a tale of wonder; b myths and legends generally. ▷ verb (fabled, fabling) 1 intr, old use to tell fictitious tales. 2 to invent; to relate something as if it were true. • fabler noun. ◷ 13c: from Latin fabula story.

fabled ▷ adj 1 made famous by legend. 2 made-up; feigned.

Fablon /ˈfablɒn/ ▷ noun, trademark a flexible plastic material with an adhesive backing, used to cover shelves, tabletops, etc.

fabric /ˈfabrɪk/ ▷ noun 1 woven, knitted or felted cloth. 2 quality; texture. 3 the walls, floor and roof of a building. 4 orderly structure ▫ the fabric of society. 5 a type or method of construction. ◷ 15c: from Latin fabrica craft.

fabricate /ˈfabrɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (fabricated, fabricating) 1 to invent or make up (a story, evidence, etc). 2 to make something, especially from whatever materials are available. 3 to forge (a document, signature, etc). • fabrication noun. • fabricator noun. ◷ 16c: from Latin fabricari to construct.

fabric conditioner and fabric softener ▷ noun a liquid to be added to laundry while it is being washed, to make it soft to the touch and usually sweet-smelling.

fabulist /ˈfabjʊlɪst/ ▷ noun someone who invents fables.

fabulous /ˈfabjʊləs/ ▷ adj 1 a colloq marvellous; wonderful; excellent; b immense; amazing. Often shortened to FAB. 2 legendary; mythical. • fabulously adverb. • fabulousness noun. ◷ 16c: from Latin fabulosus.

façade or facade /fəˈsɑːd/ ▷ noun 1 the front of a building. 2 a false appearance that hides the reality. ◷ 17c: French, from Italian facciata, from faccia FACE.

face /feɪs/ ▷ noun 1 the front part of the head, from forehead to chin. 2 the features or facial expression. 3 a surface or side, eg of a mountain, gem, geometrical figure, etc. 4 the important or working side, eg of a golf-club head. 5 a in a mine or quarry: the exposed surface from which coal, etc is mined; b on a cliff: the exposed surface, usually vertical; c in compounds ▫ coalface ▫ cliff-face. 6 the dial of a clock, watch, etc. 7 the side of a playing card that is marked with numbers, symbols, etc. 8 general look or appearance ▫ The face of the landscape remains the same. 9 an aspect. 10 impudence; cheek. 11 literary someone's presence ▫ stand before his face. 12 printing a typeface. ▷ verb (faced, facing) 1 tr & intr to be opposite to something or someone; to turn to look at or look in some direction. 2 to have something unpleasant before one ▫ face ruin. 3 to confront, brave or cope with (problems, difficulties, etc). 4 to accept (the unpleasant truth, etc). 5 to present itself to someone ▫ the scene that faced us. 6 to cover with a surface ▫ bricks were faced with plaster. • face the music colloq to accept the unpleasant consequences at their worst; to brave a trying situation, hostile reception, etc. • face to face 1 in the presence of each other ▫ met face to face for the first time. 2 facing or confronting each other. Also as adj ▫ a face-to-face meeting. • face up to something or someone to recognize the facts and prepare to endure the consequences, or to act bravely. • in your face or (often) in yer face 1 right in front of someone. 2 dealing with an issue in a direct and often provocative way. Also as adj ▫ an in-your-face film. • in the face of something in spite of a known circumstance, etc. • look someone in the face to look directly at them without shame or embarrassment. • lose face see under LOSE. • make or pull a face to grimace, scowl, frown, etc. • on the face of it superficially; at first glance. • put a good or brave face on something to try to hide disappointment, fear, etc concerning it. • put one's face on colloq to apply make-up to one's face. • save one's face to preserve one's reputation, etc in difficult circumstances, while avoiding humiliation or the appearance of giving in or climbing down. • set one's face against something to oppose an idea, course of action, etc, firmly. • show one's face often with negatives to make an appearance ▫ didn't dare show his face. • to someone's face directly; openly; in someone's presence. See also FACIAL. ◷ 13c: from Latin facies face.

▪ face someone down to confront them boldly until they give way from embarrassment, shame, etc.

▪ face up to something or someone to accept an unpleasant fact, etc; to deal with it or them bravely.

face-ache ▷ noun 1 neuralgia. 2 slang an ugly or gloomy-looking person.

face card see COURT CARD face cloth ▷ noun a small square of cloth, usually towelling, for washing with. See also FLANNEL, WASHCLOTH.

face cream ▷ noun a cosmetic cream for the face.

faced ▷ adj 1 a having a face; b in compounds having a face of a specified kind ▫ long-faced. 2 having the outer surface dressed, eg of a building, with the front covered with a different material from that for the main body.

faceless ▷ adj 1 without a face. 2 of a person or people: with identity concealed; anonymous. 3 said especially of bureaucratic officials: robot-like; impersonal.

facelift ▷ noun 1 a surgical operation to remove facial wrinkles by tightening the skin. 2 a procedure for improving the appearance of something, eg the outside of a building.

face-off ▷ noun 1 ice-hockey the dropping of the puck by the referee between two players to start the game. 2 a confrontation in which each side tries to make the other give way, from embarrassment, shame, etc.

face pack and face mask ▷ noun a liquid cosmetic preparation for cleaning the face, that hardens on the skin and is peeled or washed off.

face-painting ▷ noun the art or practice of applying paint to the face, especially in decorative or symbolic patterns.

facer ▷ noun 1 a tool for smoothing or facing a surface. 2 slang a severe blow on the face. 3 colloq an affront. 4 colloq anything that staggers one.

face-saving ▷ noun, adj preserving one's reputation, credibility, etc, in difficult circumstances, while avoiding humiliation or the appearance of climbing down.

face-saver noun a face-saving course of action.

facet /ˈfasɪt, ˈfasɛt/ ▷ noun 1 any of the faces of a cut jewel. 2 an aspect, eg of a problem, topic or someone's personality. ▷ verb (faceted, faceting) to cut a facet on (a jewel). ⓘ 17c: from French facette small face.

facetious /fəˈsiːʃəs/ ▷ adj said of a person or remark, etc: intending or intended to be amusing or witty, especially unsuitably so. • facetiously adverb. • facetiousness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin facetia witty.

face value ▷ noun 1 the stated value on a coin, stamp, etc. 2 the apparent meaning or implication, eg of a statement, which may not be the same as its real meaning.

facia see FASCIA

facial /ˈfeɪʃəl/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to the face □ facial hair. See also under FASCIA. ▷ noun a beauty treatment for the face. • facially adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin facies face.

facies /ˈfeɪʃiiːz/ ▷ noun (plural facies) 1 the general form and appearance, especially of plant, animal or geological species or formations. 2 medicine the facial appearance or expression of a patient, especially when it is characteristic of a disease or condition.

facile /ˈfasaɪl/ ▷ adj 1 derog said of success, etc: too easily achieved. 2 derog said of remarks, opinions, etc: over-simple; showing a lack of careful thought. 3 speaking or performing with fluency and ease. • facilely adverb. • facileness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin facilis easy.

facilitate /fəˈsɪlɪteɪt/ ▷ verb (facilitated, facilitating) to make something easy or easier to do or achieve. • facilitation noun. • facilitator noun. ⓘ 17c: from French faciliter, from Latin facilis easy.

facility /fəˈsɪlɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (facilities) 1 skill, talent or ability. 2 fluency; ease. 3 an arrangement, feature, attachment, etc that enables someone to do something. 4 (chiefly facilities) a building, service or piece of equipment for a particular activity □ sports facilities. 5 (facilities) euphemistic a lavatory. 6 econ an agreed amount of money made available for borrowing □ overdraft facility. ⓘ 16c: from Latin facilitas ease.

facing /ˈfeɪsɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 an outer layer, eg of stone covering a brick wall. 2 a piece of material used to back and strengthen part of a garment. 3 (facings) the collar and cuffs of a jacket, etc, especially if in a contrasting colour.

facsimile /fakˈsɪmɪlɪ/ ▷ noun (facsimiles) 1 an exact copy made, eg of a manuscript, picture, etc. 2 electronic copying of a document and the transmission of it by telephone line. Usually called FAX. 3 a copy made by facsimile. ▷ verb (facsimiled, facsimileing) to make an exact copy of something. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fac simile make the same.

facsimile edition ▷ noun an edition of a book, etc, that is an exact reproduction of an earlier edition.

fact /fakt/ ▷ noun 1 a thing known to be true, to exist or to have happened. 2 truth or reality, as distinct from mere statement or belief. 3 a piece of information. • after or before the fact after, or before, a crime is committed. • as a matter of fact or in actual fact or in fact or in point of fact in reality; actually. • fact of life see separate entry. • for a fact with complete certainty. • the fact of the matter the plain truth about the subject in question. See also FACTUAL. ⓘ 16c: from Latin factum something done, from facere to do.

fact-finding ▷ adj with the task of ascertaining all the facts of a situation □ fact-finding mission.

faction[1] /ˈfakʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an active or trouble-making group within a larger organization. 2 argument and fighting between members of a group. 3 dissension. • factional adj. • factionalism noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin factio party or side.

faction[2] /ˈfakʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a play, programme, piece of writing, etc that is a mixture of fact and fiction. 2 this type of writing, etc. Also called drama documentary or news fiction. Compare DOCUDRAMA. ⓘ 1960s: from FACT + FICTION.

factious /ˈfakʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 turbulent; quarrelsome. 2 dissident; disruptive; seditious. • factiously adverb.

factitious /fakˈtɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 deliberately contrived rather than developing naturally. 2 insincere; false □ factitious respect. • factitiously adverb. • factitiousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin facticius.

factitive /ˈfaktɪtɪv/ ▷ adj, grammar denoting a verb which can take both a direct object and a complement, eg the verb made in made him president. ⓘ 19c: from Latin factitivus, from facere to make.

fact of life ▷ noun 1 an unavoidable truth, especially if unpleasant. 2 (the facts of life) basic information on sexual matters and reproduction.

factoid /ˈfaktɔɪd/ ▷ noun a statement which is not (or may not be) true but has achieved acceptance by its appearance or frequent repetition in print. ⓘ 1970s: FACT + -OID.

factor /ˈfaktə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a circumstance that contributes to a result. 2 math one of two or more numbers that, when multiplied together, produce a given number □ 4 is a factor of 12. 3 in Scotland: a the manager of an estate; b an agent responsible for renting property for an absent owner. ▷ verb (factored, factoring) intr to act as a factor (on someone's behalf). • safety factor see separate entry. ⓘ 15c: Latin, meaning 'a person who acts'.

factor 8 or factor VIII ▷ noun one of the proteins which form the clotting agent in blood, absent in haemophiliacs.

factorial /fakˈtɔːrɪəl/ ▷ noun, math (symbol !) the number resulting when a whole number and all whole numbers below it are multiplied together, eg 5! is 5 × 4 × 3 × 2 × 1 = 120. ▷ adj relating to a factor or factorial. • factorially adverb.

factorize or factorise /ˈfaktəraɪz/ ▷ verb (factorized, factorizing) math to find the factors of (a number). • factorization noun.

factory /ˈfaktərɪ/ ▷ noun (factories) a building or buildings with equipment for the large-scale manufacture of goods. ⓘ 16c: from Latin factoria, from FACTOR.

factory farm ▷ noun a farm carrying out factory farming, in which animals are reared usually with a minimum of space to move and which uses highly industrialized machinery, etc.

factory ship ▷ noun 1 a whaling-ship on which whales are processed. 2 a ship which processes the catch of a fishing fleet.

factory shop ▷ noun a shop in which goods manufactured in a factory are sold directly to the public at a reduced price.

factotum /fak'toutəm/ ▷ noun (factotums) a person employed to do a large number of different jobs. ◷ 16c: from Latin fac totum do all.

fact sheet ▷ noun a paper setting out relevant information on a particular subject, particularly relating to items covered in a TV or radio programme.

factual /'faktʃuəl/ ▷ adj 1 concerned with, or based on, facts. 2 actual. ● factually adverb. ● factualness or factuality (factualities) noun.

facultative /'fakəltətɪv/ ▷ adj 1 optional. 2 incidental. 3 relating to a faculty. 4 conferring privilege, permission or authority. 5 biol able to live under different conditions. ● facultatively adverb.

faculty /'fakəltɪ/ ▷ noun (faculties) 1 any of the range of mental or physical powers. 2 a particular talent or aptitude for something. 3 a a section of a university, comprising a number of departments ◻ the Faculty of Science; b the professors and lecturers belonging to such a section. 4 N Amer the staff of a college, school or university. 5 the members of a professional body. ◷ 14c: from Latin facultas power or ability; related to facilis easy.

FA Cup ▷ noun, football 1 in England and Wales: an annual football competition organized by the Football Association. 2 the trophy awarded each year to the winning team.

fad /fad/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 a shortlived fashion; a craze. 2 any seemingly unimportant belief or practice that is too strongly advocated, usually with regard to food. ● faddiness or faddishness noun. ● faddy (faddier, faddiest) or faddish adj. ◷ 19c.

fade /feɪd/ ▷ verb (faded, fading) (often fade away) 1 tr & intr to lose or cause to lose strength, freshness or colour. 2 intr said of a sound or image: to disappear gradually. 3 golf to strike the ball so that it curves to the right, but less so than an ordinary SLICE (noun 5). ▷ noun, golf a slight, delayed SLICE (noun 5), often deliberate. ◷ 13c: French, meaning 'dull' or 'pale'.

■ fade something in or out cinematog, broadcasting to cause (a sound or picture) to become gradually louder and more distinct, or gradually fainter and disappear.

fade-in ▷ noun, cinematog, broadcasting the process of fading in a picture or sound.

fade-out ▷ noun, cinematog, broadcasting the process of fading out a picture or sound.

faeces or (N Amer) feces /'fiːsiːz/ plural noun the solid waste matter discharged from the body through the anus. ● faecal or fecal /'fiːkəl/ adj. ◷ 17c in this sense; 15c meaning 'sediment' or 'dregs': plural of Latin faex dregs.

faff /faf/ ▷ verb (faffed, faffing) intr, colloq (also faff about) to act in a fussy, uncertain way, not achieving very much; to dither. ◷ 19c.

fag[1] /fag/ ▷ noun 1 colloq a cigarette. 2 colloq a piece of drudgery; a bore. 3 in some schools, especially public schools: a young schoolboy who runs errands and does jobs for an older one. ▷ verb (fagged, fagging) 1 to tire someone out; to exhaust someone. 2 intr said of a schoolboy: to act as fag for an older boy. 3 intr to work hard; to toil. ● fagged out very tired; exhausted. ◷ 19c in noun sense 1, shortened from FAG-END; 18c in noun senses 2 and 3; 15c, meaning 'something that hangs loose or flaps'; originally probably related to FLAG.

fag[2] /fag/ ▷ noun, slang, sometimes derog a gay man. ● faggy adj. ◷ 1920s: short for FAGGOT[2].

fag end ▷ noun, colloq 1 the butt or end of a cigarette. 2 the last part of something, after the best has been used. ◷ 1850s in sense 1; 18c originally referring to the last part of a piece of cloth.

faggot[1] or (N Amer) fagot /'fagət/ ▷ noun 1 cookery a ball or roll of chopped pork and liver mixed with breadcrumbs and herbs, and eaten fried or baked. 2 a bundle of sticks, twigs, etc, used for fuel, fascines, etc. ● faggoting or (N Amer) fagoting a kind of embroidery in which some of the cross threads are drawn together in the middle. ◷ 19c in sense 1; 16c in sense 3; 13c in sense 2: from French fagot bundle of sticks.

faggot[2] /'fagət/ ▷ noun, slang, sometimes derog a gay man. Also shortened to fag. ● faggoty adj. ◷ Early 20c: originally used offensively and probably as an extension of FAGGOT[1] sense 3.

fag hag ▷ noun, slang, sometimes derog a heterosexual woman who enjoys spending a lot of time in the company of gay men.

fah or fa /fɑː/ ▷ noun, music in sol-fa notation: the fourth note of the major scale. ◷ 14c: see SOL-FA.

Fahrenheit /'farənhaɪt, 'fɑː-/ ▷ noun a scale of temperature on which water boils at 212° and freezes at 32° under standard atmospheric pressure. ▷ adj (abbreviation F) on or relating to this scale. Compare CELSIUS. ◷ 18c: named after G D Fahrenheit (1686–1736), German physicist.

faience or faïence /faɪ'ɑ̃s, feɪ-/ ▷ noun glazed decorated pottery. ◷ 18c: from French faïence, from Faenza in Italy, the place of manufacture.

fail /feɪl/ ▷ verb (failed, failing) 1 tr & intr (often fail in something) not to succeed; to be unsuccessful in (an undertaking). 2 to judge (a candidate) not good enough to pass a test, etc. 3 intr said of machinery, a bodily organ, etc: to stop working or functioning. 4 intr not to manage (to do something) ◻ failed to pay the bill in time. 5 not to bother (doing something). 6 to let (someone) down; to disappoint. 7 said of courage, strength, etc: to desert (one) at the time of need. 8 intr to become gradually weaker. 9 intr said of a business, etc: to collapse; to become insolvent or bankrupt. ▷ noun a failure, especially in an exam. ● fail to see to be unable to understand. ● without fail for certain; with complete regularity and reliability. ◷ 13c: from Latin fallere to deceive or disappoint.

failing ▷ noun a fault; a weakness ◻ one of his failings. ▷ adj referring to something that is in the process of failing ◻ a failing business. ▷ prep if … is impossible or does not happen ◻ Failing an agreement today, the issue will be referred for arbitration.

fail-safe ▷ adj 1 said of a mechanism: ensuring a return to a safe condition when something goes wrong. 2 said of a machine or system: returning to a safe condition when something goes wrong.

failure /'feɪljə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the act of failing; lack of success. 2 someone or something that is unsuccessful. 3 a stoppage in functioning, eg of a computer, machine, system, etc. 4 a poor result. 5 the non-doing of something ◻ failure to turn up.

fain /feɪn/ old use ▷ adj glad or joyful. ▷ adverb gladly; willingly. ◷ Anglo-Saxon fægen.

faint /feɪnt/ ▷ adj (fainter, faintest) 1 pale; dim; indistinct; slight. 2 physically weak; on the verge of losing consciousness. 3 feeble; timid; unenthusiastic. ▷ verb (fainted, fainting) intr to lose consciousness; to collapse. ▷ noun a sudden loss of consciousness. ● faintly adverb. ● faintness noun. ◷ 13c: from French faindre to feign.

faint-hearted ▷ adj timid; cowardly; spiritless. ● faint-heartedly adverb. ● faint-heartedness noun.

fair[1] /fɛə(r)/ ▷ adj (fairer, fairest) 1 just; not using dishonest methods or discrimination. 2 in accordance with the rules. 3 a said of hair and skin: light-coloured; b said of someone: having light-coloured hair and skin. 4 old use beautiful. 5 quite good; reasonable. 6 sizeable; considerable. 7 said of weather: fine. 8 said of the wind: favourable. 9 said of words: insincerely encouraging. ▷ adverb 1 in a fair way. 2 dialect completely. ● fairly see separate entry. ● fairness noun. ● be fair game to deserve to be attacked or criticized. ● by fair means or foul using any possible means, even if dishonest. ● fair-and-square 1 absolutely; exactly. 2 honest and open. ● fair crack at the whip just treatment. ● fair enough all right. ● in all fairness or to be fair one ought to remember or take into consideration, if one is fair; being scrupulously fair. ● stand fair with someone to be in favour with them. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fæger beautiful.

fair² and (nostalgic) fayre /fɛə(r)/ ▷ noun (fairs or fayres) 1 a collection of sideshows and amusements, often set up temporarily on open ground and travelling from place to place. 2 historical a market for the sale of produce, livestock, etc, with or without sideshows. 3 (only fair) an indoor exhibition of goods from different countries, firms, etc, held to promote trade. 4 a sale of goods to raise money for charity, etc. ⓘ 14c: from French faire, from Latin feria holiday.

fair copy ▷ noun a neat finished copy of a piece of writing, after corrections have been made.

fair dinkum ▷ adj, adverb, Austral honest or honestly.

fair dos or fair do's /fɛə'duːz/ ▷ plural noun, colloq an expression appealing for, or agreeing to, equal treatment for everyone, strict honesty, etc.

fairground ▷ noun the piece of land on which sideshows and amusements are set up for a fair. Also as adj □ fairground attractions.

fair-haired ▷ adj having light-coloured hair.

fairies plural of FAIRY fairing /'fɛərɪŋ/ ▷ noun an external structure fitted to an aircraft, vessel or other vehicle to improve streamlining and reduce drag. ⓘ 1860s: from fair to make smooth or to streamline.

Fair Isle ▷ noun 1 a complex multicoloured type of knitting pattern. 2 an article of clothing, usually a jumper, knitted with such a pattern □ put on his Fair Isle and went fishing. ▷ adj referring to or decorated with such a pattern □ Fair Isle jumper. ⓘ 1850s: named after one of the Shetland Islands, where the designs were first developed.

fairly ▷ adverb 1 justly; honestly. 2 quite, rather. 3 colloq absolutely.

fair-minded ▷ adj making fair judgements.

fair play ▷ noun honourable behaviour; just treatment.

the fair sex ▷ noun, facetious women.

fair-spoken ▷ adj bland and civil in language and address.

fairway ▷ noun 1 golf a broad strip of short grass extending from the tee to the green, distinguished from the uncut rough, and from hazards. 2 a navigable deep-water channel in a river, etc, used by shipping.

fair-weather friend ▷ noun a friend who deserts one when one is in trouble.

fairy /'fɛərɪ/ ▷ noun (fairies) 1 mythol any of various supernatural beings with magical powers, generally of diminutive and graceful human form, common in folklore. 2 slang, sometimes derog a gay man. ▷ adj like a fairy; fanciful or whimsical; delicate. ● fairylike adj, adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French faerie, from fae FAY; related to Latin fata the FATES.

fairy godmother ▷ noun someone who comes unexpectedly or magically to a person's aid, and whose identity often remains unknown.

fairyland ▷ noun 1 mythol the home of fairies. 2 an entrancing place.

fairy lights ▷ plural noun a string of small coloured lights used for decoration, especially on a Christmas tree.

fairy ring ▷ noun a ring of darker grass marking the outer edge of an underground growth of fungi, traditionally attributed to the dancing of fairies.

fairy tale and fairy story ▷ noun 1 a story about fairies, magic and other supernatural things. 2 a fantastical tale. 3 euphemistic, colloq a lie. 4 as adj (fairy-tale) beautiful; fanciful; elaborate; marvellous, etc □ a fairy-tale castle.

fait accompli /feɪt ə'kɒmpliː—/ ▷ noun (faits accomplis /-pliː/) something done and unalterable; an established fact. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'accomplished fact'.

faith /feɪθ/ ▷ noun 1 trust or confidence. 2 strong belief, eg in God. 3 a specified religion □ the Jewish faith. 4 any set or system of beliefs. 5 loyalty to a promise, etc; trust □ break faith with someone. ● bad faith dishonest; treachery. ● in good faith from good or sincere motives. ⓘ 13c: from French feid.

faithful ▷ adj 1 having or showing faith. 2 loyal and true. 3 accurate. 4 loyal to a sexual partner. 5 reliable; constant. ▷ plural noun (the Faithful) a the believers in a particular religion, especially Islam; b loyal supporters. ● faithfully adverb. ● faithfulness noun. ● Yours faithfully formal wording for ending a letter.

faith healing ▷ noun the curing of illness through religious faith rather than medical treatment. ● faith healer noun.

faithless ▷ adj 1 disloyal; treacherous. 2 having no religious faith. ● faithlessly adj. ● faithlessness noun.

fake /feɪk/ ▷ noun someone or something, or an act that is not genuine. ▷ adj not genuine; false; counterfeit. ▷ verb (faked, faking) 1 to alter something dishonestly; to falsify something or make something up. 2 tr & intr to pretend to feel (an emotion) or have (an illness). ● fakery noun (fakeries) the act of faking. ⓘ 18c.

fakir /'feɪkɪə(r), fɑː-/ ▷ noun 1 a wandering Hindu or Muslim holy man depending on begging for survival. 2 a member of any Muslim religious order. ⓘ 17c: from Arabic faqir poor man.

falafel see FELAFEL

falcate /'falkeɪt/ and falciform /'falsɪfɔːm/ ▷ adj, anatomy, zool shaped like a sickle. ⓘ 18c: from Latin falcatus, from falx sickle.

falcon /'fɔːlkən, 'fɔːkən/ ▷ noun 1 a type of long-winged bird of prey that can be trained to hunt small birds and animals. 2 among falconers: the female falcon, especially the PEREGRINE. See also TIERCEL. ⓘ 13c: from Latin falco hawk.

falconer ▷ noun someone who sports with, or breeds and trains, falcons or hawks for hunting small birds and animals. 2 the sport that involves the use of falcons hunting prey. ⓘ 14c.

falconry /'fɔːlkənrɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the art or practice of breeding and training falcons for hunting. 2 the sport that involves the use of falcons hunting prey. ⓘ 16c.

falderal /'faldəral/ or folderol /'fɒldərɒl/ ▷ noun 1 a meaningless refrain in songs. 2 any kind of flippant nonsense. ⓘ 18c.

faldstool /'fɔːldstuːl/ ▷ noun 1 a bishop's armless seat, used when officiating at their own church away from their throne, or at another church. 2 a foldable stool or desk at which worshippers kneel during certain parts of a church service. 3 a small desk in churches in England, at which litany is sung or said. 4 a coronation stool. ⓘ 11c: as fyldestol, from Latin faldistolium folding chair.

the Fall ▷ noun, Bible the sinning of Adam and Eve when they disobeyed God by eating from the tree of knowledge, resulting in a state of sinfulness marking the human condition.

fall /fɔːl/ ▷ verb (fell, fallen /ˈfɔːlən/, falling) intr 1 to descend or drop freely and involuntarily, especially accidentally, by force of gravity. 2 (also fall over or down) said of someone, or something upright: to drop to the ground after losing balance. 3 said of a building, bridge, etc: to collapse. 4 said of rain, snow, etc: to come down from the sky; to precipitate. 5 said eg of hair: to hang down. 6 (usually fall on something) said of a blow, glance, shadow, light, etc: to land ◻ The blow fell sharply on his jaw ◻ The light of the moon fell on the trees. 7 to go naturally or easily into position ◻ fell open at page 69. 8 said of a government, leader, etc: to lose power; to be no longer able to govern. 9 said of a stronghold: to be captured. 10 said of defences or barriers: to be lowered or broken down. 11 to die or be badly wounded in battle, etc. 12 to give in to temptation; to sin. 13 said eg of value, temperature, etc: to become less. 14 said of sound: to diminish. 15 said eg of silence: to intervene. 16 said of darkness or night: to arrive. 17 to pass into a certain state; to begin to be in that state ◻ fall asleep ◻ fall in love ◻ fall unconscious. 18 to be grouped or classified in a certain way ◻ falls into two categories. 19 to occur at a certain time or place ◻ The accent falls on the first syllable. 20 said of someone's face: to show disappointment. ▷ noun 1 an act or way of falling. 2 something, or an amount, that falls. 3 (often falls) a waterfall. 4 a drop in eg quality, quantity, value, temperature, etc ◻ A fall in interest rates was announced. 5 a defeat or collapse. 6 (also Fall) N Amer autumn. 7 wrestling a manoeuvre by which one pins one's opponent's shoulders to the ground. • break someone's fall to stop them landing with the full impact of a free fall; to cushion their fall. • fall between two stools 1 to be neither one thing nor the other. 2 to succeed in neither of two alternatives. • fall flat on one's face to come to grief; to fail dismally. • fall from grace said of a person: to lose standing. • fall foul of someone or something to get into trouble or conflict with them or it. • fall head over heels to fall hopelessly (in love). • fall on one's feet 1 to come out of a difficult situation advantageously. 2 to gain an unexpectedly good fortune. • fall over oneself or fall over backwards colloq to be strenuously or noticeably eager to please or help. • fall short or fall short of something 1 to turn out not to be enough; to be insufficient. 2 to fail to attain or reach what is aimed at. See also SHORTFALL. • fall to pieces or bits 1 said of something: to break up; to disintegrate. 2 said of someone: to be unable to carry on or function normally, especially because of overwhelming grief, etc ◻ fell to pieces when his wife died. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon feallan.

▪ fall about colloq to be helpless with laughter.

▪ fall apart 1 to break in pieces. 2 to fail; to collapse.

▪ fall away 1 said of land: to slope downwards. 2 to become fewer or less. 3 to disappear.

▪ fall back to move back; to retreat.

▪ fall back on something to make use of it in an emergency. See also FALL-BACK.

▪ fall behind or fall behind with something 1 to fail to keep up with someone, with one's work, etc. 2 to be late in paying instalments, rent, etc.

▪ fall down said of an argument, etc: to be shown to be invalid.

▪ fall down on something to fail in a task; to do it unsatisfactorily, especially a particular part of a larger task.

▪ fall for someone to become infatuated with them, or fall in love with them.

▪ fall for something to be deceived or taken in by it; to be conned by it.

▪ fall in 1 said eg of a roof: to collapse. 2 said of a soldier, etc: to take his or her place in a parade.

▪ fall into something to become involved in it, especially by chance or without having put much effort into getting there.

▪ fall in with someone to chance to meet or coincide with them.

▪ fall in with something to agree to it; to support it.

▪ fall off to decline in quality or quantity; to become less.

▪ fall on or upon someone 1 to attack them. 2 to embrace them passionately.

▪ fall out 1 said of soldiers: to come out of military formation. See also FALL-OUT. 2 to happen in the end; to turn out.

▪ fall out with someone to quarrel with them, and then not talk to them or have contact with them for a period of time. See also FALL-OUT.

▪ fall through said of a plan, etc: to fail; to come to nothing.

▪ fall to someone to become their job or duty ◻ It falls to me to deal with the matter.

fallacious /fəˈleɪʃəs/ ▷ adj having the nature of a fallacy; deceptive; misleading. • fallaciously adverb. • fallaciousness noun.

fallacy /ˈfaləsɪ/ ▷ noun (fallacies /-sɪz/) 1 a mistaken notion. 2 a mistake in reasoning that spoils a whole argument. See also LOGIC, SYLLOGISM. ⓘ 15c: from Latin fallax deceptive.

fall-back ▷ noun a retreat or resource especially money, for use in case of emergency. Also as adj ◻ fall-back plans. See also FALL BACK at FALL.

fallen /ˈfɔːlən/ ▷ adj 1 old use having lost one's virtue, honour or reputation ◻ fallen woman. 2 killed in battle. 3 having dropped or overturned.

fall guy ▷ noun, colloq 1 someone who is easily cheated; a dupe. 2 someone who is left to take the blame for something; a scapegoat.

fallibility ▷ noun (fallibilities) capacity or tendency to make mistakes.

fallible /ˈfalɪbəl/ ▷ adj capable of making mistakes. • fallibly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin fallere to deceive.

falling-off ▷ noun a decline in quality or quantity.

falling star ▷ noun a meteor.

Fallopian tube /fəˈloʊpɪən —/ ▷ noun, anatomy, zool in female mammals: either of the two long slender tubes through which the egg cells pass from either of the ovaries to the uterus. ⓘ 18c: named after G Fallopius (1523–62), the Italian anatomist who is reputed to have discovered them.

fallout ▷ noun 1 a cloud of radioactive dust caused by a nuclear explosion. 2 (fall-out) a quarrel. 3 (fall-out) the act of leaving a military formation or parade. See also FALL OUT, FALL OUT WITH SOMEONE at FALL.

fallow /ˈfaloʊ/ ▷ adj said of land: left unplanted after ploughing, to recover its natural fertility. ▷ noun land that has been left for a year or more unsown after having been ploughed. ▷ verb (fallowed, fallowing) to plough land without seeding. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fealga.

fallow deer ▷ noun a small reddish-brown deer, white-spotted in summer, with broad flat antlers. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fealu tawny.

false /fɔːls, fɒls/ ▷ adj 1 said of a statement, etc: untrue. 2 said of an idea, etc: mistaken. 3 artificial; not genuine. 4 said of words, promises, etc: insincere. 5 treacherous; disloyal. 6 bot said of a plant: resembling, but wrongly so called ◻ false acacia. ▷ adverb in a false manner; incorrectly; dishonestly. ● falsely adj. ● falseness noun. ● play someone false to cheat or deceive them. ● under false pretences by giving a deliberately misleading impression. ⓘ 12c: from Latin falsus, from fallere to deceive.

false alarm ▷ noun an alarm given unnecessarily.

false bottom ▷ noun a partition that disguises a space between it and the true bottom, eg of a suitcase.

false dawn ▷ noun the first light appearing in the sky in the morning before sunrise.

false-hearted ▷ adj treacherous; deceitful.

falsehood ▷ noun 1 dishonesty. 2 a lie; an untrue statement.

false imprisonment ▷ noun illegal detention of someone by force.

false move ▷ noun a careless or unwise action.

false pregnancy ▷ noun, medicine a psychological disorder in which some of the physical symptoms of pregnancy, eg abdominal swelling, weight gain, morning sickness and cessation of menstruation, occur in a woman who is not pregnant. Also called pseudocyesis.

false rib ▷ noun any of the lower five pairs of ribs in humans which are not directly attached to the breastbone. Compare FLOATING RIB, TRUE RIB.

false start ▷ noun 1 a failed attempt to begin something. 2 an invalid start to a race, in which one or more competitors begin before the signal is given.

false teeth ▷ plural noun artificial teeth; dentures.

falsetto /fɔːl'setoʊ/ ▷ noun (falsettos) 1 an artificially high voice, especially produced by a tenor above his normal range. 2 someone who uses such a voice. 3 a false or strained sentiment. ⓘ 18c: Italian.

falsies /'fɔːlsɪz/ ▷ plural noun pads of rubber or other material inserted into a bra to exaggerate the size of the breasts. ⓘ 1940s.

falsify /'fɔːlsɪfaɪ, 'fɒl-/ ▷ verb (falsifies, falsified, falsifying) to alter something dishonestly or make something up, in order to deceive or mislead. ● falsifiable adj. ● falsifiability noun. ● falsification /-fɪ'keɪʃən/ noun. ● falsifier noun. ⓘ 15c: from French falsifier, from Latin falsus false.

falsity /'fɔːlsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (falsities) the quality of being false; a false assertion.

falter /'fɔːltə(r)/ ▷ verb (faltered, faltering) 1 intr to move unsteadily; to stumble. 2 intr to start functioning unreliably. 3 intr to lose strength or conviction; to hesitate or break down in speaking. 4 to say something hesitantly. ● falteringly adverb. ⓘ 14c.

fame /feɪm/ ▷ noun 1 the condition of being famous; celebrity. 2 old use repute. ● famed adj famous; renowned. ● house of ill fame euphemistic, archaic a brothel. ⓘ 13c: from Latin fama report or rumour.

familial /fə'mɪlɪəl/ ▷ adj belonging to, typical of, or occurring in, a family.

familiar /fə'mɪlɪə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 well known or recognizable. 2 frequently met with. 3 (familiar with something) well acquainted with it; having a thorough knowledge of it. 4 friendly; close. 5 over-friendly; excessively informal. ▷ noun 1 a close friend. 2 a demon or spirit, especially one in the shape of an animal, that serves a witch. ● familiarity noun. ● familiarly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin familiaris domestic or intimate.

familiarize or familiarise /fə'mɪlɪəraɪz/ ▷ verb (familiarized, familiarizing) 1 (usually familiarize someone or oneself with something) to make them or oneself familiar with it. 2 to make something well known or familiar. ● familiarization noun.

family /'famɪlɪ/ ▷ noun (families) 1 a group consisting of a set of parents and children. Compare NUCLEAR FAMILY. 2 a group of people related to one another by blood or marriage. Compare EXTENDED FAMILY. 3 a person's children. 4 a household of people. 5 all those descended from a common ancestor. 6 a related group, eg of races, languages, etc. 7 biol in taxonomy: any of the groups, eg Canidae (dogs, wolves, etc), into which an ORDER (sense 11) is divided and which in turn is subdivided into one or more genera (see GENUS sense 1). 8 math a collection of curves in the equations of which different values are given to the parameters. 9 as adj a belonging to or specially for a family □ family car □ family get-together; b concerning the family □ family matters; c suitable for the whole family, or for children as well as parents □ family pub □ family viewing. ● in the family way colloq pregnant. ⓘ 14c: from Latin familia household, from famulus servant.

family allowance ▷ noun, old use CHILD BENEFIT.

family Bible ▷ noun a large Bible for family worship, with a page for recording family events.

family credit ▷ noun an allowance paid by the state to families whose income from employment is below a certain level.

family doctor ▷ noun a general practitioner.

family man ▷ noun 1 a married man with children, especially one fond of home life. 2 a domesticated man.

family name ▷ noun 1 a surname. 2 the family honour □ a stain on the family name.

family planning ▷ noun BIRTH CONTROL.

family tree ▷ noun the relationships within a family throughout the generations, or a diagram showing these. Compare GENEALOGY.

famine /'famɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a severe general shortage of food, usually caused by a population explosion or failure of food crops. 2 the period during which this shortage occurs. 3 extreme hunger; starvation. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin fames hunger.

famished /'famɪʃt/ ▷ adj 1 very hungry; starving □ famished children. 2 (also famishing) feeling very hungry □ I'm famishing. ⓘ 14c: from Latin fames hunger.

famous /'feɪməs/ ▷ adj 1 well known; celebrated; renowned. 2 great; glorious □ a famous victory. ● famously adverb. ● famousness noun. ● famous last words a remark or prediction likely to be proved wrong by events. ● get on famously to be on excellent terms (with someone). ⓘ 14c: from Latin famosus, from fama report or fame.

fan[1] /fan/ ▷ noun 1 a hand-held device made of paper, silk, etc, usually semicircular and folding flat when not in use, for creating a current of air to cool the face. 2 a something of a similar shape, ie a semicircle or a smaller sector of a circle; b any structure that can be spread into the shape of a fan, eg a bird's wing or tail. 3 a machine with revolving blades, for producing a current of air. 4 a device for winnowing grain. ▷ verb (fanned, fanning) 1 to cool something or someone by blowing a current of air onto it, with or as if with a fan. 2 to kindle something or stir something up, with or as if with a current of air. 3 to agitate (air), with or as if with a fan. 4 to winnow (grain). ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fann.

● fan out to spread out, or cause to spread out, in the shape of a fan □ The peacock's feathers fanned out giving a beautiful display.

fan[2] /fan/ ▷ noun an enthusiastic supporter or devoted admirer of something, eg a pop group, a football team, a sport, etc. ⓘ 17c: from FANATIC.

Fanagalo /fanəgə'loʊ/ ▷ noun a Zulu-based English pidgin, spoken mainly by African mineworkers around Johannesburg, in Zimbabwe, and in Namibia. ⓘ 1940s: from Fanagalo fana ga lo, meaning 'like this'.

fanatic /fə'natɪk/ ▷ noun someone with an extreme or excessive enthusiasm for something, especially a religion, or religious issues. ▷ adj FANATICAL. • fanaticism noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin fanaticus filled with a god or frenzied.

fanatical ▷ adj excessively enthusiastic about something. • fanatically adverb.

fan belt ▷ noun in a vehicle engine: the rubber belt that drives the cooling fan.

fancier /ˈfansɪə(r)/ ▷ noun, especially in compounds someone with a special interest in something, especially a breeder of a certain kind of bird or animal, or a grower of a certain kind of plant □ pigeon fancier.

fanciful /ˈfansɪfʊl/ ▷ adj 1 indulging in fancies; imaginative or over-imaginative. 2 existing in fancy only; imaginary. 3 designed in a curious or fantastic way. • fancifully adverb. • fancifulness noun.

fan club ▷ noun a club of admirers of a movie or pop star, etc.

fancy /ˈfansɪ/ ▷ noun (fancies) 1 the imagination. 2 an image, idea or whim. 3 a sudden liking or desire for something. ▷ adj (fancier, fanciest) 1 elaborate. 2 colloq special, unusual or superior, especially in quality. 3 colloq, facetious said of prices: too high. ▷ verb (fancies, fancied, fancying) 1 to think or believe something. 2 to have a desire for something. 3 colloq to be physically attracted to someone. 4 to consider likely to win or do well. 5 tr & intr to take in mentally; to imagine □ Fancy him getting married at last! 6 colloq to think too highly of (oneself). ▷ exclamation (also fancy that!) expressing surprise. • fanciable adj. • fancily adverb. • take a fancy to someone or something to become fond of them or it. • take or tickle the fancy of someone to appeal to them; to intrigue or attract them. ⓒ 15c: shortened from FANTASY.

fancy dress ▷ noun clothes one dresses up in for fun, usually representing a historical, fictional, popular, etc character, especially for a fancy-dress ball or fancy-dress party.

fancy-free ▷ adj 1 not in love. 2 free to do as one pleases; carefree □ footloose and fancy-free.

fancy goods ▷ plural noun small gifts, souvenirs, etc.

fancy man ▷ noun, old use, colloq 1 a lover. 2 a pimp.

fancy woman ▷ noun, old use, colloq 1 a lover. 2 a prostitute.

fancywork ▷ noun fine decorative needlework.

fan dance ▷ noun a solo dance in the nude, or semi-nude, in which the performer partially reveals their nakedness by tantalisingly manipulating fans or a bunch of ostrich plumes.

fandangle /fanˈdaŋgəl/ ▷ noun elaborate ornament; nonsense. ⓒ 1930s: possibly from FANDANGO.

fandango /fanˈdaŋgoʊ/ ▷ noun (fandangos) 1 an energetic Spanish dance. 2 the music for it, in 3/4 time. ⓒ 18c: Spanish.

fanfare /ˈfanfɛə(r)/ ▷ noun (fanfares) a short piece of music played on trumpets to announce an important event or arrival. ⓒ 18c: French, probably imitating the sound.

fanfold ▷ adj said of paper: scored or perforated so as to fall flat in sections, one sheet on top of the other, used for computer print-outs.

fang /faŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the pointed canine tooth of a carnivorous animal. 2 the tooth of a poisonous snake. 3 any large pointed tooth. 4 the root of a tooth or one of its prongs. • fanged adj. • fangless adj. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon, meaning 'something caught', ie plunder or booty, etc.

fan heater ▷ noun a type of heater in which an internal fan drives air over an element.

fan-jet ▷ noun 1 an aeroplane engine in which air is taken in through a fan and some of it, bypassing compressors, combustion chamber and turbines, mixes with the jet formed by the rest of the air. 2 a plane with a fan-jet engine.

fanlight ▷ noun a semicircular window over a door or window, usually found in Georgian and Regency buildings.

fan mail ▷ noun the admiring letters received by a celebrity from their fans.

fannings ▷ plural noun the siftings of tea.

fanny /ˈfanɪ/ ▷ noun (fannies) 1 Brit taboo slang a woman's genitals. 2 N Amer slang the buttocks. ⓒ 19c.

Fanny Adams see SWEET FANNY ADAMS fan oven see CIRCOTHERM OVEN fan-shaped ▷ adj forming a sector of a circle.

fantail ▷ noun 1 a tail shaped like a fan. 2 a variety of domestic pigeon with tail feathers that can be spread out like a fan. 3 any of various small insectivorous birds native to Australia, New Zealand and SE Asia, with tail feathers that can be spread out like a fan.

fantasia /fanˈteɪzɪə/ ▷ noun (fantasias) 1 a musical composition that is free and unconventional in form. 2 a piece of music based on a selection of popular tunes. ⓒ 18c: Italian, meaning 'imagination'; compare FANTASY.

fantasize or fantasise /ˈfantəsaɪz/ ▷ verb (fantasized, fantasizing) intr (often fantasize about something) to indulge in pleasurable fantasies or daydreams.

fantastic /fanˈtastɪk/ and fantastical ▷ adj 1 colloq splendid; excellent. 2 colloq enormous; amazing. 3 said of a story: absurd, unlikely; incredible. 4 fanciful; capricious. 5 strange; weird. 6 unrealistic □ fantastic idea. • fantastically adverb. ⓒ 15c in sense 4: from Greek phantastikos presenting to the mind.

fantasy or phantasy /ˈfantəsɪ/ ▷ noun (fantasies or phantasies) 1 a pleasant daydream; something longed-for but unlikely to happen. 2 a mistaken notion. 3 imaginings. 4 the activity of imagining. 5 a product of the imagination; a fanciful piece of writing, music, film-making, etc. • fantasist noun. ⓒ 14c, in the sense 'delusive imagination': from Greek phantasia image in the mind, imagination.

fantasy football ▷ noun a system, usually in the form of a competition run by newspapers, etc, whereby participants choose 11 players from a specified league, eg The Scottish First Division, the English Premiership, etc, to make up their own composite team, and receive or lose points based on the performance of those players throughout the season.

fanzine /ˈfanziːn/ ▷ noun 1 a magazine written, published and distributed by and for supporters of football, or amateur enthusiasts of science fiction, pop music, etc. 2 a TV programme in magazine format for football fans. ⓒ 1940s: FAN² + MAGAZINE.

FAO ▷ abbreviation Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

FAQ ▷ abbreviation, computing Frequently Asked Questions, a list of such questions, and their answers, on the Internet. ⓒ 1990s.

f.a.q. ▷ abbreviation 1 commerce fair average quality. 2 free alongside quay.

far /fɑː(r)/ (farther, farthest or further, furthest) ▷ adverb 1 at, to or from a great distance. 2 to or by a great extent □ My guess wasn't far out. 3 at or to a distant time. ▷ adj 1 distant; remote. 2 the more distant of two things. 3 extreme □ the far Right of the party. • farness noun. • as far as up to a certain place or point. • as or so far as to the extent that. • as or so far as I'm, you're, etc concerned in my, your, etc opinion. • as or so far as it goes in its own limited way. • as or so far as that goes or is concerned concerning that, etc in particular. • by far or far and away by a considerable amount; very much □ It's far and away the most expensive model □ by far the most expensive item. • far and wide extensively; everywhere. • far be it from me to do something I am reluctant to do it □ Far be it from me to criticize. • a far cry from something greatly different from it □ His ideas are a far cry from mine. • far from the opposite of; not at all □ That is far from the truth. • far from or so far from not only not □ So far from winning, they finished last. • far gone in an advanced state, eg of illness or drunkenness. • go far to achieve great things. • go so far or as far as to do something to be prepared to do it; to go to the extent of doing it. • go too far to behave, speak, etc unreasonably. • in so far as to the extent that. See also FARTHER, FURTHER. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon feorr.

farad /ˈfarad, ˈfarad/ ▷ noun, electronics (abbreviation F) the SI unit of electrical CAPACITANCE, defined as the capacitance of a capacitor in which a charge of one COULOMB produces a potential difference of one VOLT[1] between its terminals. ⓒ 19c: see FARADAY.

faraday /ˈfaradeɪ/ ▷ noun, physics (abbreviation F) a unit of electrical charge, defined as the charge on a MOLE[4] (6.02 × 10^{23}) of electrons, which is equal to 9.65 × 10^4 COULOMBS. ⓒ Early 20c: named after M Faraday (1791–1867), British physicist.

faradic /fəˈradɪk/ or faradaic /farəˈdeɪɪk/ ▷ adj referring or relating to the laws or theories of Michael Faraday. ⓒ 19c: see FARADAY.

farandole /farənˈdoʊl/ ▷ noun 1 a Provençal folk dance, usually in 6/8 time. 2 the music that goes with this dance or its rhythm. ⓒ 19c: from Provençal farandoulo, from Spanish farandula troop of travelling comedians.

faraway ▷ adj 1 distant. 2 said of a look or expression: dreamy; abstracted; absent-minded.

farce /fɑːs/ ▷ noun 1 a a comedy involving a series of ridiculously unlikely turns of events; b comedies of this type. 2 an absurd situation; something ludicrously badly organized. 3 forcemeat; stuffing. • farcical adj. • farcically adverb. ⓒ 18c in sense 1; 14c in sense 3: French, meaning 'stuffing'.

farceur /fɑːˈsɜː(r)/ and farceuse /-ˈsɜːz/ ▷ noun 1 a male or female joker respectively. 2 a person who writes, or acts in, farces. ⓒ 18c: French.

fare /fɛə(r)/ ▷ noun (fares) 1 the price paid by a passenger to travel on a bus, train, etc. 2 a taxi passenger. 3 old use, formal food or the provision of food □ great Scottish fare. ▷ verb (fared, faring) intr, formal 1 to get on (in a specified way) □ She fared well. 2 archaic, poetic to travel. • farer noun. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon faran to go.

the Far East ▷ noun a loosely-used term for the countries of E and SE Asia, especially China, Japan, North and South Korea, and sometimes also including the Philippines, Vietnam, Laos, Kampuchea, Thailand, Burma (Myanmar), Malaysia, Singapore and Indonesia.

Far-Eastern adj belonging or referring to the countries of the Far East.

fare stage ▷ noun 1 each of the sections into which a bus route is divided, and for which a standard fare is charged. 2 a bus stop marking a fare stage.

farewell /fɛəˈwɛl/ ▷ exclamation, old use goodbye! ▷ noun an act of saying goodbye; an act of departure. ▷ adj parting; valedictory; final □ a farewell party. ⓒ 14c: FARE + WELL[1].

far-fetched ▷ adj said of an idea: unlikely; unconvincing.

far-flung ▷ adj 1 extensive. 2 distant □ the far-flung corners of the world.

farina /fəˈriːnə, fəˈraɪnə/ ▷ noun flour; meal. ⓒ 14c: Latin, from far corn.

farinaceous /farɪˈneɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 like or containing flour or starch. 2 having a soft mealy texture. ⓒ 17c.

farm /fɑːm/ ▷ noun 1 a piece of land with its buildings, used for growing crops or breeding and keeping livestock. 2 a farmer's house and the buildings round it. 3 a place specializing in the rearing or growing of specified animals, fish, vegetables or fruit □ pig farm □ salmon farm □ fish farm. ▷ verb (farmed, farming) 1 tr & intr to prepare and use (land) for crop-growing, animal-rearing, etc; to be a farmer. 2 to collect and keep the proceeds from (taxes, etc) in return for a fixed sum. ⓒ 14c: from French ferme rented land, from Latin firma fixed payment, from firmus FIRM.

■ farm someone out to hand over (children) temporarily to a carer.

■ farm something out to give (work) to others to do.

farmer ▷ noun someone who earns a living by managing or operating a farm, either as owner or tenant.

farmer's lung ▷ noun, medicine a lung disease caused by an allergy to fungal spores that develop in hay baled while it is still damp.

farm hand, farm labourer and farm worker ▷ noun a person whose job is to work on a farm.

farmhouse ▷ noun the farmer's house on a farm.

farming ▷ noun the business of running a farm by growing crops and/or raising livestock for sale.

farmost ▷ adj most distant or most remote.

farmstead ▷ noun a farmhouse and the buildings round it.

farmyard ▷ noun the central yard at a farm, surrounded by farm buildings.

farness see under FAR.

the Far North ▷ noun the Arctic regions of the world.

faro /ˈfɛəroʊ/ ▷ noun, cards a game of chance played by betting on the order of appearance of certain cards taken singly from the top of the pack. ⓒ 18c: from PHARAOH.

far-off ▷ adj, adverb distant; remote.

farouche /fəˈruːʃ, faˈruːʃ/ ▷ adj 1 shy. 2 sullen or unsociable. ⓒ 18c: French, meaning 'wild' or 'shy' or 'savage'.

far-out ▷ adj, colloq 1 strange; weird; outlandish. 2 excellent.

farrago /fəˈrɑːgoʊ, fəˈreɪgoʊ/ ▷ noun (farragos or farragoes) a confused mixture; a hotchpotch. ⓒ 17c: Latin, meaning 'mixed fodder'.

far-reaching ▷ adj having wide validity, scope or influence □ far-reaching consequences.

farrier /ˈfarɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person who shoes horses. 2 old use a VETERINARY SURGEON. 3 old use a person in charge of cavalry horses. • farriery noun (farrieries) 1 the art or work of a farrier. 2 the place where a farrier works. ⓒ 16c: from French ferrier, from Latin ferrarius smith, from ferrum iron.

farrow /ˈfaroʊ/ ▷ noun a sow's litter of piglets. ▷ verb (farrowed, farrowing) tr & intr said of a sow: to give birth to (piglets). ⓒ Anglo-Saxon fearh.

Farsi /ˈfɑːsiː/ ▷ noun modern PERSIAN, the official language of Iran and first language of 20–30 million people in Iran, Afghanistan, Iraq and Tadzhikistan, belonging to the INDO-IRANIAN branch of the INDO-EUROPEAN languages. ⓒ 19c: from Arabic Fars, the name of a province in SW Iran.

far-sighted ▷ adj 1 (also far-seeing) wise; prudent; forward-looking. 2 long-sighted. • far-sightedly adverb. • far-sightedness noun.

the Far South ▷ noun the Antarctic regions of the world.

fart /fɑːt/ coarse slang ▷ verb (farted, farting) intr to emit wind formed by flatulence from the anus. ▷ noun 1 an act of farting. 2 slang a term of abuse for a person □ He is such a boring old fart. □ You fart! ⓒ 18c in sense 2; 13c as verten.

■ fart about or around slang to fool about; waste time, etc.

farther /ˈfɑːðə(r)/ ▷ adj, adverb FURTHER (with reference to physical distance). See also FAR.

farther, further

- Use either farther or further when there is an actual physical distance involved □ I can't walk any farther / further.
- Use further when the meaning is 'additional' or 'beyond this point' □ I would like to make one further point.

farthest /ˈfɑːðɛst/ ▷ adj, adverb FURTHEST (with reference to physical distance).

farthing /ˈfɑːðɪŋ/ ▷ noun, formerly 1 a one quarter of an old British penny; b a coin of this value, eg one which was legal tender in Britain until 1961. 2 something very small. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon feortha quarter.

fartlek /ˈfɑːtlɛk/ ▷ noun, athletics alternate fast and slow running, done as training for marathons and other long-distance races. ⓘ 1950s: Swedish, from fart speed + lek play.

FAS ▷ abbreviation fetal alcohol syndrome.

f.a.s. ▷ abbreviation free alongside ship.

fasces /ˈfasiːz/ ▷ plural noun, Roman hist a bundle of rods with an axe in the middle, carried before magistrates as a symbol of authority. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fascis bundle.

fascia or facia /ˈfeɪʃɪə/ (fasciae /-ʃiiː/ or fascias) ▷ noun 1 the board above a shop entrance, bearing the shop name and logo, etc. 2 Brit the dashboard of a motor vehicle. 3 archit a long flat band or surface. 4 /ˈfaʃɪə/ anatomy connective tissue sheathing a muscle or organ. 5 any bandlike structure. ● fascial or facial adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fascia band.

fascicule /ˈfasɪkjuːl/ or fascicle /ˈfasɪkəl/ ▷ noun one part of a book published in separate parts. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fasciculus, diminutive of FASCES.

fascinate /ˈfasɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (fascinated, fascinating) 1 to interest strongly; to intrigue. 2 said of a snake: to make (an animal or person) unable to move, from fright. 3 to hold spellbound; to enchant irresistibly. ● fascination noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fascinare to bewitch.

fascinating ▷ adj 1 intriguing; deeply interesting. 2 charming; compelling; irresistible. ● fascinatingly adverb.

fascine /faˈsiːn/ ▷ noun, old military use (usually fascines) a brushwood faggot, used to fill ditches or trenches, protect a shore, etc, in order to hold back an attack. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin fascina, from fascis a bundle.

fascioliasis /fasɪəˈlaɪəsɪs/ ▷ noun, medicine an infection of the intestines caused by a liver fluke and characterized by fever, jaundice, diarrhoea and abdominal pain. ⓘ 19c: Latin fasciola small bandage.

fascism /ˈfaʃɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 a political movement or system characterized mainly by a belief in the supremacy of the chosen national group over all others, and in which there is, typically, state control of all aspects of society, a supreme dictator, suppression of democratic bodies such as trade unions and emphasis on nationalism and militarism. 2 (Fascism) this system in force in Italy from 1922 to 1945. 3 any system or doctrine characterized by a belief in the supremacy of a particular way of viewing things, usually an idealization of what is considered perfect □ body fascism. Compare NAZISM at NAZI, NEO-NAZISM at NEO-NAZI. ⓘ 1920s: from Italian fascismo, from Italian Fasci groups of men organized politically, from Latin fascis bundle or group.

fascist /ˈfaʃɪst/ ▷ noun 1 an exponent or supporter of Fascism or (loosely) anyone with extreme right-wing nationalistic, etc views. 2 (Fascist) a member of the ruling party in Italy from 1922–43, or a similar party elsewhere, in particular the NAZI party in Germany. ▷ adj belonging or relating to Fascism. ● fascistic adj.

fashion /ˈfaʃən/ ▷ noun 1 style, especially the latest style, in clothes, music, lifestyle, etc, particularly that which prevails among those whose lead is accepted. 2 a currently popular style or practice; a trend. 3 a manner of doing something □ in a dramatic fashion. 4 the way something is made or constructed. 5 sort, type or kind. 6 dated high society. Also as adj □ fashion house □ fashion victim. ▷ verb (fashioned, fashioning) 1 to form or make something into a particular shape, especially with the hands. 2 to mould or influence something. ● fashioner noun. ● after a fashion in a rather clumsy or inexpert way. ● do something as if it were going out of fashion colloq to do it with great vigour and enthusiasm as though for the last time. ● in fashion currently fashionable. ● out of fashion no longer fashionable; passé. ⓘ 14c: from French faciun, from Latin factio, from facere to make.

fashionable /ˈfaʃənəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of clothes, people, etc: following the latest fashion. 2 used by or popular with fashionable people. 3 dated moving in high society. ● fashionably adv. ● fashionableness noun.

fashion house ▷ noun an establishment in which fashionable clothes are designed, made and sold.

fashion plate ▷ noun 1 an illustration showing the latest style in dress. 2 a well-groomed, fashionably dressed person.

fashion victim ▷ noun, colloq a person who slavishly follows the latest fashions.

fast[1] /fɑːst/ ▷ adj (faster, fastest) 1 moving, or able to move, quickly. 2 taking a relatively short time. 3 said of a clock, etc: showing a time in advance of the correct time. 4 allowing or intended for rapid movement □ the fast lane. 5 said of a photographic film: requiring only brief exposure. 6 colloq tending to make sexual advances on rather brief acquaintance. 7 firmly fixed or caught; steadfast. 8 said of friends: firm; close. 9 said of fabric colours: not liable to run or fade. ▷ adverb 1 quickly; rapidly. 2 in quick succession □ coming thick and fast. 3 firmly; tight □ The glue held fast. 4 deeply; thoroughly □ fast asleep. ● fastish adj. ● fast and furious fast and lively; frenzied or frantic in pace. ● live life in the fast lane colloq to have a lifestyle full of high excitement, expensive enjoyment and glamour. ● play fast and loose to behave irresponsibly or unreliably. ● pull a fast one colloq to cheat or deceive. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fæst fixed or firm.

fast[2] /fɑːst/ ▷ verb (fasted, fasting) intr to go without food, or restrict one's diet, especially as a religious discipline. ▷ noun a period of fasting. See LENT, RAMADAN, YOM KIPPUR. ● fast-day noun. ● faster noun. ● fasting noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fæstan.

fastback ▷ noun a type of car whose roof slopes smoothly down towards the rear, giving a streamlined effect.

fastball ▷ noun, baseball a high-speed, rising delivery of the ball from the pitcher.

fast bowling ▷ noun, cricket bowling of a ball which is delivered fast; pace-bowling.

fast bowler noun, cricket a bowler skilled in FAST BOWLING.

fast-breeder reactor ▷ noun (abbreviation FBR) a type of nuclear reactor in which the neutrons produced during nuclear fission are not slowed down by a moderator, but are used to produce more of the same nuclear fuel, with at least as much fuel being produced as is consumed by the reactor. Compare BREEDER REACTOR.

fasten /ˈfɑːsən/ ▷ verb (fastened, fastening) 1 (also fasten up) to make something firmly closed or fixed. 2 to attach something to something else □ fastened the rope to the mast. 3 intr to become fastened. 4 to be capable of being fastened. ● fastener or fastening noun a device that fastens something; a clasp or catch. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fæstnian.

■ fasten on or upon something 1 to concentrate on it eagerly; to dwell on it. 2 to focus (the eyes) on someone or something in a fixed or penetrating way.

fast food ▷ noun ready-prepared food, such as hamburgers, fried fish, chips, etc, which is served quickly to customers, to be either eaten in the establishment or taken away. Also as adj □ fast-food outlet.

fast-forward ▷ noun the facility provided in a video player, CD player, cassette player, etc, for winding a tape quickly forward, or moving quickly to a later part of the CD, etc. ▷ verb to advance a tape, CD, etc quickly by this means.

fastidious /faˈstɪdɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 particular in matters of taste and detail, especially excessively so. 2 easily disgusted. 3 said of bacteria: having highly specific requirements for growth. ● fastidiously adverb. ● fastidiousness noun. ⓘ 15c in the obsolete sense 'full of pride': from Latin fastidium disgust.

fastigiate /faˈstɪdʒɪeɪt/ or fastigiated ▷ adj 1 pointed; sloping to a point or edge; conical. 2 bot with branches which taper at the ends. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fastigium the gable end of a roof.

fastness /ˈfɑːstnəs/ ▷ noun 1 the quality of being firmly fixed or, with reference to fabric colours, fast. 2 old use a stronghold.

fast neutron ▷ noun, physics a neutron produced by nuclear fission, which has a very high energy content, travels too fast to cause further fission, and which is used to sustain nuclear chain reactions.

fast stream ▷ noun a category of personnel in an organization, particularly the civil service, who are advanced swiftly into high positions.

fast-talk ▷ verb to persuade with rapid talk and plausible arguments.

fast-track colloq ▷ noun 1 a routine for accelerating a proposal, etc through its formalities. 2 a quick but competitive route to advancement. ▷ verb to process or promote someone or something speedily. ● fast-tracker noun.

fat ▷ noun 1 any of a group of organic compounds that occur naturally in animals and plants, are solid at room temperature, and are insoluble in water. 2 a in mammals: a layer of white or yellowish tissue that lies beneath the skin and between various organs, and which serves both as a thermal insulator and as a means of storing energy; b an excess of this. 3 chem any member of a group of naturally occurring substances consisting of the GLYCERIDES of higher fatty acids, eg palmitic acid, stearic acid, oleic acid. ▷ adj (fatter, fattest) 1 having too much fat on the body; plump; overweight. 2 containing a lot of fat. 3 thick or wide. 4 colloq said of a fee, profit, etc: large. 5 fertile; profitable □ a fat land. 6 facetious, slang none at all □ a fat lot of good □ a fat chance. ▷ verb (fatted, fatting) old use to fatten something. ● fatless adj. ● fatly adverb. ● fatness noun. ● fattish adj. ● The fat's in the fire said in expectation of disastrous consequences from something just said or done: that's done it; now there'll be trouble. ● grow fat on something to grow wealthy from the profits of something. ● kill the fatted calf to prepare a feast for someone's homecoming after a long absence. ● live off the fat of the land to live in luxury. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fætt fatted.

fatal /ˈfeɪtəl/ ▷ adj 1 causing death; deadly □ a fatal injury. 2 bringing ruin; disastrous. 3 decisive; critical. 4 destined; unavoidable. ● fatally adverb. ⓘ 14c in the sense 'allotted or decreed by fate': from Latin fatalis, from fatum FATE.

fatalism /ˈfeɪtəlɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 the philosophical doctrine that all events are controlled by fate, and happen by unavoidable necessity, so that humans cannot control them. 2 the acceptance of or surrender to this doctrine. 3 lack of effort in the face of threatened difficulty or disaster. ● fatalist noun. ● fatalistic adj. ● fatalistically adverb. ⓘ 17c: FATAL + -ISM.

fatality /fəˈtalɪtɪ, feɪ-/ ▷ noun (fatalities) 1 an accidental or violent death. 2 a person who has been killed in an accident, etc. 3 the quality of being fatal. 4 the quality of being controlled by fate.

fat cat ▷ noun, slang a rich, prosperous person.

fate /feɪt/ ▷ noun 1 (also Fate) the apparent power that determines the course of events, over which humans have no control. 2 the individual destiny or fortune of a person or thing; what happens to someone or something. 3 ultimate outcome. 4 death, downfall, destruction or doom. ● a fate worse than death facetious a gruesome or unpleasant situation. ⓘ 14c: from Latin fatum that which has been spoken, ie by an oracle.

fated /ˈfeɪtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 destined or intended by fate. 2 doomed.

fateful ▷ adj 1 said of a remark, etc: prophetic. 2 decisive; critical; having significant results. 3 bringing calamity or disaster. ● fatefully adverb. ● fatefulness noun.

the Fates ▷ plural noun, mythol the three goddesses who determine the birth, life and death of humans, who are supposed to appear on the third night after a child's birth to decide upon the course of its life. Compare PARCAE, MOIRAI.

fat-free ▷ adj said of food, especially dairy products: having virtually all the fat removed. Compare FULL-FAT, LOW-FAT.

fathead /ˈfathed/ ▷ noun, colloq, offensive a fool; a stupid person. ● fat-headed adj.

father /ˈfɑːðə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a male parent. 2 (fathers) one's ancestors. 3 a founder, inventor, originator, pioneer or early leader. 4 (Father) a title or form of address for a priest. 5 (Father) Christianity a God; b the first person of the Trinity (see TRINITY); God. 6 (fathers) the leading or senior men of a city, etc. 7 the oldest member or member of longest standing of a profession or body. 8 (Father) used as a title in personifying something ancient or venerable □ Father Time. 9 one of a group of ecclesiastical writers of the early centuries, usually ending with Ambrose, Jerome and Augustine. ▷ verb (fathered, fathering) 1 to be the father of (a child); to beget (offspring); to procreate. 2 to invent or originate (an idea). ● fatherhood noun. ● fatherless adj not having a living father. ● fatherlike adj. ● how's your father see under HOW. ● like father like son said on remarking that someone is like his father in some way. ● the father and mother of something a very extreme (especially bad) example of something □ There'll be the father and mother of a row if the boss sees this! ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fæder.

■ father something on or upon someone 1 to claim that they are the father of something. 2 to assign it as their responsibility.

Father Christmas see SANTA CLAUS father figure ▷ noun an older man who is respected and admired, who people turn to for help, support, advice, etc.

fatherhood see under FATHER father-in-law ▷ noun (fathers-in-law) the father of one's wife or husband.

fatherland ▷ noun 1 said especially of Germany: one's native country. 2 the country of one's ancestors.

fatherless and fatherlike see under FATHER fatherly /ˈfɑːðəlɪ/ ▷ adj benevolent, protective and encouraging, as a father ideally is to a child. • fatherliness.

Father's Day ▷ noun a day on which children offer gifts of thanks to fathers, which in the UK is the third Sunday in June. ⓘ Early 20c: the idea originates in the US, in imitation of MOTHER'S DAY.

fathom /ˈfaðəm/ ▷ noun in the imperial system: a unit of measurement of the depth of water, equal to 6ft (1.8m). ▷ verb (fathomed, fathoming) (also fathom something out) 1 to work out a problem; to get to the bottom of a mystery. 2 to measure the depth of water. • fathomable adj. • fathomless adj unfathomable. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fæthm.

fathometer /fəˈðɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a sonic device for measuring the depth of water. Also called ECHO SOUNDER. 2 (Fathometer) trademark a specific brand of echo sounder.

fathom line ▷ noun a line with a lead weight attached to the end used by sailors for taking soundings.

fatigue /fəˈtiːg/ ▷ noun (plural in senses 4 and 5 only fatigues) 1 tiredness after work or effort, either mental or physical; exhaustion. 2 physiol a decreased power of response to stimulus, resulting from work or effort. 3 weakness, especially in metals, caused by variations in stress. 4 military fatigue-duty. 5 (fatigues) uniform worn by soldiers in battle or for domestic tasks. ▷ verb (fatigued, fatiguing) tr & intr to exhaust or become exhausted. • fatigable or fatiguable adj. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin fatigare to weary.

fatigue-dress ▷ noun clothes worn by a soldier on fatigue-duty.

fatigue-duty ▷ noun the part of a soldier's work distinct from work when arms are used.

fatless, fatly, fatness see under FAT fatsia /ˈfatsɪə/ ▷ noun (fatsias) an evergreen spreading shrub of the ivy family, with leathery leaves and clusters of white flowers in the form of umbels.

fatso /ˈfatsoʊ/ ▷ noun (fatsos or fatsoes) derog, slang a fat person. ⓘ 1940s.

fatten /ˈfatən/ ▷ verb (fattened, fattening) 1 tr & intr (also fatten up or fatten someone or something up) to make or become fat. 2 to enrich (the soil). • fattener noun. • fattening adj, noun.

fattish see under FAT

fatty /ˈfatɪ/ ▷ adj (fattier, fattiest) 1 containing fat. 2 greasy; oily. 3 said of an acid: occurring in, derived from or chemically related to animal or vegetable fats. ▷ noun (fatties) derog, colloq a fat person. • fattiness noun.

fatty acid ▷ noun any of a group of acids, obtained from animal and vegetable fats, that are used in soaps and detergents, as lubricants, etc.

fatuity /fəˈtʃuːɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (plural in sense 2 only fatuities) 1 foolishness; stupidity. 2 something fatuous, eg an inappropriate remark, a stupid action. • fatuitous adj.

fatuous /ˈfatʃʊəs/ ▷ adj foolish, especially in a self-satisfied way; empty-headed; inane. • fatuously adverb. • fatuousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fatuus.

fatwa or fatwah /ˈfatwa/ or fetwa /ˈfɛtwa/ ▷ noun (fatwas, fatwahs or fetwas) a formal legal opinion or decree issued by a Muslim authority. ⓘ 17c as fetfa: Arabic, meaning 'a legal decision'.

faubourg /ˈfoʊbʊəg; French fobuʀ/ ▷ noun a suburb just beyond the city walls, or a district recently included within a city.

fauces /ˈfɔːsiːz/ ▷ noun (plural fauces /ˈfɔːsiːz/) anatomy the upper part of the throat between the back of the mouth and the pharynx. ⓘ 16c: Latin.

faucet /ˈfɔːsɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a TAP[2] fitted to a barrel. 2 N Amer a TAP[2] on a washbasin, etc. ⓘ 15c in sense 1: from French fausset peg.

fault /fɔːlt/ ▷ noun 1 a weakness or failing in character. 2 a flaw or defect in an object or structure. 3 a misdeed or slight offence. 4 responsibility for something wrong ▷ all my fault. 5 geol a break or crack in the Earth's crust, resulting in the slippage of a rock mass. 6 tennis, etc an incorrectly placed or delivered serve. 7 showjumping a penalty for refusing or failing to clear a fence. ▷ verb (faulted, faulting) 1 intr to commit a fault. 2 to blame someone. • at fault 1 culpable; to blame. 2 said of dogs: unable to find the scent. • find fault with something or someone to criticize it or them, especially excessively or unfairly; to complain about it or them. • to a fault to too great an extent. ⓘ 14c in noun 2: from French faute.

fault-finding ▷ noun 1 criticism; captiousness. 2 detection and investigation of faults and malfunctions in electronic equipment. ▷ adj tending to find fault.

fault-finder ▷ noun someone who tends to find fault.

faultless ▷ adj perfect; without fault or defect. • faultlessly adverb. • faultlessness noun.

fault plane ▷ noun, geol the surface along which two rock masses on either side of a fault rub against each other.

faulty /ˈfɔːltɪ/ ▷ adj (faultier, faultiest) 1 having a fault or faults. 2 said particularly of a machine or instrument: not working correctly. • faultily adverb. • faultiness noun.

faun /fɔːn/ ▷ noun, Roman mythol a mythical creature with a man's head and body and a goat's horns, hind legs and tail. ⓘ 14c: from Latin Faunus a rural deity worshipped by shepherds and farmers.

fauna /ˈfɔːnə/ ▷ noun (faunas or faunae /-niː/) 1 the wild animals of a particular region, country, or time period. 2 a book or list giving descriptions of such animals. Compare FLORA. • faunal adj. ⓘ 18c: Latin Fauna goddess of living creatures, sister of Faunus (see FAUN).

fauteuil /ˈfoʊtɜːɪ/ ▷ noun 1 an armchair. 2 a theatre seat. ⓘ 18c: French, from Latin faldistolium FALDSTOOL.

Fauvism /ˈfoʊvɪzəm/ ▷ noun, art a painting style adopted by a group of Expressionists, including Matisse, who regarded a painting as essentially a two-dimensional decoration in colour for communicating emotion, and not necessarily imitating nature. • Fauvist noun, adj. ⓘ Early 20c: from French fauve wild beast.

faux ami /French fozami/ ▷ noun (faux amis) a word in a foreign language that looks similar to one in one's own language, but has a rather different meaning, eg prétendre is French meaning 'claim' or 'assert', not 'pretend'.

faux pas /foʊ pɑː/ ▷ noun (plural faux pas /foʊ pɑːz/) an embarrassing blunder, especially a social blunder. ⓘ 17c: French, meaning 'false step'.

favela /faˈvɛlə/ ▷ noun (favelas) especially in Brazil: a shanty town. ⓘ 1960s: Portuguese.

favour or (N Amer) favor /ˈfeɪvə(r)/ noun 1 a kind or helpful action performed out of goodwill. 2 the liking, approval or goodwill of someone. 3 unfair preference. 4 a knot of ribbons worn as a badge of support for a particular team, political party, etc. 5 historical something given or worn as a token of affection. 6 (favours) euphemistic old use a woman's consent to lovemaking or sexual liberties. ▷ verb (favoured, favouring) 1 to regard someone or something with goodwill. 2 to treat someone or something with preference, or over-indulgently. 3 to prefer; to support. 4 said of circumstances: to give an advantage to someone or something. 5 old use to look like (eg one's mother or father). 6 affected to be wearing (a colour, etc). • favourer noun. • in favour of something or someone 1 having a preference for it or them. 2 to their benefit. 3 in support or approval of them. • in or out of favour with someone having gained, or lost, their approval. ◷ 14c: from Latin favor, from favere to favour.

favourable or (N Amer) favorable ▷ adj 1 showing or giving agreement or consent. 2 pleasing; likely to win approval. 3 (favourable to someone) advantageous or helpful to them; suitable. 4 said of a wind: following. • favourableness noun. • favourably adverb.

favoured or (N Amer) favored ▷ adj 1 enjoying favour or preferential treatment. 2 having a certain appearance □ ill-favoured □ well-favoured.

favourite or (US) favorite /ˈfeɪvərɪt/ ▷ adj best-liked; preferred. ▷ noun 1 a favourite person or thing. 2 someone unfairly preferred or particularly indulged □ He's the boss's favourite. 3 sport a horse or competitor expected to win. ◷ 16c: from French favorit.

favouritism or (US) favoritism /ˈfeɪvərɪtɪzəm/ ▷ noun the practice of giving unfair preference, help or support to someone or something.

fawn[1] /fɔːn/ ▷ noun 1 a young deer of either sex. 2 beige; the colour of a fawn. ▷ adj having this colour □ a fawn coat. ▷ verb (fawned, fawning) intr said of deer: to give birth to young. ◷ 14c: from French faon.

fawn[2] /fɔːn/ ▷ verb (fawned, fawning) intr (often fawn on or upon someone) 1 said of a dog: to show affection for someone by licking, nuzzling, etc. 2 to flatter or behave over-humbly towards someone, in order to win approval. • fawner noun. • fawning noun, adj. • fawningly adverb. ◷ Anglo-Saxon fagnian.

fax /faks/ ▷ noun (faxes) 1 a machine that scans documents electronically and transmits a photographic image of the contents to a receiving machine by telephone line. 2 a a document received by such a machine □ Has a fax arrived for me this morning? b loosely a document sent by a fax machine □ Please send this fax by noon. 3 Also as adj □ fax number □ fax machine. ▷ verb (faxes, faxed, faxing) 1 to transmit a photographic image of (a document) by this means. 2 to send a communication to someone by fax □ Please fax me by noon. • faxable adj. ◷ Fax machines have become commonplace since the 1980s, but fax was first used in the 1940s referring to an early type of fax transmitted by radio: contraction and respelling of FACSIMILE.

fay /feɪ/ ▷ noun (fays) poetic a fairy. ◷ 14c: from French fae, from Latin fata the FATES.

fayre /fɛə(r)/ ▷ noun a nostalgic spelling of FAIR[1].

faze /feɪz/ ▷ verb (fazed, fazing) colloq to disturb, worry or fluster □ He wasn't fazed by the adverse publicity he received □ That film completely fazed me. ◷ 19c: variant of the dialect word feeze to beat off.

fazenda /fəˈzɛndə/ ▷ noun (fazendas) especially in Brazil: a large estate, plantation or cattle ranch. • fazendeiro /-ˈdɛəroʊ/ noun (fazendeiros) someone who owns or runs such a property. ◷ 19c: Portuguese, same as Spanish HACIENDA, from Latin facienda things to be done.

FBA ▷ abbreviation Fellow of the British Academy.

FBI ▷ abbreviation Federal Bureau of Investigation, a special police department in the US that investigates political or other activities that are thought to threaten state security. Compare CIA.

FBR ▷ abbreviation fast-breeder reactor or fast-breeder reactors.

FC ▷ abbreviation 1 football club. 2 Free Church.

F-clef see BASS CLEF.

FCO ▷ abbreviation Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

FD ▷ abbreviation used on British coins: Fidei Defensor (Latin), DEFENDER OF THE FAITH.

Fe ▷ symbol, chem iron. ◷ 19c: from Latin ferrum iron.

fealty /ˈfiːəltɪ/ ▷ noun (fealties) feudalism the loyalty sworn by a vassal or tenant to his feudal lord. ◷ 14c: from French fealte, from Latin fidelitas loyalty.

fear /fɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 anxiety and distress caused by the awareness of danger or expectation of pain. 2 a cause of this feeling. 3 relig reverence, awe or dread. ▷ verb (feared, fearing) 1 to be afraid of someone or something. 2 to think or expect something with dread. 3 to regret something; to be sorry to say something. • for fear of ... or for fear that ... because of the danger of something or that something will happen. • in fear of something or someone frightened of it or them. • no fear colloq no chance; definitely not □ no fear of winning □ No fear! • put the fear of God into someone colloq to terrify them. • without fear or favour completely impartially. ◷ Anglo-Saxon fær calamity.

▪ fear for something to be frightened or anxious about it □ feared for their lives.

fearful ▷ adj 1 afraid. 2 frightening. 3 colloq very bad. • fearfully adj. • fearfulness noun.

fearless ▷ adj without fear; brave. • fearlessly adverb. • fearlessness noun.

fearsome ▷ adj 1 causing fear. 2 frightening. • fearsomely adverb.

feasibility study ▷ noun an investigation to determine whether a proposed project, system, etc would be desirable, cost effective, etc to develop or put into operation.

feasible /ˈfiːzɪbəl/ ▷ adj 1 capable of being done or achieved; possible. 2 loosely probable; likely. • feasibility noun. • feasibly adverb. ◷ 15c: from French faisible that can be done, from Latin facere to do.

feast /fiːst/ ▷ noun 1 a large rich meal, eg to celebrate some occasion. 2 a pleasurable abundance of something. 3 relig a regularly occurring celebration commemorating a person or event. ▷ verb (feasted, feasting) 1 intr to take part in a feast, ie to eat and drink a lot. 2 old use to provide a feast for someone; to entertain someone sumptuously. • feaster noun. • feasting noun. • feast one's eyes on or upon something to gaze at it with pleasure. • movable feast see under MOVABLE. ◷ 13c: from French feste, from Latin festum a holiday.

▪ feast on or upon something to eat or experience it with enjoyment.

Feast of Tabernacles see under SUKKOTH.

feat /fiːt/ ▷ noun a deed or achievement, especially a remarkable one requiring extraordinary strength, skill or courage. ◷ 15c: from French fait, from Latin factum; compare FACT.

feather /ˈfɛðə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any of the light growths that form the soft covering of a bird. 2 something with a featherlike appearance. 3 plumage. 4 condition; spirits □ in fine feather. 5 something of little importance. 6 the feathered end of an arrow. 7 rowing the action of feathering an oar. ▷ verb (feathered, feathering) 1 to provide, cover or line with feathers. 2 to turn (one's oar) parallel to the water to lessen air resistance. • featheriness noun. • feathering noun. • feathery adj. • a feather in one's cap something one can be proud of. • feather one's own nest to accumulate money for oneself, especially dishonestly. • birds of a feather see under BIRD. • in full or high feather greatly elated or in high spirits. • make the feathers fly colloq to cause a commotion. • ruffle someone's feathers to upset or offend someone. • show the white feather to show signs of cowardice. ◷ A white feather in a gamecock's tail being considered as a sign of inferior breeding. • You could have knocked me down with a feather I was astonished. ◷ Anglo-Saxon.

feather bed ▷ noun a mattress stuffed with feathers. ▷ verb (featherbed) 1 to spoil or pamper someone. 2 to protect (an industry, workers, etc) by practices such as overmanning in order to save or create jobs. 3 colloq to give financial inducements to someone.

featherbrain ▷ noun, derog a frivolous, feckless person; an empty-headed person.

feather-brained ▷ adj, derog silly; empty-headed.

feather duster ▷ noun a stick with a head made of feathers, used for dusting.

feathered ▷ adj covered or fitted with feathers or something featherlike.

feathered friend ▷ noun, jocular a bird.

feather star see under CRINOID feather stitch ▷ noun, needlework a zigzag stitch in embroidery.

featherweight ▷ noun 1 a class for boxers, wrestlers and weightlifters of not more than a specified weight, which is 57kg (126 lb) in professional boxing, and similar weights in the other sports. 2 a boxer, etc of this weight. 3 someone who weighs very little. 4 derog someone of little importance or influence.

feature /ˈfiːtʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any of the parts of the face, eg eyes, nose, mouth, etc. 2 (features) the face. 3 a characteristic. 4 a noticeable part or quality of something. 5 an extended article in a newspaper, discussing a particular issue ▫ a feature on coalmining in Britain. 6 an article or item appearing regularly in a newspaper. 7 a FEATURE FILM. ▷ verb (featured, featuring) 1 to have as a feature or make a feature of something. 2 to give prominence to (an actor, a well-known event, etc) in a film ▫ The film features the French Revolution. • featureless adj dull; with no points of interest. ⓘ 14c in the sense 'bodily form': from French faiture.

■ feature in something to play an important part or role in (a film, documentary, etc).

featured ▷ adj 1 said of an actor, etc: prominent in a particular film, etc. 2 in compounds having features of a specified type ▫ sharp-featured.

feature film ▷ noun a film, usually of about 1½ to 3 hours in length, that forms the main part of a cinema programme, as opposed to a SHORT, TRAILERs or advertising, etc.

feature-length ▷ adj said of films: comparable in length to a feature film.

Feb. ▷ abbreviation February.

febrifuge /ˈfebrɪfjuːdʒ, ˈfiː-/ ▷ noun, medicine a medicine, treatment, etc that reduces fever. • febrifugal /fɪˈbrɪfjʊgəl, febrɪˈfjuːgəl/ adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin febrifuga FEVERFEW.

febrile /ˈfiːbraɪl, ˈfe-/ ▷ adj relating to fever; feverish. ⓘ 17c: from Latin febris fever.

February /ˈfebrʊərɪ, ˈfebjʊərɪ/ ▷ noun (Februaries) (abbreviation Feb.) the second month of the year, which follows January and comes before March, and has 28 days, except in LEAP YEARS when it has 29. ⓘ 13c: from Latin Februarius month of expiation, from februa the Roman festival of purification.

fec. ▷ abbreviation: fecit (Latin), he or she made or did this.

fecal the N Amer spelling of FAECAL.

feces the N Amer spelling of FAECES.

feckless /ˈfekləs/ ▷ adj 1 helpless; clueless. 2 irresponsible; aimless. • fecklessly adv. • fecklessness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Scots feck effect.

feculent /ˈfekjʊlənt/ ▷ adj containing or consisting of faeces or sediment; foul; turbid. • feculence noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin faeculentus full of dregs.

fecund /ˈfiːkənd, ˈfek-/ ▷ adj fruitful; fertile; richly productive. • fecundity noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin fecundus.

fecundate /ˈfiːkəndeɪt, ˈfekəndeɪt/ ▷ verb (fecundated, fecundating) to make something fruitful or fertile; to impregnate. • fecundation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fecundare to fertilize.

Fed. US ▷ abbreviation 1 Federal Reserve Board. 2 Federal Reserve System. ▷ noun, slang an agent of the FBI.

fed past tense, past participle of FEED. See also FED UP.

fedayee /fəˈdɑːjiː/ (fedayeen /-jiːn/) noun an Arab commando or guerilla fighter, especially one involved in the conflict against Israel, trained by organizations such as the PLO. ⓘ 1950s: from Arabic fida'i one who sacrifices himself or herself.

federal /ˈfedərəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to a country consisting of a group of states independent in local matters but united under a central government for other purposes, eg defence, foreign policy ▫ the Federal Republic of Germany. 2 relating to the central government of a group of federated states. 3 (Federal) historical supporting the union government during the American Civil War. ⓘ 17c: from Latin foedus treaty.

Federal Bureau of Investigation see under FBI federalism ▷ noun, politics the principles and practice of federal government, especially a system in which constitutional powers are devolved to national and regional governments. ⓘ 18c.

federalist ▷ noun someone who advocates or supports a federal constitution or union.

federalize or federalise ▷ verb (federalized, federalizing) 1 tr & intr to bring together as a federal union or federation. 2 to subject to federal control. • federalization noun.

Federal Republic of Germany ▷ noun the official name of Germany, and of West Germany before unification in 1990 with East Germany.

Federal Reserve Board ▷ noun the board of governors in charge of the Federal Reserve System, which acts as the CENTRAL BANK in the US, and comprises twelve Federal Reserve Banks.

federate ▷ verb /ˈfedəreɪt/ (federated, federating) tr & intr to unite to form a federation. ▷ adj /ˈfedərɪt/ united by a federal union; federated. ⓘ 19c: from Latin foedus treaty.

federation /fedəˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a FEDERAL union of states, ie a group of states united politically by a treaty. Compare CONFEDERATION. 2 a union of business organizations, institutions, etc. 3 the act of uniting in a league.

federative /ˈfedərətɪv/ ▷ adj relating to or constituted as a federation.

fedora /fɪˈdɔːrə/ ▷ noun (fedoras) a brimmed felt hat, dented lengthways. ⓘ Late 19c: said to be from Fédora, the title of a play by Victorien Sardou (1831–1908).

fed up ▷ adj (also fed up with or (colloq) of something) bored; irritated. • fed up to the back teeth or fed up to the back teeth with or of something colloq bored, tired and annoyed by something, and impatient for a solution.

fee /fiː/ ▷ noun (fees) 1 a charge made for professional services, eg by a doctor or lawyer. 2 a charge for eg membership of a society, sitting an examination, entrance to a museum, etc. 3 (usually fees) a payment for school or college education, or for a course of instruction. 4 a payment made to a football club for the transfer of one of its players. 5 law an estate in the form of land that is inheritable with either restricted rights (fee tail) or unrestricted rights (fee simple). ▷ verb (fees, feed, feeing) to pay a fee to someone. ⓘ 13c: partly from Anglo-Saxon feoh cattle or property; partly from French fie fee, which is probably from the same Germanic origin.

feeble /ˈfiːbəl/ ▷ adj (feebler, feeblest) 1 lacking strength; weak. 2 said of a joke, an excuse, etc: lacking power, influence or effectiveness; unconvincing. 3 easily influenced. • feebleness noun. • feebly adverb. ⓘ 12c: from French foible.

feeble-minded ▷ adj 1 unable to make a decision; lacking resolve. 2 stupid; considered to lack intelligence. • feeble-mindedly adverb. • feeble-mindedness noun.

feed¹ /fiːd/ ▷ verb (fed, feeding) verb 1 to give or supply food to (animals, etc). 2 to give something as food (to animals, etc) □ fed biscuits to his dog. 3 to administer food (to an infant, young animal) □ to feed the baby. 4 in compounds to administer food to someone in a specified way □ breast-feed □ bottle-feed □ force-feed. 5 intr said of animals: to eat food □ Sheep feed all day. 6 to supply a machine, etc with fuel or other material required for continued operation or processing. 7 theat to provide (an actor, especially a comedian) with material or a cue to achieve an effect, often a comic effect. 8 sport to pass the ball to (a team-mate). ▷ noun 1 an act or session of feeding. 2 an allowance of food for animals, eg cattle or babies. 3 food for livestock, etc. 4 colloq a meal, especially a hearty one □ a good feed. 5 the channel or mechanism by which a machine is supplied with fuel, etc. 6 the material supplied progressively for any operation. 7 the rate of supply of material to a machine; the rate of progress of a tool. 8 theat an actor who feeds or cues another one; a stooge. • feedable adj. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon fedan.

■ feed on something 1 said especially of animals: to eat it, especially as a regular diet □ The cattle fed on hay. 2 said of an emotion, etc: to be fuelled by something; to be strengthened or encouraged.

■ feed (animals, etc) on something to give them it as food, especially as a regular diet □ The farmer fed the cattle on hay.

■ feed someone up to fatten them up with nourishing food.

feed² past tense, past participle of FEE feedback ▷ noun 1 responses and reactions to an inquiry or report, etc that provide guidelines for adjustment and development. 2 the process by which part of the output of a system or device, or of a component of a living organism, is returned to the input, in order to regulate or modify subsequent output. 3 in a public-address system, etc: the partial return to the microphone of the sound output, producing high-pitched whistle or howl. 4 the whistling noise so produced. 5 used in relation to biological, etc, self-adjusting systems.

feeder ▷ noun 1 a person, especially a baby or animal, with particular eating habits □ a poor feeder □ a big feeder. 2 a person who feeds another. 3 a child's feeding bottle. 4 a child's bib. 5 a stream that runs into a river; a tributary. 6 a minor road, railway line, etc leading to a main one; any channel of supply to a main system. 7 a power line with large current-carrying capacity, used to transmit electric power between a generating station and a distribution network.

feeding ▷ noun the act of giving food □ The feeding took two hours. • feeding time a particular time of each day, etc when a feed is given.

feeding bottle ▷ noun a bottle with a rubber teat used for feeding liquid food, especially to a human infant.

fee-faw-fum see FE FI FO FUM feedstock ▷ noun raw material used in an industrial process or machine.

feel /fiːl/ ▷ verb (felt, feeling) 1 to become aware of something through the sense of touch. 2 tr & intr to have a physical or emotional sensation of something; to sense. 3 tr & intr to find out or investigate with the hands, etc. 4 tr & intr to have (an emotion). 5 tr & intr to react emotionally to something or be emotionally affected by something □ feels the loss very deeply. 6 intr to give the impression of being (soft, hard, rough, etc) when touched. 7 intr to be or seem (well, ill, happy, etc). 8 to instinctively believe in something □ She feels that this is a good idea. 9 to seem to oneself to be □ feel a fool. ▷ noun 1 a sensation or impression produced by touching. 2 an impression or atmosphere created by something. 3 an act of feeling with the fingers, etc. 4 an instinct, touch or knack. • feel oneself to feel as well as normal □ felt herself again after a good sleep. • feel one's feet to get used to a new situation, job etc. • feel one's way to make one's way cautiously. • get the feel of something to become familiar with it or used to it. • have a feel for something have a natural ability for or understanding of (an activity, etc). ⓒ Anglo-Saxon felan.

■ feel around for something to search for it with the fingers, etc.

■ feel for someone to have sympathy or compassion for them.

■ feel for something to try to find it by feeling.

■ feel like something 1 to seem to oneself to be like something, to perceive oneself as something □ feel like an idiot □ feel like a fool. 2 to have an inclination or desire for it □ feel like a walk □ I feel like going to the cinema tonight.

■ feel someone up slang to move one's hands over their sexual organs.

■ feel up to something usually with negatives or in questions to feel fit enough for it □ I don't feel up to a late night out.

feel-bad ▷ adj, colloq associated with feelings of discontentment and unease with the economy, society, etc. □ feel-bad factor.

feeler ▷ noun 1 a tentacle. 2 either of a pair of long slender jointed structures, sensitive to touch, on the head of certain invertebrate animals, especially insects or crustaceans. Also called ANTENNA. • put out feelers to sound out the opinion of others on a particular subject before taking action.

feelgood ▷ adj, colloq reinforcing or associated with pleasant feelings of comfort, security, etc □ the feelgood factor □ the ultimate feelgood film.

feeling ▷ noun 1 the sense of touch, a sensation or emotion. 2 emotion as distinct from reason. 3 strong emotion □ speak with feeling. 4 a belief or opinion. 5 (usually a feeling for something) a natural ability for, or understanding of, an activity, etc. 6 affection. 7 mutual interactive emotion between two people, such as bad feeling (resentment), good feeling (friendliness), ill feeling (hostility), etc. 8 (often feeling for something) an instinctive grasp or appreciation of it. 9 (feelings) one's attitude to something □ have strong feelings □ have mixed feelings. 10 (feelings) one's sensibilities; delicately balanced emotional attitude □ hurt someone's feelings. ▷ adj sensitive; sympathetic. • feelingless adj. • feelingly adverb with sincerity resulting from experience. • feelings are running high there is a general feeling of anger, strong emotion, etc. • no hard feelings no offence taken. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon felan to feel.

feet /fiːt/ ▷ noun, plural of FOOT. • at someone's feet or at the feet of someone under their spell; totally devoted to them; in a position of submission, homage, etc. • drag one's feet see under DRAG. • fall on one's feet to be unexpectedly or undeservedly lucky. • get or rise to one's feet to stand up. • have one's feet on the ground to have plenty of common sense. • have the ball at one's feet to be in control of things, with many opportunities ahead. • put one's feet up to take a rest. • under one's feet in one's way; hindering one □ She got nothing done all day; the toddler just kept getting under her feet. See also under FOOT.

fe fi fo fum /ˈfiːˈfaɪˈfoʊˈfʌm/ and fee-faw-fum /ˈfiːˈfɔːˈfʌm/ ▷ exclamation 1 the first phrase spoken by the giant in the nursery tale 'Jack the giant killer' when he discovers the presence of Jack. The giant continues by saying I smell the blood of an Englishman. 2 used in fun to frighten children. 3 expressive of bloodthirstiness or murderous intent. ⊙ From aural storytelling tradition.

feign /feɪn/ ▷ verb (feigned, feigning) to pretend to have (eg an illness) or feel (an emotion, etc); to invent. ● feigning noun. ⊙ 13c: from Latin fingere to contrive.

feigned ▷ adj 1 pretended. 2 simulated. 3 imagined.

feint[1] /feɪnt/ ▷ noun 1 said in boxing, fencing or other sports: a mock attack; a movement intended to deceive or distract one's opponent. 2 a misleading action or appearance. ▷ verb (feinted, feinting) intr to make a feint, eg a mock attack. ⊙ 17c: from French feinte to feign.

feint[2] /feɪnt/ ▷ adj said of paper: ruled with pale, fine horizontal lines to guide writing. ⊙ 19c: variant of FAINT.

feisty /'faɪstɪ/ ▷ adj (feistier, feistiest) colloq 1 spirited; lively. 2 irritable; quarrelsome. ⊙ Late 19c: US dialect fist an aggressive small dog.

felafel or falafel /fə'lafəl, fə'lɑː-/ ▷ noun a deep-fried ball of ground chick-peas, with onions, peppers, etc and spices, usually served in a roll or a round of pitta bread. ⊙ 1950s: from Arabic falafil.

feldspar /'fɛldspɑː(r)/ or felspar /'fɛlspɑː(r)/ ▷ noun, geol any of a large group of rock-forming minerals, mainly aluminium silicates, found in most igneous and many metamorphic rocks, eg orthoclase, plagioclase. ● feldspathic or felspathic adj. ⊙ 18c: from German Feld field + Spat spar.

felicia /fə'lɪʃə/ ▷ noun (felicias) any member of a S African genus of the daisy family, with blue or lilac flowers. ⊙ 20c: from Latin felix happy.

felicitate /fə'lɪsɪteɪt/ ▷ verb (felicitates, felicitated, felicitating) to congratulate someone. ● felicitation noun 1 the act of congratulating. 2 (felicitations) congratulations. ⊙ 17c: from Latin felicitas happiness.

felicitous /fə'lɪsɪtəs/ ▷ adj 1 said of wording: elegantly apt; well-chosen; appropriate. 2 pleasant; happy. ● felicitously adverb. ● felicitousness noun.

felicity /fə'lɪsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (felicities) 1 happiness. 2 a cause of happiness. 3 elegance or aptness of wording; an appropriate expression. ⊙ 14c: from Latin felicitas happiness.

feline /'fiːlaɪn/ ▷ adj 1 relating to the cat or cat family, eg cats, lions, leopards, cheetahs. 2 like a cat, especially in terms of its movement, eg in stealth or elegance. ▷ noun any animal of the cat family; a cat. ⊙ 17c: from Latin felis cat.

fell[1] ▷ verb (felled, felling) 1 to cut down (a tree). 2 to knock down someone or something; to make them fall. 3 needlecraft to turn under and stitch down the edges of, eg a seam. ▷ noun 1 a quantity of timber felled at one time. 2 needlecraft a felled seam. ● fellable adj. ● feller noun. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon fyllan to make something fall.

fell[2] ▷ noun (often fells) Scottish & Northern English 1 a hill or moor. 2 an upland tract of waste, pasture or moorland. ⊙ 14c: from Norse fjall.

fell[3] ▷ adj, old use destructive; deadly. ● at or in one fell swoop at a single deadly blow; in one quick operation. ⊙ 13c: from French fel cruel.

fell[4] ▷ noun 1 an animal skin. 2 a covering of rough hair. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon.

fell[5] past tense of FALL[1] fellah /'fɛlə/ ▷ noun (fellahs or fellaheen or fellahin /fɛlə'hiːn/) a peasant in Arabic-speaking countries, especially in Egypt. ⊙ 18c: Arabic, meaning 'someone who cultivates the soil'.

fellatio /fɛ'leɪʃɪoʊ/ ▷ noun sexual stimulation of the penis by sucking or licking. ⊙ 19c: from Latin fellare to suck.

feller see under FELL[1], FELLOW fellow /'fɛloʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a companion or equal. 2 (also colloq fella or fellah or feller) a a man or boy, sometimes used dismissively; b colloq a boyfriend. 3 a senior member of a college or university; a member of the governing body of a college or university. 4 a postgraduate research student financed by a fellowship. 5 (Fellow) a member of any of many learned societies □ Fellow of the Royal Society of Edinburgh. 6 one of a pair □ one sock on the chair, its fellow on the floor. 7 as adj relating to a person in the same situation or condition as oneself, or having the same status, etc □ a fellow citizen □ a fellow worker □ a fellow countryman. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon feolaga partner.

fellow feeling ▷ noun sympathy for someone with experiences similar to one's own.

fellowship ▷ noun 1 friendly companionship. 2 commonness or similarity of interests between people, often common religious interests □ Christian fellowship. 3 a society or association. 4 the status of a fellow of a college, society, etc. 5 a salary paid to a research fellow, often from a college or university endowment fund.

fellow traveller ▷ noun 1 someone who sympathizes with a political party, especially the Communist Party, without actually joining it. 2 a person travelling in the same train, bus, etc as oneself.

fell-running ▷ noun the sport of running over fells (see FELL[2]), sometimes competitively. ● fell-runner noun.

fell-walking ▷ noun the pastime of walking over fells (see FELL[2]). ● fell-walker noun.

felon[1] /'fɛlən/ ▷ noun, law a person guilty of FELONY. ⊙ 13c.

felon[2] /'fɛlən/ ▷ noun an inflamed sore. ⊙ 14c.

felonious /fə'loʊnɪəs/ ▷ adj, law involving or constituting FELONY. ● feloniously adverb. ● feloniousness noun.

felony /'fɛlənɪ/ ▷ noun (felonies) law a serious crime. ⊙ 13c: from Latin fello traitor.

felspar see FELDSPAR felt[1] ▷ noun a fabric formed by matting or pressing together wool fibres, rather than by weaving, using the natural tendency of the fibres to cling together. ▷ verb (felted, felting) 1 tr & intr to make into felt; to mat. 2 to cover with felt. 3 intr to become felted or matted. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon.

felt[2] past tense, past participle of FEEL felting ▷ noun 1 the art or process of making felt or matting fibres together. 2 heavy tar-covered material used to waterproof an outhouse, shed, garage, etc □ roof felting.

felt pen, felt-tip pen and felt tip ▷ noun a pen with a nib made of felt, often one of a set of felt pens of various colours used for artwork, etc. ⊙ 1960s: originally felt-tipped (marking) pen.

fem see FEMME

fem. ▷ abbreviation feminine.

female /'fiːmeɪl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to the sex that gives birth to young, produces eggs, etc. 2 denoting the reproductive structure of a plant that contains an egg cell, such as the pistil of flowering plants. 3 belonging or relating to, or characteristic of, a woman. 4 engineering said of a piece of machinery, etc: having a hole or holes into which another part (the MALE adj 5) fits. ▷ noun 1 sometimes derog a woman or girl. 2 a female animal or plant. ● femaleness noun. ⊙ 14c: from Latin femella young woman, with spelling influenced by association with male.

female circumcision ▷ noun surgical mutilation or removal of external female genital organs, especially involving CLITORIDECTOMY and INFIBULATION.

female condom ▷ noun a form of contraception consisting of a thin polyurethane pouch that fits inside the vagina. ⊙ 1992.

female, feminine

There is often confusion between female and feminine. female classifies living things and (for people) refers to the fact of being a woman □ Nearly everyone, female as well as male, can shed surplus fat. Feminine describes and refers to characteristics that are typical of women □ We took it for granted that washing regularly was an exclusively feminine pursuit.

female screw ▷ noun a cylindrical hole with a thread or groove cut on the inward surface.

feminine /ˈfemɪnɪn/ ▷ adj 1 typically belonging or relating to, or characteristic of, a woman. 2 having or reflecting qualities considered typical of a woman; effeminate. 3 grammar (abbreviation f. or fem.) in some languages: belonging or relating to the GENDER into which most words for human and animal females fall, along with many other nouns. Compare COMMON GENDER, MASCULINE, NEUTER. ▷ noun, grammar 1 the feminine gender. 2 a word belonging to this gender. • femininely adverb. • femininity noun. ◎ 14c: from Latin feminina, diminutive of femina woman.

feminism ▷ noun a belief or movement advocating the cause of women's rights and opportunities, particularly equal rights with men, by challenging inequalities between the sexes in society. ◎ Late 19c: from Latin femina woman.

feminist ▷ noun a person who adheres to the tenets of feminism. ▷ adj relating to feminism □ the feminist cause.

feminize or feminise ▷ verb (feminized, feminizing) tr & intr 1 to make or become feminine. 2 to make (a male animal) develop female characteristics.

femme or fem /fem/ informal ▷ noun 1 someone who is dressed up in a particularly feminine way. 2 someone, usually a lesbian or gay man, who takes on a passive role in sex. ▷ adj said especially of lesbians: dressed in a particularly feminine way □ She's looking very femme today. Compare BUTCH. ◎ 20c in these senses: French, meaning 'woman'.

femme fatale /fam fəˈtɑːl/ ▷ noun (femmes fatales /fam fəˈtɑːl/) a woman with an irresistible charm and fascination, often bringing those who love her (usually men) into despair and disaster. ◎ Early 19c: French, meaning 'fatal woman'.

femoral see under FEMUR femto- /ˈfemtoʊ/ ▷ combining form a thousand million millionth (10^{-15}). ◎ From Danish or Norwegian femten fifteen.

femur /ˈfiːmə(r)/ ▷ noun (femurs or femora /ˈfemərə/) 1 the longest and largest bone of the human skeleton, the upper end of which articulates with the hip joint, and the lower end with the knee joint. Also called thigh bone. 2 the corresponding bone in the hind limb of four-limbed vertebrates. 3 the segment of an insect's leg that is closest to its body. • femoral /ˈfemərəl/ adj belonging or relating to, or in the region of, the femur or the thigh. ◎ 19c: Latin, meaning 'thigh'.

fen ▷ noun a waterlogged area of lowland dominated by grasses, sedges and rushes, having an alkaline soil. Also called fenland. Compare THE FENS. • fenny adj. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fenn.

fence /fens/ ▷ noun 1 a barrier eg of wood or wire, for enclosing or protecting land. 2 a barrier of various designs for a horse to jump. 3 slang someone who receives and disposes of stolen goods. 4 a guard to limit motion in a piece of machinery. 5 a guiding device on a circular saw or plane. ▷ verb (fenced, fencing) 1 (also fence something in or off) to enclose or separate it with a fence, or as if with a fence. 2 intr to practise the art or sport of fencing. 3 to build fences. 4 (usually fence with words) intr to avoid answering directly. 5 intr, slang to be a receiver or purchaser of stolen goods. • fenceless adj. • mend one's fences to improve or restore one's relations, reputation or popularity, especially in politics. • sit on the fence to be unable or unwilling to support either side in a dispute, etc. ◎ 14c as fens, shortened from DEFENCE.

fencer ▷ noun 1 someone who builds fences. 2 someone who practices the art or sport of fencing.

fencible /ˈfensɪbəl/ ▷ noun, historical a volunteer enlisted to defend their country.

fencing /ˈfensɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the art, act or sport of attack and defence with a foil, épée or sabre. 2 material used for constructing fences. 3 fences collectively.

fencing-master ▷ noun someone who has mastered and/or teaches the art of fencing.

fend /fend/ ▷ verb (fended, fending) 1 (usually fend something or someone off) to defend oneself from (blows, questions, etc). 2 intr (especially fend for someone) to provide for, especially oneself. ◎ 14c: shortened from DEFEND.

fender /ˈfendə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a low guard fitted round a fireplace to keep ash, coals, etc within the hearth. 2 N Amer the wing or mudguard of a car. 3 a bundle of rope, tyres, etc hanging from a ship's side to protect it when in contact with piers, etc. 4 any structure serving as a guard against contact or impact.

fenestra /fəˈnestrə/ ▷ noun (fenestrae /-striː/) 1 archit a window or other wall opening. 2 biol a small opening, especially between the middle and inner ear. 3 zool a translucent spot, eg one found on a moth's wing. • fenestral adj. ◎ 19c: Latin.

fenestra ovalis see OVAL WINDOW fenestra rotunda see ROUND WINDOW fenestrated /fəˈnestreɪtɪd, ˈfenə-/ and fenestrate ▷ adj 1 archit having windows. 2 biol perforated; pierced; having translucent spots.

fenestration /fenəˈstreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 archit the arrangement of windows in a building. 2 surgery the operation of making an artificial fenestra in bone, especially in the ear to restore hearing.

feng shui /ˈfeŋʃuːi, ˈfʌŋ-/ ▷ noun the process of making the correct decision about the siting of a building, placing of furniture, etc in a building, room, etc so as to ensure the optimum happiness for the occupants, based on the notion that the natural elements (water, earth, etc) and YIN and YANG influence the cosmic currents of a locality. ◎ 18c: Chinese, meaning 'wind and water'.

feni or fenny /ˈfenɪ/ ▷ noun (fenis or fennies) an alcoholic spirit produced in Goa from coconuts or cashew nuts.

Fenian /ˈfiːnɪən/ ▷ noun 1 a member of an association of Irishmen founded in New York in 1857 for the overthrow of the British government in Ireland. 2 especially Irish, offensive Catholic. ▷ adj 1 belonging to the modern Fenians. 2 offensive Catholic. • Fenianism noun. ◎ 19c: from Irish Gaelic Fene, one of the names of the ancient population of Ireland, confused in modern times with fiann the militia of Finn and other ancient Irish kings.

fenks /feŋks/ ▷ plural noun the fibrous parts of the blubber of a whale, forming the refuse when the oil has been melted out. ◎ 19c.

fenland see under FEN fenman ▷ noun someone who lives in fen country.

fennec /ˈfenek/ ▷ noun a little African fox with large ears. ◎ 18c: from Arabic fenek fox.

fennel /ˈfenəl/ ▷ noun a strong-smelling, yellow-flowered, umbelliferous plant, whose seeds and leaves are used in cooking. See also FINOCCHIO. ◎ Anglo-Saxon finul, from Latin fenum hay.

fenny see under FEN, FENI the Fens ▷ plural noun a flat low-lying region around the Wash in Eastern England, which was a marsh area until reclaimed between the 17th and 19th centuries. Compare FEN.

fenugreek /ˈfenjuɡriːk/ ▷ noun a white-flowered leguminous plant with strong-smelling seeds, native to SW Asia and the Mediterranean region and widely cultivated in India, grown as animal fodder and also used in curries and salads. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fenogrecum, from Latin fenum graecum Greek hay.

feoff /fiːf, fef/ ▷ verb (feoffed, feoffing) feudalism to grant possession (of a fief or property) in land. Compare FIEF, and also FEE which is in current usage. ■ feoffee noun (feoffees) the person invested with the fief. ■ feoffer or feoffor noun the person who grants the fief. ■ feoffment noun the gift of a fief. ⓘ 13c: from French feoffer or fiefer, from French fief.

feral /ˈferəl, ˈfɪərəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of animals normally found in a domestic situation or in captivity: wild, fending for itself ▫ feral cats. 2 said of a plant: uncultivated; having run wild. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fera wild beast.

fer-de-lance /feədəˈlɑːns/ ▷ noun (fers-de-lance or fer-de-lances) either of two tropical American species of PIT VIPER. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'head (literally 'iron') of a lance'.

feretory /ˈferətəri/ ▷ noun (feretories) RC Church 1 a shrine for relics of saints, often carried in processions. 2 a chapel attached to an abbey or church in which shrines are kept. ⓘ 14c: from Latin feretrum, from Greek pherein to bear.

ferial /ˈfɪərɪəl/ ▷ adj, RC Church relating to any day of the week which is neither a fast nor a festival. ⓘ 14c: from Latin feria a holiday.

fermata /fɜːˈmɑːtə/ ▷ noun (fermatas or fermate /-eɪ/) music a pause. ⓘ 19c: Italian.

ferment ▷ noun /ˈfɜːment/ 1 a substance that causes fermentation, such as a bacterium, yeast or mould. 2 fermentation. 3 a state of agitation or excitement. ▷ verb /fəˈment/ (fermented, fermenting) 1 tr & intr to undergo or make something undergo fermentation. 2 to be or make something be in a state of excitement or instability. ■ fermentability noun. ■ fermentable adj. ■ fermented adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin fermentum yeast, from fervere to boil.

fermentation /fɜːmenˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun, chem a biochemical process in which micro-organisms such as bacteria, yeasts, moulds or enzymes are used to break down an organic compound, usually a carbohydrate, in the absence of oxygen, eg the conversion of sugar into alcohol. ■ fermentative adj.

fermi /ˈfɜːmi/ ▷ noun (fermis) nuclear physics a unit of length equal to 10^{-5} angstrom, or 10^{-15} metres. ⓘ Early 20c: named after E Fermi (1901–54), Italian physicist.

fermion ▷ noun one of a group of subatomic particles, such as protons, electrons and neutrons, having half-integral spin and obeying the exclusion principle. ⓘ 20c: see FERMI.

fermium /ˈfɜːmɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Fm, atomic number 100) an artificially produced metallic radioactive element. ⓘ 20c: see FERMI.

fern /fɜːn/ ▷ noun any of several thousand species of flowerless feathery-leaved plants that reproduce by spores (forming on the leaves or fronds) rather than seeds. ■ ferny adj (fernier, ferniest) 1 belonging or relating to, or resembling, a fern. 2 covered with or full of ferns. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fearn.

fernbird ▷ noun a small brown and white New Zealand bird with fern-like tail feathers.

ferocious /fəˈroʊʃəs/ ▷ adj savagely fierce; cruel; savage. ■ ferociously adverb. ■ ferociousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin ferox wild.

ferocity /fəˈrɒsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (ferocities) a fierce or cruel temperament.

-ferous /fərəs/ ▷ combining form, signifying bearing or containing ▫ carboniferous ▫ umbelliferous. ⓘ From Latin ferre to carry + -OUS.

ferrate /ˈfereɪt/ ▷ noun a salt of ferric acid. ⓘ Late 19c: from Latin ferrum iron.

ferrel see FERRULE

ferret /ˈferɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a small, half-tame, albino type of polecat, used for driving rabbits and rats from their holes. 2 an inquisitive and persistent investigator. ▷ verb (ferreted, ferreting) tr & intr to hunt (rabbits, etc) with a ferret. ■ ferreter noun someone who ferrets. ■ ferrety adj like a ferret. ⓘ 14c: from French furet, from Latin fur thief.

■ ferret about or around to search busily; to rummage.

■ ferret something out 1 to drive (an animal, etc) out of a hiding place. 2 to find it out through persistent investigation.

ferri- /ferɪ-/ ▷ combining form, chem, denoting a compound that contains iron in its highest degree of valency, usually trivalent ▫ ferricyanide. Compare FERRIC and FERRO- sense 2. ⓘ From Latin ferrum iron.

ferriage /ˈferɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 transportation by ferry. 2 the fare paid for a ferry crossing.

ferric /ˈferɪk/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to iron. 2 chem denoting a compound that contains iron in its trivalent state. ⓘ 18c: from Latin ferrum iron.

ferric oxide ▷ noun (formula Fe_2O_3) a reddish-brown or black solid, occurring naturally as HAEMATITE, used in magnetic tapes and as a catalyst and pigment. Also called iron oxide.

ferries plural of FERRY

Ferris wheel /ˈferɪs —/ ▷ noun a giant fairground wheel that turns vertically, with seats hanging from its rim. ⓘ Late 19c: named after G W G Ferris (1859–96), US engineer.

ferrite /ˈferaɪt/ ▷ noun, chem any of a class of ceramic materials composed of oxides of iron and some other metal, eg copper, nickel, etc, that have magnetic properties and a low electrical conductivity, and are used in loudspeaker magnets, tape-recorder heads, etc.

ferro- /ferəʊ/ ▷ combining form 1 relating to or containing iron ▫ ferroalloy ▫ ferromagnetism. 2 chem denoting a compound that contains iron in its divalent state ▫ ferrocyanide. Compare FERRI- and FERROUS. ⓘ From Latin ferrum iron.

ferroconcrete ▷ noun reinforced concrete.

ferromagnetism ▷ noun a phenomenon displayed by certain metals and alloys, in which the magnetic moments of atoms are capable of spontaneous magnetic polarization. ■ ferromagnetic adj.

ferrous /ˈferəs/ ▷ adj, chem 1 belonging or relating to iron. 2 denoting a chemical compound that contains iron in its divalent state. ⓘ 19c: from Latin ferrum iron.

ferruginous /fəˈruːdʒɪnəs/ ▷ adj 1 rust-coloured; reddish-brown. 2 containing iron. ⓘ 17c: from Latin ferrugo, ferruginis iron rust.

ferrule /ˈferuːl, ˈferjuːl/ ▷ noun 1 a metal ring or cap for protecting the tip of a walking-stick or umbrella. 2 a cylindrical fitting, threaded internally like a screw, for joining pipes, etc together. ⓘ 15c: from Latin viriola little bracelet.

ferry /ˈferɪ/ ▷ noun (ferries) 1 (also ferryboat) a boat that carries passengers and often cars across a river or strip of water, especially as a regular service. 2 the service thus provided. 3 the place or route where a ferryboat runs. 4 the right to provide a ferry service. ▷ verb (ferries, ferried, ferrying) 1 tr & intr (sometimes ferry across) to transport or go by ferry. 2 to convey (passengers, goods, etc) in a vehicle □ He ferried them to school each day. 3 to deliver (an aircraft coming from a factory) to its destination under its own power. ◷ Anglo-Saxon ferian to convey.

ferryman ▷ noun someone who conveys passengers by ferry.

fertile /ˈfɜːtaɪl, N Amer ˈfɜːtəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of land, soil, etc: containing the nutrients required to support an abundant growth of crops, plants, etc. 2 producing or capable of producing babies, young or fruit. 3 said of an egg or seed: capable of developing into a new individual. 4 said of the mind: rich in ideas; very productive. 5 providing a wealth of possibilities □ fertile ground for research. 6 producing many offspring; prolific. 7 physics said of a chemical substance: capable of being converted into a fissile or fissionable material. ■ fertilely adverb. ◷ 15c: from Latin fertilis, from ferre to bear.

Fertile Crescent ▷ noun a crescent-shaped region stretching from Armenia to Arabia, formerly fertile but now mainly desert, considered to be the cradle of civilization.

fertility /fəˈtɪlɪtɪ, fə-/ ▷ noun 1 fruitfulness; richness; abundance. 2 the state of being fertile. 3 the ability of a living organism to produce offspring or large numbers of offspring. 4 the ability of soil or land to support an abundant growth of crops or other plants. 5 ecol the number of eggs produced by a species or individual that develop into living young. Compare FECUNDITY.

fertility drug ▷ noun, medicine a drug that is used to treat infertility in women by inducing ovulation.

fertilization or fertilisation /fɜːtɪlaɪˈzeɪʃən/ ▷ noun the act or process of fertilizing.

fertilize or fertilise /ˈfɜːtɪlaɪz/ ▷ verb (fertilized, fertilizing) 1 said of a male gamete, especially a sperm cell: to fuse with (a female gamete, especially an egg cell) to form a ZYGOTE. 2 said of a male animal: to inseminate or impregnate (a female animal). 3 said of flowering and conebearing plants: to transfer (pollen) by the process of POLLINATION. 4 to supply (soil or land) with extra nutrients in order to increase its fertility and improve the growth of crops or other plants on it.

fertilizer or fertiliser ▷ noun 1 any natural or chemical substance, especially nitrogen, potassium salts or phosphates, that is added to or dug into soil to improve the yield, size or quality of plants, especially food crops. 2 someone or something that fertilizes an animal or plant.

ferule /ˈferuːl, ˈferjuːl/ ▷ noun a cane or rod formerly used for punishment (in some schools). ◷ 16c: from Latin ferula giant fennel.

fervent /ˈfɜːvənt/ ▷ adj enthusiastic; earnest or ardent. ■ fervency noun. ■ fervently adverb. ◷ 14c: from Latin fervere to boil or to glow.

fervid /ˈfɜːvɪd/ ▷ adj fervent; full of fiery passion or zeal. ■ fervidity and fervidness noun. ■ fervidly adverb. ◷ 16c: from Latin fervidus fiery, from fervere to boil or to glow.

fervour or (N Amer) fervor /ˈfɜːvə(r)/ ▷ noun passionate enthusiasm; intense eagerness or sincerity. ◷ 15c: from Latin fervor violent heat.

fescue /ˈfeskjuː/ and fescue grass ▷ noun a tufted grass with inrolled bristle-like leaves, which forms much of the turf on chalk downs. ◷ 14c: from French festu, from Latin festuca a straw.

fess ▷ verb (fesses, fessed, fessing) (always fess up) US colloq to confess to having committed a crime.

fesse or fess /fes/ ▷ noun (fesses) heraldry one of the simple heraldic forms consisting of a band between two horizontal lines over the middle of an ESCUTCHEON, usually covering one third of it. ◷ 15c: from Latin fascia band.

fest ▷ noun, in compounds 1 a party, gathering or festival for a specified activity □ songfest □ filmfest □ thrill fest. 2 an indulgent spree or concentration over a period of time on a specified activity or theme □ newsfest □ sleaze-fest. ◷ 19c: German, meaning 'festival'.

fester /ˈfestə(r)/ ▷ verb (festered, festering) 1 intr said of a wound: to form or discharge pus. 2 said of an evil: to continue unchecked or get worse. 3 intr to rot or decay. 4 intr said of resentment or anger: to smoulder; to become more bitter, usually over an extended period of time. 5 intr to be a continuing source of resentment; to rankle. 6 old to make something fester. ▷ noun a small sore discharging pus. ◷ 14c: from Latin fistula a kind of ulcer.

festival /ˈfestɪvəl/ ▷ noun 1 a day or period of celebration, especially one kept traditionally. 2 relig a feast or saint's day. 3 a season or series of performances (of musical, theatrical or other cultural events). ▷ adj belonging or relating to a festival. ▷ verb (festivaled, festivaling) intr to attend performances at a festival; to participate in festival activities □ He has been festivaling all week. ◷ 16c: from Latin festivalis, from festum feast.

Festival of Dedication and Festival of Lights CHANUKKAH festive /ˈfestɪv/ ▷ adj 1 relating to a festival or holiday. 2 celebratory; joyous; lively; cheerful. ■ festively adverb. ◷ 17c: from Latin festivus, from festus feast.

festivity /feˈstɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (festivities) 1 a lighthearted event; celebration, merrymaking. 2 (festivities) festive activities; celebrations □ The festivities continued into the early hours.

festoon /feˈstuːn/ ▷ noun 1 a decorative chain of flowers, ribbons, etc looped between two points. 2 archit a carved or moulded ornament representing this. ▷ verb (festooned, festooning) to hang or decorate with festoons. ◷ 17c: from Italian festone decoration for a feast.

festoon blind ▷ noun a window blind pleated and hung to fall in festoon-like folds.

festschrift /ˈfestʃrɪft/ ▷ noun (festschrifts or festschriften) a celebratory publication, usually a collection of writings presented by the authors and published in honour of someone. ◷ 19c: German, literally 'festival writing'.

feta or fetta /ˈfetə/ ▷ noun a crumbly salty white low-fat cheese originating in Greece and the Middle East, traditionally made from goat's or ewe's milk, and now sometimes from cow's milk. ◷ 1950s: Modern Greek pheta a slice (ie of cheese), from Italian fetta.

fetal or foetal /ˈfiːtəl/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to, or resembling, a fetus.

fetal alcohol syndrome ▷ noun (abbreviation FAS) a condition characterized by mental retardation in a newborn baby, caused by excessive alcohol intake by its mother during pregnancy.

fetch /fetʃ/ ▷ verb (fetched, fetching) 1 to go and get something, and bring it back □ John fetched help. □ The dog fetched the bone. 2 to be sold for (a certain price). 3 informal to deal someone (a blow, slap, etc). 4 old use to utter (a sigh or groan). 5 to bring forth (tears or blood). ▷ noun 1 an act of bringing. 2 a trick or dodge. ■ fetch and carry to act as servant; to perform menial tasks. ◷ Anglo-Saxon feccan.

■ fetch up colloq to arrive, to turn up, to end up.

■ fetch something up informal to vomit (food, etc).

fetching ▷ adj, colloq, jocular said of appearance: attractive, charming. ■ fetchingly adverb.

fête or fete /feɪt, fet/ ▷ noun 1 an outdoor event with entertainment, competitions, stalls, etc, usually to raise money for a charity. 2 a festival or holiday, especially to mark the feast day of a saint. ▷ verb (fêtes, fêted, fêting) to entertain or honour someone lavishly. ⓘ 18c: French.

fetid or foetid /ˈfiːtɪd, ˈfɛtɪd/ ▷ adj having a strong disgusting smell. • fetidly adverb. • fetidness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fetere to stink.

fetish /ˈfɛtɪʃ/ ▷ noun (fetishes) 1 in primitive societies: an object worshipped for its perceived magical powers. 2 a procedure or ritual followed obsessively, or an object of obsessive devotion. 3 a an object other than the sexual organs that is handled or visualized as an aid to sexual stimulation; b a person's attachment to such an object. • fetishism noun. • fetishist noun. • fetishistic adj. ⓘ 17c: from French fétiche, from Portuguese feitiço magic; a name given by the Portuguese to the gods of W Africa, from Portuguese feitiço artificial, from Latin facere to make.

fetishize or fetishise ▷ verb (fetishized, fetishizing) to make a fetish of someone or something.

fetlock /ˈfɛtlɒk/ ▷ noun 1 the thick projection at the back of a horse's leg just above the hoof. 2 the tuft of hair growing on this. ⓘ 14c as fetlak.

fetoscopy or foetoscopy /fiːˈtɒskəpɪ/ ▷ noun a procedure for viewing the fetus directly, within the uterus, or for taking a sample of fetal blood from the placenta, by inserting a hollow needle through the abdomen into the uterus, in order to determine if there are any disorders.

fetta see FETA

fetter /ˈfɛtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 (usually fetters) a chain or shackle fastened to a prisoner's ankle. Compare MANACLE. 2 (fetters) tiresome restrictions. ▷ verb (fettered, fettering) 1 to put someone in fetters. 2 to restrict someone. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fetor.

fettle /ˈfɛtəl/ ▷ verb (fettled, fettling) 1 pottery to knock or rub excess material off the edges of (a casting or piece of pottery) with fettling tools, to remove visible seams, casting marks, etc. 2 dialect to get ready or put in order; prepare something or oneself. 3 to line or repair (a furnace) with REFRACTORY. ▷ noun spirits; condition; state of health. • fettler noun. • in fine fettle in good form; in good spirits. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fetel belt.

fettuccine or fettucine or fettucini /fɛtʊˈtʃiːnɪ/ ▷ noun pasta made in long ribbons. Also called TAGLIATELLE. ⓘ 1920s: Italian, from fettuccia slice or ribbon.

fetus or (non-technical) foetus /ˈfiːtəs/ ▷ noun (fetuses or foetuses) 1 the embryo of a VIVIPAROUS mammal during the later stages of development in the uterus, when it has started to resemble the fully-formed animal. 2 the human embryo from the end of the eighth week after conception until birth. ⓘ 14c: from Latin fetus offspring, incorrectly written foetus from the 16c to the late 1980s and still often seen as foetus in non-technical contexts.

fetwa see FATWA

feu /fjuː/ ▷ noun (feus) 1 often as adj a legal hist, feudalism a tenure of land where the VASSAL makes a return in grain or in money, in place of military service; b in modern use: a perpetual lease for a fixed rent □ feu-farm; c a piece of land so held. 2 Scots law a right to the use of land, houses, etc in return for payment of feu-duty, a fixed annual payment. ▷ verb to grant (land, etc) on such terms. ⓘ 15c: French, variant of FEE.

feud¹ /fjuːd/ ▷ noun 1 a long-drawn-out bitter quarrel between families, individuals or clans. 2 a persistent state of private enmity. ▷ verb (feuded, feuding) intr (often feud with someone) to carry on a feud with them. • feuding noun, adj. • right of feud the right to protect oneself and one's family, and to punish those who do one wrong. ⓘ 13c as fede: from French faide feud; see also FOE.

feud² /fjuːd/ ▷ noun, a fief or land held on condition of service. ⓘ 17c: from Latin feudum.

feudal /ˈfjuːdəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to FEUD². 2 relating to feudalism. 3 relating to a FEU. 4 disparaging old-fashioned. ⓘ 17c.

feudalism and feudal system ▷ noun a system of social and political organization prevalent in W Europe in the Middle Ages, in which powerful land-owning lords granted degrees of privilege and protection to lesser subjects holding a range of positions within a rigid social hierarchy. See also FEU, LIEGE, VASSAL. • feudalist noun. • feudalistic adj. ⓘ 19c: FEUDAL + -ISM.

feudalize or feudalise ▷ verb (feudalized, feudalizing) to create a feudal system. • feudalization noun. ⓘ 19c.

feudist /ˈfjuːdɪst/ ▷ noun 1 a writer on feuds (see FEUD²). 2 a person knowledgeable in the laws of feudal tenure.

feu-duty see under FEU

feuilleté /French fœjte/ ▷ noun puff-pastry. ⓘ French.

fever /ˈfiːvə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 in humans: any rise in body temperature above the normal level (37°C or 98.6°F), usually accompanied by shivering, thirst and headache. 2 any of many diseases which are usually infectious, in which this is a marked symptom, eg scarlet fever, yellow fever. 3 an extreme state of agitation or excitement. ▷ verb (fevered, fevering) to put into a fever. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fefor, from Latin febris.

fevered /ˈfiːvəd/ ▷ adj 1 affected with fever. 2 highly excited.

feverfew /ˈfiːvəfjuː/ ▷ noun a perennial plant of the daisy family, closely related to camomile, reputed to relieve the symptoms of migraine. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon feferfuge, from Latin febris fever and fugare to put to flight.

feverish /ˈfiːvərɪʃ/ and feverous ▷ adj 1 suffering from, or showing symptoms of, fever. 2 agitated or restless. • feverishly adverb. • feverishness noun.

fever pitch ▷ noun a state of high excitement □ The crowd was at fever pitch.

fever therapy ▷ noun cure by inducement of fever.

few /fjuː/ (fewer, fewest) ▷ adj not many; a small number; hardly any □ She had few books on the shelf. ▷ pronoun (used as a plural) hardly any things, people, etc □ There were few today, but many yesterday. • a few a small number; some □ He took a few into the garden □ He had a few rabbits in the hat. • as few as no more than (a stated number). • every few (hours, days, etc) at intervals of a few hours, days, etc. • few and far between colloq rare; scarce. • a good few or quite a few informal a fairly large number; several. • have had a few colloq to have drunk sufficient alcohol to affect one's behaviour. • no fewer than as many as (a stated number). • precious few colloq hardly any at all. • the few the minority of discerning people, as distinct from the many. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon feawe.

> fewer
>
> See Usage Note at less.

fey /feɪ/ ▷ adj 1 strangely fanciful; whimsical. 2 able to foresee future events; clairvoyant. 3 chiefly Scots doomed to die early. 4 chiefly Scots in a state of high spirits. • feyness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fæge doomed to die.

fez /fɛz/ ▷ noun (fezzes or fezes) a hat shaped like a flat-topped cone, with a tassel, worn by some Muslim men. Also called TARBOOSH. ⓘ 19c: from Turkish fes, named after Fez, a city in Morocco.

FF ▷ abbreviation French franc or French francs.

ff ▷ abbreviation 1 music fortissimo. 2 and the following (pages, etc). 3 folios.

fiacre /fiˈakrə/ ▷ noun (fiacres) a hackney coach; a cab. ⓘ 17c: French, named after the Hôtel de St Fiacre in Paris, where these were first used.

fiancé or fiancée /fɪ'ɒnseɪ, fɪ'ɒnseɪ/ ▷ noun (fiancés or fiancées) respectively, a man or woman to whom one is engaged to be married. ◎ 19c: from French fiancer to betroth.

fianchetto /fɪaŋ'ketoʊ/ ▷ noun (fianchetti /-ketiː/) chess the early movement of a knight's pawn to allow the movement of a bishop on a long diagonal. ◎ 19c: Italian diminutive of fianco flank.

fiar /'fɪə(r)/ ▷ noun, Scots law the owner of the fee simple (ie the right to unconditional inheritance) of a property (contrasted with a LIFE-RENTER of a property). ◎ 16c: related to FEE.

fiasco /fɪ'askoʊ/ ▷ noun (fiascos or fiascoes /-oʊz/) 1 originally referring to a musical performance: a ludicrous or humiliating failure. 2 a bizarre or ludicrous happening □ What a fiasco! ◎ 19c: Italian, meaning 'flask'.

fiat /'fiːat, 'faɪat/ ▷ noun 1 an official command; a decree. 2 a formal authorization for some procedure. ◎ 17c: Latin, meaning 'let it be done'.

fiat currency see under FIDUCIARY ISSUE fib colloq ▷ noun a trivial lie. ▷ verb (fibbed, fibbing) intr to tell fibs. ◎ 17c: possibly shortened from fible-fable nonsense, from FABLE.

fibber ▷ noun someone who fibs.

fiber see FIBRE

Fibonacci numbers, sequence and series /fiːboʊ'nɑːtʃi —/ ▷ noun, math the infinite series of numbers (0, 1, 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, etc) in which each term is the sum of the preceding two terms. ◎ 19c: named after Leonardo Fibonacci of Pisa (c.1170–c.1230).

fibre or (N Amer) fiber /'faɪbə(r)/ ▷ noun (fibres or fibers) 1 a fine thread or thread-like cell of a natural or artificial substance, eg cellulose, nylon. 2 a material composed of fibres. 3 any fibrous material which can be made into textile fabrics. 4 bot in the stems of woody plants: a long, narrow, thick-walled cell that provides mechanical support for the plant. 5 the indigestible parts of edible plants or seeds, that help to move food quickly through the body □ dietary fibre. 6 strength of character; stamina □ moral fibre. • fibred adj. • fibreless adj. • to the very fibre of one's being deeply; fundamentally. ◎ 14c: from Latin fibra thread or fibre.

fibreboard or (N Amer) fiberboard ▷ noun strong board made from compressed wood chips or other organic fibres.

fibreglass or (N Amer) fiberglass ▷ noun 1 a strong light plastic strengthened with glass fibres, which is resistant to heat, fire and corrosion, and is used for boat-building, car bodies, etc. 2 material consisting of fine, tangled fibres of glass, used for insulation.

fibre-optic or (N Amer) fiber-optic ▷ adj containing or using FIBRE OPTICS.

fibre optics or (N Amer) fiber optics ▷ singular noun the technique of using flexible strands of glass or plastic (OPTICAL FIBRES) to carry information in the form of light signals.

fibrescope or (N Amer) fiberscope ▷ noun, optics an optical device consisting of a flexible bundle of optical fibres, an eyepiece and an objective lens, capable of transmitting a clear image of objects that would not otherwise be directly visible. Compare ENDOSCOPE. ◎ 1950s: FIBRE + -SCOPE.

fibril /'faɪbrɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a small fibre or part of a fibre. 2 a root hair. • fibrillar or fibrillous adj. ◎ From Latin fibrilla small fibre.

fibrillate /'faɪbrɪleɪt, 'fɪ-/ ▷ verb (fibrillated, fibrillating) intr, medicine said of the muscle fibres of the heart: to contract spontaneously, rapidly, and irregularly. ◎ 19c.

fibrillation ▷ noun 1 medicine the spontaneous, rapid and irregular contraction of the individual muscle fibres in the muscular walls of the chambers of the heart. 2 the production or formation of fibrils or fibres. 3 a mass or bundle of fibres. ◎ 19c.

fibrillose /'faɪbrɪloʊs, 'fɪ-/ ▷ adj having small fibres, covered with small fibres, or having the appearance of being covered with them. ◎ 19c.

fibrin /'faɪbrɪn, 'fɪb-/ ▷ noun, biochem an insoluble protein produced from fibrinogen during the blood-clotting process. It forms a network of fibres which trap red blood cells and platelets to seal off the ruptured bood vessel. ◎ 19c: see FIBRE.

fibrinogen /faɪ'brɪnədʒən, fɪ-/ ▷ noun, biochem a soluble blood plasma protein which the enzyme THROMBIN converts into fibrin during the blood-clotting process. ◎ 19c: from FIBRIN.

fibrinolysin /faɪbrɪ'nɒlɪsɪn, fɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 biochem an enzyme in the blood which causes the breakdown of fibrin in blood clots. 2 a drug having the same effect. ◎ Early 20c.

fibro /'faɪbroʊ/ ▷ noun (fibros) Austral 1 a board for lining walls made from a compressed asbestos and cement mixture. Also called fibrocement. 2 a house built with such materials.

fibroid /'faɪbrɔɪd/ ▷ adj fibrous. ▷ noun, pathol a benign tumour consisting of fibrous tissue, one or more of which may develop in the muscular walls of the uterus. ◎ 19c.

fibrosis /faɪ'broʊsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol the formation of an abnormal amount of fibrous connective tissue over the surface of or in place of normal tissue of an organ or body part, usually as a result of inflammation or injury. See also CYSTIC FIBROSIS. ◎ 19c.

fibrositis /faɪbroʊ'saɪtɪs/ ▷ noun inflammation of fibrous connective tissue, especially that sheathing the muscles of the back, causing pain and stiffness.

fibrous /'faɪbrəs/ ▷ adj consisting of, containing or like fibre.

fibula /'fɪbjʊlə/ ▷ noun (fibulae /-liː/ or fibulas) 1 in the human skeleton: the outer and narrower of the two bones in the lower leg, between the knee and the ankle. Compare TIBIA. 2 the corresponding bone in the hind limb of four-limbed vertebrates. 3 a brooch in the shape of a safety pin. • fibular adj. ◎ 16c: Latin, meaning 'brooch'.

-fic /fɪk/ ▷ combining form, forming adjectives causing, making or producing □ horrific □ scientific. ◎ From Latin -ficus, from facere to do.

fiche /fiːʃ/ ▷ noun short form of MICROFICHE.

fickle /'fɪkəl/ ▷ adj inconstant or changeable in affections, loyalties or intentions. • fickleness noun. ◎ Anglo-Saxon ficol deceitful.

fictile /'fɪktaɪl/ ▷ adj 1 capable of being moulded, especially in clay. 2 relating to pottery. ◎ 17c: from Latin fictilis, from fingere to mould.

fiction /'fɪkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 literature concerning imaginary characters or events, eg a novel or story. 2 a pretence; a lie. 3 law a misrepresentation of the truth, accepted for convenience. • fictional adj occurring in or created for fiction. • fictionally adverb. ◎ 14c: from Latin fictio, from fingere to mould.

> fictional, fictitious
>
> These words are often confused with each other.

fictionalize or fictionalise ▷ verb (fictionalized, fictionalizing) to give a fictional character to (a narrative dealing with real facts); to make into fiction. • fictionalization noun. • fictionalized adj. ◎ 19c.

fictitious /fɪk'tɪʃəs/ ▷ adj imagined; invented; not real. • fictitiously adverb. ◎ 17c.

fid ▷ noun, naut 1 a conical pin of hard wood used to open the strands of rope in splicing. 2 a square bar with a shoulder used to support the weight of the topmast. ◎ 17c.

fiddle /ˈfɪdəl/ ▷ noun 1 a a violin, especially when used to play folk music or jazz; b colloq, often disparaging any violin. 2 colloq a dishonest arrangement; a fraud. 3 a raised rim round a table to keep dishes from sliding off it. 4 a manually delicate or tricky operation. ▷ verb (fiddled, fiddling) 1 intr (often fiddle with something) to play about aimlessly with it; to tinker, toy or meddle with it □ He was fiddling all the time □ She was always fiddling with her hair. 2 tr & intr to falsify (accounts, etc); to manage or manipulate dishonestly □ to fiddle the cash till. 3 tr & intr to play a violin or fiddle; to play (a tune) on one. • as fit as a fiddle in excellent health. • fiddle while Rome burns to be preoccupied with trifles in a crisis. • on the fiddle colloq making money dishonestly □ He was always on the fiddle. • play second fiddle to someone to be subordinate to them. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fithele; compare VIOL.

■ fiddle around or about to waste time □ kept fiddling about and got nothing done.

fiddle-de-dee! ▷ exclamation, old use nonsense!

fiddler ▷ noun 1 a person who plays the fiddle. 2 a swindler. 3 (also fiddler crab) any of various small burrowing crabs, so called because the movements of an enlarged pincer-like claw in the male resemble those of a fiddler.

fiddlestick ▷ noun 1 a trifle. 2 old use a violin bow.

fiddlesticks! ▷ exclamation expressing annoyance or disagreement.

fiddling ▷ adj unimportant; trifling.

fiddly ▷ adj (fiddlier, fiddliest) awkward to handle or do, especially if the task requires delicate finger movements.

FIDE ▷ abbreviation: Fédération Internationale des Echecs (French), the International Chess Federation.

fidei defensor see FD.

fidelity /fɪˈdɛlɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (fidelities) 1 faithfulness; loyalty or devotion (often to a sexual partner). 2 accuracy in reporting, describing or copying something. 3 precision in sound reproduction. ◎ 16c: from Latin fidelitas.

fidget /ˈfɪdʒɪt/ ▷ verb (fidgeted, fidgeting) 1 intr to move about restlessly and aimlessly □ The little boy wouldn't stop fidgeting. 2 (often fidget with something) to touch and handle it aimlessly. ▷ noun 1 a person who fidgets. 2 (the fidgets) nervous restlessness □ He's got the fidgets. • fidgetiness noun. • fidgety adj. ◎ 17c: from earlier fidge to twitch.

fiducial /fɪˈdjuːʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 physics, surveying applied to a point or line: serving as a standard basis of measuring. 2 showing confidence or reliance. 3 relating to or based on trust or faith. • fiducially adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin fiducia confidence, from fidere to trust.

fiduciary /fɪˈdjuːʃərɪ/ law ▷ noun (fiduciaries) someone who holds anything in trust; a trustee. ▷ adj 1 held or given in trust. 2 like a trust; relating to a trust or trustee. 3 depending on public confidence. ◎ 17c: from Latin fiducia trust.

fiduciary issue ▷ noun an issue of banknotes not backed by gold. Also called fiat currency.

fie /faɪ/ ▷ exclamation, facetious or old use expressing disapproval or disgust, real or feigned. ◎ 13c: imitating the sound made on perceiving a disagreeable smell.

fief /fiːf/ ▷ noun 1 ▷ feudalism land granted to a VASSAL by his lord in return for military service, or on other conditions. 2 a person's own area of operation or control. Compare FEOFF. ◎ 17c: from French fie or fief fee; see FEE.

fiefdom ▷ noun, feudalism 1 a piece of land held as a fief. 2 any area of influence autocratically controlled by an individual or organization.

field /fiːld/ ▷ noun 1 a piece of land enclosed for crop-growing or pasturing animals. 2 a piece of open grassland. 3 an area marked off as a ground for a sport, etc. 4 in compounds an area rich in a specified mineral, etc □ coalfield □ oilfield. 5 in compounds an expanse of something specified, usually from the natural world □ snowfields □ poppy fields. 6 an area of knowledge, interest or study; speciality. 7 physics a region of space in which one object exerts force on another □ force field. 8 the area included in something; the range over which a force, etc extends; the area visible to an observer at any one time □ field of vision. 9 a the contestants in a race, competition, etc; b all contestants except for the favourite; the rivals of a particular contestant. 10 a a battlefield □ fell on the field; b the battle itself. 11 sport, especially cricket the fielders collectively. 12 any place away from the classroom, office, etc, eg a field centre, where practical experience is gained. See also FIELDWORK. 13 the background to the design on a flag, coin, heraldic shield, etc. 14 (the field) the people taking part in a hunt. 15 math a system or collection of elements upon which binary operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division can be performed excluding division by 0. 16 computing a set of characters comprising a unit of information. ▷ verb (fielded, fielding) 1 tr & intr, sport, especially cricket a said of a team: to be the team whose turn it is to retrieve balls hit by the batting team; b tr & intr said of a player: to retrieve the ball from the field; c intr said of a player: to play in the field. 2 to put forward as (a team or player) for a match. 3 to enter someone in a competition □ Each group fielded a candidate. 4 to deal with a succession of (inquiries, etc) □ to field questions. • hold the field to remain supreme. • lead the field to be in the foremost or winning position. • play the field colloq to try out the range of possibilities before making a choice. • take the field 1 said of a team: to go on to the pitch ready for a match. 2 to go into battle; to begin a campaign. ◎ Anglo-Saxon feld.

field ambulance ▷ noun a medical unit on the battlefield.

field artillery ▷ noun mobile military equipment for active operations in the battlefield.

field book ▷ noun the notebook used by a surveyor or fieldworker.

field colours ▷ plural noun, military small flags used for marking the position for companies and regiments in the battlefield; hence, any regimental headquarters' flags.

field day ▷ noun 1 a day spent on some specific outdoor activity, such as a nature study. 2 informal any period of exciting activity. 3 military a day of exercises and manoeuvres.

fielder ▷ noun, sport, particularly cricket a player in the field; a member of the fielding side, as distinct from the batting side.

field event ▷ noun, athletics a contest involving jumping, throwing, etc, as distinct from a TRACK EVENT.

fieldfare ▷ noun a species of thrush, having a reddish-yellow throat and breast spotted with black. ◎ Anglo-Saxon feldefare.

field glasses ▷ plural noun binoculars.

field goal ▷ noun, Amer football, basketball a goal scored from normal play.

field hand ▷ noun an outdoor farm labourer.

field hockey ▷ noun, N Amer hockey played on grass, as distinct from ice hockey.

field hospital ▷ noun a temporary hospital near the scene of battle, for emergency treatment.

field ice ▷ noun ice formed in the polar seas as large surfaces, as distinguished from icebergs.

field marshal ▷ noun an army officer of high rank. See table at RANK.

fieldmouse ▷ noun any of various species of small mouse, native to Europe, non-tropical Asia and S America, with yellowish-brown fur, prominent ears, large beady eyes and a long tail, that live among dense vegetation and feed mainly on seeds, but also eat berries, roots, insects and grubs, and can cause serious damage to tree seedlings.

field officer ▷ noun a general term for an army officer between the ranks of captain and general.

field of view and field of vision ▷ noun what is visible to someone at any given moment.

fieldsman ▷ noun, cricket, baseball a fielder.

field mushroom see under AGARIC field sports ▷ plural noun sports carried out in the countryside, such as hunting, shooting, line-fishing, etc.

field trial ▷ noun, often in plural a test in practice, as distinct from one under laboratory conditions.

field trip ▷ noun an expedition, especially by students, to observe and study something at its location.

fieldwork ▷ noun practical work or research done at a site away from the laboratory or place of study.

fieldworker noun a person who carries out fieldwork; a practical researcher.

fiend /fiːnd/ ▷ noun 1 a devil; an evil spirit. 2 colloq a spiteful person. 3 colloq an enthusiast for something specified □ dope fiend □ sun fiend. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon feond enemy.

fiendish ▷ adj 1 like a fiend. 2 devilishly cruel. 3 extremely difficult or unpleasant. ● fiendishly adverb. ● fiendishness noun.

fierce /fɪəs/ ▷ adj (fiercer, fiercest) 1 violent and aggressive □ a fierce dog. 2 intense; strong □ fierce competition. 3 severe; extreme □ a fierce storm. 4 informal very unpleasant. ● fiercely adverb. ● fierceness noun. ⓘ 13c: from French fers, from Latin ferus savage.

fiery /ˈfaɪərɪ/ ▷ adj (fierier, fieriest) 1 consisting of fire; like fire. 2 easily enraged □ a fiery temper. 3 passionate; spirited; vigorous □ fiery oratory. 4 said of food: hot-tasting; causing a burning sensation. ● fierily adverb. ● fieriness noun. ⓘ 13c: FIRE + -Y.

fiesta /fɪˈestə/ ▷ noun (fiestas) 1 especially in Spain and Latin America: a religious festival with dancing, singing, etc. 2 any carnival, festivity or holiday. ⓘ 19c: Spanish, meaning 'feast'.

FIFA /ˈfiːfə/ ▷ abbreviation: Fédération Internationale de Football Association (French), International Federation of Association Football, the world governing body of Association Football, which stages its World Cup tournament every four years.

fife /faɪf/ ▷ noun a small type of flute played in military bands □ with his musket, fife and drum. ▷ verb (fifed, fifing) intr to play on the fife. ● fifer noun a fife player. ⓘ 15c: from German pfifa pipe or French fifre fifer, both from Latin pipare to cheep.

FIFO ▷ abbreviation first in, first out, a method of pricing goods, controlling stock or storing data in a computer. Compare LIFO.

fifteen /fɪfˈtiːn/ ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 15; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than fourteen or the sum of ten and five. 2 any symbol for this, eg 15 or XV. 3 the age of fifteen. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 15. 5 a a set or group of fifteen people or things; b rugby union a team of players. 6 a score of fifteen points. 7 (15) Brit a film classified as suitable for people aged 15 and over. 8 (the Fifteen) the Jacobite rebellion of 1715. ▷ adj 1 totalling fifteen. 2 aged fifteen. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fiftene: see FIVE and -TEEN.

fifteenth (often written 15th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after fourteenth; b last of fifteen; c in fifteenth position. 2 (the fifteenth) a the fifteenth day of the month; b golf the fifteenth hole. ▷ noun 1 one of fifteen equal parts. Also as adj □ a fifteenth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by fifteen (usually written $^1/_{15}$). 3 the position in a series corresponding to fifteen in a sequence of numbers. 4 music a double octave. 5 an organ stop sounding two octaves above the DIAPASON.

fifth /fɪfθ, fɪftθ/ (often written 5th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after fourth; b last of five. 2 in fifth position. 3 (the fifth) a the fifth day of the month; b golf the fifth hole. ▷ noun 1 one of five equal parts. Also as adj □ a fifth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by five (usually written $^1/_5$). 3 the position in a series corresponding to five in a sequence of numbers. 4 a person coming fifth, eg in a race or exam □ He finished a comfortable fifth. 5 music a an interval consisting of 3 whole tones and a semitone; an interval of four diatonic degrees; b a note at that interval from another. ▷ adverb fifthly. ● fifthly adverb used to introduce the fifth point in a list. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fifta.

the Fifth Amendment ▷ noun (often the Fifth) an amendment to the US constitution which allows a person on trial not to testify against himself or herself and forbids a second trial if a person has been acquitted in a first □ take the Fifth Amendment □ invoked the Fifth.

fifth column ▷ noun 1 a body of citizens prepared to co-operate with an invading enemy. 2 a group of Franco sympathizers in Madrid during the Spanish Civil War who were prepared to betray the city by fighting with the four columns marching on the city. ● fifth columnist noun. ⓘ 1936, originally in sense 2.

fifth-generation see under COMPUTER GENERATIONS fifth wheel ▷ noun 1 the spare wheel of a four-wheeled vehicle. 2 a superfluous or useless person or thing.

fifties /ˈfɪftɪz/ (often written 50s or 50's) ▷ plural noun 1 (one's fifties) the period of time between one's fiftieth and sixtieth birthdays □ David is in his fifties. 2 (the fifties) the range of temperatures between fifty and sixty degrees □ It must be in the fifties today. 3 the period of time between the fiftieth and sixtieth years of a century □ born in the 50s. Also as adj □ a fifties hairstyle.

fiftieth (often written 50th) ▷ adj in counting: 1 next after forty-ninth. 2 last of fifty. 3 in fiftieth position. ▷ noun 1 one of fifty equal parts. Also as adj □ a fiftieth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by fifty (usually written $^1/_{50}$). 3 a person coming fiftieth, eg in a race or exam □ He finished a bedraggled fiftieth. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon: see FIFTY and -TH.

fifty /ˈfɪftɪ/ ▷ noun (fifties) 1 a the cardinal number 50; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than forty-nine, or the product of ten and five. 2 any symbol for this, eg 50 or L. Also in compounds, forming adjectives and nouns, with cardinal numbers between one and nine □ fifty-six. 3 the age of fifty. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 50. 5 a set or group of fifty people or things. 6 a score of fifty points. ▷ adj 1 totalling fifty. Also in compounds, forming adjectives, with ordinal numbers between first and ninth □ fifty-fourth. 2 aged fifty. See also FIFTIES, FIFTIETH. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fiftig: see FIVE + -TY.

fifty-fifty ▷ adj 1 said of a chance: equal either way. 2 half-and-half. ▷ adverb divided equally between two; half-and-half.

fiftyish ▷ adj 1 about fifty years old. 2 about fifty.

fig ▷ noun 1 any of a group of tropical and sub-tropical trees and shrubs of the mulberry family bearing a soft pear-shaped fruit full of tiny seeds. 2 the green, brown or purple pear-shaped fleshy fruit produced by a fig tree, eaten fresh or dried. ● not give or care a fig colloq not to care in the least. ⓘ 13c: from Latin ficus fig or fig tree.

fig. ▷ abbreviation 1 ▷ figurative or figuratively. 2 figure, ie a diagram, illustration.

fight /faɪt/ ▷ verb (fought /fɔːt/, fighting) 1 tr & intr to attack or engage (an enemy, army, etc) in combat. 2 to take part in or conduct (a battle, campaign, etc). 3 tr & intr (sometimes fight against something or someone) to oppose them (eg an enemy, a person, an illness, a cause, etc) vigorously. 4 intr to quarrel; to disagree, sometimes coming to blows □ They fought all evening. 5 intr (often fight for something or someone) to struggle or campaign on its or their behalf; to struggle or campaign in an attempt to achieve or maintain it □ fight for the right to remain silent. 6 intr to make (one's way) with a struggle. ▷ noun 1 a battle; a physically violent struggle. 2 a quarrel; a dispute; a contest. 3 resistance. 4 the will or strength to resist □ lost all his fight. 5 a boxing-match. 6 a campaign or crusade □ the fight for freedom. ● fight a losing battle to continue trying for something when there is little chance of succeeding □ She was fighting a losing battle against the illness. ● fighting fit colloq in vigorous health. ● fight it out to fight over something until one side wins. ● fight shy of something to avoid it. ● fight to the finish to fight until completely exhausted. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon feohtan.

■ fight back to resist an attacker; to counter an attack.

■ fight something back or down to try not to show one's emotions, etc.

■ fight someone off to repulse them (especially an attacker).

■ fight something off to get rid of or resist (an illness).

fighter ▷ noun 1 a person who fights, especially a professional boxer. 2 a person with determination. 3 (also fighter plane) an aircraft equipped to attack other aircraft.

fighting ▷ adj engaged in, or eager or fit for, war or combat. ▷ noun the act of fighting or contending.

fighting chance ▷ noun a chance to succeed dependent chiefly on determination.

fighting cock ▷ noun 1 a gamecock. 2 a pugnacious person.

fighting fish ▷ noun a small freshwater fish, native to Thailand, that is renowned for its aggressive behaviour, and commonly held in captivity for staged fights.

fighting fit ▷ adj in good physical condition; at the peak of one's fitness.

fighting talk and fighting words ▷ plural noun spirited words demonstrating an inclination to fight.

fig leaf ▷ noun 1 the leaf of a fig tree. 2 art the traditional representation of a fig leaf covering the genitals of a statue or picture, etc of a nude figure. 3 any device used to cover up something considered embarrassing.

figment /ˈfɪgmənt/ ▷ noun something imagined or invented □ a figment of the imagination. ⓘ 15c: from Latin figmentum a fiction.

figurant /ˈfɪgjʊrənt/ ▷ noun a ballet dancer or actor who is one of a group forming background for the solo dancers. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'a ballet dancer', from figurer to figure.

figuration /fɪgəˈreɪʃən, fɪgjʊˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of giving figure or form. 2 representation by, or in, figures or shapes. 3 ornamentation with a design. 4 music a consistent use of particular melodic or harmonic series of notes; b florid treatment.

figurative ▷ adj 1 metaphorical; not literal. 2 said of writing, etc: full of figures of speech, especially metaphor. 3 representing a figure; representing using an emblem or symbol, etc. 4 said of art: not abstract; showing things as they look; representational; pictorial. Compare ABSTRACT adj 5. ● figuratively adverb. ● figurativeness noun.

figure /ˈfɪgə(r), ˈfɪgjʊə(r); N Amer ˈfɪgjər/ ▷ noun 1 the form of anything in outline. 2 a symbol representing a number; a numeral. 3 a number representing an amount; a cost or price □ He quoted a figure of £50 to do the job. 4 an indistinctly seen or unidentified person □ He saw a figure coming through the mist. 5 a representation of the human form, especially in painting or sculpture. 6 (figures) arithmetical calculations; statistics. 7 a well-known person □ a public figure. 8 a specified impression that one makes by one's behaviour □ He cut a lonely figure walking down the street. 9 a diagram or illustration, especially in a text. 10 the shape of one's body □ to have a good figure. 11 an image, design or pattern. 12 a geometrical shape, formed from a combination of points, lines, curves or surfaces. 13 music a short distinctive series of notes in music. 14 dancing, sport, etc a set pattern of steps or movements. Compare FIGURE SKATING. 15 a FIGURE OF SPEECH. ▷ verb (figured, figuring) 1 N Amer to think; to reckon. 2 to imagine; to envisage. 3 intr, colloq to be probable or predictable; to make sense □ That figures! 4 to decorate (a surface) with a design; to add elaborations to (music). ● keep one's figure to remain slim. ● lose one's figure to become fat. ⓘ 13c: from Latin figura, from fingere to mould.

■ figure in something to play a part in a story, incident, etc.

■ figure on something to intend to do it.

■ figure someone out to understand how they are thinking or what their motivation is for something □ At last I've figured him out.

■ figure something out to work it out; to begin to understand it.

figured ▷ adj 1 marked or decorated with figures. 2 in the form of figures.

figured bass ▷ noun, music a musical shorthand indicating a bass or THOROUGH BASS part, with numerals written below notes to indicate harmonies to be played above it.

figurehead ▷ noun 1 a leader in name only, without real power. 2 historical a carved wooden figure fixed to a ship's prow.

figure-hugging ▷ adj referring or relating to a tight piece of clothing which reveals the contours of the body □ wore a figure-hugging dress.

figure of eight ▷ noun a pattern, movement, etc in the shape of the number eight □ The skater did a series of figures of eight.

figure of fun ▷ noun someone who is ridiculed by others.

figure of speech ▷ noun any of many devices such as METAPHORS, SIMILES, etc that enliven language.

figure skating ▷ noun skating in which a skater sketches out prescribed patterns on ice.

figure skater noun a skater who specializes in figure skating.

figurework ▷ noun counting or calculation using numbers.

figurine /ˈfɪgjʊriːn, ˈfɪgə-/ ▷ noun a small carved or moulded figure, usually representing a human form. ⓘ 19c: French, from Italian figurina small figure.

filagree see FILIGREE

filament /ˈfɪləmənt/ ▷ noun 1 a fine thread or fibre. 2 elec in electrical equipment: a fine wire with a high resistance that emits heat and light when an electric current is passed through it, eg in a light bulb, toaster, etc. 3 bot the stalk of a stamen, which bears the anther. 4 bot a long strand of cells joined end to end, as in certain algae and fungi. ● filamentary adj. ● filamentous adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin filare to spin, from filum thread.

filar /ˈfaɪlə(r)/ ▷ adj, optics having threads or wires. ⓘ 19c: from Latin filum thread + -AR.

filaria /fɪ'lɛərɪə/ (filariae /-ɪiː/) ▷ noun any worm of the genus Filaria of nematode worms, introduced into the blood of vertebrates by mosquitoes. ● filarial adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin filum thread.

filariasis /fɪlə'raɪəsɪs/ ▷ noun a disease caused by the presence of filariae in the blood, and characterized by inflammation of the lymphatic vessels.

filbert /'fɪlbət/ ▷ noun 1 the nut of the cultivated hazel. 2 (also filbert tree) the tree bearing the nut. ⓘ 14c: probably named after St Philibert, whose feast day (August 22) fell in the nutting season.

filch /fɪltʃ/ ▷ verb (filched, filching) to steal something small or trivial. ⓘ 16c, meaning 'to take as booty'.

file¹ /faɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a folder or box in which to keep loose papers. 2 a collection of papers so kept, especially dealing with a particular subject. 3 computing an organized collection of data that is stored in the external memory of a computer, and can be accessed and manipulated as a single named unit. 4 a line of people or things, especially soldiers, positioned or moving one behind the other □ single file. 5 chess any of the eight lines of squares extending across the chessboard from player to player. Compare RANK¹. ▷ verb (filed, filing) 1 (often file something away) to put (papers, etc) into a file. 2 (often file for something) to make a formal application to a law court on (a specified matter) □ file a complaint □ file for divorce. 3 to place (a document) on official or public record. 4 intr to march or move along one behind the other □ The soldiers filed onto the square. 5 said of a reporter: to submit (a story) to a newspaper. ● filer noun. ● filed adj. ● on file retained in a file (noun 1 or 3 above) for reference; on record. ⓘ 16c: from Latin filum a thread, originally referring to a string or wire on which papers were hung.

file² /faɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a steel hand tool with a rough surface consisting of fine parallel grooves with sharp cutting edges, used to smooth or rub away wood, metal, etc. 2 a small object of metal or emeryboard used for smoothing or shaping fingernails or toenails. Also called a nailfile. ▷ verb (filed, filing) to smooth or shape (a surface) using a file. ● filer noun. ● filed adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fyl.

file copy ▷ noun a copy, often a photocopy, of a document which is kept on file for reference.

filefish ▷ noun a tropical fish, with skin granulated like a FILE². ⓘ 18c.

filename ▷ noun, computing any name or reference used to specify a file stored in a computer.

file server ▷ noun, computing a central database of computer files available to all the terminals which are linked to one system.

filet /'fiːleɪ/ ▷ noun French for FILLET¹ □ filet de boeuf. ⓘ 19c.

filet mignon /'fiːleɪ miːn'jɔ̃/ ▷ noun (filets mignons) a thin slice, usually of beef, cut from the centre of the fillet. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'dainty fillet'.

filial /'fɪlɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to, or resembling, a son or daughter □ filial duties. 2 biol, genetics denoting any successive generation following a parental generation (abbreviation $\mathbf{F_1}$, $\mathbf{F_2}$, etc). ⓘ 14c: from Latin filia daughter, and filius son.

filibeg or philibeg /'fɪlɪbeg/ ▷ noun a kilt. ⓘ 18c: from Scottish Gaelic feileadhbeag, from feileadh pleat or fold + beag little.

filibuster /'fɪlɪbʌstə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 especially in the US Senate: a the practice of making long speeches, often continuing for a number of hours, to delay the passing of laws; b a member of a law-making assembly who does this. Compare OBSTRUCTIONISM. 2 a freebooter or military adventurer. ▷ verb (filibustered, filibustering) intr 1 especially in the US Senate: to obstruct legislation by making long speeches. 2 intr to engage in unlawful military action. ● filibusterer noun. ⓘ 19c in sense 1; 18c in sense 2: from Spanish filibustero, probably from Dutch vrijbuiter, from vrij free and buit booty; compare FREEBOOTER.

filicide /'fɪlɪsaɪd/ ▷ noun someone who murders their own child. ⓘ 19c: from Latin filia, filius daughter or son + -CIDE.

filigree /'fɪlɪgriː/ or filagree ▷ noun (filigrees or only in sense 2 filagrees) 1 delicate work in gold or silver wire, twisted into convoluted forms and soldered together, used in jewellery, etc. 2 any delicate ornamentation □ a pastry filigree. ▷ adj made of, or as if with, filigree. ⓘ 17c: from French filigrane, from Latin filum thread + granum grain.

filing cabinet ▷ noun a set of drawers, usually metal, for holding collections of papers and documents, ie for holding files (see FILE¹).

filings ▷ plural noun particles or shavings rubbed off with a FILE².

fill ▷ verb (filled, filling) 1 (also fill something up) to make it full □ fill the bath with water. 2 intr (also fill up) to become full □ The petrol tank filled up quickly. 3 to take up all the space in something. 4 to satisfy (a need); to perform (a role) satisfactorily. 5 (sometimes fill up) to occupy (time). 6 (also fill something in or up) to put material into (a hole, cavity, etc) to level the surface. 7 to appoint someone to (a position or post of employment). 8 a to take up (a position or post of employment); b to work in (a job), sometimes temporarily □ She filled the post for six months. 9 intr said of a sail: to billow out in the wind. ▷ noun 1 anything used to fill something. 2 sometimes in compounds material such as stones, gravel, etc used to fill a space to a required level □ rock-fill. ● be filled with feelings to be profoundly affected by them. ● eat one's fill to consume enough to satisfy. ● fill the bill to be perfectly suited for something. ● to have had one's fill of something or someone to have received or experienced more of it or them than one can tolerate. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fyllan.

■ fill someone in to inform them fully; to brief them.

■ fill something in 1 to write information as required on to (a form, etc). 2 said of a drawing: to complete it.

■ fill in for someone to take over their work temporarily. See also FILL-IN.

■ fill out to put on weight and become fatter or plumper.

■ fill something out 1 to enlarge it satisfactorily; to amplify it. 2 chiefly N Amer to fill in (a form, etc).

■ fill something up 1 to fill in (a form, etc). 2 to make it full.

filler ▷ noun 1 a person or thing that fills. 2 a paste-like substance used for filling cracks or holes, usually in walls of buildings. 3 a material or substance used to add bulk or weight to something, or to fill a gap or space, etc □ Duck down was used as a filler for the duvet. 4 an article, photograph, clip, etc used to fill a gap between main features in a newspaper, or a TV or radio programme.

fillet /'fɪlɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a a piece of meat without bone, taken as an undercut of the SIRLOIN, or the fleshy part of the thigh □ pork fillet; b (in full fillet steak) the most highly valued cut of beef, cut from the lowest part of the LOIN; c the flesh of a fish without its bone □ salmon fillet. 2 a thin narrow strip of wood, metal or other material. 3 a ribbon, band, strip of lace, etc worn in the hair or round the neck. 4 archit a narrow flat band, often between mouldings. ▷ verb (filleted, filleting) 1 a to cut fillets from (meat or fish); b to remove the bones from (a fish); c to prepare (meat) as fillets, often by beating or rolling it. 2 to decorate with or as if with a fillet. ⓘ 14c: from Latin filum thread.

fill-in ▷ noun someone who temporarily takes the place of another; a substitute. See also FILL IN FOR SOMEONE at FILL.

filling ▷ noun 1 dentistry a specially prepared substance, such as amalgam, gold or composite resin, that is inserted into a cavity that has been drilled in a decaying tooth. 2 food put inside a pie, sandwich, etc. ▷ adj said of food, a meal, etc: substantial and satisfying.

filling-station ▷ noun, originally US a place where motorists can buy petrol and other supplies; a petrol station. ⓘ 1920s.

fillip /ˈfɪlɪp/ ▷ noun 1 something that has a stimulating or brightening effect; a boost. 2 a movement of a finger when it is engaged under the thumb and then suddenly released away from the hand. ▷ verb (filliped, filliping) 1 to excite or stimulate. 2 to put into motion by a fillip; to flick. ⓘ 16c as philippe.

filly /ˈfɪlɪ/ ▷ noun (fillies) 1 a young female horse or pony. 2 colloq a young girl or woman. ⓘ 15c: probably from Norse fylja.

film /fɪlm/ ▷ noun 1 a strip of thin flexible plastic or other substance, coated so as to be light-sensitive and exposed inside a camera to produce still or moving pictures. 2 a series of images, often of moving objects, recorded and edited to tell a story, present a subject, etc, and shown in the cinema (also called motion picture, cinema film, movie), or shown on TV or video (also called TV movie). 3 a fine skin, membrane, or coating over something. 4 sometimes in compounds a thin sheet of plastic used for wrapping □ clingfilm. ▷ verb (filmed, filming) 1 tr & intr to record any series of images, usually moving objects, using a TV camera, cine camera, video camera, camcorder, etc. 2 intr the overall activity of setting up a film set, directing actors and recording material on camera to be edited at a later stage. ⓘ 19c in modern senses: Anglo-Saxon filmen membrane.

■ film over to become covered with a FILM noun 3.

filmable ▷ adj particularly suited to being made into a film.

film fiction ▷ noun FACTION².

filmgoer ▷ noun a person who regularly attends films, and is usually particularly knowledgeable about cinema. Also called cinema-goer. ⓘ Early 20c.

filmic ▷ adj referring or relating to the cinema, film or cinematography. ● filmically adverb.

film noir /— nwɑː(r)/ ▷ noun, cinema a style of cinema film popular in American cinema in the 1940s and 1950s, in which the darker side of human nature is presented, in a bleak and often starkly urban setting. ⓘ 20c: French, meaning 'black film'.

filmography ▷ noun (filmographies) 1 a list of films of a particular actor or director. 2 a list of films or articles about cinema or films, referred to in a particular essay or article. ⓘ 1960s: modelled on BIBLIOGRAPHY.

filmset ▷ verb, printing to set (text, etc) by filmsetting.

film set ▷ noun the scenery, furniture, etc arranged for the scene of a cinema film.

filmsetting ▷ noun, printing typesetting by exposing text on to film which is then transferred to printing plates. Also called photocomposition. ⓘ 1950s.

film speed ▷ noun the sensitivity of a film or paper to light, measured by an ASA or DIN index, which assigns low numbers to slow film and higher numbers to faster film.

film star ▷ noun a celebrated film actor or actress.

film strip ▷ noun a series of photographs on a strip of film, for separate projection as slides.

filmy ▷ adj (filmier, filmiest) said of a fabric: thin, light and transparent.

filo or phyllo /ˈfiːloʊ/ ▷ noun (in full filo pastry) a type of Greek flaky pastry made in thin sheets. ⓘ 1940s: from Modern Greek phyllon leaf.

Filofax /ˈfaɪloʊfaks/ ▷ noun, trademark (often filofax) a small loose-leaf personal filing system containing a diary and a variable selection of other information, eg addresses or maps, to help the user organize their affairs. Compare PERSONAL ORGANIZER. ⓘ 1920s: representing the colloquial pronunciation of file of facts, originating in the 1920s but not widely used until the 1980s.

filter /ˈfɪltə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a porous substance that allows liquid, gas, smoke, etc through, but traps solid matter, impurities, etc. 2 a device containing this. 3 a fibrous pad at the unlit end of a cigarette, and some types of cigars, that traps some of the smoke's impurities, such as tar. 4 a transparent tinted disc used to reduce the strength of certain colour frequencies in the light entering a camera or emitted by a lamp. 5 elec, radio a device for suppressing the waves of unwanted frequencies. 6 Brit a traffic signal at traffic lights that allows vehicles going in some directions to proceed while others are stopped □ The pedestrian failed to notice the filter for traffic turning left. ▷ verb (filtered, filtering) 1 tr & intr to pass something through a filter, often to remove impurities, particles, etc. 2 intr to go past little by little. 3 intr, Brit said of vehicles: to proceed with one of the streams of traffic at a filter. See also FILTRATE. ⓘ 16c as filtre: from Latin filtrum felt used as a filter.

■ filter something out to remove (impurities, etc) from (liquids, gases, etc) by filtering.

■ filter through or out intr said of news: to leak out, often gradually.

filterable or filtrable ▷ adj able to pass through a filter; capable of being filtered.

filter bed ▷ noun a layer of sand, gravel, clinker, etc used for filtering water or sewage.

filter coffee ▷ noun coffee made by allowing water to pass through a filter paper which contains ground coffee.

filter paper ▷ noun a porous paper through which a liquid can be passed in order to separate out any solid particles suspended in it.

filter tip ▷ noun 1 a FILTER noun 3. 2 a cigarette with a filter □ She smokes filter tips. ● filter-tipped adj □ filter-tipped cigarettes.

filth /fɪlθ/ ▷ noun 1 repulsive dirt; any foul matter □ dog filth. 2 anything that is perceived as physically or morally obscene □ That magazine is absolute filth! 3 (the filth) slang, derog the police. ● filthily adverb. ● filthiness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fylth, from ful foul.

filthy ▷ adj (filthier, filthiest) 1 extremely dirty. 2 obscenely vulgar □ filthy language. 3 offensive or vicious □ a filthy lie. 4 informal or dialect extremely unpleasant □ filthy weather. ▷ verb (filthied, filthying) to make filthy □ He filthied his shirt playing football. ▷ adverb, colloq used for emphasis, especially showing disapproval □ filthy rich.

filthy lucre ▷ noun, humorous money, profit. ⓘ 16c: from Titus 1.11 aischron kerdos, literally 'dishonourable gain'.

filtrate /ˈfɪltreɪt/ chem ▷ noun the clear liquid obtained after filtration. ▷ verb (filtrated, filtrating) tr & intr to filter. ● filtration noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin filtrare to filter.

filtration /fɪlˈtreɪʃən/ ▷ noun act or process of filtering.

fin ▷ noun 1 a thin wing-like projection on a fish's body consisting of a thin fold of skin supported by bone or cartilage, used for propelling the fish through the water, balancing, steering, display and in some cases protection. 2 anything that resembles a fin in appearance or function, eg the vertical projection in the tail of an aircraft, a blade projecting from the hull of a ship, a swimmer's flipper, attachments on 1950s cars. ▷ verb (finned, finning) 1 to provide something with fins. 2 to cut off the fins from a fish. ● finless adj. ● finned adj. ● finny adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon finn; Latin pinna feather or fin is probably the same word.

finable or fineable /'faɪnəbəl/ ▷ adj liable to a fine.

finagle /fɪ'neɪgəl/ ▷ verb (finagled, finagling) 1 tr & intr to obtain by guile or swindling, to wangle. 2 (often finagle someone out of something) to cheat someone (out of something). ◯ 1920s: from an English dialect form fainaigue cheat.

final /'faɪnəl/ ▷ adj 1 occurring at the end; last in a series, after all the others. 2 completed; finished. 3 said of a decision, etc: definite; not to be altered; conclusive. ▷ noun 1 a the last part of a competition at which the winner is decided; b (finals) the last round or group of contests resulting in a winner □ Our team has made it to the finals. 2 (finals) the examinations held at the end of a degree course, etc. 3 music a the keynote or tonic; b the lowest note in the AUTHENTIC modes; c a fourth above it in the PLAGAL. 4 the final edition of a newspaper □ Have you bought the final yet? ◯ 14c: from Latin finalis pertaining to an end, from finis end.

final demand ▷ noun a last bill or reminder sent to someone before legal action is taken to recover an unpaid debt.

finale /fɪ'nɑːlɪ/ ▷ noun (finales /-lɪz/) 1 the grand conclusion to a show, etc. 2 the last or closing movement of a symphony or other piece of music. ◯ 18c: Italian, from Latin finis end.

finalist /'faɪnəlɪst/ ▷ noun someone who reaches the final round in a competition.

finality /faɪ'nalɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the state of being final or concluded. 2 a final or conclusive act.

finalize or finalise /'faɪnəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (finalized, finalizing) 1 to sign (especially a commercial agreement), taking into account the concluding stages of discussion and negotiation. 2 to decide on or finally agree to something; to settle on (a particular plan or formula). • finalization noun.

finally /'faɪnəlɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 at last; in the end; eventually □ He finally arrived. 2 lastly. 3 irrevocably; decisively □ The city was finally destroyed. 4 at the end of a speech, etc: as the last point or conclusion □ And finally, the vote of thanks.

finals see under FINAL

the final solution ▷ noun, historical the German Nazi policy and process, from 1941, of exterminating European Jews. ◯ 1940s: English version of the German Endlösung.

finance ▷ noun /'faɪnans, faɪ'nans, fɪ-/ 1 money affairs and the management of them □ Government finance. 2 the money or funds needed or used to pay for something. 3 (finances) one's financial state. ▷ verb /faɪ'nans, fɪ-/ (financed, financing) to provide funds for something. ◯ 14c: from French finer to settle, from Latin finis an end.

finance company and finance house ▷ noun a firm whose main activity is lending money, usually to enable the borrower to make a specific purchase.

financial ▷ adj 1 relating to finance or finances. 2 Austral & NZ slang having money; financially solvent. • financially adverb.

financial year ▷ noun 1 any annual period for which accounts are made up. 2 chiefly Brit the twelve-month period, in Britain starting 6 April, used in accounting, annual taxation, etc, over which the Government's financial policies and estimates are made. Compare FISCAL YEAR.

financier /fɪ'nansɪə(r), faɪ-/ ▷ noun someone engaged in large financial transactions. ◯ 17c: French.

finback see FIN WHALE

finch /fɪntʃ/ ▷ noun (finches) any of several small songbirds with short stout conical beaks adapted for cracking seeds, eg sparrow, canary, chaffinch, goldfinch. ◯ Anglo-Saxon finc.

find /faɪnd/ ▷ verb (found /faʊnd/, finding) 1 to discover through search, enquiry, mental effort or chance. 2 to seek out and provide something □ I'll find you a plumber. 3 to realize or discover something. 4 to experience something as being (easy, difficult, etc) □ find it hard to express oneself. 5 to consider; to think. 6 to get or experience □ find pleasure in reading. 7 to become aware of something or someone □ found her beside him. 8 to succeed in getting (time, courage, money, etc for something). 9 to see or come across □ a bird found only in Madagascar. 10 to reach □ find one's best form. 11 tr & intr, law said of a jury or court, etc: to decide on and deliver a specified verdict about (an accused person) □ found the accused innocent □ found that the accused was guilty □ found a verdict of guilty. ▷ noun something or someone that is found; an important discovery. • all found with food and housing provided. • find it in oneself or in one's heart to be prepared (to do something hurtful, etc). • find oneself to find the role, etc that satisfies one. • find oneself doing something to discover or realize that one is doing it □ found themselves agreeing. • find one's feet to establish oneself confidently in a new situation. ◯ Anglo-Saxon findan.

■ find out about something to discover or get information about it.

■ find someone out to detect them in wrongdoing; to discover the truth about them.

finder ▷ noun 1 someone who finds something. 2 astron a small telescope attached to a larger one for finding the required object and setting it in the centre of the field. 3 short for VIEWFINDER. • finders keepers colloq used especially by children: a saying meaning that someone who finds something is entitled to keep it.

fin de siècle /fɛ̃ də sɪ'ɛklə/ noun 1 the end of the 19th century. 2 the end of the 20th century. ▷ adj (fin-de-siècle) 1 a characteristic of the ideas of the late 19th century, particularly of the Modernist movement and a decadent society; b decadent. 2 referring or relating to the late 20th century □ fin-de-siècle angst. ◯ 19c: French, meaning 'end of century or era'.

finding /'faɪndɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a thing that is found or discovered. 2 the event of discovering something. 3 law a decision or verdict reached as the result of a judicial inquiry. 4 (usually findings) conclusions reached as the result of some research or investigation.

find the lady see THREE-CARD TRICK fine[1] /faɪn/ ▷ adj 1 of high quality; excellent; splendid. 2 beautiful; handsome. 3 facetious grand; superior □ her fine relations. 4 said of weather: bright; not rainy. 5 well; healthy. 6 quite satisfactory □ That's fine by me. 7 pure; refined. 8 thin; delicate. 9 close-set in texture or arrangement. 10 consisting of tiny particles. 11 intricately detailed □ fine embroidery. 12 slight; subtle □ fine adjustments. ▷ adverb 1 colloq satisfactorily. 2 finely; into fine pieces. • finely adverb. • fineness noun. • cut or run it fine colloq to leave barely enough time for something. • fine and dandy working or doing well; OK now, in order after there has been a problem. • get something down to a fine art to find the most efficient way of doing it. • not to put too fine a point on it used as an introductory expression before speaking honestly or bluntly. ◯ 13c: from French fin end, in the sense of 'boundary or limit'.

fine[2] /faɪn/ ▷ noun an amount of money to be paid as a penalty, constituting a punishment for breaking a regulation or law. ▷ verb (fined, fining) to impose a fine on someone. • in fine in total; to sum up. ◯ 12c: from French fin end, settlement or ending a dispute.

fineable see FINABLE fine art ▷ noun 1 art produced mainly for its aesthetic value. 2 as the name of a college or university course: a course combining art history and sometimes practical art tuition. 3 (usually fine arts) painting, drawing, sculpture and architecture; the arts that appeal to the sense of beauty.

fine leg ▷ noun, cricket 1 a position in fielding between LONG LEG and SQUARE LEG. 2 a fielder in this position.

finery¹ /ˈfaɪnəri/ ▷ noun splendour; very ornate and showy clothes, jewellery, etc. ◎ 17c.

finery² /ˈfaɪnəri/ ▷ noun (fineries) a furnace for making iron malleable. ◎ 17c: from French finerie, from finer to refine; compare FINE¹.

fines herbes /French finzɛʁb/ plural noun, cookery a mixture of herbs for use in cooking, often in phrases □ omelette aux fines herbes. ◎ 19c: French, meaning 'fine herbs'.

finespun ▷ adj delicate; over-subtle.

finesse /fɪˈnɛs/ ▷ noun (plural finesses in sense 3 only) 1 skilful elegance or expertise. 2 tact and poise in handling situations. 3 cards an attempt by a player holding a high card to win a trick with a lower one. ▷ verb (finessed, finessing) to attempt to win a trick by finesse. ◎ 15c: French, meaning 'fineness'.

fine-tooth comb or fine-toothed comb ▷ noun a comb with narrow close-set teeth. • go over or through something with a fine-tooth comb to search or examine it very thoroughly or exhaustively.

fine-tune ▷ verb to make slight adjustments to something to obtain optimum performance.

finger /ˈfɪŋɡə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a one of the five jointed extremities of the hand; b any of the four of these other than the thumb; c as adj □ finger buffet. d in compounds □ fingerprint. 2 the part of a glove that fits over a finger. 3 anything resembling or similar to a finger in shape. 4 a measure or quantity of alcoholic spirits in a glass, filling it to a depth which is equal to the width of a finger. ▷ verb (fingered, fingering) 1 to touch or feel something with the fingers, often affectionately or lovingly; to caress □ He fingered the velvet. 2 music to indicate (on a part or composition) the choice and configuration of fingers to be used for a piece of music. 3 slang (also fingerfuck) to stimulate someone sexually by inserting the finger into an orifice, usually the vulva or anus. 4 slang to identify (a criminal) to the police, etc. 5 colloq used by computer users: to call up a file showing information about another computer user, eg whether they are logged-on, where their office is located, etc. • fingerless adj □ fingerless gloves. • be all fingers and thumbs colloq to be clumsy in handling or holding things. • get one's fingers burnt colloq to suffer for one's over-boldness or mistakes. • have a finger in every pie colloq, often derog to have an interest, or be involved, in many different things. • not lay a finger on someone not to touch or harm them. • lift a finger or hand see under LIFT. • point the finger at someone colloq to blame or accuse them. • pull or get one's finger out slang to make an effort to start working more efficiently. • put the finger on someone slang to finger (verb 4) (a criminal, etc). • slip through someone's fingers to manage to escape from them. • wrap or twist someone round one's little finger colloq to be able to get what one wants from them. ◎ Anglo-Saxon.

fingerboard ▷ noun the part of a violin, guitar, etc against which the strings are pressed by the fingers to change the note.

fingerbowl ▷ noun a small bowl of water for cleaning one's fingers at the table.

finger buffet ▷ noun a buffet meal consisting of food which may be eaten with the fingers, such as small sandwiches, cocktail sausage rolls, canapés, etc (sometimes called finger food), without any need for a knife and fork.

finger-dry ▷ verb to dry (hair) without using a hairdrier or brush by repeatedly running one's fingers through it.

fingered ▷ adj 1 soiled or dirtied by a lot of touching. 2 usually in compounds having or using a finger or fingers of a specified kind or number.

fingerfuck see under FINGER.

fingering /ˈfɪŋɡərɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the correct positioning of the fingers for playing a particular musical instrument or piece of music. 2 the written or printed notation indicating this. 3 touching with the fingers.

fingerling ▷ noun a fish no bigger than a finger, especially a salmon parr or young trout less than a year old.

fingermark ▷ noun a mark left on a surface by dirty or greasy fingers.

fingernail ▷ noun the nail at the tip of one's finger.

fingerprint ▷ noun 1 the print or inked impression made by the pattern of minute swirling ridges on the surface of the end joints of the fingers and thumbs, which is unique to each person, and can be used as a means of identification, especially of criminals. 2 any accurate and unique identifying feature or characteristic, especially that produced by analysis of a sample of a person's DNA, using a technique known as DNA fingerprinting or GENETIC FINGERPRINTING. ▷ verb 1 to make an impression of someone's fingerprints. 2 to take a sample of someone's DNA.

fingerstall ▷ noun a covering for protecting the finger, especially after an injury.

fingertip ▷ noun the end or tip of one's finger. • have something at one's fingertips to know a subject thoroughly and have information readily available.

finicky /ˈfɪnɪkɪ/ and finickety /fɪˈnɪkɪtɪ/ ▷ adj 1 too concerned with detail. 2 said of a task: intricate; tricky. 3 fussy; faddy. ◎ 19c: probably derived from FINE¹.

finish /ˈfɪnɪʃ/ ▷ verb (finished, finishing) (often finish off or up) 1 tr & intr to bring something to an end, or come to an end; to reach a natural conclusion. 2 to complete or perfect something. 3 to use, eat, drink, etc the last of something □ I've finished the coffee. 4 intr to reach or end up in a certain position or situation. 5 to give a particular treatment to the surface of (cloth, wood, etc). ▷ noun 1 the last stage; the end. 2 the last part of a race, etc. 3 perfecting touches put to a product. 4 the surface texture given to cloth, wood, etc. • finisher noun. • fight to the finish to fight till one party is dead or so severely disabled that they are unable to continue. ◎ 14c as fenys: from Latin finire to end.

■ finish someone or something off 1 colloq to exhaust them emotionally or physically □ His emotional blackmailing really finished me off last night. 2 colloq to defeat or kill them □ The lion finished the buffalo off.

■ finish with someone 1 to end a relationship with them. 2 to stop dealing with or needing them.

■ finish with something to stop using or needing it.

finished ▷ adj 1 colloq no longer useful, productive, creative, wanted or popular. 2 said of a performer: accomplished.

finishing post ▷ noun the post marking the end of a race, especially for horses.

finishing-school ▷ noun a private school where girls are taught social skills and graces. ◎ Early 19c.

finishing touches ▷ plural noun the last minor improvements needed to achieve perfection □ put the finishing touches to the flower arrangement.

finite /ˈfaɪnaɪt/ ▷ adj 1 having an end or limit. 2 math having a fixed, countable number of elements. 3 grammar said of a verb: being in a form that reflects person, number, tense, etc, as distinct from being an infinitive or participle. Compare INFINITIVE. • finitely adverb. • finiteness or finitude /ˈfɪnɪtjuːd, ˈfaɪn-/ noun. ◎ 15c: from Latin finitus limited, from finire to end or limit.

Finlandization or Finlandisation /fɪnləndaɪˈzeɪʃən/ ▷ noun, politics the tendency of a small state to shape its foreign policy so as to accommodate a much more powerful neighbour. ⓒ 1960s: based on the conciliatory rather than confrontational development of the relationship between Finland and the Soviet Union after 1944.

Finn ▷ noun a native or citizen of Finland. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon Finnas Finns.

finnan /ˈfɪnən/ and finnan haddock ▷ noun haddock cured in the smoke from peat, turf or green wood. ⓒ 18c: probably named after Findhorn or Findon in NE Scotland.

Finnish ▷ adj belonging or relating to Finland, a republic in Scandinavia, its inhabitants or their language. ▷ noun the official language of Finland.

Finno-Ugric /fɪnoʊˈjuːgrɪk, -ˈuːgrɪk/ and Finno-Ugrian /-grɪən/ ▷ noun a family of languages spoken in Scandinavia (eg FINNISH and ESTONIAN), Central Europe (HUNGARIAN) and W Asia, belonging to the north-western group of the URAL-ALTAIC languages.

finocchio /fɪˈnɒkɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (finocchios) a dwarf variety of fennel. Also called dwarf fennel and Florence fennel. ⓒ 18c: Italian, from Latin feniculum fennel.

fin whale and finback ▷ noun a rorqual.

fiord see FJORD

fioritura /fjɒrɪˈtʊərə/ ▷ noun (fioriture /-ˈriː, -ˈreɪ/) music a florid embellishment to a piece of music, especially by the performer. ⓒ 19c: Italian, meaning 'flowering'.

fipple /ˈfɪpəl/ ▷ noun, music the piece of wood, etc that plugs the mouthpiece of a recorder or other similar wind instrument, with a narrow slit through which the player blows. ⓒ 17c: probably from the dialectal sense 'loose lower lip' or 'pouting lip', compare Icelandic flipi lip of a horse.

fir /fɜː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any of various coniferous evergreen trees native to north temperate regions and Central America, and usually having silvery or bluish foliage, with leathery needle-like leaves. 2 any of various related trees, eg the Douglas fir. 3 the wood of these trees. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon fyrh.

fire /faɪə(r)/ ▷ noun (plural fires in senses 2, 3 and 4 only) 1 flames coming from something that is burning. 2 an occurrence of destructive burning of something □ a warehouse fire □ a forest fire. 3 mainly in homes: a mass of burning wood, coal or other fuel, usually in a grate, etc, used for warmth or cooking □ log fire □ peat fire. Also called open fire. 4 a gas or electric room-heater □ gas fire □ electric fire. 5 the discharge of firearms. 6 the launching of a missile. 7 heat and light produced by something burning or some other source. 8 enthusiasm; passion; ardour. 9 fever; a burning sensation from inflammation, etc. 10 sparkle; brilliance (eg of a gem). 11 astrol a as adj relating to a group of three signs of the zodiac, ie Aries, Leo and Sagittarius □ the fire signs; b one of four elements in the zodiac. ▷ verb (fired, firing) 1 tr & intr to discharge (a gun); to send off (a bullet or other missile) from a gun, catapult, bow, etc □ fired the gun. 2 to launch (a rocket, missile, etc). 3 to detonate (an explosive). 4 said of a gun, missile, etc: to be discharged, launched, etc □ The gun fired. 5 to direct (eg questions) in quick succession at someone. 6 colloq to dismiss someone from employment, usually because of bad discipline □ You're fired! 7 intr said of a vehicle engine, boiler, etc: to start working when a spark causes the fuel to burn □ The motor fired. 8 to put fuel into (a furnace, etc). 9 to inspire or stimulate someone. 10 pottery to bake (pottery, bricks, etc) in a kiln, usually at a very high temperature. ▷ exclamation 1 a cry, warning others of a fire. 2 the order to start firing weapons, etc. • fireless adj. • between two fires under attack from two sides. • draw someone's fire to deliberately divert their gunfire, criticism, etc towards oneself. • fire away colloq an expression inviting someone to start saying what they have to say, especially to begin asking questions. • go through fire and water for someone or something to suffer or undergo danger for their sake. • hold one's fire to stop shooting. • in the line of fire 1 between the guns and the target, and therefore in danger of being hit. 2 exposed to questioning or verbal attack from an opponent. • on fire 1 burning. 2 filled with enthusiasm, love, etc. • open fire on someone or something to begin shooting at them, with a gun, artillery, etc. • play with fire colloq to take risks; to act recklessly. • pull something out of the fire to rescue the situation at the last minute. • return someone's fire to shoot back at them. • set fire to something or set something on fire to make it burn; to set light to it. • set someone on fire to fill them with enthusiasm, love, etc. • under fire 1 being shot at. 2 being criticized or blamed. See also CATCH FIRE at CATCH, CEASEFIRE. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon fyr.

■ fire at or on someone to discharge a gun, etc at them.

■ fire someone up to make them highly excited or agitated about something □ fired him up with enthusiasm.

■ fire up to catch light and produce a lively flame □ The coal fired up well.

fire alarm ▷ noun a bell or other device activated to warn people of fire.

fire and brimstone ▷ noun the supposed condition or torment of hell; eternal damnation.

firearm ▷ noun (often firearms) a gun, pistol, revolver or rifle, carried and used by an individual.

fireball ▷ noun 1 ball lightning. 2 a mass of hot gases at the centre of a nuclear explosion. 3 colloq a lively energetic person. 4 astron a large bright meteor.

firebomb ▷ noun an incendiary bomb. ▷ verb to attack or destroy something with one or more firebombs. ⓒ 19c.

firebrand ▷ noun 1 a piece of burning wood. 2 someone who stirs up unrest; a troublemaker.

firebreak ▷ noun a strip of land in a forest which is cleared to stop the spread of fire.

firebrick ▷ noun a heat-resistant brick made from fire clay used to line furnaces, fireplaces, etc.

fire brigade ▷ noun, chiefly Brit an organized team of people trained and employed to prevent and extinguish fires, and to perform other dangerous duties such as rescuing people, etc. N Amer equivalent fire department. See also FIREFIGHTER.

firebug ▷ noun, colloq an arsonist.

fire clay ▷ noun a type of clay that contains large amounts of hydrous aluminium silicates and can withstand high temperatures, used for making fire-resistant pottery, firebricks, etc.

firecracker ▷ noun a small firework that bangs repeatedly.

fired ▷ adj 1 pottery referring to ceramics which have been baked in a kiln □ high fired. 2 usually in compounds affected or having the appearance of having been affected in a specified way by fire □ I prefer well-fired rolls. 3 in compounds powered by a specified type of fuel □ gas-fired central heating. ▷ verb, past tense, past participle of FIRE.

firedamp ▷ noun an explosive mixture of methane gas and air, formed in coalmines by the decomposition of coal. See also AFTERDAMP.

fire department see under FIRE BRIGADE firedog ▷ noun an ANDIRON.

fire door ▷ noun 1 a fire-resistant door between two parts of a building to prevent the spread of fire within the building, which should be kept closed when not in use. 2

a door leading out of a building which can be easily opened from the inside, used as an emergency exit.

fire drill ▷ noun the routine of evacuating and checking a building, etc, to be followed in case of fire, or a practice of this routine.

fire-eater ▷ noun 1 a performer who pretends to swallow fire from flaming torches. 2 an aggressive or quarrelsome person.

fire engine ▷ noun a vehicle which carries firefighters and firefighting equipment to the scene of a fire.

fire escape ▷ noun an external metal staircase or other device by which people can escape from a burning building.

fire extinguisher ▷ noun a portable device containing water, liquid carbon dioxide under pressure, foam, etc, for spraying on to a fire to put it out, either by cooling it or by excluding oxygen.

firefighter ▷ noun a person who is trained to put out large fires and rescuing those endangered by them, usually as part of a FIRE BRIGADE.

firefighting noun the act, process or occupation of fighting fire. Also as adj.

firefly ▷ noun (fireflies) any of a number of species of small winged nocturnal beetles, found mainly in tropical regions, that emit light in a series of brief flashes.

fireguard ▷ noun a metal or wire-mesh screen for putting round an open fire to protect against sparks or falling coal, logs, etc.

fire hose ▷ noun a hose supplying water for extinguishing fires, usually attached to a hydrant.

fire hydrant ▷ noun a HYDRANT.

fire insurance ▷ noun insurance against loss of property, etc by fire.

fire irons ▷ plural noun a set of tools for looking after a household fire, usually including a poker, tongs, brush and shovel. Also called COMPANION SET.

firelighter ▷ noun a block of flammable material placed underneath the fuel to help light a fire.

fireman ▷ noun 1 a male member of a FIRE BRIGADE, officially called a FIREFIGHTER. 2 on steam trains: the person who stokes the fire. 3 a stoker, eg of a furnace, on a steamboat, etc. 4 mining a miner responsible for safety measures, checking for firedamp, supervising blasts, etc.

fireman's lift ▷ noun a method of carrying someone by putting them face down over one's shoulder, used especially by firefighters in rescuing unconscious or injured people.

fireplace ▷ noun mainly in homes: the recess of an open fire in a room and its surrounding area which has an opening to a chimney above it.

fire-power ▷ noun, military the destructive capacity of an artillery unit.

fireproof ▷ adj resistant to fire and fierce heat. ▷ verb to make something resistant to fire.

firer ▷ noun a person who fires (a gun, ceramics, a furnace, etc).

fire-raiser ▷ noun someone who deliberately sets fire to buildings, etc. Compare ARSONIST at ARSON.

fire-raising ▷ noun, Scots law ARSON.

firescreen ▷ noun a decorative screen put on the fireplace when there is no fire.

fireship ▷ noun 1 a ship which carries firefighters and firefighting equipment, for putting out fires on ships, oil rigs, etc. 2 historical a ship carrying combustible materials, set alight and sent to float freely amongst enemy ships in order to destroy them.

fireside ▷ noun the area round a fireplace, especially as a symbol of home. ▷ adj domestic; familiar.

fire station ▷ noun a building where fire engines and equipment are housed and firefighters are stationed.

fire-storm ▷ noun a huge blaze which fans its own flames by creating its own draught, especially as a result of heavy bombing.

firethorn ▷ noun PYRACANTHA.

firetrap ▷ noun 1 a building without adequate escape routes in case of fire. 2 a building likely to burn easily.

fire-water ▷ noun, colloq any strong alcoholic spirit, especially whisky.

fireweed ▷ noun rose-bay willow-herb, often the first vegetation to spring up on burned ground.

firewood ▷ noun wood for burning as fuel.

firework ▷ noun 1 a device containing combustible chemicals, designed to produce spectacular coloured sparks, flares, etc, often with accompanying loud bangs, when ignited. 2 (fireworks or firework display) a show at which such devices are let off for entertainment, usually to mark a special event. 3 (fireworks) colloq a show of anger or bad temper.

firing ▷ noun 1 a discharge of guns, etc. 2 the process of baking ceramics, etc in a kiln. 3 the act of fuelling a furnace, etc. 4 the ignition of a boiler, etc. 5 bell-ringing the simultaneous ringing of a peal of bells.

firing line ▷ noun the position from which gunfire, etc is delivered, especially the front line of battle.

firing squad ▷ noun a detachment of soldiers with the job of shooting a condemned person.

firkin /ˈfɜːkɪn/ ▷ noun 1 brewing a measure equal to 9 gallons (c. 40 l). 2 a small container with a capacity equal to quarter of a barrel, varying in amount depending on the commodity. ⓔ 15c as ferdekyn: from Dutch vierde fourth + -KIN.

firm[1] /fɜːm/ ▷ adj 1 strong; compact; steady. 2 solid; not soft or yielding. 3 definite □ a firm offer. 4 said of prices, markets, etc: steady or stable, with a slight upward trend. 5 determined; resolute. 6 said of a mouth or chin: suggesting determination. ▷ adverb in a determined and unyielding manner; with resolution □ hold firm to one's promise. ▷ verb (firmed, firming) to make something firm or secure □ He firmed the soil around the plant. ■ firmness noun. ⓔ 14c as ferme: from Latin firmus firm or solid.

■ firm up said of prices, markets, etc: to become more stable, usually with a slight upward trend □ Prices were firming up.

■ firm something up to discuss (ideas, plans, etc) and make them clearer and more definite □ Can we firm up the plans for your visit?

firm[2] /fɜːm/ ▷ noun 1 any organization or individual engaged in economic activity with the aim of producing goods or services for sale to others; a business or company. 2 a business partnership. ⓔ 18c in sense 2; 16c, meaning 'one's signature': from Italian firma signature, from Latin firmare to confirm, to ratify by one's signature, from firmus firm or solid.

firmament /ˈfɜːməmənt/ ▷ noun, literary, old use the sky; heaven. ⓔ 13c: from Latin firmamentum, from firmus firm or solid; relating to the earlier belief that the position of the stars was fixed.

firmly ▷ adverb in a firm way; earnestly, sincerely □ He shook his friend's hand firmly.

firmware ▷ noun, computing a software program which cannot be altered and is held in a computer's read-only memory, eg the operating system. ⓔ 1960s: from FIRM[1], modelled on SOFTWARE.

first /fɜːst/ (often written 1st) ▷ adj 1 in counting: before all others; before the second and following ones. 2 earliest in time or order; the starting object of a series of objects. 3 (the first) a the first day of the month; b golf the first hole. 4 the most important; foremost in importance □ first prize. 5 basic; fundamental □ first principles. 6 music a having the higher part □ the first violins; b being the principal player □ the first clarinet. ▷ adverb 1 before anything or anyone else. 2 foremost □ got in feet first. 3 before doing anything else □ first make sure of the facts. 4 for the first time □ since he first saw him. 5 preferably; rather □ I'd die first. 6 firstly. ▷ noun 1 a person or thing coming first, eg in a race or exam. 2 colloq a first occurrence of something; something never done before □ That's a first for me! 3 the beginning; the start □ from first to last. 4 denoting the first or lowest forward GEAR (sense 2) in a motor vehicle □ She changed from first to second. 5 (a first) education, chiefly Brit first-class honours in a university degree; a degree of the highest class. • at first at the start of something; early on in the course of something. • at first hand directly from the original source □ to obtain information at first hand. • first and last essentially; on the whole. • first come, first served those who respond before others to an offer have priority over them. • first thing colloq early; before anything else, as the first action of the day □ I'll do it first thing in the morning. • first things first an expression suggesting that one should organize oneself by doing the most important things before other things. • get to or make first base to complete the first stage of a process. • in the first place from the start; to begin with □ He didn't want to go in the first place. • not have the first idea or not know the first thing about something colloq to be completely ignorant about it; to know nothing about it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fyrest.

first aid ▷ noun immediate emergency treatment given to an injured or ill person.

first-born literary or old use ▷ noun the eldest child in a family. ▷ adj eldest.

first-class ▷ adj 1 referring to the best or highest grade in terms of value, performance or quality. 2 excellent. 3 referring to the most comfortable grade of accommodation in a train, plane, etc □ He took a first-class ticket from Edinburgh to Aberdeen. 4 chiefly Brit the category of mail most speedily delivered. Also as noun. ▷ adverb (first class) by first-class mail, transport, etc □ to send it first class. □ to travel first class ⓘ 18c.

first cousin see COUSIN first cousin once removed see COUSIN ONCE REMOVED first-day cover ▷ noun, philately an envelope bearing a newly-issued stamp postmarked with the stamp's date of issue.

first-degree ▷ adj 1 medicine denoting the least severe type of burn in which only the outer layer of the skin is damaged, characterized by pain and reddening of the skin surface □ first-degree burn. 2 N Amer law denoting the most serious of the two levels of murder, ie unlawful killing with intent and premeditation.

first estate see under ESTATE 5 first finger ▷ noun the finger next to the thumb.

first floor ▷ noun 1 the floor directly above the ground floor. 2 US the ground floor.

first foot Scottish ▷ noun (also first-footer) the first person to enter one's house in the New Year. ▷ verb (first-foot) to enter someone's house as a first foot. • first-footing noun the activity of going to first-foot neighbours, friends, etc, usually taking gifts of food and drink.

first fruits ▷ plural noun 1 the first produce of the season. 2 the first results or proceeds from a new enterprise.

first-generation ▷ adj 1 denoting the first or earliest stage in technological development □ a first-generation missile. 2 computing see under COMPUTER GENERATION.

first-hand ▷ adj, adverb direct; from the original source; without an intermediary.

first in, first out see FIFO first lady ▷ noun, N Amer, chiefly US (often First Lady) 1 the wife or partner of the governor of a city, state or country, especially of the US President. 2 a woman who is highly regarded in a particular field or activity, such as music, fashion, etc □ Vivienne Westwood is often considered the first lady of fashion.

first language see under LANGUAGE first lieutenant an officer in the US army, air force and marine corps. See table at RANK.

first light ▷ noun the time in the morning when daylight first appears in the sky; dawn.

first love ▷ noun 1 a the emotion felt by someone when they fall in love for the first time; b the person who someone feels this emotion for. 2 someone's favourite activity, hobby, etc □ Cycling is his first love.

firstly ▷ adverb used to introduce a list of things: before all others; in the first place; to begin with.

first name ▷ noun one's personal name as distinct from one's family name or surname. Compare CHRISTIAN NAME, FORENAME. • be on first-name terms to be friendly enough to address one another by first names.

first night ▷ noun the first public performance of a play, film, etc at a particular venue; opening night.

first offender ▷ noun a person found guilty of a crime who has no previous conviction.

first-past-the-post ▷ adj referring or relating to an election system in which voters have one vote only and whoever gets most votes wins, without necessarily gaining an ABSOLUTE MAJORITY; often contrasted with a system of PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

first person see under PERSON the first post ▷ noun, military the first bugle call of a series that denotes that it is time to retire at night. Compare THE LAST POST.

first quartile see under QUARTILE first-rate ▷ adj 1 being of the highest quality, as opposed to SECOND-RATE, etc. 2 excellent; fine.

first refusal ▷ noun an agreement allowing a prospective customer to buy goods, etc before they are offered to others □ We'll give you first refusal on this offer.

first school ▷ noun a primary school.

first strike ▷ noun, military, politics a pre-emptive attack on an enemy, intended to destroy their nuclear weapons before they can be brought into use. Also as adj □ first-strike capability.

first-time buyer ▷ noun someone buying a property who has not previously owned a home, and therefore does not have one to sell.

First World ▷ noun the richest and technologically most developed countries of the world, used in contrast to THIRD WORLD.

First World War see WORLD WAR I firth /fɜːθ/ ▷ noun especially in Scotland: a river estuary or an inlet. ⓘ 15c: from Norse fjörthr fjord.

fiscal /ˈfɪskəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to government finances or revenue. 2 belonging or relating to financial matters generally. ▷ noun, Scottish a PROCURATOR FISCAL. • fiscally adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fiscus rush-basket or purse.

fiscal drag ▷ noun, econ the effect of inflation on tax revenues if tax allowances are not kept in line with inflation, and individuals therefore pay relatively higher amounts of tax reducing their net income, thereby reducing demand for goods and services.

fiscal year ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer the twelve-month period, in the US starting 1 July, used in accounting, annual taxation, etc, over which the Government's financial policies and estimates are made. Compare FINANCIAL YEAR.

fish ▷ noun (fish or fishes) 1 any cold-blooded aquatic vertebrate that has no legs, and typically possesses paired fins, breathes by means of gills, and has a bony or cartilaginous skeleton and a body covered with scales. 2 in compounds any of various water-inhabiting creatures □ shellfish □ jellyfish. 3 the flesh of fish used as food. Compare FLESH noun 2. 4 derog, colloq a person □ an odd fish □ a cold fish. 5 (the Fish) astron, astrol PISCES. ▷ verb (fished, fishing) 1 intr to catch or try to catch fish □ She was fishing all day. 2 to catch or try to catch fish in (a river, lake, etc) □ fish a river. 3 intr to search or grope □ fished in his bag for a pen. 4 intr (usually fish for something) to seek information, compliments, etc by indirect means. ● drink like a fish colloq to be in the habit of drinking a lot of alcohol. ● a fish out of water someone in an unaccustomed, unsuitable situation which makes them ill at ease. ● have other fish to fry colloq to have other, more important, things to do. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fisc.

■ fish something out to retrieve it.

fish and chips and (Scottish) fish supper ▷ noun a meal consisting of a fillet of fish deep-fried in batter, served with potato chips, and traditionally bought ready cooked at a fish and chip shop or chip shop. ⓘ 19c.

fishcake ▷ noun cooked fish and mashed potato made into a round flat shape, coated in breadcrumbs and fried or grilled.

fisher ▷ noun 1 any animal that catches fish for food. 2 a PEKAN. 3 old use a fisherman.

fisherman ▷ noun a person who fishes as a job or hobby.

fishery ▷ noun (fisheries) 1 an area of water where fishing takes place, particularly sea waters; a fishing ground. 2 the business or industry of catching, processing and selling fish.

fish-eye lens ▷ noun, image tech a convex camera lens with an extremely wide angle and a small focal length, giving a scope of nearly 180°.

fish face ▷ noun, derog a term of abuse, sometimes used in a friendly way.

fish farm ▷ noun a place where fish are bred and reared in a confined area as a business.

fish farmer ▷ noun a person who owns, manages or runs a fish farm. ● fish farming noun.

fish finger ▷ noun an oblong piece of filleted or minced fish coated in breadcrumbs.

fishgig see FIZGIG noun 3.

fish-hawk ▷ noun an osprey.

fish hook ▷ noun a hook with barbs for gripping the jaw of a fish taking the bait.

fishing ▷ noun 1 the sport or business of catching fish. 2 a fishing ground.

fishing ground ▷ noun an area of water that is good for fishing.

fishing-line ▷ noun a strong line, usually made of nylon, with a fish hook attached.

fishing-rod ▷ noun a long flexible rod to which a fishing-line, and usually a reel, is attached.

fishing tackle ▷ noun nets, lines, rods, hooks and other equipment used for fishing.

fish knife ▷ noun a specially-shaped and usually decorated knife with a broad, blunt-edged blade used for eating fish.

fish-ladder ▷ noun a series of small steps built on a river at a waterfall or dam to enable fish to ascend and swim upstream.

fishmonger ▷ noun a retailer of fish. ⓘ 15c.

fishnet ▷ noun 1 a net for catching fish. 2 as adj said of clothes: having an open mesh, like netting □ fishnet tights.

fish slice ▷ noun a kitchen utensil with a flat slotted head, for lifting and turning food in a frying-pan, etc.

fish supper see FISH AND CHIPS.

fishtail ▷ adj shaped like the tail of a fish. ▷ verb (fishtailed, fishtailing) intr 1 said of an aircraft: to swing the aircraft's tail from side to side, to reduce speed while gliding downward. 2 said of a car, vehicle, etc: to skid when the back of the vehicle swings from side to side.

fishwife ▷ noun derog a loud-voiced, coarse-mannered woman.

fishy ▷ adj (fishier, fishiest) 1 a relating to fish; like a fish □ smell very fishy; b consisting of fish □ I fancy something fishy for dinner. 2 colloq dubious; questionable. ● fishiness noun.

fissile /ˈfɪsaɪl/ ▷ adj 1 geol said of certain rocks, eg shale: tending to split or capable of being split. 2 nuclear physics capable of undergoing nuclear fission. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fissilis that can be split.

fission /ˈfɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a splitting or division into pieces. 2 biol the division of a cell or a single-celled organism into two or more new cells or organisms as a means of asexual reproduction. 3 nuclear physics see NUCLEAR FISSION. ● fissive adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin fissio splitting; compare FISSURE.

fissionable ▷ adj, nuclear physics capable of nuclear fission. ⓘ 1940s.

fissiparous /fɪˈsɪpərəs/ ▷ adj, biol reproducing by fission. ⓘ 19c: from Latin fissus split + parere to bring forth.

fissure /ˈfɪʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 geol a long narrow crack or fracture especially in a body of rock, the Earth's surface or a volcano. 2 anatomy a natural narrow cleft or groove that divides an organ such as the brain into lobes. ▷ verb (fissured, fissuring) tr & intr to crack, split or divide. ⓘ 14c: from Latin fissura split, from findere to split.

fist /fɪst/ ▷ noun 1 a tightly closed or clenched hand with the fingers and thumb doubled back into the palm. 2 old use a hand. 3 old use, informal a person's handwriting. 4 printing a mark, shaped like a pointing hand, used to direct the reader to a reference note, different section, etc. Also called index. ▷ verb (fisted, fisting) to strike or hit with the fist. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fyst.

fistful ▷ noun (fistfuls) an amount that can be held in a closed hand; a handful. ⓘ 17c.

fisticuffs /ˈfɪstɪkʌfs/ ▷ plural noun, humorous fighting with fists. ⓘ 17c: from FIST + CUFF.

fistula /ˈfɪstjʊlə/ ▷ noun (fistulas or fistulae /-liː/) pathol an abnormal connection between two internal organs or body cavities, or between an internal organ or body cavity and the surface of the skin, usually caused by infection or injury. ● fistular or fistulous adj. ⓘ 14c: Latin, meaning 'tube' or 'pipe'.

fit[1] ▷ verb (fitted or (N Amer) fit, fitting) 1 tr & intr to be the right shape or size for something or someone □ Fortunately the new car fitted into the garage □ The jeans fitted him well. 2 to be suitable or appropriate for something □ a punishment that fits the crime. 3 tr & intr to be consistent or compatible with something □ a theory that fits the facts. 4 to install or put something new in place □ fit the new kitchen sink. 5 to equip □ Warning! This car is fitted with an alarm. 6 (often fit someone for something) to make them suitable □ qualities that fit her for the job. 7 to try clothes on someone to see where adjustment is needed □ The tailor fitted the suit by pinning the seams. ▷ noun the way something fits according to its shape or size □ a good fit □ a tight fit. ▷ adj (fitter, fittest) 1 a healthy; feeling good □ Are you fit today? b healthy, especially because of exercise □ He's the fittest of all. 2 about to do something, or apparently so □ looked fit to drop. ▷ adverb enough to do something □ laughed fit to burst. ■ fitly adverb. ■ fitness noun. ■ fit for something suited to it; good enough for it. ■ fit like a glove to fit perfectly. ■ fit the bill to be perfectly suited to something; to be just right. ■ see or think fit to choose to do something. ⓘ 15c.

■ fit in 1 said of someone in a social situation: to behave in a suitable or accepted way □ She never quite fitted in. 2 to be appropriate or to conform to certain arrangements □ The dates of the flight fitted in with my plans.

■ fit in or into something to be small or few enough to be contained in it □ Five people fitted into the car.

■ fit someone or something in to find time to deal with them or it □ I can't fit you in before Friday.

■ fit something out to furnish or equip it with all necessary things for its particular purpose □ fit out the ship.

■ fit something together or fit something in to insert or place it in position.

■ fit someone up colloq to incriminate them; to frame them.

■ fit something up to install it by putting it up and making it work □ fitted up the satellite dish.

fit² ▷ noun 1 a sudden attack of one or more symptoms, usually of an involuntary and relatively violent nature, eg convulsions in grand mal epilepsy, eg epileptic fit, or paroxysms of coughing, eg coughing fit. 2 a burst, spell or bout □ a fit of giggles. ■ by or in fits and starts in irregular spells; spasmodically. ■ in fits colloq laughing uncontrollably. ■ have or throw a fit to become very angry. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fitt struggle.

fitch /fɪtʃ/ ▷ noun 1 a polecat. 2 the fur of the polecat. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch visse, fisse, from French fissel.

fitful ▷ adj irregular, spasmodic or intermittent; not continuous. ■ fitfully adverb. ■ fitfulness noun. ⓘ 17c.

fitment /ˈfɪtmənt/ ▷ noun a piece of equipment or furniture which is fixed to a wall, floor, etc.

fitted ▷ adj 1 made to fit closely □ fitted sheets. 2 said of a carpet: covering the floor entirely. 3 fixed; built-in □ fitted cupboards. 4 said of a kitchen, etc: with built-in shelves, cupboards, etc, usually of matching style.

fitter ▷ noun a person who installs, adjusts or repairs machinery, equipment, etc.

fitting ▷ adj suitable; appropriate. ▷ noun 1 an accessory or part □ a light fitting. 2 (fittings) fitted furniture or equipment. 3 an act or an occasion of trying on a specially made piece of clothing, to see where adjustment is necessary. ■ fittingly adverb.

fitting-room ▷ noun a designated area in a clothes shop where customers can try on clothes before deciding whether or not to buy them. Also called changing-room.

five /faɪv/ ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 5; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than four. 2 any symbol for this number, eg 5 or V. 3 the age of five. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 5. 5 the fifth hour after midnight or midday □ The meeting starts at five □ 5 o'clock □ 5am. 6 a set or group of five people or things. 7 a playing-card with 5 pips □ He had a run of fives. 8 a score of five points. ▷ adj 1 totalling five. 2 aged five. ■ bunch of fives slang the fist. ■ gimme five slang a greeting or a congratulation where two people slap their right palms together in the air. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fif.

five-day week ▷ noun a week which consists of working for five days, usually from Monday to Friday, with the following two days off □ She works a five-day week.

fivefold ▷ adj 1 equal to five times as much or many. 2 divided into, or consisting of, five parts. ▷ adverb by five times as much. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fiffeald: see FIVE + -FOLD.

the five K's ▷ plural noun the five symbolic articles worn by baptized Sikhs (KHALSA), namely KACCHA, KANGHA, KARA, KESH and KIRPAN.

five-o'clock shadow ▷ noun, colloq the new growth of hair that becomes noticeable on a man's face in the late afternoon, if he has shaved in the morning.

fivepins ▷ singular noun a bowling game using five skittles, similar to ninepins and tenpins.

fiver /ˈfaɪvə(r)/ ▷ noun, colloq a Brit a five-pound note; b N Amer a five-dollar bill □ Can you lend me a fiver? ⓘ 19c.

fives ▷ singular noun a game like squash played in a walled court, in which a gloved hand or a bat is used to hit the ball.

fix ▷ verb (fixed, fixing) 1 to attach or place something firmly □ fixed it to the wall □ fixed the blame on him. 2 to mend or repair something □ fixed the brakes on the bike. 3 to direct; to concentrate □ fixed his eyes on her. 4 to transfix someone □ fixed him with a stare. 5 to arrange or agree (a time, etc) □ Let's fix a meeting for Monday. 6 to establish (the time of an occurrence). 7 colloq to arrange (the result of a race, trial, etc) dishonestly □ They fixed the verdict. 8 colloq to bribe or threaten someone into agreement. 9 colloq to thwart, punish or kill someone. 10 photog to make (the image in a photograph) permanent by the use of chemicals which dissolve unexposed silver halides. 11 colloq to prepare (a meal, etc) □ I'll fix breakfast. 12 N Amer to tidy something. See also FIXED. ▷ noun (fixes) 1 colloq a situation which is difficult to escape from; a predicament □ She got herself in a real fix. 2 slang a an act of injecting a narcotic drug, etc, usually by drug addicts; b the quantity injected or to be injected in this way □ Give us a fix! 3 a calculation of the position of a ship, etc, by radar, etc. ⓘ 15c: from Latin fixare.

■ fix on something to choose it; to single it out.

■ fix something up 1 to arrange it (eg a meeting). 2 to get a place ready for some purpose. 3 to set it up, especially temporarily.

■ fix someone up with something to provide them with what is needed □ She can fix you up with a flat.

fixate /fɪkˈseɪt, ˈfɪkseɪt/ ▷ verb (fixated, fixating) tr & intr to become or make something (eg the eyes) become fixed on something □ Her eyes fixated on the pendulum. ⓘ 19c: from Latin fixus fixed.

fixated ▷ adj 1 psychoanal affected by or engaged in FIXATION □ He is fixated on his mother. 2 obsessed; obsessively attached.

fixation ▷ noun 1 the act of fixing or state of being fixated. 2 an (often abnormal) attachment, preoccupation or obsession. 3 psychol a strong attachment of a person to another person, an object or a particular means of gratification during childhood. 4 biol the procedure whereby cells or tissues are killed, hardened and their shape and structure preserved with suitable chemical agents, before they are stained and examined under a microscope. 5 chem the conversion of a chemical substance into a form that does not evaporate, ie a non-volatile or solid form. 6 psychol inability to change a particular way of thinking or acting, which has become habitual as a result of repeated reinforcement or frustration.

fixative /ˈfɪksətɪv/ ▷ noun 1 a liquid sprayed on a drawing, painting or photograph to preserve and protect it. 2 a liquid used to hold eg dentures in place. 3 a substance added to perfume to stop it evaporating.

fixed /fɪkst/ ▷ adj 1 fastened; immovable. 2 unvarying; unchanging; set or established □ fixed ideas. 3 said of a gaze or expression: steady; concentrated; rigid. 4 said of a point: stationary. 5 permanent □ a fixed address. • fixedly /ˈfɪksɪdlɪ/ adverb. • fixedness noun. • fixed for something colloq supplied with, especially financially □ How are you fixed for cash?

fixed assets ▷ plural noun, econ items bought by a company for long-term use, such as buildings, machinery, equipment, etc, whose value is calculated as cost minus DEPRECIATION from year to year.

fixed costs ▷ plural noun, econ overheads such as rent and rates which do not vary with the volume of business done.

fixed penalty ▷ noun a fine of a certain amount of money which is invariable and obligatory. ▷ adj (fixed-penalty) said of an offence, such as illegal parking: automatically liable to such a fine.

fixed-rate ▷ adj having a set and invariable rate of interest □ fixed-rate mortgage.

fixed satellite ▷ noun a satellite that orbits the Earth in time with the Earth's rotation, ie circling it once every 24 hours, so that it remains above the same point on the Earth's surface. Also called geostationary satellite.

fixed star ▷ noun, astron a former name for a distant star whose position appears to be stationary with respect to other stars because of its distance from Earth.

fixed-wing aircraft ▷ noun an aircraft which has wings attached to the fuselage, in contrast eg to helicopters with rotating propellers or 'wings'.

fixer ▷ noun 1 photog a chemical solution that FIXes photographic images. 2 slang a person who arranges things, especially illegally.

fixity ▷ noun the quality of being fixed, steady, unchanging, unmoving or immovable.

fixture ▷ noun 1 a permanently fixed piece of furniture or equipment □ Fixtures and fittings are included in the house price. 2 a a match, horse-race or other event in a sports calendar; b the date for such an event. 3 someone or something permanently established in a place or position. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fixura a fastening, modelled on MIXTURE.

fizgig ▷ noun 1 a giddy or flirtatious girl. 2 a firework. 3 (also fishgig) a harpoon. ⓘ 16c: probably from obsolete fise fart + gig frivolous person; sense 3 from Spanish fisga harpoon.

fizz ▷ verb (fizzed, fizzing) intr 1 said of a liquid: to give off bubbles of carbon dioxide with a hissing sound. 2 to hiss. ▷ noun 1 a hiss or spluttering sound; fizziness. 2 vivacity; high spirits. 3 the bubbly quality of a drink; effervescence □ The champagne had a good fizz to it. 4 any effervescent drink □ Do you want some fizz? • fizzer noun. • fizziness noun. • fizzy adj. ⓘ 17c: imitating the sound.

fizzle /ˈfɪzəl/ ▷ verb (fizzled, fizzling) intr to make a faint hiss. ▷ noun a faint hissing sound. ⓘ 16c: from fysel to fart.

■ fizzle out 1 to come to a feeble end; to come to nothing, especially after an enthusiastic start. 2 to go out with a spluttering sound.

fjord or fiord /ˈfiːɔːd, fjɔːd/ ▷ noun a long narrow steep-sided inlet of the sea in a mountainous coast, eg in Norway, Greenland or New Zealand, formed by the flooding of a previously glaciated valley. ⓘ 17c: Norwegian, from Norse fjorthr.

FL ▷ abbreviation 1 US state Florida. Also written Fla. 2 IVR: Fürstentum Liechtenstein (German), Liechtenstein.

fl. ▷ abbreviation 1 florin. 2 floruit. 3 fluid.

flab ▷ noun, colloq excess flesh or fat on the body. ⓘ 1930s: back-formation from FLABBY.

flabbergast /ˈflabəgɑːst/ ▷ verb (flabbergasted, flabbergasting) colloq to amaze; to astonish □ I was flabbergasted at their impudence. ⓘ 18c.

flabby /ˈflabɪ/ ▷ adj (flabbier, flabbiest) derog 1 a said of flesh: sagging, not firm; b said of a person: having excess or sagging flesh. 2 lacking vigour; feeble; ineffective. • flabbily adverb. • flabbiness noun. ⓘ 17c: altered form of FLAPPY.

flaccid /ˈflaksɪd, ˈflasɪd/ ▷ adj limp and soft; not firm. • flaccidity noun. • flaccidly adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin flaccidus, from flaccus feeble.

flacon /French flakõ/ ▷ noun a small bottle with a stopper, especially for perfume. ⓘ 19c: French; compare FLAGON.

flag¹ ▷ noun 1 a piece of cloth, usually rectangular in shape, with a distinctive design, flown from a pole to represent a country, political party, etc, or used for signalling. 2 national identity represented by a flag. 3 any kind of marker used to indicate and draw special attention to something, eg a code placed at a particular position in a computer program, a paper marker pinned onto a map, etc. 4 obsolete an adjustable plate in a taxi, raised to show that the taxi is for hire. ▷ verb (flagged, flagging) 1 to mark something with a flag, tag or symbol. 2 to signal (a message) using flags. • dip the flag to lower a flag and then hoist it again as a token of respect. • fly the flag or keep the flag flying to maintain a show of support for one's country or other affiliation. • lower the flag to indicate surrender, relinquishment of command or respect, etc □ The flag was finally lowered on the Empire. • with flags flying with flying colours; triumphantly. ⓘ 16c.

■ flag someone or something down to signal, usually with a hand, to a vehicle or driver to stop □ The police flagged us down.

flag² ▷ verb (flagged, flagging) intr to grow weak or tired after a period of intense work or activity. ⓘ 16c: probably derived from FLAP, in the sense of 'hang down' or 'droop'.

flag³ ▷ noun 1 (also flagstone) a large flat stone for paving. 2 a flat slab of any fine-grained rock which can be split into flagstones. ▷ verb (flagged, flagging) to pave (a floor, street, etc) with flagstones. ⓘ 15c: from Norse flaga slab.

flag⁴ ▷ noun any of several plants of the iris family, with long blade-like leaves, especially those with yellow flowers. ⓘ 14c.

flag-captain ▷ noun the captain of a flagship.

flag day ▷ noun, Brit a day chosen by a charity for stationing collectors in the street who distribute stickers in return for donations. ⓘ Early 20c: small paper flags with a pin have now been replaced by stickers.

flagella see under FLAGELLUM flagellant /ˈfladʒələnt/ and flagellator /-leɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who whips themselves or others either as a religious penance or for sexual stimulation. ⓘ 16c: from Latin flagellare to whip.

flagellate ▷ verb /fladʒəˈleɪt/ (flagellated, flagellating) to whip someone or oneself, for the purposes either of religious penance or for sexual stimulation. ▷ adj /ˈfladʒələt/ 1 biol having or relating to a flagellum or flagella. 2 whiplike. ▷ noun any of a group of single-celled protozoan animals, including free-living marine and freshwater species, as well as parasitic species, characterized by the possession of one or more flagella. ⓘ 17c: from Latin flagellare to whip.

flagellation ▷ noun the act of whipping, for religious or sexual purposes.

flagellum /fləˈdʒɛləm/ ▷ noun (flagella /-lə/) 1 biol the long whip-like structure that projects from the cell surface of sperm, and certain bacteria, unicellular algae and protozoans, used to propel the cell through a liquid medium. 2 bot a long thin runner or creeping shoot. ◎ 19c: Latin, meaning 'a small whip', from flagrum a whip.

flageolet¹ /fladʒoʊ'lɪt, -'leɪ/ ▷ noun a small pale green bean which is a type of kidney bean. ◎ 19c: French from Latin faseolus bean.

flageolet² /fladʒoʊ'lɪt, -'leɪ/ ▷ noun a high-pitched woodwind instrument similar to the recorder. ◎ 17c: French, from flajol pipe.

flag of convenience ▷ noun the flag of a foreign country in which a ship is registered to avoid taxation, etc in its real country of origin.

flag of distress ▷ noun a flag displayed as a signal of distress, usually upside down or at half-mast.

flag of truce ▷ noun a white flag flown to show willingness to stop fighting.

flagon /'flagən/ ▷ noun a large bottle or jug with a narrow neck, usually with a spout and handle. ◎ 15c: French, from Latin flasconum flask.

flagpole and flagstaff ▷ noun a pole from which a flag is flown.

flagrant /'fleɪgrənt/ ▷ adj said of something bad: undisguised; blatant; outrageous; brazen or barefaced □ a flagrant lie. ● flagrancy noun. ● flagrantly adj. ◎ 16c: from Latin flagrare to blaze.

flagrante delicto see IN FLAGRANTE DELICTO.

flagship ▷ noun 1 the ship that carries and flies the flag of the fleet commander. 2 the leading ship in a shipping-line. 3 a a commercial company's leading product, model, etc; the product considered most important; b as adj □ The newly refurbished shop is now their flagship branch.

flagstone see FLAG².

flag-waving ▷ noun an excessive show of patriotic feeling.

flail /fleɪl/ ▷ noun a threshing tool consisting of a long handle with a free-swinging wooden or metal bar attached to the end. ▷ verb (flailed, flailing) to beat with or as if with a flail. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fligel.

■ flail about or around to wave or move about violently like a flail.

flair /flɛə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 (often flair for something) a natural ability or talent for something □ She has a flair for maths. 2 stylishness; elegance □ He always dresses with flair. ◎ 19c: French, meaning 'sense of smell', from Latin flagrare, altered from fragrare to smell sweet; compare FRAGRANT.

flak ▷ noun 1 anti-aircraft fire. 2 colloq unfriendly or adverse criticism □ You take too much flak from her. ◎ 1930s: acronym from German Fliegerabwehrkanone anti-aircraft gun, literally 'pilot defence gun'.

flake ▷ noun, often in compounds 1 a small flat particle which has broken away or is breaking away from a larger object □ flakes of plaster. 2 a small piece or particle □ snowflake □ cornflake. ▷ verb (flaked, flaking) 1 intr to come off in flakes □ The paint was flaking off the wall. 2 to break (eg cooked fish) into flakes. ◎ 14c: possibly related to Norse floke flock of wool.

■ flake out slang to collapse or fall asleep from exhaustion.

flak jacket ▷ noun a metal-reinforced jacket worn by police, soldiers, etc for protection from gunfire, shrapnel, etc.

flaky /'fleɪkɪ/ ▷ adj (flakier, flakiest) 1 made of flakes or tending to form flakes □ flaky pastry. 2 chiefly US colloq crazy; eccentric. ● flakiness noun. ● flakily adverb.

flambé /'flɒmbeɪ/ ▷ adj said of food: soaked in spirit, usually brandy, and set alight before serving. ▷ verb (flambéed, flambéing) to serve (food) in this way. ◎ 19c: from French flamber to expose to flame.

flambeau /'flambou/ ▷ noun (flambeaux /-bouz/ or flambeaus /-bouz/) a pole dipped in wax and set alight as a flaming torch, used in processions at festivals, etc. ◎ 17c: French, meaning 'a small flame', from Latin flamma flame.

flamboyant /flam'bɔɪənt/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person or behaviour: colourful, exuberant, and showy. 2 said of clothing or colouring: bright, bold and striking. ● flamboyance or flamboyancy noun. ● flamboyantly adverb. ◎ 19c: French, meaning 'blazing'.

flame ▷ noun 1 a a hot, luminous and flickering tongue shape of burning gases coming from something that is on fire □ The cigarette lighter produced a very small flame; b (often flames) a mass of these □ burst into flames □ go up in flames. 2 a strong passion or affection □ the flame of love. 3 as adj (also flame-coloured) a bright reddish-orange colour □ She wore a flame party dress. ▷ verb (flamed, flaming) 1 intr to burn with flames; to blaze. 2 intr to shine brightly. 3 intr to explode with anger. 4 intr to get red and hot □ Her cheeks flamed with anger. 5 to apply a flame to (an object or substance). ● fan the flames or add fuel to the flames to stir up an already existing emotion or unrest. ● an old flame 1 a feeling of passion or affection for someone from one's past. 2 a person who excites such feelings. ◎ 14c: from Latin flamma.

flamenco /flə'meŋkou/ ▷ noun (flamencos) 1 a rhythmical, emotionally stirring type of Spanish gypsy music, usually played on the guitar, originally from the S Spanish region of Andalusia. 2 the dance performed to it. ◎ 19c: Spanish, meaning 'flamingo'.

flame-proof ▷ verb to make something resistant to burning or damage by high temperatures. ▷ adj not easily damaged by fire or high temperatures.

flame retardant ▷ noun a material that burns very slowly if at all, and is used to make clothing, etc.

flame-thrower ▷ noun a gun that discharges a stream of burning liquid, used as a weapon in war.

flame tree ▷ noun 1 a thick-stemmed Australian tree with glossy leaves and scarlet bell-shaped flowers. 2 any of various tropical trees with flame-coloured flowers.

flaming ▷ adj 1 blazing. 2 bright; glowing, particularly a brilliant red. 3 colloq very angry; furious; violent. 4 colloq damned □ That flaming dog!

flamingo /flə'mɪŋgou/ ▷ noun (flamingos or flamingoes) any of several large wading birds, found in flocks of many thousands on lakes and lagoons in tropical regions, with white or pinkish plumage, a long neck and long legs, webbed feet, and a broad down-curving bill. ◎ 16c: from Portuguese flamengo, from Provençal flamenc flaming.

flammable /'flaməbəl/ ▷ adj liable to catch fire; inflammable. Opposite of NON-FLAMMABLE. ● flammability noun. ◎ 19c: from Latin flammare to blaze.

flammable, inflammable

These mean the same thing: inflammable is not the opposite of flammable, it is simply a version of it preferred in everyday, non-technical contexts.

flan ▷ noun 1 an open pastry or sponge case with a savoury or fruit filling, usually round in shape. Compare QUICHE. 2 a flat metal base on which a design is stamped in producing coins. ◎ 19c: French, from Latin flado a flat cake.

flange /flandʒ/ ▷ noun a broad flat projecting rim, eg round a wheel, added for strength or for connecting with another object or part. ▷ verb (flanged, flanging) to put a flange on something. ● flanged adj. ● flangeless adj. ◎ 17c: from French flanc flank.

flank /flaŋk/ ▷ noun 1 a the side of an animal, between the ribs and hip; b the corresponding part of the human body. 2 a cut of beef from the flank, consisting of the abdominal muscles. 3 the side of anything, eg a mountain, building, etc. 4 said of a body of things, especially of troops or a fleet drawn up in formation: the left or right extremities of that formation, eg a line of soldiers. ▷ verb (flanked, flanking) 1 a to be on the edge of (an object, a body of things, etc); b to move around the sides of a body of things. 2 military a to guard on or beside the flank of a formation; b to move into a position in the flanks or beside the flanks of a formation. ⓒ 12c: from French flanc, of Germanic origin.

flanker ▷ noun 1 military a one of a detachment of soldiers responsible for guarding the flanks; b a fortification used to protect a flank. 2 rugby union one of the two outside players on either side of the second row of the scrum. Also called flank forward or wing forward. ● do or pull a flanker slang to trick or deceive someone.

flannel /ˈflanəl/ ▷ noun 1 soft woollen cloth with a slight nap used to make clothes. 2 (also face flannel) Brit except Scotland a small square of towelling for washing with. Compare FACE CLOTH. 3 colloq flattery or meaningless talk intended to hide one's ignorance or true intentions. 4 (flannels) a dated trousers made of flannel; b white trousers, originally made of flannel, worn by cricketers. ▷ verb (flannelled, flannelling; N Amer flanneled, flanneling) 1 tr & intr to flatter or persuade by flattery, or to talk flannel. 2 to rub with a flannel. ⓒ 16c: possibly from Welsh gwlanen from gwlan wool.

flannelette ▷ noun a cotton imitation of flannel, with a soft brushed surface.

flap ▷ verb (flapped, flapping) 1 tr & intr to wave something up and down, or backwards and forwards □ He was flapping his arms all over the place. 2 tr & intr said of a bird: to move (the wings) up and down; to fly with pronounced wing movements. 3 intr, colloq (often flap about or around) to get into or be in a panic or flustered state □ She was always flapping about her work. ▷ noun 1 a broad piece or part of something attached along one edge and hanging loosely, usually as a cover to an opening □ pocket flaps. 2 an act, sound or impact of flapping. 3 colloq a panic; a flustered state □ She was always in a flap about her work. 4 a hinged section on an aircraft wing adjusted to control speed. 5 phonetics a sound produced by a rapid single light tap of the tongue against the alveolar ridge or uvula as the tip is lowered, eg r in some pronunciations of very. ● flappable adj easily perturbed, agitated, irritated, flustered, etc. Opposite of the much commoner UNFLAPPABLE. ● flappy adj. ⓒ 14c: probably imitative.

flapjack ▷ noun 1 a thick biscuit made with oats and syrup. 2 N Amer a pancake. ⓒ 16c.

flapper ▷ noun 1 a fashionable and frivolous young woman of the 1920s. 2 something or someone that flaps.

flare /flɛə(r)/ ▷ verb (flared, flaring) 1 intr to burn with sudden brightness. 2 intr to explode into anger. 3 tr & intr to widen towards the edge. ▷ noun 1 a sudden blaze of bright light. 2 a device composed of combustible material that produces a sudden blaze of intense light, and is activated to give warning, emergency illumination (eg on an airfield), or a distress signal (eg at sea). 3 in chemical plants and oil refineries: a device for burning off superfluous combustible gas or oil, in order to ensure its safe disposal. 4 short for SOLAR FLARE. 5 a a widening out towards the edges □ sleeves with a wide flare; b a flared edge. ⓒ 16c.

■ flare up 1 to explode into anger. 2 to burst into a blaze suddenly.

flare path ▷ noun, aeronautics the line of lights marking out the length of a runway to enable an aircraft to land or take off when natural visibility is insufficient.

flares ▷ plural noun, colloq, fashion trousers with legs which are very tight around the thigh and widen greatly below the knee, popular in the late 1960s and early 1970s, and revived as fashion items in the late 1980s; flared trousers.

flare stack ▷ noun, chem eng a tall chimney with an automatic igniter at the top, for the safe disposal by burning of superfluous gas, oil, etc.

flare star ▷ noun a class of stars which have brief and unpredictable outbursts of energy, and therefore brightness, over their surface area.

flare-up ▷ noun 1 colloq a sudden explosion of emotion or violence □ Harry couldn't help his constant flare-ups. 2 a sudden burst into flames.

flash /flaʃ/ ▷ noun 1 a sudden brief blaze of light. 2 an instant; a very short length of time. 3 a brief but intense occurrence □ a flash of inspiration. 4 a fleeting look on a face or in the eyes □ a flash of joy. 5 photog a a bulb or electronic device attached to a camera which produces a momentary bright light as a picture is taken □ camera with built-in flash; b the bright light produced by it □ The flash made her blink. 6 an emblem on a military uniform, etc indicating one's unit. 7 a sudden rush of water down a river. 8 a sudden and temporary increase in brightness and temperature of an evolving star. ▷ verb (flashes, flashed, flashing) 1 tr & intr to shine briefly or intermittently. 2 tr & intr to appear or cause to appear briefly; to move or pass quickly □ The car flashed past the window. 3 intr said of the eyes: to brighten with anger, etc. 4 to give (a smile or look) briefly □ He flashed a smile. 5 to display briefly; to flourish, brandish, or flaunt. 6 tr & intr to send (a message) by radio, satellite, etc □ The news flashed around the network. 7 tr & intr to operate (a light) as a signal. 8 intr, colloq (usually flash at someone) said of a man: to expose his genitals in a public place as an exhibitionist, often directed at an individual, usually a woman. ▷ adj 1 sudden and severe □ flash floods. 2 quick □ flash freezing. 3 colloq smart and expensive □ That's a flash restaurant. ● a flash in the pan colloq an impressive but untypical success, unlikely to be repeated.

flashback ▷ noun especially in a film, novel, etc: a scene depicting events which happened before the current ones. ▷ verb (flash back) to shift to a scene which happened before the current one □ The next scene flashed back to his childhood.

flash blindness ▷ noun temporary inability to see after exposure to an intensely bright light due to inactivation of the photopigments.

flashbulb ▷ noun, photog a small light bulb used to produce a brief bright light in photography.

flash burn ▷ noun a burn sustained by exposure to intense heat for a short time, caused by the explosion of gases or from an electrical discharge, etc.

flash card ▷ noun, education used as an aid to learning: a card on which a picture or word is printed and is shown briefly to a child who then identifies the picture or reads the word, with the intention of developing the child's verbal skills.

flasher ▷ noun 1 a a light that flashes; b a device causing a light to do this. 2 colloq a man who flashes (see FLASH verb 8).

flash flood ▷ noun a sudden, severe and brief flood caused by a heavy rainstorm. ● flash flooding noun.

flashforward ▷ noun especially in a film, novel, etc: a scene depicting events which happen after the current ones.

flashgun ▷ noun 1 a device with an electronic flash or a flashbulb that produces a momentary bright illumination for indoor or night photography. 2 a device that holds and operates an electronic flash or a flashbulb, sometimes with an attachment so that it can be fixed onto the camera.

flash Harry ▷ noun (flash Harries) colloq a pretentiously flashy person. Also as adj □ a flash-Harry tie. ⓒ 14c.

flashlight ▷ noun 1 N Amer a torch. 2 photog the momentary bright light emitted from an electronic flash or a flashbulb as a photograph is taken. Usually shortened to FLASH.

flash-over ▷ noun 1 elec engineering an electric discharge over the surface of an insulator. 2 in a burning building, etc: instant combustion of material that has reached a high temperature as soon as oxygen reaches it.

flash point ▷ noun 1 a stage in a tense situation at which people lose their tempers and become angry or violent. 2 an area in the world of political unrest where violence is liable to break out. 3 chem the lowest temperature at which the vapour in the air above a volatile liquid, eg petrol or oil, will ignite momentarily on application of a small flame.

flashy ▷ adj (flashier, flashiest) colloq ostentatiously smart and showy, often in a superficial way. • flashily adverb. • flashiness noun.

flask /flɑːsk/ ▷ noun 1 (also hip flask) a small flat pocket bottle for alcoholic spirits. 2 a VACUUM FLASK. 3 a narrow-necked bottle used in chemical experiments, etc. 4 a wooden, iron or steel box used to hold the mould in which a casting is made. ⓘ 16c: from Latin flasco, possibly of Germanic origin.

flat[1] ▷ adj (flatter, flattest) 1 level; horizontal; even. 2 without hollows or prominences. 3 lacking the usual prominence □ a flat nose. 4 not bent or crumpled. 5 said of feet: having little or no arch to the instep of the foot, so that the sole lies flat against the ground. 6 said of shoes: not having a raised heel. 7 bored; depressed. 8 dull; not lively. 9 toneless and expressionless. 10 colloq definite; downright; emphatic □ a flat refusal. 11 music a said of an instrument, voice, etc: lower than the correct PITCH; b following its noun that lowers the specified note by a SEMITONE □ C flat □ C♭. Compare SHARP adj 13. 12 said of a tyre: having too little air in it □ The tyre went flat. 13 said of a drink: having lost its fizziness. 14 said of a battery: having little or no electrical charge remaining. 15 said of a price, rate, economic indicator, etc: fixed; unvarying. 16 said of a business, company, etc: commercially inactive. 17 said of paint: matt, not glossy. ▷ adverb 1 stretched out rather than curled up, crumpled, etc. 2 into a flat compact shape □ folds flat for storage. 3 exactly □ in two minutes flat. 4 bluntly and emphatically □ I can tell you flat. 5 music at lower than the correct pitch □ He sang flat. ▷ noun 1 something flat; a flat surface or part. 2 (flats) a an area of flat land; b a mud bank exposed at low tide. 3 colloq a punctured tyre on a vehicle □ Oh no! We've got another flat. 4 music a a sign (♭) that lowers a note by a SEMITONE from the note that it refers to; b a note lowered in this way. 5 a flat upright section of stage scenery slid or lowered onto the stage. 6 (the flat) horse-racing a FLAT RACING; b the season of flat racing, from March to November. • flatly adverb emphatically □ she flatly refused to go. • flatness noun. • flattish adj. • fall flat colloq to fail to achieve the hoped-for effect □ The joke fell flat. • fall flat on one's face colloq to fail at something in a humiliating way. • flat broke colloq completely without money. • flat out colloq with maximum speed and energy □ They were all working flat out. • that's flat colloq that's certain or final. ⓘ 14c: from Norse flatr flat.

flat[2] ▷ noun 1 a set of rooms for living in as a self-contained unit, in a building or tenement with a number of such units. N Amer equivalent APARTMENT. 2 in compounds □ flat-hunting □ flat-dweller □ studio flat. ⓘ 19c in this sense; originally Anglo-Saxon flett floor, house.

flatback ▷ noun a pottery figure with a flat surface at the back of it, designed to stand on a mantelpiece, hang on a wall, etc.

flatbed lorry ▷ noun a lorry with a flat sideless platform for carrying loads.

flatfish ▷ noun any of about 500 species of fish with a body that is flat horizontally rather than vertically, with both eyes on the upper surface of the body, eg sole, plaice, halibut, flounder, etc. They live mainly on the sea bed and are an important source of food.

flat-footed ▷ adj 1 having flat feet. 2 derog clumsy or tactless. • flat-footedly adverb. • flat-footedness noun. • catch someone flat-footed to take them unawares or off guard.

flatiron ▷ noun, historical a clothes-pressing iron heated on the fire or stove.

flatlet ▷ noun a small FLAT[2].

flatmate ▷ noun someone one shares a FLAT[2] with.

flat playing field see LEVEL PLAYING FIELD flat race ▷ noun a horse race over a course without any obstacles. See FLAT RACING.

flat racing ▷ noun, horse-racing the sport of racing horses on courses with no obstacles for the horses to jump. Compare HURDLING at HURDLE, STEEPLECHASING at STEEPLECHASE.

flat rate ▷ noun, finance a fixed uniform rate.

flat spin ▷ noun 1 uncontrolled rotation of an aircraft or projectile in a horizontal plane around a vertical axis. 2 colloq a state of agitated confusion; dither.

flatsquare ▷ adj said of a television screen: flat rather than convex, eliminating the distortion produced by convex screens.

flatten ▷ verb (flattened, flattening) 1 tr & intr to make or become flat or flatter. 2 colloq a to knock someone to the ground in a fight; b to overcome, crush or subdue someone utterly. 3 music to lower the pitch of (a note) by one semitone.

> • flatten something out 1 to make something flat or flatter. 2 to bring (an aeroplane) into a horizontal flying position.

flatter /ˈflatə(r)/ ▷ verb (flattered, flattering) 1 to compliment someone excessively or insincerely, especially in order to win a favour from them. 2 said of a picture or description: to represent someone or something over-favourably. 3 to show something off well □ a dress that flatters the figure. 4 to make someone feel honoured; to gratify. • flatterable adj. • flatterer noun. • flattering adj. • flatteringly adverb. • flatter oneself to feel pleased, usually smugly and unjustifiably, about something concerning oneself. ⓘ 13c.

flattery ▷ noun (flatteries) 1 the act of flattering. 2 excessive or insincere praise.

flattish see under FLAT flat top ▷ noun a style of haircut with the hair cut short on top so that it sticks up and appears flat from the crown to the forehead.

flatulence /ˈflatjʊləns/ or flatulency /-lənsɪ/ ▷ noun 1 an accumulation of gas formed during digestion in the stomach or intestines, causing discomfort. 2 pretentiousness. ⓘ 18c: from Latin flatus blowing.

flatulent /ˈflatjʊlənt/ ▷ adj 1 suffering from or caused by flatulence. 2 causing flatulence. • flatulently adverb.

flatus /ˈfleɪtəs/ ▷ noun (flatuses /-sɪz/) gas generated in the stomach or intestines. ⓘ 17c: Latin flatus blowing, from flare to blow.

flatworm ▷ noun a type of worm (distinct from eg ROUNDWORMS) with a flattened body, a definite head but no true body cavity, eg the TAPEWORM[1] and FLUKE.

flaunt /flɔːnt/ ▷ verb (flaunted, flaunting) to display or parade oneself or something, especially one's clothes, in an ostentatious way, in the hope of being admired. • flaunter noun. • flaunting adj. • flaunty adverb. • flauntingly adverb. ⓘ 16c.

> flaunt
>
> A word often confused with this one is flout.

flautist /ˈflɔːtɪst/ and (chiefly N Amer) flutist /ˈfluːtɪst/ ▷ noun someone skilled in playing the flute. ◎ 19c: from Italian flautista, from flauto flute.

flavescent /fləˈvesənt/ ▷ adj yellowish; turning yellow. ◎ 19c: from Latin flavescens becoming yellow, from flavus yellow.

flavonoid /ˈfleɪvənɔɪd/ ▷ noun, biochem any of a group of organic compounds including numerous water-soluble plant pigments, which are responsible for most of the red, pink and purple colours found in higher plants. ◎ 20c: from Latin flavus yellow.

flavour or (N Amer) flavor /ˈfleɪvə(r)/ noun 1 a sensation perceived when eating or drinking which is a combination of taste and smell. 2 any substance added to food, etc to give it a particular taste. 3 a characteristic quality or atmosphere. 4 physics an index which denotes different types of QUARK¹. ▷ verb (flavoured, flavouring) to add something (usually to food) to give it a particular flavour or quality. • flavourful adj. • flavourless adj. • flavourous adj. • flavoursome adj. • flavour of the week, month, etc the favourite person or thing for someone for a period of time, chosen on a whim. ◎ originally used in the 1940s in the US to promote different flavours of ice cream. ◎ 14c: from French flaour.

flavour enhancer ▷ noun any substance that enhances the natural flavour of a food when added to it, without contributing any taste of its own, eg monosodium glutamate, small quantities of sugar and salt.

flavouring or (N Amer) flavoring noun any substance added to food, etc to give it a particular taste.

flaw /flɔː/ ▷ noun 1 a fault, defect, imperfection or blemish. 2 a mistake, eg in an argument. • flawed adj having flaws; imperfect □ That argument is flawed. • flawless adj. • flawlessly adverb. ◎ 14c: probably from Norse flaga stone flag.

flax /flaks/ ▷ noun (flaxes) 1 a slender herbaceous plant that usually has blue flowers and is cultivated in many parts of the world for the fibre of its stem and for its seeds (FLAXSEEDS). 2 the fibre of this plant, used to make thread and woven into LINEN fabrics. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fleax.

flax-bush and flax-lily ▷ noun a plant of the lily family native to New Zealand, producing a valuable fibre. Also called New Zealand flax.

flaxen /ˈflaksən/ ▷ adj 1 said of hair: very fair. 2 made of or resembling flax. ◎ 16c.

flaxseed ▷ noun LINSEED.

flay /fleɪ/ ▷ verb (flayed, flaying) 1 to strip the skin from (an animal or a person). 2 to whip or beat violently. 3 to criticize harshly. • flayer noun. ◎ Anglo-Saxon flean.

F-layer ▷ noun, physics in the Earth's atmosphere: an ionized region that reflects radio waves, widely used for radio transmission around the curved surface of the Earth. Also called APPLETON LAYER. Compare E-LAYER.

flea /fliː/ ▷ noun (fleas) 1 any of about 1 800 species of wingless, blood-sucking, jumping insects, that live as parasites on mammals (including humans) and some birds. 2 in compounds referring to small CRUSTACEANS which leap like fleas □ sand flea □ water flea. • a flea in one's ear colloq a reply that is unwelcome or surprisingly sharp; a severe scolding. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fleah.

flea-bag ▷ noun, slang 1 a an unpleasant or shabby building, especially lodgings; b a shabby or unkempt person. 2 a sleeping bag.

fleabane ▷ noun a leafy perennial plant, native to marshes in Europe, N Africa and Asia Minor, that has lance-shaped leaves with wavy margins, and yellow daisy-like flowers, and whose strong smell is said to drive away fleas. ◎ 16c.

flea-bite ▷ noun 1 the bite of a flea, or an itchy swelling caused by it. 2 a trivial inconvenience. ◎ 15c.

flea-bitten ▷ adj 1 bitten or infested with fleas. 2 dingy; squalid.

flea circus ▷ noun a side-show at a fair in which fleas allegedly perform tricks like riding chariots across blotting paper, jumping through hoops, etc. ◎ 1920s: originating in the US.

flea collar ▷ noun a collar for a dog or a cat impregnated with a chemical which kills fleas. ◎ 1950s.

flea market ▷ noun, colloq a street market that sells second-hand goods or clothes. ◎ 1920s.

flea-pit ▷ noun, colloq a drab cinema or other public building. ◎ 1930s.

fleawort ▷ noun any of several biennial or perennial European plants with clusters of small daisy-like flower heads. It usually grows in damp places. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fleawyrt.

flèche /flɛʃ, fleɪʃ/ ▷ noun 1 archit a small slender spire rising from the ridge of a church roof in some large churches, usually from the intersection of the nave and transepts. 2 backgammon one of the 24 points on a backgammon board. 3 fencing a running attack. ◎ 18c: French, meaning 'arrow'.

fléchette /fleɪˈʃet/ ▷ noun a steel dart dropped or thrown from an aeroplane during World War I. ◎ Early 20c: French, meaning 'little arrow'.

fleck ▷ noun 1 a spot or marking □ a white coat with flecks of gray. 2 a speck or small bit □ a fleck of dirt. ▷ verb (also flecker) (flecked, flecking; fleckered, fleckering) to spot or speckle. ◎ 16c: from Norse flekkr speck or spot.

flecked ▷ adj spotted; dappled.

fled past tense, past participle of FLEE fledged /fledʒd/ ▷ adj 1 said of a young bird: able to fly because the feathers are fully developed. 2 qualified; trained □ a fully-fledged doctor. ◎ Anglo-Saxon flycge.

fledgling or fledgeling ▷ noun 1 a young bird that has just grown its feathers and is still unable to fly. 2 an inexperienced person new to a situation; a recently formed organization. Also as adj □ a fledgling company. ◎ 19c: from fledge ready to fly.

flee /fliː/ ▷ verb (flees, fled, fleeing) 1 intr to run away quickly. 2 to hurriedly run away from or escape from (danger or a dangerous place). • fleer noun someone who is fleeing. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fleon.

fleece /fliːs/ ▷ noun 1 a sheep's woolly coat. 2 a sheep's wool cut from it at one shearing. 3 sheepskin or a fluffy fabric for lining garments, etc. 4 a garment made of fluffy acrylic thermal fabric and used like a jacket or pullover. ▷ verb (fleeced, fleecing) 1 to cut wool from (sheep); to shear (sheep). 2 slang to rob, swindle or overcharge. • fleeceless adj. • fleecer noun. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fleos.

fleecy /ˈfliːsɪ/ ▷ adj (fleecier, fleeciest) woolly, like a fleece. • fleecily adverb.

fleer¹ /ˈflɪə(r)/ ▷ old use, verb (fleered, fleering) intr to make wry faces in contempt; to jeer. ▷ noun a mocking look or glance; a gibe. ◎ 14c: compare Norwegian flira to titter.

fleer² see under FLEE

fleet¹ /fliːt/ ▷ noun 1 a number of ships under one command and organized as a tactical unit. 2 a navy; all the ships of a nation. 3 a number of buses, taxis, aircraft, etc operating under the same ownership or management □ a fleet of taxis. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fleot ship, from fleotan to float.

fleet² /fliːt/ ▷ verb (fleeted, fleeting) intr to flit or pass swiftly □ The clouds were fleeting across the sky. ▷ adj, poetic swift; rapid □ fleet of foot. • fleetness noun. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fleotan to float.

fleeting ▷ adj passing swiftly; brief; short-lived □ a fleeting smile. • fleetingly adverb.

Fleet Street ▷ noun British newspapers or journalism collectively. ⓘ Late 19c: named after the street in London where many newspapers were formerly produced and published.

Fleming ▷ noun a native of Flanders (a region in northern Europe comprising NW Belgium, part of northern France and a western part of the Netherlands) or of the Flemish-speaking part of Belgium. ⓘ 15c as flemmyng.

Flemish /ˈflemɪʃ/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Flanders, or to the Flemings or their language. ▷ noun the language of the Flemings, one of the two official languages of Belgium, which is virtually identical to Dutch. ⓘ 15c as Flemis; compare WALLOON.

flench /flentʃ/, flense /flens, flenz/ and flinch /flɪntʃ/ ▷ verb (flenched, flenching; flensed, flensing; flinched, flinching) 1 to cut the blubber from (a whale, seal, etc) and slice it up. 2 to flay or skin (a seal, etc). ⓘ 19c: from Danish flense.

flesh /fleʃ/ ▷ noun 1 in animals: the soft tissues covering the bones, consisting chiefly of muscle. 2 the meat of animals, as distinct from that of fish, used as food; sometimes the meat of birds, used as food. Compare FISH noun 2, FOWL noun 2. 3 the pulp of a fruit or vegetable. 4 the body as distinct from the soul or spirit; bodily needs. 5 poetic humankind. 6 excess fat; plumpness. 7 a yellowish-pink colour. ▷ verb (fleshed, fleshing) to train (eg dogs) for hunting by giving them raw meat. ● fleshless adj. ● flesh and blood bodily or human nature. ● one's flesh and blood one's family or relations. ● in the flesh in person; actually present. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon flæsc.

■ flesh something out to add descriptive detail to it.

flesh-coloured ▷ adj yellowish pink. ⓘ 17c: referring to the perceived colour of the flesh of a Caucasian.

fleshings ▷ plural noun flesh-coloured tights.

fleshly ▷ adj relating to the body as distinct from the soul; worldly.

fleshpots ▷ plural noun, facetious 1 luxurious living. 2 a place where bodily desires or lusts can be gratified.

flesh wound ▷ noun a superficial wound, not deep enough to damage bone or a bodily organ.

fleshy ▷ adj (fleshier, fleshiest) 1 plump. 2 relating to or like flesh. 3 said of leaves, etc: thick and pulpy. ● fleshiness noun.

fletcher /ˈfletʃə(r)/ ▷ noun, old use a person whose job is to make arrows. ⓘ 14c: from French flechier arrow maker, from flèche arrow.

fleur-de-lis or fleur-de-lys /flɜːdəˈliː, flɜːdəˈliːs/ ▷ noun (fleurs-de-lis, fleurs-de-lys /flɜːdəˈliː, flɜːdəˈliːz/) a stylized three-petal representation of a lily or iris, used as a heraldic design. ⓘ 14c: from French flour de lis lily flower.

flew past tense of FLY[2]

flews /fluːz/ ▷ plural noun the pendulous upper lips of a bloodhound or similar dog. ⓘ 16c.

flex[1] /fleks/ ▷ verb (flexed, flexing) 1 to bend (a limb or joint). 2 to contract or tighten (a muscle) so as to bend a joint. ● flex one's muscles 1 to display the muscles of the arms and shoulders, etc by contracting them, prior to a trial of strength, etc □ As he went into the boxing ring, he flexed his muscles. 2 to refer to one's authority as a warning that it might be used. ⓘ 16c: from Latin flectere to bend.

flex[2] /fleks/ ▷ noun flexible insulated electrical cable. ⓘ Early 20c: from FLEXIBLE.

flexible ▷ adj 1 bending easily; pliable. 2 readily adaptable to suit circumstances. ● flexibility noun. ● flexibly adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin flexibilis.

flexile /ˈfleksaɪl/ ▷ adj flexible.

flexion /ˈflekʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the bending of a limb or joint, especially a flexor muscle. 2 a fold or bend.

flexitime /ˈfleksɪtaɪm/ ▷ noun a system of flexible working hours operated in some organizations whereby employees may choose their time of arrival and departure, provided they work the agreed number of hours, usually including certain hours (core time) each day when everyone must be at work. ⓘ 1970s: from flexible + TIME.

flexor /ˈfleksɔː(r)/ ▷ noun, anatomy any muscle that causes bending of a limb or other body part. Compare EXTENSOR. ⓘ 17c: from FLEX[1].

flexuous /ˈfleksjuəs/ ▷ adj 1 full of bends or curves. 2 undulating; bending in a zigzag manner.

flexure /ˈflekʃə(r), -sjuə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a bend or turning. 2 math the curving of a line or surface. 3 building the bending of loaded beams. ● flexural adj.

flibbertigibbet /ˈflɪbətɪdʒɪbɪt/ ▷ noun a frivolous or over-talkative person. ● flibberty-gibberty adj flighty; frivolous. ⓘ 16c: imitating fast talking.

flic /flɪk/ ▷ noun a French policeman. ⓘ 19c: French slang.

flick /flɪk/ ▷ verb (flicked, flicking) 1 to move or touch something with a quick light movement □ He flicked his hair back with a jerk of his head. 2 to move the hand or finger quickly and jerkily against something small, eg a speck of dust, crumbs, etc, in order to remove it □ She flicked the crumbs off the table. ▷ noun a flicking action. ⓘ 15c: imitating the sound; compare French flic flac the cracking of a whip.

■ flick through something to glance quickly through (a book, a video, etc), in order to get a rough impression of it.

flicker /ˈflɪkə(r)/ ▷ verb (flickered, flickering) 1 intr to burn or shine unsteadily by alternately flashing bright and dying away again □ The flames were flickering brightly □ There was thunder, and then the lights started to flicker. 2 intr to move lightly to and fro; to flutter. 3 to cause something to flicker. ▷ noun 1 a brief or unsteady light □ He glimpsed a flicker of light at the end of the tunnel. 2 a fleeting appearance or occurrence □ a flicker of hope. ● flickering noun. ● flickeringly adverb. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon flicorian to flutter.

flick knife ▷ noun a knife whose blade is concealed in its handle and springs out at the touch of a button. ⓘ 1950s.

the flicks ▷ plural noun, colloq the cinema □ Do you fancy going to the flicks tonight? ⓘ 1920s: from FLICKER.

flier or flyer /ˈflaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a leaflet used to advertise a product, promote an organization, etc, usually distributed on street corners or as an insert in a newspaper, etc. 2 an aviator or pilot. 3 colloq a FLYING START. 4 someone or something that flies or moves fast. 5 informal a risky or speculative business transaction. 6 each of the rectangular steps making up a straight flight of stairs. Compare WINDER noun. ⓘ 15c as flyer.

flies see under FLY[1], FLY[2] flight[1] /flaɪt/ ▷ noun 1 the art or the act of flying with wings or in an aeroplane or other vehicle. 2 the movement of eg a vehicle, bird or projectile through the air, supported by aerodynamic forces. 3 a flock of birds flying together. 4 a regular air journey, numbered and at a fixed time, made by an aircraft. 5 a journey of a spacecraft. 6 a group of aircraft involved in a joint mission. 7 a set of steps or stairs leading straight up or down □ a flight of stairs. 8 a feather or something similar attached to the end of a dart or arrow. ▷ verb (flighted, flighting) 1 sport to impart a deceptive trajectory or a deceptively slow speed to (eg, a cricket ball). 2 to shoot (a bird) in flight. ● a flight of fancy sometimes derog a free use of the imagination. ● in the first or top flight in the highest class. ● in flight flying. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon flyht.

flight² /flaɪt/ ▷ noun the act of fleeing; escape. ● put someone to flight to cause them to flee. ● take flight or take to flight to run away. ⓘ 12c.

flight attendant ▷ noun a member of the CABIN CREW on a passenger aircraft. Also called STEWARDESS, STEWARD.

flight crew ▷ noun the members of an aircraft crew whose responsibility is operation and navigation, ie the pilot, engineer, navigator, etc. Compare CABIN CREW.

flight deck ▷ noun 1 the forward part of an aeroplane where the pilot and flight crew sit. 2 the upper deck of an AIRCRAFT CARRIER where planes take off or land.

flight-feather ▷ noun one of the wing feathers of a bird.

flightless ▷ adj said of certain birds or insects: unable to fly.

flight lieutenant ▷ noun an officer in the British air force. See table at RANK.

flight path ▷ noun the course taken, or intended to be taken, by an aircraft, rocket, spacecraft, etc.

flight plan ▷ noun a statement of the proposed schedule of an aircraft flight.

flight recorder ▷ noun an electronic device fitted to an aircraft, recording information about its performance in flight, prevailing weather conditions, etc, often used in determining the cause of an air crash. Also called black box. ⓘ 1940s.

flighty ▷ adj (flightier, flightiest) irresponsible; frivolous; flirtatious. ● flightily adverb. ● flightiness noun.

flimflam ▷ noun 1 a trick or deception. 2 idle, meaningless talk; nonsense. ⓘ 16c: reduplication of flam, possibly from Norse flimska mockery.

flimsy /ˈflɪmzɪ/ ▷ adj (flimsier, flimsiest) 1 said of clothing, etc: light and thin. 2 said of a structure: insubstantially made; frail. 3 said of an excuse, etc: inadequate or unconvincing. ● flimsily adverb. ● flimsiness noun. ⓘ 18c: perhaps from FILM.

flinch¹ /flɪntʃ/ ▷ verb (flinched, flinching) intr to start or jump in pain, fright, surprise, etc. ● flincher noun. ● flinchingly adverb. ⓘ 16c: probably connected with French flechir to bend.

■ flinch from something to shrink back from or avoid something difficult such as a task, duty, etc.

flinch² see FLENCH

fling ▷ verb (flung, flinging) 1 to throw something, especially violently or vigorously. 2 sometimes intr to throw oneself or one's body about. ▷ noun 1 the act of flinging. 2 colloq a sexual relationship with someone for a short period of time. 3 colloq a spell of enjoyable self-indulgence. 4 a lively reel □ the Highland fling. ● fling something open to throw (a door, a window, etc) open, usually angrily. ● full fling at the utmost speed; recklessly. ● have a fling at something to attempt it; have a try at it. ⓘ 13c: probably related to Norse flengja and Swedish flänga to flog.

■ fling off or out to rush angrily.

■ fling someone out to get rid of them.

■ fling something out to throw it away or reject it.

flint ▷ noun 1 geol a crystalline form of quartz, found in chalk and limestone, consisting of hard dark-grey or black nodules encrusted with white, and used as an abrasive. 2 archaeol a trimmed piece of this used as a tool. 3 a piece of a hard metal alloy from which a spark can be struck, eg in a cigarette-lighter. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

flint glass ▷ noun a very fine and pure lead glass, originally made of calcined flints.

flintlock ▷ noun, historical a gun in which the powder was lit by a spark from a flint.

flinty ▷ adj (flintier, flintiest) 1 made of or containing flint. 2 like flint. 3 hard or cruel; obdurate. ● flintily adverb. ● flintiness noun.

flip ▷ verb (flipped, flipping) 1 to toss (eg a coin) so that it turns over in mid-air. 2 intr, colloq (also flip one's lid) to become suddenly wild with anger; to suddenly go crazy or lose one's temper. ▷ noun 1 a flipping action. 2 a somersault, especially performed in mid-air. 3 an alcoholic drink made with beaten egg. 4 colloq a short air trip. ▷ adj, colloq flippant; over-smart. ⓘ 17c: probably imitating the sound.

■ flip something over to toss or turn it with a light flick.

■ flip through something to look quickly through it (eg a magazine or book).

flip chart ▷ noun a large blank pad of paper mounted on legs, on which information, data, graphs, etc can be displayed during a meeting, presentation, etc. ⓘ 1960s.

flip-flop ▷ noun 1 colloq a rubber or plastic sandal consisting of a sole held on to the foot by a thong that separates the big toe from the other toes. 2 elec, computing an electronic circuit that remains in one of two stable states until it receives a suitable electric pulse, which causes it to switch to the other state, widely used to store data in the form of binary digits in the integrated circuits of computers. Also called bistable. 3 a kind of backwards somersault in which the performer jumps over onto their hands and then over onto their feet, often repeatedly. Also called flip-flap. ▷ verb, chiefly intr 1 to move with a flapping sound. 2 politics, chiefly US to reverse a policy; to do a U-turn. ⓘ 1970s as noun 1; 1930s as noun 2; 16c: reduplication of FLIP indicating the repetition of the movement.

flippant /ˈflɪpənt/ ▷ adj not serious enough about grave matters; disrespectful; irreverent; frivolous. ● flippancy noun. ● flippantly adverb. ⓘ 17c: probably from FLIP.

flipper ▷ noun 1 a limb adapted for swimming, eg in the whale, seal, penguin, etc. 2 a rubber foot-covering imitating an animal flipper, worn for underwater swimming. ⓘ 19c.

flipping ▷ adj, adverb, colloq used to express annoyance □ that flipping cat! □ He's flipping done it again! ⓘ Early 20c: used as a euphemism for FUCKING.

flip side ▷ noun, colloq 1 dated a B-SIDE. 2 said of a coin: the reverse; tails. 3 a less familiar aspect of something. 4 a different (and sometimes opposite) aspect of something.

flirt /flɜːt/ ▷ verb (flirted, flirting) intr (usually flirt with someone) to behave in a playful sexual manner towards them. ▷ noun someone who flirts. ● flirtation noun. ● flirtingly adverb. ● flirty adj. ⓘ 16c: compare FLICK, FLIP.

■ flirt with something 1 to take a fleeting interest in it; to consider it briefly. 2 to treat (death, danger, etc) lightly; to play riskily with it.

flirtatious /flɜːˈteɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 given to flirting. 2 said of a remark, glance, etc: conveying a playful sexual invitation. ● flirtatiously adverb.

flit /flɪt/ ▷ verb (flitted, flitting) intr 1 a to move about lightly and quickly from place to place; b to fly silently or quickly from place to place. 2 Scottish & N Eng to move house. 3 Brit colloq to move house stealthily to avoid paying debts. ▷ noun an act of flitting. ● flitter noun. ⓘ 12c: from Norse flytja to carry.

flitch /flɪtʃ/ ▷ noun a salted and cured side of pork. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon flicce.

flitter /ˈflɪtə(r)/ ▷ verb (flittered, flittering) intr to flutter. ⓘ 16c: from FLIT.

float /floʊt/ ▷ verb (floated, floating) 1 tr & intr to rest or move, or make something rest or move, on the surface of a liquid. 2 intr to drift about or hover in the air. 3 intr to move about in an aimless or disorganized way □ The manager was floating about the shop floor. 4 to start up or launch (a company, scheme, etc). 5 to offer (stocks) for sale □ 51 per cent of the shares were floated on the stock market. 6 finance to allow (a currency) to vary in value in relation to other currencies □ The rouble was floated on the international money market. ▷ noun 1 something that floats or is designed to keep something afloat. 2 angling a floating device fixed to a fishing-line, that moves to indicate a bite. 3 a low-powered delivery vehicle □ milk float. 4 a vehicle decorated as an exhibit in a street parade. 5 an amount of money set aside each day for giving change, etc in a shop at the start of business □ We always keep a float of £20. 6 a blade in a paddle-wheel or water-wheel. 7 a plasterer's trowel. ● floatable adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon flotian; compare FLEET³.

floatage see FLOTAGE floatarium /floʊ'tɛərɪəm/ ▷ noun (floatariums) a place where FLOATATION THERAPY can be experienced.

floatation see FLOTATION floatation therapy ▷ noun an alternative therapy for relieving stress, in which the client floats for about an hour in a sealed capsule (a floatation tank or float tank) filled with salt water and minerals while listening to new-age music. ⓘ 1980s.

floatel see FLOTEL

floater ▷ noun 1 someone or something that floats. 2 someone who drifts from job to job, or allegiance to allegiance. 3 a dark speck that appears to float before the eyes, caused by dead cells and fragments of cells in the lens and vitreous humour.

float glass ▷ noun flat glass hardened while floating on the surface of a liquid.

floating ▷ adj 1 not fixed; moving about □ a floating population. 2 said of a voter: not committed to supporting any one party. 3 said of a currency: free to vary in value in relation to other currencies. 4 said of a bodily organ, eg a kidney: moving about abnormally. ● floatingly adverb. ● floaty adj.

floating capital ▷ noun goods, money, etc not permanently invested in FIXED ASSETS; working capital.

floating dock ▷ noun a floating structure that can be sunk by letting water into the air chambers, and raised again to carry a vessel to be repaired in dry dock.

floating island ▷ noun 1 a floating collection of driftwood or a mass of vegetation. 2 cookery a dessert consisting of custard with whipped and cooked egg whites floating on top.

floating-point notation ▷ noun, computing the expressing of numbers in the general form $a \times b^n$, eg 2.3×10^5 instead of 230 000, or 4.7×10^{-2} instead of 0.047.

floating rib ▷ noun any of the lowest two pairs of ribs in humans which do not reach the breastbone at all. Compare FALSE RIB, TRUE RIB.

floats ▷ plural noun, theat floodlights.

float-stone ▷ noun 1 a porous spongelike variety of silica, so light that it floats for a while on water. 2 a bricklayer's smoothing tool.

float tank see under FLOATATION THERAPY floccinaucinihilipilification /ˈflɒksɪnɔːsɪˈnaɪlɪpɪlɪfɪˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun, facetious setting at little or no value. ⓘ 18c: from Latin flocci and nauci 'at a trifle', nihili 'at nothing', pili 'at a hair' + -FICATION.

floccose /ˈflɒkoʊs/ ▷ adj, bot said of plant structures: covered in small hairs giving a downlike appearance.

flocculate /ˈflɒkjuleɪt/ ▷ verb (flocculated, flocculating) to cluster together or be clustered together in a flocculent mass. ● flocculation noun.

flocculent /ˈflɒkjʊlənt/ ▷ adj 1 woolly; fleecy. 2 chem said of a precipitate: aggregated in woolly cloudlike masses. 3 bot covered with tufts or flakes. ● flocculence noun. ⓘ 18c: from FLOCCUS.

flocculus /ˈflɒkjʊləs/ ▷ noun (flocculi /-laɪ/) 1 astron a light or dark cloudy patch on the sun's surface caused by calcium or hydrogen vapour and usually appearing near sun spots. 2 anatomy a small outgrowth of the cerebellum.

floccus /ˈflɒkəs/ ▷ noun (flocci /ˈflɒksaɪ/) 1 bot a tuft of woolly hair. 2 the covering of unfledged birds. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'tuft of wool'.

flock¹ ▷ noun 1 a group of creatures, especially birds or sheep □ flock of sheep. 2 a crowd of people. 3 a body of people under the spiritual charge of a priest or minister. ▷ verb (flocked, flocking) intr to gather or move in a group or a crowd □ The sheep flocked down the hillside □ People flocked to the first day of the spring sales. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon flocc.

flock² ▷ noun 1 a tuft of wool, etc. 2 (also flocks) waste wool or cotton used for stuffing mattresses, etc. 3 fine particles of wool or nylon fibre applied to paper or cloth to give a velvety surface, especially wallpaper called flock-paper. ⓘ 14c: from French floc tuft of wool, from Latin floccus.

floe /floʊ/ ▷ noun (floes) a sheet of ice other than the edge of an ice shelf or glacier, floating in the sea. ⓘ 19c: from Norwegian flo layer.

flog ▷ verb (flogged, flogging) 1 to beat; to whip repeatedly, particularly as a form of punishment. 2 colloq to sell something, especially when it is said to be a bargain □ She flogged her car for £3 000. ● flog a dead horse colloq to waste time and energy trying to do something that is impossible or a lost cause. ● flog something to death colloq to over-use (an idea, expression, etc) so that it becomes tedious, often resulting in the opposite effect from the desired one. ● flogger noun. ⓘ 17c: probably from Latin flagellare; see FLAGELLANT.

flokati /flɒˈkɑːtɪ/ ▷ noun (flokatis) a hand-woven Greek rug with a thick shaggy wool pile. ⓘ 1960s: from modern Greek phlokate a blanket or sleeveless cape of shaggy cloth.

flong /flɒŋ/ ▷ noun, printing in stereotyping: papier-mâché for making moulds. ⓘ 19c: from French flan (see FLAN noun 2).

the Flood ▷ noun, Bible in the Old Testament (Genesis 6–8): a worldwide flood that God caused in Noah's time to destroy all living beings, except Noah, his family, and selected animals, because the people were sinful.

flood /flʌd/ ▷ noun 1 an overflow of water from rivers, lakes or the sea on to dry land. 2 any overwhelming flow or quantity of something. 3 the rising of the tide. 4 colloq a floodlight. ▷ verb (flooded, flooding) 1 to overflow or submerge (land) with water. 2 to fill something too full or to overflowing. 3 (usually flood someone out) to force them to leave a building, etc because of floods. 4 intr to become flooded, especially frequently. 5 intr to move in a great mass □ Crowds were flooding through the gates. 6 intr to flow or surge. 7 intr to bleed profusely from the uterus, eg sometimes after childbirth. 8 to supply (a market) with too much of a certain kind of commodity. 9 to supply (an engine) with too much petrol so that it cannot start. ● in flood overflowing. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon flod.

floodgate ▷ noun a gate for controlling the flow of a large amount of water. ● open the floodgates to remove all restraints or controls.

floodlight ▷ noun (also floodlamp) a powerful light used to illuminate extensive areas, especially sports grounds or the outside of buildings. ▷ verb (floodlit, floodlighting) to illuminate with floodlights. ● floodlighting noun.

flood plain ▷ noun, geol an extensive level area beside a river, corresponding to that part of the river valley which becomes covered with water when the river floods.

floodtide ▷ noun the rising tide. Opposite of EBBTIDE.

floodwall ▷ noun a wall built as protection against floods from the sea, a river, etc.

floodway ▷ noun an artificial passage to direct floodwater away from an endangered area, eg an overflowing dam, a town, etc.

floor /flɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the lower interior surface of a room or vehicle. 2 all the rooms on the same level in a building; the storey of a building □ ground floor □ first floor. 3 usually in compounds the lowest surface of some open areas, eg the ground in a forest or cave, the bed of the sea, etc □ the sea floor. 4 the debating area in a parliamentary assembly or the open area of a stock exchange as opposed to the viewing gallery. 5 the right to speak in a parliamentary assembly □ have the floor □ be given the floor. ▷ verb (floored, flooring) 1 to construct the floor of (a room, etc). 2 colloq to knock someone down. 3 colloq to baffle someone completely. ● floored adj said of lofts, attics, etc: having flat floor-covering rather than exposed beams, etc □ a floored loft. ● cross the floor said of a member of parliament, etc: to change one's allegiance from one party to another. ● hold the floor to be the person who is talking while others listen, sometimes a person who is dominating a debate by a lot of speaking. ● take the floor 1 to rise to speak in a debate, etc. 2 to start dancing at a dance, etc □ The orchestra played and the bridal couple took the floor. 3 to start a performance on stage □ The comedian took the floor. ● wipe the floor with someone slang to defeat them ignominiously; to humiliate them. ◎ Anglo-Saxon flor.

floorboard ▷ noun one of the narrow boards that form a wooden floor.

floorcloth ▷ noun a cloth for washing floors.

flooring ▷ noun 1 material for constructing floors. 2 a platform.

floor plan ▷ noun a diagram showing the layout of rooms, etc on one storey of a building.

floor price see RESERVE PRICE floor show ▷ noun a series of performances such as singing and dancing at a nightclub or restaurant.

floor-walker ▷ noun, dated a supervisor of a section of a department store who attends to customers' complaints, etc.

floor work ▷ noun a set of exercises carried out while lying on the floor, usually as a warm-up or to cool down during a work-out, aerobics session, etc.

floosie, floozie or floozy /ˈfluːzɪ/ ▷ noun (floosies or floozies) colloq, often facetious a woman or girl, especially a disreputable or immodestly dressed one. ◎ Early 20c.

flop ▷ verb (flopped, flopping) 1 intr to fall, drop, move or sit limply and heavily. 2 intr said of eg hair: to hang or sway about loosely. 3 intr, colloq said of a play, project, business, etc: to fail dismally. 4 intr, slang (usually flop out) to fall asleep, especially because of exhaustion. ▷ noun 1 a flopping movement or sound. 2 colloq a complete failure. 3 N Amer colloq a place to sleep; temporary lodgings. ▷ adverb with a flop □ Business went flop □ He fell flop into the swimming pool. ◎ 17c: variant of FLAP.

floppy ▷ adj (floppier, floppiest) tending to flop; loose and insecure. ▷ noun (floppies) wordprocessing, computing a floppy disk. ● floppily adverb. ● floppiness noun.

floppy disk ▷ noun, wordprocessing, computing a portable flexible plastic disc, coated with magnetic material and enclosed in a hard rectangular plastic casing, which is used to store data. Compare HARD DISK. ◎ 1970s.

flor /flɔː(r)/ ▷ noun a yeasty growth which is allowed to form on the surface of sherries after fermentation and which gives them a nutty taste. ◎ 19c: Spanish, meaning 'flower', from Latin flos, floris.

flor. ▷ abbreviation floruit.

flora /ˈflɔːrə/ ▷ noun (floras or florae /-riː/) bot 1 the wild plants of a particular region, country or time period. 2 a book or list giving descriptions of such plants. Compare FAUNA. ◎ 18c: named after Flora, Roman goddess of flowers, from Latin flos, floris flower.

floral ▷ adj 1 consisting of or relating to flowers □ a floral tribute. 2 patterned with flowers □ floral curtains. ● florally adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin floralis.

Florence fennel see under FINOCCHIO

Florentine /ˈflɒrəntaɪn/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to Florence, a city in Tuscany, Italy, or its inhabitants. 2 (sometimes florentine) usually following its noun said of a cooked dish: containing or served with spinach □ eggs florentine. ▷ noun (Florentines) 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Florence. 2 (sometimes florentine) a biscuit on a chocolate base, the top being covered with preserved fruit and nuts. ◎ 16c.

florescence /flɔːˈresəns, flə-/ ▷ noun, bot the process, state or period of flowering. ◎ 18c: from Latin florescere to begin to blossom.

floret /ˈflɒrɪt/ ▷ noun, bot 1 a small flower; one of the single flowers in the head of a composite flower, such as a daisy or sunflower. 2 each of the branches in the head of a cauliflower or of broccoli. ◎ 17c: from French florete, from Latin flos, floris flower.

floriated or floreated /ˈflɒrɪeɪtɪd/ ▷ adj, archit decorated with floral ornament. ◎ 19c.

floribunda /flɒrɪˈbʌndə, flɔː-/ ▷ noun (floribundas) a plant, especially a rose, whose flowers grow in clusters. ◎ 19c: from Latin floribundus flowering freely.

florid /ˈflɒrɪd/ ▷ adj 1 over-elaborate □ a florid speech. 2 pink or ruddy in complexion. ● floridity noun. ● floridly adverb. ● floridness noun. ◎ 17c: from Latin floridus blooming.

floriferous /flɒˈrɪfərəs/ ▷ adj bearing or producing flowers. ◎ 17c.

floriform /ˈflɒrɪfɔːm/ ▷ adj flower-shaped. ◎ 19c.

florin /ˈflɒrɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a name for the coin worth two shillings or 24 old British pence, minted from 1849 and worth 10 new pence when currency was DECIMALIZEd in 1971. 2 (abbreviation fl.) another name for the Dutch GULDEN 1. ◎ 14c: French, from Italian fiorino, from fiore a flower. The first coin bearing the name carried a flower on one side.

florist /ˈflɒrɪst/ ▷ noun someone who sells or arranges flowers; sometimes someone who also grows flowers. ● floristic adj. ◎ 17c: from Latin flos, floris flower.

floristry ▷ noun 1 the profession of selling flowers. 2 the art of arranging them. ◎ 19c.

floruit /ˈflɔːruɪt, ˈflɒ-/ ▷ noun (abbreviation fl. or flor.) a period during which someone was most active, produced most works, etc, used especially when exact birth and death dates are unknown. ◎ 19c: Latin, meaning 'he or she flourished', from florere to flourish.

floss ▷ noun (flosses) 1 loose strands of fine silk which are not twisted together, used in embroidery, for tooth-cleaning (dental floss), etc. 2 the rough silk on the outside of a silkworm's cocoon. 3 any fine silky plant substance. ▷ verb (flosses, flossed, flossing) tr & intr to clean the teeth with dental floss □ He flosses every evening. ◎ 18c: probably from French flosche down.

flossy ▷ adj (flossier, flossiest) made of or like floss.

flotage or floatage /ˈfloʊtɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 buoyancy; the capacity for floating. 2 the state of floating. 3 flotsam. 4 the part of a ship above the waterline. ◎ 17c.

flotation or floatation /floʊˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the launching of a commercial company with a sale of shares to raise money. 2 the act of floating. 3 the science of floating objects. ◎ 19c.

flotel or floatel /floʊˈtel/ ▷ noun 1 a rig or boat containing the sleeping accommodation and eating, leisure, etc facilities for workers on oil-rigs. 2 a floating hotel, or a hotel built over water. ⓘ 1960s: from FLOAT, modelled on HOTEL.

flotilla /flə'tɪlə/ ▷ noun (flotillas) a small fleet, or a fleet of small ships. ⓘ 18c: Spanish, meaning 'little fleet'.

flotsam /'flɒtsəm/ ▷ noun goods lost by shipwreck and found floating on the sea. Compare JETSAM. • flotsam and jetsam odds and ends. ⓘ 16c: from French floteson something floating.

flounce[1] /flaʊns/ ▷ verb (flounced, flouncing) intr to move in a way expressive of impatience or indignation. ▷ noun a flouncing movement. ⓘ 16c: possibly related to Norse flunsa to hurry.

flounce[2] /flaʊns/ ▷ noun a deep frill on a dress, etc. • flouncing noun material for flounces. • flouncy adj decorated with flounces. ⓘ 18c: altered from frounce plait or curl.

flounder[1] /'flaʊndə(r)/ ▷ verb (floundered, floundering) intr 1 to thrash about helplessly, as when caught in a bog. 2 to stumble helplessly in thinking or speaking, struggling to find the appropriate words, etc. ▷ noun the act of floundering. ⓘ 16c: partly imitating the action, partly a blend of FOUNDER[3] + BLUNDER.

flounder[2] /'flaʊndə(r)/ noun a type of European FLATFISH with greyish-brown mottled skin with orange spots, used as food. ⓘ 15c: from French flondre.

flour /'flaʊə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the finely ground meal of wheat or any other cereal grain. 2 a dried powdered form of any other vegetable material □ potato flour. ▷ verb (floured, flouring) to cover or sprinkle something with flour. • floury adj. ⓘ 13c: a specific use of FLOWER, 'best part of the MEAL[2]'.

flourish /'flʌrɪʃ/ ▷ verb (flourishes, flourished, flourishing) 1 intr to be strong and healthy; to grow well. 2 intr to do well; to develop and prosper. 3 intr to be at one's most productive, or at one's peak. 4 to adorn with flourishes or ornaments. 5 to wave or brandish something. ▷ noun (flourishes) 1 a decorative twirl in handwriting. 2 an elegant sweep of the hand. 3 a showy piece of music; a fanfare. 4 a piece of fancy language. • flourished adj. • a flourish of trumpets 1 a fanfare heralding an important person or people. 2 any ostentatious introduction. • flourishing adj. • flourishingly adverb. ⓘ 13c: from French florir to flower.

flout /flaʊt/ ▷ verb (flouted, flouting) 1 to defy (an order, convention, etc) openly; to disrespect (authority, etc). 2 (usually flout at) intr to jeer; to mock. • floutingly adverb. ⓘ 16c, meaning 'to play the flute'.

> flout
>
> A word often confused with this one is flaunt.

flow /floʊ/ ▷ verb (flowed, flowing) intr 1 to move along like water. 2 said of blood or electricity: to circulate. 3 to keep moving steadily □ Traffic was not flowing well through the city centre. 4 said of hair: to hang or ripple in a loose shining mass. 5 said of words or ideas: to come readily to mind or in speech or writing. 6 to be present in abundance. 7 said of the tide: to advance or rise. Compare EBB verb 1. ▷ noun 1 the action of flowing. 2 the rate of flowing. 3 a continuous stream or outpouring. 4 the rising of the tide. 5 old use, euphemistic menstruation. • in full flow speaking energetically. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

flow chart and flow sheet ▷ noun a diagram representing the nature and sequence of operations to be carried out, especially in a computer program or an industrial process.

flower /flaʊə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 in a flowering plant: the structure that bears the reproductive organs, which consists of a leafy shoot in which the leaves are modified to form sepals, petals, etc. 2 a plant that bears flowers, especially if cultivated for them. 3 the best part; the cream. 4 the most distinguished person or thing. 5 a term of endearment. 6 pharmacol (usually flowers) a sublimate □ flowers of sulphur. ▷ verb (flowered, flowering) intr 1 to produce flowers; to bloom. 2 intr to reach a peak; to develop to full maturity. 3 intr to adorn or decorate with flowers or a floral design. • floweriness noun. • flowering noun, adj. • flowerless adj. • in flower blooming or blossoming; with flowers fully out. ⓘ 13c: from French flour, from Latin flos, floris flower.

flower-bed ▷ noun a garden bed planted with flowering plants.

flower-bud ▷ noun the bud of a flower which is unopened.

flowerer ▷ noun a plant that flowers.

flower girl ▷ noun 1 a young girl who forms part of the bride's retinue at a wedding ceremony. 2 old a woman or girl who sells flowers in the street.

flower-head ▷ noun a close INFLORESCENCE in which all the florets grow together at the tip of the stem, rather than on separated stalks.

flowerpecker ▷ noun a name loosely applied to many small woodland birds found from India to Australia, which have a tube-like tongue and which feed on nectar and berries, especially mistletoe.

flower people ▷ noun members of the FLOWER POWER movement.

flowerpot ▷ noun a clay or plastic container for growing plants in.

flower power ▷ noun a popular movement in the 1960s, which rejected materialism and advocated peace and universal love.

flower show ▷ noun a competition and/or exhibition of flowers, flower arrangements and sometimes also plant displays □ a church flower show.

flower-stalk ▷ noun the stem that supports the flower.

flowery /'flaʊərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 decorated or patterned with flowers □ a flowery dress. 2 said of language or gestures: excessively elegant or elaborate.

flowing /'floʊɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 moving as a fluid. 2 smooth and continuous; fluent. 3 falling or hanging in folds or waves □ a flowing dress □ flowing locks. • flowingly adverb.

flow-meter ▷ noun a device for measuring the rate of flow of liquids or gases in a pipe.

flown past participle of FLY[2] flow sheet see under FLOWCHART

fl. oz. ▷ abbreviation fluid ounce or fluid ounces.

flu /fluː/ ▷ noun, colloq (often the flu) influenza □ She's in bed with the flu. ⓘ 19c: shortened form of INFLUENZA.

flub N Amer colloq ▷ verb (flubbed, flubbing) tr & intr to make a mess of something; to botch it. ▷ noun 1 a gaffe; a mistake. 2 someone who tends to make mistakes. ⓘ 1920s.

fluctuate /'flʌktʃʊeɪt/ ▷ verb (fluctuated, fluctuating) intr to vary in amount, value, level, etc; to rise and fall □ Stock prices fluctuated dramatically over the day. • fluctuant adj. • fluctuation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fluctuare, fluctuatum to undulate, from fluere to flow.

flue /fluː/ ▷ noun (flues) 1 an outlet for smoke or gas, eg through a chimney. 2 a pipe or duct for conveying heat. 3 music a flue pipe. 4 the opening by which the air escapes from the foot of a FLUE PIPE. ⓘ 16c.

flue-cure ▷ verb to prepare (tobacco) by heat introduced through flues. • flue-cured adj.

fluent /'fluːənt/ ▷ adj 1 having full command of a foreign language □ fluent in French. 2 spoken or written with ease □ speaks fluent Russian. 3 speaking or writing in an easy flowing style. 4 said of a movement: smooth, easy or graceful. • fluency noun. • fluently adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fluere to flow.

flue pipe ▷ noun an organ pipe in which the sound is produced by air passing across a small aperture or flue. Compare REED PIPE.

fluff ▷ noun 1 small bits of soft woolly or downy material. 2 colloq a mistake, eg in speaking or reading aloud. 3 colloq a DUFFed stroke at golf, etc. ▷ verb (fluffed, fluffing) 1 (usually fluff something out or up) to shake or arrange it into a soft mass. 2 tr & intr said eg of an actor: to make a mistake in (their lines, etc); to bungle something. • a bit of fluff slang a young woman, often used to refer to someone's girlfriend □ Harry's bit of fluff. ⓘ 18c: from earlier flue a downy substance.

fluffy ▷ adj (fluffier, fluffiest) 1 consisting of or resembling fluff. 2 covered with fluff or something similar. • fluffily adverb. • fluffiness noun.

flugelhorn or flügelhorn /ˈfluːgəlhɔːn/ ▷ noun a brass musical instrument, like a cornet but with a larger bell, which is a standard instrument in British brass bands, is occasionally used by jazz musicians, but is rarely found in orchestras. ⓘ Late 19c: German from Flügel wing + Horn horn.

fluid /ˈfluːɪd/ ▷ noun a substance, such as a liquid or gas, which can move about with freedom and has no fixed shape. ▷ adj 1 able to flow like a liquid; unsolidified. 2 said eg of movements: smooth and graceful. 3 altering easily; adaptable. • fluidity /fluˈɪdɪtɪ/ or fluidness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fluidus flowing.

fluidics /fluˈɪdɪks/ ▷ singular noun, physics the study and use of systems based on the movement of jets of fluid in pipes, used as an alternative to electronic devices to control instruments, industrial processes, etc. • fluidic adj.

fluidize or fluidise ▷ verb (fluidized, fluidizing) 1 to make something fluid. 2 to make (fine particles or other solids) move as a fluid, eg by passing a gas or vapour through them. • fluidization noun.

fluid ounce ▷ noun (abbreviation fl. oz.) 1 in the UK: a unit of liquid measurement, equal to one twentieth of a British or imperial pint (28.41cm³). 2 in the US: a unit of liquid measurement, equal to one sixteenth of a US pint (29.6cm³).

fluke¹ ▷ noun a success achieved by accident or chance. ▷ verb (fluked, fluking) to make, score or achieve something by a fluke. • flukey or fluky adj. • flukiness noun. ⓘ 19c: originally referring to a successful stroke made by chance in billiards.

fluke² ▷ noun 1 any of thousands of species of parasitic flatworm, having a complex life cycle which may involve several different hosts including sheep, cattle and humans, so called because of its resemblance to a miniature flounder. 2 a FLOUNDER². ⓘ Anglo-Saxon floc plaice.

fluke³ ▷ noun 1 one of the triangular plates of iron on each arm of an anchor. 2 a barb, eg of an arrow, harpoon, etc. 3 a lobe of a whale's tail. ⓘ 16c: probably a special use of FLUKE¹.

flume ▷ noun 1 a a descending chute with flowing water at a swimming pool, used for riding or sliding down; a water-slide; b a ride at an amusement park with small boats which move through water-filled channels. 2 an artificial channel for water, used in industry, eg for transporting logs. ⓘ 1970s as noun 1; 18c as noun 2; 12c in obsolete sense 'a river or stream': from Latin flumen river.

flummery /ˈflʌmərɪ/ ▷ noun (flummeries) 1 a jelly made with oatmeal, milk, egg and honey. 2 pompous nonsense; empty flattery. ⓘ 17c: from Welsh llymru.

flummox /ˈflʌməks/ ▷ verb (flummoxed, flummoxing) colloq to confuse someone; to bewilder someone □ That flummoxed him □ He was flummoxed by that. ⓘ 19c.

flump ▷ verb (flumped, flumping) colloq 1 to throw something down heavily. 2 intr to fall or move heavily with flop or thud. ▷ noun the dull sound produced by this action. ⓘ 19c: imitating the sound.

flung past tense, past participle of FLING flunk ▷ verb (flunked, flunking) especially N Amer colloq 1 tr & intr to fail (a test, examination, etc) □ Bill flunked the exam again. 2 said eg of an examiner: to fail (a candidate) □ The professor flunked Bill. ⓘ 19c.

▪ flunk out intr to be dismissed from a school or university for failing examinations.

flunkey or flunky /ˈflʌŋkɪ/ ▷ noun (flunkeys or flunkies) 1 a uniformed manservant, eg a footman. 2 derog a slavish follower. 3 N Amer a person doing a humble or menial job. ⓘ 18c: possibly from flanker someone who runs alongside.

Fluon /ˈfluːɒn/ ▷ noun, trademark polytetrafluoroethylene.

fluor /ˈfluːɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a material that absorbs electrons or radiation, especially ultraviolet light, and converts these into radiation of a different wavelength, usually visible light, which it then emits. 2 FLUORSPAR.

fluoresce /flʊəˈres/ ▷ verb (fluoresced, fluorescing) intr to demonstrate fluorescence. ⓘ 19c: from FLUORESCENCE.

fluorescence ▷ noun, physics 1 the emission of light and other radiation by an object after it has absorbed electrons or radiation of a different wavelength, especially ultraviolet light. 2 the radiation emitted as a result of fluorescence. Compare LUMINESCENCE, PHOSPHORESCENCE. • fluorescent adj. ⓘ 19c: from FLUORSPAR, modelled on opalescence; see OPALESCENT.

fluorescent brightener ▷ noun any of various chemical compounds frequently incorporated in detergents, that are used to increase the brightness of the colours of textiles, paper, etc, and counteract their natural yellowness by converting invisible ultraviolet light into visible blue light.

fluorescent light and fluorescent lamp ▷ noun, elec a type of electric light consisting of a glass discharge tube containing mercury vapour or a chemically inert gas, the inner part of which is coated with phosphors that absorb ultraviolet radiation and emit visible light by the process of fluorescence. Also called STRIP LIGHT.

fluoridate and fluoridize or fluoridise ▷ verb (fluoridated, fluoridating, fluoridized, fluoridizing) to subject (water) to fluoridation, the addition of small amounts (about one part per million) of fluoride salts to drinking water supplies to help prevent tooth decay, a policy adopted by certain water authorities. ⓘ 1940s.

fluoride /ˈflʊəraɪd, ˈflɔː-/ ▷ noun, chem 1 any chemical compound consisting of fluorine and another element, especially sodium fluoride, which is added to drinking water supplies and toothpaste to prevent tooth decay in children. 2 a salt of hydrofluoric acid in which the fluorine atom is in the -1 oxidation state. ⓘ 19c: from FLUORINE.

fluorine /ˈflʊəriːn/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol F, atomic number 9) a highly corrosive poisonous yellow gas (one of the HALOGENs) that is the most electronegative and reactive chemical element. It has been used as a rocket fuel and in the manufacture of organic compounds such as fluorocarbons. ⓘ 19c: from Latin fluor flow.

fluorite see FLUORSPAR

fluorocarbon ▷ noun, chem any of various compounds of carbon and fluorine that are highly resistant to heat and chemical action, and very stable over long periods, formerly widely used as aerosol propellants and refrigerants until recent concern about their damaging effect on the ozone layer. See also CHLOROFLUOROCARBON. ⓘ 1930s: from FLUORINE + CARBON, modelled on HYDROCARBON.

fluoroscope ▷ noun an instrument for X-ray examination by means of a fluorescent screen. • fluoroscopic adj. ⓘ 19c.

fluoroscopy /flʊəˈrɒskəpɪ, flɔː-/ ▷ noun examination of a person or thing by means of a fluoroscope.

fluorspar /ˈflʊəspɑː, ˈflɔː-/, fluorite and fluor ▷ noun, geol calcium fluoride, a mineral that is transparent when pure, but commonly occurs as blue or purple crystals. It is used in glass and some cements, and in the manufacture of hydrofluoric acid for the plastic industry. ◷ 18c: from Latin fluor flow (from the use of fluorspar as a FLUX) + SPAR².

flurry /ˈflʌrɪ/ ▷ noun (flurries) 1 a sudden commotion; a sudden bustle or rush ▫ a flurry of activity. 2 a sudden gust; a brief shower of rain, snow, etc ▫ a flurry of snowflakes. ▷ verb (flurries, flurried, flurrying) 1 to agitate, confuse or bewilder someone. 2 said of a bird: to fluff up (its feathers). ◷ 17c: imitating the sound.

flush¹ ▷ verb (flushes, flushed, flushing) 1 usually intr to blush or make someone blush or go red. 2 to clean out (especially a lavatory pan) with a rush of water, usually by operating a handle, pressing a button, etc. ▷ noun (flushes) 1 a redness or rosiness, especially of the cheeks or face; a blush. 2 a rush of water that cleans a lavatory pan, or the mechanism that controls it. 3 high spirits ▫ in the first flush of enthusiasm. 4 freshness; bloom; vigour ▫ the flush of youth. ● flushed adj suffused with a rosy colour; excited or elated. ● be flushed with pride, etc to be visibly affected by it, eg by blushing. ◷ 16c: possibly influenced by FLASH, BLUSH and FLUSH⁴.

■ flush something away to wash it down the lavatory.

flush² ▷ adj 1 (often flush with something) level or even with an adjacent surface. 2 colloq having plenty of money ▫ Are you flush this week? 3 abundant or plentiful. 4 full to the brim. ▷ adverb so as to be level with an adjacent surface ▫ fixed it flush with the wall. ▷ verb (flushes, flushed, flushing) 1 to make something level with adjacent surfaces. 2 (often flush something up) to fill up to the level of a surface. ◷ 17c: perhaps from FLUSH¹.

flush³ ▷ noun (flushes) cards a hand made up of cards from a single suit. ◷ 16c: from Latin fluxus flow, influenced by FLUSH¹.

flush⁴ ▷ verb (flushes, flushed, flushing) hunting to startle (game birds) so that they rise from the ground. ◷ 13c: probably imitating the sound.

■ flush someone or something out to drive them out of a hiding-place.

fluster /ˈflʌstə(r)/ ▷ verb (flustered, flustering) to agitate, confuse or upset someone; to make them hot and flurried. ▷ noun a state of confused agitation. ● flustery adj confused and agitated. ◷ 15c: related to Norse flaustr hurry.

flute ▷ noun 1 a wind instrument consisting of a wooden or metal tube with holes stopped by the fingertips or by keys, which is held horizontally and played by directing the breath across the EMBOUCHURE. See also FLAUTIST. 2 archit a rounded concave groove or furrow in wood or stone, eg running vertically down a pillar. 3 a tall narrow wineglass, used especially for sparkling wine and champagne. Also called flute-glass. ▷ verb (fluted, fluting) 1 to produce or utter (sounds) like the high shrill tones of a flute. 2 archit to make long narrow grooves or furrows in (wood or stone). ◷ 14c: from French flahute.

fluted ▷ adj ornamented with flutes (see FLUTE sense 2).

fluting ▷ noun a series of parallel grooves cut into wood or stone.

flutist ▷ noun, N Amer a FLAUTIST.

flutter /ˈflʌtə(r)/ ▷ verb (fluttered, fluttering) 1 tr & intr said of a bird, etc: to flap (its wings) lightly and rapidly; to fly with a rapid wing movement. 2 intr said of a flag, etc: to flap repeatedly in the air. 3 intr drift with a twirling motion ▫ Leaves fluttered to the ground. 4 intr to move about in a restless, aimless way. 5 intr said of the heart: to race, from excitement or some medical disorder. 6 old use to cause agitation in (someone's heart). ▷ noun 1 a quick flapping or vibrating motion. 2 agitation; excitement ▫ flutter of excitement. 3 colloq a small bet; a speculation. 4 music in wind-instrument playing: rapid movement of the tongue as for a rolled r. Also called flutter-tonguing. 5 in a hi-fi system, etc: a regularly recurring variation in loudness and pitch. ● flutterer noun. ◷ Anglo-Saxon floterian.

fluty ▷ adj (flutier, flutiest) like a flute in tone.

fluvial /ˈfluːvɪəl/ ▷ adj relating to or found in rivers. ◷ 14c: from Latin fluvialis.

flux /flʌks/ ▷ noun (fluxes) 1 a flow of matter; the act of flowing. 2 constant change; instability. 3 any substance added to another in order to aid the process of melting. 4 in the smelting of metal ores: any substance that is added so that it will combine with impurities which can then be removed as a flowing mass of slag. 5 any substance, such as a resin, that is used to remove oxides from the surfaces of metals that are to be soldered, welded or brazed. 6 physics the rate of flow of particles, energy, mass or some other quantity per unit cross-sectional area per unit time. See also LUMINOUS FLUX and MAGNETIC FLUX. 7 pathol an excessive discharge of fluid from the body. ▷ verb (fluxes, fluxed, fluxing) 1 to apply flux to (a metal, etc) when soldering. 2 tr & intr to make or become fluid. ● be in a state of flux to be in an unsettled state or a state of indecision. ◷ 14c: from Latin fluxus flow.

fly¹ ▷ noun (flies) 1 a two-winged insect, especially the common housefly. 2 in compounds any of various other flying insects ▫ mayfly ▫ dragonfly ▫ butterfly. 3 angling a fish hook tied with colourful feathers to look like a fly, used in fly-fishing. ● drop like flies colloq to fall ill or die in large numbers. ● a fly in the ointment a drawback or disadvantage to an otherwise satisfactory state of affairs. ● a fly on the wall the invisible observer, usually at a meeting or in a social situation, that one would like to be on certain occasions to find out what is happening without having to take part. ● no flies on someone colloq referring to someone who is cunning and not easily fooled ▫ There are no flies on Harry. ● they, etc wouldn't harm a fly they, etc have a gentle nature. ◷ Anglo-Saxon fleoge.

fly² ▷ verb (3rd person present tense flies, past tense flew /fluː/, past participle flown /floʊn/, present participle flying) 1 intr a said of birds, bats, insects and certain other animals: to move through the air using wings or structures resembling wings; b said of an aircraft or spacecraft: to travel through the air or through space. 2 tr & intr to travel or convey in an aircraft ▫ They flew to Moscow ▫ The company flew them to Moscow. 3 to operate and control (an aircraft, kite, etc); to cause it to fly ▫ The pilot flew the plane competently. 4 to cross (an area of land or water) in an aircraft ▫ They flew the Atlantic to New York. 5 a to raise (a flag) ▫ fly the flag on St George's day; b intr said of a flag: to blow or flutter in the wind. 6 intr to move or pass rapidly ▫ fly into a temper ▫ rumours flying around. 7 intr, colloq to depart quickly; to dash off ▫ I must fly. 8 tr & intr to escape; to flee (a country, a war zone, etc). ▷ noun (flies) 1 (chiefly flies) a zip or set of buttons fastening a trouser front, or the flap covering these. 2 a flap covering the entrance to a tent. 3 (flies) the space above a stage, concealed from the audience's view, from which scenery is lowered. 4 short for FLYWHEEL. ● do something on the fly to work something out immediately without any preparation. ● fly by the seat of one's pants to do a job instinctively or by feel when one doesn't know the usual procedure. ● fly high 1 to be ambitious. 2 to prosper or flourish. ● fly in the face of something to oppose it; to be at variance with it. ● fly a kite to release information about an idea, proposal, etc to find out what people's opinion might be about it. ● fly off the handle to lose one's temper. ● fly open said of a door, window, etc: to open suddenly or violently, due to a gust of wind, someone's abrupt entry, etc. ● let fly to loose one's temper (with someone) ▫ Suddenly, Paul let fly at Mark. • let something fly to shoot or throw something. • send someone or something flying to knock them down or knock them over with considerable force. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fleogan.

▪ fly at or out at someone intr to attack them angrily and suddenly.

fly³ ▷ adj, colloq cunning; smart. ⓘ 18c.

fly agaric ▷ noun a mushroom with a flattened scarlet cap covered with concentric rings of small white scales, and a white stem with a swollen base, containing poisonous (though not deadly) substances and mild hallucinogens. ⓘ 18c: so called because of the custom of using the cap crumbled in milk to kill flies, and its use on flypaper.

fly ash ▷ noun fine particles of ash released into the air during eg the burning of fossil fuels in power stations. ⓘ 1930s.

flyblown ▷ adj 1 said of food: covered with blowfly eggs, and therefore unfit to eat; contaminated. 2 shabby, dirty or dingy. ⓘ 16c.

flyboat ▷ noun a long narrow boat used on canals which is faster than a conventional canal boat.

flybook ▷ noun a small case or wallet used by anglers for holding fishing-flies.

fly-by ▷ noun (fly-bys) a flight, at low altitude or close range, past a place, target, etc, for observation, especially the close approach of a spacecraft to a planet, etc.

fly-by-night ▷ adj, derog said of a business, etc: not reliable or trustworthy. ▷ noun an absconding debtor, especially one who disappears overnight. ⓘ 18c.

fly-by-wire ▷ adj said of the control systems of an aircraft: electronically operated with the aid of a computer, and not mechanically operated. ⓘ 1980s.

flycatcher ▷ noun 1 a name applied to birds of three distinct groups, New World or tyrant flycatchers, Old World flycatchers, and silky flycatchers, all of which usually eat insects caught in flight. 2 any of various birds of other families. ⓘ 16c.

fly-dressing ▷ noun FLY-TYING.

flyer see FLIER.

fly-fish ▷ verb, intr, angling to fish using artificial flies as bait. • fly-fishing noun.

fly half ▷ noun, rugby a STAND-OFF HALF (see STAND-OFF 2).

flying ▷ adj 1 hasty; brief □ a flying visit. 2 designed or organized for fast movement. 3 that flies; able to fly, or to glide for long distances. 4 said eg of hair or a flag: streaming; fluttering. ▷ noun 1 flight. 2 the activity of piloting, or travelling in, an aircraft. Also as adj. • not give a flying fuck taboo slang not to care about something; not to give a damn about something.

flying boat ▷ noun a seaplane whose fuselage is shaped like a boat hull.

flying buttress ▷ noun, archit a support structure forming an arch or half-arch built against the outside wall of a large building, especially a church, in order to resist the outward thrust of the wall. ⓘ 17c.

flying colours ▷ plural noun triumphant success □ She passed the exam with flying colours. ⓘ 18c.

flying doctor ▷ noun especially in the remote parts of Australia: a doctor who can be called by radio and who travels by light aircraft to visit patients.

flying dragon see FLYING LIZARD.

flying fish ▷ noun any of various small surface-living fishes, native to tropical and warm temperate seas, with stiff, greatly enlarged pectoral fins superficially resembling wings, that enable the fish to leap from the water and glide for considerable distances above the surface at speeds of up to 50km per hour.

flying fox ▷ noun any of many species of large fruit-eating bat which does not employ ECHO LOCATION for navigation but relies on their excellent eyesight. ⓘ 18c: so called because some species have a fox-like head.

flying jib ▷ noun in a vessel with more than one jib: the one set furthest forward.

flying leap and flying jump ▷ noun a jump taken from a running start.

flying lemur see COLUGO.

flying lizard ▷ noun a species of lizard native to SE Asia that is able to glide between trees by using a semicircular membrane, which is supported by movable ribs on either side of its body. Also called flying dragon.

flying machine ▷ noun, dated an early power-driven aircraft. ⓘ 18c: referring to contrivances used in the theatre to suspend actors from, and also to describe aircraft before any were successfully invented.

flying officer noun, an officer in the air force. See table at RANK.

flying phalanger ▷ noun a nocturnal squirrel-like marsupial, native to Australia and New Guinea, that has a gliding membrane between its front and hind limbs, and can glide for distances of up to 114m (125yd).

flying picket ▷ noun a picket travelling from place to place to support local pickets during any strike.

flying saucer ▷ noun any unidentified circular flying object reported in the sky from time to time, believed by some to be craft from outer space.

flying snake ▷ noun a snake from SE Asia that glides between trees by launching itself in the air and then flattening its body and forming several S-shaped curves.

flying spot scanner ▷ noun, telecomm a device for producing television picture signals from photographic transparencies or motion picture film, by scanning the picture area with a spot of light, generated on the screen of a cathode-ray tube.

flying squad ▷ noun a body of police specially trained for quick response and fast action, and available for duty wherever the need arises.

flying squirrel ▷ noun any of various species of squirrel, most of which are found in SE Asia, with a large flap of skin between the front and hind legs, which they use to glide between trees for distances of up to 450m (492yd).

flying start ▷ noun, sport 1 a start to a race in which the contestants are already travelling at full speed when they cross the starting-line. 2 a start by a competitor in a race which anticipates the starting signal. • get off to a flying start said of a task, project, etc or of a person: to begin promisingly or with a special advantage.

flying suit ▷ noun 1 a pilot's one-piece suit. 2 a similar fashion garment, worn especially in the 1980s.

flyleaf ▷ noun a blank page at the beginning or end of a book.

Flymo /ˈflaɪmoʊ/ ▷ noun (Flymos) trademark a type of lawnmower which hovers on a cushion of air.

flyover ▷ noun a bridge that takes a road or railway over another. N Amer equivalent overpass.

flypaper ▷ noun a strip of paper with a sticky poisonous coating that attracts, traps and kills flies.

flypast ▷ noun a ceremonial flight of military aircraft over a particular place, where a crowd sometimes including royalty is gathered for an event like a festival or fête.

flypitch ▷ noun, colloq a market stall for which the operator does not have a licence.

flypitcher ▷ noun, colloq the operator of an unlicensed market stall.

flyposting ▷ noun the putting up of advertising or political posters, etc illegally.

flysheet ▷ noun 1 a protective outer sheet for a tent which is fitted over the main body. 2 a single-sheet leaflet.

flyspray ▷ noun a liquid poisonous to flies, sprayed from an aerosol can.

fly-tipping ▷ noun unauthorized disposal of waste.

flytrap ▷ noun 1 a device for catching flies. 2 bot any of various plants that trap flies and digest them, eg the VENUS FLYTRAP.

fly-tying ▷ noun making artificial flies for angling.

flyway ▷ noun a migration route of birds.

flyweight ▷ noun 1 a class of boxers, wrestlers and weight-lifters of not more than a specified weight (51kg or 112 lb in professional boxing, similar weights in the other sports). 2 a boxer, etc weighing not more than the specified amount for their category. See also MINI-FLYWEIGHT, LIGHT-FLYWEIGHT, SUPER FLYWEIGHT.

flywheel ▷ noun a heavy wheel on a revolving shaft that stores kinetic energy and regulates the action of a machine by maintaining a constant speed of roation over the whole cycle.

FM ▷ abbreviation 1 Field Marshal. 2 frequency modulation.

Fm ▷ symbol, chem fermium.

f-number ▷ noun, photog the numerical value of the relative aperture of a camera lens, expressing the diameter of the lens diaphragm as a fraction of its focal length, eg if the relative aperture is f/8, f:8 or f8, then the f-number is 8.

FO ▷ abbreviation 1 Field Officer. 2 Flying Officer. 3 historical Foreign Office (now FCO).

fo or fol. ▷ abbreviation folio.

foal ▷ noun the young of a horse or of a related animal. See also STALLION, MARE. ▷ verb (foaled, foaling) intr to give birth to a foal. ■ in foal or with foal said of a mare: pregnant. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fola.

foam ▷ noun 1 a mass of tiny bubbles forming on the surface of liquids. 2 a substance composed of tiny bubbles formed by passing gas through it. 3 frothy saliva or perspiration. 4 any of many light cellular materials used for packaging, insulation, etc, produced by passing gas through, and then solidifying, a liquid. 5 a colloid consisting of gas bubbles dispersed evenly throughout a liquid □ shaving foam. 6 poetic the sea. 7 Also as adj □ foam rubber. ▷ verb (foamed, foaming) tr & intr (sometimes foam up) to produce or make something produce foam. ■ foaming noun, adj. ■ foamless adj. ■ foam at the mouth 1 colloq to be furiously angry. 2 to produce and expel frothy saliva at the mouth, eg as a rabid animal does. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fam.

foamy ▷ adj (foamier, foamiest) 1 said of a liquid: covered with foam; with foam floating on the top of it. 2 resembling foam; frothy. ■ foaminess noun.

fob¹ ▷ verb (fobbed, fobbing) now only in phrases below. ◎ 16c: related to German foppen to delude.

■ fob someone off to dismiss or ignore them □ tried to fob off his critics.

■ fob someone off with something to provide them with something inferior (eg a poor substitute, or an inadequate explanation), usually in the hope that they will be satisfied.

■ fob something off on someone to manage to sell or pass off something inferior to someone.

fob² ▷ noun 1 a chain attached to a watch. 2 a decorative attachment to a key ring or watch chain. 3 historical a small watch pocket in a waistcoat or trouser waistband, for holding a fob watch. ◎ 17c: perhaps related to German dialect fuppe pocket.

f.o.b. ▷ abbreviation free on board.

FOC ▷ abbreviation in a trade union: father of the chapel.

foc ▷ abbreviation free of charge.

focaccia /fə'katʃə/ ▷ noun (focaccias) a flat round of Italian bread topped with olive oil and herbs or spices. ◎ 20c: Italian.

focal /'foukəl/ ▷ adj relating to, or at, a focus. ◎ 18c.

focal distance and focal length ▷ noun the distance between the surface of a mirror or centre of a lens and its focal point.

focalize or focalise /'foukəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (focalized, focalizing) tr & intr, technical to focus something. ■ focalization noun.

focal point ▷ noun 1 optics the point at which rays of light which are initially parallel to the axis of a lens or mirror converge, or appear to diverge, having been reflected or refracted. Also called focus. 2 a centre of attraction of some event or activity.

focimeter /fou'sɪmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun an instrument for measuring the focal length of a lens.

fo'c'sle /'fouksəl/ ▷ noun, naut a spelling of FORECASTLE suggested by its pronunciation.

focus /'foukəs/ ▷ noun (focuses or foci /'fousaɪ/) 1 the point at which rays of light or sound waves converge or appear to diverge. 2 optics FOCAL POINT 1. 3 a the condition in which an image is sharp □ The picture is in focus; b the state of an instrument producing this image □ The telescope is in focus □ These binoculars are out of focus. 4 geol in seismology: the location of the centre of an earthquake, where the subterranean fracture takes place and from which the elastic waves radiate outward. See also EPICENTRE. 5 a centre of interest or attention. 6 special attention paid to something □ a shift of focus. 7 pathol the main site of an infection. 8 geom a point associated with a CONIC SECTION where the distance between it and any point on the curve is a fixed ratio (the ECCENTRICITY 4) to the distance between that point and a line (the DIRECTRIX). ▷ verb (focused, focusing, focussed, focussing) 1 tr & intr to bring or be brought into focus; to meet or make something meet or converge at a focus. 2 to adjust the thickness of the lens of (the eye) or to move the lens of (an optical instrument) so as to obtain the sharpest possible image of a particular object. 3 to cause (electron beams) to converge or diverge by varying the voltage or current that controls the magnetic or electric fields through which they pass. 4 (often focus something on something) tr & intr to concentrate (one's attention, etc) on it □ focused her energies on the problem □ focused on the problem. ◎ 17c: Latin, meaning 'hearth or fireplace', probably referring to the 'burning point of a lens or mirror'.

focus group ▷ noun a small group of people brought together to discuss some topic in a relaxed conversational way so that others may get their insights or opinions about the topic concerned. ◎ 1990s.

fodder /'fɒdə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any bulk feed, especially hay and straw, for cattle and other animal livestock. 2 colloq something that is constantly made use of by someone (eg newspaper editors) to feed an ongoing need (eg for copy) □ Stories about royalty are fodder for the popular press. See also CANNON FODDER. ▷ verb (foddered, foddering) to supply (livestock) with fodder. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fodor.

FOE or FoE ▷ abbreviation Friends of the Earth.

foe ▷ noun, literary, old use an enemy. ◎ Anglo-Saxon fah hostile.

foehn see FÖHN.

foetal see FETAL.

foetid see FETID.

foetoscopy see FETOSCOPY.

foetus see FETUS.

fog¹ ▷ noun 1 a suspension of tiny water droplets or ice crystals forming a cloud close to the ground surface and reducing visibility to less than 1 km; thick mist. 2 photog a blurred patch on a negative, print or transparency, which can be caused by excess light, chemical impurities, aged materials, etc. 3 a blur; cloudiness. 4 a state of confusion or bewilderment. ▷ verb (fogged, fogging) 1 tr & intr (often fog over or up) to obscure or become obscured with, or as if with, fog or condensation. 2 to confuse or perplex. 3 photog to be affected by fog. ● fogless adj. ⓘ 16c: derived from foggy boggy or marshy from FOG².

fog² and foggage ▷ noun the grass that grows after the hay is cut. ⓘ 14c.

fog bank ▷ noun a distant and well-defined mass of dense fog, especially at sea.

fogbound ▷ adj usually said eg of an airport: brought to a standstill by fog.

fogey or fogy /ˈfoʊgɪ/ ▷ noun (fogeys or fogies) noun, derog someone with boring, old-fashioned and usually conservative ideas and attitudes, often called old fogey, also sometimes young fogey if the person with these characteristics seems particularly young to have such staid attitudes. ● fogeyish or fogyish adj. ⓘ 18c: probably from foggy moss-grown. young fogey used particularly since the 1980s.

foggy ▷ adj (foggier, foggiest) 1 covered with or thick with fog¹; misty, damp. 2 not clear; confused. ● fogginess noun. ● not have the foggiest or not have the foggiest idea colloq not to know at all.

foghorn ▷ noun 1 a horn that sounds at regular intervals to ships in fog as a warning of some danger or obstruction, eg land, other vessels, etc. 2 colloq a deep, loud and penetrating voice. ⓘ 19c.

fog lamp and fog light ▷ noun a powerful lamp used by vehicles in fog.

föhn or foehn /fɜːn/ ▷ noun a hot dry wind which blows to the lee of a mountain range, especially down the valleys to the north side of the Alps. ⓘ 19c: German, from Romansch favugn, from Latin Favonius a west wind and a warming wind.

foible /ˈfɔɪbəl/ ▷ noun a slight personal weakness or eccentricity in someone. ⓘ 17c: French, variant of faible feeble or weak.

foie gras /fwɑː grɑː/ ▷ noun a pâté made of specially fattened goose liver. Also called pâté de foie gras. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning '(pâté of) fat liver'.

foil¹ ▷ verb (foiled, foiling) to prevent, thwart or frustrate someone or something. ⓘ 16c: from French fuler to trample.

foil² ▷ noun 1 a metal beaten or rolled out into thin sheets; b also in compounds ▫ tinfoil ▫ gold foil. 2 a thin metallic coating (usually mercury or a mercury-alloy) on a piece of glass which produces a reflection, forming the backing of a mirror. 3 a thin leaf of metal put under a precious stone to show it to advantage. 4 someone or something that acts as a contrast to, and brings out, the superior or different qualities of another. 5 archit in tracery, particularly of Gothic architecture: a small leaf-shaped curve or arc, forming a CUSP where two foils meet. 6 a hydrofoil or an aerofoil. ● foilborne said of a craft: lifted up from the water or travelling along the water on hydrofoils. ⓘ 14c: from French foil leaf, from Latin folium.

foil³ /fɔɪl/ ▷ noun, fencing a long slender sword with a blunt edge and a point protected by a button. ⓘ 16c.

foist /fɔɪst/ ▷ verb (foisted, foisting) now only in phrases below. ⓘ 16c: perhaps from Dutch dialect vuisten to take in hand, from vuist fist.

■ foist something in or into something to insert it wrongly.

■ foist something on someone 1 to inflict or impose something unwanted on them ▫ foisted the baby on her for the day. 2 to sell or pass on something inferior to them, while suggesting that it has value or is genuine; to palm something off on someone.

fol. ▷ abbreviation 1 folio. 2 following.

folate /ˈfoʊleɪt, ˈfɒ-/ ▷ adj relating to folic acid. ▷ noun 1 a salt of folic acid. 2 folic acid.

fold¹ /foʊld/ ▷ verb (folded, folding) 1 (also fold something over, back, up, etc) to double it over so that one part lies on top of another. 2 intr (also fold away) to be able to be folded, or closed up so that it takes up less space, usually making it flat ▫ The chair folds away for storage. 3 said of an insect, etc: to bring in (wings) close to its body. 4 (often fold something up) to arrange (clothes, etc) tidily for storage by laying them flat and doubling each piece of clothing over on itself ▫ folded the jumpers up and put them in the drawer. 5 intr said of flower petals: to close. 6 to clasp someone in one's arms, etc. 7 (also fold up) colloq said of a business, etc: to collapse; to fail ▫ The shop folded after 1 year. ▷ noun 1 a doubling of one layer over another. 2 a rounded or sharp bend made by this, particularly the inside part of it; a crease. 3 a hollow in the landscape. 4 geol a buckling, bending or contortion of stratified rocks as a result of movements of the Earth's crust, the most common types of which are arch-shaped (ANTICLINES) and trough-shaped (SYNCLINES). ● foldable adj. ● foldaway adj referring to something that can be folded and put away. ● fold one's arms to cross over and intertwine (one's arms) across one's chest. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon faldan to fold.

■ fold something in cookery to add and stir (an ingredient) gently into a mixture with an action like folding.

fold² /foʊld/ ▷ noun 1 a walled or fenced enclosure or pen for sheep or cattle. 2 the body of believers within the protection of a church ▫ They were invited into the fold. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon falod.

-fold ▷ suffix, forming adverbs and adjectives 1 multiplied by a specified number ▫ The chairman's salary increased threefold. 2 adj having a specified number of parts ▫ a twofold benefit. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon -feald.

folder /ˈfoʊldə(r)/ ▷ noun a cardboard or plastic cover in which to keep loose papers. ⓘ Early 20c in this sense.

folderol see FALDERAL.

folding ▷ adj referring to something that can be folded away so that it takes up less space, particularly for storage ▫ a folding chair ▫ a folding bed. ▷ noun 1 a fold or plait. 2 geol the bending of strata, usually as the result of compression.

folding money ▷ noun, colloq paper money.

foldout ▷ noun a large page, eg containing a diagram or illustration, which is folded to fit into a book, and is unfolded when used. Also called gatefold.

foliaceous /foʊlɪˈeɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 consisting of or resembling leaves; leaflike. 2 geol composed of thin leaflike or platelike layers of minerals. ⓘ 17c: from Latin foliaceus, from folium leaf.

foliage /ˈfoʊlɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the green leaves on a tree or plant. 2 sprays of leaves used for decoration. ⓘ 15c: from French feuillage, from feuille leaf, influenced by Latin folium leaf.

foliage plant ▷ noun a plant grown for the beauty of its foliage.

foliate /ˈfoʊlɪeɪt/ ▷ adj leaflike or having leaves. ▷ verb (foliated, foliating) 1 to cover with leaf-metal or foils. 2 to hammer (metal) into thin sheets. 3 to mark the leaves or folios (not pages) of a book, etc with consecutive numbers. Compare PAGINATE. 4 intr said of a plant: to grow leaves. 5 to decorate (especially Gothic architecture) with ornamental leaf carving. ⓘ 17c: from Latin foliatus leafy.

folic acid /ˈfoʊlɪk —, ˈfɒlɪk —/ ▷ noun, biochem a member of the VITAMIN B COMPLEX found in many foods, especially liver and green leafy vegetables, which is required for the manufacture of DNA and RNA and the formation of red blood cells, deficiency of which causes anaemia and retarded growth. ⓒ 1940s: from Latin folium leaf (because of its presence in green leaves).

folie à deux /French foli a 'dø/ noun, pathol a form of mental illness in which two people, generally close to one another, share the same delusion. ⓒ 19c: French.

folie de grandeur /French foli da grɑ̃dœʀ/ noun, pathol a form of mental illness characterized by a delusion that one possesses wealth, beauty or irresistible charms. ⓒ 20c: French.

folio /'foulɪou/ ▷ noun (folios) 1 a leaf of a manuscript, etc, numbered on one side. 2 printing a page number in a book. 3 a a body of written work, etc, submitted as part of an examination □ Your English folio must be completed by March. b as adj □ Folio pieces must be handwritten. 4 historical a a sheet of paper folded once to make two leaves for a book; b a book of the largest size, composed of such sheets. 5 old use a folder. Also as adj □ a folio edition. ⓒ 16c: from Latin folium leaf.

foliole ▷ noun 1 bot a leaflet of a compound leaf. 2 a small leaflike structure.

folk /fouk/ ▷ plural noun 1 people in general. 2 (also colloq folks) one's family □ Her folk are from Edinburgh □ going to visit the folks. 3 people belonging to a particular group, nation or tribe □ country folk. ▷ singular noun, colloq folk music □ Folk is popular at the Royal Oak. ▷ adj traditional among, or originating from, a particular group of people or nation □ folk music □ a folksong □ folk art. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon folc.

folk art ▷ noun traditional handicrafts, especially pottery, wood-carvings, textiles and basketware, produced by local craftsmen with no formal training, usually employing techniques, patterns and designs that have been handed down from generation to generation.

folk etymology ▷ noun an etymology in which popular ideas about the origin of words or phrases leads to an erroneous analysis, with direct relations being drawn with other words which have a similar form or meaning, eg when 'asparagus' is referred to as 'sparrow-grass'.

folk hero ▷ noun a hero in the eyes of a particular group of people.

folkie /'foukɪ/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 someone who enjoys listening to folk music. 2 someone who enjoys playing or singing folk music; a folk musician. ⓒ 1960s.

folklore ▷ noun 1 the customs, beliefs, stories, traditions, etc of a particular group of people, usually passed down through the oral tradition. 2 the study of these. • folkloric adj. • folklorist noun someone who studies folklore. ⓒ 19c.

folk-memory ▷ noun a memory of an event that survives in a community through many generations.

folk music ▷ noun 1 music which is played on traditional instruments or sung in the tradition style, handed down from generation to generation, and relating to the music of a particular area or group of people. 2 contemporary music of a similar style.

folk song ▷ noun any song or ballad originating among the people and traditionally handed down from generation to generation through the oral tradition.

folksy ▷ adj (folksier, folksiest) 1 simple and homely, especially in an over-sweet or twee way. 2 everyday; friendly; sociable; unpretentious. • folksiness noun. ⓒ 19c: originally US.

folk tale and folk story ▷ noun a popular story handed down by oral tradition from generation to generation, and whose origin is often unknown.

folk-weave ▷ noun a loosely woven fabric.

follicle /'fɒlɪkəl/ ▷ noun 1 anatomy a small cavity or sac within a tissue or organ, eg the pit surrounding the root of a hair □ hair follicle □ Graafian follicle. 2 bot a fruit formed from a single carpel, containing several seeds, which splits along one side when mature, eg columbine fruit. • follicular or folliculose adj. ⓒ 17c: from Latin folliculus a small bag or sack, diminutive of follis bellows.

follicle-stimulating hormone ▷ noun (abbreviation FSH) physiol a hormone, secreted by the pituitary gland in vertebrates, which in mammals stimulates the growth of the OVARIAN FOLLICLES (in females) and the production of SPERM (in males).

follow /'fɒlou/ ▷ verb (followed, following) 1 tr & intr (also follow after someone) to go or come after them, either immediately or shortly afterwards. 2 to accompany someone; to go with them. 3 to secretly go after someone to find out what they are doing; to pursue stealthily. 4 to accept someone as leader or authority. 5 intr (sometimes follow from something) to result from it; to be a consequence of it □ It follows that John will arrive around 2pm. 6 to go along (a road, etc), alongside (a river, etc) or on the path marked by (signs). 7 to watch someone or something as they or it move □ His eyes followed her up the street. 8 to do something in a particular way; to practise it □ follow a life of self-denial □ follow a trade. 9 to conform to something □ follows a familiar pattern. 10 to obey (advice, etc). 11 tr & intr to copy □ follow her example □ followed unthinkingly. 12 tr & intr to understand □ Do you follow me? 13 to read (a piece of writing or music) while listening to a performance of it. 14 to take a keen interest in (a sport, etc) □ Fiona avidly follows football. • as follows as announced immediately after this, or shown in the text below. • followed by something and then; after which □ Sweet, followed by coffee □ a trailer followed by the main feature film. • follow suit 1 cards to play a card of the same suit as the one which is leading for that hand. 2 to do what someone else has done without thinking much about it □ Paul always simply follows suit. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon folgian.

▪ follow on intr 1 to continue; to take something up where someone else has left off □ I'll follow on after you. 2 cricket said of a side: to play a FOLLOW-ON.

▪ follow something out to carry out (eg instructions) fully, or to their required conclusion.

▪ follow through or follow something through tennis, golf to continue the action of (a stroke) after hitting the ball. See also FOLLOW-THROUGH.

▪ follow something through or up to pursue (an idea, a project, etc) beyond its early stages, and often to fruition; to investigate or test it.

▪ follow something up to take the next step after a particular procedure □ followed up their investigations with a detailed report. See also FOLLOW-UP.

follower ▷ noun 1 someone or something that follows or comes after others. 2 someone who copies. 3 an avid supporter or devotee, eg of a particular sport, celebrity, etc. 4 a disciple. 5 an attendant; someone who is part of someone's entourage. 6 a part of a machine driven by another part.

following ▷ noun a body of supporters, devotees, etc □ Thomas has a big following. ▷ adj 1 coming after; next. 2 about to be mentioned □ need to deal with the following points. 3 said of a wind, currents, etc: blowing in the direction in which a ship, etc is travelling. ▷ prep after.

follow-on ▷ noun, cricket a second innings batted immediately after the first, as a result of a team having scored a particular number of runs less than the competing team. See FOLLOW ON at FOLLOW.

follow-through ▷ noun 1 tennis, golf the continuation of the swing of a stroke after hitting the ball. 2 billiards a shot that causes the ball to follow the one it has struck. 3 following through; further investigation or testing. See FOLLOW THROUGH at FOLLOW.

follow-up ▷ noun 1 a continuing something that is not completed; further action or investigation; b as adj □ follow-up questions. 2 an examination of a patient after treatment to check what progress they have made □ Come back on Monday for a follow-up. See also FOLLOW SOMETHING UP at FOLLOW.

folly /ˈfɒlɪ/ ▷ noun (follies) 1 foolishness; a foolish act. 2 a mock temple, castle, ruin, etc built eg as a romantic addition to a view. ⓘ 13c: from French folie madness.

foment /foʊˈment/ ▷ verb (fomented, fomenting) to encourage or foster (ill-feeling, etc). • fomentation noun. • fomenter noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fomentum, from fovere to cherish or warm.

fond ▷ adj 1 loving; tender □ fond glances. 2 happy □ fond memories. 3 said of desire, hopes, etc: foolishly impractical □ He harboured a fond hope that sparks would fly between them again. • fondly adverb. • fondness noun. • fond of someone or something having a liking for them or it □ fond of her cat. ⓘ 14c as fonned, from fonnen to act foolishly.

fondant /ˈfɒndənt/ ▷ noun a soft sweet or paste made with sugar and water, often flavoured and used for the fillings of chocolates, or as icing. ⓘ 19c: French, from fondre to melt.

fondle /ˈfɒndəl/ ▷ verb (fondled, fondling) to touch, stroke or caress someone or something lovingly, affectionately or lustfully. • fondler noun. • fondling noun. ⓘ 17c: from FOND showing fondness or affection for something.

fondue /ˈfɒnduː, ˈfɒndjuː/ ▷ noun (fondues) cookery 1 a dish, originally Swiss, consisting of hot cheese sauce into which bits of bread are dipped. 2 a steak dish in which pieces of meat are cooked at the table by dipping them briefly into hot oil. Also called fondue bourguignonne /— bʊəgiːˈjɒn/. ⓘ 19c: from French fondu melted.

font¹ /fɒnt/ ▷ noun, church the basin in a church that holds water for baptisms. • fontal adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fant, from Latin fons, fontis fountain.

font² see FOUNT¹

fontanelle or (chiefly US) fontanel /fɒntəˈnel/ noun, anatomy a soft membrane-covered gap between the immature bones of the skull of a fetus or young infant, or of a young animal. ⓘ 16c: from French fontanele.

food /fuːd/ ▷ noun 1 a substance taken in by a living organism that provides it with energy and materials for growth, maintenance and repair of tissues. 2 solid as distinct from liquid nourishment □ food and drink. 3 something that provides stimulation □ food for thought. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon foda.

food additive ▷ noun any naturally occurring or artificially manufactured chemical compound that is added in small quantities to a food product, eg to improve its flavour, nutritional value or visual appeal, or to prolong its shelf-life, including preservatives, flavourings and colourings. ⓘ 1960s.

food canal ▷ noun the alimentary canal.

food chain ▷ noun, ecol a sequence of organisms arranged in such a way that each feeds on the organism below it in the chain, and serves as a source of food for the organism above it.

food court ▷ noun an area in a shopping mall with a variety of fast-food booths and an area with communal seating and tables for the customers.

food-fish ▷ noun a fish used as food by humans.

foodie ▷ noun, colloq a person who is greatly or excessively interested in the preparation and eating of food, especially wholefoods and additive-free foods. • foodism noun great interest in, or concern over, food. ⓘ 1980s.

food poisoning ▷ noun any of various illnesses that result from eating food or drinking water containing toxins or micro-organisms, especially species of the SALMONELLA bacterium.

food processor ▷ noun an electrical domestic apparatus for chopping and blending food. ⓘ 1970s.

foodstuff ▷ noun a substance used as food. ⓘ 19c.

food technology ▷ noun the application of scientific methods and engineering technology to the commercial processing, preparation, packaging, storage and distribution of foodstuffs.

food value ▷ noun the nutritional value of a particular food, expressed in terms of its protein, carbohydrate, fat, fibre and energy content.

food web ▷ noun, ecol the interlocking patterns formed by a series of interconnected FOOD CHAINS.

fool¹ /fuːl/ ▷ noun 1 someone who lacks common sense or intelligence. 2 someone made to appear ridiculous. 3 historical a person employed by kings, nobles, etc to amuse them; a jester. ▷ verb (fooled, fooling) to deceive someone so that they appear foolish or ridiculous. • make a fool of oneself to act in a way that makes one appear foolish. • make a fool of someone to trick them or make them appear ridiculous; to humiliate them. • nobody's fool someone too wary to be tricked or deceived; astute □ Bill is nobody's fool. • play or act the fool deliberately to act in a comically foolish manner. ⓘ 13c: from French fol.

▪ fool someone into or out of something to persuade them by deception to do something or not to do it.

▪ fool about or around to behave stupidly or playfully.

▪ fool with something to meddle with it irresponsibly or thoughtlessly.

fool² /fuːl/ ▷ noun a dessert of puréed fruit mixed with cream or custard □ gooseberry fool. ⓘ 16c.

foolery ▷ noun (fooleries) stupid or ridiculous behaviour. ⓘ 16c.

foolhardy ▷ adj taking foolish risks; rash; reckless. • foolhardiness noun. ⓘ 13c: from French fol hardi, literally 'foolish-bold'.

foolish ▷ adj 1 unwise; senseless. 2 ridiculous; silly; comical. • foolishly adverb. • foolishness noun.

foolproof ▷ adj 1 said of a plan, etc: designed so that it is easy to follow and very unlikely to go wrong; unable to go wrong. 2 said of a machine, etc: simple to use; unable to be misunderstood or misused, or easy to correct if a mistake is made.

foolscap /ˈfuːlskap/ ▷ noun a large size of printing- or writing-paper, measuring 17 × 13½ in (432 × 343mm). ⓘ 17c: from fool's cap, referring to the jester's cap which was used as a watermark in the 18c.

fool's cap ▷ noun a jester's hat, usually a coxcomb hood with bells. ⓘ 17c.

fool's errand ▷ noun a pointless or unprofitable task or venture; a futile journey.

fool's gold see under PYRITE fool's paradise ▷ noun a state of confidence based on false expectations. ⓘ 15c.

foot /fʊt/ ▷ noun (plural usually feet but see sense 7) 1 the part of the leg on which a human being or animal stands or walks. 2 in molluscs: a muscular organ used for locomotion, which can be retracted into the animal's shell. 3 the part of a sock, stocking, etc that fits over the foot. 4 the bottom or lower part of something □ the foot of a mountain. 5 the part on which something stands; anything functioning as or resembling a foot. 6 the end of a bed where the feet go, as opposed to the head. 7 (plural feet or often foot) (abbreviation ft or ′, eg 6ft or 6′) in the imperial system: a unit of length equal to 12in (30.48cm) □

The room is sixteen foot by ten. 8 prosody a unit of rhythm in verse containing any of various combinations of stressed and unstressed syllables. 9 a part of a sewing machine that holds the fabric in position. 10 plural, old use infantry. 11 as adj & in compounds □ foot soldier □ footlights. • footless adj. • foot it 1 colloq to walk. 2 old use to dance. • foot the bill to pay the bill. • get a foot in the door to gain entry into, or get accepted for the first time in, an organization, profession, etc. • get off on the wrong foot to make a bad start. • have a foot in both camps to be connected with both of two opposed parties. • have one foot in the grave colloq to be very old or near death. • my foot! exclamation, colloq used to express derisive disbelief. • not put a foot right to make many mistakes. • not put a foot wrong to make no mistakes. • on foot walking. • put one's best foot forward to set off with determination. • put one's foot down to be firm about something. • put one's foot in it colloq to cause offence or embarrassment. • set foot in or on something to arrive in or on it. • under foot beneath one's feet; on the ground □ It was very wet under foot. See also under FEET. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fot.

footage ▷ noun 1 measurement or payment by the foot. 2 a the length of exposed cine film measured in feet; b a clip from a film used, eg in a TV programme, documentary, etc, to depict events relevant to the programme, usually historical events □ archive footage.

foot-and-mouth disease ▷ noun, vet medicine a notifiable and highly contagious viral disease of sheep, cattle, pigs and goats, characterized by the development of blisters in the mouth and around the hooves, by weight loss, and in dairy cattle by a decline in milk yield.

football ▷ noun 1 any of several team games played with a large ball that players try to kick or head into the opposing team's goal or carry across their opponents' goal line. Also called Association Football. Sometimes called soccer. 2 the ball used in the game. 3 (the football) a football match, usually an official game between clubs in a league □ Fiona is going to the football on Saturday. See also AMERICAN FOOTBALL, AUSTRALIAN RULES FOOTBALL, GAELIC FOOTBALL, RUGBY.

football colours ▷ plural noun scarves, caps, banners, etc that show someone's affiliation to a particular football club.

footballer ▷ noun a football player.

football hooligan ▷ noun someone who attends football matches with the intention to cause violence, and may or may not be a supporter of one of the teams playing.

football match ▷ noun 1 a game of football, played at a stadium, often viewed by spectators and sometimes as part of a league. 2 any game of football played by a group, often spontaneously, eg on a piece of waste ground, on the beach, in a field, etc.

foot brake ▷ noun a brake, eg in a car, operated by the foot.

footbridge ▷ noun a bridge for pedestrians.

footed ▷ adj 1 provided with a foot or feet. 2 in compounds a having a specified number or type of feet □ four-footed; b having a specified manner of walking □ light-footed.

footer ▷ noun 1 slang football. 2 colloq a kick of a football. 3 in compounds something, eg a person, boat, etc, of the specified height or length in feet □ six-footer □ That boat's an eighteen-footer.

footfall ▷ noun the sound of a footstep.

footfault ▷ noun, tennis a fault that makes the stroke invalid, caused by stepping over the BASELINE when serving.

foothill ▷ noun (usually foothills) a lower hill on the approach to a high mountain or mountain range.

foothold ▷ noun 1 a place to put one's foot when climbing. 2 a firm starting position.

footie or footy ▷ noun, colloq football.

footing ▷ noun 1 the stability of one's feet on the ground □ lose one's footing. 2 basis or status; position or rank. 3 relationship □ on a friendly footing. 4 the lower part of a column or wall, immediately above the foundation.

footle /'fuːtəl/ ▷ verb (footled, footling) intr (often footle about or around) to waste time; potter, wander aimlessly. ▷ noun silly nonsense. • footling adj. ⓘ 19c.

footlights ▷ plural noun, theat 1 a row of lights set along the front edge of a stage to illuminate it. Also called foots. 2 the theatre in general, as a profession.

footloose ▷ adj free to go where, or do as, one likes; not hampered by any ties □ footloose and fancy-free. ⓘ 19c in this sense.

footman ▷ noun, old use a uniformed male attendant. ⓘ 18c in this sense.

footmark see under FOOTPRINT footnote ▷ noun a comment at the bottom of a page, often preceded by a numbered mark or asterisk, etc which relates the comment to a particular part of the main text. ⓘ 19c.

footpath ▷ noun 1 a path or track for walkers, usually in the countryside, eg alongside fields, through a wood, etc □ public footpath. 2 a pavement.

footplate ▷ noun, old use in a steam train: a platform for the driver and fireman, who are known as the footplatemen.

foot-pound and foot-pound force ▷ noun the energy needed to raise a mass of one pound through a height of one foot.

footprint ▷ noun 1 the mark or impression of a foot or shoe left eg in sand, in soft ground, etc. Also called footmark. 2 computing the amount of space taken up by a computer and its hardware on a desk, etc.

footpump ▷ noun a pump held or operated by the foot.

footrest ▷ noun a support for the feet, such as a stool or rail, used when sitting down.

footrope ▷ noun, naut 1 a rope stretching along under a ship's YARD[2] (sense 2) for the crew to stand on when furling the sail. 2 the rope to which the lower edge of a sail is attached.

foot rot ▷ noun, vet medicine a contagious infection of the feet in sheep or cattle.

foots see under FOOTLIGHTS

Footsie /'fʊtsɪ/ ▷ noun, informal the Financial Times Stock Exchange 100-Share Index. See under FT INDEX.

footsie ▷ noun, colloq • play footsie or play footsie with someone 1 to rub one's foot or leg against someone else's, as a way of indicating attraction to them or sexual interest, usually done surreptitiously under the table eg at a dinner party. 2 to make furtively flirtatious advances towards them, eg by making comments, by eye contact, etc.

footslog ▷ verb, intr to go on foot; to trudge.

foot soldier ▷ noun a soldier serving on foot; an infantry soldier or infantryman.

footsore ▷ adj having sore and tired feet from prolonged walking.

footstalk ▷ noun, bot the stalk or petiole of a leaf.

footstep ▷ noun 1 the sound of a step in walking. 2 a footprint. • follow in the footsteps of someone to do as was done earlier by them; to copy or succeed them □ He followed in his sister's footsteps and became a top barrister.

footstool ▷ noun a low stool for supporting the feet while sitting.

foot-tapping ▷ adj said of music: having a beat that makes one tap, or want to tap, one's feet in time with it.

footway ▷ noun a passage for pedestrians.

footwear singular noun shoes, boots, socks, etc.

footwork ▷ noun the agile use of the feet in dancing or sport.

fop ▷ noun a man who is very consciously elegant in his dress and manners; a dandy. • foppery noun. • foppish adj. • foppishness noun. ⓒ 17c.

for /fɔː(r), fə(r)/ ▷ prep 1 intended to be given or sent to someone □ This is for you. 2 towards □ heading for home. 3 throughout (a time or distance) □ was writing for half an hour. 4 in order to have, get, etc □ meet for a chat □ fight for freedom. 5 at a cost of something □ said he'd do it for £10. 6 as reward, payment or penalty appropriate to something □ got seven months for stealing □ charge for one's work. 7 with a view to something □ train for the race. 8 representing; on behalf of someone □ the MP for Greenfield □ speaking for myself. 9 to the benefit of someone or something □ What can I do for you? 10 in favour of someone □ for or against the proposal. 11 proposing to oneself □ I'm for bed. 12 because of something □ couldn't see for tears. 13 on account of something □ famous for its confectionery. 14 suitable to the needs of something □ books for children. 15 having as function or purpose □ scissors for cutting hair. 16 on the occasion of something □ got it for my birthday. 17 meaning □ The German word for 'help' is 'helfen'. 18 in place of; in exchange with something □ replacements for the breakages □ translated word for word. 19 in proportion to something □ one woman for every five men. 20 up to someone □ It's for him to decide. 21 as being □ took you for someone else □ know for a fact. 22 with regard to something □ can't beat that for quality. 23 considering what one would expect □ serious for his age □ warm for winter. 24 about; aimed at □ proposals for peace □ a desire for revenge. 25 in spite of something □ quite nice for all his faults. 26 available to be disposed of or dealt with by □ not for sale. 27 with reference to time: a at or on □ an appointment for 12 noon on Friday; b so as to be starting by □ 7.30 for 8.00; c throughout (a time) □ in jail for 15 years. ▷ conj, archaic because; as □ He left, for it was late. • as for as far as concerns. • be for it or be in for it colloq to be about to receive a punishment, etc □ You're for it now that he knows. • if it hadn't been for someone or something had they not intervened or had it not happened, then (some other course of events would have unfolded). • O for if only I had □ O for a pot of gold! ⓒ Anglo-Saxon.

f.o.r. ▷ abbreviation free on rail.

fora see FORUM

forage /'fɒrɪdʒ/ ▷ noun (forages) 1 (also forage crop) agric a crop grown for consumption by livestock, eg grass, kale, swede, which may be either grazed directly or harvested and stored for later use. 2 the activity of searching around for food or provisions. ▷ verb (foraged, foraging) 1 intr to search around, especially for food. 2 to gather food or provisions from (an area), especially forcibly; to plunder (an area). 3 to rummage about for what one wants. • forager noun. ⓒ 14c: from French fourrage; compare FODDER.

forage cap ▷ noun the undress cap worn by infantry soldiers.

foramen /fɔ'reɪmən/ (foramina /fɔ'ramɪnə/ or foramens) noun, zool, anatomy a naturally occurring small opening, particularly in the bone. • foraminal adj. • foraminated or foraminous adj pierced with small holes; porous. ⓒ 17c: from Latin, from forare to pierce.

forasmuch as ▷ conj, old use, law since; seeing that.

foray /'fɒreɪ/ ▷ noun (forays) 1 a raid or attack. 2 a venture; an attempt. ▷ verb (forayed, foraying) tr & intr to raid; to pillage; to forage. • forayer noun. ⓒ 14c as forrayen to pillage, from FORAGE.

forbade or forbad past tense of FORBID forbear[1] /fɔː'bɛə(r)/ ▷ verb (past tense forbore /-'bɔː/, past participle forborne /-bɔːn/, present participle forbearing) 1 archaic to tolerate something. 2 intr (usually forbear from something or forbear to do something) to stop oneself going as far as that; to refrain from it □ forbear from answering □ forbear to mention it. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon forberan.

forbear[2] see FOREBEAR forbearance /fɔː'beərəns/ ▷ noun patience and self-control. ⓒ 16c.

forbearing ▷ adj long-suffering; patient and tolerant. • forbearingly adverb.

forbid /fə'bɪd/ ▷ verb (past tense forbade /-'bad, -'beɪd/ or forbad /-'bad/, past participle forbidden or forbid, present participle forbidding) 1 to order someone not to do something. 2 to prohibit someone from doing something. 3 to refuse someone access to somewhere □ had forbidden them the orchard. 4 tr & intr to prevent or not allow. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon forbeodan.

forbidden ▷ adj 1 prohibited; not allowed; not permitted, eg access to somewhere □ forbidden territory □ Smoking is forbidden. 2 computing said of a combination of symbols: not permitted because the combination will cause a fault, eg the corruption of data, or the system to reboot.

forbidden degrees ▷ plural noun the degrees of blood relationship within which marriage is not allowed.

forbidden fruit ▷ noun 1 Bible the fruit forbidden to Adam by God (Genesis 2.17). 2 anything tempting but prohibited.

forbidding ▷ adj 1 threatening; grim. 2 uninviting; sinister; unprepossessing. • forbiddingly adverb. • forbiddingness noun.

forbore and forborne see under FORBEAR force[1] /fɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 strength; power; impact or impetus. 2 compulsion, especially with threats or violence. 3 military power. 4 passion or earnestness. 5 strength or validity □ the force of her argument □ come into force. 6 meaning. 7 influence □ by force of habit. 8 a person or thing seen as an influence □ a force for good. 9 physics (SI unit NEWTON) (abbreviation F) a any external agent that produces a change in the speed or direction of a moving object, or that makes a stationary object move □ the force of gravity; b any external agent that produces a strain on a static object. 10 any irresistible power or agency □ the forces of nature. 11 the term used in specifying an index between 0 and 12 on the BEAUFORT SCALE, each of which corresponds to a different wind speed □ a gale of force 8 □ a force-10 gale. 12 a a military body; b (the forces) a nation's armed services. 13 any organized body or workers, etc. 14 (the force) the police force. ▷ verb (forced, forcing) 1 to make or compel someone to do something. 2 to obtain something by effort, strength, threats, violence, etc □ forced an admission from them. 3 to produce something with an effort. 4 to inflict, eg views, opinions etc (on someone) □ force one's opinions on people. 5 to make (a plant) grow or (fruit) ripen unnaturally quickly or early so that it can appear on the market out of its normal season □ Nowadays, tomatoes are often forced. 6 to strain □ force one's voice. 7 cards to induce or make someone play a particular suit or in a particular way. • forceless adj. • forcer noun. • force one's way to make progress by effort or ruthless determination. • force someone's hand to compel them to act in a certain way. • in force 1 said of a law, etc: valid; effective. 2 in large numbers □ Protestors arrived in force. • join forces to come together or unite for a purpose. ⓒ 13c: from Latin fortis strength.

■ force someone or something back or out to drive them back or out, especially meeting resistance.

force² /fɔːs/ ▷ noun, N Eng a waterfall. ⓒ 16c: from Norse fors.

forced ▷ adj 1 said of a smile, laugh, etc: unnatural; unspontaneous. 2 done or provided under compulsion □ forced labour. 3 carried out as an emergency □ a forced landing. 4 done with great and long effort □ forced marches. ● forcedly /ˈfɔːsɪdlɪ/ adverb. ● forcedness /ˈfɔːsɪdnəs/ noun.

force-feed ▷ verb to feed (a person or animal) forcibly, especially by passing liquid food through a soft rubber tube into the stomach via the mouth or nostril.

forceful ▷ adj powerful; effective; influential. ● forcefully adverb. ● forcefulness noun.

force majeure /fɔːs maˈʒɜː(r)/ ▷ noun, law an unforeseeable or uncontrollable course of events which will excuse a party from fulfilling its part of a contract. ⓒ 19c: French, meaning 'superior force'.

forcemeat ▷ noun, cookery a mixture of chopped or minced ingredients, eg vegetables, or sausage meat, herbs, etc, used as stuffing. ⓒ 17c: from FARCE + MEAT, influenced by force.

forceps /ˈfɔːseps/ ▷ singular noun (plural forceps) biol, medicine, etc an instrument like pincers, for gripping firmly, used especially in surgery and dentistry. ⓒ 16c: said to be from Latin formus warm + capere to take.

forcible /ˈfɔːsəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 done by or involving force □ forcible entry. 2 powerful □ a forcible reminder. ● forcibleness or forcibility noun. ● forcibly adverb. ⓒ 15c: French, from 16–18c sometimes spelt forceable.

ford /fɔːd/ ▷ noun a crossing-place in a river, where a road or track crosses by passing through shallow water. ▷ verb (forded, fording) to ride, drive or wade across (a stream, river, etc) by passing through shallow water. ● fordable adj. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon.

fore¹ /fɔː(r)/ ▷ adj, usually in compounds towards the front. ▷ noun 1 the front part. 2 naut the foremast. ● to the fore at or to the front; prominent; conspicuous. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon fore.

fore² /fɔː(r)/ ▷ exclamation, golf (ball coming!) a warning shout to anybody who may be in the ball's path. ⓒ 19c: probably a short form of BEFORE.

fore- ▷ prefix 1 before or beforehand □ forewarn. 2 in front □ foreleg. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon fore.

fore-and-aft ▷ adj, naut 1 at the front and rear of a vessel □ fore-and-aft rig. 2 set lengthways, pointing to the bow and stern.

fore-and-after ▷ noun a schooner or any other vessel with a fore-and-aft rig.

forearm ▷ noun /ˈfɔːrɑːm/ the lower part of the arm between wrist and elbow. ▷ verb /fɔːrˈɑːm/ (forearmed, forearming) to prepare someone or arm someone beforehand. ⓒ 18c.

forebear or forbear /ˈfɔːbeə(r)/ ▷ noun an ancestor, usually more remote than grandfather or grandmother. ⓒ 15c.

forebode ▷ verb (foreboded, foreboding) tr & intr, old use 1 to foretell; to prophesy. 2 to have a premonition of something, or that something will happen, especially something bad. ● foreboding noun a feeling of approaching trouble □ She had a foreboding that the journey would be difficult. ⓒ 17c: FORE- + BODE¹.

forebrain ▷ noun, anatomy the largest part of the brain in vertebrates, consisting of the left and right cerebral hemispheres, the thalamus and the hypothalamus.

forecast ▷ verb (forecast or sometimes forecasted, forecasting) tr & intr 1 to give warning of something; to predict something. 2 to gauge or estimate (weather, statistics, etc) in advance. They forecast snow for tonight. ▷ noun 1 a warning, prediction or advance estimate. 2 a weather forecast □ The forecast is good for skiers. ● forecaster noun. ⓒ 14c.

forecastle /ˈfoʊksəl, ˈfɔːkɑːsəl/ ▷ noun 1 a short raised deck at the front of a vessel. 2 the bow section of a ship under the main deck, formerly the crew's quarters. Often shortened to fo'c'sle. ⓒ 14c.

foreclose ▷ verb 1 said of a mortgager, bank, etc: to repossess a property because of failure on the part of the mortgagee to repay agreed amounts of the loan. 2 to prevent or hinder. ● foreclosure noun. ⓒ 15c.

forecourt ▷ noun 1 a courtyard or paved area in front of a building, eg a filling-station. 2 the part of a tennis court, badminton court, etc between the net and the service line. ⓒ 16c.

foredate ▷ verb to mark something with a date that is prior to the current date.

forefather ▷ noun an ancestor.

forefinger ▷ noun the INDEX FINGER. ⓒ 15c.

forefoot ▷ noun either of the two front feet of a four-legged animal.

forefront ▷ noun 1 the very front. 2 the most prominent or active position.

foregather see FORGATHER.

forego¹ /fɔːˈgoʊ, fəˈgoʊ/ ▷ verb (foregoes, forewent, foregone, foregoing) tr & intr to precede, either in position or time. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon foregan.

forego² see FORGO.

foregoing ▷ adj just mentioned. ▷ noun the thing or person just mentioned. ⓒ 15c.

foregone conclusion ▷ noun an inevitable or predictable result or conclusion. ⓒ 17c.

foreground ▷ noun 1 the part of a picture or field of view perceived as being nearest to the observer, as opposed to the BACKGROUND. 2 a position where one is noticeable. ▷ verb (foregrounded, foregrounding) to spotlight or emphasize something. ⓒ 19c.

forehand ▷ adj 1 tennis, squash, etc said of a stroke: with the palm in front, as opposed to BACKHAND. 2 done beforehand. ▷ noun 1 tennis, squash, etc a a stroke made with the palm facing forward; b the part of the court to the right of a right-handed player or to the left of a left-handed player. 2 the part of a horse that is in front of its rider. ▷ adverb with the hand in forehand position.

forehanded ▷ adj, US 1 planning ahead, with thought or provision for the future. 2 well-off.

forehead /ˈfɔːhed, ˈfɒrɪd/ ▷ noun the part of the face between the eyebrows and hairline; the brow. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon forheafod.

foreign /ˈfɒrɪn, ˈfɒrən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to, or coming from another country. 2 concerned with relations with other countries □ foreign affairs. 3 not belonging where found □ a piece of grit or other foreign body in the eye. ● foreign to someone 1 unfamiliar □ the technique was foreign to them. 2 uncharacteristic □ Envy was foreign to his nature. ● foreignness noun.

foreign aid ▷ noun, politics financial or other aid given by richer to poorer nations.

foreign correspondent ▷ noun a newspaper or broadcasting correspondent working in a foreign country in order to report news, etc.

foreigner ▷ noun 1 a person from another country. 2 an unfamiliar person; a person who isn't normally part of a situation and therefore doesn't seem to belong.

foreign exchange ▷ noun, commerce the amount of currency of foreign origin held in a country, derived from exporting and from overseas investment.

foreign minister and foreign secretary ▷ noun the government minister responsible for a country's relationships with other countries, and the head of the FOREIGN OFFICE. US equivalent secretary of state.

foreign office ▷ noun (abbreviation FO) the department or ministry of a government dealing with foreign or external affairs, officially called the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (abbreviation FCO). US equivalent State Department.

forejudge[1] ▷ verb to pass judgement before hearing the facts and proof. ⓘ 16c.

forejudge[2] see FORJUDGE foreknow ▷ verb (foreknown, foreknowing) to know something before it happens; to foresee something. ■ foreknowable adj. ■ foreknowledge noun. ⓘ 15c.

foreland ▷ noun a point of land running forward into the sea; a headland.

foreleg ▷ noun either of the two front legs of a four-legged animal.

forelock ▷ noun a lock of hair growing or falling over the brow. ■ pull, touch or tug the forelock to raise one's hand to the forehead as a sign of respect or subservience to someone. ⓘ 17c.

foreman, forewoman and foreperson ▷ noun 1 someone in charge of a department or group of workers, who usually also has a role as worker as well as carrying out a supervisory role. 2 law the principal juror who presides over the deliberations of the jury and communicates their verdict to the court; the chairperson or spokesperson of a jury. ⓘ 15c as foreman; forewoman and foreperson have been used since the 1970s.

foremast ▷ noun, naut the mast that is nearest to the bow of a ship. Compare MAINMAST.

forementioned ▷ adj mentioned beforehand or earlier in writing or discussion.

foremost ▷ adj leading; best. ▷ adverb leading; coming first. ■ first and foremost essentially; most importantly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon formest, from forma first.

forename ▷ noun used on official forms, etc: one's personal name as distinct from one's family name or surname. Compare CHRISTIAN NAME, FIRST NAME.

forenamed ▷ adj mentioned before.

forenoon /ˈfɔːnuːn/ ▷ noun, Scot the morning. ▷ adj referring to this time. ⓘ 16c.

forensic /fəˈrensɪk, -zɪk/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to courts of law, or to the work of a lawyer in court. 2 concerned with the scientific side of legal investigations □ forensic laboratory. ■ forensically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin forensis, belonging to the forum, where law courts were held in Rome.

forensic linguistics ▷ noun the use of linguistic techniques to investigate crime and to examine evidence relating to a crime.

forensic medicine ▷ noun the branch of medicine concerned with the production of evidence in order to determine the cause of a death, the identity of a criminal, etc, used in civil or criminal law cases. Also called medical jurisprudence.

foreordain ▷ verb to determine (events, etc) in advance; to destine. ⓘ 15c.

forepart ▷ noun the front; the early part.

forepayment ▷ noun payment for something in advance or before receiving the goods or services.

foreperson see under FOREMAN foreplay ▷ noun sexual stimulation, often leading up to sexual intercourse. ⓘ 1920s.

forequarter ▷ noun 1 the front portion of a side of meat, including the leg. 2 (forequarters) said of an animal, especially a horse: the forelegs and shoulders, and the body area adjoining them.

forerunner ▷ noun 1 a person or thing that goes before; an earlier type or version; a predecessor. 2 a sign of what is to come. 3 an advance messenger or herald.

foresaid ▷ adj already mentioned.

foresee ▷ verb to see that something will happen in advance, or know in advance, often by circumstantial evidence.

foreseeable ▷ adj 1 capable of being foreseen. 2 referring to a time as long as one can envisage given the current circumstances □ for the foreseeable future.

foreshadow ▷ verb to give or have some indication of something in advance.

foreshore ▷ noun the area on the shore between the positions that the high and low tides reach, regularly covered and uncovered by the tide. ⓘ 16c.

foreshorten ▷ verb in photographic or artistic perspective: to give a shortening effect to something, in order to give it a realistic-looking perspective □ foreshortened limbs. ■ foreshortening noun. ⓘ 17c.

foresight ▷ noun 1 the ability to foresee. 2 wise forethought; prudence. 3 consideration taken or provision made for the future. 4 the front sight on a gun. ■ foresighted adj.

foreskin ▷ noun, anatomy the retractable fold of skin that covers the end of the penis. Technical equivalent PREPUCE. ⓘ 16c.

forest /ˈfɒrɪst/ ▷ noun 1 bot a plant community extending over a large area and dominated by trees, the crowns of which form an unbroken covering layer or canopy. 2 a tract of country formerly owned, and used for hunting, by a sovereign. 3 a dense arrangement of objects. ▷ adj relating to or consisting of a forest. ▷ verb (forested, foresting) to cover (an area) with trees; to cover (an area) thickly with tall, upright objects. ■ forested adj. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin forestis silva unfenced woodland, from foris outside.

forestall ▷ verb 1 to prevent something by acting in advance □ issue an announcement to forestall the inevitable questions. 2 to buy something up before it reaches the market, so as to sell it again at higher prices. ■ forestaller noun. ■ forestalling noun. ⓘ 15c, meaning 'to waylay'.

forester ▷ noun 1 a person whose job is to manage a forest; someone trained in forestry. 2 a person or animal that lives in a forest. 3 (Forester) a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters.

forestry ▷ noun the management of forest and woodland for the commercial production of timber, including the growing and maintenance of trees, the felling of mature trees, etc.

foretaste ▷ noun a brief experience of what is to come.

foretell ▷ verb to tell about something beforehand; to predict or prophesy something. ⓘ 13c.

forethought ▷ noun consideration taken or provision made for the future.

foretop ▷ noun, naut the platform at the top or head of the foremast.

forever ▷ adverb (also for ever) 1 always; eternally; for all time. 2 continually □ forever whining. 3 informal for a very long time. ▷ noun 1 an endless or indefinite length of time. 2 a very long time.

forevermore ▷ adverb a more emphatic term for FOREVER.

forewarn ▷ verb to warn beforehand; to give previous notice.

forewent past participle of FOREGO forewoman see FOREMAN

foreword ▷ noun an introduction to a book, often by a writer other than the author; preface. ⓘ 19c.

forfeit /ˈfɔːfɪt/ ▷ noun 1 something that one must surrender as a penalty. 2 a penalty or fine for a crime. 3 (especially forfeits) a game in which a player surrenders an item (a forfeit) which can be won back only by performing a task, or fulfilling a challenge, set for them. ▷ adj surrendered or liable to be surrendered as a penalty. ▷ verb (forfeited, forfeiting) 1 to hand over as a penalty □ forfeit his passport. 2 to give up or do without voluntarily. ● forfeitable adj. ⓘ 14c: from French forfait, from Latin forisfactum penalty.

forfeiture ▷ noun 1 the act of forfeiting. 2 the state of being forfeited. 3 something that is forfeited. ⓘ 14c.

forgather or foregather ▷ verb, intr to meet together; to assemble. ⓘ 16c.

forgave past tense of FORGIVE forge[1] /fɔːdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a special furnace for heating metal, especially iron, prior to shaping it. 2 the workshop of a blacksmith, where metal is heated and shaped into horseshoes, tools, etc. ▷ verb (forged, forging) 1 to shape metal by heating and hammering, or by beating and applying pressure more gradually. 2 to make an imitation of (a signature, document, banknote, etc) for a dishonest or fraudulent purpose. ● forgeable adj. ● forger noun. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin fabrica workshop.

forge[2] /fɔːdʒ/ ▷ verb (forged, forging) intr to progress swiftly and steadily □ forged through the forest at breakneck speed. ⓘ 18c.

■ forge ahead 1 to forge. 2 to take the lead.

forgery ▷ noun (forgeries) 1 imitating pictures, documents, signatures, etc for a fraudulent purpose. 2 a copy made for a fraudulent purpose. ⓘ 17c.

forget /fəˈget/ ▷ verb (forgot, forgotten, forgetting) tr & intr (usually forget something or forget about something) 1 (also forget to do something) to fail to remember it or be unable to remember it. 2 to stop being aware of something □ forgot his headache in the excitement. 3 to neglect or overlook something. 4 to leave something behind accidentally. 5 colloq to dismiss something from one's mind □ You can forget your proposed skiing trip. 6 to lose control over (oneself). ● forget it colloq it doesn't matter. ● not forgetting … and also …; including … ⓘ Anglo-Saxon forgietan.

forgetful ▷ adj inclined to forget. ● forgetfully adj. ● forgetfulness noun.

forget-me-not ▷ noun a low-growing annual or perennial plant, native to temperate regions, with clusters of small flowers, often pink in bud and turning blue as they open, and sometimes having a yellow or white eye as a HONEY GUIDE. ⓘ 16c: a translation of French ne m'oubliez mye.

forgive ▷ verb (forgave, forgiven, forgiving) 1 to stop being angry with (someone who has done something wrong) or about (an offence). 2 to pardon someone. 3 to spare someone the paying of (a debt). ● forgivable adj. ● forgivably adverb. ● forgiver noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon forgiefan.

forgiveness ▷ noun 1 the act of forgiving or state of being forgiven. 2 readiness to forgive.

forgiving ▷ adj ready to forgive; patient and tolerant.

forgo or forego /fɔːˈgoʊ, fəˈgoʊ/ ▷ verb (forgoes, forwent, forgone, forgoing) to do without something; to sacrifice something or give it up □ I'll forgo that for you. Compare FOREGO[1]. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon forgan.

forgot and forgotten see under FORGET forint /ˈfɒrɪnt/ ▷ noun the standard unit of currency of Hungary since 1946. ⓘ 1940s: Hungarian, from Italian fiorino florin.

forjudge and forejudge ▷ verb, law to deprive someone of a right, etc, by a judgement. Compare also FOREJUDGE[1]. ⓘ 13c.

fork /fɔːk/ ▷ noun 1 an eating or cooking implement with prongs (usually three), for spearing and lifting food. 2 a pronged digging or lifting tool. 3 a the division of a road, etc into two branches; b one such branch □ take the left fork. 4 something that divides similarly into two parts, eg the wheel support of a bicycle. 5 in compounds □ fish fork □ hayfork. ▷ verb (forked, forking) 1 intr said of a road, etc: to divide into two branches. 2 intr said of a person or vehicle: to follow one such branch □ fork left at the church. 3 to lift or move with a fork. 4 chess to simultaneously put two of one's opponent's pieces under attack with one of one's own pieces. ● forker noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon forca, from Latin furca a fork for hay.

■ fork out something for something colloq to pay for it, under pressure rather than voluntarily.

forked ▷ adj 1 dividing into two branches or parts; shaped like a fork. 2 said of lightning: forming zigzagged lines of light.

forkful ▷ noun (forkfuls) the amount which can be held on a fork.

fork-lift truck ▷ noun a small vehicle equipped with two horizontal prongs that can be raised and lowered to move or stack goods, used in particular in warehouses.

forlorn /fəˈlɔːn/ ▷ adj 1 exceedingly unhappy; miserable. 2 deserted; forsaken. 3 desperate. ● forlornly adverb. ● forlornness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon forloren.

forlorn hope ▷ noun 1 a desperate but impractical hope. 2 a hopeless undertaking, with little chance of success. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch verloren hoop literally 'lost troop', originally referring to a body of soldiers dispatched to begin an attack.

form[1] /fɔːm/ ▷ noun 1 shape. 2 figure or outward appearance. 3 kind, type, variety or manifestation. 4 a document with printed text and spaces for the insertion of information. 5 a way, especially the correct way, of doing or saying something. 6 structure and organization in a piece of writing or work of art. 7 one's potential level of performance, eg in sport □ soon find your form again. 8 any of the ways that a word can be spelt or grammatically inflected □ the past tense form. 9 a school class. 10 a bench. 11 slang a criminal record. 12 a hare's burrow. ▷ verb (formed, forming) 1 to organize or set something up. 2 intr to come into existence; to take shape. 3 to shape; to make (a shape). 4 to take on the shape or function of something. 5 to make up; to constitute. 6 to develop □ form a relationship. 7 to influence or mould someone or something □ the environment that formed him. 8 to construct, inflect grammatically or pronounce (a word). ● formable adj. ● forming noun. ● good or bad form polite or impolite social behaviour □ That really is bad form. ● in good form in good spirits or health. ● a matter of form a case of a procedure being gone through for the sake of legality or convention. ● on or off form performing well or badly. ● take form to come into existence; to begin to have shape. ● true to form in the usual, typical or characteristic way. ⓘ 13c: from Latin forma shape or model.

form[2] see FORME

-form ▷ combining form 1 having the specified appearance or structure □ cuneiform □ cruciform □ fusiform. 2 in the specified number of forms or varieties □ multiform □ uniform. ⓘ From Latin -formis, from forma shape.

formal ▷ adj 1 relating to or involving etiquette, ceremony or conventional procedure generally □ formal dress. 2 stiffly polite rather than relaxed and friendly. 3 valid; official; explicit □ a formal agreement □ formal proof. 4 said of language: strictly correct with regard to grammar, style and choice of words, as distinct from conversational. 5 organized and methodical □ the formal approach to teaching. 6 precise and symmetrical in design □ a formal garden. 7 relating to outward form as distinct from content. • formally adverb in a formal way.

formaldehyde /fɔːˈmaldɪhaɪd/ ▷ noun, chem (formula HCHO) a colourless pungent gas, the simplest of the aldehydes, widely used as a disinfectant and preservative for biological specimens, and also used in the manufacture of synthetic resins, eg Bakelite. Also called methanal. ⓘ 19c: from FORMIC + ALDEHYDE.

formalin /ˈfɔːməlɪn/ ▷ noun, chem a clear solution of formaldehyde in water used as a preservative, antiseptic and disinfectant. ⓘ 19c: from FORMALDEHYDE.

formalism ▷ noun 1 concern, especially excessive concern, with outward form, to the exclusion of content. 2 math the mathematical or logical structure of a scientific argument, consisting of formal rules and symbols which are intrinsically meaningless. 3 literary theory concern with literary technique and analysis to the exclusion of social and historical content ⓘ referring in particular to a Russian literary group of the early 20c that promoted this approach to literary analysis. • formalist noun. • formalistic adj. ⓘ 19c.

formality ▷ noun (formalities) 1 a procedure gone through as a requirement of etiquette, ceremony, the law, etc. 2 a procedure gone through merely for the sake of correctness or legality □ The interview was a formality, as she had already been promised the job. 3 strict attention to the rules of social behaviour.

formalize or formalise ▷ verb (formalized, formalizing) 1 to make something precise; to give a clear statement of something. 2 to make something official, eg by putting it in writing, etc; to give definite or legal form to something. • formalization noun.

formally see under FORMAL.

formal verdict ▷ noun 1 law a verdict in which the jury follows the judge's directions. 2 Scots law in a fatal accident inquiry: a finding of death by misadventure with no apportioning of blame.

formant /ˈfɔːmənt/ ▷ noun, acoustics, phonetics the dominant component or components which determine the particular sound quality of all vowels and some consonants, being peaks of acoustic energy which reflect the principal points of resonance in the vocal tract. ⓘ 19c: from German Formant, from Latin formare to form.

format /ˈfɔːmat/ ▷ noun 1 the size and shape of something, especially a book or magazine. 2 the style in which a television programme, radio programme, etc is organized and presented. 3 computing a specific arrangement of data in tracks and sectors on a disk. ▷ verb (formatted, formatting) 1 to design, shape or organize in a particular way. 2 to organize (data) for input into a particular computer. 3 to prepare a new disk for use by marking out the surface into tracks and sectors, so that it is capable of receiving data. • formatter noun a program for formatting a disk, tape, etc. ⓘ 19c: French, from Latin liber formatus a book formed or shaped in a certain way.

formation /fɔːˈmeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of forming, making, developing or establishing something. 2 a a particular arrangement, pattern or order, particularly of troops, aircraft, players of a game, etc □ flew in formation over the showground; b a shape or structure; c as adj □ formation dancing □ formation flying. 3 geol a mass or area of rocks which have common characteristics. ⓘ 15c: from Latin formatio shape.

formative ▷ adj 1 relating to development or growth □ the formative years. 2 having an effect on development. ⓘ 15c: from French formatif.

forme or (US) form /fɔːm/ ▷ noun, printing the type and blocks assembled in a CHASE², ready for printing. ⓘ 15c: variant of FORM¹.

former ▷ adj 1 belonging to an earlier time □ in former years □ the former prime minister. 2 said of two people or things: mentioned, considered, etc first. 3 previous; earlier. • the former said of two people or things: the first one mentioned, considered, etc. Compare LATTER. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon formere, the comparative of forma first or earliest.

> former
>
> • Former contrasts with latter; unlike latter it is invariably used to refer to one of only two things. This is not for any grammatical reason but because it would be awkward to refer back across several things in reference to the first of them.

formerly ▷ adverb previously; in the past; before this time. ⓘ 16c.

formic /ˈfɔːmɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or derived from ants. 2 containing or derived from formic acid. ⓘ 18c: from Latin formica ant.

Formica /fɔːˈmaɪkə/ ▷ noun, trademark a hard heat-resistant plastic, used for making easy-to-clean work surfaces in kitchens, laboratories, etc. ⓘ 1920s.

formic acid ▷ noun, chem (formula HCOOH) a colourless pungent liquid that is toxic and corrosive, and is largely responsible for the stinging sensation produced by ant bites and stinging nettles. It is also used in the dyeing of textiles, and as a fumigant and insecticide. Also called methanoic acid. ⓘ 18c: from Latin formica ant.

formidable /ˈfɔːmɪdəbəl, fəˈmɪ-/ ▷ adj 1 awesomely impressive. 2 said of problems, etc: enormous; difficult to overcome. • formidability noun. • formidableness noun. • formidably adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin formidabilis causing fear, from formido fear.

formless ▷ adj lacking a clear shape or structure. • formlessly adverb. • formlessness noun.

form letter ▷ noun a letter with a fixed form and contents, used especially when writing to a number of people about the same or similar matters.

form of address ▷ noun 1 the word or words used as a title before a person's name. 2 the form of words used in speaking to someone on a formal or ceremonial occasion.

formula /ˈfɔːmjʊlə/ ▷ noun (formulae /-liː, -laɪ/ or formulas) 1 the combination of ingredients used in a product, etc. 2 a method or rule of procedure, especially a successful one. 3 chem a combination of chemical symbols that represents the chemical composition of a particular substance. 4 math, physics a mathematical equation or expression, or a physical law, that represents the relationship between various quantities, and is usually expressed in numerical figures and letters, eg $E = mc^2$. 5 an established piece of wording used by convention eg in religious ceremonies or legal proceedings. 6 a term used for classifying racing cars according to engine size □ Formula One racing. 7 N Amer powdered milk for babies. • formulaic /fɔːmjʊˈleɪɪk/ adj. ⓘ 16c: Latin diminutive of forma form.

formularize or formularise /ˈfɔːmjʊləraɪz/ ▷ verb (formularized, formularizing) to FORMULATE (senses 1 and 2).

formulary /ˈfɔːmjʊlərɪ/ ▷ noun (formularies) a book or collection of formulas, especially legal or religious ones. ⓘ 16c: from French formulaire.

formulate /ˈfɔːmjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (formulated, formulating) 1 to express something in terms of a formula. 2 to express something in systematic terms. 3 to express something precisely and clearly □ formulated the idea carefully. • formulation noun. ⓘ 19c.

fornicate /ˈfɔːnɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (fornicated, fornicating) intr to have sexual intercourse outside marriage. • fornicator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fornicari, fornicatus.

fornication /fɔːnɪˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 voluntary sexual intercourse outside marriage. 2 Bible sexual immorality in general.

forsake /fə'seɪk, fɔː-/ ▷ verb (forsook, forsaken, forsaking) to desert; to abandon. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon forsacan, from sacan to strive.

forsaken ▷ adj completely abandoned; forlorn. • forsakenly adverb. • forsakenness noun.

forswear /fɔː'sweə(r), fə-/ ▷ verb (forswore, forsworn, forswearing) old use 1 to give up or renounce (one's foolish ways, etc). 2 to perjure (oneself). ⓘ Anglo-Saxon forswerian to swear falsely.

forsythia /fɔː'saɪθɪə/ ▷ noun (forsythias) a deciduous shrub cultivated for its bright yellow flowers that appear before the leaves. ⓘ 19c: named after the British botanist W Forsyth (1737–1804).

fort /fɔːt/ ▷ noun a fortified military building, enclosure or position. • hold the fort to keep things running in the absence of the person normally in charge. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fortis strong.

forte[1] /'fɔːteɪ/ ▷ noun something one is good at; a strong point. ⓘ 17c: from French fort strong.

forte[2] /'fɔːteɪ/ ▷ (abbreviation f) music, adverb in a loud manner. ▷ adj loud. See also FORTISSIMO. ⓘ 18c: Italian.

forte-piano /fɔːtɪpɪ'ɑːnoʊ/ (abbreviation fp) music ▷ adj, adverb loud and then immediately soft . ▷ noun (forte-pianos) an early type of piano. ⓘ 18c: Italian.

forth /fɔːθ/ ▷ adverb, old use except in phrases 1 into existence or view ◻ bring forth children. 2 forwards ◻ swing back and forth. 3 out ◻ set forth on a journey. 4 onwards ◻ from this day forth. • and so forth and so on; et cetera. • hold forth to speak, especially at length. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

> forth
>
> There is often a spelling confusion between forth and fourth.

forthcoming ▷ adj 1 happening or appearing soon. 2 said of a person: willing to talk; communicative. 3 available on request.

forthright /'fɔːθraɪt, fɔːθ'raɪt/ ▷ adj firm, frank, straightforward and decisive. • forthrightly adverb. • forthrightness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon forthriht.

forthwith /fɔːθ'wɪθ, -wɪð/ ▷ adverb immediately; at once.

the Forties ▷ plural noun the sea area lying between NE Scotland and SW Norway, with a minimum depth of 40 fathoms.

forties /'fɔːtɪz/ (often written 40s or 40's) ▷ plural noun 1 (one's forties) the period of time between one's fortieth and fiftieth birthdays ◻ Gill is in her forties. 2 (the forties) a the range of temperatures between forty and fifty degrees ◻ It must be in the forties today; b the period of time between the fortieth and fiftieth years of a century ◻ died in the 40s. 3 as adj ◻ forties music. • the roaring forties the area of stormy west winds south of latitude 40°S, or north of latitude 40°N in the Atlantic.

fortieth (often written 40th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after thirty-ninth; b last of forty. 2 in fortieth position. ▷ noun 1 one of forty equal parts. Also as adj ◻ a fortieth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by forty (usually written ¹/₄₀). 3 a person coming fortieth, eg in a race or exam ◻ He came fortieth in a class of ninety. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see FORTY + -TH.

fortification /fɔːtɪfɪ'keɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of fortifying. 2 (fortifications) walls and other defensive structures built in preparation for an attack.

fortify /'fɔːtɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (fortifies, fortified, fortifying) 1 to strengthen (a building, city, etc) in preparation for an attack. 2 to add extra alcohol to (wine) in the course of production, in order to produce sherry, port, etc. 3 to confirm. • fortifiable adj. • fortifier noun. ⓘ 15c: ultimately from Latin fortis strong + -FY.

fortis /'fɔːtɪs/ phonetics ▷ adj articulated with considerable muscular effort and pressure of breath. ▷ noun (plural fortes /-tiːz/) a consonant that is produced in this way. Compare LENIS. ⓘ Early 20c: Latin, meaning 'strong'.

fortissimo /fɔː'tɪsɪmoʊ/ music (abbreviation ff) ▷ adverb in a very loud manner. ▷ adj very loud. See also FORTE². ⓘ 18c: Italian superlative of forte (see FORTE²).

fortitude /'fɔːtɪtʃuːd/ ▷ noun uncomplaining courage in pain or misfortune. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fortitudo strength.

fortnight /'fɔːtnaɪt/ ▷ noun a period of 14 days; two weeks. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon feowertiene niht fourteen nights.

fortnightly ▷ adj occurring, appearing, etc once every fortnight; bi-monthly. ▷ adverb once a fortnight. ▷ noun (fortnightlies) a publication which comes out every two weeks.

FORTRAN /'fɔːtran/ ▷ noun, computing a high-level programming language widely used for mathematical, scientific and engineering programs in the 1950s and 1960s. ⓘ 1950s: from formula translation.

fortress /'fɔːtrəs/ ▷ noun a fortified town, or large fort or castle. ⓘ 13c: from French forteresse strength or a strong place.

fortress Europe ▷ noun the idea that as economic and political internal borders within the European Union are abolished, external barriers on trade and immigration will be strengthened, threatening free world trade and increasing prejudice against things non-European.

fortuitous /fɔː'tjuːɪtəs/ ▷ adj happening by chance; accidental. • fortuitously adverb. • fortuitousness noun. • fortuity noun (fortuities). ⓘ 17c: from Latin fortuitus, from forte by chance, from fors chance.

> fortuitous, fortunate
>
> • You will occasionally find fortuitous used to mean fortunate, a use that is encouraged when both meanings are possible or intended in a particular sentence ◻ It was fortuitous that they arrived as we were leaving.
>
> ☆ RECOMMENDATION: use fortunate if that is what you mean.

fortunate ▷ adj 1 lucky; favoured by fate. 2 timely; opportune. • fortunately adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin fortunatus; see also FORTUNE, FORTUITOUS.

fortune /'fɔːtʃən/ ▷ noun 1 chance as a force in human affairs; fate. 2 luck. 3 (fortunes) unpredictable happenings that swing affairs this way or that ◻ the fortunes of war. 4 (fortunes) the state of one's luck. 5 one's destiny. 6 a large sum of money. • make one's fortune to become prosperous. • a small fortune a large amount of money. • tell someone's fortune to tell them what their destiny is. ⓘ 13c: from Latin fortuna.

fortune cookie ▷ noun dough wrapped and cooked around a piece of paper which has a maxim or (supposed) fortune on it, served especially in Chinese homes and restaurants.

fortune-hunter ▷ noun someone who seeks marriage with a wealthy partner in order to secure a large amount of money.

fortune-teller ▷ noun a person who claims to be able to tell people their destinies. • fortune-telling noun, adj.

forty /'fɔːtɪ/ ▷ noun (forties) 1 a the cardinal number 40; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than thirty-nine, or the product of ten and four. 2 any symbol for this, eg 40 or XL. Also in compounds, forming adjectives and nouns with cardinal numbers between one and nine ◻ forty-three. 3 the age of forty. 4 something, especially a garment or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 40. 5 a set or group of forty people or things. 6 a score of forty points. ▷ adj 1 totalling forty. Also in compounds forming adjectives and nouns, with ordinal numbers between first and ninth □ forty-third. 2 aged forty. See also FORTIES, FORTIETH. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon feowertig; see FOUR + -TY.

forty-five ▷ noun, dated a RECORD (noun 4), usually 7 inches in diameter, played at a speed of 45 revolutions per minute. Compare TWELVE-INCH, LP, SEVENTY-EIGHT.

the Forty-Five ▷ noun the Jacobite rebellion of 1745–6.

fortyish ▷ adj 1 about forty years old. 2 about forty in number. ⓘ 19c.

forty winks ▷ plural noun, colloq a short sleep; a nap.

forum /ˈfɔːrəm/ ▷ noun (forums or (rare) fora /ˈfɔːrə/) 1 historical a public square or market place, especially that in ancient Rome where public business was conducted and law courts held. 2 a meeting to discuss topics of public concern. 3 a place, programme or publication where opinions can be expressed and openly discussed. ⓘ 15c: Latin.

forward /ˈfɔːwəd/ ▷ adverb 1 (also forwards) in the direction in front or ahead of one. 2 (also forwards) progressing from first to last. 3 on or onward; to a later time □ put the clocks forward. 4 to an earlier time □ bring the wedding forward a month. 5 into view or public attention □ put forward suggestions. 6 /ˈfɒrəd/ naut towards the front or bow of an aircraft or ship. ▷ adj 1 in the direction in front or ahead. 2 at the front. 3 advanced in development □ How far forward are the plans? 4 concerning the future □ forward planning. 5 derog inclined to push oneself forward; over-bold in offering one's opinions. ▷ noun, sport a player whose task is to attack rather than defend. Compare BACK noun 6. ▷ verb (forwarded, forwarding) 1 to send (mail) on to another address from the one to which it arrived. 2 to help the progress of something. ● forwardly adverb. ● forwardness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon foreweard.

forward-looking ▷ adj planning ahead; progressive, enterprising or go-ahead.

forwent past tense of FORGO.

Fosbury flop /ˈfɒzbərɪ —/ ▷ noun a method of high-jumping in which the athlete goes over the bar horizontally on their back. ⓘ 20c: named after R Fosbury, born 1947, US athlete.

fossa /ˈfɒsə/ ▷ noun (fossae /-siː/) anatomy a pit or depression, or hollow area. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'ditch', from fodere, fossum to dig.

fosse or foss /fɒs/ ▷ noun (fosses) a ditch, moat, trench or canal. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin fossa ditch.

fossil /ˈfɒsɪl/ ▷ noun 1 geol the petrified remains, impression or cast of an animal or plant preserved within a rock. 2 a relic of the past. 3 colloq a curiously antiquated person. 4 as adj a like or in the form of a fossil; b formed naturally through the decomposition of organic matter, and dug or otherwise got from the earth □ fossil fuels. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fossilis dug up.

fossil-fired ▷ adj said of a power station, etc: burning fossil fuel.

fossil fuel ▷ noun any fuel derived from the fossilized remains of plants and animals, such as coal, petroleum and natural gas, often contrasted with sources of NUCLEAR ENERGY and RENEWABLE RESOURCES. ⓘ Early 19c.

fossiliferous /fɒsɪˈlɪfərəs/ ▷ adj, geol said of rocks, etc: containing fossils.

fossilize or fossilise ▷ verb (fossilized, fossilizing) tr & intr 1 to change or be changed into a fossil. 2 to become or make someone or something old-fashioned, inflexible, etc. ● fossilization noun.

fossil water ▷ noun water which has been trapped in an underground reservoir since a previous geological age.

fossorial /fɒˈsɔːrɪəl/ ▷ adj, zool adapted for digging. ⓘ 19c: from Latin fodere, fossum to dig.

foster /ˈfɒstə(r)/ ▷ verb (fostered, fostering) 1 tr & intr to bring up (a child that is not one's own). 2 to put (a child) into the care of someone who is not its parent, usually for a temporary period of time. 3 to encourage the development of (ideas, feelings, etc). 4 as adj a concerned with or offering fostering □ foster home; b in a specified family relationship through fostering rather than by birth □ foster mother □ foster parent □ foster brother. Compare ADOPT. ● fosterer noun. ● fostering noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fostrian to feed.

Foucault current see under EDDY CURRENT.

Foucault's pendulum /ˈfuːkoʊz —/ ▷ noun, astron an instrument consisting of a heavy metal ball suspended by a very long fine wire, devised in 1851 to demonstrate the rotation of the Earth, and often seen in shopping malls as a clock. ⓘ 19c: named after its inventor J B L Foucault (1819–68), French physicist.

fouetté / French fwete/ ▷ noun (fouettés) ballet a step in which the foot makes a sideways whiplike movement. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'whipped'.

fought past tense, past participle of FIGHT foul /faʊl/ ▷ adj 1 disgusting □ a foul smell. 2 soiled; filthy. 3 contaminated □ foul air. 4 colloq very unkind or unpleasant. 5 said of language: offensive or obscene. 6 unfair or treacherous □ by fair means or foul. 7 said of weather: stormy. 8 clogged. 9 entangled. ▷ noun, sport a breach of the rules. ▷ verb (fouled, fouling) 1 tr & intr, sport to commit an act against (an opponent) which breaches the rules. 2 to make something dirty or polluted. 3 to contaminate or pollute something. 4 tr & intr a (also foul up) to become entangled; b to become entangled with something so as to hinder its movement or functioning. ▷ adverb in a foul manner; unfairly. ● foully adverb. ● foulness noun. ● fall foul of someone or something see under FALL. ● foul one's nest to do something harmful or dishonourable to oneself or one's family. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ful.

■ foul something up 1 to clog it. 2 colloq to mess it up; to bungle it.

foulard /fuːˈlɑːd, fuːˈlɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a soft untwilled silk fabric. ⓘ 19c: French.

foul-mouthed and foul-spoken ▷ adj said of a person: using offensive or obscene language. ● foul-mouthedness and foul-spokenness noun.

foul play ▷ noun 1 treachery or criminal violence, especially murder. 2 sport a breach of the rules.

foul-up ▷ noun, colloq a bungled situation; a failure or disaster.

found[1] /faʊnd/ ▷ verb (founded, founding) 1 to start or establish (an organization, institution, city, etc), often with a provision for future funding. 2 to lay the foundation of (a building). ⓘ 13c: from Latin fundare, from fundus bottom or foundation.

found[2] /faʊnd/ ▷ verb (founded, founding) 1 to cast (metal or glass) by melting and pouring it into a mould. 2 to produce (articles) by this method. ● founding noun. See also FOUNDRY. ⓘ 14c: from Latin fundere to pour.

found[3] past tense, past participle of FIND. ● all found see under ALL.

foundation /faʊnˈdeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a the act of founding or establishing an institution, etc; b the institution, etc founded or the fund providing for it □ Paul was awarded a grant from the Smith Foundation. 2 (usually foundations) the underground structure on which a building is supported and built. 3 the basis on which a theory, etc rests or depends. ● foundational adj. ⓘ 14c.

foundation course ▷ noun (also foundation) an introductory course, usually taken as a preparation for more advanced studies □ He's taking a foundation course at art college □ He's on foundation this year.

foundation cream ▷ noun (usually foundation) a cream, lotion, etc smoothed into the skin as a base for additional cosmetics.

foundation garment ▷ noun a woman's undergarment for supporting or controlling the figure, eg a corset, girdle, etc.

foundation stone ▷ noun a stone laid ceremonially as part of the foundations of a new building, often with an inscription on it.

founder[1] /ˈfaʊndə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who founds or endows an institution, etc. ⓔ 14c: from FOUND[1].

founder[2] /ˈfaʊndə(r)/ ▷ verb (foundered, foundering) intr 1 said of a ship: to sink. 2 said of a vehicle, etc: to get stuck in mud, etc. 3 said of a horse: to go lame. 4 said of a business, scheme, etc: to fail. ⓔ 14c: from French fondrer to plunge to the bottom.

founder[3] /ˈfaʊndə(r)/ ▷ noun a person whose job is to make metal castings □ bell-founder. ⓔ 15c: from FOUND[2].

founder member ▷ noun one of the members of a society, organization, etc who was instrumental in its foundation.

founding father ▷ noun someone who founds or establishes an institution, organization, etc.

foundling ▷ noun an abandoned child of unknown parents. ⓔ 13c: from FOUND[1].

found object ▷ noun, art 1 a term used by the Dadaists and Surrealists for any everyday object incorporated in a picture. 2 any object, such as a piece of driftwood or a length of rope, picked up and exhibited as a work of art, displayed either on its own or in a composition. Also called objet trouvé. ⓔ 1920s.

foundry /ˈfaʊndrɪ/ ▷ noun (foundries) 1 a place where metal or glass is melted and cast. 2 the art of founding or casting of metal or glass. ⓔ 17c: from French fonderie; see FOUND[2].

fount[1] /faʊnt/ or font /fɒnt/ ▷ noun, printing a set of printing type of the same design and size. ⓔ 17c: from French fonte casting.

fount[2] /faʊnt/ ▷ noun 1 a spring or fountain. 2 a source of inspiration, etc. ⓔ 16c: from FOUNTAIN.

fountain /ˈfaʊntɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a a jet or jets of water for ornamental effect; b a structure supporting this, consisting of a basin and statues, etc. 2 a jet of water for drinking □ drinking fountain. 3 a spring of water. 4 a source of wisdom, etc. ⓔ 15c: from French fontaine, from Latin fons fountain.

fountainhead ▷ noun 1 a spring from which a stream flows. 2 the principal source of something.

fountain pen ▷ noun a metal-nibbed pen equipped with a cartridge or reservoir of ink.

four /fɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 4; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than three. 2 any symbol for this, eg 4 or IV. 3 the age of four. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 4. 5 the fourth hour after midnight or midday □ Tea's at four □ 4 o'clock □ 4pm. 6 a set or group of four people or things. 7 a the crew of a rowing boat with four sweep oars; b such a boat. 8 a playing-card with four pips. 9 a score of four points. 10 cricket a score of four runs awarded if the ball reaches the boundary having hit the ground. ▷ adj 1 totalling four. 2 aged four. ● on all fours on hands and knees. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon feower.

four-by-four ▷ noun a vehicle in which the driving power is transmitted to all four wheels, as opposed to the front two or back two wheels. Also called four-wheel drive (abbreviation 4WD). Compare FRONT-WHEEL DRIVE, REAR-WHEEL DRIVE.

four-colour process ▷ noun, photog, printing a technique for reproducing a full-colour image using only four colours of ink.

four-eyed fish see ANABLEPS four-figure number ▷ noun a number consisting of four figures, ie one between 1 000 and 9 999.

fourfold ▷ adj 1 equal to four times as much. 2 divided into or consisting of four parts. ▷ adverb by four times as much. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon; see FOUR + -FOLD.

four-foot ▷ adj measuring four feet (ie 48 inches) in width, length, etc □ a four-foot table □ four-foot square.

four-footed ▷ adj referring to an animal, etc with four feet.

the Four Freedoms ▷ plural noun four basic human rights proclaimed by President Roosevelt in his annual message to Congress (1941), ie freedom of speech and worship, and freedom from want and fear.

four-handed ▷ adj 1 cards referring to a game with four players. 2 having four hands.

four-in-hand ▷ noun a coach drawn by four horses and driven by one driver.

four-leaf clover ▷ noun a clover with four leaflets, rather than the normal three, which is supposed to bring good luck to the finder.

four-letter word ▷ noun 1 any of several short English words referring to sex or excretion, such as fuck, shit and cunt, often used as expletives, usually considered offensive, and sometimes written with some of the letters replaced by asterisks. 2 any word which would be considered offensive or frustrating to someone with certain ambitions or principles □ He's on a diet, so chocolate is a four-letter word.

fourpenny one ▷ noun, slang a blow or punch.

four-poster ▷ noun a large bed with a post at each corner to support curtains and a canopy. Also called four-poster bed. ⓔ 19c.

fourscore ▷ adj, noun, archaic eighty. ⓔ 13c.

foursome ▷ noun 1 a set or group of four people. 2 golf a game between two pairs of players. Also as adj □ foursome match. ⓔ 16c.

four-square ▷ adj 1 strong; steady; solidly based. 2 said of a building: square and solid-looking. ▷ adverb steadily; squarely.

four-stroke ▷ adj referring to an internal-combustion engine in which the piston makes a recurring cycle of two pairs of in-out strokes for each explosion.

fourteen ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 14; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than thirteen, or the sum of ten and four. 2 any symbol for this, eg 14 or XIV. 3 the age of fourteen. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 14. 5 a set or group of fourteen people or things. 6 a score of fourteen points. ▷ adj 1 totalling fourteen. 2 aged fourteen. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon feowertiene; see FOUR + -TEEN.

fourteenth (often written 14th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after thirteenth; b last of fourteen. 2 in fourteenth position. 3 (the fourteenth) a the fourteenth day of the month; b (golf) the fourteenth hole. ▷ noun 1 one of fourteen equal parts. Also as adj □ a fourteenth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by fourteen (usually written $^{1}/_{14}$). 3 a person coming fourteenth, eg in a race or exam. ▷ adverb in the fourteenth place. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon; see FOURTEEN + -TH.

fourth (often written 4th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after third; b last of four. 2 in fourth position. 3 (the fourth) a the fourth day of the month; b (golf) the fourth hole. ▷ noun 1 one of four equal parts. Usually called QUARTER. Also as adj □ a fourth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by four (usually written $^{1}/_{4}$). Usually called QUARTER. 3 a person coming fourth, eg in a race or exam □ a good fourth. 4 music a an interval of three diatonic degrees; b a tone at that interval from another, or a combination of two tones separated by that interval. ▷ adverb fourthly. ● fourthly adverb used to introduce the fourth point in a list. © Anglo-Saxon; see FOUR + -TH.

> fourth
>
> There is often a spelling confusion between fourth and forth.

fourth dimension ▷ noun 1 time regarded as a dimension complementing the three dimensions of space (length, width and depth). 2 a a dimension, such as parallel universes, which may exist in addition to the three dimensions of space; b anything which is beyond ordinary experience.

the Fourth Estate ▷ noun the Press regarded as a political force. © Coined in 1828 by Macaulay, who described the gallery of the house of Commons in which the reporters sit as 'the fourth estate of the realm'; see ESTATE noun 5.

the Fourth of July ▷ noun a public holiday in the USA, commemorating the adoption of the Declaration of Independence in 1776.

fourth-rate ▷ adj inferior to something else, particularly something considered FIRST-RATE, SECOND-RATE, etc.

the Fourth World ▷ noun 1 the poorest and technologically least developed countries of the world, ie the poorest countries of the THIRD WORLD. 2 the poorest people in developed countries. © 1970s.

4WD ▷ abbreviation four-wheel-drive.

four-wheel drive see under FOUR-BY-FOUR.

fousty /'fuːstɪ/ ▷ adj, Scots 1 mouldy or damp. 2 having a musty smell; fusty. © 19c.

fovea /'foʊvɪə/ ▷ noun (foveae /-vɪiː/) 1 anatomy a shallow depression in the retina at the back of the eye in birds, lizards and primates where vision is sharpest. Also called yellow spot. 2 any small hollow or depression in a body structure. ● foveal adj. ● foveate adj pitted. © 19c: Latin, meaning 'small pit'.

fowl /faʊl/ ▷ noun (fowls or fowl) 1 a farmyard bird, eg a chicken or turkey. 2 the flesh or meat of fowl used as food. Compare FLESH noun 2. 3 old use, in compounds any bird, especially if eaten as meat or hunted as game □ wildfowl. ▷ verb (fowled, fowling) intr to hunt or trap wild birds. ● fowler noun. ● fowling noun. © Anglo-Saxon fugel bird.

fox ▷ noun (foxes) 1 any of various carnivorous mammals belonging to the dog family, found in most parts of the world, with a pointed muzzle, large pointed ears and a long bushy tail. 2 the fur of this animal. 3 colloq a cunning person. See also VIXEN. 4 N Amer an attractive and usually young man or woman. ▷ verb (foxed, foxing) 1 to puzzle, confuse or baffle someone. 2 to deceive, trick or outwit someone □ She was completely foxed by his behaviour. See also OUTFOX. 3 tr & intr said of paper: to become or make it become discoloured with brown spots. ● foxlike adj. © Anglo-Saxon.

fox-bat ▷ noun a flying fox; a fruit bat.

foxed ▷ adj 1 baffled; bamboozled. 2 said of books: discoloured.

foxglove ▷ noun a biennial or perennial plant, that produces tall spikes with many thimble-shaped purple or white flowers, and whose leaves are a source of DIGITALIS. © Anglo-Saxon.

foxhole ▷ noun, military a hole in the ground from which a soldier may shoot while protected from the enemy's guns. © Anglo-Saxon foxhol.

foxhound ▷ noun a breed of dog bred and trained to chase foxes.

fox hunt ▷ noun 1 a hunt for a fox. 2 a group of people who meet to hunt foxes. ● foxhunter noun. ● fox-hunting noun the bloodsport in which mounted huntsmen pursue foxes with a pack of foxhounds.

foxing ▷ noun discoloration in the form of brownish marks on paper that has been allowed to become damp.

fox terrier ▷ noun a breed of small dog originally trained to drive foxes out of their holes.

foxtrot /'fɒkstrɒt/ ▷ noun 1 a ballroom dance with gliding steps, alternating between quick and slow. 2 the music for this dance. 3 (Foxtrot) communications in the NATO alphabet: the word used to represent the letter 'F' (see table at NATO ALPHABET). ▷ verb, intr to perform this dance.

foxy ▷ adj (foxier, foxiest) 1 referring to foxes; foxlike. 2 cunning; sly. 3 reddish brown in colour. 4 slang said of a woman: sexually attractive. ● foxily adverb. ● foxiness noun.

foyer /'fɔɪeɪ, fɔɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the entrance hall of a theatre, hotel, etc. 2 N Amer the hallway of a house or apartment. © 19c: French, meaning 'fireplace', from Latin focus hearth.

FP ▷ abbreviation 1 former pupil. 2 Free Presbyterian.

fp ▷ abbreviation 1 forte-piano. 2 freezing point.

FPA ▷ abbreviation Family Planning Association.

Fr[1] ▷ abbreviation 1 Father, the title of a priest. 2 (Fr.) France. 3 (Fr.) French. 4 (Fr.) Friday.

Fr[2] ▷ symbol, chem francium.

fr. ▷ abbreviation 1 fragment. 2 (fr) franc. 3 frequently.

frabjous /'frabdʒəs/ ▷ adj joyous; wonderful. ● frabjously adverb. © Late 19c: invented by Lewis Carroll (1832–98).

fracas /'frakɑː/ ▷ noun (fracas) a noisy quarrel; a fight or brawl. © 18c: French, from Italian fracassare to make an uproar.

fractal /'fraktəl/ ▷ noun, math an irregular curve or surface produced by repeated subdivision, eg a snowflake curve (resembling a snowflake in outline), produced by repeatedly dividing the sides of an equilateral triangle into three segments and adding another triangle to the middle section. Also as adj □ fractal geometry. © 1970s: from Latin frangere, fractum to break.

fraction /'frakʃən/ ▷ noun 1 math an expression that indicates one or more equal parts of a whole, usually represented by a pair of numbers separated by a horizontal or diagonal line, where the upper number (the NUMERATOR) represents the number of parts selected and the lower number (the DENOMINATOR) the total number of parts. Compare INTEGER. 2 a portion; a small part of something. 3 Christianity the breaking of the bread in the Eucharist. 4 chem a group of chemical compounds whose boiling points fall within a very narrow range, the components of which can be separated by FRACTIONAL DISTILLATION. © 14c: from Latin fractio breaking.

fractional ▷ adj 1 referring to a fraction or fractions. 2 referring to the nature of a fraction. 3 tiny; insignificant. ● fractionally adverb.

fractional distillation ▷ noun, chem the separation by distillation of the various constituents of a mixture of liquids with different boiling points.

fractionalize or fractionalise ▷ verb (fractionalized, fractionalizing) to break something up into parts. ● fractionalization noun.

fractionate ▷ verb (fractionated, fractionating) 1 to break something up into smaller units. 2 to separate the components of (a liquid) by distillation, particularly FRACTIONAL DISTILLATION. ● fractionation noun.

fractionator ▷ noun a plant for carrying out FRACTIONAL DISTILLATION.

fractious /'frakʃəs/ ▷ adj cross and quarrelsome; inclined to quarrel and complain. ● fractiously adverb. ● fractiousness noun. ⓘ 16c: modelled on FRACTION, in an earlier sense of 'dispute' or 'quarrel'.

fractography /frak'tɒgrəfi/ ▷ noun the study of microscopic fractures in metal surfaces.

fracture /'fraktʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the breaking or cracking of anything hard, especially bone, rock or mineral. 2 the medical condition resulting from this, different types of which are SIMPLE FRACTURE, COMPOUND FRACTURE, IMPACTED FRACTURE, GREENSTICK FRACTURE, COLLES' FRACTURE, POTT'S FRACTURE, etc. 3 said of freshly broken mineral rock: the appearance of the surface. ▷ verb (fractured, fracturing) 1 to break or crack something, especially a bone. 2 intr said of a bone, etc: to break or crack. ⓘ 16c: French, from Latin fractura a break.

fraena and fraenum see under FRENUM.

fragile /'fradʒaɪl; US 'fradʒəl/ ▷ adj 1 easily broken; liable to break. 2 easily damaged or destroyed. 3 delicate □ fragile beauty. 4 in a weakened state of health □ She's feeling very fragile today. • fragilely adverb. • fragility /frə'dʒɪlɪtɪ/. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fragilis breakable.

fragment ▷ noun /'fragmənt/ 1 a piece broken off; a small piece of something that has broken. 2 something incomplete; a small part remaining. ▷ verb /frag'ment/ (fragmented, fragmenting) 1 tr & intr to break into pieces. 2 intr, computing said of a file: to be stored in sections on different parts of a floppy disk, making access slower. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fragmentum, from frangere to break.

fragmental /frag'mentəl/ ▷ adj 1 geol CLASTIC. 2 in fragments.

fragmentary /'fragməntərɪ, frag'men-/ and fragmented /frag'mentɪd/ ▷ adj 1 consisting of small pieces, not usually amounting to a complete whole; in fragments. 2 existing or operating in separate parts, not forming a harmonious unity. • fragmentarily adverb. • fragmentariness noun.

fragmentation /fragmən'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun division into fragments.

fragmentation bomb and fragmentation grenade ▷ noun a bomb or grenade designed to shatter into small pieces on explosion, increasing its destructiveness.

fragrance /'freɪgrəns/ and fragrancy ▷ noun (fragrances or fragrancies) 1 sweetness of smell. 2 a sweet smell or odour. • fragrant adj. • fragrantly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin fragrare to give out a smell.

frail /freɪl/ ▷ adj 1 easily broken or destroyed; delicate; fragile. 2 in poor health; weak. 3 morally weak; easily tempted. • frailly adverb. • frailness noun. • frailty noun (frailties). ⓘ 14c: from French fraile, from Latin fragilis fragile.

framboesia or (US) frambesia /fram'biːzɪə/ noun, pathol the YAWS. ⓘ 19c: from French framboise raspberry, from its raspberry-like excrescences.

frame ▷ noun 1 a hard main structure or basis to something, round which something is built or to which other parts are added. 2 a structure that surrounds and supports something □ put the picture in a frame. 3 something that surrounds □ her face with its frame of dark hair. 4 a body, especially a human one, as a structure of a certain size and shape □ eased his tall frame into the chair. 5 one of the pictures that make up a strip of film. 6 a single television picture, eg a still picture seen when the pause button on a video player is pressed. 7 one of the pictures in a comic strip. 8 a low glass or semi-glazed structure for protecting young plants growing out of doors, which is smaller than a greenhouse. Also called cold frame. 9 a framework of bars, eg in a playground for children to play on □ climbing frame. 10 snooker, etc a a triangular structure for confining the balls for the BREAK (noun 8) at the start of a round; b each of the rounds of play, a pre-determined number of which constitute the entire match. 11 the rigid part of a bicycle, usually made of metal tubes. ▷ verb (framed, framing) 1 to put a frame round something □ Pauline framed the picture. 2 to be a frame for something. 3 to compose or design something □ He framed the question with simple words. 4 to shape or direct (one's thoughts, actions, etc) for a particular purpose. 5 colloq to dishonestly direct suspicion for a crime, etc at (an innocent person). See also FRAME-UP. • frameless adj. • framer noun. • framing noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon framian to benefit.

frame of mind ▷ noun (frames of mind) a mood; state of mind; attitude towards something.

frame of reference ▷ noun (frames of reference) 1 a set of facts, beliefs or principles that serves as the context within which specific actions, events or behaviour patterns can be analysed or described, or on the basis of which opinions can be formed and decisions made. 2 math a set of points, lines or planes, especially three geometrical axes, used to define and locate the position of a point in space.

frame-saw ▷ noun a saw with a thin blade stretched in a frame.

frame-up ▷ noun, colloq a plot or set-up to make an innocent person appear guilty. ⓘ Early 20c: originally US.

framework ▷ noun 1 a basic supporting structure. 2 a basic plan or system. 3 a structure composed of horizontal and vertical bars or shafts.

franc /fraŋk/ ▷ noun the standard unit of currency of various countries, including France, Belgium, Switzerland, and several other French-speaking countries. ⓘ 14c: from French Francorum rex king of the Franks, the inscription on the first such coins.

franchise /'frantʃaɪz/ ▷ noun 1 the right to vote, especially in a parliamentary election. 2 a right, privilege, exemption from a duty, etc, granted to a person or organization. 3 a an agreement by which a business company gives someone the right to market its products in an area; b the area concerned. 4 a concession granted by a public authority to a TV, radio, etc company to broadcast in a certain area. ▷ verb (franchised, franchising) to grant a franchise to (a person, a company, etc). ⓘ 13c: from French franchir to set free.

franchisee /frantʃaɪ'ziː/ ▷ noun (franchisees) someone to whom a franchise is granted.

franchiser /'frantʃaɪzə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a firm, an authority, etc which grants a commercial concession. 2 a voter.

Franciscan /fran'sɪskən/ ▷ noun a member of a Christian order of nuns and friars founded by St Francis of Assisi in 1209. ▷ adj belonging or relating to the Franciscans □ a Franciscan monastery. ⓘ 16c: from Latin Franciscus Francis.

francium /'fransɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Fr, atomic number 87) a radioactive metallic element, the heaviest of the alkali metals, obtained by bombarding thorium with protons. ⓘ 1940s: from France, the country where it was discovered.

Franco- ▷ combining form, signifying France or the French, together with some other specified group □ Franco-Russian □ Franco-Canadians. ⓘ 18c: from Latin Francus the Franks or the French.

francolin /'fraŋkoulɪn/ ▷ noun a partridge native to Africa and S Asia. ⓘ 17c.

francophone /'fraŋkoufoun/ ▷ noun (sometimes Francophone) a French-speaking person, especially in a country where other languages are spoken. ▷ adj 1 speaking French as a native language. 2 using French as a second mother-tongue or lingua franca. ⓘ Late 19c.

frangipane /'frandʒɪpeɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a cream made with crushed almonds, used in the preparation of various desserts, sweets, cakes, etc. 2 FRANGIPANI (sense 2). ⓘ 17c: from FRANGIPANI.

frangipani /frandʒɪˈpɑːnɪ/ ▷ noun (frangipanis) 1 a shrub or small tree native to tropical America, which grows up to 6m (20ft) tall, and has oval leaves and large clusters of highly fragrant white, yellow or pink flowers. 2 (also frangipane) a perfume made from this, or imitating it. ⓘ 17c: named after the Italian nobleman Frangipani, who invented a perfume based on bitter almonds for scenting gloves.

franglais /ˈfrɒŋgleɪ/ ▷ noun, usually humorous informal French with many English words and forms. ⓘ 1960s: French, from français French + anglais English.

Frank ▷ noun a member of a W Germanic people that invaded Gaul (an ancient region of W Europe) in the late 5c AD, and founded France. ● Frankish adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon Franca, probably from franca javelin.

frank ▷ adj (franker, frankest) 1 open and honest in speech or manner; candid. 2 bluntly outspoken. 3 undisguised; openly visible. ▷ verb (franked, franking) to mark (a letter), either cancelling the stamp or, in place of a stamp, to show that postage has been paid. ▷ noun a franking mark on a letter. ● frankly adverb. ● frankness noun. ⓘ 13c: from Latin francus free.

Frankenstein /ˈfraŋkənstaɪn/ and Frankenstein's monster ▷ noun a name for a creation or creature that destroys its creator. ⓘ 19c: named after such a creature in Mary Shelley's Gothic novel Frankenstein (1818).

frankfurter /ˈfraŋkfɜːtə(r)/ ▷ noun a type of spicy smoked sausage, originally made in Frankfurt am Main. ⓘ Late 19c: short for German Frankfurter Wurst Frankfurt sausage.

frankincense /ˈfraŋkɪnsens/ ▷ noun an aromatic gum resin obtained from certain E African or Arabian trees, burnt to produce a sweet smell, especially during religious ceremonies. Also called OLIBANUM. ⓘ 14c: from French franc encens pure incense.

frantic /ˈfrantɪk/ ▷ adj 1 desperate, eg with fear or anxiety. 2 hurried; rushed ▫ a frantic rush to meet the deadline. ● frantically adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French frenetique; compare FRENETIC.

frappé /ˈfrapeɪ/ ▷ adj iced; artificially cooled. ▷ noun (frappés) an iced drink. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'iced drink', from frapper to strike.

Frascati /frasˈkɑːtɪ/ ▷ noun (also frascati) an Italian wine, usually white. ⓘ 20c: named after Frascati, a district in S Italy where it is produced.

fraternal /frəˈtɜːnəl/ ▷ adj 1 concerning a brother; brotherly. 2 said of twins: DIZYGOTIC. Compare IDENTICALS. ● fraternally adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin fraternus, from frater brother.

fraternity /frəˈtɜːnɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (fraternities) 1 a religious brotherhood. 2 a group of people with common interests. 3 the fact of being brothers; brotherly feeling. 4 N Amer a social club for male students. Compare SORORITY. ⓘ 14c: from Latin fraternitas, from frater brother.

fraternize or fraternise /ˈfratənaɪz/ ▷ verb (fraternized, fraternizing) intr (often fraternize with someone) to meet or associate together as friends. ● fraternization or fraternisation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fraternus brotherly.

fratricide /ˈfratrɪsaɪd, ˈfreɪtrɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 the murder of a brother. 2 someone who murders their brother. ● fratricidal adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin frater brother + -CIDE.

Frau /fraʊ/ ▷ noun (Fraus /-z/ or Frauen /-ən/) usually said of a German woman: a woman or wife, usually used as a title equivalent to Mrs or Ms. ⓘ 19c: German, meaning 'woman' or 'wife'.

fraud /frɔːd/ ▷ noun 1 an act of deliberate deception, with the intention of gaining some benefit. 2 colloq someone who dishonestly pretends to be something they are not; a cheat ▫ She turned out to be a fraud. ⓘ 14c: from Latin fraus, fraudis trick.

fraudster ▷ noun a cheat; a swindler.

fraudulent /ˈfrɔːdjʊlənt/ ▷ adj involving deliberate deception; intended to deceive ▫ fraudulent behaviour. ● fraudulence or fraudulency noun. ● fraudulently adverb. ⓘ 15c.

fraught /frɔːt/ ▷ adj, colloq causing or feeling anxiety or worry ▫ Jenny has been fraught since the vote went against her. ● fraught with danger, etc full of or laden down with danger, difficulties, problems, etc. ⓘ 14c: from Dutch vracht freight.

Fräulein /ˈfrɔɪlaɪn, ˈfraʊ-/ ▷ noun, dated a title often given to a German governess in Britain. ⓘ 17c: German, meaning 'young woman', and also formerly used as a title equivalent to Miss for an unmarried woman.

Fraunhofer lines /ˈfraʊnhoʊfə(r) —/ ▷ plural noun a set of dark lines which appear in the stellar and solar spectra. ⓘ 19c: named after Joseph von Fraunhofer (1787–1826), Bavarian physicist.

fray[1] /freɪ/ ▷ verb (frayed, fraying) tr & intr 1 said of cloth or rope: to wear away along an edge or at a point of friction, so that individual threads come loose ▫ The rope frayed over a number of months, and was badly frayed when it broke. 2 said of tempers, nerves, etc: to make or become edgy and strained ▫ Tempers started fraying just before midnight. ⓘ 18c in this sense; 15c in obsolete sense referring to deer rubbing velvet off their antlers: from French frayer, from Latin fricare to rub.

fray[2] /freɪ/ ▷ noun (frays) 1 a fight, quarrel or argument. 2 any scene of lively action. ⓘ 14c: short for AFFRAY.

frazil /ˈfrazɪl, ˈfreɪzɪl/ ▷ noun ice formed in small spikes and plates in rapidly-moving streams. ⓘ 19c: from Canadian French frasil, probably from French frasil cinders.

frazzle /ˈfrazəl/ ▷ noun 1 a state of nervous and physical exhaustion. 2 a scorched and brittle state ▫ burnt to a frazzle. ▷ verb (frazzled, frazzling) to tire out physically and emotionally. ⓘ 19c: probably related to FRAY[1].

FRCP ▷ abbreviation Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians.

FRCS ▷ abbreviation Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons.

freak /friːk/ ▷ noun 1 a person, animal or plant of abnormal shape or form. 2 someone or something odd or unusual. 3 especially in compounds someone highly enthusiastic about the specified thing ▫ health freak ▫ film freak. 4 a drug addict ▫ an acid freak. 5 a whim or caprice ▫ a freak of fancy. ▷ adj abnormal ▫ a freak storm. ▷ verb (freaked, freaking) tr & intr (also freak out or freak someone out) colloq 1 a to become or make someone mentally or emotionally over-excited ▫ The film really freaked him; b to become or make someone so by means of hallucinatory drugs ▫ The LSD really freaked them out. 2 to become or make someone angry ▫ He freaked when he heard the news. ● freakish adj. ⓘ 16c: possibly related to Anglo-Saxon frician to dance.

freak-out ▷ noun, slang a hallucinatory or wildly exciting unconventional experience or occurrence, often drug-induced.

freaky ▷ adj (freakier, freakiest) odd; strange; unusual; eccentric; way-out. ● freakily adverb. ● freakiness noun.

freckle /ˈfrekəl/ ▷ noun a small yellowish-brown benign mark on the skin, especially of fair-skinned people, which sometimes appears in large numbers, usually becoming darker and more prominent with exposure to the sun. ▷ verb (freckled, freckling) tr & intr to mark, or become marked, with freckles. ● freckled or freckly adj. ⓘ 14c as freckens: from Norse freknur freckles.

free ▷ adj (freer /ˈfriːə(r)/, freest /friːɪst/) 1 allowed to move as one pleases; not shut in. 2 not tied or fastened. 3 allowed to do as one pleases; not restricted, controlled or enslaved. 4 said of a country: independent. 5 costing nothing. 6 open or available to all. 7 not working, busy, engaged or having another appointment. 8 not occupied; not being used. 9 said of a translation: not precisely literal. 10 smooth and easy □ free and relaxed body movement. 11 without obstruction □ given free passage. 12 derog said of a person's manner: disrespectful, over-familiar or presumptuous. 13 chem not combined with another chemical element. 14 in compounds a not containing the specified ingredient, substance, factor, etc (which is usually considered to be undesirable) □ sugar-free □ milk-free □ nuclear-free; b free from, or not affected or troubled by, the specified thing □ trouble-free meeting □ stress-free weekend □ carefree; c not paying or exempt from the specified thing □ rent-free □ tax-free ⊙ 17c and particularly since the 1970s in sense 14a; 16c in sense 14b; Anglo-Saxon in sense 14c. ▷ adverb 1 without payment □ free of charge. 2 freely; without restriction □ wander free. ▷ verb (frees, freed, freeing) to allow someone to move without restriction after a period in captivity, prison, etc; to set or make someone free; to liberate someone. • freely adverb. • freeness noun. • feel free colloq you have permission (to do something) □ Feel free to borrow my bike anytime. • for free colloq without payment. • free and easy cheerfully casual or tolerant. • a free hand scope to choose how best to act. • free of or from something without; not or no longer having or suffering (especially something harmful, unpleasant or not wanted) □ free of fear □ finally free from the aching pain. • free with something open, generous, lavish or liberal □ free with her money □ free with his body. • it's a free country colloq there's no objection to acting in the way mentioned. • make free with something to make too much, or unacceptable, use of something not one's own. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon freo.

■ free someone of something 1 to make them free from it; to release them. 2 to rid or relieve them of it.

free alongside ship ▷ adj (abbreviation f.a.s.) said of a shipment of goods: delivered to the quayside free of charge, but exclusive of the cost of loading onto the ship. Compare FREE ON BOARD.

free association ▷ noun, psychoanal a technique based either on the first thought coming to mind in response to a series of words, or based on a train of thought suggested by a single word, used in therapy for exploring someone's unconscious.

freebase drug-taking slang ▷ noun cocaine refined for smoking by being heated with ether. ▷ verb 1 to purify cocaine in this way. 2 to smoke the residue produced by freebasing. ⊙ 1980s: originally US.

freebie or freebee or freeby /ˈfriːbi/ ▷ noun (freebies or freebees) colloq something given or provided without charge, particularly as a sales promotion.

freeboard ▷ noun, naut the distance between the top edge of the side of a boat and the surface of the water.

freebooter ▷ noun, historical a pirate. ⊙ 17c: from Dutch vrijbuiter, from vrij free + buit booty; compare FILIBUSTER.

freeborn ▷ adj born as a free citizen, not a slave.

freeby see FREEBIE

freecall see FREEPHONE

Free Church ▷ noun 1 Scottish church history a that branch of the Presbyterians in Scotland which left the Established Church at the Disruption of 1843; b the small minority of that group who refused to combine with the United Presbyterians in the United Free Church. 2 chiefly Brit a Protestant Church other than an Established Church.

free collective bargaining ▷ noun bargaining without government-imposed or other restrictions.

freed past tense, past participle of FREE freedman or freedwoman ▷ noun a man or woman who has been a slave and has been emancipated.

freedom ▷ noun 1 the condition of being free to act, move, etc without restriction. 2 personal liberty or independence, eg from slavery, serfdom, etc. 3 a right or liberty □ freedom of speech □ freedom to demonstrate. 4 (often freedom from something) the state of being without or exempt from something □ freedom from pain. 5 autonomy, self-government or independence, eg of a state or republic. 6 unrestricted access to or use of something □ give someone the freedom of one's house. 7 honorary citizenship of a place, entitling one to certain privileges □ was granted freedom of the town of Rochester. 8 frankness; candour. 9 over-familiarity; presumptuous behaviour. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon freodom.

freedom fighter ▷ noun someone who fights in an armed movement for the liberation of a nation, etc from a government considered unjust, tyrannical, etc.

freedom of conscience ▷ noun the right to hold religious or other beliefs without persecution.

freedwoman see under FREEDMAN free enterprise ▷ noun business carried out between companies, firms, etc without interference or control by the government, particularly where supply and demand determine the allocation of resources without regulation, pursued in a MARKET ECONOMY or MIXED ECONOMY.

free fall ▷ noun 1 the fall of something acted on by gravity alone. 2 the part of a descent by parachute before the parachute opens.

free flight ▷ noun the movement or flight of a rocket, missile, etc when its motor is no longer producing thrust.

freefone see FREEPHONE free-for-all ▷ noun a fight, argument, or discussion in which everybody present feels free to join.

free-form ▷ adj freely flowing; spontaneous.

free gift ▷ noun something given free of charge with a product as an incentive to buy.

freehand ▷ adj, adverb said of a drawing, etc: done without the help of a ruler, compass, etc.

free hand ▷ noun complete freedom of action. • give someone a free hand to put them in control, eg of a project or venture, and allow them to deal with any issues that arise.

free-handed ▷ adj liberal or generous. • free-handedness noun.

freehold ▷ adj said of land, property, etc: belonging to the owner by FEE SIMPLE, FEE TAIL, or for life and without limitations. ▷ noun ownership of such land, property, etc. Compare LEASEHOLD.

freeholder ▷ noun an owner of freehold property.

free house ▷ noun a hotel or bar not owned by a particular beer-producer and therefore free to sell a variety of beers.

free kick ▷ noun, football a kick allowed to one side with no tackling from the other, as a penalty imposed on the latter for infringing the rules.

freelance ▷ noun 1 a self-employed person offering their services where needed, not under contract to any single employer. Also called freelancer. 2 as adj □ freelance journalist. ▷ adverb as a freelance □ She works freelance now. ▷ verb (freelanced, freelancing) intr to work as a freelance. ⊙ 19c, meaning 'a medieval mercenary soldier', coined by Sir Walter Scott, but now referring to any kind of work.

free-living ▷ adj, biol not parasitic or symbiotic.

freeload ▷ verb, intr, colloq to eat, live, enjoy oneself, etc at someone else's expense. • freeloader noun. ⊙ 1960s: originally US.

free love ▷ noun the practice of having sexual relations with people regardless of marriage or fidelity to a single partner, especially referring to those who advocated and practised this in the 1960s. ⓘ 19c.

free lunch ▷ noun something that seems to be free but is not because one is expected to return the favour. ⓘ 1970s: from the expression there's no such thing as a free lunch.

freeman /ˈfriːman/ and freewoman ▷ noun 1 a man or woman who is free or enjoys liberty. 2 a respected man or woman who has been granted the freedom of a city.

Freemason and Mason ▷ noun a member of an international secret male society, organized into LODGES, having among its purposes mutual help and brotherly fellowship. ● Freemasonic adj. ⓘ 17c in this sense; 14c in obsolete sense referring to skilled craftsmen working in stone, who travelled where large buildings were being constructed.

Freemasonry ▷ noun 1 the institutions of the Freemasons. 2 (usually freemasonry) instinctive understanding and sympathy, usually among like-minded people rather than a formal group.

free on board ▷ adj (abbreviation f.o.b.) said of a shipment of goods: delivered to a vessel or other carrier and loaded onto it without charge to the buyer. Compare FREE ALONGSIDE SHIP.

free on rail ▷ adj (abbreviation f.o.r.) said of a shipment of goods: delivered to a railway station and loaded onto a train without charge to the buyer.

free pardon ▷ noun an unconditional pardon given, eg as a result of fresh evidence, to someone previously convicted of a crime.

freephone or freefone and freecall ▷ noun, trademark (also with capital) a telephone service whereby calls made to a business or organization are charged to that organization rather than to the caller, eg those with a number starting 0500 or 0800. Also as adj ▫ freephone number. N Amer equivalent toll-free. Compare LO-CALL. ⓘ 1960s.

free port ▷ noun 1 a port open on equal terms to all traders. 2 a port, or a free-trade zone adjacent to a port or airport, where goods may be imported free of tax or import duties, provided they are re-exported or used to make goods to be re-exported.

Freepost or freepost ▷ noun, trademark a Royal Mail service whereby postage costs for letters sent to a business or organization are charged to that organization rather than being prepaid by the sender. ⓘ 1970s.

freer /ˈfriːə(r)/ ▷ noun a liberator. See also under FREE.

free radical ▷ noun, chem a group of atoms, containing at least one unpaired electron, that is capable of initiating a wide range of chemical reactions.

free-range ▷ adj 1 said of animal livestock, especially poultry: allowed some freedom to move about and graze or feed naturally; not kept in a BATTERY. 2 said of eggs: laid by free-range poultry.

freesheet ▷ noun a newspaper, available or distributed without charge, financed by its advertisements.

freesia /ˈfriːzɪə, ˈfriːʒə/ ▷ noun a plant of southern Africa belonging to the iris family, which has an underground bulb and is widely cultivated for its fragrant trumpet-shaped white, yellow, purple or crimson flowers. ⓘ 19c: named after F H T Freese or H Th Frees, German physicians, or according to some, E M Fries, Swedish botanist.

free skating ▷ noun competitive FIGURE SKATING in which the skater selects movements from an officially approved list of jumps, spins, etc.

free speech ▷ noun the right to express any opinion freely, particularly in public.

free-spoken ▷ adj accustomed to speaking openly and frankly without reserve. ● free-spokenness noun.

freest see under FREE

free-standing ▷ adj not attached to or supported by a wall or other structure.

freestone ▷ noun 1 a any fine-grained stone, eg sandstone or limestone, that can be shaped easily for building without a tendency to split in layers; b a slab of such stone. 2 a freestone fruit. ▷ adj said of certain types of eg peaches and nectarines: having a stone from which the flesh comes away easily when ripe. Compare CLINGSTONE.

freestyle ▷ adj, sport 1 a applied to a competition or race in which competitors are allowed to choose their own style or programme; b swimming applied to the front crawl stroke, as being the fastest. 2 applied to ALL-IN WRESTLING. 3 said of a competitor: taking part in freestyle competitions, etc. ▷ noun, sport a freestyle competition or race. ● freestyler noun.

freethinker ▷ noun someone who forms their own ideas, especially religious ones, rather than accepting the view of an authority. ⓘ 18c.

freethinking ▷ noun freedom of thought. ▷ adj independently minded, especially with regard to religious doctrine.

free trade ▷ noun trade between or amongst countries without protective tariffs, such as customs, taxes, etc.

free verse ▷ noun poetry with no regular pattern of rhyme, rhythm or line length.

free vote ▷ noun a parliamentary vote left to the individual choice of the voter, and not subject to party discipline or whip.

freeware ▷ noun, computing software which is in the public domain, allowing it to be copied legally and at no charge, but not resold commercially.

freeway ▷ noun, N Amer a toll-free highway. Compare TURNPIKE.

freewheel ▷ noun the mechanism on a bicycle by which the back wheel can run free from the gear mechanism with the pedals stationary. ▷ verb, intr 1 to travel, usually downhill, on a bicycle, in a car, etc without using mechanical power. 2 to act or drift about unhampered by responsibilities.

free will ▷ noun 1 a the power of making choices without the constraint of fate or some other uncontrollable force, regarded as a human characteristic; b the philosophical doctrine that this human characteristic is not illusory. Compare DETERMINISM. 2 a person's independent choice.

freewoman see under FREEMAN the Free World ▷ noun a name used by countries pursuing capitalist policies to refer to themselves, especially used during the Soviet era by non-communist countries to contrast themselves with the countries of the Soviet bloc.

freeze ▷ verb (freezes, froze, frozen /ˈfroʊzən/, freezing) 1 tr & intr to change (a liquid) into a solid by cooling it to below its freezing point, eg to change water into ice. 2 said of a liquid: to change into a solid when it is cooled to below its freezing point. 3 tr & intr (often freeze together) to stick or cause to stick together by frost. 4 intr said of the weather, temperature, etc: to be at or below the freezing-point of water ▫ It's freezing today. 5 tr & intr, colloq to be or make very cold. 6 intr to die of cold ▫ The sheep froze in the drifts. 7 tr & intr said of food: to preserve, or be suitable for preserving, by refrigeration at below freezing-point. 8 tr & intr to make or become motionless or unable to move, because of fear, etc. 9 to fix (prices, wages, etc) at a certain level. 10 to prevent (money, shares, assets, etc) from being used ▫ froze the bank account. 11 to stop (a video, a moving film, etc) at a certain frame. 12 intr said of a computer program, system, etc: to stop working, usually so as to require the machine that the program is running on to be rebooted. 13 to stop (a process) at some point in its development to assess progress made. 14 to anaesthetize (a part of the body). ▷ noun 1 a period of very cold weather with temperatures below freezing-point. See also FREEZE-UP. 2 a period of control of wages, prices, etc. ▷ exclamation, chiefly US a command to stop instantly or risk being shot. ● freezable adj. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon freosan.

■ freeze over or freeze something over to become covered or cover with ice.

■ freeze someone out to exclude them from an activity, conversation, etc by persistent unfriendliness or unresponsiveness.

■ freeze up or freeze something up to become blocked up or stop operating because of frost or ice. See also FREEZE-UP.

freeze-dry ▷ verb to preserve (perishable material, especially food and medicines) by rapidly freezing it and then drying it under high-vacuum conditions.

freeze-frame ▷ noun 1 a single frame of film that is isolated and then repeated as a continuous series in order to give an effect like a still photograph. 2 a facility on a video recorder allowing the stopping of a videotape while being played to give a still view of a particular image. ▷ verb, intr to use the freeze-frame facility; to stop a videotape in order to view a still. ⓔ 1980s in this sense; 1960s in cinematography: from the phrase freeze the frame.

freezer ▷ noun a refrigerated cabinet or compartment in which to preserve food at a temperature below freezing-point. Compare DEEP-FREEZE, FRIDGE-FREEZER. ⓔ 19c.

freeze-thaw ▷ noun, geol the alternate freezing and thawing of water resulting in erosion of rock.

freeze-up ▷ noun the period when ice forms on lakes, rivers, etc at the onset of winter, often preventing travel by water. See also FREEZE noun 1, FREEZE UP under FREEZE.

freezing point ▷ noun (abbreviation fp) 1 the temperature at which the liquid form of a particular substance turns into a solid. 2 (also freezing) the freezing point of water (0°C at sea level).

F region see APPLETON LAYER.

freight /freɪt/ ▷ noun 1 transport of goods by rail, road, sea or air. 2 the goods transported in this way. 3 the cost of such transport. ▷ verb (freighted, freighting) 1 to transport (goods) by rail, road, sea or air. 2 to load (a vehicle, etc) with goods for transport. ⓔ 16c in this sense; 15c referring to the hire of a vessel for transporting goods: from Dutch vrecht.

freightage ▷ noun money paid for transporting freight.

freighter ▷ noun 1 a ship or aircraft that carries cargo rather than passengers. 2 someone who loads a ship with freight.

freightliner ▷ noun a train with specially designed rolling-stock for containers which can be lifted on to lorries or ships.

freight-train ▷ noun a train carrying goods or cargo rather than passengers.

frena see under FRENUM.

French /frentʃ/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to France, a republic in NW Europe, its inhabitants or their language. ▷ noun 1 (the French) the people of France. 2 the official language of France. 3 one of the official languages of Belgium, Canada, Luxembourg, Switzerland, etc. 4 a language spoken in many former French colonies in Africa, the Caribbean and Oceania. ● pardon or excuse my French colloq usually said after swearing: please excuse my bad language. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon frencisc, from FRANK.

Pronunciation of French in English

● In the dictionary we give an anglicized pronunciation of French for words which are in common use in English. The main difference between an Anglicized and a real French pronunciation is the exact quality of the vowels. In the examples below we give pronunciations as they are in the dictionary, ie usually Anglicized, but occasionally real French. The latter are marked French.

● With nasalized vowels, as in vin blanc and aide-de-camp, try to match the French pronunciation as closely as possible.

● u is pronounced /y/, rather like the common Scottish pronunciation of the vowel in words such as you and book.

● ch is pronounced /ʃ/, not /tʃ/, as in French loan words such as brochure, champagne, chic and echelon.

● Final s, x and z are usually not pronounced in French, as in faux pas /fou pɑː/. However they are pronounced before a following vowel, as in faux ami (/French fozami/ or vous avez /French vuzave/).

● gn is pronounced /nj/, as in the French pronunciation of bourgignon /French buʁgiɲɔ̃/.

● ll after an i may be either silent (or /French j/), as in ratatouille, or /l/, as in mille. Note that the name of the cream-and-pastry cake millefeuille is therefore pronounced /French milfœj/.

French bean ▷ noun a widely cultivated species of bean plant whose edible seeds together with the pods can be cooked and eaten as a vegetable while unripe and still in the pod. Alternatively they can be left to ripen on the plant, and the mature seeds, known as haricot beans or HARICOTs, can be dried or processed to form baked beans, etc.

French bread, French loaf and French stick ▷ noun white bread in the form of long narrow loaves with tapered ends and a thick crisp crust. See also BAGUETTE.

French Canadian ▷ noun a native of the French-speaking part of Canada. ▷ adj (French-Canadian) relating to French Canadians or their language.

French chalk ▷ noun a form of the mineral talc used to mark cloth or remove grease marks. See also SOAPSTONE.

French cricket ▷ noun a game resembling cricket, in which the batsman's legs serve as the wicket, played especially by children.

French curve ▷ noun a thin template with the outlines of various curves cut on it, used for drawing curves.

French doors see FRENCH WINDOWS.

French dressing ▷ noun a salad dressing made from oil, spices, herbs, and lemon juice or vinegar; vinaigrette.

French fries and fries ▷ plural noun, chiefly N Amer & Brit informal long thin strips of potato deep-fried in oil, usually longer and thinner than chips (see CHIP noun 3). Also (Brit formal) called French fried potatoes.

French horn ▷ noun an orchestral HORN.

Frenchify ▷ verb (Frenchifies, Frenchified, Frenchifying) informal to make something French or Frenchlike in appearance, character, etc. ⓔ 16c.

French kiss ▷ noun a kiss in which two people press their lips together and either or both insert their tongue into each other's mouth. ▷ verb (French-kiss) tr & intr to kiss in this way.

French knickers ▷ plural noun a type of wide-legged knickers, normally made from silk or a silky material.

French leave ▷ noun (often take French leave) leave taken without permission from work or duty.

French letter ▷ noun, slang a condom.

French Words and Phrases Used in English à deux for two; (of a dinner or conversation) romantic, intimate affaire liaison, intrigue; an incident arousing speculation and scandal agent provocateur provocative agent; someone employed to lead others in illegal acts for which they will be punished aide-de-camp assistant in the field; an officer in the armed forces who acts as assistant to a senior officer aide-mémoire help-memory; something that helps one to remember something; a reminder à la carte on the menu; with each dish individually priced and ordered separately à la mode in fashion; fashionable ambiance surroundings, atmosphere amour-propre own love, self-love; self-esteem ancien régime old regime; a superseded and outdated political system or ruling elite à point into the right condition; to a nicety, precisely appellation contrôlée certified name; used in the labelling of French wines, a guarantee of specified conditions of origin, strength, etc après-ski after ski; evening social activities after a day's skiing au contraire on the contrary au fait to the point; highly skilled; knowledgeable or familiar with something au naturel in the natural state; naked; cooked plainly, raw, or without dressing au pair on an equal basis; a young person from abroad who lives with a family and helps with housework, looking after children, etc, in return for board and lodging avant-garde front guard; using or supporting the most modern and advanced ideas in literature, art, music, etc bain-marie bath of Mary; a pan of hot water in which a container of food can be cooked gently or kept warm beau geste beautiful gesture; a generous or unselfish act belle époque fine period; the time of gracious living for the well-to-do immediately preceding World War I belles-lettres beautiful letters; works of literature valued for their style rather than their content bête noire black beast; someone or something that bothers, annoys or frightens one more than anything else blasé cloyed; bored through over-familiarity bon mot good word; a short, clever remark bon vivant good living (person); someone who lives well, particularly enjoying good food and wine bon voyage good journey; have a safe and pleasant journey bourgeois citizen; a member of the middle class; conventional, conservative canard duck; an untrue report; a false rumour carte blanche blank sheet of paper; freedom to do or organize things as one thinks best cause célèbre famous case; a matter that attracts attention and causes much controversy c'est la vie that's life; denotes fatalistic resignation chacun à son goût each to his own taste; implies surprise at or acceptance of another's choice chambré put into a room; (of red wine) at room temperature chargé-d'affaires in charge of business; an ambassador's deputy or substitute chef d'oeuvre chief work; an artist's or writer's masterpiece cinéma-vérité truth cinema; realism in films usually sought by photographic scenes of real life cliché stereotype printing block; a phrase that has become stale and feeble through repetition comme il faut as is necessary; correct; genteel cordon bleu blue ribbon; (of a cook or cookery) of the highest standard coup de foudre flash of lightning; a sudden and astonishing happening; love at first sight coup de grâce blow of mercy; a final decisive blow coup d'état blow of state; the sudden, usually violent, overthrow of a government coupé cut; a four-seated, two-door car with a sloping rear crème de la crème cream of the cream; the very best cuisine minceur slenderness cooking; a style of cooking characterized by imaginative use of light, simple, low-fat ingredients cul-de-sac bottom of the bag; a street closed at one end décolleté with bared neck and shoulders; (of a dress) low-cut; wearing a low-cut dress déjà vu already seen; the feeling or illusion of having experienced something before de rigueur of strictness; compulsory; strictly required derrière behind; the buttocks déshabillé undressed; only partially or casually dressed de trop of too much; not wanted, in the way distingué distinguished; with a noble or dignified appearance; striking double entendre double meaning; a remark with two possible meanings, one of which is sexually suggestive doyen dean; the most senior and most respected member of a profession, etc droit de seigneur the lord's right; originally the alleged right of a feudal superior to take the virginity of a vassal's bride; an excessive claim imposed on a subordinate élan dash, rush, bound; impressive and energetic style embarras de richesses embarrassment of wealth; a disconcerting amount of wealth or an abundance of any kind embonpoint en bon point in fine form; well-fed, stout, plump; plumpness, etc

French loaf see FRENCH BREAD

Frenchman and Frenchwoman ▷ noun a man or woman of French nationality.

French polish ▷ noun a varnish for furniture, consisting of shellac dissolved in alcohol. ▷ verb (French-polish) to varnish (furniture, etc) with French polish. • French polisher noun.

French stick see FRENCH BREAD

French toast ▷ noun slices of bread dipped in beaten egg (sometimes mixed with milk), and fried.

French windows and (N Amer) French doors ▷ plural noun a pair of glass doors that open on to a garden, balcony, etc.

Frenchwoman see FRENCHMAN

Frenchy ▷ noun (Frenchies) a contemptuous name for a French person.

frenetic or (rare) phrenetic /frə'nɛtɪk/ ▷ adj frantic, distracted, hectic or wildly energetic. • frenetically or (rare) phrenetically adverb. © 14c: from French frenetique, from Greek phrenitis delirium, from phren heart or mind; compare FRANTIC, FRENZY.

frenum or fraenum /'friːnəm/ (plural frena or fraena /-nə/) noun a ligament restraining the motion of a part of the body, such as the ligament under the tongue. © 18c: Latin, meaning 'bridle'.

frenzy /'frɛnzɪ/ ▷ noun (frenzies) 1 wild agitation or excitement. 2 a frantic burst of activity. 3 a state of violent mental disturbance. • frenzied adj. © 14c: from French frenesie, from Latin, from Greek phrenesis madness; compare FRENETIC.

Freon or freon /'friːɒn/ ▷ noun, trademark any of the family of chemicals containing fluorine, used as refrigerants, etc. © 1930s.

frequency /'friːkwənsɪ/ ▷ noun (frequencies) 1 the condition of happening often. 2 the rate at which a happening, phenomenon, etc, recurs. 3 physics (SI unit HERTZ; abbreviation f) a measure of the rate at which a complete cycle of wave motion is repeated per unit time. 4 radio the rate of sound waves per second at which a particular radio signal is sent out. See under VERY HIGH French Words and Phrases Used in English contd.

éminence grise grey eminence; someone who has great influence without actually occupying an official position of power enfant terrible terrible child; someone with a reputation for rude or embarrassing behaviour in public ennui boredom or discontent caused by a lack of activity or excitement en passant in passing; by the way; incidentally en route on the way, on the road entente understanding; a friendly agreement between nations épater les bourgeois to shock the middle class; to disconcert the prim and proper, eg by an artistic production which defies convention fait accompli accomplished fact; something done and unalterable; an established fact faute de mieux for lack of anything better faux ami false friend; a word in a foreign language that does not mean what it appears to faux pas false step; a social blunder femme fatale fatal woman; a woman whose irresistible charms fascinate and destroy others, especially men film noir black film; style of film depicting the dark side of human nature, using stark lighting and often urban settings, etc fin de siècle end of the century; of the end of the 19c in Western culture or of an era force majeure superior force; an unforeseeable or uncontrollable course of events, excusing one from fulfilling a legal contract grand mal great illness; a violently convulsive form of epilepsy grand prix great prize; any of a series of international motor races held to decide the world championship; a competition of similar importance in other sports haute couture high tailoring; the most expensive and fashionable clothes available; the leading fashion designers or their products haut monde high world; high society; fashionable society idée fixe a fixed idea; an obsession laissez-faire let do; a policy of not interfering in what others are doing lèse-majesté injured majesty; treason ménage à trois household of three; a household comprising a husband and wife and the lover of one of them mot juste exact word; the word which fits the context exactly négociant merchant; trader noblesse oblige nobility obliges; rank imposes obligations nostalgie de la boue hankering for mud; a craving for a debased physical life without civilized refinements nouveau riche new rich; someone who has recently acquired wealth but lacks the good taste or social graces to go with it nouvelle cuisine new cooking; a simple style of cookery characterized by much use of fresh produce and elegant presentation nouvelle vague new wave; a movement in French cinema aiming at imaginative quality films outré gone to excess; beyond what is customary or proper; eccentric pied-à-terre foot on the ground; a flat, small house, etc kept for temporary or occasional accommodation plus ça change abbreviated form of plus ça change, plus c'est la même chose the more things change, the more they stay the same pour encourager les autres to encourage the others (Voltaire Candide, on the execution of Admiral Byng); said of exemplary punishment premier cru first vintage; wine of the highest quality in a system of classification prêt-à-porter ready to wear; (of clothes) made in standard sizes rather than being made-to-measure prix fixe fixed price; (of a meal) offered at a set price for a restricted choice raison d'être reason for existence recherché sought out; particularly choice; rare or exotic reculer pour mieux sauter to move backwards in order to jump better; referring to a strategic withdrawal to wait for a better opportunity répondez, s'il vous plaît reply, please; used in its abbreviated form, RSVP, on invitations revenons à nos moutons let us return to our sheep; let us get back to our subject risqué risky, hazardous; bordering on the rude or indecent sang froid cold blood; self-possession; coolness under stress savoir faire knowing what to do; expertise; tact succès de scandale success of scandal; a book, film, etc that is successful because of its connection with a scandal rather than on merit table d'hôte host's table; denoting a set meal at a fixed price touché touched; used to acknowledge a hit made in fencing, or a point scored in an argument tour de force turning movement; a feat of strength or skill trompe l'oeil deceives the eye; a painting or decoration which gives a convincing illusion of reality vin de pays wine of the country; a locally produced wine for everyday consumption vis-à-vis face to face; in relation to; with regard to volte-face turn-face; a sudden and complete change in opinion or in views expressed

FREQUENCY. 5 statistics the number of items, values, etc, that occur within a specified category, eg the number of students with a score of 90 to 100 in a class test may be five, so for that category the frequency is five. © 17c in sense 1; 16c in obsolete sense 'being crowded': from Latin frequens happening often.

frequency distribution ▷ noun, statistics a set of data that includes numerical values for the frequencies of different scores or results, ie the number of times that each particular score or result occurs.

frequency modulation ▷ noun, radio (abbreviation FM) a method of radio transmission in which the frequency of the carrier wave (the signal-carrying wave) increases or decreases instantaneously in response to changes in the amplitude of the signal being transmitted, giving a better signal-to-noise ratio than AMPLITUDE MODULATION.

frequent ▷ adj /ˈfriːkwənt/ 1 recurring at short intervals. 2 habitual. ▷ verb /frɪˈkwent/ (frequented, frequenting) to visit or attend (a place, an event, etc) often. • frequenter noun. • frequently adverb.

frequentative /frɪˈkwentətɪv/ grammar ▷ adj denoting the ASPECT (sense 6) of verbs used to express the frequent repetition or habitual occurrence of an action. ▷ noun a verb or affix expressing frequentative aspect, such as -le in English wrestle, wriggle, etc.

fresco /ˈfreskoʊ/ ▷ noun (frescoes or frescos) a picture painted on a wall, usually while the plaster is still damp. • frescoed adj. • frescoer or frescoist noun. © 17c: Italian, meaning 'cool' or 'fresh'.

fresh /freʃ/ ▷ adj 1 newly made, gathered, etc. 2 having just arrived from somewhere, just finished doing something or just had some experience, etc □ fresh from university. 3 other or another; different; clean □ a fresh sheet of paper. 4 new; additional □ fresh supplies. 5 original □ a fresh approach. 6 said of fruit or vegetables: not tinned, frozen, dried, salted or otherwise preserved. 7 not tired; bright and alert. 8 cool; refreshing □ a fresh breeze. 9 said of water: not salty. 10 said of air: cool and uncontaminated; invigorating. 11 said of the face or complexion: youthfully healthy; ruddy. 12 not worn or faded. 13 colloq said of behaviour: offensively informal; cheeky. ▷ adverb in a fresh way □ Milk keeps fresh in the fridge. • freshly adverb. • freshness noun. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon fersc not salt.

freshen /ˈfreʃən/ ▷ verb (freshened, freshening) 1 tr to make something fresh or fresher. 2 tr & intr (also freshen up or freshen oneself or someone up) to get washed and tidy; to wash and tidy (oneself or someone). 3 intr said of a wind: to become stronger.

fresher or (N Amer) freshman noun a student in their first year at university or college.

freshet /ˈfreʃɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a stream of fresh water flowing into the sea. 2 the sudden overflow of a river. ⓔ 16c: a diminutive of FRESH.

freshwater ▷ adj 1 referring to, consisting of or living in fresh as opposed to salt water □ freshwater lake □ freshwater fish. 2 technical denoting water that contains less than 0.2% dissolved salts, such as that found in most rivers and lakes.

Fresnel lens /freɪˈnel —/ ▷ noun an optical lens consisting of a number of concentric circles, which is thinner and flatter than a conventional lens. ⓔ 19c: named after A J Fresnel (1788–1827), French physicist.

fret¹ /fret/ ▷ verb (fretted, fretting) 1 intr (also fret about or over something) to worry, especially unnecessarily; to show or express anxiety. 2 to wear something away or consume something by rubbing or erosion. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon fretan to gnaw, from etan to eat.

fret² /fret/ ▷ noun any of the narrow metal ridges across the neck of a guitar or similar musical instrument, onto which the strings are pressed in producing the various notes. ⓔ 16c: probably from FRET³.

fret³ /fret/ ▷ noun a type of decoration for a cornice, border, etc, consisting of lines which (usually) meet at right angles, the pattern being repeated to form a continuous band. ▷ verb (fretted, fretting) to decorate something with a fret, or carve with fretwork. ⓔ 14c: from French frete interlaced design, probably influenced by Anglo-Saxon frætwa ornament.

fret⁴ /fret/ ▷ noun, NE Eng dialect a cold sea mist or fog off the North Sea. Also called HAAR.

fretful ▷ adj anxious and unhappy; tending to fret; peevish. • fretfully adverb. • fretfulness noun.

fretsaw ▷ noun a narrow-bladed saw for cutting designs in wood or metal. Compare COPING SAW. ⓔ 19c.

fretwork ▷ noun decorative carved openwork in wood or metal. ⓔ 16c.

Freudian /ˈfrɔɪdɪən/ ▷ adj relating to or suggestive of the ideas of the Austrian neurologist, Sigmund Freud (1856–1939), especially in regard to sexuality as a factor in human character and behaviour, or his method of psychoanalysis. • Freudianism noun. ⓔ Early 20c.

Freudian slip ▷ noun an error or unintentional action, especially a slip of the tongue, taken as revealing an unexpressed or unconscious thought.

FRG ▷ abbreviation Federal Republic of Germany.

Fri. ▷ abbreviation Friday.

friable /ˈfraɪəbəl/ ▷ adj easily broken; easily reduced to powder. • friability noun. • friableness noun. ⓔ 16c: from Latin friare to crumble.

friar /fraɪə(r)/ ▷ noun a member of any of various religious orders of the Roman Catholic Church who, especially formerly, worked as teachers of the Christian religion and lived by begging, often named according to the order they belong to, such as the FRANCISCANS, DOMINICANS, CARMELITES, AUGUSTINIANS, etc. ⓔ 13c: from French frere, from Latin frater brother.

friarbird ▷ noun an Australian honey-eating bird with a featherless head.

friar's balsam ▷ noun a strong-smelling compound of benzoin, storax, tolu and aloes that is mixed with hot water and used as an inhalant.

friary /ˈfraɪərɪ/ ▷ noun (friaries) historical 1 a building inhabited by a community of friars. 2 the community itself.

fricadel see FRIKKADEL

fricandeau /frɪkanˈdoʊ, ˈfrɪkəndoʊ/ ▷ noun (plural fricandeaux /-doʊz/) a thick slice of veal, etc which is larded and then braised, roasted or fried. ⓔ 18c: French.

fricassee /frɪkəˈsiː, ˈfrɪkəsiː/ ▷ noun (fricassees) a cooked dish, usually of pieces of meat or chicken served in a sauce. ▷ verb (fricasseed, fricasseeing) to prepare meat as a fricassee. ⓔ 16c: from French fricasser to cook chopped food in its own juice.

fricative /ˈfrɪkətɪv/ phonetics ▷ adj said of a sound: produced partly by friction, the breath being forced through a narrowed opening. ▷ noun a fricative consonant, eg sh, f and th. ⓔ 19c: from Latin fricare, fricatum to rub.

friction /ˈfrɪkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the rubbing of one thing against another. 2 physics the force that opposes the relative motion of two bodies or surfaces that are in contact with each other. 3 quarrelling; disagreement; conflict. • frictional adj. • frictionless adj. ⓔ 16c: from Latin frictio, from fricare to rub.

Friday /ˈfraɪdɪ, ˈfraɪdeɪ/ ▷ noun (abbreviation Fri.) the sixth day of the week, counting from Sunday; the fifth day of the working week. See also GIRL FRIDAY, GOOD FRIDAY, MAN FRIDAY. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon Frigedæg, the day of the Norse goddess Frig.

Friday the thirteenth ▷ noun any Friday which falls on the thirteenth day of a month, which is considered by some to be a day of bad luck.

fridge /frɪdʒ/ ▷ noun, colloq a refrigerator, especially a household refrigerator. ⓔ 1920s.

fridge-freezer ▷ noun a fridge with a self-contained and often smaller freezer constructed as a single unit of furniture. ⓔ 1970s.

fried past tense, past participle of FRY¹ friend /frend/ ▷ noun 1 someone whom one knows and likes, and to whom one shows loyalty and affection; a close or intimate acquaintance. 2 someone who gives support or help □ a friend of the poor. 3 an ally as distinct from an enemy or foe. 4 someone or something already encountered or mentioned □ our old friend the woodworm. 5 (Friend) a Quaker; a member of the RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS. 6 a member of an organization which gives voluntary financial or other support to an institution, etc □ Friends of the National Gallery. 7 euphemistic a lover. • friendless adj. • be or make friends with someone to be or become their friend. • have a friend at court to have a friend in a position where their influence is likely to prove useful. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon freond.

friendly ▷ adj (friendlier, friendliest) 1 kind; behaving as a friend. 2 (friendly with someone) on close or affectionate terms with them. 3 relating to, or typical of, a friend. 4 being a colleague, helper, partner, etc rather than an enemy □ friendly nations. 5 sport said of a match, etc: played for enjoyment or practice and not as part of a formal competition. 6 in compounds, forming adjectives a denoting things that are made easy or convenient for those for whom they are intended □ user-friendly □ reader-friendly; b indicating that something causes little harm to something, particularly something related to the environment □ eco-friendly □ planet-friendly ⓔ 1970s: originating from the term USER-FRIENDLY which initially referred only to computer systems, but the metaphor was extended in the 1980s to other themes, particularly the environmental one. ▷ noun (friendlies) sport a friendly match. • friendlily adverb. • friendliness noun.

friendly fire ▷ noun, military accidental firing on one's own or one's allies' forces instead of the enemy.

friendly society ▷ noun, Brit an organization which gives support to members in sickness, old age, widowhood, etc, in return for regular financial contributions. Also called benefit society.

friendship ▷ noun 1 the having and keeping of friends. 2 a particular relationship that two friends have.

Friends of the Earth ▷ noun a charitable organization of conservationists and environmentalists.

frier see FRYER

fries[1] see under FRY[1]

fries[2] see FRENCH FRIES

Friesian /ˈfriːʒən/ ▷ noun 1 agric a breed of black-and-white dairy cattle, originating in the Netherlands, and now the most important dairy breed in the UK on account of its very high milk yields. 2 FRISIAN. ⓘ 1920s: a variant of FRISIAN.

frieze[1] /friːz/ ▷ noun 1 a decorative strip running along a wall. 2 archit a a horizontal band between the cornice and capitals of a classical temple; b the sculpture which fills this space. ⓘ 16c: from French frise, probably related to Italian fregio, from Latin Phrygium a piece of Phrygian work, Phrygia being famous for embroidered garments.

frieze[2] /friːz/ ▷ noun a rough heavy woollen cloth. ⓘ 15c: from French frise.

frig /frɪg/ ▷ verb (frigged, frigging) taboo, slang 1 intr to masturbate. 2 loosely to have penetrative sex with someone. 3 (often frig about or around) to mess about. ▷ noun 1 masturbation. 2 an expression of emphasis, displeasure, etc, as a euphemism for fuck ◻ I don't give a frig about that. ⓘ 15c as friggen: possibly from Latin fricare to rub.

frigate /ˈfrɪgət/ ▷ noun 1 a naval escort vessel, smaller than a destroyer. 2 historical a small fast-moving sailing warship. ⓘ 16c: from French fregate.

frigate bird ▷ noun a large bird, native to tropical seas, the male having an inflatable coloured pouch on the throat and very long wings.

frigging taboo slang ▷ noun masturbation. ▷ adj ▷ adverb expressing emphasis, displeasure, etc, as a euphemism for fucking ◻ That's a frigging lie.

fright /fraɪt/ ▷ noun 1 sudden fear; a shock. 2 colloq a person or thing of ludicrous appearance. ● take fright to become scared. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fyrhto.

frighten ▷ verb (frightened, frightening) to make someone afraid; to alarm them. ● frightened adj. ● frightening adj. ● frighteningly adverb. ⓘ 17c.

■ frighten someone away or off to scare them away.

■ frighten someone into or out of something to persuade or dissuade them by threats.

frightful ▷ adj 1 ghastly; frightening. 2 colloq bad; awful. 3 colloq great; extreme. ● frightfully adverb. ● frightfulness noun.

frigid /ˈfrɪdʒɪd/ ▷ adj 1 cold and unfriendly; without spirit or feeling. 2 said usually of a woman: not sexually responsive. 3 geog intensely cold. ● frigidity noun. ● frigidly adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin frigidus cold.

frigid zones ▷ plural noun the parts of the earth's surface within the polar circles.

frijol /friːˈhoul/ ▷ noun (frijoles /-ˈhoulz/) the kidney bean. ⓘ 16c: Spanish frijol.

frikkadel or fricadel /ˈfrɪkədɛl/ ▷ noun, S Afr a fried ball of minced meat. ⓘ 19c: Afrikaans, from French.

frill ▷ noun 1 a gathered or pleated strip of cloth attached along one edge to a garment, etc as a trimming. 2 (usually frills) something extra serving no very useful purpose. ● without frills straightforward; clear; with no superfluous additions.

frilled lizard ▷ noun a large Australian lizard with an erectile frill around its neck.

frillies ▷ plural noun women's underwear with lacey frills.

frilly ▷ adj (frillier, frilliest) with frills.

fringe /frɪndʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a border of loose threads on a carpet, tablecloth, garment, etc. 2 hair cut to hang down over the forehead but above the eyeline. 3 the outer area; the edge; the part farthest from the main area or centre. 4 as adj a bordering, or just outside, the recognized or orthodox form, group, etc ◻ fringe medicine; b unofficial, not part of the main event ◻ fringe meeting ◻ fringe festival; c less important or less popular ◻ fringe sports. ▷ verb (fringed, fringing) 1 to decorate something with a fringe. 2 to form a fringe round something. ⓘ 14c: from French frenge, from Latin fimbriae threads or fringe.

fringe benefits ▷ plural noun things that one gets from one's employer in addition to wages or salary, eg a cheap mortgage, a car, etc.

fringe-dweller ▷ noun, Austral someone, especially an Aborigine, who lives on the edge of a town or community, usually in poverty and squalor.

frippery /ˈfrɪpərɪ/ ▷ noun (fripperies) 1 showy and unnecessary finery or adornment. 2 trifles; trivia. ⓘ 16c: from French freperie, from frepe a rag.

Frisbee /ˈfrɪzbɪ/ ▷ noun (Frisbees) trademark (usually frisbee) a light, concave, plastic, saucer-shaped object that spins when thrown, used for recreation, usually in a park, on the beach, etc, and also for competitive sport. ⓘ 1950s: based on the name of the Frisbie bakery in Bridgeport, Connecticut, whose pie tins presumably inspired its invention; the name was altered by the Frisbee's inventor, Fred Morrison.

Frisian /ˈfrɪzɪən/ or Friesian /ˈfriːʒən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Friesland, a province in N Netherlands, its inhabitants or their language. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Friesland. 2 the language of Friesland. See also FRIESIAN. ⓘ 16c: from Latin Frisii a tribe of NW Germany.

frisk /frɪsk/ ▷ verb (frisked, frisking) 1 intr (also frisk about) to jump or run about happily and playfully. 2 slang to search someone for concealed weapons, drugs, etc. ▷ noun 1 a frolic; spell of prancing or jumping about. 2 slang an act of searching a person for weapons, etc. ● frisker noun. ⓘ 18c as verb 2; 16c as verb 1; originally from French frisque lively.

frisky ▷ adj (friskier, friskiest) lively; playful; high-spirited; frolicsome. ● friskily adverb. ● friskiness noun.

frisson /ˈfriːsɒn/ ▷ noun a shiver of fear or excitement. ⓘ 18c: French frisson.

frit ▷ noun the mixed materials for making glass, glazes for ceramics, etc. ▷ verb (fritted, fritting) to fuse (substances) partially in the process of making frit. ⓘ 17c: from French fritte, from Italian fritta, from Latin frigere to roast.

fritillary /frɪˈtɪlərɪ, ˈfrɪtɪlərɪ/ ▷ noun (fritillaries) 1 bot a perennial plant, widespread in central Europe, with narrow greyish-green leaves and a drooping head bearing a single bell-shaped flower, chequered pink and dull purple. 2 zool any of many species of a colourful butterfly having yellowish-brown wings with black markings, and only four fully-developed legs, the front pair of legs being short and brush-like, especially in the male. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fritillus dice-box.

fritter[1] /ˈfrɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a piece of meat, fruit, etc coated in batter and fried ◻ spam fritter ◻ banana fritter. ⓘ 15c: from French friture.

fritter[2] /ˈfrɪtə(r)/ ▷ verb (frittered, frittering) (chiefly fritter something away) to waste (time, money, energy, etc) on unimportant things; to squander something □ had frittered his inheritance away within two years. • fritterer noun. ⓘ 18c: from fitter fragment.

fritto misto /ˈfriːtoʊ ˈmiːstoʊ/ ▷ noun (fritto mistos) a mixed dish of fried food. ⓘ Early 20c: Italian, meaning 'mixed fry'.

Friulian see RHAETIAN

frivolity /frɪˈvɒlɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (frivolities) frivolous behaviour; being frivolous.

frivolous /ˈfrɪvələs/ ▷ adj 1 silly; not sufficiently serious. 2 trifling or unimportant; not useful and sensible. • frivolously adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin frivolus worthless or empty.

frizz ▷ noun said mainly of hair: a mass of tight curls. ▷ verb (frizzed, frizzing) tr & intr (also frizz something up) to form or make something form a frizz. ⓘ 17c: French friser to curl.

frizzante /frɪˈzantɪ/ ▷ adj said of wine: sparkling. ⓘ 20c: Italian, from frizzare to sparkle.

frizzle¹ /ˈfrɪzəl/ ▷ verb (frizzled, frizzling) tr & intr said of food: to fry till scorched and brittle. ⓘ 19c: possibly imitating the sound.

frizzle² /ˈfrɪzəl/ ▷ verb (frizzled, frizzling) to frizz (hair). ▷ noun 1 a curl. 2 a frizz. ⓘ 16c: appearing earlier than and therefore not derived from FRIZZ; possibly related to frieze, meaning 'to cover cotton with a nap'.

frizzy ▷ adj (frizzier, frizziest) tightly curled.

fro see TO AND FRO at TO frock /frɒk/ ▷ noun 1 a woman's or girl's dress. 2 a priest's or monk's long garment, with large open sleeves. 3 a loose smock. ⓘ 16c in sense 1; 14c in sense 2: from French froc monk's garment.

frock-coat ▷ noun, historical a man's double-breasted coat, close-fitting round the waist and extending to the knees both at the front and the back. ⓘ 19c.

Frog /frɒg/ and Froggy (Frogs or Froggies) noun, Brit, offensive slang a French person. ⓘ 19c: from the reputation of the French of eating frogs' legs.

frog¹ /frɒg/ ▷ noun 1 a tailless amphibian, found worldwide except in Arctic and Antarctic regions, with a moist smooth skin, protruding eyes, powerful hind legs for swimming and leaping, and webbed feet. 2 the block by which hair is attached to the heel of eg a violin bow. • froggy adj. • a frog in one's throat an accumulation of phlegm on the vocal cords that temporarily interferes with one's speech; hoarseness. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon frogga.

frog² /frɒg/ ▷ noun 1 an attachment to a belt for carrying a weapon. 2 a decorative looped fastener on a garment. • frogging noun a set of such fasteners, especially on a military uniform. ⓘ 18c.

frog³ /frɒg/ ▷ noun a triangular horny pad in a horse's hoof. ⓘ 17c.

frog-hopper ▷ noun a small hopping insect that feeds by sucking the sap of plants, whose larvae surround themselves with CUCKOO SPIT.

frogman ▷ noun an underwater swimmer wearing a protective rubber suit and using breathing equipment.

frogmarch ▷ verb 1 to force someone forward, holding them firmly by the arms □ The lager lout was frogmarched out of the pub. 2 to carry someone horizontally in a face-downward position between four people, each holding one limb. ▷ noun the act or process of frogmarching. ⓘ 19c.

frogspawn ▷ noun a mass of frogs' eggs encased in protective nutrient jelly. ⓘ 17c: from frogs' SPAWN (noun 1a).

frog-spit see CUCKOO SPIT frolic /ˈfrɒlɪk/ ▷ verb (frolicked, frolicking) intr to frisk or run about playfully; to gambol about. ▷ noun 1 a spell of happy playing or frisking; a gambol. 2 something silly done as a joke; a prank. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch vrolijk merry.

frolicsome ▷ adj playful; full of fun.

from /frɒm, frəm/ ▷ prep, indicating 1 a starting-point in place or time □ from London to Glasgow □ crippled from birth. 2 a lower limit □ tickets from £12 upwards. 3 repeated progression □ trail from shop to shop. 4 movement out of □ took a letter from the drawer. 5 distance away □ 16 miles from Dover. 6 a viewpoint □ can see the house from here. 7 separation; removal □ took it away from her. 8 point of attachment □ hanging from a nail. 9 exclusion □ omitted from the sample. 10 source or origin □ made from an old curtain. 11 change of condition □ translate from French into English □ From being an intimate lover, he turned very hostile. 12 cause □ ill from overwork. 13 deduction as a result of observation □ see from her face she's angry. 14 distinction □ can't tell one twin from the other. 15 prevention, protection, exemption, immunity, release, escape, etc □ safe from harm □ excused from attending □ exempted from tax □ released from prison. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fram.

fromage frais /ˈfrɒmɑːʒ ˈfreɪ/ ▷ noun a creamy low-fat cheese originating in France with the consistency of whipped cream, often used for desserts, similar to QUARK². ⓘ 1980s: French, meaning 'fresh cheese'.

frond /frɒnd/ ▷ noun, bot a large compound leaf, especially of a fern or palm. ⓘ 18c: from Latin frons.

front /frʌnt/ ▷ noun 1 the side or part of anything that is furthest forward or nearest to the viewer; the most important side or part, eg the side of a building where the main door is. 2 any side of a large or historic building. 3 the part of a vehicle, etc that faces or is closest to, the direction in which it moves. 4 theat the auditorium of a theatre, etc. See also FRONT OF HOUSE. 5 the cover or first pages of a book. 6 a road or promenade in a town that runs beside the sea, or large lake, etc; sea front. 7 in war, particularly when fought on the ground: the area where the soldiers are nearest to the enemy □ eastern front. See also FRONT LINE. 8 a matter of concern or interest □ no progress on the job front. 9 meteorol the boundary between two air masses that have different temperatures, eg a WARM FRONT is the leading edge of a mass of warm air. Also compare COLD FRONT. 10 an outward appearance. 11 (usually Front) a name given to some political movements, particularly when a number of organizations come together as a unified force against opponents. 12 slang an organization or job used to hide illegal or secret activity □ The corner shop was just a front for drug dealing. 13 archaic the forehead; the face. ▷ verb (fronted, fronting) 1 tr & intr said of a building: to have its front facing or beside something specified □ The house fronts on to the main road. 2 to be the leader or representative of (a group, etc). 3 to be the presenter of (a radio or television programme). 4 to cover the front of (a building, etc) □ The house was fronted with grey stone. ▷ adj 1 relating to, or situated at or in the front. 2 phonetics said of a vowel: articulated with the front of the tongue in a forward position. • frontless adj. • in front 1 on the forward-facing side. 2 ahead. • in front of someone or something 1 at or to a position in advance of them. 2 to a place towards which a vehicle, etc is moving □ ran in front of a car. 3 ahead of them □ pushed in front of her. 4 facing or confronting them □ stood up in front of an audience. 5 in their presence □ dare not say so in front of my mother. • out front colloq in the audience, from the performer's standpoint. • up front colloq said of money: paid before work is done or goods received, etc □ Can you pay that up front? ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin frons, frontis forehead.

■ front for something to provide a cover or excuse for an illegal activity, etc.

frontage /ˈfrʌntɪdʒ/ ▷ noun the front of a building, especially in relation to the street, etc along which it extends. • frontager noun, law someone who owns or occupies property along a road, river, shore, etc.

frontal /ˈfrʌntəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to the front. 2 aimed at the front; direct □ a frontal assault. 3 anatomy relating to the forehead. 4 meteorol relating to a FRONT noun 9 □ frontal system. ▷ noun 1 the façade of a building. 2 something worn on the forehead or face. 3 an embroidered hanging of silk, satin, etc, for the front of an altar, now usually covering only the top. ⓘ 17c.

front bench ▷ noun 1 the bench on either side of the House of Commons closest to the centre of the House, occupied on one side by Government ministers and on the other by leading members of the Opposition. 2 the corresponding benches in the House of Lords, occupied by ex-ministers and former leading members of the Opposition. 3 the leadership of the government or opposition in various legislative assemblies, eg in Australia. Also as adj □ front-bench spokesman. • frontbencher noun someone who sits on one of the front benches, ie a minister or leading member of the Opposition. Compare BACKBENCH, CROSS BENCH. ⓘ 19c.

fronted /ˈfrʌntəd/ ▷ adj 1 formed with a front. 2 phonetics changed into or towards a FRONT (adj 2) sound.

front end ▷ noun 1 the part of a vehicle that is furthest forward □ front end of a car. 2 computing a any of the terminals of a computing network where information is inputted or processed, which are backed-up by larger, more powerful computers □ the front end of the information network; b as adj □ front-end processor □ front-end computer. 3 as adj, finance a referring to an initial charge to cover costs and commission, which is made to someone taking on a long-term savings or investment plan; b referring to any similar deductions during the early stages of a financial transaction or accounting period □ front-end load □ front-end fee.

frontier /ˈfrʌntɪə(r), frʌnˈtɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a the part of a country bordering onto another country; b a line, barrier, etc marking the boundary between two countries. 2 (frontiers) limits □ the frontiers of knowledge. 3 N Amer history the furthest edge of civilization, habitation or cultivation, beyond which the country is wild and thought to be deserted. ⓘ 15c: French, from front FRONT.

frontiersman and frontierswoman ▷ noun someone who lives on the frontier of a country, particularly on the outlying edges of a settled society. ⓘ 18c.

frontispiece /ˈfrʌntɪspiːs/ ▷ noun 1 a picture at the beginning of a book, facing the title page. 2 archit the decorated pediment over a door, gate, etc. 3 archit the main front or façade of a building. ⓘ 16c: from Latin frontis front + specere to see, influenced by PIECE.

frontlet /ˈfrʌntlɪt/ ▷ noun 1 Judaism a PHYLACTERY attached to the forehead. 2 something worn on the forehead. ⓘ 16c: from French frontelet a small FRONTAL.

front line ▷ noun 1 in a war, particularly when fought on the ground: a the area of a FRONT (noun 7) where soldiers are physically closest to the enemy; b as adj belonging or relating to the front line □ front-line soldiers. 2 that area in any concern where the important pioneering work is going on. 3 as adj (front-line) relating to a state bordering on another state in which there is an armed conflict, and often inevitably involved in that conflict.

front man ▷ noun 1 the nominal leader or representative of an organization. 2 the presenter of a radio or television programme.

front of house ▷ noun in a theatre: the collective activities carried out in direct contact with the public, such as box-office activity, programme selling, ushering, etc. Also as adj □ front-of-house staff. ⓘ 19c: originally front of the house.

frontogenesis /frʌntoʊˈdʒɛnɪsɪs/ ▷ noun, meteorol the formation or intensification of a front. ⓘ 1930s: from FRONT + -GENESIS.

frontolysis /frʌnˈtɒlɪsɪs/ ▷ noun, meteorol the weakening or disappearance of a front. ⓘ 1930s: from FRONT + -LYSIS.

fronton /ˈfrʌntən/ ▷ noun, archit a pediment crowning a window or other small opening.

front-page ▷ adj suitable or important enough for publication on the first or front page of a newspaper □ front-page news.

front projection ▷ noun, cinema the projection of an image on to an opaque screen to be viewed from the same side as the projector, the normal practice for cinema and audio-visual presentation.

front-runner ▷ noun 1 the person most likely or most favoured to win a competition, election, etc. 2 in a race: someone who runs best when they are in the lead, or someone who sets the pace for the rest of the runners.

front-running ▷ noun, stock exchange a practice whereby traders buy or sell stocks for themselves before placing big orders for customers that may affect the share price, and which is a type of INSIDER DEALING. Also as adj □ front-running ring.

frontward and frontwards ▷ adverb towards the front.

front-wheel drive ▷ noun a system in which the driving power is transmitted to the front wheels of a vehicle, as opposed to the rear wheels. Compare REAR-WHEEL DRIVE, FOUR-BY-FOUR.

frost /frɒst/ ▷ noun 1 a white feathery or powdery deposit of ice crystals formed when water vapour comes into contact with a surface whose temperature is below the freezing point of water. 2 an air temperature below freezing-point □ 12 degrees of frost. ▷ verb (frosted, frosting) 1 tr & intr (also frost up or over) to cover or become covered with frost. 2 to damage (plants) with frost. • frostless adj. • frostlike adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

frostbite ▷ noun damage to the body tissues, usually of the extremities, especially fingers or toes, caused by exposure to very low temperatures, with the affected parts becoming pale and numb as a result of lack of oxygen due to narrowing of the blood vessels.

frostbitten ▷ adj suffering from frostbite; affected by frost.

frosted ▷ adj 1 covered by frost. 2 damaged by frost. 3 said of glass: patterned or roughened as though with frost, so as to be difficult to see through.

frosting ▷ noun 1 N Amer cake icing. 2 a rough or matt finish on glass, silver, etc.

frostwork ▷ noun 1 tracery made by frost, eg on windows. 2 on glass, silver, etc: work resembling frost tracery, etc.

frosty ▷ adj (frostier, frostiest) 1 covered with frost. 2 cold enough for frost to form. 3 said of a person's behaviour or attitude: cold; unfriendly; unwelcoming. • frostily adverb. • frostiness noun.

froth /frɒθ/ ▷ noun 1 a mass of tiny bubbles forming eg on the surface of a liquid, or round the mouth in certain diseases. 2 writing, talk, etc that has no serious content or purpose. 3 showy glamour; something frivolous or trivial. ▷ verb (frothed, frothing) tr & intr to produce or make something produce froth. ⓘ 14c: from Norse frotha.

froth-fly and froth-hopper ▷ noun a FROG-HOPPER.

frothy ▷ adj (frothier, frothiest) 1 full of or like froth. 2 insubstantial. • frothily adverb. • frothiness noun. • frothless adj.

frottage /frɒˈtɑːʒ/ ▷ noun 1 art a technique, analogous to brass-rubbing, in which paper is placed over a textured surface such as wood or fabric and rubbed with a soft pencil or crayon to produce an impression. 2 a type of sexual activity in which sexual pleasure and often orgasm is obtained by rubbing one's clothed body against someone or something. ⓒ 1930s in both senses: French, meaning 'rubbing' or 'friction'.

frown /fraun/ ▷ verb (frowned, frowning) intr to wrinkle one's forehead and draw one's eyebrows together in worry, disapproval, deep thought, etc. ▷ noun 1 the act of frowning. 2 a disapproving expression or glance. ● frowner noun. ● frowningly adverb. ⓒ 14c: from French froignier.

■ frown on or at something to disapprove of it.

frowst /fraust/ ▷ noun hot stuffy fustiness. ● frowsty adj (frowstier, frowstiest) stuffy; stale-smelling. ● frowst noun. ● frowstiness noun. ⓒ 19c.

frowsy or frowzy /'frauzɪ/ ▷ adj (frowsier, frowsiest) 1 said of someone's appearance: untidy, dishevelled or slovenly. 2 said of an atmosphere: stuffy; stale-smelling. ● frowsiness noun. ⓒ 17c.

froze past tense of FREEZE frozen[1] /'frouzən/ ▷ adj 1 preserved by keeping at a temperature below freezing point. 2 very cold. 3 stiff and unfriendly.

frozen[2] past participle of FREEZE frozen shoulder ▷ noun a shoulder joint which has become stiff owing to injury or a period of enforced immobilization.

FRS ▷ abbreviation Fellow of the Royal Society.

FRSE ▷ abbreviation Fellow of the Royal Society of Edinburgh.

fructiferous /frʌk'tɪfərəs/ ▷ adj bearing fruit. ⓒ 17c.

fructification /frʌktɪfɪ'keɪʃən/ ▷ noun, bot 1 the fruit of a plant or the spore-producing structure of a fungus. 2 the process of forming a fruit or spore-producing structure. ⓒ 17c: from Latin fructus fruit + facere to make.

fructivorous /frʌk'tɪvərəs/ ▷ adj eating or feeding on fruit. ⓒ 17c: from Latin fructus fruit + -vorus eating.

fructose /'frʌktous, 'frʊk-/ ▷ noun, biochem a six-carbon sugar found in fruit, honey and combined with GLUCOSE in SUCROSE, whose derivatives, in the form of fructose phosphates, play an important role in the chemical reactions that take place in living cells. Also called fruit sugar. ⓒ 19c: from Latin fructus fruit.

frugal /'fruːgəl/ ▷ adj 1 thrifty; economical; not generous; careful, particularly in financial matters. 2 not large; costing little □ a frugal meal. ● frugality /-'galɪtɪ/ noun. ● frugally adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Latin frugalis economical or useful, from frux, frugis profit or fruit.

fruit /fruːt/ ▷ noun 1 the fully ripened ovary of a flowering plant, containing one or more seeds that have developed from fertilized OVULEs, and sometimes including associated structures such as the RECEPTACLE. 2 an edible part of a plant that is generally sweet and juicy, especially the ovary containing one or more seeds, but sometimes extended to include other parts, eg the leaf stalk in rhubarb. See also BERRY, SOFT FRUIT. 3 plant products generally □ the fruits of the land. 4 (also fruits) whatever is gained as a result of hard work, etc □ the fruit of his labour. 5 colloq a gay man. 6 old use, colloq a person □ old fruit. 7 rare offspring; young □ the fruit of her womb. ▷ verb (fruited, fruiting) intr to produce fruit. ● bear fruit 1 to produce fruit. 2 to produce good results. ● in fruit said of a tree: bearing fruit. ⓒ 12c: from French fruict, from Latin fructus fruit, enjoyment.

fruit bat ▷ noun a large fructivorous bat of the Old World.

fruit cage ▷ noun an enclosure with mesh sides and roof to protect growing fruit and vegetables from birds, etc.

fruitcake ▷ noun 1 a cake containing dried fruit, nuts, etc. 2 colloq a slightly mad person.

fruiter ▷ noun 1 a tree, etc that bears fruit □ a good fruiter. 2 a person whose job is to grow fruit; a fruit-grower. ⓒ 15c.

fruiterer /'fruːtərə(r)/ ▷ noun a person whose job is to sell fruit. ⓒ 15c: FRUITER + -ER.

fruit fly ▷ noun any of various tiny brown or yellowish flies with red eyes, mainly found in tropical regions, which feed on sap and fermenting fruit, and can be a minor pest of orchards and stored fruit.

fruitful ▷ adj producing good or useful results; productive; worthwhile. ● fruitfully adverb. ● fruitfulness noun.

fruition /fruː'ɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the achievement of something that has been aimed at and worked for □ The project finally came to fruition. 2 the bearing of fruit. ⓒ 15c: French, from Latin frui to enjoy.

fruitless ▷ adj 1 useless; unsuccessful; done in vain. 2 not producing fruit. ● fruitlessly adverb. ● fruitlessness noun.

fruit machine ▷ noun a coin-operated gambling-machine with symbols originally and still usually in the form of fruits, that may be made to appear in winning combinations, found in amusement arcades, pubs, etc. ⓒ Early 20c.

fruit salad ▷ noun a dish of mixed chopped fruits, usually eaten as a dessert, and often with fresh cream.

fruit sugar ▷ noun FRUCTOSE.

fruit tree ▷ noun any tree bearing edible fruit.

fruity ▷ adj (fruitier, fruitiest) 1 full of fruit; having the taste or appearance of fruit. 2 said of a voice: deep and rich in tone. 3 colloq said of a story, etc: containing humorous and slightly risqué references to sexual matters. 4 colloq referring to a gay man. 5 colloq sexually aroused. ● fruitily adverb. ● fruitiness noun.

frump ▷ noun, derog, colloq a woman who dresses in a dowdy, old-fashioned way. ⓒ Early 19c in this sense; 16c in obsolete sense 'a sneer' or 'jeer'.

frumpish and frumpy ▷ adj (frumpier, frumpiest) dressed in a dowdy unattractive way.

frustrate /frʌ'streɪt/ ▷ verb (frustrated, frustrating) 1 to prevent someone from doing or getting something; to thwart or foil (a plan, attempt, etc). 2 to make (someone) feel disappointed, useless, lacking a purpose in life, etc. ● frustrating adj. ● frustratingly adverb. ⓒ 15c: from Latin frustrari, frustratus to deceive or disappoint.

frustrated ▷ adj 1 a feeling of agitation and helplessness at not being able to do something. 2 disappointed; unhappy; dissatisfied. 3 unfulfilled in one's ambitions for oneself. 4 not sexually satisfied.

frustration ▷ noun 1 being frustrated. 2 law a term used in contract law whereby a contract ends, through no fault of any party to the contract, because it has become impossible to perform or illegal.

frustum /'frʌstəm/ ▷ noun (frustums or frusta /-tə/) 1 a slice of a solid body. 2 the part of a cone or pyramid between the base and a parallel plane, or between two planes. ⓒ 17c: Latin, meaning 'a bit'.

fry[1] /fraɪ/ ▷ verb (fries, fried, frying) tr & intr to cook (food) in hot oil or fat, either in a frying-pan, or by deep-frying (see DEEP-FRY). ▷ noun (fries) 1 a dish of anything fried, eg the offal of a pig or lamb. 2 a FRY-UP. 3 (fries) FRENCH FRIES. ⓒ 14c: from French frire, from Latin frigere to roast or fry.

fry[2] /fraɪ/ ▷ plural noun 1 young or newly spawned fish. 2 salmon in their second year. ⓒ 14c: from French frai seed, offspring.

fryer or frier ▷ noun 1 a frying pan. 2 a chicken or fish suitable for frying. 3 someone who fries something (especially fish).

frying-pan ▷ noun a shallow long-handled pan for frying food in. ● out of the frying-pan into the fire from a bad situation into a worse one.

fry-up ▷ noun (fry-ups) 1 a mixture of fried foods. 2 the cooking of these. Sometimes shortened to fry.

FSB ▷ abbreviation: Federalnaya sluzhba bezopasnosti (Russian), Federal Security Service, responsible for Russian state security, created in 1995 as a successor agency of the FSK and KGB.

FSH ▷ abbreviation follicle-stimulating hormone.

FSK ▷ abbreviation: Federalnaya sluzhba kontrrazvedki (Russian), Federal Counter-Intelligence Service, a successor agency of the KGB from 1991 to 1995 when it was renamed FSB.

f-stop see STOP noun 8.

FT ▷ abbreviation: the Financial Times, a British daily newspaper.

ft ▷ abbreviation referring to the measure of length: foot or feet.

fth. or fthm ▷ abbreviation fathom.

FT Index ▷ abbreviation 1 Financial Times Industrial Ordinary Share Index, an index produced daily to show the general trend in share prices on the London stock exchange. 2 Financial Times Stock Exchange 100-Share Index, which records the share prices of the top 100 UK public companies, giving an indication of movements in share prices. Also called FT-SE /ˈfʊtsɪ/ or FT-SE Index. 3 a term referring to other, similar indices, such as FT-SE 250 Index, FT-SE All Share Index. See also FOOTSIE.

FTP ▷ abbreviation file-transfer protocol, a means of transferring data from one computer to another over the INTERNET.

fuchsia /ˈfjuːʃə/ ▷ noun (fuchsias) a shrub with purple, red or white hanging flowers. ⓘ 18c: named after Leonard Fuchs (1501–66), German botanist.

fuchsine /ˈfuːksiːn/ ▷ noun dark-green crystals which, when dissolved in water, form a purplish-red solution, used as a disinfectant, a clothes dye, etc. Also called magenta. ⓘ 19c: named after the flower FUCHSIA, because of its colour.

fuck taboo slang (sometimes fk, f, etc) ▷ verb (fucked, fucking) tr & intr to have penetrative sex (with someone). ▷ noun 1 an act of sexual intercourse. 2 a sexual partner. ▷ exclamation an expression of anger, frustration, etc □ Fuck him! ● fuck all nothing □ He knows fuck all about sailing. ● not give a fuck not to care at all. ● the fuck used for emphasis □ What the fuck are you doing? See also THE F-WORD. ⓘ 16c: of unknown origin.

■ fuck about or around to behave foolishly or waste time.

■ fuck someone about or around to annoy them or waste their time, especially by behaving foolishly or inconsiderately.

■ fuck off offensive to go away. Also as exclamation used in frustration or anger demanding someone leaves you alone.

■ fuck up or fuck something up to ruin or spoil it. See also FUCK-UP.

fucked ▷ adj 1 confused; in trouble. 2 exhausted.

fucker ▷ noun, taboo slang 1 someone or something that is difficult or awkward □ What a fucker! 2 a term of abuse □ You stingy fucker! 3 a person; fellow □ a fashionable fucker. 4 someone who fucks.

fuckhead and fuckwit ▷ noun, taboo slang a fool; an idiot.

fucking ▷ adj, taboo slang 1 expressing annoyance, frustration, etc; damned; bloody □ a fucking bore. 2 expressing emphasis □ a fucking great film. Also as infix □ im-fucking-possible.

fuck-up ▷ noun, taboo slang a bungled or spoilt situation; a mess. See also FUCK UP at FUCK.

fuddle /ˈfʌdəl/ ▷ verb (fuddled, fuddling) to muddle the wits of; to confuse or stupefy. ▷ noun a state of confusion or intoxication. ⓘ 16c.

fuddy-duddy /ˈfʌdɪdʌdɪ/ colloq ▷ adj quaintly old-fashioned or prim. ▷ noun (fuddy-duddies) a fuddy-duddy person; an old fogey. ⓘ Early 20c.

fudge[1] ▷ noun a soft toffee made from butter, sugar and milk. ▷ exclamation, colloq 1 expressing annoyance or frustration: damn. 2 rubbish; nonsense. ⓘ 19c as noun; 18c as exclamation sense 2: probably related partly to FUDGE[2].

fudge[2] ▷ verb (fudged, fudging) colloq 1 to invent or concoct (an excuse, etc). 2 to distort or deliberately obscure (figures, an argument, etc), to cover up problems, mistakes, etc. 3 to dodge or evade something. 4 intr to avoid stating a clear opinion. ▷ noun the action of obscuring, distorting an issue, etc. ⓘ 17c: perhaps from earlier fadge to succeed or turn out.

fuel /fjuəl/ ▷ noun 1 any material that releases energy when it is burned, which can be used as a source of heat or power. 2 fissile material that is used to release energy by nuclear fission in a nuclear reactor. 3 food, as a source of energy and a means of maintaining bodily processes. 4 something that feeds or inflames passions, etc. ▷ verb (fuelled, fuelling) 1 to fill or feed with fuel. 2 intr to take on or get fuel. 3 to inflame (anger or other passions). ● fueller noun. ● add fuel to the fire to make an angry person, situation, etc angrier; to make a heated discussion more heated, etc. ⓘ 14c: from French feuaile, from Latin focus hearth.

fuel cell ▷ noun, chem a device in which chemical energy released by the oxidation of a liquid or gaseous fuel, eg methanol, is converted directly into electrical energy.

fuel injection ▷ noun in an internal-combustion engine: a system that injects pure fuel under pressure directly into the cylinder, the timing and amount of fuel injected being under electronic control, eliminating the need for a carburettor and producing improved running performance.

fug ▷ noun a stale-smelling stuffy atmosphere, often very hot, close and airless. ● fuggy (fuggier, fuggiest) adj. ● fugginess noun.

fugal and fugally see under FUGUE.

fugato /fjʊˈgɑːtoʊ/ ▷ adj, adverb in the manner of a FUGUE, without strictly being a fugue.

-fuge ▷ combining form, forming adjectives and nouns, denoting 1 dispelling or expelling □ centrifuge. 2 for disliking or hating □ calcifuge. ⓘ From Latin fugare to put to flight and fugere to flee.

fugitive /ˈfjuːdʒɪtɪv/ ▷ noun a person who is fleeing someone or something, usually some kind of authority, such as the law, an army, a political system, etc. ▷ adj 1 fleeing away. 2 lasting only briefly; fleeting □ a fugitive smile. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin fugitivus.

fugue /fjuːg/ ▷ noun, music a style of composition in which a theme is introduced in one part and developed as successive parts take it up. ● fugal adj. ● fugally adverb. ⓘ 16c: from French fugue, from Italian fuga flight.

Führer /ˈfjʊərə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the title taken by Hitler as dictator of Nazi Germany. 2 (führer) any autocratic dictator or boss. ⓘ 1930s: German, meaning 'leader'.

-ful ▷ suffix 1 forming nouns denoting an amount held by a container, or something thought of as one □ an armful of books □ two mugfuls of coffee. 2 forming adjectives a full of something specified □ meaningful □ eventful; b characterized by something specified □ merciful □ graceful; c having the qualities of something specified □ youthful; d in accordance with something specified □ lawful; ● showing an inclination to do something □ forgetful. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon, as in handful

-ful

● Nouns ending in -ful which denote an amount form plurals ending in -fuls □ armfuls, cupfuls, fistfuls, forkfuls, handfuls, lungfuls, mouthfuls, sackfuls, shovelfuls, spoonfuls, trunkfuls, etc. Note that cupfuls, handfuls, etc, denote an amount or contents, whereas cups full (as in several cups full of water) denote the container or thing holding the contents.

fulcrum /ˈfʊlkrəm, ˈfʌl-/ ▷ noun (fulcrums, fulcra /-krə/) 1 technical the point on which a LEVER turns, balances or is supported. 2 a support; a means to an end. ⊙ 17c: Latin, meaning 'prop'.

fulfil or (N Amer) fulfill /fʊlˈfɪl/ verb (fulfilled, fulfilling) 1 to carry out or perform (a task, promise, etc). 2 to satisfy (requirements). 3 to achieve (an aim, ambition, etc). ● fulfilment noun. ● fulfil oneself to realize one's potential through the full use of one's talents. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon fullfyllan.

fulgent /ˈfʌldʒənt/ ▷ adj shining; bright. ● fulgency noun. ⊙ 15c: from Latin fulgens shining, from fulgere to shine.

fuliginous /fjʊˈlɪdʒɪnəs/ ▷ adj 1 sooty. 2 soot-coloured; dusky. ⊙ 17c: from Latin fuligo soot.

full[1] /fʊl/ ▷ adj (fuller, fullest) 1 (also full of something) holding, containing or having as much as possible, or a large quantity. 2 complete □ do a full day's work. 3 detailed; thorough; including everything necessary □ a full report. 4 occupied □ My hands are full. 5 having eaten till one wants no more. 6 plump; fleshy □ the fuller figure □ full lips. 7 said of clothes: made with a large amount of material □ a full skirt. 8 rich and strong □ This wine is very full. 9 rich and varied □ a full life. 10 having all possible rights, privileges, etc □ a full member. 11 said of the Moon: at the stage when it is seen as a fully-illuminated disc. 12 a) said of a brother or sister: having the same parents as oneself (compare HALF-BROTHER, HALF-SISTER); b said of a cousin: see FIRST COUSIN. ▷ adverb 1 completely; at maximum capacity □ Is the radiator full on? 2 exactly; directly □ hit him full on the nose. ▷ verb (fulled, fulling) needlecraft to make something with gathers or puckers. ● be full up 1 to be full to the limit. 2 to have had enough to eat. ● full of something unable to talk about anything but it; engrossed in it □ full of her holidays. ● full of oneself having too good an opinion of oneself and one's importance. ● full of years literary or old use old; aged. ● full well perfectly well. ● in full 1 completely. 2 at length; in detail □ reported in full. ● in full rig with the maximum number of masts and sails. ● in full swing at the height of activity. ● to the full to the greatest possible extent. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon.

full[2] /fʊl/ ▷ verb (fulled, fulling) to shrink and beat (cloth) to thicken it. ● fuller noun someone who fulls cloth. ⊙ 14c: from French fuler, from Latin fullo fuller.

fullback ▷ noun, hockey, football, rugby a defence player positioned towards the back of the field to protect the goal.

full beam ▷ noun (usually at full beam) said of a vehicle's headlights: the strongest, undipped, setting.

full-blast ▷ adverb with maximum energy and fluency.

full-blooded ▷ adj 1 of pure breed; thoroughbred; not mixed blood. 2 enthusiastic; whole-hearted. ● full-bloodedness noun.

full-blown ▷ adj 1 having all the features of the specified thing □ a full-blown war □ full-blown AIDS. 2 said of a rose, etc: completely open.

full board ▷ noun accommodation at a hotel, guesthouse, etc including the provision of all meals, etc. Also called US AMERICAN PLAN. Compare HALF BOARD.

full-bodied ▷ adj having a rich flavour or quality □ a full-bodied wine.

full-circle ▷ adverb 1 round in a complete revolution. 2 back to the original starting position.

full complement see COMPLEMENT noun 2.

full dress ▷ noun the style of dress to be worn on formal or ceremonial occasions. Also as adj □ a full-dress occasion.

full employment ▷ noun a situation in which all those seeking work in a community or country are able to find suitable work fairly readily, and in which the number of unfilled vacancies exceeds the number of people seeking work.

fuller[1] and fullest see FULL[1] fuller[2] see under FULL[2] fuller's earth ▷ noun, geol a green, blue or yellowish-brown clay with a high adsorptive capacity, used to decolour fats and oils, to remove grease from fabrics, as a filter and as a base for paper and cosmetics.

full-face or full-faced ▷ adj 1 facing straight towards the viewer. 2 having a full or broad face.

full-fat ▷ adj said of food, usually dairy products: containing all the original fat with none of it removed. Compare LOW-FAT, FAT-FREE.

full-frontal ▷ adj 1 referring to the front view of a completely naked man or woman. 2 unrestrained; with no detail left unrevealed.

full house ▷ noun 1 a performance at a theatre, cinema, etc, at which every seat is taken. 2 cards, especially poker a set of five cards consisting of three cards of one kind and two of another. Also called full hand. 3 in bingo: having all the numbers needed to win. 4 a complete set of anything.

full-length ▷ adj 1 complete; of the usual or standard length. 2 showing the whole body □ a full-length mirror. 3 of maximum length; long □ a full-length skirt.

full moon ▷ noun 1 one of the four phases of the Moon, when the whole of it is illuminated and it is seen as a complete disc. Compare NEW MOON. 2 the time when the Moon is full.

full nelson same as NELSON fullness or (N Amer or dated) fulness ▷ noun the condition of being full or complete. ● in the fullness of time when the proper time or the time allowed for something has elapsed.

full-out ▷ adj at full power; total.

full-page ▷ adj occupying a whole page □ full-page spread.

full-pelt, full-speed and full-tilt ▷ adj, adverb with highest speed and impetus.

full-rigged ▷ adj having three or more masts square-rigged.

full-sailed ▷ adj 1 having all sails set; having sails filled with wind. 2 advancing with speed and momentum.

full-scale ▷ adj 1 said of a drawing, etc: the same size as the subject. 2 using all possible resources, means, etc; complete or exhaustive □ a full-scale search for the missing climbers.

full-speed see under FULL-PELT full stop ▷ noun a punctuation mark (.) used to indicate the end of a sentence or to mark an abbreviation. Also (especially Scottish and N Amer) called PERIOD.

full-tilt see under FULL-PELT full time ▷ noun the end of the time normally allowed for a sports match, etc.

full-time ▷ adj occupied for or extending over the whole of the working week. ▷ adverb (full time) □ > full stop

>
> A full stop
>
> • marks the end of a sentence □ John is coming. □ Two and two makes four.
>
> In direct speech, the full stop is replaced by a comma if the quoted speech is followed by a verb of saying, wondering, etc □ 'I have no complaints,' she said with a smile. □ 'Let's just forget it,' replied the girl.
>
> • It can be used to mark the end of an abbreviation □ Wood St. □ Wm. Shakespeare □ John Brown and Co.
>
> There is an increasing tendency to write abbreviations without full stops, particularly those that include the final letter of the word, such as Dr and Mr, and abbreviations of countries and organizations, such as USA, UN and EC.
>
> • Three full stops, sometimes called 'an ellipsis' or 'omission marks', indicate that something has been left out □ She lay in her cabin, weeping, weeping ... □ As Evan Daniel has said, ' ... it is in the language itself, not in books, that these facts are primarily to be sought'. □ What the ... does he think he's doing?

working full time. • full-timer someone who works full time. Compare PART-TIME.

fully ▷ adverb 1 to the greatest possible extent. 2 completely □ fully qualified. 3 in detail □ deal with it more fully next week. 4 at least □ stayed for fully one hour.

fully-fashioned ▷ adj said of knitwear or stockings: seamed and shaped so as to give a close fit. ⓘ 1940s.

fully-fledged ▷ adj 1 said of a person: completely trained or qualified. 2 said of a bird: old enough to have grown feathers.

fulmar /ˈfʊlmə(r), -mɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a gull-like sea bird found in Arctic and sub-Arctic regions. ⓘ 17c: originally a dialect word from the Hebrides, probably from Icelandic ful foul or stinking + mar gull.

fulminate /ˈfʌlmɪneɪt, ˈfʊl-/ ▷ verb (fulminated, fulminating) intr to utter angry criticism or condemnation. • fulminant adj, pathol developing suddenly or rapidly. • fulmination noun. • fulminatory adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin fulminare, fulminatum to hurl lightning.

fulness see FULLNESS.

fulsome /ˈfʊlsəm/ ▷ adj said of praise, compliments, etc: so overdone as to be distasteful. • fulsomely adverb. • fulsomeness noun. ⓘ 13c.

fulvous /ˈfʌlvəs/ ▷ adj dull yellow; yellowish-brown; tawny. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fulvus tawny.

fumarole /ˈfjuːmərəʊl/ ▷ noun a hole from which gases issue in a volcano or volcanic region. ⓘ 19c: from French fumerolle or Italian fumaruola, from Latin fumus smoke.

fumble /ˈfʌmbəl/ ▷ verb (fumbled, fumbling) 1 intr (also fumble for something) to handle it, or grope, clumsily □ fumbled in his pockets for the change. 2 to say or do something awkwardly. 3 to fail to manage, because of clumsy handling □ The fielder fumbled the catch. ▷ noun 1 an act of fumbling. 2 in ball sports: a dropped or fumbled ball. • fumbler noun. • fumblingly adverb.

> ■ fumble with or fumble about with something to toy with or finger something (eg documents) in a distracted and aimless way.

fume /fjuːm/ ▷ noun 1 (often fumes) smoke, gases or vapour, especially if strong-smelling or toxic, emanating from heated materials, operating engines or machinery, etc. 2 the pungent toxic vapours given off by solvents or concentrated acids. 3 a rage; fretful excitement. ▷ verb (fumed, fuming) 1 intr to be furious; to fret angrily. 2 intr to give off smoke, gases or vapours. 3 intr said of gases or vapours: to come off in fumes, especially during a chemical reaction. 4 to treat (eg wood) with fumes. • fumous or fumey adj. • fumingly adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fumus smoke.

fumed ▷ adj said of wood, especially oak: darkened by ammonia fumes.

fumigant /ˈfjuːmɪgənt/ ▷ noun a gaseous form of a chemical compound that is used to fumigate a place.

fumigate /ˈfjuːmɪgeɪt/ ▷ verb (fumigated, fumigating) to disinfect (a room, a building, etc) with fumes, in order to destroy pests, especially insects and their larvae. • fumigation noun. • fumigator noun an apparatus used to fumigate a place. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fumigare, fumigatum to smoke, from Latin fumus smoke.

fuming sulphuric acid see under OLEUM.

fumitory /ˈfjuːmɪtərɪ/ ▷ noun (fumitories) an annual plant with slender stems, bluish-green leaves and flowers with four pink petals with blackish-purple tips, found as a common weed on cultivated ground. ⓘ 14c: from French fume-terre, from Latin fumus smoke + terra earth, so named because it grows so rapidly that its spread was compared to the spread of fire.

fun ▷ noun 1 enjoyment; merriment. 2 a source of amusement or entertainment. ▷ adj, colloq intended for amusement, enjoyment, etc. • for fun as a joke; for amusement. • in fun as a joke; not seriously. • make fun of or poke fun at someone or something to laugh at them or it, especially unkindly; to tease or ridicule them or it. ⓘ 17c: from earlier fon to make a fool of.

funambulist /fjuːˈnambjʊlɪst/ ▷ noun someone who performs on ropes, eg walking a tightrope, dancing on ropes, etc. ⓘ 18c: from Latin funambulus, from funis rope + ambulare to walk.

fun and games ▷ noun 1 amusement; excitement. 2 ironic trouble □ There'll be fun and games when Phil sees this mess!

function /ˈfʌŋkʃən, ˈfʌŋʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the special purpose or task of a machine, person, bodily part, etc. 2 a an organized event such as a party, reception, meeting, etc; b Also as adj □ function room. 3 a duty particular to someone in a particular job. 4 math, logic a mathematical procedure that relates one or more variables to one or more other variables, eg in the algebraic expression $y = x + 4$, the variable y is a function of the variable x, usually written as $y = f(x)$, and a change in x will produce a change in y. 5 computing any of the basic operations of a computer, usually corresponding to a single operation. ▷ verb (functioned, functioning) intr 1 to work; to operate □ The washing-machine functions well. 2 to fulfil a function; to perform one's duty. 3 to serve or act as something □ a torch that functions as a screwdriver. • functionless adj. ⓘ 16c: French, from Latin functio, from fungi, functus to perform.

functional ▷ adj 1 said of buildings, machines, etc: designed for efficiency rather than decorativeness; plain rather than elaborate. 2 in working order; operational. 3 referring to or performed by functions. • functionally adverb.

functional group ▷ noun, chem in a molecule of a substance: a combination of two or more atoms that are bonded together and tend to act as a single unit in chemical reactions, eg the hydroxyl (-OH) group.

functionalism ▷ noun 1 the policy or practice of the practical application of ideas. 2 art, archit the theory that beauty is to be identified with functional efficiency. 3 anthropol, sociol the theory which develops a picture of society as a self-regulating organism in which social institutions, customs and beliefs all have a part to play in maintaining a single, integrated social system. • functionalist noun.

functionality ▷ noun the capacity that a thing, idea, etc has to be functional or practical.

functionary ▷ noun (functionaries) derog someone who works as a minor official in the government, etc.

function key ▷ noun, computing 1 any of the keys marked with an 'F' and a following numeral on a keyboard, pressed alone or in combination with other keys to perform a specific task within a program. 2 any key used in combination with the 'control' key for the same purpose.

function word ▷ noun, linguistics a word, such as an ARTICLE 4 or AUXILIARY 3, which expresses a grammatical concept, such as definiteness (see DEFINITE ARTICLE) or TENSE¹, and has little or no meaning apart from this.

fund ▷ noun 1 a sum of money on which some enterprise is founded or on which the expenses of a project are supported. 2 a large store or supply □ a fund of jokes. 3 (funds) colloq money available for spending. 4 (funds) British government securities paying fixed interest, which finance the NATIONAL DEBT. ▷ verb (funded, funding) 1 to provide money for a particular purpose □ fund the project. 2 to make (a debt) permanent, with fixed interest. • funded adj 1 invested in public funds. 2 existing in the form of bonds. • funder noun a financial backer. • in funds colloq having plenty of cash. ◷ 17c: from Latin fundus bottom.

fundament /ˈfʌndəmənt/ ▷ noun, euphemistic the buttocks or anus. ◷ 13c.

fundamental /fʌndəˈmentəl/ ▷ adj 1 basic; underlying □ fundamental rules of physics □ her fundamental honesty. 2 large; important □ fundamental differences. 3 essential; necessary. ▷ noun 1 (usually fundamentals) a basic principle or rule. 2 music the lowest note of a chord. • fundamentality noun. • fundamentally adverb. ◷ 15c: from Latin fundamentum foundation, from fundare to FOUND².

fundamentalism ▷ noun in religion, politics, etc: strict adherence to the traditional teachings of a particular religion or political doctrine. • fundamentalist noun. ◷ 1920s: the term was originally used of the conservative US Protestant movement, which was characterized by a literal interpretation of the Bible. It was revived to describe conservative Christian and Islamic movements in the late 20c.

fundamental particle ▷ noun, physics an elementary particle.

fundamental unit ▷ noun, physics each of the arbitrarily defined units in a system of measurement from which all other units are derived, eg in the SI system, the metre, kilogram and second are, respectively, the fundamental units of length, mass and time.

funded and funder see under FUND fundholder ▷ noun a general practitioner who controls the budget allocated to their practice. • fundholding noun, adj.

fundi /ˈfʊndiː/ ▷ noun (fundis) S Afr an expert. ◷ 19c: from Nguni (a South African language) umfundisi a teacher.

funding ▷ noun 1 financial backing; funds. 2 the action of providing money for a project, etc. ▷ adj providing funds; relating to funding.

fundraiser ▷ noun 1 someone engaged in fundraising for a charity, organization, etc. 2 an event held to raise money for a cause.

fundraising ▷ noun the raising of money for an organization, project, etc. ▷ adj for the purpose of, or relating to, fundraising.

funds see under FUND

fundus /ˈfʌndəs/ ▷ noun (fundi /ˈfʌndaɪ/) anatomy the rounded bottom of a hollow organ. ◷ 18c: Latin, meaning 'bottom'.

funeral /ˈfjuːnərəl/ ▷ noun 1 the ceremonial burial or cremation of a dead person. 2 colloq one's own problem, affair, etc □ That's his funeral. ▷ adj relating to funerals. ◷ 19c as US slang in noun sense 2; 14c in sense 1: from Latin funeralia funeral rites.

funeral director ▷ noun an undertaker.

funeral parlour ▷ noun 1 an undertaker's place of business. 2 a room that can be hired for funeral ceremonies.

funerary /ˈfjuːnərərɪ/ ▷ adj belonging to or used for funerals. ◷ 17c: from Latin funerarius.

funereal /fjuːˈnɪərɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 associated with or suitable for funerals. 2 mournful; dismal. 3 extremely slow. • funereally adverb. ◷ 18c: from Latin funereus.

funfair ▷ noun a collection of sideshows, amusements, rides, etc, often set up temporarily on open ground and moving from town to town. ◷ 1920s.

fungal and fungi see FUNGUS fungibles /ˈfʌndʒɪbəlz/ ▷ plural noun, Scots law perishable goods which may be estimated by weight, number and measure and which are consumed in use. ◷ 18c: from Latin fungi to perform.

fungicide /ˈfʌndʒɪsaɪd, ˈfʌŋgɪ-/ ▷ noun a chemical that kills or limits the growth of fungi. • fungicidal adj. ◷ 19c: FUNGUS + -CIDE.

fungoid /ˈfʌŋgɔɪd/ ▷ adj, bot resembling a fungus in nature or consistency; fungus-like. ◷ 19c: FUNGUS + -OID.

fungus /ˈfʌŋgəs/ ▷ noun (fungi /-giː, -gaɪ, -dʒaɪ/ or funguses /-gəsɪz/) any organism that superficially resembles a plant, but does not have leaves and roots, and lacks CHLOROPHYLL, so that it must obtain its nutrients from other organisms, by living either as a parasite on living organisms, or as a SAPROPHYTE on dead organic matter. • fungal /-gəl/ adj. • fungous /-gəs/ adj. ◷ 16c: Latin, meaning 'mushroom' or 'fungus'.

funicular /fjʊˈnɪkjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj said of a mountain railway: operating by a machine-driven cable, with two cars, one of which descends while the other ascends. ▷ noun a funicular railway. ◷ Early 20c in these senses.

funk¹ ▷ noun 1 colloq jazz or rock music with a strong rhythm and repeating bass pattern, with a down-to-earth bluesy feel. 2 in compounds a mix of the specified types of music, containing elements from both traditions □ disco-funk □ jazz-funk □ techno-funk. ◷ 1950s in sense 1 as a back-formation from FUNKY; 17c in obsolete sense (except US dialect) of 'a strong, unpleasant smell': from French dialect funquer to give off smoke.

funk² ▷ noun, colloq 1 a (also blue funk) a state of fear or panic; b shrinking back or shirking because of a loss of courage. 2 a coward. ▷ verb (funked, funking) to avoid doing something from panic; to balk at something or shirk from fear. ◷ 18c: possibly from Flemish fonck.

funkhole ▷ noun, slang, originally military 1 a place of refuge; a dug-out. 2 a place to which one can retreat for shelter, etc. 3 a job that enables one to avoid military service. ◷ Early 20c.

funky ▷ adj (funkier, funkiest) colloq 1 said of jazz or rock music: strongly rhythmical and emotionally stirring. 2 trendy; good □ What funky socks you've got on! 3 earthy; smelly.

funnel /ˈfʌnəl/ ▷ noun 1 a tube with a cone-shaped opening through which liquid, etc can be poured into a narrow-necked container. 2 a vertical exhaust pipe on a steamship or steam engine through which smoke escapes. ▷ verb (funnelled, funnelling; (US) funneled, funneling) 1 intr to rush through a narrow space □ wind funnelling through the streets. 2 to transfer (liquid, etc) from one container to another using a funnel. • funnelled adj with a funnel; funnel-shaped. ◷ 15c: from Provençal fonil, from Latin infundere to pour in.

funnel-web or funnel-web spider ▷ noun a venomous spider of E Australia which constructs a tube-shaped or funnel-shaped lair.

funny /ˈfʌnɪ/ ▷ adj (funnier, funniest) 1 amusing; causing laughter. Also (colloq) called funny-ha-ha. 2 strange; odd; mysterious. Also (colloq) called funny-peculiar. ◎ 1930s: to distinguish from sense 1. 3 colloq dishonest; shady; involving trickery. 4 colloq ill □ feeling funny. 5 colloq slightly crazy. ▷ noun (funnies) colloq 1 a joke. 2 (funnies) N Amer comic strips, or the comic section of a newspaper. ● funnily adverb. ● funniness noun. ◎ 18c.

funny bone ▷ noun a place in the elbow joint where the ulnar nerve passes close to the skin, is comparatively unprotected, and when struck shoots a tingling sensation down the forearm to the fingers.

funny farm ▷ noun, dated colloq a mental hospital.

funny money ▷ noun, colloq any currency, or unit of account, considered in some way less real or trustworthy than 'ordinary' money.

fun run ▷ noun a long-distance race that people run in for amusement, to raise money for a charity, etc.

fur /fɜː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the thick fine soft coat of a hairy animal. 2 a the skin of such an animal with the hair attached, used to make, line or trim garments; b a synthetic imitation of this. 3 a coat, cape or jacket made of fur or an imitation of it. 4 a whitish coating on the tongue, generally a sign of illness. 5 a whitish coating that forms on the inside of water pipes and kettles in hard-water regions. ▷ verb (furred, furring) 1 tr & intr (often fur up or fur something up) to coat or become coated with a fur-like deposit. 2 to cover, trim or line with fur. ● furring or furry see separate entries. ● make the fur fly colloq to cause a commotion; to upset people. ◎ 14c: from French forrer sheath or case.

fur. ▷ abbreviation furlong.

furbelow /ˈfɜːbəloʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a dress trimming in the form of a ruched or pleated strip, ruffle or flounce. 2 (furbelows) fussy ornamentation. ◎ 18c: from French and Italian falbala.

furbish /ˈfɜːbɪʃ/ ▷ verb (furbishes, furbished, furbishing) (also furbish something up) to restore, decorate or clean it; to rub it up until it is bright. ● furbisher noun. ● furbishment noun. ◎ 14c: from French fourbir to polish.

furcate /ˈfɜːkeɪt, fɜːˈkeɪt/ ▷ verb (furcated, furcating) intr to fork or divide; to branch like a fork. ▷ adj /fɜːˈkeɪt, ˈfɜːkət/ forked. ◎ Early 19c: from Latin furca fork.

furcation /fɜːˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun a forking; a fork-like division.

furcula /ˈfɜːkjʊlə/ ▷ noun (furculas) the united clavicles of a bird; the wishbone. ◎ 1860s: Latin, meaning 'small fork'.

fur fabric ▷ noun a fabric with a fur-like pile.

furfur /ˈfɜːfɜː(r), ˈfɜːfə(r)/ ▷ noun dandruff; scurf. ● furfuraceous /fɜːfjʊˈreɪʃəs/ adj branny; scaly; scurfy. ◎ 17c: Latin, meaning 'bran'.

the Furies ▷ plural noun the three spirits of vengeance, known in Greek mythology as the Erinyes (see ERINYS).

furioso /fjʊərɪˈoʊsoʊ, fʊərɪ-/ music ▷ adverb in a vigorous manner. ▷ adj vigorous. ◎ 19c: Italian.

furious /ˈfjʊərɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 violently or intensely angry. 2 raging; stormy □ furious winds. 3 frenzied; frantic □ furious activity. ● furiously adverb. ● furiousness noun. ● fast and furious see under FAST. ◎ 14c: from Latin furiosus.

furl /fɜːl/ ▷ verb (furled, furling) tr & intr said of flags, sails or umbrellas: to roll up. ◎ 16c: from French ferlier, from ferm firm + lier to bind.

furlong /ˈfɜːlɒŋ/ ▷ noun (abbreviation fr.) a measure of distance now used mainly in horse-racing, equal to one eighth of a mile, or 220 yards (201.2m). ◎ Anglo-Saxon furlang, from furh furrow + lang long.

furlough /ˈfɜːloʊ/ ▷ noun leave of absence, especially from military duty abroad. ◎ 17c: from Dutch verlof.

furnace /ˈfɜːnɪs/ ▷ noun 1 a an enclosed chamber in which heat is produced, eg for smelting metal, heating water or burning rubbish; b a BLAST FURNACE. 2 colloq a very hot place. ◎ 13c: from Latin fornax, fornacis kiln or oven.

furnish /ˈfɜːnɪʃ/ ▷ verb (furnishes, furnished, furnishing) 1 to provide (a house, etc) with furniture. 2 to supply (what is necessary). ● furnished adj usually said of a house, flat, etc: stocked with furniture □ The flat she is renting is fully furnished. ◎ 15c: from French furnir to provide.

■ furnish someone with something to supply or equip them with what they require (eg information, documents).

furnishings ▷ plural noun articles of furniture, fittings, carpets, curtains, etc.

furniture /ˈfɜːnɪtʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 movable household equipment such as tables, chairs, beds, etc. 2 the equipment needed on board ship or in a factory. 3 door fittings such as locks and handles. ◎ 16c: from French fourniture, from fournir to provide.

furniture van ▷ noun a long, high-sided van for transporting furniture and other fittings from a house, etc, eg when moving house.

furore /fjʊˈrɔːrɪ/ or (especially N Amer) furor /ˈfjʊərɔː(r)/ noun (furores) a general outburst of excitement or indignation in reaction to something. ◎ 18c: Italian, from Latin furor frenzy.

furrier /ˈfʌrɪə(r)/ ▷ noun someone whose job is to make or sell furs. ◎ 16c.

furring /ˈfɜːrɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 fur trimmings. 2 a coating on the tongue. 3 strips of wood fastened to joists or to a wall onto which floorboards or plasterboard are fixed.

furrow /ˈfʌroʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a groove or trench cut into the earth by a plough; a rut. 2 a wrinkle, eg in the forehead. ▷ verb (furrowed, furrowing) 1 to plough (land) into furrows. 2 intr to become wrinkled. ◎ Anglo-Saxon furh.

furry /ˈfɜːrɪ/ ▷ adj (furrier, furriest) 1 covered with fur. 2 made of, or like, fur. ● furrily adverb. ● furriness noun.

further /ˈfɜːðə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 more distant or remote (than something else). 2 more extended than was originally expected □ further delay. 3 additional □ no further clues. ▷ adverb 1 at or to a greater distance or more distant point. 2 to or at a more advanced point □ further developed. 3 to a greater extent or degree □ modified even further. 4 moreover; furthermore. ▷ verb (furthered, furthering) to help the progress of something. ● further to ... following on from (our telephone conversation, your letter, etc). See also FAR. ◎ Anglo-Saxon furthra.

further

See Usage Note at farther

furtherance /ˈfɜːðərəns/ ▷ noun the furthering, advancement or continuation of something.

further education ▷ noun, Brit formal education at a college, usually on a vocational course, for school-leavers or mature students. Compare HIGHER EDUCATION.

furthermore /fɜːðəˈmɔː(r)/ ▷ adverb in addition to what has already been said; moreover.

furthermost ▷ adj most distant or remote; farthest.

further outlook ▷ noun, meteorol a general weather forecast given for a longer and more distant period than that given for the immediate future by a more detailed forecast.

furthest /ˈfɜːðəst/ ▷ adj most distant or remote. ▷ adverb 1 at or to the greatest distance or most distant point. 2 at or to the most advanced point; to the greatest extent or degree. Compare FARTHEST.

furtive /ˈfɜːtɪv/ ▷ adj secretive; stealthy; sly □ a furtive glance. ● furtively adverb. ● furtiveness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin furtivus stolen, clandestine.

furuncle /ˈfjʊərʌŋkəl/ ▷ noun, pathol a boil. ● furuncular or furunculous adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin furunculus a little thief.

fury /ˈfjʊərɪ/ ▷ noun (furies) 1 violent or frenzied anger; an outburst of this. 2 violence □ the fury of the wind. 3 a frenzy □ a fury of activity. ● like fury colloq fast; eagerly; powerfully; like mad; furiously. ⓘ 14c: from French furie, from Latin furere to rage. See also THE FURIES.

furze /fɜːz/ ▷ noun GORSE. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fyrs.

fuse¹ /fjuːz/ ▷ noun, elec a safety device consisting of a length of wire which melts when the current exceeds a certain value, thereby breaking the circuit. It is designed to prevent damage to electrical equipment and reduce the risk of fire. See also BLOW¹ (verb 8). ▷ verb (fused, fusing) tr & intr 1 to melt as a result of the application of heat. 2 (also fuse together) to join by, or as if by, melting together. 3 said of an electric circuit or appliance: to cease to function as a result of the melting of a fuse. ● blow a fuse colloq to lose one's temper. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fundere, fusum to melt.

fuse² or (US) fuze /fjuːz/ ▷ noun a cord or cable containing combustible material, used for detonating a bomb or explosive charge. ▷ verb (fused, fusing) to fit with such a device. ● have a short fuse or burn on a short fuse to be quick-tempered. ⓘ 17c: from Latin fusus spindle.

fuse box ▷ noun a box containing the switches and fuses (usually encased in a small glass or ceramic tube with metal ends) which lead into an electrical system serving eg a whole building or part of it.

fuselage /ˈfjuːzəlɑːʒ, -ɪdʒ/ ▷ noun the main body of an aircraft, which carries crew and passengers, and to which the wings and tail unit are attached. ⓘ Early 20c: from French fuselé spindle-shaped.

fusel-oil /ˈfjuːzəlɔɪl/ ▷ noun a nauseous mixture of alcohols in spirits distilled from potatoes, grain, etc. ⓘ 19c: from German Fusel bad spirits.

fusible /ˈfjuːzɪbəl/ ▷ adj able to be fused; easily fused. ● fusibility noun.

fusiform /ˈfjuːzɪfɔːm/ ▷ adj spindle-shaped; tapering from the middle towards each end. ⓘ 18c: from Latin fusus spindle + -FORM.

fusilier /fjuːzɪˈlɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 historical an infantryman armed with a fusil, which is a light musket. 2 a member of any of several British regiments formerly armed with these. ⓘ 17c: from French fusilier, from fusil a musket with a flintlock.

fusillade /fjuːzɪˈleɪd, -zɪˈlɑːd/ ▷ noun 1 a simultaneous or continuous discharge of firearms. 2 an onslaught, eg of criticism. ⓘ 19c: from French fusillade, from fusiller to shoot, from fusil; see FUSILIER.

fusilli /fjuːˈzɪlɪ/ ▷ singular or plural noun pasta shaped into short thick spirals. ⓘ 20c: Italian.

fusion /ˈfjuːʒən/ ▷ noun 1 chem the process of melting, whereby a substance changes from a solid to a liquid. 2 the act of joining together. 3 nuclear physics see under NUCLEAR FUSION. ⓘ 16c: from Latin fusio melting.

fusion bomb ▷ noun a bomb deriving its energy from NUCLEAR FUSION, such as the HYDROGEN BOMB.

fusion reactor ▷ noun a NUCLEAR REACTOR operating by NUCLEAR FUSION.

fuss ▷ noun (fusses) 1 agitation and excitement, especially over something trivial. 2 a commotion, disturbance or bustle. 3 a show of fond affection. ▷ verb (fusses, fussed, fussing) intr (also fuss over or about something) 1 to worry needlessly. 2 to concern oneself too much with trivial matters. 3 to agitate. ● fusser noun. ● make a fuss or make a fuss about something to complain about it. ● make a fuss of someone colloq to give them a lot of affectionate or amicable attention. ⓘ 18c.

fusspot ▷ noun, derog, colloq someone who worries excessively, especially over trifles; a fusser.

fussy ▷ adj (fussier, fussiest) 1 choosy; discriminating. 2 over-concerned with details or trifles; finicky. 3 bustling and officious. 4 said of clothes, etc: over-elaborate. ● fussily adverb. ● fussiness noun.

fustanella /fʌstəˈnɛlə/ ▷ noun (fustanellas) a white kilt sometimes worn by Greek and Albanian men. ⓘ 19c: Italian diminutive of FUSTIAN (in its original sense), which is used to make the garment.

fustian /ˈfʌstɪən/ ▷ noun 1 a kind of coarse twilled cotton fabric with a nap, including moleskin, velveteen, corduroy, etc. 2 a pompous and unnatural style of writing or speaking; bombast. ▷ adj 1 made of fustian. 2 bombastic. ⓘ 12c: from French fustaigne, probably named after El-Fustat (Old Cairo) where the original coarse cloth of cotton and flax may have been made.

fustic /ˈfʌstɪk/ ▷ noun 1 the wood of a tropical American tree. Also called old fustic. 2 the yellow dye obtained from the old fustic or the YOUNG FUSTIC. ⓘ 15c: from French fustoc, through Spanish from Arabic fustuq, from Greek pistake PISTACHIO.

fusty /ˈfʌstɪ/ ▷ adj (fustier, fustiest) 1 stale-smelling; old and musty. 2 old-fashioned. ● fustily adverb. ● fustiness noun. ⓘ 14c: from French fusté smelling of the cask, from fust wine cask.

futhark /ˈfuːθɑːk/ or futhork /ˈfuːθɔːk/ ▷ noun the runic alphabet. ⓘ 19c: derived from the first six symbols of the alphabet: f, u, þ (th), a or o, r, k.

futile /ˈfjuːtaɪl; US -təl/ ▷ adj unproductive, unavailing, foolish, vain or pointless. ● futilely adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin futilis 'easily pouring out' or 'leaky', and therefore also meaning 'unreliable'.

futility /fjuːˈtɪlɪtɪ/ ▷ noun uselessness. ⓘ 17c: from French futilité.

futon /ˈfuːtɒn, fuːˈtɒn/ ▷ noun a thin cloth-filled mattress designed to be used on the floor, and meant to be rolled up when not in use. ⓘ 19c in descriptions of Japanese life, but more common since the 1970s when futons started becoming popular in Britain.

futtock /ˈfʌtək/ ▷ noun, naut one of the crooked timbers of a wooden ship. ⓘ 17c.

future /ˈfjuːtʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the time to come; events that are still to occur. 2 grammar a the future tense; b) a verb in the future tense. 3 prospects □ must think about one's future. 4 likelihood of success □ no future in that. 5 (futures) stock exchange commodities bought or sold at an agreed price, to be delivered at a later date, the price of which remains the same whether the market price of the particular commodity has fallen or risen in the meantime. ▷ adj 1 yet to come or happen. 2 about to become □ my future wife. 3 grammar said of the tense of a verb: indicating actions or events yet to happen, in English formed with the auxiliary verb will and infinitive without to, as in She will see him tomorrow. Compare PAST, PRESENT, PERFECT, PLUPERFECT, IMPERFECT. ● futureless adj without prospects. ● for future reference so that you will know the correct procedure when you do this again. ● in future from now on. ⓘ 14c: from Latin futurus about to be.

future perfect see under PERFECT.

futurism ▷ noun a movement founded in Italy in 1909 by the poet Marinetti, concerned with expressing the motion and movement of machines in all art forms. It reflects the dynamism of modern technology. • futurist noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

futuristic ▷ adj 1 said of design, etc: so modern or original as to seem appropriate to the future, or considered likely to be fashionable in the future. 2 relating to futurism. • futuristically adverb.

futurity /fjuˈtjuərɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (futurities) 1 the future. 2 a future event.

futurology /fjuːtʃəˈrɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the forecasting of future events from present tendencies. • futurologist.

fu yung or fu yong /fuː jʊŋ/ ▷ noun a Chinese sauce of eggs mixed and cooked with bean sprouts, onion, meat, etc. ⓘ 20c: Chinese, meaning 'hibiscus'.

fuze an alternative US spelling of FUSE[2] fuzz ▷ noun (fuzzes) 1 a mass of fine fibres or hair, usually curly. 2 a blur. ▷ verb (fuzzes, fuzzed, fuzzing) (also fuzz something up) to make or become fuzzy. ⓘ 17c.

the fuzz ▷ noun, slang the police. ⓘ 1920s.

fuzz box ▷ noun an electronic device that changes the characteristics of the sound of eg an electric guitar.

fuzzy ▷ adj (fuzzier, fuzziest) 1 covered with fuzz. 2 forming a mass of tight curls. 3 indistinct; blurred. • fuzzily adverb. • fuzziness noun.

fuzzy logic ▷ noun, computing a form of logic or reasoning that is a central part of artificial intelligence, and resembles human thinking in that it is used to process information that cannot be defined precisely because it is dependent on its context.

fwd ▷ abbreviation forward.

the f-word or F-word ▷ noun a euphemistic way of referring to the word FUCK.

FX ▷ noun short for SPECIAL EFFECTS.

-fy combining form, forming verbs to make or become ▫ gentrify. ⓘ From French -fier, from Latin -ficare, from -ficus; compare -FIC.

fyi ▷ abbreviation for your information.

fz. ▷ abbreviation, music forzando, a variant of sforzando.

G

G[1] or g /dʒiː/ ▷ noun (Gs, G's or g's) 1 the seventh letter of the English alphabet. 2 (G) music a the fifth note on the scale of C major; b the musical key which has this note as its base.

G[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 German. 2 N Amer slang a grand, 1000 dollars.

g ▷ abbreviation 1 gallon. 2 gram or gramme. 3 gravity, or acceleration due to gravity.

GA ▷ abbreviation, US state Georgia. Also written Ga.

Ga ▷ symbol, chem gallium.

G&T or G and T ▷ noun a gin and tonic.

gab colloq ▷ noun idle talk; chat. ▷ verb (gabbed, gabbing) intr (also gab on or away) to talk idly, especially at length. • the gift of the gab colloq the ability to speak with ease, especially persuasively. ⓘ 18c: probably from Irish Gaelic gob beak or mouth.

gabardine see GABERDINE gabble /ˈɡabəl/ ▷ verb (gabbled, gabbling) tr & intr to talk or say something quickly and unclearly. ▷ noun fast indistinct talk. • gabbling noun. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch gabbelen.

gabbro /ˈɡabroʊ/ ▷ noun (gabbros) geol a coarse-grained crystalline igneous rock with a low silica content. ⓘ 19c: Italian.

gabby ▷ adj (gabbier, gabbiest) garrulous; gossipy.

gaberdine or gabardine /ɡabəˈdiːn, ˈɡab-/ ▷ noun (plural gabardines or gaberdines in sense 2) 1 a closely woven twill fabric, especially one made of wool or cotton. 2 a coat or loose cloak made from this. ⓘ 16c: meaning 'a loose garment': from French gauvardine a pilgrim's garment.

gabfest ▷ noun, slang, chiefly N Amer 1 a gathering characterized by gossipy conversation. 2 a lengthy chat or discussion. ⓘ 19c: from GAB + German Fest festival.

gabion /ˈɡeɪbɪən/ ▷ noun a metal or wicker cylindrical basket that can be filled with stones, earth, etc, used in the construction industry. ⓘ 16c: French, from Italian gabbia a cage.

gable /ˈɡeɪbəl/ ▷ noun (gables) 1 the triangular upper part of a side wall between the sloping parts of a roof. 2 a triangular canopy above a door or window. • gabled adj having a gable or gables. ⓘ 14c: from Norse gafl.

Gad see GAD[2]

gad[1] ▷ verb (gadded, gadding) intr, colloq (usually gad about or around) to go from place to place busily, especially in the hope of finding amusement or pleasure. ⓘ 15c: back-formation from Anglo-Saxon gaedeling companion.

gad[2] or Gad ▷ exclamation, old use (also by Gad) expressing surprise or affirmation. ⓘ 17c: a form of God.

gadabout ▷ noun, colloq, derog, often humorous a person who gads about.

Gadarene /ˈɡadəriːn/ ▷ adj applied to those who panic and rush headlong towards disaster. ⓘ 18c: from the swine of Gadara in Matthew 8.28.

gadfly ▷ noun (gadflies) 1 any of various large flies that suck the blood of cattle and other animal livestock, inflicting painful bites. 2 derog, old use a person who deliberately and persistently annoys others. ⓘ 16c: from Anglo-Saxon gad goad.

gadget /ˈɡadʒɪt/ ▷ noun any small device or appliance, especially one more ingenious than necessary. • gadgetry /-trɪ/ noun 1 gadgets. 2 the use or application of gadgets in a particular instance. ⓘ 19c.

gadoid /ˈɡeɪdɔɪd, ˈɡa-/ ▷ noun, zool any fish (including cod and hake) that belongs to the family Gadidae /ˈɡadɪdiː/ of marine fishes, with small scales, and pectoral and pelvic fins situated close together. ▷ adj said of a fish: belonging to this order. ⓘ 19c: ultimately from Greek gados cod.

gadolinium /ɡadəˈlɪnɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Gd, atomic number 64) a soft silvery-white metallic element, belonging to the LANTHANIDE series, which is highly magnetic at low temperatures, and also behaves as a superconductor. ⓘ 19c: named after Johan Gadolin (1760–1852), Finnish mineralogist.

gadroon or godroon /ɡəˈdruːn/ ▷ noun an embossed, cable-like decoration used as an edging on silverware, etc. • gadrooned adj. • gadrooning noun. ⓘ 18c: from French godron.

gadwall /ˈɡadwɔːl/ ▷ noun a dabbling duck related to the mallard, native to northern inland waters. ⓘ 17c.

Gaea see GAIA

